International Relations Club will not meet Monday, February 10, but Monday the 17. A movie titled "Poland Forever and Picturesque Poland" will be shown in the Chemistry lecture room on second floor Fayerweather.

Last week Dr. Lloyd spoke to the group and the subject was "Government in China."

Dramatic Art Department Owes Success To Mrs. Nita E. West

BY MARY E. HUNT

During at least three weeks of each school year the Maryville student group finds itself very conscious of the work of the dramatic department. Those posters all over the campus proclaim, "Theta Alpha Phi presents . . ." but Bainonian-Athenian or Theta-Alpha Sig present could be easily substituted with the same results. But never have we seen a sign which read, "Mrs. Nita Eckles West presents" though that could easily be on the poster of any play presented at Maryville College for many years.

Mrs. West came to Maryville college in 1899 as an associate professor of expression, and remained here until her retirement last spring with the exception of the years 1901-4 and 1912-14.

This year, although she is not teaching dramatic art, Mrs. West has directed both of the outstanding plays of the year and plans to direct the commencement play this spring.

Through these years, she has seen many changes on the campus and in the classes. When she came here, expression and other fine arts were not included in the list of major subjects but were offered as private lessons. In 1936 the division of fine arts was established and a major offered in dramatic art.

But it has been through her efforts that most of the improvement in the field of dramatics has come. It has been necessary for her to produce plays on a "shoestring" since there has not been large sums of money for costumes and staging equipment. But in spite of that the department amassed a fine collection of costumes, only to have them destroyed by fire in December, 1943. The townspeople(in recognition of her fine work, set about to secure some costumes in order to help replace what was lost, however it would be impossible to ever fully replace them without a large amount of expense.

Criticisms usually given the Maryville college dramatic performances are favorable, which again is a tribute to her fine eye for details, and her ability as a teacher and a coach of dramatic productions. The organization of the Theta Alpha Phi chapter on the hill came as a result of her efforts also.

Mrs. West holds two degrees, A. B. from Murphy College, which was in Sevierville, and a Batchler of Oratory from Grant University, which was in Athens.

Opened Last Night Before Full House

Miller, Swartzback Black Play Leads

The Athenian-Bainonian play, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street", which played last night to a full house will show again tonight in Voorhees Chapel at 8:15. Last night's opening was a successful one from all points of view.

Cast Has Record of Successes

Virginia Miller, as Elizabeth Barrett, Ray Swartzback, as Robert Browning, and James Black, as Edward Barrett, Elizabeth's Puritanical father, head the cast which has several newscomers to the Maryville stage as well as these well-known players. Miss Miller, a senior from Kennet Square, Pa., who handles the part of the delicate invalid Elizabeth with superb control, will be remembered by Maryville audiences for her roles in the Theta Alpha Phi play, "Guest in the House", and two former Athenian-Bainonian plays, "Junior Miss" and "Pygmalion". Mr. Swartzback, a senior from Baltimore, Maryland, as the persuasive, Robert Browning, is known for his parts in "Pygmalion", and "Lost Horizon". Mr. Black, a sophomore who is also from Baltimore, will be remembered for his recent portrayal of the kindly doctor in "The Man Who Came to Dinner". Others in the cast include Jean Messer Williams as Henrietta; Betty Seagraves, Arabel; Harriet McKean, Wilson; Virginia Clabough, Bella Healey; Bill Grosh, Dr. Chambers; Max House, Henry Bevin; Rodger Cowan, Octavius; Julina Gresham, Septimus; Al Lesnick, Alfred; Ben Paxton, Charles; Harvey Overton, George; Bob Frost, Henry; Jim Martin, Capt. Cook; and Bill Anderson, Dr. Ford-Waterlow.

Action of Play

The entire action of the play takes place in Elizabeth's bed-sitting room at 50 Wimpole Street, London, in 1845. The first act effectively lays the foundation for the whole play. It gives the audience the picture of the invalid Elizabeth, of her stern father, and the fear which he inspires in all his children. In Act II Elizabeth (and the audience) is introduced to the slightly inperious Mr. Browning. Acts III and IV show the progression of the romance of Henrietta and Capt. Cook, and of Elizabeth and Robert Browning, while Act V lays bare the mind of Edward Barrett and provides a dramatic conclusion to the play.

The settings which were made by the stage crew—William Cover and Fred Richardette, headed by Willis Pribble and Dick Moore—made Elizabeth's a very charming room which reflected her true spirit once it was free of her father's domination. Leonard Schieber, as electrician, achieved some very good lighting effects, especially those of firelight in a darkened room and of spring sunlight on the windows.

Committees did excellent job

Only three of the costumes used were authentic—one worn by Mrs. Williams in the second act, and the soldier's uniform worn by Jim Martin. The rest were made by the costume committee—Gwyneth Williams, Arlene Whiting, Mary Jane Blizzard, Sarah Enloe, Mary Ruth Barber, Jane Huddleston, Anna Belle Gilliam, and Jean Magill. Properties—Tom Eckert and Rebecca Walton—were obtained chiefly by a house-to-house campaign.

The toughest problem in make up was that of making a normal, healthy girl look like an invalid. This was quite skillfully done, chiefly by the use of shading. This committee has as its chairman Maybelle Rule, assisted by Ella Mae Thompson. Mrs. Hughes, and Nell Louise Minear, who is visiting Maryville now.

This is the first time in the history of the Maryville College stage that any play has been given two consecutive nights. It is

(Cont. on Page 4)

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 32 NUMBER 22

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

R. Thomas Parkinson ..... Editor
Mary Elizabeth Hunt ..... Staff Editor
Constance Hawkins ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Janet Miller, Lorraine Swift, Dorothy Vawter

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Grace Gugger, Naomia Hoffman, Raymond Brahams, Jonnie Johnson, Ilda Mosby

FRESHMAN APPRENTICES
Mack Casey, Craig Fisher, Herbert McCallum, Kenneth Olsen, Smartt Ramsey, Barbara Wallin, Leslie Webb

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF
Ruth Williams ..... Business Manager

JUNIOR ASSISTANTS
Katherine Johnson Mary Jane Long

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANT
Lillian Law

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879.

Represented for National Advertising by
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1947

These "Engagements"!

In former years one of the most honored and beautiful customs at this college has been that of honoring a newly engaged couple by the men of the college singing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" in the dining hall. It seems to us that this same custom is gradually and disgustingly dying, or rather being killed, this year.

It is certainly a "ticklish" question, and we sincerely do not mean to be tramping anyone's toes specifically, but we have seen the custom of its best—it can be beautiful—and we hereby cry out for its being preserved.

Let's look at it this way. That singing is (used to be) done upon the occasion of the public announcement of an engagement, which ideally comes after at least a friendship of long standing has been developed and probably after a protracted period of having had an "understanding" which is more or less a private engagement so to speak. We neither know nor care what Emily Post would say, but common sense bears out the idea that there is very little to be gained by a public announcement (and the congratulations and singing that go with it here) of an engagement until the couple can at least give some general, tentative plan for a time when they will be married. A good old fashioned custom that seems nice to many persons even yet is the gift of some kind of a ring to mark a public engagement.

Of course the ring is not essential, and there are some cases where a couple may be in love so desperately that they just must tell everybody about belonging to each other right now. But still it seems to us that the first instance of discovering that they are in love is not necessarily the proper time for a couple to announce their engagement. Some of these "Town Night" announcements do a lot towards making a couple that takes enough time to really be sure of a lasting love, feel that their engagement is just another bit of gossip. That ain't right.

Let's remember it is an engagement to be married!

Let's preserve that time honored tradition of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Not Too Many Clubs

Are there too many clubs on campus? This seems to be a question that is becoming more and more to be one of the questions of the day. Although it concerns many people, it does not affect as many as some like to think. For the eight hundred students now enrolled, there are more than twenty clubs, including religious organizations and societies. Since the average membership of each club is thirty persons, not more than six hundred students can possibly be affected by them, and, since many people are interested in more than one organization, the number is even smaller. Most clubs are beneficial in some way to their members; therefore it is easy to see that this fact could become a good argument for more clubs.

Some organizations, particularly those formed on a scholastic basis or any special requirement, provide an incentive which is supplied by nothing else in the curriculum. Attaining the recognized and honored standards, and gaining admittance to a select group means more to a normal student than an "A" on his report card.

Purely social organizations are an outlet for nervous energy and provide short periods of recreation and "letting down the hair" which are beneficial to everybody. Other clubs which emphasize world relations, languages, and religion are broadening and tend to disperse the aura of oblivion to affairs outside college life that blinds almost every student.

One common objection to clubs in general is that they take too much of a student's time and prevent his doing his best in class work. Class work does, or at least should, come first; but the student who lets this slide because of too many club activities would probably let it slide anyway. Most students have enough sense to know how to budget their time and talents in order to include a satisfactory balance of both.

Clubs are a necessary part of college life. There is a need also fo r a variety of clubs, because of the wide variety of interests in a student body as large as ours. This is not a plea for more clubs. It is a plea for the recognition of their value and an awakening interest in those which already exist.

—D.H.V.

Just Being "Nosy"

BY LORRAINE SWIFT

In search of truths and untruths, which are hereby printed, our feet somehow managed to take us to Pearsons 428, domain of Hortense, otherwise known as June Hamilton. Answering our knock, the obviously sleepy gal scowled meaningfully. Hurriedly we exclaimed, "Oh! We didn't wake you, did we?" "No!" she virtually screamed. "I had to get up to answer the door, anyway," and she slammed said object in our face.

Affronted (That means rudely treated), we went out on the highway of life between Anderson and Carnegie, where, luckily, we ran into Smartt Ramsey. "Hey, give us some information," says we. "It has to be 'right'." In his fatherly way he attempted to correct us, saying "You mean, of course, it has to be 'written'." We didn't argue; just tried another angle.

"Smartt' how's about givin' us some dope?"

"Dopes! Love it! Love it!" he yelled. "I saw Janet Nisbet, Bob Eastman, Bob Thompson, Phyliss Rainard, and Katherine Theda all going'. . . ."

Begin? He did. The remainder of this column, however, cannot be wholly blamed on him. . . . Bonnie Mills and Bob Arant, we learned, are the beginners of a new school of thought. They have announced that they are engaged to be engaged. . Tom Quinn, Ken Ramey, and associates have acquired a peculiar habit, due to the influence of their English class. They sign all their correspondence with "Discritically yours", and, since the not too recent movie, they have been discussing "The Strange Phonetics of Martha Macron", which all goes to show why Ramsey put an s on the word dope.

Someone said that Swartzback went downtown this morning to see one of the barbers about a lengthy appointment for Monday. Uncertain about the barber's identity, he asked, "Say aren't you the guy who cut my hair the last time?" "I couldn't be," the man answered sullenly. "I've only been here six months."

After that one, Ramsey, for the second time, started toward Carnegie. "Well, he said, "I must 'relieve'."

"Come again?"

"No, that means to 'leave again'," he answered, and promptly left us with our bewilderment.

From the direction of Memorial came a gale of laughter, above which was heard Ginny Swartz indignantly announcing, "Sir, I'll have you know I'm going to marry an Alpha Sigma and a gentleman." "Hey!" Jim Black yelled. "You can't do that, That's bigamy!"

Inside the dorm, it was discovered that few of the residents have decided what characteristics Miss Maryville should have. Seems that they're slightly prejudiced, but perhaps with reason; they think such a girl should have. . . Lois Deobler's eyes. . . Shirley Wells' nose. . . . Snookie Mills' teeth. . . Kitty Cooley's hair. . . Carrol Kennette's figure. . . Helen Miller's ability to study. . Betty Seagraves' mouth. . . Linnea Johnson's voice. . . and Pat Dennis' wardrobe. . . But she would not be the perfect girl, say the Memoralites, if she did not possess Sarah Durante's personality, which, after all, is the most important feature of all.

An English teacher can be at a loss for words occasionally, but not for long if her name in Miss Heron. Attempting to give a clear explanation of the word unique, her eyes travelled the course of the room, eventually resting on Bill Anderson, particularly on Bill Anderson's sideburns. "Well, she said, "I've never seen anything like it."

All canont run smoothly always, especially a conversation. Jim Millard and physics assistant Willie Pribble will verify this, for it all started by Jim's asking the simple question, "Have you any four-volt, two-watt bulbs?". . . . "For what?" asked Prbble. . . "No. two.". . . "Two what?". . . . "Yes.". . . . "No!"

Incidentally, Warren King is continuing his threat to high-point averages by pulling down two one-hundreds on six-week's exams, namely in analytics, and physics. . . . Can't understand why the Onifer-Broadhead services are no longer needed along certain lines. Perhaps they are non-cooperative, or could it be that?. . . The unlucky gal who dropped the tray of dishes at the banquet Tuesday night was in luck in that the guests footed the bill, not she.

McJunkin is one of the eight quant students who suffer the consequences when an experiment goes haywire. The last time he had such an experience he made a resigned statement. "Oh well, I've just about talked my wife into letting me quit school, anyway."

Noticing . . . that the days are getting longer. . . the rain, the snow, the rain. . . June Garland and Tom Horst. . . that boys' intramural winners are offered prizes, but not so the girls' groups. . . . the way some people say, "They goodness!". . . . that we should end this chatter with a few words to the wise, words which are preached and practiced by Bill Jernigan and Nelson Forrester. "Early to bed, early to rise, and your girl goes out with other guys."

TALK OF THE WEEK . . .

By JEAN ALMY

Poetry and Diary Read at Worksop

June Garland and Anna Sakaizawa occupied the spotlight at last week's meeting of Writer's Workshop. Miss Garland read "Excerpts From a Diary of Juno". These excerpts give a glimpse into the life of the gods of mythology. Juno, wife of the great Jupiter and Queen of the Heavens has recorded her daily experiences with the other gods and goddesses. A remarkable similiarity to our human lives is brought out. There are also glances into the history of the times when this mythology was current.

Miss Sakaizawa read three poems. The following poem by Miss Sakaizawa was among those read:

An Issei Father's Lament

My Son! My Son! My heart cries out, aghast
The news we dreaded most has come at last.
Forgive this once your father's tearful eyes.
So soon I cannot stifle inward cries.
They say you passed three days ago at dawn.
Can you be truly dead, forever gone?
My Tommy-boy, my one and only son!
What is this thing your mother and I have done!
Oh, was it wrong for us to give you birth,
That you might but be slain in war on earth?
That you might but be used as sacrifice,
Before the gods of evil, hate and vice?
And was it wrong to bear you on this soil,
Where life for you could not escape recoil.
And you must ever feel the edge of race,
Because the East was stamped upon your face?
My son, how cruel was this trick of fate,
That made my native land your enemy state.
Yet, your countrymen still called you "Jap."
While you went out, those "Japs" to kill and trap.
And tho' your death I grieve in great distress,
To my compatriots it was success.
Oh, cup of bitterness! Now breaks my heart,
For love and loyalty tear her apart.
Was all this wrong, my Son?
Should we have stayed
In old Japan, and never westward strayed?
That cannot be, for I must not forget,
How you had often said, "I don't regret.
I'm glad to be an American; you see,
The good ol' U.S.A. is tops with me."
If you, Tom, felt that way, then so shall I,
And this will be our home until we die.
This land which gave us daily sustenance,
Should we not love and give obedience?
Then, too, my Son, while I may seem downcast,
This thought of comfort shall I still hold fast;
Be it joy or brief, whate'er befall,
It matters not so greatly after all;
The purpose for man's life is character.
By keeping this in mind, we did not err.
We sought to teach you righteously to live;
That was our task. What more can we parents give?

Miss Garland's work was criticised by Shirley O'Shanna and Esther Carnelious critiqued the poetry. Next week Shirley O' Shanna and Florence Housch will read and Anna Sakaizawa and Evelyn Anderson will criticise.

Blount County Farmers Dine In Pearsons Hall

Four hundred members of the Blount County Unit of the National Farm Bureau were entertained with a variety program which followed the dinner at the Farmers' Banquet held in Pearsons Dining Hall last Tuesday evening, March 4. The banquet is an annual event, ordinarily held in Pearsons Hall, at which the farmers of the county discuss the preceding agricultural year.

A. B. Harris, president of the county unit, welcomed the members to the banquet, after which the variety show was given. Harris then introduced Tom Hitch, native of Blount County who last November was elected state president, who in turn introduced the principal speaker, Lon Safle, agricultural agent in Rutherford County. Safle discussed "The Young Farmers and Home-makers Club".

Following Safle's address, H. F. Lamon, Jr. spoke about the membership campaign, reading a list of names of the new members. The Bureau has a membership of four hundred and seventy-five in Blount County.

The banquet menu included roast beef, gravy, mashed potatoes, frozen peas, lettuce salad, spiced peaches, rolls, ice cream, cake and coffee. The tables were served by college waiters and waitresses.

Kirkpatrick Elected CCC House Committee Chm.

The Carnegie Couples Club met on Monday, March 3 in the kitchen of the Carnegie Hall basement. President Don Kribbs presided as an election of a House Committee chairman was held. The duties of this office pertain to maintenance of the building and equipment and the general welfare of the group. Charles Kirkpatrick was unanimously elected. Kirkpatrick then gave a brief talk on proper use electrical appliances. He also requested that the couples refrain from sweeping dirt into the halls and keep them as clean as possible.

The next meeting of the group will be Monday, March 17 at 8:00 p. m.

ALPHA SIGMA

Alpha Sigma will meet tonight at 6:15 in Alpha Sigma Hall.

Easter Previews

Smartly Draped Picture-coats

Dramatic Cut-away Suits

New Silhouette Dresses

Pretty Accessories—Blouses, Gloves, Dickeys, Belts, and Scarfs Visit us soon.

PARKS-BELK CO.

HAMBURGER HEAVEN!

We specialize in delicious juicy hamburgers. . . . served on a crisp, toasted bun with a pickle.

MEET YOUR FRIENDS HERE!

CAFE C. & L.

"Just 200 yards off Campus"

Nicely's Grocery

NORTON HARDWARE CO.
Phone 18

Crawford & Caldwell
HARDWARE
Phone No. 1 Maryville

SCOTLIGHTS

By Brick Brahams

Almost every college and university in America that is interested in its sports program has some sort of a letterman's club to which belong all men who have been awarded the school's varsity letter. Maryville College is one of these schools which has a very active sports program, but does not have a lettermen's club. It seems rather vague as to whether there has ever been such a club here at Maryville, but the fact remains that there is none now. A general consensus of opinion of those so far contacted on the subject would indicate that such an organization woud be met with approval by those eligible to belong. Although the purpose of this article is not to draw up a constitution, it is obvious that those eligible would be persons who have received the Maryville College varsity letter in any recognized varsity sport.

Club Would Have Large Membership

Some have commented from time to time that there are too many clubs on campus. However, the success and value of a club is determined by the number of persons which belong to it and the services that they render to the school. A great number of men on this campus would be eligible to belong to this club. Taking this year as an example, there are approximately forty men who have already received or been voted the College's varsity letter in Football, Basketball and Wrestling. This number plus those who will yet receive varsity awards for Baseball, Track and Tennis would make quite a large club. Then too, there are those men who lettered in years before but who have not lettered this year. With a large predominance of freshman lettermen this year, the club would be assured of a good start and a promising future. It would be well established before the present members would graduate.

Many Services Can Be Performed

There are many duties and services that a lettermen's club can perform for the school. It can be first of all, a place where men with a common interest in sports can meet and talk it over. Speakers could be obtained that would bring information of interest about sports. Other types of programs might be arranged such as moving pictures of national sports interest.

A lettermen's club could also keep records of the names of those who have won sports awards, thus keeping track of those who are eligible to wear awards. This club could also welcome and attend to the entertaining of visiting teams. There is a great deal of work involved in having a team from another school visit our campus. So far this burden has been carried by the coaches and managers. Members of the lettermen's club could not only lighten their load, but could make it much more pleasant for visiting teams. Another job that needs doing efficiently is the ushering at the High School District Basketball Tournament which is held at our gym each year. In some schools the lettermen's club sponsors certain social activities and sports events. These are a few of a number of duties and services that a lettermen's club might be able to take a part in. The interest seems to be here, all that needs to be done is get the ball rolling. Let's have a Varsity "M" Club at Maryville College.

Spring Sports

Baseball and Track workouts have already begun under shelter, and as soon as weather permits will be moved outside. Tennis seems to be the only sport that might not be played at Maryville this year. The big difficulty seems to be the matter of transportation. The Tennis team usually travels in the athletic station-wagon, but since the wreck involving it and the basketball team practically demolished it, some new mode of transportation must be found. There is no doubt in anyone's mind that the station-wagon will have to be replaced. We hope it can be replaced this year so that Maryville can be represented on the courts as in years before.

M.C. Grapplers End Season By Tying U. C. And Ga. Tech

The Maryville College Wrestling team closed a successful 1947 season on the road last week-end evenly splitting matches with Georgia Tech and Chattanooga.

The Georgia Tech match was close all the way. The first two bouts M. C. and Tech split pins. In the 136 pound class Ross of Maryville ran into some of his toughest competition of the year when he took on Oglesby. In the next bout. Callaway won by injury default when his opponent, Andrews, of Tech threw a knee when attempting to escape.

Then, in the 165 pound class, Donaldson of Georgia pinned Merriman with a reverse double arm lock, a trick hold which he had attempted before. In the 175 pound class, Willocks, trailing in points, knocked Moore of Tech to the mat and pinned him before he or the referees realized it. Anderson of M. C. lost the heavyweight bout by decision to Bassett of Georgia, who outweighed him by more than 30 pounds. The final score was Maryville 18, Georgia Tech 18.

The match with Chattanooga was also a close one. Maryville started out well with Heaton and Caviston winning by decision and Ross by pinning. Then Callaway decisioned to give M. C. a 14 point lead. In the 155 pound class, Braly of Chattanooga, an experienced wrestler, pinned Major in a hard one with only 6 seconds left in the last period. Berg (C) defeated Merriman and Love (C) won over Willocks, both by decision. Love defeated Anderson of M. C. when the two teams met at Maryville earlier in the season and was looking forward to another try against him. Willocks put up an exceptional fight against the more experienced Love, not allowing himself to be taken down. The final score was Maryville 14, Chattanooga 14.

Results of the Georgia Tech bouts:

121 Class—Heaton (M) pinned Chandler (C) in 2:29 of the 1st period

128 Class—Geisler (G) pinned Marvin (M) in 2:34 of the 1st period

136 Class—Ross (M) won by decision over Oglesby (G)

145 Class—Callaway (M) won by injury default over Andrews (G)

155 Class—Batten (G) pinned Major (M) in 1:01 of 1st period

(Continued on last page)

Ten Named To Get Wrestling Awards

Coach J. D. Davis announced this week that the following ten men have been elected as wrestling lettermen for the past season: Lloyd Anderson, Tubby Callaway, Ed Heaton. Ken Ross, Bob Smith, Ralph Willocks, Mat Cardella, John Briggs, Hershell Merriman, and Manager Bud Engel.

The group this year consisted of one senior, Captain Lloyd Anderson, who wrestled both in the 175 pound and heavyweight divisions; two juniors, Kenny Ross, 136 lbs. class and Mat Cardella who wrestled 155 lbs., two sophomores, Bob Smith who performed in the 136 lbs. groups, and John Briggs who wrestled at 165 and 175 lbs. and four freshmen. Freshmen lettermen are Callaway. 145 lbs.; Heaton, 128; Willocks, 175; and Merriman, 165 lbs. Bud Engel, who received the manager's letter is a junior.

Regular Practice For Track Begins

Regular training for track will begin Monday, March 10, Coach Mehl anounced this week. If the weather is favorable, organized practice sessions will be held each afternoon at 3:30. Most of the track men have been running for the past two weeks to be in condition for the start of organized practice.

Approximately forty men will report Monday for the first practice. Of this number, there is not a singlet man who has ever participated in intercollegiate track meets. Since there are no more than ten upperclassmen coming out, the team is predominately freshmen. Some of the men have had previous track experience in high school.

Cross Country Men Out

Eleven memebrs of the cross country team of last fall are out for the distance events. This cross country group should form the nucleus for competition in the distance events. Lettermen of football, basketball, and wrestling compose part of the track roster. Some twenty men who have never entered track competition are hopefuls for the varsity team. All events except weight throwing have a good turn-out of men entering them. So far. only two men have signed up to throw the weights.

The track itself is in fairly good condition for the opening of the season.

Basketball Letters Awarded To Nine

The Basketball lettermen of the 1946-47 season were elected by the Athletic Board of Control last Friday, February 28. Eight members of the varsity squad and one manager were chosen to receive the award. Four of these nine lettermen are freshmen, two are sophomores, one junior, and only two seniors.

The nine men receiving their letters are the following: Captain Ray Lillard, sophomore; Brick Brahams, sophomore; "Pie" Garner, junior; Bob Boring, freshman; Hugh Hamil, freshman; Hap Brahams, freshman; Abbott Kemp, senior; Leon Berrong, freshman; and the manager Tommy Parkinson, senior.

Ray Lillard and Abbott Kemp were the only repeating letter winners this year. Lillard had lettered two times previously and Kemp won his first letter last year. Kemp is the only member of the squad who will graduate in the spring, but Garner may graduate next Christmas. Captain Ray Lillard has but one year of basketball eligibility left. All the other members of the squad have two or more seasons left to play for the Scotties.

The top man for the Scotties this year in the scoring department was Captain Ray Lillard with a 11 point average per game. Brick Brahams was the next man in the scoring department with a 9.6 point average per game. Bra-

(Continued on page 4)

Forty Report For Baseball Practice

The first regular practice sessions of baseball got under way last Monday afternoon in the Alumni Gym. About forty men reported to Coach Honaker for the opening work-out.

Practice will be held indoors for the first ten days or two weeks depending largely upon the weather. Loosening up exercises, shifting, throwing, and base running have been the points stressed this week by Coach Honaker. The infielders have gotten most of the attention thus far due to the limited space in the gym.

It is still too early to make any predictions for the baseball season or even to point out any outstanding prospects for the squad, but judging by Coach Honaker's past record in the sport and the interest of the candidates for the squad, the Scots should field a team to be proud of this spring.

INTRAMURAL DOPE

By HERBERT McCALLUM

GARNET LEAGUE ALL-STARS

Forwards

Bill Largen—Echo

Jim Baird—Ex-Scrubbs

Sam Taylor—Moonshiners

R. T. McDavid—Buzzards

Centers

Bill Miller—Buzzards

W. E. Ezell—Misfits

Guards

Tom Cecil—Misfits

Bob Thompson—Misfits

Don Weber—Echo

D. M. Miller—Machines

Manager

Jack Gilmore—Choir

ORANGE LEAGUE ALL-STARS

Forwards

Jack Buckley—Keltics

Bob Connell—Keltics

Paul Abbott—Yokels

Gene Reynolds—Eight Balls

Centers

Marvin Mitchell—Eight Balls

Nelson Forrester—Bombardiers

Guards

Bo Henry

H. D. English

Artie Spears—Eight Balls

Ken Talbott—Eight Bals

Manager

Harvey Overton—Bombardiers

The above all-star teams as determined by vote of the players of the respective leagues will play next Saturday night in Alumni Gym. This all-star roster is subject to change since the players whose teams play in the play-off game between the Orange and Garnet leagues will be ineligible to play on an all-star team. The players selceted to fill the places of those who may play in the play-off game will be the players who received the next highest number of votes, in the all-star election.

Orange vs Garnet

The champion team of the Orange League will meet the champion Garnet League team in the final play-off game on Saturday, March 15.

As we went to press, the Eight Balls had a safe lead in the Orange League. Provided they won today's game over the Fancy Dans, they will represent the Orange League in the finals. The Keltics will most likely meet them in a preliminary play-off in the event the Eight Balls lost today.

The Champion team of the Garnet League at the time Echo went to press was undecided. The decision could have been anybody's guess. At that moment, the Echo squad held a one victory edge over their two closest contenders, Ex-Scrubbs and Misfits.

Upon the outcome of two hot games played this afternoon—Echo vs. Ex-Scrubbs and Buzzards vs. Misfits—depended the condi tions for the final decision of the winning team in the league. If Echo won, they have the undisputed title of the Garnet League. If the Ex-Scrubbs won, they will meet Echo again in a preliminary

(Continued on page four)

Scots Begin Spring Football Training

Forty-five men reported this week to Coach J. D. Davis for Spring football practice in preparation for next year. This is only a portion of what will be the total squad as there are other men who are now out for track and baseball.

Coach Davis announced that the first week will be devoted to fundamentals and plays. Then three or four weeks will be devoted to scrimmages. The men will be divided into teams and will play every other day. With very few men graduating from the squad this year, the prospects for another good season are bright. Assisting Coach Davis are "Skeeter" Shields, and Marvin Mitchell. Shields graduated in 1935 and Big Mitch played his last game for the Scotties this year.

Give Him Your Picture!

It's always a welcome Gift

WEBB STUDIO

NEW

MAX FACTOR

Metal Case

LIPSTICKS

THE PARK DRUG STORE

YOUR LUCKY DAY

Winter Is Not Over—Remember Blackberry Winter and Dogwood Winter

Sports Wear

Blow, wind, blow———windy days are easily "Leather" beaten, this Jacket combines Finest Leather with 100% wool plaid sleeves for colorful cnotrast. This is designed with comfort and style for the outdoor man for spring wear.

SPRINT INTO SPRING AT TOP SPEED

Spring Style is a pushover for this pullover Sweater of worsted knit wool! Waist, Neck and arm bands with knit-in stripes retain the snug, smooth-fitting shape. Shades of blue, maise, green, brown, and come in small medium, and large sizes.

"Maryville's Most Popular Store"

MOSER'S

.CLOTHING STORE.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. will have Mrs. James King as guest speaker Sunday afternoon, March 9th. Mrs. King's topic is "Friendship" which will be the first in the series on friendship, courtship, and marriage. Marguerite Priest is soloist using "My Task" as her selection.

So Smart!

She's learning fast to use Stationery from BYRNE DRUG for best Results

BYRNE DRUG COMPANY

FLOWER FLATTERY

Whatever the occasion, show your grateful appreciation in the gayest, sweetest way you know

——"Say It With Flowers"——

Clark's Flowers

Would Be "Cornists" Take Liberties And Express Their Sense?? Worth

BY GUGGER AND HOFFMAN

Taking liberties with William Shakespeare, here's our own revision of "As You Like It", or the "Things We Like, How About You?"

We like—that wonderful feeling of meeting a person who also makes D'—the thoughtful people who save the back seats in class for us——the 10 minutes between classes. (There should be more of them—10 minutes that is.)

For instance, the 10 minutes before math, we study the problems we should have done the night night before, when we were doing that extra reading report we had to do because the first report wasn't in on time due to studying Annelida, which we were to have a test on the next day. (Does studying lowly creatures cause similarity in grades?) And why were we studying biology at the last minute?

Knit one, purl two,
Biology test, boo-hoo.

Then there are the witty professors who give us laughs when the jokes are on themselves. We like the alertness of the Student Council—coffee and donuts at Cates—the things you see on the way to Echo meetings. (They start at 7:15.)—The new monitor system in Baldwin. (We meet so many more interesting people. It was boring for the house chairman alone to reprimand us every night. We now have variety.)

How about the mathematicians of the Chatterbox! For instance, can you add 12c for two Pepsi's, 31c for Hi-Ho's (minus Silver), a Hunnie Pie, (Oh, what we said—We've been studying bees in biology—bee—honey—be my honey—pie.) This is absolutely not a hint—peanut butter 23c and Kist 5c——hmmm, still get Kist for a nickel. Now subtract and get 98c?

We like the programs the social committee plan. We like the seats in the Chapel balcony. And speaking of Chapel we like the selections that send us off to our classes with a blithe spirit, even if it may be raining when the organist is playing "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning." Lest we forget——the inhabitants of Carnegie and Bartlett. (Beware, Brother, Beware.)

Best of all we like the fact that we're still in school—The rule is to allow only college material to stay—We're the exception to prove the rule. Finally we'd like to give you the correct answer for the Chatterbox problem. How many checked up on us and found that it was 82c?

Girls' Intramural Cage Tourney Begins Monday

Girls' intramural basketball tournament will begin Monday, March 10, at 3:30 p. m. in Alumni Gym. The first game will be between Largen's and Anderson's classes. Following that game, at 4:30 p. m. Coach Mehl's "d" class will meet Marion Henderson's class. The winners of these two games will meet Wednesday at 4:30 p. m. The teams of Merle Henderson and Short will play their first games at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon. The finals will be played at 3:30 p. m., Friday, March 14.

Library Tuesday Nite . .

(Continued from page 1)

—but the young lady had forgotten the fact. It seems that she owed more than the purchase price on one she had had over Christmas and one more fine was inconsequential.

"Information" signs should be be posted on the desk. Librarians are supposed to know all the answers and have everything from papercutters to ink—which reminds me, don't some people ever buy ink?

Of course a little intelligence on the part of the deskies might help when they try to blink he lights at 9:30 and suddenly plunge the whole room into darkness.

Daisy Chain . . . .

(Continued from page one)

physical education major from Philadelphia, Penn.

This year the girls will be dressed in pastel gowns of marquisette and taffeta and will bear the traditional chain of white and yellow daisies on their shoulders. They will form two lines to lead the commencement procession into the chapel. While the seniors march into the chapel, and also when they leave, they stand on both sides of the aisle.

Barretts of W. St. . . .

(Continued From Page One)

hoped that the experiment will be successful. "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" is being directed by Mrs. Nita Eckles West, retired professor of dramatic art, who has directed most of Maryville's successes for a good many years. She is assisted by Lois Thomas.

Basketball Letterman . .

(Continued from Page Three)

hams played forward opposite to Lillard.

Abbott Kemp who will graduate this spring was a very valuable replacement in the guard position. "Pie" Garner another member of the squad who may not return next year was a starter in the center slot. Garner gave the Scottie opponents trouble under the baskets where his huge size enabled him to get numerous rebounds.

With almost the entire squad returning next year to Maryville and with the valuable experience which they gained this year, the Scotties should come out next season with even a better record than this year.

Intramurals . . . .

(Continued from page three)

play-off. Also, it seemed most likely that if preliminary play-offs were necessary, the Misfits will join the contention for the top Garnet League team.

Basketball Results

On Monday, the Buzzards surprised the Moonshiners by nosing them out in over-time play after tieing the score of the regular game. In their first meeting, the Moonshiners won over the Buzzards, 20-17. This time the Buzzards slipped by with a 26-25 verdict.

The Misfits trounced Alpha Sigma, 34-20 to take their fourth straight victory and make their number of wins ten. The Yokels ran up their highest score of the season in defeating the Devils, 62-17.

The Eight Balls made their Orange League lead more certain by taking measure of the Keltics, 28-20. This victory put the Eight Balls in undisputed lead of the league once more.

Wednesday

The Harriers gave the Bombardiers in a big scare by tying the game, and the first over-time, only to fall down in the second over-time. The final score, 43-37, gave the Bombardiers the victory. The Bombardiers took an early lead, but the Harriers gained a six point lead two minutes before the end of the game; then the Bombardiers came to life to even the score, making necessary the first over-time. Not until the final over-time did the Bombardiers come into the open to take the game.

Echo put the Machines away, 32-18 to hold their lead in the Garnet League.

Wrestling Season Ends .

(Continued from page 3)

175 Class—Willocks (M) pinned Moore (G) in 0:25 of the 3rd. period
Heavyweight—Bassett (G) won by decision over Anderson (M) 5-4
Maryville 18—Georgia Tech 18

Results of the Chattanooga bouts:

121 Class—Heaton M) won by decision over Allgood (C) 6-0
128 Class—Caviston (M) won by decision over Berg (C)
136 Class—Ross (M) pinned Rice (C) in 2:00 of 1st period
145 Class—Callaway (M) won by decision over Miller (C) 8-2
155 Class—Braly (C) pinned Major (M) in 2:54 of 3rd period
165 Class—Berg (C) won by decision over Merriman (M)
175 Class—Love (C) won over Willocks (M) 8-5
Heavyweight—McGrath (C) won by decision over Anderson (M) 6-2
Maryville 14—Chattanooga 14

RUTH KAYE TO LEAD PRAYER MEET WEDNESDAY

At prayer meeting Wednesday night Ruth Kaye will lead the fourth speake r in a series of meetings concerning the Beatitudes. Her text will be "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness for they shall be filled."

Last week Robert Eastman spoke on the third Beatitude.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. will meet in Bartlett this Sunday for an informal hymn sing, with special music from Harold Hunter's trombone.

Last Sunday Y. M. and Y. W. held a joint meeting in Voorhees Chapel. Dr. Martin was their speaker.

Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd To Speak At Vespers

Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd will be the speaker at the vesper service Sunday night using as his subject, "The Two Philosophies of Life".

The vesper choir will sing "Clap Your Hands" by Christiansen, and "Prayer" by Kountz.

—LESS WE FORGET—

Friday March 14th.

Is The Date

PROFFITT'S Men's Dept.
Is The Place

8:30 A. M. to 5:00 P. M.
Is The Time

"ACTION UNDER THE SUN"
by
McGREGOR

There,s Always A Thrill To Be At The Opening Show.

Proffitt's

Men's Store Main Floor

Let the rain pitter patter for it really doesn't matter when you're wearing one of our deftly tailored, smartly styled gabardine raincoats.

Available in beige or tan.

Economically priced— — — put one aside for that rainy day.

McARTHUR'S

National DOUGHNUT WEEK

DOUGHNUTS

are always Delicious—
Chocolate Coated
Sugared, or just Plain—
They're always good!

LYNCH BAKERY

FIVE MINUTES
FOR A SNACK
Why Not Drop In
To Have A

DELICIOUS and NUTRITIOUS SANDWICH

(with a Steaming Hot cup of Coffee)

We Serve
BREAKFAST ALSO
Get that extra lift for the day

"We Are Open On Town Night"

Coulter's Restaurant

BASEBALL
OPENER TODAY

THE Highland Echo

Z 703

G. I. VARIETIES
TONIGHT

VOLUME 32 — MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, MARCH 22, 1947 — NO. 23

News Capsules—

BY LESLIE WEBB

France Delays Conference

A split developed among the representatives of the Western Powers at the Moscow Peace Conference when France served notice that she will not be party to any agreement which fails to guarantee that she will receive coal from German mines. Russia is backing the French coal demand.

U. S. Secretary of State Marshall has notified the four power council that he intends to request that representatives of the Austrian government be summoned to Moscow for consultation regarding the peace treaty for Austria.

Yugoslavia Denied Relief

The State Department has notified Yugoslavia that it cannot share in relief appropriations of this country for aid to war-torn countries. Yugoslavia has requested this relief through her embassy in Washington and in Belgrade. Yugoslavia has already received 375 million dollars in supplies from UNRRA, about 75% of which was United State's contributons. The statement declared that the domestic food supply in Yugoslavia would be adequate.

Acheson Says No War

Dean Acheson, acting Secretary of State, has declared that in his belief military and economic aid to Greece and Turkey by the United States will not result in war with Russia. Acheson made his statement in testimony before the House Foreign Affairs Committee at a hearing on President Truman's request for Greek and Turkish aid. Acheson warned that Communism will engulf both Greece and Turkey and perhaps all Europe and Asia if the United States government does not act swiftly and decisively in this crisis.

Fight Continues in Georgia

The State of Georgia, which was forced to forsake the inefficient system of supporting two governors by State Supreme Court decision favoring only one Executive, namely, Melvin E. Thompson, has contrived to keep a large amount of confusion prevalent by internal strife and friction between the Governor and the State Legislature. One of the many issues concerns the principle of White Supremacy.

Thompson is expected to be kept busy for some time vetoing legislation signed by "Hummon" Talmadge, who held office until the recent court decision primarily by virtue of the support of State Police.

Death and Taxes

The Houston city finance office has received a check addressed to the Collector of Eternal Revenue.

"I guess the sender is convinced taxes go on forever", City Finance Officer Ankenman said.

Weekly Bible Verse

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that hearth my Word and believeth on Him that sent Me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life."—John 5:24.

CALENDAR

Saturday, March 22
8:00 p. m. '47 G. I. Varieties to be presented.

Sunday, March 23
1:00 p. m. Y. M. C. A. will meet in Bartlett
Y.W.C.A. will meet in Thaw
Y rooms.
7:00 p. m. Vespers
8:00 p. m. Student Vols—Rev. Robert Webster will speak.

Tuesday, March 25
5:00-10:00 p. m. Town Night
7:00 p. m. Gospel Fellowship will meet in Y rooms

Wednesday, March 26
6:45 p. m. Prayer meeting in Y rooms

Thursday, March 27
6:45 p. m. French Club will meet
Spanish Club will meet

Friday, March 28
p. m. Junior Recital

Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd will speak on his trip to China tomorrow at Y.M. in Bartlett Hall at 1:30 p. m.

John Shell Represents Council At District Meeting Of NSO

At a special-called meeting Monday night, the Student Council elected John Shell as Maryville College's representative to the Tennessee-Kentucky district meeting of the now-forming National Student Organization.

Two weeks ago, the Council received an invitation to attend this regional assembly. From the information presented, it was shown that seventy-four other colleges located in the two states were also asked to be represented. The program, which began this morning and will terminate tomorrow afternoon, develops the planning of a regional organization, the drafting of a constitution and the election of officers.

Mr. Shell, president of the student body, left early Friday evening for Lexington where the caucus will be held at the University of Kentucky.

A group of American college students attending an international conference in Prague last summer brought the idea of an international student organization back to the U. S. with them. With this in mind, a student conference was held at the University of Chicago last December where preliminary plans were formed to set up a national organization. As a member of the Kentucky-Tennessee District, Maryville College will have a voice in the proposed constitution and general objectives and policies. Such policies stress and are hoped to build up interest on the part of students in public affairs, student welfare and international understanding and cooperation. The objective, therefore, of not only the Kentucky-Tennessee District but 29 other districts over the U. S. will be to read, discuss and decide on the program of work for their share in the National Student Organization.

Echo Staff Adds Three Members

Three new members were elected to the Highland Echo staff by the publications committees recently. Tryouts have been held for the past few weeks.

Editorial staff additions were: Elsie Onifer, junior from Mayberry, West Virginia, who worked on the Echo staff during her freshman and sophomore years; and Mildred Leake, freshman from Birmingham, Alabama, who was on the editorial staff of her high school paper.

Robert C. Watkins, freshman from St. Louis, Missouri was appointed to the business staff.

M. C. WSSF Drive Totals $787.33

Maryville faculty and students pledged a total of $787.33 to the World Student Service Fund. Each student and faculty was contacted personally and given a pledge card to be turned in at the tables in Thaw or Pearsons. A "march of pennies" was conducted at these same tables. This money will be used by the World Student Relief Fund to help students in other countries to secure an education or necessary medical aid. The drive ended Wednesday, March 19. Pledges may be paid at any time to the WSSF treasurer, George Gillette.

The total of $787.00 pledged was considerably under the goal of $1,111 for Maryville College.

Recital Features 3 Music Majors

Martha Barnwell, pianist, Betty Hall, soprano, and John Runion, pianist, were featured in the joint student recital held in Voorhees Chapel last evening, March 21, at 8:00 o'clock. Miss Barnwell, junior music major from Maryville, played five numbers selected from works of Bach, Mozart, Brahms, Scott, and Simmons. The last number was a two-piano piece, for which she was assisted by Marian Weiler.

Miss Hall, also a junior music major and the second soloist on the program, sang eight songs by the composers Paisiello, Donaudy, Puccini, Debussy, Wolf, Speaks, Hamblen, and Lehmann.

Runion, junior from Maryville, played compositions by Bach, Beethoven, Chopin, Gershwin, Shostokovitch.

Two other music students will give a recital next Friday evening, March 28, at 8:00 o'clock in the Chapel. Marian Weiler, pianist, and Barbara Blair, contralto, will be the soloists.

Rev. James R. Beard To Speak At Vespers

Vesper speaker Sunday night, March 23, will be the Reverend James R. Beard, pastor of the Erin Presbyterian Church of Knoxville.

Mrs. Beard was formerly Mary McArthur, a graduate of Maryville.

Last week's vesper speaker was the Reverend Robert D. Swanson, dean of students at McCormick Seminary.

"Rain or Shine?" Unique Class Studies The Facts Behind Weather

By DOROTHY VAWTER

"What's the weather like today?" "Is the temperature going up or the wind coming down?" These familiar questions, trite as they are, hold new interest and a scientific outlook for the members of Professor Walker's meteorology class.

In the College catalog the course is listed as a study of the "Structure of the atmosphere; atmospheric motions, masses and fronts, elements of weather, including temperature, pressure and winds, humidity." By far the most interesting part of the description is the last phrase: "Laboratory work by arrangement with local U. S. Weather Bureau Office at the Airport." This arrangement enables the whole class, which includes five fellows and one girl, to travel to the airport once a week and learn by observing and doing. One of the favorite jobs is answering the telephone, from whence come questions such as the aforementioned— everything from "How's the temperature?" to "What are the roads like to New York?"

This is not the extent of their job however. The class observes the making of weather maps and helps with computations and graphs. One of the jobs which this class considers a treat is sending up "pi-balls". This is merely a short name for pilot-balloons which are sent up to determine winds aloft.

Every morning, through rain, snow, ice, sleet, wind and sometimes sun, some faithful member of the class climbs to the top of Anderson tower and checks up on what the weather has in mind for the day. Members of the group take turns at this job.

An interesting and complex array of instruments are in the tower weather station. The anamometer is perhaps more familiar to the uneducated as a wind velocity indicator, which is approximately what Webster calls it also. The rain gauge looks just like a can set out to catch a little water. And it so happens that is just what it is, but it also tells the initiated how much fell when and where! The thermograph not only registers the temperature but makes a consecutive record of it throughout a short period of time. In this way the observer knows what the temperature was at every moment during the day or

(Continued on back page)

College Gives G.I.'s Educational Tests

Seventy-two General Educational Tests have been given by the Maryville College personnel office to former G. I.'s according to an announcement made by Dean Frank McClelland this week.

The tests which were designed by the Armed Forces Institute in cooperation with the American Council of Education are given by the college free of charge to all servicemen who desire them in order to obtain high school diplomas or prepare for college entrance. There are two forms of the tests, one which is used for present servicemen and the other which is used for veterans and others who are interested in taking the tests. There are also two levels of the testing program, one for high school graduation and another for college level. The tests are divided into five separate parts, each of which takes about two hours.

The accrediting societies have approved their use for the veterans and allow them to be used as a basis of determining high school graduation and college entrance, provided the veteran makes a passing mark of thirty-five on each test, or averages forty-five percent on all the tests. The grades of each student taking the test are referred to the high school which he attended by the personnel office, and the high school then makes the arrangements for securing the diploma for the student.

The tests may be taken at any time by any veteran through arrangements made at the personnel office.

3 Plays Repeated For Knoxville Club

Eleven members of the Experimental theater presented three plays before the drama section of the Ossoli Women's Club of Knoxville, Monday afternoon, March 17. Mrs. Curtis Hughes, director of Experimental theater, accompanied the group to Knoxville.

"Sunday's Child", "The Beau of Bath", and "In The Suds" were the plays given. All three have been presented on the campus during the present school year. Costumes and properties used in the original productions were taken to Knoxville. "Sunday's Child", the story of life in a Methodist parsonage, was enacted by Joan Hall, Vernon Hyde, Earl Downey, Jean Childress, Bill Nish, and Bonnie Mills. Players in "The Beau of Bath" were Bob Arant, Shirley Wells, and Rogar Cowan. This was a romantic fantasy of England of the 1750's. The medieavil farce, "In the Suds" was presented by Pat Dennis, Marjorie Prall, and Vernon Hyde.

Maryville Debaters Lose To Spring Hill

The Maryville debate team met the representation from Spring Hill College, Mobile, Alabama, last Thursday night at 7:00 p. m., debating the resolution: that labor should have a direct share in management of industry. Maryville was represented in the affirmative by Roger Cowan and Bill Nish, and Spring Hill by Danny Mancini and Warren Norville. Mr. Frank B. Bird of Maryville, debate judge, gave the decision to Spring Hill College which maintained the negative side.

Student Vols Will Hear Negro Minister

At Student Vols Sunday night Reverend Robert Webster, negro minister, will speak on interracial problems. He will be a guest of the College all day Sunday and will go out with the Parish group Sunday afternoon.

An interracial conference group is also planned for the Sunday night program in which delegates from the University of Tennessee and Knoxville College will participate.

"1947 G. I. Varieties" Shows Tonight In Chapel

Miss Massey To Attend Conference For Deans

Miss Frances Massey, Dean of Women, will leave next week to attend the conference of the National Association of Deans of Women, which will be held at the Neil House in Columbus, Ohio, March 28-31. A representative at the conference for the first time, Miss Massey will be one of the group which meets annually to discuss the past year and to make plans for the future.

At the same time the Deans of Women meet, two other groups, the American College Personnel Association and the National Vocational Guidance Association, will meet at the Fort Hayes Hotel and the Deshler-Wallick Hotel, respectively. These groups have jointly chosen "Developing the Human Resources of Democracy" as their theme for the four-day conference.

Non-Fiction Books Added To Library

Some fascinating new non-fiction has been added to the library recently. That old subject of etiquette comes up again with a new twist and wacky drawings in Manners for Moderns by Kathleen Black.

For dramatic art students and home economic majors is the book Dressing the Part, by Fairfax Walkup, a clearly illustrated history of costume through the centuries. Oh Dear! What Shall I Wear answers woman's oldest question in 1946 style.

Individual Sports for Women, rules and instructions for sports from tennis to swimming by the staff of the physical education department of Smith College, and Germaine Guiot's Student Teaching in Physical Education are books of interest for the P. E. majors.

1940 pictures of now-battle-scarred gardens of the far East illustrate David Fairchild's Garden Islands of the Great East, the journal of a naturalist traveling the Philippines and Netherland Indies in a junk. Pathfinders of the World Missionary Crusade by Sherwood Eddy, published in 1945, is one of the most recent books on the world mission and its outstanding men.

Y. W. C. A.

Dr. H. E. Orr will be speaker tomorrow at Y.W. at 1:30 using marriage as his subject.

Germany Discussed By I.R.C. At Chapel

The International Relations Club presented the program at chapel last Wednesday morning, March 18. The topic of the program was, "How Germany is to be Governed."

Miss Marjorie Prall led the devotions and introduced the members of the club who were the speakers of the morning.

Tom Scott the first speaker took as his subject, "Russian Influence in Germany." He stated that the Russians were not too much concerned about the fate of the Germans. He stated further that the Russians were speeding up their productions instead of going ahead with re-habilitation.

Lynn Willis spoke on "Great Britian's Occupation of Germany". She pointed out that the British were trying to deal fairly with the German people and even though England is suffering a severe coal shortage, she did not take advantage of the German supplies of coal.

Taking "France" as his subject, Carroll Stegal pointed out that France has been invaded three times by Germany since 1870 and that the French people could not go through another invasion by German forces. He urged that something be done to assure the French people that Germany could never again invade their country.

"What Germany Wants", was the subject of Jeanne Blanchard's talk. She stated that in an election held in Berlin the German people showed that they favored a democratic rule by the Western Powers rather than a Communist Russian occupation.

The last speaker of the morning was George Gillette who spoke on, "The United State's Foreign Policy in Germany". His main point was that we as a people should be willing to help Germany get back on her feet again and not just take the attitude that they brought it on themselves.

The speaker for next Wednesday morning chapel will be the Rev. Dr. J. R. McGregor of Montreat, North Carolina.

PARSONS TO SPEAK AT GOSPEL FELLOWSHIP MEET

Gospel Fellowship Meetings will begin next week on Tuesday night at 7:00 p. m. in the Y.W. rooms. These are informal meetings intended for spiritual enrichment.

Herb Parsons will be the speaker next week. Special music will be rendered by Betty Fields.

Present MC Curriculum Differs From 1894 Courses of Study

A little more than half a century ago Maryville College offered only three courses of study—the Classical, the Latin-Scientific, and the English Scientific. The degrees conferred upon the graduates of these three courses were the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Letters, and Bachelor of Science. Included in the curriculum were the various branches of Science, Language, Literature, History and Philosophy, usually offered in leading colleges of that time.

With a total of three hundred and seventy-five students, Maryville also boasted a Preparatory Department. Three instructors were in charge of this department, with a number of professors of the College devoting part of their time. The same three courses of study were offered in this department, but special attention was given to the preparation of teachers for the public schools.

In 1947 the curriculum is on the divisional plan with various fields of instruction included in one of the six divisions. Major sequences are offered in twenty-five subject matter fields.

Quite a difference in such a short time, isn't it?

In 1946 the Maryville College football team practically lived up to several lines of a short paragraph published in the Christmas, 1894 edition of College Days. "Their strength, together with their tact and talent. . . . would, no doubt, place them not only in the position of champions of the South, but peradventure would make them able to cope with some of the great northern colleges and to win a greater name both for the football team and for Maryville College."

Theta Epsilon, organized in 1894 with eighteen members, remains an influence even today as will be seen at Commencement when she presents her annual play with her brother society, Alpha Sigma. Alpha Sigma, organized as a literary society in 1882, obtained a charter from the state in 1885, placing it on an equal footing with all incorporated bodies.

In 1894 the progress of the Bainonian Society exceeded that of any preceding year and the Athenians entered into their second quarter of a century.

In 1890 $500.00 was needed to finish making the $2,000.00 which was used for the erection of a dining hall. Up to that time not much accommodation had been

(Continued on page 4)

Curtain Rises At 8 On Vet Program

Tonight, at Voorhees Chapel on the stroke of eight, the curtain will rise on the presentation of '47 G. I. Varieties. This show, directed by Ben Paxton and Robert Butts, will feature skits, slapstick comedy and musical numbers galore. The performance will star G. I. men and women from the student body, plus a male contingent of faculty Vets. Under the auspices of the campus social committee, Varieties is being staged in order to raise funds for the purchase of a piano to use in the Alumni Gym.

Comprised of two acts, the program will have as its Master(s) of Ceremony, Jim Black and Rush Lester who will introduce such famed celebrities as the Mills Brothers and the three Andrew Sisters. Under the supervision of Jean Balch a group of six couples will gracefully(?) float into the "Dance of the Fountains". Popular music will be supplied by a small combo, composed of Roy Cox, Howard English and the Smith Brothers, Roy and Sandy. In an attraction in which the audience participates, Sam (Houdini) Broyles will defy anyone to find a rope that can hold him.

The social committee expressed its appreciation to all who have given their time and effort for the success of '47 G. I. Varieties.

During the program, concessions will be sold through the audience.

Students Of Applied Music Give Recital

Students who are taking applied music lessons presented a recital Tuesday, March 18 in the chapel. The program was as follows:

Prelude and Fugue in F Major ..... Bach
Alma Lancaster

Lotus Land ..... Scott
Martha Barnwell

Prelude and Fugue in G Major ..... Bach
Juanita Johnson

Una voce poco fa ..... Rossini
Rella Anderson
Daniel Winter, accompanist

Sonata in E major ..... Handel
Adagio-Allegro
La Vonne Heard
Dorothy Horne, accompanist

Apres un Reve ..... Faure
Peggy Cummings

Villanelle ..... Dell' Acqua
Maurine Owen
Ruth Bird, accompanist

Toccata ..... Boelmann
Frances Ashby

Musetta's Waltz Song from "La Boheme" ..... Puccini
Catherine Barnawell
Patty Regan, accompanist

The White Peacock ..... Griffee
Marian Weiler

Four Students Confined In College Hospital

Four students have been confined to the college infirmary this week, two with the flu, one with a broken collar bone and one with the mumps. Miss Thelma Hall, college nurse announced.

Ruth Rogers broke her collar bone while playing basketball recently. Margie Pritchard is confined with the mumps, and those having flu are Katherine Franklin and Wilbern Seymour.

BEATITUDES DISCUSSED AT PRAYER MEETINGS

The regular Wednesday Prayer meeting will be held Wednesday evening at 6:30. Ray Saunders will lead the meeting with the theme "Blessed are the Pure in Heart". This is the sixth in a series of services based on the Beatitudes. Ray Holsey, the regular song leader, will lead the hymns.

Last week Anna Katherine Knapp lead the worship. Her theme was the Fifth Beatitude, "Blessed are the Merciful. . . ."

is to be introduced next fall. because of pranksters. 6:30 Bartlett Hall.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 32 NUMBER 23

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

R. Thomas Parkinson ..... Editor
Mary Elizabeth Hunt ..... Staff Editor
Constance Hawkins ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Janet Miller, Lorraine Swift, Dorothy Vawter
Elsie Onifer

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Grace Gugger, Naomi Hoffman
Raymond Brahams, Jonnie Johnson, Ilda Mosby

FRESHMAN APPRENTICES
Mack Casey, Craig Fisher, Herbert McCallum,
Kenneth Olsen, Smartt Ramsey, Barbara Wallin,
Mildred Leake Leslie Webb

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF
Ruth Williams ..... Business Manager

JUNIOR ASSISTANTS
Katherine Johnson Mary Jane Long

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANT
Lillian Law

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879.

Represented for National Advertising by
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, MARCH 22, 1947

Recreation Center Lacks Student Interest

From a student viewpoint, one of the most important things accomplished at Maryville College during the school year 1944-45 was the completion of plans and putting into effect of a recreation cener. Up to that time—only two years ago—there was no such thing on this campus. A tremendous amount of time and energy was taken to work out the plans and put into operation a smoothly working and beneficial student center.

At that time it was decided that since this was a student enterprise it should be student operated, which meant a need for students who would serve as hosts and hostesses. Certainly that is as it should be. And at that time student support of the center was excellent.

However, this year, due to several reasons, it has been a different story. Since the wrestling team took one big room, intramural basketball required the exclusive use of the Gym in Bartlett, and there were other such difficulties of space and equipment, the rec center has not been able to offer the student body as many activities as it should under ordinary circumstances. Therefore, the students this year have never been able to get a true introduction or very favorable impression of the rec center.

But those of us who were here when it was begun know that it is too good a thing to let die. The operating committee has worked hard to keep the center going through all the adverse circumstances. And now the outlook is once again favorable. Permission has been obtained to use the Bartlett Gym for the volley ball games that were previously so popular in the center after meals. Ping Pong balls have been obtained again, or soon will be. And there are still the parlor games,—cards, etc.

So now the only thing needed and lacking is the necessary interest and proper attitude of the students. It has been hard to get students to serve as hosts and hostesses. That should be different now. Underclassmen are especially urged to volunteer some of their time; it will be well spent. And if the word gets around that there is more to be found over there at Bartlett surely more students will visit the center.

It has been proven in past years that the rec center is a worthwhile thing. It is the place where students can get together purely for social and recreational purposes. It is on its feet once more. Only student interest will keep it that way.

Write A Letter.....

There are those who say that the Highland Echo is not an authentic spokesman of student opinion. This is NOT true in the strictest sense of the word. Few students may realize it but there is a Letter to the Editor column when and if someone takes time enough to write. Letters to the Editor will be published as written wihout any alteration or censorship by Echo staff or faculty. All letters submitted receive the most careful consideration and those which in the judgment of the editor, are most indicative of student opinion will be prnted.

For example, John Doe wants to know why Harry Truman or (Cas Walker) does not grow a mustache. It is the editor's opinion that this matter is not of universal interest on campus. Consequently, therefore, you see, the question immediately arises—what should be done with the letter. Most probably it would find itself filed under F. (for Future reference.)

Anyone looking over the back copies of the Highland Echo would find one letter to the editor in the past year, Tom Horst's letter of thanks. The conditions that exist which are unsatisfactory to students are probably brought out quite plainly in bull-sessions and then forgotten 'til next time. At least, it would indicate that the students are aware of these existing conditions and are actively interested in them. No one, however, wants to take the trouble, and no one seems to have the "intestinal fortitude" to go to bat for anything that's wanted.

So go ahead, sit around and gripe as you have been doing in the past but there'll be no one to blame this time. No one, that is, but yourselves. We're not psychic and we can't know what you want unless you tell us.

JMM

Just Being "Nosy"

BY GUGGER AND HOFFMAN

As one burned out light bulb said to the other light bulb:

It was nice to glow,
But it's great to be black.

Lest we be charged with plagarism we got this from George Robarts.——So much for the beginning——we're on the beam this week; we've got another opening sentence, so we'll start this over. Do you mind? (It wouldn't do you any good, anyhow.)

You can read this if you've bought your tickets for the G. I. Varieties.
(Beginning)

Are you wondering what we find to talk about as we tour the campus?

Well, we've been trying to find the answers to these questions—Maybe you can help us: Why does Laura Crawford enjoy dropping books in the library and waking everyone up? Why do women ask men to explain the income tax and labor problems when they know they won't listen anyhow? Why does it annoy Dan Buchanan to have his name in the column? (more will follow). Why can't we ever open those jars that say, "To open, simply pry up edge with the back of a table knife." Why was Miss Hallock looking for Peggy Brooks at 8:15 on Sunday Night?

Why can't we remember where we put those sales slips for those insipid, sequin-spangled, satin dresses? Why are Joyce Jones and Margie Sapp in such a dither? (SCOOP, ten minutes before press time, Margie's going to see Ed, and Moe is coming to see Joyce.) Are we the only living college students (?) who can't read road maps or time tables (for that matter, the new catalogue.) Why didn't Dave Gulick pass out cigars the other day? We heard that Mickey and Minnie were the proud parents of four little ones. But that's a long tail. Why don't we wait until the bath salts melt before we get in (ouch)?

Why was Henrie Turner walking out of the library sans shoe? And why do the librarians let Jim Martin play janitor? Who contributes the most noise to the library Jim or us? Why do people on campus keep such charming middle names to themselves——Erastus, Trigg, Elmer, Caleb, Ephriam, Lovejoy, Emogene, Minerva and Clarence. We may be prejudiced but we prefer ours, Esmerelda and Katrinka. (Sigh.') Why hasn't anyone tried to psychoanalyse us. Why did the systematic class laugh when Miss Johnson said when commenting on a speech: "Class, is she always in the habit of smacking her lips." (Freshmen, take a hint, get rid of this practice before you take this subject—systematics that is. Why did Dan Buchanan and Bill have a fight? Why does it rain right after you polish your shoes? Harvey Overton was a judge for the baby-picture contest. (Now how did that get in here!) Why contest. (Now how did that get in here?) as Marguerite Priest's? Why aren't we geniuses? as Marguerite Priest's? Why we aren't geniuses? (They say you profit by your mistakes.)

Enough for our musings. (The omission of an a in front of the last word is poorly coincidental.)

And don't you think seeing the "Barretts of Wimpole Street" was a "twillwing expewience." Seriously, we thought it was marvelous. For over two ecstatic hours we thought were were on Broadway——still in the audience, that is.

We're eagerly awaiting the new curriculum next year, aren't you? Figuring out the schedule will probably be a course in itself. Instead of taking courses in chemistry we will have to study how to get a chemistry course in. But if we can cut our usual six subjects down to four, we're only too happy to do it. We have an idea Dr. Sisk will like it too. (He'll get rid of two more headaches.) Enough about the curriculum—we do not want to invade Dr. Hunter's territory.

Our parting thought is for all the freshmen, whose grades went HOME: James Caleb Colton said it: "Examinations are formidable even to the best prepared for the greatest fool may ask more than the wisest man can answer."

TALK OF THE WEEK . . .

Baseball Today

MARYVILLE

VS.

MICHIGAN STATE

Bond-A-Month Plan Offered By Treasury Dept.

A bond-a-month plan will shortly be offered by banks to their depositors for the systematic purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds, Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder announced here today during a national Savings Bond Conference called by the Treasury Department. He invited all banks to participate.

The plan was described by prominent bankers speaking at the conference as a boon to small business firms and their employees, professional and other self-employed persons, farmers and all other bank depositors to whom the Payroll Savings Plan is not available. It was called "the most promising plan for spreading the national debt among non-bank investors since the adoption of the Payroll Savings Plan in 1941."

The Plan as explained by Robert V. Fleming, chairman of the Treasury Borrowing Committee of the American Bankers Association and president of the Riggs National Bank of Washington, D. C., operate this way: The depositor who wishes to buy a bond each month signs a card authorizing the bank to deduct the purchase price from his or her checking account. The bank issues the bond at its convenience duirng the month and mails it to the customer. This eliminates standing in line at the bond window. The depositor on the Bond-aA-Month Plan enjoys the same privilege of automatic bond buying as do the millions of wage and salary earners now on Payroll Savings Mr. Fleming commented.

Veterans hospitals are being provided with full-time American Red Cross field directors, who will promote, sitmulate, and co-ordinate all Red Cross volunteer services in these hospitals.

Over 68 per cent of all veterans who apply to Red Cross for assistance require financial aid for basic maintenance pending the receipt of government benefits.

JOKES

"Love is when she sinks in his arms, and winds up in his sink."
—The Utakha

"Whoopee, I own hell!"
"How come?"
"The dean just gave it to me."
—Masquerader

Prof: "I hate to tell you sir, but your son is a moron."
Father: "Wait until he gets home, I'll teach him to join one of those fraternities without my consent."—Orange Peel.

Father: "Are they strict at school?"
Son: "Well, one fellow died in class, and they propped him up until the lecture ended."—Purple Parrot.

Jane: "Do you file your fingernails?"
Roommate: "No, I just cut them off and throw them away."
—Rammar-Jammer

Jim: "Why the black crepe on the door? Someone dead?"
Bill: "That's my roommate's towel."—Orange and Blue.

Prof: "If your mind were nitroglycerine it probably wouldn't blow your hat off."—Orange and Blue.

FREE VERSE
Spring has come
The snow has went
It was not did
By accident.
—Orange and Blue

For Those Delicious Steaks Served
With French Fries.....
Stop By The
C&L CAFE

Easter Hat Parade

Here they come—The most Photogenic Hats in the 1947 EASTER PARADE! Starws, Felts, Fabrics....the hats "He" likes best, at the prices your budget prefers....Completely Femine, Fashion-wise beauties you'll wear right through this Peacetime Spring.

Come see our exciting collection—Find your own Special Favorite—Today!

Parks-Belk Co.

All Your
BAKERY NEEDS
At
LYNCH BAKERY

B.O. "Does she know much about cars?"
E.M. "Nope–she thinks you strip the gears to cool the motor."

Two women were discussing a mutual acquaintance.
"She has a very magnetic personality," said one.
"She ought to have," said the other, "everything she has on is charged."

SCOTLIGHTS

By Brick Brahams

This year's Intramural Basketball program turned out some first rate basketball players who will bear watching in the future. Some of the outstanding intramural basketeers were formerly out for the varsity squad, but for a varied number of reasons did not stay out. Some of them were men out of the service who entered the second semester and not being in condition did not go out. Some of them may be out for the varsity team next year and could provide this year's lettermen real competition. Many who have followed the intramural schedule closely point out the fact that there was a lot of good basketball material playing on the different Intramural teams.

Bob Connell, freshman from Mississippi, led both leagues in scoring as he racked up 184 points in 13 games for an average of about 14 points per game. This is a good average in anybody's league and especially in Intramurals where you are liable to have one guard around your neck and one on each arm to help you make them. Bill Miller was the leading scorer for the Garnet League with 128 points while Bill Largen, former varsity letterman, was second with 127. Jim Baird put on a show of fancy floor work and shooting, and was the mainstay of his team which lost out in the finals of the Garnet league. A further proof of the ability of these intramural tossers is the fact that some of them, playing for the Maryville Misfits, have helped that team into the semi-finals of the big Tri-State Independent Tournament in Knoxville. Baird has been one of the leading scorers for this team and has been helped by Ezell, Jack Buckeley and Bob Thompson. Many others could be included if a list were to be made of the standouts, but this article would not be complete without mentioning Reynolds of the Eight Balls who set an intramural scoring record of 72 points in a single game. This record will no doubt stand for quite a while.

If you have ever tried to walk the length of the practice field since Spring sports have begun without getting hit with some kind of a ball, you have probably wondered how many men are out there all at once. There are quite a few, and it only goes to show that a great part of our male student body is interested in athletics and willing to help make our teams better. There are about 50 men out for football, 45 out for track and about 35 out for baseball. This proves that there is a very good spirit of participation and who knows, maybe there are some good ones in the crowd.

The end of the war has brought back to college campuses many things that were missed during the war. One of these is the letterman's sweater which goes so well with any campus. It is good to see many wearing the "M" this semester, and as the year progresses this number will increase. Among the most notable are Big Mitch with his "barber pole" four striper, and Honaker, Easter, Talbot and Pepper with their three stripes apiece. There are many two stripers and even more who have made their first letter. We like to see them all and we know they are well earned.

Having had a large degree of success in the three intercollegiate sports engaged in so far this year, we look forward with anticipation and expectation to the opening of baseball season this week. Just as in all the other team sports, baseball needs the backing of the student body. Let's help our baseball team along this year with the fine support that has been given the other teams.

M.C. Baseball Opener Today

Scotties Meet Michigan State

According to the schedule, Coach Lombe Honaker's 1947 base ball squad opens the season this afternoon at 3:00 on the college field, weather permitting. The opposition is to be the diamond squad of Michigan State, often one of the leading baseball outfits of the North.

The Highlanders have played the Michigan team several times in previous years, usually coming out victorious. However, the visitors are reported to have a powerful team this season. Many of this year's players played on State's successful team of last season, which made a Southern tour, winning all their nine games with Southern colleges and universities.

The Scotties do not have an experienced team, since this is the first regular baseball schedule attempted since 1942, the last prewar squad. Only two or three men from that squad are in school at present. However, there are several men at each position who have been showing a great deal of promise thus far in practice. Coach Honaker, who makes a habit of fielding a successful baseball team, did not announce a starting line-up before game time. But some of the best-looking prospects are as follows: pitchers—Malone, Leon Berrong, McJunkin, and Jernigan; catchers— Stinnett, Smith, Reynolds and Baird; infielders—Boring, King Berrong, Honaker, Enloe, Spears, Lillard, Neff, and Buckley; outfielders— Hamil, Rock, Davis, and Pentz.

The Highlanders have been hampered by too much cold and wet weather so far this season. They were unable to hold any drills outside the gym. Only this past Tuesday and Wednesday did the Scots hold their first full practices outside and get their first real batting drills of the season.

"Nice room, nice bath, no objection to Yankees."—Ad. in Columbia, S. C., paper.

Women's Intramurals Begin New Activities

Women's intramural groups have started new activities this week following completion of the basketball tournament. Three classes are playing softball and will have an interclass tournament. The two swimming classes are for intermediate and advanced swimmers. These groups will be given the Red Cross tests. Tennis class students will have a tournament within the group as there is only one class of twelve members.

Merle Henderson's "C" period class won the basketball tournament by defeating Evelyn Anderson's e period class last week.

Trackmen Prepare For Four Meets

The track schedule for the coming season was released by Coach Mehl this week. The first meet is with the University of Tennessee, to be held at Knoxville on April 19. Two other meets, with T.P.I. and Chattanooga respectively, come before the State Meet which Maryville will enter. The State Meet will be the last contest for the Highlander track squad for the season.

The second week of practice found the weather favorable for the track squad. The men had a work-out every day except Monday when rain prevented their appearance on the track.

Work on preparing the track for the season has been progressing slowly.

The complete schedule follows:

April
19—University of Tennessee at Knoxville
26—Tennessee Polytechnic Institute at Cookeville

May
3—University of Chattanooga at home
10—State Meet at Memphis

A Classa
A Quizza
No Passa
Gee Whizza

Baseball Schedule

March 22—Michigan State, here
March 31—Hiwassee College, here
April 4-5—West Carolina Teachers, here
April 8—Hiwassee College, at Madisonville
April 11—Hiwassee College, here
April 12—Husculum College, here
April 14—Hiwassee, at Madisonville
April 21—Tusculum College, there
April 23—East Tennessee State, here
April 28—Cumberland University at Lebanon
April 29—Tennessee Poly at Cookeville
May 2—Emory & Henry, here
May 5—Tennessee Poly, here
May 7—East Tennessee State, there
May 8—Emory & Henry at Emory Virginia
May 12—Western North Carolina Teachers, at Cullowee, N. C.

There is a possibility of as many as four games with U. T. if there are enough open dates.

Spring Football In Second Week

Spring football training has swung into its second week at Maryville College. Preliminary calisthentics and conditioning have already given way to more rugged scrimmage feature work, with Coach Davis looking over the field carefully for new prospects. About fifty men are at present working out daily in preparation for next year's team. Coach Honaker reports the schedule is about the same as last year's with two open dates yet remaining in the schedule. Candidates for next year's squad include: Burchfield, Talbott, Merriman, H. Everett, Pinner, D. Miller, Easter, C. Jones, B. Talbott, Baldwin, McNeil, Hord, Sneed, Lambert, H. Henry Chumley, Lowery, Lester, C. Walker, Ruggero, P. Walker, Pate, Major, J. Slaton, Price, Callaway, Newman, Hamilton, Chandler, Still, Holsey, Campbell, Cowan, Downey, Webb, Dinges, E. Everett, McCall, Johnson, Heershipp, Whitehead, Sharp, Hatley, Andes, J. Henry, Smith.

Kilroy Jr. was present last week but was rubbed out in short order.

POINT SYSTEM

At the play offs for the aerial dart tournament, Janice Lindsay won the series that the Point System had. The girls are now making plans for the softball games and are having their practices at present.

INTRAMURAL DOPE

By HERBERT McCALLUM

Softball

With entries closed at noon today, play in the intramural softball competition is set to begin Monday week, March 31. This date is tentative as yet, depending upon the number of teams that enter league play. A week of practice will begin Monday for the teams unless the schedule has to be shifted. This will happen only if the number of team entries is more than anticipated.

Softball hopes didn't seem to be so bright with spring football, track, and tennis making a heavy demand upon potential softball players. However, Coach Mehl announced this week that men out for spring football would be eligible to play softball. The schedule of teams whose members are predominately football players may have to be altered, but it is expected that they will not miss any of the games because of football practice. In the case of a group of football players who failed to enter a team because of football practice, Coach Mehl said he would consider taking their entry after today.

Season Closes in May

The intramural softball season will continue until May 2. The play-offs will be held the week of May 5, according to present plans. Each team will play every other team in its league twice. The number of teams in each league will depend upon how many teams make an entry, and upon the condition that there are enough entries to warrant two leagues.

The games will be played on the south end of the practice field by Court Street and on the field where the golf course is situated. In posting conditions governing play, Coach Mehl stated that the games will be played, as far as possible, on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons.

Each game of league play will consist of seven innings or a period of one hour of play, which ever comes first. If an hour is up before seven innings have been played, the game will be scored according to the last full inning of play. In the case of a tie game, the game will be re-scheduled to be played over as a new game.

Basketball

The Eight Balls of the Orange League took the college championship by whipping the Echo squad of the Garnet League, 28-20 last Saturday night in Alumni Gym. The Eight Balls got a slow start in the game and Echo held the upper hand at half time with the score, 13-10. In the final stage of the game the Eight Balls became more aggressive to make 18 points while holding Echo to 7, to win the game. In order to meet the Eight Balls in the final play-off game, Echo had to win over the Ex-Scrubbs, a team that had beaten them twice. This preliminary play-off was held Wednesday night of last week and Echo gained a 19-7 victory over the runner-ups.

Garnet All-Stars Win

In the All-Star game, the Garnet aggregation were the victors after cutting down the Orange bunch, 43-27. The Garnet All-Stars took command of the scoring early in the game to hold an eight point lead at the half. Jim Baird, an ex-Scrubb man, made 11 points for his color, while his colleague, Terry McDavid, the Buzzards' hot shot, led the scoring for the night with 16 markers. English, of the Keltic clan, was top score man for the Orange All-Stars with seven points.

Credit for the success of the intramural basketball season should go to the intramural managers and Coach Mehl, whose efforts made possible the basketball

(Continued on page four)

Have Your Picture Made

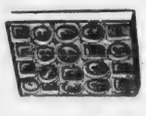
By "Daddy" Webb

THE WEBB STUDIO

March Values

Always The Smart

Place To Buy



BYRNE DRUG COMPANY

NORTON HARDWARE CO.
Phone 18

CHOCOLATE CANDY

If you don't know what to send on that Special Day— Visit us and see our candy selection.

CANDY IS

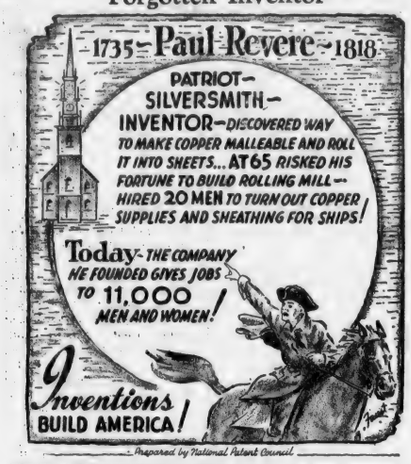
The most adaptable of sweets. A perfect gift or an after dinner treet. Try our pure, delicious chocolates yourself.

THE PARK DRUG STORE

GLENEAGLE
(Famous Name)

APRIL IS JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Dedicated to the proposition that all men are created thrifty .....conceived in gabardine, designed for casual comfort, proper fit, and weather wear! Now, we are engaged in a battle with the elements, testing whether this raincoat or any other raincoat so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure.



The world will little note nor long remember what we say here but men everywhere can never forget the high quality and great economy they find here, at MOSER'S see us soon for that needed raincoat—

"Maryville's Most Popular Store"

MOSER'S
.CLOTHING STORE.

is to be introduced next fall. (because of pranksters. 6:30 Barrett Hall.

Forgotten Inventor

Weather Class . . . .

(Continued from page 1)

week and doesn't have to make frequent trips to record temperatures.

Inevitably in such an unusual class entertaining things happen. As for instance the day a couple of fellows kept sending up "pi-balls" only to have them burst before they reached sufficient height to be of any use. Closer observation revealed that instead of "pi-balls" they were sending up ceiling balloons, which are used to determine cloud ceilings. Since there were no clouds, those particular balloons just couldn't take the pressure!

Professor Walker believes in teaching his students common sense by the trial and error method. One of his students who tried and "errored" left the wet bulb on the wet and dry bulb thermometer one freezing night and now the thermometer is merely a dry bulb affair.

Through their experiments and observations these Future "Jo-Jo's" of America have become even more weather conscious than a weather conscious world. However, they are not conscious of whether it is going to rain; they want to know what conditions are causing it to rain and probably what brought about these conditions.

Of course, Professor Walker can still tell what the weather will be before they look at their instruments, merely by noticing whether or not the tower flag is flying toward Memorial Hall.

1894 Courses of Study . .

(Continued from page one)

made for dining except that three years before a co-operative boarding club had been organized. Today the Dining Hall seats approximately six hundred and seventy-five students.

The four buildings in use at that time have been supplemented several times, and even today we see the erection of two prefabricated buildings which will allow for more office and gymnasium space.

Wouldn't you rather be a part of Maryville College, 1947?

Writer's Workshop

At this week's Writer's Workshop meeting there were two pieces of literature read, one of a student and one of a faculty member. Miss Johnson of the English department read six sonnets which were written on two subjects. Three of the sonnets dealt with the subject "The Teacher", and the other three were on the subject of "The Student". Her work was criticised by Dr. Hunter. Fred Wilson read his original short story to which there was no title. June Garland criticised his work.

At the next meeting on March 26, Dr. Hunter will read and Miss Cuellas will criticise. The members of Writer's Workshop are planning some form of publication for this semester the plans for which will be announced later.

Thoughts:

A bicycle can't stand alone because it's two tired.

Woman—"What's your cat's name, little boy?"

Boy—"Ben Hur"

Woman—"That's a funny name for a cat. How did you happen to pick such a name?"

Boy—"Well, we just called him Ben until her had kittens."

Chemistry Professor: "We will now take poison."

Student: "Go right ahead."

Western Reserve School of Nursing Adds Opportunities

More opportunities for college women to attend the Frances Payne Bolton School of Nursing, Western Reserve University, Cleveland, O., will be opened in the fall of 1947.

This will be made possible with the discontinuance of the diploma program for high school graduates. High school graduates will not be admitted after March 31.

Dean Helen L. Bunge of the School said the college affects the basic nursing program and not the programs for graduate nurses.

In the basic program, students who have been graduated from an accredited college will be required to attend the School of Nursing 31 months to receive the degree of bachelor of science in nursing or the degree of master of nursing. Those who have attended two or three years of college, will be required to attend 32 months to receive the degree of bachelor of science in nursing.

"The school aims to prepare the mature college woman who has a serious interest in nursing", Dean Bunge commented. "With the tremendous expansion in opportunities in nursing for the women with broad general education we are making the facilities of the school available to a larger group of college women than formerly possible. This is being done also to meet the trend toward specialization and toward a broader preparation of graduate nurses."

The School of Nursing at Western Reserve and the Cleveland community provide unique facilities for encouraging students "to develop their talents and interests" outside the classroom.

The large metropolitan area and the University's affiliation with University and City Hospitals, and the Visiting Nurse Association permit field training in medical and surgical nursing, care of mothers, babies and children, the mentally ill, and the care of patients in their homes.

Students live at the University Hospital Residences on the Western Reserve campus during most of the program. If their residences are in Cleveland they may live at home the first three months.

If they are now attending college they are advised to declare their intention of attending the School of Nursing as soon as they have reached a decision in order that they may plan their college work to best advantage.

The Bolton School of Nursing now has more than 490 students enrolled. Reserve's annual enrollment is 15,000.

The Red Cross and the Army daily feed more than 12,000 undernourished children, pregnant women, and nursing mothers in Austria alone.

GIVE!
1947
RED
CROSS FUND

ALUMNI NEWS

Through These Portals

PERSONALITIES

Howard Long, '43, after receiving his M. S. degree at U. T. is now working toward his Ph. D. degree at Peabody.

Rev. and Mrs. Olson Pemberton '43 (Jean Patterson, '43), arrived in Bahia, Brazil, Jan. 17, 1947, where they will be for a year's language study before proceeding to their mission post. There are several friends from Princeton in Bahia, also.

Henry Heaps, ex.'45, is one of the delegates being sent by the Westminster Fellowship to the World Conference of Christian young people at Oslo, Norway, July 22-31. They will sail early in July.

Ben A. Lynt, '44, has completed his work at Union Seminary and has gone to Brentwood, Md.

Jeanne Bellerjeau, '45, is a candidate for the degre of Master of Religious Education at Princeton Theological Seminary.

Donald W. Campbell, '47, is teaching at the John M. Clayton School, Frankford, Delaware.

Paul A. Jamarik, '47, is attending the University of Richmond Law School.

Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Peterson, '41 (Marianna Allen, '41) have registered at Scarritt College in Nashville, where they are taking advanced specialized training in Religious Education.

Mary Elizabeth Wells, '46, is working for Eastern Air Lines at Miami, Florida.

Natalie Virginia Yelton, '43, was married to Robert E. Morton, ex.'45 on February 22, 1947, in Raleigh, North Carolina.

Frances Louise Murphy, ex.'49, was married February 14, 1947 to Mack M. Rose.

Margaret Moore Cross, '46 was married to Richard Frances Scruggs, ex.'45, on March 18, 1947.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Moss (Aline Campbell, '41) announce the birth of a son, Robert William, born on January 23, 1947.

Intramural Dope . . .

(Continued from page 3)

competition enjoyed by the players of the respective teams.

Tennis

There will not be a tennis tournament this spring if a varsity squad is formed. The tennis courts are very soft at present and as soon as the weather permits, work will begin on them to put them in playing shape. Until this work has been done, all persons are asked to keep off the tennis courts.

ODE TO A CHAPEL ASSIGNMENT

A fledging reporter is in quite a plight;
It seems she was sent for a story.
High though her purpose and try as she might—
But here are the details so gory:
She sharpened her pencil and prepared for the fray.
And so the picture gets bleaker.
That's all the further she got that day,
For, alas, there was no speaker.

Overheard: "She doesn't think of men all the time, but when she thinks, she thinks of men.'

Mathematical romance: Two divided by nothing.

Crawford & Caldwell
HARDWARE
Phone No. 1 Maryville

Aptitude Tests To Be Given Ministerials

Clifford E. Davis, representative of the Board of Christian Education, will be on the campus March 24th to give tests to those persons who plan to enter the Ministry under the Presbyterian Church Board, U.S.A. These tests are personality and interest tests known as the Rorschach tests which were featured in Life recently. Two periods will be set aside on this day for testing. One at 2:30 and the other at 3:30 p. m. Dean McClelland requests that all ministerial students who plan to work under this board come to the Personnel Office between today and Monday afternoon to receive period assignments for this test.

BAINONIAN

There will be no meeting of Bainonian this week because of the other programs planned for Saturday. Next week the members will be introduced to "The Viper".

On the meeting on March 15, the program was a selection of Hamlet records. Special music was presented by the men's quartet composed of Jack Gilmore, Tom Wheeler, Mil Castrodale and Scott McClure.

ALPHA SIGMA

Alpha Sigma will meet tonight for a brief business meeting. The play will be discussed.

Boisterous Betty goes into her two new songs with that hectic Hutton hubbub.
'Poppa, Don't Preach To Me'
'Rumble, Rumble, Rumble' with JOE LILLEY and his orchestra
From the Paramount Picture, "Perils of Pauline"
CAP. 380
Capitol RECORDS
Sunset and Vine FIRST WITH THE HITS FROM HOLLYWOOD
At Your Dealer

McGREGOR* SPORTSWEAR

COOL AS A JULEP!
Action Knit Shirts
Freedom of Action is what you get in these cool knit shirts. They're expertly knitted by McGregor to let you walk, run, or relax in plenty of comfort! And they're colorful too—with new tones and patterns that mean T-shirts, styled to a "T"!
Washable, absorbent, sun-fast and color-fast.
Price $1.50 TO $2.50
Proffitt's
Men's Store Main Floor
Since 1919 . . . "The Best Place to Trade"
*TRADEMARK REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Flowers DRENCHED WITH BEAUTY
Captivating her heart with their sweet scented fragrance..... adding a burst of blooming color to her loveliest gown thrilling Milady's fancy with their tender expression of your thoughtfulness.
Remember her this Easter with a gift of flowers!
"See our agent on the Hill" —John Shell
Fox Florist
SAY IT WITH FLOWERS. SAY IT WITH OURS
PHONE 1977 BROADWAY MARYVILLE, TENN.

CONGRATULATIONS
ALPHA GAMMA SIGMA

THE Highland Echo

Z 703

MIXED CHORUS GIVES
ORATORIO SUNDAY

VOLUME 32 | MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE. March 29, 1947 | No. 24

CHAPEL DESTROYED BY FIRE

Nine Elected To Membership In College Honor Society

Dr. Edwin R. Hunter, secretary of Alpha Gamma Sigma, announced last Thursday that nine senior students have been elected to membership in the Alpha Gamma Sigma, the Maryville College scholarship honor society. Three December graduates, Betty Congleton, Judy Turk, and Vera Ross, were named with six other students, Jayne Shouse, Alma Lancaster, Lilybel Gunn, Mary Case, Carolyn Ulrich, and Frederick Wilson, all of whom will graduate this May.

The new members will be formally recognized at Chapel on Wednesday, April 23. Dr. Alwin Thaler a noted writer and scholar and a professor in the English Department at the University of Tennessee, will give the recognition address.

Future Plans Varied

Miss Congleton, a philosophy major from Congleton, Kentucky, graduated last December and has been teaching history in a high school in Congleton. While at Maryville she kept a high scholarship average, having a 7.6 average her last semester.

Miss Turk, Bible and Religious Education major, was married to Robert Schwanebeck, following her graduation last December, and the couple now resides in Fitzgerald, Georgia. She participated in many extra-curricular activities throughout her four years at Maryville and was president of the YW-CA during her senior year.

Miss Ross, a chemistry major from Maryville, became Mrs. Rupert Boyatt last December, and the couple now lives in Maryville.

Miss Shouse, history major, plans to enter graduate school next fall to begin working for a master's degree. She is from Cleveland, Tennessee, and has worked in various campus activities. She was editor of the '46 Chilhowean.

Miss Lancaster, whose major is Bible, is from Hendersonville, North Carolina; she entered Maryville as a junior in the fall of '45. She plans to be a Director of Religious Education near Bristol, Virginia.

Miss Gunn majored in history and plans to enter graduate school at McCormick Seminary next fall. This summer she will work in the Union Cooperative Parish in Union, Mississippi, which is near her home at Meridian, Mississippi.

Miss Case, a biology major from Maryville, has made no definite plans.

Miss Ulrich, a philosophy major whose average last semester was 8.0 will be married to Robert F. Huber, a graduate of Maryville and editor of The Highland Echo in '45. The couple will live in Birmingham, Alabama, where he is on the newspaper staff of The Birmingham Post. Miss Ulrich is from Aurora, Indiana.

Wilson, an English major from Fairview, Pennsylvania, entered Maryville with the present junior class, but because he accelerated he is graduating this May. He will enter Princeton Seminary next fall.

Officers Elected

Mr. Edwin J. Best, class of '36, was recently elected president to replace the Rev. Philip Evaul, retiring president who graduated in the class of '41. The newly elected vice-president is Mrs. Scott Mc Clure, '45. Mrs. Marvin Minear, '39, is the present vice-president. The Society now has 135 members.

Committee Sets Up Plans to Improve Fire Conditions

An eleven point program for the improvement of fire conditions on Maryville College campus has been drawn up in the past two weeks by a student-faculty committee composed of Dean McClelland, Mr. Brown, Mr. Black and Al Lesnick. Several points on the program have already made considerable progress, and the machinery is being set up for the execution of the rest.

A six man committee has been formed under the chairmanship of John Shell, composed of Maybelle Rule, Ann Anderson, Lloyd Anderson, Mildred Miller, and, as faculty representative, Dean McClelland. It will serve in an advisory capacity, especially concerning procedures and the student fire squad.

Below is the eleven point program which has been drawn up:

1. A student fire squad is to be formed, whose duty will be to assist in the control of fire, and in the policing of the student body in the event of a fire. Members will be appointed by the Student Council.

2. A procedure in case of fire is to be adopted for each building, including dorms and classrooms. Under this will come fire drills and safety precautions.

3. A new plan for regular and frequent checking of wiring and fire equipment will be instituted. It will become the responsibility of the Maintenance Department in cooperation with the Student Council.

4. The Maintenance Department will see to the renewal or repair of fire escapes, and see that the easiest and safest possible exit to the ground is prepared. It will also consider the installation of counter balance ladders. Mr. McMurray of Barber and McMurray, school architects, will come from Knoxville to draw up plans for these improvements.

5. An order has been issued for the removable of all inflamable materials from the basements of all buildings.

6. Fire gongs are to be installed in all the buildings, and a general alarm system established.

7. The night-latches on the doors of all the dormitories are to be able to be opened from the inside. The main exits will all be made to open out.

8. Additional extinguishers are to be provided. Purene extinguishers for the chemistry and physics labs, and a foam type extinguisher for the kitchen.

9. All extinguishers are to be provided with plainly marked data.

10. Fire doors in Carnegie and Faverweather are to be released and equipped with hook and eye fasteners.

11. The useless firehoses are to be removed from Carnegie. The committee agreed that it was impractical to keep exposed fire hoses in the halls of dormitories because of pranksters.

Maryville Represented At Administrative Meeting

Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd, Dean Frank D. McClelland, and Dr. David H. Briggs went to Nashville Wednesday in order to attend the annual meeting of the Tennessee College Association which onened Wednesday night. The opening session of the conference was the meeting of the Tennessee Association of College Registrars which was held at the Hermitage Hotel on Wednesday evening.

Due to the chapel fire, Dr. Lloyd and Dean McClelland cut short their trip and returned to the campus, Wednesday night. Dr Briggs remained for the other sessions as the representative of the college. At the Thursday meeting Dr. Briggs read a paper written by Dr. Edwin Ray Hunter, Dean of Curriculum, which presented the plans for the new system which is to be introduced next fall.

Picture by Charlie Naundorf, cut courtesy of Knoxville Journal.
VOORHEES CHAPEL BLAZE—all fire fighting was in vain Wednesday night as fierce flames completely destroyed Elizabeth R. Voorhees Chapel and everything that was in it.

History of Voorhees Chapel Reflects Forty Years of the History of M-C

By ILDA MOSBY

Dedication services for the Elizabeth R. Voorhees Chapel were held Nov. 1, 1906. The construction had begun in 1905, and was made possible by the gifts of Ralph and Elizabeth Voorhees of New Jersey. From their gift to the college of $100,000 on Jan. 1, 1905, $15,000 was appropriated for the erection of a chapel. An additional $10,000 gift and $9,000 secured from other sources, brought the original cost of the chapel to $34,000.

The structure contained a main audiorium seating almost a thousand, and 25 class rooms. The Division of Fine Arts classes, (music and expression) met there. For a number of years the Y.W.C.A. was in one of the rooms in the chapel basement. In recent years it has held the offices of the music and dramatic art faculty members and a broadcasting system.

In the spring of 1906, the class of '06 wanted to graduate in the chapel. Since there were no permanent seats installed yet, benches were placed in the auditorium and the exercises conducted. Fred Hope was a member of this class. The 1906 Chilhowean contains a drawing of the building.

About a year following the completion of the building, (Dr.) Clinton H. Gillingham was ordained at the first evening service in the chapel. Many of the present students had classes under Dr. Gillingham last year.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Lloyd, a fund was started in the late '30's to secure a pipe organ. At the final meeting of the 1939

(Continued on page 4)

Full Passion Week Program Planned

Beginning with the Oratorio to be presented on Palm Sunday in New Providence and ending with the Easter Sunday Vesper Service of Meditation and music, a full program of Passion Week worship services has been planned for Maryville College Students.

At 7:15 in New Providence Church, "The Holy City" by Gaul is to be presented by the combined chorus of the Glee Club and Girls' Choir, under the direction of Mr. Hughes.

The chapel services of the following week will be led by faculty members of the Department of Bible and Religion, with scriptures appropriate to the day. The first will be led Tuesday morning by Dr. Lloyd, and Dr. Buchanan, Dr. Orr and Dr. Case will take Wednesday. Thursday and Saturday chapel services. A longer service on Good Friday will be conducted by Miss Wilkinson, Dean McClelland and Mr. Black, on the seven last words from the cross.

The choir, provided with 30 hymnals of 1926 vintage, will sing at each of these services. It will perform again on Sunday morning when the sun rises on the congregation in the amphitheatre.

As in previous years the Ministerials are sponsoring a series of Easter Week prayer meetings, to last from 1:00-1:20 p.m. These will be led by a different member of the organization with a talk appropriate to the day.

Student Vols

Carroll Stegall will be speaker at Student Vols Sunday night at 8:30 Bartlett Hall.

Vocal Groups Give Easter Oratorio At Sunday Vespers

The Holy City, an oratorio by Alfred Robert Gaul, will be presented by the All Girl Choir, and the Men's Glee Club Sunday night at 7:15 in the New Providence Presbyterian Church. Mr. Curtis Hughes is director of the production. Miss Vivian Lanfear is pianist and Peggy Cummings is organist.

The six student soloists are as follows: Maurine Owen, soprano; Loretta Nunn, contralto; Jean Tarwater, contralto; Harold Huffman, tenor; Ben Paxton, baritone; Bob Connell, baritone.

The first part of The Holy City was suggested by the passages of scripture: "Here have we no continuing city," "Thy kingdom come." It sets forth the desire for a higher life, as expressed in the words of the higher life, such as "Eye desire is followed by other passages suggestive of the perfection "My soul is athirst for God," which hath not seen."

With the exception of two hymns, a verse from Milton and three verses from the Te Deum, the words are entirely scriptural.

The first part is entitled "Contemplation" and the second is entitled "Adoration."

Representative To N.S.O. Conference In Kentucky Explains Origin, Purpose

Representative from Maryville College at the Kentucky-Tennessee regional conference of the National Student Organization which met on March 22, 23 was John Shell. Mr. Shell has explained the origin and purposes to give the students a better understanding of the council.

The first moves toward establishing such an organization in this country were made last Christmas at a called meeting at the University of Chicago. Temporary officers were elected and 'unofficial' constitution set up so that something definite with which to work might be had.

The country is divided into 30 regions; the chairman of each of these forms an executive body along with the National Chairmen, and three chairmen elected from various national organizations such as the YWCA, YMCA, Nat. Intercollegiate Christian Council, etc. (there were 16 organizations represented in Chicago.) These organizations wanted equal representation with the regions, but it was cut to three. It is hoped by some to eliminate their voice altogther, if possible. It is from some of these organizations where the communistic element is feared, though with only three votes against 30 there is not too much danger.

This meeting in Lexington, Kentucky was the first of the Tenn.-Ky. region. There they discussed setting up this region permanently, discussed the purposes of the National Student Organization, this region's participation in the organization, and the constitutional convention of the National Organization which will be held late this summer. They agreed on the dues, some basic principals necessary for the further establishment of the regional organization, made plans for the next meeting of the region (in Nashville in June), and elected officers.

Since it is so new, no one is

(Cont. on Page 4)

Nothing Saved As Flames Quickly Consume Building

Elizabeth R. Voorhees Chapel, since 1906 the daily gathering place of the students and faculty of Maryville College and the home of the music and dramatic art departments of the college, was completely destroyed by a fierce and sudden fire Wednesday night, March 26.

The fire which obviously started in the basement or main floor seemingly on the side toward Baldwin Hall was discovered by Dob Dockendorf and Noble Pribble, who roomed in the Chapel, shortly before 11:30 p.m. Bob ran to Carneige Hall where they immediately reported the fire to the Maryville fire department. However the flame spread so rapidly that it was impossible for the fire fighters to save either the building or any of the valuable equipment in it, even though the Maryville fire department arrived on campus very quickly.

In addition to the loss of the building that has so many happy memories attached by the present student body and students for the past 40 years—it was the place where everyone met five mornings a week, where Sunday night vespers had been held for the past quarter of a century, the scene of the February Meetings, commencement programs, recitals, plays and artists series—there was also a tremendous amount of music and dramatics department equipment lost. Nothing was saved whatso ever.

Tremendous Loss to College

Lost were such items at the Wicks pipe organ, which originally cost over $5,000; the concert Steinway piano, which cost $4,000 in 1939; all the props and costumes collected by the dramatics department; all the radio equipment in the broadcasting studio which was located in the basement; many pianos, including studio as well as practice ones; all the larger orchestra instruments; the large music library, including all of the chapel choir's music; the record library and record players; as well as numerous other smaller items. The fire spread so swiftly that there was too much smoke in the building for anyone to be able to carry anything out.

Cause Unknown

The cause of the conflagration is as yet unknown. The college is investigating every possible clue in an effort to determine the cause. After the damage done by fires in 1943 and this past fall most of the chapel had been rewired, and many safety devices had been installed during the past six months. The building and equipment was insured, but as yet there has been no estimate given by the insurance companies.

Plans Being Made

For the time being at least the Alumni Gym will be the place of the daily chapel services. It will undoubtedly be at least a year before another chapel building can be completed. However it was revealed by President Lloyd that as early as Thursday morning the college had contacted its architect concerning procedures and for drawing plans.

Since the fire the churches and people of Maryville have been quite generous in offering the use of their organs and pianos for music students of the college. No music courses will have to be discontinued. The college has contacted the government agency that is providing the new buildings on campus, and that agency has agreed to concentrate efforts on completing the small building near Anderson Hall, which will be used as music studios and practice rooms.

The faculty of the music and dramatic arts departments are already well underway with their plans to continue all of the courses and most of the activities with borrowed and donated equipment and space despite their huge losses.

These faculty members as well as many students who had equipment in the chapel sustained personal losses in addition to the losses suffered by the college.

Fire Forecloses Chapel Rats' Lease

By KEN OLSON

Don't mention the word "fire" to Bob "Dock" Dockendorf or Noble Pribble, the chapel "rats." They both feel they have had quite enough.

Dock and Noble are those two ambitious souls who used to be seen at all times of the day sweeping the floors and putting on or removing the protective covers of the flags and chairs. Up until Wednesday evening they occupied a room in the basement of the chapel between Mr. Hughes' studio and a record listening room. Normally, this was a nice quiet spot, aside from an occasional obligatto from the nearby practice rooms, and the "rats" were satisfied. But now they are somewhat perturbed at being none-too-gently ejected by the landlord "fire".

Chapel fires have almost become a tradition to chapel "rats". Twice before the big "burn", they have been forced to vacate; this time the foreclosure is complete.

Pribble is new at this sport of evacuating from the burning chapel; but Dock is a veteran of the November "heat wave". In that one the "lucky" chapel "rats", Tom Horst and Dock, had their belongings "rescued" by some of the student body; but this time the fire did a thorough and complete job. Not even a sock left.

Everything went, including two typewriters, a phonograph and radio and a number of records, Noble's tool box, the foundation of a fair-sized library, and all Dock's comp notes. Besides this, the fellows lost all their clothing and bedding. Contrary to a prevailing rumor, Dock did not lose 600 dollars. His total cash loss was 20 cents and Pribble lost 30 cents.

According to Dockendorf, the fire started in the east corner of the building although he does not know on which floor. Pribble was already on the way to blissful sleep when Dock and he heard crackling noises "like firecrackers". They found considerable smoke in the hall at the east end.

(Continued on page four)

NOTICE TO MUSIC STUDENTS

All applied music students are requested to watch bulletin boards closely. Practice schedules will be posted Monday, but will change from day to day. They will be posted on the Personnel Office bulletin board. All other notices will be found there. The temporary studios of the music faculty may change; notices of any such change will also be posted at the same place

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 32 NUMBER 24

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

R. Thomas Parkinson ..... Editor
Mary Elizabeth Hunt ..... Staff Editor
Constance Hawkins ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Janet Miller, Lorraine Swift, Dorothy Vawter
Elsie Onifer

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Grace Gugger, Naomi Hoffman
Johnnie Johnson, Ilda Mosby

FRESHMAN APPRENTICES
Craig Fisher, Herbert McCallum
Kenneth Olsen, Smartt Ramsey, Barbara Wallin,
Mildred Leake Leslie Webb

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF
Ruth Williams ..... Business Manager

JUNIOR ASSISTANTS
Katherine Johnson Mary Jane Long

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANT
Lillian Law

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879.

Represented for National Advertising by
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, MARCH 29, 1947

Fred Hope Requested That Fund Go To China

One of the most successful, and perhaps the most noteworthy project at Maryville this year was the annual Fred Hope Fund Drive. Maryville students and faculty pledged the admirable total of around $1700.

Although it was announced when the drive was made that the proceeds were going to China this year, there seems to have been some misunderstanding for recently the question has been asked where the fund is going this year and why it is not going to Africa as it has in the past.

That question was raised in a recent meeting of the Student-Faculty Senate where the facts of the matter were satisfactorily explainned. And the Highland Echo has made some further investigation in an attempt to clear up the misunderstanding. Following are some of the facts we found.

The Fred Hope Fund dates back to the student days of Fred Hope. He was a founder of the fund, and during the years that he was the leader here the proceeds were sent to China. However when he left school and went out as a missionary to Africa it was only natural that the fund be sent to him for disposal. There is where it has been sent as long as he was in Africa.

Two years ago he retired from work in Africa. The last public work he did was to speak here last year in the interests of the drive which is named for him. At that time Dr. Hope talked with Dr. Lloyd as to the future of the fund. Dr. Hope expressed his appreciation when he was told that the fund would continue to bear his name, and as for the fund he suggested that since Africa had received it for so many years and since all of the specific projects he had in mind had been accomplished, it semed to him a good plan to let other countries receive benefits from the fund in the future. China was suggested by him especially since it had been the country benefited by the fund at its origin and because it has suffered so much in recent years. It was decided to send the money to China at least for the present.

It is still undecided as to what specific need or project the fund will be sent to this year. College authorities are negotiating with the Presbyterian drBoard of Foreign Missions, and it will be a worthwhile and specific need. Decision as to the disposition and announcement of same should be ready for public announcement in the near future.

That size amount will do a tremendous amount of good somewhere in China. Maryville College can feel proud of subscribing that much. Don't forget to pay your pledge.

College Has Friends

"A friends in need is a friend indeed." And this week has proven that Maryville College has many friends indeed. Before the chapel flames had all died out, calls from various townspeople had started coming in to the college offering heartfelt sympathy and, of a more concrete nature, offering the use of various facilities and equipment to take the place temporarily of the great losses to the music and dramatics departments of the college.

Individual friends of the college and the churches of Maryville were quick to volunteer the services of their pianos, organs and buildings as well as anything else they could furnish.

Just Being "Nosy"

By LORRAINE SWIFT

The Echo this week dug into nooks and crannies which never before have been explored, and because of the efforts of all editorial staff members these bare facts at long last may be printed. Chillun, hold your hats. It goes like this—

At the faculty meeting held last Monday the motion that final exams should be abolished was carried by a substantial vote. The opposition, led by Prof Pieper, held that student resistance to the motion would be too great to overcome if such a revolutionary change were introduced prematurely.

The play committee of Omicron Iota and Econian has recentnly announced that they have chosen Eugene O'Niell's The Ice Man Cometh for presentation to a Maryville audience on April 26 in the new theatre building.

Coach Lombe Honaker announced today that the athletic department has received a shipment of winter football equipment.

The Committee on Entrance and Advanceed Standing announces today that because of an error in the allocation of grade points last semester, a surplus of grade points now awaits distribution. Only students whose average is lower than B need apply.

Money for all Easter corsages will be furnished by the College, it was announced by the Treasurer's Office last night. Men will call at the Personnel Office to fill out a brief ten-page application blank. All men, with the exception of those who were engaged before January 1, will be asked to limit their orders to one orchid.

Large overstuffed chairs are being placed in Pearson's lobby for the convenience of couples who prefer to sit downstairs after lunch and dinner, Mrs. Peal Brutcher announced yesterday about midnight in a soft whisper to the girls who were making fudge on her hotplate.

Via Assimilated Rumors Press reports have come of a student recital in which only one person participated and played only one piece which lasted exactly four minnutes and fifteen seconds. The audience was so astonished that no one left before it was over. More of the same are requested, but a decision will be published at the turn of the century, and in case the century decides not to turn somebody make sure it signals.

All students participating in the Student-Help program for a period of two years are eligible to receive the S. H. P. pension. This pension pays a student's room rent and board bill and provides him with $145 per month spending money.

Maryville College's annual May Day dance will be held on May 2, it was announced by Miss Ruth Broadhead, president of the Student Council. . . . Equal in importance to the interest in the setting of a date is the freak, triple tie in the election of May Queen. Adding to the prestige and dignity of the afternoon program will be Miss Marvina Mitchell, Miss Cottent Easter and Miss Frieda Kluth, who split the honors in winning a triple crown last week at the balloting. Said the trembling Miss Mitchell when informed of her share in the reign, "I'm just thrilled to pieces!"

Dagwood Bumstead was guest speaker at the regular Monday morning Chapel Service last week. He spoke for an hour and seventy-five minutes on the subject "To Be or Not to Be, What is the Question, or Beethovinskyhoffs's Third Movement in A Flat from the Oratorio 'Not Paying the Rent'" . . . Mr. Bumstead then decided to tour the campus. At Bartlett Hall, he began beating his chest to prove his excellent physical condition. Unfortunately, the swimming pool was just behind him, but he was rescued by a Junior Life Saver.

A bathing beauty contest is scheduled for the afternoon of April 12. Candidates must be chemistry majors and not have less than three nitric acid stained fingers. The age limit is from 16 to 16. The protest of the student body (particularly the male members) against the contest on grounds of immodesty was overrlued by the faculty who feel that the culture program of the students has lagged somewhat during the last few months.

The annual drive for the Aid for Ailing Hippopotami fund was officially opened today by Mr. James Faythe, national representative of the AAH. Because the crack-pot attempt at mosquito control by the government has caused their swamps to be sprayed with oil, these harmless creatures are dying of acute oilitis.

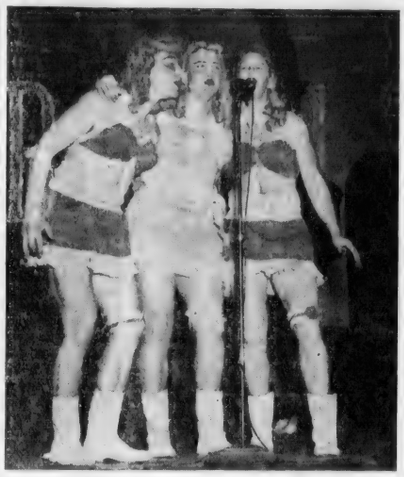
Chatterbox Manager Squire Kemp has announced that the enlarged Chatterbox for women who chatter and men who box will follow a new schedule of opening hours, 12:00 o'clock noon until 12:00 o'clock midnight. Miss Andy Anderson will work the first six hours, and Miss Lorrie Nunn will take over for the last six hours.

Mr. Paul Ayers, mathematics major, was recently elected to the high-point scholarship society, having out-scholared all other students with 9.5 average. Mr. Ayres timidly admitted that his success is probably due to the fact that he has never missed a class meeting since his entrance in this institution.

Well, that's that, folks. Now you have all the inside dope. But pul-leeze allow us to say before signing off that we refuse to take either the full credit for full blame for this column. A list of those responsible is printed in the upper left-hand corner of this page. Please observe, and may you each take advantage of APRIL FOOLS.

Courtship is a man's pursuit of a woman until she catches him.
—Eastern Progress

Faculty member: "The bell is a curse of education."
—Orange and Blue



All Your
BAKERY NEEDS
At
LYNCH BAKERY

High-Level Income Opportunity

Leading publisher offers unusual opportunity of special interest to students and teachers in the distribution field. Educational line. Enormous demand. Interestng and highly profitable. Write today for full details.

INTERNATIONAL PRESS
1010 Arch Street
Philadelphia 7, Pa.

—Picture by Charlie Naundorf

ANDREWS SISTERS—One of the features of the 1947 G. I. Varieties given last Saturday was the singing of the Andrews Ssisters, as portrayed by (left to right) Maryville footballers Fred Kluth, Marvin Mitchell, and Cotton Easter.

Have Your Picture Made

By "Daddy" Webb

THE WEBB STUDIO

On Being Vigilant

Looking Ahead

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

THAT THE price we pay for liberty is eternal vigilance may seem like old stuff to some of us. We are prone to relax after being vigilant for five years during a hard war. Like the next man, we pay more attention to signs of optimism than to those danger signals that are likely to call us to vigilance.

As modern-day Americans, we indicate by our actions and our interests that we are concerned about a lot of things — but perhaps least concerned about playing Paul Revere roles. Let Samuel Adams and John Hancock and Thomas Jefferson and Patrick Henry and A. Lincoln and all the others stay in their history books. We won our freedom in 1776, and we've kept it since. So why take the trouble to worry about being vigilant in 1947?

Take the trouble IT IS always a lot of trouble to have a mind toward our freedoms. With three-fourths of the world embracing doctrines which oppose our cherished freedoms, and with many of the nations of the world scorning our kind of Republic, we shall have to keep on taking trouble to defend our way of life. This is true, even when we know that our Republic is the best and most prosperous anywhere in the history of civilization.

We have called America the melting pot, the place where the cradle of liberty was first rocked, the refuge of all the persecuted of hundreds of brands of minorities. We have been a thrifty people, an active people, a people building a continent — all the while warding off tyrants from abroad and having a care at home for your freedoms and mine.

Defense of the Mind HOW IS IT, then, that we have been caught napping? Have we not in times of confusion at home and trouble abroad, allowed doctrines to creep in which would chain our minds and shackle our bodies as well? Distorting, misleading, boring from within, state socialism at home and abroad presents to us the kind of curse that tyranny has always been to free man. Inroads have been made on some sectors of the American mind.

Did you know that polls have shown that 51% of our people do not know what a balanced budget is? That virtually a third have no conception of the meaning of "free enterprise"? That many of us think it all right to owe a huge national debt to ourselves? That security is something Congress can hand out? That inflation is acceptable because it creates wealth? That there are ways to earn more by doing less?

All these things are fallacies. With other fallacies they will enslave, just as surely as any tyrant. We must make our platform freedom. Can there be a more constructive program than that of free men? Americans everywhere must prepare the defense of their own minds against the inroads of enslaving ideas.

Fox Florist
SAY IT WITH FLOWERS - SAY IT WITH OURS
PHONE 1977 BROADWAY MARYVILLE, TENN.

See Our Agent, John Shell

It's Easter Shopping Time at CHANDLER'S

Hats that you'll Adore—Hats that You'll Buy—In Lovely Straws and Felts— For this EASTER and the Entire Spring.

Chandler's "Maryville's Exclusive Store"

SCOTLIGHTS

By ABBOTT KEMP

FOOTBALL GAME TUESDAY! Spring football practice will end next Tuesday afternoon with an intra-squad skirmish on Wilson Field, according to Coach D. Davis. The reason for the early termination of practice this spring is so that Coach Davis can take over as track coach, the position being vacated by Coach Mehl on April 1.

Eureka!

The 1947 football schedule is as yet incomplete. Nothing final has been decided concerning an offer from Eureka College in Illinois that the Highlanders journey north for a week-end. The offer is as yet inadequate ,the coaches report.

Baseball—Weather Permitting

Then there was the time the guy hit a ground ball in the snow out towards shortstop. By the time it got to Bob Boring it was a two-foot snowball. Boring managed to stop the ball, but he had to get second baseman Berrong to help him carry it over to first for the putout—the batter was still trying to scratch off from home plate.

We don't think it is necessary to be too disheartened about our 10 to 1 loss to Michigan State in our season opener last Saturday. Our pitchers had had only a few real workouts before the game and almost none of these were from the mound. Leon Berrong proved himself worthy of the reports that we have heard on him by holding the state boys scoreless for the first five innings and allowing only two singles in that time before he was relieved by McJunkin who started the sixth. Hitting was noticeably lacking as the Scotties managed to get only three scratch singles off Seffee and Roberts, who whiffed thirteen batters between them. Then too we were playing just a little out of our class in taking on a school with nearly fourteen thousand students.

Quesion—Will Economics, Political Science and Athletics Mix?

If the rumors that we have heard are correct it seems that tennis and intramurals may receive a sprinkling of economics and political science beginning around April first when Mr. Phillips takes over tennis coaching duties and Mr. Pieper becomes head man in intramurals. "Net" man Phillips and Umpire Pieper they were known as in them days.

The latest dope on the tennis situation is that we will probably have at least a few matches, but they will all be on the home courts unless itispossible for the Athletic Department to purchase some sort of athletic station wagon in the near future.

Baskeball Lettermen's Sweaters

This year's basketball lettermen are hoping to get their sweaters and letter before the end of the semester. The measurements have been taken. Last year's lettermen have not received their sweaters as yet. It is hoped that they will be ordered along with the present lot. There seems to be little question that they deserve them.

Track

It will probably take a meet to decide what the Scotties have in the way of a track team. Although managers Ladner and Richardson have worked persistently and hard on the track it is still a "slow" track and it would be difficult to predict what our boys could do on a good track. Tom Scott and Earl Downey proved themselves worthy runners as cross country men in the fall, but any other talent we may have out for track has yet to prove itself in college circles.

Intramural Softball Next

Nine teams have entered the intramural softball league. Enthusiasm is high among the boys who will be participating. Here's hoping it doesn't wane as it did in basketball towards the end of the season. If you care for some real amateur softball the time is close at hand.

NORTON HARDWARE CO.
Phone 18

BREAKFAST AT PARK—

Walgreen agency drug stores are noted the nation over for the quality and variety of food served at their fountains. Our store is no exception.

We are now prepared to serve breakfast from 7 a. m. to 10 a. m. We can give you crisp bacon, eggs, any style, toast and jelly, orange juice and coffee—just the kind of a meal that starts the day off right.

Those of you who have breakfast and daily lunch in town, as well as those who drop in for an occasional snack can rely upon us to supply the very best food, sandwiches, salads, drinks and ice cream confections.

May we serve you today?

THE PARK DRUG STORE

Scots Drop Opener To Michigan State By 10 and 1 Count

After having led Michigan State's Spartans 1-0 through the sixth inning, the Scots dropped their first baseball game of the current season to the Spartans with a final score of 10-1 last Saturday.

Pitcher Leon Berrong opened for the Scots and lasted six frames before being relieved by Southpaw Ray McJunkin. Keith Steffee, ace pitcher of Michigan State, started for his nine and was replaced in the sixth by Robin Roberts.

The Maryville nine scored their only run in the sixth when, after two outs had been chalked up, Spears walked and then went to third on Boring's single to center. Catcher Walsh of the State team overthrew third, and Spears crossed home plate. Hamil grounded out for the final play of the inning.

Michigan netted three runs in the seventh and scored twice in the eighth with the remaining five funs in the final game.

Spears, Enloe and Boring each made one hit for the Highlanders compared with nine hits by State.

Steffee gave only two free trips to first—both to Artie Spears, one in the fourth when Spears was struck by the pitcher's ball, and again to Spears in the sixth. In the eighth inning, Massuch and Mineweaser walked, this time at the expense of McJunkin.

McJunkin was relieved in the eighth frame by Malone who was replaced by Jernigan in the last inning.

Maryville had two errors and Michigan State, four.

The lineup was as follows:

Maryville	AB	R	H
K. Berrong, 2b,	4	0	0
Honaker, 3b	4	0	0
Spears, rf	2	1	1
Boring, ss	4	0	1
Hamil, cf	4	0	0
Stinnett, c	4	0	0
Pentz, lf	3	0	0
Enloe, 1b	2	0	1
Berrong, p	2	0	0
McJunkin, p	1	0	0
Malone, p	0	0	0
Michigan State	AB	R	H
Peppler, cf	5	1	2
Barbarito, 2b	4	0	1
Dillon, 2b	1	1	1
Hansen, ss	4	1	0
Massuch, 1b	2	1	0
Walsh, c	4	2	2
Rutenbar, lf	2	0	1
Sieradski, lf	3	2	1
Mineweaser, rf	3	1	1
Hughes, 3b	4	1	2
Steffee, p	1	0	0
Roberts, p	1	0	0
xBagdon	1	0	1

x—hit for Steffee in 7th.

Maryville	000	001	000
State	000	000	325

Spanish Club

Plans to acquire additional members for next year's Spanish Club, were revealed at the Spanish Club meeting Thursday night. It was anounced by Katie Carpenter, president, that anyone wishing to become a member should contact either Miss Cowdrick, Miss Cuellas, or June Garland for the necessary information.

Spanish songs and bingo, played in Spanish, composed the evening's program, which was in charge of the freshmen.

Atomic Power-- For Healing

PITTSBURGH, PA. — Business end of the wizard-like, new cyclotron at the University of Pittsburgh, which will harness atomic forces for the peacetime use of mankind in medical research. Already experimented with in treating cancer and leukemin, the cyclotron is considered to have greater healing possibilities than the X-ray and to open vast, unexplored fields to medical progress. Technician shows with pointer the poles of huge 100-ton electromagnet, between which atomic forces are brought into play. Circular tanks hold cyclotron oil developed by Gulf research to dissipate heat in 28 miles of copper wire coiled about magnet.

Scots Meet Hiwassee Monday on Home Field

Monday afternoon at 3:30 on the home field the Maryville baseball team will meet the Hiwassee nine in the second game of the 1947 season, weather permitting. Hiwassee, who usually fields a good junior college team, has a very lopsided record against the Honakermen, having only one victory over M-C in all the years of competition.

The Highlanders, in addition to having an inexperienced team, had to contend with poor weather, and as a result batting practice has been neglected, and the practice schedule has been set back. However the opening game against Michigan State showed some very promising players, and a run of good weather will probably put the Scotties in top form.

Coach Honaker announced that the starting line up will be much the same as that which started against Michigan State.

The starting moundsman, however, will be McJunkin, Jernigan or Malone.

U.T. Employs Mehl Full-Time Coach

Walter J. Mehl, track coach and director of the intramurals program, has accepted a full time coaching position on the University of Tennessee faculty, the change to become effective on April 1. For several weeks, Coach Mehl has been part time coach of the U-T track team and part time coach of the Maryville thinclads, but he found it impossible to divide his time effectively between Maryville and U-T, and having the offer of a full time position there, he has asked for his complete release from Maryville so as to devote his full time to the University.

Coach Mehl's classes will be carried by other members of the physical education staff. Coach J. D. Davis will assume responsibility of the track team, a position he held before the war. In order to release Coach Davis from the duties of tennis coach, Mr. Stanley W. Phillips, assistant professor of economics, will take charge of this tennis program. Mr. A. F. Pieper, a football man in his student days, will direct the men's intramural program.

Orange, Red To Tangle in Football Scrimmage Tues.

The spring football game will be held Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock on Wilson Field. Two teams, the "Orange" and the "Red", will tangle in the final scrimmage of the spring practice, which has been in progress for the past three weeks.

Squad Divided Equally

Each team boasts half of the squad out for spring drills. The teams, according to the coaches' estimate, are rated very equal in strength and a good fight is predicted. The starting line-ups had not been decided as yet. Ronald "Cotton" Easter, captain-elect for the '47 season will captain the "Red" team. Ken Talbot, alternate captain-elect for the '47 season, will pilot the "Orange" squad. Three former gridders for Maryville, Mitchell, Pepper, and Shields are assisting Coach Davis in coaching the squads.

The following men are the "Orange" Team:

Centers: Holsey, Henry; Right Guards: Andes, Brown; Left Guards: Proffitt, Everett; Right Tackles: Walker, Kramer; Left Tackles: Cowan, Johnson, Pate; Right Ends: Talbott, Everett, Walker, Whitehead; Left Ends: Lester, Newman; Wing Backs: Baldwin, Ruggero, Hansard; No. "2" Backs: Downey, Jones; Full Backs: Sharp, Chummley; Tail Backs: Fogerty, Merlin.

The following men are the "Red" Team:

Centers: Major, Dinges; Right Guards: Easter, Heership; Left Guards: Still, McNiell; Right Tackles: Webb, Henry; Left Tackles: Pinner, Smith; Right Ends: Burchfield, Campbell, Lambert; Left Ends: Talbott, Miller; Wing Backs: Hatley, Johnson, Hord; No. "2" Backs: Hamiltonn, Lowery; Tail Backs: Thomas, Sneed, Turner.

She: "Believe it or not, I said 'no' to six men last summer."

Her: "I know dear, those door-to-door salesmen are getting to be awful pests."

—The Gleaner

INTRAMURAL DOPE

By HERBERT McCALLUM

Softball Starts Monday

The intramural softball season will officially begin on Monday, March 31. The schedule for the season was given to the various team managers by Coach Mehl last Wednesday afternoon at a called meeting of the team managers. The schedule for the season, as it stands now, will consist of five weeks of regular play with each team playing two games a week and one week of play in an elimination tournament to decide the champion team.

Nine Teams Enter Play

The intramural softball league is composed of nine teams which have entered their squad rosters at the intramural office. The teams and their managers are as follows: "The Bartlett Babys" and their manager, Robert Bird; "The Bobby Sox" with co-managers, Gene Carden and Forrest Corley; "Highland Echo", will have John Poland and Harvey Overton as their co-managers: "The Eight Balls" chose Marvin Mitchell as their Manager; "The Misfits" elected Manager Bill Long; Bill Smith will manage the "Moonshiners"; "The Powerhouses" have Earl Martin at the helm: "The Rebels" have Beecher Bell for their manager; and "The Wolves" are to be managed by Jay Bishop.

Full Week Ahead

Although the time and place of most of the games for the week is indefinite, it is definite that eight games will be played unless weather and unforseen events call them off. The eight games for the first week of play are as follows: The Bartlett Babys inaugurate their season by opposing Highland Echo. The Bobby Sox will open with the Wolves as their opponent. The Powerhouses are set to meet the Rebels. Misfits face the Moonshiners. The Eight Balls drew "bye" in the opening round.

Teams Play Twice

Every man wil lhave two games except the Eight Balls and the Misfits, who drew "bye", because of the uneven number of teams in the league. Two teams, in rotation will regularly draw "bye" each week. For their second clash of the week Bobby Sox meet Echo, Bartlett opposes Wolves, Misfits take on the Powerhouses, and the Eight Balls open with the Moonshiners.

4:00 Deadline for Players

Team managers are reminded that the regulations governing play stipulate that the games will start at 3:45, with 15 minutes allowed after the set time for the team to field eight players. After 15 minutes (at four o'clock) the team must forfeit the game if less than eight of their players are present.

Change of Leadership

With Coach Mehl's resignation effective April 1, the intramural department will be under the direction of Mr. A. F. Pieper. Coach Mehl leaves with the intramural program of softball well planed; Mr. Pieper takes over a competant staff of intramural managers and a league of co-operative teams which promise success to the remainder of the intramural season.

Poor little fly! Ain't you got anyone to love you? Ain't you got any brothers or sisters? Ain't you got any aunts, little fly? Your mother loves you, little fly. (loud thud, dead fly) Go home to your mother

—Eastern Progress

No Fooling- Here's GOOD NEWS

C & L Have Delicious Steak Dinners

Eat With Us Often

C&L CAFE

Play Ball

"And it's Root, Root, Root, for the Home Team" during National Baseball Week.

Get set for the Baseball Season by getting all your sports equipment here. We have the finest quality in balls, bats, catchers mitts and uniforms here.

Also special price for Tennis equipment.

"Maryville's Most Popular Store"

MOSER'S CLOTHING STORE.

Everything for your Easter Feast.

FRESH FRUITS and VEGETABLES are always Good at our Reliable Store.

Bread Stuffs, Cookies and Cakes

M. M. ELDER CASH CARRY STORE

Mr. P. R. Kiger, Engineer To Speak on Panama

The International Relations Club wil lhave as their guest speaker, Mr. P. R. Kiger, at their regular meeting Monday evening at 6:45 in Thaw 214. The speaker is a brother of Mr. J. H. Kiger, of the history department.

Mr. Kiger, a retired engineer who has had several years' experience in Latin America, will speak to the group on "Panama".

The president stated that a business meeting will be held to hear a report of the committee on the revision of the club's constitution.

German Club

"Little Red Riding Hood", acted out in German, was the feature attraction of the German Club program Monday night. A short business meeting preceded the play.

For Spring Showers

$10.95

Showers tomorrow! And won't you love walking in the rain . . .in this wonderful rain-or-shine coat, wing sleeved, handsomely belted?

PARKS-BELK COMPANY

News Capsules—

BY LESLIE WEBB

Mine Toll Mounts

Eighteen more bodies were removed from the Centralia (Illinois) Coal Company's mnie shaft Thursday. A blast of undetermined origin wracked the mine early this week, trapping about 150 miners. Thirty-one men were rescued alive but no survivors have been discovered since. It is feared that the rest of the miners have perished in the gas-filled chambers of the shaft.

Tax Bill Passes

A bill reducing income taxes by 20 to 30 per cent, and affecting more than fifty million persons has passed the House of Representatives in Washington. The bill now goes to the Senate where it is expected to be revised. Forty Democrats in the House voted for the bill, along with 233 Republicans. A hundred and thirty-three Democrats opposed the passage of the bill.

President Truman has fought the measure and is expected to veto it.

Molotov Gives Ground

Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, who has clung to the argument that any German assets in the Eastern Zone of Ausria belong to Russia and that no definition of them was necessary, has yielded somewhat and agreed to discuss the issue in the writing of the Austrian peace treaty.

His compromise proposal is reported unofficially by American authorities to be too vague to permit acceptance, however.

Sugar Rationing to End

A measure providing for the end of sugar rationing has been approved in the Senate and sent to the House. By the terms of the bill, sugar rationing will end October 31, 1947.

Greco-Turk Aid Speeded

The proposal to give military and economic aid to Greece and Turkey is being given high priority by the Senate Foreign Relatons Committee. Further public hearings have been restricted in view of theneed for speedy action. Secretary of War Patterson has told the Committee that from the standpoint of the defense of the United States, Greece and Turkey are the most strategically important areas in the world.

Draft Aboloished

The Selective Service system, that famous organization which specialized in Greetings from the President correspondce will pass quietly out of existence next Monday at midnight, according to legislation passed unanimously by Congress. The bill has been approved by the House Armed Services Committee. Voluntary enlistments are expected to provide sufficient personnel for peace-time requirements. Resumption of the draft is provided for in the event of an emergency.

Weekly Bible Verse

"Then Jesus said unto her, I am the Resurrection and the Life; he that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die." John 11:25-26.

Pianist, Contralto Featured in Recital

Miss Barbara Blair, contralto, and Miss Marian Weiler, pianist, were presented in a joint junior recital last night at the Chilhowee Club in Maryville. Miss Blair was accompanied on the piano by Miss Janet Rich, also a junior music major.

The program was as follows:

Nel cor piu non mi sento .....
.....Paisiello
Cade la Sera .....Mililotti
De piu a me non vascondete ;
.....Bononcini
Recitative and Aria 'O Patria"
(Aida) .....Verdi

MISS BLAIR

French Suite in E Major ....Bach
Allemande
Courante
Sarabande
Gavotte
Polonaise
Douree
Menuet
Gigue

MISS WEILER

Plaisir D'Amour .....Martini
Pleurez Pleurez Mes Yeux
(Le Cid) .....Massenet
Standchen .....Brahms
Er ist Gekommen .....Franz

MISS BLAIR

Sonata, Op. 53 (Waldstein ....
Allegro .....Beethoven

MISS WEILER

Serenade .....Bilotti
Repent Ye .....Cott
The Star .....Rogers

MISS BLAIR

The White Peacock .....Griffes
Capriccio, Op. 76 No. 2 ...Brahms
Intermezzo, Op. 117 No. 1 Brahms
Ballade, Op. 118 No. 3 ....Brahms

MISS WEILER

Bainonian and Athenian

The Movie, "Topper Returns" starring Roland Young and Carol Landis will be given at 8 o'clock tonight in the Alumni Gym, under the sponsorship of the Athenian and Bainonian Societies. There is no admission and everyone is invited. The short, "Robin Hood Jr." will also be shown. Between reels there will be selections by the quartet.

MINISTERIALS TO HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

The annual Pre-Ministerial banquet will be held on April 24, at Chilhowee Inn located in Walland, Tennessee. Chairmen of the various committees are: Jim Martin and Ray Swartzback, General Chairman; Herb Parsons, arrangements chairman; and Dave Campbell, publicity chairman.

Reverend O. C. Wallace, colored preacher of the Second Presbyterian Church of Maryville, spoke at the meeting of the Pre-Ministerial Club Thursday night.

Pre-Med Club

Pre Med Club met Thursday night in the second floor lecture room of Fayerweather.

Margaret Weaver, Carol Jones and Bob Bruce read selections from articles of scientific nature. This method of reading scientific clippings from books, newspapers and magazines has been instituted as a part of the program at future meetings.

"Y" MEETING CANCELLED

The joint meeting of the Y.W.-Y.M. has been called off. An organ recital of Lenten music with Mr. Curtis Hughes at the organ had been planned.

History of Voorhees . . .

(Continued from page one)

February Meetings, Dr. Harrison Ray Anderson of Chicago, instead of giving the usual closing talk, asked the students to do him a favor. Having become vitally interested in the proposed organ purchase, he requested that each one take to the platform a contribution for the organ fund. This money, together with a few larger gifts and the original fund, was used to obtain and install the organ.

Late in the afternoon of December 3, 1943, fire was discovered in the rear of the chapel. The blaze, which was the result of defective wiring was under control within an hour. Costumes and properties of the Dramatic Art department were destroyed. Chapel services were held in the Alumni Gym until repairs were made.

The second fire occurred November 27, 1946 and destroyed the roof and attic in the rear. This also was due to defective wiring.

Ironical as it seems, the class of 1947 has witnessed all three fires. The first in its freshman year and the others in the senior year, and will be unable to graduate there.

Sunday Vespers, daily chapel commencement exercises, February Meetings, college president's inaugurations, Artist series, plays, Disc Club, class meetings, and most of all the special programs were held in Voorhees Chapel. It was the center of student activities.

Chapel Rats Evicted . . .

(Continued from page 1)

Dock hurried over to Carnegie to report the blaze while Pribble tried to fight the fire. When his attempts showed no effect (the smoke was too thick to get near the source). Pribble and Dock unlocked the back doors and retreated. Shortly afterward the whole building was an inferno.

Dock and Noble both expressed their thanks to the campus and town folks for the services they've rendered. A number of clothes have been loaned them and some have been given to them.

Both fellows are sleeping temporarily in vacant bunks in Carnegie.

Shell Explains N.S.O. . . .

(Continued from page one)

sure what the complete score is. All realize that it could be another political pressure group or become an instrument of the communistic party if not run as it should be. However, the Preamble adopted by resolution at Chicago states that the organization shall specifically refrain from becoming involved in partisan political affairs.

Part of the preamble setting forth some of the purposes of the organization follows thus. . "That this proposed organization should be founded on the common needs and desires of all American students; that these needs and desires are clearly defined by the concern of the student for peace, democracy, and the perpetuation and s-t-r-e-n-g-t-h-e-n-i-n-g of international friendships, understanding and cultural exchange, and in the discussion and solution of their educational and economic problems . . ."

The machinery of the organization is set up as a democratic basis, will all colleges having a chance at fair representation.

Crawford & Caldwell
HARDWARE
Phone No. 1 Maryville

SUN GLASSES

Smart frames with various colors and styles at Byrne Drug

BYRNE DRUG COMPANY

McGREGOR SPORTSWEAR

Patterned Sport Shirts

$4.50

Here's fashion — way ahead of the field! Smart patterns, printed on fine spun rayon. They're sport shirts by McGregor . . . colorful and washable, in style—with or without a tie!

Proffitt's

Men's Store Main Floor

Since 1919 . . . "The Best Place to Trade"

*TRADEMARK REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

PENNEY'S

EASTER'S the Dressiest Day OF THE YEAR!

And you'll look your dressiest in a new colorful rayon print with a 1947 look! 7.90

Straw Success

Show off your pretty brow with one of the new off-the-face hats! Spring colors. 2.98

It's Spring

COTTON DRESSES

In Solid and Printed Designs for 1947 Spring and Summer Wear

Priced $4.98 to $19.98

McARTHUR'S Department Store

SECOND FLOOR

CONGRATULATIONS

Y M OFFICERS

THE Highland Echo

THE AMPHITHEATER

TOMORROW AT 6:16

VOLUME 32 — MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, APRIL 5, 1947 — NO. 25

LAMAR MEMORIAL LIBRARY MARYVILLE TENNESSEE APR 7 1947 Z 703

Black, Wheeler To Head YMCA During 1947-48

James Black, sophomore, was elected to fill the presidency of next year's YMCA. It was announced by Fred Wilson, present president, on Wednesday night, April 2. Five other officers were elected by the YM members who cast their votes at the tables placed in Bartlett Hall and in the lobby of Pearsons Hall last Tuesday. The five Tom Wheeler, vice president; David Campbell, secretary; William Houdeshel, treasurer; and Glenn Knecht, advisory board; will assume their offices at the opening of school next August.

Black, an English major from Baltimore, Maryland, is president of the sophomore class and was president of Athenian last semester.

The newly elected vice-president, Wheeler, is a junior English major from Peekskill, New York. He has served as secretary of YM throughout the present year.

Campbell is a sophomore from Prospect, Pennsylvania. An English major, he was president of last year's freshman class and was on the YM cabinet this year.

Houdeshel, who was elected treasurer, is a sophomore from Riverdale, Maryland. He was secretary of Athenian last semester.

Glenn Knecht, the only freshman elected, is from Syracuse, New York. This year he served as secretary of Alpha Sigma.

Other persons selected by the seven members on the nominating committee were Bill Vogel, Rush Lester, Bob Argie, Fred Richardette, and Tom Lang.

700 People Relive Passion of Christ In Oberamerrgau

Oberamerrgau, a little city in the Bavarian Alps, has re-lived the passion of Christ once every decade since 1633, in gratitude for the protection of the city during the Black Plague. Twice a week from May to September the play was given before an audience of almost 6000. At five in the morning, chimes called the devout townsfolk to early mass in preparation for the day's performance. The orchestral overture began at 8 a. m. and set the mood for the entire play. The scenery was an old religious painting Michel Angelo's "Moses", against the inspiring background of the Bavarian hills.

The chorus of fifty wore white gowns of Biblical days. Each event in Christ's passion was depicted by a living reproduction of the works of the old masters such as da Vinci's "Last Supper". The audience remained perfectly silent, held by the majesty of the performance. Following each day's presentation, the orchestra lead a procession of actors triumphtantly yet humbly through the city streets.

The play, requiring 700 people was cast a year in advance. Each role, however small, was highly prized. Candidates for even the smallest part must be of unimpeachable character; they must live exemplorary lives. Months before, the townsmen stop having their hair cut in preparation for the play. The Lang family is known as the royal family, because one of its members has portraved the Christ since 1900.

Originally written by the monks of the monastery at Ettel near Oberamerrgau, the play was rewritten later by the Parish priest. Rochus Dedlow, the village school master, composed the music in 1814. First given in the churchyard, the pageant was later housed in a huge outdoor theater constructed in 1900.

Newspapers and magazines the world over carried pictures and stories of the great event. Each year hundreds of thousands of visitors saw the play. Every nation, sect and race was represented, all united in Christ. Let us hope that soon again Oberamerrgau may present to the world its great passion play.

News Capsules—

BY LESLIE WEBB

Cadogan Lashes Russia

British UN Delegate Sir Alexander Cadogan lashed out at Russia today regarding that country's indiscriminate use of the veto in Security Council. The British charge was endorsed by United States Delegate Johnson. Cadogan was particularly incensed by the Russion veto of the British suggestion that the mining of the coast of Albania be investigated. Forty-two British seaman were killed when two British destroyers struck uncharted mines in the Corfu Channel.

Cadogan pointed out that this incident is a good example of what might happen if the veto is retained in connection with the control of atomic energy. Russian Delegate Gromyko refused to answer the charges and insisted that the Council adjourn until later.

Unsafe Mines Closed

Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug ordered the closing of 518 federally-operated soft coal mines for an indefinite period of time. More than 2,000 others have been notified that they will have to pass the safety inspection before reopening. All the mines are closed at present by order of John L. Lewis, who has called a six-day period of mourning for the miners lost in the Centralia Illinois mines disaster.

Japs Begin Paying

The United States has authorized General Douglas McArthur to permit removal of industrial equipment from Japan to China, the Phillipines, the Netherlands, and the British Isles. This action anticipates the Japanese Peace Treaty and is the first time that this country has taken unilateral stand without the approval of the other members of the Far Eastern Commission.

The United States has reserved nothing in the way of industrial reparation for itself.

Brahma Bull Performs

The 1,300 pound Brahma Bull escaped from a rodeo in Louisville, Ky., recently and ran berserk through crowded downtown streets. Two cowboys with the show, in full broncho-busting regalia, took up the chase on horseback. The bull was chased across the court house lawn and into a wood shed and out the other end before he was finally shot down by rifle. A negro member of the troupe was accidently shot during the Big Round-up.

Russia Exploding

The rumble of exploding dynamite shook the building in which the meeting of the Council of

(Continued on page 4)

The Maryville College Vesper Choir which has been carrying on its program in spite of the loss of robes and music in the recent chapel fire. The choir is to be a feature at the Easter Sunrise Service Sunday in the Amphitheater.

A Cappella Choir Gives Season's 2nd Concert At Loudon

The Maryville College a cappella choir, presented a concert of sacred music at Loudon, Tennessee, yesterday at 8:00 o'clock in the Loudon High School Auditorium, under the direction of Richard W. Vine. This is the second concert given by this group this year. The first was given at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, February 2.

The group left the College by bus at about 5:30 p. m. and arrived in Loudon in time for supper which was served by one of the churches.

The program was as follows:

Part I.

Jesu Priceless Treasure ..... Bach
Blessing, Glory, Wisdom and Thanks ..... Bach
Adoramus te, Christe ..... Mozart

Part II.

Psalm 50 ..... Christiansen
Agnus Dei ..... Kalinnikof

Part III

Hosanna ..... Christiansen
Lullaby on Christmas Eve ..... Christiansen
Clap Your Hands ..... Christiansen
Rock and Refuge ..... Swedish Folk Song
Beautiful River ..... CPe
Beautiful Savior ..... Crusader's Song

Optional Numbers

Go To Dark Gethsemane ..... Noble
Vistas of Song ..... Christiansen
A Cradle Hymn ..... Christiansen
From Grief to Glory (Part II of the Choral Suite) ..... Christiansen
Alleluia! Christ Is Risen ..... Kopolyoff

Juniors and Seniors

Remember to reserve the evening of April 9 for the moonlight hike. Celebrate the passing of comprehensives, tests, and term papers, or what have you, with a stroll under the stars. Loads of fun and refreshments in store for everyone.

Council Member WSGA President

A general discussion took place at the mid-week meeting of the Student Council over the possibility of having the President of the Women's Student Government automatically be a member of the Student Council. The motion, which was passed unanimously, will be drawn up into an amendment to both the constitution of the Student Body and that of the WSGA.

Knoxville's assistant fire commissioner will journey to Maryville it was announced by John Shell, president of the Council. His business will be to aid in the instituting of a campus-wide program of fire-prevention and fire-control.

Bob Butts, chairman of the social committee, presented to the Council a plan by which the coordination of the Recreation Hall and the campus social committee might be brought about. After a lengthy discussion, a committee composed of Elsie Jean Cotton, Bob Butts, and Fred Wilson was formed to improve upon it.

It was announced that the danger sign has now been put up at the bottom of the steps on Court Street.

One town night violation was reported, the particular penalty being applied.

Mrs. John Walker Is 95 Wednesday

Mrs. John Walker, who lives at "Morningside" in the college woods, will celebrate her 95th birthday on April 9. Mrs. Walker a long time friend of the college, came to Maryville from Pittsburgh in 1932. She built "Morningside" to be near her sister, Mrs. William P. Stevenson, whose husband was then college pastor and who lived in the "House in the Woods".

Mrs. Walker has done many things to make the campus more attractive and useful. She had the Walker Gates on the corduroy built and also helped in the construction of the corduroy itself.

She also gave many shrubs and flowers to the college, remodeled Pearson's lobby and contributed to the construction of the Court Street steps.

"She is well-loved for her strength of personality, her lovliness of spirit, and her keenness of interest in the students, faculty and program of the college, and for her wise Christian outlook upon life", said Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd.

Junior Staff Editors To Edit Echo Series

The Echo this week was edited by Constance Hawkins, junior staff editor. This week's issue begins a series of issues to be edited by junior editors in accordance with the custom of past years, which has been used to test each junior's knowledge and ability to edit an Echo. The results are used to help determine the best person to be elected to fill the editorship for the next school year.

Next week's paper is to be edited by Janet Miller. On April 19, Elsie Onifer takes over. Dorothy Vawter on April 26, and Lorraine Swift on May 3. The issue on May 10 is done by the editor-elect, while the present editor does the final issue of the year on May 17.

Fiction, History Added To Shelves

One of the finest collections of Sidney Lanier's writings has been added to the college library recently. It is the ten-volume Centennial Edition of The Works and Letters of Sidney Lanier. This edition had been planned for the celebration of the hundredth anniversary of his birth but was delayed because of the war.

In the new fiction section are many books published within the last two years. Mr. Blanding Builds His Dream House by Eric Hodgins, illustrated with crazy cartoons, is a riotous take-off on present-day housing and building problems. Representative of the ever-present historical novel is Clare Leighton's Tempestous Petticoat, the saga of an invincible Edwardian. Benedict and Nancy Friedman have told the story of Katherine Mary Flanigan in Mrs. Mike. Depicting the family life in southern Louisiana is Frances Parkinson Keyes' best seller, The River Road. The Snake Pit by Mary Jane Ward needs no introduction; its condensation in the Reader's Digest has been widely discussed. Of the new books added are two widely different stories that came out of this war. The first, Katherine Tupper Marshall's Together is the annals of an army wife written by the wife of General George C. Marshall. Secretary of State. The other is Pierre Van Paasan's Earth Could Be Fair, the tragedy of a German Jew.

In the field of psychology are four new books: How to Pick a Mate, by Clifford Adams; and Dynamics of Human Adjustment, Diagnosing Personality and Conduct. and The Psychology of Parent-Child Relationship by Percival M. Symonds.

The history department's new additions include Josephus Daniels' The Wilson Era, Herbert Weaver's Mississippi Farmer and Edward Dumbauld's Thomas Jefferson, American Tourist. For the loval-hearted Johnny Reb are War Years with J. E. B. Stuart by Blackford and First With the Most—General Forrest ("Fustest with the mostest", that is) by Robert Henry.

Women Prepared For a Grim Task Were Witnesses of The First Dawn

BY LESLIE E. WEBB

It was strangely dark that night, But there was a grim job job to be done, so the women assembled in preparation for it. Having ascertained that all was in readiness and that everything they needed was at hand, the group set out across the hills along the rugged foot-path. They often stumbled as each tried to watch the dark forms of the rest of their company, and failed to see the path clearly.

The clouds gathered more thickly with each passing moment. The distant thunder was moving nearer now and theu short streaks of lightning grew more prolonged and vivid. The flashes of light served to make the scene more weird by contrast. It seemed about to rain with each passing moment. The women hurried on.

They are passing along by the wall of a cliff now. If only they can reach the cave before the storm breaks! But, hark! What is that noise? Rising above the muttering thunder comes the crash of falling rocks. The very earth is trembling beneath their feet. But they can't stop this close to the end. The women break into a run. At last there is the entrance to the tomb. There, too, is a glowing, fiery light! That is no earthly fire, nor any beam of lightning. The women stop and gaze in awe-struck wonder. It looks like—it IS an angel!

There are soldiers, too, Roman soldiers. The women draw back instinctively, seeking to conceal themselves. But, the angel is speaking to them: "Don't be afraid. Jesus is not here. He is risen."

The women look ashamed. Some are still holding spices with which they intended to embalm the body of their crucified Friend. Now they remember the Master had told them He would rise from the dead. The spices fall to the ground and the women hang their heads. Presently they look up again. The angel is gone, but the Romans are still by the cave, apparently dazed. The women creep up to the tomb. It is empty and silent. They turn to go home. The sky is bright now, strangely bright as the sun floods the hills with the first red rays of Dawn.

Sunrise Service Scheduled For 6:16

The annual Easter Sunrise Service will be held tomorrow morning in the Amphitheater at 6:16 a. m. Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd, president of the college, will be the minister. Special music will be offered by the choir with Richard W. Vine as director.

The procession is to leave the campus in the cusomary way, and after arriving in the amphitheater the choir will begin the services with the anthem, "Christ is Arisen" by Hirsch.

Programs are to be distributed by which the service of solos, responsive readings, and anthems can be followed. The remaining anthems are "Fiftieth Psalm—Andante" by Christiansen; "Alleluia! The Strife is O'er", Palestrina; "Alleluia! Christ is Risen", Kopolyoff; "Jesu Priceless Treasure", Bach; "Christ the Lord is Risen Today", Williams; "Blessing, Glory, Wisdom, and Thanks", Bach

The "Sevenfold Amen" ends the service after Dr. Lloyd gives the benediction.

Sacred Concert

Sunday night, instead of the usual Vesper program, the choir will present a concert of sacred music in New Providence Church at seven p. m.

Part I

Jesu Priceless Treasure ..... Bach
Blessing, Glory, Wisdom and Thanks ..... Bach
Adoramus te, Christe ..... Mozart

PART II

Psalm 50 ..... Christiansen
Cantabile
Andante
Allegro
Agnus Dei ..... Kalinnikof

Part III

Hosanna ..... Christiansen
Lullaby on Christmas Eve ..... Christiansen
Clap Your Hands ..... Christiansen
Rock and Refuge ..... Swedish Folk Song
Beautiful Saviour ..... Crusader's Hymn

President Releases Faculty Revisions For Fall Semester

President Lloyd has released the following announcements concerning faculty arrangements for next year:

Dr. Ralph T. Case, who during the present year has taught courses in Bible and Religious Education, will return to the Social Science Division as Professor of Sociology. His teaching has been in the Social Science field during all of his eight years at Maryville except the present year. He will continue to direct the Parish project. Dr. Case holds the degree of B. A. from Parsons College, Iowa, B. D. from McCormick Seminary, Chicago, and Ph.D. from the University of Iowa.

Mrs. A. F. Pieper is to continue to teach in the Social Science Division. It is the present plan for her to inaugurate the new Social Science Survey course provided in the new curriculum. Mrs. Pieper graduated from Maryville College, then studied law, and is a member of the Tennessee Bar.

Arthur S. Bushing has been appointed Assistant Professor of English and will enter upon his duties at the opening of the Fall Semester. He is at present completing his work for the M. A. degree and also teaching English at the University of Tennessee. Mr. Bushing graduated from Maryville College in 1943 and in his last year here served as part-time instructor of Physics in the Army Air Corps program. After graduation and until the end of the war he was in the Army. In 1944 he attended Leland Stanford University, California, under the Army Specialized Training Program. In 1945 he studied at the Sorbonne in Paris under the Army program. Mrs. Bushing was Dorothy Barber, of Knoxville, Maryville College '42.

Miss Geneva Robertson, of Kingsport, Tennessee, has been appointed Assistant Professor of Home Economics and will enter upon her duties at the opening of the Fall Semester. Both Mrs. DeLozier, who has been a member of the Faculty for the past six years, and Miss Hays, who has taught this year, have announced their desire to give up their positions at the close of the current semester in view of other plans. Miss Robertson will fill one of these anticipated vacancies. She holds the B. S. degree from Union University, Jackson, Tenn., and the M. S. degree from the University of Tennessee, and is an experienced teacher in the field of home economics.

Melodrama, Comedy Slated For April 12

Two plays will be presented by the Experimental Theater in Bartlett auditorium, 8:00 p. m., Saturday, April 12.

The roaring comedy, "The Pot Boiler" is a play within a play. It involves a director who knows all "dramatic principles" and describes them to his young apprentice, Mr. Wouldby. Starring are Glenn Knecht, Betty Seagraves, Ruth Thompson, Tom Eckert, and Ben Paxton.

"Fireman, Save My Child" is an old-fashioned melodrama with all the stock characters including Bill Nish as the villian, Al Lesnick as the manly hero, and Marion Pope, the persecuted heroine.

All-Girl Choir And Glee Club Merged

At a meeting of the All-Girl Choir and the Men's Glee Club last Monday night, the two organizations decided to merge into one. After a brisk discussion, a vote was taken and 44 of the group voted in favor of the union. A committee was apointed to draft a constitution.

The committee met at Mr. Hughes home on Wednesday evening to draw up a general plan for next year's activities. The tentative plan will include better tryouts, two rehearsals a week, limited membership, and more activity.

Since all the robes of the Girl's Choir and most of their music was lost in the fire, the group will be hampered for some time. However, it is hoped that donations will cover the loss and replace the music and robes.

Miss Grierson Starts Walking Toward Knoxville, Arrives at McClelland Home

BY JANET MILLER

Tuesday afternoon, April first, Miss M. R. Grierson prepared herself for a journey into Knoxville to attend the meeting of the Association of Tennessee Librarians. Since it was such a beautiful day, she decided that she would walk instead of taking the bus. With her she took Whitman's LEA's of Grass (which she was to report on), her BLACK MEHL St. BERNARD which would never BARKER bite, and a tin of DAVIS baking powder so that in case she should fall asleep she would still be able to rise. Not debating whether it was WRIGHT or wrong, she started walking WEST through a cow pasture in the general direction of Knoxville, humming alternately "HAVS-hob-a-REBER" and "Rufus WILKINSON JACKSON BROWN, what ya gonna do when the rent comes 'round?" The green pasture looked so inviting however, that Miss Grierson decided to sit down for a few minutes and enjoy it all.

She had not been there any length of time when she heard a HUNTER's HORNE in the distance and wished she could have been a part of the hunting party. Her thoughts were suddenly disturbed by a crunching of grass and she looked up to see KIGER'S COW-DRICK staring at her with it's mournful brown eyes. This was, too say the least, slightly disconcerting, and looking at her watch, she realized that she must hurry to get to that meeting on time.

As she stood up, she suddenly knew that she did not have the slightest idea where she was, which way Knoxville was, or where the road was. Frantically she tried to figure it out but it was soon apparent that she did not know whether she was CUMMINGS or going. The sun had gone into the clouds and she could not tell by it. What to do, what to do? ? By now, she could never get to that meeting, so she decided to wander around while she was there. In her amblings, she saw a blue HERON standing in a patch of sweet WILLIAMS. Farther on she saw two familiar figures, industriously digging. Then

(Continued on back page)

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 32 NUMBER 25

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

Editor this week - - - Constance Hawkins
R. Thomas Parkinson ..... Editor
Mary Elizabeth Hunt ..... Staff Editor
Constance Hawkins ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Janet Miller, Lorraine Swift, Dorothy Vawter
Elsie Onifer

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Grace Gugger, Naomi Hoffman
Johnnie Johnson, Ilda Mosby

FRESHMAN APPRENTICES
Craig Fisher, Herbert McCallum
Kenneth Olsen, Smartt Ramsey, Barbara Wallin,
Mildred Leake Leslie Webb

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF
Ruth Williams ..... Business Manager

JUNIOR ASSISTANTS
Katherine Johnson Mary Jane Long

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANT
Lillian Law
FRESHMAN ASSISTANT
Bob Watkins

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879.

Represented for National Advertising by
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, APRIL 5, 1947

Spring Elections

With spring comes the nomination and election of officers to head most of the campus organizations for the next year. Here's an opportunity to elect capable people to fill those offices. For a good many years politics have payed a large part in such elections. To elect the best, most capable people, cliques must be forgotten and each person's ability and willingness to perform the duties which will be required of him considered carefully.

Each office, even a small one, demands work. A person elected to an office should be willing to take the responsibility conected with it. It's not all play, and no work; some work and interest is demanded.

And merely because a person fills more than one office does not mean that he is the best person for this job. There must be more to it than the possession of sufficient ability; the willingness to work hard and long must not be lost sight of.

Past achievements should not, of course be neglected, for they are in a sense the measure of ability and willingness. There are people who have worked consistently on committees and at other little recognized jobs. This work should also be considered.

Let's see if this year we can't think more before we elect new officers, and get away from politics in most of our elections.

—C.H.

Shall We Have A Prayer Room

Now as Holy Week comes to a close with the dawning of Easter Sunday, how are we to maintain the spiritual and devotional heights reached during the Lenten Season? On a campus so dedicated to the Christian way of life as this is, there is need for some small corner set apart entirely for worship. Most of the other Presbyterian colleges have promoted such a plan and have found it of great value. It would be of even greater value here now that the chapel is gone.

The mixed college class at New Providence Church has begun discussion on such a project. The committee has suggested the use of the small room next to the debate room on the west wing of Thaw Hall. The use of the YW rooms was also brought forward, but it is essential to have a place set apart, one whose atmosphere is completely worshipful.

One of the principal points of opposition is the idea that it would not be wise to spend money on such a project now when plans for a small devotional chapel may be included in the new chapel building. However, the expenditure need not be great. A wooden cross on a small table and a picture of Christ would be sufficient to give the impression of a place set apart for Him. The need for such a spot is now, not two years from now.

The value of a center of worship would be only relative to the use made of it. If only one student found deeper spiritual strength through it, the expenditure would be small indeed. Such a place is not essential for prayer, but is it not easier to feel closer to Him in a church than in a class room?

—ML

Just Being "Nosy"

DR. ECHO AND MR. HIDE

We dedicate this column to all those who are the flowers of their families—blooming idiots.

There's no fool like an April Fool. Are you stiff too from bending down to tie your shoelace, or looking to see if you sat in the wet paint or if there really is a full moon? Or getting measured for your chapel seats?

Spring—the time when a young man's fancy—(Did you see all those baldy sour haircuts?.. and when everyone's entitled to act a little differently. Thus our theme: People make the craziest monkies."

Everyone is happy—or slap happy. Arline is happy. Buffie is happy. Eunice is happy. So is Phyllis, Lois Thomas, Kay Titley (did you know she had a twin sister?) Dixie, Wallace, the Heaps and other students whose happiness has not yet come in contact with our receptive eyes and ears. (Any resemblance to us and Paramount is becoming very apparen.)

Dr. Sisk and Dr. Briggs are happy and getting places too. Have you seen those cars with the great big smiles in the driver's seats? Then Bill O'Neill is happy with his Double Bubble gum.

Bill Dinges must have been happy the other day. The story goes that he had a cheering section of about 15 of his high school admir-hers at a football practice. When Bill was hugga terra firma due to a run in with the football many "oh dears!" came from his loyal fans. We're even happy. We filed our income tax early you see and now we're singing:

The saddest words of tongue or pen
Perhaps may be "It might have been":
But the sweetest words we know, by heck,
Are simply these: "Enclosed find check".

Then there are the people who are slap-happy—Becky Maddux was homeward bound via the Alcoa bus which would have been all right—but she doesn't live in Alcoa. Vera Lusk thought Hap's hand was Bill's. We've never noticed if there is any resemblance other than the fact that they each have four fingers and one thumb—but something's confusing. In phyics class Marianna Hayes, when illustrating the static machine said "Oh, Professor Walker, no fella ever gave me a charge like that." And what's coming off at that sixth period swimming class on Tuesday next week? Don Taylor got real excited when he didn't see his car in its usual parking spot. He made use of the telephone system and called the police, and in a frenzied voice reported thief. Could he help it if his wife borrowed it to do some shopping and forgot to tell him she took the keys.

Bob Kay and Joe Claude got an interesting lecture from their matron (or what do you call the male equivalent in Carnegie?) on conversations with Baldwin girls during Chatterbox hours—at least not in range of hearing distance of some people. Yes, spring is here and the matrons know it. Even the tempo of their schedule is being stepped up. May we direct your attention as certain people have directed our to the typical Maryville couple in the April 5 edition of the Saturday Evening Post, page 3, last column, about 10 lines down.

Three's not a crowd all the time. In fact there sometimes isn't even safety in numbers; page Conkle Priest and Robarts and see about this "Ice—oscles triangle. They are the current favorites in "'Twas a Frosty Evening."

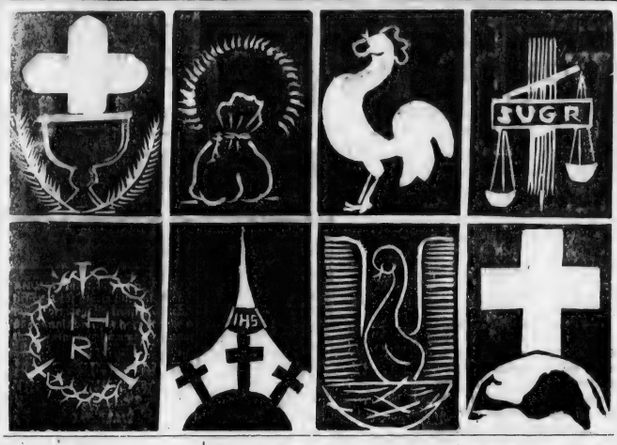
There is one person who has proven herself "slap-happy." Have you seen Bob Dockendorf's black eye? Is it for defense that he holds her hand?

We purposely aren't wishing you a Happy Easter. We know you'll have one anyway—Our parting thought is this, and hoping it get's past the censor—

Said the toothbrusuh to the toothpaste
With wild delight,
"I'm gonig to give you a great big squeeze
When we meet on the bridge tonight."

Check That "Slur"

In spite of the fact that our school is one esteemed for its high standards, Maryville College, in cluding everyone concerned, can take stock of itself and find many little items which could and should be erased. One of the most noticeable traits of our student body is the tendency to listen to and to repeat those little half-whispered words which never should have been spoken in the first place. Some students in the past have been hurt by half-truths, even falshoods! And why should we say "students in the past"? Perhaps you remember the "slur" you gave your next door neighbor last night, or the enjoyment you received from enlarging on the incident which you know yourself came from an entirely unreliable source.



The writer does not pretend to be an exception; if so, th following lines, written by an unkown author, never would have made such a lasting impression:

If you see a tall fellow ahead of a crowd,
A leader of men marching fearless and proud,
And you know of a tale whose mere telling aloud
Would mean that his head must in anguish be bowed,
It's a pretty good plan to forget it.

—LYS

TALK OF THE WEEK . . .

JEAN ALMY

Letters To The Editor

Lost: College Loyalty and School Spirit.
If Found: Please Return to Maryville College Campus
Reward

Since the fire in the chapel last November, this campus has been extremely fire-conscious. As I recall the last fire was believed to have been started by a short circuit. Last Wednesday night March 26, many of us watched the rapid destruction of our chapel by flames which started from an unknown source.

"Dormitory gossip" says its bound to have been faulty wiring, and that it served the college right for being negligent. It has also been hinted that oil rags and mops stored in the basement might have caused spontaneous combustion. These and many similar comments have been voiced by students and reported to have been said by members of the faculty. A freshman pointed out most forcefully to me that these comments are unjust and disloyal to our college. We are "a pot calling a kettle black." We, the students, seemed to have acquired a certain self-righteous attitude toward the existing situation. We must recognize the facts, however, that we are negligent in observing the ruules of the college concerning fire-protection. Students did smoke in the practice rooms in the chapel! Students do smoke in their dormitory rooms! Students do over-draw on the electric current afforded each room, thus endangering the buildings and lives of fellow students.

This college is our college; its loss is our loss! Each and every student has an obligation to the college to restore a feeling of unity among the students, with the faculty and administration.

Movements have been started on and off campus to replace many things which were lost in the fire, but no amount of money can replace the loyalty and understanding we should have at this time. The cause of the fire has not been determined. Talk is cheap, and student theories as to the origin of the fire have been more destructive than constructive. Let us all regain our school spirit and throw our full support behind our college and make the spirit of cooperation greater than it ever has been in the past.

KATIE CARPENTER

Prayer Meeting

Margaret Rock will lead Prayer Meeting Wednesday, April 9, at 6:45 p.m. in the YWCA rooms. Her topic will be the seventh in a series of meditations on the Beatitudes, "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God."

Steinway Piano Loaned To College By Knoxville Firm

Clark Brothers Piano Company of Knoxville has kindly donated a Steinway concert grand to the College for use until one can be bought. The piano is one they keep for special occasions and is not for sale, but they are letting the College use it without paying rent. It is an exceptionally good instrument and will be insured for $1,000. It has been placed in the Art Gallary.

The College will buy five upright pianos to be used in the rooms in the new building beside Anderson. These will be of great value in satisfying the immediate need for instruments.

French Club

French club will hold its annual formal banquet at Cates Cafe at 8:30 Thursday night, April 10. Al Dockter will be toastmaster. A skit and toasts will be given by members of the club. The French faculty will be guests at the banquet. There are 30 members in the club.

Spanish Club

Spanish Club will meet Thursday night, April 10, at 6:45. An interesting program has been planned and all members are urged to attend. Lois Lehr is in charge of the program.

Pre-Med Club

Pre-Med Club will meet on Thursday night, April 10, in the chemistry lecture room at 6:45. It is expected that Dr. Lea Callaway will show one of his own films. The bi-monthly review of happenings in science will also be given.

Have Your Picture Made

By "Daddy" Webb

THE WEBB STUDIO

FASHIONS

"Particular" girls come to our Teen Shop! Fashion-Perfect clothes from action loving blouse 'n skirt duets to eye catching print dresses yours today from our selection.

$5.98 to $12.98

McARTHUR'S Department Store

SECOND FLOOR

"The free enterprise system will be safe when it is conceded that a profit is not without honor."—Pathfinder Magazine.

"I couldn't stand going through the 7th grade again."—Marjorie Baker, Grand Rapids, getting married at 13.

All Your

BAKERY NEEDS

At

LYNCH BAKERY

Ministerial Group Sponsors Services

During Holy Week, prayer meetings have been held in the YWCA rooms after lunch from 1 to 1:20, under the sponsorship of the Ministerial Club. The leaders were: Monday, Cester Phillips; Tuesday, Jim Black; Wednesday, Tom Wheeler; Thursday, Arthur Haaf; Friday, Sam Broyles; and Saturday, Tom Scott. Their subjects were on the general Holy Week theme and included the themes of the days of authority, conflict, retirement, communion, suffering and waiting.

SCOTLIGHTS

Herbert McCallum

Our baseball squad, being the first varsity squad in five years (since 1942), is largely made up of men who are entering their first year of college baseball. With the exception of Ross Honaker, third baseman of the '42 squad, and Allan Rock, another veteran of that pre-war season, the other men on the diamond are in their first year of baseball here at M. C. Yet, quite a few men of the varsity nine this year have played on civic and county teams outside of high school in addition to some who played on teams while in the armed forces.

Facts About Players

Baseball men are generally modest about their previous exploits, but upon talking with a number of the varsity nine, this reporter gained a few facts about them.

The Berrong brothers, Leon and King, are two of the most versatile men in college athletics. Both of them lettered on last year's superb, football team and Leon won a basketball letter this winter. These brothers played on an Eagleton Village nine last summer. Also, both of them were members of the Frolic Inn team of Knoxville which last year went to the Little World Series, the highest amateur play in the nation. The opening of school last fall prevented the brothers from following the club to the Little World Series. While in service, King played with a team on Guam. At present, King is holding down second base for the Highlanders and Leon is a promising pitcher.

Other Local Boys Make Good

Bobby Boring and Hugh Hamil, stalwart sons of this section, have previously played together for three seasons of baseball in the Knoxville city league. Bobby was a third baseman and Hugh was an infield man in those days, playing at shortstop. These boys played high school basketball together and more recently teamed up on the Scots' past basketball season. Both of them were valuable members of the squad. Now, on the baseball squad, Bobby is batting at the clean-up station in addition to playing good defensive ball at shortstop. Hugh is a ball hawk in the outfield now stationed at centerfield.

First baseman Winton Enloe has previously played in the Sevier County league for a season with the Pigeon Force team. Enloe is a left hand batter. Artie Spears, rightfielder for the Scots, played with a service team in Hawaii during his tour with the armed forces. Last summer Art played on the Eagleton Village squad along with the Berrong boys.

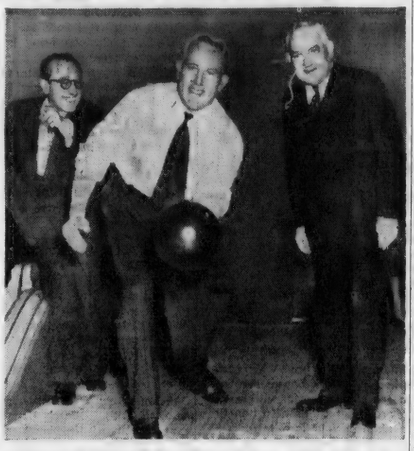
Football Newcomers

The spring football scrimmage game Tuesday gave opportunity for some of the new prospects to show their mettle. Although the three weeks' practice was too short to put any polish in, the team's two squads showed plenty of aggressiveness. Since many of the varsity footballers are out for baseball and track, the understudies and prospects had a field day.

A number of young bruisers from neighboring high schools participated in this spring training. From Appalachia, Virginia, came Thomas, one of the Red squad's backs. Two former Central High (Knoxville) stars, Fogerty and Johnson boosted the Orange and Red backfields, respectively. Linemen Kramer and Proffitt, of Maryville High, used their brawn in the Orange forward wall. Everett High furnished linemen Webb, Talbott, (brother of alternate captain Ken Talbott), Cowan, and also Downey, a backfield man. Sneed, a tail back on the Red line-up, is an Alcoa lad. Hord, Merlin, and Ruggero were college freshman out for the first time during spring practice. These four teams of men plowing the gridiron will make a formidable group from which to mold next year's squad.

Ink-O-Graph

The pen that writes like a pencil



$2.00

14 Kt. Solid Gold Ball Like Point

Won't Bend, Spatter, or Leak—

THE PARK DRUG STORE

GOVERNOR OPENS BOWLING MEET

CALIFORNIA'S GOVERNOR Earl Warren is shown rolling the first ball down the alleys in Los Angeles at the opening of the 47th Annual American Bowling Congress. Film star Harold Lloyd (left) and Mayor Fletcher Bowron of Los Angeles look on. (International Soundphoto)

Scotties Conquer Hiwassee 10-7

Climbing out of a two run first inning set back, the Maryville Highlanders rolled past the Hiwassee Tigers in two big innings to rack up a 10-7 score on the homefield last Monday. Ray MacJunkin was the Scottie moundsman awarded the game, while Leo Sizemore was charged with the setback.

For the Highlanders, who last week bowed to Michigan State at 10-1, this was the initial win, maintaining a once blemished record against the Tiger nine.

Laurels went to Bobby Boring, who featured the game with a four bagger with one on base, a single, base on balls, and a fly to center. Other leather squeezers were credited to King Berrong for a triple, and left-fielder Walt Pentz for a double. Youell, Stallard and Hatley, Hiwassee bat slingers, each racked a three bagger.

Scoring two tallies in the first inning on a walk and three singles, the Tigers racked their third score on a force by MacJunkin with the bases stacked. Two in the 7th and two in the 8th totaled their tallies.

Two big frames in the fourth and fifth stacked the winning tallies for the Scottie nine. Paced by Boring's trip, two walks, a single, a hit batter and Ken Stinnett's sacrifice, the Highlanders rolled up five runs. In the fifth Berrong's three bagger, three free trips to first on balls, a fielder's choice, and a single brought in four runs.

With darkness closing in on the Highlanders coming to bat in the 8th, the officials agreed to close the game.

CALENDAR

Sunday, April 6
6:16 a. m.—Sunrise service in the Ampitheater
7:00 p. m.—Special vespers program by choir in New Providence Church.
Thursday, April 10
6:45 p. m.—Spanish Club
Pre-Med Club
8:30 p. m.—French Club will hold annual banquet in Cates Cafe
Friday, April 11
3:30 p. m.—Baseball—Hiwassee, home.
Saturday, April 12
3:00 p. m.—Baseball—Tusculum, here.

IRC

Lilybelle Gunn and Carroll Stegall will represent Maryville College at the regional International Relations Club convention April 11 and 12. The conference is to be in Ashland, Va.

There will be no regular meeting of IRC until Monday, April 21.

Alpha Sigma

Alpha Sigma will meet tonight in Alpha Sigma Hall at 6:15 to discuss the play.

Theta Epsilon

Thrills and chills galore will be had at Theta tonight. A program of mystery and horror will be presented by Bette Belle Alverson, Jeanne Conkle, and Marguerite Priest at 6:15 in Theta "The Inner Sanctum" Hall. Those subject to weak hearts and fainting spells are advised not to come.

ORANGEMEN WIN 7-0 IN FOOTBALL GAME

The Orange team triumphed 7-0 over the Reds in the final scrimmage of the spring football practice Tuesday afternoon. Each side used two teams and substituted the entire team during the scrimmage. In the absence of Coach Davis because of sickness, Assistants Shields and Mitchell coached the team. Coach Honaker left his baseball squad to come over and have a look at the boys.

The touchdown play was set up by a series of line drives from the Orange 20-yard line to the Red five. Fogerty, tailback for the Orange squad, made the final plunge to score. The extra point, kicked by Andes, was good. Baldwin, the Orange wingback, had advanced the ball from the Red 40 to the Red 15 yard line on a reverse around the left end of his line to put the ball in scoring territory.

The score came on the second Orange threat. Previously the Orange men drove over the Reds' second string men down to their twenty, but the Red first string came in to stop the drive.

The scrimmage was not divided into regular quarters. A rest period intervened after a half an hour of play. After the rest, the Reds took over on the 50-yard line and marched to the Orange 20, with Merriman doing most of their ball carrying. The Orange then took over on downs, killing the Reds' best scoring chance of the afternoon.

The Orange touchdown came five minutes before the end of the scrimmage. After the Orange score, the Reds took the kick-off and brought the ball up to their 30-yard line. They attempted a pass which was intercepted by Merlin, who had substituted for Fogerty in the Orange tail back position. The end of the scrimmage was called with the ball in the Orangemen's possession.

SCOTTIES SMEAR W. CAROLINA 7-0

Piling five points in their big 6th inning on the local field last Friday afternoon, the Maryville Highlanders amassed seven points to Western Carolina's none to win their second victory of the season. Leon Berrong, in for the whole game allowed five hits and was awarded the victory, while Grogan was charged with seven hits and the defeat.

Honaker, batted in by Boring, drew first blood in the initial frame, and Spears racked the second run in the third inning. In the big 6th, Stinnett, second half of the Maryville battery, whaled a double to bat in two, which, with singles by Spears, Hamil and Leon Berrong boosted the score to the winning seven. This was the third game of the season for the Honaker-men, the first being a 10-1 trounce by Michigan, the second a 10-7 triumph over Hiwasse. The hitting has vastly improved since the initial bout, a large factor in recent successes. Errors were one apiece.

Team lineup were as follows:

Maryville	AB	R	H
K Berrong	3	1	1
Honaker	3	1	0
Spears	2	2	1
Boring	4	0	2
Hamil	3	1	1
Reynolds	4	0	0
Stinnett	4	0	1
Pentz	4	0	0
Enloe	2	1	0
L Berrong	2	1	1
W. Carolina	AB	R	H
McDonald	4	0	0
Gibson	4	0	2
Everheart	1	0	0
Fore	2	0	1
Beam	3	0	1
Price	2	0	0
Heavener	1	0	0
Teague	1	0	0
Stott	0	0	0
Powell	3	0	0
Grogan	2	0	1
Deyermond	1	0	0
Crocker	0	0	0

Art Students Open Exhibition With Tea

The Art Club presented an opening tea for the Student Exhibition which was held Friday afternoon, April 4, from 4:00 to 5:30 p. m. at the Elizabeth Goudy Baker Memorial gallery.

The exhibition consisted of work done during the year in both sketch and design classes. In design there were studies in abstract design, done both as colored sketches and built up plaques of wood with miscellaneous materials. Examples of textile design and wall paper design were also shown.

The gallery will be open next week, April 7 to 11, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from 1:30 to 4:30.

YM AND YW WILL NOT MEET SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The YW and YM will not meet Sunday due to the full program of Easter observances, it was announced by the program chairmen.

INTRAMURAL DOPE

The softball season is going full swing this week with the following games already played:

MONDAY

Wolves vs. Bobby Soxers—20-8

	0	R	H	E
Wolves		20	17	3
Bobby Soxers		8	9	11

TUESDAY

Rebels vs. Powerhouse—19-12—

	0	R	H	E
Rebels		19	26	0
Powerhouse		12	10	0

Echo vs. Bobby Soxers—8-5

	0	R	H	E
Echo		8	9	2
Bobby Sixers		5	6	7

WEDNESDAY

Wolves vs. Bartlett—10-5

	0	R	H	E
Wolves		10	16	4
Bartlett		5	9	5

No games were played Thursday

FRIDAY

Misfits vs. Powerhouse—37-1

	0	R	H	E
Misfits		37	31	0
Powerhouse		1	4	0

The league standing at present looks like this:

	Won	Lost
Wolves	2	0
Rebels	1	0
Echo	1	0
Misfits	1	0
Bartlett	0	1
Bobbysoxers	0	1
Powerhouse	0	2

Pianists, Vocalist Give Student Recital Tuesday

A student recital will be held Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 in the Elizabeth Goudy Baker Art Gallery. The following pianists will perform: Mary Jo Bolin, Dan Winters, Patty Regan, and Dorothy Vawter. Rella Anderson will sing, accompanied by Dan Winters.

Pres.-Elect Of Montreat Weds. Chapel Leader

Dr. J. Rupert McGregor, President-elect of Montreat College, Montreat, North Carolina, will be the speaker at the chapel service next Wednesday morning, April 9. Dr. McGregor, formerly of a church in Birmingham, is now president and treasurer of the Mountain Retreat Association at Montreat, N. C.

Cornelius, Anderson Read For Workshop

Esther Cornelius and Evelyn Anderson were the readers at the regular meeting of Writer's Workshop last Wednesday.

Miss Cornelius' paper was an expressionistic piece of prose in which she personified the world, showing how greed and hatred lead inevitably to war. It was entitled "The Last Freedom" and was criticized by Mildred Orr.

"No Escape" was the title of Miss Anderson's paper which was based upon the idea of an animal hunter and centered about a "Cat Woman".

Next week Mildred Orr and Ray Swartzback will read for the group.

Exchange--

I don't like your heart action," said the medical examiner. "you've been having some trouble with angina pectoris."

"You're partly right doctor," he said sheepishly, "only that ain't her name."

She: "Women ought to be in politics. Their minds are cleaner."

He: "They ought to be; they change them every five minutes."

According to Harvey Overton, "One hair in the head is worth two in the brush."

He: "What are you doing—learning anything?"

She: "No, I'm listening to you."

Capitol

MARYVILLE, TENN.
YOUR LEADING THEATRE
PRESENTING LEADING ATTRACTIONS
Continuous Show
1:30 a.m. to 11:30 p.m.

SATURDAY, APRIL 5
"El Paso Kid"
Starring
Sunset Carson
with
Marie Harmon, Hank Patterson
Edmund Cobb

MON.-TUES., APRIL 7-8
Betty Grable, Dick Haymes
in
"The Shocking" Miss Pilgrim"
with
Gene Lockhart, Anne Revere
Allyn Joslyn

NORTON HARDWARE CO.
Phone 18

No Fooling—Here's GOOD NEWS

C & L Have Delicious Steak Dinners
Eat With Us Often
C&L CAFE

GREETINGS

and a happy Easter to all our many friends . . .

"Just 200 yards off Campus"
Nicely's Grocery"

Come to Church on EASTER

The Doors of the Churches of Maryville are Always Open—We Welcome You

Bank of Maryville

Lloyds Speak To Negro Presbytery

Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Lloyd were guest speakers yesterday at the meeting of the La Vere Presbytery at the Lawrence Presbyterian Church in Morristown, Tennessee.

Mrs. Lloyd gave a report at the morning meeting of the Presbyterial on the national Presbyterian women's meeting in Grand Rapids, Michigan. Dr. Lloyd discussed conditions in the Far East for the combined evening meeting of the Presbytery and Presbyterial.

La Vere Presbytery is a part of the Blue Ridge Synod, the colored synod for the southeastern states.

Echo Staffs Hold Banquet In Knoxville

Members of the editorial and business staffs of The Highland Echo attended the annual banquet which was held last Saturday evening in a banquet room at the S. & W. cafeteria in Knoxville. The dinner was at 6:30 o'clock and was followed by several impromptu speeches given by the newer members of the two staffs.

Later in the evening the group became acquainted with The Knoxville Journal, being shown through the various departments by a reporter.

Ray Saunders Will Speak At Fellowship Meeting

Ray Saunders will be the speaker at the meeting of the gospel fellowship group on Tuesday, April 8th, at 7:00 p. m. The meeting will be in the YW rooms. There will be special music. These weekly meetings are designed to encourage spiritual growth and development. Everyone is invited to attend.

Last week Bob Argie was the leader. He spoke on the topic: "What are you seeking?"

Flu Confines Five To College Hospital

No one is allowed to visit the hospital due to orders issued by Dr. Olin recently, Miss Thelma Hall, college nurse announced Thursday.

At present, there are five students confined there with influenza and eleven persons who have been there have been dismissed. Those now thru with flu are Shirley Oshana, Jayne Shouse, Richard Crowley, Jerry Collins, and Betty Saint.

Those who have been dismissed from the hospital this week are Julian Gresham, Jim Martin, Curtis Barnett, Virginia Baier, Bill Journegan, Florence Dillinger, John Baird, Jay Bishop, Madeline Willis, Carl Lazenby, and Marjorie Pritchett.

Finalists of Oratorical Contest Announced

Friday, April 4, at 5:00 p. m. try-outs for the finals in the T. T. Alexander Oratorical contest were held. Misses Sue Cochran and Katherine Carpenter were chosen from the four contestants as the finalists. The finals will be held in chapel, Wednesday, April 16th. The judges were the staff of the Religion department.

BAINONIAN MEETS FOR EASTER EGG HUNT

Bainonian Society will meet Saturday night at 6:45. The program will be an Easter egg hunt and will be held in the vicinity between Pearsons and Thaw.

Crawford & Caldwell
HARDWARE
Phone No. 1 Maryville

Don't blame him for not being interested in his book when such interesting puzzles are being worked out. Work boards such as these prove valuable training in special classes for victims of cerebral palsy, one of the large groups of children to benefit from the sale of Easter Seals. Children in your locality receive Direct benefit from Blount County Society for Crippled Children.

Disc Club Sponsors Easter Music In Gym

The Disc Club is sponsoring a program of recorded religious music in the Alumni Gym tonight at 7:30. This program is to follow the theme of the numerous other religious activities which have taken place during the past week.

As part of its duties of furnishing Saturday night programs as all-campus activities, the Social Committee helped bring this program about.

NEWS CAPSULES

(Continued from page one)

Foreign Ministry was being held in Moscow recently. Soviet Minister Molotov explained that ice was being blasted in the Moscow River. British Foreign Secretary Bevin remarked that he was afraid the noise was coming from the Economic Committee on the second floor of the building.

Weekly Bible Verse

"Why seek ye the living among the dead? He is not here, but is risen."—Luke 25:5-6.

MISS GRIERSON STARTS WALKING

(Continued from page 1)

she noticed the hole where HONAKER and BUCHANAN had DUGGAN, McTEERS rolling down their cheeks and found nothing but BRIGG'S pipe tobacco, some dirty pipe QUEENERS, PHILLIPS milk of magnesia, and a CASE of empty VINE bottles, but no gold ORR. Coach Honaker gave her general direction how to return to Maryville and, following his directions, she soon came to a road.

As she was walking along, a truck passed. She looked up to see DOC GRIFFITTS driving the CUELLAS and LANFEAR Co. truck, bearing a sign which read, "NEWBERRY'S five and dime store has a sale of JOHNSON'S baby products." Naturally, they stopped to pick her up.

In the truck was Miss MEISELWITZ with a BASSETT of food on her lap. When they got out, Miss Grierson decided to WALKER home. On the way, Miss M. said to her, "Did you know that Mrs. TIPTON was arrested as a PIEPER and they tried to KRAMER into a cell but she wouldn't fit."

After leaving her, Miss Grierson decided to drop in to see Mr. McClelland who had said, "DELOZIER de voice, de better I likes it." He was sick in bed with a SISK on his ear.

She asked him, "HOWELL do you feel"

He answered, "WELL-ER? MINEAR is sore but my policy with LLOYDs of London should take care of that. They conversed for a few minutes and as she left, she noticed a sign over his door which read, "In case of fire, HUGHES this door."

She did.

BYRNE DRUG COMPANY

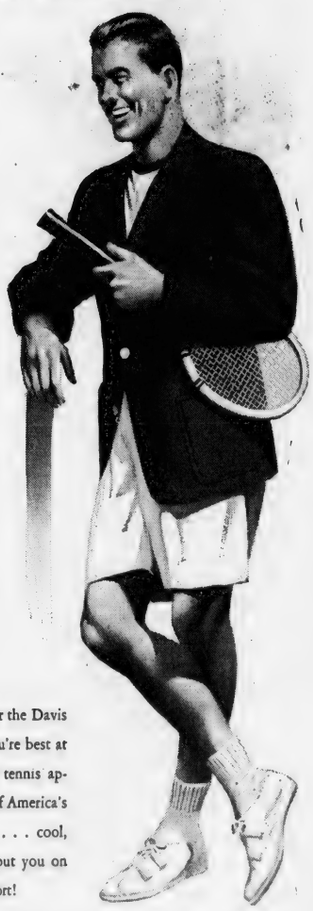
GREETINGS

Happy Easter to you . . .
May your heart rejoice
And your troubles seem few
At the church of your choice.

Tennessee Gas Co.

The Big Three in the Spring Jacket Scene

Sports Jackets Styled to the "Male" Order



As you like them, this trio of sporting successes. If you're a champion of the cardigan, you'll go for this one in soft tweed or camel's hair, while you conservatives will like the classic model in plain or two-tone tweed and there's a slide fastened poplin too, for active sportsters.

PARKS-BELK COMPANY

McGREGOR SPORTSWEAR

in Action Under the Sun

THE PERFECT SPORTSWEAR FOR TENNIS

Whether you're competing for the Davis Cup, or just a cup of tea, you're best at the net in McGregor's new tennis apparel. They're styled by one of America's leading tennis professionals . . . cool, smart, authentic styles that put you on the court in a world of comfort!

(Illustrated)

FOREST HILLS BRASS BUTTON BLAZER. Smartly tailored, seen at leading resorts. Of 100% pure wool Talbot flannel $25.00

WIMBLEDON TENNIS SHIRT. Popular T-Shirt. Absorbent, completely washable cotton. $2.00

WIMBLEDON TENNIS SHORTS. Made for freedom of action. Sanforized, mercerized, washable. $3.00

(Also available but not shown here)

WIMBLEDON TENNIS SWEATER. Seen and admired on International courts. Red, white, and blue neckline. Color-fast. Pullover $7.95 Sleeveless $5.95

LONGWOOD SUIT. For lounging or action. Brass-button shacket with slacks to match. $12.95

LONGWOOD RACQUET SHIRT. Absorbent combed cotton mesh in fast colors. Washable. Zipper closure $2.50

FOREST HILLS INTERNATIONAL KNIT SHIRT. Styled with collar. Special McGregor tailoring to preserve shape. In tennis white. $2.75

FOREST HILLS INTERNATIONAL SHORTS. A genuine gabardine with side and back pockets. Sanforized, vat-dyed, washable. Conmar zipper closure $5.95

PROFFITT'S Mens Store Main Floor

"Since 1919, The Best Place To Trade"

Support The Highlanders

Maryville vs. Ohio Wesleyan

Baseball Today

2:30

HAIL TO MAY DAY

QUEEN BOYATT

The Highland Echo

EXPERIMENTAL

THEATRE AT 6:30

VOLUME 32 — MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE. APRIL 12, 1947 — NO. 26

COMMENCEMENT PLANS ANNOUNCED

Betty Lou Boyatt Chosen To Reign Queen Of May

Amphitheatre Scene Of M. C. Tradition

Betty Lou Boyatt was elected by the senior class to reign as queen at Maryville's annual May Day program, Senior class president Harvey Overton will crown Miss Boyatt and reign as king. Senior attendants chosen by the queen are Doris White and Ann Anderson. Elsie Jean Cotton and Mil Castrodale were elected by the junior class to serve as attendants. The sophomores chose Marian Pope and Bill Proffitt. Ellen Collins and Harry Brahams were selected by the freshman class.

Jean Williams and Lottie Lavender are co-chairman of the YW CA committee which presents the program. Mrs. Curtis Hughes and Mrs. Verton Queener are the faculty members in charge of the production. The Girls' Choir under the direction of Mr. Hughes will provide the musical background.

Partners chosen by the class attendants are: Cotton, Tom Wheeler; Castrodale, Doris Cook; Pope, Tom Scott; Proffitt, Vera Lusk; Brahams, Betty Seagraves; Collins, Bill Carter.

Miss Boyatt is a Home Economics major from Maryville.

Overton, besides being senior class president, served as football team manager during the past season, is president of Student Vols, a member of pre-Ministerials and YMCA. His home town is Pulaski, Tenn.

Miss White is also a Tennessean and comes from Columbia. She is a Home Economics major, a member of the band and French club.

English major Ann Anderson is from Woodbridge, N. J. She has served this year as vice president of the Student Council, secretary of YWCA, and s aa member of the WSGA co-ordinating committee.

Elsie Jean Cotton, from Pittsburgh, Pa., has been the chairman of the Rec Center committee, was Nu Gamma chairman this year, a member of Writer's Workshop, and M club. Her major is English.

Tom Wheeler, Peeksill, N. Y., is an English major. He is a member of the Vesper choir, and secretary of YMCA.

Mil Castrodale is a member of the Vesper choir and an intramural manager. His home is in Rochester, Pa.

Doris Cook, the newly-elected YWCA vice president, is a music major from Baltimore, Md. She, too, a member of the Vesper choir.

Bill Proffitt, a physics major, is from Maryville. He was a letterman on last season's football team, is a member of the track team and is treasurer of Alpha Sigma.

Vera Lusk, was a Nu Gamma leader this year, and is a member of French club. She comes from Scotch Plains, N. J.

Dramatic Art major Marian Pope is from Etowah, Tenn. She is the secretary of the sophomore class.

Tom Scott, track team member and psychology major, is from Altoona, Pa.

Harry (Hap) Brahams, was a member of the basketball team, and is on the track team. His home is in Laguna Beach, Calif.

Betty Seagraves is from Milford, N. J.

Ellen Collins, Home Economics major, is from Montgomery, Ala.

Bill Carter is an English major from Atlanta, Ga.

May Day was started in 1920 by the YWCA and was held on Baldwin Lawn with the May Day participants wearing white. In 1921 the May Queen established the custom of asking the class president to preside with her.

The traditional May Day program will be held May 1 in the College woods in the Amphitheatre.

SURPLUS BUILDING HOUSES NEW PIANOS

By the time this goes to press, it is hoped that the new building by Anderson will have passed government inspection and be ready for occupancy. Enough pianos have been secured to fill the six rooms which it contains. Five were bought by the College and the other is the one bought by the Social Committee and lent to the Music Department for the rest of the year.

Four other pianos have been lent to the College and have been placed at various places on the campus. The donators were Mrs. McMurray, Mrs. Clyde Murray, Clark Brothers, Co., and the American Legion.

News Capsules—

BY LESLIE WEBB

Tornado Strikes

A tornado ripped through five Texas and Oklahoma towns, killing at least 132 persons and injuring more than 12000 latest reports indicated. The storm cut a swath 100 miles long scattering wreckage and debris in its wake. Woodward, Okla., bore the brunt of the storm with 83 known dead and more than 500 injured.

Fire Destroys Base

A tremendous fire destroyed the mammoth naval installation on Treasure Island, in the middle of San Francisco Bay. The fire raged for more than three hours before it was brought under control by one thousand fire fighters. Twenty-seven persons were injured in the attempts to extinguish the blaze. Valuable electronics equipment was lost in the fire.

Atomic Development Planned

United Nations Atomic Energy Commission has voted to plan peaceful development of atomic power before attempting to outlaw atomic bombs. The motion was carried over the strenuous objection of Russian Delegate Gromyko who inisists that a treaty to outlaw atomic weapons should precede this step.

UMW Fine Stands

The plea of the United Mine Workers Union for the reduction of their fine has been denied by Federal Judge Goldsborough. The Supreme Court authorized a cut 3 1-2 million dollars to 700 thousand dollars, on condition that the miners abandon strike plans. Judge Boldsborough declared that mine chief John L. Lewis has taken advantage of the Centralia, Illinois mine explosion to break faith with the government.

Lilienthal Confirmed

David E. Lilienthal, former TVA head, has been confirmed as Chairman of the important Atomic Energy Commission by a 50 to 31 vote in the Senate. The

(Continued on page four)

CALENDAR

Saturday, April 12
3:00 p. m.—Baseball—Tusculum, here
8:00 p. m.—Experimental Theater in Bartlett Hall
Sunday, April 13
1:30 p. m.—Y.M.C.A. meets in Bartlett Hall
Y.W.C.A. meets in Thaw Y Rooms
7:00 p. m.—Vespers in Library
8:30 p. m.—Students Vols—Phil Evaul will speak
Monday, April 14
7:30 p. m.—Faculty Club meeting
Tuesday, April 15
4:30 p. m.—Student Recital—Anderson Hall
8:00-10:00 p. m.—Town Night
7:30 p. m.—Gospel Fellowship
Friday, April 18
8:15 p. m.—Junior Recital by Dorothy Vawter
Saturday, April 19
After supper—Junior-Senior starlight hike

Orr And Cook Chosen To Head YWCA Next Year

Mildred Orr, history major from Maryville, was elected president of the YWCA at the annual election held Wednesday of this week. Other new officers elected at the same time include Doris Cook, vice president; Anna Sakaizawa, secretary; Loretta Nunn, treasurer; and Barbara Eggleston, Nu Gamma Leader.

The officers are to be installed following the annual YM-YW retreat which will be held the week end of April 26, Ruth King Wood, retiring YW president stated. The new officers will serve for the year 1947-48.

Miss Orr has also served as a class officer in the capacity of secretary of the freshman class and treasurer of the sophomore class; she has been a member of Y cabinet, choir, Chilhowean staff, French club, Nu Gamma leader, and an officer in WSGA.

Miss Cook, a transfer student from Peabody Conservatory at Hopkins University, is a school music major from Baltimore, Md. She is a member of the choir and parish project.

Anna Sakaizowa, the new secretary, is a psychology major from Chicago, Ill., and is a member of the student council, writer's workshop, Student-faculty senate, and Parish Project. She was formerly a member of the girl's choir, the orchestra, and French club.

Miss Nunn, a math major from Mt. Vernon, Mo. is a member of the French club, Chilhowean business staff, Y. cabinet, and served as Baldwin House Chairman and Secretary of the sophomore class last year.

The Nu Gamma Chairman, Barbara Eggleston, is a member of the girl's choir, and on the social committee for Bainonian and the M club. She was a Nu Gamma leader this fall. Miss Eggleston's major is English and she is from Marinett, Wis.

Debate Season Ends With Va. Trip

Four members of the varsity debate squad, Ann Cook, Geneva Robinson, Dave Campbell, and John Briggs, accompanied by Dr. V. M. Queener, attended the Grand Eastern debate tournament in Fredericksburg, Virginia, April 3 to April 6.

They entered contests in debate, extemporaneous speaking, poetry reading, and impromptu rejoinder. However, the main emphasis of the tourney was on debate.

"We had a very successful trip", said Dr. Queener. "Our people didn't win in any of the contests for they were inexperienced and young; however, they did do very well."

The winner in the men's debates was the University of Pittsburg. Mars Hill College in North Carolina took the honors in the women's division.

This trip brings the debate season to a close. During the year members of the Maryville squad made trips to Carson-Newman, and Tennessee-Wesleyan and entered tournaments at Cookeville, Tennessee, Hickory, North Carolina, and Fredericksburg, Virginia.

Those on the debate squad are: Ann Cook, Geneva Robinson, Dave Campbell, John Briggs, Peggy Cummings, Ruth Thompson, Barbara Wallin, Carl Lindsay, Bill Nish, William Smith, Stewart Saul, and Roger Cowan.

Dr. George Davies To Speak At Vespers

Dr. George K. Davies, president of Tusculum College, will be speaker at Vespers Sunday evening, April 13. Vesper services are to be held in the library and will begin at 7:00 o'clock. Dr. Davies served as a Navy chaplain during the war.

Social Committee Announces Plans

A beautiful loving cup given by local alumni in memory of Prof. Ralph Colbert, former professor of music, will be presented to the literary society which gives the best skit at a contest which will be held May 10, social committee chairman Bob Butts announced recently. The societies are urged by the social committee to begin preparation for the program as soon as possible in order that they may show their society to be the best on the hill.

At the same time, the committee announces the following schedule for the remainder of the semester: tonight, Experimental Theatre; April 19, hike for upper classmen and sophomore class party for those who do not go on the hike; April 26, Freshman party for all students; May 3, music program in keeping with music week; May 10, society skits; May 17, tentative date for the play.

Library Receives Gift From Student

Hoglan Gives Money Toward Literature Collection

On last December 20 the Library received a gift of $50 from Charles Hoglan, class of 1948, who returned to Maryville in the fall to complete his college course under the G. I. Bill of Rights. Since Charles is an English major, it seemed appropriate that his money be used in the development of the Library's literature collection. It went therefore into the purchase of the complete works of two writers: Sidney Lanier and Herman Melville.

The first of these items, The Centennial Edition of the Works of Sidney Lanier (Johns Hopkins Press, 1946, 10 vols.) arrived this week and is now on display on the New Book Table. It is the first collected edition of Lanier to be made, a handsome set in appearance, in scholarship a distinguished achievement. It furnishes the Library for the first time with all that Lanier wrote; the poems for which he is justly most famous, the essays, letters, guide books, juvenile stories, and novel. The novel, Tiger Lilies, may hold more interest for Maryvillians than for most other readers, for its scene is Montvale Springs, 9 miles from Maryville, where the Y retreats were held last year.

The Complete Works of Herman Melville (Packard and Co., 1947-48. 14 vols.) has been ordered, but as yet it has not been issued by the publishers. It, too, will provide the Library with its first complete set of Melville's writings: not only the well known Moby Dick, but the enigmatic Confidence Man, the Hamlet-like Pierre, the Civil War poems, the narrative poem of his pilgrimage to Palestine.

When the Library finally does have these sets on its shelves it will have the two major editorial achievements in the field of American literature. They are volumes which will not only interest the general reader but will prove a large and fertile field of exploration for such projects as the Special Studies soon to be inaugurated.

Donor Hoglan already has the appreciation of the present Library staff for his generous gift. But he must also receive that of all those who will continue to read these volumes in the future.

Vesper Choir Sings For Mrs. Walker

Mrs. John Walker celebrated her 95th birthday at her home in the woods, April 9. As usual the College Choir were among her guests. The choir sang several selections which included such old songs as "Tipperv" and also "The Twenty-third Psalm" which is Mrs. Walker's favorite.

Experimental Theater Presents Last Two Plays

Experimental Theater will give its last program of the year on Saturday night, April 12, in Bartlett Hall. To accommodate all the students who wish to come there will be two performances: the first beginning at 6:30, and the second beginning at 8 p. m.

Although the entire program is one of comedy, there is great variety. "The Pot Boiler" is a subtle play within a play. The temperamental director, Mr. Thomas Pinikles Sud (Glen Knecht to you) dominates his cast who are rehearsing for his play, "The Pot Boiler". His cast include Miss Ivory played by Betty Seagraves; the vampire, Ruth Thompson, Mr. Inkwell, the dark villian who gets his chest beaten for applause, is played by Tom Eckert; Mr. Ruler, Roger Cowan; Mr. Ivory, Ben Paxton; and Roger, the stage hand, Tim Sykes. Mr. Sud hasn't finished the play; he has written up to the point where someone shoots. Anyone's guess is as good as Mr. Sud's as to who the victim might be. The combination is one of novelty and humor.

"Fireman, Save My Child" needs no introduction. It is an old-fashioned melodrama with all the added attractions. Daisy Dorrance, the little woodland flower, (Marian Pope) is deeply persecuted by the despised villian, Archibald Quingle (Bill Nish. . .would you would have thought it?) Archibald also has the ability to hypnotize his victims, namely, Myrtle, the cook. But the manly hero, Chester Quingle, brother of Archibald, dashes in and eventually everything is righted. Others in the cast are Marjorie Prall as Mother Quingle; Bonnie Mills as Sally Crossbury, Tim Sykes as Bing Barnes; and Janet Blackmoor as Mary Lawson, who solves the problem of the missing bank account.

Fire Inspectors Pass On Buildings

Assistant Chief J. M. Connor and Captain Holloway of the Knoxville Fire Department visited the campus Friday afternoon, April 4, to meet with student leaders and Dean McClellan for a discussion of emergency control organizations and drills. The visit was at the invitation of the college, and was unofficial. Chief Connor,s duties with the Knoxville Department are those of instructor and drill master.

Chief Connor made a tour of the buildings on the campus, conducted by John Shell, chairman of the student committee, and pronounced Memorial and Baldwin Halls to be as nearly fireproof as possible due to their sprinkler systems. Both visitors made practical suggestions as to procedures and organizations desirable to cope with fire emergencies on the campus.

Plans for emergency instruction and drills are being drawn up for each dormitory by student representatives. These will be coordinated by a central committee composed of student leaders designated by the Student Council, and faculty representatives. It is planned also to form a squad of men students trained to deal with with emergency situations on the campus.

Dean McClelland announced that later in the semester, when organizations have been completed and procedures adopted, Chief Connor and Captain Holloway may be induced to revisit the campus and comment upon the measures adopted.

Bainonian

Tonight at 6:15 in Bainoman Hall a skit called "The Viper is Coming" will be presented. All Bainonians are to be present for the enjoyable evening.

Theta-Alpha Sig Production Cast For May 17

"Enchanted Cottage", a three act comedy and fantasy by Arthur Pinero is the play that was chosen by Alpha Sigma and Theta Epsilon for their semester's play. The tentative date May 17 in the Maryville High School Auditorium.

Jay Bishop, portraying Oliver Bashforth has the male lead. The female lead is to be done by Jean Balch as Laura Pennington. Others of the cast are Margaret Newland as Mrs. Smallwood; Bob Thompson, Major Murray Hillgrove; Charles Hoglan, the Rev. Charles Corsellia; Elsie Jean Cotton, Mrs. Minnett; Benson Gearhart, Rigg. Twenty shadows are to be selected yet. Anyone interested is asked to come to Mrs. Nita West at a time to be announced.

Some of the staff crew has been chosen. Business manager is Carl Laxenby, assisted by Lil Conrad. In charge of costumes are Marion Pope and Doris White. Shirley O'Shana is publicity chairman. The properties committee has not been appointed yet. Those interested should apply to Bill Cover and Dick Moore.

Massey Reviews Outstanding Points Of NADW Meeting

Miss Frances Massey, Dean of Women, returned recently from a meeting of the National Association of Deans of Women held in Columbus, Ohio, March 28-31. Impressed by several of the speakers who are nationally recognized in the field of education, Miss Massey reviewed a few of the high points of the conference.

Opening Address by Brumbaugh

The first sessions, she said, were opened by A. J. Brumbaugh, vice president of the American Council on Education. In his address he presented a realistic viewpoint on the present day problems of over crowding, housing shortages, and needs for adjustment to changed situations.

The possibilities for educating the Germans for democracy were discussed by Dr. Earl J. McGrath, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts at the State University of Iowa. He personally feels that it is barely possible and can be done only by first helping them become physically healthy, by unifying them politically and socially in putting the least sympathetic to Nazism into places of public control, and by approaching the problem with sympathy and understanding.

Prisoners Prefer America

Especially itnerested in the educational system in Germany, Dr. McGrath pointed out that a large adult education program should be developed, and that there should be numerous scholarships for exchange students. He recalled that many prisoners of war who were educated to democracy preferred living in America instead of teaching such a system to their countrymen.

Fritz Redl, a nationally known psychologist, in Miss Massey's opinion, highlighted the convention with his address on "Discipline and Psychology."

Dorothy Stratten Was Speaker

Miss Dorothy Stratten, formerly the Dean of Women at Purdue University, spoke at the formal banquet on Sunday night. She stressed the need for understanding among all people. Joining the Coast Guard in 1942, she became director of Women's Residences and later gave the women's divisions of the service the name SPARS. At present she is the Consultant of Personnel of the International Monetary Fund, which is one of the subdivisions of the United Nations Council.

Throughout the conference there were various meetings on problems of counselling, residence, social and recreational pro-

(Continued on page four)

Graham To Speak At Commencement

The Reverend Thomas A. Graham, pastor of the New Providence Presbyterian church in Maryville, is to be the speaker at the annual commencement exercise on Wednesday, May 21. Mr. Graham has served at New Providence two years. He was called there from Marinette, Wisconsin, where he bgan his pastorate after graduation from McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago.

Graduation exercises are to be held in the Alumni Gymnasium. Plans are being made to make the building as attractive as possible. The baskets are to be taken down and chairs placed in the gym. A stage will be built to allow much the same procedure that was used in Voorhees Chapel.

The Baccalaureate Service and Commencement Vespers on May 18 are also to be held in the gymnasium. The Baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd, as has been the custom in past years. Miss Margaret Shannon of New York, an executive secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, will deliver the Vesper address.

The Senior class chapel program on May 14 will open commencement week. Harvey Overton, president of the senior class, will preside at this program. At the chapel service on Saturday, May 17, various prizes given for work during the year will be awarded. The Alpha Sigma-Theta Epsilon play "The Enchanted Cottage" will be given on the Maryville High School stage that evening.

The Senior Music Hour will be held at the Chilhowee Club House on Sunday, May 18.

There will be a special chapel service of music and drama on Tuesday, May 20, which is Alumni Day. The Alumni Dinner, to which seniors are invited, will be held in Pearsons that evening. Dr. Harry J. Bassett, '04, is president of the Alumni Association, and Rev. James R. Smith, '35, is executive secretary.

Chilhowean Due Within Two Weeks

Word has been received by Dr. F. A. Griffitts, faculty adviser of the Chilhowean, that delivery of the 1947 book will be ready within two weeks.

He also stated that some campus organizations have not yet paid their accounts for the space purchased. Also, in view of the fact that collections are impossible after any books are delivered, no books will be issued to any students until after all organization accounts have been paid in full. Any students that have made a partial payment on a copy may wait until delivery of the book to complete their payments.

It was also learned that the uncovered copy has been received and approved for sewing and binding. The book this year will consist of 164 pages and 700 copies. For purposes of comparison, the issue last year consisted of 132 pages and only 430 copies.

Students Attend I.R.C. Convention

Two representatives of the local International Relations Club are in Ashland, Virginia, today attending I.R.C. convention being held in that city. Carroll Stegall and Lillybelle Gunn are the representaitves the club selected to represent Maryville College at the convention. The business of the convention, which started yesterday, will terminate today to end a two-day session.

At the next regular meeting of the International Relations Club on April 21, officers for the '47-'48 year will be elected. Also on the agenda at this meeting, the proposed new constitution for the club will be presented to the group for a vote.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 32 NUMBER 26

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

Editor this week - - - - - Janet Miller
R. Thomas Parkinson ..... Editor
Mary Elizabeth Hunt ..... Staff Editor
Constance Hawkins ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Janet Miller, Lorraine Swift, Dorothy Vawter
Elsie Onifer

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Grace Gugger, Naomi Hoffman
Johnnie Johnson, Ilda Mosby

FRESHMAN APPRENTICES
Craig Fisher, Herbert McCallum
Kenneth Olsen, Smartt Ramsey, Barbara Wallin,
Mildred Leake Leslie Webb

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF
Ruth Williams ..... Business Manager

JUNIOR ASSISTANTS
Katherine Johnson Mary Jane Long

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANT
Lillian Law
FRESHMAN ASSISTANT
Bob Watkins

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879.

Represented for National Advertising by
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, APRIL 12, 1947

COLLEGE IS A HORSE-RACE

At the sound of the gong the starting cage is raised, and they're off. The horses dart out of the cages, dash down the straightaway, round the first turn, and begin jockeying for position as they thunder down the back stretch. The real brain-work of the race is over when the horses take the last turn; it's the brawn, the stamina and the condition of the horses that count as they sprint down the home stretch and flash across the finish-line to a WIN, PLACE, SHOW and ALSO RAN!

A horse-race is won on the back stretch. The spectacular moving-up of the winner as they round the last turn and come into the home stretch would be impossible if the jockey had not chosen his position and timed his break perfectly on the back stretch. If the winner has held his lead throughout the entire race it is because, by faultless coordination of jockey and steed, he has consolidated his position on the back stretch.

College is a horse-race. At the sound of the first class bell the students are off. At the first six weeks exams they are rounding the first turn. At the second six-weeks tests they are entering the back stretch. Cramming for the finals is the last turn, and the finals are the home stretch.

The race is won on the back stretch. You are in the back stretch now. NOW is the time to consolidate your lead. NOW is the time to gain your position and make your break. If you wait until the last turn, it will be too late then. Yours is the singular advantage over that of an ordinary horse-race—that of being both the jockey and steed—so it's all up to you.

Remember the purse waiting for you at the finish-line. Remember, too, the folks in the stands who are betting on you. Will you WIN, PLACE, SHOW—or will you be an "ALSO RAN"?

JMM

SUGGESTIONS FOR SMOKING PROVISIONS

Maryville College has a rule—about smoking. It all boils down to two things. The first is that there shall be no smoking on campus, in buildings or elsewhere. This is fine. It is not only a protection for student's health but also a protection from fire. The one drawback is that students are going to smoke regardless of any rule. This leads to the second point—there will be smoking on campus, or worse, just off campus.

Any body who has walked down Carnegie steps recently knows what tobacco road was like, and anybody who drives around the edges of the campus after chapel and after meals knows that anything would be better than seeing groups of students lining the steps and surrounding the gates smoking fast and furiously. Visitors must have wonderful opinions of the students after they see something like this.

If students themselves do not have enough pride to refrain from littering up the campus and making public spectacles of themselves then something should be done to provide for them. Since they are going to smoke anyway why not provide a place for them. It would be perfectly simple to set aside one room in the recreation center for such a purpose and would certainly give the campus a much better appearance.

D.V.

Just Being "Nosy"

BY LORRAINE SWIFT

It was said one time, by someone—maybe you—that variety's a need, and we find it very true, for the thought's especially good when you're writing down a line, and you find there is no news you can use for every time. You can plod o'er the campus and go around the drive, but you find those many regulars who barely seem alive. You wonder what you'll say that will interest your readers and you go to search again; we're searching for our leaders.

Your glance to the drive has revealed Johnny Shell, and you see that things 'twixt him and the Texan are quite well, so you wander idly off to the Recreation Hall, where you find that Elsie Jean does her best to help us all. In the center of a room at a wobbling little table, four are seated in a group There names we'll give, if able). There are Blanchard and Don Lehman, who double up 'gainst Bob, for Bonnie dashes 'round and success from him is robbed.

Once we're safely off the campus (Ralph, it was on Tuesday night!) we see the students racing to the show they think's "a sight!" We run into ole Johnson, who's drug Don B. along, and—(Whup! We thought this seat wuz empty, but obviously we're wrong.')

Next mornin' into chapel we think of Mr. Black, who no longer slams the doors which use to keep us back; we think how far from us the choir always looks, and grieve that they alone are the ones who use hymn books. It seems that since we others from our minds all hymns recall, the choir should know them better and join to help us all. Now that chapel's in the gym we want to be on time, for crawling 'ross a row like a sore thumb makes you shine. We see that Cotton's yawning in the middle of a song; no need for yawning, Ronald, Coach seldom keeps us long. Bob Smith leans on Winton; he thinks it's all a larke, but Garner 'dorns his seat like a wilted question mark.

We're browsing through quotations and reading lines that last; we noticed that these were all written in the past. There must be kids about us who can also give advice; we'd like to see their names in print, for wouldn't that be nice? We selected quite a few and put their names to some: if they had lived before this is what they might have done:

Never give advice unless asked.—Martha Hull

Who loves me will love my dog also—Ray Swartzbach

Eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we diet—Ruth Broadhead

Ability is found to consist mainly in a high degree of solemnity.—Mac Purifoy

The dwarf sees farther than the giant, when he has a giant's shoulders to mount on.—Ginger Clabough.

I am a great friend to public amusements.—Bill Sidner

Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise. —Lloyd Chandler

A little nonsense now and then is relished by the wisest men.—Bill Nish

I attend to the business of other people, having lost my own.—You name the person.

Lois Thomas declares it was all a surprise to her when Owen gave her a ring last week-end. She went home with Mary Lib Hunt, and Owen lives nearby. She seems to be very much the same girl, but one morning at the breakfast table she remarked, "Oh, I believe I was supposed to wake Lorrie and E. J. up." The disgruntled Lorrie later said, "It's only been a habit of the whole semester,"

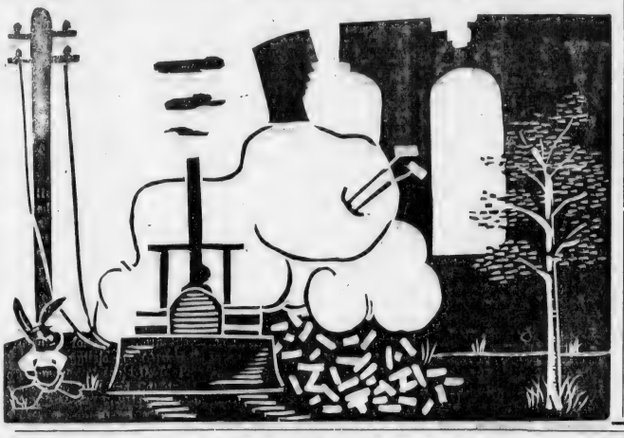
Children will be children, and what about that senior section in chapel, which after the first song always says, "Last one's down is a rotten egg?"

An innocent girl told Sherwood Coul that he could "get Kist for a nickel" at the Chatterbox. Sherwood answered that he didn't see any need in going way over there, but if that was the way she wanted it, it was O. K. with him.

Wondering. . . . if there will be any confusion now that there are two practice houses on campus. . . . why Miss Heron shrugs her shoulders and laughs at the same time. . . why some people hog the parlors. . . . how Miss Wilkinson talks above the piano in the next room. . . . why Art Lucas always smiles. . . if the CHILHOWEANS will really be here in two weeks. . . who the CHILHOWEAN GIRL-OF-THE YEAR is. . . how surprised she'll be when she sees her picture in the annual. . . . why it's so doggone hard to find something to write about sometimes.

CONGRATULATIONS TO Y. W. C. A. OFFICERS

Congratulations new "Y" officers. All of you have been chosen by your fellow students to fill responsible places of leadership because of the qualities you possess, and because the student body has faith in you that you may be able to help meet the problems which face Christian college youth within the next year.



To be sure, the position that you are called to hold is an honor, but it is also a big responsibility for the "Y" takes part in most aspects of our campus life. With a campus filled to capacity again next fall, and with meeting space far from ample, the student leaders face many problems. But next year is also a time of great opportunity for "Y", because with a good group of leaders, and many students who are interested in the program, it may expand and go forward into programs hereto untried.

So good luck, new officers, and remember that everyone is pulling for you.

MEH

TALK OF THE WEEK . . .

JEAN ALMY

Carl Wilson Speaks Fellowship Group

Carl Wilson is to be the speaker at the meeting of the Gospel Fellowship Group this week. The group will meet at 7 o'clock in the YW rooms on Tuesday evening. Everyone is invited to attend these weekly meetings which seek to encourage spiritual growth and development.

The leader of the Gospel Fellowship Group for the meeting last week was Ray Saunders. Earl Martin conducted the singing.

HERBERT PARSONS ELECTED HEAD OF MINISTERIALS

Herbert Parsons was elected president of the Pre-Ministerial Association for the coming year at the election held Thursday night in Bartlett Hall. The other officers are Bob Lavelle, first vice president; Ray Holsey, second vice president; and Bill Swenson, secretary-treasurer.

The next meeting of the Pre-Ministerial Association will be the banquet April 24.

Rev. Philip Evaul To Speak At Student Vols

Rev. Philip Evaul, chapel pastor of the New Providence Presbyterian Church, will speak at Student Volunteers Sunday evening after Vespers. His topic will be Chile. A graduate of Maryville, Mr. Evaul attended San Anselmo Seminary at San Francisco.

Phil, as he is known by his friends at M.C., was an outstanding wrestler on the college team. He also took part in many campus activities including Student Vols.

Athletic Department Announces Changes

Four classes in intermediate and beginning swimming, three classes in softball and three in tennis have been set up for women's intramurals. The swimming classes are regular Red Cross classes and Red Cross certificates will be given to those successfully finishing the course. Teams and captains in softball have been chosen and the teams will play each other off as the classes progresses.

"I am glad we can offer so many different things to the girls this semester. The classes are coming along very well and some good work is being done", said Mrs. V. M. Queener, physical education instructor.

Athenian

Athenian has prepared "something big" for tonight. It's "Stunt Night" and all Athenians are urged to be present. Quoted from one Athenian: "There's going to be a hot time in Bartlett Hall tonight."

Capitol

Monday-Tuesday, April 14-15
Hilarious!
"No Leave, No Love"
Starring Van Johnson
Introducing Pat Kirkwood
with Keenan Wynn, Xavier Cugat
Guy Lombardo and their Orchestras. Edward Arnold and Marie Wilson

Wednesday-Thursday April 16-17
Suckers were his business! . . . Until a pretty face made him the biggest sucker of all!
John Garfield, Geraldine Fitzgerald in "Nobody Lives Forever"
with Walter Brennan, Faye Emerson and George Coulouris

Friday-Saturday, April 18-19
A Roaring Rampage of love and action!
"Roaring Rangers"
Starring Charles Starrett with Smiley Burnette, Adelle Roberts

Coming Next Week Monday-Tuesday, April 21-22
Hunger no love . . woman . . or wealth could satisfy!
Tyrone Power, Gene Tierney, John Payne, Herbert Marshall, Anne Baxter, Clifton Webb
W. Somerset Maugham's
"The Razor's Edge"
with Lucile Watson and Frank Latimore

Dubby's Grill

Recently Opened

Located Only 4 Blocks from the College

Campus on Ellis Avenue

Short Orders	Dinners
Hamburgers	Steaks
Sandwiches	Chops
Soft Drinks	Sea-Foods

Quick Service Our Specialty

CASUAL COATS. Tailored . . . straight-hanging . . . smart! All-wool bold weaves-some part-wool gabardine fronts! 10.90

SPORT COATS. Tasteful novelty or solid weaves . . . well-tailored single breasted models . . . lightweight wool! 18.75

AND SLACKS in all or part-wool (see tag) plaids, checks, stripes or solids . . . zipper and pleats! 5.00-9.90

No Fooling—Here's GOOD NEWS

C & L Have Delicious Steak Dinners
Eat With Us Often
C&L CAFE

Carpenter and Cochran Finalists In Contest

Katherine Carpenter and Susan Cochran, finalists in the T. T. Alexander Oratorical contest, are to deliver their orations in chapel on Wednesday, April 16. These two were selected from a group of four on Friday, April 5, by judges from the staff of the Bible and Religious Education Department.

SCOTLIGHTS

Herbert McCallum

The Highlander Baseball Nine, despite adverse weather—rain and high wind—were in excellent form during the two games of Friday and Saturday of last week. Their hitting was on the upswing and their base running looked much improved. The speed which the pitchers worked was decidedly better. (The fans have even had time to make the chow bell the past few games.) With Leon Berrong on the mound, the Scots held the visiting Carolina Teacher's nine to a scoreless start in nine innings. On the defense the Highlanders were playing heads-up ball and fumbled only one ball during the afternoon.

The pitching of Mel Malone last Saturday kept the Scots ahead. Malone's record for the game was a definite improvement over his previous work. The Ohio Wesleyan team got one walk, 3 singles, and one triple in the eight innings Malone pitched. Errors credited against the Orange and Garnet squad in that game were 3 for the first eight innings. In the way of fielding the Scots have cut down on the number of errors per game. On the whole, the ball the boys played last Friday and Saturday is the type of ball the fans are expecting from our baseball team during the remainder of the season. Team, that's the WAY TO GO!

Meet The Men Who Make The Nine

Continuing our information search about our baseball squad, we find that Ken Stinnett, the little man with the big glove behind the iron mask who stops everything that passes the batter, is a long-time baseball fiend, having started in the game early in high school. Ken has played with local teams for over seven years now. His tour with the army carried him to the E. T. O. where he managed a battalion ball club. More recently he was manager of the local Veterans of Foreign Wars team last summer. Stinnett is rapidly proving himself as a slugger in addition to being a top-notch pitcher for the Scots.

Mel Malone, who is rounding out his third year here at Maryville, had his baseball career at M. C. interrupted by greetings from the President just after finishing training with the Highlander's club in 1940. Mel, a lad from Decatur, Illinois, is likely to be a regular starter for the Scots in the pitcher's box.

Left fielder Walter Pentz, probably the youngest of the starting nine, at eighteen, comes from York, Pennsylvania, where he played on the York Junior College team a year before entering Maryville as a freshman last fall.

More Tennesseans

Joe Journigan, a native Tennessean from Wartrace, is a left-handed hurler on the mound this year. Joe played first base with a service team last year while with the army in the Philippines. His team entered the Tokyo Olympics, an armed forces' baseball league in southern Japan on the island of Honshu. (Tokyo Olympics also included service teams in basketball and football.) Joe is a freshman this year.

Ray McJunkin, another southpaw pitcher for the Scots, is unusually conspicuous as he walks about the campus this week with a bandage around his head over his left eye. The bandage is to cover up the damage the eye received from a hard blow when a hot grounder jumped up to meet him when he was pitching to Hiwassee on Wednesday of this week. Although he has had black eyes before, Ray says this was the first time a ball had dealt him such a blow. McJunkin is a senior in his first year at Maryville. He played for Hiwassee some seven years ago and graduated there in 1940. He spent six months at the University of Utah under the ASTRP. While with the army in Europe McJunkin played with a regimental team. At present he lives in Maryville and has played with teams in the Blount County league for three years. At his former home at Tellico Plains, he played with other county teams while at Hiwassee.

Track Meet Next Week

With a meet with a University of Tennessee just a week away, Coach Davis has been putting his hopefuls through rigorous time trials to find starters for the Highlander Track Squad.

The decision of Tom Scott and Earl Downey not to run for Maryville this spring dampened somewhat the outlook for a leader in the mile and half-mile circuits. Scott, a sophomore physchology major from Altoona, Pensylvania, has announced his intention of entering the University of Tennessee next fall. Downey, who plans to major in physical education, is a freshman from Fort Lauderdale, Florida. Earl plans to enter U. T. also, probably during the summer quarter.

Despite this set-back Coach Davis has hopes of pushing other men into starting position. With Lambert, Brick Brahams, Houdeshel, and Saunders in the dashes; Kay, Connell, and Hap Brahams out for the hurdles; Gillette and Verity in the distance runs; and Garner and Brick Brahams in the jump events—Coach has starters in these events.

NORTON HARDWARE CO.
Phone 18

Scotties Stop Ohio Wesleyan

The Maryville College Baseball team won the tilt with Ohio Wesleyan here last Saturday, 9-3, chalking up 10 hits against the Buckeye pitchers. Mel Malone of Maryville, a right-hander, was the winning pitcher; and Estepp took the loss.

Bob Boring started off the hitting in the second frame, hammering out a three bagger onto the mound in deep left field. He was tossed out at the plate on a fielder's choice when Hamil grounded to second. Hamil scored on a single by Stinnett. Pentz singled, stole 2nd and 3rd, and was caught on a steal to home by the catcher.

The M. C. nine brought in 6 more runs in the 6th. King Berrong took first on balls and Honaker followed with a sacrifice. Then Spears doubled, Boring and Hamil went to first on fielders' choices, and Stinnett, Pentz, and Enloe singled. Enloe was caught at second and Malone was out at first. In the eighth Hamil took first on an error, Reynolds, replacing Stinnett at catcher, sacrificed, Pentz fanned and Hamil went home on an error.

The Wesleyan nine scored twice in the 8th on a walk, an error and a long drive to right by Graybill who was called out at home after failing to touch the plate. He was credited with a triple.

Ohio added another tally in the ninth when Rhodes hit to short and went to first on an error. He took home on a wild pitch and an error at third.

The line-up was as follows:

Maryville	AB	R	H	E
Berring, K. 2nd.	4	1	0	1
Honaker, 3rd.	2	0	0	1
Spears, r.f.	4	1	1	0
Boring, s.s.	4	1	2	2
Hamil, c.c.	4	3	1	0
Stinnett, c.	3	2	2	0
Pentz, l. f.	4	1	2	0
Enloe, 1st.	3	0	1	0
Malone (8) p.	3	0	0	1
Reynolds, (went in for

(Continued on page 4)

M C Meets Tusculum Today

Games Today, Monday, And Tuesday; Record For Team Is Good

BY KEN OLSEN

The Maryville College nine meets the Tusculum Pioneers on the home diamond this afternoon. On Monday, the Scots travel to Madisonville to engage the Hiwassee Tigers, and they will probably play U. T. at Knoxville on Tuesday.

4th Time Against Tigers

The Highlanders have tangled with the Hiwassee Tigers twice before in the season. The game scheduled yesterday with Hiwassee was called because of rain. The two previous games were victories for the M. C. team. The game with the University of Tennessee, if played, will be the Scots first encounter with the Knoxville team this season.

4 Wins Out of 5 Tries

Displaying a strong hitting and pitching force, backed by good fielding, the Highlanders have rolled out four wins out of five encounters. Making a bad start, the M. C. nine dropped a game to Michigan State, 10-1. They recovered and have stayed on the victory wagon since, taking Hiwassee, 10-7; Western North Carolina Teachers, 7-0; Ohio Wesleyan, 9-3; and the second game with Hiwassee, 8-5. All the games were played on the home diamond except the second game with Hiwassee, which was played at Madisonville.

Boring—Top Slugger

Bobby Boring, the Scots' shortstop, is way ahead of his team mates in batting with eight hits, while Hamil and Spears hold the lead in runs scored with seven apiece. Hamil and Boring each have hammered out four-baggers, and Boring and King Berrong are credited with one triple each. Pentz, Stinnett and King Berrong have a record of one two-base hits, respectively, while Spears has batted out two doubles. The fielders have been alert, with the Highlanders making good on eight double plays.

The batting averages up to today's game with Tusculum are as follows:

Player	AB	R	H	RBI*	Pct.
K. Berrong	15	4	3	2	.200
Honaker	13	1	0	0	.000
Spears	13	7	4	4	.308
Boring	18	2	8	3	.444
Hamil	16	7	4	7	.250
Stinnett	14	3	5	5	.357
Pentz	17	2	4	1	.235
Enloe	9	1	2	1	.222
L. Berrong	5	1	2	0	.400
McJunkin	4	1	0	0	.000
Jernigan	1	1	0	0	.000
Rock	4	1	0	0	.000
Neff	2	0	1	0	.500
Malone	3	0	0	0	.000

* Runs Batted in

Twenty-nine Persons Pass Life Saving Course

Instructors "Mike" Miracle and Harriet McKeen of the Senior Life Saving class which met on Monday and Thursday nights announced that 12 college students and 5 townspeople passed the requirements after attending the three-week course. The following were awarded certificates: R. Thompson, E. Rowley, E. Vanderslice, R. Willocks, C. Stegall, H. Weber, V. Queener, T. Mulford, N. Forrester, J. Mathias, E. Barnes, S. Lewis, J. Cummings, J. Spears, B. Hill, E. Hedge and C. King.

Instructors Beatrice Slebold and Janet Miller of the Wednesday and Friday night class passed nine college students and three townsmen. The following are: J. Almy, D. Hamilton, D. McCullock, G. Williams, J. Frost, T. Lang, J. Kaltreider, J. Halloway, D. Cummings, F. Corley, W. Menges, and R. McNiel.

Pre-Instructors course is now being given in preparation for Instructors Course which will be given by a Red Cross Field Water Safety Instructor. Instructors for the first half of the course are Janet Miller and Mike Miracle.

You may have some difficulty in locating the most beautiful woman in the world, but if you want to locate the smartest man in the world, just stop the first man you meet.

Highlanders Down Hiwassee

The Highlanders rolled out a victory over Hiwassee last Wednesday at Madisonville, 8-5, the second victory against the Tigers' nine this season. McJunkin, a left handed pitcher, was the winning hurler. The game was called after the 6th inning by agreement of both teams.

In the 2nd. Hamil knocked a grounder to the outfield where it went between the fielder's legs and became lost in the weeds. Hamil was tallied with a homer. Stinnett took a base on balls and Pentz hit into a double play to finish the frame.

In the 3rd Rock and McJunkin took bases on errors. Rock scored on an error, and McJunkin went to third and scored on an error. Berrong and Honaker fanned, Spears took first on an error and Boring flied to left.

In the 5th King Berrong and Honaker walked and Spears drove them in with a resounding double. Spears advanced to third on a fly ball and then scored on a wild pitch. Hamil walked and then was caught off second by a throw from the catcher.

In the 6th the M. C. nine drove in two more runs. Stinnett walked, took third on a bad throw from home to second and scored when the shortstop errored on a play on Jernigan, who went in for McJunkin who was injured on a grounder in the first half of the 6th. Jernigan went home on a double by King Berrong.

Hiwassee rolled in two runs in the 5th on two walks, three errors, and a hit. Stallard fanned with the bases loaded and two away.

The Tigers pounded out three more runs in the 6th. Sizemore

(Continued on back page)

INTRAMURAL DOPE

Intramural Softball Season Gets Rolling

Not only spring was ushered in this year. Intramural softball, in all its glory, has strewn the past week with game after game. Teams are really "playing ball" and competition has overflown all expectations. Among some of the most interesting games during the past week were:

Rebels Crush Bobby Sox

Pitching a one hit ball game, Bell of the Rebels turned thumbs down on a fly-wrecked Bobby Sox team 6-1 Monday afternoon. Hits were scarce, but the winners connected eight times to the loser's three. The Bobby Sox' only run was brought in by right fielder Carden in the fourth inning.

Echo Inches Moonshiners

The closest game of the week resulted from the low-scoring Echo-Moonshiner clash Wednesday afternoon. The score was 4-3. Despite eight walks being handed over to them, the Moonshiners suffered nine strike outs dealt by the Echo hurler Forrester in an extreme showing of pitching. At the end of the game the scoreboard gave the Echo 4 runs, 1 hit, 1 error to the Moonshiner's 3 runs, 1 hit, 3 errors.

Eight Balls Smash Powerhouse

With three home runs to their credit, the Eight Balls scored in every inning to crush a powerless Powerhouse team 22-2 Wednesday. Talbott, Halsev, and Hollingsworth made the four baggers. Hits ran 20-6 for the Eight Balls. This was their second win of the season.

Bobby Sox Take First

In their first win out of four games during the season, Thursday afternoon the Bobby Sox battered the Bartlett Boys to the tune of 21-7. The Bobby Sox garnered four home runs, three in the sixth alone. Bartlett's only home run was bagged by Morrison.

Other Results

Misfits 15	Bartlett 7
Eight Balls 9	Wolves 4
Moonshiners 8	Rebels 6
Moonshiners 10	Eight Balls 0 forfeit)

Team Standing

Team	PCT.
Echo (3-0)	1.000
Misfits (2-0)	1.000
Eight Balls (2-1)	.666
Moonshiners (2-1)	.666
Rebels (2-1)	.666
Wolves (1-2)	.333
Bobby Sox (1-4)	.200
Powerhouse (0-3)	.000
Bartlett (0-4)	.000

EXCHANGES

"What makes you think they're engaged?"

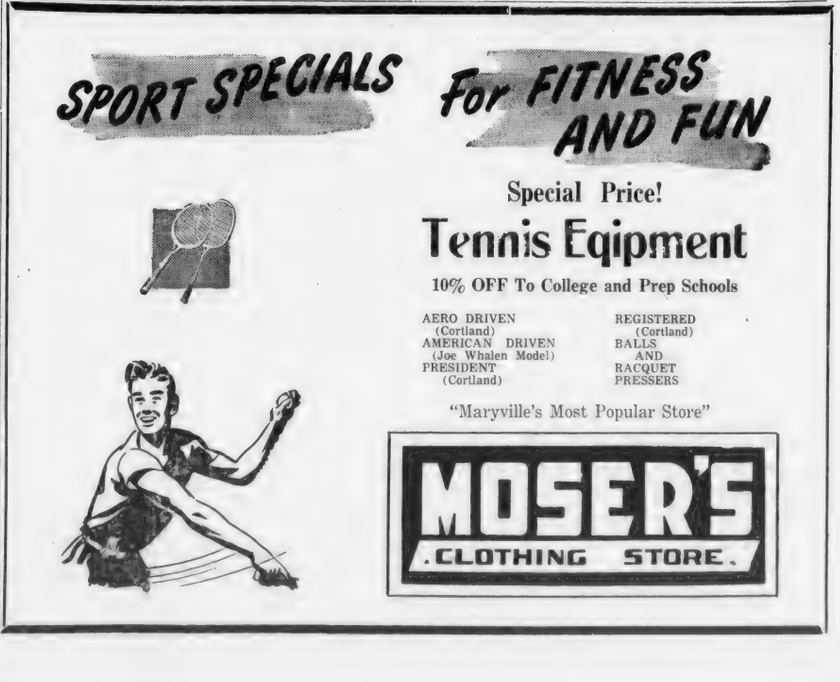
"She has a ring and he's broke."

Tennessee Tech. Oracle

Student's Psalm:

Dr. (faculty member) is my professor, I shall not pass. He maketh me to study hard lessons for his salary's sake, but yet though I study all his quizzes, I shall fear no A's, for his eye and red pencil confront me. He anointeth my paper with zeros. My grades runneth low. Surely ignorance and failure shall follow me all the days of my college life and I shall dwell in Maryville College forever and ever. Amen!

Maroon and White, Bristol, Tennessee



I know a student who is the tightest tightwad that ever tightened a wad. He is so stingy that he works crossword puzzles up and down so he won't have to come across.

Senior: "May I kiss you?"

Freshman: "Jeepers! Another amateur".

East Technical High School

Anderson And Vawter Present Recital Friday

Rella Anderson and Dorothy Vawter will be presented by the Music Department in the last junior recital of the year April 18 at 8:15. The recital will be given at the Chilhowee Club House. Miss Anderson is a voice major and will be accompanied by Dan Winters, freshman piano major.

Her program is as follows:

Voi Che Sapete (The Marriage of Figaor) ..... Mozart
At the Ball ..... Tchaikowsky
Mammy's Song ..... Ware
Sento Nel Core ..... Scarlatti
Une Voce Poco Fa (The Barber of Seville) ..... Rossini
Ah, Fors' lui (La Traviata) ..... Verdi
Auf geheimen Waldespfade ..... Griffes
Les Paons ..... Loeffler
Mein Herr Marquis (Die Fledermaus) .. Johann Strauss
A Memory ..... Ganz
Waiting ..... Deis

Miss Vawter is a piano major. Her program is as follows:

Concerto in D minor Adagio-Bach
Sonata op. 10, no. 2 ..... Beethoven
Allegro
Allegretto
Presto
Des Abends ..... Schumann
Etude in c sharp minor ..... Chopin
The Lonely Fiddle-maer ..... Sowerby

CHOIR PARTY

Monday afternoon at 3:30 the choir had their annual party. Meeting at the golf course, they played softball until 6:30, and then proceded to the picnic grounds for cheesebургers. Later they sang songs while sitting around the fire.

Crawford & Caldwell
HARDWARE
Phone No. 1 Maryville

DELICIOUS
Angel Cake
Heavenly angel's food cake just full of rich cream and delicious tasting ingredients.
LYNCH BAKERY

COUNCIL CONFIRMS PROPOSED PROJECT

Elsie Jean Cotton, chairman of the committee investigating a plan to bring closer coordination between the Social Committee and Rec. Hall, presented the revised plan for confirmation by the Student Council at the Wednesday night meeting. After a general discussion, a motion, made for the project's acceptance, was passed unanimously. Permission will be asked Dean McClelland for a one year trial. At the end of that time, if it has proved a success, the plan will then be adopted by the respective constitutions of the two organizations.

The Council was reminded that all special privileges on Town Night are given by the Dean of Women, and the president or secretary of the Council are notified.

Because of senior comprehensives, there will be no Council meeting Wednesday night.

No Town Night violations were reported.

NEWS CAPSULES . . .

(Continued from page one)

confirmation climaxed more than two months of bitter argument on the part of the opposition. Senator McKellar has led the fight against Lilienthal charging him with Communist leanings.

Strikes Going Strong

The nation continued in the grip of the NFTW telephone strike, with rumors and gossip sharply curtailed as a result of the loss of one of their chief means of spreading. This leaves only telegraph and telawoman as the speediest forms of communication.

Weekly Bible Verse

"Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." II Tim. 2:15.

French Club Banquet Held On Friday

Last Friday evening at 7:30 the French Club held its annual banquet, formerly scheduled for Cate's Cafe, in the Thaw Y rooms. The faculty of the French Department were guests.

Al Dockter, president of the club, served as toastmaster, introducing Harold Henry, Mary Ruth Barber, Eleanor Struble, Vera Lusk, Ruth Lloyd and Miss Wilkinson, sponsor of the club, as speakers. Additional entertainment was given by a skit entitled "L 'Opera Comique."

DR. L. C. OLIN SPEAKS AT Y.M.

Dr. L. C. Olin, physician, of Maryville, will be the guest speaker at the YM meeting at Bartlett Hall on Sunday afternoon at 1:30. This is the first of a series of three meetings, to be held on successive Sundays, that are planned to give students a special insight into the matter of practical Christianity from a layman,s viewpoint. next week it is planned to get the viewpoint of a businessman. Another profession will be represented on the following Sunday. It is believed that these meetings will be of interest to all, particularly students planning to enter the profession represented by the speakers. The series is entitled: "A Christian Layman Speaks About His Profession."

Miss C. Persinger To Speak At Y.W.

Miss Charlotte Persinger, Director of Religious Education at the First Presbyterian Church in Knoxville, will be the leader of the YW service at 1:30 p. m. Sunday. The topic of her message will be "Belief". It is the first in a series of two. The concluding message will be given on April 20th. Special music is planned.

Crawford Will Speak At Ministerial Banquet

The Reverend Earl Crawford, assistant pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Knoxville, is to speak at the annual ministerial banquet on April 24. The banquet is to be held at the Chilhowee Inn in Walland.

Ray Swartzback is to be master of ceremonies; Jay Bishop will sing a solo. There are at present over 100 people who plan to attend the banquet.

It has been stated that the banquet is not to be formal, due to the fact that transportation is to be by bus.

LIBRARY TEA

Miss Nathalia Wright will entertain the library assistants with a tea to be given at her home tomorrow afternoon at 4:00 p.m.

JUNIORS PLAN HIKE FOR TIRED SENIORS

Climaxing a five-mile hike around the loop, Saturday night, April 19, juniors and seniors will meet at the picnic grounds for a program and refreshments.

The program has been planned by the junior class as a farewell party to the seniors with the thought of relaxation after comprehensive examinations. Members from both classes are writing the script which is to be used. Details of the program will not be publicized until a later date.

Mary Jane Long is chairman for the affair; Alverta Fink, in charge of refreshments; Janet Campbell, program; and Evelyn Vaughn, publicity.

EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE

A clear-toned trumpet sounded across the college campus calling students to the Easter Sunrise Service held in the Amphitheatre at 6:16 a. m. The choir sang alternately with the telling of the Easter story by President Lloyd.

Approximately 800 persons attended this symbolizing service of the resurrection of Christ.

McClelland Will Discuss Veterans In College

Dr. Frank McClelland will be the speaker at the regular meeting of the faculty club Monday evening, April 14, at 7:30 p. m. His subject is "Veterans in College". Dr. Orr will preside. The meeting is scheduled for the Home Economics rooms in Fayerweather, and salad and desert will be served by the home economics students.

Spanish Club

Buried treasure with the clues written in Spanish marked the April 10 meeting of the Spanish Club. Before the scavenger hunt began, Srta. Cuellas demonstrated the dancing of the Rumba to the accompaniment of selections by Xavier Cugat.

The winning team of the scavenger hunt were Forrest Corley, Kitty Cooley, Katherine Boyer, Martha Hull, and Jean Almy. The prize was a delicious-looking bag of fritos.

RECEIVES AWARD

Dr. Robert W. Bishop, Dean of Men at the University of Cincinnati has received from Omicron Delta Kappa, National Men's Upperclass honor society, its Occasional Distinguished Service Award and three hundred dollars in cash for noteworthy service to the society.

Dr. Bishop received the Bachelor of Arts degree from Maryville College in 1926 and his Master of Arts degree in 1927 from the University of Michigan.

NEW BUILDINGS AVAILABLE SOON

The erection of one of the prefabricated buildings has been completed, and will be available for use as soon as it is painted and as soon as it is inspected by a government representative. This is the building located between Memorial and Anderson.

Originally the building was intended to serve as space for supplementary offices, but at present it will be used only for music practice rooms.

Dr. Lloyd expressed his appreciation of the effort which the government made to get the building ready for immediate use in view of the chapel fire.

Workers concentrated on putting the building up ahead of schedule; therefore, the gym will not be finished until the latter part of May.

Theta Epsilon

For laughs and fun hear Carrol Kennette give "The Waltz" at Theta Epsilon tonight in Theta Hall at 6:15.

OHIO WESLEYAN

(Continued from page two)

Stilwell	3	0	0	0
Neff (pinch hitter)	1	0	1	1
Casey (9) p.
Total	32	9	10	6
Ohio Wesleyan	AB	R	H	E
Hagmenster, 2nd.	4	0	1	2
Campbell, 3rd.	4	0	0	0
Rhodes, s.s.	4	1	0	1
Chapple, c. f.	3	0	1	0
Jones, l.f.	3	0	0	0
Sternad, r.f.	3	1	0	0
Olson, 1st.	4	1	0	0
Sward, c.	4	0	0	0
Estepp, p.	1	0	0	0
Graybill, p.	1	0	1	0
Curtis, p.	1	0	1	0
Horeman
Total	31	3	4	4
Ohio Wesleyan	000	000	021
Maryville	020	006	01x

Then there was the moron who turned his kitten into the Red Cross so that it would become a first aid kit.

MASSEY REVIEWS

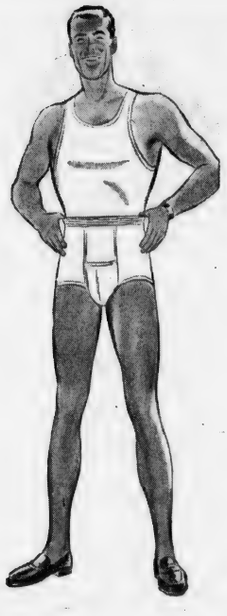
(Continued from page 1)

grams, and orientations of new students. At .:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon there was an interdenominational vesper service, held in the Trinity Episcopal Church and led by Rabbi James G. Heller of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Other Groups Met

The entire program was centered around the theme "Developing the Human Resources of Democracy". At the same time the Deans of Women met, two other groups, the American College Personnel Association and the National Vocational Guidance Association, were meeting at other places in Columbus. Each group was a part of the convention of the Council of Guidance and Personnel Association.

HIWASSEE



walker, 2nd Voit and Henry knocked homers.

The line-up was as follows:

Maryville	AB	R	H	E
K. Berrong, 2nd.	3	1	1	0
Honaker, 3rd.	3	1	0	0
Spears, c.f.	3	1	1	0
Boring, s.s.	3	0	1	0
Hamil, 1st.	2	1	1	1
Stinnett, c.	1	1	1	1
Pentz, l. f.	3	0	1	0
Rock, r.f.	3	1	0	0
McJunkin, p.	1	1	0	0
Jernigan, p.	1	1	0	0
Total	23	8	6	2

Hiwassee	AB	R	H	E
Voit, 3rd.	4	1	1	0
Cates, s.s.	4	0	1	0
Anderson, p., r.f.	2	0	1	0
Stallard, c. f.	3	0	0	0
Henry, 2nd.	3	1	1	1
Rudd, st	0	1	0	0
Epperson, l. f.	1	1	0	0
Sizemore, r.f., p.	1	1	0	0
Hamil, 1st.	2	1	1	1
Greenwood batted for Rudd, 6th)	1	0	0	0
Pentz, l. f.	3	0	1	0
Wood batted for Epperson, 6th)	1	0	0	0
Total	22	5	4	3
Maryville		012	032
Hiwassee		000	023

SUNDAES
The Best In Town
THE PARK DRUG STORE

"Munsing-Wear"
"Tops in Knit Wear for Men"
Athletic College men everywhere call for the Athletic Shorts with the "New Patented Support" and "Stretchy-Seat" 85c pr.
The "Durene" knit undershirt goes right along in popularity with the shorts.
$1.00
PROFFITT'S Mens Store Main Floor
"Since 1919, The Best Place To Trade"

It's not long until MOTHER'S DAY—So why not give "Mom" a picture——
She'll love it!
THE WEBB STUDIO

Surveying?
The best Drug Buys in town are at
BYRNE DRUG COMPANY

All Your Grocery Needs
M. M. ELDER CASH CARRY STORE

CONGRATULATIONS
KATIE CARPENTER

THE Highland Echo

SUCCESSFUL YEAR
YW-YM CABINETS

Z 703

VOLUME 32 | MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, APRIL 21, 1947 | NUMBER 27

KATHERINE CARPENTER WINS T. T. ALEXANDER CONTEST

Both Contestants Speak On The Resurrection

Katherine Carpenter, an English major from Memphis, Tennessee, was judged as winner of the T. T. Alexander contest on Wednesday, April 16, at the chapel service. Both she and Sue Cochran, the other contestant, spoke on "The Resurrection of Jesus Christ". Dr. Orr, head of the Philosophy and Religious Education Department, conducted the preceding chapel service and introduced the judges and the two contestants. The judges were the Rev Horace Lillard, the Rev. Floyd Watts, and the Rev. Henry Moore (from New Prospect Church in Knoxville). Alle the judges were Presbyterian ministers and all members of the Southern Union.

The T. T. Alexander contest was made possible by an anonymous friend of the college who named this fund in honor of T T. Alexander, a missionary in Japan. The contest is open each year, alternately for men and women. The prize offered is divided between the two finalists on the basis of sixty and forty percent. The finalists have been chosen from previous try-outs of a larger group by the religious education staff of the college.

Miss Carpenter opened her speech with the words of the Angel at the Tomb, "He is not Here, He is Risen", and went on to say that it had been both affirmed and denied quite violently. She said that the disciples only believed and deserted Jesus, that church members obey His word only by lip service and materialistically. He healed the sick and raised the dead, yet his enemies say He is against life; also they said he introduced sadness into the world, yet HE ate and drank. The fiery denials and frequency of them would deem to prove Christ not dead. Modern enemies say His body was carried off by the disciples, yet none of the disciples were smart enough to do so, since they were victims of their own ignorance. Others say the Resurrection was urgently needed to counterbalance the shame of the Crucifixion, yet in their vehemence, too many essentials are forgotten. The testimony of Paul in his Letter to the Corinthians which was written about 58 A D. when men were still living who could have contradicted his daring statements, had they been false. Four powers held Christ in the Tomb, according to his doubting disciples. (1) Power of Death, (2) the power of Nature. His body was in a stone tomb with a huge rock sealing the entrance, (3) the authority of the Roman government-seal was upon that stone, and (4) the Power of the Military guard. She concluded by saying, "If there had been no Resurrection, there would be no Hope, no forgiveness f sins, no gospels, and no Christian church. Our lives would be in vain, and without purpose.

"Over a garden a grey mist hung like a cloak as three women went to a tomb. As it began to dawn, the world woke to the words, "He is not here, He is Risen!"

Miss Cochran

Susan Cochran is a religious ed. major from Pittsburg, Pa., also spoke on the "Resurrection of Jesus Christ". She opened her speech with, "Now is Christ Risen from the dead." She went on from there to say that God gave us the spirit as a guarantee of the fact of the Resurrection. Arguments have been given and volumes written, but it can not be proven to those who shut their eyes, or does it need to be proven to a Christian. The power of Christ lies in the Cross and the Tomb. Christ's love shone even when He was on the Cross and the Cross should be the doorway to life for us. When Mary stood into the empty tomb, she saw all the glory and evidence of eternal life that was needed but the disciples' hearts were heavy with fear for

(Continued on back page)

Fall Registration Started April 10

Advance Dormitory Deposit Necessary

Registration for the fall semester began April 10 and will continue through May 17. The deadlines for registration are as follow prospective seniors, April 18; prospective juniors, April 30; prospective sophomores and freshmen, May 17. Students failing to turn in schedule cards, properly signed, by May 17 will pay the late registration fee of $2.50.

There are four things concerning registration that are important and should be closely observed. (1) Be sure your Student's Record is entirely compl ete (2) fill out a tentative schedule; check carefully the specifications on the registration sheet. (3) Have schedule checked by major adviser. (4) Return approved schedule to the personnel office.

It is necessary for dormitory students to pay the $10 in advance fee before May 21 in order to reserve a room for next year. After this date rooms will be reserved in the order in which advance deposit is received for old and new students alike.

Women students will select their rooms for next year beginning today, Monday, April 21.

Plans Under Way For Last Play of Year

Presenting the last MC production of the year in the Maryville High School Auditorium, the plans for the Theta Epsilon-Alpha Sigma play, "The Enchanted Cottage", are well under way.

Jay Bishop, who will be remembered for his portrayal of Mr. Maningham in "Gaslight", has the male lead of Oliver Bashforth in the play, while Jean Balch, a senior dramatic art major who also held a leading role in "Gaslight", once again will star in a Theta-Alpha Sig production.

"The Enchanted Cottage" is a highly dramatic story of the love and disillusions two homely people face together. In loving each other they believe themselves to be beautiful and only in a sudden awakening do they discover that it is all because of "The Enchanted Cottage".

CALENDAR

Monday, April 21—I. R. C.

Tues, April 22—4:30—Student Recital
6:00-10:00—Town Night
7:30 p. m.—Gospel Fellowship

Wednesday, April 23—3:00—East Tennessee State baseball game
6:45—Prayer Meeting
9:00—Student Council

Thursday, April 24—Ministerial Banquet—Chilhowee Inn
Walland

Friday, April 25—Pre-Med Club Picnic
Home Ec Style Show

Saturday, April 26—Retreat for the "Y" cabinets

Mr. Bird, Lawyer, To Address Y.M.C.A.

In the second of a series of addresses under the theme, "A Christian Lavman Speaks About His Profession", Frank Bird, a practicing lawyer in Maryville, presented his viewpoint on Christianity in relation to everyday life to the YM members at the regular meeting Sunday afternoon in Bartlett Hall at 1:30.

The Rev. Dr. W H. Crothers, resident of Maryville, spoke at the YWCA which also conducted a series of services, theirs being on "Christian Beliefs". Dr. Crothers chose as his subject, "The Resurrection, the Divinity of Christ, and Immortality."

President Lloyd Speaks At N. C.

Dr. R. W. Lloyd was guest speaker on April 15, 16, and 17, at North Carolina State College in Raleigh during the annual Religious Education week of that institution.

Tuesday, April 15, he spoke on "Christianity and Education"; Wednesday, on "Christianity and the Social Order", and Thursday, on "Christianity and World Citizenship". At a faculty luncheon on Thursday he spoke on "A Look at Education in the Far East". In addition to the stated addresses, he lead forums and discussion groups each day.

Mr. Thomas Mitchell, class of 1915, arranged a luncheon on Wednesday for Dr. Lloyd and Maryville College alumni living in and near Raleigh.

Miss Davies Visits Maryville Campus

Miss Katherine C. Davies, chairman of the Fine Arts division, was a recent visitor on the campus. Miss Davies has been studying this semester at the University of Rochester. Her course includes piano music literature, modern music, and piano pedagogy.

Miss Davies was able to make the visit during the regular spring vacation, but her only reason for making the trip to Maryville was the chapel fire. She had already planned a trip to Boston, but cancelled it in order to come to Maryville. The planned trip would have been a very exciting one, since she had tickets to "Carousel" and "Annie Get Your Gun", and also had a luncheon engagement with Mildred McAfee Horton.

Jose Echanez, Puerto Rican concert pianist, has been Miss Davies' teacher this semester. This summer she also hopes to study with Cecile Genhart, Swiss pianist, whom she says is the best piano teacher up there. She also hopes to study the Guy Maier method under Ruth Rossdeutscher.

In telling of some of her experiences, Miss Davies mentioned the frequent student recitals. There are four each day—at 12:00, 4:00, 5:00, and 8:15.

A surprise supper was given on April 15 for Miss Davies at her home by Mrs. Davies, the music faculty, and her piano students.

GOSPEL FELLOWSHIP MEETS IN Y ROOMS

Carrol Stegall will be the sneaker at the Gospel Fellowship Meeting tomorrow, April 22, at 7:00 o'clock in the YWCA rooms. Everyone is invited to attend.

News Capsules—
BY LORRAINE SWIFT

Texas Tragedy

The eyes of the nation were directed toward Texas City, Texas, last week as a chain of explosions, set off by a nitrate-loaded French freighter on Wednesday, caused the death of approximately 650 pesons and injured at least 3000. The blasts, including the Monsanta Chemical Company, lasted for two days and completely destroyed the industrial section of the city.

Telephone Strike

Telephone strikers, who had originally demanded $12 weekly raise, offered to return to work if an immediate wage increase of $6 were granted. This offer gave the first hope of ending the strike which has lasted two weeks.

Big 4 Deadlock

At a Moscow conference which met last week in an attempt to sign an Austrian peace pact, Russia clashed with the three western powers over the issue of handling 500,000 displaced persons. Russia insisted that such persons be expelled from Austria, while the three other powers felt that Russia was failing to live up to a UNO agreement. Secretary of State Marshall said that displaced persons should be considered under the IRO, which body provides for them if they can prove that they would face persecution upon returning to their former homes.

Doolittle Raiders Meet

Ted Lawson, disobeying doctor's orders, flew across the continent from Los Angeles to Miami to meet with fifty of the original eighty Tokyo raiders who marked their fifth anniversary April 18. Sixty-one of the raiders are alive today. Ex-Cpl. Jacob Deshaqer, unable to attend, sent his regards from a divinity school. Following his graduation, he intends to return as a missionary to Japan, where he was starved and beaten for years in a prison.

Daisy and Blondie Still Popular

Daisy Duck and Blondie are still holding their ratings as the most skilled henpeckers in the nation, each day showing American women how to overrule the other half of the population by mere use of psychology and brute force. Daisy is most popular on Maryville campus since she represents the unmarried women, but Blondie's life is also being studied by MC co-eds in case her policies will be needed for future reference.

Woman! Send Him Through The Groom's Course For Education

CRAIG FISHER

The amateur husband who inspired a poem I once read called "When Father Carves the Duck", whose family, dodging fying chips and spattering gravy, ate its dinner off the walls and windowpanes, wouldn't have an excuse were he a graduate of Maryville. The reason is Miss Meiselwitz and her "Grooms' Course". We've all heard of Miss Meiselwitz, but what's this other thing—this grooms' course I spoke of?

It is not for the men who're going to marry a breadwinner and then sit at home on cushions and keep house. For the fellow who's going to pay tomorrow's bachelor's ax—perhaps. But it's really an all round course for spousehood and the technical skills involved. It's that extra spit-an'-shine which puts him on the platter when promotion time comes around.

For instance: it teaches him how to carve a duck. He learns the finesse of frying eggs and flipping griddle cakes, and if his wife is perplexed over the way the biscuits turned out, his is the ready and willing answer. Not only does he learn the fundamentals of preparation, but he learns how to play the charming host, which fork to pick up first, who to introduce to whom, how to order a restaurant menu, and many other skills which would come, if at all, through hard knocks.

But this course isn't limited to food, its preparation, service and consumption. It takes a more practical turn when he learns how to pull the family purse strings and keep a budget, and the chances and mean of finding a roof to put over his head. In fact he develops al the skills most husbands seldom acquire.

Now his tutoring on how to be a family man, head of the house, biscuit critic, or whatever a husband's function is, is over. But hold, one thing is left: the selection and care of clothing. So he is initiated to the first sign of adulthood— garters. He learns about colors and textures so that he can be more his wife's equal, and then learns how to keep them trim. Then, lusterous and supremely eligible, if not already taken by some discerning co-ed in the brides' course, he steps into success, a competent husband and man of the world.

The best recommendation for this course is that although no cuts are counted, no one is ever absent. Also, you get to eat the food you prepare. Have to, did I say? Why, that's why they take it.

Final Meeting Of Faculty Club Held

At the year's final meeting of the faculty club on Monday, April 14, Dr. Frank D. McClelland, Dean of Students, read a paper on the "Veteran in College". He discussed (1) legislation with reference to veterans; (2) veterans' enrollment in higher institutions; (3) some admission problems of veterans; (4) performance of veterans in college; and (5) some implications growing out of the veterans' college program.

The original law under which most veterans are attending college is generally known as the "G. I. Bill of Rights", known to most veterans as Public Law 346. The second such law is Public Law 16. This differs from the first in that it cares for veterans who are drawing a disability pension. There are other laws which are attempting to assist colleges and universities all over the nation to meet the increased demand for higher education. Most of these are concerned with helping the institution obtain surplus government property such as buildings, supplies, and equipment, which have been declared surplus or obsolete. Under the Mead Act, Maryville was able to obtain two surplus buildings, which are now to be used as a practice house and a gymnasium.

Six Million Certificates Issued

Dr. McClelland said in his speech that the number of veterans who are seeking to benefit under the G.I. Bill has greatly exceeded original estimates of between 1 1-2 and 2 million. At the close of February, there had been nearly 6,000,000 certificates of eligibility had been issued in response to applicants. Not all of these are entering college immediately; they plan to take advantage of high wages now and enter college later. Consequently peak enrollment will probably come about the school year of 1945-1950. The present bulge is very certain to continue for a number of years yet.

Veterans Rate High

The performance of the veteran as compared to the non-veteran in college is very encouraging. In a recently completed study of first semester grades for all students, the average standing of men veterans was 4.7, as compared with that of the non-veteran's 4.5. The veteran is just like any other person, and can best be understood by treating him as an individual, not as someone different or set apart. "He wants no hand-outs; he simply wants the opportunity to make up as soon as possible for the time he has lost: to prepare himself to make a living and to have a home."

In closing, Dean McClelland stated that the current trend will probably raise the pre-war enrolment standard, thus making it harder to become accepted. There will probably also be a broadening in curricula offerings. The effect upon higher education will certainly be a profound and permanent one, although no one seems at present to be able to say what it means or will mean: we can only wait and see what happens.

Tea For Librarians Miss Wright Gives

Miss Nathalia Wright, assistant librarian, entertained the members of the library staff at a tea at her home Sunday, April 13. An impromptu musical program was given by Lottie Lavender, Tom Lang, Peggy Cummings, Harold Hunter, Tom Wheeler, and Katie Carpenter. Refreshments were served by Miss Wright, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wright.

PARSONS SPEAKS AT WEEKLY PRAYER MEETING

The regular mid-week prayer meeting was held in the YWCA rooms Wednesday, April 16 at 6:45. Herbert Parsons was the speaker and he had as his topic, "The Last of the Beatitudes".

Prayer meeting will be held this week at the same time in the "Y" rooms.

Y. Cabinet Members Chosen For 1947-48

94 Seniors Take Comprehensives In Major Subjects

Sophomore Class Takes Cooperatives

Ninety-four of the Maryville College senior class took the comprehensive examinations given last Thursday and Friday, April 17, and 18. There were three students taking comprehensives in the field of education, eight in English, four in economics. Biology had the largest number—sixteen. History had six, chemistry, four, home economics was second highest with fourteen. There were three in music, eight in political science, six in sociology, four in jhysics. Mathematics and dramatic art each had two, Bible had six, and philosophy had eight, while there were six in psychology.

These examinations are given annually to each senior as part of the required procedure in qualifying for a degree from Maryville College. They deal with subject matter of the student's major field and prescribed related subejcts. They are designed to encourage and develop retentiveness throughout the student's entire college course and to test his ability to integrate the subject matter of his field of major interest.

National co-operative tests for sophomores were also given on Thursday and Friday. Only the better colleges in the United States give these tests, which are required of all sophomores at Maryville.

Freshmen Orientation meetings were also held during the afternoon.

Announcement Is Made OF Schedule Changes

The following changes have been made in the schedule of classes for next fall.

Instead of Chemistry 202 (Old number) Chemistry 301 (old number) will be offered in order to accommodate a number of seniors who have already taken the other half of the course. This chemistry is volumetric analysis.

During the second semester Chemistry 202 (new number) will be offered. This is a new four hour course in Quantitative Analysis combining Volumetric and Gravimetric Analysis into one course.

Psychology 201e will be at the "e" period instead.

Courses in the Social Science Survey offered at the a, c, and e periods have been cancelled. d and f classes will continue.

Clothing Students Present Style Show

The spotlight will be turned on models from the advanced clothing classes of the home economics department in a style show to be presented at 8:15 in Pearson's Dining Hall, Saturday, April 26.

The fashion show will include clothes, ranging from suits to children's dresses, that have been made by students of the textiles, tailoring, costume design, and "bride's" courses and by the faculty of the department. Miss Peggy Howell will sing; and students of the dramatic art courses will describe the styles.

The program is open to the student body.

Vesper Speaker Is Dr. Frank Caldwell

Rev. Dr. Frank H. Caldwell, President of the Louisville Presbyterian Seminary, was preacher at the Vesper service in the Library Sunday evening. He was the leader of the 1945 February Meetings here.

Dr. Caldwell was here Sunday night and was available for interviews on Monday morning.

Retreat Scheduled For Next Week-End

YWCA president-elect Mildred Orr has released the names of the cabinet members for 1947-48. Those chosen are:

Artist series, Virginia Gress; athletics, Mae Short; Barnwarming, Lorraine Swift and Elsie Onifer; devotions, Margaret Rock, Marilyn Hartpence, and Sara Jo Kiger; house committee, Rebecca Maddux and Carolyn Kaye; "M" book, Mildred Miller.

Missions (negro), Marjorie Prall; Home Avenue, Anna Katherine Knapp; music, Virginia McArthur; orphanage, Betty Yeaworth; Pi Gamma, Dorothy Vawter; program, Elizabeth Crawford.

Social committee, E. J. Cotton and Barbara Bertholf; publicity, Hedy Nabholz; world fellowship, Jeanne Blanchard and Lois Thomas; Y store, Florence Housch.

These, together with the recently elected officers will be the YW CA cabinet for next year. The annual retreat is scheduled for the week-end of April 26. Plans are not complete.

The appointments to the YMCA Cabinet for 1947-48 were announced this week by James Black, the president-elect. The new cabinet officers will be installed at the annual "Y" retreat. They will assume their duties at the opening of school next fall.

The following were appointed to serve on the various committees of the new YMCA Cabinet:

Artist Series Chairman, Harold Hunter; Community, John Briggs; Devotions, Chairman, Fred Richardette, Milford Castrodale; Discussion and Fellowship, Chairman, Bill Vogel; "M" Book, Chairman, Ben Paxton, Robert Butts; Inter-Racial, chairman, Tom Horst, Roger Cowan; Maintenance, Julian Gresham; Fellowship, Chairman, Rush Lester, Max House; Worship, Chairman, Robert Thompson, Scott McClure, Harold Russell; Publicity, chairman, Robert Butts, Ray Saunders, Bill Nish.

The list of cabinet members is not complete, as there are yet several committee members to be announced.

Mr. Pieper Attends Six-Dav Pi Kappa Delta Tournament

Assistant professor A. F. Pieper attended the National Pi Kappa Delta Tournament at Bowling Green State University in Ohio, April 6-11. Pi Kappa Delta is the national forensic fraternity and Mr. Pieper represented Maryville's Tennessee Alpha chapter at the tournament.

The school was having its Easter vacation, and the delegates used the school's facilities including the dormitories.

The week began with a memorial service on Easter night and ended with a banquet on Friday night. Each day during the week was filled with the usual tournament activities such as debate, extemporaneous speaking, oratory, discourse, poetry reading and after-dinner speaking. Mr. Pieper judged the various contests.

No delegates from Maryville College entered the National Tournament this year. The next national one will be held in 1949.

Mrs. Cummings Is Student Vol Speaker

Student Volunteers met at 8:00 p. m. Sunday night, April 20, when Mrs. Cummings spoke to the group on the missionary work of her brother in Africa. Special music was provided. Last week Rev. Evaul spoke on Chile.

There is debate as to whether there will be a meeting April 27th due to the overnight Y retreat. Further announcement will be made in chapel.

Due to printing difficulties it was impossible to deliver the ECHO last Saturday.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 32 NUMBER 27

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

Editor this week - - - Elsie Onifer
R. Thomas Parkinson ..... Editor
Mary Elizabeth Hunt ..... Staff Editor
Constance Hawkins ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Janet Miller, Lorraine Swift, Dorothy Vawter
Elsie Onifer

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Grace Gugger, Naomi Hoffman
Johnnie Johnson, Ilda Mosby

FRESHMAN APPRENTICES
Craig Fisher, Herbert McCallum
Kenneth Olsen, Smartt Ramsey, Barbara Wallin,
Mildred Leake Leslie Webb

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF
Ruth Williams ..... Business Manager

JUNIOR ASSISTANTS
Katherine Johnson Mary Jane Long

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANT
Lillian Law
FRESHMAN ASSISTANT
Bob Watkins

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879.

Represented for National Advertising by
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 1947

A TRIBUTE

Yellow dust now settles on the once most hallowed spot of all the campus. A mound of ruble now marks the sincerest memorial of the most sacred place, the most noble edifice on the hill—our Chapel: from whose walls light reflected into thousands of hearts to be reflected again and again in Christian deeds the world over; from whose walls now reflects only the dim glow of the last burning embers of the staunch timbers that held apart her noble walls.

To the promise of hundreds she arose from the dust; to the sighs of thousands she has settled to dust again. But weep not for her lost glory, for lost it shall never be. While thousands of Maryville Alumni stand in Christian faith her work and glory stand also.

Who can say how many men approached their Maker first between her stained glass windows? Who can say how many have reached their greater glory on her unadorned stage? Who can say how many have found their talents in her plain practice rooms? Who can say what words of wisdom have fallen from her pulpit? Who can say the number of heads that have bowed beneath her roof? Who can say that no vows kept sacred were made before her altar? Yes, who can say what sacredness was built in her foundations?

Could we count the musical notes that have echoed through her halls, a million scales would they repeat. Could we hear again the cheery greetings and wishes said beneath her columns, we would not be able to answer them with like again. Could we repeat the prayers whispered there, a million blesings would be ours.

Yet, now we hear no echoes either prayer or music. Now there we keep no morning watch or vesper hour. Now no heartfelt prayer reaches up from her wooden rows. Now the only echo is the dull thud of falling brick or shattering timber. Now the only chime is the clank of loosened metal, sounding hollowly the dirge of a passing greatness ——a greatness whose physical soul is scarred by the furnace made of itself, and is erased by the machinery of man, but whose real greatness can never be forgotten as long as a single man who worshipped within her walls shall live.

The light of her fiery form received her largest audience, but it died with the coming dawn. Only the light of Christian thought sheltered by her never grows dim.

Let us, then, have a toast to her memory. Drink a toast? Let us not drink a toast to her memory, but, rather, let us pray one.

Though her walls are now dust,
Though her timbers are now ashes,
Though her roof is now fallen,
Though her columns are no longer white,
May her memory never be dimmer than the brightest
Flame of that fateful night.

Ray Saunders

—OR DO YOU PREFER THE HIT PARADE

Several weeks ago a discussion was held in Dean McClelland's office which probably touched and settled as few subjects as has any other discusion held between faculty and students. This article is not an attempt to condemn either group for the various situations mentioned, but it is intended to bring them to your attention, so that you can decide for yourself why some things are and some others aren't.

For instance, the Recreation Hall and Saturday nights were discussed, both of which can be termed "entertainment". It is the contention of some students, the writer included, that not enough entertainment is provided for us, that we have too many "dont's" and too few "do's", that when entertainment is provided it is too limited in respect to just who may attend and who would enjoy attending.

The easiest and most common thing to do has been to blame the faculty, or, for variety, blame the social committee. We, personally, think everyone is partially to blame, but, from all appearances, the student body as a whole is at fault simply because of indifference.

Take the Rec Hall, an organization which is slowly getting back on tis feet, an organization which should be far advanced from what it was last year, but, which, instead, is not nearly as good. Why? That's what everyone would like to know. We can no longer say, "Intramurals pushed it out." Granted that intramurals did have a decided effect, but just what happened to the equipment that was purchased for the place? Sure, we can go to the Rec Hall! Fine! But what do we do, twiddle our thumbs? What caused the disappearance of the equipment? Why was there not enough equipment in the first place? Why do those interested few have to serve as the clean-up committee, promoters, and hostesses or hosts all at the same time? It's because of INDIFFERENCE! Whose indifference? Not just the student body? Not just the faculty? BOTH!

Then there are Saturday nights. Back home Saturday night was THE night. Here it is often just A night, A night for girls to stay in the dorm and boys to go to Knoxville. True, we have had two or three Saturday night functions which could be attended and enjoyed by a majority of the students. We must hand it to Bob Butts and the rest of the social committee for them, but the social committee can't be expected to work like that all the time. It takes more than a mere week to plan such events.

More and more we are conscious of the need for a large recreational hall, so when the Thetas have a barn dance the Bainonians will have some place to go, and so that people who do not care for plays will have some place to go, and so that when they get there they will have something to do besides sitting on their fists and leaning back on their thumbs.

But, of course, leaving it to the Student Council, or the Social Committee, or the faculty, doesn't do much good. Talk doesn't do much good, either. If you've got some suggestions, why not talk them over with Miss Maser or Dean McClelland? It can't do any harm, and it might do some good. We might eventually improve matters. Or, as an alternative, we can keep on listening to the "Hit Parade" as our only Saturday night entertainment and chalk it all up to INDIFFERENCE.

L.Y.S.

Just Being "Nosy"

BY LORRAINE S WIFT

BETWIXT THE LITERARY REMNANTS

O Professor My Professor! My fearful tests are done;
This drip has weathered every rack, the prize we sought is none.
The end is near, the F's I hear, the juniors all exulting
While follow eyes the ready heel, an expression grim I'm wearing.

Two days and several hours ago our seniors brought forth upon this campus a new creation, conceived in ignorance and dedicated to the proposition that all comprehensives henceforth be eliminated. Speaking of dedicating, we would like to dedicate this poetic diction to all those juniors who were lucky enough to be just juniors—no appointments, no disappointments.

Believing that "Beauty is truth, truth beauty" —that is all Ye know on earth, and all ye need to know," ninety-four seniors and sophomores had the shock of their lives last Thursday and Friday. The sophomores had electrographic pencils—that was one test they got a charge out of.

The gingham dog and the calico cat
Side by side in the chapel sat.
'Twas half past eight and (what do you think!)
Nor one nor t'other had slept a wink.
(But we were making up for them.)
The old Vesper choir and their college mates
Appeared to know as sure as fate.
That the cat and dog the music did hate.

Will someone please direct all visitors to section eight? Or maybe there's a vacancy in Dr. Barker's section? Or Miss Mieselwitz?

Once upon an April night dreary
As we slumbered, tired and weary
Came a knock upon our door
'Twas our house chairman—nothing more.
To be or not to be; that is the question;
Whether 'tis nobler in the line to suffer,
Or pay the $2.50 and register late. We have so many conflicts we're beginning to think we're Napolean. We have no other reason to think we're Napolean, do we? (Joke)

"Will you walk into my parlor," said a matron to the fly
"'Tis the prettiest little parlor that ever you did spy.
The way into my parlor is by an emorous stare
And I have many reforms to suggest when you get there."

Although greatly tempted to go on——we refrain from further comment.

They who from zone to zone
Glided thru the bounding limits, last Tuesday nite
It's a long way that they must tread alone
Student Council will lead their steps aright.

* * * *

What is so rare as a day in May
Unless it was the sight of Ruth Broadhead worrying—about her comps.

And cheer up, all the rest of you seniors. The sophomores had their fun too.

Tell us not in mournful numbers.
Our papers are but empty dreams.
For our minds were they that slumbered
And things are really what they seem.

Are you wondering why we delved into the fine arts? (at least they were fine up to the time you read this.) Since we failed that cultural test so miserably yesterday we've been trying to get cultivated in a hurry. We guess reading poetry all evening really affects you. Poetry makes you feel dreamy. When you feel dreamy you see stars which remind us—have fun on that Starlight Hike Saturday night, you lucky, lucky people. May we now go back to our worries?

I think that I shall ever see
A comprehensive in which I'll get a B.

TALK OF THE WEEK . . .

JEAN ALMY

Out On A Limb With Two Brain Cells–Or Grounds For Dismissal

In the throes of deep despair we asked Ginger Clabough for a spicy idea on a feature. Just yesterday our two brain cells (they vant to be alone) hung up the "Do not Disturb" sign, but Ginger came up with a promising suggestion. "Why not write on Coffee Grounds?" So we feel this drippy or perky subject "Coffee Grounds" justly deserves our attention.

When we think of coffee we think of Brazil. And then we think of Xavier Cugat which leads us to think about dancing. OH! OH! we better go back to coffee again. Coffee gets us to thinking about cream. Sugar follows naturally. Then sweet. If someone's sweet (plus one' is understood) thinks of romance. Romance just naturally links itself with Maryville campus——and couples. No, No, we mustn't think of these two togather. Back to coffee again.

Coffee . . . beans . . . head. . . lips. . . h-mmmm. Back to coffee again. Here we go. Coffee, Chase and Sanborn (dated or undated it doesn't matter.) Charlie McCarthy, wood, fire, smoking. This time we'll try a new approach. We'll just discuss the grounds.

Now grounds have grass. And grass is green . . . black, green, black, green. This is getting us no place. Shall we have one more try?

Ground. Foundation. We next think of feet. (Do you?) Yards, grounds, Well, what do you know. We're right back where we started from.

We're still sitting on a limb! This last sentence is just a figure of speech. It's been years since we sat on anyone's knee. Honest!.

Thus we fall on the grounds, and find we really don't have any grounds for writing a feature anyhow. Sorry, Ginger.

Exchange--

A sensible girl is not as sensible as she looks because a sensible girl has more sense than to look sensible.—Orange and Blue

Latest style of informal greeting around campuses these days goes something like this: Two collegians meet and one says, "Hi Fitch!" The other answers: "Hi Wildroot! And they both begin dusting the dandruff off each other's shoulders—The Sou'wester

The man who always waits for something to turn up—will find that his toes might be the first to do it.—The Sou'wester

They had given their son a bicycle and were watching proudly as he rode around the block.

On his first circuit he shouted: "Look, Mom, no hands!"

The second time around: "Look, Mom, no feet!"

And the third time: "Look, Mom no teeth!"—The Wildcat

I wish I were a football,
So long and flat and sound,
I wish I were a football,
Boy, would I get around!
The handsome football heroes
Would want me for their own,
And Tuesday nights would be a delight
And find me not alone.
The Empehi News, Chicago, Ill.

Coach Honaker: "How do you feel today?"
Boring: "Just like Seven Days".
Coach: "How does it feel to be that way?"
Boring: "Just a little weak."

Pome:
He had one hand upon the wheel
Quite joyful was his prize;
The other arm was wrapped around
The cutie at his side.
To him she yelled "Use both hands!"
In a voice that carried far;
"I can't" the loving swain replied,
"I have to drive the car!"
Tennessee Tech Oracle

PARK THEATRE

Monday Only
Dorothy McGuire and Robert Young in "Claudia and David"

Tuesday - Wednesday
George Raft in
"Whistle Stop"
with Ava Gardner

For ,
Healthy Feet

Keep your shoes in Good order. And let us help you.

AMERICAN Shoe Repair

PERPLEXED ?

Wondering What To Do After Those Exams ?

Why Not Have Dinner At

COULTER'S RESTURANT

Our Daily Specials Please Even The Most Discriminating Taste. Appetites Hard To Satisfy Perk Up And Take Notice.

Why Not Try Our Specials Today

COULTER'S RESTAURANT

Fox Florist

for

DREAM ROSES

No matter what else you give—or what the occassion give beauty—give color—give DREAM ROSES

See John Shell

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

Scots Encounter Orange and White

After being rained out two days of scheduled games in a row, the Scots finally got a crack at the Orange and White nine from the University of Tennessee. It looked like a day-off for the Scots when "play ball" was called on our diamond Thursday afternoon. Three of the regular starting nine were detained in taking comps. and co-ops. With regulars Spears, Honaker, Enloe and Hamil absent from their position, the Scotty baseball machine was sure to be weakened. But early in the first inning, two capable substitutes—Neff and Buckley—came over home plate on a hit from Boring's powerful bat. From then on, the situation was dominated by the Highlanders. The game was in the third inning when the absent regulars except Hamil, who was out because of illness, came onto the diamond to bolster the Orange and Garnet side.

Five Hits In Two Games

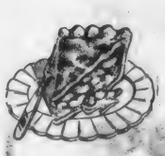
Leon Berrong, pitching his second game in a row for the Highlander nine, allowed the Vols only three hits Thursday afternoon. Three of the U. T. batsmen went down swinging at Berrong's fast curves and strikes. Last Saturday we counted eight victims who struck out while Leon delivered the ball. In the Tusculum game the opponents got two hits while Berrong was on the mound. Considering the difference in competition, the record for both games is an example of good control in pitching and of excellent support from the fielders.

Odds Against Us At U. T.

The Maryville lads on the cinders today face a vaunted University track team who hold the odds against us. The Vols by straight facts have the upper hand. With approximately 8,000 students compared with Maryville's 800, the Volunteers have a 10-1 chance of placing a better track team. Winning a track meet against such odds is difficult, but such odds should not keep us out of first place in some events. In the past, U. T. has consistently run a track team superior to most colleges in East Tennessee. Only once, in 1939, did our Highlander trackmen overcome the colossus-to-the-north, U. T., when Maryville captured the crown in the state track meet. In 1940, Maryville was second to Tennessee in the state meet. Since 1940, neither school has entered track competition until this year.

Speaking of Home Runs

Do you know that a batter on our home field has to hit a ball farther to earn a "sure" home run than on many fields in the major leagues of professional baseball. Our diamond has a minimum distance of four hundred feet in both left and right fields. In the major leagues, the left field and right field distances vary as much as 100 feet, the longest right field being 405 feet in Griffith Stadium, Washington, and the longest left field at Philadelphia with a distance of 370 feet. The man who loses a ball over the fence for a home run on our diamond has to be an atlas at the bat.



Fans Haven't Seen a Home Run—Yet

In home games, the fans haven't seen a single home run scored so far this season. Twice Bobby Boring has bounced a long hit off the bank on the farther side of the track from the plate, but both times only netted him three base hits. On the average college diamond both of these hits would have been homers. One opponent, a batter for Ohio Wesleyan, put one deep in right field and would have made a home run on the hit except for the fact that he failed to tag the home plate. The extra length of our diamond makes the home run a rarity, and also makes the game more competitive for the batter and base runner, giving the advantage to the man in the field.

WE ARE OPEN ON TOWN NIGHT——

So drop by with the crowd for a coke and Sandwich.

C&L CAFE

PIE is good always at Lynch Bakery We have Apple, Cherry, Lemon and Coconut

LYNCH BAKERY

SCOTTIES DEFEAT U. T.

Highlanders Win Over Tusculum, 9-4

The Scotties piled up a 9-4 victory over the Tusculum Pioneers in a one-sided diamond clash on the Maryville field last Saturday. Leon Berrong, the M. C. hurler, was the winning pitcher and Leobold of the Pioneers was credited with the loss. The Highlanders hammered out a total of six hits and the visitors chalked up three.

In the first frame, the Maryville nine scored three runs on walks and errors. King Berrong and Spears both crossed the plate after walking on an error on the shortstop in handling a ground ball by Boring, who scored later on an out.

In the second frame, the Highlanders boosted the total still higher when Rock, who took a base on balls, was sent home on a hit by Leon Berrong. The tally soared to eight runs in the third, when the Scotties rallied with two hits and four runs. The rally began when Boring scored on a hit by Hamil after walking. Hamil went to third and crossed the plate on Stinnett's single. Stinnett scored and Pentz, who took first on a fielder's choice, advanced to third on an error. Rock walked as Pentz stole home.

Raising the score to the final total, Pentz scored again in the fifth inning on a hit by L. Berrong. Then Honaker and Spears walked, loading the bases and Boring grounded out retiring the side. The Scotties finished the game without moving into scoring position again.

Tusculum chalked up their four runs in the fourth and seventh frames. In the fourth, Seidoff, the center fielder, took first on an error on Pentz, and scored with Alexander, who walked, and White who went to first on a wild pitch on a hit by Cole. In the seventh, Morrell, who went in for Hartsell at second, scored, after walking, on a double by Winkemier, the first baseman.

Leon Berring, the M. C. pitcher, struck out eight men and walked two. The Tusculum pitching force struck out six men and walked twelve.

The batting order was as follows:

Tusculum	AB	H	R	E
Seidoff, c. f.	4	0	1	0
Alexander, 2nd.	3	0	1	1
White, s.s.	3	0	1	1
Cole, r.f. (c.)	3	1	0	0
Hartsel, 3rd.	2	0	0	2
West, l.f.	2	0	0	0
Winkemier, 1st.	3	1	0	0
Fancver, c. (l.f.)	1	0	0	2
Leobold, p. (2nd.)	1	0	0	0
Shaw, r.f. (c)	2	0	0	0
Lake, p.	2	0	0	0
Morrell, 3rd.	1	0	1	0
Jones, r.f.	2	1	0	0
Bird, (pinch hitter)	1	0	0	0
Total	30	3	4	6

Maryville	AB	H	R	E
K. Berrong	3	0	1	0
Honaker	2	1	0	0
Spears	3	0	1	0
Boring	2	0	2	0
Hamil	5	2	1	0
Stinnett	3	1	1	0
Pentz	4	0	2	1
Rock	1	0	1	0
L. Berrong	4	2	0	0
Total	27	6	9	1

Maryville 3 1 4 0 1 0 0 0 x
Tusculum 0 0 0 3 0 0 1 0 0

(Continued on page 4)

Hiwassee Beaten In Slow Game Fri.

The Highlanders won a 13-10 victory over Hiwassee yesterday in a race for runs at the home diamond. Malone, the M. C. hurler, was the winning pitcher and Fletcher of Hiwassee was the losing moundsman.

Malone walked two men and fanned one in three frames; Lillard walked six and fanned two in two frames; and Jernigan walked three and fanned two in one and two-thirds innings. Fletcher of the Tigers walked eight and fanned none in three and one-third innings while his teammate Sizemore walked two and fanned two. Maryville swatted out six hits and Hiwassee made seven.

The Scotties made the first score in the first inning when K. Berrong went home on an out after walking and advancing on a hit by Buckley. The M. C. nine really went to town in the second inning scoring three hits and nine runs. Rock and Pentz walked and Rock scored on Malone's hit, Pentz scoring a moment later on an error at first. Buckley and and Neff walked; Buckley stole home and Neff went across the plate on a triple by Boring. Boring and Enloe scored on a single by Stinnett after Enloe walked. Rock, after taking first on balls, was tagged at second and Pentz grounded for the third out.

In the third frame, the M. C. nine boosted the score to 12-4 with two runs. L. Berrong walked and K. Berrong singled, Leon being tagged at the plate and King going in on a fielder's choice. The Scotties scored again in the fifth when K. Berrong went home on a put-out after taking first on an error. Rock got a hit in the sixth but failed to score. The game was

The Highlanders chalked up another victory Thursday when they defeated the University of Tennessee ball team, 3-1, in a tilt at the home field. The game, the U. T. opener, was originally scheduled for Tuesday at Caswell Park in Knoxville, but was postponed until Thursday because the diamond was too soft from the rain on Monday.

The M. C. nine led off the hitting when King Berrong, the first man at bat for Maryville, beat out a single. Then Jack Buckley, the M. C. third baseman, drove a grounder to the shortstop who played Berrong at second, the second baseman made the put-out, and Buckley was safe at first. Neff, the center fielder, then hammered out a two bagger, driving Buckley to third. Buckley and Neff both scored on a hard-hit single by Boring who died on first when Reynolds fanned and Stinnett grounded to second.

The Highlanders boosted the score again when Boring crossed the plate on a hit by Stinnett in the sixth. Boring got on base when he drove another of his triples onto the mound in left field. Stinnett was forced at second on a fielder's choice by Pentz who died a moment later on second when Rock flied to left.

The Vols made their three hits in the third, sixth, and ninth innings. Morris hit a double, and Strong and Byrd each hit singles. Slater made the only run on an error after walking.

Leon Berrong, a Maryville right hander, was the winning hurler, allowing the visitors only three hits. Schakelfield, from U. T., was the losing pitcher, allowing the Highlanders six hits.

Leon Berrong struck out four men and walked three. Schakelford struck out seven men and walked four. The M. C. team made one double play.

The batting order was as follows:

University of Tennessee	AB	H	R	E
Haws, 2nd.	3	0	0	1
Strong, s. s.	4	1	0	2
Richardson, r.f.	3	0	0	0
Elliot, 3rd.	4	0	0	1
Byrd, 1st.	4	1	0	0
Bender, l. f.	4	0	0	0
Burchfield, c.	3	0	0	0
Morris, c.f.	3	1	0	0
Schakelford, p.	2	0	0	0
Slater, (8) c.f.	0	0	1	0
Total	34	3	1	4

0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0

Maryville	AB	H	R	E
K. Berrong	3	1	0	0
Buckley	2	0	1	0
Neff	1	1	1	0
Boring	4	2	1	1
Reynolds	3	0	0	1
Stinnett	4	1	0	0
Pentz	3	0	0	0
Rock	3	1	0	0
L. Berrong	3	0	0	0
Honaker	0	0	0	0
Spears	3	0	0	0
Enloe	1	0	0	1
Total	30	6	3	3

2 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 x

INTRAMURAL DOPE

What with the rainy weather the campus has endured the past week, softball hit a new low around these parts. All games had to be cancelled with the exception of one—between the Misfits, number two team in the ranks and the sixth place Wolves.

Wolves Battle Misfits To Tie

In an all around close game Wednesday afternoon, the Wolves fought for six innings to dislodge the Misfits from their high position in the standings with the result of a 14-14 tie up. Minus two pitchers and playing with an eight men team, the riddled Misfits connected for 14 hits compared to the 16 yielded to the Wolves. After the game, the scorebook showed that the Wolves only made 6 errors to 7 for the Misfits. As a result of the stalemate and since this was the only game played this week, last week's team standings still hold true. The Misfits and Wolves will clash again to play off the tie.

Teams' Rosters

Along now I think it's about time to give a list of all the players on the Intramural softball teams, so here they are:

Echo

Kemp, Parkinson, Overton, Poland, Weber, Forrester, Cover, Garland, Carlson, Hyatt, Lester.

Misfits

Dunn, Mathis, Kluth, Thompson, Ezell, Long, English, Miracle, Grubb, Cecil, Engdahl, B. Smith.

Eight Balls

Baldwin, Pepper, Talbott, Largen, Halsey, Mitchell, Lillard, Garner, Henry, Roberts, Miller, Hollingsworth, Swartzbach.

Moonshiners

Moore, Taylor, Terrill, Wallace, Burchfield, Laughmiller, Bass, Meadows, Price, Walker, Henry, Jones.

Rebels

Smith, Sharp, McDavid, Abbott, C. Bell, Johnson, Whitehead, Ely, Petree, B. Bell, L. A. Campbell.

Wolves

Welch, Grosh, Broyles, Lazenby, Cardella, House, Voorhees, Cas-Grubbs, Huffman, McClure, Earnest.

Bobby Sox

Corley, Hale, Cummings, Packard, Fitzgerald, Carden, Olsen, Belvin, Newell, Sykes, Hunter, Merlin, Fisher, Baird.

Powerhouse

Marvin, McNeil, Kirkpatrick, Martin, Lucas, Eubanks, Genre, Tolerico, Craig, Vogel, Eberlacker.

Bartlett

Smith, Barbour, Lehman, Rettke Steiner, Bird, Hefner, Thompson Pribble, Morrison, Long, Paxton.

Scottie Hurdler Takes Two Firsts

Taking only two firsts out of fifteen events, the Maryville College tracksters bowed to the U. T. Vols 99 1-2-31 1-2 Saturday afternoon at Shields-Watkins stadium.

Hap Brahams, Scottie hurdler who tied with Mynatt of U. T. for high point man of the meet, captured the only two contests for M. C. by copping both the barrier events. Finishing the 120 high hurdles in 16.1 seconds and the 220 low hurdles in 25.8 seconds, he came with .6 second of defeating both the previous Maryville records.

It was a perfect day for both the contestants and the spectators with no clouds in sight. As the afternoon wore on, each event brought added interest from the large group assembled. The two mile, hurdles, and one mile relay brought the crowd to its feet.

In the pole vault, a tie for first resulted when neither Walker of Maryville nor Riley of Tennessee could exceed the height of 10 feet. Calloway of M. C. was second.

Bob Kay came in second to Brahams in the high hurdles and third in the low hurdles.

M. C.'s Scotties will journey to Tennessee Polytechnic Institute at

(Continued on page four)

Crawford & Caldwell
HARDWARE
Phone No. 1 Maryville

NORTON HARDWARE CO.
Phone 18

Casually Yours

SPORT SPECIALS

SPORTS WINNERS

Our Slim-Fitting Jodhpurs tailored of durable Whipcord Gabardine—First choice of smart girls. In a host of wonderful coiors

Our Dude Ranch Duds——

Are smart for Riding and a gay Plaid Shirt from our collection will add to the smartness.

"Maryville's Most Popular Store"

MOSER'S CLOTHING STORE

"It pays to Play"

Tennis Equipment 10% off to College and Prep Schools.

Aerodriver	$14.95
American Driver	$6.90
President	$10.90
Registered	$14.50
Balls	.60c

Floods Set Back Season For Tennis

All outdoor work and the elimination tournament being conducted to prove tennis prospects for the coming season have been bogged down by incessant April "floods" Twenty-nine men have signed up as candidates for the varsity tennis squad. The elimination tournament will be in progress again, as soon as weather permits, to give the players an equal chance of making the team.

The tournament is arranged for thirty-two places with three players drawing bye in the initial round. Sixteen matches constitute the first round. Two phases of the tournament allow the loser in the initial round to have a second chance to prove his ability despite a bad start. The second round of the tournaments consists of the winners of the first round playing in one grouping, while the losers of the initial round play in a different phase. The elimination tournament will be the means of narrowing the squad down to the final five which normally make up a collegiate tennis team.

The memorial courts, which caretakers Engel and Newell have been very industrious in preparing for the tennis season, have been damp and out of playing condition for a week. The boys, aided by student tennis enthusiasts, rolled the courts and had them in playing condition last Thursday. After one afternoon of use, the rains ruined them for the week. It is hoped that fair weather will permit the courts to be put in playing condition early in the coming week.

TRACK MEET

(Continued from page 3)

Cookeville, Tennessee, Saturday for the next meet. Prior to their contest with the Scotties, the U. T. Vols rode over T.P.I. 108-22.

The summary:

Discus—Meseroll (T.), Hill (T.), and Garner (M.C.), disance, 124 feet, 7 in.

Shot Put—Brixey (T.), Meseroll (T), and Hill (T.), distance 43 feet, 9 3-4 in.

Javelin—Taylor (T.), Ammons M.C.), and Meseroll, (T.), distance, 177 feet, 9 in.

Pole Vault—Walker (M.C.), and Riley (T.), tie, and Callaway (M.C.), height 10 feet.

High Jump—Stein (T.), Fisher (M.C.), and Hargis (M.C.) and Nelson (T.) tie, height 5 ft. 9 in.

Broad Jump—Rinearson (T.), Partin (T.), and Fourman (T.), distance 20 ft., 11 in.

One Mile—Ross (T.) and Schneider (T.), tie, and Reed (T.), time 4:37.2

100 Yard Dash—Mynatt (T.), Partin (T.), and Hargis (M.C.), time, 0:10.4

Quarter Mile—Pugh (T.), Fowler (T), and Walter (T.), time, 0:52.3

120 High Hurdle—H. Brahams (M.C.), Kay (M.C.) and Payne (T.), time 0:16.1

220 Yard Dash—Mynatt (T.), B. Brahams (M.C.), and Connell (M.C.), time 0:22.5

Half Mile—Bruce (T.), Nelson (T.), and Jackson (T.), time 2:01.9

220 Low Hurdles—H. Brahams (M.C.), Payne (T.), and Kay (M.C.), time 0:25.8

Two Mile—Schneider (T.), Ross (T.), and Reed (T.), time 9:50.9

Mile Relay—Tenn. in 3:37.7

MARY. VS. HIWASSEE

(Continued from Page 2)

called at the end of the first half of the seventh.

Hiwassee tallied it's ten runs in the first, third, and fourth innings. In the first frame, Caton scored on a hit by Anderson after walking and Anderson scored when Boring errored on a grounder by Turpin. Turpin scored on a hit by Henry. In the third, Anderson scored again after a walk on a single by Turpin. The Tigers rallied in the fourth when Fletcher, Voni, and Caton scored after walking on an out and an error. Anderson and Turpin both passed the plate on an error on Enloe which put Henry on base. Henry was koncked in on a hit by Boyd.

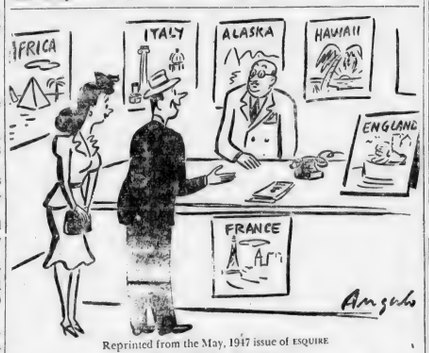
Hiwassee	AB	H	R	E
Voni, 3rd.	3	0	1	5
Caton, s.s.	2	0	2	0
Youell, l.f.	4	1	0	0
Anderson, r.f.	1	1	3	0
Turpin, c.	4	1	2	0
Henry, 2nd.	4	2	1	0
Boyd, c.f.	4	1	0	1
Rudd, 1st.	3	0	0	1
Fletcher, p.	1	0	1	1
Sizemore, p.	0	0	0	0
xGreenwood (pinch-hitter)	1	0	0	0
Total	35	6	10	8

Maryville	AB	H	R	E
K. Berrong, 2nd.	3	1	4	0
Buckley, 3rd.	1	1	1	0
Neff, c. f.	2	0	1	0
Boring, s.s.	4	1	1	1
Reynolds, 1st.	2	0	1	2
Stinnett, c.	4	1	1	0
Rock, r.f.	2	1	1	0
Pentz, l. f.	2	0	1	0
Malone, p.	1	1	1	0
Honaker, 3rd.	2	0	1	0
Enloe, 1st.	1	0	0	0
Spears, l. f.	1	0	0	0
Lillard, p.	1	0	0	0
Total	26	6	12	3

Maryville	1	9	2	0 1 0 x
Hiwassee	3	0	1	6 0 0 0

T. T. ALEXANDER

(Continued from page 1)



they did not see what should have been there.

Christ walked and talked with His disciples forty days before His Ascension and in that time, gave the doubting twelve a power that sent some of them to martyrdom. Herein should be our help. Thru the Cross and the Open Tomb we should receive everlasting life A glory greater than earth awaits us upon death. Miss Cochran concluded by saying, "Death has no power over those who live in Christ. The important fact of the Resurrection of Christ is the Power; and glory of the Resurrection is that here and now the Resurrection of Christ dwells within us. The Resurrection of Christ is that Power that can change the world. Christ, the Resurrected Christ in you—The Hope of Glory".

Pre-Med Club

Instead of their regular meeting, the Pre-Med Club will have a picnic in the college woods on Thursday 24. Eleanor Kelly is in charge of the program. All members who are planning to go are reminded that tonight is the last night to sign up on the sign-up sheets placed on the bulletin boards of each dormitory.

On the following Monday 28 a visit is planned to St. Mary's Hospital in Knoxville.

Reprinted from the May, 1947 issue of ESQUIRE

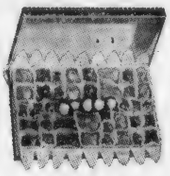
Copyright 1947 by Esquire, Inc.

"Haven't you any other trips? We were in the Army, you know"

A Hand In Need

Today, the world is face to face with mankind's worst enemy — HATE. It is running rampant throughout the country. It is being manifested everywhere we turn. It is being reflected by our young children in their utter disregard for established principles, law and order.

This situation will not right itself, nor will it be remedied by the waving of some magic wand. If we really want to be honest with ourselves, we will admit that it can largely, if not entirely, be attributed to our putting material gains over spiritual values.



The establishment of National Sunday School Week is not a cure-all for what is termed Juvenile Delinquency. It is only a step in that direction, but it is a right step and a practical step.

First Senior: "This match won't light."

Second Senior: "What's the matter with it?"

First Senior: "I don't know. It worked a little while ago."

East Technical High School Poem:

THAT'S WHAT I WANT!

Candy is the most adaptable of Sweets. A perfect Gift or after Dinner Treat. Try our Pure, Delicious chocolates yourself.

THE PARK DRUG STORE

STATIONERY

We have the stationery you want and need.

See our selection,

In colors, too

BYRNE DRUG COMPANY

LET US MAKE YOUR PICTURE—

For that gift on Mothers Day

THE WEBB STUDIO

Capitol

Mon.-Tues. April 21-22

Wed. -Thurs. April 23-24

Tyrone Power, Gene Tierney, John Payne, Herbert Marshall Anne Baxter, Clifton Webb

"The Razor's Edge"

Fri.-Sat. April 25-26

"Sheriff of Redwood Valley"

Bill Elliott, Bobby Blake, Bob Steeele in

Added a good Comedy —Also Chapter 1, Great New Serial "CRIMSON GHOST"

— Coming Next Week —

Mon.-Tues., April 28-29

Danny Kaye, in

"The Kid From Brooklyn"

in Technicolor

IT'S PICNIC TIME—

So how about coming in on your way back to the Campus and get your every need for a wonderful picnic —We have everything —Cookies, Crackers, Pickles Olives, Potato Chips, Hot Dogs, Cold Cuts, Cheese, and all kinds of fruits—Make it a picnic from J & K

We Also Have— Toilet Soap and Soap Powder —

THE J & K SUPER STORE

Checked In!

A winner thru Summer—Cool Vapor Check with Chinese influence Collar From our personality plus collection

Parks-Belk Co.

Lucky Strike!

Woolmaster Outerwear

Superbly needle-crafted 100% Virgin Wool

Casual Coat

Springtime or anytime . . . here's a "casual find" to which a smart young man's fancy is sure to turn . . . A casual coat designed for habitual "stayouts", it's also comfortably at home indoors when polite company demands it. Get it and you've really "struck it rich" in tailoring, texture, and color value . . . while the all-over value, of course, is far from an accident—it's made to the high Woolmaster standard. A wide selection of plain and fancy patterns in varied rich colors. $16.50

Proffitt's

Men's Store Main Floor

Since 1919 . . . "The Best Place to Trade"

THANKS FOR THE HOLIDAY, DR. LLOYD

THE Highland Echo

z 703

CLASS NOMINATIONS NEXT WEDNESDAY

VOLUME 32 — MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE. APRIL 27, 1947 — NUMBER 28

YM And YW Hold Annual Retreat At Montvale

Rev. Edward Dalstron Speaker For The Day

Old and new members of the Y M and YW cabinets left the campus at 8:00 this morning for their annual retreat meeting at Montvale. The morning session consisted of a worship service led by the Rev. Edward Dalstron of Knoxville and a business session.

During the afternoon a mountain climb was featured, and the group held a worship service at the top of the mountain which was also led by the Rev. Dalstron.

Following the evening meal, the group will have a campfire service and the final worship service. This will be followed by the installation of new YMCA officers in a candlelight service.

The group expect to leave the mountains about 9:00 p. m.

The committees responsible for the worship program are as follows:

Steering committee: retiring presidents, Ruth King Wood and Fredrick Wilson; new presidents, Mildred Orr and Jim Black; and two cabinet representatives, Elsie Jean Cotton and Bill Vogel.

The subcommittees are as follows:

Food, Harvey Overton and Sarah Enloe; worship, Carl Malone and Jean Magill; recreation, Loretta Nunn and Ray Swartzbach; toastmaster, Bill Nish; and Agenda Leaflets, Elizabeth Crawford and David Campbell.

Seminary Pres. Speaks At Vespers

Dr. Frank H. Caldwell, President of the Louisville Presbyterian Seminary, was speaker at the Vesper service last Sunday night. Dr. Caldwell led the February meetings in 1945 and upper class students remember him with great pleasure.

For his Vesper's sermon in the Library Sunday night, Dr. Caldwell's subject was "Market Unsaturated." In it he compared the field of economics to evangelism. His text was from Jesus' teachings, "The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few."

Dr. Caldwell drove from Louisville, bringing his family and Miss Peggy Caldwell. Miss Caldwell, who is no relation to Dr. Caldwell, graduated from Maryville College in 1945. She is now Director of Religious Education at the Highland View Presbyterian Church in Louisville.

Missionary To Speak Wednesday

The Rev. Ernest J. Frei, Presbyterian missionary to the Philippines who is on furlough this year, will be the speaker in the Wednesday morning chapel service, April 30.

He and his family are visiting here now. They were in the Philippines all during the war but were not interned because he is a Swiss citizen. However, he was not allowed to carry on his work freely. They were on Laiti until it became too dangerous; then they were moved to Manila.

Mr. Frei is a graduate of Maryville College, class of '28. He is working on his Ph. D. in Hartford, Connecticut at the Kennedy School of Missions at the present time.

Student Council To Propose New Amendments Wed.

At the student council meeting held Wednesday night, April 23, proposed amendments in the constitution were discussed. These amendments will be put before the Student Body at the meeting April 30 and will be voted upon May 7. The proposed amendments are as follows:

Article 3, Section 1, which now reads: "The student-faculty senate shall be composed of seven members of the Council and seven faculty members, of whom one shall be the president of the college", will be amended to read: "The student-faculty senate shall be composed of seven members of the council, the women's student government house chairman of Pearsons, Baldwin, and Memorial Halls, and seven faculty members, of whom one shall be the president of the college."

The second amendment is a proposed By-Law No. 3, which concerns the Homecoming Queen. It is as follows:

The queen shall reign over the football game previously designated as Homecoming game.

Election: The Homecoming Queen shall be elected from the senior class by the vote of the student body.

Attendants: She shall choose her own court consisting of her escort and two attendants. They shall be informally dressed.

Crowning: The crowning will take place just before the game on the football field. The football captain shall crown the queen. After the crowning the court shall go to the box prepared for them by the Pep Committee.

All Girl's Choir To Present Concert

The All Girl's Choir under the direction of Mr. Curtis F. Hughes will present a concert at Carpenter's Methodist Church, Sunday, April 27th, at the morning service. Miss Peggy Cummings is the accompanist.

The program is as follows:

Lord Jesus Christ With Us Abide ..... Bach
Lift Thine Eyes ..... Mendelssohn
God Is a Spirit ..... Kopylov
We Worship Thee ..... Mozart

I.

II.

These Are They
(The Holy City) ..... Gaul
Maurine Owen, soprano

III.

Jesu, Redemptor
Omnium 13th Century Melody
Praise Ye the Name of
The Lord ..... Tcherepnin

IV.

Eye Hath Not Seen
(The Holy City) ..... Gaul
Jean Tarwater, contralto
Hymn Anthems:
In the Garden
Ivory Palaces
Beneath the Cross of Jesus
They Shall Hunger No More
(The Holy City) ..... Gaul
Maurine Owen, soprano
Loretta Nunn, contralto

V.

The Beatitudes ..... Mueller
Rejoice in the Lord ..... Davis
The Lord's Prayer ..... Malotte

COLLEGE CALENDAR

Saturday, April 26—Y Retreat
6:15—Societies meet
8:00—"Sweet Rosie O'Grady"
Sunday, April 27—7:00—Vespers
8:00—YW Installation
Monday, April 28—5:00—Girl's Choir Picnic
Tuesday, April 29—4:30—Student Recital
6:00-10:00—Town Night
Wednesday, April 30—8:00—Ernest Frei—Chapel
Thursday, May 1—May Day
6:45—Disc Club—Senior Request Program
8:00—Mary Barnwell—Recital—Chilhowee Club
Friday, May 2—8:00—Mary Jo Bolin—Recital—Chilhowee Club
Saturday, May 3—M Club Hike
6:45—Societies Meet

CHILHOWEAN ARRIVES

Ruth Broadhead Chosen 1947 Girl-Of-The Year

One of the happiest girls on the campus last Tuesday was Ruth Broadhead, who then learned that she had been chosen as the 1947 Chilhowean Girl-of-the-Year. Not once suspecting the honor, she had looked forward to discovering which girl would receive the title, doing quite a bit of speculating along with her classmates. It was narrowed down to a senior, two or three seniors, in fact, but Ruth's name was seldom in the list.

Monday night Elsie Onifer, editor of the CHILHOWEAN, invited her staff and several friends into her room to get a preview of year-book. The Chilhowean Girl was in the crowd, and when Elsie insisted that her roommate also be present, Ruth went up and down the halls innocently calling "Tucky" in a very loud whisper.

Screams At Sight of Picture

The girls gathered in a group around Ruth, in whose hands the book had been plopped. Because the staff kept urging her to the feature section, the pages were turned quickly, and suddenly—a scream pierced the whole dorm! Catching her breath, she yelled, "The picture! It's aw-ful! Oh, gee, thanks, kids!"

The next day the whole campus knew, and at lunch the students in the dining hall sang "Congratulations" to the girl who is characterized in the yearbook as being "one of those persons who not only enjoys life herself, but does her utmost to make it pleasant for all her associates."

Comes From New Jersey

Ruth hails from Morris Plains, New Jersey, and she doesn't "intend to stay there." She came to Maryville because she wanted to come south, and decided her freshmen year to major in biology. A summer spent in a laboratory changed her mind to political science, but just before comps she wondered what ever gave her the idea of going to college, anyway.

Counselor of Freshmen Girls

The freshmen girls possibly know Ruth as well as the senior girls, for she was their W.S.G.A. counselor, living in Memorial the first month of last semester. "And you can say that we just loved her", one Memorialite said.

As was written in the CHILHOWEAN, Ruth has participated in numerous activities during her four years at Maryville. At present she is president of Bainonian, and has previously served as the secretary of I.R.C., a member of the Y.W.C.A. cabinet, a Nu Gamma leader, and secretary of her sophomore class. She has also been in the girls' glee club and point system, in addition to working on the stage crew for three years. Last semester she was co-chairman for Barnwarming.

Indefinite Plans

Her future plans are indefinite. She plans to "work with a gang of the kids over at Norris this summer", and make up her mind about other things at other times. Probably business school, then a job.

The Chilhowean Girl-of-the-Year title was introduced for the first time by last year's editorial staff. They chose Olinde Ahrens, a senior philosophy major from Kansas, but because of printing difficulties the year-book was not delivered until summer, and announcement of Olinde's election was made in the ECHO. This year, however, it was a secret until the books were ready to be delivered, and Ruth Broadhead is proclaimed the second girl in Maryville history to hold the title of The Chilhowean Girl-of-The-Year.

Reactions To Annual Interesting And Varied

Brains went undisected in the biology lab; books went unstudied; a line sprouted out of the door of the bookstore and curled into the spring sunshine. The 1947 Chilhowean had arrived.

"What an awful picture of me. Looks like I swallowed a goldfish."

"Make your sign by your name, Freckles. I'll witness it."

Autographs, exclamations, excitement, delight, embarrassment swirled in the wake of the yearbook wherever it travelled, and everywhere there were excited clusters of freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors all trying to look at different pages in the same book at the same time.

I sauntered over to a bunch of wild-eyed juniors, to see what their reaction was. After they had all gotten through looking at and disparaging their own likenesses, their next reaction was amazement over the promptness and size of the book. For the first time in two years the printer had gotten it out before school closed, and more than that, it was three times as fat as it was during the lean years. Everything was superlative: not only was it the largest and promptest book, but it had a record subscription—700 copies.

Over at another bench some hoy-paloy were exclaiming their supreme satisfaction over the choice of Chilhowean Girl of the Year. In fact that was universal; everyone felt that no better choice could have been made.

Lounging in characteristic sprawls on Pearsons steps, a sober group of out-goers, skipping quickly over their mortar-board surmounted portraits, were nodding wisely over the enlarged feature section, the big sports section, and the dazzling section with the pictures of the various sponsors. It was here I had to come to get the knowing appreciation for the work done on this superlative yearbook: Elsie Onifer's untiring editorship and efficiency in getting the pictures taken on time; Lorry Swift's and Becky Maddox's work in the editorial department; Jean Almy as Art Editor; Brick Brahams and Kemp in the sports section; and Ken Kribbs and his henchmen Mildred Orr and Bill Vogel on the business end.

Dr. Alwin Thaler Speaks At Chapel

Dr. Alwin Thaler, professor of English at the University of Tennessee, was the speaker at the Wednesday chapel service. At that time the nine new members of the Alpha Gamma Sigma, college honor society, were recognized.

In his address, Dr. Thaler spoke of the place of fine arts in education, and re-emphasized the importance of having a good foundation in them regardless of one's vocation. While he recognized the existing problems of the small high school, he voiced his regret because of the large number of schools which have been forced to eliminate languages and higher mathematics. Dr. Thaler mentioned that some felt the answer to the problem was in making physics the cultural subject, but he did not agree with this viewpoint, stating that he felt culture was broader than a study of any one subject.

Dubuque Dean Visits Campus On Monday

Dr. C. Vin White, Dean of the Dubuque Theological Seminary, Dubuque, Iowa, will visit the campus on Monday, April 28. Dr. White will be available to any ministerials who would like an interview. The interviews will be held in one of the ofifces in Anderson.

Two Senior Music Students Present Recitals At Chilhowee Club House

In the first senior recital of the month Miss Mary Barnwell will be the featured pianist. The program will be given in the Chilhowee Club House, May 1.

Pastorale Sonata ..... Scarlatti
Sonata in G minor ..... Scarlatti
Sonata Op. 2 no. 3 ..... Beethoven
Allegro
Adagio
Intermezzo Op. 39 no. 1 Brahms
Waltz Op. 39 no. 15 ..... Brahms
Rhapsody Op. 119 no. 4 Brahms

Mary Jo Bolin, senior music major, will be presented in a piano recital Friday, May 2, in the Chilhowee Club House. Miss Bolin has chosen to play the following numbers:

B minor Prelude and Fugue ..... Bach
Sonata in F Major ..... Mozart
The Bird As A Prophet .....
Schumann
Prelude in C minor ..... Chopin
Nocturne in C minor ..... Chopin
Fantasy
A Night For Love
Tears
Russian Easter

May Day Dedicated To Mrs. Nita Eckles West

STUDENT BODY MEETING

A Student Body meeting will be held April 30 immediately after chapel. This meeting is called in order to propose amendments in the constitution of the Athletic Association. After this meeting there will be class meetings for the purpose of nominating next year's class officers. Junior class will meet on first floor Science; Sophomores in Bartlett, and Freshmen will stay in the gym. The election will be held May 14.

TAU KAPPA CHI NEW MUSIC ORGANIZATION

Tau Kappa Chi held its first official meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Art gallery. Tau Kappa Chi is a new organization and so far is composed entirely of music majors. It is not however, restricted to music majors. Any person interested in music, capable of public performance and meeting the requirements set forth in the constitution of the club is eligible for membership.

The purpose of the club as stated in the constitution is: "To form an organized and compact group of persons who wish to promote student and community interest in the music department, particularly in student participation."

Its aim is: "1—To raise the general academic standard of the music department; 2—To provide a goal for all students interested in music; 3—To promote thoroughly trained musicianship and further the understanding of types of music.

Membership in the club is limited to women. All women members of the music faculty become honorary members.

The club plans to give at least three public performances each semester. Its first project will be the Senior Music Hour.

This year's officers are as follows:

President—Mary Jo Bolin
Vice President—Dorothy Vawter
Secretary—Marian Weller
Treasurer—Rella Anderson
Program Chairman—Janet Rich

Dr. Bernardin Vesper Speaker

Vesper speaker on Sunday night, April 27, will be the Reverend Doctor J. B. Bernardin. Mr. Bernardin is Rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. He was a speaker at the college in the spring of '32. Soon afterwards he resigned as rector of the Episcopal Church to serve as chaplain in the service.

JOINT MEETING OF SOCIETIES

There will be a joint meeting of Theta Epsilon and Alpha Sigma tonight at which "Miss Maryville of 1947" will be present. The meeting will be at 6:15 o'clock. Pat Dennis, freshman, is in charge.

Nu Gamma Sigma Leaders Selected

Fourteen incoming sophomore girls have been appointed Nu Gamma leaders for the freshmen girls next year. These girls are Peggy Cummings, Alice Davenport, Betty Dearing, Pat Dennis, Ruth Heaps, Lillian Lytle, Martha McClure, May Merriweather, Lois Miller, Winnie Schaumberg, Ginny Schwarz, Betty Seagraves, Mary Holly Webb, and Mary Matlock Watt. Rella Anderson will have charge of the transfer students' Nu Gamma group.

Nu Gamma Sigma is sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. and was organized for the purpose of helping freshmen and transfer girls become acquainted with college life. The leaders meet with their groups several Sunday afternoons at the first of the school year and the meetings are climaxed by a breakfast for all freshmen girls in the college woods.

College Now Has 13 Record Albums

Eleven new albums of records have been added to the music department's collection of records to replenish those lost in the chapel fire. Only two albums were saved and these were loaned out at the time of the fire. These two albums are "Grand Canyon Suite" by Grofe and Brahm's "Symphony No. 3."

Nine new albums were purchased by the college and two were contributed to the department. Since the music department studies the classics in chronological order, only those needed to finish the semester have been gotten thus far.

Those bought by the college were: Debussy's "Nocturnes", and "Afternoon of a Faun"; Tschaikowsky's "4th Symphony"; Rimsky Korsakoff's "Russian Easter"; Franck's "Sonata in A for Violin and Piano", "Prelude, Chorale and Fugue", and "Symphony in d Minor"; Griffes' "Pleasure Dome of Kublai Khan"; Strauss' "Till Eulenspiegel"; Shostakovitch's "Symphony No. 5"; and Gershwin's "An American in Paris".

Miss Ruth Duggan, music instructor contributed Moussorgsky's "Boris Godounoff", and John Ferris gave "Clock Symphony."

Other members of the faculty have promised other albums to the department and these will be added later.

Clothing Students Present Style Show In Pearson's Hall

The spotlight was turned on models from the advanced clothing classes of the home economics department in a style show presented at 8:15 in Pearson's Dining Hall, Friday, April 25.

The fashion show began with special music furnished by Miss Peggy Howell. After introductory comments the tailoring class composed the first group of models. The textile class had their part in the program next, followed by the faculty of the home economics department. The costume design class and the "brides" class completed part one of the Spring Parade.

After more special music by Miss Howell the textile class, costume design class, faculty and the "brides class" modeled more in ladies apparel. The style show included clothes ranging from suits to children's dresses. The students of the dramatic art courses described the styles. The program was open to the student body and a large audience watched the show of the latest vogue.

Art Club held a hike Friday evening, April 18. The group gathered at the picnic grounds for a weiner roast afterward. Mr. Bernard was the chaperone.

Mrs. Curtis Hughes Directs Celebration

The annual May Day Festival on May 1 is to be dedicated to Mrs. Nita Eckles West, associate professor of dramatic art until her retirement last spring. This program, sponsored by the YWCA under the general direction of Mrs. Curtis Hughes, instructor in dramatic art, is to be presented at 2:30 in the College Amphitheater.

The Festival will open with the Processional of attendants and the Queen. Freshmen attendants are Ellen Collins and Bill Carter and Harry Brahams and Betty Seagraves; sophomore attendants are Marian Pope with Tom Scott and Bill Profitt with Vera Lusk; juniors are Elsie Jean Cotton and Tom Wheeler and Mil Castrodale and Doris Cook; while Queen Betty Lou Boyatt has chosen as her senior attendants Doris White and Ann Anderson. Harvey Overton, president of the senior class accompanies Miss Boyatt to reign as King of the Festival. Iris Snyder and Marian King are flower girls, Peter LeQuire is crown bearer and Billy Timmons is train bearer.

ROBIN HOOD THEME

The theme of May Day is Robin Hood. This central character is played by Al Lesnick. The scene opens as Maid Marian and her attendants go to a spring, laugh and talk, and gradually go into a dance. As the dance ends, a hunting horn is heard and the girls run to the back of the scene as Robin Hood and his band come in, talking and laughing.

The next scene shows Robin's bands means of support when the Sheriff of Nottingham comes on with a noble, singing the "Drinking Song" (with the Men's Glee Club). The two sit down on a log and count money. The band slips up behind the men, led by Robin and Allan-a-Dale, pantomime hitting the sheriff, take the money, and send them on their way.

DANCERS FEATURED

The girls dancing in chorus, come in flirting slightly with the men and go into another dance. When this dance is finished, a new chacter appears on stage. After this episode, Friar Tuck enters with an improvised donkey, singing "Donkey Serenade". Robin suddenly sees a man on the far side of the creek and runs to the bridge, the two meet and fight, ending when Robin is doused in the creek. He congratulates the stranger (Long John) and asks him to join the band.

After this there is a solo dance by Lois Doebler. As she finishes Maid Marian and her maids creep out. The men rush to them and the groups disband into couples. Heralded by trumpets, King Richard enters with his attendants and Robin's men and the girls bow before him. He crosses to Robin and Marian, raises them to their feet, places their hands together and blesses them. Robin, with the entire chorus, sings, "O, Promise Me".

The traditional finale of the Festival is the May Pole Dance done by girls from Mrs. Queener's dancing class. The Festival ends as the court recesses.

Y IN CHARGE

The YW committee in charge of planning the program are Barbara Bertholf and Elsie Jean Cotton. They are assisted by Jean Messer Williams and Lottie Lavendar. Mr. Hughes is directing the Men's Glee Club and the All-Girl Choir, which are providing the music for the Festival.

The part of Maid Marian is played by Lottie Lavendar; Allan a-Dale by Tim Sykes; others in the band are Vernon Hyde, Bob Watkins, and Carol Stegall; Little John, Bill Nish; Friar Tuck, Sam Broyles; Sheriff, Bob Arant; Noble, Bill Anderson; John L. Bewis, Arthur Haaf, King Richard, Roger Cowan; and Attendants, Walter Dean, Kenneth Newell, and Fred Seiber.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 32 NUMBER 28

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

Editor this week - - - Dorothy Vawter
R. Thomas Parkinson ..... Editor
Mary Elizabeth Hunt ..... Staff Editor
Constance Hawkins ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Janet Miller, Lorraine Swift, Dorothy Vawter
Elsie Onifer

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Grace Gugger, Naomi Hoffman
Ilda Mosby

FRESHMAN APPRENTICES
Craig Fisher, Herbert McCallum
Kenneth Olsen, Smartt Ramsey, Barbara Wallin,
Mildred Leake Leslie Webb

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF
Ruth Williams ..... Business Manager

JUNIOR ASSISTANTS
Katherine Johnson Mary Jane Long

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANT
Lillian Law
FRESHMAN ASSISTANT
Bob Watkins

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879.

Represented for National Advertising by
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, APRIL 26, 1947

WAKE UP AND LIVE

These are words which offer a challenge to any group any where, but they hold particular meaning for us here at the College in their new capacity as "Y" motto for next year. "Y" activities will be based upon and centered around it, and because of this it will become a large part in the lives of all of us. A minority of the College group realizes just what they can mean. Too many people consider the organization to be merely a "Sunday" group, either not knowing or perhaps forgetting many things such as the Chatterbox, Barnwarming, and May Day when "Y" rather stays behind scenes but is nevertheless the generating factor. New students appreciate but probably never know who is behind the "M" book, Big Sisters, Nu Gamma Sigma and the Community Sings.

All of which goes to show just how large a part "Y" plays in College life. Next year is before us a full, promising, unblemished year. It is ours to shape and use as we wish but not ours to throw away or mar and cast aside. It offers us a vast acreage in which there is room for each to stake a claim and do with what he is able. "Wake up and live" must not only be a motto for those immediately connected with Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A., but must also be a motto for the entire group which makes our "Y" organizations such successes, the whole College organization.

D.H.V.

LET'S CLEAN THESE PANS

Exams are no longer around the corner; in fact, they're practically behind us, and have you noticed the long faces and snappy dispositions that have accompanied all this?—(with the exception of April 24). Worry like a dark cloud hiding the sun—darkens the outlook, and therefore, as the length of the time the sun is hidden depends upon the size and density of the cloud—the immensity of the worry affects dispositions. Occasionally, however, the sun peeps through even the darkest cloud and so it is that there is something humorous about the seemingly worst things. There is usually something to be gay about if you're willing to take the time and trouble to look for it. SONG OF THE SOUTH emphasized this as does the new song which states, "You can't see the sun when you're crying, a cloud can hide the brightest sky of blue". A record which proves that people need cheering up is Spike Jones' Laughing Record.

Part of Webster's definition of a smile is that it is an expression of kindness, a look of pleasure or happiness. A smile can go a long way toward cementing friendships.

On a campus famous for it's friendly atmosphere, it seems unnatural to see so many long faces. Smile——go ahead——it won't hurt you and it might go a long way toward lightening someone else's burdens. Remember the old adage: Smile and the world smiles with you. Anyhow, laughter aids digestion.

By all this, you're not supposed to indulge in fits of uproarious laughter in the dining hall or grin like chessy-cats at each other when passing; but a winsome, vivacious, genial, really sunshiney smile is priceless.

After all, the word SmileS is the longest known word for there is a mile between the two S's.

So wash your face with a smile and brighten up that pan. If needs be, scour it, but do smile. It shouldn't hurt and if it does, you have our sympathy, if it doesn't we'd like to know you better.

J.M.M.

A FAMILY TALK WELL DESERVED

"By the authority invested in me. . . .". We'll remember those words for a long time, won't we? Because they represented something pleasant, something we wanted. But will we remember very long those that went before? Perhaps—because they were well deserved—and perhaps not—because we don't care to be reminded of such rude conduct, especially our own. As we were told quite simply, the conduct of Maryville's students, supposedly mature men and women, in Wednesday's chapel was not what it should have been. A really long speech is such a very rare occurrence that surely we should be able to endure one when it does come. But when the speaker is good, even if his speech is long, he certainly deserves to be listened to and granted the common courtesy given to any man speaking to others.

Maryville's student body owes to the Wednesday chapel speaker last week a sincere apology and to itself some sober reflection.

C.H.

Just Being "Nosy"

BY LORRAINE SWIFT

To begin with, we want to say something about last week's column. In the first place, we didn't take that culture test Friday before last, neither is our name Gugger and Hoffman, nor did we write the column last week. It was a literary masterpiece, we'll admit, but the credit goes to the Gold-dust twins, Gugger and Hoffman, and it was only because of sheer over-sight of the page-proofers that the mistake was overlooked.

To begin with the second time, we've got that holiday and Dr. Lloyd's turn-table method on our mind. Just think of the enjoyment Janet Blackmore's and Virginia Wood's two little ducks (At least they were fowls.) got waddling around outside Memorial with their two overseers nearby all day. We wouldn't mind a few more family talks, and it makes the ducks so happy.

To begin with the third time, we've still got that holiday on our mind, and "all through the day" noticed how different kids spent their time at different places. . . . Bill Carter gazed hopefully toward the tennis courts from the sidelines and tagged himself just the "Keeper of the Racks". . . Lots of kids went around shoving yearbooks and pens in other kids hands. A group of them found Lloyd Anderson on Pearsons steps and Jessie Lou was kept waiting. Not that they didn't keep her right hand busy, too. . . . . Muriel Headrick and Glenn Smith, whose financial status is comparable to our'n, are sharing one book. . . . Hap Brahams and Chuck Brunson, experimented with their model airplanes which they have built in their spare time. . . . Sid Lambert carefully explained to our dense skull what a "church key" is. Just can't understand the relation it has with an article which opens bottles. . . But the next event of the holiday was Dick Moore and company behind the windowbars of the court house. Their chorused "We're innocent!" only resulted in stuck-up noses of fellow college students who accidentally on purpose failed to recognize any likeness of the court house inmates to those on the college hill. Later, Dick blurted, "Look's like you all coulda given us some peanuts."

To begin with the fourth time, don't read this if you've heard it before. Once upon a time Howard Davis was not in physics class when the role was called. When Professor Walker asked of his whereabouts, someone answered, "He's doin' his spring plowin'." Several minutes later Davis walked in, followed by D. M. Miller, who was trying his dead level best to sneak in. Says the alert professor, "Davis, I thought you were doing your spring plowing."

Answers Davis, "I just put away the mules."

"OH?" questions the professor. "Then what's that behind you?"

To begin with the fifth time, Beatrice Siebold the other day stated what every Maryville student has thought at one time or anoher. "Every dog has his day. Hope mine's tomorrow."

To begin with the sixth time, there's the junior gal—we just couldn't print her name, but she lives in 417 Pearsons—who was in such a hurry to get to French class she put her skirt on wrong-side-out. Yep! She wore it that way.

To begin with the seventh time, an ECHO reporter came running across campus rushing through his one-sided conversation. "I can't find anymore to write about Dr. Caldwell. I know he's president of the Louisville Presbyterian Cemetery—ur-uh, SEMINARY——"

"Dirty ole violets" to Footsie Housch who accidently tripped Mrs. Black in comparative anatomy the other day. There's no excuse, Foots, especially when Mrs. Black has told you before that she has a bum knee.

For some time (We refuse to mention a ninth beginning.) Miss Wilkinson asked Bill Dinges questions in French, expecting him to answer. Following a lapse of several minutes, obviously long quiet minutes, Miss Wilkinson said, "Monsieur Dinges, just answer anything in French!" Dinges blinked his eyes and with a decided French accent he pronounced the single word "Pardon?"

Bill Sidner, poor guy, is one of those unlucky few who only made an A-minus on comps. They say he can't walk straight, cuz his head is so far in the clouds, but there must be another reason.

Personal Notice to Joyce Jones: Please watch your roommate closely. Margie (Sapp, that is.) is noted for her peculiarities, particularly her desire to run away from home whenever she can find some cornbread and mustard to take with her. True, it's a childhood trick, and she hasn't been accused of doing it lately, but all precautions should be made to prevent her shocking her husband's parish by just appearing someday with corn bread and mustard.

It was a gay time on the junior-senior hike the other night. A gang of tired kids really enjoyed those hog dogs and certainly appreciated the efforts of those who made the whole thing possible. Some wise person, wisecracking at the expense of the seniors, decided that "Voorhees would have Nunn of" something-or-other, and that Jo and Tommy should get married in Thaw Hall (Not that they hadn't already decided it). Willis Pribble was a good Ralph, and believe you us, he kept that flashlight working.

Down to breakfast we must go——and see Dorothy Vawter and get this in.

Twenty-four more days and all our troubles will be over.

TALK OF THE WEEK . . .

JEAN ALMY

Student Recital

A student recital will be held Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 in the Art Gallery. Charles Huffman will play Rachmaninoff's Prelude in G minor; Gelolo Kell and Mary Margaret Robarts will sing the "Flower Duet" from Madame Butterfly by Puccini. Katherine Franklin will accompany them. Rella Anderson will play two Chopin Preludes.

At the recital last Tuesday, April 22, Grace Ellen Cross sang Connais-tu le pays and Harry Merrill played two movements of Beethoven's Appasionata Sonata, op. 57.

GIRL'S CHOIR HAS PICNIC

The members of the combined All-Girl's Choir and Men's Glee Club are heading for a hay ride Monday night at 6:30 that will take off in a wagon-load of hay from the chapel site, make the seven mile loop, and wind up in the college farm.

Refreshments and singing under the direction of Hap Brahams and accompanied by Sandy Smith at the accordian will be held around the campfire. Bob Connell will present some special numbers.

The hay ride will be chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hughes, Miss Frances Massey, and Miss Nellie Cuellas.

MR. PROFFITT YMCA SPEAKER

As the third in a Y. M. C. A. series of talks by Christian laymen on their profession, Mr. D. W. Proffitt will speak tomorrow in Bartlett Hall at 1:30 as a representative of business. Mr. Proffitt is a graduate of Maryville College, and besides owning Proffitt's Department Store is active in the church and community life.

Last week Mr. Frank Bird, Maryville lawyer, spoke in Y on Christianity in his profession. Preceding him was Dr. L. C. Olin, who spoke on the value of Christianity in medicine.

Overheard in the C. & L.: What was that he was out with the other night? I've seen better pans under an ice box.

Thrills, Chills As Girls Draw Rooms

MILDRED LEAKE

It was wild while it lasted! But the grand room lottery is over and everything is peaceful and settled once more.

The excitement began a week ago when posters began to appear. Matrons posted lengthy details of procedure on dorm bulletin boards. The sign on the individual doors, were of principal interest however; "This room has: two windows, hard beds, a small closet, lots of space and a western exposure"; and "Room for sale" with, in small print, "Would like to make proposition with girl who needs roommate."

At three-thirty on the fateful day of decision, bells rang on all floors like mad. It was hardly necessary; the line was sixty or seventy girls deep already. Suspense mounted; voices grew shrill with excitement. Finally the line began to move swiftly past the paper bag of numbered ballots. The rejoicing shrieks of lucky, low-number winners were a clear-cut contrast to the quiet look of those whose numbers ran into the fifties. Then the lines formed once more for final room selection and it was all over.

All over? Why it's only the beginning. See the measuring tapes and the gleam in milady's eye? The battle of dorm room vs. inspiration has just begun.

SOCIETY TO SEE SPANISH DANCES

Miss Nellie Cuellas, instructor in Spanish, will present a program of Spanish dances at the regular meeting of Bainonian Society in Bainonian Hall tonight at 6:15 o'clock. The program continues an imaginary tour to Mexico as was planned by Barbara Eggleston and Harriet McKean, program-chairman.

IRC Elections Slated For Monday

The next meeting of the IRC will be held Monday, May 5th, in Thaw. The officers and constitutional amendments will be voted on at this meeting since a quorum was not present at the meeting April 21.

STUDENT VOLS ELECT OFFICERS

Student Volunteer officers for the coming year were elected last Sunday, April 20 after Vols meeting. Harvey Overton presided over the elections. Officers elected were: President, Shirley Oshana; vice-president, Bill Swenson; secretary, Bob Lavelle; treasurer, Caroll Stegall; program chairman, Roger Cowan.

There will be no meeting April 27 due to the Y retreat.

Mrs. Margaret Cummings spoke on April 20 on the missionary work of her brother in Africa.

Camera Club Elects Officers For New Year

Camera club will meet Thursday, May 1, at 7:00 p. m. in Dr. Hunter's classroom in Thaw. Officers for next year will be elected at this meeting. Plans for developing films for campus students will be discussed. All interested persons are invited to attend this meeting.

PARK THEATRE

Tuesday and Wednesday

April 29-30

Darryl F. Zanuck's production of Victor Hugo's

"Les Miserables"

Starring Fredrick March

Charles Laughton

YWCA INSTALLS OFFICERS SUNDAY

The Nu Gamma cabinet will be responsible for the installation of the Y.W.C.A. cabinet at a candle light ceremony conducted during the regular meeting of the Student Vols. Mildred Orr, newly elected president of the Y. W., will give the charge to the new leaders.

Cook, Sakaizawa, Nunn and Eggleston are the leaders recently elected by the Y.W.C.A. who will be installed tomorrow.

PRAYER MEETING

Winnie Schuamburg will lead the mid-week Prayer Meeting Wednesday, April 30, at 6:45 in the Y-rooms. Her subject will be I Thessalonians 5:17-18.

Ray and June Holsey led the meeting last week. The group was divided and questions were asked, based on what they had studied during the past weeks. If the person could not answer the question he had to sing the first verse of a hymn.

Capitol

Monday-Tuesday
April 28-29

Danny Kaye in

"The Kid From Brooklyn"

Technicolor with Virginia Mayo, Vera-Ellen and The Goldwyn Girls

Wednesday-Thursday
April 30-May 1

Another page in Uncle Sam's proud history of the navy!

Wallace Beery in

"This Man's Navy"

with Tom Drake, James Gleason and Jan Clayton

Added, News Events and Selected Shorts, plus Community Sings

Friday-Saturday
May 2-3

Red-blooded action . . .

Buster Crabbe, king of the wild west in

"Gentlemen With Guns"

with Al (Fuzzy) St. John

Added: Selected Short Subjects plus "Crimson Ghost", chapter 2

—Coming—
Monday-Tuesday May 5-6

A tidal wave of clashing, compelling motives! Which no love can withstand!

Edward G. Robinson, Loretta Young, Orson Welles in

"The Stranger"

with Philip Merivale, Richard Long and Billy House, directed by Orson Welles

WE ARE OPEN ON TOWN NIGHT——

So drop by with the crowd for a coke and Sandwich.

C&L CAFE

BOWLING IS RIGHT DOWN OUR ALLEY!

Why not go bowling on your next date?

It's fun. . . and it's good exercise. Bowling improves your form in more ways than one!

League Play is over. Alleys may be had anytime. Our fountain and grill is unsurpassed. Popular Prices.

Maryville Bowling Center

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

Baseball—THE Game at M. C.

The Highlander Ball Club is proving that baseball is the game at Maryville College. After concluding very successful seasons in the football, wrestling, and basketball arenas of collegiate sports, the question as to whether baseball is Maryville's best sport is open to debate. At any rate, baseball is the game at the Highlander fold at present. The record for the baseball season thus far is exceptionally good. With only one set-back—the initial game of the season—the Scots have swung their way through to nine consecutive wins. Most notable of these victories for the Scotch Club are the 7-0 shut-out of Western North Carolina Teachers, the 9-3 victory over Ohio Wesleyan, the Scotties' 3-1 trouncing of U. T., and the victory over East Tennessee State in last Wednesday's very close game. Surely with such a string of victories, the Scotties are proving that baseball is the game at Maryville College. This season is typical of the many successful seasons Coach Honaker has steered during his twenty-five year course here at Maryville. Coach Honaker's Highlander baseball teams have won 75% of all their games. No wonder Coach Lombe S. Honaker is recognized as "the dean of Southern Collegiate baseball coaches!"

Close Calls and Tough Spots

The Highlander pitching staff has just passed a week of close calls and tough spots in front of the plate. In the Wednesday game the pitching arm of Leon Berrong pulled the Scots out of a tough spot when the local nine faced East Tennessee State. Berrong proved that he could consistently heave the ball over the plate when the situation called him to exert his best form. Joe Jernigan, a left-hand relief hurler, is credited as the winning pitcher in the Scots' win over Tusculum Tuesday on the opponents' diamond. Jernigan took the mound in the fourth inning when the Scots were behind, 6-1. (One of the few times this season.) In the following five innings Joe allowed four hits, walked three, and fanned two. Yes, the pitching staff was under fire this week and pulled the Scots out of some close calls and tough spots.

Speaking of Base Stealing . . . .

The Scots have played a daring type of ball, and they have been quick to take advantage of the opponents' weak infields to steal all the bases they could. On the other hand, they have been mighty stingy with the number of bases they have allowed opposing nines to steal. For the first ten games of the season, the Maryville College nine have stolen a total of 69 bases. In the Hiwassee game here April 18, they stole 16 bases to set their highest number of stolen bases for a game in the current season. Second baseman King Berrong is currently leading the "steal parade" with 12 successful steals to his credit. The total of stolen bases for opponent baserunners now stands at 19.

Fans HAVE Seen a Home Run—YES!

This department reported last week that a home run had not been scored in any game on the home diamond this season; that was a mistake. Bobby Boring in the second game of the season—one with Hiwassee—straightened out a perfect line drive into center field and ran the circuit to make the first home run of the current season. We hereby make apology to batsman Boring for failing to credit his homer.

This 'n That

Maryville track boosters at the meet last week with U. T. were all eyes when Hap Brahams came sailing over the hurdles at least four paces ahead of Tennessee's Payne. Hap's running mate, Bob Kay, was kicking dust in Payne's face too. Nice going, hurdlers. Other stand-outs for Maryville at the meet were Walker with the vaulting pole, Fisher in the high jump, and the relay team, especially Lambert's run in overcoming a handicap in distance to give the Scots the lead in the final lap of the relay. Garner put a lot behind his sling of the discus. Our distance runners ran a good race against superior competition.

With the brightening of the weather and especially during Thursday's "holiday," enthusiasm for tennis has been high. It is unfortunate that delay forced by inclement weather and transportation difficulties will curb the tennis season this spring. However, the tennis fans are assured of at least two collegiate matches on the home courts.

M. C. Defeats Teachers and Tusculum

The Highlanders won another victory Wednesday in a tough battle on the home field with the East Tennessee State Teachers' College, 3-2. The winning pitcher, Leon Berrong, a M. C. right-hander, hurled a six-hit game, and the losing moundsman, Ponder, States' valuable southpaw, allowed the Scotties six hits.

The M. C. nine was never really out in front with a safe lead. In the second inning, the Scotties scored the first run of the game when Spears crossed the plate on a double by Leon Berrong to left field. Spears had walked and was safe on second when the throw from home to first was fumbled. Leon died at second a moment later when King Berrong flied to the second baseman, retiring the side.

In the sixth, Maryville came up out of the low side of a 2-1 score to tie up the ball game when Bob Boring went home on a well-placed sacrifice by Hugh Hamil to right field. Bob had taken first on an errored ground ball to the shortstop, stolen second, and moved to third when the catcher dropped a pitch at the plate.

In the seventh frame, the Scotties drove across the winning run. Allen Rock, the first man at bat, hammered out a beautiful triple between the left fielder and the center fielder. The next man up, Spears, drove him in with a good single, but was caught off first on a throw from the pitcher. Leon Berrong grounded out and King doubled with a Texas-leaguer just back of first. He died at second when Honaker flied.

The Highlanders threatened again in the eighth when Boring went as far as third, but Bob failed to score.

State was trailing in the fifth inning when Musselman, the center fielder, took first on a ground ball to Honaker. After stealing second and third, Musselman and his teammate Transbarger, the catcher, who walked and stole second, both scored when Ponder, the pitcher, drove a hard grounder down the first-base foul-line, through Reynolds, out into right where Rock fumbled it, Ponder taking third. Since the next three men up flied and grounded, he didn't score.

The Teachers' nine threatened again in the ninth when Mussellman went to third on an error and two stolen bases with two out. The next man grounded to Boring who threw to first, ending the game with Maryville ahead, 3-2, in the middle of the ninth frame.

The batting order was as follows:

E. Tenn. State Teachers	AB	H	R	E
Williams, r.f.	3	0	0	0
Campbell, s.s.	3	0	0	1
Kinsey, 1b.	4	0	0	0
Evans, l. f.	3	1	0	0
Vest, 2b.	4	0	0	0
France, 3b.	4	2	0	0
Mussellman, c.f.	4	1	1	0
Transbarger, c.	3	0	1	3
Ponder, p.	3	2	0	0
Patterson, (s.)	1	0	0	0
Total	32	6	2	4

Maryville	AB	H	R	E
K. Berrong, 2b.	4	1	0	0
Honaker, 3b.	4	0	0	1
Reynolds, 1b.	3	0	0	0
Boring, s.s.	3	1	1	0
Hamil, c.f.	4	0	0	0
Stinnett, catcher	4	0	0	1
Rock, r. f.	3	1	1	1
Spears, l.f.	3	1	1	0
L. Berrong, p.	3	2	0	0
Total	31	6	4	3

E. Tenn. State	000	020	000
Maryville	010	001	10x

Leon Berrong struck out six men and walked three. Ponder struck out two and walked three.

Varsity Tennis Matches Scheduled

This week Mr. Phillips announced two tennis matches for the coming season. Both of the matches will be home games, one with Lincoln Memorial University on May 10, and the other with East Tennessee State Teachers College on the 15th of May. Since the rain has delayed preliminary practice for the tennis squad, it is not likely that more than two intercollegiate matches will be played this semester.

Tournament Hampered

The elimination tournament has been hampered by rain for the last two weeks. At this writing, the elimination tournament had hardly begun and only five sets of players had completed a match. The tournament is in progress to determine the starting five for the varsity team. Rain has kept the courts in bad repair, giving the players little time to play off the sets.

Courts Being Repaired

The use of a steam roller is being considered to cure the ills of the courts, which are in need of reconditioning. During the war years the up-keep of the courts was neglected and special conditioning is necessary to put the courts back in top shape. The courts by the side of Baldwin will also receive attention from the conditioning crew.

POINT SYSTEM ENDED BY TEST

The track test Thursday ended the point system program for this year. This test included the high jump, the standing broad jump, and the shot put. Final results for year's point system, deciding who will be in "M" club and who will win the monograms, will be given next week.

Ken Ross Elected Wrestling Captain

At a meeting of the wrestling team on April 17, the grapplers elected Ken Ross to captain the team for next year. Ross, a rising senior from East Hampton, Long Island, succeeds captain Lloyd Anderson, who plans to graduate at the end of the next semester. Ken was a letterman on the 1941 State Champion Team of Maryville College. After spending three years in the Coast Guard, Ken returned to Maryville last fall. Ross wrestled during the past season in the 136 pound class.

Girls' Intramural Tournament Begins

The Girls' Intramural softball tournament will be held Monday, Tuesday and Friday of next week according to an announcement made by the officials of the program. The tournament which was originally scheduled to begin last Thursday will be held between the B, d, and D classes.

Hubby: "Darling, what's wrong? Why the bandage on your eye?

Wifey: "Don't be funny. That's my new hat."

—Orange and Blue

Alas! Times are not what they used to be: children no longer obey their parents, and everyone wants to write a book. (Found on an ancient Assyrian tablet.)

Dusty: "My wife explored my pockets last night."

Dog: "What did she get?"

Dusty: "About the same as any other explorer gets—enough material for a lecture."

—Orange and Blue

The Scotties continued on their victory wagon Tuesday afternoon when they won a hitting contest with Tusculum College at Greeneville, Tennessee, 15-7. The game had been postponed from Monday because of rain. The M. C. nine trailed the first five frames but pulled out of the hole with rallies in the fifth and sixth innings and held down the Tusculum Pioneers in the last six frames under the steady hurling arm of southpaw Joe Jernigan. Jernigan was the winning pitcher, allowing the Pioneers only four hits and one run. Lake, of Tusculum, the losing hurler, allowed the M. C. team seven hits and seven runs. The Scotties hammered out a total of fourteen hits, while Tusculum chalked up nine.

Maryville dragged the first five innings, batting out only three hits. In the first, King Berrong drove out a single and crossed the plate on a double by Allen Rock after stealing two bases. Rock died at third after Stinnett and Hamil grounded out. The Scotties sent across two more runs in the fifth when Jernigan, who took first on a fielder's choice, and King Berrong, who took a base on balls, both scored on a resounding single by Stinnett who was caught at second a moment later in a force out, retiring the side, Maryville trailing by three runs.

In the sixth inning rally of six runs, the Highlanders pulled out of the hole. Hamil and Honaker both singled and advanced when Pentz struck out. They both crossed the plate on a hard-hit single by Gene Reynolds. Gene scored seconds later when Jernigan slammed a homer, making the score 7-6, in favor of M. C. Then King Berrong walked and was tagged at second. Jack Buckley who walked, and Allen Rock, who singled, both scored on an error by the catcher. Stinnett flied, retiring the side with Maryville ahead by three runs.

The Scotties put five more safety runs across in the seventh frame to clinch the lead. Hamil walked and scored on a double by Honaker. Then Pentz singled, hitting in Honaker, and crossing the plate a minute later on a wild-throw after advancing to third on an out and a stolen base. After Reynolds grounded out, Jernigan hit a single and scored on a double by Buckley. Buckley scor-

(Continued on page four)

INTRAMURAL DOPE

Old Man Weather has finally relented and given the Intramural teams plenty of softball weather. After only one game last week, which by the way resulted in a tie, the card this week was full.

This week things happened fast. The Misfits and the Echo lost their first game and the Eight Balls grabbed top position in team standings and blanked the Bobby Sox Friday afternoon. A few of the outstanding games follow:

Echo Tips Misfts

Probably the most important game played this week was the tight tussle between the Echo and the Misfits Thursday afternoon, which ended 2-1 for the Echo.

The Misfits started the scoring in the second frame when Miracle swatted Long in for the team's lone tally. In the closing half of the third, the Echo garnered both of their runs. Forrester singled, stole second and was brought in on a high fly by Parkinson, who in turn was brought home by Poland. The last of the sixth found the iMsfits with bases loaded, and only one out, but Mathis knocked a fly to Carlson who winged the apple home to catch Dunn as he attempted to reach home. English, Misfit pitcher, struck out four, walked four and yielded four hits. Echo hurler Forrester struck out one, walked four and gave four hits. The Misfits made two errors to one for the Echo.

Rebels Defeat Bartlett

Scoring five runs in the second inning alone, the Rebels rolled over Bartlett 14-5 Tuesday afternoon. Beecher Bell, who pitched a no-hit game for the Rebels, walked six men and struck out three. The record for Rettke, Bartlett's hurler, was nine hits and four men walked. Errors ran high as the Rebels made 7 to Bartlett's 11.

Misfits Trounce Rebels

Wednesday afternoon the Misfits, scoring in all seven innings, dropped an eight-man Rebel team by a score of 15-5. The losers played without the services of their regular pitcher. Misfit slinger English struck out four men and walked five. Hits were ten to seven for the Misfits. Herzberger, center field for the Misfits, connected for the only home run of the game.

Eight Balls Blank Bobby Sox

Chalking up six runs in the second inning, the Eight Balls stopped only long enough for breath before finally making the scoreboard read 12-0, a shutout victory over the hapless Bobby Sox. Fireballer Swartzback held the losers to six hits and one walk. The game was the fifth straight win against no losses for the Eight Balls.

TEAM STANDINGS

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Eight Balls	5	0	1.000
Echo	5	1	.833
Misfits	5	1	.833
Wolves	2	1	.666
Rebels	3	2	.600
Moonshiners	1	2	.333
Bobby Sox	1	5	.166
Bartlett	1	0	.000
Powerhouses	0	4	.000

Freshman Boy (on the way home): "You've never kissed like that before, Mary. Is it because we're going through a tunnel?"

Freshman Girl: "No, it's because my name isn't Mary."

—Eastern Progress

Prosecutor: "Now tell the court why you stole the car."

Defendant: "Well, the car was standing in front of the cemetery, and I naturally though the owner was dead."

—The Gleaner.

First Senior: "This match won't light."

Second Senior: "What's the matter with it?"

First Senior: "I don't know. It worked a little while ago."

—East Technical High School

Crawford & Caldwell
HARDWARE
Phone No. 1 Maryville

NORTON HARDWARE CO.
Phone 18

What Is Spring Without Sport Shirts

Campus $6.50 Two-tone
Campus $3.98 Solid Colors
Miamian $2.98 Short Sleeves
Style-Rite $3.45 Plaids
Reliance $4.50 Solids
Mac Lern $3.98 Solids

On a sultry day, what's nicer than to shed hot, sticky clothes as soon as you hit home and step into a cool shower, blot your self dry and slip on a smooth, loose-fitting sports shirts with your slacks! Sounds good doesn't it?

"Maryville's Most Popular Store"

MOSER'S
.CLOTHING STORE.

COSTUME
JEWELRY
Charm Bracelets always make a welcome gift to any teenage girl
BYRNE DRUG COMPANY

PIE is good always at Lynch Bakery
We have
Apple, Cherry,
Lemon and Coconut
LYNCH BAKERY

Disc Club Meets

Disc club will hold its last meeting of the year Thursday, May 1. This will be the traditional senior request program. Plans are not yet complete.

Club Plans Picnic

Spanish club held a brief meeting Thursday at 6:45 in Miss Cowdrick's classroom. Plans for a hamburger fry to be held May 8 were discussed.

Ministerial Association Has Banquet At Walland

Ministerial Association held its annual banquet Thursday evening, April 24, at Chilhowee Inn at Walland. The main speaker for the evening was the Rev. Earle Crawford, assistant pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of Knoxville. Master of ceremonies for the program was Ray Swartzbach. The program included a dance by Lois Doebler, a solo by Jay Bishop, and group singing.

Chaperones were Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Buchanan. 112 students attended the dinner.

TUSCULUM—M. C.

(Continued from page 3)

ed on a single by Rock, who died on third when Stinnett fanned. Maryville scored again in the ninth—Buckley going across on a single by Rock, who died at third.

Tusculum started off the hitting race in the first inning by batting out three runs. White took first on an error by Honaker and scored when Alexander tripled. Alexander scored when Spears errored on a hit by Cole, who crossed the plate on a single by Hartsell. They chalked up another run in the second, West going across the plate on a single by Seidoff.

In the third, the Pioneers rolled up another two runs when Alexander and Cole went in on a wild throw with the bases loaded. Hartsell died at third and Jones died at first when Winkemier hit into a double play with the bases loaded. Tusculum scored again in the sixth when Seidoff singled and went across on Alexander's single.

The Maryville pitching staff chalked up two strike-outs and four walks. The Tusculum pitchers struck out seven men and walked seven.

The batting order was as follows:

Tusculum	AB	H	R	E
Seidoff, c. f.	4	2	1	0
White, 2b	4	0	1	0
Alexander, s.s.	5	3	2	1
Cole, catcher	3	1	2	1
Hartsell, 3b.	4	2	0	1
Shaw, r.f.	4	0	0	0
West, l.f.	3	1	1	0
Winkemier, 1b.	3	0	0	0
Lake, p.	2	0	0	0
Payne, p.	1	0	0	0
Flavin, p.	1	0	0	0
Jones, l.f.	1	0	0	0
Total	37	9	7	3
Maryville	AB	H	R	E
K. Berrong, 2b.	4	1	2	0
Buckley, s.s.	4	1	3	0
Stinnett, catcher	6	1	0	0
Hamil, c.f.	5	1	2	0
Honaker, 3b	3	2	2	2
Spears, l.f.	0	0	0	1
Reynolds, 1b.	4	1	1	0
Malone, p.	1	0	0	0
McJunkin, p.	0	0	0	0
Jernigan, p.	4	2	3	0
Pentz, l.f.	4	1	1	0
Total	41	14	15	3
Tusculum	312	001	000
Maryville	100	026	501

PENALTIES FOR MUSIC STUDENTS

Announcement was made to all music students that from now on all the practice rooms will be checked each period. Any student missing five periods will have his grade lowered one step, that is, from A to A-.

Those who are not studying for credit and who miss too many practices will be discontinued because of lack of room.

PRE-MED

Members of the Pre-Med club held a picnic in the college woods Thursday night. Bob Bruce, program chairman, was in charge of the arrangements at that time, and a program was held.

Athletic Association Proposes Amendments

Wednesday morning immediately after Chapel, the student body will be asked to vote on some amendments to the Constitution of the Athletic Association.

Among the various amendments are: methods by which a person may qualify for a letter in varsity sports, winners of major sports receiving letters also shall receive sweaters, making a distinction between major and minor sports, no sweaters being awarded for minor sports except under unusual circumstances, and no individual receiving more than one sweater in one college year.

Frank Kramer is chairman of the committee appointed to make up the amendments. Coaches Honaker and Davis, Miss Heron, Elsie Jean Cotton, and Abbott Kemp are the other members of the committee.

Cindermen Tangle T.P.I. Tracksters

Davis' thin-clads journeyed to Tenenssee Poly at 7:30 this morning to combat their track team in the second team of the season. Starting early enough to eat and rest after the long four hour trip, the team arrived in Cookeville at about eleven. The meet began at 2:00 with the field events.

This is the second team for the Maryville cindermen, the last meet being a mauling by the Volunteers, 99½ to 33½, at Shields-Watkins field in Knoxville. T.P.I. was defeated by the same team 108-22 the week before.

PARTICIPANTS

Shot—Garner, Walker
Discus—Garner, Walker, Ammons
Javelin—Ammons, Walker
High Jump—Fisher, Hargis
Mile Run—Proffitt, Baird, Gillett
440 Yard Dash—Lambert, Seymour, Kiger
100 Yard Dash—B. Brahams, Connell, Hargis
120 Highs—H. Brahams, Kay
880 Yard—Verity, Kiger, Chambers, Saunders
220 Yard Dash—Houdshal, B. Brahams, Connell
2 Mile—Gillett, Baird, Profiftt
220 Yard Lows—H. Brahams, Kay
Mile Relay—Seymour, Saunders, Houdshal, Lambert, Brahams

Joe: "What did one duck say to the other duck?"

Moe: "How should I know? What did he say?"

Joe: "Social security".

Moe: "Social security? I don't get it."

Joe: "You will when you're 65."

—Tech Oracle

IT'S ALL IN HOW YOU LOOK AT IT

THINGS AREN'T ALWAYS what they appear to be—and this photo bears us out. Worker Philip Mirarile looks like he's sweeping off the Statue of Liberty on Bedloe's Island in New York Harbor, but it's really a trick camera shot. The giant statue of Lady Liberty is open to the public again after being closed for a couple of months to remove lipstick daubs and initials scrawled there by visitors. A coat of lip rouge-resistant paint was applied to the Lady during the cleaning period. (International)

Scavenger Hunt Held

French club met Thursday, April 24, for a scavenger hunt. The members divided into two groups. The winning group received a box of candy. Miss Wilkinson served refreshments.

Club Plans Election

There will be no regular meeting of German club Monday evening. A special meeting for electing officers will be called some afternoon next week.

A good deed is never lost. He who sows courtesy reaps friendship and he who plants kindness gathers love.

Freshman: "Say, Dr. Griffitts, how long could I live without brains?"

Dr. Griffitts: "That remains to be seen."

A young hillbilly bought an ice cream cone, walked out of the drug store to eat it, then carried the cone back to the soda fountain.

Handing it to the clerk, he said "Much obliged for the use of the vase".

There are enough good insecticides to go around; see that each insect gets its share.

LET US MAKE YOUR PICTURE—

For that gift on Mothers Day

THE WEBB STUDIO

COSMETICS!

Revelon Nail Polish

(in the latest shades)

Lipstick— Revelon— Dorothy Gray— Coty

Pancake Make-Up—Elmo—Max Factor

THE PARK DRUG STORE

PENNEY'S

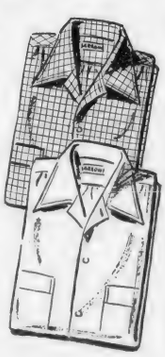
'47 STREAMLINING!

Swimaways* for Everyone

Women's Swim Suits. One, two-piece. 32-38 ..... 3.98
Women's Suits (not shown). Rayon jerseys 5.90
Women's Suits (not shown) Lastex $7.90
Girls' one and two-piecers. Sizes 8-14 ..... 2.98
Juvenile Girls' trim little suits. 2-6x 1.98
Men's Swim Trunks. Prints and solids 1.98
Boys' Swim Trunks. Styled like men's 1.98

*Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

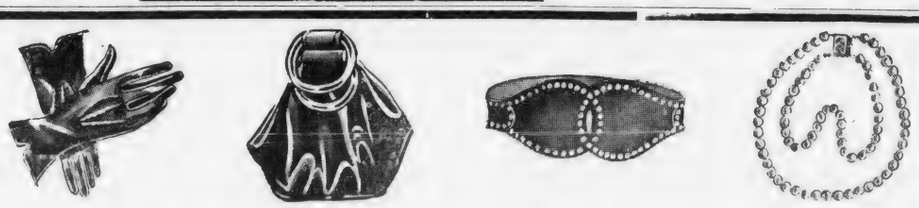
Did you know a roomy shirt



could look so trim?

HERE ARE sports shirts with all the shoulder-swinging room you could ask for. They're Arrow's version of solid comfort!

Expert cutting gives them trim lines as well. Whether you button up the collar or leave it open, they're hard to beat for good looks.



No fussy handling needed in the washtub! Arrow Sports Shirts behave like your regular Arrow Shirts. That's because they're Sanforized-labeled for fabric shrinkage less than 1%.

See them here.

$3.25 up

ARROW SHIRTS

Accessories Make The Costume

The Smart Woman buys the right accessories to make her outfit. Smart Gloves and Bag can dress-up last year's dress. Visit us often.

PARKS-BELK COMPANY

Proffitt's

Men's Store Main Floor

Since 1919 . . . "The Best Place to Trade"

MUSIC FESTIVAL
TOMORROW AT 3:00

THE Highland Echo

ALL-MUSIC SHOW
TONIGHT AT 7:30

VOLUME 32 — MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, MAY 3, 1947 — NUMBER 29

Choir Festival At New Providence Church Ends M. C. Music Week

EIGHT CHOIRS SING IN CLUB FESTIVAL

The annual spring choir festival will be given tomorrow afternoon, May 4, at 3:00 at the New Providence Presbyterian Church. Eight choirs will take part in the program this year according to Richard W. Vine, professor of music, who will direct two of the choirs and the combined choirs in the Hallelujah Chorus.

The festival is sponsored by the Maryville-Alcoa Music Club and will be one of the closing events in the celebration of music week. Mrs. Wendell Carter is president of the club and Wilma Marshall is chairman of the choir festival.

The program is as follows:

Andante Religioso ..... Liszt
Wm. Curtis Hughes
All In The Spring Evening ....
Roberton
Send Forth Thy Spirit..... Schuetky
Maryville High School Choir
J. Marvin Lindley
Praise Ye the Name of
The Lord ..... Tcherepnin
O Savior of the World....
Pears-Reigger
Maryville College All-Girl Choir
Wm. Curtis Hughes
O Gladsome Light.... Archangelsky
Today There is Ringing....
Christiansen
First Baptist Choir—
Richard W. Vine
Fear Not O Israel ..... Stricher
New Providence Presbyterian
Choir—J. S. Goodman
Prelude to "The Deluge" ....
Saint-Saens
Katherine Crews, Grace Weller,
Wm. Curtis Hughes
My God and I ..... J. Sergei
Glories Forever .. S. Rachmaninoff
First Methodist Choir
Ralph Reed
Hear My Prayer ..... Breach
Alcoa M. E. Church Choir
A. R. Strang
O Love That Will Not Let Me Go ..... Eggert
Broadway Methodist Choir
Ronald Manges
Adoramus Te Christe ..... Mozart
Hosanna ..... Christiansen
Maryville College Choir
Richard W. Vine
Hallelujah Chorus from Messiah ..... Handel
Benediction Rev. Thos. A. Graham

FIRST MUSIC WEEK RECITALS GIVEN BY BARNWELL, BOLIN

Miss Mary Barnwell, senior piano major, was presented in her senior recital May 1. This was the first in a series of senior recitals and was also the first Music week program. The program was given in the Chilhowee Club house. Miss Barnwell played two Sonatas by Scarlatti, Sonata op. 2, No. 3 by Beethoven, Intermezzo, op. 39, no. 1, Waltz op. 39, no. 15, Rhapsody op. 199, no. 4 by Brahms.

Miss Mary Jo Bolin, senior piano major, gave her senior recital May 2 as the second in the series of music week programs. This recital was also given at the Chilhowee Club house. Her program was as follows: B minor Prelude and Fugue by Bach, Sonata in F major by Mozart, The Bird as a Prophte by Schumann, Prelude in C minor by Chopin, Nocturne in C minor by Chopin. As her last number she played a two piano work Fantasy by Rachmaninoff. Dan Winter was at the second piano.

Frances Ashby Gives Third Music Recital

Miss Frances Ashby, senior organ major, will be presented in the third of a series of music week recitals. Miss Ashby is from Newport News, Virginia. Her recital will be given at the First Baptist Church in Maryville. The program is as follows:

Toccato and Fugue in d minor ..... Bach
Piece Heroique ..... Franck
The Bells of St. Anne de
Beaupre ..... Russell
Pastorale—Traditional Tune
arranged by Clokey
Suite Gothique ..... Boellmann

CHOIR PRESENTS CONCERT FRIDAY

The Maryville College vesper choir will present its final concert of the season at the Graystone Presbyterian Church in Knoxville on Friday, May 9 at 7:30 p. m., according to an announcement made by a spokesman for the group. The group, under the direction of Prof. Richard W. Vine, will give the program regularly used for concerts which includes several Christiansen numbers.

Wednesday morning the choir presented a concert for the students of Maryville High School at the regular chapel program.

Social Committee Presents Musical Program Tonight

In keeping with national Music Week the Social Committee will present an all musical program in the gym this evening at 7:15. The program is under the direction of Footsie Housch and Jim Black.

The entertainment will be in the form of a radio program. Bob Thompson will be the Master of Ceremonies and Tom Lang will be the accompanist. Vocal selections will be given by Peggy Howell, Jay Bishop, Mary Holly Webb; a duet by Rella Anderson and Bob Connell; a trio by Betty Hall, Barbara Blair and Footsie Housch; violin solos by Anna Sakaizawa; piano selections by Bill Deihl and Jack Verity and novelty numbers by Charles Huffman; and an imitation of Al Jolson by Ken Kribbs.

Prizes will be awarded. The prizes include candy, hose, a washing machine, a boat, a car, spring ensemble and other scarce items. One person will receive all the prizes.

Committee Nominates Onifer, Oshana For President of W.S.G.A.

Elsie Onifer and Shirley O'Shana have been nominated by the nominating committee for the presidency of WSGA for 1947-48. Both are rising seniors.

Nominees for rising chairman of Baldwin are rising sophomores Jane McCullough and Mae Merriweather.

Nominations may also be made from the floor. The elections will be held on the night of May 8.

The ECHO editorial staff meeting will be held Monday night, at 9:00 o'clock for the purpose of holding elections.

CALENDAR

Saturday, May 3
6:15—Societies meet, Athenian Banquet
7:30 p. m.—All musical program as part of music week activities
Sunday, May 4
1:15—YWCA meets. Mary Ruth Barber and Ann Anderson, speakers.
1:30—YMCA—meets with Bucky Wood of UT speaker.
3:00—Music festival at New Providence Church.
7:00—Vespers in the library.
Tuesday, May 6
4:30—Student recital.
Wednesday, May 7
Senior trips to Alcoa on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.
8:00—Dr. Ruth Isabel Seabury, chapel speaker.
3:30—Art Club takes sketching hike.
Thursday, May 8
6:45—Clubs meet
Saturday, May 10
Social Committee sponsors skit contest.

Writer's Workshop Elects 16 Members At Final Meeting

Club Publication With 8 Best Goes On Sale Next Week

Sixteen students were elected to membership in Writer's Workshop at their final business session of the year last Wednesday. These neophytes will be officially welcomed into the club at the annual picnic on May 12 at 5:00 in the college woods.

Those elected are Jo Justyne, Campbell, Nan Wooten, Tom Wheeler, Charles Hoglan, Jim Black, Sara Jo Kiger, Dave Campbell, Hedy Nabholz, Harold Russell, George Coons, Eleanor Struble, Juanita Johnson, Martha Hull, Barbara Eggleston, Harold Hunter, and Chester Phillips.

Esther Cornelius and Anna Sakaizawa were elected to the governing committee. Other committees appointed at the meeting were the picnic committee composed of Esther Cornelius and Helen Sorenson, and the neophyte committee made up of June Garland, Fred Wilson, and Bill Grosh.

Announcement was made that the Workshop publication will go on sale next week. The book will contain eight representative pieces read during the first semester and selected as outstanding. Members of the group will be in charge of the circulation of books which will sell for approximatley fifty cents.

A symbolic play, "Death of Light" was read to the group by Betty Ann Showalter. The play was similiar to that of the English romanticists in that it was written to be read and not produced. Main characters were the planets of the solar system and the drama was based on the cycle of history. Miss Nellie Cuellas was critic.

The five best pieces read during the semester were chosen by the group. Those selected were "Monologue in Mountain Dialect" by Ruth Kaye, "No Escape" by Evelyn Anderson, three poems, "The Skeptic", "Issei's Prayer" and "Upward Trail" by Anna Sakaizawa; "A Queer Quarter" by Florence Housche, and "Old Doc" by Fred Wilson.

Rec Center Moved To Central Campus Area

Near the southeast side of Pearson's Hall a recreation ground has been started to furnish entertainment for the students during the after-dinner dating period. This program, started by Robert Butts, chairman of the social committee, is sponsored by the Recreation Hall.

There are two ping-pong tables at present and three more are being made. The shuffleboard courts are open. On Monday, Thursday and Saturday nights music is furnished. Some students are using the equipment throughout the day, in addition to the large number using it in the evenings.

Peggy Howell Receives Audition In Pittsburgh

Peggy Howell, junior music major, and a soprano in the college choir, went to Pittsburgh last week-end for an audition with the Civic Light Opera Company, an organization which presents operas throughout the summer in Pittsburgh, their first production being June 2. Miss Howell left by plane Friday afternoon, April 25, and arrived in Pittsburgh in time for an audition that evening.

Although she was given a favorable decision, Miss Howell decided against singing with the company this summer. She returned to Maryville Saturday night.

Spanish Club Elects Lois Lehr President

Lois Lehr was elected as the new president of the Spanish club. Program chairman is Betty Emory. Newly-elected treasurer is Lloyd Chandler. Beverly Muetzel will serve as Secretary and Ilda Mosby as publicity chairman. The club will hold a picnic May 8.

Theta Alpha Phi Elects Members

Initiation of the new members of the Theta Alpha Phi began yesterday morning and will conclude with a banquet next Friday night at which time the formal initiation will be held, Jean Balch, president, stated. New members who are being initiated are Edith Earle, Jim Black, Bill Grosh, Lois Thomas, Bob Thompson, Virginia Clabough, Marian Pope, and Willis Pribble.

These persons have been selected because of their work behind the scenes as well as the work they have done on the stage, Miss Balch added.

The local fraternity was recently recognized in Cue, a magazine published by the national organization, and scenes from the production, Pygmalion, were printed.

Each year Theta Alpha Phi presents the first play of the year. It is also responsible for the beginning of the experimental theatre and takes a part in the dramatic work connected with May Day, and for promoting dramatic interest on the campus.

The organization is limited in membership. This year there have been nine members, eight of whom will graduate this spring. The club plans to elect new officers at a meeting in the near future.

News Capsules—

BY LESLIE WEBB

Mexico Gets Money

President Miguel Aleman of Mexico received the assurance of additional credits for his country from President Truman on his visit to this nation's capitol. Officials estimate that Mexico will be granted initial credits of at least 50 million dollars. The funds are to be used for the development of Mexican power, irrigation and industry.

Fraud Case Tried

Ex-congressman May of Kentucky, former chairman of the Military Affairs Committee is on trial in Washington for alledged frauds in connection with the Garsson munitions empire. Senate investigators are now hearing witnesses who have testified that May received large sums of money from the Garsson brothers. The books of the Garsson affiliate are now being examined. The government charges that the Cumberland Lumber Company was organized as a "front" to conceal payment of 53,000 dollars by Henry and Murray Garsson to former Rep. May (D. Ky.)

Russia Has Big Parade

Russian Dictator Stalin probably has a sore arm today unless he spent considerable time getting in shape for the May Day parade. From a platform above Lenin's tomb Stalin saluted again and again as thousands of Russian soldiers and civilians paraded for him in Red Square in Moscow. Simultaneously, Russia's Minister of the Armed Forces, Nikolai Bulganin exhorted the Soviet Army, Navy and Air Forces to maintain "their fighting preparedness." Pravda, official Communist organ of the press, assailed American policies in China, Turkey, Iran and Greece. The newspaper called it the policy of American hypocrites and gangsters.

Romance Gets Jolt

Principal Fred S. Elliot of Whitehaven High School has become alarmed over the "near-epidemic" of marriages which have struck his campus. There have beeen exactly eight. Principal Elliot has issued an ultimatum to students in which he threatens suspension unless school regulations regarding segregation of the sexes is rigidly observed. The teen agers were required to sign the memorandum, which forbids boys and girls eating together regularly, walking together on the campus or loitering in school rooms or corridors. One boy, who signed his name "Kilroy", was promptly suspended for five days.

Phone Strike Hangs On

Despite settlements involving about 43,000 workers in New York and Pennsylvania, the phone strike

(Continued on page four)

Classes Nominate Student Council Members, Officers

Rev. Ernest Frei Speaks At Chapel

Rev. Ernest J. Frei, missionary to the Philippines, was speaker in Wednesday Chapel on April 30. Mr. Frei is a graduate of Maryville, class of 1928, and McCormick Seminary, class of 1931, going to the Philippines in 1931.

He spoke on conditions which a missionary faces today in the Philippines. The three points he stressed were the poverty, lack of educational facilities, and the moral degeneration caused by the war. Several times he mentioned Hal Lloyd who is now in the Philippines. Although Mr. Frei has never met him there, he used Mr. Lloyd as an example of the missionaries whose work will be a link between the churches at home and those in the Philippines. He said that the missionary of today is not only a preacher, but a teacher as well, and that he did quite a bit of health education, too.

Studying at Hartford

Mr. and Mrs. Frei and their two daughters, Joan and Elizabeth, are visiting Dr. W. H. Crothers in town for a few days and spoke at the New Providence Church on Wednesday night. He is studying at the Kennedy School of Missions at Hartford, Connecticut, while on furlough from the Philippines.

Mr. Frei is a Swiss subject and has never become a citizen of the United States. During the war, he was a nuetral subject and therefore was a valuable missionary because he had more freedom. He spent most of his time in the Philippines on Leyte.

Mr. Frei was one of the charter members of Writer's Workshop while at Maryville.

Senior Breakfast To Be Held At Lloyd Home

President and Mrs. Ralph W. Lloyd will entertain all seniors at the annual senior breakfast which will be held in their home Friday morning, May 9, at 7:30 o'clock.

Invitations were issued this week to both the graduates of this spring and the December graduates. All seniors will be excused from chapel May 9, because of the breakfast.

Mr. Pieper Meets With Classes After Texas Trip

Archibald F. Pieper, Assistant Professor in Political Science, returned Sunday, April 27, following a ten-day trip to his home in Taylor, Texas. Receiving word that his father was critically ill, Mr. Pieper left by plane on April 17. He returned by train soon after his father was reported recovering.

EXAM SCHEDULE

Examinations for seniors will begin Wednesday, May 14, at 3:30 and all classes will meet on that day. Dean Edwin Ray Hunter, has announced. Examinations for all students will start Thursday at 3:00 and no classes will meet on that day.

The schedule is as follows:

Seniors Only

Wednes., May 14 b 3:30-5:30
Thursday, May 15 a 8:30-10:30
x 11:00-1:00
All Students
f 3:00-5:00
Friday, May 16 e 8:30-10:30
E, F 11:00-1:00
d 3:00-5:00
Saturday, May 17 D, dx 8:30-10:30
C, cx 11:00-1:00
Monday, May 18 c 8:30-10:30
B, bx 11:00-1:00
All Students but Seniors
x 3:00-5:00
Tuesday, May 19 b 8:30-10:30
a 11:00-1:00
A 3:00-5:00

VESPER CHOIR USES BANQUET MONEY TO PROVIDE NEW MUSIC

Donating sixty-three percent of the usual cost of a banquet to a fund which will buy new music, the college choir members chose to hold their banquet in the YW CA rooms last Tuesday night. They had previously planned to go to the Chilhowee Inn, figuring that it would cost $1.60 for each member. Considering the fact that all choir music was destroyed in the recent chapel fire, they decided to each give 60c for a banquet in the Y rooms and donate the remaining dollar per person to buy music. They collected approximately $63.

The banquet was prepared by some of the choir members; several baked cakes and rolls at various homes in town. Tables from the New Providence Presbyterian Church were used, and local families loaned them the use of china and silverware. The banquet was semi-formal. A program was planned and presented by the group.

Home Ec. Students Entertain Senior Women

Fourteen senior home economics majors acted as hostesses at the open house given Wednesday evening at the practice house to which all women of the senior class were invited. The home economics majors and Miss Gertrude Meiselwitz, professor of home economics, greeted the guests and served light refreshments consisting of punch, cookies, candy, and small cakes. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out.

Home economics majors in charge were Annabelle Gilliam, Pauline Lickteig, June Burns, Doris White, Bobby Jo Reed, Betty Lou Boyatt, Mary Ruth Barber, Eileen Coulter, Christine Wilson, Lottie Lavander, Jo Robinson, Helen Underwood, Jean Magill, and Sarah Enloe.

Dr. Ruth Seabury Speaks In Chapel

Dr. Ruth Isabel Seabury of the Danforth Foundation will be guest speaker at chapel, Wednesday, May 7.

Dr. Seabury of Houston, Massachusetts, called an "Internationalist by Instinct" and one of the most brilliant speakers in American church circles, is in official capacity Educational Secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions, the overseas arm of the congregational Christian Churches. She spends the major part of her time "on the road" filling platform and pulpit engagements, and addressing students and interdenominational groups.

Widely travelled, Dr. Seabury is easily one of America's outstanding Christian women leaders and speakers on Christianity and the program of the Church at home and abroad. She has been for several years a member of the National Preaching Mission of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Clubs To Compete For Skititle, Alumni Trophy

Saturday night, May 10, is the evening scheduled for the contest between the four societies of the College. Theta Epsilon, Bainonian, Alpha Sigma and Athenian will each enact a skit with the approximate length of twenty minutes for each one. There is no special subject to be chosen and each society is keeping the secret of its theme.

A trophy bought by the Alumni Association will be the prize given to the winning skit. Each year the trophy will be handed down in an annual contest. Judges will be business men of Maryville.

Two Sophomores Nominated For Yearbook Editor

Nominations for Student Council members, the Chilhowean editorship, and class officers were held by the three rising classes at their respective meetings last Wednesday morning, April 30.

Meeting in a science lecture room in Fayerweather Hall, the junior class named eight students, Peggy Howell, Constance Hawkins, Anna Sakaizawa, Rebecca Maddox, Robert Butts, George Gillette, Scott McClure, and Wayne McAfee, as nominees for Student Council representatives, four of whom will be elected next week.

Charles Hoglan and Lloyd Anderson were chosen as nominees for the rising senior class president, Eleanor Struble and Tom Horst for vice-president, Joyce Jones and Esther Cornelius for secretary, and Ruth Williams and Virginia McArthur for treasurer.

Carver, Carpenter Are Yearbook Nominees

Mary Elizabeth Carver and Katherine Carpenter were nominated for the CHILHOWEAN editorship at the sophomore meeting in Bartlett Auditorium. Robert Argie and Ray Saunders were chosen as nominees for business manager of the yearbook.

Vera Lusk, Margaret Rock, Rush Lester, and Bernard Welch were named as nominees for the two sophomore vacancies in the Student Council.

Bill Proffitt and Harold Hunter will run for the presidency of the rising junior class, Bette Alverson and Argyle King for the vice-presidency, Jo Campbell and Barbara Eggleston for class secretary, and Raymond Brahams and Dale Motsinger for class treasurer.

Lilian Lytle, Virginia Schwarz, Winnie Schaumberg, Betty Dearing, Bob Watkins, Al Lesnick, Ben Paxton, and Ken Olsen were chosen as Student Council nominees at the freshman class meeting in the gym.

Bill Nish and Glen Knecht were nominated for the presidency, and Martha McClure will run against Roger Cowan for the vice-presidency. Secretary nominees are Mae Merriweather and Tom Lang; treasurer nominees are Sarah Durant and Henry Callaway.

All elections will be held next week.

DR. RALPH W. LLOYD ON BUSINESS TRIP

President Ralph W. Lloyd departed Friday, April 25 on an extended trip combining business and speaking engagements. His itinerary included preaching at the Central Presbyterian Church in Joliet, Illinois, on April 27.

In Philadelphia on April 30, Dr. Lloyd spoke at a luncheon gathering of Presbyterian women, who represented various Presbyterian churches throughout the city. He also addressed a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Department of Church Cooperation and Union on May 1 in the Quaker City.

On Sunday, May 4, Dr. Lloyd will be guest speaker at the First Presbyterian Church in Baltimore, Maryland. This is the home church of the Rev. John H. Gardner, leader of our February meetings this year.

During his absence, President Lloyd will also be transacting business pertaining to the college in New York, Chicago, and Washington, D. C. He expects to return to Maryville on Monday, May 5.

Y.M.C.A.

Bucky Wood, president of the YMCA at the University of Tennessee, will address the YMCA tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 in Bartlett Hall.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 32 NUMBER 29

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

Editor this week - - Lorraine Swift
R. Thomas Parkinson ..... Editor
Mary Elisabeth Hunt ..... Staff Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Janet Miller, Lorraine Swift, Dorothy Vawter
Elsie Onifer

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Grace Gugger, Naomi Hoffman
Ilda Mosby

FRESHMAN APPRENTICES
Craig Fisher, Herbert McCallum
Kenneth Olsen, Smartt Ramsey, Barbara Wallin,
Mildred Leake Leslie Webb

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF
Ruth Williams ..... Business Manager

JUNIOR ASSISTANTS
Katherine Johnson Mary Jane Long

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANT
Lillian Law
FRESHMAN ASSISTANT
Bob Watkins

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879.

Represented for National Advertising by
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1947

REMEMBER THESE PEOPLE—

In view of the fact that newly elected officers and nominees are receiving enthusiastic welcomes to their offices, it seems only fitting that we should remember those who have already served and have served well. There are offices on our campus which require a sense of responsibility, and last year's student body was wise in choosing the leaders of this year.

STUDENT COUNCIL PRESIDENT

Heading the list of retiring officers is John Shell, Student Council president. Elected to this position of leadership last spring, Shell has done a good job as president of the executive body of the students. The Student Council as a whole deserves credit for successfully continuing various activities. Shell, as an individual, deserves credit for leading the Council.

YWCA PRESIDENT

YWCA president Ruth King Wood must be commended for stepping into the shoes of another senior, Judy Turk, who graduated Christmas. Ruth King had the decided disadvantage of finishing a job begun by someone else, but what other person would have been more sincere or could have done the job more efficiently?

YMCA PRESIDENT

YMCA president Fred Wilson's position was an added task to an already over-loaded schedule, for Wilson entered Maryville with the present junior class and is graduating with the present senior class. Fred, however, did not overlook the requirements of a leader of the YMCA.

WSGA PRESIDENT

Jessie Lou Brunson admittedly was elected to a difficult office in being president of the WSGA. Hers was the duty of reprimanding other girls, bearing the brunt of personal feelings, and fighting for the right to introduce her ideas. Hers was the honor of being capable to hold such a position.

CLASS PRESIDENTS

Class presidents Harvey Overton, Max House, Jim Black, and Tucker Pinner have had individual tasks which have varied from being general handymen to giving speeches before the classes. The classes thank you, fellows.

CHILHOWEAN AND ECHO

The CHILHOWEAN and ECHO editorships are mentioned last not because they are least in importance, but because the writer is hardly in a position to commend either Elsie Onifer or Tommy Parkinson, Elsie being her roommate and Tommy her editor-boss. Surely, though, every student realizes the hours of work their respective editorships have required.

These have been officers of the past, to them our humble thanks. To those of next year our best wishes.

THERE'S A WILL AND A WAY—

Hearing a story like the one about the Vesper Choir Banquet makes one feel that a true college spirit has taken a step forward They held the banquet last Monday night in the YWCA rooms, but the reason why they held it there is the real story.

Sometimes we forget that the choir, like other organizations on campus, is under a definite handicap, for their music was all burned in the chapel fire, but the group could never be accused of taking the "it can't be helped" attitude.

Each year the choir has a banquet, and this year it was planned for the Chilhowee Inn. As is written in the news story on the front page, they decided that it would cost each person $1.60, which in itself is not much to spend on a banquet, but which, nevertheless, could be reduced. It was reduced by the choir, for they voted to hold their banquet in the YWCA rooms where it would cost only 60c per person.: then each member donated the remaining dollar they would have spent to a fund which will be used to replace the music library of the choir. They collected a total of $63 this way, and all agree that they had a better time than they would have had at another place.

Yes, hearing a story like the one about the Vaper Choir Banquet gives you a good feeling

Just Being "Nosy"

BY JANET MILLER

"I have returned", said Douglas A. MacArthur.

Found that the advent of the bike in 1880 produced a demand for good roads. Then cars took over and during the war years cars departed from the good roads and college boys had no use for their thumbs. But suddenly there were no longer any college boys even if they had thumbs, which leads us to conclude that good roads will soon be obsolescent because college boys with thumbs will use airplanes.

Did you know that:

Money talks— — — so do professors — — — but we never heard of money talking any one to sleep. How 'bout it, King?

or

A sermon is the longest distance between two points, (no doubt the ministerial association will immediately vote us in as an honorary member)

or

(FOR WOMEN ONLY)

A man admires the woman who makes him think but he keeps away from her; he likes the woman who makes him laugh; he loves the girl who hurts him; BUT he marries the woman who flatters him!

or

Homer and Charlie are the men behind the type for the Echo.

or

Poison Ivy is the newest itch on campus. If you don't believe it, ask Francis Ashby or Mary Jane Long. What a spotty tan you have, girls!

or

Mohammed once said and we quote, "Woman is man's chief calamity."
(We'd like proof of that statement, please.)

or

Jim Torrey spoke about a relation of his in a systematics class recently. (Hint: The topic was Henry Wallace) Reason this seemingly uninteresting fact is being printed is that Jim doesn't seem to want it known that he's related. Such loyalty.

or

Art Haaf said it. "My girl and I had a falling out but I got some Fitch's and restored everything." Powerful stuff, that Fitch's.

or

That Maryville college has accepted a negro student. Who? Has anyone seen Bea Siebold recently?

or

that 5 women, 8 men and Don Cummings who innocently admitted he was only 17 instead of the required 19 years) have taken that Instructors Course this week.

Do ya, do ya, do ya, mister HUH? ?

Do ya know all that, Do ya, do ya, do ya, HUH? ?

Max Guinn doesn't appreciate being "stood up" when he drives all the way from Knoxville to play tennis at 8:30 a. m. on any Monday morning.

Tom Cecil has recently acquired a Scottie. Arf, arf.

Might as well start publicity early. Wonder who the Chilhowean-Girl-of-Next-Year will be?

Bob Bird and Don Lehman buy peanuts at 30c a throw and then feed them to Elaine Kern. Which reminds us, Why does Don spend his spare time shaving and changing shirts? ?

If anyone thinks Howard Davis had a sudden attack of bowlegs—guess again. It's just those bell-bottoms he's been wearing recently.

THE ORCHID DEPARTMENT:

Professor Walker has been at Maryville just 18 months short of a half century. January 3, 1899, he first entered the college as a student.

Flash:

Now that the war is over, we can safely print the fact that Evelyn McGaw's relations are paperhangers.

Attention Mrs. Black!

The following poem was written by Jim Henry, biology major (with apologies to Emily Dickinson)

Who has seen an enzyme?
Neither I nor you,
But when we masticate our food
An enzyme passes through.

Ginger Clabough and Tom Eckert (who else) went looking for a donkey in the pouring rain Wednesday afternoon. What school spirit.

People who go fishing around here usually don't seem to catch anything. Poorly stocked streams? Exception to this rule is Joe Grubb who caught 60 fish in one sitting last Saturday. What five and dime store fish pool was he in?

John Dillener told this joke:

An Englishman once came over to this country and stayed at the Waldorf-Astoria while he was here. First night he went down and ordered a meal which was simply delicious. For dessert, he noticed Washington Pie on the menu so he decided to try it. They brought him a gorgeous cherry pie. When he went back to England, he found it necessary to return to the U. S. again for another short business trip, so he again went to the Waldof and presently ordered a similar meal which was as good as the first one had been. For dessert he didn't notice any Washington Pie so he called the waiter, who called the headwaiter who called the chef who said it would be very simple to fix the man up with his Washington Pie. Lo and behold, he got it, but when he bit into it he found it was chocolate, not cherry. So he called the waiter, who called the headwaiter, who called the chef who called the manager. Eventually the difficulty was straightened out, but the manager, in order to clear everything up, said to the Englishman, "But, sir, when you ordered, you should have specified whether you wanted George Washington Pie or Booker T. Washington Pie."

The water drained from a steam radiator is just as palatable a beverage as a cup of coffee ordinarily prepared by housewives in this country.

—Miss Meiselwitz

I believe in vigorous physical exercise— — — for other people. —Coach Davis.

He who hesitates is bossed.

—Dean Hunter

Persistance eventually won and the weather for May Day was clear, finally.

All's well that ends well—But don't fall in.

TALK OF THE WEEK . . .

JEAN ALMY

Letters To The Editor

SUBJECT: Request Publication in the Highland Echo
TO: The Editor, Highland Echo

At the junior class meeting held after chapel on April 30, which was called for the express purpose of nominating future class officers for the senior class of next year, was a demonstration of political pressure not seen on the Maryville College campus for a number of years. The present class officers undertook the power to make themselves a nominating board without the sanction or the approval of the class as a whole. Although this action is not mentioned in the constitution as being illegal it is felt that undue power was taken by those persons in question and was not constitutionally correct as no sanction is given in the constitution for it.

It is felt that in considering offices of the importance of the senior class there should be no questions as to the method used in nominating those persons qualified. The idea of having a nominating board or committee, if properly chosen, is a good one, but the method used in the case in question is not justifiable in any way whatsoever. If a nominating board or committee is to be used, proper sanction should be made by amendment to the constitution and the by-laws of the student body. Otherwise, no action should be undertaken in the future in this manner by any individual or group of the college.

If the student government of Maryville College is to be effective and worthwhile, there should be no pressure groups or political manuveurs made to make it something on a lower level than it should be. It is hoped that in the future nominations of any nature on the campus, there will be no such action taken as was demonstrated at the Junior class meeting.

Let's keep our elections free from pressure groups and corrupt politics.

Respectfully submitted,
Sam H. Pemberton.

Editor's note: Investigations prove that there are no provisions made in the constitution for nominations; however, it is believed that the parties involved were unconscious that they were committing an act which could not meet with approval. One officer admitted that she was not aware that a nominating committee existed. It is a regretable incident and one which should be corrected with an amendment to the constitution.

Because of popular use nominations have always been from the floor, as was done at both the freshmen and sophomore meetings.

STUDENT COUNCIL

At the Wednesday night meeting of the Student Council, four Town Night violations were reported. The violations were all for loitering, and the penalties were applied.

It was announced that the Council-proposed method of electing the Chilhowean editors and business managers has proved successful.

May 13, will be the last regular town night.

STUDENT VOLS

Student Vols will sponsor a hymn sing Sunday night after vespers in the Y rooms. There will be no speaker at the meeting, Marty Scanlon, program chairman announced.

The group plan to hold their installation of officers on Sunday night, May 18 at the final meeting of the year.

PARK THEATRE

Monday Only, May 5
Bert Gordon and Ella Mae Morse
in
"How Doo You Do"

Tuesday-Wednesday
May 6-7
Robert Alda, Audrea King in
"The Beast With Five Fingers"

PRE-MED CLUB

Members of the Pre-Med club left today shortly after lunch for a visit to St. Mary's Hospital in Knoxville.

The club will hold a meeting Thursday night for the purpose of electing officers for next year, Jean Tarwater, president announced.

Capitol

Monday-Tuesday, May 5-6
Tidal Wave of Entertainment!
Edward G. Robinson, Loretta Young, Orson Welles
"The Stranger"
with Philip Merivale, Richard Long, Billy House. Directed by Orson Welles.
Also: Comedy and Latest News Events.

Wednesday-Thursday, May 7-8
Brian Donlevys'
"An American Romance"
with Ann Richards, Walter Abel, John Qualen, Horace McNally, J. M. Kerrigan. In technicolor.
Also, Comedy and Latest News

Friday-Saturday, May 9-10
A thrill-stampede on the Arizona range!
"Code Of The West"
James Warren, John Laurens, Debra Alden
Plus: Comedy and Serial

Monday-Tuesday, May 12-13
Strange! Strange! Their irresistible love. Dark. . . Dark. . . their in escapable fears!
Ingrid Bergman, Gregory Peck in Alfreds Hitchcock's
"Spellbound"
with John Emery, Michael Chevhov. Also Comedy and latest news

What About Your Winter Clothes?

You are going home soon—so why not be smart and store your clothes. Save money on shipping them home. Safe storage for your clothes always.

Call us soon. Telephone No. 10

Sutton Transfer Co.

Thanks Mom . . .

There isn't any way to say in words all the things your heart thinks about her. But you can tell her with a bouquet of fragrant roses or spicy carnations. . . She'll probably understand what you mean—the way mothers always do understand.

Fox Florist

See our Agent
JOHN SHELL

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

Hail To The Men Who Gave of Their Best!

To the graduating men of the senior class who have given of their best on the athletic fields of conquest for their ol' alma mammy, go our sincere thanks and best wishes. We can think of no time more suitable nor of any better place to make recognition of the loyalty and sacrifice these men have exhibited in upholding the Orange and Garnet Standard. Since the spring of 1942 when the last class of pre-war athletes were graduated, very few athletes have donned the caps and gowns. The lettermen who are graduaitng this year have had their college work interrupted by the bugle call of war. Some of the men mentioned in this column were not accepted for general military service, and consequently remained in school during the years deplete of inter-collegiate sports at Maryville. OUR HATS ARE OFF TO THESE GRADUATING ORANGE AND GARNET PERFORMERS!

Down The List . . .

Going down the list of the graduating class of 1947, we first find the name of Donald B. Campbell. Donald B. was a football manager during two years of his work at Maryville and lettered in football last fall. He was one of the eighteen seniors who completed his graduation requirements in December of last year. William Gerald Cover, a man whose interest in sports has centered around the intramural activities of the college, was a member of a snazzy little team that made a try at baseball last spring when first-line baseball material was lacking at Maryville.

Basketball and Tennis Lettermen in Class of '47

William Abbott (Squire) Kemp, who is better known as "Sammy" now, entered Maryville with the class of 1946. After service in the air corps, he re-entered Maryville in the second semester of last year. Squire holds two letters in basketball—one for the season of a year ago when a valiant squad, despite the handicap of a short training period and the lack of sufficient quantity and quality of basketball material, managed to make a semi-successful go in basketball. Squire's second letter is for the past season's dependable work as a reserve. Kemp played on last year's tennis team, and is a member of the squad this year. Robert Alison (Bob) Hunter, originally of the class of '45, who also finished his scholastic requirements last December, has already been missed on the tennis courts this spring. Bob earned two letters in tennis and last spring he was the coach and number one man on the tennis squad.

Right Guard . . . Until an Injury Hit

Frank Kramer, a potential right guard for the Highlander forward wall of last season's football team, was kept out of action because of a knee injury which was a hang-over from spring training in 1946. Frank entered Maryville in the fall of '32 and immediately began to make a place on the Scottie football eleven.

Wingman Charlie Pepper, Star Performer

Charles Edward Pepper, Jr., the Wausau, Wisconsin man, played his third season at wing-back last fall. Charlie was a valuable man in the Highlander backfield and will long be remembered by his teammates for his running and pass-snagging ability, and fo rhis sagacious defensive work. Pepper, with the aid of a strategic block by Garner, took the laurels for the victory over Sewanee with his 70 yard run after intercepting a pass to make the only score of the game and keep the 1946 Scots undefeated in their regular season. Pepper has been a man of outstandng ability on the Highlander teams. To attest to this fact, let us look at a few of his Echo press notices of previous years. (The first, entitled "Plenty of Pepper in Pepper" is from the Oct. 25, 1941 Echo by sportswriter Ted Pratt.)

"Charlie Pepper, our newest fleet-footed wingback, has had an interesting pre-college history. Charlie was graduated from Antigo High School in Antigo, Wisconsin, and took an extension course the following year from the University of Wisconsin. He played only one year of football at Antigo High, lettering at end as a senior. This in itself was an achievement because a broken foot forced him to remain on the sidelines for half the season. . . ."

(In the Sept. 26, and Oct. 3 editions of 1942 we read:) ". . . Charlie, one of the best ball-handlers and runners of last year's squad. . . Speedy Charlie Pepper, Coach Honaker's '41 find. . . ."

Robert Donald Hersberger finished his second year on the varsity team last year as a reserve guard. He has two letters in football on the Orange and Garnet eleven.

Managers in Graduation Class

Harvey Reed Overton, the genial manager of the past football season takes his leave of Maryville this spring. Harvey entered Maryville with the class of 1943. Another manager to be graduated is Ralph Thomas (Tommy) Parkinson, who served as basketball manager this year. William James (Bill) Sidner, the current manager of Coach Honaker's baseball nine, also is a member of the Class of 1947.

John Rogerville, a two-year letterman at right tackle on the '40 and '41 teams, entered Maryville with the class of 1944. John did not go out for varsity football last year.

Scots Defeat Emory and Henry, 9-8

The Highlanders won the closest game of the season yesterday in a ten inning tilt with Emory and Henry on the home diamond, 9-8. Leon Berrong, who took over the mound in the first part of the first half of the eighth inning, was the winning pitcher, allowing Emory and Henry only three hits. James, the fast-ball expert who entered the game for Emory in the sixth, allowed Maryville six runs and four hits. Maryville hammered out a total of nine hits and Emory batted out ten.

Maryville started off the second inning on the low side of a 2-0 score. Batting out two singles, the Scotties sent across two runs. Hamil started off the hitting with a double and then stole third. Then Enloe walked and both men scored on a single by Honaker. The side retired with men on first and second.

In the next inning, Rock was safe at first when the center fielder errored. Then Boring hit a single, sending Rock home, but was caught trying to stretch it to a double. Hamil singled and Stinnett walked. They died on second and third when Enloe grounded out.

The Scotties didn't score again until Leon Berrong went across when Hillman, who took over the pitching for Emory in the second, walked him in. Leon had singled, moved to second on an error on the pitcher, and advanced to third on a walk.

Coming out of a hole in the seventh, the Scots came across with three more runs to tie up the game. Stinnett, who singled, and Enloe, who took first on an error, both scored on McJunkin's well-placed sacrifice bunt. Honaker, who walked, advanced to third and scored on a wild pitch, making the score 7-7.

ed and stolen second. The catcher played on him and he went to

In the eighth another run went across when Boring scored on a double by Hamil, tying up the game 8-8. Boring had taken first on a fielder's choice and stolen second. He took third on an overthrow at second by the catcher.

Since the score was still tied in the ninth, the game was extended to the tenth inning. Maryville's big moment came when Hamil drove Boring in with a single with two away. Boring had walk-

(Continued on back page)

M.C. CINDERMEN CAP SEASON WITH 75-53 TRIUMPH OVER T.P.I.

Sweeping eight firsts in fourteen events, the Scottie cindermen ran past T.P.I. 75-53 at Cookeville last Saturday in the second meet of the season, a comeback from their previous defeat at the hands of U. T. Hap Brahams clinched his high point title with two firsts in the hurdle events.

Maryville was, as usual, outdone in the field events, and excelled in the running events, taking first honors in all but the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes. Hap Brahams seized the hurdles in 16.1 and 25.1 s., piling a total of twenty points for the season. Kay placed just behind him in both events to raise his total to ten. In the mile and two mile Gillette and Proffitt placed one and two, with Seymore and Lambert placing one and two in the 440. In the 100 and 220, Brick Brahams and Connell placed two and three behind Tech's Zegarske, who produced the best performance of the meet with a 9.9 hundred. In the half mile M.C. placed one-two three with Robarts, Chambers and Kiger.

The mile relay team composed of Seymore, Saunders, Lambert and Brahams, trounced T. P. I. in a 4:38.4 time.

Ammons and Fisher produced the only two firsts in the field events, M. C. surrendering all three places in the shotput, and most of the seconds. Ammons hurled the javelin for a 151' 10" winning throw, and Fisher cleared the bar at 5'10" to capture first in the high jump. Hargis tied third in the same event, and copped third in the broad jump, while Garner garnered a third in the discus and Walker a third in the pole vault.

Summary of first places

(Either one first place or a total of eight points are required for a letter. The names of the lettermen will be released next week.)

Shot—Bussel (Tech.) Distance: 41'4"

Discus—Vukelich (Tech.) Distance: 117'5"

Broad Jump—Brown (Tech.) Distance 19'6"

Javelin—Ammons (M.C.) 151'10"

High Jump—Fisher (M.C.) 5'10"

Pole Vault—Brown, Crowley (Tech.) 10'3"

Mile—Gillet (M.C.) 4:48.9

440 Yd.—Seymore (M.C.) .54

110 Yd.—Zegarske (Tech). 9.9

120 H.H.—Brahams (M.C.) 16.1

880 Yd.—Robarts (M.C.) 2:12.5

220 Yd. Dash—Zegarske (Tech) 23

220 L.H.—Brahams (M.C.) 26:1.5

NETMEN CHOSEN FOR VARSITY SQUAD

Due to the shortness of the season and delays caused by bad weather, Coach Phillips was forced to arbitrarily assign the first seven men in the elimination brackets to the tennis squad in order to be ready for the L.M.U. meet on May 10. Squad members thus selected are: Kemp, Cummings, Hunter, Dinges, Fisher, Wilson and Broyles. They will use the Memorial courts for practice every afternoon, and by playoffs will determine the team to be used in matches.

The team as it stands seems very adequate, and with few changes would undoubtedly be the team selected if playoffs had been completed. Kemp, Hunter and Dinges all lettered last year, while Cummings was men's intramural tennis champ last fall, and Wilson his runner up. Broyles and Fisher have both performed commendably in the pre-season eliminations.

ATHENIAN

Thirty or more couples will embark at seven o'clock tonight to attend the Athenian Banquet at Giles Tea Room on the new Knoxville Highway. The dinner is to be entirely informal. Reservations still obtainable, Tom Scott announced.

Highlanders Win Over Hiwassee, 7-5

The Scotties chalked up another victory last Saturday over the Hiwassee Tigers, 7-5, when they traveled to Madisonville for the fourth tilt of the season with that team. McJunkin, the winning pitcher, hurled the first six innings, allowing the Tigers six hits. In the seventh frame Jernigan took over the mound, allowing the opposing team four more hits, bringing the Hiwassee total to ten. Gordon, the Tiger hurler, allowed Maryville nine hits.

The Highlanders started off the run-race in the third frame when Reynolds crossed the plate, after walking, on an error at third. Then Buckley, who singled, scored on a single by Rock who was caught off second a moment later.

The M. C. nine chalked up two more runs in the fifth. McJunkin knocked in Spears, who had walked, with a double and scored later on another double by K. Berrong. Berrong died at third.

In the next inning two more

(Continued on page 4)

INTRAMURAL DOPE

BY SMARTT RAMSEY

Bartlett Wins First

There was great rejoicing in the tepees of the Bartlett tribe late Monday afternoon, for they had emerged from a close contest with their first victory, 11-10. The Powerhouse, who has yet to win a game, remained scoreless through the first four innings; its delayed action exploded in the last three frames for 10 runs, but Bartlett was one better.

Rettke was the offensive gun for Bartlett with four runs, two of them being the only four baggers of the game. He began the scoring in the first inning and connected for his first homer in the second, while Lehman crossed the plate for a third run against none for the hapless Powerhouse crew. Rettke's other home came in the fifth.

In the pitching department Bartlett's Barbour and Marvin for the Powerhouse each allowed only one walk. Errors were almost the same, Powerhouse committing five and Bartlett seven.

Rebels Smash Wolves

In a close ball game Monday afternoon, the Rebels overcame the Wolves by a score of 12-8. After an uneventful first inning, House opened the scoring in the second frame on an error by the Rebel shortstop. In the latter half of the inning, the Rebels forged ahead with three runs to stay in front the rest of the afternoon.

Rebel hurler B. Bell struck out one man, walked none, and allowed thirteen hits. Cardella, pitcher for the Wolves, struck out two men, walked five and yielded seventeen hits. The Wolves made one error, the Rebels six.

Moonshiners Edge Bobby Sox

With the score tied at the end of the fifth, the Bobby Sox had high hopes of defeating the Moonshiners. In the sixth and last inning, however, the Moonshiners brought in four runs to the Bobby Sox' one, making the scoreboard read 11-8 for the Moonshiners.

The first frame saw the Bobby Sox score a lone run while the Moonshiners brought in three.

With the second inning came a scoring streak for the Bobby Sox and they crossed the home plate five times to go into the lead and stay there until the last inning.

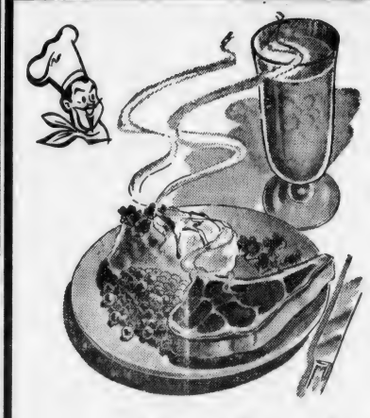
Errors were low with the Bobby Sox making the only one during the game. Laughmiller, Moonshiner hurler, struck one man out, walked three and yielded twelve hits. Newell, Bobby Sox pitcher struck out three men, walked seven and allowed eleven hits.

Eight Balls Crush Misfits

Establishing their number one position in the ranks more firmly, the powerful Eight Balls rode over the Misfits 10-6, Tuesday afternoon. Last week the Eight Balls nine crushed the Echo team which is tied with the Misfits for second place; they also won a shut-out victory from the Bobby Sox.

The Misfits started the ball rolling with two scores in the first inning. Although they added four more in the second, the Eight Balls made them eat their dust with seven runs, also in the second inning. Throughout the game, the Eight Ballers led the way.

English hurled for the Misfits, yielding four hits, walking nine men and striking out six. Ammons, for the Eight Balls, yielded five hits, walked four men and struck out four.



Y.W.C.A.

YWCA meeting at 1:15 Sunday, May 4, will be a senior program. Mary Ruth Barber and Ann Anderson will be the speakers.

WHITE STAR LINES, INC.

Bus Schedule

Busses leave for Knoxville on hour and the half-hour from 5:00 A. M. until 10:30 P. M. The ones leaving on hour go via New Highway; the bus leaving on half-hour go old highway.

For Good Food Any Time---

Come In And Order

Fried Chicken
Pork Chops
Broiled Steaks
Hamburgers
Sandwiches

Coulter's Restaurant

For a Real Holiday HAVE A PICNIC

Spring has Arrived and We have Just the Food for that Picnic here at--

M. M. ELDER CASH CARRY STORE

Refrigerator Given To Home Ec. Dept.

A new eight cubic foot gas refrigerator was installed in the home economics department Thursday morning which made the eleventh new piece of equipment which the department has secured this year. The refrigerator was given by the Tennessee Gas Company under the company's educational plan.

The educational plan, which is now being used by several major companies, is based upon the following principals. Because of the war and scarcity of materials, people have not had an opportunity to know very much about the kinds of appliances which are being made at the present time, and which are to go on the market in the near future. In order to introduce their products, the companies have placed equipment in many schools and colleges in order that the future home-makers may have an opportunity to use them and learn the qualities which they have. These gifts will be serviced and in many cases, replaced with newer models free of charge. By other plans, the department purchases the appliances at a reduced rate with the same provisions.

Other new equipment in the department include a Hoover vacuum cleaner for use in the practice house. It is the latest model on the market and will be replaced when newer models appear. It was secured through the manufacturer.

A new Tappon divided top gas range which has doubly insulated glass doors for the oven was given by the Tennessee Gas Co. and will also be replaced later.

The Refrigeration Corporation sold two refrigerators to the college at half price, and agreed to replace them annually for the next five years. One is a nine cubic foot size and the other, which is seven cubic feet, is now being used in the practice house.

Six apartment size stoves were purchased outright at the end of last semester.

"We hope to obtain a combination dish and clothes washer, and some other small equipment which is needed under this plan", Miss Gertrude Meiselwitz, professor of home economics stated.

25 "M" Club Members Leave Today For Hike

Saturday noon, after lunch, about 25 members of "M" Club including the four neophytes, went to the mountains for the annual hike at this time of year. For the past week, the four neophytes have been initiated on campus, and the trip to the mountains culminated this. As a part of the initiation, the new members must do a good part of the cooking and cleaning-up. The group is going to Camp Chewassee and plans to return Sunday evening so that they can do some mountain climbing while they are there. And naturally, with 25 hungry women, plenty of good food is being taken. The new members are: Beatrice Siebold, Faye Robinson, Lillian Lytle, and Virginia Wood.

ART CLUB

Art club members are going on a sketching hike Wednesday, May 7. The group will meet at Anderson Hall at 3:30 p. m.

Elections of Camera Club Announced Thurs.

Camera Club held its final meeting on Thursday, May 1st, in Thaw Hall. Election of officers was as follows:

President, Charles Naundorf; Vice President, Carroll Stegall; Secretary, Virginia Peters; Treasurer, Warren King.

Reproduction Of Art Displayed In Anderson

An exhibition of Venetian masterpiece reproductions will be on display in room 23, Anderson Hall, from May 5-15 on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1:30-4:30 p. m. This display gives a survey of Venetian work from the date 15th through the 18th centuries. This exhibition was organized by the American Federation of Arts. The display is sponsored by the Art club.

GLEE CLUB-CHOIR HAYRIDE BECOMES THREE MILE HIKE

The Glee Club and Girls' Choir Hay Ride planned for Monday night, instead became a hay walk. As soon as the party learned that the wagon would not be available, they started for the picnic grounds for folk dancing and games. Then by way of the three-mile loop the young people met their rendezvous at the college farm for refreshments and singing. Bob Connel sang "The Things We Did Last Summer", accompanied by Sandy Smith at the accordian.

Student Body Meeting

The student body meeting scheduled to be held this week for the purpose of discussing amendments to the constitution of the athletic association was postponed. The tentative date set is May 14.

SCOTS DEFEAT

(Continued from Page Three)

third on an overthrow. Hamil had a three-and-one count when he drove out his single.

Emory and Henry led off the scoring in the second when they sent across two runs. Oakes, who took first when Enloe errored, was driven home by Blankenship's double. Blankenship scored on a single by Stowers who died at first.

In a fifth inning rally, the Emory team took the lead, 5-4, with three more runs. Drake and Arnold both scored on a single by Atkins who scored on a double by Oakes. Drake, Atkins, and Brown were each credited with hits.

Sending across two more runs in the seventh, Emory and Henry tied up the game. Brown and Oakes both scored on a single by Blankenship. They both took first on errors. After Maryville tied them in the last half, they took back the lead in the eighth, 8-7. Arnold scored on a hit by Oakes.

The Emory nine hit two more singles in the ninth and tenth, but failed to score.

Malone started the game on the mound for Maryville and pitched five and one-third innings. He allowed E. and H. six hits, striking out none, walking two, and throwing one wild pitch. With men on second and third, McJunkin took over the mound. He allowed Emory one hit, striking out five, walking four, and passing one on a wild throw. Then Leon Berrong took over with men on first and second. He allowed Emory three more hits, striking out three men and walking none.

Stowers, the starting Emory moundsman, allowed Maryville four hits, walking two, fanning three, and hurling one wild pitch. Hilman took over in the middle of the third. He allowed the Scots only one hit, walked four, and fanned two. James, who pitched from the last of the sixth on, allowed three hits, three strike outs, and five walks.

HIGHLANDERS WIN

(Continued from page 3)

runs went across. Hamil scored on a double by Spears after walking. Spears went home on a single by Spears went home on a single by Reynolds who was caught at third, retiring the side.

The last Maryville score came in the seventh frame when Neff, who went in for Spears at left field, crossed the fourth bag on a single by Rock, who died at second. In the ninth the Scots had men on second and third but failed to score.

Hiwassee sent across two runs in the third inning, too, tying up the ball game. The second man at bat had driven out a double and then was forced home with one of his teammates when McJunkin walked three in a row. Three men died on base. The Tigers scored again in the fourth, taking the lead, when Henry, who took first on an error, scored on a single by Caton. They lost the lead in the next inning.

Rolling out two more runs in the eighth and ninth, the Tigers fell short by two runs of saving the game.

DISC CLUB REQUEST PROGRAM HELD FOR SENIORS THURSDAY

Ending ten years of programs, the Disc Club honored the senior class by playing request numbers for them Thursday evening, May 1, in Bartlett Hall. Chopin's "Polanaise" was the first number, and was commented upon by Martha Scanlon. Commentator for the next two numbers was Alma Lancaster. They were "Children's Prayer" by Humperdinck, and "The Crisp Cottage" from the Hansel and Gretel Suite. Miss Scanlon was also commentator for the last selection, "Rhapsody in Blue" by Gershwin.

Thomas Horst, a member of the Disc Club Committee, closed the program with the hope that the aim to further appreciation of music had been met, and also stated that if anyone had suggestions for next year's programs they would be appreciated.

Members of the committee are Betty Saint, Gelolo Kell, Mary Ruth Barbour, Charlie Huffman, John Ferris, and Thomas Horst.

NEWS CAPSULES . . .

(Continued From Page One)

continues in full force over most of the country. The agreements reached call for increases of 24 a week. The NFTW, which is the workers' union bargaining agency has reduced its demands from $12 to $6 a week increase.

Weekly Bible Verse

"For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works, lest any man should boast." Ephesians 2:8-9.

Crawford & Caldwell
HARDWARE
Phone No. 1 Maryville

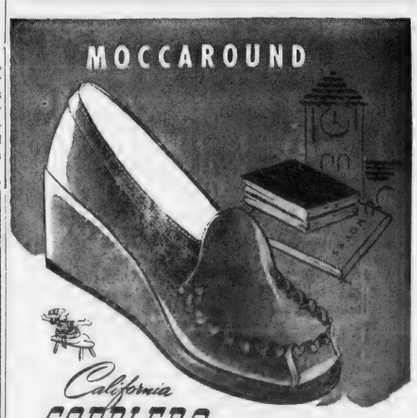
NORTON HARDWARE CO.
Phone 18

LET US MAKE YOUR PICTURE—
For that gift on Mothers Day
THE WEBB STUDIO

WE ARE OPEN ON TOWN NIGHT——
So drop by with the crowd for a coke and Sandwich.
C&L CAFE

Necessary for shaving comfort is the right kind of lather and after-shave lotion. The brands we have are applauded everywhere as being really good. He too will applaud . . . especially you for being so up-to-date on good shaving.
THE PARK DRUG STORE

Birthday Cakes
With the name and decorations in any color desired.
LYNCH BAKERY



Just the Right GIFTS for MOTHER
PARKS-BELK CO.

Remember Mother on Her Day with Stationery, a Box of Candy or costume Jewelry from
BYRNE DRUG COMPANY

Mother's Day
Mom's really "Queen For a Day" on Mother's Day. She won't be wearing ermine trimmed roses, but she'll be just as regal with a corsage of Orchids or Gardenias or Roses. . . . And for added touch of thoughtfulness send her a dozen long-stemmed roses.
Wire Flowers For Mother's Day
---At---
Clark's Flowers

California COBBLERS
"MOCCAROUND"
The Cobbler Classic . . . . Hand-braided like the Indian Maiden's. . . . and like hers, done in gentle-feeling elk, in Red. $6.95
Sizes 4 to 9.
PROFFITT'S
Smart Shoes Main Floor

JAMES R. MEMORIAL LIBRARY MAY 19 1947 MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE WEDNESDAY

The Highland Echo

Z 703

ANNUAL ELECTIONS ISSUE

VOLUME 32 — MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE. MAY 16, 1947 — NUMBER 30

ANNA SAKAIZAWA ELECTED PRESIDENT OF W. S. G. A.

Meriweather, Jo Smith Chosen House Chairmen

Anna Sakaizawa, junior psychology major from Chicago, Illinois, has been elected president of Women's Student Government for next year. This office also includes that of house chairman of Pearson's Hall. Miss Sakaizawa wil succeed Jessie Lou Brunson. She is somewhat acquainted with the procedures and problems of the office because she was secretary of the co-ordinating committee as a sophomore. She is a member of student council, student-faculty senate, Workshop, and is secretary ofr Y.W.C.A. next year. Miss Sakaizawa says that although the responsibility of her new position scares her she will do her best with the cooperation of every one to help her.

Mae Meriweather has been elected house chairman for Baldwin Hall next year. Miss Meriweather is from Montgomery, Alabama and is one of the Nu Gamma Sigma leaders for next year.

Memorial Hall has elected Betty Jo Smith as house chairman. Miss Smith is from Greeneville, Tennessee.

E. Struble Elected French Club Prexy

Eleanor Struble was elected president of the French club at the picnic meeting held Thursday night at Al Dockter's home. Other new officers are Barbara Blair, vice president; Rose Huskey, secretary; Ruth Plyler, treasurer; Harold Henry and Violet Summerville, program chairmen.

M. C. SENIORS VISIT ALUMINUM PLANT

Members of the senior class and certain of the college officals visited the Aluminum Company's fabricating plant in Alcoa Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

Students went via bus to the plant where they were met by Mr. W. E. Roberts and other company officials who distributed the passes and booklets and then conducted the tour through the building. Beginning at the offices, the seniors saw the quantometer used for the analysis of all metals made in the plant. The machine, which is the first of its kind, works on the theory of light rays.

The fabricating plant's processes begin with the remelting of the pigs and end with the packing and shipping of the finished metal sheets.

The trip took about two hours.

This is the first year that the senior class has made this trip since the war started, Harvey Overton, class president stated. Arrangements were made by the class officers, Dean Frank McClelland, and Mr. Roberts.

TOTAL ENROLLMENT INCREASED FOR '48

Next year's student body enrollment will be somewhat increased over that of last year, Dean Frank D. McClelland said recently. Enrollment of women students was temporarily closed the middle of February and others have already paid their $10.00 deposit in hope of being accepted at a later date.

At present no other women can be accepted because of the limited room accommodations. To date 49 women have been placed on the waiting list, but they will be enrolled only in case some of the accepted students decide against returning or if present students fail to pay their $10.00 deposit before this semester is over.

The enrollment of men students has not yet been closed; however, there probably will not be more than fifteen vacancies in Carnegie Hall. Dean McClelland said they expect to accept 175 new men students who will room off-campus if suitable rooms can be found.

Out of the 329 new men who have made application to enter Maryville, 96 already have been accepted.

MC Societies Enter Skit Contest For Tonight's Program

Tonight at 8:00 in the gym the social committee will present the last of its scheduled programs of the year. The program will be a skit contest between the four societies on Maryville campus, each skit being approximately 20 minutes in length. The society which is judged to have the best skit will be awarded the Alumni Memorial Award which was donated by Ralph Reed, a former alumnus of Maryville College. The judges will be three business men from town. Refreshments will be served after the program.

"It is hoped that the award will become a perpetual one and that the societies will hold another contest next spring to determine next year's winner of the trophy", said Robert Butts, Social Committee chairman.

Bainonian will present an original comedy revealing some present-day problems of interest to college students. The committee for the program is composed of Mildred Miller and Lillian Lytle. Bainonian members on the program are Harriet McKean, Becky Walton, Ginger Clabough, Kay Stout, Barbara Eggleston, Lois Thomas, Footsie Housch, Mae Merriwether, Ruth Heaps, Marjorie Prall, Ginny McArthur, Wilma Davis, and Betty Seagraves. Winnie Schaumberg is in charge of costumes and Ilda Mosby and Hedy Nabholz are in charge of properties. The program committee has but one statement to make, "Any resemblance of these characters to Maryville College students is purely intentional."

Athenian members who are participating in their skit are Jim Black, Rush Lester, Ray Swartzbach, Julian Gresham, Bill Nish, Ben Paxton, Tim Sykes, Bob Watkins, Ray Packard, Walter Dean, Al Lesnick, Smartt Ramsey, and Tom Eckert. Bill Nish is in charge of the program.

Theta Epsilon will present an original skit. Margie Newland and Dorothy Stater are in charge of the program.

Alpha Sigma will also present a skit. Practically all the members of Alpha Sig will participate.

President Lloyd Fetes Seniors

President and Mrs. Ralph W. Lloyd entertained approximately one hundred members of the graduating class at their home at the traditional senior breakfast Friday, May 9. Breakfast was served at 7:30 a. m. The guests were seated at card tables covered by rose-patterned luncheon cloths. Each table had a centerpiece of flowers. The seniors were served grapefruit halves, creamed eggs on toast, sausages, potato chips, and coffee. The breakfast made it necessary for the group to miss chapel and their first hour classes.

After the meal, Dr. Lloyd showed moving pictures taken in various parts of the world on his trip last fall.

SENIOR CHAPEL IS WEDNESDAY, MAY 14

The annual senior chapel program will be held Wednesday morning at the usual chapel hour, Harvey Overton, senior class president, stated. The program will open with the processional played by Mary Barnwell, senior music major. Following the singing of the hymn Irving McArthur will read the scripture and Fred Wilson will lead the prayer. Special music will consist of a vocal solo by Jay Bishop and a flute solo by Helen Underwood.

The service will be closed by the customary exchange of seats, prayer for the college by Harvey Overton, and the Alma Mater. The recessional music will be played by Mary Barnwell.

Members of the class will wear academic robes for the occasion.

Prizes, Awards To Be Presented In Chapel On May 17

Prizes and awards will be given in chapel on May 17 to Maryville College students who have achieved distinction in various activities on campus. Although there is a possibility of ten individual awards being given, all of them are offered under stipulations which may prohibit their being awarded certain years. In addition to individual awards, there will be recognition of members of five different active campus groups.

Katherine Carpenter and Sue Cochran, who won first and second places, respectively, will be given a prize each from the T. T. Alexander Prize Fund. The prize will be divided in the ratio of three-fifths and two-fifths. It amounted to a total of $80 last year; however, it varies slightly from year to year. The names of all other individual prize winners have been with-held.

Other prizes which may be offered are the Alexander English Prize, the Bates Bible and Religious Education Prizes, the Elizabeth Hillman Chemistry Prize, the George A. Knapp Mathematics Scholarship, and the Bank of Maryville Economics Prize.

The English prize is an annual gift offered to the member of the senior class who makes the best four-year record in English. The Bible prizes will be given to three people who have attained proficiency in Bible study, while the chemistry prize is awarded to a woman student who has made an excellent record in the Department of Chemistry. The mathematics scholarship will be given to a junior or a senior who is judged the most outstanding person majoring in mathematics. The economics prize is awarded under the same stipulations with the exception that the person may be a member of any of the four classes.

All senior choir members who have been in the choir at least one other year will receive choir pins.

Recognition will be given to newly elected members of Pi Kappa Delta, forensics, and Theta Alpha Phi, drama. Intramural and Point System awards will also be given at the chapel service.

Swift and Williams Named to Head Echo

Lorraine Swift (left) and Ruth Williams (right) were elected this week as editor and business manager, respectively, of the 1947-48 HIGHLAND ECHO.

Athenians Choose Grubbs President

At a special business meeting last night, the Athenians elected one rising senior and three rising sophomores to the executive offices of the society for the fall semester. Merrill Grubbs, economics major from Erie, Pennsylvania, was elected president. Merrill, who served as Athenian vice president this semester, is a rising senior.

The position of vice president was voted to Bill Nish, a rising sophomore psychology major from Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Nish is the retiring treasurer for the group. Don Hyatt of Rose Hill, Virginia, was elected secretary. Hyatt, a rising sophomore mathematics major, succeeds retiring secretary, Tom Scott. Smartt Ramsey succeeds vice president-elect Bill Nish as treasurer of the group. Ramsey, a rising sophomore English major from Mc-Minnville, Tennessee, will serve for the full year of '47-'48, while the other officials hold a one semester tenure of office.

Group Votes Gift

The society voted to make a twenty dollar gift to the dramatic art department to help the actors buy new costumes and equipment. The officers of the society stated that the Athenians were anxious to help the department replenish their equipment in view of the fact that the society used the department's equipment in producing society plays.

Retiring president Rush Lester, who presided at the meeting, announced that last night's meeting would be the last official meeting of the semester.

Other nominees for the offices included Bill Vogel for president, Julian Gresham for vice president, Raymond Packard for secertary, and Fred Richardette for treasurer.

KNOXVILLE PASTOR SPEAKS AT VESPERS

Dr. Henry O. Moore will lead the Vesper Services in the Library Sunday evening at 7:00 p. m. Dr. Moore received his education, including graduation from Princeton Theological Seminary, in the United States, but has spent most of his ministry in Australia. After his recent return to this country, he was called to his present position as pastor of the New Prospect Presbyterian Church, in Knoxville, Tenn.

Vocal Group Sings At Knoxville Club

Fourteen women students sang last Thursday in Knoxville for the Exchange Club, a businessmen's non-political organization which held a luncheon at the Farragut Hotel.

The Reverend James R. Smith engaged the students who sang seven numbers following the luncheon. Their twenty-minute program included "Come to the Fair", "Oh Didn't It Rain", "Waltz of the Flowers", "Sympathy", "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes", "The Green Cathedral", "The Year's at the Spring", and "Praise ye the Name of the Lord".

Each member of the group received a gardenia as a gift from the men. Following their own program they were shown a movie, "God of Creation", which will be given on Maryville campus next Tuesday night.

The fourteen women who attended the luncheon were Maurine Owen, Joyce Jones, Lois Miller, and Lois Deobler, first sopranos; Virginia Swartz, Barbara Eggleston and Patricia Denis, second sopranos; Anna Jane Brunson, Emily Leety, and Jean Almy, first altos; Jean Tarwater, Sarah Enloe, and Mavis Sykes, second altos.

Committees Make Staff Promotions

Lorraine Swift, rising senior from Tulsa, Oklahoma, was elected editor of the Highland Echo at the election held Monday, May 5, by the editorial staff of the paper, the Publications Committee of the faculty represented by Dr. F. A. Griffitts, and Student Council representative Jessie Brunson. Miss Swift is a chemistry major. She has been a member of the Echo for three years, and has worked in the college book store for three years, was on the editorial staff of the 1947 Chilhowean, and is on next year's YWCA cabinet as co-chairman of Barnwarming.

Ruth Williams, was renamed business manager for the coming year. Miss Williams is a rising senior home economics major from Rossville, Ga. She is completing her third year on the Echo. A member of the 1946 daisy chain, Miss Williams is a nominee for senior class treasurer for next year. Her appointment was made by the faculty Committee on Student Publications, the Student Business Management Committee, and Student Council.

Promoted as rising senior editors were Dorothy Vawter, music major from Maryville, and Janet Miller, biology major from York, Pennsylvania. Rising junior associate editors are Grace Gugger, Naomi Hoffman, and Ilda Mosby. Craig Fisher, Mimi Leake, Herb McCallum, Ken Olsen, Barbara Wallin, and Leslie Webb were promoted as rising sophomore reporters.

Mary Jane Long, home economics major from Newcastle, Pennsylvania, Kitty Johnson, psychology major from Hopkinsville, Kentucky, and Lillian Law, Maryville sociology major, have been re-elected to the business staff as senior associate managers. Bob Watkins was elected as a rising sophomore.

Promotions were made by a committee composed of the senior editors of the Echo and representatives of the Faculty Committee on Publications, the Student Business Management Committee, and the Student Council.

Dr. Ruth Seabury Says Today's Young People Realize Needs of World

Dr. Ruth Seabury, representing the Danforth Foundation, addressed the student body at chapel, Wednesday, May 7.

"If you go high enough, the boundaries disappeared", was the theme of Dr. Seabury's inspirational talk. She stressed especially that young people today realize that all nations and peoples are interdependent, that the world needs what they have to give it, and that they really care about the problems of other peoples. Each point she made was illustrated with some poignant incident—the boy in the airplane, the Indian girl bringing a Christmas gift, the missionary doctor.

In conclusion, Dr. Seabury told of a student that she had once asked, "What do you students want us to do for you?" The answer was this: "Share with us what you have honestly discovered about God and man's relationship to Him". Then bringing her talk to a close she said, "What this world needs are more first generation Christians to share the reality of Christ and the eternity of God across the boundaries."

Dr. Seabury remained on the campus throughout the morning for conferences. During the third period she sopke to Dr. Buchanan's and Dr. Case's first year Bible classes. She spoke on the general topic of religion and missions. At the conclusion of Dr. Seabury's talk, the group asked questions.

News Capsules—

BY LESLIE WEBB

Strike Partly Over

Termination of the strike of long lines telephone workers has been announced. This affects about 22,000 workers in 42 states. This may not presage any immediate return to work, however, since the long lines workers is a member of the NFTW, which is still striking and whose picket lines will be respected by the long lines employees. The agreement called for a four dollar and forty-cent raise per week for those involved in the settlement.

Labor Laws Coming Up

That august national body, the Congress of the United States, which so far has found the problem of enacting labor legislation too much to overcome, has decided to make a new effort and a lot of noise in trying to toughen up certain legislation designed to curb those Big Operators known as Labor Unions. Three amendments have been voted into one of their several bills. The amendments provide for outlawing control of health and wealth-fare funds, financed by employers, by the Unions. Another prohibits involuntary deduction from wages for union dues. Also outlawed are attempts of "union representatives to "shake down" employers.

Reds Rob Romania

Time: Now. Place: Romania. Circumstances: Terrific famine, people starving, no food resources.

But don't give up. Here comes Uncle Sam to the rescue. In his big-time and big-hearted way he diverts food-laden ships to the scene of the dire emergency. Other countries needed this food, but not so badly as Romania.

Uncle Joe Stalin is delighted. Being in control of Romania by virtue of his large occupation Army, he simply seizes the food for his own troops. If you think this is a joke, read your daily paper.

Communists Investigated

General MacArthur has issued a statement denying any pledge on his part for the United States to undertake the future defense of Japan. He emphasized that the United States is under obligation to protect Nipon as long as she maintains occupation forces there, and that we might as well have a special interest in the continued defense of the Japanese Islands, but criticized "speculative statements that go beyond this concept."

Weekly Bible Verse

"If we walk in the light, as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ His Son cleanseth us from all sin."—I John 1:7.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION, CLASSES NOMINATE OFFICERS

Election day arrives at Maryville campus next Wednesday, May 14. Ballot boxes will be place in convenient locations on that date and all students are urged to participate in this annual selection of class officers. Besides the class officers, officials for the Athletic Board of Control of the Athletic Association will be chosen.

At the Student Body meeting on May 7th, one amendment to the constitution was enacted. This amendment provides for the inclusion of the House Chairman of Woman Student Government on the Student Faculty Senate. By-law number three was also passed making provision for the annual election of Home-Coming Queen.

The following candidates will be voted on Wednesday.

Athletic Association

President
- Marvin Mitchell
- Ken Talbot

Vice President
- Bill Proffitt
- Ray Lillard

Secretary
- Ken Ross
- Barbara Eggleston

Representatives
- Boys (2)
- Bob Boring
- Hugh Hamil
- Lloyd Anderson
- Brick Brahams
- Hershell Merriman
- Girls (2)
- Edith Largen
- Mae Short
- Janice Lindsey
- Merle Henderson
- Margaret Rock
- Marion Henderson

Faculty Representatives (2)
- Mrs. Queener
- Miss Heron
- Mr. Peiper

Juniors

Student Council
- Girls: (2)
- Peggy Howell
- Anna Sakaizawa
- Rebecca Maddux
- Constance Hawkins
- Boys: (2)
- George Gillette
- Wayne McAfee
- Scott McClure
- Robert Butts

President
- Lloyd Anderson
- Charles Hoglan

Vice President
- Eleanor Struble
- Tom Horst

Secretary
- Joyce Jones
- Esther Cornelius

Treasurer
- Ruth Williams
- Virginia McArthur

Sophomores

Chilhowean:
- Editor: Mary E. Carver
- Katherine Carpenter
- Business Manager: Bob Argie
- Ray Saunders

Student Council
- Girls
- Mildred Miller
- Marguerite Priest
- Boys
- Bob Thomson
- John Poland

President
- Bill Proffitt
- Harold Hunter

Vice-President
- Bette Belle Alverson
- Argyle King

Secretary
- Jo Campbell
- Barbara Eggleston

Treasurer
- Raymond Brahams
- Dale Motsinger

Freshmen

Student Council
- Girls (2)
- Lillian Lytle
- Winnie Schaumburg
- Betty Dearing
- Virginia Schwarz
- Boys (2)
- Bob Watkins
- Al Lesnick
- Ben Paxton
- Ken Olsen

President
- Bill Nish
- Glen Knecht

Vice President
- Martha McClure
- Roger Cowan

Secretary
- Mae Meriwether
- Tom Lang

Treasurer
- Sarah Durant
- Henry Callaway

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 32 NUMBER 30

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

R. Thomas Parkinson ..... Editor
Mary Elizabeth Hunt ..... Staff Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Janet Miller, Lorraine Swift, Dorothy Vawter
Elsie Onifer

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Grace Gugger, Naomi Hoffman
Ilda Mosby

FRESHMAN APPRENTICES
Craig Fisher, Herbert McCallum
Kenneth Olsen, Smartt Ramsey, Barbara Wallin,
Mildred Leake Leslie Webb

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF
Ruth Williams ..... Business Manager

JUNIOR ASSISTANTS
Katherine Johnson Mary Jane Long

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANT
Lillian Law
FRESHMAN ASSISTANT
Bob Watkins

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879.

Represented for National Advertising by
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, MAY 10, 1947

FOUR YEARS

Name cards, class rings, graduation gowns, the alumni banquet—for the past few weeks and weeks to come all these things have been leading up to the final step in college life, because they are only side shows of the really big event, graduation.

When entering as freshmen, the four years probably loomed up like a twisting mountain path. Now as they draw uncomfortably close to the close of four glorious years, one wonders where they have disappeared. Is it possible that time is so slippery? Things have come so rapidly that events in the sophomore years may seem to be just the occurences of last month. So few, until looking back, will realize that these years have been the loveliest and most carefree years of their lives.

Good-bye and good luck sound like weak words to use year after year. But are there any stronger phrases to be found? Congratulations is also frayed from over-use. Yet this is the opportune time to say congratulations to each graduating senior. Especially to those who have been outstanding in service, scholarship and leadership deserve merit. Of course there will always be ones underneath who have escaped notice but who may be just as deserving as those who stand on the top.

Each year when a class leaves it seems to create a gap in the school that will be impossible to fill completely. Every student has become a definite part of his room and classes. But next year, his role in college life will not be taken by someone else; rather another new part will begin to unfold with some senior as its standard and model.

Adults will have a tendency to prophesy a dark, unwelcome future in this cruel, cold world for the seniors attempting a new life in the present world. However, surely anyone ready to graduate must realize what sort of a future the present offers only too well already. This is a time for inspiration and celebration. Why blanket the sun when a word of encouragement will give just the right tone for a really pleasant day? It is fine to be serious, but moderation is a key word to success. So at graduation let this thought also travel with you—commencement is—and means—the beginning, NOT the end.

Longfellow summarized neatly when he wrote

"All are architects of Fate
Working in these walls of Time;
Some with massive deeds and great,
Some with ornaments of rhyme.

For the structure that we raise,
Time is with materials filled;
Our todays and yesterdays
Are the blocks with which we build."
From "The Builders" by H. W. Longfellow.

J.M.M.

What A Disgusting Exhibition!

Here we are, supposedly in a gradual process of assuming additional student government, and from a group of 802 students present at a student body meeting—for student business—163 or less remained to the end of the session. What a contradiction! How enlightening to those who oppose student government, what a crushing blow to the hopes of the backers and leaders—faculty and students—who are working in that direction!

Last Wednesday morning in the gym was seen the worst exhibition of school spirit that has been seen at Maryville College in a long time. School spirit is another of those intangible things like democracy that every one refers to so glibly but to which no one ever gives a satisfactory definition. However, anytime that a group of students meet for the privilege and duty of making nominations for the officers and members of a student organization and 80 per cent of said students leave before the nominations are completed, no reason for such action can be given except that the students just plain "don't give a darn!" That is poor "School Spirit"—defined or not.

It is obvious that the nominations for the Athletic Board of Control is of a necessity a lengthy procedure, but it is also obvious that there were not over six hundred students who could not spare thirty minutes from their studies that morning.

There is another meeting of the Athletic Association scheduled for next Wednesday morning. The business this time is to vote on constitution revisions. They concern provisions for setting up standardized bases for the awarding of varsity letters and sweaters in the athletic program here. Items such as that should be of interest to the student body; a least almost everyone is quick to criticize such regulations when they are not in agreement.

Let's hope there is a tremendous improvement in attendance at this meeting. School spirit at M. C. is not dead at all as witnessed by the large enthusiastic crowds at the athletic contests. Le's also assume a little responsibility—the responsibility of being a good citizen. When you get a chance to have a vote, vote.
have a voice in student affairs, take it: when you have a chance to vote, vote.
meeting should do so with his head hanging low. He should be ashamed of that act!

Just Being "Nosy"

BY GUGGER AND HOFFMAN

I dread the prospect of vacation
I am not bored with education
I'd rather work right thru the summer
Than sit around, just getting dumber.
It's not because I'm such a scholar,
That I don't want to loller;
But going to school's the only way
To see my dream man everyday.

Submitted by the girls of Memorial, Baldwin and Pearsons.

G-ee, but are we in a state of confusion. But, this isn't the state we want to be in—Pennsylvania, North Carolina, New Jersey, Florida . . . . and we better add California. . . . and 43 other states.

O-nly eleven more days to do things which must be done. . . . such as paying old debts, overdue books, paying old debts, getting a hat box for that monstrous picture hat, (even if we don't have a face like Betty Grable to frame.) paying old debts.

O-ur amazement at Miss Johnson's theories on why the recording machine never worked right. increases each time. We think it works too well. But now for the best reason it's not working is because we're all finished! ! We feel that if the Knoxville airport needs someone to forecast the weather we want to put a word in for Miss Johnson. (as consolation for the way we heard ourselves recorded, she blamed it on such things as cumulus clouds or stratospheric pressure.)

D-ick Ebelacker found himself a new place from which he partakes of vitamins. His former waitress didn't exactly coax him to stay or order him to leave. Now don't ask why—but did you see Dick's new mustache! !

L-et us consider the nominations and elections for next year's officers. Lester was trying to speed up things since he had a second period class and said that if he knew we got two votes, he would have brought his mother. We were especially interested in those members nominated to Student Council. We've been campaigning for all of them. It's necessary we get one friend who realizes that we mean to keep all rules. Speaking of rules, we wish our editors would come to our defense and tell Miss Johnson when we left the campus that night it was strictly on business.

U-nless you're really on the beam you'll never know what new thing Bobbie Burris does when she's chairman of a systematics class. "Nobody Knows the Troubles I've Seen", copy-right from B.B. If you are puzzled ask her.

"C-ondemned no 4 leaf clovers". This was a sign we noticed on a patch of Maryville Campus. Thank you, kind friend, for checking on the clover, we are starting to look now. Anything to pass the exams.

K-en Ross is collecting autographs in his annual. He says all the sweet things that you write so inflate his ego. The other night in the library, he had a Chihowean, tucked under either arm. He tried telling us one was last years. But when he left the library he could hardly carry his brief case out. What are you selling, Ken?

I-ncidentally, here's an interesting note, Charlie Huffman can give serious speeches.

N-esbitt has anyone seen Janet? Because of Janet the keys were lost; because of the keys the Y rooms were locked; because the Y rooms were locked no frying pan, no hamburgers; because of no hamburgers, almost no Spanish Club picnic—but anyhow those were onions seeping thru the dorms on Thursday night therefore the deduction would be they found Janet and Bob.

E-verytime Ray Saunders hears a clap of thunder he takes a bow. It's the master of ceremonies coming out in him.

X-actly who did keep our notebooks you heard us complain about losing? We just didn't want our notes to get cold. Before we found them we were going to turn this into a lost and found column. (Are you saying we should have? or maybe just a lost column). We'l be the first to agree with you.

A-nn Anderson referred to "Mouse" in her "reflections" at Y last Sunday. Is it mouse or man.

M-ay we by special request tell you that the "Wormship" is over for the neophytes of Theta Alpha Phi as of last night.

S-heldon, that lucky waiter, with seven girls at his table, got publicity the other day. The seven of them caroled "Benny" the other night when he strayed from the folds—but he came back with the ice cream. We know he didn't have to go freeze it, but where was he?

And so this is our fond farewell to you for the semester. We've had a time trying to keep you on the campus news, and now and then giving out with some advice. (If we had used the advice which we have given away we should need none from others.) But we did have one great triumph—when one day we found one of you looking at an article we wrote. Yes—we owe a lot to the Hughes' dog. And so we leave you with tears in our eyes—regret that no longer will we have an excuse to leave the campus on Friday nights.

TALK OF THE WEEK . . .

JEAN ALMY

Did You Konw? If Not, Read Facts Revealed By The Past

BY MARY E. HUNT

Did you ever wish you could know what Maryville College was like about the time you were born? Actually there is no real way of knowing for those here have a way of glamorizing their campus exploits, and no real record is available unless one considers the CHILHOWEAN and then draws upon their own imagination to fill in the gaps.

Records In The Yearbooks

Several nights ago, I started looking through the old yearbooks and with a bit of imagination, found the following things:

If you were busy with the usual baby pastimes in 1922, you might be interested to hear that among the teaching staff here that year were Dr. Gillingham (registrar), Dr. Hunter, Dr. Davis, Mrs. Black (Miss Green then), Dr. Orr, Miss Heron, Mrs. McMurray, and Miss Henry . . . Mrs. Worley was head of Memorial Hall, Ralph was chasing couples, Mr. Mack, Brownie, and others were also here. . .

The student body was a representative group then, as it has been during our college days. They had two students from foreign countries in the graduating class—one from Japan and one from Mexico. Also in the class of '22 was George Howell, later to become Professor of Chemistry here. He was a vet having served with the marines in France during the first world war, as well as being an outstanding track man and good in his studies as well. . .

Among the freshman was another young man later to make his mark as a professor of chemistry as well as the man in the bookstore—Fred A. Grifiittts. . .

Dr. Hunter Directed Orchestra

Pi Kappa Delta was formed that year with two of the charter members being Dr. Edwin R. Hunter ad a student, Verton Queener.

The vesper choir wore long black robes. . . Dr. Hunter directed the glee club and orchestra. . . The band was composed of all males. . M. C. football eleven played U. T., Milligan, Carson-Newman and others, losing only one game of the season. . . The girls' basketball team won five games. . . The girls wore long black stocking, bloomers, and middy blouses . . .

Alumni secretary Orr and Dr. Hunter led the drive for an athletic field which cost $50,000. . . Y. W. had reading rooms in Thaw . . . . and probably thousands of other wonderful things happened.

o o o o

By 1924 other interesting things had happened—Prof. Kiger had arrived to teach Bible and English (Mrs. Worley was also teaching these subjects that year). . . Bob Hunter was the class mascot . . . Sam Franklin, Jr., and Dr. Queener graduated . . . Alpha Sigma gave "The Merchant of Venice". . . . M. C. won 7 football games. . . baseball was resumed. . track and tennis made a good showing . . . the college maid shop was making "home ec" uniforms. . . teacher training in home economics was offered.

o o o o

Mrs. Brown Was Lab Assistant

Glancing into another volume I saw the class of '27. Their annual was dedicated to Miss Heron who then had short hair and bangs. . . Dr. Griffitts and Prof. Howell were teaching by then. . . Miss Norton (now Mrs. Queener) was in charge of women's athletics . . Miss Bonnie Hudson (now Mrs. Brown) was a biology lab assistant and graduated that year in piano. . . Mrs. Butcher's daughter, Mildred, graduated in violin. There was a Noah Webster registered here that year. . .

The tale really never ends. . . Twenty years from now the students will probably still be looking back to see the pictures of old professors who were members of the class of '47, '48, etc. I suppose the moral is—keep your CHILHOWEAN life unspotted. . . It just all goes to prove that there's really nothing new on campus 'cause it's all been done before.

One person dies every three minutes of cancer; 504 every day; 184,000 every year.

CALENDAR

Saturday—May 10—8:00 p. m.—Skit contest in the gym.
Sunday—May 11—1:30 p. m.—Y. M. C. A.
Y. W. C. A. Mother's Day program.
7:00 p. m.—Vespers—Dr. H. O. Moore speaks
8:00 p. m.—8:00 p. m.—Student Vols
Monday—May 12—Workshop Picnic
Tuesday—May 13—Movie—"God of Creation"
5:00 p. m.—Last Town Night
Wednesday—May 14—8:00—Senior Chapel
Spring elections
Saturday—May 17—8:00 a. m.—Awards given
8:15 p. m.—"The Enchanted Cottage"
M. H. S. Auditorium

IT'S A GREAT DAY for the Graduate

GRADUATES OF '47

We wish to congratulate you on this great occasion—And wish you much happiness and success in the future.

NICELY'S GROCERY

Go Everywhere In Summer Suits

Bright Breezy Summer Suits

Fashion Favorites, Superbly Styled

to the Dandy Silhouette. Summer Suits for the Smart Woman. Cotton Suits in Prints and Colors, Linens in Bright Colors and White.

Parks-Belk Co.

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

A Look Ahead

Although Scotlights are focused for the sport events now in progress, we think it's time to look ahead to fall and to the 1947 football season. The Tangerine Bowl Scots will be back "in harness" early in the autumn for the big season. The 1947 version of the Scot Football Eleven will be a re-vamped, re-strung, re-tuned, re-conditioned edition of the 1946 victorious squad, since only two of the starting eleven—"Big Mitch" at tackle and wingback C. Pepper—will be absent. Strengthened by experience of last season and supported by incoming frosh, the Maryville lads will be out to set an even better record and give the opposition plenty of h——. (And that ain't h-a-m!)

M. C. 1947 Grid Schedule

Sept. 20—Hiwassee	Wilson Field
Sept. 27—Tennessee Poly Institute	Cookeville
Oct. 4—Centre College	Danville, Ky.
Oct. 11—(open)
Oct. 18—Tennessee State College	Wilson Field
Oct. 25—Emory and Henry	Wilson Field
Nov. 1—Sewanee (homecoming)	Wilson Field
Nov. 8—Middle Tenn. State	Murfreesboro
Nov. 15—Carson-Newman	Wilson Field

New Foes in Football

Of the nine teams the Scots defeated last year in their regular season, seven are on the '47 schedule. The Scots have no return engagements with the Tusculum Pioneers or the Tennessee Wesleyan Bulldogs. Newcomers to the list of Highlander opponents are the TPI Eagles of Cookeville. The Eagles, we understand, are scheduled to play the University of Tennessee next fall. We take this to mean that TPI is considered a strong football power in this section, or, that Tennessee is weakening. Dropping the Wesleyan Junior College and taking on the TPI Eagles tends to give the Highlanders stronger opposition for the coming '47 season. Nevertheless, we feel it safe to predict one of the most successful seasons in football history for the 1947 Highlanders.

Baseball "Greats"

Maryville's "greats" in baseball this season are the men who have been outstanding in their performance for the Orange and Garnet team. Because the battery men count so much on the defense, we feel that Ken Stinnett, our catcher, is a big reason for Scottie victories. For the pitching force, Leon Berrong leads the list with his record for the season. Our nominee for the most valuable man in the infield is ace shortstop Bob Boring. A steady man on the defense, Bob has given fans thrill after thrill with his powerful swing of the bat. Honorable mention for the most valuable man in the infield goes to King Berrong for his performance as lead-off batter and as guardian of second base. For the outfielder of the year, we bestow Hugh Hamil with the honor for his alertness in the garden and his keen eye at bat.

Scots Down T.P.I. In Second Fray, 5-1

After dropping the initial tilt with Tennessee Polytechnic a week ago, at Cookeville, (9-4), the Highlanders came back Monday to win the second game with the middle Tennessee nine on the home diamond, 5-1. Leon Berrong hurled the entire four hit game for Maryville. Smith of T.P.I. allowed the Scots nine hits.

The M. C. nine got off to a good start, sending across two men in the first frame. The first two men at bat, King Berrong and Ross Honaker, both walked. King went to second when the pitcher balked, then he stole third and home. Honaker was caught off first after Rock fanned. Boring walked, stole second, and was batted in when Hamil tied into a triple to middle-left field, just over the shortstop's head. Hamil died at third.

The Scotties scored again in the fourth inning when the first four men up singled. Enloe, the second man at bat, laid out a well-placed bunt, taking second when the first baseman errored. Stinnett, who was on first, went to second and then took third on the error. They both scored a moment later when Spears singled. Spears was out at second as he tried to stretch it to a double. Leon Berrong also singled that inning but was forced at third. King Berrong died at first when Rock fanned.

The last Maryville tally came in the eight frame with Maryville well out in front when Hamil hit another triple and went home on a squeeze play. Sinnett, the batter died at third.

The only T.P.I. score went across in the fourth when Kinnamon went home on an error on Honaker. Kinnamon had taken first on an error, second on a fielder's choice, and moved to third when Patey doubled. Patey died at third. The T.P.I. nine did not threaten to score again except in the ninth when Kinnamon died at third.

Leon Berrong had control in his pitching, fanning six men and walking only three. Smith of Tech fanned four and walked six.

The batting order was as fol-

(Continued on page four)

M. C. Tennis Team Opens With L.M.U.

The Maryville College tennis team opens the season today in a match with Lincoln Memorial University at two o'clock on the courts in back of Memorial Hall. The probable singles starting schedule will be "Squire" Kemp, Don Cummings, Bill Dinges, Harold Hunter, Bob Wilson, and Eldred Johnson. One probable doubles team will be Cummings and Wilson, but the other has not been announced.

Maryville has one more scheduled match this year with East Tennessee Teachers College to be played on May 14. Mr. Stanley Phillips, Assistant Professor of Economics and acting tennis coach, is trying to arrange a match with University of Tennessee, but U. T. sschedule is quite crowded.

Highlanders Drop To E. and H., 13-9

The Highlanders dropped the first game of a two-day journey to Emory and Henry at Emory, Virginia, on Wednesday, 13-9. This is the second game that M. C. has lost to the Emory nine this season, winning one on the home diamond. The Scots held the lead for the first five innings. Then E. and H. rallied in the sixth, scoring five runs, and taking over the lead for the rest of the game. Emory hammered out a total of ten hits while Maryville chalked up fourteen. Malone of Maryville was the losing pitcher and Taylor of Emory took the victory.

In the first inning, the Scots pulled out in front, tallying two runs. Rock tripled with two away and scored on Boring's single. Boring went home a moment later on a single by Hamil, who died at second.

The second frame was the big scoring inning for the Scotties who sent across five runs, hitting four singles. Spears walked, McJunkin singled, sending Spears to third, K. Berrong walked, and Honaker singled, sending across Spears and McJunkin. Berrong scored on an error and Honaker went to second. Rock singled, Honaker moved to third, and both men scored on

(Continued on page 4)

Scotties Defeat East Tenn. State

After dropping the first game of their two-day journey to Virginia and East Tennessee, the Scotties came back to win the tilt with East Tennessee State, the second leg of the trip, 4-1. Leon Berrong pitched a four-hit game for Maryville to win the tilt and Haun of State hurled the losing game. Maryville drove out a total of eight hits.

The Scotties threatened in the first inning by loading the bases with two away, but they failed to score until the third inning when three runs crossed the plate. Rock took first on a wild pitch and advanced to second on a single by Boring. Then Hamil drove out a double, sending Rock home and moving Boring to third. Stinnett singled, bringing in Boring and putting Hamil on third. Hamil scored when the first baseman errored. Stinnett died at third when the next two men flied.

After threatening in the fourth inning, the Scots drove in the last run of the game in the seventh. Honaker took first on an error, moved to third on another error which put Rock on first, and stole home. Rock died at second after stealing, when Boring and Hamil fanned.

The Highlanders got on base two more times. In the eighth Enloe hit a single and took second on an out, but he died there when the next two men made outs. In the ninth Honaker walked and went to third on a hit by Rock, who took first. Then on an attempted squeeze play, Honaker was caught at home and Rock was

(Continued on page four)

H. Brahams In Memphis For State Track Meet

Hap Brahams, high point man for the Scottie tracksters, is in Memphis this afternoon running against the best runners in the state for the high-hurdle title. Hap won the 120 yard low hurdles at both U. T. and T.P.I. in 16:11, and the 220 high hurdles at U. T. and T.P.I. in 5.8 and 26.1 respectively. The times at T.P.I. were actually better than those represented as the course was laid out on a curve.

INTRAMURAL DOPE

BY SMARTT RAMSEY

Intramural softball is just about over for this year. The tournament has been played with the exception of the finals. On top of the standings is the Eight Balls' club, but right under it is an insistent team of Misfits who are just waiting for a try at the number one team of the campus. The finals of the tournament will be played Tuesday between the Eight Balls, who had no trouble in removing the Rebels from the golden path, and the Misfits who have bowled over two opponents in their quest for the crown. A resume of the tournament games follows:

Misfits Smash Moonshiners

Chalking up ten runs in the sixth inning alone, a run-crazy Misfit team booted the Moonshiners out of the running and demonstrated its batting power in the first round of the Intramural Softball Tournament, Tuesday afternoon.

The Misfits started the ball rolling with a run in the first frame of the game which saw the Moonshiners fail to cross the plate before the fifth inning. In the second, the Misfits made two more runs and slowed down for the third inning, coming back in the fourth for three more. A lone four bagger by Ezell highlighted the fifth for the Misfits, while the Moonshiners came to life and brought in four runs. Not to be outdone, the unmerciful Misfits connected for ten runs in the sixth, three of which were home runs. The men making them were Cecil, English and Miracle. Awed by the show of power, the Moonshiners only pushed two across home plate in the sixth, making it 17-6. The score remained the same through the seventh.

Laughmiller struck out two Misfitters, walked four and yielded fifteen hits. Miracle, Misfit hurler, struck out two Moonshiners, walked four and allowed seven hits. Errors were four for the Moonshiners, six for the Misfits.

Echo Blanks Bartlett

While a helpless Bartlett squad stood by, the Echo took a shutout victory, Tuesday, and paved a hopeful path toward the tournament finals.

Two of the runs were scored in the first inning; the remaining five were made in the sixth. Echo hurlers Connell and Weber struck out four men, yielded one hit and walked none. Barbour, pitcher for Bartlett, yielded ten hits, struck out two men and walked none. The teams committed four errors each.

Eight Balls Crush Rebels

Bringing in six runs in the first inning, the favored Eight Ball nine overwhelmed the Rebels 14-2, Wednesday afternoon in the semi-finals of the tournament. The Eight Balls drew a bye in the pre-tourney drawings and this was their first game. Although the Rebels were scheduled to play the Wolves in the first round of the tournament, due to the lack of players the Wolves were forced to forfeit the game and consequently the Rebels advanced into the semi-final tussle with the Eight Balls.

In the third, McDavid and Petrie scored the only runs for the Rebels.

Fireballer Swartzback literally threw the book at dumbfounded, would-be Rebel swatters. Ten little Rebels threw down the bat in dismal defeat at the hands of the Eight Ball hurler who also walked only one man during the game and allowed a minimum of six hits. Largen, Talbott, and Holsey connected for home runs for the Eight Balls.

Misfits Enter Finals

With an eye on the Intramural Softball Tournament finals, a determined Misfits club defeated the Echo 8-4 in the closest game of the tournament so far, Wednesday afternoon.

Leaving no doubt as to their idea of who was going to win, the Misfits pushed three runs across home plate in the first frame and stayed ahead throughout the game.

Misfitter English gave five hits, walked eight men and struck out three. Echo pitcher Forrester yielded ten hits, walked five men and struck out none. Three errors were committed by the Echo to one for the Misfits.

CONGRATULATIONS

TO THE CLASS OF '47

For those perfect gifts to the graduate–see our selection of Watches, Rings, and Compacts now.

UNITED JEWELERS

Next To Park Theatre

Graduates of the Class of '47

We wish you success for the Future and Great Happiness Always

CHANDLER'S

SCOTS LOSE TO E. & H.

(Continued from page 3)

a single by Hamil, who tied at first.

Another run came home in the third when Spears scored on a single by Leon Berrong after hitting a one-bagger. The Scots threatened again in the fourth, fifth, and eighth innings but failed to score until the ninth, when Hamil made the last M. C. run on Enloe's single. Hamil had singled.

In the second inning, the Emory and Henry nine tallied up four runs. Brown walked, Grey and Blankenship singled, Anderson walked, and Droke singled. Another run came across in the next inning when Brown scored on a single by Grey. Still another tally came in the fourth when a run scored on a wild pitch by McJunkin after three walks. The side retired with the bases loaded. Two more tallies in the sixth tied up the game, 8-8. Then in the seventh, the Emory nine sent across five runs—three men walked, two men hit, and two scored on an error at center field.

McJunkin fanned six, walked six and threw two wild pitches; Malone fanned two, walked three, and threw one wild pitch; Jernigan walked four and threw one wild pitch; and Honaker fanned one man. For Emory, James walked one and fanned one, and Taylor walked two and fanned six, throwing only one wild pitch.

The batting order was as follows:

Maryville	AB	R	H	E
K. Berrong, 2b.	2	1	1	1
Honaker, 3b. (p., 7 2-3)	5	1	1	0
Rock, r.f.	5	2	2	1
Boring, s.s.	5	1	1	1
Hamil, c.f.	5	1	4	1
Stinnett, c.	4	0	0	1
Enloe, 1b.	5	0	2	0
Spears, l.f.	4	2	1	0
McJunkin, p.	2	1	1	0
Malone (4 2-3), p.	1	0	0	1
Jernigan (6 2-3), p.	0	0	0	1
Buckley (8), 3b.	2	0	1	0
Baird (8), c.	1	0	0	0
Total	41	9	14	7

E. and H.	AB	R	H	E
Anderson, r.f.	4	3	0	1
Droke, s.s.	5	1	3	0
Arnold, 2b	4	0	1	0
Atkins, c.f.	4	0	1	1
Brown, l.f.	0	2	0	0
Oakes, 3b.	5	1	0	0
Grey, c.	3	1	2	1
Blaikenship, 1b.	5	3	3	1
James, p.				0
Taylor (2 2-3), p.	3	1	0	0
Robbens (6), c.	1	1	0	3
Total	34	13	10	7

Maryville	251	000	001
Emory	041	125	00x

E. TENN. STATE GAME

(Continued on page 3)

tagged at third for the last out.

Scoring their only runs in the fifth inning, State trailed all the way. Musselman hit a homer with one man on to make the score 3-2 in favor of Maryville. The East Tennessee nine got on base two more times, once in the sixth when France doubled and again in the ninth when Kinsey singled. Both men died on base.

Leon Berrong, hurling his fast ball, demonstrated some fine pitching, allowing the opposing team only four hits. He fanned four men and walked only one. The State hurlers, Haun and Poole, allowed M. C. eight hits, among which were seven singles and one double. One of the State hits was a four-bagger with one man on.

The batting order was as follows:

Maryville	AB	R	H	E
K. Berrong, 2b.	5	0	0	0
Honaker, 3b.	3	1	0	0
Rock, r.f.	4	1	2	0
Boring	5	1	2	0
Hamil, c.f.	3	1	1	0
Stinnett, c.	4	0	1	0
Enloe, 1b.	4	0	2	0
Spears, l.f.	3	0	0	0
L. Berrong, p.	4	0	0	0
Total	35	4	8	0

East Tenn. State	AB	R	H	E
France, 3b.	4	0	1	1
Campbell, s.s.	4	0	1	1
Kinsey, 1b.	4	0	1	1
yEvans, l.f.	3	0	0	0
Vest, 2b.	3	0	0	0
Saulsbury, r.f.	2	1	0	0
Mussellan, c.f.	3	1	1	0
Transbarger, c.	3	0	0	1
Haun, p.	0	0	0	0
xPoole, (4) p.	2	0	0	1
xReed, (3)	1	0	0	0
yPatterson (9)	1	0	0	0
Total	30	2	4	5

x, y—pinch hitters

M.C. WINS OVER T.P.I.

(Continued from Page Three)

lows:

Tenn. Poly Tech.	AB	R	H	E
Highers, 2b	4	0	1	0
Blailock, s.s.	4	0	2	0
Orr, 3b.	2	0	0	0
Kinnamon, l.f.	4	1	0	0
Patey, c.f.	4	0	1	0
Murphy, 1b.	4	0	0	1
Lynch, r.f.	3	0	0	0
Stonecipher, c.	2	0	0	0
Smith, p.	3	0	0	0
Total	30	1	4	1

Maryville	AB	R	H	E
K. Berrong, 2b.	2	1	0	0
Honaker, 3b.	3	0	0	1
Rock, r.f.	3	0	0	0
Boring, s.s.	3	1	1	1
Hamil, c.f.	3	1	2	0
Stinnett, c.	4	1	2	0
Enloe, 1b.	4	1	2	1
Spears, l.f.	3	0	1	0
L. Berrong, p.	3	0	1	0
Total	29	5	9	3.

T. P. I.	000	1000	000
Maryville	200	200	01x

STUDENT COUNCIL

At their last regular business meeting of the semester, the Student Council studied the advisability of facilitating campus elections next year. Also discussed was the evident lack of interest in the student body meeting Wednesday morning concerning the election of Athletic Association officers.

Next Wednesday night, the Council will have a social in the Y rooms.

SCIENCE COLOR FILM TO SHOW TUESDAY

Vivid full color scenes from astronomy and natural science are featured in "The God of Creation", sound motion picture to be shown in Bartlett Hall at 6:45 Tuesday evening. The Pre-Med Club is sponsoring this showing which will be under the supervision of Reverend P. Galloway.

Produced in the Moody Institute of Science, West Coast Department of Moody Bible Institute, by Irwin A. Moon, Sc.D., "The God of Creation" is the second in a series of evangelistic films, succeeding Dr. Moon's well received "They Live Forever", which had a large showing in all parts of the country.

In the opening section of "The God of Creation", the audience takes a trip to the stars by means of solar photographs taken through the 100-inch telescope of Mt. Wilson Observatory in southern California, and views complex gyrations of our own solar system.

Lapse-time photography is utilized to demonstrate the beauties of natural science. The illusion of flower buds developing into full blown blossoms in a few seconds is created through this time-compressing photographic technique. The metamorphosis of a caterpillar through the various stages from worm to butterfly, and the pollination of flowers are seen on the screen in full color.

Believed to be the first of their kind are the natural color pictures of photosynthesis, the mysterious food-manufacturing process resulting from the action of sunlight on green leaves.

Through photomicrography the audience peers into the microscopic world of a drop of water and observes the complexities of tiny organisms, enlarged more than a million times.

GERMAN CLUB

Since an insufficient number of members were present at the special meeting of German club called Wednesday for the purpose of electing next year's officers, the elections will be held before the party on May 12.

BAINONIAN

Miss Nellie Cuellas will demonstrate Spanish dances at the meeting of Bainonian in Bainonian Hall, 6:45 tonight. This is the program that was scheduled for last week-end, but postponed because of the Y retreat.

DRAMATIC SOCIETY INITIATES MEMBERS

The informal initiation of the Theta Alpha Phi neophytes ended last night as approximately twenty members of the organization held their informal banquet at the G. & F. grill.

There was no definite program planned, but members of the neophyte group continued their portrayal of worms throughout the evening.

A formal initiation program is being planned but as yet the arrangements are incomplete. Those serving on the committee are Dr. E. R. Hunter, Jean Balch, and Max House.

Election of officers for the ensuing year will be elected sometime next week, Jean Balch, president, announced.

From the lowest point in years —80,000,000 pounds under OPA control—to the highest, 484,000,000 pounds after controls were dropped—was the course of meat production in U.S. in '46.

An oily rag isn't much of a cleaner, but it can, if left around fire hazards, wipe out one's life savings.

The man's thinking apparatus is in low gear who cranks a tractor while it is in gear; he may be put permanently into "enutral."

NOTICE

Refunds of the $10.00 deposits will be made at the close of school. Students rooming on the campus will get clearance tickets when keys are turned in at the dormitories, and all students will get tickets at the Book Store. These tickets must be presented at the Treasurer's Office in order to receive refunds.

Charges for laboratory breakage, lost keys and books, etc., will be deducted after which the balance will be refunded.

Office of The Treasurer

NORTON HARDWARE CO.
Phone 18

WE ARE OPEN ON TOWN NIGHT——
So drop by with the crowd for a coke and Sandwich.
C&L CAFE

Birthday Cakes

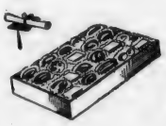
With the name and decorations in any color desired.
LYNCH BAKERY

A Day You'll Want to Remember—
What could be better than a Photo In Your Cap and Gown!
THE WEBB STUDIO

A Gift Means So Much
TO THE GRADUATE
MAY 21, 1947
GRADUATION DAY
Gifts For The Senior You will find at the Gift Center of Maryville
THE PARK DRUG STORE

WHITE STAR LINES, INC.
Bus Schedule
Busses leave for Knoxville on hour and the half-hour from 5:00 A. M. until 10:30 P. M. The ones leaving on hour go via New Highway; the bus leaving on half-hour go old highway.

Crawford & Caldwell
HARDWARE
Phone No. 1 Maryville



Capitol
Monday-Tuesday
May 12-13
Ingrid Bergman and Gregory Peck in Alfred Hitchcock's
"Spellbound"
Also, Selected Comedies and Latest News

Wednesday-Thursday
May 14-15
Randolph Scott in Badman's Territory"
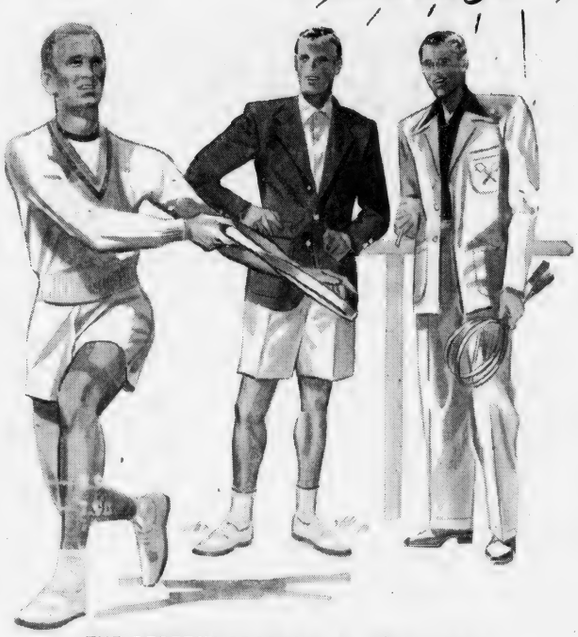
with Ann Richards, George "Gabby" Hayes.
Also, Selected Comedies and Latest News.

Friday-Saturday
May 16-17
"Oregon Trail"
with Peggy Stewart and Frank Jaquet
Also, Selected Comedies, plus, "Crimson Ghost", the serial.



—Coming Next Week—
Monday-Tuesday,
May 19-20
Dennis Morgan, Jack Carson, Janis Paige, Martha Vickers, starring in
"The Time, The Place and The Girl"
with S. Z. Sakall, Alan Hale; Carmen Cavallaro and Orchestra
In technicolor

Confections in The Best Taste

Congratulate The Graduate
With a boxed assortment of cream centers that's the top degree in pure taste thrill.
BYRNE DRUG COMPANY

McGREGOR*
SPORTSWEAR
in Action Under the Sun

THE PERFECT SPORTSWEAR FOR TENNIS

McGregor serves up cool, authentic sportswear for tennis. Smart and comfortable, they are the same outfits worn by international Davis Cup players. And they are designed by one of America's foremost tennis pros!

(Left) WIMBLEDON TENNIS SWEATER Red, white, and blue neckline. Colorfast. Of 100% pure wool with Pullover.....$00 Sleeveless..... $5.95

WIMBLEDON TENNIS SHIRT. Absorbent, completely washable cotton..... $2.00

WIMBLEDON TENNIS SHORTS. Made for action. Sanforized, mercerized, washable..... $3.00

(Center) FOREST HILLS BRASS BUTTON BLAZER. Smartly tailored by McGregor of 100% pure wool Talbot flannel $25.00

FOREST HILLS INTERNATIONAL KNIT SHIRT. Has special McGregor tailoring to preserve shape. In tennis white..... $2.75

FOREST HILLS INTERNATIONAL SHORTS. A genuine gabardine with side and back pockets. Sanforized, vat-dyed, washable. Conmar zipper closure. $5.95

(Right) LONGWOOD SUIT. Light, sturdy, authentic cotton suit. Sanforized, vat-dyed, completely washable. Brass-button shacket with slacks to match. $12.95

LONGWOOD RACQUET SHIRT. Absorbent combed cotton mesh in fast colors. Washable. Zipper closure..... $2.50

PROFFITT'S MENS SHOP MAIN FLOOR
SINCE 1919—"THE BEST PLACE TO TRADE"

Hail and Farewell

Class of 1947

THE Highland Echo

128th Commencement

Wednesday, May 21st

VOLUME 32 | MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, MAY 17, 1947 | NUMBER 31

Cotton Elected Student Body President 1947-48

McClure, Gress Named Other Council Officers

The newly-elected Student Council met May 15, at 7:30 for the purpose of electing officers of next year's Student Council, who also serve as officers of the Student body. Retiring president, John Shell presided.

Elsie Jean Cotton, English major from Pittsburg, Pennyslvania, was elected president to succeed John Shell. She was elected to the student council at the end of her Freshman year and during the past year she has served as chairman of the Rec.-Hall Committee. Miss Cotton has engaged in numerous other activities. She is a member of Writers' Workshop, French Club and M-club. She was Nu Gamma Chairman and was recently elected to be president of Theta Epsilon Society next year.

Scott McClure, Philosophy major from Lebanon, Ohio, was elected vice president. He has been a member of the council for the past year. In the middle of his sophomore year Mr. McClure interrupted his schooling to serve with the Army Medical Corps, participating in the European Theater. He was the treasurer of his sophomore class and a member of debate squad. He is also a member of the Vesper Choir.

Virginia Gress, Sociology major from Cresent City, Florida, was elected secretary-treasurer for the on-coming year. This is her second year on the council, where she has been a member of the Coordinating Committee and the Committee on Elections. Miss Gress was also House Chairman of Carnegie Hall in her Freshman year.

Reunion Planned For Class of '97

Six members of the fifty year class are still living and it is hoped that they will be able to come to the alumni dinner and graduation services this year, the Alumni Office announced recently. Members of the class are Miss Lucy Emma Caldwell of New Market, Mr. John Calvin Crawford of Maryville, Miss Edith Goddard of Maryville, Mrs. W. H. Keeble of Ashland, Va., Mrs. Baxter Tedford of Maryville, and Mr. Edward Montgomery of Knoxville.

Mr. Montgomery has notified the college of his intention to attend the program. Mr. Crawford and Miss Caldwell have both been ill, but will be here if their health will permit. No word has been received from others in the class but it is expected that they will attend.

There were fourteen in the class of 1897.

MUETZEL ELECTED SECRETARY OF Y.W.C.A.

Beverly Muetzel, first semester junior sociology major from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, was elected secretary of YWCA last week to fill the position after Anna Sakaizawa resigned. Miss Sakaizawa had been elected president of the WSGA, and she felt she could not do justice to both positions.

Miss Muetzel has previously served as secretary of Baldwin Hall in '46, and was elected secretary for next year's Spanish Club.

BOARD SECRETARY SPEAKS AT VESPERS

MISS MARGARET SHANNON

Miss Margaret Shannon, New York, Secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, will be the guest speaker for the Commencement Vespers Service, Sunday at 7:00 p. m. Miss Shannon is prominent not only in the Presbyterian Church but it widely known in interdenominational circle, particularly in student groups. She was formerly Director of Student Activities in the Westminster Foundation of the University of Ohio. She is a graduate of the University of Chicago and obtained her Masters Degree at Biblical Seminary in New York.

The service will be in the Alumni Gym.

Bainonian's Satire On Library Wins Skit Trophy

Bainonian's skit, "Between the Bookends", was judged the best of the four skits presented by the four societies last Saturday, May 10, in the alumni gym. Mildred Miller, Bainonian program chairman, accepted the trophy from Robert Butts, Social Committee chairman. The trophy was presented to the college by Ralph Reed, former Maryville student, who expressed the hope that the skit contest between the societies will become an annual affair.

Each skit was approximately twenty minutes in length. All were very original and showed a great deal of work put forth by each society. Ray Saunders was master of ceremonies.

The winning skit, "Between the Bookends" was a satire on the conduct of certain Maryville students in the library each night.

Athenian's skit, "A Night at the Club" was set in a club with soft lights and soft music. The "patrons" of the club were treated to quite an unusual floor show.

"A New Dream of Alice's" was the title of the Theta Epsilon skit. It was a shadow picture of some familiar fairy tales told with a new twist.

Alpha Sigma's skit was called "Boy Meets Girl" and was the age-old story of boy-meets-girl, boy falls-for-girl, boy-gets-girl told by a series of songs.

The judges were three Maryville business men.

Council Named; Class President, Officers Elected

Charles Hoglan, English major and veteran from Birmingham, Alabama, was elected preisdent of the rising senior class at the annual class elections held Wednesday, May 14.

Others to serve as officers for the class of '48 are Eleanor Struble, vice president; Esther Cornelius, secretary; Virginia McArthur, treasurer; Peggy Howell, Anna Sakaizawa, Scott McClure and Robert Butts, student council representatives.

Miss Struble, whose home is in Orlando, Fla., is a French major and has served as secretary of the French club this semester, and is the newly elected club president for next year. She was recently elected into Writers' Workshop and is a member of this year's daisy chain. Esther Cornelius is a philosophy major from Pittsburgh, Penn., and is a member of the Student Vols cabinet, German club, and formerly a member of the orchestra. Miss McArthur, a transfer student from Meridian Junior College, is a member of the IRC and Y cabinet. Her home is Meridian, Miss. Miss Howell, whose home is in Maryville, is a music major and a member of the college choir. She is also a member of the newly organized Tau Kappa Chi. Miss Sakaizawa has been a member of the student council for the past three years, and has been re-elected to the group. A psychology major from Chicago, Ill., she has been elected to serve as house chairman and chairman of the co-ordinating committee for the ensuing year. She is also a member of Writers' Workshop.

McClure and Butts are both veterans who attended the college prior to the war, and returned this fall. McClure is a member of the choir and is majoring in philosophy. Butts is a business administration major and has served this year as chairman of the social committee.

Juniors Elect Proffitt

Bill Proffitt was chosen by the rising junior class to serve as class president. Proffitt, a resident of Maryville, is a veteran, member of last year's football squad, May Day attendant, and was also elected to serve on the Athletic Board for next year. Betty Belle Alverson, of Bloomington, Ill. was elected vice-president; Jo Campbell, English major from Spring City was elected secretary; Raymond Brahams of Laguna Beach, California, treasurer. Student council members are Vera Lusk of Scotts Plains, N. J.; Marguerite Priest, English major of Westerville, Ohio; Rush Lester, history major from Birmingham, Ala.; John Poland of Beverly Shores Indiana.

Chilhowean Staff

Ray Saunders, psychology major from Chelmsford, Mass., and ministerial student, was elected business manager of the '48 Chilhowean. Mary E. Carver, education major from Aliquippa, Penn., has been chosen to head the editorial staff of the yearbook.

Nish Chosen

Bill Nish, newly elected vice president of Athenian, has been chosen to head the sophomore class. Other rising sophomore officers are Roxar Cowan, vice president; Mae Meriweather, secretary; Henry Callaway, treasurer; Winnie Schaumburg, Virginia Swartz, Ben Paxton and Al Lesnick, student council members.

LLOYDS ENTERTAIN AT ANNUAL OPEN HOUSE

President and Mrs. Ralph W. Lloyd are having open house Tuesday afternoon, May 20, from 3 to 5. Alumni, seniors, parents, and college guests are invited. A group of faculty wives will assist Mrs. Lloyd in receiving and serving. Iris will be used for decoration.

COMMENCEMENT CALENDAR

Saturday, May 17

8:00 a. m.—Prizes awarded in Chapel

8:15 p. m.—"The Enchanted Cottage" presented in Maryville High School Auditorium

Sunday, May 18

10:30 a. m.—Baccalaureate Service in Gym.

4:00 p. m.—Senior Music Hour in Chilhowee Clubhouse

7:00 p. m.—Commencement Vespers. Miss Shannon will speak

Monday, May 19

2:30—Baseball Game With U. T.—College Field

8:15 p. m.—"The Enchanted Cottage", second showing

Tuesday, May 20—Alumni Day

3:00-5:00 p. m.—Open House at President's Home

7:00 p. m.—Alumni Dinner—Pearsons

Wednesday, May 21

10:30 a. m.—128th Commencement, in Alumni Gym

2:00 p. m.—Liddell-Parkinson wedding, in library

4:00 p. m.—Ulrich-Huber wedding, in library

Class Of '47 Graduates Wednesday, Alumni Gym

"Enchanted Cottage" Plays Tonight and Mon. at M.H.S.

The Enchanted Cottage will be presented as the commencement play by Alpha Sigma and Theta Epsilon Saturday, May 17, and Monday, May 19, in the Maryville high school auditorium. The play, a three act fantasy, was written by Arthur Pinero. Mrs. Nita Eckles West is the director. Curtain time will be 8:15 p. m. for both performances.

The scene is laid in a cottage on the edge of Fiddlehurst Park, Sussex. Two people, unattractive to the rest of the world, fall in love and discover how the power of love can beautify even plain people. The male lead, Oliver Bashford, is played by Jay Bishop. Jean Balch will portray Laura Pennington, the feminine lead. Both are seniors and are appearing for the final time as Maryville students. Jay also had the lead in Angel Street and appeared in The Man Who Came To Dinner and Guest in The House. He is a philosophy major from Detroit, Michigan. Jean also is from Detroit and was president of Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic society, during the present school year. She has appeared in The Man Who Came to Dinner and had leads in Angel Street and Guest in The House.

Bob Thomson, sophomore from New York City, will play the part of Major Murray Hillgrove. He is a member of Theta Alpha Phi and appeared in The Man Who Came To Dinner, and Angel Street. Appearing for the first time at Maryville is Charles Hogland, Birmingham, Alabama, junior, who has the role of the Rev. Charles Corsellis. Mrs. Minnett will be played by Elsie Jean Cotton, who was in Angel Street, and The Man Who Came To Dinner. She is a junior English major from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Other members of the cast who are playing in a major production for the first time are Shirley Wells as Mrs. Corsellis, Margaret Newland as Mrs. Smallwood, Glen Knecht as Mr. Smallwood, and Benson Gearhart as Rigg.

Tickets for the play are forty-five cents; they are on sale at the Chatterbox and Byrne's Drug Store.

Senior Music Hour Set Tomorrow at 4

Senior music hour, annual music program presented on baccalaureate Sunday, will be presented at 4:00 o'clock tomorrow at the Chilhowee Club House. Mary Barnwell and Mary Jo Bolin, senior piano majors will perform. Frances Ashby, senior organ major, will not be able to participate because there is no organ in the club house. Rella Anderson, Barbara Blair, Betty Hall, and Peggy Howell, junior voice majors will also perform.

Miss Barnwell will play Pastorale by Scarlatti and Intermezzo op. 199, no. 1 by Brahms. Miss Bolin will play Mozart's Sonata in F major and Russian Easter from Rachmaninoff's Fantasy no. 5. The latter is two pianos. Dan Winter will play the second piano. Miss Anderson will sing Una Voce poco fa by Rossini, Miss Blair will sing O patria mia by Verdi, Miss Hall will sing Mi Chiamano Mimi by Puccini, and Miss Howell will sing Madre pietoso by Verdi.

Representative Work Published By Workshop

Writers' Workshop has recently published a book entitled Chips. It is a composite of the eight best works read at Workshop this year. It includes a variety of styles and forms of both prose and poetry. Evelyn Anderson, Elsie Jean Cotton, Nellie Cuellas, Robert Dockendorf, Dr. Hunter, Anna Sakaizawa, Raymond Swartzback, and Fred Wilson are the contributors.

The books are being sold by members of the club for 25c.

DR. LLOYD SPEAKS AT BACCALAUREATE

In accordance with tradition at Maryville College, the Presiedent, Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd, will deliver the Baccalaureate address. The services will be held in the Alumni Gym at 10:30 a. m. on Sunday. About five hundred chairs in addition to the bleacher seats will be in the Gym. Both faculty and seniors will be in academic costume for the services.

Becky Maddux To Head Bainonian Next Year

Bainonian's new president is Becky Maddux, home economics major from Arkansas. The other officers of the society elected May 13 are: Jean Cobb, vice president; Footsie Housch, secretary; Betty Seagraves, treasurer; Jean Almy and Mae Meriweather, program chairman; and Lois Thomas and Ruth Heaps, rush week chairmen.

IRC Elects Bruce As Prexy For Next Year

IRC elected Bob Bruce, president; Marjorie Prall, vice president; Betty Absher, secretary, and Carroll Stegall, treasurer. George Gillette and Martha Grace Brindley were selected for the program committee Elections were held at the May 5 meeting.

Bob Bruce Elected Pre-Med President

Bob Bruce was elected president of the pre-medical club in the elections held May 8. The other officers elected include Lloyd Anderson, vice president; Peggy Brooks, treasurer; Argyle King and Walter Dean, program chairmen, and Carol Jones, secretary.

REV. THOMAS A. GRAHAM

Ex-Coach Speaks At Alumni Dinner Tuesday Evening

Tuesday night, May 20, at 7:00 p. m., the Maryville College Alumni Association will hold its annual dinner and meeting in Pearson's dining hall. Judge A. E. Mitchell, member of the Board of Directors and former Athletic Coach here, will be the main speaker. Judge Mitchell lives in Knoxville and is now chairman of the committee on finance of the Board of Directors.

After the invocation, President Ralph Waldo Lloyd will give the welcome and present the members of the fifty-year class. There are now six living members of the fifty-year class and all hope to be able to attend the dinner.

Following the meal and recognition of classes, Dean Frank D. McClelland will present the class of 1947 and Harvey Overton, president of the class, will make the response.

After this will be the reports of the committees and the election of officers.

Those who will attend are Maryville alumni, including the class of '47, and their families and guests.

Lower class students will have a picnic supper on the campus that night if the weather is good. In case of rain, the meal will be held in the library.

MITCHELL TO HEAD ATHLETIC ASS'N.

Marvin Mitchell, junior from Maryville, was elected president of the Athletic Association for the coming year. Other new officers elected included Bill Proffitt, vice president; and Barbara Eggleston, secretary. Elected to the Athletic Board are Bob Boring, Brick Brahams, Lloyd Anderson, Edith Largen, Janice Lindsey Miss Jessie Heron, and Mr. A. F. Pieper.

The main duties of this group will consist of the awarding of Athletic letters to those participating in the various phases of the athletic program, both intercollegiate and intramural.

Rev. Thos. Graham To Deliver Address

One hundred and six members of the Class of 1947 will receive their diplomas in the One Hundred and Twenty-eighth Commencement Exercises of Maryville College which are to be held in the Alumni Gym Wednesday, May 21, starting at 10:30 a. m.

The Commencement speaker will be Rev. Thomas A. Graham, minister of the New Providence Presbyterian Church of Maryville. His address will be entitled "Let Knighthood Flower Again." Mr. Graham, a native of Scotland who came to Maryville from Marinette, Wisconsin in 1945, did his college work in Carroll College and graduated from McCormick Seminary.

The activities will be opened by the traditional processional which includes the Daisy Chain, the Vesper Choir, the directors, graduating class, and the faculty. After the invocation the choir will sing "The Music of Life" by Cain. After the address by Rev. Mr. Graham, the choir will sing another anthem, "Built on a Rock" by Lindeman. Then the degrees will be conferred. President Lloyd will be assisted by Judge Samuel O. Houston, chairman of the board of directors, Dean Hunter and Dean McClelland in awarding the degrees; there will be honorary degrees and certificates to the fifty year class as well as the bachelor degrees to the Class of '47.

Then the benediction and recessional will end the program.

Included in the Class of '47 are 18 who finished their work in December, and six who will graduate at the end of a summer session. Following is a list of all those who are graduating:

Candidates for the B. A. degree December 19, 1946

Charles Arthur Brand, Donald Ward Campbell, Betty Carolyn Congleton, Kathryn Isabel Dean, Fred Morris DePue, Wallace Edward Easter, Daniel Buckley Eveland, Charles Halsey Hildreth, Robert Alison Hunter, Paul Andrew Jamarik, Owen McGarity, Jr., Howard Albert Meineke, Charlotte Virginia Proffitt, David Edward Renegar, Vera Elisabeth Ross, Claude Irving Shell, Jr., Mary Julia Turk, Gilbert E. Weiss

Candidates for the B. A. degree May 21, 1947

Ann Stina Anderson, Frances Marion Ashby, Emma Jean Balch, Mary Elizabeth Barnwell, Jay Richard Bishop, Williamina Ruth Broadhead, Jessie Lou Brunson, Evelyn Marshall Bunch, Mary Elizabeth Case, Virginia Alice Clabough, William Gerald Cover, Mary Agnes Dellinger, Robert Cummins Dockendorf, Albert Warren Dockter, Jr., Edith Earle, James Edward Evans, Winfred Ashe Ezell, June Sara Garland, Jackson Miller Gilmore, William Ranck Grosh, David Clarence Gulick, Lilybel Gunn, Frances June Hamilton, Jeanne Louise Heaps, Robert Donald Harzberger, Kenneth Leon Huff, Ada Yadon Huffman, Beth Allison Huftalen, Mary Elizabeth Hunt, Dorothy Clarissa Jones, Ruth Kaye, Eleanor M. Kelley, William Abbott Kemp, Alma Lee Lancaster, Roy William Laughmiller, Jr., Suzanne Leighton, James Maurice Leister, Joan Liddell, Ruth Bell Lloyd, Irvin Kenneth McArthur, Harriet Elizabeth McKean, James Payson Martin, Virginia Edwina Miller, John Richard Moore, Harvey Reed Overton, Jr., Ralph Thomas Parkinson, Charles Edward Pepper, Jr., Betty Burton Pinner, Lewis McCarroll Purifoy, Jr., Gwendolen Rees-Jones, Mary Margaret Roberts, John Rogerville, Maybelle Rule, Leonard Schieber, Leroy Victor Secrest, John Robert Shell, Jayne Moss Shouse, Elizabeth Anne Showalter, William James Sidner, Donna Reyner Smalley, Charolett Carleen Stephens, Earl Hubert

(Continued on page two)

PRESIDENT LLOYD ANNOUNCES LARGE GIFT TOWARD NEW CHAPEL

President Ralph Waldo Lloyd of Maryville College yesterday morning in chapel announced that friends of Maryville College, who live in another State, have offered to provide a fine arts center to be constructed in connection with a new chapel, the two units to replace and enlarge the combination chapel and fine arts building destroyed by fire on March 26, 1947. It is the understanding that the two units are to be completed as one project.

The total cost is estimated as more than a half million dollars, with the Chapel and Fine Arts center each representing approximately half of the total. Thus the gift announced by President Lloyd today is a notable one.

Insurance on the former chapel will cover a comparatively small proportion of the cost of the new chapel unit. A financial campaign to secure the additional funds required for the Chapel and for other imperative needs of the College, including new dormitory facilities, is being organized and will be announced.

The new Chapel and Fine Arts center will probably be located in the area of the former Chapel, will be of modern fireproof and soundproof construction, and will represent a much needed enlargement in seating capacity and fine arts facilities. No date has been set as yet for the beginning of construction.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 32 NUMBER 31

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

R. Thomas Parkinson ..... Editor
Mary Elizabeth Hunt ..... Staff Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Janet Miller, Lorraine Swift, Dorothy Vawter

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Grace Gugger, Naomi Hoffman
Ilda Mosby

FRESHMAN APPRENTICES
Craig Fisher, Herbert McCallum
Kenneth Olsen, Smartt Ramsey, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake Leslie Webb

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF
Ruth Williams ..... Business Manager

JUNIOR ASSISTANTS
Katherine Johnson Mary Jane Long

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANT
Lillian Law

FRESHMAN ASSISTANT
Bob Watkins

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879.

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, MAY 17, 1947

Our "Farewell Address"

You go along for the four years, always with the eventual goal of graduation, then suddenly here it is, and it seems strange that graduation from college came upon us so soon. It is a good feeling, but it leaves one with mixed feelings and disconnected, nostalgic thoughts of the past four years.

We are glad we came to Maryville College. Certainly no college is perfect, but Maryville has much that many other institutions lack. The education is here for those who want it. There is a friendly atmosphere here; faculty as well as students take a personal interest in their neighbors and associates. Fundametnally Maryville College is a Christian college. It is good to have been here four years.

How could we ever forget: The athletics we enjoyed so well at Maryville? Coach Honaker's ability and will to win with his Highlanders? The true friends that are made at M. C.? The unique social life—Town Night, Barnwarming, Saturday nights, the mountain outings? The many efforts put into the Student Council, work toward student government?

Through our four years we have been privileged to work on the Highland Echo. We are glad we did; truly it has been a good and worthwhile experience. We would hereby offer out heartfelt appreciation to those who have worked with us this year. From the senior editor on down it has been an interested and hardworking staff. The business manager and staff have certainly been faithful in providing the "where-with-all" to enable us to print the weekly. The faculty adviser has been ever available for advice that was needed and sought after. Those behind the scenes, the men (and a lady) who do the actual printing, have been patient and co-operative.

Yes, our memories are pleasant. And now we leave it all. We would wish the best of luck to our successors. May Maryville College continue to prosper and grow. May her athletics and other activities continue to be successful. May the dear Highland Echo continue to meet deadlines, and may it became a better paper.

—30—

Just Being "Nosy"

BY LORRAINE SWIFT

Senior chapel got us to thinkin' the other day, and we wondered about that long line of dark caps and gowns. Almost made us sentimental when among those sober faces not even Broadhead looked out at us to smile. She practically laughed when Parkinson told her to "quit shovin' ", though.

We were awfully glad Jim Martin, Dick Moore, Leroy Secrest, and John Rogerville were last because they ended their part of the line right in front of us, and you can imagine how much of the ceiling we could see over them. . . .Anyhoo—that senior chapel got us to thinkin', and we wondered about what those kids planned on doin' in the future, what they're gonna leave here, and who's gonna be taking their places.

Quite a few of them have identical plans, and the others will probably end up doin' the same thing before long. 'Corse Jean Williams, Leroy Secrest, David Renegar, Charley Pepper, Roy Laughmiller, Ada and Harold Huffman, Kenneth Huff, James Evans, Bob Herzberger, Bill Grosh, and Al Dockter have already visited the preacher. Renegar and Huffman are plannin' on bein' ministers, themselves, methinks; Jean Williams is content to remain the doctor's wife, while Laughmiller has ambitions of making his wife a doctor's wife, also.

There's a longer list of other seniors who are taking out marriage licenses. Carolyn Ulrich, Jo Liddell, and Tom Parkinson are gonna take the vows in the library next week, with Bob Huber, '45, also participating. Helen Underwood, Ray Swartzbach, Betty Showalter, Mac Purifoy, Virginia Miller, Ruth Lloyd, Alma Lancaster, Jeanne Heaps, Jackson Gilmore, Annie Belle Gilliam, June Garland, Katherine Franklin, George Martz, Betty Lou Boyatt, June Burns, Jessie Lou Brunson, and Ann Anderson have all announced their intentions as well as their intentioned, even though some of them are not plannin' on sayin' "I do" right away quick in a hurry.

Well, that takes care of thirty or so seniors, so you can see that marriage is fairly popular.

Naturally we haven't been quite inquisitive enough to discover the future of all the seniors, but we might hand over a few general ideas and predictions. Fred Wilson is goin' to seminary, Jayne Shouse probably to graduate school, Leonard Schieber to meet Grace Gugger's folks, June Hamilton to school, and GWEN REES-JONES TO WORK IN TEXAS. Harriet McKean will probably be a famous physicist; Polly Lickteig's off to graduate school at U. T.; Jean Magill's a prospective home-ec teacher, and Jim Leister will undoubtedly be in seminary. Mary Lib Hunt will work on a newspaper; Dave Gulick will be found in med school, Mary Agnes in graduate school, and JOHN SHELL WILL BE WORKING IN ARKANSAS.

As for those who will leave something, could someone convince Jay Bishop to leave that voice at M.C.? Now if Bill Nish had it, there would be three more years for our enjoyment . . . Woe is us. What to do without Sarah Enloe, Kemp, and Sidner for keeping the school morale where it should be. . . Martha Barnwell will carry on the family tradition at the piano after sister Mary garduates. . .Guess Betty Seagraves will take over Jean Balch's dramatic rols. . . Bet Bob Dockendorf will be returning to his ole alma mater occasionally. Eleanor Kelley and Ezell, too . . . . Suzanne Leighton is graduating in good spirits. Who wouldn't with A minus on comps? So did Lilybel Gunn. 'Corse Mary Case had an A. . .Hope Lottie Lavender lets us know when THE ONE comes along.

We'll miss 'em. Bobby Jo Reed's quietness, Harvey Overton's loudness, Mary Margaret Robart's singing with the choir, Maybelle Rule's good-nature, Donna Smalley's presence on third floor, Carleen Stephens in first aid class, Tuck Thomas' "well, I'll tell ya", Babs Wells' hillbilly songs, Doris White's shortness, and Jane Witt's wit. . . . Guess Kay Stout wil keep on havin' a good time in New York; wonder if Geneva Jo Robertson will go all the way back to California. . . Jean Tarwater is interested in medicine, but ten to one she uses it on her own family. . . Ruth King Wood will be a leader wherever she goes.

There they go, kids. Bid 'em so long, and hide those faces green with envy. Maybe someday we can get the little piece of white paper sayin' that we, too, are "eddicated". Ah us, such luck we mortals have.

There are a few people besides seniors at this college, though. For instance, Marianna Hayes, but a few more tricks like the last one and she'll never see the life of a senior here. Dr. Briggs is partially to blame, too. It has something to do with psychology class and testing the lie detector. Marianna had to go to Miss Massey with the fantastic tale hat she wanted to get married on Sunday, May 18, and she had to have permission from the school immediately. Her groom-to-be was going for a cruise somewhere, and her uncle, who was to give her away, could not be here on any day except this Sunday. After telling her pitiful tale, Marianna returned to psychology class to take her test. Then she went back to see Miss Massey to tell her that the whole thing was a joke. Miss Massey, however, had been thoroughly convinced, and had already started getting things rolling. She went to Dean McClelland, and somebody went to Dr. Lloyd, and Marianna was about to get herself married. Needless to say, some parties thought it was funny; others didn't.

Well, peoples, we'll see you next year, but hope we'll never be able to say that again. Right now we've got to look up some of our friends—incidentally, a friend is one who dislikes the same people you dislike—we've gotta see those friends and see what we can do about those exams we still have ahead of us.

That's all we have to say to the girls, but just an extra paragraph for the boys. Fellas, let it never be said that Maryville boys are not broad-minded. Keep that in mind all summer, for broad-mindedness, you know, is the ability to smile when you discover that your girl is missing from the dance floor. Adios.

TALK OF THE WEEK . . .

JEAN ALMY

Undergrads Express Mixed Feelings As They Bid Farewell To Seniors

BY LESLIE WEBB

We underclassmen would like to express our feelings to you, seniors, but since we haven't yet learned how to mix joy with sorrow in a single breath, we end up feeling rather inadequate. We are glad, though, that you have reached the culmination of your studies and your efforts at Maryville. We rejoice that we have been privileged to know you and that you have been our friends. We regret that you are leaving us.

And yet, we feel sure that the common bonds that have knit us together here at Maryville will not be dissolved by our separation. We shall continue to scan the horizons "Through These Portals" and we shall note proudly the worthy achievements we know you will record in your chosen fields. We hope that you may keep us in your memories and that you will not be too busy to look back occasionally and enjoy your college days in retrospect.

Above all, we want to continue and to increase the prevailing spirit of Christianity and good fellowship that you have preserved so faithfully for us and to pass this heritage on to our successors. We hereby dedicate ourselves to this purpose.

We believe that in trusting Christ as Savior and in developing all the positive and dynamic qualities He inspires in those who follow Him, we shall best be able to follow your leadership and to make our own contribution to this college, whose ideals and purposes we both love and cherish.

We believe that in Christian charity and in humble devotion and service to God, the great world of men and nations can find the only solution to the problems that vex our modern living. As we gird ourselves for the duties of knowing and leading the way from the darkness into light, we are depending on you who go ahead of us. Let your light burn with a steady glow so that we may find you and take our places by you when we, too, launch out. We want to blend our courage and our strength and our determinations with yours and with all who seek our mutual goals. May we remember constantly that darkness can never quench light but that light can and constantly does extinguish darkness and so may we press forward in His strength until "the whole earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord as the waters cover the sea." We who remain bid you, the seniors, Godspeed.

Alpha Sigma Elects Carl Lazenby President

Carl Lazenby, sophomore from Alabama, was elected president of the Alpha Sigma Society in the election concluded Monday afternoon, May 12. The other new officers will be Bill Proffitt, vice president; Charles Warren, secretary; Glen Knecht, treasurer, and Bob Arant, program chairman.

128th ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

(Cont. from Page 1)

Stephens, Catherine Grace Stout, Raymond Howard Swartzback, Jean Cate Tarwater, Mary Jane Tedford, Virginia Lee Thomas, Carolyn Jean Ulrich, Edward Aniel Voorhees, Jr., Barbara Jean Wells, Jean Messet Williams, Frederick Russell Wilson, Edna Jane Witt, Ruth King Wood.

Candidates for the degree of B. S. in Home Economics

Mary Ruth Barber, Betty Lou Boyatt, Mary Jane Burns, Sarah Enloe, Annie Belle Gilliam, Lottie Ruth Lavender, Elise Pauline Lickteig, Jean Frances Magill, Bobby Jo Reed, Geneva Jo Robertson, Helen Louise Underwood, Doris Hughes White, Ardeth Christine Wilson.

Candidates for graduation in summer

Mary Jo Bolin, Margaret Eileen Coulter, John Craig, Frank Aaron Kramer, George Warren Martz, James Elton Patridge.

Tau Kappa Chi Elects Officers

Tau Kappa Chi, new music organization, held a meeting Friday to elect officers for next year. The following people were elected: Dorothy Vawter, president; Janet Rich, vice-president; Marian Weiler, secretary; Martha Barnwell, treasurer; Rella Anderson, program chairman; and Peggy Howell, social chairman. These officers will assume duties in the fall. At that time new members will also be elected to the club.

Cotton Selected Leader Of Theta Epsilon

Elsie Jean Cotton is the newly elected leader of the Theta Epsilon society. Assisting her will be Ginnie Swartz as vice president; Jo Campbell, secretary; Geneva Robinson, treasurer; and Bonnie Mills and Grace Hildebrand as program chairman. Elections were held at the regular meeting, Saturday, May 10.

CONGRATULATIONS
SENIORS!
C & L CAFE

Sincerest
Congratulations
Graduates
Best Wishes
For Success In
The Future
LYNCH BAKERY

CONGRATULATIONS
GRADUATES OF '47
THE PARK DRUG STORE

CONGRATULATIONS
Graduates and Success In The Future.
"Maryville's Most Popular Store"
MOSER'S
.CLOTHING STORE.

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

A Year of Scot Supremacy

The baseball game with U. T. Monday rings down the curtain on the 1946-'47 sports year. This, the first post-war season, has been one of the most glorious in the history of the Highlanders. It certainly will be marked up as a high tide in Maryville collegiate sports. Who could have predicted at the beginning of the academic year last fall that the Scots would go to the Tangerine Bowl—undefeated and untied, with no team ever scoring more than one touchdown over the mighty Highlanders? That the basketball team would be rated in its class as one of the most powerful in East Tennessee? That the wrestling team would tie for state champions, with two defeats and two ties marring an eight match season? That the Highlander baseball club would hand out 14 defeats and suffer only five out of 19 games? Anyone would have been extremely doubtful that the Highlanders could boast such a record. . . yet, this is exactly what Maryville College Athletic teams have done in this year of Scot supremacy on the gridiron, hardwood, mat, and diamond.

A Look at the Records. . . .

To be convinced of every statement we make, one has only to look at the Highlander's parade of victories. The record tells that the Highlanders won 42 out of the sum total of 61 collegiate sport events. This leaves but 16 defeats and 2 ties for the negative side of the balance. Proof enough that the year 1946-'47 was high tide for the victorious Highlander Squads!

FOOTBALL

The 1946 Highlanders smashed all opposition they met in their regular season only to be thrown for a loss on New Year's Day by a powerful Catawba College team from Salisbury, North Carolina in the inauguration of the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Florida. The Scots remained undefeated and untied for the first time in Coach Honaker's 25 years at Maryville. With an immovable forward wall and a speedybackfield racing out the yardage, the Scots ran up nine consecutive victories to become one of the three undefeated teams in the South. The record of the season follows:

M. C. 33	Hiwassee 0	M. C. 20	Middle Tenn. State 6
M. C. 14	Tenn. Wesleyan 0	M. C. 7	Sewanee 0
M. C. 19	Centre of Ky. 0	M. C. 33	Carson-Newman 7
M. C. 25	East Tenn. State 2	M. C. 41	Tusculum 0
M. C. 19	Emory and Henry 6	M. C. 6	Catawba 31

CROSS-COUNTRY

In two meets with the University of Tennessee for the season, the Scot country runners captured the first, 27-32, on the home course and dropped the second at Knoxville, 39-21.

BASKETBALL

The Scottie basketball machine plunged into the season to take six consecutive victories, then suffer five setbacks with very close scores, and again hit the victory trail for six more wins only to lose the last game of the season. The Highlander basketeers boast victories over each of the ten opponent teams except the Tusculum Pioneers and Vandy's "B" squad. The record in basketball:

M. C. 75	Johnson Bible 22	M. C. 40	Vandberbilt "B" 41
M. C. 53	Carbon Carbide 30	M. C. 41	Carson-Newman 43
M. C. 49	Hiwassee 34	M. C. 53	Tenn. Wesleyan 39
M. C. 45	Carbon Carbide 40	M. C. 56	E. Tenn. State 49
M. C. 45	Amos and Andy 39	M. C. 55	Hiwassee 43
M. C. 54	Emory and Henry 32	M. C. 44	Carson-Newman 28
M. C. 35	East. Tenn. State 52	M. C. 46	Lincoln Memorial 42
M. C. 50	Tusculum 52	M. C. 58	Emory and Henry 46
M. C. 40	Lincoln Memorial 43	M. C. 37	Tusculum 40

WRESTLING

The Maryville College Wrestling team did the season up in their usual grand style. Downing all opponents except Auburn and Appalachian Teachers, the grapplers ended the season with 4 victories, 2 losses, and 2 ties. Tubby Callaway, freshman wrestler of the 145 pound class, was the Scot's strongest muscleman by virtue of his remaining undefeated during the entire season. The record:

M. C. 26	Georgia Tech 10	M. C. 27	Vanderbilt 3
M. C. 18	Chattanooga 16	M. C. 5	Appalachian State 28
M. C. 21	Vanderbilt 9	M. C. 18	Georgia Tech 18
M. C. 13	Auburn 19	M. C. 14	Chattanooga 14

BASEBALL

The Scots rejuvenated the game on the hill after the lapse of the war years and at present have chalked up 14 victories and 5 losses. The season compares favorably with the last pre-war team of 1942 when the season's baseball mark stood ten victories out of fourteen games. The baseball scores for the season:

M. C. 1	Michigan State 10	M. C. 7	Hiwassee 5
M. C. 10	Hiwassee 7	M. C. 7	Cumberland U. 8
M. C. 7	Western N. C. State 0	M. C. 4	Tenn. Poly. Inst. 9
M. C. 9	Ohio Wesleyan 3	M. C. 9	Emory-Henry 8
M. C. 8	Hiwassee 5	M. C. 5	Tenn. Poly. Inst. 1
M. C. 9	Tusculum 4	M. C. 9	Emory and Henry 13
M. C. 3	Univ. of Tenn. 1	M. C. 4	E. Tenn. State 1
M. C. 13	Hiwassee 10	M. C. 11	West. N.C. State 7
M. C. 15	Tusculum 7	M. C. 4	West. N. C. State 5
M. C. 3	E. Tenn. State 2	M. C.	Univ. of Tenn.

TRACK

The Highlander Cindermen, after being swamped at U. T., 99½ to 31½, won at Cookeville, taking eight out of 14 events for a 75-53 victory over T.P.I. Hap Brahams entered the State Meet to bring home eight points by taking first place in the 220 low hurdles and second place in the 120 high hurdles.

Highlander Nine Ends Successful Season With U. T. Encounter Monday

The Highlanders will close the 1947 baseball season on Monday when they play a return engagement with the University of Tennessee at 3:30 on the college field. This will be the second game of the season with the Vols, the Scots winning the first, 3-1, on the home diamond on April 17.

14 Wins Out of 19 Tries

Displaying a strong hitting and pitching force, backed by efficient outfield and infield work, the Maryville nine have rolled up a total of fourteen wins out of nineteen games. They dropped the first game of the season to Michigan State, 10-1; but then recovered to win ten straight over Hiwassee, 10-7; Western North Carolina, 7-0; Ohio Wesleyan, 9-3; Hiwassee, 8-5; Tusculum, 9-4; University of Tennessee, 3-1; Hiwassee, 13-10; Tusculum, 15-7; East Tennessee State, 3-2; and Hiwassee, 7-6. Dropping into a slump, the Scots lost to Cumberland, 7-8; and Tennessee Poly Tech, 4-9; but pulled out to take Emory and Henry, 9-8, and Tennessee Poly Tech, 5-1. Then they dropped to Emory and Henry, 9-13, and took East Tennessee State, 4-2. Last Monday they split a double-header with Western North Carolina Teachers, winning the first game, 11-7, and losing the second, 4-5.

The first four games were played at home, then one away, then three more at home, one away, one at home, three away, two at home, and four away.

Boring, Hamil Top Sluggers

Bobby Boring, short stop, and Hugh Hamil, outfielder, are tied at the head of the batting averages with percentages of .349 each. Both men have been at bat 63 times in 17 games, and hit 22 times. Boring has hit 14 singles, 2 doubles, 4 triples, and 1 homer. Hamil has driven out 12 singles, 5 doubles, 2 triples, and 2 homers.

King Berrong holds the top position for Runs Scored with 18, while Hamil is top man in Runs Batted In with 20. King Berrong is on top of the list for doubles with seven and Boring leads in triples with four.

L. Berrong—Top Hurler

Leon Berrong leads the staff in games won (8), innings played (75 2-3), and strike-outs (52). McJunkin is next behind him in strikeouts with 42. See the Pitching Records for the rest of the statistics on the Scot hurlers.

The batting averages of men playing more than ten games through today are as follows:

	AB	R	H	RBI	Pct.
Boring	63	15	22	11	.349
Hamil	63	17	22	20	.349
Rock	51	9	17	6	.333
L. Berrong	28	2	8	5	.286
Enloe	32	5	9	2	.285
K. Berrong	67	18	18	10	.269
Stinnett	68	10	17	13	.250
Spears	45	17	10	8	.222
Pentz	38	8	6	5	.222
Honaker	53	7	6	6	.113

PITCHING RECORD

Pitcher	W	L	H	R	SO	BB
L. Berrong	8	1	52	25	51	15
McJunkin	3	2	32	25	42	34
Jernigan	1	0	22	18	7	18
Malone	2	2	28	29	5	13

Brahams Places First And Second In Hurdle Events In State Meet

The sole representative of the Scottie Cinderman at the state meet held in Memphis last Saturday afternoon, Hap Brahams clinched his hurdle title by sweeping a first in the lows, and a second in the highs. Bettering both his former winning times at U. T. and T. P. I. he swept to a 25.7 second victory over the 220 yard low hurdles. Striking the fifth barrier in the high hurdles, he lost by a fraction to an opponent whom he had beaten in a former heat. His time, if he had cleared the obstacle, would probably have bettered sixteen.

ELEVEN TRACKMEN RECEIVE LETTERS

Eleven trackmen were elected by the Athletic Board of Control to receive letters for the past season. Two juniors, two sophomores, and seven freshmen, including a freshman manager, compose the list of track lettermen.

The following men received letters: Brick Brahams, Hap Brahams, Craig Fisher, George Gillette, Bob Kay, Sid Lambert, Bill Proffitt, George Robarts, Ray Saunders, Wilbern Seymour, and manager Frank Ladner.

The requirements for a letter in track are (1) a first place in an event of a collegiate meet, or (2) a total of ten points earned for the season.

Scots Split Two With Western N. C. 10 to 7 and 4 to 5

In the first half of a double header at Cullowee, North Carolina, with Western North Carolina Teachers last Monday, Leon Berrong hurled the Scotties to another victory in a seven inning, seven hit game, 11-7. Western Carolina's pitchers Grogan and Crocker allowed the Highlanders nine hits.

Leon Berrong, who pitched the winning game for Maryville, allowed Carolina all seven hits, struck out seven men, walked none, and hurled no wild throws. Grogan, the Teacher's moundsman for the first five losing innings, allowed Maryville all nine hits and eleven runs, walking seven men and fanning nine. He threw three wild pitches. Crocker, who replaced him at the mound in the sixth, allowed no hits and no runs.

Maryville	AB	R	H	E
K. Berrong, 2b	4	2	3	0
Honaker, 3b	3	1	0	2
Rock, r.f.	2	0	0	1
Boring, s.s.	3	1	1	2
Hamil, c.f.	3	1	2	0
Stinnett, c.	3	1	1	0
Enloe, 1b.	3	1	0	1
Spears, l.f.	1	2	1	0
L. Berrong, p.	4	1	1	0
Buckley (7), 3b.	1	0	0	0
Pentz, (5) r.f.	1	1	0	0
Neff (6), l.f.	1	0	0	0
Total	29	11	9	6

W. N. Car. Teach.	AB	R	H	E
Teague, 2b	4	2	2	0
Heavner, 3b.	4	1	0	0
Bean, 1b.	4	3	4	1
Price, r.f.	5	0	0	0
Fare, c.f.	4	0	0	1
Colagerakis, l.f.	3	1	0	1
Stoff, c.	2	0	0	1
Ellis, s.s.	3	0	1	1
Grogan, p.	2	0	0	1
Barnhorst, (6) c.	1	0	0	0
Crocker, (6), p.	1	0	0	0
Total	32	7	1	6

W. N. Carolina	112	010	2xx
Maryville	000	650	0xx

DROP NIGHTCAP

The Scots lost the second game of the double-header with Western North Carolina Teachers, 5-4, when Bean, the hard-hitting first baseman for Carolina, tied into a last-inning triple with a man on base and then scored on a single. The Scots won the first game which started at 2:20 on the Cullowee, North Carolina, diamond.

McJunkin of Maryville was the losing pitcher, allowing Carolina five runs and seven hits, and walking and fanning four men. The Carolina pitcher, Deyermond allowed Maryville four runs and five hits, winning the game. He fanned five Scots and walked four.

Maryville	AB	R	H	E
K. Berrong, 2b	2	0	0	0
Honaker, 2b	3	0	0	0
Rock, r.f.	2	0	0	0
Boring, s.s.	3	1	1	1
Hamil, c.f.	3	0	1	0
Stinnett, c.	3	1	1	1
Enloe, 1b.	2	1	1	0
Spears, l.f.	2	1	1	0
McJunkin, p.	2	0	0	1
Total	22	4	5	3

W.N.C. Teach.	AB	R	H	E
Teague, 2 b.	3	0	0	0
Heavner, 3b	4	2	1	0
Bean, 1b.	3	2	2	0
Price, r.f.	3	1	1	0
Fare, c.f.	2	0	0	0
Colagerakis, l.f.	2	0	1	0
Barnhorst, c.	3	0	2	2
Ellis, s.s.	2	0	0	0
Deyermond, p.	3	0	0	0

INTRAMURAL DOPE

BY SMARTT RAMSEY

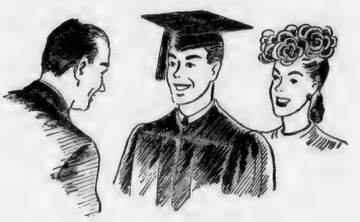
LONG GETS TOP INTRAMURAL TOTAL

Bill Long, senior biology major from Steubenville, Ohio, is the intramural high point man of the year it has been announced. Long, who will receive the intramural gold medal, participated in football, basketball, volleyball and softball for the Misfits. In second place is W. E. Ezell, physics major hailing from Townsend, Tennessee, who will receive the intramural silver medal. Third, and also a Misfitter is Bob Thompson, freshman chemistry major. The ten highest are:

1. Bill Long
2. W. E. Ezell
3. Bob Thompson
4. John Mathis
5. Ed Voorhees
6. Bob Hill
7. Bob Connell
8. Mil Castrodale
9. Harvey Overton
10. John Runion

Misfits Head Teams

At the top of the teams which have taken part in the various sports during the year, is the Misfits with 184 points. This team has taken the championship in touch football and volleyball. Just ten points behind, the Echo runs a close second with 174. Third in the standings come the Eight Balls who have 137 points. The number one spots in basketball and softball fell to them during the year. Following are the team standings:



Misfits	184
Echo	174
Eight Balls	137
Bartlett	84½
Ministerials	81
Choir	71½
Alpha Sigma	44½
Athenian	33½

Manager winning awards are: senior manager, Leonard Shieber—awarded a sweater and an M; junior managers, Dick Smilie and Mil Castrodale—awarded intramural keys; and sophomore managers Lloyd Chandler, Dale Motsinger, Fred Richardette and Bill Houdeshel— awarded intramural letters.

SOFTBALL FINALS

Winding up intramurals for this school year, the Eight Balls grabbed the Intramurals Softball championship by taking a shutout victory from the Misfits 9-0, Wednesday afternoon. From the first of the softball season this spring to the finals of the tournament the Eight Balls have kept a clean slate.

Threatening skies could not stop the championship game Tuesday afternoon, and, although there was a tennis match being played at the same time, a fairly large crowd of students watched the Eight Balls put the hex on a fly-wrecked Misfit club.

THE FIRST EVENT OF YOUR CAREER—

COMMENCEMENT MEANS

BEGINNING

We are prowd of you and the wonderful start you've made on life. We too know that you have learned the value of security—and that is one of the important things of life.

Congratulations and Best Wishes for Success Graduates

BLOUNT NATIONAL BANK

Maryville Netmen Wind Up Season

The Scottie net squad completed an abbreviated season Wednesday with two college matches and a match against Maryville High this past week.

They lost the raquet battle with L.M.U. last Saturday 7-0, and one to Tusculum Tuesday 4-3. Wednesday they defeated Maryville High 7-2. All of these were home matches. The tennis team will not letter this year because of the brevity of the schedule. Following are the names of the members:

Squire Kemp, Don Cummings, Bill Dinges, Bob Wilson, Harold Hunter, Craig Fisher, Sam Broyles and Johnny Johnson.

Gifts that Take TOP HONORS.

PARKS-BELK COMPANY

LIDDELL, PARKINSON TO WED WEDNESDAY

Joan Liddell, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. George T. Liddell of Washington, D. C. and Thomas Parkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Parkinson of Raleigh, Tenn., will be married on graduation day. Wednesday morning, May 21 they will receive their diplomas, and at 2:00 o'clock they will be married in the college library, by Miss Liddell's father, assisted by Dr. Lloyd.

Jo's gown will be of traditional white satin with a Dutch cap made of satin and seed pearls from which will fall her veil. Matron of honor will be the bride-elect's sister, Kay, now Mrs. J. E. Stickney, Jr. She will wear a blue gown with matching long gloves. The bridesmaid will be Joy Stewart, Jo's roommate, of Birmingham, Ala., who will wear a similar gown of pink. Abbott Kemp of Acworth, Ga. will be best man.

The reception will be held in the Y rooms following the ceremony and then the newlyweds will leave for the Great Smoky Mountains for their honeymoon, returning June 1 to Raleigh, Tennessee, which is a suburb of Memphis. For traveling, Jo will wear an apricot-colored gabardine suit with white accessories.

Jo has been active in many things on campus. She has been a member of Bainonian, Student Vols, honor roll, "Y" cabinet, a Nu Gamma Leader, orchestra, and on the staff of the Echo.

Tom is editor of the Echo, a member of Athenian, Y cabinet, Writers' Workshop, Honor Roll, Student Council (4 years), Student-faculty senate, and a member of Who's Who in American colleges and universities.

Next fall, Tom will do graduate work at the University of North Carolina, or Northwestern University.

ULRICH TO MARRY HUBER WEDNESDAY

Miss Carolyn Ulrich, daughter of Mrs. Earl E. Ulrich of Aurora, Indiana, will be married to Robert Huber of Birmingham, Alabama, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Huber, on graduation day at Maryville College at 4:00 p. m. in the library. Dr. Orr will perform the ceremony. Miss Jean Heaps will play the organ and Miss Katherine Carpenter will sing Ich Liebe Dich and The Lord's Prayer. Betty Anne Showalter, roommate of the bride, will be maid of honor, and bridesmaids are Nellie Cuellas, Jean Almy, Carolyn Darling, a cousin of the bride-elect, and Margery Huber sister of the groom. Best man will be John Shell, and the ushers are Jay Bishop, Ken Kribbs, Charles Hogland, and Claude Shell. Gerald Ulrich, brother of the bride will give her away. The wedding is to be all white.

A small reception for close friends of the couple will be held in the Y rooms following the ceremony.

While Mr. Huber was here at Maryville, he was also Editor of the Echo, a member of Pi Kappa Delta, Writers' Workshop, and Student Council. At present he is on the editorial staff of the Birmingham Post in Birmingham, Ala. The future Mrs. Huber is a philosophy major and has been a member of Bainonian, Parish Project, I.R.C., German Club, Student Vols, and on the Honor Roll for 3 years in the four years that she has been here.

PENNEY'S

MEN'S WEAR

With a Cool Summer Air!

STRAW HATS. Sturdy mesh braids, smart styles. 1.98

SHIRTS. Fine-weave high-count broadcloth—Sanforized†. 3.49

TIES. Rayons in good summer stripes, figures, solids. 98c

SOCKS. Smart summer rayons and blends. Top patterns. 49c

ATHLETIC SHIRTS High-quality combed cotton. 49c

SHORTS. Sanforized, full-cut cotton. Smart patterns. 65c

BRIEFS. Elastic top, finely combed cotton. 59c

SPORT SHIRTS. Plaids and plains, Sanforized cotton. 2.49

CASUALS. Moccasin toes, grain leather. Antique tone. 5.90

†Shrinkage will not exceed 1%.

IT'S A GREAT DAY for the Graduate

MAY 21, 1947

GRADUATION DAY

Is A Very Important Day For You Seniors...And We Wish To Congratulate You And Wish You Great Success and Happiness

J & K SUPER MARKET

A Day You'll Want to Remember—

What could be better than a Photo In Your Cap and Gown!

THE WEBB STUDIO

CITY DRUG COMPANY

Phone 66 Maryville, Tennessee

OREN D. LOWE

"Maryville's Leading Prescription Store"

NORTON HARDWARE CO.

Phone 18

YOUR STUDIES ARE OVER, YOUR WISHES HAVE ALL COME TRUE

So Put Your Books Away And Let Us Say CONGRATULATIONS To You

BYRNE DRUG COMPANY

Congratulations and BEST WISHES to the CLASS of "47"

PROFFITT'S

WILL MISS THE CLASS OF '47

NOT ONLY HAVE WE ENJOYED A LOT OF YOUR BUSINESS——BUT AMONG YOU WE HAVE MADE FRIENDS THAT GRADUATION DOES NOT END——AS YOU TAKE YOUR PLACE IN THE WORLD OUR BEST WISHES ARE FOR YOU TO CARRY ON THE GOOD THINGS YOU HAVE LEARNED——.

TO THE UNDERCLASSMEN

We Welcome You Back Next Fall To Continue Your Work— Don't Forget The Seniors—A Small Gift For Rememberance Will Not Be Forgotten—PROFFITT'S Have A Large Variety Of Gifts To Choose From——

PROFFITT'S MENS STORE MAIN FLOOR

"Since 1919, The Best Place To Trade"

Nabholz To Serve As German Club President

Hedy Nabholz will be president of the German Club for the next semester. Other officers are Ed Pancoast, vice president; Ray Packard, treasurer; and Argyle King, secretary. Elections were held Monday, May 12.

Crawford & Caldwell

HARDWARE

Phone No. 1 Maryville

Capitol

Coming Next Week

Mon.-Tues., May 19-20

DENNIS MORGAN JACKCARSg Dennis Morgan, Jack Carson Janis Paige, Martha Vickers Starring In

"The Time The Place and The Girl"

With

S. Z. Sakall, Alan Hale

Carmen Cavallaro and Orchestra

IN TECHNICOLOR

From School Girl To . . . . .

Career Girl, Housewife, or Perhaps A School Girl Again In New and Different Surroundings.... Whatever Your Future Life May Be.. And Wherever You May Go.....Let Us Wish You Great Success And Happiness In The Future Years To Come.

M.M.ELDER CASH CARRY STORE

1947 - 1948

FACULTY

RECEPTION TONIGHT

THE Highland Echo

Z 703

WELCOME

NEW STUDENTS

VOLUME 33 | MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, AUGUST 30, 1947 | NO. 1

Plans To Rebuild Chapel Continue

Plans for a new chapel and a fine arts center announced in general last spring have gone forward during the summer, President Ralph W. Lloyd announced this week. Such plans involve a study of the kind of facilities Maryville College will need for the next fifty years, the experience of leading fine arts centers, the forming of estimates and exact plans by architects, and the securing of additional funds necessary. None of these developments can be seen on the campus, but a great deal of work has been done and remains yet to be done on them.

Within the next few weeks there will be public announcements as to a financial campaign which will be necessary for the chapel and for some other purposes which are being developed. The making of sketches and the fitting of the new units into the present campus plan is being studied by architects at the present time. Because of the long-range features of this building program and because of the value of having sufficient funds in view before proceeding with actual building and also because of continued scarcity of materials and high prices, the date for breaking the ground for the new building has not yet been set.

Destruction of Voorhees Chapel

The new chapel and fine arts building will be built to replace the Elizabeth R. Voorhees Chapel destroyed by fire March 26, 1947. Nothing was salvaged, though the Maryville fire department and the students arrived on the scene quickly.

The fire, apparently started near the main entrance, was discovered by Noble Pribble and Bob Dockendorf, "chapel rats", who roomed there in the basement, shortly before 11:30 p. m. Though Bob reported the fire immediately from Carnegie Hall, it had gained too great a start and was completely out of control soon after the arrival of the fire department. The cause of the fire is not positively known, for, after previous damage done by fires in 1943 and 1946, the chapel was rewired and many new safety devices were installed.

In addition to the building, from which thirty-nine senior classes had been graduated and in which for the past forty years everyone had met five times a week for chapel, attended Vespers and Artist Series and the February Meetings, the music and equipment of the music and dramatic arts departments were almost completely lost.

Loss To College Heavy

Lost were such items as the Wicks pipe organ, originally costing $5,000, but which could not be purchased now at that price; the concert Steinway piano, which cost $4,000 in 1939; all the props and costumes collected by the dramatic arts department; all radio equipment in the broadcasting studio located in the basement; twenty-three pianos, including studio as well as practice ones; all the larger orchestral instruments; the large music library, including all of the choir music; the record library and record players; and additional smaller items. Because of the rapid spread of the fire and the density of smoke no one was able to carry anything out.

Two Fires Happened Earlier

Late in the afternoon of December 3, 1943, fire was discovered in the rear attic of the chapel. The blaze was under control within an hour. Costumes and properties of the Dramatic Arts Department were destroyed. Chapel services were held in the gym until repairs could be made.

The second fire occurred November 27, 1946, and destroyed the roof and attic in the rear.

Ironical as it seems, the class of 1947 witnessed all three fires, the first in its freshman year and the others in its senior year, and were unable to graduate there.

Chapel Reflects 40 Years of History

On November 1, 1906, dedica-

(Continued on Page Two)

Room Bureau Places 75 New Students in Homes

Approximately seventy-five new men students have been placed in rooms off-campus through the facilities of the Room Bureau, the desk of which was located in the lobby of Carnegie Hall. The bureau, consisting of three boys well acquainted with Maryville, John Baird, Tennessee, formerly of Maryville, Scott McClure, and Carl Murray, Maryville, worked during the summer locating rooms for boys who would not be able to find vacancies in the dormitories. Many Maryville residents phoned to the college offering places in their homes.

In addition to the seventy-five men who registered with the Room Bureau, sixty-seven or more new men found rooms through other sources. Forty-one returning out-of-town students are rooming in Maryville homes, while seventy-six returning students and twenty-eight new students are natives of Maryville, giving an approximate total of 283 men students living off-campus.

Most women students live in the three college dormitories; however a few women students who are from out-of-town have rooms off-campus. Twenty-nine returning women students and twenty new women students have homes in Maryville.

M. C. Plans One Semester Flight Training Course

Pending the almost certain approval of the Veterans' Administration in Nashville, Maryville College plans to institute a one semester flight course, the arrangements to be made with the Flying Service at the Knoxville Airport.

This course will be on a private lesson basis, and will consist of 24 flying hours during the course, and one hour per week of ground training. This will be valued at one semester hour credit for flight, and one semester hour for ground. Though all arrangements are not completed, it is estimated that the cost of such a course would be $250.00, which, if approved by the V. A. would be paid for for veterans under the G. I. Bill.

Tryouts, Practice Hours Planned For M.C. Choir

Mr. Harry H. Harter, new choir director, announced that opportunities for trying out for the vesper choir will be given on Monday and Tuesday, September 1st and 2nd. Tryouts will be conducted in the YW rooms, beginning at 7:00 each evening.

Forty-three out of sixty voices have returned to take their places in this year's choir. A large order for music to replace part of the choir library which was lost in the chapel fire has already been filed.

When the selections of choir singers has been completed, practice sessions will be held three times weekly. Monday at 5:30 p. m. and Friday at 2:30 p. m. have been chosen as two practice hours. The third will probably be from 7:00 to 8:00 p. m. on Wednesday.

The Maryville College choir is always a prominent feature in our Sunday Vespers. Special music for other occasions will also be prepared, including the well-known rendition of "The Messiah" at Christmas.

DR. H. E. ORR LEADS FIRST VESPER SERVICE IN THAW

Dr. H. E. Orr will lead the Vesper services which will be held Sunday evening in the library in Thaw Hall at 7:00 o'clock. The subject will be "Life Abundant".

Dr. Orr is Chairman of the Division of Bible, Philosophy and Education at Maryville College.

FACULTY, STUDENTS MEET TONIGHT AT ANNUAL RECEPTION

Tonight at 8:00 o'clock the annual formal faculty reception will be held in the library in Thaw Hall. All students, old and new, and students' wives are invited to meet and renew acquaintance with members of the faculty. The reception line will be headed by the presidents of the YWCA, Mildred Orr, senior; the YMCA, James Black, junior; the Student Council, Elsie Jean Cotton, senior; and the Women's Student Government Association, Anna Sakaizawa, senior, after which students will be successively introduced to faculty members.

Although the reception will begin at 8:00 p. m., students may come any time between 8:00 and 9:30. Light refreshments will be served.

Big-Little Sister Party, Watermelon Pow-Wow Held For New Students

Over one-hundred-twenty little sisters were entertained at the Big-Little Sister party held by the YWCA on Friday night, August 29, under the direct planning of Barbara Bertholf, junior from Morris Plains, New Jersey, and Elsie Jean Cotton, senior from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, who were appointed to the social committee last spring.

The annual Watermelon Pow-Wow for all new men students also was given on Friday, held under the sponsorship of the YM CA. These two events closed the series of opening week activities which had been begun at the joint business meeting of the "Y" cabinets on Monday, August 25, at 7:00 p. m. on Pearsons steps.

YWCA and YMCA cabinet members arrived on campus Monday specifically for the purpose of discussing plans for welcoming freshmen and transfer students. Some groups went to bus and train stations in Knoxville on Tuesday; others met students at the Maryville bus station, while still others were stationed at tables placed on the campus for the convenience of new students finding their room numbers and leaving baggage checks.

Y.M. Retreat Planned

Various plans have been made for the coming year, all of which will be used for carrying out the theme "Wake Up and Live". At present there are tentative plans for a YMCA cabinet members retreat, which will be held at West Maryville Presbyterian Church and will be followed by a supper at Chilhowee Inn.

Presidents Mildred Orr and James Black announced that the first meeting for the "Y's" will be a joint meeting held in the amphitheatre in the college woods next Sunday afternoon, September 7.

All seniors, juniors, and sophomores interested in trying out for positions on the editorial staff of the HIGHLAND ECHO are invited and urged to come to the ECHO office in Thaw Hall at 8:00 p. m. Monday, September 1.

Freshmen try-outs will be announced later.

John Poland Is New Manager of Chatterbox

John Poland, manager of the Chatterbox, has announced his assistants for the coming school year. Footsie Housch, Julian Gresham, and Mae Merriweather, who is house chairman of Baldwin, make up his group, with Janet Lindsay and Lorrie Nunn standing by as substitutes.

Poland announced that hours would be the same as last year: immediately after lunch and dinner: from 9:45 to 10:15 p. m. for girls, and from 10:15 to 10:45 p. m. for boys; and open to all after most campus activities.

The Chatterbox is a service sponsored by the "Y" organizations. The manager and assistants are members of the "Y" cabinets. All of the proceeds go into a building fund for the Student Union Building.

Mr. Hughes Plans For 48 Piece Band

Despite the loss of uniforms and instruments in the chapel fire last March, the Maryville band is already being reorganized by its instructor, Mr. Curtis Hughes, who announced that band try-outs will be held at 4:30 p. m., Monday afternoon, September 1.

This year's band members will not have the traditional orange, garnet, and white uniforms seen at last year's football games, but they are ordering white slip-over sweaters, which will be paid for by the band itself. Men will wear white trousers, and women will wear white skirts. All members will have brown and white saddle oxfords and white socks.

The schedule includes practice every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afteroon at 4:30. All students registered for band will be exempted from the gym program, and will receive gym credit for band participation. Mr. Hughes, who was also in charge of last year's group, says that there were forty-eight students enrolled for '46-'47 band and that the same number will be used this year.

Band sponsor nominations will be handled by the four societies, Bainonian, Theta Epsilon, Athenian, and Alpha Sigma, their candidates being nominated before September 20. A drum major and two twirlers will be selected to head the band during marches.

Several new instruments were bought during the summer by the college. Additional and heavier instruments will be purchased if enough students register for an orchestra to be organized.

868 Students Enrolled; 300 Are New Students

Of the 868 students enrolled in College this semester 300 are new students and transfers and 568 are old students. Only 665 of this number will be eating in the dining hall. There will be 179 men living in homes near the College, and 153 local students living within commuting distance. Men and women are somewhat unevenly divided. There are 483 men and 385 women.

Two members of the freshman class are from Puerto Rico. Lavinia Rodriguez, although recently from New York City, was born in Mayaguz. Ibsen Espada is from San Juan. Another member of the class, Lincoln Shimomura, was born in California of Japanese parents.

This year's enrollment is somewhat larger than last year but is expected to average approximately the same since enrolment varies during the year as some students leave and others fill their places.

12 PIANOS, RECORD LIBRARY ADDED TO MUSIC DEPARTMENT

During the summer much of the equipment for the music department that was destroyed by fire has been replaced. There are now twelve practice pianos, six of them new used pianos, two brand new ones—a Kimball and a Hamilton—and the rest are left from last year. New studios and listening rooms have also been made in Anderson annex.

The record library is rapidly being replaced. Many were bought this summer; however, several rare volumes are as yet unobtainable. A record player with an extra large amplifier has also been bought with Disc Club and other large listening groups in mind. Rev. James Smith has been working on another listening table this summer and plans to have it ready to install next week.

Student recitals will be held biweekly this year as has been the custom in the past. However, because the division of the Art Gallery into two rooms makes it too small for the recitals, they will be held in the Y rooms.

ATHENIAN

Athenian will meet tonight in Barlett for a short business meeting and program. The college men's quartet will sing several selections.

Twelve New Faculty Members Appointed; Adds To Ten Departments

FACULTY SUMMER SPENT VACATIONING, TEACHING, STUDYING

This summer three members of the Maryville faculty spent part of their vacation traveling in Mexico. One new instructor spent the summer studying in Mexico City.

Miss Nathalia Wright, assistant librarian, and her mother took a National Education Association tour to Mexico. The group consisted of twenty-six teachers. They took a chartered bus from San Antonio and traveled down the Pan American Highway. The entire trip extended over a period of three weeks. In each city they met Mexican teachers and visited Mexican schools.

Miss Viola Lightfoot, assistant to the dean of students and Miss Nancy Hunter, secretary to Dr. Lloyd, drove their car to Mexico City. There they joined Cook's Tour, a conducted tour which took them to some of the smaller towns out of Mexico City. Some of the most interesting places they visited were Fortin de las Flores, Puebla, Taxco, and Cuernavoca. They spent three weeks on their trip also.

Mr. James Schwam, new Spanish instructor, and his wife went to school in Mexico City, at the Mexico City College for six weeks. He took some advanced Spanish courses there.

Ten members of the faculty taught in other institutions this summer. Seven of these taught at the University of Tennessee. These were Dr. Edwin Hunter, Professor George Howell, Dr. F. A. Griffitts, Miss Jessie Heron, Miss Jessie Johnson, Mr. S. W. Phillips, and Mr. Harvey Reber.

Dr. Augustus Sisk taught at George Peabody College for Teachers in Nashville, Dr. David Briggs taught at Appalachian State Teachers College in North Carolina and Dr. Lincoln Barker was at Murray State Teachers College in Kentucky.

Miss Katharine Davies went on Sabbatical leave in January. She continued her studies at Eastman School of Music this summer.

FORMER LIBRARIAN SUCCUMBS AT HOME

Horace Lee Ellis, librarian at Maryville College from 1924 to 1943, died at his home on August 5. The funeral service was conducted by Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd at the First Baptist Church in Maryville.

Mr. Ellis was graduated from Maryville College in 1898, after which he served in numerous educational capacities, including the position of professor of Latin at Carson-Newman College. He joined the Maryville faculty in 1914 and served until 1943, when he was forced to retire because of failing health

Joe Jackson, Favorite College Cook, Dies

Joe Jackson, head cook at Maryville College for nine years, died suddenly in June at a local hospital. He had been sick for about nine months. September 16, 1946 was his last day at work at the college.

"He was liked very much by all the students and teachers who knew him as well as being a good cook," said Mr. Louis Black, director of maintenance.

In May, Miss Margaret Ware, dietitian, brought him back to the college for a visit and the students gave him a hearty reception which he remembered and liked to talk about until his death.

He is survived by a wife and two children. His son is nine and his daughter six. So far he has not been replaced in the college kitchen.

JIM LEISTER, '47 M.C. GRADUATE, DIES

Jim Leister, '47 graduate, died June 22 after a brief illness. He was the son of the Reverend and Mrs. J. Maurice Leister of Rural Valley, Pa.

Jim began his college career at Juniata College the summer of '44 and entered Maryville as a second semester freshman that fall. By attending Lebanon College the summer of '45 he was able to graduate at 20 in '47. He had planned on entering Western Theological Seminary for his BD and Master's degrees and then to Edinburgh for his PhD., so that he might teach theology.

He was an Athenian, vice president of Ministerial Association his junior year, a Parish project worker, a member of the Student Volunteers and on the cabinet in '46, and on the YMCA cabinet the three years he attended Maryville.

NEW GYMNASIUM COMPLETED; IMPROVEMENTS MADE

Many improvements have been made on the campus this past summer by Mr. L. A. Black, Mr. E. C. Brown and their staffs. The new gymnasium which was bought from the army last year has been completed, and will be used principally for intramurals while the Alumni Gymnasium will continue to be used for the varsity indoor sports and as the chapel because of its greater seating capacity. The extension of the athletic field will eliminate the conflict between the baseball diamond and the track.

Partitioning Increases Number of Classrooms

Space for the music faculty's studios was made by the partitioning of the rooms on the second and third floors of the Anderson Annex. Dr. Hunter's classroom on the second floor of Thaw Hall has been divided into two classrooms and Miss Heron's classes will be held in the other half. The old debate room on the west side of the library has been fixed up for classes. Four practice rooms in addition to those in the little building just west of Anderson Hall are located in the new gym, two on each side of the door toward the front.

Painting and Repairs Made

Mr. Black reports painting done on the outside and interior of Baldwin and Memorial Halls, and in the library. Bartlett, Carnegie, Pearson's lobby and the Anderson offices. Pearson Annex and sections of Fayerweather and the main part of Pearsons have had new roofing laid.

Bainonian and Theta halls have been repaired and the chemistry, biology, and home economics rooms repainted. Two new showers were installed in Memorial and Baldwin Halls and all the showers have been outfitted with new plastic curtains. Besides these specific improvements, the maintainance staff has been busy during the summer mending the roofs, working on the plumbing, and making other necessary repairs.

"M" Books Enlarged; Arrived August 23

"M" Books were enlarged this year, through the efforts of Editor Hildred Miller, junior, and her staff, although students received their "M" Books later than usual this term, having the books handed to them upon their arrivals at school. Miss Miller explained that most of the copy was written before the close of school last spring, and all copy was sent to the printers by June 15. The books were supposed to arrive for distribution by August 1, but were not received until August 23 and 25.

(Continued on page two)

Three Teachers Join Music Dept.

President Ralph W. Lloyd recently announced twelve appointments of new teachers to the Maryville faculty, adding members to ten departments. He also included in the announcement the changes in the status of six teachers, the additions to the staff, and the persons who have discontinued their service at the college. Announcements are as follows:

Appointment of New Teachers

Alice Elizabeth Archibald, B. Mus., of Fremont, Ohio, Instructor in Piano and History and Appreciation of Music. Miss Archibald graduated last June from the Conservatory of Music of Oberlin College, Ohio, where she was elected a member of Pi Kappa Lambda, National honor music fraternity.

Arthur S. Bushing, B.A., M. A., formerly of Jamestown, Tennessee, Assistant Professor of English. Mr. Bushing graduated at Maryville College in 1943; while in the Army attended Stanford University, California, and the Sorbonne in Paris, France. He has been a graduate assistant teacher at the University of Tennessee where he received his M.A. degree this summer. He is married and has one child.

Rev. David LeRoy Engelhardt, B.A., B. D., Ed. M., of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Assistant Professor of Bible and Religious Education. Mr. Engelhardt graduated from Pennsylvania State College in 1942 and from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1944 and received the Master of Education degree from the University of Pittsburgh this August. For the past two years he has been an Assistant Pastor, with special duties in connection with the young people's and religious education program, at the famous Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City. He is married and has one child.

Harry H. Harter, B. A., M.Mus., of Daly City, California, Assistant Professor of Music, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Richard W. Vine. Mr. Harter received the B. A. degree from San Jose College, California, in 1942 and the M.Mus. degree from the University of Nebraska this past year. He has had voice training under Dr. Westbrook at Nebraska University, Hermanus Baer at Northwestern University, John C. Wilcox at Colorado College, and others. In college his choir training was under a leader trained by Christensen. More recently he has received training in conducting programs under Edgar Nelson of Chicago, John Finley Williamson of the Westminster Choir School, George Lynn of Princeton University, and Nicolas Slonimsky. Before the war he sang tenor in a professional male quartet under Rudy Vallee Management, Hollywood. During the war he was in the Army Air Forces assigned in charge of chapel music programs. Since the war he has taught in Nidland College, Nebraska. He has directed choral and choir groups at various places.

Kenneth P. Johnson, B.S., M.A., of Jamestown, New York. Instructor in Physical Education, with major responsibility for Intramurals, Swimming, and Tennis. Mr. Johnson received the B.S. degree in Physical Education from Gartland State Teachers College, New York, in 1941, and his M.A. degree in Education from St. Lawrence University, New York, in 1946. He served for three years as instructor in physical education and coach of football, basketball, and baseball at Dexter High School, New York. N. Y. He then entered the U. S. Navy, was swimming instructor at Sampson Naval Training Base, physical therapist at Corona Naval Hospital, and Coach of the Naval Hospital bas-

(Continued on page four)

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 33 NUMBER 1

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser
Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor
Kenneth Olsen ..... Sports Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Grace Gugger, Naomi Hoffman, Ilda Mosley

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Herbert McCallum, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF
Ruth Williams ..... Business Manager

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Mary Jane Long

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANT
Bob Watkins

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, AUGUST 30, 1947

THIS IS IT. . . .

So this is it. . . . . this is being a senior and welcoming freshmen and transfers. . . . this is welcoming back old students. . . . this is writing editorials that are never read by most people, seldom read by some people, and always read by very few people.

This is being glad to be back. . . . glad to see the old faces. . . . wishing more of the old friends had returned.

This is thinking of the ECHO, not for the present edition alone, but for each week of each semester, realizing its specific needs, hoping for its general improvement with each passing week. . . . wanting to print the truth, to be fair. . . . wanting the newspaper to be a vital asset to the college program.

So this is knowing, like all other editors, that our year, 1947-48, will be the greatest year of all.

Dr. Echo and Mr. Hide

It's not great to be back. Not at least when the first thing you have to do is write a column. Or did you ever spend three hectic days locating trunks, changing schedules, un-short sheeting beds, registering, taking the tack out of your foot—the one that you thought was holding up the curtain, welcoming friends (no reflection on the official welcomers—those guys and gals that wore the badges.) As we were munching on some popcorn in the bus station someone asked if we were freshmen—then we turned around—eek—we haven't lost weight, it's just been shifted. In addition to all these trials and tribulations we had to dig up the news.

There has been so much it will probably take all semester to let the cat out of the bag.

Here it is in Winchell style. . . . Flash! We're back with the trash! ! some people are still single. Pardon us, we're finger conscious—lady finger. We'd hate to fill out Bob Watkins income tax. With his six different summer "positions". Jo Campbell and Betty Wyrick are working for the F.B.I. Who are they after? Is marriage contagious or is "Marrying Sam" working overtime. While we're thinking of it—it's customary to put stamps on envelopes. Seems as if a few freshmen didn't know that—or we prefer to think it was freshmen. We've been waiting to meet Jack Terrell and his bride.

Have you noticed the extra lights on campus and are we paying to have the bushes trimmed? Hayes and Emory are homesick. They're over in Baldwin yet. Shining examples to freshmen (of what not to do at Maryville). Haven't heard of anyone "Moonshined" Yet. Jean Conkle has to go to work soon because her husband said they could do everything but eat on his salary. Ain't married life wonderful? Bud Engle says it's even better than the books. Among the miscellaneous things unpacked from Eunice Billing's trunk was "A Guide to Marriage." Charlie Kruger found the best bench on campus. Rather secluded. It is sort of a triangle—a girl, a guy, and a radio. What are Balch and Bishop doing back here: They got their degrees, didn't they? We hear Baxter makes a good nurse. With the help of "Baxter's Kneady Massages", Ray's temperature is again at the normal 98.6. Willie Nish, that witty emcee, has a single room. How does he get his 5'2" in there?

Along with meeting the new freshmen (which we will do when we get through the lines) we'll be meeting the new professors. We're looking forward to giving the new ones an opportunity to see how much we know. Now that Katherine Theda isn't here we may have a chance. King isn't either. With this new tax, we'd better write home for our penny banks.

We beg to disagree with you, Dr. Sisk—the shortest distance between two points isn't a line. When you've got to line up to give someone your money it's pretty tough. Mrs. Butcher knows every stick of furniture in Pearsons and would appreciate it if you girls would please not rearrange your furniture. Freshmen girls: take care of your matrons—you may meet them again later, like we did—our freshmen matron is still getting back at us. Freshmen boys: Airwick isn't a cure all for everything—maybe for fish, but not for, tsk-task (wonder if this well be censored) cigarettes. You poor fellas living off campus. A co-ed singing "Ain't You Ever Comin' Back," as her Romeo trudges 8 miles to do a bit of studying will be a familiar scene. Gee, that ice skating in the movies the other night didn't look hard. We do better than that on the newly waxed floor. There is more than one way to get down to earth.

It was hard traveling for some of the students:
The girl stood on the railroad track.
The train was coming fast
However, we are happy to announce
She got off in time to avert the catastophe.

We hope as the semester goes on we can improve on our poetry, but we thought no column was complete without some verse.

Bill O'Neill turned over a new leaf. He said two, but it's possibly the same one back again. Paul Kolter bought a whole book of commuter's tickets to Knoxville. These individual tickets are so expensive. Paul, by the way, what is your major? We've heard rumors you were signed up for dramatic art, mustic appreciation, home handicraft and rural problems.

Dear Readers: Forgive us for all we haven't told you. (This is probably the only time we'll ask forgiveness for what we have not told you.) "It Takes Time" to see all the old people and meet the new. We haven't had time to Ask Tom how June is. Or Merrill how Alma is. Or Kemp's sister where ole Squire is. And Margaret how's Jim?

Wondering if Bill Nish found his little brothers. And in giving a thought for the semester, may we all benefit: If you think little of a person, say as little as you think.

And so, with notions of love, we remain
Dr. Echo and Mr. Hide.

CHAPEL

(Continued From Page 1)

tion services for the Elizabeth R. Voorhees Chapel were held. The construction, begun in 1905, was made possible by the gifts of Ralph and Elizabeth Voorhees of New Jersey. From their gift of $100,000 to the college, $15,000 was appropriated for the erection of the chapel, which in addition to a $10,000 gift made later by Mrs. Voorhees and $9,000 secured from other sources, brought the original cost of the chapel to $34,000, which would seem a small total in comparison to present day costs.

The structure contained a main auditorium seating almost a thousand, and twenty-five class rooms. The Division of Fine Arts classes, music and expression, met there. For a number of years the YWCA was in one of the rooms in the basement. In recent years it has held the studios of the music and dramatic art faculty members and a broadcasting studio.

In 1906, the class of '06 wanted to graduate in the chapel. Since there were no permanent seats installed yet, benches were placed in the auditorium and the exercise conducted. The 1906 Chilhowean contains a drawing of the building.

Pipe Organ Installed

Under the leadership of Mrs. Ralph W. Lloyd a fund was started in the late '30's to secure a pipe organ. At the final meeting of the February Meetings, Dr. Harrison Ray Anderson of Chicago, instead of giving the usual closing talk, asked the students to do him a favor. Having become vitally interested in the proposed organ purchase, he requested that everyone bring to the platform a contribution for the organ fund. The money, with a few larger gifts and original fund, was used to install the organ. Some students at the end of the year left part of their $10.00 deposits to be added to the fund.

Graduates of 1947 Attend School, Marry, Hold Various Positions

BY MILDRED LEAKE

Last year's graduates have scattered to various places and occupations, as is revealed by the alumni survey being conducted by James Smith, alumni executive secretary. Though, the survey is not complete, a few of the graduates have reported—several are teaching school, some have married, and others are planning post graduate work.

Edna Jane Witt will be teaching chemistry, biology, and physics under the Polk County Board of Education. Virginia Lee Thomas will be teaching, too, the Fifth Grade in Stearns Grade School. Evelyn Bunch has gone into YWCA Professional School at Ferry Hall, Lake Forest, Ill., and this month she will report to Beaumont, Texas, as teen-age director in the Y there.

Jackson M. Gilmore is working as an investigator. Claude I. Shell, Jr. is at J. C. Penney Company as salesman and department manager of the men's clothing department. His brother, John R. Shell, is bookkeeper, office manager, and general assistant in their father's seed and farm supply store.

Betty Lou Boyatt and Claude W. Best were married June 28, and she will be working in Cincinnati while her husband attends the University of Cincinnati. Ruth Broadhead intended working at Norris this summer, but after only two weeks there she became quite ill and had to go home. The latest report is that she has recovered and is planning to work in Washington.

Howard Meineke will enter the University of Cincinnati for graduate work in zoology. Jean Magill is studying home economics at Iowa State College this fall. Mary Agnes Dellinger will take the laboratory technician's course at the Duke School of Medicine. Dorothy C. Jones and Jayne Shouse worked for the Department of Justice in the Bureau of prisons this summer. Dorothy will enter Syracuse University on a fellowship and while studying for her Master's degree in psychology she will act as a student dean in one of the cottages for undergraduates. Jim Martin directed the youth activities and was general assistant in the Second Presbyterian Church of Bloomington, Illinois—a church of 1600 members. He will enroll next week in McCormick Seminary. Pauline Lickteig began post-graduate work at the University of Tennessee this summer. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Parkinson (Jo Liddell) have been in Memphis and visited the campus recently. Jay Bishop was also on campus. Doris White is a dietician at Blount Memorial Hospital here in Maryville.

ALPHA SIG

All old members of Alpha Sigma wil lmeet tonight in the Alpha Sigma room in Anderson Hall to discuss plans for the installation of new officers, a banquet which will be held next week, and the Rush Week which will be held with Theta Epsilon.

"M" BOOK ENLARGED

(Continued from page one)

Assistants in publishing the "M" Book were Ben Paxton, Assistant Editor, Bob Butts, Business Manager, and Katherine Carpenter, Assistant Business Manager.

Welcome
To Maryville!
See us for all your Bakery Needs
LYNCH BAKERY

smart shoes
RUGGED as a BLOCKING BACK
You'll find rugged smartness not only in Rand styling but also in Rand's superior quality construction inside and outside... giving service as well as style Come in! Look 'em over

The RAND Shoe for Men
$9.75
Other styles $6.50 $12.75
Smart styles for campus, class or dress-up
SHOEMAKER'S SHOE STORE
"Expert Shoe Fitters"

STORE of famous BRANDS
- HYDE PARK
- BOSTONIAN
- VAN HEUSEN
- MANHATTAN
- HICKOK
- TEXTRON
- PHOENIX
- LEE
- DISNEY
- BEAU BRUMMELL
- WEMBLEY
- WOLSEY
- ESSLEY
- ALLIGATOR
- JANTZEN
- SEVEN SEAS

REGISTER & FARMER
"The Store of Famous Brands"

Welcome Back
Maryville Students

"Hail! Hail!
The Gang's
All Here". . .
Back-to-school has its frivolous side too. . . . The clan gathers at the soda fountain for coke talk, soda dates and grade comparison.
PARK DRUG

COLLEGE
STARTS HERE

School headline fashion news! Sophisticated seniors, "grassy" freshman, intelligent sophomores. . . . all select their entire college wardrobe here! You'll find highly-styled moutons, sporty and dressy suits and dresses, glamourous formals. See our collection today!
McARTHUR'S
Dept. Store

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

WELL, WE'RE HERE! Again we knock the dust off the ole Echo typewriter and punch out the sentences to put in this corner of the page which comes under the heading of "SCOTLIGHTS". This is our nook to comment on the sports scene as we see it here at Maryville College, and. . . .

Z-ZOOM! We're off. . . off for a year of sports on the calendar for Maryville College. For the immediate future we have football top on the schedule. And the football squad is already warming up in daily practice sessions—they're getting up steam for a nine game run this fall. Believe me, these men on the gridiron these sultry August days are really making steam (and not with a blow torch, either). These preliminary heatings will pull any excess poundage off their weight and put them in their best operative weight.

Ask Any Opponent

A great many new faces, twenty-six by our count, in the Orange and Garnet flock are encouraging factors for the football outlook this season. Yet, the men with more familiar faces are the ones on whom most of the responsibility for a successful season falls. Among these, one that is as familiar to Maryville followers as the school's colors is that of Coach Lombe Scott Honaker, our twenty-six year veteran of football masterpieces. Coach Honaker's most recent masterpiece (for the benefit of the freshmen) was last year's triumphant undefeated football eleven that went to the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Florida, to make the first bowl entry of any Maryville team. Despite a setback at the bowl, this team went to "glory". There is no doubt that Coach Honaker knows his football: furthermore, he knows how to use the material on hand to form a team that comes to the N-th degree of perfection. Just ask any opponent on this count!

That's Us. . .

While Coach Lombe wields the stick for the backfield and the general offensive play, his able assistant, Coach John A. Davis, is the man responsible for the line's work (and we might have said the lion's work) and the general defensive work. Together, with a fleet of hefty backs, ends, tackles, guards, and centers, they comprise the Highlander football force (Note to frosh: "Scots", "Highlanders", and "Scotties" are the familiar nicknames for Maryville College athletic teams). Scots, that's us!

Then. . . . and Now

The nine game victory streak of last season gives the Scot team this year a reputation that will tax their brute strength to live up to. Every school in this list of nine will be out to knock us off the top. It's a sure thing that our valiant Scots set their football prestige on the highest brink in these parts last season. Whether we remain or get pushed off this brink will depend on how good we can continue to remain during the coming season. As it looks now, the Scotties have practically the same dependable men as during last season. The starting eleven is back almost intact. . . Mitchell, Pepper, and Anderson are missing. But Mitchell is back to do his bit by helping Coaches Honaker and Davis mold football mettle in prospective Scots. Reports have reached this quarter that Lloyd Anderson suffered an injury in an arm from a fall off a scaffold this summer. The injury, we understand will prevent him from engaging in his sagacious work in the guard slot of the Scottie line. Ken Stinnett, a promising wingback, and Sam Pickens, reserve tackle, are missing from the football roster. However, as much as we like to think that our Scotties have all the power of last season; we must admit that injuries and other setbacks could weaken the Scot's power before or during the season.

Bring On The Patience

Now, you eager freshmen, bring on the patience so that we might more easily hold our football fever in check to await the night of September 20 when the lights of Wilson Field will again glow for the first football classic of the coming season. And speaking of the coming season, the last open date in the M.C. schedule has been filled by the addition of Tusculum on the twenty-second of November. (You frosh haul out your "M" book and make a note of that on the schedule printed therein). And, by the way, while you're hauling things out, take a look at your student activities card you received at the treasurer's office on that fatal bill-paying day. That's your pass to an arena of sports unexcelled for sportsmanship, spirit, and thrills—in any man's college. We're inclined to think we're all very lucky to support a group of athletes such as those who don the Orange and Garnet uniform!

A Word of Welcome

One new face on campus is that of Kenneth F. Johnson, the tennis and swimming coach and director of Intramurals. Red-haired Coach Johnson came to M.C. from Jamestown, New York, where he has been recreation director of the city this past summer. He received his B.S. degree in physical education at Gartland State Teachers College and his M. A. in education at St. Lawrence University in New York. While in the Navy, he served as an instructor in P.E. and coached a championship Corona Naval Hospital basketball team to twenty-seven straight victories.

1947 FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Sept. 20—Hiwassee	Wilson Field
Sept. 26—Tennessee Poly Institute	Cookeville
Oct. 4—Centre College	Danville, Ky.
Oct. 11—(Open)
Oct. 18—Tennessee State College	Wilson Field
Oct. 25—Emory and Henry	Wilson Field
Nov. 1—Sewanee (homecoming)	Wilson Field
Nov. 8—Middle Tennessee State	Murfreesboro
Nov. 15—Carson Newman	Wilson Field
Nov. 22—Tusculum	Greeneville

FOOTBALL PRACTICE BEGINS, 75 REPORT

Seventy-five men reported for the football practice which began on Monday under the watchful eyes of Head Coach Lombe Honaker and Coach "J.D." Davis, with Mitchell and Honaker assisting. Practice is held every afternoon on the athletic field behind the Alumni Gym.

The first scrimmaging will begin sometime next week, but it will be quite a while before any definite team will be named.

This season promises lots of action with the challenging teams seeking to knock the Scots off the victory horse. The line and backfield are both heavier and more experienced than last year's championship eleven. With the added weight and a fast backfield, the team should show some real drives along the gridiron.

There are eighteen returning lettermen this season who played for Maryville last year. They are Davis, Talbott, and Bob Smith, ends; Rock and Kluth, tackles; Easter, Newman, Bill Proffitt, and Frank Still, guards; Garner and Holsey, centers; Baldwin and Neff, wingbacks; Leon Berrong and Enloe, tailbacks; Boring and Merriman, fullbacks; and King Berrong, quarterback. Ken Andes, who lettered in '42, is back, trying for guard spot. Captain of the team will be Ronald "Cotton" Easter, 200 pound guard, who was elected at the close of the 1946 season.

Besides these lettermen there are twenty-five other candidates for the backfield and twenty-eight for the line.

Backs include Rettke, Lowery, Hatley, Headrick, J. McNeill, Yeaworth, Frain, Henmemerth, Marsh, R. Miller, Thomas, Sharpe, Law, Fogerty, Baird, Murphy, Herring, Cutshaw, Hord, Mize, Sneed, Hamilton, Callaway, Downey, and Clark.

Linemen are Campbell, D. M. Miller, R. Lester, J. Lester, Llewlyan, B. Stinnett, Miracle, G. Lillard, Waggoner, and Walters, ends; Walker, Henry, Pinner, Isenberg, D. Walker, Webb, Kramer, Johnson, Larson, and L. Wilson, tackles; Stu McNeill, Bob Proffitt, McKee, and Ward, guards; Dinges, Archer, Henry, and Major, centers.

The managers include Bo Henry and Hurd Goddard.

Bud Engle is trainer.

Boring Top Batter During '47 Season

Although football is the main sports attraction of the fall semester, the impressive records of the '47 Scot baseball team remind far-sighted fans of the not-too-distant '48 clashes on the diamond. Under the guiding hand of Coach Lombe Honaker, the Scots rolled out 15 victories over challenging nines last season, dropping only 5 games, and closing the year with a 3-2 triumph over U. T. on May 19.

The batting averages for '47 show Bob Boring as the top batsman with an average of .369, followed closely by Hugh Hamil who hit .348. Allen Rock is also above the .300 mark with .315. The rest of the men are batting well up in the .200's.

The batting averages for the 1947 season were as follows:

	G.	AB	H	Pct.
Stinnett, c.	20	73	19	.260
K. Berrong, 2b.	20	70	18.	.257
Honaker, 3b	20	55	6	.109
Spears, cf. rf.	20	47	11	.234
Hamil, cf.	18	66	23	.348
Boring, ss	18	65	24.	369
Rock, rf.	17	54	17	.315
Pentz, lf.	15	40	6	.150
Enloe, 1b	13	33	9	.273
L. Berrong, p.	13	31	9	.290
Buckley, 3b	10	18	4	.222
Neff, cf.	10	10	3	.300
McJunkin, p.	9	9	2	.222
Reynolds, 1b	8	14	2	.143
Jernigan, p.	7	9	3	.333
Malone, p.	7	8	1	.125
Casey, p.	2	0	0	.000
Baird, c.	1	1	0	.000
Jones, p.	1	1	0	.000

Varsity Tennis Begins

Coach Kenneth P. Johnson, the new tennis coach, has announced that varsity tennis practice will begin immediately. All men interested should report to Coach Johnson so as to be placed on the Intramural Tennis Ladder. The top men on this ladder will comprise the tennis team.

This space could be filled by a joke about skunks, but it smelled.

Nice room, nice bath, no objection to Yankees.—Ad in Columbia, S. C., paper.

Intramural Foot-Ball, Tennis Begin

Kenneth P. Johnson, the new tennis and swimming coach and director of Intramurals, has announced that the intramural program will begin September 15 with the first six-man touch-football games. Two games will be played each afternoon.

Coach Johnson outlined the main touch-football rules the same as last year. A squad will consist of ten men, each of whom must wear tennis shoes while playing. All men must block while on their feet; no man will be allowed a "flying" block. The ball-carrier must be touched with both hands to constitute a down.

The deadline for the list of players and team will be noon on Saturday, September 13. Team managers may turn in the names of their teammates to Mr. Johnson in the Intramural Office in Bartlett Hall.

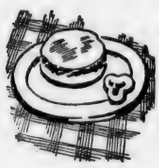
Coach Johnson also mentioned that a tennis ladder will begin immediately. The ladder will be set up in order of ability, the best player first. Any man may challenge another one who is one or two steps ahead of him, the challenge being met within a week or forfeited to the challenger.

The tennis ladder will continue all fall until bad weather and will resume as soon as the courts are ready in the spring.

All men interested in becoming Intramural managers may leave their names in the Intramural Office.

The physical education Intramural requirements for sophomores, juniors, and seniors will remain the same—each man must participate in one major sport (football, volleyball, etc.) each semester for at least two hours each week. Further detail on all Intramural activity can be had from Coach Johnson and from bulletins outside the Intramural Office and in Carnegie Hall lobby.

SAMPLE A SUPERLATIVE SODA FROM



BYRNE DRUG

No so-so sodas here!. . . only the best because there's more ice cream, more flavorful syrup, more whipped cream in one soda than you've ever seen before. All flavors in yummy sundaes and phosphates too.

Welcome
Maryville Students
BYRNE DRUG CO.

Welcome Students to
DUBBY'S GRILL
Just off the Hill

A Good Place to Eat

Dub Emert, Prop. - Ellis Ave.

We Welcome
You, Students!

THE BANK OF MARYVILLE

We Welcome Both The Old and New Students
WEBB STUDIO

GOOD FOODS TO DELIGHT YOU

Whenever you're downtown on a shopping tour, drop in at noontime and enjoy our specially prepared lunch-hour snack. A real treat.

Good food is a habit with us
VISIT US OFTEN

C. & L. CAFE

THE PROFESSOR SAYS. . . .

This is the time of the year when learned men everywhere turn instinctively to our Menswear Section. . . to orient themselves into clothes for the coming semesters! Of course they expect to find the right shades, the finest fabrics, the smoothest styles 'n the smartest savings. . . . and you can bet your college frat pin that they do! They know these clothes have a backbone of quality, a sureness of taste, a newness that is prophetic and an unmistakable correctness in every last stitch! So take a tip from ye olde professor 'n choose the choicest in campus garb from our comfort-wise selection!

Returning to Learning in Tweed!

Nifty, natty, color-batty tweed topic for campus capers. Handsomely styled single breasted model.

A College Fundamental. . . . . .

This water resistent, cotton poplin raincoat with tailored flap front, wide lapels, roomy pockets.

Maryville's Most Popular Store

MOSER'S
CLOTHING STORE

FACULTY CHANGES

(Continued From Page 1)

ketball team that won twenty seven straight victories. During the past summer he has helped in the direction of the city recreation program at Jamestown, New York.

Thelma Nelson, B. Mus., of Mansfield, Ohio, Instructor in Piano and Theory. Miss Nelson received her degree from the College of Wooster, Ohio, in 1946. During the past summer she was at the University of Michigan, studying toward her degree of Master of Music. Last year she taught public school music at Sunbury, Ohio.

Geneva Cyril Robertson, B.S., M. S., of Tennessee, Assistant Professor of Home Economics. Miss Robertson graduated from Union University, Jackson, Tennessee, and received her master's degree in Home Economics from the University of Tennessee. During the past five years she has taught Home Economics in the well-known High School at Kingsport, Tennessee. At Maryville she will have supervision of the Home Management House program in addition to her teaching.

James Howard Schwam, B.S., M. A., of Tennessee, Instructor in Spanish. Mr. Schwam graduated from West Tennessee State College and holds his master's degree from George Peabody College for Teachers at Nashville. Before the war he taught languages and since the war he has been both a teacher of languages and a high school principal in Arkansas. During the war he was in military service. He and Mrs. Schwam have just returned from Mexico where he has been studying Spanish at the College of the City of Mexico. Mrs. Schwam is the former Sara Fay Kittrell, who graduated from Maryville College in 1939.

Jessie May Wild, B.A., M.A., Assistant Professor of Drama and Speech. Miss Wild holds the bachelor's degree from Iowa State Teachers College and the master's degree from Columbia University. Also she has taken work at the Foegin School of Drama and the Feagin School of Radio in New York City. For a number of years she was connected with the public school system of Evanston, Illinois. For the past three years she has been teaching drama and music at Lynchburg College, Virginia. During the summer she has been in New York City and comes from there to Maryville.

Mrs. W. H. Yates, B. S., Instructor in Home Economics. Mrs. Yates' degree is in Vocational Home Economics from the University of Tennessee. She had had teaching experience and is now available at Maryville College because her husband, a veteran of World War II, is a student here.

Mrs. Mary Proffitt Wright, B.A., of Maryville, part time Instructor in Physics. Mrs. Wright graduated from Maryville College in 1942 with a major in Mathematics, and her husband, Robert C. Wright, was a classmate. After graduation she taught several years at Maryville High School.

Robert Bays, B.A., M.A., Knoxville, will teach two classes in French and two in German for a couple of weeks before proceeding to Yale for further study. The permanent teacher for these courses will be announced later.

Changes in Status of Teachers

Miss Katharine C. Davies, Professor of Music and Chairman of the Division of Fine Arts, who during the second semester of last year was on Sabbatical Leave of Absence studying at Eastman School of Music, Rochester, New York, has resumed her duties at the College.

Dr. Ralph T. Case, who last year taught in the field of Bible and Religion, again becomes Professor of Sociology. He will continue however to direct the Parish Program.

Dr. L. L. Williams has been advanced from Associate Professor to full Professor of Biology.

Mr. A. F. Pieper has been advanced from Assistant Professor to Associate Professor of Political Science.

Mrs. H. Wagner Newberry, who served last year as Instructor in French, will serve this year as Instructor in English.

Miss Dorothy D. Horne, Associate Professor of Music, will be absent throughout the year on Sabbatical Leave, studying toward her doctorate at Eastman School of Music.

Additions to The Staff

Mrs. Kenneth P. Johnson, B. Mus., is at present in charge of the Printing Department, of which Miss Cates served as manager last year. Mrs. Johnson holds the degree of B.Mus., from Syracuse University, New York, and for a number of years was made music supervisor and director of the high school band, orchesta, and girls' glee club in the Dexter, New York, schools. Her husband is the new member of the Physical Education faculty of the College.

Mrs. Etta Culbertson Kennedy, B. A., of Lewisburg, Tennessee, Assistant in the Library with special duties in connection with the Special Studies program to be inaugurated at midyear. Mrs. Kennedy graduated at Maryville College in 1939, taught two years, then took a secretarical course and was secretary to the President of Gulf Park College, Mobile, Alabama. Her husband lost his life in an airplane accident last spring.

Mrs. Margaret Jones LeMaster, R.N., of Memphis, Tennessee, Head of Memorial Hall. Mrs. LeMaster received her degree as a Registered Nurse at New Orleans. For the past seven years she has been a Supervisor at the Baptist Hospital in Memphis, the largest hospital in Tennessee. She has two daughters.

Mrs. Mary O. Luter, of Memphis, Tennessee, Assistant to the Head of Memorial Hall. Mrs. Luter attended West Tennessee State College and took work also in Cleveland, Ohio. She was formerly House Director and Campus Hostess at Scarritt College, Nashville, and came to Maryville from a position as House-Mother at Southwestern College, Memphis. She has two daughters.

Mrs. Betty Burton Pinner, B.A., who graduated at Maryville in May, is working as an assistant in the Treasurer's Office.

Theodore B. Pratt, B.A., M.A., Alumni and Publicity Secretary. Mr. Pratt is now at Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, where he is completing his work for the master's degree this week, and will arrive to assume his duties within the next week or two. He graduated from Maryville College in 1943 after which he entered the Army, went through the European campaign as a combat officer, and was discharged at the end of the war as a Captain. While in the Army he took courses in Shrivenham American University, England, and Biarritz American University, France. His graduate work has been in the fields of Journalism and Sociology. His wife is a graduate of Ohio State University with a major in Radio Speech.

Mrs. George L. Setterfield, is now working as secretary to Mrs. McMurray, Manager of the College Maid Shop. Her husband is one of the veterans enrolled at Maryville College.

Faculty and Staff Discontinuations

Division of Fine Arts:

Richard W. Vine, Assistant Professor of Music and Director of the Choir, who goes to a similar position at the State Teachers College, Valley City, North Dakota, not far from Mrs. Vine's home.

Miss Ruth E. Duggan, Instructor in Piano, who is studying at Eastman School of Music.

Miss Grace Weller, Instructor in Piano, who has accepted a position at her Alma Mater, Georgetown College, Kentucky.

Mr. M. D. Pederson, who served as Instructor in Piano during Miss Davies' absence.

Mrs. Clyde T. West, who retired as head of the Dramatic Arts program in 1946 but agreed to continue to direct the major plays, has asked to be relieved now of this duty.

Mrs. W. Curtis Hughes, who served as Instructor of Art following the retirement of Mrs. West.

Home Economics:

Mrs. Ruby Lane DeLozier, who decided to give full time to the vocation of homemaker.

Miss Martha Jane Hays, who is now staff dietitian in a Veterans' Hospital in Pennsylvania.

Spanish: Miss Nellie B. Cuellas, who resigned with some very interesting personal plans ahead.

English: Mrs. Kathryn Woodward Tipton is going to the University of Iowa where her husband is to do graduate study.

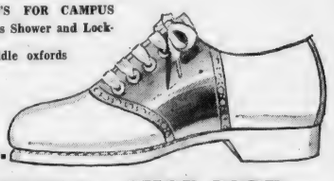
Dormitories: Mrs. Esther L. Brunson, Head of Memorial Hall and Mrs. Pearl M. Edmondson, Assistant, who are at their home in New York and Tennessee respectively.

Offices: Miss V. Virginia Cates, Supervisor of the Printing Office and Miss Genevieve Kehl, Assistant in the Personnel Office, found it necessary to return to Chicago for the year.

Mrs. L. J. Disbrow who has worked full time in the Personnel Office since January is now becoming a student as is her husband in the College and will give but part time to the office.

Mrs. Dorothy Shields Long, who has worked full time in the College Maid Shop for several years, is now becoming a student in the College again and will work only part time.

UNION SIGNS FORD CONTRACT



THE CIO UNITED AUTO WORKERS and the Ford Motor Co., sign a union contract in Detroit forty seconds before midnight, in time to save the closed shop agreement which would have been outlawed under the new Taft-Hartley Act. Seated (l. to r.) are: John S. Bugas, Ford vice president and Richard T. Leonard, UAW vice president. Standing (l. to r.) are: Manton Cummings, Ford executive; Maurice Sugar, UAW legal expert, and Thomas Thompson, union local president. (International)

Something for the poise

You're off on the bright foot for Fall in these whistle-slick saddles of white elk with smooth tan leather on the side. See if their fitting ways don't keep you stepping pretty!

Also Available—MUST'S FOR CAMPUS
U. S. Rubber Company's Shower and Locker Sandals.
Brown and White Saddle oxfords

PROFFITT'S SHOE DEPT. MAIN FLOOR

"Building Bigger To Serve You Better"

You'll Whistle While You Walk

IN CAMPUS-STYLED ROBLEE CASUALS

Take campus life in stride this Fall with these style-smart casuals, cut light and easy for leisure on the move.

A. Natural veal Raglan moccasin, Leather soles and heels.
B. Red maple moccasin blucher, leather soles and heels.
C. Natural veal ghillie tie moccasin. $9.95 to $10.95

Available In

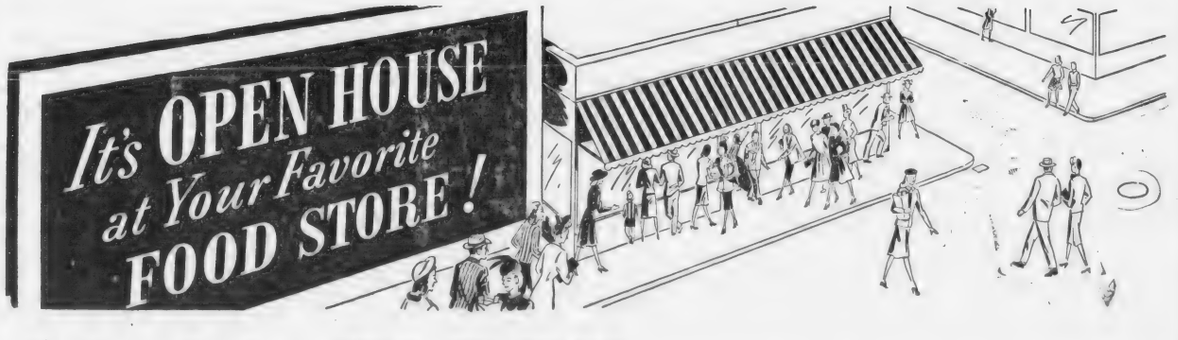
Brown and White, Red and White
Green and White, Blue and White
Black and White, Brown and Beige

Roblee

PROFFITT'S SMART SHOES MAIN FLOOR

"Building Bigger To Serve You Better"

Students!



We give you a hearty welcome. Visit us for your school needs.

ROSE'S

5-10-25c

STORE

WELCOME TO MARYVILLE

M. M. ELDER Cash Carry Store

THETA FORMAL IN GYM TONIGHT

THE Highland Echo

BAINONIAN RUSH WEEK BEGINS

VOLUME 33 — MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, SEPTEMBER 6, 1947 — NUMBER 2

COLLEGE SIGNS CONTRACT WITH AERO SERVICES

Ground And Flight Training Begins

Final arrangements were made with Cook's Aero Service at Knoxville Airport on Thursday, September 4, to furnish flight training for the aviation courses being introduced in the college program this semester.

Ground training classes will be held on campus, just as any other college course. It is probable that they will be taught by a senior student who was a flyer during the war.

Sixty-five persons have signed up for the elementary courses in aviation, thirty of whom will take the actual flight training the first semester. The first thirty listed who want flight training the first semester will be selected. It will be necessary for the others to wait until the following semester; however, all students who plan to take flight training either semester will be required to take the first semester of ground training, which is aviation 101.

Courses May Parallel

As a result of the set-up, those taking both ground training 101, and flight training 103 during the first semester will receive two hours credit, while those taking only ground training 101 will receive only one hour credit. The latter group will take flight training 103 the second semester, and it is advisable for all aviation students to take both ground training 101 and 102, which comprise a whole year's course.

It is not necessary to have ground training 102 to take flight training 103, but 102 is required before enrollment in flight training 104, which is a continuation of 103. Upon the completion of 104, there is a choice for the student of aviation 105, 106, or 107.

One Hour Credit For Each

The ground training courses will meet once a week, probably in evening, and each aviation course, whether ground training or flight training, earns one hour credit per semester.

Aviation courses planned are as

(Continued on page four)

66 Students Sing In Vesper Choir

Temporary acceptance of a number of new members, as a result of last week's try-outs, enlarges the choir to a total of 66 members, as was recently announced by Mr. Harry H. Harter, director of the choir and Assistant Professor of Music.

The choir, the largest musical organization on campus, sings regularly at morning chapel and Sunday evening Vesper services. Its list of members is as follows:

First Soprano—Rella Anderson, Catherine Barnawell, P. A. Cox, Peggy Howell, Mildred Orr, Gelo Kell, Marguerite Priest, and P. Wakefield.

Second Soprano—Doris Cook, Lois Jean Deobler, Betty Hall, Florence Housch, Jane Martenis, Ruth Ramsey, Linnea Johnson, and M. H. Webb.

First Alto—Martha Barnwell, Barbara Blair, Katherine Carpenter, Ann Childress, L. Dale, E. Martenis, Marilyn Hartpence, C. Measamer, and Martha Scanlon.

Second Alto— Buffie Carver, Janet Cummings, Marion Engel, Katherine Franklin, Louise Lloyd, Vera Lusk, M. G. Merlanti, Doris Naundorf, Barbara Rock and Betty Saint.

First Tenor—Sam Broyles, Geo. Gillette, Arthur Haaf, Charles Hoglan, P. Kidder, and Tom Wheeler.

Second Tenor—Merrill Grubbs, Harold Hunter, Charles Johnson, J. Morrison, C. Parvin, Max Willocks, and David Yeaworth.

First Bass— Harry Brahams, Winton Enloe, Tom Horst, Scott McClure, Maynard Noble, L. Shimomura, and Carrol Stegall.

Second Bass—Milford Castrodale, Bill Deihl, Nelson Ernest, Bill Houdeshel, Charles Huffman, Carl Lasansky, Chester Phillips, R. Frost, D. Ribble, and Paul Yambert.

Theta Ends Rush Week With Formal

Theta Epsilon's formal, the climax of the society's Rush Week, planned around the theme "County Fair", will be held tonight in the Alumni Gymnasium at 8:00 o'clock. The formal is being held in co-operation with Theta's brother society, Alpha Sigma, and all new students are invited to the program.

Theta's Rush Week, under the leadership of program chairmen Margie Newland and Grace Hildebrand, began Tuesday afternoon with a "Pink Lemonade", county fair version of a tea. The refreshments, planned by Dixie Smith, Shirley Oshana, Dot Stater, and Sally Lewis, were the traditional pink cotton candy and pink lemonade. The booths and sideshows, under Alice Davenport's chairmanship, included a bingo game with Eunice Billings in charge, Pat Dennis taking pictures for a photo booth, Janet Blackmore in the kissing booth (candy kisses), Lois Miller and Ginny Swartz telling fortunes, and a penny pitching game with Geneva Robertson as barker. Local talent from "Theta County", Barbara Blair, Marguerite Priest, and Peggy Howell, entertained the new students with songs, country style.

The Splash Party Thursday night was the work of Edith Merle Largen's committee. The program of formation swimming and comedy acts was rounded out with a general swim. Bette Belle Alverson and Marguerite Preist were in charge of invitations.

Art of Mr. Bernard Displayed In Thaw

Etchings and sculpture by Mr. David E. Bernard, Instructor in Art, will be on display beginning September 10, in the Reference Section of the library in Thaw Hall.

The etchings and part of the sculptures were done this summer while Mr. Bernard did graduate work at Iowa State University, Iowa City, Iowa. The etchings were done in a print shop class under the instruction of Professor Mauricio Lasansky, prominent graphic artist of Argentina.

DISC CLUB OPENED FOR MUSIC LOVERS

Disc Club met Thursday, September 4, at 6:45 in 214 Thaw with Commentator Charlie Huffman choosing several themes from classical music which have been used for popular songs.

Disc Club will meet every first and third Thursday of each month at 6:45 in 214 Thaw. There is no formal membership; the club is open to all students who enjoy good music. Committee members are Tom Horst, Betty Saint, Gelolo Kell, Charlie Huffman, and John Ferris. Another committee member will be chosen in the near future. Miss Vivian Lanfear, member of the Fine Arts Department, is Disc Club Sponsor.

Party Planned For Frosh Tuesday Night

Square dancing and refreshments will be the bill for all freshmen Tuesday night at 8:00 o'clock in the alumni gym. Student Council representatives also will be on hand to give a short explanation of the rules covering Town Night and to answer any questions.

Such an orientation was deemed necessary after last year's alarming number of violations believed caused by lack of understanding on the part of new students.

300 Students Work On Student-Help

Three hundred students are employed in the Student-Help Program this semester, with all places filled to date and waiting lists beginning. Many students work under this program in order to pay part of their expenses; however, present conditions enable some to work who do not need the money to pay bills.

Variety of Jobs

Assignments include dining hall jobs, library assistants, laboratory assistants in biology, chemistry, and physics, work in the power house, janitor jobs, Book Store helpers, tennis court conditioners, and bell-ringers. A new job similar to that of the old "chapel rats" has been created to take care of the pool, Bartlett, and both gyms, with the two boys who do the work living in Bartlett.

Work Graded

Each student receives monthly grades, the average of which becomes a part of his permanent record and recommendations, and are the basis for promotions, increase in pay, and personal counselling when advisable. They are not a method of criticism but an attempt to recognize good work.

Students are paid on the tenth of each month in the Student-Help Office. All records are kept there, and applications must be made through this office.

Thirty-eight boys are working in the dining hall this semester as compared to sixty girls. Last year was the first time in recent years that men have served as waiters.

GERMAN CLUB

German Club will meet Monday evening, Sept. 8, at 6:45 in the German classroom. Ed Pancoast, program chairman, will be in charge of the program, after which Hedy Nabholz, president of the club, will introduce her cabinet.

Students will be given an opportunity to indicate the type of programs they prefer.

Esther Cornelius Elected Vice-President of WSGA

Vera Lusk Is New Secretary-Treasurer

Esther Cornelius, senior, was elected vice-president of the Women's Student Government Association at the elections held Monday afternoon, September 1. Miss Cornelius is a philosophy major from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Vera Lusk, junior, Scotch Plains, New Jersey was elected secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Floor chairmen for Pearsons are as follows: second floor chairman, Elizabeth Boell, senior from Queen's Village, New York; third floor chairman, Margaret Rock, junior from Weiser, Idaho; and fourth floor chairman, Elsie Onifer, senior from Maybeury, West Virginia. The chairman of the maintenance committee is Rella Anderson, senior from Maryville and those serving under her are Bette Belle Alverson, junior from Bloomington, Illinois, and Margaret Hennemuth, junior from Oakdale, Pennsylvania. The fire chairman for this semester is Barbara Bertholf, junior from Morris Plains, New Jersey.

The officers elected for Baldwin are vice-house chairman, Sarah Durant, sophomore from Birmingham, Alabama; secretary-treasurer, Ruth Heaps, sophomore from Plyesville, Maryland; first floor chairman, Anna Jane Brunson, junior from Pine City, New York; second floor chairman, Jacqueline Lenderman, freshman from Birmingham, Alabama; and third floor chairman, Winnie Schaumburg, sophomore from San Antonio, Texas. The chairman of the maintenance committee is Alice Davenport, sophomore from Marietta,

Continued on page four)

Charles Naundorf Wins Honors With Chapel Fire Photo

Charles Naundorf, sophomore from New Jersey, has been awarded a Certificate of Award by Kappa Alpha Mu, the national honorary photographic journalism fraternity.

The award was given for his picture of the chapel fire which appeared in the Knoxville Journal last March and on the cover of the Maryville alumni magazine. The certificate received read "to Charles Naundorf for outstanding achievement in the Second Annual Collegiate Fifty-Print Competition. Given this 6th day of May, 1947, during the 38th Annual Journalism Week at the University of Missouri."

In competition, fifty prints are chosen and sent to interested groups throughout the country.

Naundorf is president of the Camera Club. In regard to the club, he said, that the program of events for the coming college year will be under the supervision of Carroll Stegall, vice president. Stegall is a senior from Nashville.

Faculty Authorizes Three Dramatizations For Year

Lack Of Large Auditorium Discontinues Artists Series

Dr. Lloyd Names Faculty Members On Committees

Faculty committees for the school session of '47-'48 have been announced by President Ralph W. Lloyd as follows:

Artist's Series—Howell, Davies, Meiselwitz

Athletics and Physical Education—McClelland, Howell, Black, Honaker, Minear

Curriculum and Catalogue—president, deans of students and curriculum, assistant to the dean of students

Discipline—E. W. Davis, Briggs, Howell, E. R. Hunter

Entrance and Standing—Dean of students, president, dean of curriculum, secretary of the faculty

Faculty Club—Orr, Barker, Cowdrick, Meiselwitz, Williams

Forensics— Queener, Briggs, Johnson, Pieper

General—President, dean of curriculum, dean of students, dean of women, directors of maintenance and student help, secretary of the faculty, supervisor of men's residence, treasurer

Library—Grierson, Barker, S. G. Black, Davis, E. R. Hunter, N. B. Hunter, V. M. Queener, Sisk

Recommendations and Placement—alumni secretary, Griffitts, Henry

Scheduling of Activities—dean of curriculum, superintendent of men's residences, dean of women, chairman of the fine arts division, director of athletics.

Special studies—E. R. Hunter, McClelland, V. M. Queener, Davies, Howell, J. A. Davis, N. Wright, Kennedy

Student Help—director of student help, McClelland, treasurer, Barker, Massey, Orr

Student Programs—Case, Massey, Wild, Williams

Student Publications— Griffitts, Bassett, Case, Jackson, Pratt

Permissions as to room or board —McClelland, Henry, McCurry, Massey.

All freshmen interested in trying out for the HIGHLAND ECHO are invited to come to the first floor chemistry lecture room in Fayerweather Monday night at 8:00 o'clock.

The ECHO editorial staff will meet at 7:20 Monday night. Upperclassmen tryouts are expected to attend.

Sophomore Tests Show National Average Ranking

Results of the sophomore tests on contemporary affairs and English given last spring show that Maryville students rank slightly above average in knowledge of contemporary affairs, and slightly below average in English. The sophomore class of '47, used as a representative cross-section of the college, averaged 45 on contemporary affairs, as compared to the national average of 44.1. Maryville averaged 60.1 on the English division, as compared to 61.9 for the national average.

All students are required to take the examinations during the spring of their sophomore year. The results serve to evaluate the student's progress after two years of college education and become a part of his permanent record. They are administered by the college as part of the National College Sophomore Testing Program conducted by the American Council on Education.

This year's results represent somewhat of a drop from former years when Maryville usually ranked above the average.

Frosh Club Organized This Year

Freshmen are being given an opportunity to become acquainted with other students in a new way this year, this being accomplished by an all-student organization known as the Frosh Club, under the direction of Max House. One meeting was held on Monday, September 1. Another session is planned for Monday, September 8, at 8:00 p. m. in Bartlett Hall auditorium.

The purpose of the meetings and activities of the Frosh Club is to give new students an informal orientation to Maryville College life. Closer fellowship with upperclassmen is especially promoted, and plans have been formulated for a Talent Night performance in which all freshmen are urged to participate. Frosh football teams for competing with intramural teams are also planned.

Freshmen ofifcers of the group are Andy Clark, chairman; and John Sayre, Chester Schieber, and James Lester, committee members.

Two Productions Given By Societies

Three plays to be staged off campus this year, one in the fall, one in the spring, and one at commencement, were authorized by the Executive Council of the Faculty at the meeting Thursday afternoon, September 4. At the same time it was decided not practicable to attempt the Artists Series this year, due main ly to the fact that it is necessary to have an auditorium large enough to hold most of the students and a number of other people, in addition to the fact that there would have to be a concert-size piano of high quality available. At present there is neither an adequate auditorium nor a piano available.

The plays, however, can be staged two nights to cover the expense of the performances, making it possible to hold them in smaller auditoriums. The place they will be held will of necessity be off-campus, and such a place will be determined by an appointed faculty committee of five members, Miss Jessie Wild, Miss Katherine Davies, Dr. Edwin Hunter, Dr. Frank D. McClelland, and Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd.

The fall play will be given by two of the four societies on campus, and the spring play by the other two societies. The commencement play will be that of the Division of Fine Arts or of the College Players.

Maryville High School Offered

Although it has not been definitely determined where the plays will be held, Maryville High School has offered the services of their auditorium, where the last play of '46-'47 was held.

The part of the Students Activities Fee which is allocated to the Artists Series will be placed in a reserve fund as a foundation for a first-class Series when the new chapel auditorium is available.

News Capsules—

BY GEORGE GILLETTE

Labor Day Week-end Deaths

At least 448 persons died over the three-day Labor Day holiday. 290 deaths were accounted for on the highways, 81 drowned, and 21 died in plane crashes. This toll topped the previous all-time high of 423 in 1941.

Gold Redistribution

Foreign Secretary Bevin advocated redistribution of the United States' gold to aid in European economic recovery. He believed it unhealthy and unsound and out of harmony with the principles of the United States to hoard most of the world's gold stocks. United States has approximately three-fifths of the world's supply of gold. Such redistributed gold would probably eventually end up back in the United States.

Truman "Crisis" Politics

Rep. Bender of Ohio contended that President Truman was merely creating a "synthetic" international crises for political purposes. He claimed the president was trying to "establish himself as a leader who should not be abandoned in the midst of a virtual state of war."

Extra Session of Congress

Secretary of State Marshall will decide within the next two weeks whether or not to recommend a special session of Congress for action on the European economic crisis. His decision will probably be made after George F. Kennan, top policy planner, returns from Europe with latest information on the situation there. The president, who has the final say, has asserted that he will not hesitate to recall Congress if the situation demands it.

King, Freshman, Kramer, Senior, Lead Last Honor Roll; Sixteen Students Average Over 8.0, Ninety-Two Over 7.0

Warren King, a '47 freshman who did not return to Maryville this term, led the honor roll for the second consecutive semester with an 8.8 average, which according to the college standards ranked as a high A minus. He was closely followed by Frank Kramer, senior from Maryville, who averaged 8.5.

Sixteen students, including three seniors, six juniors, three sophomores, three freshmen, and one special student, averaged 8.0 or over, while ninety-two students made over 7.0. The complete honor roll is as follows:

Senior

Ashby, Frances—6.8; Barber, Mary Ruth—6.1; Barnwell, Mary—7.6; Bishop, Jay—7.0; Bolin, Mary Jo—6.1; Boyatt, Betty Lou—6.3; Brunson, Jessie Lou—6.3; Case, Mary E.—6.1; Dellinger, Mary Agnes—7.1; Dockter, Albert—6.8; Garland, June—6.2; Gilliam, Annie Belle—6.5; Grosh, William—7.4; Gunn, Lilybel—6.1; Hamilton, June—7.1; Horst, Thomas—7.2; Jamarik, Paul—6.4; Jones, Dorothy—7.4; Kolter, Paul—6.0; Kramer, Frank—8.5; Lancaster, Alma—7.9; Laughmiller, Roy—7.6; Lavender, Lottie—6.0; Lickteig, Elise—7.1; Liddell, Joan—6.0; Lloyd, Ruth—6.6; McKean, Harriet—7.4; Magill, Jean—6.2; Miller, Virginia—6.2; Pepper, Charles—6.5; Purifoy, Lewis McCarrol—6.0; Reed, Boby Jo—6.4; Robertson, Geneva—6.6; Rule, Maybelle—6.1; Sapp, Marjorie—7.0; Shell, John Robert—7.4; Showalter, Elizabeth—7.0; Sidner, William—7.1; Smalley, Donna—7.0; Stephens, Earl—7.1; Swartzbeck, Ray—7.5; Tarwater, Jean—7.1; Ulrich, Carolyn—8.0; Underwood, Helen—6.2; Voorhees, Edward—7.8; Wells, Barbara—7.8; Williams, Jean—7.0; Wilson, Fred—6.4.

Junior

Almy, Jean—6.6; Anderson, Evelyn—7.6; Anderson, Rella—6.4; Barnwell, Martha—6.2; Bruce, Robert—6.9; Cornelius, Esther—7.5; Crawford, Elizabeth—7.2; Engel, Elmer—6.8; Ernest, Nelson—6.3; Garner, Robert—6.2; Gaughan, Melville—6.4; Grubbs, Merrill—7.0; Henry, James—7.1; Hoglan, Charles—6.1; Horton, Henry—7.8; Housch, Florence—8.0; Howell, Margaret—7.6; Huff, Ruth—8.3; Kern, Elaine—6.6; Largen, Edith—6.1; Law, Mary Lillian—6.1; Lawson, Mary Gene—6.9; Lewis, Marian—6.7; Long, Daniel—8.2; McClure, Scott—7.8; Maddux, Rebecca—6.5; Muetzel, Beverly—6.2; Murray, Carl—8.2; Nunn, Loretta—7.3; Onifer, Elsie—6.5; Orr, Mildred—7.1; Paxton, Kenneth—6.2; Powell, Lacy—7.6; Ross, Kenneth—7.5; Rinnin, John—6.2; Russell, Harold—7.5; Sakaizawa, Anna—8.2; Sanderson, Willis—7.2; Sorenson, Helen—8.3; Talbott, Kenneth—6.5; Thomas, Lois—7.1; Unger, Lillian—6.1; Vawter, Dorothy—7.9; Weiler, Marian—7.6; Wheeler, Thomas—7.9; Williams, Ruth—6.6.

Sophomores

Alverson, Bette Belle—6.7; Bass, Robert—7.2; Benedict, Irma Jean—6.3; Briggs, John—6.5; Brooks, Margaret—7.1; Coons, George—8.2; Eggleston, Barbara—8.0; Gentry, Helen—6.4; Hand, Virginia—7.3; Gress, Virginia—7.7; Hayes, Marianna—6.7; Huffman, Charles—6.0; Hunter, Harold—7.0; Johnson, Juanita—7.4; Kiger, Sara Jo—8.2; Knapp, Anna—6.2; Kribbs, Robert—6.1; Phillips, Chester—7.1; Pope, Marion—6.3; Quinn, Thomas—7.6; Scott, Thomas—7.6; Tamborella, Olive—7.1; Terrill, Jack—6.6; Theda, Katharine—6.3; Todd, James—6.3; Torrey, James—6.1; Watts, John—7.2; Wilson, Carl—6.5; Wou, Loo Shang—6.0; Young, William Earl—6.5.

Freshmen

Barnes, Wallace Ray—7.5; Billings, Eunice—6.2; Broyles, Samuel—7.5; Buckley, Jack—7.1; Callaway, Henry—6.2; Carlson, William—7.1; Crane, Donald—6.6; Cress, Anne—6.9; Cummings, Margaret—8.0; Davenport, Alice—6.6; Dean, Walter—7.0; Diehl, William—7.5; de Nagy, Mae Belle—7.0; Eastman, Robert—6.8; English, Howard—7.2; Ewell, Ann—6.1; Field, Elizabeth—7.4; Fisher, Craig—6.1; Heinekamp, Sarah—6.4; Herrick, Alma Mary—7.0; Hostettler, David—7.8; Hyatt, Don—6.1; Kincaid, Martha—7.2; King, Warren—8.8; Krueger, Charles—6.2; Lang, Harris Thompson—7.9; Lawyer, Myrtle—7.1; Leake, Mildred—7.7; Menges, Walter—7.0; Merrill, Harry—6.3; Morrison, John—6.3; Mulholland, John—6.2; Nish, Wil-

Continued on page four)

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 23 NUMBER 2

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser
Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor
Kenneth Olsen ..... Sports Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Grace Gugger, Naomi Hoffman, Ilda Mosby

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Herbert McCallum, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF
Ruth Williams ..... Business Manager

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Mary Jane Long

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANT
Bob Watkins

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1947

EVERYBODY SHOULD "RULE THE ROOST"

Perhaps we're imagining an element that didn't exist, but it seems to us that the student body meeting held yesterday morning is somewhat of an indication of the school spirit that is so essential to college life. We hope so. Such an observation would, of course, seem peculiar to most new students, but old students will remember that occasionally conditions exist when "school spirit" is something we hear about, and not really anything we can actually hear or see.

We recall a meeting in the not too far distant past, when a student body meeting was announced, and before it began, over eighty per cent of the people walked out, without even bothering to discover the purpose of the meeting. Those remaining were hardly a representative group of the entire student body; nevertheless, those remaining were the ones who had the voice in the business. In other words, twenty per cent of the student body "ruled the roost", and the other eighty per cent handed it over to them.

Yesterday, however, E. J. Cotton faced the entire student body, and the entire student body decided what was to be done. And that's the way we all like to see it.

IT'S OURS— LET'S KEEP IT!

Although Town Night is relatively old to upperclassmen and relatively new to freshmen and transfers, there are always some who do not gain a complete understanding of the function of the Tuesday night event. There are things about it some of us do not like, but ask those who know and you'll find that it's better to abide by the rules as they are than to stay on campus three months straight.

Unless this year is changed considerably in comparison to last year, the subject will not at first be understood sufficiently to prevent violations. We say "understood", for certainly the majority of violations are due to the fact that rules are misinterpreted or misunderstood, and not because of "pure bull-headedness" of some individuals. Even upperclassmen may find themselves suspended from the Town Night privilege for several months—it has happened—simply because they did not realize that such places as the short-cut from the court house to the entrance is out of bounds.

Few students like to tell other students what they can or cannot do, but four years ago when the privilege of Town Night was granted the responsibility was also granted, whether we like it or not. So glance over the following rules; then, whether you are an upperclassman going to town this next Tuesday night, or a freshman going for the first time the Tuesday night of the following week, you'll know just what is what.

Aim at 10:00 o'clock, not 10:15 to return to the dorm.

Have that good-night chat inside, not on the porches or walks.

Girls sign out and in on the sign-out sheet between 5:00 and 10:15.

When special permission is granted, girls notify either the president or secretary of Student Council.

Upon returning, couples may come into the parlors of the women's dorms between 9:30 and 10:00, p. m.

There may be no loitering on campus, on the way to and from town, or in front of the women's dorms.

Students use either College or Court Streets, staying on the particular street they choose on the way to or from town.

Couples or girls in groups of three are entitled to go to town.

If you're still wondering, as you probably are, go to the bulletin board in your respective dorms, for further information. It's a good thing. Let's keep it——all of us!

Much Echo About Nothing

BY CRAIG FISHER

Before we start gabbing over the back yard fence, I'll have to explain that this is the first time in living memory that a fellow has played Spanish athlete (throwing the bull, for those born last Sunday) in these unsacred columns. I'm still not sure how to take it, but I've aged ten years since Lorrie assigned it to me last week. Lorrie told me to put my name in the by-line because she didn't want to take the responsibility.

Seems the purpose of this column is to make snide remarks about anything Maryville. The paper runs on the blackmail proceeds.

Every so often we throw in a dash of poetry for your aesthetic appreciation, such as:

I hate those lousy poets
When they try to force a rime;
You should be a serious artist
Just like I'm.

Part of our policy is to bring before our readers certain announcements which we think need a wider audience. If anyone runs across a hijacked high boy (not the drink) please direct it to Frank "Compound-Fractures-ot-the-Fibula" Ladner. A notice appeared on the Carnegie bulletin board last Monday: "Did you find an Eversharp pen? Room 506". A while later there was a notice along side it reading: "For sale! Cheap! ! One Eversharp pen. Apply 101-C". Has anyone seen a roll top desk?

Part of the reason for this column is to mention all of the inmates that pull a funny, get as many names as we can in print, see? Make every one feel good, see? But seeing I'm not paid up on my life insurance premiums. . . .See?

This couldn't come out if we didn't have a system of spies which would make J. Edgar Hoover sit up. The other day, it appears, Dr. Briggs was asking his class which part of their life they'd least like to relive. "College", some sophomore impertinenced. Which reminds me of an item we ran across in the first Chilhowean, 1906, which might give some insight into our parents' brand of humor. It was called "Four Years of Shakespeare!"

Freshman: "Comedy of Errors".
Sophomore: "Much Ado About Nothing".
Junior: "As You Like It."
Senior: "All's Well that Ends Well."

Whew!

Announcement: Open season on cross country runners began Monday.

Bag limit is Gillette and Baird. (Bookmakers can be contacted in basement of Carnegie.)

Jean Cobb, deep in a profound conversation about philosophy, explained that she didn't know, but her Aunt Susie wanted to live in this world where she's better acquainted.

As I was saying a while back, our spy system's good. But we still don't have the vital statistics compiled in the big gym Tuesday and Wednesday. This being strictly a gossip column, they don't concern us anyway. But boy, what a source of reader interest!

I hear some freshman (I don't know all their names yet) in Baldwin swung her bedroom door open a little too eagerly at the same moment that Miss Harwood came along with a pan of water. That is not the way to start out on the right foot. Take her aside, Mae Merriweather. By the way, our coverage of the girls' dorms is so complete in that we even get something printable sometimes.

Which leads up to my closing suggestion that the Echo should save itself a lot of trouble by putting a wire recorder in the biggest room in one of the female dorms, and use the transcription for the gossip column. Then everyone would read the Echo!

EXTRA SPACE PROVIDED FOR CLASSES

Thaw Hall is the home of two new class rooms, one located in the old Debate Room on the ground floor, adjacent to the library, while the other is the result of partitioning Miss Jessie Heron's classroom on the second floor. Professor Robert Bays is holding French and German classes in the debate room; Dr. Edwin R. Hunter is using the extra English room.

The changes were necessary in order to provide space for the Fine Arts Studios, which were destroyed in the Chapel fire. Three rooms on the second floor of Anderson Hall have been divided and are being used in whole or in part by the Music Department. In addition, four practice pianos have been temporarily located in the new gymnasium.

Orr, Black Speak At Combined "Y" Meeting Tomorrow

YWCA President Mildred Orr, senior history major from Maryville, and YMCA President James Black, junior from Maryland, will be the speakers at the joint meeting of the two "Y" associations held tomorrow afternoon in the college amphitheatre. Using this year's theme, "Wake Up and Live", Miss Orr will speak on "Wake Up", and Black's topic will be "Live".

The call to worship will be at 1:45, and the meeting will begin at 2:00. All students are automatically members of the YM or YW.

The YMCA held its fall retreat yesterday afternoon, September 5, at the West Maryville Presbyterian Church followed by a supper at Pat's and Anna's Dinette near Walland. Plans for the coming year were discussed and reports were made by the various committees as to their activities. About twenty-five members of the cabinet and faculty-student advisory cabinet were present.

GLOSSARY OF ATHLETIC TERMS

Ah—A word used when the opposing team makes a touchdown.
By Golly—Used with accent on first syllable when you please the coach.
By George—(Very strong exclamation of surprise). Used when you make a gain.
Durn—Used when you miss a tackle.
Fudge—Used when the coach says, "Trot down the track."
Gracious—(Obs.) Rarely used and only when thrown for a loss.
Oh Putty—Used when one of your own side steps on your hand.
Pshaw—A dressing-room term. Usually used when your clothes are misisng.
My Goodness—Used when you miss the signal and get run over by more than six of your own side.
Laws a Mercy—Used in repartee with the referee.
—Maryville College Monthly.

ALUMNI NEWS

Through These Portals

PERSONALITIES

Katherine Johnson, ex-'48, and Don Barbour, ex-'49, were married this summer and are attending school in Florida.

Tom Quinn, ex-'50, is attending the University of New York.

Janet Wilson, ex'-48, begins study at a merchandising school in New York this month.

Robert Lavelle, ex-'48, is attending Teachers College in New York.

Mildred Jones, ex-'48, is at the Hellman School of Nursing, in Birmingham, Alabama.

Betty Wyrick and Jo Justyn Campbell, ex-'49, are working for the FBI in Knoxville.

Harriet Perry, ex-'49, is attending U. T.

Josie Hale, ex-'48, is teaching school in Kentucky.

Jeanne Moore, ex-'49, is working at a bank in Birmingham.

Edith Earle, class of '47, is teaching the third grade in Knoxville City Schools.

Robert Dockendorf, class of '47, is teaching English at Washington College, Tennessee.

Jean Balch, class of '47, is teaching the second grade in Townsend.

Leonard Shieber, class of '47, will enter the fall term at U.T. for graduate work.

Mary Jane Tedford, class of '47, is teaching English in Clinton.

Marion Scott, ex-'49 and Tom Cecil, ex-'50, were married this summer.

Mary Alice Saxon, ex-'50, and Clarence Engdahl, ex-'50, were married this summer.

Laverne Helton, ex-'49, is attending school in Kentucky.

Ginny Payne, ex-'48, is attending Agnes Scott, in Decatur, Ga.

Mary Estes, ex'48, is attending Memphis State.

Anna Frank DeLozier, ex-'49, is teaching grammar school in Pigeon Forge.

Mariam Bell, ex-'48, is working in the ofifce of Telephone and Telegraph Company, in York, Pa.

Smartt Ramsey, ex-'50, is working as assistant manager of a shoe store in McMinnville, Tennessee.

Margie Dickinson, ex-'48, who last year moved to Oregon where she attended the University of Oregon, was married this summer.

Ruth Ramsey Elected Junior Class Secretary

Ruth Ramsey, music major from Cedarville, Ohio, was elected secretary of the junior class at the special meeting held in the gymnasium immediately after chapel last Wednesday, September 3. Miss Ramsey replaces Jo Justyn Campbell who was elected secretary of the class last spring, but who did not return to Maryville this term.

President Bill Proffitt presided at the meeting.

VESPERS

Dr. Ralph T. Case will be the speaker at the Vesper service held Sunday evening at 7:00 o'clock in the library.

Dr. Case, who last year taught in the field of Bible and Religious Education, is now a professor in sociology.

SPANISH CLUB

Spanish Club will have its first meeting Thursday, Sept. 11, at 6:45 p. m. in Miss Cowdricks' classroom in Anderson Hall. Lois Lehr, president, will be in charge. Definite plans will be announced later.

IRC Makes Plans

At the meeting Monday night the International Relations Club made outline plans for the semester's program which tentatively includes outside speakers, movies, discussion groups, and a picnic.

The club's officers for this semester are Bob Bruce, president; Marge Prall, vice president; Betty Absher, secretary; Carroll Stegall, treasurer; and Mary Smith, publicity. The next meeting will be held at 6:45, Monday, September 15, in Thaw 214.

Any student interested in current events may now sign up for the International Relations Club on the sheets posted in each dormitory.

Shirley Oshano Speaks At Student Volunteers

Shirley Oshano, senior philosophy major from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and president of Student Volunteers, will speak on the theme, "Reaching Forth", at the first meeting of the organization tomorrow evening, September 7, at 8:00 o'clock in the YWCA rooms. Esther Cornelius, senior, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, will conduct the devotional service. Peggy Howell, senior soprano from Maryville, and Dorothy Stater, sophomore violinist from Trenton, Michigan, will present special music.

A special election for secretary is being held, to replace Bob Lavelle, who did not return, Gelola Kell, senior from Tryon, North Carolina, and Vera Lusk, a junior from Scotch Plains, New Jersey, are nominees.

Watch Your Heel

Other people notice run down heels. If yours wear quickly, save your new shoes by letting us reinforce them with cleats before you wear them.

Broadway Shoe Shop

HERE'S REAL TEMPTATION

Tastier, fresher rolls made with the best ingredients are inviting accessories at every meal or in between. Lucious sweet rolls, hard or soft dinner rolls.

LYNCH BAKERY

Flowers

"SAY IT WITH FLOWERS"

The luxury loving gift that spells romantic sentiment down through the ages——Truly a perfect 'round the year remembrance!

See our Agent Gene Carden for your Flowers

Chandler Florist

Bonded Member F.T.D.

WELCOME TO
All You
COLLEGE STUDENTS

"Maryville's Smartest Store"

CHANDLER'S

Famous Nationally Known Clothes for Women
Blount National Bank Bldg.

Plan a Picnic Then SHOP HERE!

We welcome both the old and new Students to Maryville—when shopping for a Picnic for the College Woods, for a mid-night feast or for food after the Football Game——make one stop at our Friendly Store for all your needs.

The J & K Super Store

CHURCH STREET

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

No Sheep Here

This week the sports activity on the hill may well have been like the proverbial lull before the storm. Regardless, all signs indicate that things were progressing in preparation for bigger things to come in sports. The football men were warned of a cloudburst when Coach announced at "skull practice" on Tuesday that the coming Wednesday's workout would be scrimmage—the first actual team clashing of the practice thus far. In forecasting a rigorous scrimmage session, Coach Davis said, "In these first few weeks, the rougher we get. . . . the better it is. . . . because we want to separate the sheep from the goats." This was sufficient indication to the boys that things were going to be rough in their first intra-squad scrimmage.

Offense and Defense

Things happened just as Coach had them panned out. Came Wednesday; the teams were lined up in successive order to jump in and get a little taste of the real stuff while the coaching staff had their eyes peeled for any fault or weakness in the play. It's really a matter of life and death (as far as playing ability goes) when scrimmage is staged among the squads because every man has to do his level best and really put out to deserve a place on the starting eleven. Sometimes in the fray it even comes around to brother against brother in the case of the Proffitts—Bill and Bob, and the Lesters—Rush and Jim when Coach Honaker matches the strength and strategy of the offensive group against the brawn and steady defensive tactics of the group on Coach Davis' side of the line.

Where's The Water?

The actual scrimmage was the stage, but the "goings on" during the changing of the lines were interesting. The miscellaneous calls. . . "Hey, Hey, Let's go! Big team!" "Com'on Merriman! "Lets go, Holsey". . . . By chance, some sweltering, tired, scrimmage veteran asked where the water could be. Probably he found a draught of that precious stuff, but Coach Honaker really "cut their water off" when he yelled, "Next one I see at the water gets five laps." Yet down around the little pigskin where the business part of the practice was carried on, questions and orders came from the coaches at the end of almost every run. After Coach asks some guard why he pulled out in the wrong direction, the quarterback takes over after a brief huddle. "All set! One. . Two!" The center snaps the ball back and where it goes is everybody's business. About then Coach calls a fullback around for a discussion of his part in the play. The call goes out: "Hey, Bo! The plays!" It's a demand for the play in black and white so Coach can settle the point in dispute. "Where's an odd tackle? . . "Who let him through?" —such is football chatter.

The Process. . . .

A lot of intensive hammering is necessary to pound the rookie material into seasoned players. Naturally, football is the old story of the survival of the fittest, and, also the heftiest; or, sometimes a guy can begin with the starting eleven by simply being the fastest and the smartest. Proof that foot ball is a gruelling is found on trainer Bud Engle's daily weight chart of the players, which shows that the average player looses from five to ten pounds per practice round. In this hammering process the second best men take as much punishment as those who make first string. Usually the "also rans" don't get nearly as much credit for their efforts. But there's one thing sure, you can't build a crack first string by pitting them against an ever sluggish, punk, reserve team. That's why each man's part, whether he is only a small fry or a big wheel, is most necessary for the success of the team.

THIS 'n THAT

Messrs. Talbott and Anderson wandered back into the football ranks since we took count last week. Richard Isenberg, listed in our roster as a tackle, is now lugging the ball from a tailback spot. Seems to us, just a faint guess, but we think that the wingman position is Coach Honaker's biggest headache for the backfield. The Scottie team seems bolstered in a number of positions by new men. Watch Murphy at end, Law from fullback position, Johnson at tackle, and Clark at quarter for further developments. These guys seem to be the most potential first line men of the neophytes. Aren't we all glad to know there'll be a M-C band to whoop it up at half-time again this year? Coach Johnson's tennis ladder has been changing "rungs" all along during the week. We're sure everyone is up to their physical best, especially since most of us found it necessary to pass an endurance test to remain in line for a physical check-up the other night. Then how glad we were to know that we were physically fit to weather another college year! That rambling track man, Coach Mehl, has tracked back to his old stomping grounds in Wisconsin. If you've been by for a dip, you are aware of the fact that the college pool was mighty popular the afternoons of this week of heat.

Scrimmage Begins For Scotties; Five Teams "Getting In Shape"

BY KEN OLSEN

Scrimmage began this Wednesday for the sweating football prospects on the dusty gridiron under the tutorage of Coaches Lombe Honaker and "J. D." Davis. Five teams waged minor war against each other as Honaker began to iron out the kinks.

After a week and a few days of running plays, blocking, tackling, passing, and punting, the teams put their knowledge into practical application, concentrating especially on blocking and tackling in scrimmage. Davis, with "Big Mitch" assisting, pointed out a few of the finer elements of line blocking and charging to the inexperienced while Honaker gave the backfield the "works".

Scrimmage Today

The team will scrimmage again this afternoon. The work-outs come daily from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m., with noon "skull" practices in Bartlett. "Skull" practice began Monday and will continue throughout the season.

Leading Contenders

With 20 returning lettermen to add drive and experience, the Scots promise some real football. Judging from the practices and from last season it looks as if the following will see action in the line-up: ends—four returning lettermen, Davis, at 188 lbs., Talbot, at 162 lbs., Smith, at 153 lbs., and Still, at 175 lbs., and a sophomore, D. M. Miller, who saw some action last year. In the tackle spots are lettermen Rock, 205 lbs., Kluth, 210 lbs., and Pinner, 198 lbs., with a freshman, Johnson, maneuvering for a regular berth. Looking good in the guard position are Captain "Cotton" Easter, who tips the scale at 198 lbs., Newman, 156 lbs., Lloyd Anderson, 190 lbs., and Bill Proffitt, 192 lbs., all '46 lettermen, and Ken Andes, ex-'42 who weighs 202 lbs., Garner, 210 lbs., and Holsey 190 lbs., also '46 lettermen, will probably fill the center spot.

In the backfield, King Berrong, 160 lb. letterman, and "Tubby" Calloway are the most likely looking quarterback prospects. Wingbacks with a future are B. Baldwin, 148 pounder, and B. Neff, 161 lbs., both lettermen. Leon Berrong, 160 lbs., and W. Enloe, 166 lbs., also lettermen, are likely to show up in the tailback spot. The fullback position promises to be crowded with lettermen Boring, 172 lbs., and Merriman, 174 lbs., competing with Allen Law, former U. T. back weighing 173 lbs., and Dave Clark, a transfer from William and Mary, tipping the scales at 210 lbs.

Attention Sports Fans!
Would you like to be on the ECHO Sports Staff? We need you. See the front page for details.

Point System, Intramurals, Revised For Girls

Girls Point System and Intramural schedules have been revised so that both sections will meet on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, either from 3:30 to 4:30, or from 4:30 to 5:30. All girls will meet on Wednesday, September 10, at 3:30 to sign up for the most convenient periods they can attend either a point system or an intramural section.

Point System Open To All Girls

Point System, a competitive sport section, is open to girls of all four classes; however, freshmen girls taking point system will also be required to enroll in an intramural section. Sophomore, junior, and senior girls have a choice of either point system or intramurals. Freshmen girls who have no interest in competitive sports may enroll in intramurals only.

Point system this year will be under the general intramural heading with gym credit given as well as a chance to win an "M". It is for girls who are interested in softball, stunts, soccer, volleyball, tennis, swimming, or track. Only girls in point system may make a college letter, and must do so by keeping health rules, making hiking and swimming reports, and keeping restrictions on food and eating hours.

500 Points Wins Sweater

In the system points are given for participation in each sport, and any girl who gets 500 points receives a college "M" and a sweater. For 400 points an "M" letter is given; for 300 points an "MC" monogram is given. The program is carried on throughout the term, the season ending around May 1.

Having won an "M", a girl is eligible for membership in the "M" Club. The present club is planning its semester's hike for the week-end of September 20.

One of the first competitive sports offered—although outside the regular point system—will be the YWCA fall tennis tournament.

Upperclass girls who dislike competitive sports will take intramural archery, golf, tumbling, and swimming, or they may choose badminton, aerial darts, shuffleboard, or ping-pong. Mrs. Verton Queener, assistant professor of physical education for women, pointed out that there are enough electives so that a girl may take any sport she enjoys.

Swim Pool Opened; Hours Announced

Coach Kenneth P. Johnson, new Intramural director and coach of swimming and tennis, announced this week that the swimming pool will be opened again to college students. The pool will function under the same rules as last year.

Rules Reviewed

There are seven rules which must be observed or penalty will be invoked. Men and women must swim only on days when the pool is open to them (see schedule below for times). Men are required to wear jerseys (preferably sleeveless) on days when mixed swimming is scheduled (Wednesday and Saturday). All swimmers must take soap showers. The men will use the showers in the Bartlett Hall basement locker rooms and the women will use the pool shower room. Men must enter the pool through the passage from Bartlett and women must use the front pool entrance. No one will be allowed to run or "horse-play" on the deck or dive from the railings or overhead beams. Spitting is prohibited.

The Schedule

The pool schedule will be as follows: women on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m.; men on Mondays and Fridays from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m. Mixed groups may swim Wednesday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 and Saturdays from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m.

Life guards will be on duty at all scheduled swimming periods. Each swimmer must report to the guard on duty when entering or leaving the pool.

INTRAMURALS

Number of Players Changed In Touch Football Rules

Seven-man touch football will replace six-man football in the intramural program, Coach Kenneth P. Johnson announced this week. The change has been made to allow more men to participate in the major intramural sport category. With so many sophomores and freshmen enrolled this year, the intramural program will be crowded; therefore, the ruling was made to include more men.

The change will not effect the plays of the six-man teams already organized. The line-up will have a three-man line and a four-man backfield.

Old Rules Still In Effect

The same rules that were used last year will be in effect this year. Two games will be scheduled every day. No student may play on more than one team in the same sport. His first participation limits him to that team for the rest of the season.

Deadline September 13

All teams must file an eligibility list on or before September 13. These are to be made on the official form and returned to the Intramural office. Play will begin September 15.

Lettermen may not participate in the sport or associated sports in which they have won their letters. Varsity squad members are not eligible to compete in intramural major sports while on a varsity squad.

The names of the teams and members will be carried in next week's issue of ECHO. Further information may be had at the Intramural office.

Castrodale Named Senior Manager For Intramurals

Milford W. Castrodale, Jr., philosophy major from Rochester, Pennsylvania, has been appointed Senior Intramural Manager under the new ruling which limits the number of senior managers to one. Castrodale will be responsible for the rest of the managers and, for his services, will receive a letter.

The junior managers appointed at the same time were Bill Houdeshel, Riverdale, Maryland, and Fred Richardette, Swedesboro, New Jersey. The sophomore managers are Joe Jernigan, Tom Eckert, and Charles Warner. Ken Newell will become a regular manager after he serves a probation of about two months.

Freshman managers were selected on Wednesday by Castrodale. The freshmen, who must also serve probation, are Dave Yeaworth, John Shew, Paul Kidder, and Maynard Noble. More frosh men are needed to fill the vacancies.

TENNIS LADDER BEGINS

Intramural tennis began this week with a ladder including 21 men. Play has begun and results will be posted in the Intramural office.

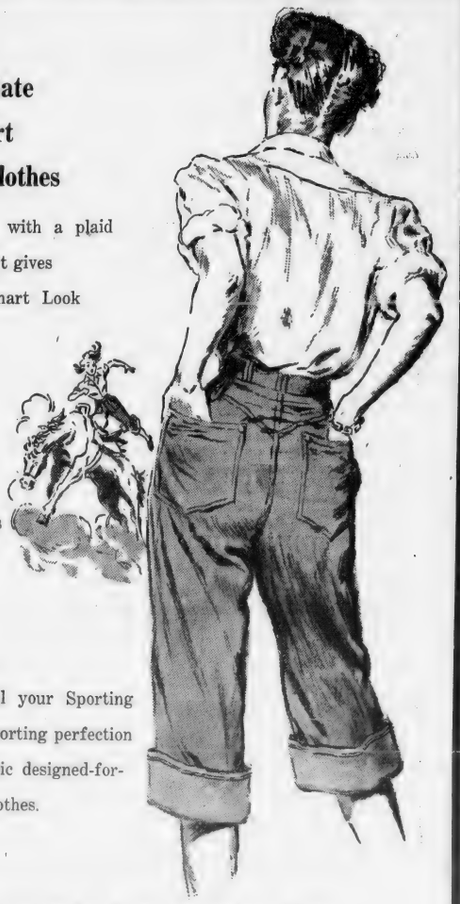
This ladder is an excellent means for prospective varsity tennis men to get competitive practice. Coach K. P. Johnson invites all men interested in tennis to order to enter the ladder.

There will be no tournament this year. The tennis champion will be the man at the head of the ladder at the end of the semester.

SEE US FOR YOUR SCHOOL PORTRAIT

TO SEND TO YOUR FRIENDS

WEBB STUDIO



RUB-A-DUB-DUB. . .
THERE'S SO MUCH TO TUB!
Cheer up Kids, our low cost
SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY
Service will brighten up those gloomy Mondays in a jiffy. Take advantage of our Laundry Service
Phone 1055

Smart Collegiate Sport Clothes

Blue-Jeans with a plaid Sports Shirt gives you that smart Look

For those HAYRIDES and HIKES, weiner roasts, and barn parties

See us for all your Sporting Goods—For Sporting perfection — —our Classic designed-for-Action Play Clothes.

Maryville's Most Popular Store

MOSER'S
CLOTHING STORE

Pre-Ministerials Outline Semester

"The Pre-Ministerial Association of Maryville College wants to bring a full and co-ordinated program of varied worship and service projects to its members this year", stated Herbert Parsons, sophomore president from Hollywood, Florida. This semester's first meeting will be held Thursday, September 11, at 6:45 p. m. Parsons will greet all the new members and outline the plans for the coming year.

Included in the tentative program for this semester are a picnic get-together, meeting in the college woods, and a meeting featuring Rev. Earl Crawford of the Second Presbyterian Church in Knoxville.

Parsons said that the body will seek to revise its constitution with the hope of varying the program meetings of the group. It is hoped that speakers from other denominations can be secured to discuss denominational differences and likes. The group also plans to have a member of Union Presbytery's examining committee address the group about ordination procedures.

COLLEGE SIGNS CONTRACT

(Continued From Page 1)

follows:

101. Ground Training—Civil Air Regulations, elementary principles of aerial navigation and the theory of flight.

102. Ground Training—Continuation of 101. Meteorology and advanced aerial navigation.

103. Flight Training—Twelve hours of dual instructional flying and twelve hours of solo flying in a 65 H.P. aircraft.

104. Flight Training—Continuation of 103. During this course the student will normally be able to qualify for the Civil Aeronautics Authority private pilot's license.

105. Flight Training—An advanced course of six hours of dual instructional flying and nineteen hours of solo flying in a 65 H.P. aircraft.

106. Flight Training—Advanced course of ten hours of instrument on a Link trainer and seven and one-half hours of duel instrument flight instruction in a 450 H.P. Vultee BT-13.

107. Flight Training—An advanced course of six hours of dual instructional flying and nine and one-half hours of solo flying in a 175 H.P. aircraft.

ESTHER CORNELIUS

(Continued From Page 1)

Georgia and those serving under her are Janice Landstrom, freshman from McKeesport, Pennsylvania, and Zoe Sayre, junior from Franklin, Pennsylvania. Jane McCullough, sophomore from Summet Hill, Pennsylvania is in charge of the washing machine and Wanda Onifer, sophomore from Maybeury, West Virginia is fire captain.

Memorial Officers

The officers for Memorial are vice-house chairman, Sarah Hastings, freshman from Oneco, Florida; secretary-treasurer, Mary McNeill, freshman from Rochester, New York; first floor chairman, Betty Ann Broyles, freshman from Greeneville, Tennessee; second floor chairman, Marion McBride, freshman, New York, and third floor chairman, Mary James, freshman from Staten Island, New York. The chairman of the maintenance committee is Louise Masters, freshman from Memphis, Tennessee, and those serving under her are Sarah Heinecamp, sophomore from Loveland, Ohio, and Helen Ice, freshman from Baltimore, Maryland. The fire captain for Memorial this semester is Pat Horton, sophomore from Jonesville, Virginia.

Anna Sakaizawa, senior from Barrington, Illinois, and president of WSGA was in charge of the elections, assisted by Mae Meriwether, Baldwin house-chairman, and, Betty Jo Smith, Memorial house chairman.

HONOR ROLL

(Continued From Page 1)

liam—6.4; Packard, Raymond—6.4; Pancoast, Edwin—6.2; Paxton, George Benjamin—6.1; Polk, Elizabeth—6.1; Ramey, Kenneth—6.6; Regan, Patty Marie—7.2; Rettke, Clyde Johnson—6.1; Robinson, Faye—7.9; Rogers, Ruth Harriet—6.6; Setterfield, George—7-1; Sheldon, Benjamin—8.2; Sieber, Frederick—6.6; Sprague, Richard—7.1; Steiner, John Ross—6.2; Stovell, Caryl—6.2; Strand, John—6.2; Stroud, Jo-Ann—7.3; Verity, Jack—6.6; Webb, Leslie—6.8; White, George—7.0; Winter, Daniel—7.9; Wood, Virginia Helen—6.2.

Special

Hogue, Ethel—8.0; Naundorf, Doris Smith—7.1.

CROSS COUNTRY

Coach "J. D." Davis announced this week that Cross Country will be offered to men. Gym credit will be given, but no meets have been arranged as yet. Cross Country competition is scarce in this area.

Letter From China

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Looking Ahead

IT COST $7,000 for my friend So Tin Wong to write me from Canton, China. He wanted to explain that it now takes 5,000 Chinese dollars to buy one meal for one person. Mr. So philosophizes that it isn't how many dollars one gets, it is what he can buy with these dollars that really counts. Do you wonder that Mr. So has decided to leave China, if he can, and go abroad?

Mr. So wants to leave his native country, even though he makes several thousand dollars a day. Mr. So's trouble is inflation. It is so bad that his wages will not permit him to live in China and care for his family. The value of the stamps that brought me his air mail letter, amounting to $7,000, would make the $5,000 meal worth only two-thirds of the value of the postage. Certainly, Mr. So was not discussing a very extravagant meal.

Your Dollars THIS CHANGE has taken place since I was in China in 1925 to 1936. Then one American dollar, according to the rate of exchange would buy only three or four Chinese dollars. While we do not have that kind of inflation in this country, America is actually moving slowly in that direction. It is said that the American dollar will buy less, right here in America, than at any time since Abraham Lincoln was president.

Although American workingmen have the highest wages that they ever earned, they are complaining that they cannot buy much with those dollars. From 1920 to 1940, when American dollars had purchasing power, an American workman could buy an automobile and could buy a home. Today he can probably buy neither, yet he has far more dollars than he had then. Inflation does not help working people. It burdens them.

A Solid Economy I WANTED to buy a new automobile this year. But when I found that it would take in the neighborhood of $2,000 to buy even an average car, I decided to have my old one overhauled and get along with it. However, the overhauling cost half as much as it used to cost to buy a new automobile. It's hard to tell, under inflation, whether one is wise or foolish.

If we would like to increase inflation and have more dollars in our pockets but be able to buy less with them, then we should encourage a high federal budget, high federal taxes, and still higher wages. All these things have an inflationary influence on our economy. If we want a solid economy, where dollars will buy more and we can actually live better, then we must do these things:

(1) Work for lower taxes, which would leave more in the purchasing stream and would stop discouraging investment in new industries and new tools for workmen, (2) Oppose the high budget with extravagant federal spending, and (3) Work for stable industrial relations. Industry, labor, agriculture, and all other American groups should understand these facts. With shoulders to the wheels we must work for a stabilized America that can lend stability to a confused world.

Bainooian Begins Rush Week Tues.

Bainonian Rush Week begins Tuesday, Sept. 9, with a formal tea in Bainonian Hall from 4:00-5:30 p. m. The theme for the entire week is Egyt, with that of the tea being ancient Egypt. Rush Week chairmen are Lois Thomas and Ruth Heaps. All new girls and old members are invited to this tea. Jean Cobb is in charge of the program for this affair.

Wednesday evening, Sept. 11, all new girls and Athenians will meet in front of Thaw and go from there to the college woods for a "nomad style". The program chairman for the eevning is Katie Carpenter.

Climaxing Rush Week will be the annual Bainonian Formal Saturday, September 13, at 8:00 p. m. in the gym. Arrangements for the evening's entertainment are being made by Florence Housch. This will be open to all new girls and old Bainonians.

Plans for the remainder of the semester include joint monthly meetings with Athenian. The first regular meeting will be a housewarming for the new members.

All active members are helping with Rush Week.

Family Pride

Two little kittens watching a tennis match turned their heads pivot-like as they followed the ball back and forth. One got tired and said, "Let's go, I'm tired." But the other replied: "No, I am going to stick around—my old man's in that racket." —Collegian

Do you remember when Romeo was close to Juliet on the balcony and she murmured softly in his ear: "Why did't you get orchestra seats?"

—De Paulia

Gress, Robinson, Mosby Alverson, Argie Chosen For Chilhowean Staff

Elizabeth Carver, editor of the 1948 CHILHOWEAN announced the appointments of Virginia Gress, Geneva Robinson, and Ilda Mosby to her editorial staff. Business manager Ray Saunders chose Bob Argie and Bette Belle Alverson as his assistants. Miss Carver, education major from Ambridge, Pennsylvania, and Saunders, Chelmsford, Massachusetts, psychology major, were elected last spring by the rising junior class.

First Edition, 1906

Originated by the seniors of 1906, the yearbook is now published by the junior class. A dummy of the 1948 edition was made by the editor during the summer.

George's Studio of Knoxville will begin taking pictures of organizations on September 16.

Expansion of Junior Colleges Recommended

Are too many people going to college?

Most university heads privately agree there are, but the many and complex obstacles in the way of trimming enrollment to size are baffling them, according to Henry F. and Katharine Pringle in the current (Sept. 6th) Saturday Evening Post. The basic problem confronting higher education in the United States, they say in their report, "Is Education Getting Too Big," is the degree to which boys and girls, unqualified in mentality and training for university education, are demanding admission.

President Robert Gordon Sproul, of the University of California with 40,00 full-time students, suggests as a partial solution more definite restrictions on university admissions, according to The Post article. He wants junior-college systems expanded to provide "opportunities for those not qualified to work on the university level."

Chancellor Robert M. Hutchins, of the University of Chicago, recently called for sweeping revision of the nation's educational system. Most students should go to junior colleges, not to the universities, he is quoted in The Post. In order to persuade them not to go on, he recommended that they be awarded a bachelor's degree at the age of eighteen or twenty.

ARMY SUPPLIES ARRIVE IN GREECE

OVER THE SIDE of U. S. Army transport Pireaus Harbor in Athens goes one of the big army trucks rushed to Greece on State Department orders. It was part of $18,000,000 worth of foodstuffs and military supplies that arrived in the Greek port aboard twelve army transports in answer to the urgent appeal of Dwight P. Griswold, U. S. aid chief. (International)

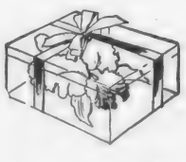
AH—PERFECTION!

Our chef takes pride in the perfection of his art.
You'll take pleasure in it
STEAKS — CHOPS — FRIED CHICKEN
"WHERE COOKERY IS AN ART"
Open "Town Night" till 10.00 O'clock
Bring Your Date To Cate's
CATE CAFE

YOU HOLD THE KEY
To a Bright,
Successful Future
BYRNE DRUG CO.



PARK THEATRE
"Breakfast In Hollywood"
Starring
Tom Breneman

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

Desert Garden

A bit of desert in the form of miniature cacti plants, corraled in a dish garden. The hardy plants need little attention.

Special Occasions

A lovely tribute to the glamour of a lovely lady. You'll know by the smile you get when she receives it that you've chosen the perfect gift.

Welcome To You Students
CLARK FLOWERS

McGREGOR SPORTSWEAR
University Fashions

McGREGOR'S AUTHENTIC TARTAN PLAID SHIRTS: Bold, dazzling plaids adapted from the same colors worn by famous Scotch clans! Superbly tailored in Seymour's 100% pure wool flannel—$8.95

See PROFFITT'S For The BEST In Sports-Wear New Things Weekly

JUST ARRIVED:
NEW ALLIGATOR
RAIN-COATS

CORD SUITOR SACK COAT: Superbly-tailored corduroy by McGregor. Has the drape of town tailoring plus the comfort of country clothes. Soft, luxurious, colorful—$18.95

CORD SUITOR SLACKS: Free-fitting corduroy to help you walk, run, bend, or turn—without hindrance! Colors match or blend with the coat—$8.95

ROYAL SHEPHERD SHIRT: McGregor gives you the new button-down, wide-sweep collar. Authentic shepherd checks in a completely washable, spun rayon—$6.50

Proffitt's Men's Dept.
Since 1919, The Best Place To Trade

BAINONIAN

FORMAL TONIGHT

THE Highland Echo

CONGRATULATIONS

CHEER LEADERS

VOLUME 33 — MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, SEPTEMBER 13, 1947 — NUMBER 3

LAMAR MEMORIAL LIBRARY MARYVILLE SEP 15 1947 MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

Z 703

Ten New Books Recently Added To Library Shelves

The Discovery of India by Nehru, The Cokesbury Party Book compiled by Arthur M. Depew, and eight other books, including history, humor, religion, and hints about cooking, have been added to the library shelves, Miss Ruth Grierson, librarian, recently announced.

The Discovery of India, published last year and lately purchased for the Maryville library, is perhaps the most interesting of the books from a standpoint of current appeal. The book was written by Jawaharlal Nehru, who only recently became first prime-minister of the new Indian state Hindustan, following the independence of India. He has shared with Gandhi the leadership in the Nationalist movement in India since 1920. Much of the book was written during periods when Nehru was a political prisoner of the British government.

It is said about the book that "in discovering India for himself, Jawaharlal Nehru drew into form for others a history of his country, from pre-historic times to the urgent present."

The Cokesbury Party Book, compiled by Arthur M. Depew, will probably be of interest to student chairmen who have the responsibilities of planning for campus socials. It contains fifty-two completely planned parties, each built around a central theme and planned in detail.

Human Destiny, by Lecomte du Nouy has received considerable publicity, some authorities seeming to think that the work will some day be compared with Copernicus's treatise on astronomy and Darwin's on evolution. Re-interpreting the theory of evolution in the light of modern physics, Nouy believes that the strictly materialistic theory of the Universe, and of man, is no longer capable of being defended.

Mrs. Rasmussen's Book of One Arm Cookery by Mary Lasswell is a bona fide recipe book, in spite of the misleading title. It is given that extra spice with a sprinkling of remarks by Mrs. Rasmussen's friends, Mrs. Feeley and Miss Tinkham.

Eyes of Faith was written by Paul S. Minear, a relative of Marvin Minear, Maryville instructor in economics and assistant in the treasurer's office. The author says that "the prophets had eyes of faith, and to test our sight by theirs is one way to understand why the power which upset their world has become a platitude which makes us a bit more docile."

A Study of History is an abridgement by D. C. Somerville of Arnold J. Toynbee's six volumes with the same title. It is concerned with the rise and fall of various civilizations, and the concise version is considered not only a summary, but the very essence of Mr. Toynbee's work.

Margie is a true story, but is not to be confused with the movie of the same name. Written by Kenneth I. Brown, it is the typical story of the American girl and boy. The book deals with the letters between Margie from Denison and Dick from Dartmouth.

Understanding the Russians, a study of Soviet life and culture, is the work of fifty-one eminent American, British, and Russian scholars. Edited by Bernard J. Stern and Samuel Smith, its purpose is to provide material for the intelligent citizen eager to learn what is really going on in the Soviet Union.

The New Gold, edited by Stefan Lorant, contains the first pictures of America. Its theme is the stempt of the French and English to settle North America, and twenty-three of the pictures included were done by John White in 1585.

Laughing Into Glory by Hodge MacIlvain Eagleson is a humorous, heart-warming story of a young minister among his parishiers. It characterizes the people of a small town, and relives the experiences that belong to any young minister.

Bainonian Presents "Scherazade" Tonight

Bainonian and Athenian's formal, a pageant of "Scheherazade", will be presented tonight in the New Gymnasium, at 8:00 p. m. for the entertainment of all new students.

"Scherazade', the climax of the Bainonian-Athenian rush week on an Egyptian theme, is planned and directed by Footsie Housch and Mildred Miller. Betty Hall plays the title role as the slave girl to the Sultan, Scott McClure. Tom Horst will take the part of the Sultan's brother, and Mildred Orr that of the Sultana. In the court entertainment Martha Scanlon will dance as "Cleopatra" and Jim Black will show his proficiency at snake charming. As Scherazade tells her tales, Bob Connell will play Aladdin with Betty Jane Moser as his genie; and Rella Anderson with ten lovely dancing girls will dance the story of "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves".

Mae Merriwether is in charge of decorations for the formal; M. J. Long, the refreshments; and Martha Ann Blount, invitations and favors.

"A Trip Down the Nile" was the theme of the picnic in the woods Thursday evening at 7:30. The program, under Katie Carpenter's direction, was a series of games and stunts on the various means of travel in ancient Egypt—boat, feet, camel, slave-carried sedan chair, and crocodile-back. Virginia MacArthur planned the food, and Lorry Nunn made the invitations.

Rush week began with the "Egyptian Ella" tea in the Bainonian Room Monday afternoon. The room was decorated by Gelolo Kell, Janice Lindsay, and Barbara Bertholf as the Egyptian Queen's own court with soft couches, tapestried walls, candlelight, and incense. The slave girls, Footsie Housch, Martha Barnwell, and Janet Rich, directed by Jeanne Cobb and Elaine Kern, provided a background of music. Other slave girls in exotic costumes, designed by Owen Williams, Arlene Whiting, and Dot Holverson, served the food prepared by Elizabeth Crawford and Ruth Rogers, Juanita Johnson and Betty Seagraves made the invitations and Barbara Eggleston headed the publicity committee.

Council Views New Town Night Limits

A provision for extending town night boundaries was the main discussion at the Student Council meeting Wednesday, September 10, at 9:00 p. m. in Thaw Hall. President Elsie Jean Cotton presided.

It was suggested that the limits should be extended out West Broadway as far as Noah's Ark. A committee was appointed to investigate the possibility of using part of Thaw basement as a recreation hall. The committee was also asked to see if the students would be interested in contributing the work necessary to put in a concrete floor.

Another proposition approved was the cheerleaders elected by the school electing their own head cheerleader. Formerly the cheerleader receiving the highest amount of votes in the sutdent elections automatically became head cheerleader.

Six violations were reported and the regular penalties invoked.

DIXIE SMITH, ILL, LEAVES FOR HOME

Dixie Smith, junior home economics major from White Hall, Maryland, suddenly became ill last Saturday, September 6, and returned home by plane. Because she had a sinus infection, she was advised that she should not remain in Maryville climate, and she decided to withdraw from school. At last report she was considerably improved.

THREE GIRLS MOVE IN BALDWIN HALL

Rooms have been found on campus for three freshmen girls who have been living off campus, Miss Frances Massey, Dean of Women, reported. Ann Katherine Cates who was living in Dr. Case's home, Sharon Musick who was staying at Dr. McClelland's, and Wilma Robinson whose home is in Maryville have all moved to Baldwin Hall recently. Two other girls, Mary Mitchell Woolridge, junior, and Ruth Hildebrand, freshman, are living in Dr. Lloyd's home until they can find places in the dormitories.

PICTURES DELAY REC HALL OPENING

Due to the necessity of using Bartlett Hall for the Chilhowean photographers, the Rec Hall will not be open until the first week of October. The Student Council committee, with the assistance of volunteer hosts and hostesses, will again be in charge of the activities.

Through the efforts of the Student Council last year, the Rec Hall furnished varied and interesting recreation to students in the after-meal periods and on town nights. Such a program is again planned for this year; however, the committee's plans are seriously hampered by the loss of twelve card tables placed in Bartlett last semester. Anyone having knowledge of these tables is asked to contact any student council member.

Theta will meet tonight at 6:15 in Theta Hall for a business meeting

Rev. J. M. Windham Gives Details Of Convention In Copenhagen

BY CRAIG FISHER

Reverend James M. Windham, newly appointed pastor of the First Baptist Church of Maryville, talked Wednesday morning on impressions and reactions from his recent trip through Europe to the World Baptist Convention in Copenhagen. Rev. Mr. Windham came to his Maryville church July 4, and after a ten day stay set out on his European journey from which he has recently arrived.

Native of Georgia

Following his address he told of additional interesting facts in an interview. A native of Tifton, Georgia, the Rev. Mr. Windham graduated from Mercer University in Macon. Later he received his B.D. from the Southern Baptist Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky, followed by further work in the Georgia State College for Men. He came to Maryville from the First Baptist Church in Thomaston, Georgia, and is now serving his first pastorate in Tennessee.

Seventh Congress

Asked for information on the Baptist Convention, he explained that it was the seventh Congress of the Baptist World Alliance, an organization of Missionary Baptist Churches to which each church sends its delegate, sponsoring him and paying his expenses. The purpose of the convention is the propagation of the gospel and the cultivation of world Baptist fellowship. Organized in 1905, it holds its meetings, disrupted now by two world wars, every five years, the next one to come in 1950 and the golden anniversary to be celebrated in 1955.

Russians Absent

5,000 delegates came together from fifty countries in Copenhagen, Denmark, the first time the Convention had met in Scandinavia. It was significant because the first modern Baptist church had been organized in Denmark in 1836. The Russian delegation was conspicuously absent, not appear-

(Continued on page 2)

YWCA Observes Nu Gamma Sunday

Y. W. C. A. will observe "Nu Gamma Sunday" at its regular meeting tomorrow afternoon, at 1:30, in the "Y" rooms. Barbara Eggleston, junior, Nu Gamma Chairman, will speak on "Living for Tomorrow". The Nu Gamma leaders will be in charge of the entire program. Rella Anderson will give a special vocal selection.

Cabinet Meeting

At the cabinet meeting last Monday evening, plans were made for a candlelight service to take in new members. They also discussed a Y-Room shower to furnish more utensils for the kitchen, in addition to hopes for buying a new stove.

Two new members have been added to the YWCA cabinet. Betty Emory will be in charge of World Fellowship, and Betty Caldwell will assume the chairmanship of athletics.

Medical Aptitude Exam Given On Oct. 25, Feb. 2

The Medical Aptitude Examination for students who expect to enter Medical School in the fall of 1943 is to be given twice during this academic year, on October 25, 1947, and February 2, 1948. It is expected that no one below junior classification will take this examination. One who takes the examination in October cannot retake it in February.

At the time of the examination the student indicates three recognized schools of medicine or dentistry or pharmacy to which he wishes his test results sent. These scores are used as part of the criteria of selection of students by the schools.

The student pays a fee of five dollars at the time of taking the examination.

The tests this year are as follows: Verbal Ability, 105 minutes; Quantitative Ability, 60 minutes; Premedical Science, 90 minutes; Understanding of Modern Society, 90 minutes. Those who plan to take the October 25 examination should register at Dean Hunter's office before September 20.

Graduate Record Examination Given 4 Times In Year

The Graduate Record Examination, given four times each year, will be given this year, October 27, 28; February 2, 3; May 3, 4; and August 2, 3. Only seniors slated for graduation in December would use the October date. In general, either the February or May dates are the ones for other students.

The Graduate Record Examination is rapidly becoming a part of the procedure of graduate schools in examining and deciding upon the students who are admitted to graduate study. It is becoming, therefore, more and more advisable for seniors to take this examination at some point in the senior year.

The examination covers general matters and a verbal quantitative ability and contemporary affairs, and also for each field a thorough unit of questions on the major.

Any student wishing this examination in October must register at Dean Hunter's office before September 20.

Dr. Lloyd Announces Additional Appointments

The following additional appointments to faculty committees are announced by President R. W. Lloyd.

"Pep" Committee: Briggs K. P. Johnson.

Social committee: (joint faculty student committee) B. H. Brown, Heron, Minear , Schwam, Wild, Williams.

Student-faculty Senate: Lloyd, Cowdrick, Hunter, Jackson, Massey, Orr, A. F. Peiper

Student Volunteer Advisor: Black.

SIX CHEERLEADERS ELECTED LAST NIGHT

Chilhowean Honors Boy-of-The-Year

There will be a Chilhowean Boy-of-the-Year this term for the first time in the history of Maryville College. Selection of the Girl-of-the-Year has been a tradition at the College for two years, and this year it has been decided to choose a boy for the honor also. Both Boy and Girl-of-the-Year will occupy separate feature pages in the New Chilhowean Manuals.

Mode of Dress Stated

Schedules and dress requirements for Chilhowean photographs have now been announced. Seniors girls may wear anything they desire for the informal pictures, but other students will dress as follows: All men students will wear dark suits with white shirt and necktie; Senior Girls—Drapes with pearls; Junior Girls—Light sweaters with pearls; Sophomore Girls—White tuxedo blouses; Freshman Girls—Light sweaters and dickies with round collars.

The photographer will be on the campus from Tuesday, September 16, until all pictures have been made in Bartlett Hall. His hours will be 9:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and 1:30 to 5:00 p. m. The price will be one dollar for each sitting.

Lois Deobler Injures Foot Practicing Ballet

Lois Jean Deobler, sophomore from Chicago, Illinois, broke two toes on her left foot last Saturday afternoon in a ballet leap she was practicing for the Theta formal. She didn't realize how close she was to the door, and struck the door casing, breaking the two toes. However, she strapped up her foot and went ahead with her part in the Theta formal Saturday night.

Miss Deobler entered the hospital Sunday night and was released Wednesday morning. Although she will need to wear the cast on her foot for a month she is attending classes on crutches now.

Dot Vawter Elected French Club Treasurer

Dorothy Vawter, senior music major from Maryville, was elected treasurer of the French Club at the meeting held last Thursday night. She is replacing Ruth Plyler, who did not return to school.

Eleanor Struble, president, conducted the business meeting at which a membership committee was appointed. Violet Sommerville, Barbara Blair, and Vera Lusk were selected for the committee, their duty being to choose new members for this year's club.

Y.M.C.A. Officers, Cabinet Members Speak At Meeting

President James Black will introduce the officers and members of this year's cabinet at the regular weekly YMCA program which will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 in Bartlett Hall Auditorium. Following a brief devotional and the introduction of officers, each cabinet member will present the aims and purposes of his committee, giving members of the organization an idea concerning the work for the coming year. The president and cabinet has extended a special invitation to all men students and members of the faculty.

The coaches of the college will be the speakers at the meeting of September 21, using as their theme, "The Part of Christianity in Athletics."

FIVE ADMITTED TO COLLEGE INFIRMARY

Glenn Smith, sophomore from Hardy, Virginia, was the first patient to be admitted at the college infirmary this semester, followed by four other students. Glenn spent two days undergoing treatment for an abcessed arm. William Fry, freshman from Bristol, Pennsylvania, was admitted next suffering from an infected foot. Mabelle Fong, sophomore from New York City, spent three days in the hospital recuperating from severe cold.

Lois Deobler, sophomore from Chicago, Illinois, was admitted September 7 with two broken toes. She was released Wednesday and is now able to attend classes with the aid of crutches.

Richard Ribble, freshman from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania was admitted for observation September 10, with a knee injury. It was an old injury that he hurt again while playing intramural football. He roomed in town, but because of the injury he has moved to campus.

The college nurse, Miss Thelma Hall, will be on duty from 10::00 a. m. to 11:00 a. m., 4:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m., and 7:00 p. m. to 8:00 p. m. All those who wish to see her are requested to come during these hours. Emergency cases will be taken at any time.

Clinics will be held Mondays by Dr .Curtis, Wednesdays by Dr. Vandergriff, and Fridays by Dr. LeQuire. Clinics will be held from 4:00 p. m. until 5:00 p. m.

All students interested in trying for Business Staff of Highland Echo see Dr. F. A. Griffitts, Faculty Advisor.

Crowd Chooses Titley Captain

Kay Titley, Betty Jo Clemens, Jane McMillan, Marvin McKenzie, Bob Watkins, and Dick Jones were elected cheerleaders at the pep meeting held in the alumni gym last night, Friday, September 12. Miss Titley, receiving the majority of votes, will serve as captain Eighteen persons, seven boys and eleven girls, took part in the tryouts which were held prior to the election.

Miss Titley is a sophomore home economics major from Springfield, New Jersey. She was one of three girls elected a cheer leader here last year.

Miss Clemens, a transfer from Milligan College is a sophomore physical education major from Rock Gardens, Alcoa. She was a cheer leader for two years in Maryville High School.

Miss McMillan, freshman education major, is from Acworth, Georgia, and was on the cheer leading squad for two years in high school.

Marvin McKenzie, freshman, is a history major from Houston, Texas. He was a cheerleader during his senior year of high school.

Bob Watkins from Webster Grove, Missouri is a sophomore drama and speech major. He has had no previous experience.

Dick Jones, freshman sociology major from Morristown, N. J., was a cheerleader for his four years in high school.

(Continued on page four)

News Capsules—

Clark Prepares Master List

Attorney General Tom C. Clark is preparing a master list of Communist organizations to use as a key for discovering disloyal government employees. With the data he expects to find out how many American organizations are Communist dominated.

Less Grain For Europe

At the same time Secretary of State Marshall warned that European states must be aided with food and fuel this winter, the State Department notified U. S. Embassies in 20 countries that American exports in grain will be cut at least 10 per cent.

Mattalina Receives $100,000

Jame Mattalina, who served as Miss Anna Craig's chauffeur for 25 years, learned recently that his employer willed him $100,000.

Father's Diary Causes Dispute

The diary of a father has been a four-year dispute between Bishop Homer Tomlinson of the Church of God and Bishop Milton Tomlinson, resulting in the former suing the latter for recovery of the diary plus damages.

Questions About Bevin

Ernest Bevin's recent request for American gold has caused people in this country to wonder if he knows exactly what he is doing. Some have suggested that he should "talk less and consider his words mor carefully."

Frosh Entertained By Hillbilly Band

Cecil Griffith and his hillbilly band entertained freshmen in the typical hillbilly style at the Frosh Barn Dance held last Tuesday evening, in the Alumni Gymnasium. The gym, decorated with straw, benches, and other properties, gave the appearance of a real barn.

Between dances songs were played and sung. Ben Russell, a member of the local Square Dance Club, called the dances. Florence Housch and her committee were in charge of the program.

Preceding the party, E. J. Cotton, president of the Student Council, and Scott McClure, vice-president answered questions about town night.

Three Maryville Students Work Part-Time At New Radio Station

By LEAKE and WALLIN

Three Maryville students, Kenneth Kribbs, Jim Black, and Robert Thomson are now working part time at Station WGAP, Maryville's month-old radio station.

Ken Kribbs, senior from Walland, is now connected with the continuity department. He has been working there since August 1. Aside from his full time college schedule, he has three regular programs entitled "What's Cooking?", "Church News In and Around Maryville" and a news cast.

Jim Black, junior from Maryland, and Robert Thomson, junior from New York, have worked up a series of satires for radio. The first of these was presented Thursday, September 11, at 10:00 p. m. The program is called "Is This Radio?" Black, president of the YMCA, also stated that the combined YMCA-YWCA groups are working out a program which they hope to present in the near future.

Mrs. Clyde West, former dramatic art department head is writing and directing a dramatic skit on authentic historical events of this section of Tennessee. She uses local talent in the parts. The program is presented each Thursday night. Jim Black is also helping Mrs. West.

Jimmy Hess, of Knoxville, who attended Maryville College for a short time in 1946 has a record program especially for college students. It is called "You Asked For It" and is broadcast at 9:30 each week-day evening.

Two other request programs are conducted by Harry "Uncle Bud" Morgan, also from Knoxville. They are "Disc Date" from 2:00 till 3:00 and "Teen Town" from 3:30 to 5:30 on week days. Seven years ago at the age of 13 Morgan was East Tennessee's youngest an-

(Continued on Page Two)

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 33 NUMBER 3

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser
Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor
Kenneth Olsen ..... Sports Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Grace Gugger, Naomi Hoffman, Ilda Mosby

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Herbert McCallum, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF
Ruth Williams ..... Business Manager

SENIOR ASSISTANT
Mary Jane Long

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANT
Bob Watkins

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1947

THERE MUST BE A REASON

There must be a reason, but from the senior point of view it's hard to understand. We were told when we were freshmen that we sat in the back of the chapel so that we could have a three-year goal in mind, that is, working our way to the front. We worked, pulling down our respective A's, B's, and D minuses until we finally became seniors. Now we wonder how good a voice is required to gain admittance to the choir, in order to get off that high perch in the back of the gym.

It must have an advantage; it will probably be better for class meetings, and we are more likely to hear the chapel speakers than are the freshmen on level ground near the front doors. Still it's with a great deal of dismay that we watch the freshmen find their ways to the doors ahead of us. Maybe we're jealous, or maybe we're just realizing another reason why we wish the chapel had not burned.

WE LIKE TO "LOITER", BUT—

Personally, we like to "loiter", but like Grandma not showing her ankles in the old days, "it just ain't done" on Tuesday nights. Some did it. They merely stood out in front of Baldwin; they innocently stood on Memorial porch, and they enjoyed the first floor lobby of Pearsons. They all "loitered", and, as a result, some of them are spending two months on campus.

Remember! you're loitering if you stop to chat anywhere to and from town, or on campus, until you're inside the respective dorm parlors.

And remember! Whether or not you're signed out for Town Night, you're under Town Night restrictions. Just a gentle reminder. If the ECHO doesn't give it, the Student Council will have to, and, though they dislike doing it, they have a bite with their bark.

NEW DATE SYSTEM IN PEARSONS

Thanks to Anna Sakaizawa and Esther Cornelius, the new system for calling girls for dates was initiated in Pearsons last Tuesday night. Though it's too early to determine it's value, several have admitted that the receptionist and messenger girl who notify girls that their dates are waiting cause much less distrubance than the former system of hoarse voices when people yelled from second floor to fourth, and from one wing to another.

Dear "SAD SAM"

Yours was one of two anonymous letters we received this week. The other one came from a "Concerned Student." The two of you made us feel that we resemble an editor to a certain extent; however, most newspapers, whether they be small or large, have adopted a definite policy which they follow when it comes to handling such matters.

Long before this editor heard of a newspaper, its policy was decided. The HIGHLAND ECHO never prints unsigned material, but anytime you or any other students give submissions with authentic signatures we promise you that they will be carefully considered.

The Editor

Much Echo About Nothing

BY ILDA MOSBY

Ya know, the other day I decided to ask my table(mates) for any gossip they might have heard, but before I could ask, three of the fellows started talking about George Gillette's peculiar sleeping tactics, something about 5 LIFE magazines, some 1936 newspapers, and a couple of LOOKS; never did find out just what those articles had to do with sleeping, because I had to dash out for seconds and when I got back the subject was Coach Davis. It seems he got envious of the sympathy the football fellows get when they acquire some extra bruises, so he—well, just then someone else popped up with the noise in Pearsons. Seems we had mice when we lived in Carnegie, beetles in Baldwin, and now we have something larger—and noisier—in Pearsons. Every night about eleven, the "something Larger" moves its furniture, slams its door, clatters down the hall on wooden soles, and pounds a typewriter. Which reminds me, when are the Carnegie girls going to have a reunion? (For the benefit of newcomers, girls lived in there the fall of '45 and the spring of '46).

I decided I'd better get my dishwater before the kitchen obstacle race began, so I ambled kitchenward. I figured I'd ask about some news when I got back but by the time I managed to dodge my way to the table, the kids had all gone, so I thought maybe my fellow waiters and waitresses could tell me something. Just then a fellow went past, you know the one I mean, the one who could make two of me or three of Vera Dockendorf, and since he could see more than most folks, I trailed him out to the kitchen, but he was so busy listening to Miss Ware explain to him why butter plates shouldn't be set on top of bread that he dumped the meatloaf in with the salad and I figured I'd better not distract another fragment of his attention till he'd finished. (He finally did his work okay and the shock was so great he spilled his pan of dishwater on the floor. Seems he's just a little beyond Mr. Harter's aural range, too).

After dinner I had to go to a meeting and when I got back I heard all about how the fire extinguisher right outside my door on third floor Pearsons, fell off the wall and started spurting and Marilyn Hartpence had to grab it and hang on to the nozzle till Hedy ran and got Tom Eckert to dash up and stop it. (It now reposes in a box on the floor).

In English 331, Dr. Hunter came out with, "I don't need to tell you, you know how old-fashioned things 20 years old can look," while glancing around at the double-decaders in the class. Later on, when I was taking a shower, some of my absent-minded contemporaries had the same idea. F'r instance, Bertholf couldn't see any use for carrying a towel, and Ginny McArthur seemed to think soap wasn't necessary. Well, about then the girl in the next shower started telling me about her eye trouble; she'd been unable to focus; she'd see half of one thing and half of something else at the same time. There were some other details that I don't quite remember. A few minutes later while I was brushing my teeth, Bev Muetzel, wearing a raincoat, walked out of the shower adjoining the one I'd been in. After what she'd said, I thought the same thing you're thinking. Heading back for my room, I ran into a fellow—studentess of Lloyd Anderson's who was of the decided opinion he'd better move to a farm till he learned a little more about eggs and chickens. At home once more, I had to listen to my chatter about her chapel associates, and that brings to mind, why is distilling on Rush's mind? Oh, yes, this year's frosh must have paid more for, or else bought through the black market, those front row seats the seniors used to occupy.

Around about that time t'was eleven so we had to turn out the lights. I hoped my sister mosquito bait would have some odd newslet to contribute, but all I heard from her side of the room (we did consider dividing the room in half, but that'd give me the window and hall door, and her the closet, and my clothes do need to be hung up occasionally and she might get tired of staying in that dark corner before the end of the semester), was what she'd prefer to have called groanings of the spirit rather than snoring. Then I listened to the noise the fellows in the Chat were making, and wished they'd observe lights-out and end their midnightly festivities.

That didn't leave me much else to do so I went to sleep. Seems mighty strange no one ever hears any thing that I put in the ECHO.

SPANISH CLUB

Old members of the Spanish Club met in Miss Cowdrick's classroom Thursday evening to vote-in new members. This year is has not been necessary to be a Spanish student to join, so all those interestd ein th language may become active in the Club.

An outline of programs for the year was planned by Betty Emery, program chairman, with the assistance of Miss Ruth Cowdrick.

They expect to have speakers on Mexico during the course of the year.

Mr. James Schwam, the new Spanish instructor, and Miss Cowdrick serve as adult advisors.

There are two members this time from Puerto Rico.

FROSH CLUB

Jim Black, junior from Maryland and YMCA president, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Frosh Club which will be held Monday, September 15, at 8:00 p. m. in Bartlett Hall.

Max House, senior from New York, who is in charge of the club said, "Plans are coming along for the freshman Talent Night which will be held September 27, or October 4."

The Frosh Club is a new all-student organization for the purpose of helping the freshmen get acquainted with the upperclassmen and the college in general.

I.R.C.

"Will England Go Under?" is the topic of Mr. A. F. Peiper, Associate Professor of Political Science, for the September 15 meeting of the International Relations Club. It will be held at 6:45 in Room 214 of Thaw Hall.

Special events in the semester's schedule include movies, guest speakers, and a picnic to be held October 6.

The amount of dues collected from each member will be decided at this meeting. The treasurer announces that members must have paid dues to attend the picnic.

DO YOU KNOW?

BY JEAN HUNT

Around the campus the last few weeks, several questions have been asked by the Freshmen who wanted to know more about Maryville College than the catalogue or the "M" book tells.

Heard most often were "Where did we get the College colors?" "Who wrote the Alma Mater?" "Why do they call the college the Highlanders?" and "When was the college made co-educational?"

The amazing thing about it all was that the upper classmen did not know the answers. Do you?

Did you know. . . . The school colors, orange and garnet, became the official school colors in 1890, when a committee of students and professors adopted them along with the school yell?

Did you know. . . The college Alma Mater was written in 1899 by John W. Ritchie, a professor at Maryville, and put to music by Miss Lelia M. Perine, a teacher of music at Maryville?

Did you know. . . The name Highlanders and the mascot, Scottie, were derived at the beginning and during the early history of the college when the majority of students and faculty were of Scotch-Irish descent?

Did you know. . . The college paper, "The Highland Echo" was first published in 1915?

Did you know. . . . The first women were admitted to Maryville in 1867?

Do you know. . . . When the first Scottie was carried on the field at a ball game? I don't maybe you do.

CORRECTION, PLEASE

Last week, in the article, Point System Intramurals Revised, we said "Freshmen girls who have no interest in competitive sports may enroll in intramurals only." We neglected to say that all freshmen girls must take the regular class of physical education, whether or not they participate in any other sports program.

Too 18
Weep to the tale of Wallie T8
Who met a girl whose name was K8
He courted her at a fearful R8
And begged her soon to become his M8
I would if I could said lovely K8
I pity your lonely, unhappy fate8
But alas, alas you've come too L8
I'm married, already the mother of 8.

SIGN TROOP WITHDRAWAL PACT

SHOWN AFTER THEY HAD SIGNED in Rome an agreement providing for the withdrawal of American troops from Italy 90 days after ratification of the peace treaty by Italy are: U. S. Ambassador James C. Dunn (left) and, across the table, Count Carlo Sforza, Italian foreign minister. After four days of bitter dispute among Italian officials over who would sign the peace treaty ratification, President Enrico de Nicola and Count Sforza finally affixed their signatiures to the document. (International)

HERE'S REAL TEMPTATION

Tastier, fresher rolls made with the best ingredients are inviting accessories at every meal or in between. Lucious sweet rolls, hard or soft dinner rolls.

LYNCH BAKERY

We have a beautiful selection of Eversharp Pens and a grand supply of College Stationery, just what you need.

Then too we hope you will have a Coke here on "Town Night" with all other College Students.

PARK DRUG

"Feather-Fleece" fabric, soft, lightweight, 100% worsted wove Jantzen spun yarn, exclusive Jantzen mixture of fine imported Australian wool and silky-softkid mohair,Dyed in the wool. Reinforced "no-sag" shoulder seams, Elastic ribbed neck and waist-band, cut to full size. Expertly tailored for lasting fit. Ideal for sportswear or as a vest.

Camel, Buff
Smoke Blue, Coco

$4.50

Register-Farmer
MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS

Mr. Louis A. Black, sponsor of Student Volunteers for many years, will be the speaker at the Student Vol meeting held at 8:00 tomorrow night in the YWCA rooms. He will talk about three veteran members of Vols who have gone out in the mission fields and served. In addition, there will be singing and a devotional led by members of the group.

ALPHA SIGMA

Seventeen members of Alpha Sigma went by chartered bus to the Chilhowee Inn last Monday evening, September 6, where they held their annual banquet. The meal consisted of a three-course steak dinner. A short business meeting was also held.

Tonight the society will meet in the YWCA rooms at the rear of Thaw Hall for the purpose of installing new officers.

WGAP—

(Continued from page one)

nouncer. ("Uncle Bud" is not to be confused with "Uncle Tom" who broadcasts from a different station.)

Mr. Robert Claflin, manager of the station, has announced that he is contemplating starting a class for those interested in announcing. If his plans materialize the class will use the tape recorder to study and improve their voices.

Those interested in getting experience in writing radio scripts on prepared topics may talk with Mrs. Claflin.

Visitors are welcome at the station and all those who would like to have special requests played for them may send their requests to one of the record programs at station WGAP.

To miss a kiss is simply awful
To kiss a miss is awfully simple.

WINDHAM—

(Continued from page one)

ing at the last moment "because of certain political implications" in various resolutions. Representatives from various Balkan countries had to slip out to attend, as visaes were not granted them. There were evidences, however, of a strong religious movement going on inside Russia.

The outstanding accomplishments of the Convention were: (1) enlarged plans for world relief, and (2) the planning of a five year program of evangelism.

REAL WAGES UP 22%

"Real wages",—indicating the goods the worker can buy with his pay—increased 22% between 1939 and May of 1947. Average hourly earnings of factory workers in May, 1947, were 91.2% higher than in 1939, while the cost of living was only 56.7% higher.

COLLEGE STUDENTS!

We wish you the Best of Luck for the College year and give you a hearty welcome to Maryville.

The Tennessee Gas Company

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

Just A Week . . . .

With the opening game of the 1947 season just a week away, the important question to consider now: How good do our Scotties shape up? We're optimistically inclined to think that it'll take more power than Hiwassee can muster to overshadow our lightning and thunder. Sometimes, though, give a favored team an "off" night coupled with a strategic bad break or two, and the underdog is liable to come out on top. That any danger of over confidence on the part of the Highlanders might be avoided, the squad was put through three heavy scrimmages and a series of lectures about the fundalmentals of the game that would be enough to fill a book. In addition, every phase of the offensive and defensive tactics has been explained so that even the slowest in brain action could see the correct football light. The ground-work is laid; things from here to the closing whistle of the game next Saturday night rest largely on the players—their determination, attitude, endurance, and teamwork combined to form the key to the outcome of the unpredictable consequence, the football game.

The Kinks Are Out

In looking at the set-up for the initial game, you can be sure that the bowl team, the majority of whom will probably start against Hiwasee, has been thoroughly put through the mill to straighten out any kinks that contributed to the January first downfall. Over on the bench the opening night quite a few potential starters will be docked for early initiation to actual battle for the Highlanders. Since first games are testing grounds for new material, some of the men on the bench may get a chance at the Tigers in preparatory grooming for more active roles later in the season. The Scots are lined up five strings deep for the beginning of the season. Apparently, there is a lot of unopened talent strung along through the last four strings. . . . . yet to be tested.

It's The Attitude

Fortunately, the Scots have been very lucky in that serious injuries have not plagued the team thus far. Everyday you see a football man with a scratched chin, jaw, arm, or forehead; but these minor injuries are charged to the incidental cost list of participation in varsity football. As every football player knows, it's not the man that is putting the most into his effor;ts in the game that usually gets hurt. Usually, that is. Because the man who drags around during scrimmage is the player most likely to be in someone's way; therefore he is the very man to get run over, cleated, or twisted into some terrible contortion. The lack of injuries could be attributed to the business-like attitude of the team in practice. Maybe the liklihood of the Scots getting too eager for play and tearing up their own team is part of the reason Coach Honaker terminated scrimmage sessions this afternoon. Football, being dependant upon the human element as it is, affords chance for even the mightiest of the mighty to be snagged with injury. Doc Blanchard, hero of the past seasons in big time football, is an example of this situation. Then our theme song should be: "Old Man Injury Stay Away From Our Door".

A Little Preview

Orientation for the fans: The Scots coming out under the lights of Wilson Field next Saturday night will deploy in a single wing formation on the offense. This formation, which Coach Honaker has used very successfully in the past, is a standard formation in nation-wide football circles. Originated by Coach Glenn S. "Pop" Warner, who tutored the Carlisle Indians way back when, this formation got its start along about 1909 when the football rules were revised to limit the number of men used in a backfield offense. Up front of this single wing arrangement of the backs, the Highlander line strings out in convential balanced line style. But then, the average fan is not to much concerned about the type of formation; just a powerful, smooth operating, fast, and deceptive manner of attack is the basic requirement from the spectator's angle. Exactly that is in the offing when the Scottie line lunges as the backs peel off in several directions and suddenly a scat back (this might be read Scot back) streaks down the field with the leather oval neatly tucked in the sling of his arm. Oh yes, these beautiful passes reeled off over the opponents' heads are an extra thrill. . . watch him go! The Scots are preparing to put a lot of the passing activity in play, if needed. It's amazing how close to bomb-sight accuracy some of the Highlander backs are gifted in the pass-slinging technique. That are will come in mighty handy as the downs go by.

A Long Way

Just in case we've built up our ego too much. . . . . we can somber up on the thought that the nine game line-up of competition for our Scots will be extremely tough and perhaps disheartening before the trail of encounters winds up on November 22. Yet, we believe our Scots have the makings of a superior team for 1947.

Heavy Scrimage Held Before Hiwassee Clash

The Highlanders go into their last week of training on Monday before the first game of the season, with Hiwassee—next Saturday. The last heavy scrimmage practice was held on the practice field this afternoon.

The coming week will be devoted to signal drills and timing of plays and other light workouts in the Highlander camp.

More Drill Needed

The coaches smiled pleasingly at the progress of the squads, especially the tackling and blocking manner of the Scottie squad; but they expressed the need for more drill in offensive timing and securing more teamwork in the squad.

The weather has hampered practice for the Scots, the heat making it necessary to shorten the practice hours and provide for breaks in the training routine. Twice within the week regular scrimmage practices were rained out, and forced an increased tempo in the drills for the squad.

Trainer Bud Engel reports that none of the Scottie football squad are laid up with injuries.

Field In Readiness

Brownie and his maintenance crew have been busy getting the field ready for the opening of the season. The sound booth has been painted, and the lights have been put up in readiness for the game. The public address system will be installed by the middle of next week. The loudspeakers are to be located this year on a pole to be erected on the north west side of the field over the fence beyond the end zone.

Tickets On Sale

The athletic committee is selling season tickets from its office in Bartlett and also at Byrne Drug Store in downtown Maryville. Reserved tickets will go on sale by Thursday for the Hiwassee game at both of these places.

Track Practice Begins Monday

Coach "J. D." Davis, at a meeting of 48 track candidates last Tuesday, explained the revised system of track, which is being tried out at Maryville College this year for the first time. Under this system, fall track practice will begin Monday. All men reporting at this time will be issued the necessary equipment on the stipulation that they work out at least twice a week in the event or events in which they plan to compete.

The team will no longer specialize in cross country as in years previous, but will concentrate on training for the spring track season.

The team will probably have eleven returning lettermen when the spring season rolls around, including George Gillette, and W. B. Seymour, seniors, Bill Proffitt, Ray Saunders, "Brick" Brahms, and Harold Ammons, juniors, and Bob Kay, George Robarts, Sid Lambert, Craig Fisher, and Hap Brahms, sophomores. Not all of the lettermen will report until after football season.

Four meets have been scheduled tentatively for the spring season With the possible addition of several others, the schedule includes contests with University of Tennessee, University of Chattanooga Tennessee Poly Tech, and Milligan College. The final dates will be announced in the Echo as soon as they are released.

Girls' Intramurals Begun Thursday

M. C. upper-class women were called together Wednesday, September 10, to sign up for intramurals, which includes both point system and individual sports. All classes will meet Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3:30 to 4:20 and from 4:30 to 5:20. Point system will continue with its rules and competitive sports and no other competitive sports will be offered except those included in this class. Under individual sports there will be offered a choice of either ping-pong, badminton, and lawn games, or golf, swimming, tennis, and archery.

No woman will be excused this year from physical education. The program has been arranged so that everyone may participate in some activity.

WRESTLING BEGINS

Varsity wrestling prospects will begin pre-season training next week in the wrestling room, second floor Bartlett. The Rev. Phillip Evaul, Assistant Pastor at New Providence Presbyterian Church, will coach the team, assisted by Captain Ken Ross, until the close of football season releases the regular coach, "J. D." Davis, from duty on the gridiron.

Mr. Evaul was a wrestling star in the 121 pound class at Maryville a few years ago.

The men will work-out Tuesdays and Thursday from 4:00 to 5.00 p. m.

New Program For Frosh P. E. Begins

Freshmen will participate in sports this year under the new physical education program which began this week. Head Coach Lombe Honaker, Assistant Coach "J. D." Davis, and Intramural Director Kenneth P. Johnson will conduct the classes, which will meet twice a week.

New Program

This new program is a far cry from the freshmen P. E. courses offered in past years at Maryville. In previous years, freshmen struggled with calisthenics two days a week, while this year in the bi-weekly classes, the lucky "frosh" men will have such sports as sports as touch football, soccer, basketball, baseball, swimming, wrestling, boxing, and track to enter. A few calisthenics will be included.

Touch Football and Soccer

The first part of the program will last from September 8 to October 11, with touch football and soccer on the list. Different sports will be included as the football season closes.

New Bleachers To Be Built Soon

Additional bleacher stands to seat the increased number of college students and the anticipated visitors are now being built. These will be temporary wooden stands similar to the ones on the far side of Wilson Field, and are to last only until it is definite that Wilson Field will or will not be moved to the new addition now being excavated near the woods. Although modern steel bleachers would be preferable, it is impossible to obtain the materials for them at the present time. Construction of the wooden bleachers has already started, but it is not certain that they will be finished in time to meet the first scheduled game with Hiwassee, September 20. Before the chapel burned, the college planned to move the bleachers which are in the Alumni Gym to the field during the fall months. As the gym is now being used daily for chapel, this is impractical. With the new stands, all spectators will be seated this football season.

INTRAMURALS

CALENDAR

Fall Sports (September 8-November 15) 10 weeks

- •touch football
- tennis (ladder)
- weight lifting
- badminton (ladder)
- track
- swimming
- cross country

Winter Sports

(November 17-December 18) 5 weeks

- •Volleyball
- badminton (ladder)
- swimming
- handball (ladder)

(January 14-February 28) 5 weeks

- •basketball
- badminton (ladder)
- handball
- swimming
- tumbling
- apparatus
- wrestling

Spring Sports (March 1-May 8) 10 weeks

- •softball
- tennis (ladder)
- golf
- track and field

•indicates required "major" sport. Each upperclassman must participate in one "major" sport each semester.

Two seven-man touch football games will touch off the '47-'48 men's intramural program with a bang on Monday, games being scheduled for every day next week except Wednesday.

Eight Balls vs Jets

The first game on Monday will be between the Eight Balls and the Jets, Orange League, at 3:30 p.m. on the Court Street end of the athletic field behind the Alumni Gym. The second game, Kama vs Tau Sigma, Garnet League, will be at 4:30 p. m. on the same gridiron. Bernie Welch and Tom Eckert will officiate.

110 Men to Play

Approximately 110 men on ten teams will battle each other during the next ten weeks for the trophy. The teams are divided into two leagues, the Orange and Garnet, and two games will be scheduled every week day except Wednesday when cancelled games will be played. Four games will be played on Friday. The last week will be a tournament to decide the College Series Champs.

Tennis Ladder Continues

Coach Johnson reports that the tennis ladder games are continuing. There are now 25 men on the ladder, and, since it is too full, no more men will be allowed to sign up except by special permission after seeing Coach Johnson.

TOUCH-FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

September 15-19

Mon.—3:30 Eight Balls vs Jets
4:30 Kama vs Tau Sigma
Officials: Welch and Eckert
Tues.—3:30 Odds vs. U. S. Mules
4:30 Crescents vs Local Yokels
Wed.—Re-scheduled cancelled games
Thurs.—3:30 Eight Balls vs Mitey Mites
4:30 Dama vs Y Frosh Club
Fri.—3:30 U. S. Mules vs Jets
4:30 Tau Sigma vs Local Yokels
★3:30 Odds vs Mitey Mites
★4:30 Crescents vs Y Frosh Club
★These games will be played on a second field, not definitely located when paper went to press.

PARK THEATRE
"The Falcon's Adventure"
Starring Tom Conway

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.
30-Minute Service
between
Maryville and Knoxville

HOLD THAT POSE!
Let "Daddy Webb" take your picture.
WEBB STUDIO

Formula for Fall...

You'll Find The TOP Ingredients for Your Fall Wardrobe and essential ones to make you a success.

FOR DASHING APPEARANCE visit us for all your needs.

Be ready for the Season—Get 'em now!

Maryville's Most Popular Store

MOSER'S
CLOTHING STORE

Sprague Philosophy Insists Anyone Can Write; Gives Story of Interview

BY DICK SPRAGUE

Editor's Note: For the benefit of freshmen tryouts, herewith follows an excellent example of how not to write a feature.

Once a man said that love is like a raindrop, so I guess this is a lovely day; but seeing as how most of my raindrops evaporate too soon to let me get wet, I can't verify the assumption or hypothesis or whatever you call it. Anyway, it doesn't make any difference, as I was only trying to lead up to my introductory bit of philosophy which follows: If "you are all wet" it's all right if you are in love or in Maryville.

Philosophically inclined, as you may or may not have inferred from my opening paragraph, I have had an urge for a long time to expound my ideas in print, where I can't be told outright to shut-up. Heretofore Miss Jackson and whatever fellow students I could corner had to bear the entire privilege of listening to my insighty saying. When I attempted to enlighten my own family this past summer, it became very trying on my patience. After only a few readings I had to give up and I turned my intentions inward. Forth came an inspired treatise: Geneva Was Dead (It's not complete, but I'll let you read it if if you ask me.) All of which might be irrelvant except for being an introduction to whatever may come later. In this narrative and analysis I will attempt to watch myself objectively (and philosophically, if you will permit) as I am interviewed by your editors for the job of writing what I am writing. I guess I should add that my roommate was along, but so as not to mislead you into thinking that I'm bragging, I won't tell you his name if you don't already know my shortcomings.

I won't tell you the preliminaries of being approached by our esteemed editors so you won't recognize them if this happens to you. But I warn you to choose your "friends" carefully. Finally, there I was in the imitation fox-hole at the north end of Thaw being overruled by a ruler in the hands of your editor as I attempted to decline the honor of joining the Echo staff.

"We need a sports writer! What would you like to do? Write 'sports' at the top of this application! "came so quickly in a row that I wrote "sports at the top" before your editor hit me on the shoulder with the ruler. I had to put a line through "at the top." Then I was told to answer the questions that followed, and since both the questions and answers are self-explanatory, I can cut out the dialogue while I run through them, except for comments.

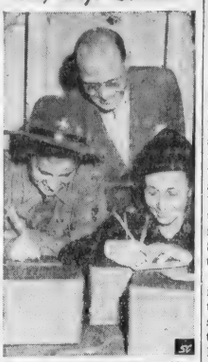
1. NAME (I've got three so I had to find out which one they wanted. Your editor grabbed the pencil and wrote) "Bonehead". (My ghost writer).

2. HAVE YOU PREVIOUSLY WORKED ON ANY NEWSPAPER? IF SO, HOW LONG? This summer we painted our hallway. It took about two weeks. We used the Cincinnati Times-Star to keep the paint off the floor. (I was told I interpreted wrongly, and the question meant FOR any newspaper.) I worked FOR the Cincinnati Times-Star as a paperboy for six years. (She quickly slapped my hand and wrote "NO" for me.) No.

3. ARE YOU ENGAGED—I haven't found a girl yet. (She told me to read the rest of the question). IN ANY OTHER EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITY? IF SO, WHAT? Yes, Smoking and Cates Cafe and the College Dining Hall.

4. WHAT ARE YOUR PARTICULAR INTERESTS IN WRITING? (I was commanded to write "sports"). Sports.

5. DO YOU INTEND TO CONTINUE WITH JOURNALISM? I think reading the newspaper is a custom which I shall continue.



6. WHAT ARE YOUR INTERESTS? WHAT CLUBS HAVE YOU BELONGED TO? HAVE YOU EVER BEEN AN OFFICER? As an ex-enlisted man I resent the last question so I won't answer the others.

As a conclusion I can only say that I'd appreciate someone who would tell me whom I see after the games to find out what happened.

(If I get the job, we can all become writers.)

Freshmen! ! Start thinking about leaders to represent you as class officers and student council representatives.

Oh, Boy! Cookies!

LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y.—One of the "biggest thrills" of foreign Girl Scouts, in America for their first postwar encampment, was a visit to the world's largest cracker bakery under one roof — the Sunshine Biscuit plant here. Their final thrill came when Sunshine's director of research, Dr. Stanley Jackson (center of photo), gave every Girl Scout a large box of assorted goodies for mailing to the folks at home. Ginette van Hoorbeke, Belgium (left), and Bodil Schroder, Denmark, are shown addressing shipping tags.

ATHENIAN

Athenian will hold a musical at the meeting tonight in Bartlett Auditorium. The meeting will be at 6:15.

VESPERS

Rev. J. A. Hardin will use "Living with Ourselves" as his topic at vespers Sunday evening September 14.

Before coming to First Methodist Church, Alcoa, last October, Rev. Hardin was pastor of the First Methodist Church at Sevierville, Tennessee.

CHEERLEADERS—

(Continued From Page 1)

The meeting was conducted by pep committee consisting of Winnie Schaumurg, Bob Butts, Julie Pancoast, Dr. Briggs and Coach Johnson.

Cheerleaders will use the same sweaters as last year. The scotty mascot, Lady McTavish, will give an added attraction to the cheering.

Some Freshmen Might Be Guilty

BY LESLIE WEBB

Maryville College Library contains some fifty thousand volumes, I hear. I don't know who counted them but I'll take his word for it. Fifty thousand books is a lot of spare-time reading for a freshman. Maybe I won't read all of them. I might look up that one about something or other by Whozis or somebody. On second thought, I don't feel like bothering with a lot of Dewey Dismal Sisters, or whatever you call them. I'll just take a look around.

No doubt, that girl at the desk is just itching to show me something, but I'll show her. When she turns around. I'll sneak into the Stack Room. Whatta ya know! I made it! Why do you suppose they're so exclusive about a few old dusty books? That's a good looking piece of literature. Bet I can stand on it and read the titles on the top shelf. Just as I suspected; not a good murder mystery in sight. Now, where did I get that volume I'm standing on? Oh well! Somebody else may want to get a lift from it.

How do I get out of here? Ouch! Who left that book lying around for me to stub my toe on? Guess I'll go look at the card catalog a while. Maybe I can find that book, Forty Ways To Catch A Hog. Here's one named Forty Days on Musa Dagh. That's close enough.

Well, I seem to have done all the damage I can here. Ho Hum! I'm getting a little weary. It's hard work being a Freshman College Student and using a big library like this. Better go back in the corner of the museum and curl up for a little nap. This looks like a good fox-hole under this helmet show-case. ZZZZ . . .

Help! It's dark in here. What are those spots of light on the wall? Let me out of here! CRASH! ! There goes another broken museum case. What a dirty trick, locking a guy up in here: somebody, help!

PEARSONS GIRLS MAY BUY BENDIX

Miss Frances Massey, Dean of Women, is making contacts for Pearsons girls who voted at the first house meeting of the semester to buy a Bendix washer. Several mentioned at the meeting that most junior girls had already donated for the Bendix installed in Baldwin last year, but there was no opposition to giving money again this year. It was decided that each girl will donate $1.25.

Treasurers Meet In Room 211, Thaw, Tues.

Treasurers of all student organizations will meet Tuesday at 1:00 p. m. in room 211, Thaw Hall, for the purpose of discussing the suggested method for keeping student organization financial records and for answering questions which may arise.

Foolishness grows by itself; no need to sow it.

QUEENS DON'T HAND MILK!

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—Farmer's wife Ruby Shipley scratched "hand milking" off her husband's list of chores since she reigned as "Queen For a Day" on the radio program of that name at the Illinois State fair. As one of the prizes she received a modern Surge milking machine. Jack Bailey, master of ceremonies for the show, here demonstrates the labor saving features of the new milker for the farm "Queen For a Day."

HIWASSEE GAME TICKETS GO ON SALE WEDNESDAY

The sale of tickets to the general public for the Hiwassee game will start Wednesday at the Athletic Office in Bartlett and at Byrne Drug Store in Maryville. The price of an ault ticket, including tax, is $1.25. Reserved seats for the game are $1.50. Student tickets to the game for high school and students of the visiting college teams will sell at seventy-five cents.

The treasurer's office announces that wives of students in school may buy an athletic ticket for $1.95 at the treasurer's office which will admit them to the home games for the semester.

Mr. Minear of the treasurer's office reminds students that it will be necessary for each student to have his student activity card for admission to the game. The cards, he continued, will be punched at the gate, and it will be necessary for each student to have his card in hand in order not to hold up the line entering the stands.

CAN YOU BEAT THIS?

The freshest ice cream with the most nutritive value goes into the most delicious sundaes at our own dairy fountain.

BYRNE DRUG CO.

RUB-A-DUB-DUB. . .
THERE'S SO MUCH TO TUB!
Cheer up Kids, our low cost
SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY
Service will brighten up those gloomy Mondays in a jiffy. Take advantage of our Laundry Service
Phone 1055

TODAY'S MENU

Just Tempting Good Food

No matter what the hour or the season, you'll always be sure of experiencing a great adventure in good eating when you come here to enjoy every meal. Drop in today or tonight and see.

Dinners Served Daily From 5 to 8
Under New Management
COULTER'S RESTAURANT

ARE YOU A SMOOTHY IN A SWEATER??

Whether you're campus, career or sports bound make sure your favorite sweater garb isn't in the sink or swim class! See us for expert, reliable, cleaning service and keep your suaveness in good shape always!

REASONABLE PRICES
PROMPT SERVICE

If It Is Worth Wearing
It's Worth Cleaning!

See our agents on the "Hill"

Carnegie:
COTTON EASTER
WINTON ENLOE

Pearsons:
KITTIE STIDHAM

Baldwin:
MACIE JOHNSON

NU-WAY CLEANERS

$9.98

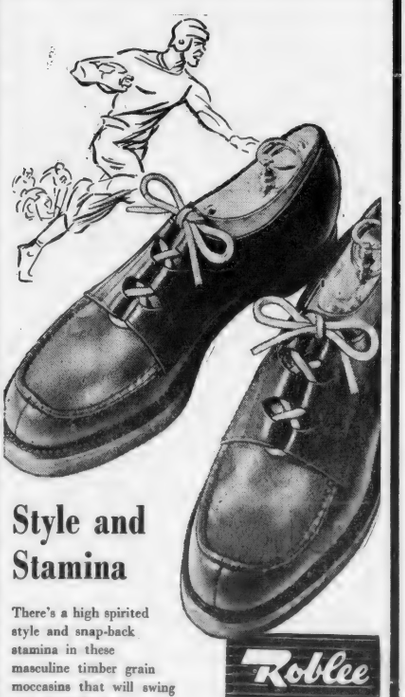
Original Teentimer

AS ADVERTISED IN CALLING ALL GIRLS

A STEVENS FABRIC

The perfect Plaid
Note the big buckle—
The pockets—
The button accent—

Proffitt's Fashion Floor



$6.95

Carry your luck!
Small Change

Friendly's merry loafer is loved for its soft, pliable, let's-keep-going feel.

Proffitt's
Smart Shoes Main Floor

Style and Stamina

There's a high spirited style and snap-back stamina in these masculine timber grain moccasins that will swing your feet along in tireless comfort. Ghillie tie, extra heavy Avon soles, rubber heels.

Roblee

$9.95

PROFFITT'S
Smart Shoes Main Floor

CONGRATULATIONS

JEAN COBB

THE Highland Echo

FOOTBALL

GAME TONIGHT

VOLUME 33 — MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, SEPTEMBER 20, 1947 — NUMBER 4

SCOTS, TIGERS CLASH TONIGHT

JEAN COBB ELECTED SPONSOR

Peery Brothers Donate Money For Uniforms

Cheerleaders Kay Titley, Betty Jo Clemens, and Jane McMillan will make their first appearance in new uniforms tonight, thanks to the Peery Brothers Feed and Hardware Store, who donated enough money to buy material for new skirts. The skirts will be gored white twill lined with orange. The entire team which includes Bob Watkins, Marvin McKenzie, and Dick Jones will wear the same sweaters that were worn last year.

The Pep Committee, chosen by the Student Council, consists of Bob Butts, Kay Titley, Chairman Julie Parcoast, and faculty members Dr. Briggs and Coach Johnson. They are looking forward to more and better school spirit this year than Maryville has ever witnessed in the past.

In an attempt to foster more friendliness between the college and the visiting teams a welcoming committee made up of the Chairman of the Pep Committee, the Head of the Cheer Leaders, and a man and woman from each class chosen by the class presidents has been initiated. For this first game the chairman picked the freshmen representatives.

The committee for the Hiwassee game tonight will be Shirley O'Shanna, Max House, Bob Bruce, Ilda Mosby, Sarah Durant, Ray Packford, Sarah Kemp, and Dick Black.

Winnie Schaumburg is in charge of publicity for the pep rallies and games, and Bob Butts and Kay Titley are in charge of the pre-rallies.

M CLUB HIKE SET FOR SEPT. 27

Sixteen members of the M Club will spend September 27 and 28th in the mountains at Miller's Cove. The program for the week-end includes a flashlight hike, which will be followed by a campfire supper. Sunday morning the girls will conduct their own devotional service. Marian Henderson, senior from Maryville and Janice Lindsay, junior from Connellsville, Pa., are serving on the program committeee. Edith Merle Largen, senior from Maryville, is president of the M Club.

News Capsules—

Storm Strikes New Orleans

Winds of 80-mile velocity hit New Orleans yesterday where people crowded public shelters for safety. The first hurricane for New Orleans since 1915, the city's residents had hoped for protection from floods by the seawall along the Mississippi River, but waters covered the low country hurridly.

Russia Accuses U. S.

In the strongest attack on the United States that Russia has ever made, Soviet Vice Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Veshinsky Thursday accused the U. S. of deliebrately provoking a political conflict with Russia which would probably end in a third world war against the Soviet Union. He particularly attacked the U. S. for failure to destroy its atomic bombs.

Norris Park To Be Leased

Failing to receive bids for the expected sale of Norris Park at Norris Dam, TVA has announced that the park will be offered for a long-term lease for commercial operation. There is a possibility that Big Ridge Park will be leased also.

Lower Grocery Bill?

A few citizens found a faint hope for a lower grocery bill when butter prices dropped in a few cities yesterday. Grain and wholesale produce prices also decreased slightly.

Men Dislike Skirt Styles

George Gallup's latest poll of public opinion shows that a slight majority, 53 percent, of American people are against the lengthening a woman's skirts, the majority of the majority being men. Older women particularly like the new styles, but younger women still are holding out against them.

Council Revises Town Night Rules

Student Council representatives at the meeting last Wednesday night voted to present to the student body a change in the Town Night penalties which are applied by the Student Council.

It was suggested by a Town Night Committee composed of Council members that sections A and B under penalties be those specified for revision, after which they would read as follows:

A. Suspension Committee of the Town Night privilege for three months of the school year for:

1. Overstaying the privilege.
2. Being out of bounds.

B. Suspension of the Town Night privilege for two months of the school year for:

1. Failure to be in the groups of the specified number at al ltimes.
2. Loitering.

Formerly Section A had a penalty of four months, and included (1) being out of bounds, and (2) failure to be in groups of specified number. The penalty of Section B remains the same, but it formerly referred to (1) overstaying the privilege, and (2) loitering.

Students will vote on the proposal in the near future.

REHEARSALS BEGIN FOR "THE MESSIAH"

Rehearsals for Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah", will begin on October 5 and will continue every Sunday afternoon at 3:30, until the date of the presentation, it was announced by Mr. Harry H. Harter, Assistant Professor of Music. Practices for the oratorio are beginning earlier this year, so that they may be shorter, lasting only one hour each Sunday.

The chorus, as in the past, will be open to all students, and is required for the Vesper Choir, the Girls' Choir, and the Men's Glee Club. Two previously arranged cuts from rehearsals will be allowed.

Copies of the chorus scores are available at the Book Store. Orchestra rehearsals will be announced later. All chorus practices will be held in the Alumni Gymnasium.

Chilhoweans Reserved By More Than 400 Students

Ray Saunders, business manager of the 1948 Chilhowean, announced Tuesday, September 16, that over 400 yearbooks have been reserved.

Yesterday, September 19, a complete canvas of each dormitory was begun. Saunders, humorously remarked, "In this way those who have not reserved their 1948 Chilhowean can be reached, and no one will be able to escape."

Buffie Carver, editor, expressed the desire that all seniors who yet want cap and gown pictures notify her. As an accommodation, seniors may have pictures for alumni records made at the same time for an additional $1.00.

ALPHA SIGMA

President Carl Lazenby urges all new members of Alpha Sigma to be present at the meeting tonight at 6:15.

Dr. Lloyd Returns From Trip Sunday

Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd has been absent from Maryville since September 7, when he left on a trip to points north and east that included stops in Philadelphia and New York City. Dr. Lloyd was scheduled to attend a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America as a representative of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. He plans to return to the college tomorrow, September 21.

Dr. Lloyd plans to make a trip next week to Clinton, Louisiana, where he will address the Synod of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. He is scheduled to speak to the Synod three times on Wednesday, September 24.

Honaker, Davis Speak at YMCA

Coaches Honaker and Davis will speak on "The Christian in Athletics" at the regular YMCA meeting held tomorrow afternoon in Bartlett Auditorium at 1:30. The program is planned to emphasize the part of the total Y program involving athletics and to give a boost to the Y-Frosh and Y-Intramural teams.

The program also includes a brief devotional service. Tom Lang will play a piano prelude; Raymond Brahms will give the invocation; hymns will be led by Tom Wheeler; Bill Proffitt will read the scripture; Lloyd Anderson will offer the prayer, and "Cotton" Easter and Marvin Mitchell will intrduce the coaches.

Next Sunday's Program

Next Sunday, September 28, three students will speak on the meaning and significance of the YMCA triangle, which stands for the body, the spirit, and the mind.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB HAS 25 MEMBERS

Twenty-five students have been accepted for the Men's Glee Club, Mr. Curtis Hughes, Instructor in Music, announced recently. There are still openings, however, for members in the second bass section.

Those in the group are as follows: First tenor—Don Hyatt, James Townsend, John Watt, Thomas Cumming, Dan Buchanan. Second Tenor—John Mulholland, Bill Willingham, Ray Kuhn, Glendon Jackson, Kenneth Olsen. First Bass—Bill Carlson, Bob Connell, Charles Mabry, James Watt, Hap Brahms, Edwin Jackson, Dick Dosker. Second Bass—Ray Packard, Charles Robinson, Preston Mulford, Charles Warner, Duncan Bennett, Julian Gresham, and Bob Frost.

The schedule of the Glee Club will include a Thanksgiving Program, presented jointly with the Girls' Choir, in addition to regular programs throughout the semester.

COLLEGE CALENDAR

Saturday, September 20

6:15 p.m. Theta Epsilon, Alpha Sigma, Bianonian, and Athenian will meet.

8:00 p.m. Football game with Hiwassee.

Sunday, September 21

1:30 p.m. Y.W.C.A. meeting in "Y" rooms
Y.M.C.A. meeting in Bartlett

7:00 p.m. Vespers, Dr. W. H. Caruthers speaks

8:00 p.m. Student Vols will meet in Bartlett. Dr. T. A. Graham speaks

Monday, September 22

6:45 p.m. German Club meets in Thaw 303.
Tau Kappa Chi meets in Anderson 32.

Tuesday, September 23

7:00 p.m. Gospel Fellowship Group will meet in "Y" rooms.

Wednesday, September 24

6:45 p.m. Prayer meeting in "Y" rooms.

Thursday, September 25

5:30 p.m. Pre-Med Club picnic in College Woods.

Jean Cobb, senior, was elected band sponsor at a meeting of the band Monday afternoon.

Nelson Ernest Leads MC Band

Drum Major Nelson Ernest, majorettes Linnea Johnson, Alice Huddleston, and Betty Seagraves, and twirlers Bob Connell and Jerry Walker will lead the 48-piece Maryville band in their first official appearance tonight at the football game. One of the major attractions wil lbe the crowning of band sponsor Jean Cobb.

Formations will include a double spiral, tlescope, an H and an M. Members will all wear long sleeved V-necked sweaters, white socks, and saddles. Men will wear white trousers, white shirts, and garnet ties. Tailored blouses and all-around pleated white skirts will compelte the girls' outfits. These substitutions are necessary since the band uniforms were all destroyed in the Chapel fire last spring.,,

3rd Year For Ernest

Ernest, a senior, is serving as drum major for the third year. He first appeared in that position in 1942 when a sophomore, and was last year's leader. Connell and Johnson, sophomores, both performed with the 1947 Scottie band. Connell was drum major his senior year in high school. Johnson, also, has had high school experience. Seagraves, the third sophomore in the group, appeared with her high school band; and the two freshmen members are both Maryville residents. Walker was drum major of the 1947 Maryville High band and Huddleston was first majorette.

The band has been practicing three times weekly since September 1. Mr. Curtis Hughes is the director.

ENGLISH PROFS GO TO CONFERENCE

Dean Hunter, Miss Heron and Miss Jackson were absent from Friday and Saturday English classes this week, having attended the Tennessee English conference held at Cookeville, Tennessee. The organization has dealt with English teaching problems in the high schools of Tennessee for the past few years and has done much to improve and standardize English instruction throughout the state. The Conference is now ready to devote study to college level English with a view toward helping to raise its quality in Tennessee colleges.

The meetings were held at the Polytechnic Institute in Cookeville. Professors Hunter, Jackson and Heron plan to return in time for the football game tonight.

Honoree Marches With Band Tonight

Jean Cobb, senior from Cliffside, North Carolina, was elected 1947 band sponsor at a meeting of the band Monday afternoon. She will march for the first time tonight leading the new College scottie, Lady McTavish III. It being Jean's first experience as a band sponsor, the only remark she has been able to muster is, "I'm speechless".

It is not, however, the first recognition Jean has received while in college. Last year she was elected Junior class sponsor for Barnwarming, and is now vice-president of Bainonian. She was also a member of the daisy chain last year.

Jean is a Home Economics major and plans to become an Army dietician after her graduation next spring. The ambition comes probably as a result of the fact that her father is a retired Air Corpsman.

Nominations for band sponsor this year were made by each of the four societies, the nominations being voted upon by the band in a secret ballot. Jean was nominated by Athenian. The other nominations were as follows: Bainonian, Marilyn Hartpence; Theta Epsilon, Elsie Jean Cotton; Alpha Sigma, Peggy Howell.

Choir Sings Harter Composition Sunday

The Vesper Choir will sing "The Mystic Cherabim", an original composition by Choir Director Harry H. Harter, at the Vesper Service tomorrow night in the library. Mr. Harter wrote the number in August, 1946, after which it was performed by the University Singers at a Christmas Carol Concert and later at a Palm Sunday program, both at the University of Nebraska.

The Choir's second number at Vespers will be a Bach chorale, "O Thou of God the Father".

Pep Rally Held Last Night On Ball Diamond

Maryville's new pep song was introduced last night at the first pep rally of the 1948 season, where the students met around a bonfire on the baseball diamond at 6:45 p. m. Short talks were given by the coaches and the band appeared informally for the first time this year. Head cheerleader Kay Titley introduced her squad: Betty Jo Clemens, Jane McMillan, Marvin McKenzie, Dick Jones, and Bob Watkins.

Football Season Opens With Hiwassee Game

By Olsen and McCallum

The Maryville College Highlanders open the 1947 season against Hiwassee Tigers tonight at 8:00 on Wilson Field. The Tigers, representing Hiwassee, a junior college at Madisonville, Tennessee, will also inaugurate a nine game schedule tonight. As game time approaches, the Highlanders seem primed and eager to begin the football season. Practice having started in the Highlander camp on August 25, the Scots have had a full month of preliminary training before this first encounter, and they should be in the best condition.

Band, Cheerleaders Ready

Anticipation for a thrilling game is running high on the M-C campus, and the ticket sellers are expecting a capacity crowd. The forty-eight piece band of the Scot clan is ready to parade at half time. A corps of six cheerleaders, who are under the direction of Captain Kay Titley, will lead the cheers for the Orange and Garnet followers. Drum major Nelson Ernest and his five twirlers, along with the newly-elected band sponsor, will lead the band in their marching routine. Lady McTavish, a little black scottie, makes her first appearance tonight as official mascot of Maryville College. "The Lady" will take her place of march with the band.

Second 1947 Game

Actually, this will not be the first game in 1947 for the Scots, for they went to Orlando, Florida, to play against Catawba College in the Tangerine Bowl on January first of this year. However, things look somewhat different for the Scots in this, the second game of the year. At Orlando, the Catawba eleven outweighed the Scotties by an average of ten pounds per man; also, the Indians were frequently able to shoot fresh reserves in the line-up without any apparant loss of power in downing the Maryville College team, 31-6.

Highlanders on Top

Tonight the Highlanders have the advantage in weight averages. Although the Scottie line averages 190 pounds against an average of 175 pounds for the Tiger line, the opposing backfields each average in at 165 pounds. This advantage on the line will help the Orange and Garnet backs out-maneuver the Hiwassee men. As for reserves, the Tigers have a roster of some 44 men to draw from, while the Scot roster lists 55 men at the present time.

The Scotties are generally conceded the upper hand for tonight's scrap by virtue of a 33-0 licking they handed the Tigers at the beginning of the season last year.

Bowl Team to Start

Coach Honaker will probably start his bowl team with the exception of two men. Joe Johnson at tackle and Benny Baldwin at wing will replace Mitchell and Pepper of last year's starting eleven.

Capt. Easter Reporting

Captain Ronald "Cotton" Easter of the Highlanders is returning to his position at right guard again to lead the Highlander attack tonight. Easter, who lettered on the '42 and '46 squads at guard, is in his senior year and hails from Loudon, Tennessee.

Co-Capt. Talbott at End

Co-Captain Ken Talbott, taking his terminal position for the third season with the Scots, holds three letters at M-C. Talbott, a senior, missed most of last season's action because of a broken collar bone received in the fourth (East Tenn. State) game of last year. He will take the initiative tonight in the Scottie passing attack and in curbing the end. Talbott is slated to kick-off for Maryville in the event Capt. Easter wins the toss.

Leon Berrong will shoulder the tailback responsibilities at the start of tonight's game. Leon, a capable passer and punter, will spur the Highlander offense with

(Continued on page four)

Lady McTavish, Mascot, Given To College

Lady McTavish III, a small black scottie mascot, will be officially presented immediatley following the first half of the football game tonight on Wilson Field.

The purchase of Lady McTavish III by Maryville friends and former graduates ends a long search for the Scotch Terrior, which will replace the former scottie kept and cared for by Miss Jessie Heron. The college has been without a mascot for several years now, and only last week the right dog was found by Ross Birchfiel, Jr., and Nancy Dunn, children who live just off the campus. They will continue to care for the dog, though they will present it to the college tonight.

Lady McTavish III is registered with the American Kennel Club.

Y. W. MEMBERS MEET OFFICERS, CABINET

"Finding a Place in Y" will be the theme of the YWCA meeting held tomorrow afternoon. Officers and cabinet members will be introduced to the group, and will explain the make-up of the organization.

On Monday evening at 7:30 a candlelight induction service for all girls planning to become active members will be held in the amphitheater in the college woods. Personal contacts are now being made with all girls in order that they may sign up to become active members of Y.

Thomas A. Graham Speaks At Vols

Dr. Thomas A. Graham, pastor of the New Providence Presbyterian Church, will be the speaker at the Student Vol meeting held after Vesper services tomorrow night in Bartlett Hall. The subject for his talk will be "Are You Missionary Minded?"

Mary Smith will lead in the devotionals and Thomas Wheeler will give the special music for the service.

Gelolo Keil, senior sociology major from Tryon, N. C. is the newly elected secretary.

Winton Enloe Accepts Job With Delta Lines

Winton Enloe, sophomore from Pigeon Forge, Tennessee, left school last week to accept a position with Delta Airlines in Atlanta. There he will work in the company's flight control office at the municipal airport.

Entering Maryville in 1942, Enloe was a member of the choir and lettered in varsity football before leaving late that year for service in the Marine Corps. He returned in '46 to resume his position on the Highlander squad, and at the beginning of the present semester was again elected to choir membership.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 32 NUMBER 4

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser
Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor
Kenneth Olsen ..... Sports Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Grace Gugger, Naomi Hoffman, Ilda Mosby

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Herbert McCallum, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF
Ruth Williams ..... Business Manager

SENIOR ASSISTANT
Mary Jane Long

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANT
Bob Watkins

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by
National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1947

ORANGE AND GARNET PLEASE!!

It comes up every year. At first we thought this year was going to be different, but with the coming of the weather's first cool spell the campus was suddenly decorated with those numerous and varied school colors—not the traditional orange and garnet of Maryville.

Upperclassmen remember a similar editorial printed last year, and if the present editorial seems to be copying the past one, it is because students seem to be copying the noticeable practice of some of last year's students who wore their "high school letters" on a college campus.

Maybe it never occurred to you that, as one freshman ably put it, "it just isn't being done." No college likes to see a display of high school colors on its campus, and certainly Maryville is no exception.

May we remind you that not only are the boys guilty, but girls also. It must be discouraging to Point System strugglers and "M" Club members who work for their letters to view the colors of the rainbow on campus. All boys, too, have a chance to earn a letter of the right color.

Granted that you who own high school letters worked for them, but now you're in college. It would be better to keep them in good condition to wear before the people at home who can appreciate the efforts they signify.

THANKS TO PEERY BROTHERS

Not only the three girls who are cheerleaders, not only the pep committee, but the school wishes to thank the Peery Brothers Feed and Hardware Store for the money they gave to complete the cheerleader uniforms this year.

The store gave enough to buy material for the skirts the girls will wear, thuus eliminating either a personal or a college expense.

The money might have been donated as a pool from several stores, but such was not the case. The Peery Brothers Store gave it all, and to the Peery Brothers Store goes all our thanks.

Much Echo About Nothing

BY CRAIG FISHER

(Note to ed: We might as well go on calling this thing "Much Echo About Nothing." After all, it does illustrate our literary tendencies, and the drought didn't kill off all the corn, even this hybrid stuff.)

PREAMBLE: We've been wringing our cortex for a new name for this precious column. First thought of calling it "My Daze", and set up in competition with Eleanor. The editor crushed our plans to call it one of the "Seven Pillars of Wisdom", so finally we fell back on William Shakespeare, a sure bet in any English Major's language.

TO CONTINUE: A cute little senior was talking to Don Ward, one of those tortured souls who wait on the football tables. This is the part we overheard:

Girl: And what do you get at your table?

D. W.: I get my legs run off. I've lost two inches since I've got here, and the only time I get to eat is between my table and the kitchen.

It was fun watching the freshmen getting acquainted Tuesday night with the fastest game on two feet (and I don't mean ice hockey) as played at Maryville. Don't worry, it'll accelate (an accelerated form of accelerate) when the old team gets warmed up. She said she was cold and I sympathized. The second time she said it I tucked my jacket around her. But by the third time it had seeped to my brain box and. . . oh boy!

Further elucidation would be extraneous.

POETRY CORNER: And now an interlude, while we bring you the latest comment on Tobacco Road or the Marawannah Mile penned in 1895. It's labelled "The Cigarette Fiend."

On street, at home, and e'en in bed,
The fiend with fuddled brain and head
Holds fast betwixt discolored lips,
In gloved hand with soiled tips,
Good counselor, best friend and pet,
Gay comrade, too—his cigarette.
Indeed, if maxims old hold true,
Nor does he evil mates eschew,
Some day I think he'll waken yet,
Filled and rolled—a cigarette.

INCIDENTALS AND MISCELLANEOUS (concerning local miscreants): Mae Meriweather called on the rug for sliding down the bannisters. Let's be conscious of the fact that after all the freshmen do look to us for the right thing to do and may your behavior be more circumspect in the future. (You can find all these two-buck words in Roget's Thesaurus).

John Poland censored for sending one of his maids to the bookstore to make change. Our suggestion: Put in a slot machine.

ORIGIN OF THE WORD MOONSHINE: Delving into the etymology (see Dictionary by Merriam-Webster) of the word "moonshine", we came up with two possibilities, and we'll let you decide which is right. The first is that back in the time of our fathers, couples were allowed only one date a month when the moon was full. Dates were made weeks ahead of time, and if anything happened and a couple was denied this date, they were moonshined. The other is that couples, when they were allowed to go on their rare (!) dates, had to stay far enough apart so the moon could be seen between them. If they were moonshined it meant that they'd cut out the moonlight. We never could find any connection between moonshine and the local brew, not that we suspected any!

INSTRUCTION SHEET on how to boost the Echo. The writer usually tries to please the reader, but in the belief that this is mutual, and knowing how much the readers want to please the Echo we have prepared some simple instructions on how this might be done:

Regurgitation (synonym for Echo) page five

(1) When you get your Echo first scan it for any articles where your name appears, then when you have clipped it out to send home, turn to the gossip Column.

(2) Take your copy of the Echo into some crowded room and find an inconspicuous place on top of the desk.

(3) Read over the first sentence. Burst out laughing (if necessary, break open a vial of laughing gas) and roll on the floor hysterically. Be very sincere, as this is the first impression of the Echo your spectators will get.

(4) While in motion, point to the column and stimulate the interest of your neighbor. Talk it up with your friends, send it home, induce children to come to Maryville. This is the step called "Arousing Enthusiasm for Your Product".

(5) Cut out the column and carry it to class. Read it, aloud if necessary, wherever you go. This will impress your teachers with your intelligence, and will confirm your friends' opinions of you also. This is the beginning of the "Publicity" phase.

(6) It is now necessary to extend your activities. But since the preceding violent exercise has worked you into a cold sweat, collapse for a while in the cooler on Pearsons porch. Now you can go on. Call up the operator and read it to her; dial miscellaneous numbers and do likewise. Paste it on telephone poles, and have Ken Kribbs read it in his church news hour over W-gap. You will now be ready for your Saturday night supper.

(7) For further information clip three headlines from the Echo and send them into Doc Griffitts with ten cents enclosed. We thank you in advance for your kind cooperation.

And now as a last thought provoking item, we present a few lines from a timely song we heard this summer which run: "We're here because we're queer because we're here because . . ." but why rub it in, huh?

Letters To The Editor:

Dear Editor:

It seems a shame to have to say such things to people of college age; but if they must be said, they must. Complaints in writing always gain unpopularity for the writer; but if they do any good, maybe they are worth the trouble. There are some things that seem a little out of place even on a college campus.

Some of the finest Christian men in the country—no doubt—live in Carnegie Hall. But many of these same Christian brothers are the most inconsiderate and thoughtless individuals of my limited acquaintance. I say thoughtless because I feel sure that having seen the injustice of some of their acts they will repent and be more cooperative. There follow just a few of the items that quite definitely are unnecessary.

Some men in the upper floors on the rear of the building, especially in the area of the shower rooms, make it a practice to throw their refuse out the window rather than disposing of it in a more orthodox manner. Even bottles and old razor blades litter the ground. This practice borders on criminal negligence since there are small children playing in the area where these things are found. They are thoughtlessly putting jagged glass and sharp razor blades into tiny hands that can't possibly appreciate their dangers. Some accidents have already occurred simply because some fellow has been too careless or lazy to properly dispose of his waste.

Many members of the band who keep their instruments in their rooms find it necessary to practice on them in the building, even during study hours. I suppose if I owned an instrument and could play it passably well, I would derive pleasure from it; but there surely are other places where practice could be done.

The men on the first floor especially should be reminded that there are ladies living just under them who have little desire to hear some of the language that is easily heard through the thin partitions that separate them. Granted that such picturesque language enhances the prestige, does it have to be so loud?

Then there is the little item about the clothes lines. There are well above two hundred people who, at one time or another, need to use the clothes lines back of Carnegie; but there are still those who presist in leaving their clothes on the line indefinitely. One Thursday afternoon—late—I overheard one thoughtful young fellow say to his companion, "Gosh, here are my clothes still hanging on the line; they've been here since Monday!" I happen to know that there were tubs of wet clothes sitting around waiting for that boy to be moved by the spirit and take in his clothes. More lines are in the process of being built, but even when they are supplemented there will be no room for such negligence. And it is gross negligence.

I am of the opinion that the above are reasonable requests. I refuse to mention the ridiculous amount of unnnecessary noise that goes on during study hours, and the thoughtless yelling and tromping on the stairs after eleven o'clock because these things are more or less expected and can be gotten accustomed to. But it is difficult to get hardened to the bleeding fingers of cute little girls, cut on a discarded razor blade or broken bottle. It is hard to reconcile study hours and a noisy horn blaring over one's head. IT is trying on the patience to need the clothes line that some other fellow has been using needlessly for more than a few hours.

IF any of the above mentioned items belong to you, will you please think about them a little and decide what is your responsibility concerning them. I feel sure that there will be many people who shall appreciate your kindness and good sportsmanship.

Most respectfully,
Sam C. Broyles

Rev. A. E. Dallas Speaks At Wednesday Chapel

The Reverend A. E. Dallas, D. D., pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church in Knoxville, will be guest speaker at the chapel service Wednesday morning, September 24.

German Club Meets Mon.

All interested in the German Club, whether members or not, should be present at the regular meeting Monday at 6:45. The program will be over in time to attend the Y.W. meeting at 7:20.

FRENCH CLUB ANNOUNCES PLANS

French Club members discussed plans for activitiesi of the year, and for welcoming new members at the last regular meeting. Invitations to join the Club will be issued soon and new members will attend their first meeting on September 25, President Eleanor Struble announced.

A varied program of activities has been planned for the year. The activities include, among others, movies with French themes, a program of music by French composers, including the Marseillaise and French folk tunes, and a spelling match. All these have been planned with the purpose of obtaining a better understanding of the French language and customs of the French people.

The social highlight of the year will be a fishing trip which will take the place of the usual picnic in the College woods. New members will be initiated on the trip which is tentatively scheduled for early October.

The French Club meets every second and fourth Thursday of each month.

The hair on the head is worth two on the brush.

Frosh Nominate Officers Sept. 24

Nominations for the freshman class officers will be held at a class meeting immediately following. Wednesday chapel, September 24. The Student Council will be in charge of the meeting, at which there will be nominations for two girl representatives and two boy representatives of the freshman class to the Student Council, class president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer.

During the meeting nominees will be eliminated until there are only four for girl Council representatives, four for boy Council representatives, and two each for the offices of class president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer.

The ballots will be reprinted and elections will be held the following week.

B. G.'s Initiate Six New Members

B.G.'s, a social organization on campus whose eight members only know the significance of the name, initiated six new members recently. President Janet Rich and Barbara Bertholf being the only old members to continue the group. Elizabeth Crawford, Rebecca Maddux, Marian Pope, Barbara Eggleston, Ellen Collins, and Mae Meriwether have just completed a four-day initiation, which included going without make-up, wearing the same skirt for four days, and carrying a purse. All members have been wearing the traditional dice which signify their memberships.

HERE'S REAL TEMPTATION

Tastier, fresher rolls made with the best ingredients are inviting accessories at every meal or in between. Lucious sweet rolls, hard or soft dinner rolls.

LYNCH BAKERY

Touchdown Values

HIGHLANDERS We Wish You Success This Football Season . .

Remember we want you to make this your Refreshment Headquarters

PARK DRUG

When you're in a Hurry to get some place. . . .

CALL FOR A

TAXI

But Always For A

DIXIE CAB

Tel. 218 Across from Bus Station

FIRST FALL Fabrics

All you Gals who love to sew— must find your way at once to MARYVILLE'S only Cloth Shop. All kinds of Fabrics you will find and they are priced to fit your Budget

Cottons
59- 1.19
54" Width 5.75 Yard

THE CLOTH SHOP

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

At The Outset. . . . Words

"We're heading for T. P. I.!" In so many words (we lost count at 199.999) last night at the rally Coach Honaker let the fans know that although Hiwassee game is always tough, neither he nor the team were too much worried about it—only aiming for the Tennessee Polytechnic Institute game at Cookeville on September 27. Captain "Cotton" Easter promised the boosters at the rally that they (the team) would play the best possible football if the student body would continue the attitude expressed by coming out enthusiastically to the rally. Easter, in bidding for the support of the students, explained the difference between a football team and a good football team—that the spirit expressed by the fans often spelled the difference between victory and defeat. That this little difference counts a lot was the gist of Captain Easter's "speech" to the Highlander backers. And that, dear fans, is the lowdown from those in the know.

Every Thing's Ready!

All is glee in the Highlander fold as the boys wait to be host(ile) to the Tigers of Hiwassee. The spirit and fervor of football has taken a deep hold on the Orange and Garnet fans. The Scot team will come out tonight in their game stuff—not in their new uniforms, however, which have been ordered, but haven't arrived. The Highlander band will be there to "sound off" in tribute to the gallant Scotties. Lady McTavish III will be gaily decked out in her new, long swinging skirt. (We guess that's what you'd call that canopy of Garnet with Orange trimmings with which the band has "The Lady" attired.) Now for the kickoff. . . . .

We Didn't Know It Then

On the Maryville half of the field tonight will be lined up one of the greatest, perhaps the greatest, of all Highlander teams to meet a foe on Wilson Field. You will remember as game time approached last year for the initial tilt that the Scotties were totally untested. Having resumed football for the first year since 1942 at the outset of last season. Coach Honaker had to build a team around five returned lettermen, who had re-enrolled at M. C. and a crop of new frosh material. Well, we all know we had a great team (sensational to put it mildly) last year—but we didn't know it as they lined up for the opening game of the season.

Unsurpassed Talent

Then tonight we have a similar situation. Very similar indeed, for all but two of the starters of last year's opening game with Hiwassee are again lining up to hit the Tigers tonight. It's evident that this starting squad has a lot of talent—talent unsurpassed in these parts among schools of our size. Yes, and we have more to boast about. The Scots have a reservoir of capable reserves to bolster the power of this starting eleven.

Men In Reserve

On reserve the Scots have Artie Spears, the man who tallied the sole touchdown against Catawba at Orlando. Alan Rock, a reconverted end, is now awaiting the call to fill a tackle position for the Scots. Bobby Neff, a flash at wingback, has possibilities of going places with the Highlanders. Bill Proffitt is a reserve guard with experience that may prove valuable to the Scotties' strength. Ken Andes, a '42 letterman, is a man with plenty of bulk for a guard spot. Bobby Boring, a talented fullback, is a first class relief man for Merriman, the big wind. Frank Still, a letter winner at end on last year's squad, continues to improve in the terminal position. Ray Holsey, also a letterman of last year, is a consistent performer at center.

These Indispensible Assets

As untapped resources, the Scotties have new men on the field who are definitely enhancing the glisten of the football wealth of the Highlanders. Some may figure prominently in future operations. They're Dave Clark, a transfer from William and Mary, who began his football career at Maryville High. Allen Law, a former U. T. whiz, is quickly adjusting himself to the football technique of the Scots. Bill Forgarty, a Knoxville Central product, is in the coaches' eye for his punting and running at tailback. Woody Thomas, currently stationed at tailback, is a handy man for his spot passing and for his agility in the backfield. . . . Space prevents mention of more reserves who contribute to the total Highlander effort on the gridiron. Take it from us, these reserves are indispensible assets in the Scots' bid for a successful season. . .or better!

Might Be A Cinch, But. . . . .

Back to the game tonight. . . . Everyone admits it's a cinch for the Highlanders to win tonight. Even Coach Honaker said "We've got Hiwassee beat before we hand out the uniforms." The team has won the game in their mind, now to defeat the Tigers on the field. Consider the game tonight a cinch if you like, but don't say it's going to be an easy game until the fourth quarter is up. See you at the game?

Pictured above are Assistant Line Coach Mitchell, Head Coach Honaker, and Line Coach Davis discussing the startegy for the Season's games. Courtesy of Times

1947 SCOT ROSTER

No.	Name	Wt.	Ht.	Age	Pos.	Class	Home Town
24	*Anderson, Lloyd	185	6'1"	24	Guard	Senior	Philadelphia, Pa.
21	*Andes, Kenneth	195	6'1"	23	Guard	Sophomore	Alcoa, Tenn.
47	Archer, A. R.	170	5'10"	23	Center	Freshman	Maryville, Tenn.
7	Baird, James	160	5'9"	19	W-Back	Sophomore	Chicago, Ill.
1	*Baldwin, Benton	150	5'11"	23	W-Back	Sophomore	Alcoa, Tenn.
2	*Berrong, King	150	5'10"	22	2-Back	Sophomore	Maryville, Tenn.
4	*Berrong, Leon	160	5'9"	20	T-Back	Sophomore	Maryville, Tenn.
12	*Boring, Robert	175	5'10"	21	F-Back	Sophomore	Friendsville, Tenn.
13	Calloway, Henry	150	5'8"	20	2-Back	Sophomore	Maryville, Tenn.
16	Campbell, Jack	160	5'11"	22	End	Sophomore	Maryville, Tenn.
59	Clark, Dave	195	6'2"	19	2-Back	Sophomore	Maryville, Tenn.
17	*Davis, Howard	185	6'1"	23	End	Sophomore	Maryville, Tenn.
30	*Easter, Ronald (Capt.)	190	6'1"	24	Guard	Senior	Loudon, Tenn.
45	Everett, Harold	170	5'10"	25	Guard	Sophomore	Maryville, Tenn.
5	Fogarty, Bill	165	5'10"	21	T-Back	Freshman	Knoxville, Tenn.
23	*Garner, Robert	200	6'3"	25	Center	Senior	Maryville, Tenn.
18	Hamilton, Richard	151	5'9"	20	2-Back	Sophomore	Maryville, Tenn.
30	Hatley, Edgar	150	5'9"	24	W-Back	Sophomore	Maryville, Tenn.
34	Headrick, Warren	150	5'9"	25	W-Back	Sophomore	Maryville, Tenn.
49	Henry, Harold	175	6'1"	21	Tackle	Junior	Maryville, Tenn.
51	Henry, Jack	165	5'10"	18	Guard	Sophomore	Pigeon Forge, Tenn.
11	Herring, John	155	5'11"	18	T-Back	Freshman	Opp, Alabama
28	*Holsey, Ray	190	5'10"	24	Center	Sophomore	Baltimore, Md.
51	Isenburg, Richard	200	6'	21	F-Back	Freshman	Sevierville, Tenn.
58	Johnson, Joe	198	6'1"	20	Tackle	Freshman	Knoxville Tenn.
25	*Kluth, Fred	195	6'	24	Tackle	Junior	Blue Island, Ill.
56	Kramer, Roy	195	6'1"	17	Tackle	Freshman	Maryville, Tenn.
62	Larson, Robert	185	6'2"	18	Center	Freshman	Coral Gables, Fla.
6	Law, Allen	173	5'11"	21	T-Back	Freshman	Maryville, Tenn.
16	Lester, Jim	183	5'10"	18	End	Freshman	Birmingham, Ala.
20	Lester, Rush	158	5'10"	22	End	Junior	Birmingham, Ala.
9	Lewelling, Carl	170	6'	22	End	Sophomore	Sevierville, Tenn.
41	Lowery, Houston	165	6'	20	Back	Sophomore	Madisonville, Tenn.
14	Major, Lawrence	160	5'10"	19	Center	Sophomore	Mascot, Tenn.
4	Marsh, Allen	150	5'10"	18	2-Back	Freshman	St. Petersburg, Fla.
42	McKee, James	165	5'8"	20	Guard	Sophomore	Centralia, Ill.
46	McNiell, Stuart	155	5'7"	22	Guard	Sophomore	Townsend, Tenn.
3	*Merriman, Hershel	170	5'7"	22	F-Back	Sophomore	Maryville, Tenn.
11	Miller, D. M.	170	5'11"	21	End	Sophomore	Knoxville, Tenn.
10	*Neff, Bob	160	5'10"	19	W-Back	Sophomore	Sheffield, Ala.
8	*Newman, James	155	5'10"	24	Guard	Junior	Maryville, Tenn.
29	Pinner, Tucker	195	6'2"	22	Tackle	Junior	Suffolk, Va.
22	*Proffitt, Bill	180	5'11"	23	Guard	Sophomore	Maryville, Tenn.
61	Proffitt, Bob	163	5'10"	18	Guard	Freshman	Maryville, Tenn.
52	Rettke, Gordon	170	5'9"	24	End	Sophomore	Blue Island, Ill.
26	Rock, Allan	190	6'	24	Tackle	Junior	Blue Island, Ill.
17	Sharp, Grant	160	5'11"	21	F-Back	Sophomore	Maryville, Tenn.
15	Spears, Artie	170	5'11"	22	Back	Junior	Maryville, Tenn.
19	*Still, Frank	170	5'11"	23	End	Senior	Johnson City, Tenn.
15	Stinnett, Bill	160	5'11"	19	End	Freshman	Maryville, Tenn.
18	*Talbot, Kenneth (Co-Captain)	160	5'10"	24	End	Senior	Maryville, Tenn.
12	Thomas, H. W.	150	5'9"	18	T-Back	Freshman	Absecon, N. J.
14	Walker, Donald	175	6'1"	21	Tackle	Freshman	Maryville, Tenn.
50	Webb, H. D.	180	6'	19	Tackle	Freshman	Maryville, Tenn.
60	Wilson, Leon	190	5'11"	23	Tackle	Freshman	Maryville, Tenn.

* Returning lettermen

INTRAMUR H TALENT

CONIGHT

BY MAYNARD NOBLE

Ten teams battled this week as the 1947 intramural seven-man football season began. The games were all played on the two gridirons at the Court Street end of the athletic field behind the Alumni Gym.

Eight-Balls vs. Jets

The first game on Monday afternoon brought the Eight-Balls and the Jets together to battle to a 19-13 decision in favor of the Jets. Campbell and Hamil scored for the Eight-Balls, while Lenoir, Marlin, Howe, and Palmer amassed the points for the Jets. It was 12-0 in favor of the Jets at half time and not until the third quarter did the Eight-Balls threaten.

Kama vs. Tau Sigma

In the second game on Monday, Kama exploded all over Tau Sigma to the tune of 31-0. Don Hyatt, "Mike" Miracle, and Bob Connell accounted for seven points apiece while Hap Brahms came through with six points and Bob Kaye scored two on a safety. The game was a pushover with Kama having the advantage all the way.

Odds vs Mules

Tuesday saw the Odds romp over the stubborn Mules 21-0. The Mules were good on defense despite the Odds. Paul Yambert scored 13 points for the Odds; Bill Uthlout scored seven, and Dave Yeaworth scored one with a well-placed kick.

Crescents vs Local Yokels

In the second game on Tuesday the Crescents were triumphant over the Local Yokels by a 7-0 score. Rettke set the Crescents in scoring position by a long run. Packard then scored the touchdown and Rettke made the extra point. The outcome to the game might have been different had not a Local Yokel touchdown been nullified by a pass caught outside the end zone.

Eight-Balls vs Mighty Mites

Thursday brought the Eight Balls and the Mighty Mites in a terrific struggle. The only score was made by Smith in the third quarter and Largen made the extra point. The Eight Balls won, 7-0.

Kama vs Y Frosh

Kama, who had trampled Tau Sigma on h. under the vict... the Y Frosh. The... a 13-13 tie and a... must have a winner ... went into an overtime ... with the team making the yardage winning the game.

Y Club failed to complete th... successive passes and failed to gain yardage at the end of their downs. Kama took over, gaining a yard on the first play, won the game 19-13. Brick Brahms and "Mike" Miracle did the scoring for Kama, while Fowler, Thurston, and Bennett tallied for "Y" Frosh.

U. S. Mules vs Jets

Yesterday the Mules once again fell before their opponents' attack. This time the score was 19-0 with Lenoir, Cardella, and Lukas scoring for the Jets, who rocketed ahead all the way.

Tau Sigma vs Local Yokels

The second game on number one field saw the Local Yokels bounce back from a previous defeat to win 18-7 over Tau Sigma. Johnson and Birchfield scored the points for the Yokels while Wintermute and Menges tallied for Tau Sigma.

Odds vs Mitey Mites

The Odds were too much for the Mighty Mites who realized this when the final whistle blew. The final score was 17-7 in favor of the Odds. Tom Yeaworth scored all fourteen points for the Odds on brilliant running. Bob Smith went over for the Mites' only score.

Crescents vs Y Frosh

The Crescents and Y Frosh reversed their positions yesterday as the Y Frosh won 20-7. Rahn, Fowler, Williams, and Thurston scored for the "Y" team while Barnett caught a long pass thrown by Rettke to score for Crescents.

Notice! !

All men wanting gym credit under the itnramural program must sign up the number of hours of participation. The intramural week begins on Saturday and ends on Friday night. Cuts will be turned in on Saturday.

INTRAMURAL STANDINGS:

ORANGE LEAGUE

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Jets	2	0	1.000
Odds	2	0	1.000
Eight Balls	1	1	.500
U. S. Mules	0	2	.000
Mitey Mites	0	2	.000

GARNET LEAGUE

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Kama	2	0	1.000
Crescents	1	1	.500
Y Frosh	1	1	.500
Local Yokels	1	1	.500
Tau Sigma	0	2	.000

LIFE GUARDS

Lige guards will be assigned to all regular swimming periods, Coach Kenneth P. Johnson announced this week. No one will be allowed to swim when there is no life guard on duty. All swimmers must check in and out with the guard when entering and leaving the pool.

The regular lige guards are as follows: men:, Ed Vandershie, Ed Miller, William Willingham, Richard Lane, Don Weber, and Wilburn Seymour; women, Margaret Newland, Ruth Thompson, Beatrice Siebold, Shirley Lewis, Janice Landstrom, and Jackie Morton.

He is studying for his DDT degree —Doctor of Dangerous Tactics.

PARK THEATRE
Ann Sheridan and Robert Cummings in "King's Row"

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.
30-Minute Service
between
Maryville and Knoxville

HOLD THAT POSE!
Let "Daddy Webb" take your picture.
WEBB STUDIO

Plan a Picnic Then SHOP HERE!
M. M. ELDER
CASH CARRY STORE

THE HI(One)
Published weekly (back post. examination and Backs of Maryville Co Merriman, of almost un-
VOLUME 32 ,n the gridiron,

Dr. F. A. "Happy" is noted Lorraine lunging ability. On Doro(). Merriman takes over Ke up the Scottie line with ad shoulders and tremen- striking force.

..ing Berrong will quarterback .or the Highlanders tonight. King, older brother of Leon, is well versed in the Highlander strategy, having called plays during last year's successful season.

Diminutive Baldwin Starts

Out at wingback, Benny Baldwin will fill the gap left by Charlie Pepper—a graduating senior of last year. Benny is the smallest of thet Scot force; he barely hits the 150 pound mark on the scales. A speedy ball carrier, Baldwin will halt the Hiwassee attack from his defensive halfback position.

Right end Howard "Hardy" Davis, ace defensive end, starts his second year for the Scots. With solid blocking and fast charging as his trademark, "Hardy" is a triple threat offensive man.

Fred Kluth, returning letterman from Blue Island, Illinois, is a Scott starter at left tackle. Big and aggressive Kluth is a sixty-minute standout for the Scots.

Lettermen in Line

Robert "Pie" Garner, the tall stretch of trouble for the opposition in the center of the line, snaps the ball at center for the Highlander offense tonight to begin his second consecutive year. On the defense, "Pie" is wicked with his pass interception ability and his hard driving tackles. Garner, a senior this year, weighs in at 198 and stands up to six feet three.

Lloyd Anderson, 185 pound gifted grappler, takes his role again as left guard in the opening game of his last year.

At right tackle Coach Honaker will probably start Joe Johnson to fill the vacancy left by assistant line coach Marvin Mitchell. Johnson, a freshman transfer student from U-T, is a product of line coach "J. D." Davis's tutelage at Central High, Knoxville in 1944.

Strength in Reserve

As a supplement to the power of the starting squad, the Scots are blessed with reserves in sufficient quantity and quality to allow the first string to remain at top operating efficiency by the use of relief forces. The reserve men who will most likely see early action in tonight's game are: Alan Rock at tackle; Bobby Neff at wingback; Bill Proffitt and Ken Andes at guards; Bobby Boring and Artie Spears at fullback; Bill Forgarty at tailback; Allen Law at either wingback or tailback; and Dave Clark at quarterback. If things go favorably for the Orange and Garnet side, there will probably be more reserves than those listed going into the game.

College Maid Shop 'Needs More Girls' Twenty-Seven Year History Told

BY JEAN HUNT

Mrs. J. H. McMurray, manager of the College Maid Shop, announced today that more girls are needed to work in the Shop. College girls may earn extra money by sewing during the hours when they do not have classes. Mrs. McMurray emphasized that the girls do not necessarily need to know how to sew as she and her assistants will teach them how to run the machines. While learning to sew, the worker is paid by the hour and after learning, they are paid by the piece.

Organized by Mrs. McMurray

The shop was organized by Mrs. McMurray in 1920 for the purpose of providing a way for girls to make extra money while going to college. The first shop was started by the donations of visitors who wanted to help girls who needed work but had no equipment. The shop was originally a part of the Home Economics Department.

Before the war, the shop made gym suits, choir vestments, mill uniforms, smocks, nurses' uniforms, and several smaller items. During the war because of the shortage of cloth and the increasing demand for nurses' uniforms, the shop made uniforms almost entirely.

Nurses Wear College Uniforms

The bulletin board in the shop holds several interesting pictures of nurses taken from magazine covers who are wearing the "College Maid" uniforms. The board also holds several letters from nurses all over the world requesting more uniforms. One of the most interesting letters is from Ann A. Bernatitus, the only navy nurse to escape Corrigidor and Bataan. She said she had lost all of her uniforms while escaping and would like a complete supply of "College Maid" uniforms.

The shop is still supplying a large number of government hospitals and hospital ships with uniforms. Of the approximate 300 uniforms shipped out in the month of August, the majority went to nurses still in government service.

The shop makes the college gym shorts which are sold to the students at the lowest possible cost. Before the war, the shop also made the choir vestments for the internationally famous Westminster Choir.

Has 39 Machines

The shop is well equipped with 39 sewing machines, a buttonholer, an eyelet machine and cutting and sewing tables. Every garment is labeled with "When You Buy 'College Maid' you are helping some girl work her way through college."

At present there are seventeen college girls working in the shop and six not connected with the college. Several other girls are urgently needed.

During the summer a few of the girls worked to help pay their tuition for this fall but most of the girls work not because they must, but for some special purpose; for spending money, for clothes, or what not, but they work and what that does for them and the college spirit is invaluable.

Art Club Reorganized; Santmier Elected Prexy

On Monday night, September 15, the Art Club met in the Art Studio in Anderson for the purpose of reorganization. The new officers are as follows: President, Arthur Santmier; Vice President, James Smith; and Secretary and Treasurer, Carol Howick.

The President appointed a social committee who are Ruth Nicholas, George C. White, and Carol Howick. This committee is planning a picnic for the next meeting which will be October 12.

EXCHANGES

A letter a day will keep him yours by remote control.

He: "You are the breath of life to me."
She: Well, suppose you hold your breath awhile."

He had one hand upon the wheel;
Quite joyful was his prize;
The other arm was wrapped around
The cutie at his side.
To him she yelled, "Use both hands"
In a voice that carried far;
I can't, the loving swain replied;
I have to drive the car.

Grapplers Start Pre-Season Work

Pre-season wrestling practice began this week for 28 prespective grapplers in the second floor room in Bartlett Hall. Until this year the "grunt and groan" hopefuls did not begin organized training until after football season. This year, under the new pre-season athletic training program, the men have started conditioning and learning holds, working out twice a week, on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4 to 5.

Phil Evaul will Coach

Acting coach Phillip Evaul, known to Southern wrestling circles as a former 121-pound star at Maryville, will coach the team until Assistant Coach "J. D." Davis is released from line coach duties on the varsity gridiron. Ken Ross, a senior who wrestled in the 135-pound class last year, will take over the duties at team captain and will assist Evaul.

Majority are Inexperienced

A majority of the men reporting are inexperienced in collegiate wrestling. Mr. Evaul is putting them through drills, teaching them fundamental take-downs and pinning holds. Later, after football season ends, a number of last years lettermen will return to the mat and regular training will begin.

The following men reported this week and were issued "working clothes": C. Anderson, John Baird, E. Black, Briggs, Byrd, Cameron, Cardella, Caviston, Clendenen, Coul, Duffey, Earsman, Ewing, Greshman, Mabry, Marvin, McMahon,, McNeil, Mulford, Olsen, Palmer, Pancost, D. Reeve, Ross, Sanderson, Taylor, Wintermute, and Yambert.

Pre-Med Club Has Picnic

On Thursday, September 25, the members of the Pre-Med Club will leave the Science building at 5:30 p. m. for a corn roast and party in the College woods. Argyle King and Walter Dean will be in charge of the program at the picnic grounds.

Dr. W. H. Crothers Speaks At Vespers

The speaker at the vesper service on Sunday evening at 7:00 o'clock in the library will be Dr. W. H. Crothers, who has chosen as his theme, "A Comprehensive Fourfold Prayer". Dr. Crothers is a former pastor of New Providence Presbyterian Church and is now retired.

Spanish Club Votes In Twenty Members

A business meeting of the Spanish Club was held on September 12, at which twenty members were voted into the club. The next meeting will be held on September 25 at a picnic in the College woods. At this meeting all new members will be initiated.

Tact is making people feel at home even though you wish they were.

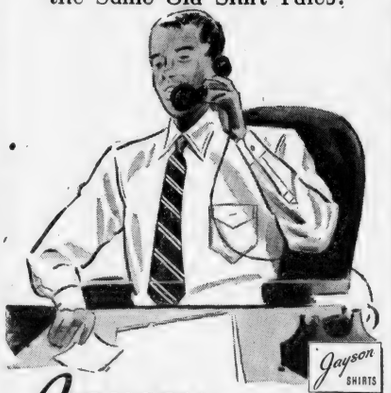
Good Luck To You This FOOTBALL SEASON!

BYRNE DRUG CO.

Every college man's favorite...

and we've got them in favorite

Van Heusen collar models



Oxfords! Smooth, creamy Oxfords! Van Heusen's De Luxe Oxfordians! The kind that wear and wear—and look better every time they're laundered! We've got them now in the low-set collar models you wanted: the wide-spread BRITT—and the new soft-roll wider BUTTON DOWN. They're top shirt value for your money! $3.85

Maryville's Most Popular Store

MOSER'S CLOTHING STORE

To Men Tired of the Same Old Shirt-Tales!

Jayson WHITEHALL

IMPORTED EGYPTIAN COTTON $3.95

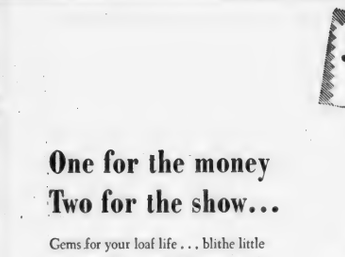
All we say is..."Please come in and see this first new shirt in years. Feel this fine shirt."

You'll tell yourself, "Here's a new kind of softer luxury...a smoother, full-bodied fabric you haven't felt in years." That's the feather-soft imported Egyptian cotton of which Jayson's Whitehall is so flawlessly tailored.

You'll see a deep-seated "locked-in" lustre that's part of the fabric, and won't wash out. And Whitehall proved 60% stronger in actual tensile strength tests*, than shirts at the same and higher prices. See these new Jayson Whitehalls, in wanted collar styles, today.

PROFFITT'S

Main Floor



Since 1919—"The Best Place To Trade"

Teen-age by BUSTER BROWN

One for the money
Two for the show...

Gems for your loaf life... blithe little strollers by Teen Age One smart and simple in cocoa brown... the other a scene-stealing swagger shoe of silver-stitched black ruffle.

$6.95

PROFFITT'S

Smart Shoes Main Floor

Roblee

Quality based on better shoemaking every stitch of the way...

$9.95

Roblee Weatherite blucher oxford. As advertised in Life, Pic, and the Post.

PROFFITT'S

Smart Shoes Main Floor

FROSH ELECTION NEXT WEEK

THE Highland Echo

FROSH TALENT SHOW TONIGHT

VOLUME 33 | MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, SEPTEMBER 27, 1947 | NUMBER 5

Nish Announces Committees Of Sophomore Class

Bill Nish, president of the sophomore class, has recently released the names of the members of the committee which will manage the all-campus programs sponsored by the Sophomore Class. The first activity planned by the class is the Hallowe'en party on October 31.

The committees chosen are permanent and will run for the full school year. Any member of the Sophomore Class may become a member of a committee, either at his request or at the request of the committee chairman.

The class officers who will coordinate the program are: Bill Nish, president; Roger Cowan, vice-president; Mae Merriweather, secretary; Tubby Calloway, treasurer.

Responsible for the programs will be the Social Committee, subdivided into three commit tees, Program, Decorations, and Refreshments. Roger Cowan wil head the Program Committee with Ben Paxton and Margaret Newland. Helping Betty Seagraves on the Decorations Committee will be Margaret McNeill and Tom Eckert, and Chairman of the Refreshment Committee will be Peggy Cummings with Mary Holly Webb and Ben Sheldon assisting. Ken Olson will run the Publicity department with Martha McClure and Craig Fisher to help him, while the Finance Committee will be appointed by Tubby Calloway, secretary of the class, as he sees necessary in order to collect dues.

FORMER GRADUATE SPEAKS AT VOLS

Phil Evaul, assistant pastor of the New Providence Presbyterian Church, will address the Student Volunteers in Bartlett Hall this Sunday, upon the subject "Why I Chose Missions". Mrs. Evaul will also be present and speak upon the same subject, giving the woman's viewpoint.

Mr. Evaul is well-known in Maryville circles, being a '14 graduate of this college, and is now coaching the Maryville wrestlers in their pre-season work, until Coach J. A. Davis is released from his present duties with the football team. A graduate of San Francisco Seminary, he is soon leaving this country to take up a career as a missionary in Chile. His speech Sunday night will give his reasons for this choice.

Higher Membership

Present plans are that Student Volunteers will continue to meet in Bartlett Hall in order to accomodate the increased attendance and membership. Membership in Student Volunteers is higher than it has been in many years. One hundred and twenty-one persons have signed pledges this year. Membership in the past has averaged seventy-eight persons.

Theta-Alpha Sig Plan For Moonlight Hike

Theta Epsilon will hold a formal candlelight initiation this evening at 6:45 in the Theta Room. Those who have been wearing their blue and white caps during the week will become members.

Plans for the Theta-Alpha Sig moonlight hike, to be held next Saturday, will be announced tonight.

TOWN NIGHT

"The Farmer's Daughter" starring Loretta Young and Joseph Cotton at the Capitol Theatre, and "In Fast Company" starring the Bowery Boys at the Park are on the agenda for next town night's entertainment.

"The Farmer's Daughter" is the story of Swedish farm girl who comes to the city to go in to nurse's training and gets sidetracked into politics.

The bowling alley is taken up on Tuesday nights with league bowling, but it is "on limits" for those who like to watch the experts. The college swimming pool is open for mixed swimming from 7:00 until 9:00 on town nights, also.

Frosh Officers Nominated Wed.

Janet Cummings, Judy Breen, Eddie Maddux, Sara Kemp, Jim Lester, Bob Proffitt, Dick Black, and Andy Clark were nominated for the offices of freshmen student council representatives at the class meeting held immediately after chapel last Wednesday morning. Two girls and two boys will be elected to fill the positions. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Student Council, as are all meetings of a freshmen class which has not elected officers. Ballots will be printed and elections will be held.

Waggoner, Ogle Run For President

Two boys, Fred Waggoner and George Ogle were chosen as final nominees for president, while Bob Larson and Dempsey Jones will oppose each other for the office of vice-president.

Delores Young and Mary Wills were nominated for secretary; Annabell Harper and Jimmy Thurston are the nominees for treasurer.

Y.W. USES "BEAUTY AND CHARACTER" AS SUNDAY THEME

The Y.W.C.A. will present Inspirational Interlude Sunday at 1:30 in the "Y" Rooms. The theme, "Beauty and Charcter", will be brought out with music and poetry. The program consists of: Prelude—Louise Lloyd; Invocation—Martha Grace Brindley; A Hymn Interpretation—Peggy Howell; The Value of Poetry and Music in Religious Teaching—Mary Mitchell Wooldridge; Violin Solo—La Vonne Heard; Scripture Reading—Eleanor Hawley; Piano Solo—Lamar Alexander, seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Alexander of Maryville; Selected Poems—Martha Scanlon; Vocal Solo—Catherine Barnawell; Closing Prayer—Juanita Johnson.

Individual Portraits Finished Wednesday

Individual pictures taken for the Chilhowean ended this week on Wednesday. However, anyone who failed to get a picture made may still do so by going to George's Studio in George's Department Store at Knoxville. The proofs for pictures already taken will come back in two groups, the first to be returned the latter part of next week, and the second group will be returned about the middle of the following week.

Group pictures will be taken next week. Details concerning times and places will be announced in Chapel.

All Girl Choir Plans Annual Montvale Picnic

The All Girl Choir, under the directorship of Mr. Curtis Hughes, is planning their annual picnic trip to Montvale for Saturday, October 4. Plans have been made by the joint committees to start the trip directly after lunch on a school bus. Upon arriving they will hike to the top of the mountain, after which they will have supper. The program following will include initiation of new members.

Chairman of the All Girl Choir is Nan Wooten, co-chairman, Juanita Johnson, secretary, Lois Lehr, treasurer, Lois Miller.

Committees Make Plans

The recreation committee headed by Belle Alverson is responsible for all social programs of the Choir. Members of this committee are M. Virginia Wood, Becky Walton, and Zoe Sayre. The social committee headed by Betty Seagraves in co-operation with Pat Dennis, Wilma Davis, and Edna Bergins, is responsible for making arrangements for all social affairs of the organization.

The choir will make their first appearance of the semester at the Vespers Service Sunday, Octobe 5. Their numbers will be "Lift Thine Eyes", and "God Is A Spirit".

Men's Glee Club

The Men's Glee Club began rehearsing with the All Girl Choir yesterday. They will continue the arrangement until Sunday, Novem ber 23, when the combined choirs will perform.

Buchanan, Engelhardt Chosen 1947-48 Sponsors Of Pre-Ministerials

Ministerial Association met in Bartlett Hall at 6:45 p. m. on Thursday, September 25. Professors Buchanan and Engelhard were chosen as sponsors, and Bet Sheldon was elected first vice-president. New members were received and Herb Parsons, president, spoke on Mark 10:25: "Not to Be Ministered Unto But to Minister."

The Pre-Ministerials are planning a picnic in the College Woods for its next meeting on October 9th.

Camera Club Hears Knoxville Speaker

The Camera Club will hold its next meeting Thursday night, October 1, in Thaw 201. An expert from Knoxville is expected to speak to the club about some phase of photography. Plans are being made to provide a dark room for the members, but as yet they have not been completed.

Historical Background of Town of Maryville Revealed By Reporter

BY ELENOR KRAMER

Although freshmen have learned that Maryville College has a history and tradition, few realize that the town of Maryville has an interesting background also.

The town has been in the march of time since the days of Indian massacres. Maryville which was named after Governor Blount's wife Mary, was on the road which was used by the early explorers who travelled from the territory near the coast into Kentucky. Since the Cherokee Indians had their hunting grounds on the main line which the explorers used, the result was that it was a war path. The white men established a fort, now the site of Fort Craig School where many battles among the red men and the white men took place.

Samuel Houston's Schoolhouse

While the blood was flowing freely in the Indian fights, a young scholar by the name of Samuel Houston started an educational system about six miles outside the small community of Maryville. Houston, who was later to play an important role in the history of the state of Texas, established a one-room schoolhouse for the pioneer children to whom he taught the three R's. Today his schoolhouse is stil standing near the outskirts of the town.

Two Armies Met

Chattanooga, although very famous for the battles fought there during the War between the States, was not the only place in Tennessee where fighting went on. When the fire was raging, one army was about where Proffitt's Store is today and the other near the grounds of West Side School.

E. Stanley Jones Spoke Here

This small town, a gateway to the Great Smoky Mountains, has seen many outstanding people pass through or come nearby. We know that with the coming of T. V. A. and Oak Ridge many outstanding scientists and government men have been in Maryville or near its edge. Because of the college and strong churches in Maryville there have been great religious leaders who have been in the community. Perhaps the most outstanding one of recent years was E. Stanley Jones who spoke to a community audience at New Providence Presbyterian Church. The latest visitor of note was Governor Jim McCord of Tennessee who only yesterday spoke to the Kiwanis Club.

COLLEGE CALENDAR

Saturday, September 27

6:15 p. m.—Bainoian, Athenian, Theta Epsilon and Alpha Sigma will meet.

8:00 p. m.—Freshman Talent Night

Sunday, September 28

1:30 p. m.—Y. W. C. A. meeting in "Y" rooms

Y. M. C. A. meeting in Bartlett

7:00 p. m.—Vespers, Dr. J. D. Buchanan will speak

8:00 p. m.—Student Vols will meet in Bartlett. Phil Evaul speaks

Tuesday, September 30

7:00 p. m.—Gospel Fellowship Group will meet in "Y" rooms

Wednesday, October 1

6:45 p. m.—Prayer meeting in "Y" rooms

Thursday, October 2

6:45 p. m.—Disc Club, Thaw 214

Orchestra Schedules Fall Concert; Hampered By Lack of Instruments

A tentative concert program has been set up for the Maryville Orchestra, to be given some time this fall. Some of the numbers to be included are: Beethoven's "Concerto in C Major"', "Rosmunde Overture", also by Beethoven, "Finlandia" a tone poem by Sibelius, and "Marchslav" by Tchaikovsky. The group rehearses Tuesdays and Thursdays, but is being greatly hampered by the lack of instruments. The timpanis, string bass, and French horns have not yet arrived.

All clubs and organizations are requested to leave their club news in the ECHO office each week sometime before 8:00 Thursday night. The editorial staff is adopting a new plan concerning clubs which will insure the news being printed each week. Thank you.

News Capsules—

Storm Strikes New Orleans

United Nations

Despite strong opposition by Russia the General Committee of the United Nations voted 9 to 2 last week to recommend debate on regulation of the use or misuse by Big Five powers of the veto right. Hector McNeil, British Minister of State, answered attacks by Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky when he called on the USSR to adopt an international code of "good conduct." No nation, he declared, can always have its own way.

Distinguished scientist Dr. Albert Einstein urged that the United Nations stay in continuous session until a "supra-national" body could be created to forestall threats of war. Meanwhile, UN Secretary-General Trigve Lie called for closer harmony among the great powers. Herecalled the cooperation between former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, which, he said, was a contributing factor to the victory.

Ex-Mayor

Fiorello H. LaGuardia, colorful former director of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration died in New York City this week. He had served as mayor of the nation's largest city for three terms. Death was attributed to cancer.

Atomic Research

The Atomic Energy Commission announced plans Thursday for a giant nuclear furnace to be built at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, under the direction of the University of Chicago. Transfer of the laboratory—to be called Clinton National Laboratory—from the Monsanto Chemical Company is expected to be completed by December 31.

Sees Red

Charges of aiding a Communist's entry into the United States were leveled at Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. The point of discussion was centered in a letter written by the former president's wife to Sumner Welles, then with the State Department. The alleged Communist, Hanns Eisler, now a song-writer, entered this this country from Cuba. Mrs. Roosevelt, currently defending U. S. foreign policy in the United Nations, answered that the letter was merely "routine" and that she does not remember the incident.

French Club Elects Sixteen New Members

Sixteen new members have been elected into the French Club this week. New members are as follows: Walter Pentz, William Kirby, Vendeda Huskey Harold Hunter, Bob Watkins, Joan Hall, Donald Lehman, Ken Ramey, Virginia Schwarz, Robert Bird, Robert Eastman, Jack Buckley, Elaine Kern, Margaret Stone Dan Winters, and Shirley O'Shana.

They were welcomed at the regular club meeting on Septem ber 25. Plans were made for a fishing trip to be held on October 9. A food committee was appointed consisting of Rose Huskey and Dorothy Vawter. Betty Hall and Anne Childress were appointed as the initiation committee.

MRS. CLARA CATE VISITED CAMPUS

Mrs. Clara Cate, who was a matron at Maryville College for two years before she became ill over a year ago, was on campus for a short period during Wednesday afternoon. In September of last year she was operated on and her condition was serious for several months; however, she improved much more rapidly than her friends expected.

Mrs. Cate, whose residence is 2318 E. 5th Avenue in Knoxville, was a matron in Memorial in '45 and a matron in Carnegie the following year when girls lived in Carnegie Hall.

Band Sweaters Expected Before Next Home Game

Band sweaters have not arrived yet, but are expected before the next home game, Mr. Curtis Hughes, director, announced. They were ordered some time ago.

Band members are now rehearsing on Mondays and Wednesdays at 4:30 and Fridays at 3:30. The band is composed of fifty-four pieces, making a total of sixty-one members, including the drum majors, the majorettes, and the band sponsor. It is one of the largest in Maryville College history.

Kin Takahashi, Class of '95, Remains A Campus Personality

BY DONALD WHELAN

Kin Takahashi, Class of '95, Maryville College, Maryville, Tennessee. Except for the Japanese name there seems to be nothing unusual about "just another graduate" of over fifty years ago. He was, however, perhaps the most striking personality the college has ever had.

Son of a Shintoist father and a Buddhist mother, he was completely shut off and shunned by his family on adopting Christianity. He came to Maryville College in 1888 "in search of an American education." During the next seven years he developed into one of the most effective leaders among the Christian young men of the College—a born organizer of religious activities or anything else he put his mind to. He seems to have put it to a lot!

As first captain of the Maryville football team, he was both coach and water-boy, leading his team to many a victory in spite of his slight 123 pounds and five two height. As strategist-trainer he explained plays and formations in the "Athletic Office"—his own room—on a diagram of a gridiron outlined on his table. It is said that the players were illustrated by moving grains of corn. A strong Christian, he used to lead his squad in prayer before going to the field.

As an editor-publisher of College Days, he extended his conquests into the field of journalism, reporting for local papers at the same time.

His movement for a students' self-help program is overshadowed by what is no doubt "his most notable work", as Dr. Wilson said—the building of a headquarters for athletics and religion. Within about a year he collected monye, secured the help of other college boys and gifts of wood from nearby farmers, and made the brick for what is now, largely through his efforts, Bartlett Hall.

Returning to his homeland, he continued as he had at college. Here he organized literary and debating societies in Maryville style, planned religious meetings, founded a school, and—he had been in ill health for some time—literally "worked himself to death". He died May 6, 1902, at 31.

Ted Pratt Reopens Alumni Office; Plans News Bureau

The college Alumni and Public Relations office is again open for business. The office is now preparing for the Fall issue of the Alumni Magazine under the supervision of Theodore B. Pratt. Mr Pratt is a former Maryville student, having graduated in 1943. Assisting him in the "catching-up" process is his wife, Marion.

The Alumni and Public Relations Office has a multiple function. A large percentage of college publicity is channeled through this office. Recommendations and placement correspondence are handled here. Alumni dues and the Alumni Association's Living Endowment Fund are recorded, and the correspondence relating to these is a function of the office. A student news bureau is in process, making it possible for hometown newspapers to receive and print news and honors of Maryville College students.

On any matters of Alumni, placement, publicity, and promotion, faculty and students are invited to go in to talk with Mr Pratt. The office exists primarily to serve students, faculty, an alumni, and through them the college.

Program Tonight Ends Bainonian Initiation

The Bainonian initiation of new members ends tonight with a program at the Bainonian Hall at 6:15. Mae Merriweather, program chairman has planned a program of reading the old records of the Society.

For the past three days, new members have been wearing their hair parted in the center, the Bainonian emblem and singing the society song on the request of the old members.

CHOIR RECEIVES A GROUP OF DESCANTS

Mr. Harter announced that the Vesper Choir will sing Glinka's "Cherubim Song" Sunday night, a composition from the Russian Liturgical service, and a double chorus arrangement of Palestrina's "Gloria Patri," which is arranged for full chorus with echo chorus.

The choir has received a group of descants to the processional hymn "Son of God Goes Forth to War." Another will be used on the processional "Rejoice, Ye Pure in Heart" at the forthcoming vesper service, and others will be used on processional hymns during the year.

An arrangement now being practiced on by the choir, which will be of interest to students, is an original choral composition by Charles Huffman, one of the choir members.

FROSH AGENDA SHOWS SOLOS, DUETS, SKITS

Students Hold Talent Program In Gym

Frosh Talent Night, a program held in connection with the Frosh Club and sponsored by the Y.M.C.A., will be held in the Alumni Gymnasium tonight at 8:00. Using the theme "Orientation," a series of skits, solos, and duets, have been planned for the entertainment of upperclassmen and freshmen non-participants.

The talent show is the first to be given by freshmen at the beginning of the school year. Max House, who is in charge of the Frosh Club, explained that the show is one of several plans to promote acquaintanceship between freshmen and upperclassmen.

Tonight's program was planned by Andy Clark, Jim Lester, and Bob Larson, with John Sayre, Dick Ribble and Charles Price in charge of the music. Reuben Monroe, Paul Kidder and John Shew are handling publicity; Dwight Garrison, Jim Thurston and Louis Evans are in charge of properties.

Others who will participate in the program are as follows: Gene Coulter, Gloria Measamer, Peggy Wakefield, Mary Fowler, Charles Price, Jack Miller, Alice Huddleston, Mary Hicks, Bob Holley, Betty Davis, Barbara Edwards, Marilyn Edge, Judy Breen.

Brahams, Hoglan, Grubbs, Explain "Y" Triangle

David Campbell, junior English major from Mars, Pennsylvania, will keynote the program for Y.M.C.A. at the regular Sunday afternoon service this week. The familiar "Y" triangle and the motto it embraces, of the three-fold man, are the basis of the plan. Campbell, who is the "Y" secretary, will open the service with a general explanation of the meaning of the Triangle and the Motto. Other members of the Association will then discourse upon the individual tenets of it.

Hap Brahams, who is a sophomore from Laguna Beach, will develop the theme, "Body". Chuck Hoglan, of Birmingham, will speak on "Mind". Chester Phillips, a junior from Fargo, N. D., will enlarge upon the topic, "Spirit". There will be special music by Merrill Grubbs, who will sing a selection of his own choosing.

A popular feature of the "Y", which is a tradition of many years standing at Maryville College, is the pre-service playing of instruments from the tower at Anderson Hall. This week it will be rendered by the "Y's" trombone group, who alternate with the trumpet section.

Last Sunday Coaches L. S. Honaker and J. A. Davis spoke to a large assembly at the "Y" meeting, and pointed out how Christian ideals and good athletics are closely bound together. They were appropriately introduced by members of the football team, Captain Easter and ex-captain Mitchell.

Dr. John Buchanan Speaks At Vespers

Taking his subject from the familiar "I will lift up mine eyes" passage of Psalms 121, Dr. John Buchanan, Professor of Bible and Religious Education, will address the vesper congregation this Sunday night. Dr. Buchanan will develop his subject upon the theme, "Mountains". The Vesper Choir will perform two numbers. C. B. de Palestrina's Gloria Patri, and Glinka's Cherubim song.

Last week the speaker was Dr. Crothers of Maryville, who retired the pastorship of New Providence Presbyterian Church some years ago. He explained how Christians might successfully pursue their religion in this day, by inclining their hearts to the Lord.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 32 NUMBER 5

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser
Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor
Kenneth Olsen ..... Sports Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Grace Gugger, Naomi Hoffman, Ilda Mosby

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Herbert McCallum, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF
Ruth Williams ..... Business Manager

SENIOR ASSISTANT
Mary Jane Long

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANT
Bob Watkins

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1947

ABOUT LADY MAC

Few campusites know the story about Lady McTavish III; consequently, few know that another "thank you" note should be written.

Mr. Ross Birchfiel, a Maryville resident who attended our college for two years back in the 1920's knew how popular "Scottie", the former mascot, was with the students and decided that the school needed another Scotch Terrier on its premises. Over a year ago he, his wife, and Ross, Jr. began a search for the "right dog", helped by a former graduate, Mr. Maynard Dunn, and daughter Nancy.

Week before last they found her, a scottie two years old and a cousin to President Roosevelt's dog Fala. The Birchfiels bought her, and "the lady" was presented to the college at the football game last Saturday night.

But that's not the end of the story. In between football games Lady McTavish III has to be cared for.——The Birchfiel's have assumed that responsibility, also, which is doing more than a little for us.

That's the story, and here's a "thank you" to the Birchfiels and the the Dunns.

THAT $5.00 FEE

Occasionally we hear remarks about the $5.00 activities fee we pay at the beginning of each semester. Students want to know where it goes. No one would deny the fact that they have a perfect right to know, for, when the division was made several years ago, the authors were students.

54% of the entire fee is set aside for athletics, including 39% for current expenses and 15% for specified athletic equipment. The remaining 46% is divided among other campus organizations, all of them considered extra-curricular activities. 6% goes to forensics, 17½% to the Artists Series fund, 10% to the Highland Echo, 2½% to music, and 10% to either YW or YM.

The 15% designated for athletic equipment is not used for uniforms, balls, or similar items, but is reserved for capital improvement or permanent equipment. In other words, such things as leveling the football field or building bleachers might be considered under the heading. While some students receive credit for forensics, others do not, and there is always the expense of debate trips and buying material. Music refers to organizations such as the choir, band, and orcehstra. As was previously published, the Artists Series money is being reserved for future series. The money of YW and YM is not divided equally between the two organizations, but is done according to the number of men and women students enrolled.

For those of you who prefer a list of the actual division to the percentages, the total is derived as follows: Athletics (current), $1.95; athletics, (permanent equipment), 75c; forensics, 50c; Artists Series, 87.5c; Echo, 50c; music, 12.5c; and Y W or YM, 50c.

Much Echo About Nothing

BY ILDA MOSBY

It was many and many a year ago
In a college called M. C.,
That a monster dwelt whom I came to know
By the name of Cannibal Flea;
And the brute was possessed with no other thought
Than to live and to live on me.

According to Frosh Club chairman Andy Clark, the talent night must really be something. To quote, "If you have a good sense of humor, stay away," Or in Jim Lester's words, "I don't know what it is. It just is." And while speaking of freshmen, we wonder if Edgy's Pyrex arrived safely. Fogarty seems to have less prowess catching bugs when barefoot than he does on the football field.

Remember last year how soccer accounted for more injuries than football? Well, its started again; Marion Engle was the first Point System victim. Was Art Haaf trying to steal the soccer ball on Thursday or just wanting to get in the game? Hilda Roberts had better not tell any more jokes till after she gets the point, it might be embarrassing. Edna Burkins will probably think mighty hard before she locks her door again. Of course, it did give a fellow a chance to climb a ladder to second floor Memorial.

Dining Hall Data: Doesn't Marvin MacKenzie have time enough after dinner to put on his P. J.'s. before retiring? One waiter finds it necessary to drink a glass of milk before the meal and then he splits the remaining seven glasses eight ways; and another fellow over in the left wing seems to prefer bottles to glasses. Bill Fitzgerald is rather wary of eating in the dining hall these days. Don't let Nelson Forrester bother you, Bill.

Tuesday morning (It was a cold day, if you remember. If you don't, it was still cold.) in chapel when Dean McClelland announced that the pool would be open, Ken Ross added, "Everybody bring ice skates." We've heard of birds flying, but the first we'd heard of their climbing trees was when Bob had to climb a tree to return the Chat keys Meriweather threw skyward. Does the Chat have an over supply of pennies, or are we being bitter?

Jean Almy and Tom Horst certainly had plenty of reason for those week-end glows. . . .All of us were glad to see Bob and June again. Dog is man's best friend; Leslie Webb certainly gave a new slant to systematics when he had his pooch speak for him. Too bad Sam Taylor didn't try that! Radiators and Sid Lambert don't seem to mix. Advice to Cardella: Better wait until you're completely awake to start dressing. What kind soul had "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" dedicated to Mr. Mac?

Overheard remarks: Dean Hunter, "You are all as familiar with the act of oscillation as I am."—Dr. Barker, "The best time to get on the elevator is when it passes your floor."—Bob Boring, Cotton Easter, Jack Henry, Don Walker, "We've got to put on our best manners tonight since she's (Elsie Onifer) waiting our table."—Harold Henry at first of the period, "I could hardly get up this morning."—Professor Walker at end of period, "Did you say you got up this morning, Harold?"—Paul Abbott, talking about zoology, "Jack and I started bug huntin', but we ended up with a couple of vertebrates."—Mr. Peiper, in Political Science, "Now what would happen if we had unintelligent voters?" Reply, "The Republicans would get in office."

Dean McClelland must really be worried about us if he wants us to hear that talk by Judge Kelley on delinquent young people. Recipe for an unhappy marriage (courtesy of Footsie): Sit at the same table in the college dining hall. People who take advantage of the birthday cake idea should be ostracized, Corley. Picnics were "the thing" on Thursday. Pre-med president Bruce seems to have had a little difficulty finding an axe to grind. "I Love You Truly" as rendered duetically by Broyles and Hayes should make anyone's Hit Parade. Do professors really propose so eloquently, Mr. Schwam? Archie Schwatzrauber and Peggy Burrow showed a decided preference for onions at the Spanish Club initiation. (Those female initiates looked sort of cute with ten pig tails apiece). There's a time and place for everything, but Mr. Mac doesn't seem to appreciate that patented peep hole in John Baxter's door. Does anyone want to trade one rummate for a seeing-eye dog?

Just thrown in: Croquet was the favorite sport on the Hill in 1889, and the Baldwin girls organized a "Home Sweet Home Club." Times have changed!

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

In your September 20 issue there appeared a letter from Sam Broyles. In this letter he suggested several elements that disturbed him.

Among the things he mentioned was members of our grand band practicing in the dorm. Living nearer these band members, we have yet to notice that their practicing has kept us from concentrating on our studies. During the half of the Hiwassee game we reaped the reward of their practicing that we had not observed. Also, since the fire completely destroyed the chapel, we have all had to bear the inconvenience that has been placed upon the band members.

Broyles should realize that Carnegie Hall is a men's dorm and that things which occur here are apt to happen in dorms throughout the country. While we don't advocate profane language, we must remember that college students will be college students and that people will hear what they listen for.

In regard to the clothesline, we have noticed on the mornings that we wash that a considerable portion of the clothesline has been occupied by dry clothing which belongs to the residents of the basement of Carnegie. Surely this is "gross negligence". The actual figure of the men using the clothesline is around ninety and we feel the remark of "over 200" by Mr. Broyles is a bit exaggerated.

In closing we should like to suggest that the families of veterans residing in Carnegie basement should refer all complaints to Mr. McCurry, the proctor of Carnegie Hall, instead of the Editor of the Highland Echo.

In writing this letter we feel that we have not only expressed our attitudes on the subject, but also those of many men residing in Carnegie Hall.

Bob Watkins and Joe Claud.

DO YOU KNOW?

Did you know that the ever-talked-about burning of the Chapel was not the first fire tragedy on campus? Thirty-one years ago Carnegie burned completely to the ground.

While speaking of dates, Baldwin, Memorial, and Anderson are pretty old land marks. . . they've been standing 87 years on this campus.

You history students should be interested in this. Sam Houston received almost all his education at the original Maryville College, with Dr. Isaac Anderson as his professor.

Just to show you the jump in living expenses a hundred years years ago a new policy had just been introduced, whereby one day's work a week on the college farm, together with $7.50 would pay a year's board bill.

Now you know.

ALPHA SIGMA

Alpha Sigma will meet in the YW rooms at 6:15 this evening. Officers urge all members to attend the business meeting and program.

Students Give Variety of Opinions On New Length Of Women's Skirts

BY JEAN HUNT

Probably one of the most discussed questions on the Maryville College campus is the length of the new winter skirts which the vast majority of females are sporting. It's purely a personal opinion—but the new length of skirts is a good break for most of the girls.

Or course one in a thousand girls will have limbs pretty enough to be "Miss America," but did you ever stop to think about the other 999 who are bowlegged, knock-kneed, skinny legged or with legs about the size of barrels?

Opposers Call It Expensive

Those opposing the idea will say that it is too extravagant to throw away all of their old clothes and buy those of a new length. Sooner or later you will have to buy new clothes anyway, and the little more cloth will cost very little.

Actually, a long skirt means more refinement and culture which the present college girl needs. During the war years we have slopped around in almost any old rag until the boys have forgotten that girls are really feminine. I think this is one of the main reasons that chivalry is almost dead on the average American college campus. It is much easier for a boy to be polite and courteous to a girl who looks like a girl.

Some Go To Extreme

But where there are new ideas some people always go to the extreme. All of us know that skirts which hang to the ankles are unreasonable.

In last week's HIGHLAND ECHO a small article said that George Gallup's latest poll of public opinion showed a slight majority, 53 per cent of the American people, are against the lengthening of women's skirts, but the majority are men—not women.

But here on campus we still hear the long ringing cry, "Vive la knee-length potato sack."

Students Give Opinions

Several students have expressed interesting opinions. Elsie Jean Cotton, senior from Pittsburgh, Pa., says, "Long skirts are all right for dress wear but not for class wear. Anyway, what kind of shoes would you wear with long skirts?"

Jimmy Thurston and Milly Simmons, both freshmen from Chattanooga, agree that "It all depends on whether you are going steady or trying to catch someone."

Tom Wheeler, senior of Peekskill, N. Y., said, "I don't like them anytime."

Betty Marie Davis, freshman from Orlando, Fla. replied, "Long skirts are a fine idea. They keep you warm."

Mae Merriwether, sophomore, who hails from Montgomery, Alabama, said, "No long skirts for me. They are unhealthy."

Max House, senior from Cato, N. Y., says, "For practical purposes some skirts should not be as long as others."

Bill Vogel, senior from Baltimore, Md., said, "Frankly, I don't like them. I am an ardent supporter of the 'Little Below the Knee Club.'"

Betty Yeaworth, junior from Philadelphia, Pa., replied, "They are all right if you dress up, but not for class wear."

Helen Miller, sophomore, from Rogersville, says, "If dress skirts get any longer, how are we going to walk down the hill to church?"

Ginny Schwarz, junior, from Wayne, Pa., said, "Long skirts are okay if people don't go to the extreme."

There you have it. Some like them and some don't. So I guess that dear old M.C. will have plenty of different length skirts this fall with such a variety of opinions.

"GLENEAGLES"

Raincoats

When the weather tries to throw a wet blanket on game time festivities, don't toss in the sponge—just reach for your "Gleneagles" and go! Showerproof poplin keeps you snug and dry. . . broad, flattering pitch-shoulders* give you the smart styling of a fine topcoat. . . the no-rip vent, fly-front, and easy-draping bottom flare, orund out the details that make "Gleneagles" America's Practical coat.

$15.75

*Patented

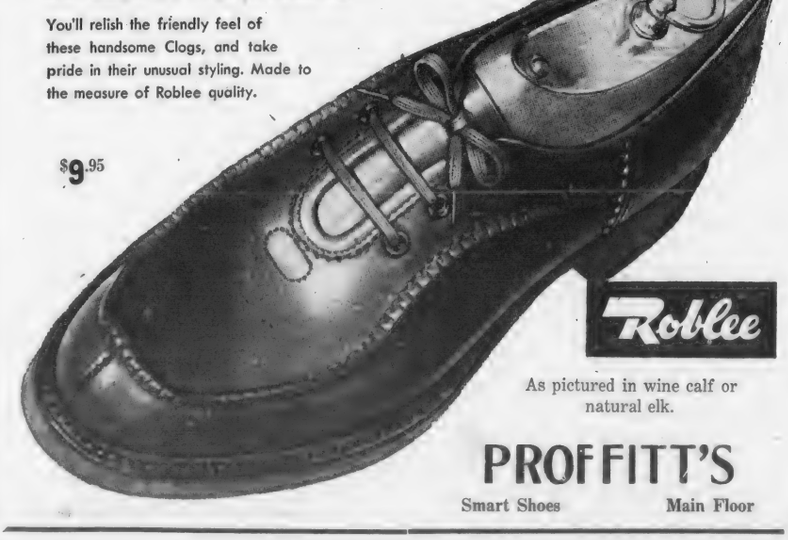
"Maryville's Most Popular Store"

MOSER'S CLOTHING STORE

PARK THEATRE
Tuesday and Wednesday
Leo Gorcey and The Bowery Boys
in
"In Fast Company"

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

Hamburgers
Sandwiches
Hot Sandwiches
Salads
Hot Plates
Cold Plates
Pie (all types)
Drinks
Doughnuts
Candies
Served With Promptness
C. & L. CAFE



RUB-A-DUB-DUB. . .
THERE'S SO MUCH TO TUB!
Cheer up Kids, our low cost
SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY
Service will brighten up those gloomy Mondays in a jiffy. Take advantage of our Laundry Service
Phone 1055

Comfort in Action

You'll relish the friendly feel of these handsome Clogs, and take pride in their unusual styling. Made to the measure of Roblee quality.

$9.95

Roblee

As pictured in wine calf or natural elk.

PROFFITT'S
Smart Shoes Main Floor

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

(DATELINE: Thursday, September 25) As "Scotlights go to press, the Highlanders are just 12 hours from departure time to Cookeville for their engagement with the vaunted Golden Eagles of the Tennessee Polytechnic Institute. The Eagles, who only last week took a 12-7 beating from Carson-Newman, are a bit humiliated at their beginning this season. Opinion on the M. C. campus was that Tech would work that much harder to score a win for their second game of the season. This gave the Scots no reason to slack up in their training program. The coaches probably were of the same mind when they put the Scots through a whirlwind conditioning session Monday afternoon followed by strenuous training the successive afternoons. The Highlanders were entering their second tilt of the season this time with the odds in favor of the opposing team. As Coach Honaker said a week ago at the pep rally: the Eagles are "probably the toughest team we'll meet all season."

T. P. I.'s Ace Hand

As the Scots leave for the game, the big question mark in their mind is how to stop "Goat" Zegarske, the man who took first place in the 100 yard dash with a 9.9 second time in the M. C.-T. P. I. track meet of last spring. Zegarske, a big gun for the Eagles last year at fullback, will line-up against the Highlanders at wingback position. The big difference in weight between the Tech and Maryville lines in favor of the opponents is a cause of considerable worry in the Scots' pre-game calculations. The Tech passing attack is whooped up to be something for the Scots, and all the dope we have to be cheerful about is that Tech has a reputation of being a late starter in getting into best playing shape. Possibly this contributed to the Tech downfall with Carson-Newman. But Coach Davis, who scouted the Tech-C.-N. game of last Saturday, reported that the Carson-Newman boys were at least fifty per cent stronger than last season. At any rate, the C.-N. Eagles with their fancy "T" formation made the Tech Golden Eagles holler "uncle" last Saturday at Jefferson City.

Happy Birthday, Coach

Coach Honaker missed Thursday chapel to hear the student body sing out a happy birthday greeting to him. So wel'll wish him a belated Happy Birthday greeting, and hope that those grey hairs do not multiply as fast as he says his team is causing them to.

Coach was absent from his office and classes on Thursday due to a severe cold. He did, however, show up to watch the team in their last work-out before embarking for Cookeville. His voice was failing because of his cold; consequently he didn't get to give the team much last minute advice in their final drill of the week.

Stuck In Our Memory

The Hiwassee game is gone and forgotten in most of the fans' and players' minds, but there are a few instances of unique action that have lingered in our minds. The first item of the game we can't forget is the running, passing, and punting of that Hiwassee Whiz—Caton. Caton, as we noticed when he doffed his headgear after one of those numerous spurts of action he was allotted in the second half, has a receding hairline and evidently is a rather old man to be playing for a junior college.

More Odd Bits of Reflection

Among other little bits of fact that haven't slipped out of our mind yet is the way that Highlander third and fourth teams kept the Tigers at bay during the last half—as far as not even allowing Hiwassee a single first down in the closing half. Then that look of confusion on Merriman's face as he spun around to hand the ball off on what he thought was going to be a reverse and found no one there except the Hiwassee end closing in. But just to get things straight he ran all the way to the goal line, only to be called back to the line of scrimmage because of the horn for an off-sides penalty. Houston Lowery, whom Coach Honaker facetiously calls "one of my better backs", did some surprisingly good offensive work against Hiwassee along about the fourth quarter. Jim Baird, sophomore, Hiwassee tailback also ripped out some sizeable gains in the latter stage of the game. Those ends, both Hiwassee and Maryville, were holding the flanks in fine order—not too many gains were made on actual end-around plays, it seems to us.

"First Down. . . Ten To Go"

In taking a mildly critical attitude, we suggest that Messrs. Cowan and Sykes reterm their loudspeaker coverage of the Hiwassee game and say that they were intending to bring a "run by run" ("that ole went-from-where-to-where-stuff") instead of "play by play" description of the game. As far as we know, the boys didn't even announce a punt formation all night. Yet, the boys were pretty much on their toes in giving the correct down and yardage information on the plays. We feel sure the fans would appreciate a little more advance information on what's about to break loose. However, these boys have a thankless and most hectic job. And, since this was their first time at the mike for the season, we are looking forward to probable improvement in their technique. Thanks, fellows, for contributing your time and energy in undertaking this exacting task. Also, Ken Kribbs deserves a wreath of appreciation for his assistance in spotting and for his half-time commentary.

Maryville Loses To T.P.I; Wins Game With Hiwassee

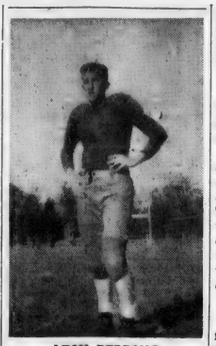
T.P.I.-M.C. Clash Ended 13-7

The Maryville Highlanders suffered a 13-7 loss from the Tech Eagles last night in their scramble at Cookeville. Unloosening a rejuvenated passing attack early in the third quarter, the T. P. I. team connected with two passes deep in Maryville territory to score their winning touchdowns. The Scots scored after a blocked T. P. I. kick.

It was blow for blow during first half with the Scot punting and passing keeping up with the Eagles' ground attack. The Eagles and the Scots each threatened to score once during the first half. T. P. I. pushed into scoring position, but fumbled in the Maryville end zone. The Scots recovered and punted out of danger.

While the game was in its first phase, Leon Berrong raced from his own 26 to the T. P. I. 34 for a forty yard break-away to move the Scotties into position for a touchdown try. An Eagle interception of Leon Berrong's pass to Ken Talbott halted the Maryville advance.

T. P. I. Sores in Third Quarter



The T. P. I. aerial attack, which stood no completions in five tries at the half, clicked for the first time when Harvey pitched a touchdown pass from the M.C. 14 to Mosier on the 6. The second T. P. I. score came later in the third quarter when the Eagles once again took to the air when Harvey passed to Jarrell in the Scot end zone.

Scots Score in Last Minute

With less than a minute left in the ball game, Maryville right tackle Tucker Pinner blocked an Eagle punt on the Tech 28. Frank Still picked up the bounding ball and ran it to the Tech 4. After an attempted pass, Leon Berrong went over right tackle to score.

Head Coach Lombe Honaker was missing from the Scot bench for the game. He was at home fighting a severe cold. Coach "J. D." Davis directed the Highlander clan in the absence of Coach Honaker.

Two Scottie gridders, Neff and Garner, came out of the game with injuries. Neff left the game in the first quarter with a bad ankle. Garner retired from the game in the third quarter, hobbling to the sidelines, with an injured leg.

LEON BERRONG
—Courtesy of Times

Score by Quarters:

	1	2	3	4	Tot.
Maryville	0	0	0	7	7
Tenn. Tech	0	0	13	0	13

	M.C.	Tech
First downs	7	9
Punting Av.	42.3	34
Yds. penalized	80	55
Passes attempted	14	7
Passes completed	6	4
Passes inter. by	2	2
Yds. gained on passes	57	81
Total yds. rusihng	108	157

POINT SYSTEM ANNOUNCES PLANS

First Semester Activities

The point system girls are now playing soccor. They concluded their practice Thursday and will select teams Tues., Sept. 30, after which games will be held from Oct. 7-21. Aerial darts will follow from Oct. 3 and last till Nov. 11. The girls will then begin practice for stunts, which will end Nov. 18. Volleyball will be the final sport played from Nov. 20 till the end of the first semester.

Second Semester Activities

Basketball will be the largest part of the second semester program, lasting from Jan. 20 to March 8. Softball will then take over till April 7, after which track will begin April 12 and end on April 28. With the exception of hikes, swimming, and tennis tournaments, will conclude this years Point System.

Scotties Defeat Hiwassee, 33-0

The Scots smothered Hiwassee 33-0 in their opening game of the 1947 season on Wilson Field last Saturday.

Striking pay dirt in the initial seconds of the fray, the Highlanders continued a relentless attack on the out-classed Tigers. The starting Scot eleven knocked the zip out of the Tiger's offenses in the first quarter and then turned them over to the second, third and fourth strings to polish off.

North Fumbles; Talbott Covers

The Hiwasseeans met defeat from the start of the game. The opening kickoff went to Tiger Quarterback North on his own 10. North had advanced less than five yards when Merriman, Scottie fullback, greeted him with a resounding tackle, causing him to fumble the ball. Co-captain Ken Talbott covered the ball for the Scotties. After three quick line drives, Merriman plunged over from the Hiwassee one yard line to score the first M. C. touchdown of the game and of the season. The place kick by King Berrong was good, giving the Scots a 7-0 lead before the Tigers were able to test their offense.

Penalties Costly

The first half was marked by a series of penalties which gave Hiwassee two unearned first downs and cost the Highlanders two beautiful runs—calling back a 16 yard center plunge by Forgarty and cancelling a prance by Grant Sharpe from his own 27 to the Hiwassee 26.

Early in the second quarter, Coach Honaker began feeding reserves to the gridiron.

2nd Quarter—Forgarty Scores

Bill Forgarty, fresh Highlander tailback, tallied the second Scot

INTRAMURALS

TOUCH-FOOTBALL SCHEDULE
September 29-October 3

Mon.—3:30 Tau Sigma vs Kama
4:30 Jets vs Eight Balls
Tues.—3:30 Local Yokels vs Crescents
4:00 U. S. Mules vs Odds
Wed.—3:30 Tau Sigma vs Y Frosh
4:30 p. m. 4:30 p. m.—Jets vs. Mitey Mites
3:30 p. m.—Kama vs. Local Yokels
4:30 Eight Balls vs U. S. Mules
Thurs.—3:30 Y Frosh vs Kama
4:30 Mitey Mites vs Eight Balls
Fri.—3:30 Y Frosh vs Crescents
4:30 Mitey Mites vs Odds
*3:30 Local Yokels vs Tau Sigma
*4:30 Jets vs U. S. Mules
*These games will be played on the second field

FOOTBALL

By KEN OLSEN

Intramural seven man touch football went into its second week which, despite its rainy beginning turned out one ideal football weather. Two games, Kama vs Crescents and Eight Balls vs Odds, were cancelled Monday and rescheduled on Wednesday because of a soggy playing field.

Mites Whitewash Mules 12-0

In the first game on Tuesday, the Mites pulled out of last week's losing streak to walk all over the U. S. Mules on the slow, slippery field. Forrester and Seymon made the scores for the Mites during the second period.

Frosh Trample Yokels, 23-2

The Y-Frosh romped to a glorious victory over the Local Yokels, snowing them under, 23-2, in the second game on Tuesday. The Y-Frosh were ahead all the way with Thurston, Fowler, Williams, and Motsinger accounting for the 23 points. Birchfield scored 2 for the Yokels on a fourth period touchback.

Kama Outscores Crescents, 34-13

Kama, moving ahead in the second half, outscored the hard fighting Crescents, 34-13, in the first of the cancelled Monday games rescheduled to Wednesday. The Crescents showed an extra burst of luck in the first minutes of the second half when Packard intercepted a Kama pass and went for a T-D, but their luck failed later as Kama added 20 points to the first half 14. McKenzie and Rettke accounted for the first seven Crescent points. B. Brahams, Miracle, Hyatt, and Weber scored the 34 tallies for Kama.

Eight Balls Set Back Odds, 18-7

The Eight Balls set back the undefeated Odds, 18-7, in Wednesday's second game. The Eight Balls led all the way with Reynolds and McJunkin making the touchdowns. Yeaworth scored all seven points for the Odds.

Crescents Take Tau Sigma, 33-7

The Crescents chalked up a win this week in the first game on Thursday by taking Tau Sigma for aride, 33-7. Trotter came through with the only Sigma T-D with Menger making the extra point. Rettke, McKenzie, and Packard showed up again accounting for Crescent scoring.

Odds Pass Over Jets, 12-6

The Jets fought a losing battle as the Odds launched a powerful passing attack to win 12-6. Yeaworth and Yambert both scored on passes in the second period to pull the Odds into the lead. The lone Jets' score came in the first period when Grubbs crossed the goal line.

INTRAMURAL STANDINGS

Orange League

Team	W	L	Pct.
Odds	3	1	.777
Jets	2	1	.666
Eight Balls	2	1	.666
Mitey Mites	1	2	.333
U.S. Mules	0	3	.000

Garnet League

Team	W	L	Pct.
Kama	3	0	1.000
Y Frosh	2	1	.666
Crescents	1	2	.500
Local Yokels	1	2	.333
Tau Sigma	0	3	.000

Wardrobe Separates

Wear this new looking Jersey blouse with our handsomely checked skirt, or mix and match them as you please.

Skirts——

Blouses——

Catch his eye with our Striking Black Dresses—feminine charm in the waist lines, and gently curved hips.

Beau Minded Black

McARTHUR'S

Second Floor—the Fashion Floor

SCOTTIES DEFEAT

(Continued from page three)

score by leaping from the enemy 1 at the beginning of the second quarter. The Scotties were brought near the goal line for the score after overcoming a 15 yard penalty handicap and moving down the field with a twenty yard pass from Boring to Neff and a quick reverse by Baldwin up to the one-yard position.

Campbell Alert at End

A fumble by Caton, Tiger tailback, in punt formation on his own 29 set up the third Scot counter. Jack Campbell, reserve Maryville end, fell on the loose ball. Baldwin took the ball from the Hiwassee 18 to within five yards of the opponent's goal line on one of those swift reverse plays that constantly caught the Hiwassee team off guard. Forgarty drove over right tackle to make his second T. D. of the night. The placement kick was no good, and the half ended with the Scots out in front, 20-.

Caton: The Offense

The Tiger offense was vested almost solely in Raymond Caton, their 140 pound versatile tailback. Outside of their passing attack, which didn't click at all, the Hiwassee offense was motionless without Caton, the key oog.

Merriman, Berrong Streak

The Highlander first string opened the second half and twice knocked at the Hiwassee goal posts before Leon Berrong went over standing up from the Tiger five. On the second play in the final half, "Happy" Merriman slipped away on a freak reverse from the Maryville 40 into the Tiger end zone. An offside penalty against the Highlanders nullified Merriman's 60 yard jaunt. Hiwassee called time, and as soon as play began Merriman fumbled. W. A. Anderson, the Tiger Captain charging from right end, recovered the fumble. The Tigers were held in check and were forced to punt on their fourth down. The punt dropped to Leon Berrong, Scot safety man, on the M. C. 35. With an outstanding block by end Frank Still and a remarkable display of broken field running spiced with a change of pace, Leon reached the Hiwassee 5 before he was overtaken by Giles, a Tiger guard. Then, on the next play, Leon carried the ball over. Neff made good the extra point with a place kick. The score stood 27 to 0 at the end of the third quarter.

Grant Sharpe, third string fullback, lugged the ball through the Tiger defense from the Hiwassee 3 for the fifth and final Scot tally, which came on the first play of the fourth quarter.

Statistics

	MC	H
First downs	16	3
Net yds. rushing	321	31
Yards lost rushing	15	10
Passes attempted	5	6
Passes completed	1	0
Passes intercepted	1	1
Yards interception ret.	11	23
Number punts	4	10
Punting aver. punt	37.1	34.18
Punts blocked	none	none
	MC	H
Yds. punts returned	102	7
Kickoffs returned	1	6
Average return	30	8.3
Number penalties	9	2
Yds. lost on penal.	75	15
Number fumbles	5	1
Fumbles lost	2	1

EXCHANGES

"Joe has a glass eye."
"Didn't he tell you that?"
"No, it just came out in the conversation."

—Purple Clarion

I sat by the Duchess at tea.
That was as it ought to be.
Her rumblings abdominal
Were simply phenomenal,
And everyone thought it was me.

—Courtesy

Harold Henry's Prayer

Now I lay me down to sleep,
The professor's hard, the subject's deep.
If he should stop before I wake
Kick me hard, for goodness sake.

—Scripts and Pranks

It Has Happened There

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Looking Ahead

MOST OF US thought it would never happen. But it has. According to the Associated Press, the House of Commons on August 8 approved a bill giving the British government authority to tell its people where they must work and what they must do. This means that the government may order men and women to do whatever job it pleases; coal mining, farming, fishing — anything. Moreover, it means that the government may choose the place where any man or woman must work.

This is a drastic step. Why is individual freedom thus destroyed by a country with such a long record of high devotion to the individual citizen and to freedom? The answer is simple. Two years ago a socialistic government embarked upon a campaign for government management of leading industries in England. Things were in such a bad way, because of weakness from war, that the people permitted this.

A Last Resort THE SOCIALISTIC government relied upon nationwide sympathy and cooperation. However, this lasted only a few weeks. Then, as absenteeism set in and productivity lagged, the whole system bogged down. The crisis came last winter, when a terrible coal famine came to that country with plenty of coal under ground. Under socialism, crisis thrives on crisis, and there were more to come. In these crises, it is easy for men to accept disaster, if they think it will prevent more disaster.

This is what has happened. In an apparent final resort to keep government management of industry from becoming a complete failure, the British are taking this most drastic step. Yes, in peace-time one of the greatest liberty loving countries in the history of the world has given its government authority to draft labor, and to tell each man and woman where to work and what to do.

Let's Have Freedom! DESPITE their great love of liberty, the British people have now found that loss of individual freedom follows adoption of a government managed economy, just as night follows day. It leads to this every time. It is sad to see this great country, like others that have accepted the blandishments of socialism, willingly give up the freedoms for which her people have shed blood through the centuries.

A considerable number of our people are evidently inspired by foreign ideologies, and some are asking for government control of American industry. This step England is now taking is a real warning to all American workers that with government management of industry there must surely come government dictation to workers. The workers, in the face of constant crisis, are told where to work and what to do.

Seeing that these things point in every direction toward a totalitarian government, our people should make up their minds now that we do not want government managed economy. What is happening in liberty loving England is proof that such dictation cannot be avoided once government management is adopted. Let us determine now that such a blight shall not fall upon the freedom loving land of America.

Curt Barnett: Dull party, isn't it?
Rush Lester: Yes.
Curt: Let's go home.
Rush: I can't; I'm the host.

Once I was young and careless,
And Archie was I called.
Now I am old and hairless,
And they call me, Archibald.

—Lehman Journal

HOLD THAT POSE!

Let "Daddy Webb" take your picture.

WEBB STUDIO

EXTRA! Delicious BAKERY GOODS

LYNCH BAKERY

Supplies For School

Prepare yourself adequately for the coming school term. We have everything you'll need!

See our Selection of fine Gifts appropriate forevery occasion.

BYRNE DRUG CO.

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.

30-Minute Service

between

Maryville and Knoxville

WE WANT YOU TO PLAN A

DINNER PARTY

Then come here to enjoy it. Every one is sure to enjoy our sumptuously prepared food. There is always a pleasant, friendly atmosphere, and reasonable prices here.

CATE CAFE

WINTER WARMTH — COLLEGE STYLE

This heavy Forstmann fleece coat is ideal for winters at Madison, Wis., where Jean Middleton, 278 Ridge Ave., Winnetka, Ill., is a student at the University. The coat, from Marshall Field & Company's college shop, where Jean is modeling in "Campus Junction," is of a warm tonst color, is double-breasted, has six self-covered buttons and a removable shawl-like hood with self fringe. Brown alligator shoes, and brown suede gloves complete the costume. Jean is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma at Wisconsin.

Farmer and Stapp
BARBER SHOP
Blount National Bank Building

Something from the Boys!

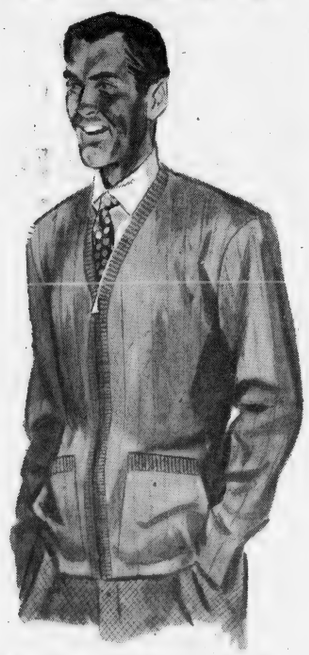
"SADDLE BOYS" in Friendly "Sports"

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Just like his own favorite shoes! Friendly "Saddle-Boys" follow his lead—to lead him right to you.

Bea Friendly

Brown and White
Black and White
Red and White
Blue and White
Green and White



$6.95

Proffitt's

Smart Shoes Main Floor

McGREGOR*

SPORTSWEAR

'n rich English lovat shades!

THE YORKSHIRE QUAD SWEATER

You've never seen colors blended like this! McGregor has styled the famous Yorkshire Quad in sparkling English Lovat shades. It's colorful, comfortable, and warm. And how it wears! Knitted of top-quality yarns, it won't ever sag, shrink or stretch! $5.95

PROFFITT'S

Men's Dept. Main Floor

Since 1919—"The Best Place To Trade"

McGREGOR*

SPORTSWEAR

Real Comfort Throughout Your Leisure Hours!

GREGORY JACKET

Your leisure hours take up a big part of your week. So why not enjoy that time in real comfort, in real luxury! McGregor's Gregory Jacket has everything for your leisure-time enjoyment. Rich, butter-soft, 100% pure wool polo suede... a warm, luxurious lining... and bright, smart colors. For town and country casual wear—it's perfect! $18.95

PROFFITT'S

Men's Dept. Main Floor

"Since 1919 The Best Place to Trade"

THETA-ALPHA SIG

HIKE TONIGHT

THE Highland Echo

CONGRATULATIONS

FROSH OFFICERS

VOLUME 33 | MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, | OCTOBER 4, 1947 | NUMBER 6

Y's Radio Program Goes On Air Next Sun. Over WGAP

The YMCA and the YWCA plan to present a fifteen minute program on Sunday afternoons at 3:30 p. m. over radio station WGAP. Similar programs will be presented each Sunday afternoon throughout the year. The first script, a short dramatization of the beginning of the YMCA at Maryville College, was written by Ben Paxton, sophomore from Pleasant Ridge, Pensylvania.

Castrodale to Announce

Milford Castrodale, senior from Rochester, Pennsylvania, will be the announcer and the cast will be the members of the two organizations.

A delegation from the association spoke to the manager of the station, Mr. Robert Claflin, several months ago, with the purposes of furnishing the community with a good devotional program and supplying the associations with more activities. The station is giving the program time, fifteen minutes each Sunday afternoon, for the entire year.

Y Committee Plans Programs

Detailed programs for the next two months have been planned by a special "Y" committee with the aid of their faculty advisors, Miss Jessie Wild and Mrs. Theodore Pratt. The programs will be of a dramatic and musical nature.

Students Stage Old-Fashioned Melodrama Oct. 24

"The Widow's Plight", a burlesque melodrama, by Louise Hellwell and Marion P. Willoughby will be one of two presentations staged by the Experimental Theater on October 24.

Directed by Ruthellen Crews who is assisted by Zoe Sayre, its cast is filled by such lights from last year as Ben Paxton as Bludsoc Heartensole, Tim Sykes as Tabias Trout, Bill Nish as the "Man in the Picture Frame", Margy Newland as Mazda, Glenn Knecht as the policeman and Margery Prall as Mrs. Crockett. Bettie Marie Davis will portray Araminta Haratensale, Marvin "Tex" McKenzie will play Herodius Blitherington, Mrs. Sartin, Pat Dennis, and Mrs. Pert, Wilma Davis.

Committees Announced

Behind the scenes will be Bob B. Holley, House Manager, Marian Pope, Stage Manager, and Alberta Ahler, chairman of the Costume Committee. Serving with her on the Costume Committee are Dorothea Fredericks and Jackie Morton, while on the Make-up Committee will be Pat Lovelace, Wilma Robertson and Peggy Brooks. Working on properties will be Joyce Hampton, Millie Simmons and Irene Tedford, and the staging and sets will be manned by Bob Thompson, Dick Black, Glenn Rice and Marian McBride. Ed Vanderslice is doing the electrical work.

BAINONIANS PLAN MUSICAL PROGRAM

Bainonian members will hear a musical program at the meeting tonight in Bainonian Hall at 6:15.

At the last meeting Betty Seagraves read an article written about 1879 by a charter member of the Bainonian telling of the formation of Bainonian as a literary society.

The society's initiation ending last week consisted of a relay race with a dictionary, the top of a piano stool, and a globe; the singing of the Bainonian song; and a barefoot race of the new members up the walk to the book store. Later the initiates had to hunt for their shoes which had been scattered over the lawn in front of Pearsons.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Men's Glee Club will rehearse every Wednesday evening at 6:45. Mr. Hughes urges all members to be present since the music has arrived and regular practice can begin.

Knoxville Company Places 5 Bendixes In Dormitories

Two Bendix coin-operated machines will be installed in Pearsons, two in Baldwin and one in Memorial within the next few days. Installation is delayed because the concrete foundations must stand three or four days after pouring before the washers can be installed. The Automatic Laundry Service Company of Knoxville is responsible for the expense of installation and upkeep of these machines. The girls will pay a dime for nine pounds of laundry. Because the dime will operate the machine for a limited time the machine cycle must be set so that it will be completed before the limit is up; therefore a representative of the company will demonstrate the washing procedure for the girls before the machines are released for operation.

Miss Frances Massey, Dean of Women, has sponsored the project.

Theatre Presents "Senor Freedom"

Experimental Theatre will open its 1947-48 season Friday, October 24, with two plays, one of which will be Senor Freedom, by Jean Lee Latham. Betty Seagraves and Tom Eckert will co-star in the production, which is under the direction of Mary Mitchell Woolridge with Mary Merriweather as assistant director. Miss Seagraves plays the part of Delores, the good hearted heroine, and Mr. Eckert plays Juan, a courageous rebel. They are supported by Dorothy Holverson as Gina, the housekeeper; Carrol Stegall, the leader of the rebels; and Ann Jenkins who is Bruna.

Senor Freedom is the story of a man torn between love and duty to his country. Civil war, which is so common in South America, serves as a background.

Miss Meiselwitz Speaks At Faculty Club Oct. 6

Miss Gertrude Meiselwitz, professor of home economics, will speak on "Starvation and its Consequences' at the monthly meeting of the Faculty Club, October 6, at 7:30 p. m. in Fayerweather Hall. The supper will be prepared and served by students in the home economics department.

Y's Plan Inter-Racial Program

The Y. M. and Y. W. have joined forces to set-up an Inter-racial Committee, this being done through the Y. W. Missions and the Y. M. Inter-racial Committee.

Meetings Conducted

Meetings are being conducted at a local Negro church to further Inter-racial understanding. These meetings are held each Friday from 3:30 to 4:30 at the A.M.E. Zion Methodist Church, where approximately fifty young people of grade and high school age attend.

Program

The program is divided into four units starting with a worship service followed by a lesson on the order of a summer vacation Bible school lesson, after which a period of recreation follows. The program is brought to a close with a period of crafts. It will be on a year round basis.

Teaching Staff

Since a number of people have signed up to teach each activity, the Committee has announced it may be necessary to alternate two staffs. As yet, however, no definite plan has been worked out.

PRE-MEDS HEAR DR. BURCHFIELD

Dr. George W. Burchfield of Maryville, will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Pre-Med Club; which will be held on Thursday, October 9. Dr. Burchfield, who is a local eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, has a small hospital opposite the court house.

The Pre-Med picnic was held on Thursday night, September 25, and was attended by approximatle seventy people. Committees for the picnic were: Food—Anna Jane Brunson, Lloyd Anderson, and Irma Jean Benedict; Fire—Sid Lambert, Bob Bruce, and Charles Flodd.

The program co-chairman were Argyle King and Walter Dean.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club will meet October 13 in the "Y" rooms. German songs will be sung, which will be led by the German Glee Club.

At the last meeting letters from German young people were given to those members who wished to correspond with them.

Wheelerianism, Facultonism Replace Ancient Philosophies

BY ILDA MOSBY

Maryville College students and faculty have found it necessary to deviate from the ancient philosophical schools of thought in their search for some motivating interest. Here have been formulated new concepts. As is natural these schools are known by the names of their groups or leading exponents. Students and faculty have been quizzed to determine just what groups are here represented.

Wheelerian Theory Important

Perhaps the most important, or at least, most widely approved, is the Wheelerian. Tom Wheeler, when asked what interests him most, replied, "Food". He added that his thoughts usually center around the contemplation of the next time he will be able to eat. Among his followers are Bill Proffitt whose branch is Steakism, Ken Olsen whose interest is not so specific, Ruth Pemberton, Ruth Humes, and Pinky Ahler. The interest of Mrs. Betty Pinner has changed since. she states. "Food is too high-priced any more to be interesting."

Women Prefer Baseball

Contrary to popular belief, women evince more interest than men in baseball. A survey of the Worldserisian group shows six women to one man. Marion Henderson, Betty Caldwell, Winnie Schaumberg, Alice Davenport, Jane Jessup, and Nonagene Morrow all expresed their vital interest in this subject. Bob Watkins was the sole man to announce the World Series as his main interest.

Other sports have their exponents. For instance, basketball David Yeaworth; Intramurals George Stanfill; football, Lloyd Anderson and Joyce Hampton.

The Intellectualists are represented by members of all classes. Betty Saint, Kathy Boyer, Jackie Morton, Bette Belle Alverson, and Tex MacKenzie(?) are greatly interested in getting through school.

G.I.'s Anticipate Check

Steagallianism's greatest advocate is its founder, Carrol Steagal whose numerous treasureships created his initial interest. Howard Cameron, a member of this sect, ponders long over the arrival of his G.I. check, while Ben Sheldon waits hopefully for the tenth of October.

Leading the Facultonian school is Dr. Edwin Hunter whose main concern is whether or not the world will blow up. This group is not dominated by one particular thought, but contains all the subgroups represented by students. The faculty Intellectualist seems to be Miss Elizabeth Jackson whose problem is getting her papers graded. Dean Massey was too busy to give her views as she had to hurry to an interview (see J. Black in the next paragraph). Miss Nathalia Wright showed concern about two subjects, time (to quit work), and Mr. Marshall's troubles. "Mom" Worley likes to show what makes people the way they are and classes them to be

(Continued on page four)

News Capsules—

By DON WHELAN

Political Potpourri

The nation's two major parties ried for the limelight this week as the Democrats got a new National Chairman amid verbal sniping from Republican quarters. Robert E. Hannegan, resigning on doctor's orders, was replaced by Senator J. Howard McGarth of Rhode Island. Pointing to possible closer cooperation between party leaders in and out of the Congress, Democratic legislators unanimously applauded the new Chairman of the National Committee. Both McGrath and Hannegan will retain their other positions, that of Senator and Postmaster-General respectively. Tennessee's B. Carroll Reese, Republican National Chairman, voiced the expected and lone dissent to the general Sweetness & Light.

Meanwhile, Sen. Bob Taft (R.-O) was making the G.O.P. "Grand Tour" of the West. Predicting Republican victory in 1948, he assailed his opponents in the administration as members of the "unnatural party."

Baseball Battle

As the classic World Series moved to Ebbets Field in Brooklyn Thursday, the American League champion New York Yankees led the National's Brooklyn Dodgers by two games to one.

Who's a Warmonger?

"You're another!" continued to oe the international watch-words. U.S.S.R. Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky repeated previous charges of war-mongering last week. Lining up for a tongue-lashing by the white-haired Russian were U S. Republicans John Foster Dulles, and Warren Austin, Britain's Hector McNeil, Columnist Walter Winchell, and American press-radio in general. Miraculously escaping the deluge were the American people, including Harry Truman, who, M. Vishinsky said, "is not a war-monger." This and the fight over seating of India or the Ukraine on the Council, and admitting Finland and Italy to the Assembly caused experts to agree only that the East does not understand the West and vice versa.

Food Feud

President Truman's recently appointed food committee reported that additional exports will not hurt the U.S. Mr. Truman himself appealed to the nation to waste less, though still undecided Friday whether to call a special session of Congress in the matter. Republican Charlie Halleck, however, criticised the president for considering a special session on such short a notice.

Mississippi Mess

Governor Fielding Wright threatened to put National Guards men with "shoot to kill" orders on busses in that state if order is not restored in the Southern Bus Lines dispute.

Revolutionary Ramblings

Cuban authorities say they have noipped a revolt brewing in the Dominican Republic. Hundreds of prisoners have been rounded up in police raids.

Destroyer Destroyed

A United States destroyer sank in the Adriatic Sea off Trieste, Italy, last week. Three men were killed and twelve injured.

COLLEGE CALENDAR

Saturday, October 4
—Girls's Choir Picnic
—Theta-Alpha Sig Hike
6:15—Societies Meet

Sunday, October 5
1:30—YW and YM Meet
7:00—Vespers
8:00—Student Vols

Monday, October 6
7:30—Faculty Club

Tuesday, October 7
5:00-10:00—Town Night

Wednesday, October 8
6:45—Men's Glee Club Practice

Thursday, October 9
6:45—Pre-Med Club Ministerals

George Ogle Elected Freshmen Class Prexy

Dr. Lloyd Lectures Sen. Ethics Class

Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd began a series of lectures addressed to the senior class on "Grounds of Christian Beliefs" last Thursday, October 2.

Returning recently from a trip to Philadelphia, Dr. Lloyd took the place of the regular professor Dr. H. E. Orr, who has taught the ethics class for the past several years. With the exception of last year Dr. Lloyd has made it a practice to lecture the class in a series in which he attempts to explain the relationship between morals and religion.

This phase of ethics was previously the course in philosophy called theism, but was discontinued as such, and the plan was inaugurated to include it in the present senior requirement.

Spending the past week in Philadelphia, Dr. Lloyd participated in a meeting of Presbyterian College Presidents which assembled in special session to further their study of Christianity in Higher Education.

Three Main Topics

Beginning his addresses with a necessarily brief discussion on the philosophies of the world, he continued it Friday with an introduction to the religions of the world. He will conclude with a discussion on the central beliefs of Christianity.

Because he has such a short time to cover what needs the study of a full course, Dr. Lloyd is mainly presenting an outline which covers the beliefs and fallacies of various philosophies and religions.

GIRL'S CHOIR HAS PICNIC AND HIKE

The annual picnic and hike of the Girls' Choir will be held this evening at Montvale. Due to excessive expense, it was found unwise to make the customary trip to Gatlinburg. Chaperones for the evening are Miss Massey and Mr. Hughes.

Tomorrow evening the choir will sing for Vespers, which will begin a series of appearances on the first Sunday of each month in place of the regular vesper choir.

CUMMINGS, BREEN, CLARK, BLACK, JOIN COUNCIL

Theta-Alpha Sig Hold Moonlight Hike and Picnic

Theta Epsilon and Alpha Sigma will hold a moonlight hike and picnic tonight. Meeting in front of Science Hall at 7:30 p. m. they will follow the three mile loop, ending at the picnic grounds where the new members will be required to entertain all old members.

Following the program refreshments will be served, including weiners, baked beans and marshmallows.

Margaret Newland and Joe Claude, program chairman of the respective societies have planned the hike.

Dr. and Mrs. Verlon M. Queener and Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Pieper will chaperone.

Miss Henry, Stud. Help Director, Takes Trip

Miss Clemmie J. Henry, Director of Student Help here in Maryville, left last Monday morning for a business trip to Nashville, Tennessee. Miss Henry went in the capacity of a board member of the Tennessee Federation of Women's Clubs. She returned home Wednesday afternoon.

Proffitt Announces Junior Committees

Bill Proffitt, president of the junior class has announced the following junior committees. Heading the program committee is Harold Hunter, assisted by Rush Lester and Marion Pope. Fred Richardette is chairman of the decoration committee with Janice Lindsay and Zoe Sayre as Committee members. The refreshment committee is headed by Jane Huddleston who will be assisted by Martha Ann Blount and Earl Martin. David Campbell will direct the publicity for junior events. The annual Hallowe'en party will be the first junior affair of the year.

Officers Selected Last Wednesday

George Ogle was elected president of the freshmen class in the election held all day last Wednesday by the Student Council. Ogle, who lives in Pittsburgh, was one of two nominees chosen at the class meeting held after Wednesday chapel last week. He plans to major in psychology. Bob Larson, a pre-ministerial student from Coral Gables, Florida, was elected vice-president.

4 Councilmen Elected

Janet Cummings, Judy Breen, Andy Clark, and Dick Black were the candidates selected by the class majority in the final vote. Miss Cummings is a local student, who is taking a pre-med course; Miss Breen, who hails from West Palm Beach, Florida, plans to major in English. The two men, Andy Clark, Loysville, Pennsylvania, and Dick Black, Baltimore, Maryland, have chosen the ministerial and chemistry field, respectively. Black, who strongly resembles the YMCA president, is a brother to Jim Black, a junior.

Wills, Thurston Chosen

Mary Wills and Jimmie Thurston were elected to fill the positions of secretary and treasurer, respectively. Miss Wills, who like Black is from Baltimore, Maryland, plans to enter the field of religious education. Thurston, a native Tennessean, Chattanooga, will major in mathematics.

The freshman election gives the class a right to act as an independent group now, having selected their own leaders. Until the election, the Student Council was almost wholly in charge of the class activities.

Charles F. Webb Speaks At YWCA

Mr. Charles F. Webb, professor of English at the University of Tennessee, will discuss "Pertinent Points on Christian Living" at the Y. W. meeting tomorrow afternoon. Mr. Webb lives in Maryville and is a prominent member of New Providence Presbyterian Church.

Ruth Ramsey, junior music major from Ohio, will provide special music

Montvale Hike Planned

The "Y." will sponsor its annual hike up to Montvale in October. Betty Caldwell athletic director, announced. Busses will leave campus at 1:30 p. m. Following the hike the girls will return for a picnic supper and program around the campfire.

Induction Service Held

A candle light induction service was held in the ampitheatre last Sunday night, a week late because of rainy weather.

New girls followed a path which was lit at intervals with candles held by cabinet members. Upon reaching the woods each girl lit her candle. A brief program followed.

Hymns were sung on the way to and from the ampitheatre.

The program was planned by Grace Ellen Cross and Elizabeth Crawford.

Pre-Ministerials Hear The Rev. Earle Crawford

The Rev. Earle Crawford, associate pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Knoxville, will be the speaker at the October 9 meeting of the Ministerial Association. The meeting is scheduled for 6:45 in Bartlett. Singing is to be led by Ray Holsey; Herb Parsons will preside. Ben Sheldon will introduce the speaker.

Newspapers Published In 1897 Give Accounts of Early Maryville Events

BY DICK SPRAGUE

A few years ago, 1897 to be exact, there was no HIGHLAND ECHO; however, a college column was regularly published in the MARYVILLE TIMES. Though their scoops sound a little odd today perhaps we should say "odder"—they read something like the items that follow:

During the recent snow, students availed themselves of the opportunity of coasting. Sleds of all shapes and forms (but not resembling airplanes) were seen on the track (and not by this correspondent).

Last Saturday a certain Greek professor and his family went across a certain river on a visit. While on that side, the river rose, and consequently the Greek classes were not held until the professor was able to return.

Sports Editor, note: The bulletin for the checker players in the last power house from the last reports stands as follows: Thomas 8. Wilson 3.

Ditto, Sports Editor: The ball game last Saturday was interesting only on one side, for it was too much in favor of this college to make an interesting game.

Ditto, Maryville Coed: The boys were looking forward to the opening of school with much pleasure when they would break up their bachelor's club and take their meals with the fair naids of the College. One ad placed in the Maryville Times read: Wanted—A hostess to invite us to breakfast, dinner, or tea at any hour of any day. Bachelor's Club.

The faculty granted a vacation to the students that they might attend the "carnival" at Knoxville last Tuesday. A large number of students took advantage of the excursion and spent a profitable and pleasant day.

School was dismissed Monday because of the breakage of one of the main steam pipes which heat the college.

Hamilton's professor gave him permission to stop off in Chattanooga to see his girl.

The chain gang is at work cleaning out ditches and dressing up the avenues in general (Perhaps that's an idea for 1947, Mr. Black).

The new electric clock on College Hill serves as a great convenience, as well as for curiosity.

Ivy has been planted around Anderson Hall. It is hoped that it won't be long until it appears as it would if it had been planted 25 years ago, which it should have been.

The Athenians can still claim that the name which the society bears is what it should be.

The Alpha Sigma was strictly Alpha Sigma and we are glad to show to the people that we are still in a flourisihng condition and we take hearty congratulations of many friends as an in-

(Continued on page four)

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 32 NUMBER 6

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser
Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor
Kenneth Olsen ..... Sports Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Grace Gugger, Naomi Hoffman, Ilda Mosby

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Herbert McCallum, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF
Ruth Williams ..... Business Manager

SENIOR ASSISTANT
Mary Jane Long

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANT
Bob Watkins

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1947

GEORGE OSCAR IS INNOCENT!

You probably know George Oscar. He's that fella that wanders idly over the campus, doing what he wills when he wills, while at the same time—

Someone destroyed most of the Rec Hall card tables which were carefully chosen with donated time and purchased with a minimum amount of money.

George Oscar didn't do it.

Someone never recognizes the fact that study hours exist. He whistles, talks loudly, and keeps his radio blaring.

But that isn't George Oscar!

Someone sits around waiting to be entertained, wondering why socially minded people don't seek his advice, but not his labor.

George Oscar isn't guilty, though.

Someone heard a rumor that a certain organization was being unduly mistreated by a certain party or parties. He heard just one side and didn't bother to investigate the other. He merely added his voice to the protesting chorus.

George Oscar doesn't repeat rumors.

Someone—it actually happens—leaves gum sticking on the underneath side of his dining room plate. He is assisted by approximately nine other people during each meal.

George Oscar doesn't chew gum.

Someone becomes terribly irritated because his expected package or letter hasn't arrived, usually due to the negelct of home folks. He grumbles unceasingly about the inefficiency of the post office.

George Oscar doesn't expect packages.

Someone wants an editorial written, but he'd rather not sign his own name to a "Letter to the Editor".

George Oscar is neutral in the matter.

Someone worked hard on a campus social; he spent hours planning a program, buying light refreshments for 600 people, working on posters, talking with the deans about possibilities. Someone keeps an organization going by keeping a faint hope, accepts criticism, and tries again.

No, George Oscar didn't do it! !

LOST, PLEASE FIND

Once upon a time there was a sign which hung in front of the piano practice house, one which read "Maladjusted Musicians." But the sign is no more, much to the dismay of most students. Why, we don't know, but we suspect another George Oscar and the probability that the sign's final resting place is the same as a lot of posters.

One must admit that it added a little spice to the campus, and we, representing a group, wouldn't mind seeing it replaced in its rightful habitat.

HURRY BACK, COACH

From all reports we've heard this is the first time Coach Honaker has missed any of his team's games because of illness, and we're willing to bet he's doing everything but cursing his fate this very day.

We don't want this to sound like a sentimental "get well card," but that is what we want to say. Hurry back, Coach; the campus needs you.

Much Echo About Nothing

BY CRAIG FISHER

Caution to proofreader: Secure gas mask before reading.

(Editor's Note: You said it, but I cut it.)

PREFACE: My cerebration (i.e. cogitation) over the last column took two inches of top soil off my brain. May Allah grant that that will cut down the corn yield. Amen.

TITLE: Leafing through old Echoes we jotted down some titles, brilliant and otherwise, which this column's gone by. One Senator Hegner called it "The Weakly Filibuster", another called it "Old Spice," while another wry wit labeled it "ecHO-HUMor." Then of course the two braincells' "Dr. Echo and Mr. Hide" can't be left out. Any suggestions from the rear of the room won't be appreciated.

EIGHTY TWO Shopping days left till Christmas.

POME:

I step on the starter; it works.
I jazz up the motor; it perks.
I let out the clutch; it jerks.
"Holy Smokes! Wrong Car!"
"Mitch" Mitchell

INVENTORY: Last Tuesday, just after supper, we saw Tom Lang draped over a bench near Pearsons brooding over the sidewalk. Questioned, he told us he was taking an inventory, and when we pressed him he explained: "The girls. You see, I count all the legs and divide by two."

Which raises the question, how could he count the girls the way things are? These new styles, I mean. Don't they give you the let-downest feeling?

SAID Mary Webb as Andy Clark crawled out from under the unmentionables in the Baldwin backyard with the tennis ball, his face the color of the label on a tomato can, "Pah, you can see all that in a Sears-Roebuck Catalogue."

As the deadline was breathing down my neck the other night, I went and sat down in the library. Inspiration bit me, and in my delerium I produced

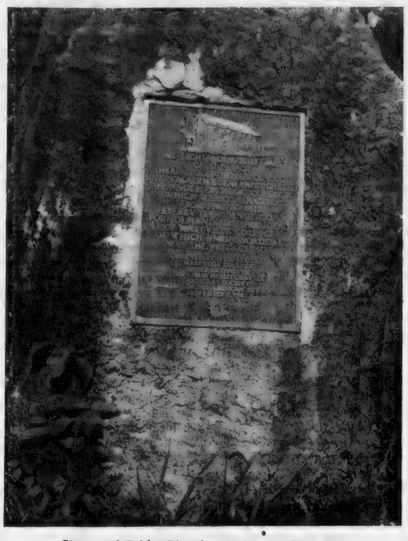
IMPRESSIONS AND DESCRIPTIONS: Hunter—voice of the turtle; Swenson—starry eyed; Lib Baird—serious type; Kirby—loud; Saunders—stupendous; Webb—frivolous; Bea Siebold—strong and silent; Carden—he man; Dinges—heaven forbid; Sarah Hastins—helpless; Stovall—we're not related; Brick Brahams—"Awright!"; Hoffman and Gugger—Benedict Arnold; Yeaworth—"I don't agree." Janet Blackmoore—demurr; Howard Cameron—a bit howy-howy; John Baird—timid; Earnest—"Duck, a door's coming.." Castrodale—Foghorn No. 1; Ribble—Fog horn No. 2; Lesnick—moonstruck; Kathy—moonstruck; Sarah Durant—Billy Goat Gruff; John Russ—"Look, no comb." Red Johnson—Perry Como; Bob Connell—Frankie! Knecht—"I'm not Kramer—yet." Calloway—tough but oh so gentle: Pancoast—"I disagree." Hallock—It's time to leave now, boys."

CONTEST: The Athenian and the Alpha Sigs, firm in the conviction that nine out of ten girls are pretty and that the tenth one came to Maryville (a view to which I don't subscribe), are sponsoring a "Girl We Left Behind" contest, in the interests of selecting a Miss Maryville in Absentia. The deadline was twelve o'clock last night for all entries. Entries are on display in the new Student Union buidling. The winner is to receive a free ticket to our mid-winter prom.

Type X9B is leading by a fair margin, though all returns aren't in. Though the picture is unsigned, it is thought that Hap Brahams sent it in. The resemblance to a California orange is remarkable.

Rush Lester entered his X-rays by mistake and was disqualified.

THE SLOGAN of this column: Why buy? We'll steal! and so in that spirit we bring you a few last pieces of verse, the first one dedicated to Lady Mac.



Little Scotty
Asleep on a log,
Forest Fire,
Hot dog.

And finally, a verse culled from Virgil:

Royabus kissabus sweet girlorum,
Girlabus likeabus, wanti someorum,
Matronus hearabus sweet kissorum,
Kickabus boyabus outa the doorum.

(Exuent rapidly)

"Mr. Anderson's Log College" Considered Maryville Beginning

Stone and Tablet Placed at Union Academy Site

BY DOROTHY VAWTER

In 1802, Rev. Isaac Anderson founded Union Academy, which was destined to become the predecessor of Maryville College. On November 2, 1941, over a century and a quarter later. On the ninth annual Founders Day, a dedication ceremony was held on the site of "Mr. Anderson's Log College". At this ceremony a stone and tablet were placed by the College, under the auspices of the Simon Harrs Chapter of the D. A. R., Knoxville, in Grassy Valley, located about eight miles northeast of Knoxville. This monument stands near the road on a spot within sight of the original location of Union Academy. It marks a spot that is important not only in the history of Maryville College but in the complete history of East Tennessee as well, because the "Log College" and Dr. Anderson's widespread religious activities had a well-defined influence on the cultural development in the section.

Illinois Governor Student

That culture was not lacking in the early nineteenth century is made very obvious by Mr. John Reynolds, who was a student in Union Academy in 1809 and later became governor of Illinois, in his autobiography entitled My Own Times. The following passage is quoted from his book.

"The society, near Knoxville, then the seat of the State Government, was polished and fashionable. Under the circumstances, what anguish of feelings I was bound to suffer? . . . I was a singular spectacle, when I started, in 1809 to college. I looked more like a trapper going to the Rocky Mountains, than a student to college.

"The Latin grammar was the first book put into my hands. . . The first small Latin book I read after the grammar was, I think, Corderi. . . . Caesar's Commentaries on his Gallic wars was studied by me, and much admired. Ovid's Metamorphosis was also read attentively.

"In this work were philosophy, religion, and many great principles combined.

Saturday Considered Awful

"At this college it was the custom to read compositions on one Saturday, and the next to deliver orations. This rule is a good one; but the performance of it was to me a great trial, particularly the speaking on Saturdays. All the two weeks previous, and in fact all the weeks, this awful day was looked upon by me with deep and intense feeling.

"Writing the composition was a closet performance, be it good or bad; that any one could do, according to his will and capacity; but the reading of them to the teacher was to me very painful. His gentle and kind criticism on the pieces wa smore to sooth my perturbed spirit than otherwise.

Orations From Memory

"The orations were committed to memory, and spoken to a full house of students, and others, with the venerable and learned preceptor presiding, with that noble dignity which seems to be the birthright of the Rev. Isaac Anderson.

"Also at this college, at the

(Continued on page four)

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

After reading Herb McCallum's comments on our loud-speaker coverage of the Hiwassee game, we'd like to pass along a few remarks explaining why we don't announce the games via the "play by-play" method.

Our purpose is merely to reveal the downs, yards-to-go, penalties, substitutions, etc., which are difficult to distinguish from various parts of the stands—depending on where the ball lies.

We could, as he suggested, announce when a team is in punt formation, etc. However, we feel that such announcements are unnecessary. So many P. A. announcers around the country talk merely for the sake of talking, which can become very annoying by the end of the game. We want to avoid unnecessary "gab" if possible and bring only announcements of primary importance to the fans.

A play-by-play system is good over the radio, but there is little sense in telling people what "a beautiful night it is for football"—when they know as well as we do what kind of a night it is! Likewise, when a player goes back to punt, very few fans will think he is walking back for his health or to sell popcorn.

No, we admit that we're a far flung cry from Ted Husing or Bill Stern—neither do we make a pretense of describing things that can't be seen—when they can.

Sorry to differ with you, Herb. Thanks for the criticism anyway. We'll watch our grammar from here on out—you watch your punctuation.

Your "Blare Buddies",
Cowan and Sykes.

Hamburgers
Sandwiches
Hot Sandwiches
Salads
Hot Plates
Cold Plates
Pie (all types)
Drinks
Doughnuts
Candies
Served With Promptness
C. & L. CAFE

BILL STERN'S "ALL STAR" SWEATER PICK!

PURITAN'S "Natch" Letter Sweater

NATCH $8.50

Colors
WHITE
MAROON
BLACK
BLUE
ORANGE
RED
GREEN

Bill Stern, famous sports authority, picked these sparkling Puritan sweaters in a host of glowing colors right off the country's leading campuses. Available in coat style, crew-neck and short V-neck pullovers of 100% virgin wool.

NATDALE $6.50

Available colors:
YELLOW
BLUE
BROWN
WHITE
RED
TAN

NATMOOR $5.95

"Maryville's Most Popular Store"

MOSER'S CLOTHING STORE.

Reach Her Heart With Flowers!

The way to a woman's heart is through her love for flowers. . . Send Flowers on every occasion, once in a while on sheer impulse, and romance will sparkle! Drop in today and place an order.

FOX FLORIST

KIDS, First Plan a Party—then Shop for All Party Foods Here.——We have All of Them.

THE J&K SUPER STORES
-Corner Church and Court Sts.-

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

Good evening, fans. As "Scotlights" again reaches you on a Saturday evening reading the weekly edition of Highland Echo, our Maryville Highlander football sqaud is probably already on their way home from another round of battle in their nine game schedule. We do hope they're bringing home the bacon this time, too.

What happened this afternoon around two o'clock when the Scots swarmed onto the backyard of the Colonels at Danville, Kentucky, by now is history. Whether the Scots succeeded in sidetracking the Colonels is still a puzzle in our football crystal ball. But for the little elements of time and distance, we should have the results across this sports page.

The Scotties were expecting no tea party at Danville this afternoon. By leaving a day before the game they were eliminating the chance of "bus sickness" downing their spirits for the game. On the whole, they were in good physical shape for a game when they left yesterday morning. Baldwin, starting wingback, was left behind with an infected foot. With the exception of minor sprains and bruises, the starting eleven were fit for a fight. As for the opponents, the Centre lads inaugurated their season last week with a 28-6 win over the Tusculum Pioneers of Greeneville, Tennessee, on their home field.

The Colonels Have

The Colonels, a powerhouse in their section of Kentucky, have much of advantage in their struggles this year. First, they have Coach Carl "Swede" Anderson, their head coach, who was formerly at the University of Indiana until last season. Their starting team has practically the same line as last season, but a big switch-up in the backfield. With a year of preparation under their new coach, no one could expect the Colonels to be any less effective in the current season.

M-C Best Last Year

Last year, we remind ourselves, the Colonels opened their schedule on Wilson field. They had pretty heavy material in the line and a relatively fast backfield; however, like many teams on opening nights, they were dreadfully out of shape. Today four of their starting line of last year's game were back to face the Scots. Maryville was rated slightly under the Colonels in their meeting in 1946. The outcome of the game disproved the pre-game estimates, however, for Maryville blanked the Colonels, 19-0.

Pioneers Bow To Centre

Tusculum's Pioneers were supposively more powerful than the Colonels in their fray last week. Nevertheless, the Danville boys by slick strategy with their treacherous unbalanced line combined with a cockeyed T backfield formation slipped two touchdowns over the Pioneers in the third quarter to make the Greeneville guys go home sorrow ladened.

C-N Eagles Take Another

Those Carson-Newman Eagles, perennial arch rivals of Maryville, scored another victory last week. They trounced the Western Carolina Catamounts, 13-7 at Cullowhee, North Carolina, the Cats' headquarters. Tonight the Eagles are to tackle the Emory-Henry Wasps at Madisonville.

First Absence in 26 Years

According to very reliable information, this is the first time Coach Honaker has been absent from a Highlander gridiron contest on account of illness in any of his twenty-six years on the hill. This is sufficient proof that he has been an excellent example of physical fitness to his teams through the years, don't you think?

Terrible Tussle With T.P.I.

About that nightmare at Cookeville last Friday—we don't think it's a good idea to cry over spilt milk, BUT in our simple analysis of the game, we think it's a shame that the Tech-men got away with the game. True, our Scotties lacked something of the spirit to play winning ball at Cookeville, and they were slower than a slow train in Arkansas in getting the ball down the field after the opening kick-off. Despite this, until the Eagles opened their successful passing attack in the third quarter the Scots held their ground in good fashion. Attest to this fact: Maryville (via completed passes) had out-rushed the Tech Eagles by some 15 yards at half-time. Still, had the team played the entire game in the same mind when, as one man, the Highlander forward seven shot through the Tech defense to successfully block that punt in the fourth quarter, the outcome would have been completely different. After that the Scots did settle down as a determined ball team—only too late in the fourth quarter. We're not attempting to explain away the cause of the loss, though, so we'll stop before we offer a string of alibis to possibly cover up the mishap.

Here's hoping the Chattanooga Moccasins gave the Tech team all the roughness they wanted in their tilt last night at Chattanooga.

Some Scots Shone

One face-saving play was the punting of Leon Berrong and Bob Boring, respectively, against the TPI team. The boys averaged well over 43 yds. per try that night.

D. M. Miller and "Woody" Johnson sparked the Highlander offense two times each when something in the way of a spark was needed by the Scots. Johnson surprised the Eagles on two sprints around end, and Miller, a sub at left end, came snorting like Sir Walter Scott's pet dragon around the right end on a triple reverse to give the Highlanders a sizeable gain—when it was badly needed.

Scots Clash With Centre "Colonels" This Afternoon

By KEN OLSEN

The Highlander football squad, on the road again this weekend, meets the Centre "Praying Colonels" this afternoon at Danville, Kentucky. The team left during chapel yesterday. They arrived in Danville in the early afternoon and spent the night at the Gilcher Hotel. The starting whistle blew at two o'clock.

The Scots, still nursing their wounds from last week's fracas and 13-7 defeat at Cookeville, are out to mend their ways today. The Colonels, who won their opening game last week with Tusculum, 28-6, are gunning for the Scots who swamped them last year, 19-0.

Coach Honaker and Baldwin Absent

Two empty spaces on the Scot bench today are those usually occupied by Coach Lombe Honaker and first string wingback Bennie Baldwin. Coach Honaker, who also missed the T.P.I. game, is still convalescing from a severe case of flu. Baldwin has an infected foot.

Team of Twenty-Nine

Line Coach "J. D." Davis, griding the team in the absence of Coach Honaker, took twenty-nine men with him on the bus. They are Anderson, Andes, K. Berrong, L. Berrong, Boring, Calloway, Campbell, Clark, Davis, Easter, Fogarty, Garner, Holsey, Johnson, Kluth, Larson, Law, Merriman, Miller, Neff, Newman, Pinner, Proffitt, Rock, Sharp, Still, Talbott, Thomas, and Walker.

Scot Line

The probable starting line for Maryville will be Ken Talbott and Howard "Hard" Davis at end, Fred Kluth and Allan Rock at the tackle spots, and Lloyd Anderson and Captain Ronald "Cotton" Easter at guard, with Howard "Pie" Garner filling the center position. Reserve center Ray Holsey will probably see plenty of service as Garner is still troubled with a rib injury. Second-string end Frank Still will be in some, too, for Davis who was injured last week.

Scot Backfield

In the Scot backfield will be Bob Neff, wingback; King Berrong, twoback; Leon Berrong, tailback; and Harsh Merriman, fullback. Allan "Blondie" Law will fill in at fullback part of the game for Neff, who had trouble with an old ankle injury last week.

Centre Starting Line-Up

Centre will probably start the following men: Handley and Ellis, ends; Wilson and Schreiber, tackles; Inman and Mercer, guards; Walton, center; Lockard, quarterback; Cline, left half; Brummett, right half; and Adams at fullback.

Centre used the "cockeyed T" and wingback formations in the game at Tusculum last week with obvious success.

The outstanding men on the Colonel eleven are right half Joe Brummitt, who made a 60 yard run last week and scored two of the touchdowns; Joe Acton, a sub back, who tallied six more points last week; and guard Briscoe Inman, who does the place kicking for Centre.

CITY DRUG CO.
Oren D. Lowe
Phone 66
Maryville, Tenn.
"Maryville's Leading Prescription Store"

Capitol Theatre
Saturday, October 4
America's No. 1 Cowboy Gene Autry in
"Twilight on The Rio Grande"
Added: A Good Comedy, plus: "Son of Zorro"—the Serial
—Coming Next Week—
Monday-Tuesday
October 6-7
Humphrey Bogart, Barbara Stanwyck, Alexis Smith in
"The Two Mrs. Carrolls"

Coach Honaker Reported Better

Coach Lombe Honaker's condition was reported somewhat improved yesterday, but it is still quite uncertain as to when he shall return to school. Coach became ill last week with influenza and complications which followed.

Although he was confined to bed a week ago last Thursday, September 25, he came to the campus that afternoon to give the football team last minute advice before their tilt with T.P.I. the following day. He was only on the field fifteen or twenty minutes during Thursday, and has been ill since that date.

As yet visitors are not being received.

CHILLIES, HOWIES ELECT LINDSAY, ROCK CAPTAINS

ed in Point System, have elected captains and managers in preparation for games in the future.

The Chillies, which is the name of the group who have been meeting from 3:30 to 4:30 every Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, will play the Howies, the group which has been meeting from 4:30 to 5:30 the same days, this coming week.

Lindsay, Rock Elected Captains

Janis Lindsay was elected captain and Beatrice Siebold manager of the Howies. On the Chillies team Margaret Rock was elected captain and Vera Lusk was elected manager.

TEAMS OF FOUR ENTER SWIM MEET

Intramural swimming meets will be held each Wednesday at 3:30 p. m with the exception of Wednesday, October 15, when the intramural track and field meet is scheduled. All men interested should sign up at the intramural office in teams of four.

The swimming events will include 50 yard free style (crawl), 100 yard free style (crawl), 50 yard breast stroke, 100 yard breast stroke, 50 yard back stroke, 100 yard back stroke, and 200 yard relay (4 men).

Divers are required to attempt three dives; plain front, plain back, and front jack-knife. Two more dives must be chosen from the following list: swan dive, back jack-knife, half gainer, front dive with a half twist, forward somersault, and forward 1 1-2 somersault.

Coach Johnson reported that swim meets will not be scheduled in conflict with intramural football games.

INTRAMURAL TRACK MEET ANNOUNCED

The first intramural track and field meet will be held on Wednesday, October 15, at 3:30 p. m. The track events to be offered are 100 yard dash, 200 yard dash, 440 yard dash, 880 yard run, 1 mile run, 120 yard high hurdles, and 220 yard low hurdles.

Field events to be offered are high jump, pole vault, broad jump, javelin, discus, and shot-put.

The half mile relay will also be run, but it is not necessary to sign up for this event beforehand. The sign-up list for all other events is in the Intramural Office.

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

TOUCH-FOOTBALL

October 6-10

Mon. 3:30 Odds vs Eight Balls
4:30 Crescents vs K. M. A.
Tues. 3:30 Mitey Hites vs U. S. Mules
4:30 Y. Frosh vs Local Yokels
Wed. 3:30 K. M. A. vs Local Yokels
4:30 Eight Balls vs U. S. Mules
Thurs. 3:30 Odds vs Jets
4:30 Crescents vs Tau Sigma
Fri. 3:30 U. S. Mules vs Eight Balls
4:30 Local Yokels vs K. M. A.
*3:30 Mitey Mites vs Jets
*4:30 Y Frosh vs Tau Sigma
*Games one second field

For That Distinction in a Portrait
Visit
WEBB STUDIO

INTRAMURALS

INTRAMURAL STANDINGS

ORANGE LEAGUE

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Odds	5	1	.833
Jets	5	1	.666
Mitey Mites	2	3	.600
Eight Balls	2	2	.500
U. S. Mules	0	5	.000

GARNET LEAGUE

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
K. M. A.	6	0	1.000
Crescents	3	2	.600
Y. Frosh Club	3	3	.500
Local Yokals	2	4	.333
Tau Sigma	0	6	.000

BY MAYNARD NOBLE

K.M.A. vs Tau Sigma

KMA racked another victory for its scorebook early Monday afternoon when they defeated Tau Sigma 32-0. Hap Brahams scored 13; Brick Brahams, Miracle, and Jernigan each accounted for a T.D. while Mathis determined not to be left out of the scoring column made one extra point.

Jets vs Right Balls

At 4:30 p. m. on Monday the Eight Balls defeated the Jets to the tune of 19-0. Hamil scored 13 of the points, while Reynolds scored 6.

Local Yokels vs Crescents

Tuesday afternoon saw the Crescents defeat the local Yokels 14-2. "Tex" McKenzie came through with another T.D. to bring his total to 27 for the season. Ebelacker scored 6 and Rettke accounted for 1. Petree made the 2 points for the Local Yokels.

U.S. Mules vs Odds

The second game on Tuesday saw the Odds strengthen their hold on first place by defeating the Mules 26-0. Tom Yeaworth scored two touchdowns; Bill Uthlaut scored one, while Frank Morton scored one and drop-kicked the extra point.

Tau Sigma vs Y Frosh

In the first game on Wednesday Tau Sigma went down to their second defeat in three days. This time the score was 25-2 in favor of Y Frosh. Fowler scored 18 points while Stanfil. scored 6 and Rohn scored 1. Wainer scored the 2 points for Tau Sigma.

Jets vs. Mitey Mites

In a hard fought game late Wednesday afternoon the Mitey Mites defeated the Jets 6-0. Nelson Forrester scored the only T D. on a pass from Roberts.

K.M.A. vs Y Frosh

For the second time KMA beat Y Frosh 19-13, the very same score under identical circumstances. The score was tied 13-13 at the end of the game. Y Frosh was given the ball and failing to gain the necessary yardage on their downs it was given to KMA who gained enough yardage to win the game. The Brahams brothers each accounted for 6 points, while Pentz scored the extra KMA point. For the Y Frosh Stanfill scored 12 and Fowler made a point.

Mitey Mites vs Eight Balls

In the second game on Thursday the Eight Balls defeated the Mitey Mites 20-7. Reynolds, Ammons, and Largen scored the touchdowns, while Hamil and Ray Lillard scored the extra points for the Eight Balls. Nelson Forrester of Mitey Mites scored their only touchdown; Charlie Roberts accounted for the extra point.

Intramural football ended its third successful week yesterday. Both leagues have proved fairly evenly matched with no one team really being the best.

Y Frosh vs Crescents

Yesterday saw the Crescents upset "Y" Frosh 13-9. Ebelacker scored 12 points for the Crescents while McKenzie scored one. For the "Y" Frosh Rohn scored six. Chiles scored one and Stanfill scored two.

Mitey Mites vs Odds

In the second game on No. 1 field the Odds defeated the Mitey mites, 18-7. Tom Wheeler, Tom Yearout, and Dave Yearworth made the touchdowns for the Odds while Gresham scored six points and Ed Pancoast made the extra point for the Mules.

LoKal YoKals vs Tau Sigma

In the first game on the No. 2 field the Lokal Yokels nosed out Tau Sigma by a 6-0 margin. Verl Petree made the only score when he intercepted a pass on his own twelve and ran for a touchdown.

Jets vs Mules

The poor Mules upheld their record yesterday of not scoring a point all season. However, this game was the closest yet, with the Jets winning by a 8-0 margin.

Get Your Nick-Nacks from Nicely's
"Just 200 Yards of West Gate of Campus"
NICELY'S GROCERY

Back To School For FUTURE SECURITY
Education and Savings go hand in hand.
Let's Move Forward to the Future—with Security
Member FDIC
Blount National Bank

YMCA MEMBERS HEAR QUARTET

The Golden Crown Spiritual Quartet, a colored group of singers, will be presented at the Sunday afternoon meeting of the Y. M. C. A. They will perform several of the well-known and well-loved Negro spirituals, and also some of their specialty numbers which are not so well known. Their program will be given in two groups. It will include, Don't You Want to Be in That Number, Swing Low, Sweet Chariot, The Old Time Religion, and other numbers.

"Caravaning" Is Topic At Student Vols Sunday

"Caravaning" will be the topic at the Student Volunteer meeting tomorrow night at 8:00 p. m. in Bartlett Hall.

Betty Saint, David Campbell and Ruth Humes, who worked on a caravan team this summer, will be in charge of the program. The program will close with all former caravaners singing the "Caravan Song".

Rella Anderson will be the soloist.

Newspapers Published

(Continued from page one)

where they are.

"Girls, or I wouldn't be here," stated Mrs. Jessie Franklin when asked her interest.

Unclassified Theories

Among those as yet unclassified and their consuming interests are: Jim Black, "Can I think faster than Miss Massey?" (He was headed for her office); Brooks Maddux, "riding in a car again"; Woody Coul, "will we get to the moon in thirty years; Dick Ribble, sleeping; Lou Masters, (1) how she'll get her curtains hung, (2) whether she'll ever be the first waitress out of the dining hall; Miss Ware, new shoes and the condition (dirty) of some of her workers' aprons; B. Holly, becoming a serious-minded college student-hoot; Catherine Franklin, one day closer to Friday—as of Wednesday; Martha Hull, losing interest in everything; Ginny Wood, the reason for some rules; Margaret Brown, length of time till Christmas.

From the survey it is possible to see that there is no chance for Maryville to become stagnant. Her people are vitally interested in the present. In the words of R. Cowan, when asked his interest at the present, "Despite anything that can be said about it, it's here."

Wheelerianism

(Continued From Page 1)

work in the future.

centive to higher and nobler

The society, programs which drew these comments consisted of debates, orations, and declamations. There was mentioned the fact that the audiences were well-behaved (What else at MC?) and that among the officers were two elected censors (Now why, pray tell?)

There were 14 graduates in the Spring of '97, the largest commencement class to that date, and there were 14 instructors at the beginning of the Fall term. Tuition was $6.00 a semester and board $1.20 a week, which could be worked off in the Cooperative Club by a few farm chores a day.

The Fayerweather Will Case was settled in court and Maryville's share, $150,000, brought speculation that she would become the Princeton of the South.

It seems that February 22 was a traditional holiday then, probably following February meetings However, as the day drew nigh there was no mention of it. Concerned students consulted the faculty who turned the matter over to a Professor Waller, astronomer. After much deliberation and many observations through his telescope, he decided that February 22 was the wrong day for the celebration and re-scheduled it for March 15.

Oh, for the "good old days", may they rest in peace; and may present day news be as light and enjoyable to the future as the past has been to the present.

LOG COLLEGE

(Continued from Page 2)

close of each session of five months, and 'exhibition', as it was called, was held. A large audience attended, and the scholars not only exhibited their studies before the congregation, but also performed plays, something similar to a theatre. The teachers from all the surrounding institutions were invited, and examined the scholars in their studies.

Although the study of astronomy was pleasing and fascinating, yet much of the science was obtruse and difficult to comprehend.

During the closing sessions at the college I enjoyed much social happiness. I became attached to the preceptor and students, and we mingled together like a band of brothers.

"The preceptor of this school was an accomplished scholar and divine, the Rev. Isaac Anderson, whose learning and piety were known and appreciated far and near. Nature bestowed on him great strnegth and compass of mind. This gentleman instructed a class of young men in his college, and preached every Sabbath to his congregation. He kindly received me into his Seminary, and was a warm benefactor and friend. This institution of learning was situated in a retired valley, where neither temptation nor vice made its appearance. It was six miles northeast of Knoxville, and near the parson's house. A large spring flowed out from the rocks near it, and the whole scenery was charming. The building was comfortable and unpretending".

Relationship Not Legal

These paragraphs give an authentic word picture of Mr. Anderson's "Log College". The relationship between that institution and Maryville College is neither official nor legal since Maryville dates its founding in 1819 when the Synod of Tennessee established it as an institution. However, because of the relation of Dr. Anderson to both institutios and to the New Providence Church, Union Academy can well be called the prodecessor of Maryville College.

The marble boulder erected to mark the location of the Union Academy building is from the quarry of the Tennessee Marble Company near Knoxville and is of the same quality as that taken from the same quarry for the great National Art Gallery in Washington. It is six feet high and four feet across the front, and weighs about six tons. The idea of placing this marker grew out o fa mutual interest of Maryville College and the Siman Harris Chapter of the D.A.R., one of whose activities is the marking of historical sites. The Chapter's interest in this particular site was due in part to the fact that among the members of the Chapter are daughters of Samuel K. Harris who in 1859 purchased the Isaac Anderson farm from Dr. Anderson's granddaughter, Rebecca F Anderson, and the Harris family home was here for many years. This was also of interest to the National Society of the D.A.R. because Maryville College is one of the original schools on the approved-school list maintained by the National Society. At the invitation of the Chapter and with its cooperaton, the College furnished the funds necessary to defray the costs and made the arrangements for the dedication.

The concluding words of Dr. Lloyd's speech at the ceremony were, "Maryville College, therefore, really began here in this valley, in 1802, in the founding of Union Academy, "Mr. Anderson's Log College". That is why we are setting up this great boulder and its tablet for the present and future generations to see and read."

Date Night!

To make a hit with the New Gal you just met in School . . . . be sure that you have a Clean White Shirt for date nights.

9 Pounds Clothes Washed, Rinsed, Damp Dried, Soap, Bleach, and Water 35c

SPECIAL

9 Pounds Washed and Dried 55c

SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY

Phone 1055

It's the style you want in the color you want. Popular thick red rubber sole adds a masculine air. It's smart, roomy, flexible...with proper support built-in and Randcraft quality to make it a real all-around good value.

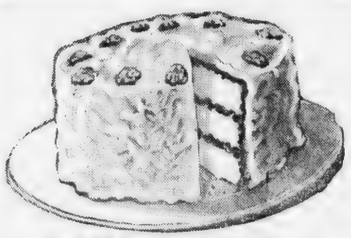
Ask for this style in the new popular OXBLOOD color

$8.75

Randcraft SHOES

FOR MEN and YOUNG MEN

Shoemaker's Shoe Store



(Expert Shoe Fitters)

(Open all day Wednesday and every week day)

ICE CREAM—What could be Better? Try our Sundaes, Sodas, and Malted Milks. They are the Best in town.

PARK DRUG

Just Melts In Your Mouth

Seeking some delicacy, etxra-rich and delicious tasting, for your party? Try one of our three-layer, fluffy-white cakes for an added treat. Swell for after-dinner dessert and between-meal snacks, too!

Quality Baked Goods Always Oven Fresh

LYNCH BAKERY

Compliments of

COLLEGE CLEANERS

See our Agents on the Hill

Mary Gene Lawson—406 Pearsons

Alice Davenport—207 Baldwin

John Spratt—104 Carnegie

These Famous Brands are acknowledged

Style Leaders

★ BOSTONIAN Shoes
★ HYDE PARK Clothes
★ SEVEN SEAS Slacks
★ DISNEY Hats
★ VAN HEUSEN Shirts
★ MANHATTAN Shirts
★ BEAU BRUMMELL Ties
★ WEMBLEY Ties
★ ALLIGATOR Rainwear
★ PHOENIX Hosiery
★ JANTZEN Sweaters
★ HICKOK Accessories
★ TEXTRON Shorts and Pajamas

★These nationally known brands of fine menswear are sold by Maryville's only store for men Exclusively.

Register-Farmer

MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

MEN'S WEAR

Farmer and Stapp

BARBER SHOP

Blount National Bank Building

Radio and Appliances

REPAIR

Work Guaranteed

See Earl Martin on Campus

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.

30-Minute Service

between

Maryville and Knoxville

COSMETICS

All the Famous Brands you will find on our Counters.

Buy Always at—

BYRNE DRUG CO.

Announcing the Opening

ROLLER DROME

SKATING RINK

ELLIS AVE.

Tuesday Evening 7:00 p. m.-10:00 p. m.

Skating Sessions every day except Sunday

Evening Session	Afternoon Session
7:00-10:00	3:00-5:00

Special arrangements for School and Club Parties

Owned and operated by

Margaret and Burl Gregory

PROFFITT'S

Men's Dept. Main Floor

Sure winner

in your Gallop Poll

Scoot along on a lift of color in clever saddles by Teen Age They're quick like a whippet, bright as a penny . . . just the shoe for fast-stepping style.

$6.95

YMCA-YWCA

HIKES TODAY

THE Highland Echo

z 703

CONGRATULATIONS

"DEAR RUTH" CAST

VOLUME 33 MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, OCTOBER 11, 1947 NUMBER 7

Famine Effect Described By Miss Meiselwitz

Reports Results Of U. of Minn. Tests

Wide spread human starvation and recent definite facts about its consequences caused Miss Gertrude Meiselwitz, professor of home economics, to give a report on "Human Starvation and Its Consequences" at the last Faculty Club meeting, October 6.

Miss Meiselwitz stated that nutrition experts have estimated that 80% of the world's population suffers from some type of hunger for food. Doctors and scientists until recently knew less about its consequences than about the rarest tropical diseases.

Study of Problem

Using volunteer conscientious objectors as subjects, the University of Minnesota carried out a series of experiments which were begun during the latter part of 1944. Thirty-six volunteers between the ages of 20 and 33 were selected. Each man was asked to pledge his cooperation for one year. Dr. Ancel Keyes, physiologist with the University of Minnesota Medical School, was selected as director of the project.

"The tests given were of three types; capacity for work, which was controlled by a tread mill; speed and coordination, tested by electrical mazes; and psychological tests for emotion, personality, and intelligence, determined by standardized tests of various kinds. Physical and medical examinations were made daily", Miss Meiselwitz reported further.

Semi-Starvation Period

"The first three months were used as a standardization period to even out nutritional differences. Each man received 3200 calories daily, enough for an adult doing heavy physical labor. . . . . On February 12, 1945 the group was shifted to the semi-starvation dietary. The usual food conditions of the underprivileged were duplicated as nearly as possible. . . . A weight loss of 25% for each was the goal. . .

Mental Anxiety

"Mental anxiety before mealtime increased daily. The men were well aware of what was happening to them, but could not control their irritability. . . felt cold all the time, and slept under two and three blankets in the middle of July. . . All primitive drives except hunger disappeared. Although the men lived in the midst of a large co-ed university population, they showed no interest in women or social activities. They spent hours discussing food. . . .

"It was estimated that each experimental subject had a 12 to 16 pound surplus of water in his body, most of it accumulated in tissues of the ankles, abdomen, and under the eyes. Energy output slowed down, and nervous control decreased. Several of the men cried when they could no longer work their accustomed number of minutes on the tread mill. . . .

Had Starvation Dermatitis

"All the men had starvation dermatitis, a brown splotchy skin, which Director Keys said 'looks for all the world like dirt'. . . . Tests showed that the men's strength had declined only about 30%, but endurance dropped 80%. . . Capacity for brain-work is unharmed, but desire or ability to do any is lacking. . . . Starvation alters personality. . . .

1750 Calories For 6 Months

"After six months on semi-starvation the vital organs of the subjects were unimpaired, but normal healthy men were reduced to weak irritable creatures. . . . One of the participants outlined the situation clearly. Said he, 'After only six months on a diet of 1750 calories look at the condition we are in, when hundreds of thousands of people all over the world have not had even 1000 calories over a period of years.'

"July 30, 1945 was a red-letter day for it marked the end of the semi-starvation period. . . . . Increase of food did not produce miracles—some gained a few pounds, but most just held their

(Continued on page four)

"India" Discussed By President In Chapel Address

"Christian Enterprise in India" or "The India in Which There is Christian Enterprise" was President Ralph W. Lloyd's topic in chapel on Wednesday morning, October 8.

He said that it is not true that the college students of today live in an "Ivory Tower" on the campus and are not interested in haptersted in world affairs—one of contrary, students are vitally interested in world afafirs—one of which is the problem of India.

Four Religious Groups

Last year Dr. Lloyd spent several weeks on an arranged tour of India. An accidental meeting with a Holy Man being deported from China to India was considered by the president to be an introduction to the problem of Indian religion. The story of India today is made up of the four religious groups which form the main political parties which affect the economic status of the people. One of the many reasons for this is the fact that cattle are held sacred and not to be used for milk or food, since Indians believe in transmigration of the soul. One-fourth of the cattle in the world are located in India.

Visited Taj Mahal

Dr. Lloyd and his party visited the Taj Mahal, said to be the most beautiful building in the world. It was built in the 17th century by a Mohammedan emperor as a memorial to his wife. The Taj Mahal served as an illustration of the vast contrasts in India today.

Dr. Lloyd also mentioned meeting Dr. Dorothy Ferris who has a hospital in a town in India. Dr. Ferris is a former Maryville student and has been in India since 1934. Her brother, John Ferris, is now a student here.

Miss Massey Visits Ill Mother in Atlanta

Miss Frances Massey, Dean of Women, left last Tuesday to go to Atlanta, Georgia, where her mother is seriously ill. Her mother is at the home of a sister of Miss Massey's; the family home is in Anniston, Alabama.

Electrical, Radio Equipment Added To Physics Dept.

Cathode ray tubes, dynamotors, and a radio transmitter are in the new equipment purchased by the physics department from army and navy surplus and physics supply houses this fall.

Radio and Radar Equipment

The aircraft radio transmitter secured from the Navy includes transmitting equipment, the pilot's control box, the operator's control box, and six units for changing the kilocycles. The cathode ray tubes, in three sizes—5fp7, 5dp1, 5cp1, form part of the oscillograph for use in radar. There are also a number of assorted vacuum tubes.

Electricity

Dynamotors, circuit breakers, transformers, and condensers are included in the new electrical equipment, as are two types of rectifiers—copper oxide and mercury vapor—ac and dc motors, and a telephone switchboard. For eperimentation and study the department has secured a device for measuring momentum and inertia from the Welch Scientific Supply House.

NEW TOWN NIGHT PRIVILEGES AFFORD MORE RECREATION

The new Town Night privileges became effective Tuesday night when the boundaries were extended to include "Dubby's Grill" and the skating rink on Ellis Street. Also the penalties for abusing the regulations were reduced. The change of regulations was previously published in the Echo.

Vera Lusk and Judy Breen were elected Student Council representatives to the Co-ordinating Council of Women's Student Government Association. The function of this committee is to iron out problems occurring in the girls' dormitories.

New Student Council members, Judy Breen, Janet Cummings, Andy Clark, and Dick Black, met for the first time with the group Wednesday. In celebrating this event, refreshments were served.

For You The Bell Tolls —Story of Campus Alarm

BY CRAIG FISHER

Every hour at twenty past the hour one of our favorite campus institutions unmercifully jars our scholars from slumber, and urges them stumbingly into their next classes. Few do more than swear softly, some get downright sentimental about it around mealtime, others wax bloodthirsty at 7:15 p. m., but almost nobody stops to wonder if there's more to that bell than a shell of iron, a clapper, and a voice like doomsday.

Old Bell Cracked

In 1938 the bell which had rung in the new era when Anderson Hall was opened in 1866, and had directed scholars for eighty years thereafter, was retired with a broken lip. It was a deep toned bell which could be heard in a two mile radius, and the community felt its loss when it was placed in a corner of the library with the rest of the museum pieces.

Bell Has a History

To take its place another old timer with a history of its own was installed in Anderson tower in the fall of 1938. Made in Baltimore in 1888, the Society of Friends in Philadelphia bought it for their school in Maryville, the Freedmen's Institute for freed slaves. Here it served for thirty years, and then was placed in Maryville Polytechnic (now shortened to High) School. The high school later ceased using the bell, and when the college found itself without one, it was sent to continue its studies in this institution for higher learning. May it continue to call the quick and the dead.

Bell Already A Tradition

Already a major war and one of Maryville's greatest catastrophies, the chapel fire, have flowed beneath it. Last year a new tradition was instituted, the ringing of a victory bell to broadcast a Scottie victory. And this year, much to the joy of the bell ringers and others who wanted that extra hour's sleep, the six o'clock alarm was discontinued. Some have suggested that it ought to be rung five minutes later at dinner time, as the flow of juices it sets off might cause any number of gastric ulcers.

Well, I have to go ring it now. Vive la bell, and may she continue to resound with as much dignity and regularity as her bellringers will allow. God bless them.

COLLEGE CALENDAR

Saturday, October 11
"Y" Hikes

Sunday, October 12
1:30—YW Meets
3:00—Y Radio Program
7:00—Vespers
8:00—Student Vols

Monday, October 13
5:30—Art Club Picnic
6:45—IRC
6:45—German Club

Tuesday, October 14
5:00-10:00—Town Night
7:00—Gospel Fellowship

Wednesday, October 15
4:30—Writer's Workshop
6:45—Prayer Meeting

Thursday, October 16
6:45—Camera Club
6:45—Spanish Club

BLACK, LANDSTROM PLAY LEADS IN "DEAR RUTH"

POPE, COWAN TAKE PARTS IN FIRST PLAY OF THE YEAR

Representative Of National Mission Arrives Monday

Mr. Laurence W. Lange, Director of Personnel Placement of the Board of National Missions, will be on the campus Monday, October 13, to interview all students interested in some phase of mission work. In this capacity, it is his responsibility to visit college and university campuses to contact those students who are prepared to take immediate assignments in National Missions service.

Graduate of New York University

Mr. Lange is a graduate of New York University where he received M.A. and Ph. D. degrees in Personnel. He was Dean of Men at Ohio University, and served as vice-president of the National Dean's Association. After service in the Bureau of Naval Personnel, while on leave of absence from Ohio University, Mr. Lange was appointed as a missionary under the Board of National Missions; and was assigned to Warren Wilson College in Swanonwa, North Carolina.

Arriving Here at 2:00 p. m.

Mr. Lange will arrive in Maryville about 2:00 o'clock Monday afternoon, and students desiring interviews with him should make appointments after that time.

Some workers needed under the Board are as follows: medical missionaries, ordained ministers, Sunday School missionaries, directors of religious education, education missionaries, office secretaries, and supervisors.

WRITERS' WORKSHOP ANNOUNCES NEWLY ELECTED MEMBERS

Writers' Workshop recently elected the following people to its membership: Dorothy Vawter, senior music major from Maryville; Becky Walton, junior dramatic art major from Illinois; Marian Pope, junior English major from Etowah.

Last Wednesday Elsie Jean Cotton and Charles Hoglan criticised. Mildred Orr read an unnamed series of letters from a college freshman to her mother; Anna Sakaizawa read "The Silken Cord", a short story. Both of these pieces were written about the same idea—that an individual who deviates from the pattern of his upbringing is likely to feel unhappy and unsettled.

REV. DAN JONES BECOMES MINISTER AT BROADWAY CHURCH

The Reverend Dan Jones, who has been pastor of Asbury Methodist Church in Greeneville, Tennessee, for the past five years, is to become the new pastor at Brodway Methodist Church in Maryville. The Reverend Paul Martin, who has been serving as minister of the Broadway Church, is returning to Magnolia Methodist Church in Knoxville where he served as minister thirteen years ago.

Mr. Jones has been active in the Educational program of the Methodist Church, serving as counselor, instructor, and dean of many training schools. His work with youth is considered outstanding in Holston Conference.

Baptist College Class Entertains With Party

The College Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church in Maryville held a party in the church basement on Friday, October 10 at 7:30 p. m. Games and recreation were enjoyed and refreshments were served. Georgia Cordle is the social committee chairman, and John Mulholland is president of the group.

Given By Theta Alpha Phi Chapter

BY CARROL STEGALL

The Maryville Chapter of Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatics society, will present the most delightful comedy to appear in many years on two successive nights in November. Dear Ruth, which had a long and successful run on Broadway and which has recently been made into a motion picture, will present a cast of college talent in a gay and refreshing dramatic treat. In this play, four old students at Maryville and two freshmen have starring roles.

The principal leads are taken by Jim Black, Junior pre-ministerial from Baltimore, and Janice Landstrom, who is a freshman from McKeesport, Pa. Jim is the returned war veteran who makes a frontal attack upon "Dear Ruth", Janice Landstrom, whose sister has written him letters under her name in order to "strengthen the morale of our fighting men." This sister, Miriam Wilkins, is to be played by Marion Pope, Junior from Etowah, Tennessee. The most entertaining character in the presentation, Ruth's frustrated fiance, Albert Kummer, is to be Roger Cowan. Supporting these four individuals, about whom the story runs, is a strong cast of well-known Maryville performers, including Max House, Lois Thomas, Katie Carpenter, and Mary Woolridge. There are also several newcomers to the Maryville stage, in the person of Andy Clark, and Ken Ross.

Setting During War

Dear Ruth is set in the days of the war, when soldiers, and especially fliers, never knew from one day to another what the next assignment would be. Wear and tear on their girl friends was understanderably heavy, and when a soldier had a girl friend who wasn't his girl friend, the possibilities for confusion are legion. In Dear Ruth, none of these possibilities are missed.

As the curtain rises, we are introduced to the gremlin in the household of Judge Harry Wilkins, a solid citizen played by Max House, senior from Cato, New York. This gremlin is his youngest daughter, teen-aged Miriam, who is Marion Pope. Miriam, a vivicious high-school lass, is much too conscious of her duty as a member of the rising generation to preserve the world. She signs her father into giving blood for the blood bank; campaigns for the French, tries to liberate India, cure sociological evils, and to single-handed maintain the morale of our fighting men. Her efforts in this line consist of writing eager love-letters to Lt. Bill Seawright, of the Army Air Forces, who falls in love with the phantasy she draws for him—using her sister Ruth as her model. With dramatic suddenness, Bill (Jim Black) returns from his war, eager for the girl he loves and whom he believes loves him—that is, Ruth! Ruth is thrown into rending struggle of conflicting loyalties as she tries to soften the blow to the lieutenant, while maintaining her true love affair with the civilian banker she is engaged to marry, Albert Kummer (Roger Cowan). From this situation develops such a welter of confusing issues as to completely un-nerve any normal person (such as Albert!) and to delight any audience, as it surely will delight Maryville College.

Comedy Entertainment

The principal comedy entertain-

Continued on page four)

YM Hike Held At Chimney Camp

This afternoon, 60 enthusiastic members of the YMCA are participating in the annual "Y Hike". The Y Hike is one of the most popular traditions in the Maryville College Y, and is always the high point of the fall semester. The boys left at noon today by bus, which took them to the base camp grounds, Chimney Camp, where they are spending the night. Tonight there will be a camp-fire program; tomorrow morning the hike proper will take place, as the men climb to the top of Mt. LeConte. There they will observe Sunday worship service, and then return by bus to Maryville.

COMMITTEES OF "SENOR FREEDOM" ANNOUNCED

Experimental Theatre will present two plays October 24, Senor Freedom and The Widow's Plight. The following committees have been announced for Senor Freedom: Stage Manager, Bob Watkins; house manager, Joe Claud; costume committee, Eloise Gaston, Lynn Willis, Betty Baumer; make-up committee, Lois Jean Deobler, Ruth Hildebrand, Patsy Lovelace, Wilma Burke; properties: Jimmy Dance, Martha Grace Brindley, Joyce Hampton; stage set, Al Lesnick, Bea Edwards, Ruth Heaps; lighting, Sue Althouse, Joe Poland.

The committees for The Widow's Plight and casts of both plays were announced last week.

FROSH, TRANSFERS MOVE TO CARNEGIE

Additional room space has been made for twenty-two freshmen and transfer students in Carnegie Hall since the beginning of school. The places have been made possible by putting three men instead of two men in a room. In addition, there have been some withdrawals from school.

Those who originally lived in town but have recently moved to Carnegie are as follows: Grady Carrell, Don Walker, Charles Robinson, Fred Waggoner, Marvin McKenzie, Richard Ribble, Frank Morton, E. G. Fowler, Robert J. Chadwick, William R. Menges, Delbert Earisman, Clyde Jack, Orval Wintermute, Donald de Nagy, Lincoln Shimomura, Thomas J. Cumming, David Yeaworth, Thomas Yeaworth, Thomas S. Kees, Maynard Noble, Joseph Poland, and Robert Proffitt.

Y ROOMS KITCHEN SHOWER GIVEN MON.

Monday night from 9:00 until 10:00 in the YW rooms will be held a kitchen shower for the Y rooms. A list of things to bring has been posted in Pearsons lobby. Each contributor is asked to indicate what items she will bring.

There will be a brief meeting of the Committee on Publications in the first floor chemistry lecture room in Fayerweather, Monday afternoon at 3:30. The purpose of the meeting is to elect new members to the editorial and business staffs of the HIGHLAND ECHO.

A list of names of those students elected will be posted on the door of the ECHO office immediately following the meeting.

News Capsules—

"Meatless Tuesdays"

The President launched an unprecedented 'self-denial' offensive against hunger last Monday in a call for food sacrifices as America's contribution to peace. He had a four point program as an emergency measure:

(1) That no meat be used on Tuesdays.
(2) That no poultry or eggs be used on Thursdays.
(3) That one slice of bread be saved daily
(4) That no public eating places serve bread or butter except on request.

In addition grain margins were raised on the insistence of the government, in order that inflationary "gambling in wheat" might be reduced. The liquor makers of the nation have agreed to close down for sixty days in order to conserve grain, and will probably discontinue the use of wheat in liquor manufacture.

The emergency is due to a million bushel deficit in the grain supplies which the U. S. must send Europe this year.

New Comintern?

The Central Communist Party of the U.S.S.R. and its counterparts in eight other coutnries, including France and Italy, rallied Communists of nine nations to fight against the Marshall plan and what they termed U. S. imperialism.

The organization which was set forth in a Manifesto appeared to be a revival of the old Comintern or Communist International, which until Russia dissolved it for strategic reasons during the war, was dedicated to world revolution.

It proclaimed that the world had been divided into two incompatible camps with the U. S. and Russia as the leaders, and called upon the peoples of Europe to "defend the national soveriegnty of their people against the aggression of the United States".

Coonhounds Run Today

A coonhound field trial and dog show, sponsored by the Smoky Mountain Coon Hunters Association, is scheduled on the farm of Dr. W. B. Lovingood near Louisville. Admittance is free.

BAINONIAN ELECTS RUTH HEAPS PROGRAM CHAIRMAN

Ruth Heaps, sophomore from Pylesville, Maryland, was unanimously elected program chairman of Bainonian at the special election held last Saturday night. Miss Heaps will replace Mae Meriwether, who recently resigned.

The program given at the meeting last Saturday night was in the form of a radio show entitled "Breakfast at Cates".

There will be no meeting tonight because of the "Y" hike. Next week's meeting will be conducted by freshman members of the society.

PICTURE PROOFS RETURNED OCT. 15

Buffie Carver, editor of the Chilhowean, announced that the photographer will be here October 15 to continue taking group pictures for the Chilhowean. Remaining proofs will be handed out at this time.

The editor stated that the Chilhowean Girl-of-the-year and the Boy-of-the-year have not as yet ben chosen, though it will be done in the near future.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 32 NUMBER 7

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser
Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor
Kenneth Olsen ..... Sports Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Grace Gugger, Naomi Hoffman, Ilda Mosby

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Herbert McCallum, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF
Ruth Williams ..... Business Manager

SENIOR ASSISTANT
Mary Jane Long

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANT
Bob Watkins

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1947

SENIOR PRIVILEGES

Have probably been discussed on this campus as much as any other subject, and there has probably been as little done about them as has been done about any other issue.

To our knowledge there is not one single privilege granted the seniors that is not also granted underclassmen. Present underclassmen may feel that the situation is as it should be, but we doubt if they do. Certainly by the time they are seniors they will change their minds, and some underclassmen have personally expressed the surprise that in our progressive system of education we do not at the same time receive extra privileges as we advance in status from a freshman to a senior.

We do not know who is responsible for the lack of action, nor do we care, but there is no reason why such a policy should be followed indefinitely.

Last year the WSGA adopted "senior privileges" as a project, but for some reason there were no results. It certainly was not because the president of the organization didn't work at it. But before WSGA was brought into existence the question was raised in Student Council meetings time and time again. Each year for the past three years committees were appointed to work on "special privileges and senior privileges." Several of the special privileges were granted. No senior privileges were granted.

Some proposals suggested in previous years by students and council members were (1) that seniors be granted two town nights each week, plus unlimited social privileges after comprehensives, (2) that seniors be exempted from physical education requirements providing they have two hours of exercise during the week, reports being made under the honor system, and (3) that seniors be allowed Sunday afternoon dating.

We, of course, have our own ideas, as have many other seniors. A number of upperclassmen have come to us personally asking if we knew if there were any senior privileges, and, if so, what they were. Others have gone to the student council president asking the same questions. No positive answers can be given.

Our ideas would differ from those which have previously been suggested. Instead of setting aside an extra town night for seniors, we would suggest that seniors have the privilege of having an extra town night any night throughout the week, providing no one takes unfair advantage of the privileges. Upon unfair advantage being taken, penalties would have to be applied.

Our second suggestion would be the privilege of dating in Knoxville. It would be extra nice to be allowed to attend a Knoxville movie or football game on Saturday afternoon, as well as have dinner at the S. & W.

If such a system were adopted—and why shouldn't it be—seniors, would have that extra something to enjoy and freshmen would have that extra something to look forward to.

WHY NOT——

Organize a club on campus for the sole purpose of "cheering"? The cheerleaders could become the officers, attending to the only business of the club—leading cheers.

Such an organization would group together the most enthusiastic campus voices, making them much more effective as a unit. In addition, their chorus would be far more contagious to those seated about them.

For a bit of diversion they might try some card tricks; however, the mere exercising of their abilities to yell would be a good goal.

Much Echo About Nothing

BY ILDA MOSBY

Maryville is Presbyterian; Presbyterian-ism is Scotch; therefore, why do M. C.'ers Lyerly and Holmes use perfume to throw at each other? Results: clean bed linen, (laundry bill); odor not even moth balls could overcome; cost of new perfume. Shades of Mac Gregor! Double weddings aren't unusual. Double birthday celebrations are more so. Wayne McAfee and Marilyn Hartpence certainly had a nice taste of it Friday.

Scot McClure, Tom Wheeler, and Howard Cameron were more than surprised when Buffie Carver suddenly appeared at the inside of the library door wailing, "Let me out!" at 10:15 p. m. Wednesday. Buffie, working in the Chilhowean office, hadn't realized that it was past ten o'clock. On attempting to leave, she discovered the library black—so black she tripped over several chairs and a waste bo in her haste to leave. Wonder how soft a library table would be to sleep on?. . . Faculty Club heard a paper on "Starvation". Mr. Hughes could have added a few points on how not to starve—or why to be on the good side of the girls in the Bride's Course.

Dr. Lloyd seems to have been very evident this past week. Freshmen Jean Hunt landed at his feet after an unexpected plunge down Thaw steps. Said he, "That must have been a mighty dull class you came from if you're so sleepy you can't walk." He seemed to enjoy the "Happy Birthday" song the students sang to him in the dining hall. Wednesday morning in chapel that gentleman informed the assembly that he had traveled all over China without knowing the score. He pointed out the fact that he was referring to football games.

Senior Elsie (Lu-Lu) Onifer was feted by a dozen Baldwin girls on her birthday. Do they think that's the way to get on the good side of upperclassmen? . . . . Baldwiner's seem a bit unusual. For instance, Bettie Caldwell wanders down the halls carrying plastic bubbles. Jane McCullough spends an evening in the library reading about coal mines. Helen Miller gave herself a professional-looking permanent. But at least they don't get so excited over being a year older they lose track of time and get up at twenty of three (A. M.) as Vera Lusk did Tuesday night. Nor do they send a twin to band practice. How did Ray ever expect Row to know the score?

Just what kind of icing was on the cake Dempsey Jones sent Janice Landstrom and Phyllis Miller? And while chewing on that—Nu Gamma breakfasts are supposedly for the benefit of Freshmen girls. Leaders Dot Holverson, Alice Davenport, Pat Dennis, and Faye Robinson didn't feel so well Monday after finisihng the surplus food.

Style trends are a bit drastic, but Dot Crowson has gone too formal. Her idea of wearing veiled hats while brushing her teeth seems a little bit out of taste. . . . Miss Lanfear received an unexpected reply when asking her students in Elementary Music Methods what they were going to have the next day. Belle Alverson, "Triplets". . . . Just where did Ed Vanderslice get the topic for his last speech? And by the way, doesn't Bill Carter know that one is supposed to be dressed when speaking in public so that obvious adjustments to one's clothing are not necessary?

Roommates Rock and Lindsey certainly found themselves in an odd situation. They're captains of opposing Point System soccer teams. . . . . No one has fallen in the fish pond lately, but Ruth Williams was seen sitting on its muddy bank. Seniors really should be beyond the mud pie stage.

It's too bad that Bob Argie can't decipher some of Bob Kay's sleep-talking. (Might make good copy, then again—). . . . . Dave Campbell shoud plan his speeches so that the unexpected appearance of visitors at Vols wouldn't fluster him. "And caravaning this summer—we taught folk dances—pardon me, they'd call them folk games at Maryville.". . . . Who-er what-is Bill O'Neil's latest? . . . . Onions to the fellows at the corner table in the dining hall who use the curtains for napkins. After all, paper napkins aren't that expensive. . . . Most miserable people on campus: Betty Hall, Barbara Blair, and Elsie Onifer on Tuesday morning following an evening of roller-skating.

Overheard: "What is this world coming to? All these long skirts and balck hose.". . . . Prof. Phillips' class was discussing what the world would come to if someone started selling air. Said that learned gentleman: "It would be a breathless proposition." And for those of you who are wondering what this column is coming to, 'tis a close.

IT'S WORTH YOUR WHILE—

To read the article on the front page which is a condensation on the paper Miss Meiselwitz read to the Faculty Club last Monday night. It is not only of current interest but also reveals shocking facts which every world citizen should know.

Band Sponsor Accepts Scotty

Courtesy of Knox News-Sentinel

Band Sponsor Jean Cobb, senior from Gaffney, South Carolina, is shown above officially accepting the scotty, Lady McTavish III, from Ross Burchfiel, Jr., and Nancy Dunn, who are cousins. Ross and Nancy gave the mascot as a gift to the college.

Both the band sponsor and Lady "Mac" made their first appearances at the first home game. They will again march with the band at the second home game next Saturday night when the Highlanders will meet East Tennessee State TeachersCollege.

"Speak Not In Quaint Dialect" Says Freshman

BY DONALD WHELAN

Behold, on yon high hill there standeth certain buildings, in which there dwelleth students and all other manner of creeping things. And great is the noise therefrom.

And in a certain room of these buildings there abide two students, for they are roommates. The first we shall liken unto a man who owneth a car and desireth to improve it. And, lo, he buyeth for it divers gadgets: tails of small beasts to hang therefrom and lights of many colours. Yet in all this he hath no fuel for his car, and it moveth not. And this student flitteth to and fro and studyeth not.

And the second we shall liken unto the man who buyeth much fuel but hath no car. And this student poreth much over his books and demandeth silence, but though he get it, he learneth not, for his mind wandereth.

And it came to pass one evening as the second pondereth nothing (having his books ranged in front of him as he stareth into space), that the first bursteth in and yelleth and slammeth the door.

He who is seated demandeth that his friend hold his peace, but we would not, for he espieth the radio and turneth it on. But, lo, the instrument poppeth and sputtereth, and uttereth all manner of weird sounds until it be tuned for it goeth at full-blast.

So he who protesteth is exceeding wroth, and fumeth and teareth his hair, and saith, shut it off, or I shall rise up and chastise thee sorely. But the other would not. So he departeth, thinking wicked thoughts. And going to the library, he abideth there for a season for to study.

But in the mean time, the other moveth the radio, to the floor and openeth the door and visiteth among his friends while the radio yet playeth. But by and by it played out and ceaseth for it had suffered many years. And it was silent.

It so happened that he who wisheth quiet returneth, and findeth the room peaceful, and he purposeth to reitre for he was weary with much page-turning. But behold he faileth to see the radio for it made no sound. And he trippeth, and great was his fall, for he landeth on the radio and utterly destroyeth it. And seeing the destruction, he rose up with exceeding joy and rejoiceth, But the radio spake not.

And this be the MORAL:
Speak not in quaint dialect lest thy readers not understand thee.

DO YOU KNOW?

Did you know that Carnegie is not the only building on campus where there has been "roof-raising". In 1913 the roof of Fayerweather Science Hall was raised and the third and fourth stories slipped in. The year before had seen the addition of the third floor to Pearsons.

The "old bell" in Anderson's Tower is not so old after all. The original bell, cast in 1856, was broken nine years ago after eighty years of faithful service. The present bell was installed at that time.

Miss Margaret Ware, Dietitian and Manager of the Dining Hall, has not missed a day of work due to illness, in the last thirteen years.

The stone bench behind the book store—marked "1916"—was once more noticed than it is now. Before Thaw was built in 1920-21, it marked the limit that Circle Drive does now.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Ever since the first pep rally several weeks ago, I have been wondering what was the matter with the spirit of the Maryville student body, and I have been wondering if it were wise to make any public statement of my feeling. This feeling has been growing with each successive so-called "pep" rally, and our disgraceful send-off for the team last Thurs day was just too much.

I am well aware that it's a sign that things have come to a pretty pass when a student body such as ours must be told that they, as a group, have been making a terribly half-hearted display of their school spirit. But I personally believe that that pretty pass has come.

I am also well aware that when a team is rolling along as easily as our squad did in the Hiwassee game, "you just can't get all worked up over it". That's quite true—but it's no reason for us to let down. But that is only part of our trouble. My chief complaint is concerning our pre-game spirit— the time when, except when the going is tough in the game, that the squad most needs and appreciates our all-out support. The grand job done by the small group at the TPI game is evident of the kind of enthusiasm that can and should be seen at every game.

Although I have talked with none of the cheerleaders, I am sure they must feel very discouraged, as I did many times last year, to get an apparently indifferent, half-hearted response to their best efforts. When I witness such a lack of enthusiasm as was evidenced at the aforementioned send-off for the Centre game, I wonder what ails every person who is not giving out with his best.

Before writing this letter I tried to discover whether I was alone in my opinion, and I found that everyone whom I approached agreed with me. I think most of us are aware that our spirit has been terrible. The organized cheers, both at the game and pep rallies, show a lack of enthusiasm, and there is very little individual yelling during the game. It's shameful that we have to be prodded about it.

Let's stop acting as if we are half dead—I know we can show some life—let's do it! Let's really sound out on every cheer, and keep up the chatter all between them. Let's make the stands rock at the net pep-rally and game—we owe it to our team—and to ourselves.

Hopefully,
Bill Vogel.

YW HOLDS PANEL DISCUSSION SUNDAY

"Acts of Prayer" is the tpoic of the panel discussion to be held Sunday at Y.W.C.A. Peggy Cummings will lead the discussion. Those participating on the panel are Katie Carpenter, Helen Disbrow and Betty Marie Davis. Gelola Kell will provide the special music.

Courtship: A period in which a girl decides whether or not she can do better.—The Rebel

Do You have
Flat Feet, Ulcers, Dandruff, Halitosis, Body Odor, Low Marks, Kidney Troubles, or Piles?
You Have?
Gosh! What a Mess!

REV. R. R. CROTHERS SPEAKS AT VESPERS

The Reverend Robert R. Crothers, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Decatur, Illinois, wil lspeak at Vespers tomorrow night. His theme is "The Holy Search".

The Vesper Choir will sing an anthem by Charles Huffman. The words for the anthem were written by Ruth Ramsey and Charles Huffman, both members of the choir. The second anthem will be "God's Son Hath Set Me Free", arranged from Grieg by Oscar R. Overby.

J. Breen, V. Lusk Elected Representatives To Co-ordinating Committee

Anna Sakaizawa announced that Judy Breen and Vera Lusk were elected as Student Council representatives to the Co-ordinating Committee for the houses.

At the last meeting of the WS GA Friday, October 3, it was voted to make it compulsory for every girl to serve once during the semester as receptionist for the date calling system.

It was also decided at this meting that the pianos in the Society rooms may now be played from 12:00 till 9:00 p. m. on Saturdays.

PARK THEATRE
Monday Only
Wally Brown, Alan Carney in
"Genius At Work"

Tuesday-Wednesday
A triumphant return . . .
"Rebecca"
Lawrence Oliver, Joan Fontaine and George Sanders

CAPITOL THEATRE
Monday-Tuesday
"Trail Street"
Ann Jerrie, Randolf Scott

Wednesday-Thursday
"It Hapened On Fifth Avenue"
Ann deFore, Allan Harding

Featuring
*"BOTANY" BRAND

WRINKLE-PROOF
TIES
Proudly we present the ties that are permanently new looking...in Planted Patterns to go with whatever you wear.
$1 and $1.50
MOSER'S CLOTHING STORE

ROGERS DRY CLEANERS
"The House of Service"
"Quality Cleaning"
See our Agents on the Hill
Doris Cook—Pearsons' Hall
Jane Jessup—Memorial Hall
Parvin and Parson—Carnegie Hall

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

Date Night!
To make a hit with the New Gal you just met in School . . . . be sure that you have a Clean White Shirt for date nights.
9 Pounds Clothes Washed, Rinsed, Damp Dried, Soap, Bleach, and Water 35c
SPECIAL
9 Pounds Washed and Dried 55c
SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY
Phone 1055

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

(Foreword: The football squad has the week-end off. Alas! Your poor (to be pitied, that is) sportswriter (? ?) yet has a dead-line to make. . . .)

AFTER THE RECENT victorious episode at Danville, the Scotties bring football back to our own doorstep for three important consecutive home games—East Tennessee State, Emory & Henry, and Sewanee, in that order.

NEXT WEEK-END the Buccaneers of East Tennessee State invade Wilson Field for a squabble. These Bucs have an improved eleven this year; they just opened their season two weeks ago, and as yet their comparative strength is in the unknown factor department. Last week the Bucs met their first real test in giving Erskine College of Due West, South Carolina, a go for their money in relinquishing a 14-20 defeat.

E. T. S.: A Cut Above 1946

East Tennessee State was no push-over last year. They took Carson-Newman 6-0 and bowed once during the season—to Maryville, of course. This year they will certainly not humiliate Carson-Newman in any such fashion, but from all reports they are a cut above their tide mark of last year.

One Hectic Game—E.T.S. vs M. C.

If our memory serves us accurately, it was the Bucs who made the first score of the season against M. C. last year in a game at Johnson City. (which the Scots took, 25-2). They covered a bad pass from center which Enloe lost in the end one to secure the safety. Very likely all the men who played in that affair last year will not soon forget it because it was one hectic game. Despite the avalanche of Maryville touchdowns, it was extremely touch going. We don't anticipate a repetition of the same sort of game this year, but it will certainly be an uphill grind on October 18.

East Tennessee's "T" is the subject of Highlander concentration during this two week lapse of action. The boys generally like to meet the "T" from the defensive side—must be that the Scotties like the idea of a back trying to slip by with only "man to man" blocking to hinder the opposition.

Eagles Undefeated. . . . As Yet

The Carson-Newman 1947 steamroller pushed on this past week. The Eagles made Emory-Henry regret their engagement with a 33-0 whitewashing. These Eagles are cruising in high gear—at any rate, they're moving a a clip they didn't attain last year. Their "T" has been rolling smoothly and their defensive line action is definitely on the mend according to various press reports. Watch out, Scots, the Eagles are surely aiming to deal some terrific treatment when they attack on the fifteenth of November!

Superlative Sportsmanship

The Centre game, although a bit too one-sided to produce much excitement among the spectators, was an unsual display of good sportsmanship betwo competing college teams. We heard members of each team express with deep satisfaction the privilege of playing a thoroughly clean game. Incidentally, all the penalties invoked against either side were technical penalties, and we didn't hear any gripe on the referee's actions either. It isn't every team the Scots meet that provide such a trouble free game —thanks, Colonels.

Hard Knocks For Centre

Centre, like Maryville, conducts her athletics on a non-subsidization program (as of her re-entry to the collegiate football sphere last year). The result of her first year of purity football policy was disheartening. Centre lost seven games out of seven in 1946. This year, still avowing not to subsidize, she has presented a team that has at least won its first encounter (Tusculum 28-6). More power to you in your policy, Centre.

Curious Custom, Then Some

The lettermen on one of the football trips each year have a way of making their understudies remember that they are not such big shots after all. It's what they call "the fellowship of the belt." Quite a curious custom for college men to observe, but it proves effective in keeping the plebes in a somber mind. However, that belt strapping is not conducive to a comfortable sitting position on a long bus ride.

Critical Observation In Crucial Spot

One weakness of the Scot offense at Centre, as this untrained observer was able to comprehend, was the scoring punch that the Scots lacked at the crucial position of a goal line stance. Twice the Highlanders knocked at the Centre touchdown door by rushing attacks, but it took a deceptive pass to open up the Colonel's touchdown vault. If the Orange and Garnet men could plough 60 yards down the field on sustained rusihng drives, why not for just five more into the end zone?

Answer in Complete Teamwork

The answer to this question must lie in teamwork among the squad. Down near the goal line, it's going to take three times the drive from the combined blocking force of the squad to knock a hole in the closely knit defense than in the open field when the opposing team is spread out. Therefore, teamwork and co-ordination in offense is essential for that extra power needed for the scoring punch. If such weakness can develop against a relatively weak team as Centre exhibited, let's hope the squad put their shoulders to the same wheel before the Highlanders miss a victory by not having sufficient scoring punch.

Scots Gain Second Victory of Season

Maryville's Highlanders hit the victory trail again last Saturday as they trounced the Colonels of Centre College of Kentucky, 27-0 at Danville, Kentucky.

The Scots ran the game to suit their own fancy, with the Centre eleven always regrouping after consecutive Maryville drives. The Kentucky lads were without the means to threaten the Scots.

Four Scores For Highlanders

A four-yard pass early in the second quarter started the parade of four Highlander touchdowns. Another tally was added before the half, and in the fourth quarter the Highlanders annexed their number three and four scores.

Some Scots On Sick Leave

Scottie men missing at the start of the game included Coach Lombe Honaker, the Highlander commander-in-chief, "Pie" Garner, and Benny Baldwin. Coach Honaker was at home in Maryville recuperating from an attack of influenza. Garner, regular starting center, entered the game later, but saw little action because of a rib injury. Baldwin did not make the trip due to an infected foot.

Centre Had Injured Ones

Centre, starting their second game of the year, had a starting guard and tackle, respectively, on the injury list. Wilson, a big tackle, wore a cast over a dislocated thumb in the game. Inman, their best guard, saw little service after an unlucky injury during the first quarter.

Leon Berrong Left Game

Leon Berrong, Scottie tailback who began the rushing attack for Maryville, suffered a dizzy head after a bump on the head early in the game that forced him to retire to the bench.

First T.D. In 2nd. Quarter

After making six first downs to reach the Centre doorway, the Scots missed the goal line by inches in the first quarter. Renewing the drive, they secured a touchdown early in the second quarter via a pass from Fogarty, who replaced Leon Berrong at tailback, to King Berrong in the Centre end zone. The extra point kicked by King Berrong was good.

The backbone of Centre's defense broke in the second quarter, but braced up a bit in the third. The Colonels, however, took it on the chin all afternoon.

Neff With Enemy Pass

Two pass interceptions preceded the second Maryville touchdown. On the first interception, Bob Boring reached up to snag a coming Colonel pass, but the ball bounced off his hands into the grasp of Bobby Neff, Scot defensive halfback, who advanced it for a 15 yard gain. Walton, a Centre, interecepted a Maryville pass thrown by Bill Fogarty, and was promptly dropped by the ambitious Highlander line.

Fogarty Runs For 2nd Score

The Highlander forward seven, picking up momentum by the downs, sent the opposition reeling to rush the Colonels down inside their own ten yard line. From the territory, Fogarty made an eight yard plunge over right tackle to bisect the Centre goal line for the second time of the game. Clarke, in at quarterback for King Berrong, kicked the extra point in good fashion. Score at half: 14-0.

Law For Thirty Yards

The crowd at Farris Stadium, less than 4,000 strong, saw the Scots' reserve line-up in action most of the last half. Allen Law, Scot starter at wingback, took the ball on a neat 30 yard run for the first thrill of the second part.

The Highlanders and the Colonels kept in the center section of the field for most of the third quarter with penalties levied in favor of the Colonels holding the Scots in check.

Fourth—Fastest Quarter

The fourth quarter, fastest of the ball game, was all Maryville's show. Bill Forgarty broke loose for a long end sweep to the right to race 51 yards to score. Clarke added the extra point and the Scots kicked off to the Colonels to renew the fight.

7 First Downs in 4th Quarter

The Highlander backfield, supplemented by Thomas, Calloway, and Sharp, then helped run up the first down total for the quarter to the enemy one yard line. Thomas made the one yard touchdown run. The attempt by Thomas to kick the extra point was no good.

(Continued on page four)

TRACK, FIELD MEET EVENTS ANNOUNCED

The first intramural track and field meet will be held next Wednesday, October 15, beginning at 3:30 p. m.

Track events scheduled are as follows: one-mile run, 3:30 p. m.; 440 yard run, 3:40; 100 yard dash (trial heats), 3:50; 120 yard high hurdles (trial heats), 4:00; half-mile run, 4:10; 220 yard dash (trial heats), 4:20; 220 yard low hurdles (trial heats), 4:30; 100 yard dash (finals), 4:40; 120 yard high hurdles (finals), 4:50; 220 yard dash (finals), 5:00; 220 yard low hurdles (finals), 5:10; and one-half mile relay, 5:20.

Field events scheduled are as follows: pole vault, 3:30; shot put, 3:30; high jump, 4:00; discus throw, 3:45; broad jump, 4:15; and javelin throw, 3:45.

All events will begin promptly at the time scheduled.

Point System, Soccer Tournament Begins

The Chillie-Howie soccer tournament started off Tuesday with a 7-2 win for the Howies.

Thursday's session marked another victory for the Howies who came up with a close win of 6-5 over the Chillies.

Three more games will be played in this tournament. The games will be played on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 3:30 to 4:30.

Swim Meet Held; Second Team Wins

Intramural swimming team no. 2 won the first swimming meet which was held last Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 in the college pool. Team no. 2 amassed 22 points; team no. 1 was second with 16 points, and team no. 3 was last with 6 points.

Three Swimming Events Offered

The swimming events offered were the 50 yard free style (crawl), the 50 yard back stroke, and the 200 yard team relay. Each event was run in two heats except the relay.

The points in the swimming events were 5 for first place, 3 for second place, and 2 for third. In the relay, 8 points were given for first place, 6 for second, and 4 for third.

Moore Wins Diving Event

Jack Moore, who swam with team no. 2, won the diving event scoring 23 points out of a possible 25. Bo Henry was second with 19 and Frank Morton was third with 18. Each man was required to make five dives, including a pain front dive, a plain back dive, a jack-knife, and two optional dives chosen from a list. The list included the swan dive, back jack-knife, half gainer, full gainer, front dive with half twist, and forward 1 1-2 somersault.

The divers were scored on start, approach, height, flight, and entry.

Next Meet October 22

The next intramural swimming meet will be held in the college pool at 3:30 on October 22. No meet will be held next Wednesday because of the track meet.

Results of Swimming Events

The results of the swimming events were as follows:

50 yard free style: Heat I, Lane (1), Kees (3), and C. Henry (2); time—0:32.2 sec.; heat II, Uthlaut (2), B. Henry (1), and Morton (3), time—0:34.0 sec.

50 yard back stroke: Heat I, Moore (2), Watt (3), and Mc-Neil (1), time—0:45.0 sec.; heat II, Corley (2), Barnett (1), and Jack (3), time—0:43.2 sec.

200 yard relay: first place, team no. 1; second place, team no. 2; and third place, team no 3.

Men's Soccer Teams Become Part of Intramurals

Men's soccer has become a sturdy feature of the intramural program. Two teams are in the embryo stage, and a field has been marked off. Days of play are being shuffled at present for the convenience of a maximum number of the men interested. For information see Art Haaf, Dick Sprague, or Coach Johnson.

He: "Would you like to go to the football game?"

She: "Yes, I'd love to go."

He: "Well, be sure and buy from me. I'm selling tickets".

—Virginia Intermont Cauldron

INTRAMURALS

TOUCH-FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

October 13-17

Monday—3:30 Eight Balls vs Jets
4:30 KMA vs Tau Sigma
Tuesday—3:30 Odds vs U. S. Mules
4:30 Crescents vs Lokal Yokels
Wednesday—3:30 KMA vs Lokal Yokels
4:30 Jets vs Mitey Mites
Thursday 3:30 Eight Balls vs Mitey Mites
4:30 KMA vs Y Frosh Club
Friday—3:30 Mules vs Jets
•Odds vs Mitey Mites
4:30 Tau Sigma vs Lokal Yokels
•Crescents vs Y Frosh
•Field 2

FOOTBALL—

BY MAYNARD NOBLE

Intramural football was slowed down this week "due to conditions beyond our control". The games scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday were rained out; therefore, they were postponed to a later date.

Eight Balls Upset Odds, 26-2

In the first game on Monday the Odds fell before the hard charging Eight-Balls who amassed 26 points to the Odds 2. The scoring for the Eight-Balls was done by Hamil, who made 8 points, and Largen, Honaker, and McJunkin, who each scored a touchdown. Paul Yambert trapped one of the Eight Balls behind the goal for a safety for the only score of the Odds.

Crescents Swamped by KMA, 47-7

The second game on Monday brought the Crescents and KMA together only to have KMA walk all over the Crescents. For KMA, Mathis and Jernigan each racked up 12 points. Hap Brahams scored 8 points; Miracle made 7 points, and Rush Lester made 6. Don Hyatt and Willocks each made 1 point. "Tex" McKenzie made the only touchdown for the Crescents and Rettke made the extra point.

Jets Nose Out Odds, 6-0

Thursday saw the Odds and Jets battle to a 0-0 tie at the end of the game. In the overtime period the Odds gained the necessary yardage to win the game "according to the rules", but a penalty set them back 5 yards, thus giving the game to the Jets, who put up several goal line stands to keep the Odds from scoring.

Tau Sigma Loses to Crescents, 23-6

At the second game on Thursday, played in the rain, the Crescents had little difficulty sliding through the mud to a 23-6 victory. McKenzie tabulated 14 points, and Rettke made 7, while Tim Sykes and Jack Miller each made 1. Sid Lambert made the only touchdown for T. S.

Eight Balls Trounce Mules 24-0, 14-6

Friday brought the Eight-Balls and Mules together in two games, in which a half was played in each game. In the first half of the first game the Eight-Balls scored 24 points. The Mules conceded the game to them. In the second game the Mules scored their first touchdown of the season, only to lose by a 14-6 score. Total scoring for the games gave Largen 18 points, J. Lillard 12 points, Reynolds 6, and 1 each

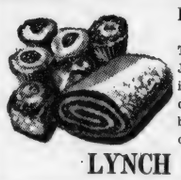
(Continued on page four)

INTRAMURAL STANDINGS

ORANGE LEAGUE

Team	W	L	Pct.
Eight Balls	7	1	.875
Odds	5	3	.625
Jets	4	3	.562
Mitey Mites	2	4	.333
U. S. Mules	0	7	.000

GARNET LEAGUE



Team	W	L	Pct.
KMA	7	0	1.000
Crescents	5	3	.625
Y. Frosh	4	3	.562
Lokal Yokals	2	4	.333
Tau Sigma	0	8	.000

HAVE YOUR SHOES REPAIRED TO-KNIGHT!

You can't protect your shoes with a suit of armor . . . so the next best thing is to keep them in top condition at

AMERICAN SHOE SHOP

Looking For The Perfect Dessert?

Try our delicious baked goods. . . Jelly rolls, nut rolls, layer cakes, individual cup cakes, pies, pastry of every description. . . . Fresh-baked daily. . . How about a loaf of golden-brown home-style bread?

LYNCH BAKERY

Hamburgers
Sandwiches
Hot Sandwiches
Salads
Hot Plates
Cold Plates
Pie (all types)
Drinks
Doughnuts
Candies
Served With Promptness

C. & L. CAFE

For That Distinction in a Portrait

Visit

WEBB STUDIO

Defend YOUR HEALTH
EAT THE RIGHT FOODS

M. M. ELDER CASH CARRY STORE

FAMINE

(Continued From Page 1)

weights. There was a tremendous slump in morale. . .

"After six weeks on the rehabilitation diet of 3200 calories not a single man had regained over two pounds of the weight lost. . .

"In his report on the experiment Dr. Keyes said, among other things: "To talk about elections, peace, democracy and cooperation to hungry people is talking to a blank wall. The mental attitude of a starved person cannot change for the better until he has been physically rehabilitated. Starved people cannot be taught democracy. . . .'

Many Have 1500 Calories

"Dr. Adelheid Warwenka, director of the children's clinic in Vienna, writing for the New York Times magazine tells a simflar story: 'Many millions are living on 1500 calories a day or less—not enough to live on, but too much to die on.' . .

"Educators have begun to wonder how many children considered incapable of learning are victims of actual or hidden hungers. . . . Dr. Hilde Bruch, head Pediatritian at the New York Children's hospital has observed hundreds of thousands of children, and assures us that the well-nourished child of average or slightly above average weight is quicker and brighter. . .

"Why are reports on feeding plans so discouraging? For some sad reason we become so involved in words and plans of organizations that we take a very long time to get around to anything practical. The United Nations is our great hope, but by now its feeding plans have become hopelessly muddled. . .

Famines Prevail

"Famine conditions have prevailed for many months. . . You probably saw recent newspaper pictures of rioting mobs in Paris resulting from reductions of bread rations. . . . We are not reaching enough people fast enough. . . World stocks of food are seriously low. . . At present the world is producing less than 2-3 of the food it needs to feed all its people adequately, even if we could rely on perfection in transportation, and unselfish interchange of foods on the part of all countries.

"How can we hope for local, national or international peace and well-being while large numbers of people suffer from the physical and mental handicaps of malnutrition?"

STANDINGS:

(Continued from page 3)

bers scoed the only touchdown for the Mules.

KMA Tramples Yokels, 34-14

In the second game on field one Friday, KMA pushed across another victory over the Lokel Yokels, 34-14. Petree and Clenden accounted for the Yokel scores. Hap and Brick Brahams, Jernigan, Mathis, Weber, and Pentz scored for KMA, who led all the way.

Y Club Beats Sigma, 20-6

The Y Frosh Club boosted its average again in the second game on field two yesterday when they finished off Tau Sigma, 20-6, in a one-way ball game. The Frosh made all their scores in the first half with Stanfill, Farmer, Fowlery, and Clark making the tallies. Tau Sigma's lone touchdown was made by Lambert in the fourth quarter.

CENTRE GAME . . .

(Continued on page 3)

for Campbell and Honaker. Cham-Final score: 27-0.

News of the victory was immediately relayed to Coach Honaker at Maryville in order that the ailing head coach might know how his boys treated the Kentucky Coolnels.

Starting Line-ups:

Maryville		Centre
Talbott, co-capt.	l.e.	Hundley
Kluth	l.t.	Wilson
Anderson	l.g.	Inman
Holsey	c.	Walton
Easter, capt.	r.g.	Mercer
Rock	r.t.	Schreiber
Davis	r.e.	Ellis
Law	w.b.	Lockard
Berrong, K.	q.b.	Cline
Merriman	f.b.	Brummett
Berrong, L.	t.e.	Adams

Score by Quarters:

Maryville	0	13	0	14	—27
Centre	0	0	0	0	— 0

SCORING: touchdowns—M. C.: Fogarty to King Berrong (pass), Fogarty (2), and Thomas. Extra points—K. Berrong, Clarke (2).

SUBSTITUTIONS — Maryville: (backs) Fogarty, Neff Boring, Calloway, Sharp, Clark, and Thomas; (guards) Newman, Andes, and Proffitt; (ends) Miller, Still, and Campbell; (centers) Garner, Larson; (tackles) Pinner, Johnson and Walker.

Centre— Sears, Acton, Best, Schooley, Holtzclaw, and Simonton.

Statistics

	M.C.	Centre
First downs	19	6
Total yds. rushing	391	82
Yds. gained rushing	368	37
Yards passing	23	45
Passes attempted	7	14
Passes Completed	3	4
Passes itner. by	2	1
Fumbles	1	0
Penalties	6	4
Yards penalized	70	20
Punts	2	7
Punting Aver.	38	38

"Dear Ruth"

(Continued from page one)

ment will be found in the person of Albert Kummer, the civilian, who is trapped by conflicting desires. His patriotic duty and his desire to be humane to the lieutenant, for whom he naturally feels sympathetic, tell him to play along with the amorous soldier when he tries to make love to Ruth, until the flier returns to his duty and can be then gently let down. However, he not unnaturally feels growing resentment when he finds the soldier kissing Ruth, who steadily grows less able to cope with the enthusiastic and aggressive lieutenant. When Albert is forced to attend them as chaperone and is shuffled off in a sub-way crowd, his strained nerves snap and he goes completely berserk in baffled and frustrated resentment and rage. This scene is undoubtedly one of the most delightful comedy sequences ever presented at Maryville.

There are numerous other laughable spots offered by the dry wit of Judge Wilkins, who views with patient detachment the mad-house about him, much as a St. Bernard would observe a group of confused puppies. His well-meaning but somewhat naive wife, Mrs. Edith Wilkins (Lois Thomas) is also a little bewildered by the amazing family she has raised. Her young daughter will keep the audience in a constant state of laughter with her innocently outrageous statements, and her precocious observations on the subject of love.

Love Interest

Despite all the humor of the play, a truly tender love interest is preserved as we see the Lieutenant, desperately afraid of losing his loved Ruth if he leaves her, trying to arrange their marriage. In the scene wherein he learns of the cruel hoax to which he is victim, a poignant tragedy of loss is seen. Concurrent to the main interest, another love story is carried out which is hardly less involved, by the Lieutenant's sister Margaret Seawright (Mary Woolridge) and one of his air-crew members, Sgt. Chuck Vincent (Andy Clark). Nowhere does the suspense and interest lag throughout the play, up to the amazing and unpredictable last event, the curtain-closer. This presents Ken Ross as Harold Klobbermyer, and persons who have seen the play before are urged to tell no one of the surprise ending, in order that the audience may gain full benefit of the surprise.

Directed By Miss Wilde

The play is to be directed by Miss Wilde, the new Dramatics teacher at Maryville College. Assistant Director is Bob Thompson, Sophomore Dramatic Art major from New York City. Stage manager will be Mildred Miller; house manager is Margie Prall.

Although plans for the presentation of the play are still incomplete, it is tentatively arranged for the play to be given in Maryville High School, November 20th and 21st. Price of admission and time will be announced later.

Speaking for Theta Alpha Phi, Max House, the president of the chapter, has stated for the society his gratitude to the fine turn-out of talent which tried out for parts in the play. Climaxing the highest interest in drama at Maryville for many years, 42 persons met in Bartlett Hall to attempt to win parts in the play, and hoped that none of the persons who failed to win apart in this play would hesitate to try out in future productions at Maryville, which might fit their particular talents more fully.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS

Program for Student Vols October 12 will be a hymn sing with George Gillette and John Morrison, song leaders, in charge of the program. The meeting will be held in Bartlett Hall at 8:00. The organization invites all those who enjoy singing to attend the meeting.

Camera Club Dark Room Located In Fayerweather

Camera Club will meet Thursday, October 16, in Fayerweather Hall and see their new darkroom. Through the co-operation of Professor E. R. Walker, a physics eperiment room has been made available for use to the Camera Club. A married veteran, Chester Phillips, has offered the use of much of his personal equipment, which has been installed. The camera club is now fitted with an enlarger, contact printer, print dryer, safe lights and the necessary trays and tanks. Before seeing the darkroom, Carrol Stegall, the chairman, will present a program for dark-room management which will be passed upon by the members. This program will regulate the use ofthe darkroom for the coming year, and all members are urged to be present.

Pre-Ministerials Plan Picnic For October 23

The Reverend Earl Crawford, Associate Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of Knoxville, presented an address on Evangelism of the World at the meeting of the Ministerial Association Thursday night. After the formal service committees were appointed for food and finance for the picnic which will be held in the woods October 23. Ministerial students and their dates are invited to this meeting.

FRENCH CLUB

Originally planning a fishing trip, the French Club went to a ford on Little River, but soon returned to the campus because of the rain. The initiation of new members was postponed.

Despite the downpour the members were able to build a fire and enjoyed a meal of cheese rolls with roasted bacon wrapped around them.

Never say "Can't." That is, unless you're trying to strike a match on a cake of wet soap.

—Fore and Aft

DAILY BELL SCHEDULE

6:45 a. m.—First breakfast bell
7:00 a. m.—Second breakfast bell
7:50 a. m.—First chapel bell*
8:00 a. m.—Second chapel bell*
*except Mondays
9:20 a. m.—End of first period
9:30 a. m.—Beginning of second period
10:20 a. m.—End of second period
10:30 a. m.—Beginning of third period
11:20 a. m.—End of third period
11:30 a .m.—Beginning of fourth period
12:20 p. m.—End of fourth period
12:30 p. m.—Lunch bell
1:20 p. m.—Warning bell
1:30 p. m.—Beginning of fifth period
2:20 p. m.—End of fifth period
2:30 p. m.—Beginning of sixth period
3:20 p. m.—End of sixth period
3:30 p. m.—Beginning of seventh period
4:30 p. m.—End of seventh period
5:50 p .m.—First supper bell
6:00 p. m.—Second supper bell
7:00 p. m.—First study bell
7:15 p. m.—Second study bell

On Saturdays

No afternoon bells after 12:30 p. m. except—
5:20 p. m.—First supper bell
5:30 p. m.—Second supper bell

On Sundays

7:00 a. m.—Waitress bell
7:45 a. m.—First breakfast bell
8:00 a. m.—Second breakfast bell
8:55 a. m.—Sunday School bell
12:20 p. m.—First dinner bell
12:30 p. m.—Second dinner bell
1:20 p. m.—"Y" bell
5:20 p. m.—First supper bell
5:30 p. m.—Second supper bell
6:45 p. m.—First Vesper bell
6:55 p. m.—Second Vesper bell

On Mondays

8:20 a. m.—Warning bell
8:30 a. m.—Beginning of first period

What one Little Bell said to the other Little Bell: My mama done "tolled" me.

—The College News

Thru' These Portals . . . . .

Reports from the '47 graduates continue to come into the Alumni office. Some are teaching, some in graduate school, others in business. Individual reports from some of the alumni are:

Paul A. Jamarik has completed a year of law school at the University of Richmond Law School, and plans to graduate in January, 1949.

Boby Jo Reed is teaching home economics in Bulls Gap High School, in Tennessee.

Kathryn Dean is with the Polk County School board teaching at Copperhill, Tenn.

Alma Lancaster is working as director of religious education and minister of music at the Sinking Spring Presbyterian Church of Abingdon, Virginia. She says that her duties include planning weekly vesper programs, recreational programs for the three young people's groups, home visiting, preparing the weekly church bulletin, doing church correspondence, organizing new youth groups, directting the youth choirs, and working with D.R.E.'s over the city organizing joint youth activities.

Harvey Overton, Jr., is entering Columbia Seminary in Decatur, Georgia.

Beth Huftalen worked at Homer Falks Hospital in Oneanta, New York this past summer. She is now attending Duke University School of Medicine for physical therapy.

Frederick R. Wilson is studying at Princeton Seminary, Princeton, N. J.

Raymond H. Swartzback is also in seminary, at the McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago. He and Miss Martha Jane Hays, '45, plan to be married in the spring.

RADIO PROGRAM BEGINS TOMORROW

A program dramatizing the beginning of YMCA and YWCA at Maryville College will be broadcast over WGAP at 3:00 p. m. Sunday. This is the first of a series featuring devotionals, drama, and music. These programs, scheduled to begin last Sunday, were postponed because of a special broadcast.

Spanish Club Elects Rodriguez V.-President

Spanish Club met Thursday night in Miss Bassett's classroom. During the short business meeting Lavina Rodriguez was elected vice-president.

Mr. J. H. Schwam, Spanish professor, talked about the different phases of Meican life. He illustrated his talk with a display of such things as jewelry, baskets, bedspreads, blankets made by the natives in Mexico.

Collegians Model Campus Wardrobe for Fall and Winter

Almost a complete college wardrobe is worn here by these four collegiates who worked at Marshall Field & Company's college shop, "Campus Junction," this summer.

Virginia Grace, left, from Wells chooses for dancing a black lace over taffeta ankle-length dress worn with black lace mitts and white shell jewelry. Her home is at 6230 Kenmore Ave., Chicago.

Snugly wrapped in Forstmann fleece of light brown is Jean Middleton, 278 Ridge Rd., Winnetka, Ill., a Kappa at the University of Wisconsin. The shawl-like hood protects the head from chill breezes of Lake Mendota.

Harriet Deal, 323 Sunset Ave., Aurora, Ill., a student at Lindenwood, St. Charles, Mo., chooses for dates this dark brown wool crepe suit with padded hips and tortoise buttons. With it she wears a brown fur-felt beret.

Ideal for campus wear is the luggage-tan suede weskit worn over a yellow silk shirt with French cuffs by Marilyn Munkers of Lake Bluff, Ill., a Theta at the University of Illinois. The skirt is cocoa gabardine trouser-pleated at the waist and with a front box-pleat.

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.

30-Minute Service

between

Maryville and Knoxville

COMPLETE YOUR COLLEGE NEEDS NOW

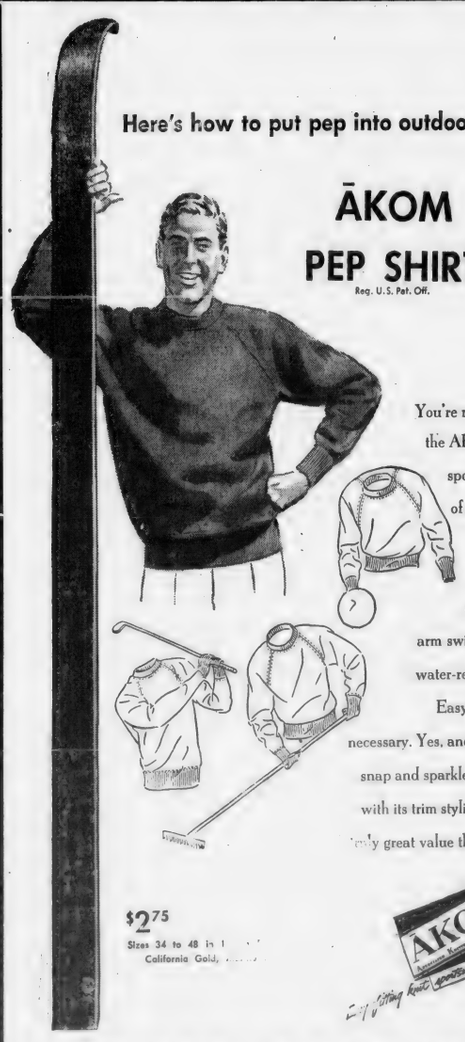
We have a complete line of Drugs and First Aid Needs.

Sweet-Scented Colognes, For Girls and Shaving Lotions for the Fellows.

Priced to Please Your Purse

PARK DRUG

We Carry Many Brand Products



BYRNE DRUG CO.

Here's how to put pep into outdoor activities

ĀKOM

PEP SHIRT

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

You're ready for action with the AKOM Pep Shirt. It's sportswear with plenty of go. Fine knit cotton, fleece-back for comfort. Features action sleeve for full arm swing. Wind-resistant, water-repellent, pre-shrunk. Easy to wash, no ironing necessary. Yes, and the Pep Shirt adds snap and sparkle to your appearance with its trim styling and smart colors. ...ly great value that's sensibly priced.

$2.75

Sizes 34 to 48 in ...

California Gold, ...

AKOM

PROFFITT'S MAN'S SHOP MAIN FLOOR

"Since 1919, The Best Place To Trade"

LAMAR MEMORIAL LIBRARY
MARYVILLE COLLEGE
OCT 20 1947
MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

HOWIE-HOWIE

CHILHOWEE

THE Highland Echo

Z 703

BEAT EAST

TENNESSEE STATE

VOLUME 33 — MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, OCTOBER 18, 1947 — NUMBER 8

M. C. Students May Go To Tusculum Football Game

Council Makes Plans For Homecoming Game

Possibilities of going to the Tusculum-Maryville football game played at Greeneville on November 22, were discussed at the meeting of the Student Council last Wednesday night in Thaw Hall. If plans are completed the student body will go to Greeneville by bus, the tentative cost being $2.88. The price will include the game ticket. The trip will take about three hours each way.

Homecoming Celebration

The Council is also planning a Homecoming celebration for the Sewanee game played here on November 1. Before that time elections will be held to choose a Homecoming queen, who must be a member of the senior class. She will be presented at the Sewanee game.

It was announced that the Pep committee believes that the Letter to the Editor printed last week is right about the lack of school spirit. In an effort to improve it the committee members have decided to take action on the editorial suggestion of a Pep Club.

Also in the last Council meeting there was a proposal and discussion on the idea of organizing a nomination committee in each class for class elections.

Prall Announces Committees For "Dear Ruth" Play

Miss Margie Prall, house manager for the Theta Alpha Phi Dear Ruth production has announced the committees for the play. Heading the publicity committee is Carroll Stegall, and serving with him are Stuart Saul, Margaret Newland, and Ben Gerheart. Elsie Onifer, senior from Mayberry, W. Va., is chairman of the ticket committee, with Dorothy Holverson, Zoe Sayre and Ben Sheldon included in the group. The program committee is headed by Eleanor Patterson, from Ohio, assisted by Eleanor Hawley and Bob Holly, and Glen Knecht, of Syracuse, N. Y., is in charge of the house committee. Members of his board are Elsie Cotton and Joe Claude.

Betty Rhyne Improves Following Appendectomy

Betty Jean Rhyne, freshman from Fountain City, Tennessee, is improving at her home 434 Forest Avenue, following an appendectomy at Fort Sanders Hospital in Knoxville, on Tuesday morning. Miss Rhyne will return to school in two or three weeks.

YW-YM HOLD JOINT MEETING SUNDAY

Y. W. and Y. M. will hold a combined meeting of the two organizations in the amphitheater at 2:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon. If it is raining, it will be held in Bartlett.

The program is to be a pageant "Search for Happiness", in which the characters are symbolic.

In the pageant, one person, who is representative of humanity as a whole, goes through life seeking happiness in several patterns. Failing in all things, Everyman finally comes to the ultimate and correct choice, and finds happiness. Narrator for this pageant is Lois Thomas, senior of Russellville, Ala. Acting in the cast are a number of persons, including Elsie Onifer, Bob Thompson, Betty Hall, Ellen Collins, Harold Hunter, Barbara Berthelf, Alita Bryant, Anna Sakaizawa, Lincoln Shimomura, Eleanor Hawley, Betty Rock, Sarah Kemp, Hazel Holmes, and John Shoe.

The committee which has produced this pageant is Jean Almy, senior of Englewood, N. J., Bob Thompson from New York City, and Ray Holsey, of Baltimore, Maryland.

College Employee Injured Wednesday

Mr. Wiley Garner, one of the campus workers employed by the College, suffered fractured ribs and possible internal injuries Wednesday afternoon when he was pinned under a tractor. He was taken to the Blount Memorial Hospital immediately and at last report was somewhat improved.

Mr. Garner was hauling logs when the tractor overturned, pinning him beneath it. A passing laundry truck driver saw the accident and drove his truck to the athletic field to summon help. Coach Johnson and members of his fifth period physical education class immediately went to the scene where they raised the tractor and extracted the victim.

Mr. Johnson administered first aid to the suffocating man, restoring him to semi-conciousness.

BENDIXES ARRIVE FOR GIRLS' DORMS

Five new Bendix machines have recently arrived and have been distributed in the women's dormitories, two in Pearson's, two in Baldwin and one in Memorial. None except one in Baldwin has been installed thus far. The machines will be coin-operated and are being installed and serviced by the Automatic Laundry Service Company of Knoxville.

Mr. E. C. Brown, engineer, is in charge of installing the machines. The project is being sponsored by Miss Frances Massey, Dean of Women.

REMINDER TO CLUBS

The deadline for club news is always 8:00 o'clock Thursday night. Any news submitted later than this hour cannot be printed.

"Vagabonda" Announced As Title For Barnwarming; Practice Begins

Co-chairmen Elsie Onifer and Lorraine Swift recently announced Vagabonda as the title of this year's Barnwarming. Presented annually on Thanksgiving evening, the program is similar to a school carnival and climaxes the only holiday that occurs during the first semester. Barnwarming is sponsored by the YWCA and all profit goes to the World Student Service Fund.

Queen, Class Sponsors

Highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the queen who is elected by the entire student body; she will be attended by the four class sponsors chosen by the individual classes. Vagabonda will include a midway with booths and a program.

Committee Appointments

YW President Mildred Orr appointed the co-chairmen last May. The 1946 chairmen gave hints at the spring "Y" Retreat, after which plans were begun. The theme, which is not revealed until Thanksgiving, was chosen this summer and some appointments were made at the beginning of the semester. Booth chairmen are Margie Newland, Bob Argie, Footsie Housch, and Mary Gene Lawson. Barbara Blair and Charlie Huffman head the music committee, with Peggy Howell and Betty Hall assisting. Costumes are to be secured by Eleanor Struble, assisted by Elaine Kern. Publicity chairman Hedy Nabholz will have Ginny Wood, Ruth Nicholas, and Ilda Mosby as committee members. Julie Pancoast and Wilbern Seymour are co-chairmen of the ticket committee.

Committee chairmen held their first business meeting Monday afternoon, October 13. The publicity committee began its work October 1.

Past Programs

Circasia, 1945 presentation, featured the faculty in a typical circus program. The 1946 version used Atlantis as the theme with the program presented "at the bottom of the sea".

This afternoon at 3:00 p. m. the chorus will holds its first rehearsal in the big gym.

Nine Participate In First Student Recital Tuesday

Program Includes Piano, Vocal Solos

Miss Katherine Currie Davis, Miss Thelma Nelson, and Mr. Harry H. Harter have announced plans for the first student recital which will be held in the Y. W. rooms at 4:30 on Tuesday, October 21.

The program will consist of both vocal and piano numbers to be given by nine students of the three instructors.

The participants are as follows: Rella Anderson, piano solo, "The Little Shepherd" and "The Snow is Falling", Debussy; Ann Trigg Mitchell, piano solo, "The Prophet Bird" Schumann; Alexander Smith, piano solo, "Tur Elise", Beethoven; Dorothy Crowson, piano solo. "Allegro from Sonata in G. Major", Mozart; Betty Hall will sing "Music I Heard With You", Hagemann, accompanied by Martha Barnwell; Barbara Blair, vocal solo, "Alma del Core", Caldara, accompanied by Janet Rich; Peggy Howell, vocal solo, "At Eve I Heard a Flute", Strickland and "When I Bring To You Colour'd Toys", J. A. Carpenter; Edwin Goddard and Peggy Howell, vocal duet, "La ci darem la mano" from "Don Giovannia", Mozart; Edwin Goddard, vocal solo, "With Joy the Impatient Husbandman", Haydn.

DR. GEORGE DAVIES SPEAKS AT VESPERS

Dr. George Davies will speak at Vespers Sunday, October 19. His subject will be "The Vital Christian".

Before his retirement, Dr Davies was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Salt Lake City, Utah; and then pastor of the Tarentum Presbyterian church in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

SEATING ASSIGNED TO MARYVILLE BAND

Coach Honaker has assigned permanent seating to the band at the north end of the bleachers.

Sweaters for the band have arrived and can be purchased at Proffitt's Store.

227 STUDENTS SING IN "THE MESSIAH"

"The Messiah" practice tomorrow will be the last time any newcomers may join the chorus. The chorus already has had two practices, one each on the past two Sundays. There were 227 students who came to the first practice, the number increasing for the second Sunday.

Tryouts for individual solos were held this afternoon at 1:30 in the YWCA rooms.

"Pep" Committee Announces Rules For Cheerleaders

New rules concerning membership on the cheering squad were drawn up at a recent meeting of the Pep Committee. Julie Pancoast, chairman of the committee announces them as follows:

"At the beginning of the fall semester, after the election by the student body of the cheering squad, the cheerleaders will select several practice sessions a week. Attendance at all practices will be required.

"If a member of the squad continually misses practice without a valid excuse and shows a lack of cooperation and disinteerest, his or her resignation will be accepted by the Pep Committee.

"A maximum number of absences will be determined in proportion to the number of practices selected. Any member exceeding the number will remain on the squad, but will forfeit his or her letter."

Rover Scout Crew Organized By Y M.

Offers Outdoor Activities For Men

Under the sponsorship of the Maryville College Y.M.C.A., a Rover Scout Crew has been formed to open opportunities for outdoor activity and for service to the community by Maryville's men students.

The Y.M.C.A. has been conscious for some time of the need of an outlet for the desire which many members feel for camping, hiking and recreation outdoors. The annual Y hike has been till now the only such activity and with the organizing of the Crew it is felt that the need will be met.

Apprentice Rovers

Rover Scouts are young men of the age of 18 or over, who are interested in the subjects named. Men of 17 may become Apprentice Rovers. The purpose of Rover Scouting is to take men into the outdoors in serious woodcraft activities, and further to aid the community in any service that may be found. The Crew at Maryville is planning numerous such projects, centering at present with improvements upon the picnic grounds in the college woods. There will be over-night hikes, week-end camping trips, tours, and other activities in which Rovers will be able to live in nature on their own. It is specifically stated that the Crew, being outdoors in purpose and plan, will not organize so closely as other college organizations, there will be no scheduled indoor meetings or regimented planning.

At present the Crew tentitively numbers 10 or 12 members under the councilorship of Sam Broyles, sophomore sociology major from Huntsville, Alabama. All former scouts who are interested in participating in the activities of senior scouting are advised to get in touch with him.

News Capsules—

Meany Battles With Lewis

The anti-Lewis faction of the A.F.L. at last has found a man who can stand up and trade verbal blows with the president of the United Mine Workers, the man being George Meany. It is said that Meany has risen in prestige among the officers and delegates because of his courageous stand against the insults of Lewis.

Strikes In Paris

A wave of new strikes in Paris, actively supported by the Communists, has swept over France. Paris subways and buslines were tied up, the Government replacing them by 800 civilian and military trucks.

State Dinners Cancelled

The Truman family has cancelled all State dinners held at the White House, in keeping with the national food-saving campaign.

2000 Subway Passengers Trapped

Two thousand subway passengers were trapped in a tunnel under the East River between Brooklyn and Manhattan last Wednesday. After seventy-three minutes of near panic, the stalled train which was causing the delay was repaired, and although scores were treated for smoke inhalation and shock, no one was seriously injured.

Bermuda Sky Queen Passengers Rescued

All sixty-nine passengers on the Bermuda Sky Queen, which was forced down in Mid-Atlantic, are safe on a rescue ship which is due in Boston tomorrow. The survivors are reported to be recovering from practically a mass attack of seasickness agitated by fright.

Russia Forms Fee German Army

In Washington, official sources disclosed that a "Free German Army" of 100,000 had been formed by Russia from war prisoners and was awaiting orders to carry the Communist banner into Germany.

ALUMNI MAGAZINE GOES TO PRESS

The Alumni Office announced that the Alumni Magazine has gone to the printers and is ready to go to press after a month's preparation.

The Office hopes to have the magazine ready for distribution by Homecoming the first of November, or possibly sooner.

The Office has recently finished stamping the address pistes for the mailing list.

Information about Alumni is received through direct correspondence with the alumnus or with a relative. It is sometimes obtained through friends who volunteer the information.

Eighteen New Members Elected To Editorial And Business Staffs

Eighteen students were elected to the editorial and business staffs of the HIGHLAND ECHO at a meeting of the publications committee last Monday afternoon. The elections followed a period for try-outs for both staffs, resulting in eleven additions to the editorial staff and seven to the business staff.

Four juniors, Ruth Ramsey, Mariagrazia Merlanti, Dick Sprague, and Carroll Stegall were selected for the editorial staff. There were also one sophomore, Ruth Davis, and six freshmen, Jean Hunt, Mary Lyerly, Hazel Holm, Elinor Kramer, Maynard Noble, and Donald Whelan.

Business Staff

Business staff additions are as follows: Florence Housch, senior; Margaret Weaver, junior; Janet Blackmore, sophomore; Joe Claude, sophomore; Barbara Altfather, freshman; Naoagene Morrow, freshman, and Anita Withers, freshman.

Miss Ramsey, whose major is music, lives in Cedarville, Ohio; Miss Merlanti's home is in Rochester, New York. She is a psychology major. Sprague is a mathematics major from Cincinnati, Ohio, and Stegall is a psychology major from the Belgian Congo in Africa.

Miss Davis, the sophomore newcomer, lives in Maryville. She is a pre-med student.

Miss Hunt, a sister to Mary Elizabeth Hunt who served on the ECHO staff for four years, is from Elizabethton, Tennessee. Misses Lyerly and Holm are both from Florida, Miss Lyerly being from Brooksville, and Miss Holm from Bartow. Elinor Kramer is a local student. Maynard Noble lives in Chicago, and Donald Whelan's home is in Homewood, Alabama.

Committee Members

Six faculty members, two student council representatives, and two senior editors of the ECHO staff make up the publications committee which met in the first floor chemistry lecture room in Fayerweather at 3:30 last Monday afternoon. Miss Elizabeth Jackson, Miss Almira Bassett, Mr. Ted Pratt, Dr. Ralph Case, Dr. F. A. Griffitts, and Professor E. R. Walker are the faculty members; Anna Sakaizawa and John Poland are the student council representatives. Senior editors on the ECHO staff who serve on the publications committee are Dorothy Vawter and Lorraine Swift.

Editorial additions increase the staff to twenty students. The business staff now has ten members.

PINNER ACCEPTS JOB IN GEORGIA

Tucker Pinner, stalwart tackle on the football team, recently left school to accept a position in Rome, Georgia. He will work for his father-in-law's transfer company. A cadet here during the war, he returned to become last year's freshman class president.

While a cadet at Maryville, Pinner met his wife, the former Betty Burton, a '47 graduate of the college. She is working in the Treasurer's office, but plans to leave soon.

E.T. Brings Band, 275 Students To Game Tonight

East Tennessee State plans to bring a forty-four piece band and 275 students to the game tonight it was reported from several different sources. The band arrives sometime during the day, and plans to parade through the streets of Maryville this afternoon.

Dr. M. D. Butterfield of E.T.S. wrote Dean McClelland about the arrival of the band, and the college coach wrote Coach Honaker about the 275 students who are also expected to come. Several Maryville students have received letters from friends at East Tennessee State, in which they have said that they are making tonight's game their big game by following the team.

The band plans to play before and during the game.

WGAP Broadcasts Football Game

Maryville's game tonight with East Tennessee State will be the first M. C. game to be broadcast over the radio station WGAP, a practice which will continue throughout the football season. The Morton-Myers Motor Company of Maryville will sponsor the broadcast.

There was some discussion of the first home-game being given over the radio station, but no sponsor could be found at that time.

The broadcast will begin at 7:55 tonight, the announcers being regular announcers of WGAP.

Speech Magazine Publishes Article By Dean Hunter

Gives A Study of Verbs, Adverbs and Nouns

Dr. Edwin R. Hunter, professor of English, wrote an article on parts of speech which was published in the magazine, American Speech. He explained that the contents were a result of a study made by both teachers and students in the Maryville English Department.

Study of Verbs and Adverbs

The article, entitled "Verb Plus Adverb Equals Noun", was written about the observations of words which are a combination of verb and adverb, the combination becoming a noun. "There are few which are firmly established in the standard vocabulary, e.g., castaway, farewell, go-between, passover, and runaway." There are others which are not nouns. "Macbeth's 'be-all and end-all' is adverbial."

Many adverb plus verb words have more than one meaning, Dr. Hunter pointed out. "Blowout may refer to a big party, or to an automobile mishap. Breakdown may be a statistician's term for an analysis of large items in a report, or it may refer to a vigorous dance."

Dr. Hunter concluded the study by giving a list of words which are composed of an adverb and a verb, the word being used as a noun.

WAITRESS-WAITER PARTY HELD IN DINING HALL

Ninety-one student waitresses and waiters held a party last night in the college dining hall, during which time they made candy for the entire group. Miss Suzanna Ware, dietitian and manager of the dining hall, was a chaperone.

A program, under the direction of Martha Ann Blount, Joe Claude, and Del Paling was presented during the first part of the party.

Margaret Rock, Jane Martenis, and Eleanor Hawley served on the food committee.

Students Prove School Spirit Is Not Absent

E.T. Effigy Hung In Gymnasium

Maryville students last evening proved that school spirit was not absent from the student body, exhibiting the greatest amount of pep seen in a pep rally this semester.

Beginning in the dining hall with the well-known yells, and ending in the gym with the hanging of an effigy of a E. T. football player, it rapidly spread to a peak of nigh enthusiasm when Harold Hunter, marching through the dining hall, played "Cheer Cheer for Old Maryville". He was followed by Bill Vogel and Ken Olsen who were carrying a stretcher on which was placed the effigy.

As students left the dining hall they gathered together in front of Pearsons, where the effigy was placed on top of Bob Butt's streamer decorated car. There was also a band of several pieces.

Cheerleaders led a few yells, and banners were displayed, after which the entire group began marching behind Thaw and toward the gym.

Placing the banners in the center of the gym as the enthusiasts found places in the bleachers, the first part of the rally was made up of alternate yells led by Head Cheerleader Titley and assistants and band numbers.

Coach Spoke

Coach Honaker spoke a few minutes, after which there were more cheers. For the final part the effigy was hauled to the ceiling of the gym, and properly hanged as all students circled around it, singing the funeral song.

The rally broke up about 6:30, and numerous students have expressed the opinion that Maryville can match any group in pep tonight.

Four Treated In College Infirmary

Four students have been treated in the college infirmary since October 1.

Ann Jenkins, freshman from Jamestown, Tennessee, entered October 1st. with a cold. Joan McKinon, freshman from Olean, New York, also entered October 1 to be treated for an injured knee. Miss McKinnon spent eleven days in the infirmary and, after being discharged on October 12, re-entered on October 14. She received the knee injury before coming to Maryville.

Reuben Monroe was admitted October 7 and spent 2 days recuperating from flu. Monroe is a freshman from Fort Lauderdale, Florida. Jim Black, junior from Baltimore, Maryland, was admitted October 12 suffering from a bad case of poison ivy.

Two Experimental Plays Scheduled For Friday Night

Senor Freedom and The Widow's Plight, a drama and a burlesque melodrama respectively, will be presented at the first production of the Experimental Theatre next Friday night. The first plays will begin at 8:00 o'clock and will be held in Bartlett auditorium.

Director Mary Mitchell Woolridge of Senor Freedom has been conducting rehearsals every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday nights at 6:45. The leading roles will be played by Betty Seagraves as Dolores, and Tom Eckert as Juan. Other members of the cast are Dorothy Holverson, Carroll Stegall, Ann Jenkins, Charlie Warner and Pat Love will usher.

Cast For Second Play

The cast for The Widow's Plight includes Ben Paxton, Tim Sykes, Margaret Newland, Bettie Marie Davis, "Tex" McKenzie, Pat Dennis, and Wilma Davis. Ruthellen Crews and Zoe Sayre are directing.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 32 NUMBER 8

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

EDITORIAL STAFF

Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Ruth Ramsey, Ilda Mosby, Mariagrazia Merlanti, Dick Sprague, Carroll Stegall

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb, Ruth Davis

FRESHMEN APPRENTICES
Jean Hunt, Mary Lyerly, Hazel Holm, Elinor Kramer, Donald Whelan

SPORTS STAFF

Kenneth Olsen ..... Editor
Herbert McCallum ..... Sophomore Reporter
Maynard Noble ..... Freshman Apprentice

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF

Business Manager ..... Ruth Williams

SENIOR ASSISTANTS
Mary Jane Long, Florence Housch

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Margaret Weaver

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANTS
Bob Watkins, Joe Claude, Janet Blackmore

FRESHMEN ASSISTANTS
Barbara Altfather, Naoagene Morrow, Anita Withers

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1947

Much Echo About Nothing

BY CRAIG FISHER

PREPARTORY: The Echo's slogan: All the news that's fit to print, and the rest goes into the gossip Column.

EXPLANATORY: If the name's misspelled, if the rumor's distorted, remember, in the interests of our clients we try to be as inaccurate as possible. Please refer all libel suits to Doc Griffitts. And finally, if you aren't in here this time, be grateful, for as the toe said to the heel, you're coming next.

Timidly we revive the Maryville chapter of the C.C.C. (Constant Campus Courters) association. Charter members on the list of missing persons from the ranks of us bachelors: Lesnick, Swenson, Abbott, Welch, Pancoast, Haaf, (by verbal agreement), and, given time, Professor Bernard. Pentz, Hunter, Brick Brahams, Castrodale, Eckert, Davis, Lazenby, Parvin, Marvin, Pribble, Smith, Proffitt, Campbell, Seymour, and Cardella (they'll be alphabetically ararnged for your convenience next time) have also fallen. Read this column for deletions and additions two weeks from now.

MARCH OF TIME: Fugate became papa Fugate this week. Still haven't found its gender, but sympathize knowing what a problem a baby is when you have to pay for 400 cigars and 400 liquorice sticks out of that $95.00.

William Nish, president of the Sophomore Class and dance chairman, received an offer from the Carolina Music Association to provide our next dance band at reduced prices. Wailed Nish, "But there's no place to dance. What a lost opportunity!" It seems that the bookstore is too cozy, the gym has too much of that roller coaster effect, and the library altogether too many serious minded people. Nish announced that the sophomore class dance will have to be postponed till 1962. A good thing, Nish reminded us, is always worth waiting for.

ANNOUNCEMENT: Dean Hunter, "Those wishing to learn how to use a darkroom come to Fayerweather." "Those interested in photography, also come", Dr. Williams. Quipped Bill Vogel, right on cue, "Let's go down in the darkroom and see what develops."

The faithful artist who drew the Y.M.-Y.W. Pageant poster put enough room between the couple to drive a truck through. Are you sure that wasn't Merriman with a dress on?

Dr. Orr tells about a poster taken from a chicken farm that appeared on Pearsons Hall at the height of the sign stealing craze. It read: "Home of Happy Hens".

Jim Black is in bed with poison oak all over his face. (1) Whose spoor was he following? (2) And if he wasn't following a spoor, why doesn't he practice more discrimination after Mrs. Brown's lecture in botany class. "The Poisoned Kiss" or "Black in the Bushes".

FACULTY FRAGMENTS: Dean Hunter missed his calling as a news analyst when he took up Sunday School teaching.

Griffitts tells about the girl who was too embarrassed to do improper fractions, and Miss Cowdrick was convinced that College students were growing more childish when some French coins she passed around her class came back with a penny added. A few days before that she was calmly told she hadn't any brains. When Betty Seagraves found her error, she hurried back to straighten it all out—in English.

THIS IS THE STORY the way I heard it. Three fellows were walking past Thaw when they saw a figure striding ahead of them who looked like the night watchman. One of the fellows, thinking he ought to make his acquaintance for future reference, approached and put a hand on his shoulder with a hearty hello. The figure turned, and "Woops, wrong Ralph", he gulped, as President Lloyd smiled at him slightly startled. (Editor's note: We wonder.)

Bill Proffitt took The Principals of Business Organization with him on his parlor date last week. What's the game, Bill?

NOTES ON THE Y.M. HIKE: While Frank Ladner picked a rock in mid stream to sleep on, Mr. Minear stretched a hammock between two trees. We have all kinds here. Delmus Watson fell and ripped the seat out of his pants, and four pairs of legs fell in the crik. Vogel got drunk on plain old apple squeezin's, Dwight Garrison looked like D. Boone, Jr. with all that paraphenalia hooked, strapped and tied to him, and Art Haaf hitch-hiked with more hike than hitch, to Gatlinburg to get the spagetti the boy scouts had forgotten. It was considered very successful, because for the first time in two years they didn't sleep in sheets of rain or blankets of snow.

IT ALL STARTED when we heard about Ginny Wood's speech in Systematics. She classified the shower singers into four groups, melodious, off key operatic, monotone, and indescribable. When she told about "Temptation" being Wanda Onifer's theme song, "Summertime" Margie Newland's, and "Heart and Soul" as Mitch Woolridge's we intercepted the pass and ran the ball for a touch down. Here's what happened:

DESCRIPTIONS IN SONG: Footsie Housch, "No Love, No Nothin'"; Kiger, "Cow Cow Boogie"; Nish, "Rumors are Flying"; Pearsons Hall, "Full Moon and Empty Arms"; Miss Johnson, "A Good Man's Hard to Find"; Judy Pancoast, "Trouble is a Man"; Naomi Hoffman, "I'm Mad About Him"; Don Weber, "Bring on the Girls"; Carnegie Basement: "Let's Pretend That We're Sweethearts Again"; Noble, "Riding High"; Mae Merriweather, "Crazy, Crazy"; Mr. Mac, "Who Dat Up Dere?"; Ruth Williams, "Georgia on my Mind"; John Baird, "Blah-Blah-Blah"; Sam Broyles, "After All These Years"; freshman chemistry section, "I Just Don't Understand"; Max House, "Big Chief Battle Axe"; Brahams, "California, Here I Come!"; Forrester, "I've Got Sixpence"; Baldwin Hall, "I've Got Bet ter Things To Do"; Carnegie, "In My Harem"; Memorial, "I Just Kissed His Picture Goodnight."

IN LINE with the fad of reducing everything to a science, we present this chemical analysis of a woman, a summary of observations from repeated reactions. This is so old it doesn't need a credit line.)

Accepted Atomic Weight: 120 pounds.

Occurrence: Usually found in a combined or mixed state with the common element, man. Occasionally found free in nature.

Physical Properties: Boils at anything. Freezes rapidly, often from unknown cause. Melts when properly treated, especially when a fur coat is used as the catalyst.

Chemical Properties: Possesses great affinity for gold and silver, platinum and precious stones. Violent reaction if left alone. Becomes green when placed beside a better looking specimen. Requires much time and expense to maintain in active state; procedure complex.

Uses: Highly ornamental. Used to promote sale of bathing suits and magazines. Useful as a tonic, and to accelerate low spirits. Equalizes the distribution of wealth. Used to dig gold mines. Probably the most effective income reducing agent yet known. Caution: Highly explosive in inexperienced hands.

STOP THAT STANDING!

Nobody likes to stand in lines at a football game, least of all a Maryville student. When unnecessary line standing is caused by "butters-in" somebody is going to object. Somebody has objected, in the persons of the line-standers.

Several have offered suggestions for the solution. One student had the "unromantic idea" of the people in line standing closer together. Perhaps a simpler method would be the persistent use of the short statement, "Go to the end of the line, bud!"

NOT ONLY MARYVILLE

The editor has noticed that our college is not the only one holding discussions on school spirit. In a paper received Friday from Mercer in Georgia, a feature writer described their school spirit as being at a "low ebb". At another school, the editor of the school paper wrote such an editorial in the first issue of the semester. She stated that she hoped nothing would warrant a similar editorial being printed again.

We're not quite sure we know exactly what type of "school spirit" Maryville wants, but one thing we know. If the students want it badly enough they will get it. Last night just go to show it.

IF YOU DIDN'T

Various programs and socials are being planned for the remainder of the semester; Hallowe'en class parties, Sadie Hawkins, "Dear Ruth", Saturday night socials, Barnwarming, and "The Messiah" are only some of them.

Your help will probably be needed to make them successful. If you refuse to help, then please refrain from destructive criticism. Perhaps you might have done better. The fact remains that you didn't!

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

Whether you realize it or not, the businesses in town who advertise in the HIGHLAND ECHO are the people who largely make its publication possible. Though each student pays 50c a semester for a weekly paper, it does not nearly cover the cost of the printing.

Next time yo go to town, don't failt to patronize our advertisers.

THANKS FOR THE WALKS

Pearsons and Baldwin girls wish to thank who ever it was for whatever they did to have the asphalt and cement walks made recently. Both of them, one from Pearsons front door to the laundry and one between Baldwin and the Chatterbox, were badly needed.

THANKS MORTON-MYERS

Because the Morton-Myers Motor Company has offered to sponsor the project, all Maryville College home football games will be heard over the radio station WGAP. The first broadcast will go on the air tonight at 8:00.

Thank you Morton-Myers for your sponsorship.

Through These Portals . . .

Lillybelle Gunn, '47, received a fellowship with the Danforth Foundation for a year of field work in religious activities on a college campus, and is located at Ball State Teacher's College, Muncie, Indiana.

David C. Gullck, '47, has entered the School of Medicine, Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa.

Bill Grosh, '47, is attending Virginia Theological Seminary at Alexandria, Virginia, in preparation for the Episcopal ministry.

June Garland, '47, is director of religious education in the Larger Parish Program in Crittenden County, Kentucky, and plans to enter the McCormick school of religious education in the fall of '48.

James E. Evans, '47, is a student at Western Theological Seminary in Pittsburgh.

Daniel B. Eveland, '47, is in his second semester at Princeton Seminary, Princeton, New Jersey, working towards his B. D. degree.

Sarah Enloe, '47, has accepted a position of D. R. E. and Sunday School Extension worker for the First Presbyterian Church of Cartersville, Georgia.

Wallace Edward Easter, '47 (Dec. '46), graduate of Princeton Seminary, was ordained as an evangelist by the Presbytery of Washington City, May 12, 1947. Mr. Easter will become assistant minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Edith Earle, '47, is teaching the third grade at Giffin Elementary School, South Knoxville.

Jesie Lou Brunson, '47, is a social case worker for the Chemung Co., Elmira, New York.

Charles Brand, '47 is doing graduate work in aquatic biology at the University of Wisconsin.

Jay R. Bishop, '47, has begun his junior year at McCormick Seminary, Chicago.

Mary Ruth Barber, '47, is now

(Continued on page four)

Do You Know? . . .

Do you know that Maryville students of fifty-five years ago were yelling the same "Howee-How" yell as we do today?

Do you know that several Indians were among the first students to attend Maryville College and that some of the first students walked here from places as far as New Hampshire?

Do you know that the first Maryville College which stood where New Providence Presbyterian Church now stands served as barracks during the Civil War for both armies and was sold for debt during the war?

Do you know that the points of interest to college students in 1892 as advertised in the "Students Handbook" of that year was Montvale Springs, Mount Nebo, Alleghany Springs, Wildwood and Melrose Springs? Wonder if the students had special privileges then?

To make your "Town Night" date a perfect one, stop by for that snack

C. & L. CAFE

Reporter Gives Information About Maryville Opponents

BY HAZEL HOLM

Few Maryville students are acquainted with any facts about the colleges of the teams our football squad meets on the field. At the opening of the semester our team was scheduled to clash with nine opponents, and now three of the games are things of the past. But only a small number of students on M. C. campus would be able to answer an inquirer about the location of Hiwassee, T.P.I., and Centre Colleges. Fewer still could give information about the type school each is, or about their respective enrollments.

Most of the following information is not up-to-date in relation to enrollment numbers, but the comparison of their 1940 enrollments—1940 being the date most of them were taken—will give an idea as to their relative sizes. Their student bodies are possibly doubled now.

Hiwassee a Junior College

Hiwassee, our first victory, is a junior college of only 85 men and 80 women. It is located near Madisonville, about 30 miles south of Maryville.

Our boys journeyed approximately 80 miles northwest to Cookeville when they played T. P. I., which is a state controlled technological college with a 1947 enrollment of 1751 students.

Centre a Church School

Centre, another Presbyterian college, had 207 men and 136 women in 1940. Located at Danville, Kentucky, the journey to Centre was the longest trip of the season for the Scotties.

Tonight we meet the team of East Tennessee State which is from Johnson City, around 120 miles northeast of Maryville. There are over 928 men and women attending there.

Emory and Henry, in Emory, Virginia, is a college of arts and science, controlled by the Methodist church, having 350 students enrolled.

University of The South

November 1, the Scotties play the University of the South, a school for men, located at Sewanee, about 140 miles south of Maryville, and near Chattanooga. It is a college of arts and sciences and a school of theology, governed by the Episcopal Church, it

(Continued on page four)

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

CAPITOL THEATRE
Monday-Tuesday, October 20-21
"The Ghost And Mrs. Muir"
The Spirit so willing. . .
The flesh so weak!
Gene Tierney, Rex Harrison
George Sanders
From the best-seller that spread a sly smile across the face of America!

TOWN NIGHT

"Imperfect Lady" starring Teresa Wright and Ray Milland will be playing at the Park Theatre next Tuesday night. The Capitol Theater will show "Song of the Thin Man" with William Powell and Myrna Loy.

The rink will be open from 7:00 to 10:00 p. m. for skating enthusiasts.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

Ten Years Ago-1937

In the Highland Echo

The social committee sponsored its first formal dinner of the year in the college dining hall. Well known campus singers and a Jazz Band provided the entertainment. The hall was appropriately decorated with an orange and garnet motif.

—o—

University of Chattanooga, 19 Scots, 0

—o—

The college tearoom, sponsored by the Institutional Management class, was opened to the public for daily lunch, accommodating 22 people for 15c to 25c each.

—o—

Scots, 25—Tusculum, 0

—o—

"One organze (Tusculum) man could hardly be carried to the bench before another lay stretched on the damp sod of Wilson Field." The $3,500 steel bleachers were completed.

—o—

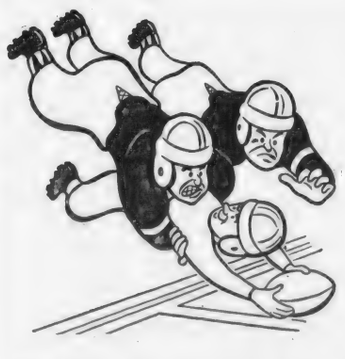
The Pessimist's Viewpoint

"There is a destiny that shapes our ends rough, hew them though we may."

—o—

The Capitol's week of features was "Men Are Not Gods", "The Lady Escapes", and "The Road Back".

—o—



"By unanimous vote Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd won the title of homeliest man present at the itner-club meeting of the Maryville-Alcoa Kiwanis."

—o—

"The more we give happiness, the more we have left."

Date Night!
To make a hit with the New Gal you just met in School . . . . be sure that you have a Clean White Shirt for date nights.
9 Pounds Clothes Washed, Rinsed, Damp Dried, Soap, Bleach, and Water 35c
SPECIAL
9 Pounds Washed and Dried 55c
SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY
Phone 1055

School Days
Perfectly recorded for future reminiscing.
"Camerize" friends and fun.
One week service
PARK DRUG

Scotties--
We Congratulate you on your Good Football Record this year. . . . .
We are behind you 100%. . . . .
Wishing you Greater Success in the Future!
Tennessee Gas Company

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

Meeting a high-tensioned Buccaneer foltilla is going to be for our Scots a duel against destiny as far as pre-game rating "dope" is concerned. We don't think the Bucs out-rate us by any super odds, but our Scotties will have to put forth better-than-average performance if Maryville expects to bounce the Buccaneers. Yes, and it's going to take extraordinary lung pressure from the Orange and Garnet fans to blow the threat of a Buccaneer whirlwind away from Wilson Field. Come'on MARYVILLE, Let's go T-E-A-M! Let's send these Buccaneers home with regrets . . .

Buccaneers Privateering

Buccaneers! It's those Johnson City Pirates of East Tennessee State College that close around our happy isle tonight. Coach "Preacher" Roberts' boys are searching for football booty, and they're seeking revenge on a team which spoiled their otherwise perfect season by dealing them a 25-2 defeat in last year's battle.

The Bucs Have Good Record

The Bucs have shown plenty of punch in their first three games of the season. They have trapped Tennessee Wesleyan 14-12 (and it was the Wesleyan Bulldogs who only last week held Carson-Newman to a 14-14 decision). Dropping a close game to Erskine (20-14), the Bucs bounced back to defeat Salem College of Salem, West Virginia, 14-2 Friday afternoon of last week. This State eleven is hopeful of treating the Scots in a woeful way to erase that blot of last season.

Fictitious Score and False Report

It's a puzzle to us: How the score Maryville 25, Centre 12 hit print in the college football score columns of various papers a week after the game between Centre and Maryville. As far as we've been abl to find, the Colonels did not meet an opponent last week-end. Since both teams were out of action, how did this false score get out over the press "wires"? The phenomenon of a "wire" agency releasing a false report is clearly a blunder on someone's part. We'll drop the matter by setting the record straight. The score of the game at Danville on October 4 was: Maryville 27, Centre 0.

Blue Raiders Win Four: Undefeated

Middle Tennessee State's Blue Raiders, according to press reports, are the only independent college eleven in Tennessee boasting a perfect record with no ties or defeats. The Raiders have won thir first four games of the season, and have only Austin Peay and Cumberland to pass to keep their slate clean until our Scotties have a chance to make their mark at Murfreesboro on November 8. M.T.S. opened their season with Southeastern Missouri (13-0), killed Memphis State (20-0), stopped Milligan (7-0), and last week took measure of Union University by two touchdowns.

Where Next Sewanee?

Sewanee traveled north last Saturday to put a convincing 40-0 shellacking on the Kenyon College team at Gambier, Ohio. Two weeks ago the Tigers opened their season in South Carolina by tieing Presbyterian (0-0). Boy, do those Tigers get around! They remain at home this week-end to meet Mississippi College—a foe which dealt them a 20-6 blow last year.

Scouting On The Scots

The Sewanee scouts went hunting early in the season to watch their opponents at work. An assistant Tiger Coach watched the recent Maryville-Centre match with intense attention. Although Sewanee will meet both Maryville and Centre on the gridiron, it was obvious that the Tiger scout was definitely more concerned about the "looks" of the Highlanders. They'll see the Highlanders ready for a brawl when they arrive two weeks from tonight.

Three Scots Set Records

Glancing through the statistics department of the Official Football Guide for 1947, which is published by the National Collegiate Athletic Association for nation-wide consumption, we found three feats by members of last year's Tangerine Bowl team listed in the publication. In the total points for a season in the small college division, Hershall Merriman, touchdown threatener for the Scots took over 9 T.D.s to be listed in this statistic department. (The only other high scorer of this region was Flowers of Sewanee with ten tallies.)

Ross Honaker kicked up a .700 percentage for his season run at the placement test to make 21 goals out of 30 trys and get mention in the points after touchdown review of this nation-wide magazine.

Charlie Pepper was credited with a 92 yard run back of a kick-off in the kick-off return statistics box. Pepper accomplished this feat at Jefferson City last year when ne raced up the sidelines and took the ball all the way over the enemy goal at the kick-off beginning of the last half.

MARYVILLE MEETS FAVORED TEACHERS

Head Coach Lombe Honaker Back; Highlander Eleven Trys For Third Win

By Ken Olsen

The Highlander football squad, starting the heavy side of their 1947 schedule, will battle the favored East Tennessee State Teachers eleven tonight on Wilson Field. The Buccaneers are out to take revenge o nthe Scotties for marring their undefeated season with a 25-2 brawl at Johnson City last year. Maryville, with one defeat this season, is trying to get on the victory wagon for the rest of the year. The starting whistle will blow at 8 o'clock.

Coach Honaker Back

Head Coach Lombe Honaker, missing from the last two games with the flu, will be back on the home team bench tonight to engineer the Scot attack. Line Coach "J. D." Davis and Assistant Coach Marvin Mitchell will direct some of the line and the offense play.

A "welcome back" might also be extended to Orange and Garnet men Garner and Baldwin who have been missing because of injuries. Garner, 200 pound center, is back in the starting line-up after missing the Centre game because of a sore rib and a bad leg. Baldwin, regular first string wing back, will probably see some action in that spot tonight, but he is not listed in the starting line-up.

Starting Line-up For Maryville

The starting line for the Scots will probably be Ken Talbott and Howard Davis at ends, Fred Kluth and Allen Rock at the tackle spots, Lloyd Anderson and Captain "Cotton" Easter at guards, and Bob "Pie" Garner at center. In the backfield will probably be King Berrong at two-back, Allen Law at wingback, Leon Berrong at tail back, and Hersch Merriman at full back.

Teachers Present a Problem

The Teachers present a real problem to the Highlanders this year. The Blue and Gold from Johnson City are the first team that the Scots have met this year that runs out of the "T" formation.

The Buccaneers won their first game game, but lost when they fell under Erskine College's hard-hitting eleven. Last week they had another victory, this time against Salem College.

Emphasizing a pass offense, the Teachers make steady advances with the throwing arm of spot-passer V. Carrier, and the receiving ability of 205 pound end Holsclaw. On the running plays and the kicking, fast, illusive J. Musselman will handle the ball.

The Starting Line-up For E.T.S.

Starting in the line for Teachers will be Holsclaw and Pansock, ends; Transbarger and Brown, tackles; Groseclose and Bailey, guards; and Holly at center. In the backfield will be Tolley, quarterback; Musselman and France, halfbacks; and Carrier, fullback.

Litkenhous Favors Teachers

Dr. E. E. Litkenhouse, well-known football expert, predicts an ill-wind for the Scots. He favors the Teachers by a margin of 24.8 points.

E. T. S. Bringing Cheering Squad

Bob "Pie" Garner, Scot center pictured above, is back in the starting line-up after a one-game absence because of injuries.

we go to press, the Teachers are coming en mass to "beat Maryville". The reports claim that 275 students and a band will accompany the team arriving sometime this afternoon. They have asked permission to parade through Maryville, and requested 87 reserved seats.

3-MINUTE BOUTS BEGIN IN WRESTLING

Prospective grapplers began intra-squad, three-minute bouts at the pre-season wrestling practice which has been under way for five weeks. Every man wrestles once or twice a week for three one-minute rounds.

Phil Evaul, the acting Coach in absence of "J. D." Davis, is putting the men through conditioning exercises and hold drills, emphasizing the fundamentals of wrestling.

The wrestlers have a regular practice every Tuesday and Thursday from 4:00 until 5:00 in the wrestling room, second floor, Bartlett Hall.

HOWIES WIN SOCCER TOURNAMENT IN P. S.

The Howies won the soccer tournament Thursday afternoon in Point System with a score of 4-3. It was their third victory in four games. The Chillies won the game Tuesday with a score of 4-3.

Next week both teams will begin practice for aerial darts.

Man took a million years to shape
His present aspect from an ape,
But in a minute woman can
Make a monkey out of man.

Gillette Wins One-Mile Run

George Gillette, varsity letterman, won the one-mile run at the first Intramural track and field meet held last Wednesday afternoon. His time was 5:30.8.

The pole vault had Morton Hargis and Fowler competing, with Fowler winning with a vault of 9 ft. 3 in.

Miracle, Ammons Win

In the shot-put, Mike Miracle and John Briggs battled, Miracle winning with a toss of 33 ft. 4 in. Ammons and Briggs competed for the javelin throw; Ammons was highest with a throw of 145 ft 5 in. Ammons also won over Briggs in the discus throw, heaving it 86 ft. 8 in.

Hap Brahams, another of last year's lettermen, won the high jump over a large field of contestants.He made a jump of 5 ft. 9 in.

Fleet-footed Bob Kay, also a letterman, won the 100 yard dash with a time of 10.8. Gillette, the mile winner, also was top man in the half mile with a time of 2:17.

Jim Baird won the 220 yard dash with a time of 26.4. The last event, the mile relay, was won with a time of 1:40.5.

Varsity Basketball Practice Begins

Varsity basketball hopefuls reported to Coach L. S. Honaker yesterday afternoon in the new gym. Coach Honaker is emphasizing conditioning and fundamentals of passing, breaking and shooting.

Practices will be held on Wednesdays at 3:30 and Fridays at 2:30. A third day will be decided on later. Any men interested in varsity basketball may report to these practices.

INTRAMURALS

FOOTBALL . . . .

By MAYNARD NOBLE

Last Monday intramural football entered its fifth consecutive week, during which time several previously postponed games were played. The schedule is being changed beginning next Monday, in order to accomodate all boys singing in the choir and playing on intramural teams.

Eight Balls Nose Out Jets, 12-8

Monday afternoon the Eight Balls scored a touchdown in the last quarter to win over the Jets 12-8. At the half the score stood 8-6 in favor of the Jets. Smith and Reynolds each scored a touchdown for the Eight Balls as Martin scored 6 points for the Jets and Buckley was credited with 2 on a safety.

K.M.A. Trounces Tau Sigma, 40-0

Big Brick Brahams was the star of the game with a total of 17 points as K.M.A. beat Sigma 40-0. Rush Lester scored 1 point; Mike Miracle and Mathis each scored a T.D., and Hap Brahams scored 8 points.

Odds Defeat Mules, 13-7

In the first Tuesday game the Odds came from behind a half-time score of 6-7 to win over the Mules 13-7. Joe Poland scored the touchdown for the Mules and Abbott made the extra point. Tom Yeaworth made both touchdowns for the Odds, and Frank Morton made the extra point.

Lokal Yokals Outscore Crescents 20-13

In the second game Tuesday, Jones, Smith, and Burchfield each scored a touchdown for the Lokal Yokals, and Webb made 2 extra points, for a sum of 20 points to defeat the Crescents. The scoring for the Crescents was done by Packard, who made 12 points, and McKenzie, who made 1.

K.M.A. Wins Over Frosh, 14-0

Playing in the mud late Thursday afternoon, K.M.A. beat Y Frosh by a 14-0 score. Hap and Brick Brahams each tallied with a touchdown and Hyatt and Pentz each made 1 point.

The first game, Mitey Mites vs. Jets, was called off due to rain.

Jets Edge Out Mules, 7-6

Rallying in the last fifteen seconds of play, the Mules scored a touchdown, making the final score 7-6. The Mules tried for the extra point and failed to make it on an incompleted pass. For the Jets, Hunter scored the touchdown and Martin scored the extra point. For the Mules, Chadwick scored the touchdown on a pass.

Lokal Yokals Roll Over Tau Sig, 32-0

With Smith scoring 7 points, Verl Petree scoring 12, Basil Petree scoring 1, and Birchfield and Hall each scoring 6, the Lokal Yokals had little trouble beating

(Continued on page four)

INTRAMURAL STANDINGS

Garnet League

Team	W	L	Pct.
K.M.A.	9	0	1.000
Crescents	5	4	.556
Y Frosh	4	4	.500
Lokal Yokals	4	4	.500
Tau Sigma	0	10	.000

Orange League

Team	W	L	Pct.
Eight Balls	8	1	.888
Odds	6	4	.600
Jets	5	4	.556
Mitey Mites	2	4	.333
U.S. Mules	0	9	.000

TOUCH-FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

October 20-24

Monday—3:30 Lokal Yokels vs Y. Frosh
4:30 U. S. Mules vs M. Mites
Tuesday—3:30 K.M.A. vs Crescents
4:30 Eight Balls vs Odds
Wednesday—3:30 K.M.A. vs Lokal Yokels
4:30 Mitey Mites vs Jets
Thursday—3:30 Tau Sigma vs Crescents
4:30 Jets vs Odds
Friday—3:30 Tau Sigma vs Y. Frosh
●Jets vs Mitey Mites
4:30 K.M.A. vs Lokel Yokals
●Eight Balls vs U. S. Mules
●Games on field 2

These games have all been rescheduled so choir members will not have games on Monday.

Letters are links of friendship . . . shortening miles to hours.

Make letterwriting a daily habit.

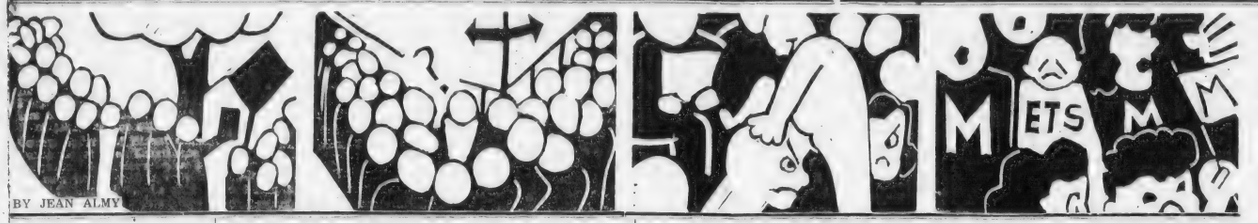
BYRNE DRUG CO.

DUBBY'S GRILL

Just off the Hill

After Skating at the Rollerdrome

Visit Dubby's Grill



for those Hamburgers, Cheeseburgers, Cokes and "town night" specials

She Shall Wear Jewels Wherever She Goes

Every lady appreciates the value of tasteful jewelry in her social life. . . Our fall selection of costume jewelry includes values you can't afford to miss. . . . . Pins, clips, cocktail rings and watches. . . . All the accessories of the season, priced to your satisfaction!

United Jewelers

BY JEAN ALMY

Pre-Ministerials

The Pre-Ministerial Association will give a picnic in the college woods, 5:30 p m., Thursday, October 23, for members and their dates.

Mr. Ted Pratt, secretary in the Public Relations Office, will lead the meditation.

THROUGH THESE . . .

(Continued from page two)

working in the U. T. library in charge of government publications. She is also singing with the James King Chorus of Knoxville, which broadcasts once a week.

Mary Barnwell, '47 is studying theory of music and piano at the University of Michigan.

Donald W. Campbell, '47, is teaching mathematics in the high school in Frankford, Delaware.

Betty Carolyn Congleton, '47, is taking graduate work in history at the University of Kentucky.

William Cover, '47, has accepted the position of Head Coach at Mineral Ridge High School at Mineral Ridge, Ohio.

Jean Balch, '47 and Eldred C. Johnson were married in Detroit in July.

FOOTBALL—

(Continued from page 3)

Tau Sigma, 32-0, in the second game on Friday.

Mitey Mites Upset Odds, 6-0

Scoring in the first quarter when the Odds had only five men, the Mitey Mites held their 6 point lead throughout the remainder of the game to win 6-0. Charles Roberts made the only touchdown for the Mitey Mites.

Y Frosh Beat Crescents 24-10

Y Frosh had little trouble defeating the Crescents late yesterday afternoon with a 24-12 score. Rhon scored 18 points for the Frosh and Fowler scored 6. For the Crescents Packard and McKenzie each scored points.

COLLEGE MUSEUM DISPLAYS CHINESE TEAKWOOD FIGURES

BY MILDRED LEAKE

The lure of travel, the charm of far-away places—who has not been thrilled by the thought of them? Souvenirs and treasures of many men and women, travelers and missionaries, are in the glass cases of the College museum. And these collections included everything from leopard skins to peacock fans, delicate laces to hideous idols.

Of all these exhibits, one of the most fascinating is a set of carved teak wood figures representing the Chinese peasant at work. In one, a shoemaker is busily making soles for his shoes. In doing this, he spreads old rags onto a board, covers them with flour and water paste, and allows it to harden in the sun. Following the process of hardening, he cuts the soles to size on his board, stitches them in layers, covers them with new cloth for the appearance's sake, and sews them onto the uppers. The figurine representing this work shows the man bent over his shoe, needle in hand, and the new sole between his knees. On his right is his cutting table; on his left the tool basket and pole for carrying it.

'Rickshas and Coolies

Also among the teak wood figures are two 'ricksha models—one shown with the top up to keep out the weather; the other, the top folded down and the passenger holding a parasol. The 'ricksha is really a fairly light vehicle, and a coolie is able to run several miles dragging one. This is possible because of the construction: light-weight frame, springs, and large wheels well-placed for proper balance.

Chinese Wheelbarrows

Another story indeed is the Chinese wheelbarrow. This figurine represents a coolie pushing one loaded with two passengers and several large bundles. These vehicles are not like our American 'barrows. Instead of being cup-shaped, they have a flat, board top fastened over the big, wooden wheel. A broad band of cloth rope helps the coolie who pushes it by suspending a great part of the weight from his shoulders.

Other pieces of the teak wood set depict plowing and harrowing with water buffalo, mat-weaving, punishment of thieves, coolies carrying the bridal sedan chair, comorant fishing, pagodas and a typical stone bridge—no model over three inches high.

Donated by The Rev. Kidder

These and a great part of the Chinese exhibit were donated to the college by the Rev. J. Earnest Kidder. Mr. Kidder spent twenty-one years as a missionary to China, doing evangelical work in the northern part of Shantung province near Chefoo. He returned to the States after the outbreak of war and now has a church in Berwyn, Maryland. His son, Paul Kidder, is a freshman here.

REPORTER GIVES . . .

(Continued from page two)

had 322 students enrolled in 1940.

We will play Middle Tennessee State at Murfreesboro, 130 miles of here, on November 7. Having an enrollment of 412 men and 626 women, it is the second largest college Maryville plays.

November 15, the team meets Carson-Newman, a Baptist liberal arts college in Jefferson City. It is 40 miles northeast of Maryville. About 224 men and 272 women go there.

Tusculum Is Presbyterian

The Scotties last game November 15, will be with Tusculum in Greeneville, about 75 miles north east of Maryville. Tusculum, a Presbyterian college of liberal arts, has 167 men and 168 women in its regular session.

ATHENIAN GIVES SKIT IN BARTLETT

Athenian Society will meet in Bartlett Hall at 6:45 Saturday night. Entertainment will be in the form of a history lesson called "The Story of Capt. John Smith and Pokyhuntus." The skit is made up of a cast of freshmen, headed by Joe Poland as Capt. John Smith and John Shew as Big Chief Powder Can. The narrator will be the master of ceremonies for the evening. Caroll Stegall, junior.

EXCHANGES

"Have you heard the class yell of the college of experience?"

"No, what is it?"

"Ouch!"

Bellhop: "Telegram for Mr. Sleidopavrikanowski."

Mr. Sleidopavrikanowski: "What initial, please?"

An American film producer was selecting a chief for his scenario staff. The producer insisted that the successful applicant must be a college graduate. He looked with favor upon one applicant, and asked if he had had a college education. The answer was in the affirmative.

"Show me your diploma," demanded the producer.

The applicant tried to explain that it was not customary for college graduates to carry diplomas around with them.

"Well, then," demanded the producer, "say me a big word."

—Financial Post

Janice: "Is it dangerous to drive with one hand?"

Dempsie: "You bet; more than one man has run into a church doing it."

Golf is a game where a ball one and one-half inches in diameter is placed on another ball 8,000 miles in diameter.

The object is to hit the small ball, but not the large one.

Why don't you stop to think, and think to stop.

COLLEGE CALENDAR

Saturday, October 18
6:15—Societies meet
8:00 E. T. S.-M. C. football game
Sunday, October 19
1:30 Y.W.-Y.M. joint meeting
2:45 Y.W.-Y.M. Radio Program, WGAP
7:00 Vespers
8:00 Student Vols
Monday, October 20
6:45 IRC present "The March of Time"
Tuesday, October 21
5:00-10:00 Town Night
7:00 Gospel Fellowship Hour
Wednesday, October 22
6:45 Prayer Meeting
Thursday, October 23
6:45 French, Spanish, Pre-Med Clubs
Pre-Ministerial Picnic
Friday, October 24
Experimental Theatre

Miss Heron, Hoglan Read In Workshop

Miss Jessie Heron and Charles Hoglan read their own compositions at the October 15 meeting of the Writers' Workshop. Miss Heron read what she termed "an innocuous little yarn" entitled "The Guardian Angle". Hoglan read a short story, "So This is How It Happens." The setting of the story was in the Air Corps.

Also at the last meeting Harold Hunter criticised Anna Sakaizawa's story, "The Silken Cord", and Hedy Nabholz criticised Mildred Orr's "Letters of a College Freshman."

ALPHA SIGMA

Alpha Sigma will meet at 6:15 in the YWCA rooms tonight. The meeting will be over in time for the football game.

I. R. C.

A March of Time movie, "Palestine", will be shown at IRC meeting Monday night at 6:45.

Herbert McCallum will speak on "The Jewish Case for a Home in Palestine.

ART CLUB

The Art Club held a weiner roast in the college woods last Monday night. This is the first of the many scheduled events for the year. The club is under the direction of Mr. David E. Bernard.

BAINONIAN

Dot Downey is in charge of three freshmen skits which will be presented at Bainoian tonight. The meeting will be in Banonian Hall at 6:15 this evening.

Pre-Med Club Hears Local Doctor Thursday

Dr. Burchfield, who was scheduled to talk to the Pre-Med Club last week, will speak at the meeting Thursday, October 23.

The club is planning a trip to the local hospital as a program in the near future.

At the last meeting, Richard Ebelacker spoke on "Indian Medicine", and Robert Frost read current news articles on recent medical developments.

Mrs. Lloyd Reads Letters At Student Volunteers

Mrs. Ralph W. Lloyd will read several letters from her son, the Rev. Hal Lloyd, missionary to the Phillipines, at the Student Vols meeting Sunday evening, 8:00 o'clock in Bartlett. The Rev. Lloyd is working in the Phillipines for a three-year term under the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A.

Marilyn Hartpence and Florence Housch will sing a duet.

Mr. Bernard Lectures On Modern Art Monday

An illustrated lecture on the exhibition of modern art, held at the University of Iowa during the summer session will be given by Mr. David E. Bernard, Instructor in Art. The lecture will be in room 23 of Anderson Hall at 6:45 p. m., on Monday evening, October 20.

All persons who are interested in art are invited to attend.

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.

30-Minute Service

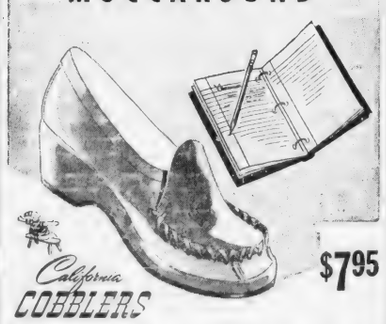
between

Maryville and Knoxville

Looking For The Perfect Dessert?

Try our delicious baked goods. . . Jelly rolls. nut rolls, layer cakes, individual cup cakes, pies, pastry of every description. . . . Fresh-baked daily. . . How about a loaf of golden-brown home-style bread?

LYNCH BAKERY



HOLD IT!

Beautiful portrait photography done at lowest rates.

Come in today.

THE WEBB STUDIO

MOCCAROUND

California COBBLERS

$7.95

There's a streak of genius afoot! California Cobblers has added the master's touch to the original Indian moccasin to make the Moccaround, a casual shoe that's become a classic. In soft, unlined elk, custom-tanned, this flexible, light as-air shoe is made so that the upper material and the sole are in one piece, hugging your foot like a little sock. And lo! there is no inside seam to pinch your toes, because it is hand-braided on the outside, like the Indian Maiden's. The cushiony platform and scoop wedge heel gives you a springy bounce to whisk you away in foot-free ease. The rave of the campus. . . the joy for every gad-about. In rich, Adobe Tan, and only $7.95.

PROFFITT'S

Smart Shoes Main Floor

ROLLER DROME

SKATING RINK

Ellis Avenue

If you haven't been skating for sometime you've probably forgotten what fun it is. Our large modern rink is open on Tuesday

Tuesday Evening.
Hours: 5:00-7:00—$ .30
7:15-10:00—$ .44

Skating Every Day except on Sunday

Special Arrangement for Parties

Owned and operated by

Burl and Margaret Gregory

PATTERN WITH A MASCULINE SPARKLE

PURITAN SCOTMOOR*

$6.50

See Our Selection of Sweaters

If you're aiming to get a real man's sweater, take a peek at the Scotmoor. An exclusive original by Puritan, this 100% virgin wool Jacquard is knitted through and through with a sparkling ruggedness that fits it for almost every kind of spectator or active goings-on. We're fortunate enough to have a fine selection of Puritan originals. Why not drop in and select something in the color, style and pattern that suits you, right now.

MOSER'S

.CLOTHING STORE.

BETTY OR

ELSIE JEAN?

THE Highland Echo

BEAT EMORY

AND HENRY

VOLUME 33 — MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, OCTOBER 25, 1947 — NUMBER 9

LAMAR MEMORIAL LIBRARY MARYVILLE COLLEGE OCT 2 S 1947

MARYVILLE PLANS HOMECOMING

Professors Attend Annual E. T. E. A. Meeting In Knox.

General Carlos Romulo Speaks On Communism

The annual meeting of the East Tennessee Education Association will be held at the University of Tennessee in Knoxville, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 30 through November 1. All public school teachers of the eastern part of the state, as well as many from the colleges, are expected to attend. Although public schools will be closed for this period, the colleges will continue their regular classes.

The group attending from Maryville includes Dr. D. H. Briggs, psychology professor, and Coach J. A. Davis, physical education.

At the Thursday night assembly General Carlos Romulo of the Phillipines will speak on "Communism in the Far East". Under auspices of the International Relations Club, a bus has been chartered for students to hear the speech.

Dr. Carl Van Doren of Columbia University will be the speaker at the Friday morning meeting. His subject is Benjamin Franklin.

Newspaper Goals Outlined By Clyde B. Emert

Clyde B. Emert, editor of "The Maryville and Alcoa Daily Times," addressed the student body of the college as guest speaker on the Wednesday morning chapel program this week. Dr. Lloyd introduced the speaker as an outstanding Methodist layman, but Mr. Emert explained that although he had been active in Methodist Church circles over a number of years he was actually an Episcopalian. Then he jokingly defined a Methodist as a Baptist who had been to school, a Presbyterian as one who had been to college and an Episcopalian as a person who had been fortunate with his investments.

Aims of Two Groups

Mr. Emert drew a comparison between colleges and newspapers, going into the similarity of aims between the two groups. He prefaced his address with a brief history of newsprinting, climaxed with the statement that there are now one thousand, seven hundred and sixty-three daily newspapers in the United States reaching into more than fifty million homes.

Mr. Emert's analysis of newspaper goals stated a three-fold objective exists: newspapers must mirror life accurately since they constitute the authentic history of a community; they must seek to guide public opinion into the proper channels; and must provide wholesome entertainment for their readers.

Newspapers Guilty

Newspapers in general have been guilty of overemphasizing the importance of our matinee idols, Hollywood personalities, and sensationalism, Mr. Emert stated. It results in an unbalanced picture of our national life given to other countries, he said.

Mr. Emert closed by quoting Thomas Jefferson, who said that if a choice were necessary, he would choose newspapers without government rather than government without newspaper.

Summer Camp Workers Speak At Student Vols

Peggy Howell, Lois Thomas and Robert Holly will speak at Student Volunteers Sunday night about their experiences at various camps this summer. Miss Howell was in a camp for crippled children. Miss Thomas worked with emotionally disturbed children. Holly was connected with a Y camp. The meeting will be in Bartlett Hall at 8:00.

Paul Kidder is in charge of the program for the Athenian meeting tonight. It will consist entirely of freshman talent. The meeting will be in Bartlett Hall at 8:00.

BARNWARMING CHORUS BEGINS WEEKLY REHEARSAL

Weekly rehearsals for the Barnwarming chorus have begun under the joint leadership of Charles Huffman and Barbara Blair. Huffman is arranging most of the music.

Plans for the actual program, which will follow the booths, are underway as are the plans for the nominations of Barnwarming Queen and Class Sponsors.

Barnwarming is one of the main events of the fall semester. It takes place annually on Thanksgiving evening. The program, which is similar to a school carnival, is the climax to the only holiday which occurs during the semester. It is sponsored by the YWCA and all profit goes to the World Student Service Fund.

Criminology Class Plans Field Trip

The Criminology class members will go to Knoxville Monday to observe government in action. They will attend a session of the Juvenile Court. Although they are usually private hearings, special arrangement is made for sociology classes. A trip to inspect the Juvenile Detention Home has also been planned.

Two prisons are on the itinery: the Knoxville City jail, where F B. I. fingerprinting methods will be explained, and the Knox County jail, which is F.B.I. approved for federal prisoners.

HOMECOMING QUEEN NOMINATIONS HELD LAST WEDNESDAY

Betty Hall and Elsie Jean Cotton, seniors, were nominated as candidates for Homecoming queen at the student body meeting which was held last Wednesday morning. The election will be held next Wednesday, October 29, and the winner will reign over the Homecoming football game with Sewanee next Saturday night.

Miss Hall is a music major from Bryson City, North Carolina. Miss Cotton is an English major from Pittsburgh; at present she is serving as president of the Student Council.

The nominations and elections are being held under the auspices of the Student Council.

FACTS ABOUT MUSIC FACULTY REVEALED BY ECHO REPORTER

BY JEAN HUNT

This week the ECHO is introducing a series of articles about faculty members which will be printed according to the fields in which they teach. In an effort to better acquaint the student body with the faculty, these features will show that teachers also have nicknames, hobbies, and favorite foods; they do not merely wield the ruling stick. At one time they, too, were obeying the dictates of the big stick.

For the first article of the series your reported interviewed those teaching in the Music Department.

Katharine Currie Davies, B.A., B. Mus., Mus. M.

Although born in Fort Wayne, Indiana, Miss Davies, is very much a Maryvillian at heart. Having come to Maryville College in 1936, she is now a professor of music and chairman of the Fine Arts Department.

Miss Davies' nickname, "KCD", which are the initials in her name, was given her by her students. She is very fond of horseback riding and equally as fond of "juicy steaks". She has an interesting hobby of collecting little angels, which she adds are not her music students.

Miss Davies received her B. A. degree from College of Wooster; The Biblical Seminary in New York and graduated from the American Conservatory of music in 1928. During 1928-29, she was a student of Isidor Phillips in Paris, France. She received her Mus. M. degree from Eastman School of Music in 1938.

Mary Vivian Lanfear, B. Mus., Mus. M.

Miss Lanfear is a comparatively new figure in the college faculty, having come to Maryville in 1946. An instructor in music, her home is in Ohio, but she is now living on Indiana Avenue at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Orr.

She has two nicknames, "Viv" and "Meme." Miss Lanfear says that she received the latter when she was little and the nearest thing she could say to Mary was Meme.

She likes all bright colors and most foods except sea foods. She is fond of most sports, especially swimming, bowling and pingpong. She has traveled extensively in North America, visiting both Canada and Mexico.

William Curtis Hughes, B.M. Ed.

Mr. Hughes, instructor in music and band director, is a graduate of Murray State Teachers College in Kentucky, and has been at Maryville since 1945. He is married, his wife being the former Mildred Ann Whitlow of Kevil, Kentucky.

The only nickname he has is "Curt". His favorite sport is swimming and his favorite color is brown. As for his favorite food it is just, "food!!" At present his hobby is cooking, for, as he puts it, "I'm taking a groom's course."

Alice Elizabeth Archibald, B. Mus.

Miss Archibald, instructor in piano and history and appreciation of music, came to Maryville this year. She is native of Freemont, Ohio, and graduated in June from Oberlin College, Ohio, where she was elected a member of Pi Kappa Lamda, national honorary music fraternity.

"Archie" is her nickname and her favorite sport is bowling. The more birthdays the better because ice cream and cake are her favorite dishes. Her hobby is collecting picture postcards of the Smokies.

When asked how she liked the college she replied, "It's wonderful."

(Continued on page four)

Square-Dancing, Masquerading On Halloween Agenda

Sophs Meet In Big Gym; Frosh In Bartlett Gym

Square-dancing and masquerading are on the agenda for the freshmen and sophomore Halloween parties which will be held next Friday night, October 31. The Junior class as yet has not made any definite plans for a party, but intends to give one.

Cecil Griffitts and his hillbilly band will furnish music for the sophomore square-dancers in the Alumni Gymnasium. Carroll Stegall will open the Horror House with an appropriate reading selection. Fortune telling, fish ponds, and apple bobbing will be among the side shows.

Masquerading Frosh

The freshman masquerade party is to be held in the Bartlett gymnasium. Prizes will be awarded to the best costumed boy and girl.

Bob Larson, vice-president of the freshman class, has appointed the chairmen and co-chairmen of the following committees; publicity, Paul Kidder; decoration, Fred Waggoner and Jacqueline Lenderman; refreshments, Bob Proffitt and Brooks Maddux; clean-up, Dempsey Jones.

Rev. David L. Engelhardt Speaks At Vespers Sun.

The Reverend Mr. David L. Engelhardt, Assistant Professor of Bible and Religious Education will speak at the Vesper Service tomorrow night in the library. His topic is "Men to Match the Mountains."

The Vesper Choir will sing "Beautiful Savior" by Christian-Bach and "God, Our Great Jehovah" by Charles Huffman.

500 "Mourners" At E-Henry Burial

"We are gathered here on this solemn occasion..... to lay to rest the remains of one Emory A. Henry," began "preacher" Nelson Earnest at the pep meeting and "burial" last night. About 500 "mourners" were present.

The procession began in front of Pearsons Hall and preceeded down the walk to the Alumni "Chapel" and "Buryin' Grounds." At the end of the ceremony, the black casket, courtesy McAmmon, was lowered gently into the grassy hill, courtesy Rawlings-Miller, by six "stalwart pall-bearers." The cheerleaders led the "mourners" in a few "tearful" tributes to the deceased party.—"May he not rest in peace—all eleven pieces."

News Capsules—

By Donald Whelan

Silver Screen Now Red?

Despite claims by Parnell Thomas (R., N.J.) of "proof" on 79 Hollywoodites, the sum total of the House Un-American Activities Committee hearings last week seemed to be publicity blurbs for film notables. Drawing crowds of movie addicts at the hectic sessions were Robert Taylor, Gary Cooper, Robert Montgomery, and Adolphe Menjou. Star witness Jack L. Warner, president of Warner brothers, testified that, although he "wouldn't know a Communist if I saw one," he thought the communist party should be "outlawed" in this country.

French At It Again

A clear victory for the RPF party of General Charles de Gaulle was seen last week in the results of French municipal elections. Meanwhile, Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier assailed the general's party along with French Communists. Both groups, he said, are "dangerous to the fourth republic." Earlier in the week he had presented a list of the de Gaullist-purged new cabinet to President Auriol.

Record Ban Looms

James Cesar Petrillo, fiery president of the American Federation of Musicians, declared that his 225,000 union members will make no more records or transcriptions after December 31. If no agreement is reached before the end of the year deadline, not only will platter sales to record enthusiasts halt, but "disc jockeys" and transcribed shows such as ABC's Bing Crosby will be silenced.

Latins Break With Soviet

The United States of Brazil and the Republic of Chile severed diplomatic relations with the USSR last week. Insulting attacks in the Russian press were called the reasons for the split, the Brazilian president being the target of attack. Officials announced that Brazilian affairs in Moscow will be taken care of by the U. S. embassy. Chile also broke with Czechoslovakia although no reason was given for the action.

YEARBOOK EDITOR MAKES BUSINESS TRIP TO NASHVILLE

Buffie Carver, editor of the 1948 Chilhowean, made a trip by plane to Nashville last week-end for a business meeting with Mr. John Benson of the Benson Printing Company. Because Mr. Benson, who is printing the yearbook, was unable to come to Maryville, Miss Carver travelled to Nashville to make plans for the permanent dummy.

Within the next month the Chilhowean Boy and Girl of the Year will be chosen by the yearbook editorial staff. They are selected for leadership, scholarship, and character.

ATTORNEY GENERAL BEELER GIVES FOUNDERS DAY ADDRESS NOVEMBER 1

Mr. S. E. Hening Appointed Director Of Development

Assumes Responsibility For Financial Plans

President Ralph W. Lloyd yesterday announced the appointment of Mr. S. E. Hening, of New York, as Director of Developments at Maryville. Mr. Hening will assume his duties November 1 and during the coming months will be a regular member of the college staff with special responsibility for developing the interests of the College in its financial and building campaign plans.

Mr. Hening has had extensive experience in church, educational, and financial fields. He is a native of Virginia and received his higher education at the University of Richmond, University of California, and Columbia University. For many years he held responsible administrative and field posts in the Y.M.C.A. movement at home and abroad. For a number of years he was the business representative of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. and business manager of the National Committee of China, with headquarters in Shanghai.

Following World War I he served in Europe as comptroller for the International Committee of the Y.M.C.A. and among his duties was that of liquidating the work in Russia. For five years he was business manager for the Y. M.C.A. in the metropolitan area of Pittsburgh, then for fifteen years was the chief executive officer of the area, succeeding Mr. John E. Manley when the latter succeeded Dr. John R. Mott as Secretary of the National Y. M. C. A. movement.

From Pittsburgh Mr. Hening went to New York as Administrative Secretary of the National Board of the Y.M.C.A. Later he became Treasurer of the American Baptist Home Mission Society with its extensive interests. In the latter position he was related to a considerable number of colleges and he has served as a trustee of several institutions.

Mr. and Mrs. Hening will live for the present in the guest room of Baldwin Hall.

3 WGAP Programs Use M.C. Students

Listening to WGAP is rapidly becoming a part of the daily routine of the campus, there now being three programs in which college students participate.

One of the outstanding programs is "Your Community Speaks" which is written and directed by Mrs. Nita E. West, former dramatic teacher on the Hill. Each week at 7:30 on Thursday night the program is presented consisting of a short historical sketch and a review of the main events of the week in Maryville. Mrs. West has charge of the historical sketch and uses college students in the casts.

Another program of particular interest to college students is the weekly YM-YW program "Maryville College Speaks" at 2:45 each Sunday. College students participate in the program and it consists of news and reviews of college happenings.

"Night Out" is presented each Tuesday night from 9:30 to 10:00. It is a record-request program on which students are interviewed and their record selections played for them.

There are also five other record programs of interest to students, entitled The Minute-Man 6:46-8:15 a. m.; Disc Date 1:15-1:45 p. m.; Teen Town 3:55-5:30; Twilight Time 9:15-7:00; You Asked For It 10:00-11:00.

CONDITION OF WILEY GARNER REPORTED SERIOUS

Mr. Wiley Garner, college employee who was injured October 15, is reported to still be in serious condition with several broken ribs and a punctured lung. He is in the Blount Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Garner was hauling logs when the tractor overturned, pining him under it. He was unconsious when Coach Johnson and several college boys extracted him from under the tractor. They had been notified by a laundry truck driver who was the first to discover the accident.

New Maneuvers Planned By Band

The Maryville band will execute three new maneuvers during the half time at the football game tonight. The first parade technique which many bands are using now, called the "five-six to the rear", has the effect of a telescope opening and closing. The second maneuver will form the letters E-H in honor of the visiting team. In the last they will form an M inside a pennant in front of the Maryville bleachers. Members of the band will sing the Alma Mater during the final maneuver.

The band will also use a new field entrance tonight. Last week they marched at the rate of 146-150 steps per minute which is a snappy pace for a marching band.

In regard to flashlight formations, Mr. Curtis Hughes, band director, remarked that students should get quiet as quickly as possible since all formations are timed to the very minute. At the East Tennessee State game it was necessary to wait one and one-half to two mintes, which meant that the field was not competely cleared when the teams returned.

U. T. Presents Opera "Madame Butterfly"

University Concerts, Inc., will present Puccini's opera, "Madame Butterfly", October 27, as its first production of the 1947 season in the U. T. auditorium. The performance will begin at 8:15 p. m.

Lucy Kelston, young American soprano, will sing the title role, considered one of the most difficult parts in the whole of opera. The Japanese princess never leaves the stage during the entire two hours required for the performance. Miss Kelston, a native of New York City, gained her first operatic experience with the San Carlo Opera Company.

The orchestra will be under the direction of Edwin McArthur, former concert accompanist to such well-known singers as John Charles Thomas, Kirsten Flagstad, and Gladys Swarthout.

Busses will be chartered to take all M.C. students who wish to attend this concert. Mrs. Butcher is in charge of the busses, with Bill Vogel to help her in Carnegie. Sign-up sheets will be posted over the week-end. Mrs. Butcher has requested that all who wish to ride the bus sign up only for the trip or trips they wish to make.

Freshman Class Leads Enrollment With 337

The latest information received from the Personnel office shows that the freshman class is the largest class at Maryville with an enrollment of 337. The sophomore class has 292 members; the junior class 138 members; the senior class 114 members, making the total enrollment of the college 881.

Events Scheduled For Next Weekend

Maryville College's second post-war Homecoming is scheduled to be held in joint celebration with Founders Day next Saturday, November 1, the big weekend opening for all students on Friday night when three Halloween parties will be given by the junior, sophomore, and freshmen parties, respectively. The official opening of Homecoming will be at the 9:45 chapel service held Saturday morning at which there will be an address by the Honorable Roy Hood Beeler, Attorney General of Tennessee. The climaxing event will be the Sewanee football game held at 8:00 on Wilson Field, preceded by a 6:00 Alumni barbecue held on the athletic field.

Maryville Graduate Speaks

The Founders Day chapel program is an annual affair at which notable speakers address the student body and visiting alumni. Attorney General Beeler, who is the speaker this year, is a graduate of Maryville College in the class of 1906 and this year is president of the Maryville College Alumni Association. He holds the degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence from the Law School of the University of Chicago and for more than fifteen years was a practicing attorney attaining a place of such eminence that he was in 1932 appointed to the principal legal position in the state. He has served in that position for the past fifteen years under appointment of succeeding governors. In 1940 he was honored by Maryville College, his alma mater, with the degree of Doctor of Laws.

Founders Day
Nov. 1
Class Schedule

a—8:00-8:45
b—8:50-9:35
chapel—9:45-10:40
c—10:45-11:30
d—11:35-12:20
lunch—12:30

Barbecue Planned

The barbecue for all visiting alumni has been planned to be held on the athletic field, but will be transferred to the Alumni Gymnasium in case of rain. There will be a 50c charge per plate, as was recently voted by the Executive Committee of the Alumni Association at the meeting on September 19.

Special alumni tickets for the 8:00 o'clock football game will be available either from Mr. Ted Pratt in the Alumni Office or at the barbecue.

Because chapel will be held at 9:45 there will be a change in the Saturday morning class schedule, the first class meeting at 8:00, and each class lasting only forty-five minutes.

Committees for the activities of the day were appointed by the Alumni Executive Committee.

Girls Choir Plans Sadie Hawkins Day

Sadie Hawkins Day will be held Saturday, November 8 this year, since the traditional November 9 is on Sunday. Sadie Hawkins Day is an annual affair sponsored by the Maryville Girls' Choir, and is patterned after the original Sadie Hawkins Day in the Li'l Abner comic strip.

Sadie Hawkins will turn the Maryville campus into Dogpatch for one day and will be climaxed by the selection of the best Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner. The basis of the selection will be on originality of the individual costumes.

Complete plans for the day will be announced next week in the Echo. In the meantime members of the Girls' Choir are advising all other girls to be looking around for someone to tag for the doings of the day.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 32 NUMBER 9

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

EDITORIAL STAFF

Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Ruth Ramsey, Ilda Mosby, Mariagrazia Merlanti, Dick Sprague, Carroll Stegall

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb, Ruth Davis

FRESHMEN APPRENTICES
Jean Hunt, Mary Lyerly, Hazel Holm, Elinor Kramer, Donald Whelan

SPORTS STAFF

Kenneth Olsen ..... Editor
Herbert McCallum ..... Sophomore Reporter
Maynard Noble ..... Freshman Apprentice

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF

Business Manager ..... Ruth Williams

SENIOR ASSISTANTS
Mary Jane Long, Florence Housch

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Margaret Weaver

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANTS
Bob Watkins, Joe Claude, Janet Blackmore

FRESHMEN ASSISTANTS
Barbara Altfather, Naoagene Morrow, Anita Withers

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1947

WHY NOT CAMPAIGN?

Editorially speaking, we believe that the reason there is little or no interest in campus elections is because there is little or no effort exerted by the student body to make them interesting. People may vote for the president of the United States without knowing anything about their candidate, but at least they think they know something about him. On our campus many students not only know nothing about the candidates, they don't even know who the candidates are!

There is no reason why a good fiery campaign preceding elections couldn't solve the situation. It could and should conform to certain standards, there being no excess expenditures or any mud-slinging. But if a campaign manager and his followers would devote their time and efforts to selling their own candidate students would "get a big kick out it," become interested in the campaign, and their curiosity would force them to discover who such an amazing nominee could be.

Realizing full well that editors are considered a necessary curse who spend their time becoming preachers of various ideas, we would still like to paint a picture of what could happen at the next campus election. There could be a mass student body meeting, at which time nominees would be eliminated by the whole of the student body. Immediately following nominations, the nominees could choose their respective campaign managers, who in turn would gather together ardent admirers of each candidate and launch into an election campaign such as has never before been seen on this hill. Any industrious manager could think of numerous ways to captivate attention, and an election would follow in which every student would vote for a candidate about whom he has learned more than just a little.

A BIT OF DISGUST

One cannot help but express a bit of disgust about last week's student body meeting. We would be afraid to predict ho wmany people walked out before the meeting began, but we do not think it exaggerating one particle to say that over 50% were not represented at the meeting!

There must be an explanation for such mass evacuation. But the most disgusting thing about the whole situation is that some of those who left later had the nerve to criticise the meeting.

As we said, there must be an explanation, and the only reason we can figure out is the one we wrote about in the above editorial. Of course, there are some who believe that no matter how they vote a minority will rule. It's obvious that the minority are the only ones interested enough to participate. It's not an organized group; it is an interested group.

In reference to the above editorial, we still believe that campaigning is the best way to remedy the situation. It's worth a try. We, personally, believe it will work, but only when enough who care will make it work!

Much Echo About Nothing

BY ILDA MOSBY

Maryville College has acquired another society, the Royal Order of Dishpan Dumpers. Although it was formed for the benefit of four annex-er's, Margaret Rock is hereby nominated. Charter members are Judy Breen, Bea Siebold, Ann Higdon, and Howard Cameron. There also seems to be a need for a course in dish-washing. Undoubtedly, Queen Suzanna would insist on Bob Watkins enrolling. She'll be getting dishpan hands if many more waiters need demonstrations.

Last Wednesday evening was an off-nite for the Vesper Choir. Bill Houdeshel didn't make it—he was led astray by Vogel and Emory. Then during quartet practice Carver turned individualist and tried to use different music from the rest. . . Senior complaint: is the knowledge gained in Ethics worth the mental anguish and physical destruction? It had a noticeable effect on one senior who even forgot that since her marriage she is known as Marion Engel—not Lewis, though, sophs and juniors seem to suffer just as much from loss of memory. Sandy Smith slept through his Tuesday afternoon recital and Betty Jane Moser just plain forgot philosophy class.

Everywhere one goes one sees signs. "Keep off the Grass." "No Parking." "No Left Turn." The local radio station has topped them all—"Please do not spit in the trash cans." "Uncle" Bud who is all the way to twenty) thought all his little friends on the hill would like to know that he is about to take unto himself an Aunt Sara.

English Department: Marge Prall was reluctantly cutting English 331 because the door was stuck when the kind professor opened the door and told her all she needed with a firm hand. . . To whom do the wasps belong? Miss Heron and Dr. Hunter don't seem to agree. It would have been better for Martha Ann Blount if Miss Heron had claimed them.

Dr. Davis was almost the victim of Art Haaf's exurberance when said perpetually late student banged into the room at the precise moment Dr. Davis was standing in front of the door. . . All Fred Sieber would need to do to eliminate carrying his toothbrush in his pocket would be to get up ninety seconds sooner. . . . Rumors tell us that Sadie Hawkins Day isn't very far away. Here's the chance some of the young women on the campus have been waiting for. . . . Dick Ebelacker profited by the Twirps idea. Poor (literally) Sarah.

Well, Bill Nish stuck his neck out again. He and Dave should start a club for those speakers who have unexpected visits from royalty. . . . If John Watts wants one, I'm sure any girl is willing to donate a bobbie pin for his drooping locks.

Heard in front of Pearsons: (deep masculine voice) "Becky, throw me the key." At first glance that's not too bad but when the caller is Rush Lester——. Too bad he can't help brother Jim, who with Jim McKee was inquiring about running an ad for you know what. . . . Perhaps someone should offer Bob Proffitt and John Poland lessons on quick pressing. . . . Thomas probably wishes Fogarty would get some info on training room manners, or how not to smash people's noses.

Ada Shay was rooting mighty hard last Saturday nite. Strangely enough 'twas for E.T.S. (?) . . . . Even Dean McClelland is having trouble distinguishing between the Smith brothers. Too bad it didn't do any good, fellows. . . . . We've been wondering what Dr. Orr thought the second time Hap circled the drive in the station wagon. . . . It must be tough on male egos when not even pigeons are frightened by big-game hunters Watkins and Claude.

There's some superstition that people whose initials spell words will have plenty of money. That certainly, sounds like a lot of Maryville students ought to have few financial worries. For instance, Matteo Angelo Cardella whose initials make him eligible for the Mac club; and how about Haydn Owen White? Brick shouldn't worry about man's lost rib since he's Raymond Irving Brahams; what kind of pal is Patricia Ann Love? and how valuable is Jane Elizabeth McMillan? Margaret Anderson Newland and Maynard Amurth Noble have something in common; does Margaret Ann Drake get angry easily? or Legrande Ely Orr resemble a lion? Ruth Aileen Heaps is just what we need in the cheering section; Paul Abt Yambert will take the check; William Edwin Trundle can't object to being called all wet; poor Ruth Angelline Williams had better be cooked a little longer; and Alice Huddleston certainly deserves an "ah."

Bud Engel must know some rare gossip since he's afraid to tell it for fear he won't hear any more in the future. . . Mrs. Butcher seems to have plenty to say about short Tommie coats. . . . Ruth Davis should finish dressing before entering the library.

Did you ever notice how much alike some unrelated people look? Gugger and Hoffman, Bertholf and Hunter, Williams and Whiting, Holley and Rice?

Dick Sprague must be confused when he thinks "Josiah was some figure in English Lit who invented a new math formula in French." . . It has been suggested that "Tobacco Roost" needs a little dusting off. . . Tom Lang's roommate has no comment to make other than that he has more women on his line than he does on his hook. . .. . Betty Yeaworth is the motherly type. Ask her "family.". . . Why do they call Castrodale, Frusterdale? And—Miss Grierson wonders "For whom the bell will next toll."

TALK OF THE WEEK

by Jean Almy

Thaw Built To Be Dining Hall; YW Rooms Moved To Building In '21

BY RUTH RAMSEY

Thaw Hall was originally planned to be a dining hall. This may be startling, but it is quite true. It was intended to accommodate 800 boarders with a possible extension to 1000, and the kitchen was designed to prepare 3000 meals a day. Provisions were made for seventeen recitation rooms on the second floor, while the immense basement and attic rooms were left to be finished later. However, not a single meal was served in this dining room.

In May, 1920, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw of Pittsburgh visited the college and it was during this visit the student body petitioned her to let her name be used for the new building for which she had given $50,000. Her husband had been instrumental in rebuilding the college following the Civil War. Construction was begun in 1920 and in the fall of 1922 the building was ready for use.

By that time, it was decided that the space was more urgently needed by the Lamar Memorial Library and in the last week of November, 1924, it was moved to Thaw Hall from the building which now houses the James R. Hills Memorial Loan Library. The Lamar Memorial Library which contained 25,000 volumes at that time contains over 50,000 volumes at present.

YW Moved To Thaw

In November, 1921, the Y. W. C. A. furnished two rooms in Thaw which had originally been an open porch. For two years the Y.W. had been without a meeting place, having given up its rooms in Voorhees Chapel in 1919 due to the crowded conditions in the music department.

The College-Maid Shop which was organized in the fall of 1921 by Mrs. Kathryn R. McMurray had its first quarters on the third floor of Fayerweather, but by 1930 it, too, was housed in Thaw Hall.

The addition of the Home Management House would almost bring the story up to date except that once again the Y.W.C.A. is sharing its quarters with the music department. The Y. W. rooms being used as Mr. Harry H. Harter's studio.

MUSIC SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

Tau Kappa Chi's regular meeting will not be held Monday night because of the concert at the University.

The last meeting of the club was the formal initiation of five new members—Bette Belle Alverson, Juanita Johnson, Peggy Cummings, Mildred Orr, and Doris Cook. Women members of the music faculty and Mrs. K. P. Johnson were guests of the club.

BAINONIAN

Bainonian program tonight will center around a Halloween theme. The "Black Cat' by Edgar Allan Poe will be read accompanied by illustrative silhouettes. The meeting will be short in order to leave ample time to get to the football game.

Math Prof.— Now students watch the board while I run through it.
—Ward Belmont Hyphen

HALLOWEEN
IS PARTY TIME

Halloween is a festive party occasion for everyone to enjoy. You'll find all the gals party props at our store for a happy Halloween.

ROSE'S
5-10-25c Store

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

Date Night!
To make a hit with the New Gal you just met in School . . . . be sure that you have a Clean White Shirt for date nights.
9 Pounds Clothes Washed, Rinsed, Damp Dried, Soap, Bleach, and Water 35c
SPECIAL
9 Pounds Washed and Dried 55c
SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY
Phone 1055

FALL FLASH!

Colorful Sweaters

Sweaters are for all-campus wear. See our selection of beautiful 1947 Sweaters today.

BADGETT STORE CO.

HALLOWEEN

PARTIES—MEAN PLENTY OF GOOD FOOD

For Your Festive Occasions and Mid-Nite Snacks Buy your Cookies, Apples, Oranges, Sweet Cider, Apple Juice, Meats, and all Sandwich Spreads at that one-stop Grocery—

We have lots of White Paper Napkins, All kinds of Toilet Soaps and Soap Powders—See Us For All your Needs.

The J & K Super Store
CHURCH STREET

Looking For The Perfect Dessert?
Try our delicious baked goods. . . Jelly rolls, nut rolls, layer cakes, individual cup cakes, pies, pastry every description. . . . Fresh-ed daily. . . How about a loaf golden-brown home-style bread?
BAKERY

To make your "Town Night" date a perfect one, stop by for that snack
C. & L. CAFE

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

Our Scots shone the brightest way of the current season in the 31-6 rampage over State's Buccaneers. The Scottie line hammered the Buccaneer opposition into shreds. Time after time, the Scot line nailed a Buc passer while the secondary cut down the enemy pass receiver if, perhaps, he clung to the ball. The Highlander backs paced off beautiful runs throughout the game as if the Bucs were not in the vicinity. True, the Bucs possessed no militant strength whatever on the ground, but their passing attack was somewhat spectacular. The State boys did have something of a "Sunday Punch" in the accurate throwing arm of Carrier, their quarterback. The Scotties, nevertheless, soon mastered the situation.

Buc Defense No Hindrance

"Hersh" Merriman, ramming through the Buc defense with the momentum of a mail train, established a 10 yard per try pushing average for the evening. Bill Fogarty, top ground-gainer of the game, had some splendid downfield blocking by the team to clear the path for his touchdown streaks. The entire Highlander forward wall did a masterful job in keeping the State rushing attack to minus 9 yards for the game.

Coordination Perfect

Coordination was perfect among the Highlander men-in-motion against E.T.S. The Scots made good the theory: He that controls the ball, wins the game. As the record reads, the Scots had 68 downs for rushing or passing attempts while the Bucs were given but 29 downs for the same purposes. Significant also, is the fact that up at Danville the Scots had 60 downs to Centre's 31. And, total net yardage gained by the Scots at Centre stood at 301 yards compared with a 409 net yardage mark against E. T. S. This means, of course, that the Highlander offense definitely clicked better against the Bucs than it did against the Colonels.

Coming— — Scots' Toughest Game

Although the tussle tonight with the Emory and Henry Wasps may turn out to be a milk run, we predict that the coming homecoming engagement next week, when the Tigers from the University of the South at Sewanee invade, is going to be the toughest encounter of the season for our Scots. The Tigers, which out-played the Maryville eleven last year in the tilt at their mountain lair, are going to be tough animals to cage.

Sewanee Has Changed Tunes

Sewanee's victory song this season is set in a different key than the Tiger tune last year. In their current efforts, gaining revenge upon all comers, the Tigers have put a 40-0 humiliation on Kenyon College (which last year beat them, 13-6), tied Presbyterian (which last year pasted a 12-7 decision on the Tigers), and routed a Mississippi College eleven, 14-0 (Mississippi College last year down Sewanee, 20-6). So, as you see by the records, Sewanee's powerful football machine is very much improved over its prototype of last year which mauled the Scots in a most hostile way.

Up And At 'Em Scots!

The Sewanee fotball offense hasn't missed a lick this fall. So far, the Tigers are undefeated. A 0-0 tie in the first game of their season is the only mar on their record. In their current season the Sewanee Tigers have not been scored upon. Today they held Homecoming and invited the Southwestern Lynx down for the festival. We are positive that they will certainly bowl over this weak Southwestern eleven from Memphis. Consequently, SEWANEE WILL COME TO MARYVILLE NEXT SATURDAY WITH A STRONG TEAM WHICH HAS NOT BEEN SCORED ON THIS SEASON. They have intentions of keeping their goal line free of enemy ball carriers and touchdown sharks. Therefore, IT'S UP TO MARYVILLE TO SET THE PRECEDENT OF BEING FIRST TO SCORE AGAINST SEWANEE THIS SEASON!

Statistics And Uneven Things

The fallacy of Dr. Litkenhous' Difference by Score System of rating was proved last Saturday by the Scots in dethroning East Tennessee State by a 25 point margin for a complete "upset" to Dr. 'Lit's" ratings. The Doctor of Statistics, it seems, rated the Buccaneers a 24.8 point favorite over the Highlanders (only a mistake of 50 "power" points, Doc). On the assumption of "all things being equal" or "according to previous scores" he calculated that this Maryville squad should succumb to the deadly attack of the East Tennessee State Eleven.

It's Up. . . Let's Keep It Up!

Well, all things didn't pan out as evenly as Dr. "Lit" would have us imagine. Along with other things, the spirit of the Scot clan rose to a new crescendo. The "snap" in the Highlander squad definitely took on a new cadence. The Highlander's set their sights at victory and made it—in superlative fashion. WAY TO GO! SCOTS! LET'S KEEP UP THAT OLE 'FIGHT' SPIRIT!

SCOTTIES MEET EMORY TONIGHT

Four Scots Ailing; Goode E&H Spark

By Herbert McCallum

The golden-helmented Wasps from Emory and Henry College, Emory, Virginia, engage our Scots tonght at 8:00 on Wilson Field.

The Higalanders with two successive victories, Centre (27-0) and East Tenn. State (31-6) are out to annex another win—this time from a team which has dropped four of its five attempts to date and has been overpowered in each game, except one, by an average of two touchdowns.

Wasps Have Bowed Four Times

The Emory and Henry Wasps were hapless in their first three games of the current season, having lost to Milligan (19-7), Guilford (22-0) and Carson-Newman (33-0). Their stock took an upswing when the Wasps defeated Hampden-Sydney (6-0). Last Saturday at Richmond, Kentucky, they were whitewashed (34-0) by the Western Kentucky Teachers' eleven.

Berrong, Davis Ailing

The Highlander coaching staff, hoping to allow injuries among the starting eleven to heal, have just finished a week of light training for the squads. Nevertheless, at press time Head Goach Lombe Honaker was lamenting over four of his first string hexed with vexing afflictions. Leon Berrong probably won't start tonight at his tailback position because of a leg injury. Right end Howard Davis, hampered by a sore shoulder, may not be at his terminal position for the starting whistle.

Question Mark at Wingback

Placing starter in the wingback position is giving the Highlander Commander-in-Chief a bit of worry. Benny Baldwin, a regular starter, is out for the remainder of the season due to a broken collar bone which he snapped in last Saturday's game with East Tenn. State. Alan Law, an alternate starter at wingback, might be held back on account of a pulled leg muscle. Bobby Neff's ankle, which has been slowing him down, may heal in time for him to hear the starting whistle. Otherwise, Coach Honaker expects to have Law in shape to fill the wingback spot for the opening of the game.

Wasps Ways Wiend

The Wasps, sprinkling plenty of deceptive spice into their football menu, will attempt to blind the Scots with their brand of flashy ball served from a "T" filled with trickery. The visiting Virginians expect to make capitulation certain for the Scots with their fleety fullback on the "T" system, Ed Goode, who is a less-than 10 seconds dash man in the 100, pacing out the yardage. Also, the Emory boys depend upon the punting of Jack White and the passing from the arm of quarterback Heldreth to add sparkle to their razzle-dazzle offense.

Maryville	Pos.	Emory-Henry
(18)Talbott	LE	Miller (25)
(25) Kluth	LT	Powers (55)
(24) Anderson	LG	Barker (29)
(23) Garner	C	Riffe (50)
(30) Easter	RG	Crouse (49)
(26) Rock	RT	Harmon (58)
(11) Miller	RE	Jessee (44)
(2) K. Berrong	QB	Heldreth (53)
(6) Law	WB	White (41)
(3) Merriman	FB	Cochrane (38)
(5) Fogarty	TB	Goode (39)

"Everybody is crazy over me," said the inmate on the first floor of the insane asylum.

Howies Win Point System Tourney

The Chillie-Howie soccer tournament ended Tuesday, October 21, with the Howies as victors. The Howies won three out of five games over the Chillies, winning the first two games by a narrow margin. The Chillies came up to win the third game with a close score of 4 to 3. In the game Margaret Rock, captain of the Chillies, made the points for her team; Janice Lindsay, captain of the Howies, Bea Siebold, and Ruth Heaps each made a point for the Howies.

The fourth game marked another victory for the Howies with a 3 to 1 win over the Chillies. Bea Siebold and Captain Janice Lindsay made the points for the Howies. The Chillie score was made by Elsie Jean Cotton.

The last game of the tournament was played by both squads. The Chillies won 3 to 0 with Sara Kemp scoring for the Chillies.

Intramural Soccer

The freshmen soccer team is one-up on the upperclassmen in a series of games which began last week. The scores of the first three games were 4-0, 0-1, and 4-1. Tom Keyes, Clyde Jack, Bill Menges, Chester Schieber, and Paul Kidder led the freshmen onslaught with John Shue ably guarding the goal. The upperclassmen are handicapped by the lack of a regular goalie; however, Art Haaf, Dick Sprague, Bob "Red" Brown, and Edward Heerschap have consistently battered against the freshman goal.

Coach Johnson has also initiated an instruction period which is held each Wednesday. All Soccer activities begin at 4:30.

Highlanders Take East Tenn. State Teachers, 31-6

BY KEN OLSEN

The Highlanders' eleven rambled to another victory last Saturday on Wilson Field over the airborne Buccaneers of East Tennessee State Teachers College, 31-6. The Scot clan, outrunning a strong passing threat, trampled the Teachers with line rushes and end runs by Merriman and Fogarty.

The story might well have been different had the Teacher aerial attack, spearheaded by the bomb sight accuracy of passer Vest, been re-inforced by a running assault which might have been supplied by missing halfback Musselman. As it was, the Scot line was too much for them and the backfield beat a path through the holes opened for them to five touchdowns.

M.C.—12, E.T.S.—6, At Half Time

The Scots began to move early in the first quarter, after E.T.S. punted from their own 32 on the third play of the game. Taking over on their 30, the Scots rolled 45 yards for three first downs, setting up a touchdown play. From the E.T.S. 20, Ken Talbott carried the ball on a double-reverse, end-around play to score the first tally of the game. The placement was no good.

The Scots took over again when the Teachers punted to the M. C. 30 and began to push toward scorin gterritory, chalking up two first downs. Then Fogarty passed to Leon Berrong who lateralled to Talbott for a 20 yard run, putting the Scots on the eenmy 28. With a reverse and an

(Continued on page four)

TOUCH-FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

OCTOBER 27-31

Monday—Eight Balls vs M. Mites—3:30
Y Frosh vs L. Yokels—4:30
Tuesday—L. Yokels vs Crescents—3:30
U. S. Mules vs Odds—4:30
Wednesday—Tau S. vs K.M.A.—3:30
Jets vs Eight Balls—4:30
Thursday—Y Frosh vs K.M.A.—3:30
Mitey Mites vs Eight Balls—4:30
Friday—Y. Frosh vs Crescents—3:30
Mitey Mites vs Odds—3:30
●Lokal Yokals vs Tau Sigma—4:30
●Jets vs U. S. Mules—4:30
●Field 2

Cards and Prizes for the Big Occasion

See our Collection

BYRNE DRUG CO.

INTRAMURALS

BY MAYNARD NOBLE

The final standings began to shape up this week. It looks as though K.M.A. of the Garnet League will meet the Eight Balls of the Orange League in the final tilt whenever it is held. Of course, this is not certain, but as the teams stand now this is the most likely combination.

Y Frosh Win Over Yokals, 6-0

The Y Frosh added another game to its list of victories on Monday as they defeated the Lokal Yokals 6-0. Eramus Fowler of the Y Frosh team made the winning touchdown in the second quarter.

Mules Nose Out Mites, 24-18

Monday afternoon the U. S. Mules broke into the scoring column for the first time this season winning over the five man team of the Mitey Mites. The Mules made touchdowns in the second, third, and fourth quarters for a total of 18 points to tie the Mitey Mites who made 7 points in the third quarter and 11 points in the fourth, for a total of 18. Going into the overtime period the Mules were awarded the winning touchdown when they succeeded in gaining more yardage than the Mites. For the Mules Morgan scored 18 points; for the Mites Nelson Forrester scored 12 points, Ruggiero scored 4, and Smith made 1.

K.M.A. Blanks Crescents, 27-0

Having little opposition to hold them back, K.M.A. romped over the Crescents 27-0. The scoring for K.M.A. was done by "Brick" Brahams with 6 points, "Hap" Brahams with 12. Rush Lester with 7 points, and Bob Connell and Don Weber with 1 each.

Eight Balls Defeat Odds, 25-12

The Odds continued a losing streak on Tuesday afternoon when the Eight Balls defeated them 25-12. The Odds scored first in the first quarter, but the Eight Balls scored in both the first and second, followed by 12 points in the fourth. Campbell of the Eight Balls had 7 points; J. Lillard, Reynolds, and Largen each had 6. For the Odds Davé and Tom Yeaworth each made a touchdown for a total of 12 points.

K.M.A. Beats Yokals, 26-0

Playing against a five-man team of Lokal Yokals, K.M.A. had no trouble racking up another victory to their credit. "Hap" and "Brick" Brahams each had 12 points and Rush Lester came through with 2 points.

Jets Down Mitey Mites, 14-0

Cardella and Merlin, each scoring 7 points, led the Jets to victory over the Mitey Mites in the second game on Wednesday. It was another win to bolster the Jets' first place standing.

Crescents Over Sigmas, 20-6

Thursday afternoon the Crescents, fighting for second place, won over Tau Sigma 20-6. The only score for Tau Sigma was made by Dick Tolerico on a long pass from Ben Gerhardt. For the Crescents the scoring was done by Ray Packard with 7 points, "Tex" McKenzie and Jack Miller with 6 each, and Retke with 1.

Jets Whitewash Odds, 6-0

(Continued on page four)

INTRAMURAL STANDINGS

Orange League

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Eight Balls	10	1	.909
Jets	8	4	.666
Odds	6	6	.500
Mitey-Mites	4	7	.363
Mules	1	11	.083

Garnet League

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
K. M. A.	12	0	1.000
"Y" Frosh	7	4	.636
Crescents	6	6	.500
Lokal Yokals	4	7	.333
Tau Sigma	0	12	.000

Treat Yourself to Food With Finest Flavor!

Try one of our home-style dinners that includes everything from soup to nuts, and you'll agree that our chef knows how to bring out the flavor of foods just as you like it! We have an excellent a la carte menu from which you can pick your favorite snack any hour of the day, any day of the week.

Steak and Chop Dinners Our Specialty

CATE'S CAFE

October FOOD SPECIALS

Foods For the Parties Ahead and After Those Football Games!

M. M. ELDER CASH CARRY STORE

FACULTY FACTS . . .

(Continued from page one)

Harry H. Harter, B.A., M.Mus.

Mr. Harter, another newcomer to the faculty this year, is from Daly City, California. He is an assistant professor of music and director of the choir. Mr. Harter received his B.A. degree from San Jose College, California, and his M. Mus. from the University of Nebraska this year. He has also studied voice under outstanding teachers in several universities.

Before the war he sang tenor in a professional male quartet under the management of Rudy Vallee in Hollywood. During the war he was assigned in charge of the chapel programs in Midland College, Nebraska.

His nickname is "Nappy," a shortened form for Napoleon. He enjoys swimming and salads are his favorite foods. His favorite color is blue. He collects stamps and records and has the unusual hobby of making puppets.

He is married, and he and his wife make their home in an apartment on Cunningham Street.

Thelma Nelson, B.Mus.

Miss Nelson, also a newcomer to Maryville, is from Mansfield, Ohio. She recently received her degree from Wooster, Ohio, and studied this summer at the University of Michigan toward her M. Mus. Last year she taught public school music in Sunburg, Ohio. At present she is teaching piano and theory.

She has no nickname but would like to hear any suggestions. She likes to swim and bowl.

Her favorite food is ice cream and her favorite color is blue.

She is a stamp collector and is especially interested in the new stamps.

Miss Nelson has traveled around the world and spent two years in India. She attended school there for one year.

Members Initiated Into French Club

French Club met Thursday night in Miss Wilkinson's class room. After a short business meeting, Eleanor Struble, president, gave a report on "Current Conditions in France Today." Initiation of new members, in charge of Betty Hall, was completed. The meeting was adjourned after the customary singing of Le Marseilles.

During the business meeting a proposed joint meeting of the German, Spanish and French clubs was discussed and Vendeda Huskey and E. J. Cotton were appointed as a committee to make arrangements.

Y.W.C.A.

Junior class members are in charge of the YWCA program tomorrow afternoon. The theme is "Unveiling the Preacher's Vocabulary." Virginia Gress, Vera Lusk, Geneva Robinson, Margaret Rock, and Marion Pope will all give short speeches. Marguerite Priest will provide special music.

M.C.-E.T.S. GAME

(Continued from page 3)

end run, the home team moved to the 1 yard line. Fogarty carried the ball to pay dirt on the next play. Again the try was no good—too wide.

At this point the E.T.S. eleven launched a revived ground attack which moved them to their own 45 from their 30 for a first down. Then they took to the air with passes for 20 yards, 8 yards, and 28 yards for a touchdown. All the passes were deep except one. They were made by quarterback Vest who faded back about 10 yards and threw to 205 pound end Holsclaw.

Scots Tally Again, Third Period

The Teachers kicked-off at the start of the second half. The Scots took the ball on their 5 and in a series of 16 plays charged 55 yards to the E.T.S. 10, gaining 5 first downs. Merriman then moved the ball to the 3 in three line rushes and Talbott, on another double-reverse, end-around play, carried it into the end zone for the third Scot tally. Two attempts at a placement failed. (The first was nulified.)

Law kicked for Maryville to Vest on the E.T.S. 10, who ran it back to his 30 yard marker. After two incomplete passes, he punted out of danger on the last down to Fogarty, who made a run-back to the M. C, 38. Another three plays picked up a first down. A bad center jarred the Scots (B-Team) for a 21 yard loss. After another loss of 6 yards, Merriman ran from a fake punt-formation for 10 yards to make it third down and 28 to go. The teams changed goals for the quarter. Then Fogarty, running from another punt formation, galloped for 70 yards behind beautiful interference for a touch down. Neff missed the extra point attempt.

50 Pass Play Nets T.D.

Andes booted a bad kick-off to the E.T.S. 40. Opening up with more aerial work, the Teachers moved to the Scot 32, gaining two first downs. Two no-gains, a fumble, and an incomplete pass used up all the Teacher downs. One play, after which Fogarty passed to Neff, good for 60 yards and the fifth touchdown for the Scots Fogarty made the placement, the only one of the game, boosting the score to 31-6.

Statistics

	M.C.	E.T.S
Total yards gained rushing	385	5
Total yards lost rushing	17	9
Total yards gained passing	114	125
No. of passes attempted	10	20
No. of passes completed	5	9
No. of passes intercepted	1	0
Punts	1	4
Punting average	40	35
No. of first downs	17	7
No. of penalties	7	0
Total yards penalized	45	0
No. of fumbles	1	1
No. of fumbles recovered	1	1
Net yards gained	499	130

Works of Miss Johnson, Eleanor Struble Read At Writer's Workshop

Three poems by Eleanor Struble and a three-part war story by Miss Jessie Johnson were read at Writers' Workshop Wednesday, October 22. Miss Struble's poems were entitled "Hallowe'en", "The Rivulet", and "White Sails." Chester Phillips criticized Miss Heron's "The Guardian Angle" and Anna Sakaizawa criticised Charles Hoglan's "So This Is How It Happens.' Both compositions were read at the October 15 meeting.

SPANISH CLUB

Spanish Club met Thursday in Mr. Schwam's classroom. A short business meeting was then turned over to Lavina Rodriguez and Ibsen Espada who each gave short talks on Puerto Rico. Miss Rodriguez closed the meeting by leading the group in several Spanish songs.

INTRAMURALS

(Continued from page three)

Scoring early in the first quarter against five men, the Jets held a 6 point advatnage throughout the game to win over the Odds. Jack Buckley made the touchdown.

Y Frosh Tramples Tau Sigma, 42-0

Y. Frosh, seeming to sprout wings on their men, ran wild over Tau Sigma especially in the last quarter when they scored 4 touchdowns. Erasmus Fowler led the scoring attack with 12 points. Rahn had 8 while Berrett, Stanfill, and Thurston had 7 each and Al Chiles came through with one.

Jets Shade Mitey-Mites, 6-0

In an overtime period of a scoreless tie yesterday afternoon the Jets managed to eke out a victory awarded to them only after they had gained sufficient yardage in orer to win.

K.M.A. Slays Lokal Yokals, 24-7

K.M. rolled up another easy victory to add to their chances for the league championship when they defeated the Lokal Yokals, 24-7. Hap Brahams, Brick Brahams, Don Weber, and Max Willocks each made six points. V. Petree of the Lokal Yokals made their seven points.

Eight Balls Rout Mules, 26-13

The Mules once again went down to defeat when they met the Eight Balls only to lose, 26-13. Reynolds scored 19 points for the Eight Balls and Hamil scored one. For the Mules Abbott scored all 13 points.

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club will meet Monday night at 6:45 in Mr. Reber's classroom. A short business meeting will precede the program. The Monday night meeting will be the deadline for first semester dues.

HOLD IT!

Beautiful portrait photography done at lowest rates.

Come in today.

THE WEBB STUDIO

Festive Fall Fashions

Add enchantment to your wardrobe, choose especially becoming date-time dresses. Our Fall-into-Winter Fashions Flatter with soft complimentary drapes and graceful skirts.

All magically low priced!

Chandler's

Famous Nationally Known Clothes for Women

Blount National Bank Bldg.

From BACH to BOOGIE

We have one of the finest collections of records in town. Come in today and Browse; music for all!

HITCH RADIO SHOP

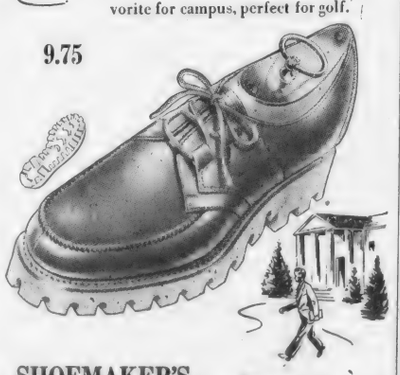
WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.

30-Minute Service

between

Maryville and Knoxville

WINTHROP'S



Double Duty

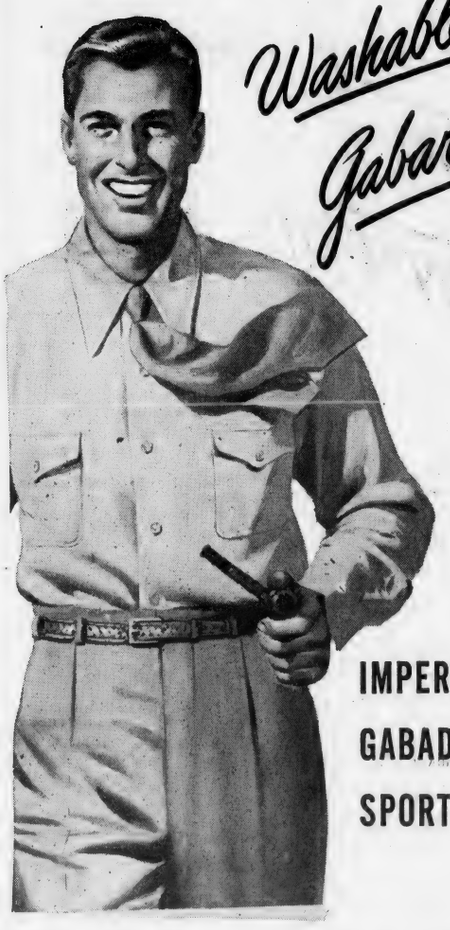
HALF-TRACK SLACK

Noted for style, famous for comfort . . . Winthrop's Slack reaches new heights when made with this heavy, red rubber lugged sole. Favorite for campus, perfect for golf.

9.75

SHOEMAKER'S SHOE STORE

"Expert Shoe Fitters"



(Open all day Wednesday)

WINTHROP SHOES

McGREGOR*

SPORTSWEAR

Washable Gabardine

IMPERIAL GABADIER SPORT SHIRT

Everybody likes gabardine — for smartness, sturdiness, and comfort. But you'll like it even more when you see it in this McGregor sport shirt. It's washable, color-fast, and pre-shrunk for permanent fit. In rich flattering solid colors. And famous McGregor tailoring keeps you comfortable in play or leisure!

$5.95

PROFFITT'S MAN'S SHOP MAIN FLOOR

"Since 1919, The Best Place To Trade"

Writing Needs

Your personality is refelcted . . . in the way you write—the stationery you use. That's why it's so important to select an easy-writing pen and stationery that's suited for you!

Pen and Pencil Sets

Writing Tablets

Automatic Pencils

Stationery Gift Boxes

PARK DRUG CO.

CONGRATULATIONS

MESSIAH SOLOISTS

THE Highland Echo

Z 703

CONGRATULATIONS

QUEEN BETTY

VOLUME 33 — MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, — NOVEMBER 1, 1947 — NUMBER 10

BETTY HALL ELECTED HOMECOMING QUEEN

Betty Hall, best known during the last four years for her singing ability, was elected Homecoming queen at the election held last Wednesday morning in chapel. She will be crowned tonight by football captain Ronald "Cotton" Easter before the Sewanee-Highlander game which will be held on Wilson Field at 8:00, the last in a series of events celebrating the Maryville College Homecoming—Founders Day week-end. The queen will be attended by Elsie Onifer and Barbara Blair, both seniors, and escorted by Richard Black a freshman.

Miss Hall, a member of the Vesper Choir during her four years at Maryville, was one of The Messiah soloists last year and has been selected as a soloist for the presentation again this December. She has sung at numerous campus programs, and at present directs the choir at the West Maryville Presbyterian Church. She is also a member of the French Club.

Miss Onifer is a biology major from Mayberry, West Virginia, and was editor of the '47 Chilhowean. Miss Blair, a music major, is from Knoxville, and is also known as a Messiah soloist. Black is a freshman pre-med major from Baltimore, Maryland. He was recently elected freshman representative to the Student Council.

Queen's Crowning

The band will enter tonight from the west end of the field, march to the opposite end and reverse before halting. The queen, her escort and attendants will circle the field in a convertible, which will drive them to the center of the field. Captain Easter and Coach Honaker will advance to the center from the Maryville side for the crowning and for the presentation of the queen's bouquet by the Coach. The band will play the alma mater, after which the queen and her retinue will be driven from the field. They will occupy seats on the fifty yard line on the Maryville side.

Chapel Opened Homecoming

Homecoming was opened this morning with the Founders Day chapel service at 9:45, at which Attorney General Roy Hood Beeler addressed the student body and alumni on the subject "Civilization Then and Now." Homecoming events will continue with a parade which will be held tomorrow o,K bration downtown this afternoon and later all visiting alumni will gather for the annual alumni barbecue. The climax of the day will be the Sewanee football game at 8:00 o'clock at which Queen Betty will be crowned.

The theme of the Founders Day chapel service this morning was "The World Scene in the Church College." In addition to Attorney General Beeler, Dr. Edwin Hunter, Dean Frank D. McClelland, President Ralph W.. Lloyd, and Judge Samuel Houston participated in the program. The Vesper Choir sang two anthems, "God's Son Hath Set Me Free" and "Andante Motet."

The Alumni barbecue will be held at 6:00 p. m. on the athletic field. In case of rain, it will be in the Alumni Gym. Tickets for the football game may be secured for 75 cents at the barbecue, and announcement will be made at that time concerning the field entrance which the alumni are to use.

Pep Committee Planned Events

The Pep Committee headed by Julie Pancoast made the arrangements for the parade, the crowning of the queen, and the field decorations. The decorating committee for the queen's booth is Alice Davenport and Margaret McNeil. Lynn Willis and Carolyn Kaye decorated the goal posts. The Scotty and the tiger which appear on the press box were made by Carl Lazenby and Hedy Nabholz.

Tutor of Crown Prince of Japan Addresses YTEA

Gen. Romulo Replaced By Miss Elizabeth Vining

Miss Elizabeth Vining, tutor to the Crown Prince of Japan, discussed the educational situation in present-day Japan, before the assembled E.T.E.A. in the U. T. auditorium Thursday night, replacing General Carlos Romulo of the Philippines who was unable to be present.

The youth of Japan are having to be re-educated for the sudden change that has taken place there, Miss Vining stated. Not only have ideals of government changed, but now the emperor moves about his people, women are being recognized as of social importance, and, as she quoted General McArthur, "The country has received a spiritual revolution."

The entire educational program has been revised. Religious freedom is allowed. Both boys and girls receive the same opportunities. Texts are being re-written to replace the old militaristic ones. Instead of six years of free, compulsory education, now there are nine. The school system is being decentralized, and the teachers retrained while still teaching.

However, she continued, education is still confronted by many problems. 14,000 new secondary schools are being built, but the present buildings are having to operation two and three hour shifts. Newspapers are printed only twice a week to conserve paper for the vast re-writing of text books. The students themselves are having to study under nerve wracking conditions. 70% of the houses in Tokyo have been destroyed; and some students and teachers spend up to seven hours commuting to the schools on a painfully crowded transportation system.

As the American Christian woman selected to teach the Crown Prince, Miss Vining said she also had classes in English for the Crown Prince's sisters, brother, and mother, and five classes in the Peers' and Peeresses' school. She described the Crown Prince as "intelligent, friendly, natural, and spontaneous, and possessing intellectual honesty and a sense of responsibility.".

Miss Vining is a graduate of Bryn Mawr and taught at the University of North Carolina. She is the author of eleven books for young people under the penname of "Elizabeth Gray."

Rover Scouts Choose Picnic Grounds Project

Plans for the Rover Scout Crew project soon to get under way were announced at the meeting Thursday night in Bartlett Hall, and the first outing of the new organization was decided upon.

With the permission of the college, and with materials and tools to be supplied by the maintenance department, the men of the crew are ready to begin work in the picnic grounds, where they will carry out an ambitious project.

To make the grounds usable for winter outings, the men are going to build an Adirondak shelter, which is an open-ended shelter with a fireplace in the narrow end. Numbers of other improvements are going to be carried out, including sodding the grass area, constructing a better and safer bridge over the creek, and fitting the barbecue oven with a more convenient grill. Sam Broyles, counselor of the group, has emphasized that the rustic and natural effect of the grounds will in no way be impaired, and that all construction will be in keeping with the atmosphere of the woods.

Tuesday evening, November 4, the group is to have its first outdoor meeting, in the woods. A community-style meal will be cooked, with rabbit as the main course.

YM Holds Round Table Discussion

The Y.M.C.A. program for this Sunday will be a round table discussion called, "Who Is My Neighbor?"

The discussion will develop from Christ's well-known words "love thy neighbor." Carroll Stegall, psychology major from the Belgian Congo, Africa, will discuss the problem of international love, dealing with "Who Is My International Neighbor?" Tom Horst, senior from Trenton, N. J will speak on the racial viewpoint, discussing "Who Is My Racial Neighbor?55 Herb Parson, sophomore psychology major from Florida, will address the group on, "Who Is My Church Neighbor?" Heading the panel will be Harold Russell, senior from Pennsylvania.

Party Held For Children By Inter-racial Workers

Members of the YM-YW Interracial group sponsored a Hallo we'en party Friday afternoon a the African Methodist Church for negro young people and children.

The group has been conducting weekly sessions at the church for several weeks. These meetings consist of an opening worship program, a class period, recreation, handcraft, and a closing program. Marge Prall and Roger Cowan are the directors of the group which is composed of volunteers from the YMCA and YW CA.

VA Discontinues Flight Training Indefinitely

Solo and Near-Solo Students Grounded

The Maryville College Air Corps has recently been grounded until further notice from the Veteran's Administration in Washington. The VA has decided to revise its policy of allowing colleges which have tuition fees or less than $500 to absorb the remainder of the veteran's entitlement in aviation training. This restriction has not been applied to any other activity. Approximately 450 colleges and universities are affected. Under the present ruling, if a veteran desire air training, he must use another year, or portion of a year, of his GI benefits.

About seventy veterans are enrolled for the flying course at Maryville. All the students have been attending ground school and half of them have been receiving actual flight training with the other half scheduled to fly next semester. Most of the students have eight to ten hours flying time and about twenty-five have already soloed. The training has been under the direction of Cook's Aero Service at the Knoxville Municipal Airport.

YWCA FEATURES STUDENT PROGRAM

"Living Portraits" is the theme of the Y.W.C.A. program tomorrow afternoon. Judy Breen, Winnie Echaumberg, and Marjorie Prall will participate. Dick Ribble will furnish the special music

The House Committee is announcing that the fee for the use of the Y-kitchen will be 35 cents after November 1st, due to the installation of a new stove and other equipment.

Students Sign-Up For Tusculum Trip

Enough students to fill two buses have signed up to go to the Tusculum game so far. Sign up sheets have been placed in the dormitories and in Thaw Hall for those wishing to attend the game being played in Greeneville, Tennessee, on November 22, at 8:00 p. m. The trip will take approximately three hours each way. Buses will be chartered if enough sign up to go and the price will be $2.88 for a round-trip ticket and a ticket to the game.

The Student Council is in charge of this project; Daye Campbell is chairman of the committee in charge and Virginia Schwarz is working with him.

MESSIAH SOLOISTS ANNOUNCED

BLAIR, FRANKLIN, HOWELL, HALL, ANDERSON, WHEELER CASTRODALE, GODDARD CHOSEN

Eight students have been selected as soloists for the fifteenth annual presentation of The Messiah, an oratorio by Handel which will be presented on Sunday, December 14. Barbara Blair, Katherine Franklin, Peggy Howell, Betty Hall, Rella Anderson, Tom Wheeler, Milford Castrodale, and Edwin Goddard were chosen from among those who tried out on October 18.

Miss Blair, contralto soloist, will sing two recitatives, "Behold a Virgin" and "Then Shall the Eyes of the Blind be Opened." She will also sing the air, "He Shall Feed His Flock." Miss Blair is a senior voice major from Knoxville. She previously sang in the '44 and '46 productions of the oratorio.

Miss Franklin, a senior religious education major and also an contralto soloist, will sing the air, "He Was Despised." She sang in the '45 production. Miss Franklin, like Miss Blair, is from Knoxville.

Two soprano recitatives, "There Were Shepherds Abiding in the Field," and "And the Angel Said Unto Them," and an air, "Come Unto Him," will be sung by Miss Howell, a senior voice major from Maryville who is the daughter of Professor George D. Howell. She has sung in the last two presentations.

Soprano soloist Betty Hall will sing the air, "I know That My Redeemer Liveth." Miss Hall is a senior voice major from Bryson City, North Carolina; she sang in The Messiah last year.

Miss Anderson, the third soprano soloist, will sing two ariosos, "And Lo the Angel of the Lord" and "And Suddenly There Was the Angel." A senior voice major from Maryville, she sang in the oratorio for the first time last year.

Wheeler, senior English major from Peekskill, New York, is the only tenor soloist in the oratorio. It being his first appearance in the production, he will sing the arioso, "Comfort Ye My People," and the air, "Every Valley."

Castrodale, also appearing in the presentation for the first time, will sing two bass solos, "Behold, Darkness Shall Cover the Earth," and "The People that Walked in Darkness." He is a senior philosophy major from Rochester, Pennsylvania.

Goddard, a special student at Maryville, will sing the bass recitative, "Behold, I Tell You a Mystery," and the bass air, "The Trumpet Shall Sound." He lives in Maryville.

Mr. Harter Directs

Mr. H. H. Harter, who will direct The Messiah for the first time, studied the oratorio under Dr. Arthur E. Westbrook, head of the School of Fine Arts of the University of Nebraska. Dr. Westbrook's instruction is considered outstanding, due to his knowledge and wide experience in the English school of oratorio. Mr. Harter also received instruction in orchestral conducting under Nicholas Slominsky, one of the foremost teachers of conducting in the United States.

The orchestra this year has new music, Prout edition of The Messiah released only this fall, since their original music was burned in the chapel fire.

Chorus rehearsals began October 5, and they have continued every Sunday at 3:30 p.m. The chorus was opened to all students and is required by members of the Vesper Choir, Girls' Choir, and Men's Glee Club.

The Messiah was presented at Maryville for the first time in 1932

Dates Requested For Sadie Hawkins

Snuffy Smith announced today that one of his bugs has been lost in the vicinity of Dog Patch (Maryville College on Sadie Hawkins Day, November 8). He stated further that he is not certain which of the bugs is missing, but has had posters put up showing pictures of the bug it might be like. If anyone sees this strange animal, beware; for the bite of it may have unusual effects. However he concluded, "Ah, thinks that the bug might be caught by Sadie Hawkins Day, when so many other pore critters around hyar are being ketched."

Gals, when you have run down your quarry on blessed Sadie Hawkins Day, tie him up securely and tag him with a "He's Took" sign.

The tags will be on sale in Pearson's Lobby at 2c each starting Friday noon.

Hallowe'en Parties Given By Classes

Gruesome witches and gay square-dancing, tales of horror and all-seeing fortune-tellers ushered in Hallowe'en on MC campus last night.

The freshmen in Bartlett gym, masquerading like many things in this world—and out of it—made themselves merry with a haunted house, apple-bobbing and ghostly tales.

Mr. Ben Russell of Maryville called the old-time square dance for the sophomores to the music of a real hill-billy band. For intermission between sets the sophomores also had a horror house, stories by Carroll Stegall, fortune telling and a test to discover morons.

"Tombstown" held open (haunted) house for the juniors with entertainment ranging from "The Tell-Tale Heart" as told by Jim Black to a bit of repartee between two darky "H'ants," all in an atmosphere of witches and hobgoblins.

Music Students To Give Recital On November 4

Music students of Maryville College will present a recital in the Y.W.C.A. rooms back of Thaw Hall on November 4, at 4:30 p. m. Pupils of Miss Davies, Miss Lanfear and Mr. Harter will perform. The program will be presented as follows:

No quiero casarme, Spanish Folk Song, Lois Deobler—Rella Anderson, accompanist;

Valse Caprice by Cyril Scott, Nelson Ernest;

In Summer Fields by Brahms, Mary Holly Webb—William Deihl accompanist;

Auf dem Wasser zu singen, Du bist die Ruh by Schubert, Rella Anderson—Dan Winter, accompanist;

Sonata in G Major by Haydn, Allegro con bric, Dorothy Vawter;

How Lovely is the Hand of God by Loubrough, Gelolo Kell—Dorothy Crowson, accompanist;

Invitation D Minor (Three Part) by Bach and Sonata in F Major (K. 533) by Mozart, Andante, Rella Anderson;

Black Roses by Sibelius, Katherine Franklin—Marian Weller, accompanist.

FOUNDERS DAY, HOMECOMING EVENTS CLIMAXED WITH FOOTBALL GAME

Special Studies Begin In January

The faculty committee on Special Studies consisting of Miss Katherine Davies, Mr. J. A. Davis, Prof. George D. Howell, Dr. E R. Hunter, Mrs. Etta C. Kennedy, Dr. F. D. McClelland, Dr. H. E. Orr, Dr. V. M. Queener, and Miss Nathalia Wright has been working on the details of policy and procedure to govern the new program of Special Studies which is to begin for all juniors in January.

These principles have been adopted by the necessary faculty agencies and are set forth in the following paragraphs for the information of all interested students.

The Nature of the Study Projects

The tangible evidence of Special Studies will be a paper or report, probably to be called a thesis. These thesis will differ in length and scope in various fields of study. The faculty supervisor will be the judge of the acceptability of the thesis as to length.

It is not the intention that this work be original research. It is rather to involve, as a rule, the handling of secondary sources or to be a project involving extensive reading beyond the range of ordinary courses.

Accommodation To Irregular Programs of Residence

A student who in any given January has only two semesters remaining of residence work at Maryville is to carry Special Studies in these last two semesters. To be eligible to undertake Special Studies a student must have at the end of the preceding semester seventy-five hours of credit and one hundred and ninety or two hundred grade points.

Choice of Subject

The department acts to provide lists of subjects which may be supplemented by student suggestion. The actual choice for an individual student is to be made by the student and his supervisor in careful discussion.

Choice of Supervisor

This choice is to be made in its own way by the staff in each subject-matter field. In general these allications need not be made with consideration of a supervisor's special interests, since the supervisory function has to do mainly with method and with regularity and intelligence of working processes, not with details of content.

Bibliographical Guidance By Supervisor

There will be need for this at the outset and to a degree throughout the year. The Library Staff will also function in this relation.

Frequency of Conference

Experience will guide in this, but a normal procedure would seem to call for at least one conference a week.

Stipulation of Steps of Progress

The Committee expects to set up a program of steps of progress, involving: preliminary bibliography, collection of material, outline, first draft, finished paper and the like.

This all in the interest of

a. having a specific basis for first semester grade,

b. avoiding a hurried and confused situation at the end of the year.

Recommendation As To Approval

Final approval involves the favorable action of (1) the faculty supervisor, (2) the Librarian editor, (3) the Faculty Committee on Special Studies.

Documentation, Bibliographical Form

The form taught in this college and required of all freshmen, English 102 or 104, will be followed with reasonable allowances for minor variations as desired in various fields. The check on these matters will be by the Su-

(Continued on page four)

MR. PIEPER SPEAKS AT FACULTY CLUB

The Faculty Club will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday night, November 3, on third floor Fayerweather.

Professor Archibald F. Pieper of the department of political science will discuss "Conditions in Europe."

Music Department Receives Set Of Record Turntables

Mr. James R. Smith Replaces Apparatus

Mr. James Smith, pastor of Graystone Presbyterian Church in Knoxville and executive secretary of the Alumni Association, has recently completed a new set of record turntables for the music department. He had completed a set only a short while before the chapel fire last year. After their destruction, he began immediately collecting materials for a new set, systematically testing them and eliminating weak parts. The new set includes four turntables with three sets of headphones to each, an improvement over the first set which had only two to each turntable. A loudspeaker is included with the set which can be plugged in to either turntable

Besides the new turntables the music department now owns three other record players, including the one with special loudspeaker attachment used for disc club. The record library which is rapidly being enlarged is available to all students at regularly designated hours posted on second floor Anderson Anne.

Oslo Delegates Give Norway Conference Report

Henry Heaps, Former MC Student, Speaks in Group

A delegation of four people who attended the interdenominational conference for young people in Oslo, Norway this past summer will visit the campus November 14-16. They will speak in chapel, Vespers and other meetings on campus and in some of the churches and Sunday Schools in town.

Henry Heaps, a former MC student and brother of Ruth Heaps, a sophomore, will be one of the four delegates. Miss Margaret Florey, the Eastern Secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions will also be a member of the delegation, which is coming to the campus under the auspices of four student organizations, the Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. C. A., Student "Vols" and the I.R.C.

The I. R. C. will hold an open meeting Friday night, November 14, at which this group will speak. A reception will be held for the delegation after the meeting.

NOTICE

Nominations for Barnwarming queen will be held at a student body meeting at chapel next Wednesday morning, November 5. Immediately following the student body meeting there will be individual class meeting to nominate the four class sponsors.

ALPHA SIGMA

The Alpha Sigma will meet tonight at 6:15 in the Y.W. Rooms. A program and refreshments are being planned.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

VOLUME 32 NUMBER 10

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

EDITORIAL STAFF

Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Ruth Ramsey, Ilda Mosby, Mariagrazia Merlanti, Dick Sprague, Carroll Stegall

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb, Ruth Davis

FRESHMEN APPRENTICES
Jean Hunt, Mary Lyerly, Hazel Holm, Elinor Kramer, Donald Whelan

SPORTS STAFF

Kenneth Olsen ..... Editor
Herbert McCallum ..... Sophomore Reporter
Maynard Noble ..... Freshman Apprentice

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF

Business Manager ..... Ruth Williams

SENIOR ASSISTANTS
Mary Jane Long, Florence Housch

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Margaret Weaver

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANTS
Bob Watkins, Joe Claude, Janet Blackmore

FRESHMEN ASSISTANTS
Barbara Altfather, Naoagene Morrow, Anita Withers

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1947

Much Echo About Nothing

BY CRAIG FISHER

ADD TO LIST OF DAFFYNITIONS: Gossip columnish—the eyes, the ears and the nose of the world.

THIS is what might be called a transition week when people go around smelling like mothballs, another blanket is spread on the bed, and family quarrels break out over whether the window should be left open at night. In the weeks to come the campus will swish and crunch with feet in dry leaves as a few of the faithful make their way to breakfast hunched over in the cold half-night, or couples swing around Circle Drive for almost the last time before they have to wear Arctic blizzard suits. Pajamas will once again be popular, fellows will be taking blankets to the ball games with them, and as the afternoons become bleaker more and more time will be spent in the vicinity of textbooks. Then late autumn will yield to winter, and once again the campus will go into hibernation.

THIS WEEK'S SOB STORY: Ben Gearheart, fourth place man on the tennis ladder soince the beginning of school, parachuted to ninth in three challenge matches played Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

THE $4.50 QUESTION: Who, prithee, Ray, who, we beseech thee, Buffie, WHO is the Chilhowean Girl of the Year? Stony Silence. Then Saunders bellows, "Reserve you Chilhoweans here, only one dollar down and three fifty to go!" And Buffie lopes off to snap the picture of another club.

SLOGAN FOR TONIGHT: Beat Sewanee! and may we come together once again to commit the last mortal remains which can be gathered up to the ground in which we plan to grind their noses. For ten cents and the best twenty five word statement on "Why I love the gossip column," you will receive free a pamphlet describing my simple deep breathing exercises for the development of volume and stamina in the grandstand voice. It contains an article by Bebe Ledbetter, "I Was A Ninety Pound Weakling," and suggestions from Howard Cameron on how to prevent ear pains from sirens. John Baird is quaintly pictured with a bugle twisted around his neck.

WELCOME ALUMNI

We have no idea how many of you are here this weekend, but we would like to speak for the college and extend to each of you the heartiest of welcomes.

REC HALL

A Rec Hall is opening—it is opening in the two small rooms in Bartlett Hall. There will be three card tables, and possibly a volley ball court. With the set-up as it is, first come will be first served. In other words, at the very most, the first 30 students—approximately 670 eat in the dining hall—who rush to Bartlett immediately after lunch and dinner will be the only ones who will find anything to do.

The hours of the Rec Hall will be the same as in previous years, a few minutes after lunch, after dinner, and on Tuesday night. Unless hostesses and hosts volunteer their services it cannot remain open at all.

The inadequacy of the hall is obvious.

CONSCIENCE?: After Dean McClelland toured Carnegie last week, there were signs of enthusiastic house cleaning. "Memorial Watch" on the fourth floor where Scotty thinclads have been doing low hurdles all semester, underwent the biggest transformation. All the junk was rearranged all around Schieber's bed. "We clean up once a semester whether it needs it or not," he stated.

ON HIS RETURN from the shower Bob Holley found himself locked out by roommate Proffitt. Mr. Mac was powerless to open it. The next day a pair of pants was reported missing from the line, and Holley was seen at supper.

ERF ERF! Art Haaf's Haaf Wits, uperclassmen, fell to the feet of the freshmen on the soccer field winning only one of the four games played.

"STEAGALL, Steagall, where am I?" It was Paul Kidder, lost in the depths of Carnegie groping through the twenty-five watt darkness of the second floor for light. We advocate luminous signs at all intersections. Which reminds me of the single mirror in the second floor shower. We have to synchronige razors when we shave so that we don't slash each other's wrists. We advocate new mirrors.

HOPING that Bill Nish won't throw snowballs in the dorm this winter.

HONOR AMONG THIEVES: The old story about the freshman left holding the bag got a new twist some time ago when Wanda Onifer went down one night to get the stuff the girls had ordered from Dubby's. When she came back to her room after going down again to pay the delivery man, all the food had dematerialized. All of which shows, if you want to trust a woman, don't.

SPECTATOR SPORT: One again your old armchair reporter goes into action in the field of the C. C. C. (Constant Campus Courter's, remember?) This isn't, you understand, a matter to be taken lightly. To be included, one must show every sign of being enamored for more than two town nights. Only then can ke sadly announce your AWOL from bachelorhood. Extensions of last time's roll call: Olsen, Pribble, Boring, Brewer, Wheeler, Earnest, Jim Baird and Stovall. The list still isn't complete.

FOLLOWS AN ADVERTISEMENT:

Bear Creek Rejuvenator
MOONMIST BRAND
INDIAN MEDICINE

This medicine to be taken three times a day from cradle to grave. It may not be too late to try it. Will not ruin appetite, raise blood pressue, or stain shirt front. Buy your bottle now while supply lasts. Guaranteed for effective results.

As hair tonic, revitalizes your hair. Will make bald pates yield a new crop. (John Russ uses it.)

Can be used for shoe polish.

Relieves belching and gas on the stomach in three hours.

Accelerates growth (Nobel and Earnest use it.)

Relieves woman trouble permanently (Carnegie uses it.)

Starches shirt fronts and collars (Max House recommends it.)

Removes unsightly hair (I'm not speaking).

Has all the vitamins your body needs.

Can be sprayed on window sills to kill flys.

Caution: Use only as directed. Come by Daniel Crump's room on third floor Carnegie and get your winter's supply while it lasts.

TALK OF THE WEEK

by Jean Almy

Letter To The Editor

412 Carnegie Hall,
October 28, 1947.

Dear Editor:

Your editorials last week were little short of amazing to me. Your suggestions about "fiery campaigns" sound as though you want to encourage us to vote for candidates about whom we only "think" we know something (as you rightly claimed is too often the case in presidential elections) rather than to encourage us to vote intelligently and wisely as the Student Council has been advocating for the past few years.

Would an election after a "fiery campaign" insure the election of the best qualified candidate? Or would it simply mean that some people would get a "big kick out of" elections and that the person elected would be the one who had the most clever manager and perhaps the largest pocketbook? Undoubtedly the latter would be the case. Effective election campaigns of the type you suggest depend on emotionalism, sensationalism, and cleverness in the exaggeration of half-truths and irrelevant issues rather than on the objective presentation of a candidate's qualifications.

"Why Not Campaign?" Have you ever heard of the secret organizations which existed on the "Hill" before the war for the "running" of elections? Ask some grad of a few years back, or ask some vets about them! From all I've heard they were vicious destroyers of clean, fair elections, as well as of student morale concerning positions of leadership. Are you asking for a reinstitution of the DUD's? Or can you not see the similarity between that set-up and the one you advocate? The only difference is that your groups wouldn't be secret! But political cliques, patronage, and the organization of complete tickets and platforms would be inevitable in such campaigns—either openly or in secret—try as you might to get conformance to high standards. That's the way way "fiery campaigns" work.

If you are really interested in having us know our candidates better, why not give a sizeable space in the "ECHO" to pictures and factual information about candidates BEFORE elections? Here's your record this year: advance announcement of freshman nominating meeting. 3 1-2 (actual copy) on an inside page; listing of nominees prior to election without info about them, 4 1-2"; announcement of election results—with info about the successful candidates, AFTER elections, 7" and a three-column title.

Before you use your editorial pen further to advocate such sweeping changes in election procedure, why not use your front page to give us the news and the facts? Last week's "Echo" announced the Homecoming Queen nominations with a 3" article giving no info about the candidates except that E. J. is president of the Student Council—which even freshman probably know by this time.

Admitted, Miss Editor, something additional in elections might help to stimulate interest. But please, why not put your staff to work to give us accurate information instead of advocating a propoganda type of appeal in our voting? Let's at least try to act intelligent as college students are supposed to act!

As for your disgust with student body meetings, did it ever occur to you that (except for nominations) those meetings are mostly "rubber stamp" sessions? The evidence indicates that the students will stay for meetings and will be interested— if they are given something to be interested in. Last year the Student Council held one or two meetings to present some campus problems for student comment. And we participated! It was the talk of the campus for several days! pus issues, all well and good. But, pression of opinion would have been forthcoming if both sides of debatable issues had been fully presented instead of just one. Why not ask the student body to do something besides "rubber stamp" carefully worked out plans? If we've already delegated to the Student Council, or other groups, the authority to discuss and to decide on interesting camtion as the only possible one for if such is the case, it's hardly fair to condemn students for a lack of interest in meetings which do little more than ask them to give additional aprpoval to those in whom they have already placed confidence for good judgments.

Perhaps your readers would be interested in these comments, too, before they accept your explanation as the only posisble one for the apparent lack of interest.

Sincerely,
Tom Horst.

Hospital Technician Speaks At Pre-Med Club

Mr. Hobbs, technician at the Blount Memorial Hospital, will speak to the Pre-Med Club this week, using "How Blood Types Are Determined" as his topic.

At the last meeting all who were present had their blood typed. Lloyd Anderson, Matt Cardella, Bob Thompson and Bob Bruce prepared the slides and Don Kribbs typed the blood. Microscopes were available so that each person could look at his blood. Diagrams of the different types were drawn on the board and Peggy Brooks and Grace Gugger tabulated the results of the testing.

I. R. C.

The International Relations Club will meet Monday night at 6:45, Room 214, Thaw Hall.

The program will be the form of a panel discussion on "The European's Place in the Marshall Plan." Members participating will be Dave Campbell, Jerry Collins, Jackie Morton, Maybelle Fong, and Paul Woodbury.

Pre-Ministerials

The Rev. Robert Wood, pastor of the Park City Presbyterian Church of Knoxville, Tennessee, will be the guest speaker at the November 13 meeting of the Ministerial Association. The Rev. Wood, a Maryville graduate, will speak on, "Practical Problems of the Ministery."

The last meeting of the club was held in the college woods in the form of a picnic. Mr. Ted Pratt was the speaker and Bob Holly, the song director.

Date Night!

To make a hit with the New Gal you just met in School . . . . be sure that you have a Clean White Shirt for date nights.

9 Pounds Clothes Washed, Rinsed, Damp Dried, Soap, Bleach, and Water 35c

SPECIAL
9 Pounds Washed and Dried 55c
SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY
Phone 1055

PERFECTLY DONE

You'll be amazed at the speed and thoroughness of our Dry Cleaning. . . . We'll get your garments back perfectly clean in a short time.

Nu-Way Cleaners

Telephone 9123 221 S. College St.

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

Take one of our light, flavorful cakes home, and your family will smother you with compliments! The widest variety of cakes you can imagine is our stock-in-trade, but we'll bake you one to your special order if you like!

LYNCH BAKERY

PARK
Tuesday, November 4
Dick Tracy in
"The Dilemna"

CAPITOL
Monday and Tuesday
November 3 and 4
"Dear Ruth"

Wednesday and Thursday
November 5 and 6
"Gallant Bess"

Christmas Cards

Christmas is just around the corner. . . . card ordering time is here! By selecting cards early you're assured of prompt service and a more ex choice.

A Card For ery Greeting

BYRNE DOUG CO.

National Flower Week
November 2-9

SAY IT WITH FLOWERS. . . . . when you're going out with your "best girl".

SAY IT WITH FLOWERS . . . . when you're taking your gal to the next Football game.

SAY IT WITH FLOWERS . . . on you Mom's Birthday.

FOX FLORIST

Scotties Duel Strong Sewanee

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

Sewanee, The Only One of 600

The Sewanee Tiger, foraying unscored upon down its football path, remains the only eleven boasting an unscored-on record in these United States. As far as we've been able to find out, Sewanee is the one college team in the United States that has not been scored upon in the 1947 season. Of the 600 colleges, schools, and institutes which The Football News (American Collegiate Sports Weekly) lists, only Sewanee has been through four fights unscratched.

"Most Difficult Test of the Year"

Yes, and the Tigers will be out to keep their slate clean by holding the Scots in check tonight. As The Sewanee Purple puts it: "The Maryville game should provide the most difficult test of the year for high-riding Sewanee." Make no mistake—tonight's engagement should find the Scots and the Tigers in a hard fought game with each trying with every means available to latch on to the laurels of victory.

Spirit and Fight

After the recent Sewanee-Mississippi College game, one of the Mississippi coaches, whose squad had just suffered a 14-0 slapback in a muddy, closely-contested battle said: Quote—"The big reason for the Sewanee victory was that you (Sewanee) just had us beat in spirit and fight."—Unquote. "Spirit and fight"—but do we need plenty of that tonight! This Sewanee eleven has shown a lot of spirit and fight, and we've got to match it with both spectator enthusiasm and squad spirit if we expect to down the Tigers.

Sewanee—Maryville in Other Years

Some of the old grads flocking back to the hill this week-end may remember some games with Sewanee in earlier years. If they do, we're sure these memories are not too pleasant. Reading Sewanee's record against Maryville we found: 1906—Sewanee 28, Maryville 0; 1916—Sewanee 68, Maryville 7; 1923 Sewanee 20; Maryville 0; and 1946—Sewanee 0, Maryville 7. Thus, in four meetings of these teams Maryville has gained only 14 points while Sewanee's total is 116. The Highlanders under Coach Honaker's tutelage have one win, one loss in games with the Sewanee Tigers. Let's make it two wins for one loss, Highlanders! Up 'n' atta 'em!

Does Home Team Have Advantage?

Some say give a team a home game against a team of approximate equal calibre and the home team has a touchdown advantage. Travelling generally upsets football squads. Tonight the Scots may have that T. D. advantage but, come Thursday, against the powerful Middle Tennessee State outfit and the home game odds will be reversed. Naturally, you can't play'em all at home, but those Blue Raiders are one eleven we'd like to see the Scots meet in our own back yard.

Raiders Have Heavy Team, Good Record

The Raiders, as heavy a team as the Scots are likely to meet in the remainder of the season, already have the jump of a week's idleness in addition to a home game advantage. Their record thus far is out of the ordinary. They put Southeastern Missouri away (13-0), sunk Memphis State (20-0), eased by Milligan (7-0), pushed over Union (20-6), routed Austin Peay (33-0), and trounced Cumberland (41-12). With an infusion of new power through freshmen talent, the Raiders have re-equipped their backfield with splendid results. Last year, we recall, a 215 pound fullback named Rushing gave the Scots a headache, and (as some are quick to point out) Maryville was lucky to win by a 20-6 margin, since M.T.S. practically gave the game away by numerous fumbles. Luck can hold out just so long. . . . .The Raiders' diamond "T" formation is sure to give the Scots a terrific time at Murfreesboro next Thursday.

This is one game when sheer determination, an undivided purpose, and only "heads-up" ball can carry the Scots to victory.

TOUCH FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

NOVEMBER 3-7

Monday—3:30 Mitey-Mites vs U. S. Mules
4:30 Y Frosh vs Lokal Yokals

Tuesday—3:30 Odds vs Eight Balls
4:30 Crescents vs K. M. A.

Thursday—3:30 Odds vs Jets
4:30 Crescents vs Tau Sigma

Friday—3:30 U. S. Mules vs Eight Balls
●Mitey-Mites vs Jets
4:30 Lokal Yokals vs K. M. A.
●Y Frosh vs Tau Sigma
●On Field No. 2

Highlander Ronald "Cotton"Easter (center) captains the Maryville Squad against the Sewanee Tigers tonight. Hershell Merriman (left) and "Andy" Anderson (right) hit the Purple and White Tigers from their fullback and guard positions.

Scotties Swamp Emory Wasps, 24-7

The hard-hitting Highlanders swatted the undersigned Emory and Henry Wasps with a 24-7 defeat last Saturday on Wilson Field.

Scots Fumble, Return To Score

The Scotties, stung in the first minutes of play by the Wasp defense, drove to the visitor 3-yard line with a pair of sprints by Neff and Merriman but fumbled trying to move that last three yards. Emory recovered the bounding ball and then kicked to comparative safety. The undaunted Scots struck back again, advancing to the 2 with Fogarty, Neff, Merriman, and Talbot doing the ball-handling. Merriman crossed the 0 yard marker into pay dirt off right tackle. The try for the extra point was blocked.

Wasps Run Back Punt to T.D.

Cochrane, evasive Wasp back, tied up the ball game early in the second period by returning a punt 45 yards for a touchdown. Pippon made the extra point try, giving Emory a short-lived lead, 7-6.

Orange and Garnet Show Colors

The Scotties, not to be outdone, showed their colors minutes later when Bill Fogarty, aggressive freshman wingback, trotted 63 yards into the enemy end zone. Again the try for extra point failed. After a few more plays, the whistle blew, ending the first half—score: Maryville 12, Emory and Henry 7.

M.C. Takes Over Second Half

The Highlanders, considerably improved in the second half, deadened the sting of the Wasps, crossing the goal line for two more tallies. Merriman made the first one when he ran from the Emory 19 into the end zone after a Maryville drive which started on their own 20 and included a 43 yard scamper by tailback Allen Law.

Moving again in the fourth quarter, the ambitious Scots traveled to the visitor 31. From there Fogarty rambled down the gridiron for the last score of the game. With the ball on the Emory 15 in Yellow and Blue hands, the final whistle blew— Maryville's game, 24-7.

(Continued on page four)

INTRAMURALS

BY MAYNARD NOBLE

Intramural Football enters its last week this coming Monday. The schedule will be finished and any postponed game will be played off. The Eight Balls and K. M. A. will meet in the Championship game at a date to be announced next week. K.M.A. to date has lost no games while the Eight Balls have lost two.

Looking ahead, Coach Johnson would like all lists of prospective Intramural volley ball teams as soon as possible so that a schedule can be made.

Eight Balls Trounce Mitey Mites

Scoring 11 points to the Mitey Mites' 6 in the first half the Eight Balls held their 6 point lead throughout the remainder of the game to win, 12-6. Reynolds and Jim Lillard each scored a T.D. for the Eight Balls and Gresham scored the only counter for the Mitey Mites.

Y Frosh Nose Out Lokal Yokals

Bad-boy Bennett scoring a touch down and Jimmy Thurston making the extra point caused the Y Frosh to win 7-6 over the Lokal Yokals. The Yokals' only touchdown was made by G. Hall.

Lokals Overturn Crescents, 14-13

Tuesday afternoon in the last quarter of the Lokal Yokal-Crescent game, T. Burchfield caught a Crescent behind his own goal line for a safety, giving the Yokals the game with a 14-13 score. V. and B. Petree each scored for the Yokals while Packard with 6 points and McKenzie with 7 points added for the Crescent tally.

Odds Edge Out Mules, 26-20

Awarded 6 points in an overtime period, the Odds rocked on to another victory. The game was tied 20-20 at the end, each team scoring in the 2nd and 3rd and 4th periods. For the Odds Morton procured 8 points and T. Yeaworth and John Morrison

(Continued on page four)

Highlanders To Hit Highly Touted MTS

After their encounter tonigh with the strong Sewanee Tigers, the Scots have a brief four-day rest before they meet the vaunted Blue Raiders of Middle Tennessee State College. The Highlander ensemble will leave early next Thursday morning, November 6, for Murfreesboro, Tennessee where they engage the Raiders in a game under the lights that night.

M.T.S. Undefeated, Untied

Middle Tennessee State's Blue Raiders remain the only undefeated, untied team in the state. This week the Raiders did not meet an opponent and consequently have an extra week to devise ways to stop the Highlander offense.

Raiders Plenty Strong in '46

Maryville turned back the State team 20-6, in a homecoming affair last year, but by no means were the Raiders rendered completely helpless for they pounded out a 60 yard touchdown march scored on a pass, and secured second touchdown of the season against the bowl-bound Scots.

More Points In Six Than Ten

This year, with improved striking power, the Raiders not only have remained undefeated in six straight games, but have rung up 133 points against 18 for these six opponents to out-distance their total pointage mark of 109 in their ten game season of last year. Ten opponents netted only 57 points last year against the Raiders; while Maryville (20-6) and Tennessee Tech (21-7) were the only two of the ten able to hand the Murfreesboro lads a defeat.

Count on a Close Contest

With a taxing battle tonight and time enough next week only to grasp for breath, the Scots face an extremely tough grind at the Raiders' battleground next Thursday night. Scot followers evan count on a close contest with the Raiders.

Tiger Eleven Unscored Upon; Two Teams Very Evenly Matched

Tonight Maryville's Scotties go up against an unscored-on Sewanee eleven in what may be the toughest scrap of the season and surely one of the most thrilling Highlander Homecoming games in a decade. Sewanee's purple and white Tigers will be gunning for revenge tonight for the 7-0 victory Maryville snatched by an intercepted pass last year on the Sewanee field.

Scots Poised to Attack

The Highlanders, almost fully recuperated from injury setbacks in the last two frays at home, put in a week of strenuous scrimmage in preparation for waylaying the preying Sewanee Tiger.

One Scot Remains Crippled

Dave Clark, who came out of the Emory-Henry game last week with a lame leg, is the only Scot casualty who may be unable to see action tonight. With the return of Leon Berrong, "Hardy" Davis, and Bobby Boring to an active status, the Highlander coaches hope to have buried an injury jinx that has riddled the Scots for two weeks.

Sewanee Seeks Fourth Win

Sewanee, entering its fifth game of the season, has previously dealt defeat to Kenyon (40-0), Mississippi College (14-0), and Southwestern (8-0). Tieing Presbyterian at the first of the season, Coach W. C. White's charges have guarded their end zone very carefully to keep it untrampled by an opponent thus far this year.

Scots Have Slight Edge

Although the Tigers and the Scots are very evenly matched and both are well balanced elevens, Maryville has a little advantage in the pre-game outlook in weight averages. The Highlander line is ten pounds per man heavier, on the average, than the Tiger linemen.

The Tiger line averages 180 pounds and the Scots have a 190 pound average in the line. The two teams have the same backfield average of 165 pounds.

A 60 Minute Shakedown?

The Highlander line—led by Captain "Cotton" Easter on the offense and backed up by Maryville's ace center "Pie" Garner—expect to give the Tigers a 60 minute shakedown. The Scot secondary, which have compiled very good rushing averages, will be striking in full force with Merriman, the Berrong boys, and Allen Law to charge on the unscored-on Tigers.

Bell, Flowers Tiger Threats

Chuck Flowers, Reed Bell are the Sewanee threaters with Chuck to handle punting and passing duties and Bell to buck the line. Up front for the Tigers, Smiles and Bascom, sophomore guards, are to provide the backbone for Tiger opposition.

Ticket sales indicate an overflow crowd for the tightest home game yet in the Scot's nine game schedule. Kick-off time is at eight.

Probable Starting Line-Up:

M.C.			Sewanee
(18)	Talbott	l.e.	oSser (11)
(25)	Kluth	l.t.	Snell (37)
(24)	Anderson	l.g.	Smiles (41)
(23)	Garner	c.	Watkins (29)
(30)	Easter	r.g.	Bascom (30)
(26)	Rock	r.t.	Rogers (36)
(17)	Davis	r.e.	Speake (25)
(2)	K. Berrong	qb.	Guerry (21)
(6)	Law	w.b.	Green (13
(3)	Merriman	t.b.	Flowers (18)
(4)	L. Berrong	f.b.	Bell (18

WRESTLERS BEGIN SIX MINUTE BOUTS

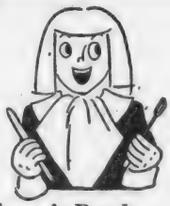
Prospective wrestlers began six minute bouts this week to get in shape for the first match of the season, only a few weeks off.

Acting Coach Phil Evaul has has been drilling the men on the fundamentals and conditioning at the bi-weekly practices held in the wrestling room, second floor Bartlett, Tuesday and Thursdays from 4 to 5.

TENNIS LADDER

Bill Uthlaut, freshman, now heads the tennis ladder. Uthlaut worked his way from the bottom of the ladder to the top by challenging one or two places ahead.

Close behind Uthlaut is Bob Wilson, sophomore, in second place. The next six steps are filled by Bill Dinges, Harold Hunter, Ches Anderson, Carl Murray, Fred Waggoner, and Craig Fisher.



SOCCER

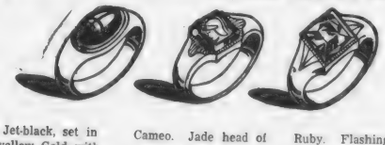
Soccer stock took a turn for the better with a good turnout of men this past week. Hard, close contests have been played with none of the games being won by more than one point. Bob Williams has filled in the upperclassmen goalie gap; and the aggressiveness of Charlie Bacon, Alan Kiger, Bob Eastman, Lee Orr, and James Todd has assured interesting games.

The Freshmen team is in need of a few regular players. The man to see, if interested, is Tom Kees. Coach Johnson is hoping to have two complete team in the very near future.

To make your "Town Night" date a perfect one, stop by for that snack

C. & L. CAFE

Dinner's Ready . . . .



and is it good!

Expert preparation of quality food results in a delicious meal for you and your guests.

Coulter's Restaurant

Jewelry Makes Christmas Perfect!

Jewelry gifts are the most pleasing gifts, because they're luxurious and long-lasting. Give jewelry gifts this year. Select them from Sterchi's where full value is guaranteed and where jewelry offerings are unexcelled! Three masculine rings are illustrated.

Onyx. Jet-black, set in 10-K yellow Gold with a diamond in the center. Mounting in several finger sizes.
Price $29.95

Cameo. Jade head of Roman legionnaire in high relief. Onyx background, gold setting.
Price $29.75

Ruby. Flashing, diamond-cut facets. Set in pure gold. A real bargain. Price $22.50

STERCHI BROS.
Jewelry Dept.

Skating Rink Plans Tuesday Nights For M.C.

Jim Smith, College Student, Instructs

Tuesday nights at Rollerdrome Skating Rink are planned first and foremost for the enjoyment of college students on town nights, and Jimmy Smith, a college student, is in charge of the programs. He was recently stating the aims of the Rink and added that he would like to have any suggestions from college students for Tuesday night programs.

Smith, a freshman town student, is available as a beginner's instructor at the skating rink on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. For those who want to learn how to dance on skates, classes will be held each Wednesday afternoon at 3:30. The price of such lessons are 50 cents. Mr. Bob Beard, manager of the Chilhowee Park Skating Rink in Knoville, will be the instructor.

Open Week-Days

The rink is open every week day afternoon from 5:00 to 7:00 except Wednesday when it is open from 2:45 to 4:45. It is open Monday through Saturday nights from 7:15 to 10:00.

The rates of the Rollerdrome are 30 cents for two hours in the afternoons and 44 cents for three hours at night. Spectators are only allowed at nights for 12 cents.

Arrangements may be made to secure the entire rink for class parties when a request is made one week in advance. For rates supply at the rink which is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Burl Gregory.

Small boy, calling on next-door neighbor: "If that little boy next door ever bothers you practicing the piano, you might try complaining to my mother."

Radio and Appliance Repair

Work Guaranteed

See Earl Martin on campus

Honors Work Introduced In 1932; 115 Participated

By Dorothy Vawter

On page 23 of the Maryville College Bulletin for the year 1932-1933 is the following paragraph: "Maryville is fully convinced of the soundness of the principle which offers to superior students opportunities for study independent of the usual requirements and confinements of the classroom. Beginning with the year 1932-1933, the College will institute a program of Honors Work for students who desire to follow it and who are approved by the proper authorities as candidates for Honors study. The detailed plans for this work will be made known early enough to become operative with the opening of the session in September, 1932." In that first year seven students undertook Honors Work under the direction of Dr. E. R. Hunter, who has been chairman of the Honors Work committee during the entire period, and teachers in their major fields. Miss Nathalia Wright, now assistant librarian, was a member of this first group. Her work was entitled "An Attempt at an Analysis of the Quality of Beauty in English Literature."

Results Justified Work

In the 1933-1934 Catalog one line was added to the Honors Work description and it rather aphoristically reveals the progress made during the first year. "The results of this year of Honors Work justify its continuation."

In that year Miss Edith Frances Massey, now Dean of Women, was listed among those doing Honors Work. Her field was biology, and the title of her thesis was "The Embryology of the Frog." That year she was also a member of Alpha Gamma Sigma and Theta Alpha Phi and graduated cum laude.

Six Hours Credit Given

The next addition to the catalog description of Honors Work, in 1935-1936, stated that the student could receive six hours credit for his work and would be required to take a comprehensive examination over his field in May. That year Mr. Archibald Franklin Pieper, now Associate Professor of Political Science, did Honors Work in this field based on the topic "has Democracy Failed."

In 1937-1938 oral examinations in the field of Honors Work replaced the comprehensive examinations which are now shared by all seniors. During that year Mr. Stanley Warren Phillips was among the Honors Work group, doing his work in the field of Economics and using the topic "The Development of Advertising Trends." He was also a member of Alpha Gamma Sigma. He now is the Assistant Professor of Economics.

Mrs. Kennedy, Mr. Evaul Took Study

Mrs. Etta Culbertson Kennedy, now a member of the library staff and special helper with Special Studies, did Honors Work in French in 1938-1939. In 1940-1941 Philip Oscar Evaul, preparing to enter the mission field in Chile at the present time, did Honors Work in Biology centering his research around the "fungi local eto Maryville College."

During the fifteen year history of Honors Work one hundred and fifteen students have participated sixty-one men and fifty-four women. According to statistics recently compiled by Dr. Hunter, the average number per year was 7.67. The first year, 1932-1933, there were seven; the peak year was 1935-1936 when nineteen did Honors Work; the low year was 1943-1944 with only two doing Honors Work.

English leads the list as a favorite field of study. During the period twenty-two people used English topics. Biology is second and Philosophy third. Fourth subjects have been tried only once. In 1942-1943 R. W. Schwarzwalder wrote in the field of Art Appreciation. In 1944-1945 Miriam Bowditch wrote a book to be used as an eighth grade course in Religious Education. Maria Wynn wrote in the field of History in 1934-1935, and in 1942-1943 Carl Alette studied the "Harmonic Changes During the Nineteenth Century."

Reveals Good Record

In his Honors Work report, Dr. Hunter makes the following statement: "While this group of 115 in relation to the 1710 persons who graduated in this fifteen-year period is only 6.19%, it still looms as a good element in our scholastic record and is of much more weight than such a meager percentage would suggest.

"To turn from this to the much more sweeping undertaking of Special Studies for everyone represents a considerable adventure. It will not be that we shall find everyone now doing Honors Work, for that has meant a much higher level than can be expected of the rank and file. But we shall hope for some real toning up and vitalizing of our entire academic life."

VESPERS

Dr. E. R. Hunter will speak at Vespers tomorrow night in the library. He will take his text from John 17:19, "For Their Sakes I Sanctify Myself."

The All-Girls Choir will sing "Heavenly Light" by Kopylow and "We Praise Thee, O God" by Sateren.

BAINONIAN

Bainonian Society meets at 6:15 tonight with the seniors in charge. Lorrie Nunn heads the committee and the program is reported to be one of the highlights of the season.

Echos Of The Past

125 years ago (1822): Dr. Isaac Anderson was inaugurated as the first president of Maryville College.

100 years ago (1848): Mr. Lamar, who was later to become the Rev. Lamar, known as the second founder of Maryville, graduated from Maryville College.

75 years ago (1871): Both Baldwin and Memorial Halls were completed. Memorial was so named to commemorate the union of the Old and New School Presbyterian Churches, and Baldwin was named for John Center Baldwin who contributed $25,400 toward the erection of these buildings.

50 years ago (1896): Kin Takahashi, who spent seven years as a student in the preparatory school and college, and who worked two years longer to obtain funds for the erection of Bartlett Hall, finally succeeded in laying the foundations of that building.

25 years ago (1923): The Alumni and Former Students of Maryville, recognizing that the Bartlett Gymnasium was not sufficient for the needs of the ever-increasing student body, carried on a campaign which resulted in sufficient funds to go forward with the erection of the Alumni Gymnasium.

SPECIAL STUDIES . . .

(Continued From Page 1)

pervisors, but also and finally by the designated members of the Library Staff.

Title Page

The form of the title page will be uniform and will be set up in due time by the Committee.

Typescript or Manuscript

Typescript is desirable but will not be required. Some types of subject matter: mathematics, Greek, and some science subjects do not lend themselves to typescript. Also, a student who writes a clear hand is permitted, at the discretion of his supervisor, to present a handwritten paper.

Filing Where and For How Long

The finished papers are to be filed in the library to be kept there for three years. Those of distinctly superior quality or of demonstrated usefulness are to be kept permanently; others are to be destroyed.

Grade and Credit

The work of the first semester should be a well-planned first half of the entire undertaking. As such it is to carry three semester hours of credit and to receive a grade and grade points just as in a regular course. The first half will not be credited finally until the entire task is complete except that credit for the first half will not be credited finally until transfer to other institutions at that point in their course. The compared work of the two semesters is to receive six semester hours of credit and the appropriate grade and grade points.

The Library and The Program of Special Studies

The Library Staff will render all needed help in the way of reference guidance. It does not seem wise, however, to employ interer-library loans in this program. The use of the University of Tennessee Library will be encouraged and should prove most helpful.

Upon completion the thesis is to be approved as to content and method by the supervisor, who will, moreover, enjoin upon the student the importance of the established forms of scholarly style, but it will also be carefully inspected by a designated member of the Library Staff as to matters of bibliographical form, annotation, title page, and the like. The grade given by this editor on the stylistic quality of the paper will be taken into consideration as a part of the final grade on the work.

Special Studies will be treated as any other course required in the major sequence. It must be passed satisfactorily as a requirement for graduation. In all fields the work carries the course numbers 351, 352.

Within the next few days departments will begin to post suggestive lists of topics for Special Studies. It is hoped that the students may have fairly settled on their topics for study before the Christmas Vacation.

INTRAMURALS

(Continued from page three)

each tallied 6. For the Mules Abbott scored 8 and J. Poland and Chambers each scored 6.

K.M.A. Wallops Tau Sigma, 50-0

Breaking all previous scoring records this season, K.M.A. chalked up 50 points to Tau Sigma's 0. Hap Brahams was high scorer for K.M.A. with a total of 24 points. Brick Brahams came next with 19. Mathis scored once and Pentz made an extra point.

8-Balls Down Jets, 12-6

Wednesday afternoon the Eight Balls came a step closer to the championship game when they defeated the Jets, 12-6. Reynolds and Largen each launched counters for the Eight Balls, while Buckley accounted for the Jets' score.

K.M.A. Defeats Y Frosh, 7-0

K.M.A., rallying with a third period score managed to keep their record clean when they beat Y Frosh 7-0 Thursday afternoon. Hap Brahams was the hero of the game with a T.D. and Rush Lester came through with the extra point.

8-Balls Blank Mitey Mites, 24-0

McJunkin with 12, Ray Lillard with 6, and Campbell with 6 provided the steam for the Eight Balls' steam-roller over the Mitey Mites.

Tau Sigma Upsets Yokals, 13-7

For the first time this season the Lokal Yokals have won a game. With a tie score at half-time Tau Sigma scored a touch down in the third quarter to win, 13-7. Paul Abbott of the Lokal Yokals made their only touchdown and B. Petree scored the extra point. For Tau Sigma, Smith made both touchdowns and Dillener made the extra point.

Two Forfeit Games

The Mitey Mites forfeited a game to the Odds and the Crescents were forced to forfeit to the Y Frosh because full teams were not present.

Mules Lost to Jets, 28-12

With Martin and Lenoir each scoring 12 points, the Jets had little trouble in defeating the Mules, 28-12. Buckley, Cardella, Lucas, and House made the extra points. The Poland Brothers scored for the Mules.

STANDINGS

Orange League

	W.	L.	Pct.
Eight Balls	13	1	.929
Jets	9	5	.643
Odds	8	6	.571
Mitey Mites	4	10	.286
U. S. Mules	1	13	.071

Garnet League

	W.	L.	Pct.
K. M. A.	14	0	1.000
Y. Frosh	9	5	.643
Crescents	6	8	.428
Lokal Yokals	5	8	.385
Tau Sigma	1	13	.071

Women's Intramurals Finish Tournament

Group teams of Women's Intramurals have just finished a volley ball tournament in which four teams participated, the Terrors, Cinders, Firecrackers, and the Beckeyites. The final game between the teams was played October 16 between the Firecrackers and the Cinders. The Cinders defeated the Firecrackers winning two out of three games. October 21, the All Star teams were chosen. October 23, the 3:30 All Stars played the 4:30 All Stars with the 3:30 group as winners.

The Ping Pong Tournament will begin November 4 and extend through November 11.

The Basketball Tournament begins December 2. Practice began October 28 and teams will be chosen November 18 and 20.

Point System

Point system Aerial Dart Tournament began October 30 and will continue through until November 6 when the finalist of the Chillies and the finalist of the Howees will play.

E. & H. Undersestimated Scots Work First Half

(Continued from page 3)

Starting Line-up

M.C.		E. & H.
Talbott, 160	l.e.	Miller, 165
Kluth, 195	l.t.	Clark
Anderson, 185	l.g.	Via
Garner, 200	c.	Riffe, 190
Easter, 190	r.g.	Heste., 165
Rock, 190	r.t.	Powers, 190
Miller, 170	r.e.	Jessee, 180
K. Berrong, 150	q.b.	Heldreth 205
Neff, 160	t.b.	Cochrane,
Fogarty, 165	w.b.	White, 175
Merriman, 170	f.b.	Goode, 170

Statistics

	M.C.	E.&H.
yards gained rushing	423	287
yards gained passing	0	28
yards lost rushing	34	20
net yards gained	390	295
No. passes attempted	6	5
No. passes completed	0	3
No. passes intercep. by	1	0
No. of punts	5	8
Punting average	43	35
First downs	15	6
No. of panalties	2	1
yards penalized	30	15
No. of fumbles	3	2
No. of fumbles recovered by	3	3

PI GAMMA

Pi Gamma held a luncheon October 30, at 12:30 in the "Y" rooms, one of the luncheons which are held every two weeks. The purpose of these luncheons is to promote a closer friendship between town girls and dorm girls, and at each meeting Pi Gamma members invite dormitory girls.

With a man, a lie is a last resort—with women, it's First Aid.

Band Holds Pre-Game Maneuvers At Game Tonight

For the first time this year the Maryville band will have pre-game maneuvers, consisting of an "S" formation honoring Sewanee and the traditional "M" representing Maryville. The Alma Mater will be played before the game, also.

During the half-time maneuvers a patriotic theme will be carried out, in which two dates, 1918 and 1947, will be formed. During the first date the band will play "Over There," and, during the second, they will sing "America The Beautiful." The netx number will be the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" which will be played by the band and sung by the combined men's and women's glee clubs. Following the song a flashlight formation of a flag will be formed and the band will play "Taps." The last number will be the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner".

STUDENT COUNCIL DISCUSSES WSSF

Students going to the Tusculum football game, the possibility of a WSSF drive, and the opening of the Rec Hall were discussed at the last Student Council meeting held at 9:00 p.m. last Wednesday night.

The Council spent some time discussing the World Student Service Fund drive, its worth and how to go about it. It was decided to appoint a committee to investigate the YW-YM arrangements for donations to the fund, the need, and the usefulness of two campus money drives, the other being the Fred Hope Fund.

STUDENT VOLS

Miss Ruth Grierson will be the speaker at Student Vols tomorrow night in Bartlett Hall at 8:00 p. m. Miss Grierson, college librarian, is a former missionary to India. She will speak on "Christian Literature in India."

ATHENIAN

Athenian will meet tonight at 6:15 in Bartlett Hall. The Maryville quartet composed of Merrill Grubbs, Dave Yeaworth, Tom Wheeler and Mil Castrodale, will sing spirituals and other songs.

A Christmas Greeting of Lasting Remembrance

Your portrait is a non-perishable gift! It brings perennial Christmas cheer! Assign us your photograph and judge our high quality for yourself. Make an appointment soon.

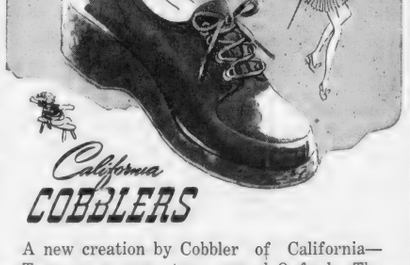
THE WEBB STUDIO

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.

30-Minute Service

between

Maryville and Knoxville



Candy Treats

Tempting candies and nuts for your holiday parties. . . . for every gala occasion when good taste is called for. Choose your favorites from our plentiful variety. Remember: they're an ever-welcome gift, too. Drop in soon.

Chocolates — Caramels
Hard Candies — Nougats
Salted Nuts — Bon Bons
RICH, CREAMY FUDGE

PARK DRUG CO.

TROUPER

California COBBLERS

A new creation by Cobbler of California—Trouper a new type casual Oxford. The hooks made for a fast tying, give a casual, rugged look. Trouper is made of butter-soft, specially glove-tanned leather that hugs to your foot. There's down-to-earth comfort in Trouper, in down-to-earth colors, at down-to-earth prices. Only $6.95

Available in Red or Green. Sizes 4 to 10. S.-N.-M. Widths

PROFFITT'S

Smart Shoes — Main Floor

Collar Themes and Color Schemes

in smart Jayson SHIRTS

$3.25 up

If you've thought getting a comfortable collar was just a matter of luck...come in and get a look at these Jayson shirts. We've a wide variety of those smart collar styles men like. There are white shirts, stripes, and solid colors. All cut in that famous Jayson tailoring to look good and wear well.

PROFFITT'S
MEN'S DEPT.

No Man Has Enough PAJAMAS!

$4.50

And when you see these soft, smooth beauties by Jayson, you'll agree they're just what you need. Superb tailoring makes these fashion-right pajamas ideal for lounging or sleeping. A clever elastic waistband replaces the old bulky drawstring—makes them comfortable and trim looking. Come in and choose from our wide assortment of stripes, all-over patterns, or solid colors in all popular models.

PROFFITT'S
MEN'S DEPT.

GO GETTUM GIRLIES

THE Highland Echo

WE'RE OUT TO CATCH THESE GUYS

VOLUME 33 | MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE. | NOVEMBER 8, 1947 | NUMBER 11

Z 703

NOV 13 1947 MARYVILLE COLLEGE MARYVILLE TENNESSEE

Ruth Williams, Elsie Onifer Nominated For Queen

Elsie Onifer and Ruth Williams were nominated from the senior class last Wednesday, for the 1947 Thanksgiving Barnwarming queen. Lloyd Anderson and Cotton Easter were nominated for king, and two girls from each of the four classes are on the ballot for the combined honor of attendant to the queen and appearance in the Chilhowean as Class Sponsor. The voting will take place this coming Wednesday.

Queen: Onifer or Williams

Elsie Onifer, biology major from Mayberry, W. Va., was on the Echo staff her first three years, editor of the 1947 Chilhowean and vice-president of Bainonian. She is at present on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet and co-chairman of the committee in charge of Barnwarming preparations. She plans to go into teaching upon graduation.

Ruth Williams, business manager of the Echo during her last two years and a member of the staff her first two years, is a dietetics major from Rossville, Georgia. She has been in the M-Club for three years, was on the cast of "Pygmalion" her sophomore year, and last year was business manager for "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." For the past two years she has been responsible for the football programs.

Easter and Anderson for King

Lloyd Anderson was born in Africa and lives at present in Philadelphia, Pa. He is taking a pre-med course with biology as his major. He was selected for Who's Who last year, was president of his freshman class, was president of the Athletic Board of Control, was on the Y.M.C.A. cabinet his sophomore year, and has lettered in football and wrestling. He entered the navy for two years in his junior year.

Cotton Easter, captain of the football team, is a pre-med student from Loudon, Tennessee. He, too, served a term in the navy for three years, returning to Maryville last year to complete his college work.

Senior Sponsor: Hartpence or Jones

Marilyn Hartpence, on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and in the choir during her last three years, is a diatetics major from Xenia, Ohio. She was a member of the girls' glee club and the orchestra one year, and during her junior year was treasurer of the Y. W.

Joyce Jones from Harlan, Kentucky, was in the girls' choir her second and third years. Her major is home economics.

Junior Sponsor: Williams or Cross

Gwyneth Williams is a laboratory assistant and home economics major from Otisco, N. Y. She has made the costumes for several of the plays produced here.

Grace Ellen Cross was in the choir, on the student council, and a Nu Gamma leader her sophomore year. At present she is co-program chairman for the Y.W.C.A. She is majoring in philosophy, and plans to go into religious education work upon graduation. Her home is in Birmingham, Alabama.

Durant and Blackmore, Sophomores

Sarah Durant is an education major from Ensley, Alabama. She is vice-house chairman of Baldwin Hall, and works on a parish project.

Janet Blackmore, her roommate, is on the business staff of the Echo. She also is on parish project, is a sociology major, and comes from Erie, Pa.

Burrows, Downey Freshmen

Peggy Burrows from Milan, Tennessee, was salutatorian of her high school graduating class. Running mate, Dot Downey, sister of Earl Downey who is now in U. T., is a religious education major from Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. During her senior year in high school she was crowned Football Queen.

IRC PLANS OPEN MEETING FRIDAY

International Relations Club will hold an open meeting Friday, November 14, with the four members of the World Friendship Team presiding. A reception will follow the meeting. Committees in charge are Mary Jane Long, Virginia Maier, Lib Boell, and Frank Ladner.

At the meeting Monday evening a panel discussion was presented concerning "The European's Place in the Marshall Plan."

G. A. Lloyd Gives Fine Arts Center

Building Will Be Memorial To Daughter

Mr. Glen Alfred Lloyd and his wife Marion Musser Lloyd, of Chicago, were the donors of the fine arts center as was announced last week in the Founders Day Chapel Service and several local newspapers. The fine arts center will be a memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd's daughter, Ann Baldwin Lloyd, whose death came suddenly and unexpectedly on March 27, 1947. The gift was made last spring, but only recently have the identities of the donors been made known. Glen Lloyd, who is a brother of Dr. Lloyd, graduated from Maryville College in 1918 and is engaged in the practice of law.

According to the present plans the Fine Arts Center will consist of a group of several buildings, fire proof and modern in construction and design. They will constitute one of the most complete and serviceable fine arts centers to be found on American college campuses.

The objectives for the nation-wide fund raising campaign is first, a chapel and auditorium with a seating capacity of 1200, second, a fine arts center, to care for the growing program in fine arts, third, a dormitory for women, to release Memorial which is badly needed for men and also to increase the quarters for women, fourth, a science building to supplement the crowded facilities of Fayerweather Hall.

The location of the various buildings has not as yet been announced. Architects are now working on the sketches.

YWCA CELEBRATES 75th ANNIVERSARY

Y.W.C.A. service Sunday, November 9, will be in honor of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the National Y.W.C.A. Mrs. J. D. Buchanan will speak and June Holsey will present the special music.

Pi Gamma, town girls organization sponsored by Y.W.C.A., will give a tea in honor of the anniversary from 3:00 to 5:00 Sunday afternoon in the Y.W.C.A. rooms. All women of the College are invited.

Fred Hope Fund Sent To China

Girls High School Given Money From MC

Chung Tze, a Chinese girls' high school, in Peiping, has been sent the $1,400 from last year's Fred Hope Fund. The Student-Faculty Senate and the Executive Council of the Faculty made the decision to forward the fund to China through the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions. It was the first time the money has not been sent to Africa where Fred Hope, a Maryville graduate, was a missionary for forty years.

A Maryville College man, Rev. Wallace C. Merwin, is in charge of the missionary program in the Peiping sector of North China. President Lloyd visited Mr. Merwin last October and could confirm the urgency of the need. Dormitories, he found, had not been repaired during the nine years of Japanese occupation. In cold winter months students often came near freezing for want of proper housing.

School Crowded, Needs Repairs

"Chung Tze" translated in to English means "school of gentleness." A year ago it had a student body of 458 Chinese girls and a teaching force of twenty-seven. Every building and courtyard within the walls of the old but well-kept palace was filled.

The principal of the school is Miss Grace Yuan, described as a cultured Christian woman. With her cooperation, Wallace Merwin will administer in China this gift sent by his own college

In previous years the fund had been sent to help in the African missoin work. After his retirement, Fred Hope, for whom the fund was named, visited the College to speak for the fund and to arrange with Dr. Lloyd for allocating it to other countries that might need it. Since China is the largest of the missionary countries and underwent such terrible loss from long years of war, Mr. Hope felt that it was appropriate for the fund to serve there for the present.

Second Play Practiced By Dramatics Group

Experimental Theatre's second and final program of the semester is to be a drama called Andante, in one set. Considerable new talent is being used, including Charles Parvin, Joe Poland, and Judy Breen.

The story of Andante is of a professional violinist who in an accident crushes his hand, cutting short a brilliant career. This part is taken by Charles Parvin who is appearing on the Maryville stage for the first time Plunged into despair and melancholy for his lost future, the brooding violinist would end his life save for the understanding of his wife (Florence Housch) and the hope offered him by the surgeon who attempts to save doctor is played by Joe Poland. Faced with a bitter disappointment when the operation fails, the musician turns after a bitter inward struggle and decides to serve out the rest of his life in teaching his ambitious young son the art he is no longer capable of doing. His son, Glen Knecht, thus gives new life and hope to his father by his own talent.

Old, New Talent

Glen Knecht is a veteran actor at Maryville, and was recently seen in "The Widow's Plight," and last semester, in "The Enchanted Cottage." Florence Housch, better known as "Footsie," is well known at Maryville as a singer and entertainer. Joe Poland, who plays the part of the surgeon, is appearing for the first time at Maryville, as is Judy Breen, who plays the part of the maid. Student director and house manager is Bob Holly, freshman from Dover, New Jersey. He has had considerable directing experience in High School and in the Dover Little Theatre. The production is under the supervision of Miss Jessie Filde of the Dramatic Department.

College Choir Robe Material Arrives

Mr. Harry H. Harter, choir director, announced the arrival of the material for the new college choir robes last week. Measurements have been taken and work will begin the first of the week. The material for the robes is of light weight, royal blue, and white satin. They will differ slightly from the old robes which were burned in the chapel fire last spring.

The robes will be stored and carried about on the trips in four plywood cabinets completed recently by Mr. Morton and Mr. Burns of the college workshop. The cabinets are made to fit into the buses and can be moved about easily.

Another addition to the choir are the four sets of risers which arrived this week. The risers are made of special treated plywood and can be folded up to take on the buses. Each riser has four levels.

Campus Visited By Col. Brauer, USMC

Colonel James O. Brauer, USMC, recently visited Maryville College in connection with the Naval Aviation College program. Colonel Brauer is the head of the Naval ROTC at Vanderbilt University.

Three boys at Maryville are under this program, William Carlson and Richard Ebelacker, both sophomores from Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania, and John Strand, sophomore from Newark, New Jersey.

Under the program of the NAVCP, the Navy pays a student's expenses at any college for two years after which he enters Naval Aviation Training. Certain examinations are given before a student is eligible, and only those students who are above average are taken.

Faculty Personalities Include Dr. D. H. Briggs, Dr. Lincoln Barker

BY MARIAGRAZIA MERLANTI

Second in the series of articles about faculty members, the ECHO wishes to introduce the professors of the Psychology and Education Department.

David H. Briggs, B.A., M.A. Ph.D.

Once a football-playing-student here, Dr. Briggs has been Head of the Psychology and Education Departments since his return in 1936.

His college nickname was "Heesnheeny" which he received while playing football with Tusculum. The explanation of the odd name, he says, is another story. His favorite food is enjoyable good steak. His main hobby is gardening which includes iris grown from heirloom bulbs down to vegetables for the table. His favorite sport as an on-looker is football, but as a participant, it is croquet.

Besides Maryville College, Dr. Briggs has attended the University of North Carolina and the University of Chicago.

The Briggs family, which includes his wife, whom he wooed and won while both were students here, Dr. Briggs, and their two sons, live in the red brick house in the woods. They have been located there about two years but plan to build someday. The oldest son John is a junior at M. C. Edward, the youngest son, is in the sixth grade at Fort Craig School.

Lincoln Barker, B.A., M.A., Ph.D.

Here since 1941, Dr. Barker is Associate Professor of Psychology and Education.

Along with his sons, he has the interesting hobby of model rail-

(Continued on page four).

Seven Students Treated In College Infirmary

Several students have recently been treated in the college infirmary. John Ferris, a sophomore from Cincinnati, Ohio. Kenneth Olsen, a sophomore from Glen Ellyn, Illinois, and Patricia Cox, a freshman from Braddock, Pennsylvania, have all had treatments for colds.

Others who have been in the college hospital are John Sayre, a freshman from New Brighton, Pennsylvania; Naomi Hoffman, a junior from Scranton, Pennsylvania, and Joan McKinnon, a freshman from Olean, New York.

NOTICE

The YWCA wishes to call attention to the fact that the fee for using the "Y" rooms kitchen is now 35c.

February Meetings Speaker Announced

Rev. Clifford E. Barbour Selected For Third Year

Series Begins On February 4

The Reverend Clifford E. Barbour, Ph.D., D.D., popular pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Knoxville, will be the preacher at the seventy-second series of February Meetings, President Lloyd recently announced. The series this year to be held February 4-12.

For the twenty-sixth time, the Reverend Sidney E. Stringham, D.D., will have charge of the music. Dr. Stringham is pastor of the New McKendree Memorial Methodist Church in Jackson, Missouri.

Dr. Barbour led the February Meetings in 1938 and in 1942. He came to his present pastorate in 1928 from Pittsburgh where he had served as a pastor for five years. After graduating from the University of Pittsburgh and Western Theological Seminary, Dr. Barbour received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. He was minister of the Bonnington Parish Church while studying in Scotland. His book, "Sin and the New Psychology" has been published both in America and in the British Isles. He was for ten years a member of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education and is now a Director of Maryville College.

This year, for the first time since 1906, the February Meetings will not be held in the Elizabeth R. Voorhees Chapel since it was destroyed by fire in March. They will be held in the Alumni Gymnasium, but the meetings will proceed on the same schedule as usual. Two meetings will be held each day at 9:45 and 7:00, except Saturday when only one will be held.

Dr. McClelland Attends Centre College Ceremony

Dean Frank D. McClelland will leave for Danville, Ky., on Friday, November 14, to represent Maryville College in inauguration services for Walter Alexander Groves, newly elected president of Centre College. The installation will take place at 10 a. m. Saturday with delegates from many other colleges attending in formal cap and gown ceremony.

Dean McClelland will return to Maryville Saturday night.

Students Come From 34 States

Thirty-four states, the District of Columbia, and six foreign countries are represented on Maryville College Campus. Tennessee, home state of Maryville, has 346 students, which is the largest number from a single state.

Willard Frank Rhan, Willmar, Minnesota, Jean Burke, Greenwood, Rhode Island, and Mae Bell De Nagy, Provo, Utah, are the only ones from their home states. North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, Wisconsin, and Iowa each have two students here.

Pennsylvania Is Second

On the other extreme Pennsylvania comes second with 121. New Jersey now has 64; fourth place is filled by Florida with 45 in number. Next are 37 from New York which is closely followed by 34 from North Carolina and 30 from Maryland.

Five states that are represented by 4 each are Arkansas, Delaware, Massachusetts, Connecticut, and South Carolina. From the West comes California 6, Montana 7, and Texas 3. It is interesting to notice that in the South, Alabama and Georgia tied with 21 each. Another Southern state is Louisiana with 3 which follows Indiana's 4 and Mississippi's 6.

898 Students

Ohio 27, Illinois 23, Virginia 17, Kentucky's 13, Michigan 11, West Virginia 8, and the District of Columbia 7 add up the rest of the 898 student body with the exception of the students from foreign countries. They are Carroll Stegall, Africa (Belgium Congo); Ann Harper, Brazil; Martha Kincaid, India; Craig Fisher, Iran; Lloyd Anderson, Africa; Katherine Boyer, Korea; and the two from Puerto Rico, Isben Espadax and Lavinia Rodriguez.

More Students Must Sign Up For Tusculum Trip

So far, only one hundred and some few persons have signed up to go to the Tusculum game November 22. Two hundred is the minimum number of tickets which must be sold in order to obtain use of the buses. The Student Council wishes to urge all students who plan to go to this game to sign up on the sheets that are posted around campus.

The game will be played in Greeneville, Tennessee, at 8:00 on Saturday night, November 22. The trip will take approximately three hours, so the buses would probably have to leave Maryville about 4:30 Saturday afternoon. The approximate price set for the trip, including gate admission, is $2.88.

The council is discussing plans for meals, since it stands to reason that the time between Saturday noon and Sunday breakfast is pretty long to go without food.

The trip promises to be an interesting one, and the Student Council is anxious to obtain enough interested persons to make it a reality.

TEAM SERVED BACON, EGGS BY PEP COMMITTEE

Bacon and eggs were on the menu for the football team Thursday morning. The special "send-off breakfast" was planned by the Pep Committee, and temporarily financed by Bob Butts. It was prepared in the "Y" rooms by Mary Gene Lawson, Grace Hildebrand, Carolyn Bowman, and Bill McIlvaine. Bill Vogel and John Shew decorated the tables, and ten waitresses served.

Julie Pancoast, who served as a waitress, said, "All the reward we could want was in the looks on their faces." Because the committee lacks sufficient funds each dining hall table will be asked to furnish approximately 10c to defray expenses.

World Friendship Team Will Visit MC Next Week-end

Two Of The Members Attended Oslo Conf.

A World Friendship Team, under the auspices of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions and composed of four members, will be on campus next Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Two of the members, Henry Heaps and the Reverend Norman A. Horner, were at the World Conference of Christian Youth at Oslo, Norway, last summer.

At Maryville the team is being sponsored by four organizations, the International Relations Club, YMCA, YWCA, and Student Volunteers. Several appearances of the team have been scheduled during their three-day stay on campus.

Reception By IRC

There will be a special open meeting of the IRC at 8:00 p. m. Friday night in Bartlett auditorium, followed by a reception in Baldwin parlors. All students and faculty are invited.

They will speak at the chapel service on Saturday morning and will lead discussions at certain combinations of classes at b and c periods Saturday. Saturday afternoon the Maryville students who were at the national assembly of Westminster Fellowship at Grinnell last summer will go to the mountains for a retreat service. In the evening the team will atten dthe football game as guests of the College.

On Sunday morning they will take part in services in different Sunday Schools and chuches in Knoville and Maryville. On Sunday afternoon they will participate in the YM and YW meetings, and on Sunday evening in the Vesper service and the Student Volunteers meeting.

Henry Heaps Is Former Student

Henry Heaps, formerly a student at Maryville College and brother of Ruth Heaps, is the national president of the Westminster Fellowship and presided at the national assembly at Grinnell before going to Oslo. He is also Moderator of the Baltimore Synod of Westminster Fellowship and Vice-president of the United Christian Youth Council of Maryland and Delaware, the latter being an interdenominational organization.

The Reverend Mr. Horner is one of the younger Presbyterian missionaries now on furlough from West Africa.

Chinese Native on Team

Miss Pearl Cheng, a third mem-

(Continued on page four)

Girls Drag Boys To Party Tonight

"He's Took" Signs Seen On Campus

Approximately 450 girls and the dates of their choice will celebrate at a Sadie Hawkins party tonight sponsored by the Girls Choir. Square dancing, fortune-telling, and other festivities will be held in the Alumni gym at 8:00 o'clock.

One day out of a year the tables are turned and the boys are on the run. Girls request dates and required to call for the boys at Carnegie and Bartlett. It has been a custom for the girls to take home-made corsages to their dates.

With all of Snuffy Smith's bugs loose around the campus, great fear has been expressed as to the results of the queer bites. However, a marvelous new drug has been discovered by those emminent scientists, Drs. Lonesome Polecat and Hairless Joe. Their potion will immunize the students against any ill effects from the bites.

In medical circles, the new drug which will be administered to the student is known as Kickapoo Joy Juice.

"He's Took" signs are available for 2c each.

Mr. Stone Norton Speaks At Art Club Monday

A discussion on the "Art and Science of Ceramics" will be led by Mr. Stone Norton, local artist and business man, at the Art Club meeting on Monday evening at 6:45. All who are interested are urged to attend this meeting of the art club in room 23 of Anderson.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

Volume 32 Number 11

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

EDITORIAL STAFF

Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Ruth Ramsey, Ilda Mosby, Mariagrazia Merlanti, Dick Sprague, Carroll Stegall

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb, Ruth Davis

FRESHMEN APPRENTICES
Jean Hunt, Mary Lyerly, Hazel Holm, Elinor Kramer, Donald Whelan

SPORTS STAFF

Sports Editor This Week ..... Herbert McCallum
Kenneth Olsen ..... Editor
Herbert McCallum ..... Sophomore Reporter
Maynard Noble ..... Freshman Apprentice

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF

Business Manager ..... Ruth Williams

SENIOR ASSISTANTS
Mary Jane Long, Florence Housch

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Margaret Weaver

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANTS
Bob Watkins, Joe Claude, Janet Blackmore

FRESHMEN ASSISTANTS
Barbara Altfather, Naoagene Morrow, Anita Withers

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1947

ANONYMOUS CELEBRITIES?

If the so-called pranksters who have made themselves anonymously known during the past several weeks are wanting recognition for their deeds, then may we be their humble servant.

Such pranks are humorous only so far. When we heard of the clanging of the old bell in the library we thought it was "just plain funny." We still feel that it was a harmless joke which added a bit of seasoning to the everyday routine.

There have been other pranks, however, which cannot fall under the same category at all. The participants are not only willfully destroying or marring the property of others, but are exhibiting a character which throws a discrediting reflection on the student body.

ABOUT LETTERS

Nothing is more encouraging to an editor or more interesting to the readers than Letters to the Editor. We have been unusually pleased at the student response this year and have high hopes that it will continue.

Due to the fact that several letters are often received in one week we are requesting that each of them be under 200 words. Exceptions will be considered occasionally.

May we remind you that no anonymous material will even be considered—no matter how interesting!

ANSWERING ONE

Perhaps it is unfair for editors to take advantage of their position, but parts of last week's Letter to the Editor were written in the form of questions. We would particularly like to answer those questions in which the ECHO itself was concerned.

The reasons why the ECHO consistently does not have pictures and lengthy articles about nominees are the following (1) The ECHO is not equipped with the facilities necessary to make picture cuts. As a consequence we must mail glossies to companies who do such service. Such cuts are not received from the companies in less than five days. Nominations are held on Wednesday. The ECHO is printed on Saturday. (2) It would seem by the letter that 3 1-2 inch articles say nothing about nominees, but if one would count the number of words in one column-inch he would find that quite a bit can be said in it, and that is when there is something to say. There is very little to say unless one gives a life history, which is not only boring but highly unnecessary.

As for campaigning, anyone who re-reads the former editorial would discover that we said that such campaigning would have to be subject to certain standards, two of them being no excessive expenditure or mud-slinging, a statement which seemingly was ignored. Campaign managers could be responsible to an elections committee, thereby controlling it.

Surely everyone knows that campaigning does go on in any election on any campus. We admit it is often whispering hush-hush business where one candidate is promoted through the tearing down of the other.

We see no resemblance whatsoever to open campaigning and the reference to the former organization of the Duds, the latter being secret.

But, of course, it is for the student body, and the student body only, to decide what it prefers.

EXPRESSION OF THANKS

The Pep Committee wishes to express its sincere thanks to all those who helped to make Homecoming a success, and especially to William R. Shields for his time and effort and the use of his automobile.

Julie Pancoast.

Much Echo About Nothing

BY ILDA MOSBY

Corsages — formals — decorations — music — soft lights — dancing — and some people can do it; just ask Kincaid and Webb. But then, anyone can do it in just forty more days. And only nineteen more till Barnwarming. As one prof said, it's the first time a girl has ever announced by poster that her boy friend's coming. By the way, why is Jimmy Thurston planning to hide his expected guest? (Refer to Dr. Graham concerning one Johnson Q.)

Most tables have the habit of "throwing" for extra deserts. There's nothing more exciting than starting to count fingers, seeing an extra set, and then finding they belong to Dr. Lloyd. It must have been just as embarrassing for R. H. Ssc—bel to have the library post his book slip with a notice asking for a translation of the signature.

S. H. Day Specials: As usual we wonder who will be there with what. Some girls asked good and early. It would seem much more appropriate if no one were asked till 4:00 p.m. Saturday and the fellows could squirm like so many of the girls do, wondering whether or not they'll have a date. Another matter, is it equally hard for the fellows to ask for dates? There are quite a few aching hearts due to that football game tonite; granted, some asked the next name on the list. Said one young lady, "How does a woman get the particular man she wants when she can only ask him for a date once a year?" HA! The rumors are that one Andrew Clark took refuge in his room for several days.

Everybody's taking vacations. Marguerite Priest went homeward and returned plus a frat pin. Dave Yeaworth is on what is technically termed an "enforced holiday." Betty Field told Earl Martin to go ahead and ask Bob Eastman to go to Mars Hill College for the week-end. She certainly wasn't expecting him to accept! Betty Emory isn't exactly taking a vacation, but——!

Has Dick Black joined the circus or where was he headed Thursday afternoon? Eleanor Miller needs to take a little more time going down steps, and walk. "He seems to prefer Time to me." "Well, do you have ten million followers?" Big Mich's little old ? will be missed. He certainly goes from one etreme to the other. Emily Leety's wearing mighty epensive jewelry these days. Tch! Students usually ignore signs; e. g., the ones in the library that say "no desk service after 5:15, and 9:45." How many Pearsons girls looked up the suggested reference in the M book?

Dormoddities: Betty Rock just forgot that it was Sunday evening when she dashed out to iron. Wally Moore should consult with Alverson on the best method of removing green from his wardrobe. She wore quite a few unexpectedly green things last semester. Whiskey ads—and on second floor Pearsons. Rainard and Hawley should agree on alarm clocks. Then the whole dorm won't need to awake at 6 a.m. just because Phyllis doesn't hear it and Eleanor won't get up to turn it off. Baldwin had a bit of annoisence on Thursday and Friday mornings (12:30 and 5:30). Barbara Wallin is probably the first to have a private shower—right outside her door. When the neighbors started hunting for their orange squeezer, 'twas found in Kathy Helm's possession serving as a flower vase.

Dans la clasa: Lab assistant Bess McChesney must be mighty interested in field trips. Miss Cowdrick would have been more sympathetic if she could have seen the five dollar bill her French students were after. We wonder how it sounded when Herr Reber imitated a Harvard prof. (Ginny) Peters wans't the only pumpkin eater this week. Mrs. Cummings sixth hour class didn't meet Thursday afternoon because she didn't feel well. Neither did Janet. (Peggy had baked muffins and cookies on Wednesday evening.)

Memorial must have resembled its 1943 days when those bottles, firecrackers, etc. went flying about. Would it really be necessary for Lou Masters to lie? We think not. Letter writing while parked on a lonely road resulted in John Richardson's introduction to the State Highway Patrol. Why there? Where did that which Mary Holly found under her table come from, or rather, what? Betty Jane Greenwald doesn't believe in reminding people of those remaining at home.

President Truman seems worried about high prices. Is there really cause to be so alarmed? After all, Art only had to pay forty-nine cents at the dime store for his new toboggan—and the white stripes will soon be orange.

And once again "Good night, ladies" won't be quite so appropriate.

TALK OF THE WEEK

by Jean Almy

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

We can't quite understand the lack of cooperation of the fellas when it comes to singing to engaged couples in the dining hall.

We know it's true that in some cases it has meant nothing and that it was done last year, often on a rumor. And yet such a nice tradition as that shouldn't be allowed to collapse because of a few errors of judgement. We have been amazed to notice that, even when the people to be sung to are actually engaged and known on campus, very few fellows care enough to leave their food for three minutes and take part in an old Maryville tradition. We can't blame it on the freshmen entirely, either, as a lot of the ignorers of this custom are upper classmen as well.

Let's get back in the swing of things, fellows. Give the couple a break and show them your glad enough for them to sing. Who knows you may want them to sing to you, someday!

Sincerely,
Ginny Schwarz,
Pat Dennis,
Betty Baumer.

Dear Editor:

I don't know how the Frosh and Junior Halloween shindigs fared, but the Sophomores had one fine time together participating in a pastime which has given both men and lady folk alike a lot of fun ever since the first fiddler picked up his bow and started sawing away.

Square dancing is what you make it. It can be considered old fogy and dull (as, sad to say, it is here at Maryville by a large majority of the student body) or it can be what it is meant to be—a good, clean way for ladies and gents to get together for a rip-roarin' good time.

The topic of social dancing has been one which has caused considerabl controversy at our college for several years. The great majority of us are from urban areas where social dancing is considered a perfectly normal and unhindering pastime. But even though we are denied this one form of activity, should we crawl into a shell and feel that we must shun those means of recreation which could be ours? Perhaps, we the student body, should show a little more interest in the facilities which are made available to us. The administration might then be more ready to listen to our arguments for improving the social program of the college.

Sincerely,
Bill Deihl.

DO YOU KNOW?

Maryville's football team used to, back in 1905, play schools like Georgia Tech, Auburn, P. T., and Vanderbilt. (Vanderbilt won 7-0).

About 40 years ago girls were given demerits for being caught wearing another person's clothing. It was a practice considered below the standards of the girls.

Anyone can use a sewing machine in the College Maid Shop for ten cents an hour.

Dr. Isaac Anderson never attended a college, but received his education by being tutored, and at the age of twenty-two, was a licensed preacher.

Alpha Sigma Organizes

Sixty-five years ago nine men met o nthird floor Anderson to form the Alpha Sigma Society. The meeting was held before the sun went down so they could have light.

Civil War Ends; Athenian Begins

Athenian was organized the year Maryville College reopened after the Civil War. Nine students met to form the debating society.

Bainonian Organizes on a Dare

Because of a remark made by a young man of 1875 that girls don't know enough to draft a constitution much less debate, some spirited women met to organize the Bainonian Literary Society.

Portraits of Dr. Anderson, Mrs. Thaw, Dr. Bartlett Hang On Library Walls

BY MARY LYERLY

Many students, like this reporter, may have been wondering about the various portraits which are hanging in several buildings on the campus. Who are they? What did they do? Are they concerned with the history of Maryville? Perhaps this feature will set some minds at rest concerning these pictures.

The ones most generally noticed are in the library. There is, first of all, the portrait in the wing where Vespers is held. It's of a middle-aged gentleman in old-fashioned clothes. He is, as many have guessed, Dr. Isaac Anderson, the founder and first president of Maryville College.

On the same wall, on the opposite side of the doors, is a portrait of a beautifully-dressed elderly woman. It is Mary Copley Thaw, wife of William Thaw. Her husband had given sums of money to Maryville for the purchase of the present college site, and later, money was received from Mrs. Thaw toward the erection of Thaw Hall.

First President After War

In the same wing, on the front wall, there is a portrait of the third president, Dr. Peter M. Bartlett. Dr. Bartlett was the first person to serve as president after the college was reopened following the Civil War.

Directly across the wing from Mrs. Thaw, hangs the portrait of Dr. Samuel W. Boardman, the fourth president. Dr. Boardman, you will remember, was the father of the Dr. Boardman who led devotionals in Chapel recently.

Over the periodicals is a picture of Dr. John J. Robinson, who served as president for four years after the death of Dr. Anderson. It was during his term that the college was moved from the present site of New Providence Presbyterian Church to the same grounds which it now occupies.

Dr. Wilson, Fifth President

Dr. Samuel T. Wilson's portrait occupies the wall space directly across the room from Dr. Robinson. Dr. Wilson, the fifth president, wrote a history of Maryville College which gives its reader a complete background of the development, aims, and ideals of the institution.

All of the presidents can be seen in order in Dr. Lloyd's office in Anderson, as well as portraits of the Chairmen of Directors. Perhaps the most important of these chairmen was Reverend Thomas J. Lamar, who is known as the second founder. Maryville owes much to Mr. Lamar, since it is doubtful that the college would ever have been reopened after the war, had it not been for him.

F. L. Proffitt, Treasurer

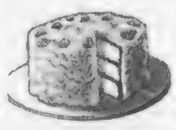
In the Treasurer's office, on the wall opposite the doors, there is a large, more modern-looking picture. It is of Mr. F. L. Proffitt who was affiliated with the college for forty-two years. Seven of those years were spent as a student in the preparatory school and college. The remaining thirty five years were spent as a professor of Education and instructor of math and physics, as principal of the then-present preparatory school, and as college treasurer, until the time of his death in 1943. The picture was given to the college by Mrs. Proffitt after the death of her husband.

LILLARD-McGILL WEDDING HELD THURSDAY NIGHT

Miss Marcell McGill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McGill, of Maryville, was married to James D. Lillard, sophomore student at Maryville College, last Thursday night at 8:00 o'clock at the Clover Hill Presbyterian Church. The groom is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. H. R. Lillard, also of Maryville. The Rev. Mr. Lillard officiated at the ceremony.

Miss Barbara Ann Anderson was the bride's only attendant; Ray Lillard, brother of the groom, was best man. Charles Roberts and Marvin McGill were ushers.

The bride wore a white slipper satin dress with a high chiffon neckline and long sleeves. She wore a single strand of white pearls. Her fingertip veil fell from a coronet of gardenias, and her bridal bouquet was of white roses, centered with an orchid.



"Say—How long could I live without brains?"

"That remains to be seen."

German Club Will Show March of Time Movie

German Club will show a March of Time movie Monday night.

A meeting is being planned with the French and Spanish Clubs for November 24. Sherwood Coul, Lorrie Dale, and Doris Naundorf were appointed to help plan the meeting.

Take one of our light, flavorful cakes home, and your family will smother you with compliments! The widest variety of cakes you can imagine is our stock-in-trade, but we'll bake you one to your special order if you like!

LYNCH BAKERY

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

CAPITOL
Monday and Tuesday
November 10th and 11th
"Bachelor And Bobby Soxer"
Shirley Temple, Myrna Loy, Cary Grant

Wednesday, Thursday, Friday
November 12, 13, 14
Adults: Mat. 75c, Nite $1.20
Children 55c
Color by Technicolor
"Forever Amber"
Starring Linda Darnell and the men in her life
Cornel Wilde, Richard Greene, George Sanders, Glenn Langan, Richard Haydn

For These Cold Fall Nights
It's C. & L. Cafe
for hot meals and drinks
C. & L. CAFE

Date Night!
To make a hit with the New Gal you just met in School . . . . be sure that you have a Clean White Shirt for date nights.
9 Pounds Clothes Washed, Rinsed, Damp Dried, Soap, Bleach, and Water 35c
SPECIAL
9 Pounds Washed and Dried 55c
SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY
Phone 1055

Here's WHERE YOUR DOLLAR STRETCHES FURTHER
VISIT US OFTEN
M. M. ELDER
CASH CARRY STORE

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

Maryville College 33	Hiwassee 0
Maryville College 7	Tennessee Tech 13
Maryville College 27	Centre 0
Maryville College 31	East Tenn. State 6
Maryville College 24	Emory and Henry 7
MARYVILLE COLLEGE 34	Sewanee 0
MARYVILLE COLLEGE 13	Middle Tenn. State 6

The Scots have done it! They've toppled Sewanee from the distinction of being the only unscored upon team in the nation . . . . and what's more, they've dethroned the "invincible" Blue Raiders from their position of remaining the only undefeated small college team this far South.

The defeat came as a "surprise' to Sewanee. We have a hunch that Sewanee came all the way over shaking in their boots! What surprised us most was the mild resistance the Tigers were able to put up against the avalanche of Highlander scores.

Scots Definitely "On Fire"

But then, there was something else in the picture. . . . . these Highlanders of Maryville College were "on Fire" last Saturday night. A ten ton truck with 50,000 gal. of the wettest water this isde of the dead sea couldn't have put out this roaring Highlander holocaust that licked the Sewanee Tigers all over the field.

Where Was Sewanee?

Except for a tense half of the first quarter when it looked as if Sewanee's 30-yard line was really haked for opposing teams, the Purple and White Tigers were at the mercy of a vengeful Scot eleven. Only when Duff Green, Sewanee back, intercepted a pass by Fogarty at the last of the second quarter did Coach White's unscored upon Tigers show any spark of scoring fire. The Tigers' lament about the game, we shall assume, was that their "star triple threat" didn't get to aid their cause, Chuck Flowers is the man whom they consider their star triple threat. His replacements showed up not so hot and Calhoun's work was the only effort of any Tiger back that in any way menaced the hard-hitting Highlanders. Sewanee just didn't have a chance against this keyed up Scot eleven.

Highlanders Hit Hard

Undoubtedly the Highlanders haven't produced such a whirlwind of fury as they threw against Sewanee in any game this season. From Bob Boring's exceptional punting to the smart quarterbacking of King Berrong, the Scots hit at Sewanee with all they had. It was the splendid kickoffs by Allen Law that consistently landed back of the Sewanee fifteen that added to the Tiger's woes. The Maryville line turned in a terrific game with guards Easter and Anderson providing valuable interference. "Hardy" Davis capitalized on Sewanee's weakness to block a Tiger punt which was covered by Joe Johnson charging hard through the Sewanee punt formation.

All This And Merriman, Too

Merriman, driving low and hard against the Sewanee team, and Leon Berrong took up his speed merchant role in a hurry after an extended leave with injury. Tackles Kluth and Rock showed the Tigers a rough night. Ends Miller, Talbott, Still, and Davis promptly broke up those end sweeps attempted by the Tigers. "Pie" Garner was up to his usual excellent performance at center. It was no trouble at all for the Scot backs to break away for neat gains behind interference, Dave Clark, Fogarty, and Neff proved that in short order.

Scots "T" Pops Tigers

And the pounding didn't stop when replacements were made in the Scot eleven. The work of the reserves was nothing short of terrific. In fact, there was no change of pace for the Highlanders despite a bit of moisture in the second half. Even the "T" sprung by the B team was about to go places when the whistle blew for the ball game. And that was tragic, for the B team has worked long and hard to perfect their "T" to throw against the starting Scot eleven, but this time they had a chance to spring it on the enemy.

Scotties Beat Sewanee, 34-0

Every Tiger Threat Balked By Scot Line

BY KEN OLSEN

The ambitious Highlanders flattended another challenger last week on Wilson Field, felling the undefeated, unscored upon Purple and White Sewanee Tigers, 34-0. Breaking up the strong Tiger forward wall, the Scot line ripped gaping holes through which the galloping backs thundered for yards.

Initial Score In First Quarter

The initial Scottie tally came midway in the first quarter when Leon Berrong skirted left end to cross into the visitor end zone from the 3. The scoring play was set up when Leon sprinted 20 yards to the 5. Merriman then went over the center to the 3.

Two More in Second

Still rolling after trading goals, the Highlanders moved to the visitor 47 on an exchange of punts and four running plays. Then King Berrong winged the pigskin 15 yards to Dave Clark who scampered down the sidelines into pay dirt for the second Scot score. The placement was good, boosting the score to 13-0.

On the kick-off the Scots dropped the Tigers on the visitor 25, but were penalized 15 yards for treating the Purple and White too rough. Then Frank Still, M. C. end, captured a Tiger aerial and moved to the Maryville 45. Caught holding and penalized 15 yards, the Scots, via Bob Boring's able punting foot, sent the ball out of danger territory. Sewanee, feeling unsafe on their 7, booted to their 40. Reserve back Boring took over again to trot the 40 yards to 6 more points. Again the placement was good, making the score at the half 20-0.

Last Two Tallies In Third

Back at work in the second half, the Scots moved into scoring territory again when King Berrong's pass to Neff carried them to the visitor 15. Leon ran the touchdown play from there. Fogarty made the extra point kick.

Pushed back deep into their own territory a few minutes later, the Purple and White booted out only to have Bill Fogarty come galloping back 56 yards for another tally. To add insult to injury, Fogarty made the placement also.

Scrubs Take Over

In the final period, the third and fourth strings took over, hit-

(Continued on page four)

CHILLIES, HOWEES PLAY FINAL GAME

The championship game between the Chillies and the Howees in the Aerial Dart Tournament will be played Tuesday, November 11.

Janice Lindsay is the finalist for the Howee team, having defeated Ruth Heaps and Bea Siebold in the semi-finals. Semi-finalists for the Chillies are Margaret Rock, Elsie Jean Cotton, and Marion Henderson. The winner of the Cotton-Henderson game will play Margaret Rock to determine the Chillie finalist.

Blue Raiders Routed By Scots

CARSON-NEWMAN EAGLES NEXT IN LINE FOR SCOTS' HATCHET

Our Giant-Killing Scots, already having laid two strong Elevens—Sewanee and Middle Tennessee College—in the loser's stead, set out next Saturday night on Wilson Field to clip the wings of another high-flying football team—this time it's those Carson-Newman Eagles, ancient rivals of Maryville College.

Carson-Newman Undefeated

Undaunted by the odds, Coach Honaker's boys have proven themselves as careful and capable giant-killers. Except for a loss by a one touchdown margin placed against the Scots' record by Tennessee Tech, the Honakermen have made hash out of all other opposition encountered thus far this season. Going into the home stretch, the Highlanders face perhaps the mightiest of the giants. The Carson-Newman Eagles not only beat the same Tennessee Tech Squad but also have their record clear in the win column—except for a 13-13 tie with Tennessee Wesleyan College, which is rapidly gaining recognition as the strongest junior college in these parts. (This week, United Press reported that the Tennessee Wesleyan Bulldogs are likely to get a bid to the "Little Rose Bowl" at Pasedena California.)

Eagles Are "T" Experts

The fracas next Saturday night will see the Orange and Garnet squad pitted against Coach Frosty Holt's eleven who are pastmasters of the "T" formation—even to laying the claim that the "T" was perfected at their Jefferson City stronghold. "T" formation teams have not given the Highlanders too much trouble so far, but a "T" coupled wtih the ace quarterback of the Eagle squad, Charley Moffett, are likely to lead to serious difficulties for the Scots.

To back up this Moffett plus "T" combination, the Eagles have some heavy linemen and veteran backs.

Last year the Maryville Highlanders humbled the C.-N. Eagles 33-7 at Jefferson City, but this year playing a reinforced Eagle team, the battle is expected to be tougher going for the Highlanders.

INTRAMURALS

BY MAYNARD NOBLE

Intramural football ended its season yesterday with K.M.A. going undefeated and winning the Garnet League title, while the Eight Balls became champions of the Orange League with two defeats to mar their record. The two teams will meet next Tuesday afternoon at 4:00 on Wilson Field.

K. M. A.'s team consists of Brick Braham's (capt.), Hap Brahams, Joe Jernigan, Bob Connell, Don Hyatt, John Mathis, Mike Miacle, Bob Kay, Max Willocks, Walt Pence, Don Weber, and Ruth Lester.

The Eight-Balls have Bill Largen as their captain, with Hugh Hamil, Ross Honaker, Bick Smith, Ray Lillard, Jim Lillard, Rupert Boyatt, Gene Reynolds, L. A. Campbell, Ray McJunkin, Harold Ammons, and Don Conkle making up the remainder of the team.

The two teams are almost evenly matched, although the K.M.A.'s have the better record. The Eight Balls had stronger competition in the Orange League. Next Tuesday afternoon will tell the tale.

Following the championship game on Monday, November 17, at 7:45 on Wilson Field the All-Star game will be played under the lights. This game is preceded by a soccer game between a freshman team and one made up of upperclassmen.

All-Stars Named

The Orange League All-Stars consist of Bill Largen, captain, Gene Reynolds, Ray Lillard and Jim Lillard, all from the league champion Eight-Balls. From the Mitey Mites, Forrester and Roberts were selected. The Mules furnished John Poland and Paul Abbott, while from the Odds, Tom Yeaworth, "Woody" Coul, and Paul Yambert were chosen.

In the Garnet League Brick Brahams of K.M.A. was elected captain, while Hap Brahams, Mike Miracle, and Rush Lester, all of whom are K.M.A., were selected for the team. Ray Packard and "Tex" McKenzie were picked from the Crescents. George Stanfill, Eramus Fowler, and Rohn come from the Y Frosh. From the Lokal Yokals, Verl Petree and Clendon complete the Garnet's roster.

Volley ball and basketball captains are requested to turn in their list of prospective teams as soon as possible to Coach Johnson in the intramural office.

The officials for the championship game are Ken Newell as referee, Charles Warner as umpire, and Fred Richardette as head linesman. Those for the All Star game are Joe Jernigan, referee, Ken Newell, umpire, and Charles Warner, head linesman. These oficials were all elected at the same time the players were.

Mules Take Mitey Mites

The Mules amassed 25 points against the Mitey Mites' team of five men early Monday afternoon

(Continued on page four)

With 13-6 Count at Murfreesboro As Merriman and Leon Berrong Romp

By Herbert McCallum

In a ragged but rough struggle on the Raiders' battleground at Murfreesboro Thursday night, the Maryville Higlanders conquered the heretofore unbeaten Middle Tennessee State Blue Raiders 13 to 6. Scoring touchdowns in the first and third quarters, the Scots clamped a setback on the Raiders' string of six wins in a see-saw affair which found the two squads showing ample offensive prowess but lacking in defensive power.

Fifth Consecutive Scot Win

Powerful line drives by Merriman, speed from the tailback post supplied by Leon Berrong and Bill Fogarty, sagacious defensive work by "Pie" Garner, plus the stamina of a pugnacious Highlander line that held the Blue Raiders for four downs inside the Scot ten yard line were some of the salient factors which called a halt to the Raiders victory parade and gave Maryville its fifth consecutive victory.

Merriman, Fogarty Plunge

The Scots began their offensive after kicking off to the Raiders, checking their attack, and forcing them to punt. Beginning on their own 15, the Scots waged a relentless attack down to the enemy 6 for a continuous march of 79 yards. A 46 yard run by Fogarty, a pass from Fogarty to Neff good for 11 yards, and numerous gains by Hershell Merriman, driving hard behind precise blocking by the Highlander outfit, accounted for the 79 yard sustained drive by the Scots.

First Scot T. D. Called Back

From the Raider 6, Clark tried an end-around, was trapped, but lateralled to Leon Berrong who crossed into the MTS end zone. A referee's decision ruling that Clark was stopped before he lateralled recalled the touchdown. Leon Berrong on the next play failed to cross the double lines on the fourth down, giving the Raiders the ball on their one yard line.

Berrong to Talbott—Score

Taking over where the Scots had failed, Nesbitt punted from behind his goal to Leon Berrong who went to the Raider 30. Berrong plunged for six yards to the Raider 24, Merriman faked a reverse but kept the ball to buck 18 yards to the enemy 6, where Leon Berrong passed to Talbott in the Raider end zone for the Highlanders' first touchdown. The extra point attempt by Fogarty was wide. The first quarter ended as Stagg returned the kick-off by Davis to the Raider 39.

Raiders Hold Second Quarter

The Raiders kept a tight noose on the ball most of the second quarter. Once when beset by vicious Scottie tacklers, the Raiders were forced to punt on fourth down with 25 yards to go for first down. Twice the Raiders held the Scots in check in this quarter and both times Leon Berrong punted to keep the Scots out of danger—one time from the Maryville seven.

Garner Halts Raiders Passes

Twice in this period "Pie" Garner halted the Raider advance by intercepting passes intended for Blue and White receivers. The second quarter ended the stalemate with the Scots in the lead, 6-0 at the half.

Berrong Scores After Drive

At the beginning of the second half, Talbott covered a short kick-off by Prince on the Scott 44. Law advanced the ball on the first play of the last half on a reverse for 26 yards to the Raider 30. Fogarty and Merriman pushed the ball to the enemy 4. Leon Berrong completed the 56 yard jaunt to score standing up. This time Fogarty's extra point attempt was good, making the count 13-0 for Maryville.

Nesbitt Runs Wild

Taking the kickoff after the second Maryville score, Bill Nesbitt, Raider Tailback, rammed his way in successive plays with his companions ripping the Maryville line apart to the Maryville 4. But the Scot line did the unexpected and put up a magnificent goal line fight to hold the MTS squad for four downs inside th Scot 10. Bobby Boring put the Scots out of immediate danger with a 45 yard punt to the M. C. 49.

Raiders Score in 4th

After Boring's punt, the Raiders succeeded in advancing to the Scot 24 early in the fourth quarter. Aided by a 15 yard unnecessary roughness penalty levied against Maryville, which set them on the Scot 7, the Raiders sent Nesbitt

(Continued on page four)

Develop Rhythm by Skating to Music

Skating develops your poise. It's one of life's healthiest joys!
The girl who can skate
Never lacks for a date,
She's a sure-fire hit
with the boys!

ROLLERDROME SKATING RINK

Treat Yourself To Food With Finest Flavor

Try one of our home-style dinners that includes everything from soup to nuts, and you'll agree that our Chef knows how to bring out the flavor of foods just as your like it! We have an excellent a la carte menu from which you can pick your favorite snack any hour of the day, any day of the week.

Steak and Chop Dinners—Our Specialty

CATE'S CAFE

AT PENNEY'S

WE LET VALUES DO OUR TALKING FOR US!

Men! Real Woven-In Patterns!

Towncraft* Shirts

Sanforized! Full-Cut!

3.49

Build up your winter shirt stock now! Famous Towncraft genuine woven-in stripes, dressy piques, crisp oxford cloths, canyon-color end-to-end broadcloths! All collar styles, all Sanforized! Smartly tailored, 33" length shirt tail!

†Shrinkage will not exceed 1%.
* Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

MEN'S SHOES

$5.90-$6.90

Rugged thick-soles for winter! Husky full-grain or smooth leather uppers, hard-wearing rubber soles. Fall-Winter colors—ruddy wine and boulevard brown. Closely stitched, Goodyear welt.

FRESHMEN, UPPERCLASSMEN PREPARE FOR SOCCER TILT

This past week has seen further tight encounters between the freshmen and upperclassmen soccer teams. The "High Boys" won Monday, and the game ended in a 1-1 tie Wednesday. The field was damp for both games, providing slips and extra competition in the handling of the ball. Both teams are building up a spirit in preparation for the big gagmge which will be played under the lights on Wilson Field on November 15.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN HELD NOV. 13

A cross country run of 2.2 miles will be held on Thursday, November 13, at 3:45 p. m. The course which has been laid out begins with one lap around the track, out to Dr. Briggs' house in the woods, then back to the track where another lap is run. It was not made too long because not many of the men will be in shape.

Rev. Robert H. Wood Addresses Ministerials

The Reverend Robert H. Wood, an alumnus of Maryville and now pastor of Park City Presbyterian Church in Knoxville, will speak about "Practical Problems of the Ministry" at the meeting of the Ministerial Association scheduled for November 13. Mr. Wood will be on the campus from 4:00 p. m. until after the Ministerial meeting and will be available for interviews during that time. Anyone who wishes an interview is asked to contact Herb Parsons for an appointment.

At the business meeting new officers will be elected to serve next semester.

"The Forgotten People" To Be Discussed At Vols

Anna Katherine Knapp will speak at Student Vols Sunday night, November 9, on the subject "The Forgotten People." Miss Knapp will tell of her experiences at Rockland State Mental Hospital where she worked this past summer.

Special music will be a piano solo played by Juanita Johnson.

EXCHANGES

College dude: (On entering barber shop) "Are you the barber who cut my hair last time?"

Barber: "No, it wasn't me. I've only been here for six months."

—The Gamecock

—All State

Umpire: "Foul!"

Loud Freshman: "Where are the feathers?"

Senior: "This is a picked team, my son." —Spotlight

Three Wonderful Words

I gazed into her dark and glowing eyes,
Her lips were saying those three wonderful words
I had waited to hear,
I could not believe it,
And yet it was true.
Again she said, fulfilling the dreams of my life—
"No French assignment."

—The Wildcat

If you're an average co-ed you spend 1,176 hours or 49 days before a mirror during your four college years. —The Spectator.

A man wrapped up in himself makes a small package.

"Will you marry me?"

"No."

"Whom are you going to marry?"

"I'll marry whom I please."

"Well you please me. Let's elope."

A woman got rid of her husband by throwing him in a well —Guess she figured that where there's a well there's a way.

Folks can't forget money. If a man dies rich, they ask how much he left; and if he dies poor, they ask how much he owed.

"This match won't light".

"What's the matter with it?"

"I don't know. It worked a little while ago."

"Yes, Andy, amo is the Latin word meaning 'I love.' Now what word suggests its opposite?"

"Reno."

Miss Hallock: "Why were you kissing that girl in that dark corner last night?"

Carnegie Resident: "Now that I've seen her in the daylight, I sort of wonder myself."

COLLEGE CALENDAR

Saturday, November 8
Sadie Hawkins Day
3:00—Theta-Bainonian Volley Ball Game
6:15—Societies meet

Sunday, November 9
1:30—YMCA and YWCA meet
2:45—YM-YW radio program, WGAP
7:00—Vespers

Monday, November 10
8:00—Student Vols
6:45—German Club, "M" Club, Art Club

Tuesday, November 11
5:00-10:00—Town Night
7:00—Gospel Fellowship Hour

Wednesday, November 12
4:30—Writers' Workshop
6:45—Prayer Meeting

Thursday, November 13
6:45—Camera, Spanish, Pre-Med Clubs

Friday, November 14
8:00—IRC, followed by reception

Girl to boyfriend: "I didn't say it was a small diamond. I just said it looked like it was all paid for!"

Student Vols Originate

The first Student Volunteer meeting in 1904 consisted of seven members.

A lady trustee of a home for delinquent girls approached the director recently with something on her mind. She really thought, she said, that the time had come to try to have a better class of girls in the instittuion. Wasn't there something that could be done about it?

Rev. Philip Evaul Speaks At Vespers

The Reverend Phillip O. Evaul who will speak at the Vesper Service tomorrow night has chosen "A New Creation" as his topic.

The Vesper Choir will sing the Entrance Scene from the second movement of the "Advent Motet" by Gustav Schreck and "Nunc Dimittis" by A. Gretchaninoff.

ATHENIAN

Athenian will meet Saturday night at 6:15 in Bartlett Hall. Bill Nish will present a program entitled "Y'all vs Youse".

Mr., Miss, Meet, Kiss, More Kisses, Mr., Mrs.

INTRAMURALS

(Continued from page 3)

to defeat the Mitey Mites 25-0. Paul Abbott scored 19 points for the Mules and Lambert accounted for 6.

Lokal Yokels Forfeit

When only two of the Yokal Lokals showed up on Monday the game was awarded to the "Y" Frosh.

Odds Upset Eight Balls, 12-7

Tuesday afternoon the Odds handed the Eight Balls their second defeat of the season. Coming from the short end of a 7-6 score, the odds scored a touchdown in the third quarter to win, 12-7. Hamil scored the seven points for the Eight Balls while Dave and Tom Yeaworth each scored a T.D. for the Odds.

K.M.A. Sinks Crescents, 29-20

With the score tied 14-14 at the half, KMA scored 15 points to the Crescents' 6 in the second half to win the game, 29-20. McKenzie scored 18 points for the Crescents and Rettke and Packard each made 1. For KMA Hap and Brick Brahams each scored 13 points with Miracle getting 2 and Jernigan getting 1.

Odds Down Jets

Dave Yeaworth's touchdown in the second quarter proved to be the deciding factor when the Odds socked the Jets, 6-0 on Thursday.

Crescents Top Tau Sigma

With Packard scoring 13 points and McKenzie scoring 6, the Crescents had little trouble in defeating Tau Sigma 16-6. Wintermute made the only Tau Sigma score.

FOOTBALL STANDINGS

Orange League

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Eight Balls	13	2	.866
Odds	10	6	.635
Jets	9	6	.600
Mitey Mites	4	11	.266
Mules	2	13	.153

Garnet League

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
KMA	15	0	1.000
Y Frosh	10	5	.666
Crescents	7	9	.436
Lokal Yokals	5	9	.357
Tau Sigma	1	14	.066

SEWANEE FALLS . . . .

(Continued from page three)

ting hard, but sliding around on the now wet grass, they were about evenly matched with the tired Sewanee starters. The Scots ran out of a T-formation during the last few minutes of play.

Score by Quarters

Maryville	6	14	14	0—34
Sewanee	0	0	0	0— 0

Starting Line-up:

Maryville	Pos.	Sewanee
Talbott	L.E.	Rosser
Kluth	L.T.	Snell
Anderson	L.G.	Smiles
Garner	C.	F. Watkins
Easter	R.G.	Bascom
Rock	R.T.	Rogers
Davis	R.E.	Speake
K. Berrong	Q.B.	Guerry
Law	W.B.	Bryant
Merriman	F.B.	Bell
Fogarty	T.B.	Green

Statistics

	M.C.	Sewan.
Total yds. rushing	336	193
Yds. lost rushing	18	51
Total yds. passing	70	38
Net yds. gained	388	170
No. passes attempted	8	17
No. passes completed	2	5
No. passes inter. by	1	1
Number punts	7	12
Punting average	27	32
Total First Downs	10	3
No. of penalties	7	1
Total yds. penalized	65	5
Number of fumbles	1	3
No. fumbles rec. by	2	2

SCOTS ROUT RAIDERS

(Continued from page three)

over for their lone touchdown. The extra point attempt was no good.

The remainder of the fourth quarter was a rushing duel which ended as the Highlanders pinned a desperate Raider group back to their 4 and almost secured a safety before the final whistle blew.

STATISTICS:	M.C.	M.TS.
yds. gained rushing	196	203
yds. lost rushing	8	35
yds. gained passing	23	20
net yards gained	211	198
No. passes attempted	5	7
No. passes completed	3	2
No. passes inter. by	2	0
Number punts	5	5
Punting average	38	32
No. first downs	12	16
No. penalties	5	5
Total yds. penalized	51	25
No. fumbles	1	1
No. fumble rec. by	0	2

Alpha Sigma Organizes Campus Orchestra

The newly organized Alpha Sigma orchestra under the direction of Dick Tolerico has been practicing for the past several weeks. The purpose of the organization is to give its members experience while providing music for campus functions. Ralph Kent, a freshman from Massachusetts, is arranger for the group. He has had experience with professional orchestras. Vocal work is being handled by Gene Coulter, a freshman from Pennsylvania.

Dr. Hunter, Campbell Read At Workshop

David Campbell and Dr. E. R. Hunter read at the last meeting of the Writer's Workshop Wednesday, November 5. Dr. Hunter read a dramatization of a humorous short story entitled "Mr. Downey Sits Down." He called his version "Moral Principles." Campbell presented a mixed series of sonnets and rime royal brought together under the single title: "Life."

Tom Wheeler criticized Eleanor Struble's work, giving special attention to the poem, "White Sails."

Martha Cecil Hull criticized Miss Johnson's short story, "The Reconversion of Jack Stuart."

World Friendship . . .

(Continued From Page 1)

ber, was born in the Dutch East Indies of Chinese parentage. Since 1940 she has worked with the Chinese Air Corps and in the Presbyterian Mission Hospital in Hengyang. In 1945 she came to America and is now a student in Hanover College.

Miss Flory Will Stay Through Monday

Miss Margaret Flory, also in the group, is the Eastern Area Secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions and has special responsibility for interdenominational and international youth programs. Students interested in world service will have an opportunity to talk with her Monday. She is staying over to participate in a radio program Monday morning.

Bainonian, Theta Hold Volley Ball Game

Instead of the regular Bainonian meeting at 6:15 Saturday there will be a volley ball game with the members of Theta Epsilon. The game will take place at 3:00 p. m. on the court behind Thaw Hall.

Faculty Personalities . .

(Continued from page one)

roading. His favorite food is bananas and he enjoys golf though he confesses he's not a pro. Of eight children, he and a brother teaching at Ann Arbor, are the only ones not living in their home town, St. Louis. Before taught philosophy along with coming to Maryville, Dr. Barker, psychology.

He attended Westminster College in Missouri for his B.A. and M.A. degrees. He earned his Ph. D. at New York University in 1945.

Don Barker, his son, attended Maryville before going to Princeton Theological Seminary. Don graduated last May at which time he married another M.C. graduate, Eleanor Stout. They have a parish of three churches in Ridgeway, Illinois.

Bob Barker, another son, is i Japan teaching in a Mission School. This is a temporary appointment requested of the Churches of America by General McArthur. He will be gone three years after which he plans to return to the United States to continue his theological training.

A Christmas Greeting of Lasting Remembrance

Your portrait is a non-perishable gift! It brings perennial Christmas cheer! Assign us your photograph and judge our high quality for yourself. Make an appointment soon.

THE WEBB STUDIO

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.

30-Minute Service

between

Maryville and Knoxville

For added wardrobe glamour team your Suits with costume-making blouses——Classic styles, new long torses, gaily sequined fashions. . . . . In your favorite flattering colors. See what charm sparkle they bring to your suits——at a new low price tag too!

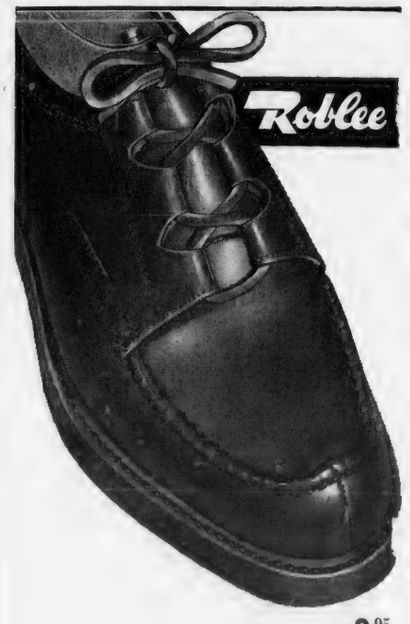
GLAMOUR SHOP
on the Main Street

Make It Yourself

Make the core of your winter wardrobe a pretty dressmaker Suit! A long flared jacket—and longer, slim skirt made from the finest woolens. Our woolens are top quality and you will be able to find them in any color your heart desires. . . . $2.98 to $3.98 a yard.

McARTHUR'S
BALCONY

"BOTANY"
BRAND
ROBES



No other men's robe offers soft, luxuriant "Botany" Brand flannel combined with comfort-inspired tailoring...

$15.95 AND UP

PROFFITT'S
Men's Department

"Since 1919 The Best Place To Trade"

*Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

9.95

Plenty of style
Plenty of distance
Plenty of shoe for your money.

PROFFITT'S
Smart Shoes Main Floor

Doctors, Preachers

Students, Teachers

THE Highland Echo

Z 703

Want To Beat 'Em,

We'll Defeat 'Em

VOLUME 33 | MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, | NOVEMBER 15, 1947 | NUMBER 12

World Friendship Team Visits MC Organizations This Week-end

Courtesy Maryville Times

Pictured above are Miss Pearl Cheng and Henry Heaps, two of the four members of the World Friendship Team visiting the campus this week-end, under the auspices of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions. The other two members, pictured on the back page, are Miss Margaret Florey and the Reverend Norman A. Horner. The team was introduced to the College last evening at the IRC meeting, followed by a reception in Baldwin Hall. Other appearances for the week-end will include speeches at YM, YW, Vespers, and Student Vols. Several students and the four members of the team will go on a mountain retreat this afternoon, returning for the MC—CN football game tonight.

Council Writes Letter To The Glen Lloyds

Sends Representatives To NSA Meeting Nov. 15

The Student Council decided at its last meeting to write a letter of thanks and appreciation to the Glen Lloyds of Chicago, Illinois for their giving to the College the money for a new chapel.

They also discussed the firecracker episodes and recommend that the firecracker throwers see fit to stop their activities.

At the meeting on November 3, the Council voted to send a representative to the National Student Association meeting. The Council appropriated ten dollars earlier in the year to become a member of this organization which was originally formed last April.

Rush Lester Represents MC

The week-end of November 15, a regional conference will be held at Southwestern University in Memphis. Rush Lester is the elected delegate. The council hopes that besides the voting representative several others will go. Southwestern has invited the delegates to be guests at lunch on Saturday and Sunday and will secure rooms for those attending.

The Council does not have in its treasury the funds necessary to send their delegate. They have expressed the desire that the student body will pay its class dues so that the Council can collect their allotted $.05 per student.

The council issues a special invitation to all class officers to attend the meeting on November 19. Plans will be discussed which the Council feels will greatly aid the entire student body.

Fine Arts Dept. Sponsors May Day

This year for the first time the annual May Day program will be sponsored by the Maryville College Fine Arts Department instead of the Y.W.C.A. Plans are already underway to make the May Day activities a success.

A Faculty-Student Committee met in Bartlett Hall Wednesday morning, November 12, to work on ideas for a theme. The theme is to be of interest to the whole campus and everyone is to share in the idea. The main theme will be announced in the ECHO in the near future.

Work will begin on the script soon and committees for costumes, production, stage and music will be appointed. The program will be a combination of art, costumes, drama, music, dance and literature.

MISS ARCHIBALD PRESENTS PIANO RECITAL MONDAY

Miss Alice E. Archibald, Instructor in Piano and History of Appreciation of Music will present a piano recital on Monday, November 17, at 8:00 p. m. at the Chilhowee Club.

The first part of her program will consist of "Partita Number 4 in D Major" by Bach and Beethoven's "Sonata, Opus 81 a". The second half will be Debussy's 'L'lise Joyeuse" and "Scherzo in C sharp Minor" by Chopin.

Miss Archibald graduated last June from the Conservatory of Music of Oberlin College, Ohio, where she was elected a member of Pi Kappa Lamda

COMMITTEES FOR PLAY ANNOUNCED

Zoe Sayre, house manager for the Experimental Theatre production Andante, has announced the production staff and stage crews. The assistat director is Bette Davis; stage manager, Jimmy Dance; stage crew, Tom Eckert, Joyce Hampton, Ann Jenkins; property manager, Ruth Heaps; property crew, Marian McBride, Benson Gearhart; made-up chairman, Pat Lovelace; costume committee, Wilma Robinson, Margaret Newland; set designer, Mary Hamelmann; light crew, Chester Schieber, Albert Shakely.

'Vagabonda' Plans Include Program, Queen and Court

Final plans are being made for the annual Barnwarming, which is the main event of the Autumn season. This program is sponsored by the YWCA in the form of a school carnival, and all profit goes to the World Student Service Fund. The theme being "Vagabonda," the plans include a midway with eight booths followed by a program. Most of the booths will be free, but there will be a small charge for some of them.

The Barnwarming chorus has been chosen, and has been rehearsing for several weeks under the leadership of Charles Huffman and Barbara Blair.

Nominations for king, queen, and class sponsors were held Wednesday, November 5. Elsie Onifer and Ruth Williams were nominated for queen, Cotton Easter and Lloyd Anderson for king, Marilyn Hartpence and Joyce Jones for senior class sponsor, Gwyneth Williams and Grace Ellen Cross for junior class sponsor, Sarah Durant and Janet Blackmore for sophomore class sponsor, and Peggy Burrow and Dot Downey for freshman class sponsor. The election was held last Wednesday, November 12, and the final results will be revealed at Barnwarming, when the king and queen, with their four attendants, will be crowned.

C N Students Will Attend Game

Baldwin Basement Converted Into Rumpus Room

Part of Baldwin's basement is being converted into a rumpus room where the girls may let off steam wtihout raising the wrath of the monitors.

The heavy labor of putting in a new ceiling, replastering the walls, installing lighting, and painting is being done by the college and should be finished by next week, Mae Merriwether, house chairman, reports. Then the Baldwin girls, under Ruth Heaps' direction, will take over to furnish and equip the new room.

Plans for furnishing include a hot plate for fudge fests, tables, chairs, lamps, and a book case and magazine rack. Miss Heaps' committee intends to re-finish used furniture for use in the room.

Band Presents New Maneuvers

The Maryville College Band will present new and intricate maneuvers before students from both Carson-Newman and Maryville at the game Saturday night. Mr. Curtis B. Huges, band director, announced.

Beginning with a weaving maneuver, the band will march down to the center field to form a heart and play "For Me and My Gal." From there without signals they will form the C.N. and play Carson-Newman's alma mater. Then they will reform and march to the Maryville side for a special feature of trumpets, drums, and twirlers to Goldman's "Bugles and Drums." The band will form an M and play the Maryville Alma Mater.

The Carson-Newman band will play at the game, but declined the invitation to march at the

LEADERS FOR GIRL SCOUTS NEEDED

Mrs. Cecil R. Brooks, 117 Oak Park Avenue, announced that assistant leaders for the Girl Scout Organization are badly needed. The group would like to have assistance from college girls to help with the troop.

Any girl interested in helping should get in touch with Mrs. Brooks, whose telephone number is 1525.

John Briggs Elected Prexy of Pi Kappa Delta

Election, Initiation Held At Chilhowee Inn

John Briggs, junior economics major from Maryville, was elected president of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic society, at a meeting held last Tuesday night. At the same meeting, which followed a banquet at Chilhowee Inn, Carl Lindsey was elected vice president, Ann Cook, secretary-treasurer, and Stuart Saul, reporter.

An initiation was conducted during which time Peggy Cummings, Ann Cook, Carl Lindsey, Geneva Robinson, Stuart Saul, and Ruth Thompson were accepted as members of the society. John Briggs, David Campbell and Mary Mitchell Wooldridge officiated. Dr. and Mrs. Verton M. Queener and Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Pieper sponsored the group.

Activities Renewed

Although Pi Kappa Delta is not too well known on campus, it is one of the organizations which has brought recognition and credit to the school. Its activities were dropped during the war and only last year were renewed.

This semester both the freshman debaters and those who are to compete for the varsity teams are meeting regularly each week in preparation for the inter-collegiate debating which begins next semester.

The National Forensic Societies question for debate teams this year is: Resolved: that a federal world government should be established. The subject will be debated by Maryville College's teams and by teams across the country next semester.

PI GAMMA

Pi Gamma entertained Thursday, November 13, with a luncheon for twelve town and dormitory girls.

The next luncheon will be Thursday, November 27.

550 Rooters Will Invade MC Campus

Congress Acts To Reinstate Flight Training At MC

Congressional support was necessary in order to re-instate the flight training for Maryville students, it was revealed by Mr. Cook, the owner of Cook's Aero Service.

Flight training had been arbitrarily cancelled by higher-ups in the military administration of the Veteran's Schooling Administration, Mr. Cook said. This action, came when it was decided that taking flight training through Cook's was the equivalent of attending two schools at once, which is illegal. Actually, of course, Maryville veterans are authorized $500 a year tuition fees, and this covers both college and flight, legally.

Mr. Cook, who would have lost $4,000 if the action were certified legal, at once made recourse to senators and representatives from this area. He spent several hundred dollars on wires to congressmen and legal advisors of the Association of Flying Schools, and in the investigation which followed, the action was definite ly proved to be in error. Flying was at once re-instated.

MR. ERNEST HOUTS VISITS CAMPUS TO AID VETERANS

Mr. Ernest Houts, veterans administrator from the Knoxville Office, paid an additional visit to the campus on Wednesday, November 12. Mr. Houts normally comes only once each month, when he holds a meeting and interviews veteran students who have problems connected with their training under Public Laws 16 and 346.

The purpose of Mr. Houts' visit on Wednesday was to determine how many students using their G I training intend to interrupt it after the first semester and to deal with problems concerning subsistence payments.

Mr. Houts is a graduate of Maryville College. His home is in Alcoa. He has been serving Maryville College in his capacity as veteran's administrator for approximately one year.

Group Includes 40 Piece Band

The Undefeated Carson-Newman eleven will invade Maryville ground tonight to try to shake off the ambitious Highlander threat to their record, in addition to avenging last year's 33-7 defeat. Along with the fighting Eagles will arrive some 500 members of the C-N student body and a 40 piece band. The C-N rooters will arrive in cars and buses some time after 6:00 p. m. Although their band will play at various intervals they will not march either this afternoon or tonight at the game.

Eagle-Scot Feud

The Carson-Newman vs Maryville feud is one of long standing, and much rivalry has been displayed in years past. This year is no exception to the rule, since some C-N students visited our campus night before last. Their acts were probably a retaliation for similar acts done to the C-N campus by some of the members of our student body last year. The feuding began back in 1903, the year the Scots began inter-collegiate football, when the Highlanders ran wild over the Baptist crew, 72-0. In following years of M-C football the Maryville men won 5 games and lost 2, rolling up a total of 219 points against the measly 20 that C-N pushed across.

Lombe Honaker Begins

In 1921, Lombe Honaker took over the coaching helm for Maryville to turn out the football squads. Following Coach Honaker's appearance, the Scots won 9 games straight against the Eagles.

Bowing to the C-N eleven 6-27 in 1933, the Highlanders avenged themselves in 1934 winning by one point, 7-6, only to lose in the two succeeding years, 0-6 and 0-26. In the games after 1936 up until the war the scores were 7-0 in 1938, 19-6 in 1939, 15-27 in 1940, and 7-0 in 1941, giving the Highlanders 3 out of 4 wins.

1946—Highlanders Win, 33-7

Resuming football after a four year wartime lapse, the Scots defeated Carson-Newman 33-7 in a Maryville victory parade which led them to an undefeated throne.

Carson-Newman Undefeated

This year Carson-Newman started off the season impressively tramping the Tennessee Polytechnic eleven, 19-7. In the following games they defeated Western North Carolina, 13-7, Emory and Henry, 33-0, Georgetown College, 13-6, East Tennessee State, 38-6, Milligan, 12-6, Tusculum, 48-6, and tied Tennessee Wesleyan, 13-13. Maryville and Cumberland are the remaining teams on their schedule.

The Highlander's record is hardly less impressive—six victories and one loss. They beat Hiwassee, 33-0, Centre, 27-0, East Tennessee, State, 31-0, Emory and Henry, 24-7, Sewanee, 34-0, and Middle Tennessee State, 13-6, losing to T.P.I. 13-7.

The Carson-Newman team is designed for speed. They rocket out of a T-formation and have a strong passing attack. Rumors are that the C-N crew are wearing low shoes to add a bit more to their speed. Coach Honaker, in his pep talk last night in the gym, emphasized that Carson-Newman is the biggest threat of the season. He added that if the Scotties win this it will be the second time in fifty years that a team has downed three undefeated opponents in succession. He said in conclusion, that he wants to beat Carson-Newman more than he has wanted to defeat any team in the last ten years.

"Dear Ruth" Will Be Presented At Maryville High Friday and Saturday Nights

Dear Ruth, produced by Theta Alpha Phi, and preceded by a formal dinner, will be presented next Friday and Saturday evenings, November 21 and 22, in the Maryville High School auditorium. The play, starring Jim Black, Janice Landstrom, Marion Pope, and Roger Cowan, is the first major dramatic presentation of the year.

The story centers around the romance by mail of a soldier who encounters unexpected complications when he appears to claim his girl. The supporting cast includes Max House, Lois Thomas, Mary Woolridge, Andy Clark, Ken Ross, and Katie Carpenter.

Miss Jessie Wild, dramatics professor, is the director, with Bob Thomson serving as her assistant.

Formal Dinner Friday

The cast and committees will be honored at dinner Friday evening preceding the initial presentation of the play. Dinner, which will be eaten by candlelight, will be formal for the girls and semi-formal for the fellows. The dining hall and Pearsons lobby are to be decorated. Special tables will be provided for the guests of honor. A short program will be given either at the dinner or at lunch on Friday.

Ticket Contest

Monday, envelopes containing numbered cards will be hidden in all the main buildings. Tuesday morning there will be a drawing and the holder of the winning number will receive two free tickets entitling them to two of the best reserved seats.

Wednesday, WGAP will have a short radio program giving one comedy and one love scene from the play. Announcement of the time will be made later.

All Seats Reserved

All seats will be reserved. College students will be given preference on Friday and townspeople on Saturday. High school students will have special prices. Tickets will be on sale beginning Monday.

COLLEGE DIRECTORS HOLD FALL MEETING

The annual fall meeting of the Board of Directors of Maryville College will be held November 18 in the President's office. The group will hear Dr. Lloyd's report of the preceding year and take any necessary action.

Judge Samuel O. Houston of Knoxville, who spoke here on Founders Day, is chairman of the Board. It meets twice a year—once in the fall and on Commencement Day.

CALENDAR

Saturday, November 15—
6:15—Societies Meet
8:00—Football Game with Carson-Newman
Sunday, November 16—
1:30—YMCA and YWCA meet
2:45—YM-YW Radio Program, WGAP
7:00—Vespers
8:00—Student Vols
Monday, November 17—
4:30—Recital
Tuesday, November 18—
5:00-10:00—Town Night
Wednesday, November 19—
6:45—Prayer Meeting
Friday, November 21—
6:00—Dinner, formal
8:00—Theta, Alpha Phi production of "Dear Ruth"

Twelve Students Present Music Recital Tuesday

Twelve Maryville students will present a music recital on Tuesday, November 18, at 4:30 p. m. in the Y.W.C.A. rooms in Thaw Hall. The program consists of the following numbers:

"Your Counsel, All Is Urged in Vain" and "When I am Laid in Earth", recitative and aria from "Dido and Aneas" by Purcell, Peggy Wakefield—Mary Fowler, accompanist.

"Prelude in E Major" by Bach and "Etude in C sharp Minor" by Scriabine. Charlotte Harris. "Erlaube mir fein's Madchen" a German folksong, Catherine Barnawell—Margaret Drake, accompanist.

"Juene Fillettee' by Dalayrac, Linnea Johnson—Juanita Johnson, accompanist. "Invention in E Major" by Back, Martha Barnwell.

"Chi vuol in zinarella" by G. Paisiello, Ruth Ramsey—Doris Cook, accompanist.

"Three Part Invention in D Minor" by Bach and "Waltz Op. 64 No. 2 in C sharp Minor" by Chopin, Ruth Bird. "All Souls Day by R. Strauss, Jane Martenis—Edwin Goddard, accompanist. "Sonata Op. 10 No. 3" by Beethoven, Doris Cook.

"Stoille Sicherheit" by Robert Franz. Mildred Orr—Louise Lloyd, accompanist. "Prelude, Fugue and Variations" by Franck, Marion Weiler. "For Behold Darkness Shall Cover the Earth" and "The People that Walked in Darkness", Arioso and Air from "Messiah" by Handel, Milford Castrodale—Katherine Franklin, accompanist.

Mrs. Kramer, Misses Wilkinson, Cowdrick Recently Interviewed

By Hunt and Merlanti

This week the ECHO again brings you articles about faculty members by continuing the Psychology and Education Department and introducing the Professors of French.

Thelma Hall Kramer, B.S.

Mrs. Thelma Kramer of Maryville has been an instructor in Education at Maryville College since 1946. She attended the University of Tennessee. Before coming to Maryville College Mrs. Kramer taught in the elementary school in town. She is primarily interested in the education of the elementary schools.

Mrs. Kramer enjoys housekeeping and all good food. Her favorite color is rose.

This summer she and her daughter Elinor went West where they took colored slides. Mrs. Kramer is now editing the slides at U. T. where she is working toward her M. A. She hopes to use them in her geography class here.

Elinor Kramer is a freshman here at Maryville. She is a member of the Echo Staff.

Margaret Catharine Wilkinson, B. A., M. A.

A former student at Maryville, Miss Wilkinson began teaching at Maryville in 1919, the year after she graduated. She taught her first four years in the Prep school.

Her favorite sport is hiking. Although she has no special hobby, at present, next year it will be raising flowers in the yard of her new home, which she and her father are building. Miss Wilkinson says that they hope to move in a few weeks since it is almost completed. The new home is located across the street from their present residence on the seven mile loop.

She likes most foods and espe-

(Continued on page four)

Dr. Hunter Represents Maryville At L. M. U.

Dean Edwin Hunter will represent Maryville College at the inauguration of Robert L. Kincaid, newly elected president of Lincoln Memorial University. The inauguration services will be held Saturday, November 22. Dean Hunter said, "For the comfort of my students I shall not leave until Saturday morning."

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

Volume 32 Number 12

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

EDITORIAL STAFF

Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Ruth Ramsey, Ilda Mosby, Mariagrazia Merlanti, Dick Sprague, Carroll Stegall

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb, Ruth Davis

FRESHMEN APPRENTICES
Jean Hunt, Mary Lyerly, Hazel Holm, Elinor Kramer, Donald Whelan

SPORTS STAFF

Kenneth Olsen ..... Editor
Herbert McCallum ..... Sophomore Reporter
Maynard Noble ..... Freshman Apprentice

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF

Business Manager ..... Ruth Williams

SENIOR ASSISTANTS
Mary Jane Long, Florence Heusch

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Margaret Weaver

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANTS
Bob Watkins, Joe Claude, Janet Blackmore

FRESHMEN ASSISTANTS
Barbara Altfather, Naoagene Morrow, Anita Withers

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 3, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1947

WELCOME, C-N STUDENTS

On behalf of the Maryville student body we would like to welcome each of the Carson-Newman representatives to our campus. Tonight's clash will be a test for both MC and C-N, and pardon us for hoping you return home in complete defeat.

Much Echo About Nothing

BY CRAIG FISHER

ADMONITION: apropos the gossip columnist: "People who live in glass houses shouldn't."

HARE-RAISING: As this column goes to press latest additions to Dr. Williams' family (of wabbits) brings the total to seventy. The home-ec kitchen and dissecting labs are waging a vain fight to keep ahead of the law of geometrical progression.

A SQUINT AT THE C-N GAME: We hope we don't beat the Eagle's too badly, as Bob Holly's friend from C-N is going to spend the night here. Five minutes meditation while the Proffitt boys iron him out.

In an Echo comment on the size of Carson-Newman which their Blue and Gold resented, they printed the following: "Of course we forgive them for underrating us, because we realize they are nervous because a strong Eagle fighting machine is going to invade their stadium very soon and make the Scotties regret the encounter." The grapevine tells us the C-N. bookmakers are spotting us 13 points. They didn't take into account the two extra sirens that have been added to our noise making battery. Also they seem to have disremembered our little football team. Ah, well, ways to pick up a little purse stuffing.

GOAT TROUBLE: To show their charming sense of humor ten boys put a goat in the girls' dorm at Centre college Hallowe'en night. Those ten boys were given a vacation the next day; so all the men took a vacation. Upshot: the jokers were readmitted, probably on an oath not to put any more goats in girls' dorms. This reminds us of two opposums (Ed. note: Aren't you mixed up in the Scents of animals?) put in the lab building here three years ago. School had to be postponed for awhile in Fayerweather while the fumes cleared, and after the humorists had finished cleaning the building and putting up public notes of apology, the cure was complete.

SUPER SUDS and mange medicine put that droopy little white cur that looked like Carnegie on Sunday morning back in the race for mascot of the Alpha Sags. Anna Katherine Knapp, laundress and nurse maid, said that her mange medicine formula was a secret, but that she would treat anyone by appointment.

And while on canines, that black mut with a high-C tenor is raw material for Mr. Hughes' vocalizers. Not that the glee club isn't good, just that the dog is remarkable. Inmates of Carnegie want

NEWS CAPSULES

BY LESLIE WEBB

Committee Wants Barter

Members of the Senate Foreign Policy Committee have suggested that the Administration require "trade for aid" in the proposed application of the Marshall Plan in Europe. Chairman Arthur H. Vandenburg, Republican Senator of Michigan, has urged that this country take advantage of the existing situation enough to demand that the United States be supplied with atomic materials, military bases, airfields and scarce commodities from those countries receiving economic aid. Many countries receiving help in this program are in a position to supply needs of the United States in this connection.

Are you discouraged over the high cost of living? Do you brood about the mad inflation spiral and long to get away from it all? Take heart. Harper Henry, of Los Angeles, Calif. has decided to do something about it. Mr. Henry has purchased a Pacific jungle island off the coast of Panama for the purpose of starting a colony for fugitives from inflation. He plans to manufacture brooms from a tropical grass that grows abundantly in that area and sweep high prices right down to sea level.

French Strike

Communist labor leaders have paralized the Port of Marseille and brought the city under martial law as a result of strikes which they are directing. The Socialist Premier of France, Ramadier, has issued a statement that he will defend the Republic against these Communist agitators and has challenged them to a fight to the finish. Ramadier accuses the communists of trying to overthrow his government and establish their own dictatorship.

and deserve the credit for discovering him, and are proud that most of his training has been under their care. What if it were the find of the century—a brilliant new operatic tenor with origins in Maryville.

SCHOOL SPIRIT—120 PROOF: Heights of fanaticism were reached last week when Tom Cummings, Bill Anderson and Bill Vogel crammed into the trunk of Smitty's car to go see us whollup M.T.S. Three blankets didn't keep it from feeling like the truck that brings us our vanilla ice-cream every day.

Dr. Buchanan's Bible class is writing an essay on "Why the Righteous Suffer."

Schieber, Jones and Kees put chestnuts in "Sunshine's" bed this week. When he got in with them, he got so mad he roasted them, then he went out and caught quiet Dickie Jones, the fourth floor mascot, and hung him by his heels from a neighboring sky hook. By the way, if you ever corner "Sunshine" get him to tell you some stories about his father, who's a professional fisherman down in Florida, like the time he got a hook caught in his hand, laid it open with a knife, picked the hook out, poured a half bottle of iodine over it, and went on pulling in tarpons.

MISCELLANY: Charlie Bacon spends all his spare time cutting up confetti either for football games or for birthday parties.

Ray Kirby carries around a booklet thoughtfully entitled "Should I Drink?"

Buffie Carver, when he brought her the pretzels, said she couldn't eat them dry. The next time he brought her some pretzel solvent. But my dear boy, she was only joking!

Lloyd Anderson's usual beaming pepsodent was about to ipana his head in two this week-end when he had two women flocking about him. 'Tis hinted he and Jessie Lou will be married after Christmas. Andy's sticking around another week to drench herself in some more good old Maryville atmosphere.

This week we want to bring within the so friendly circle of the CCC's the sad guys who have to do all their billing and cooing by letter. Let's have a long sob of sympathy before we go on. Those doubly unfortunates and twice blests are: Eckert (intermittent), Anderson (state of suspension), Haaf (verbal agreement), and Grubbs, Horst and Martin (Just love). There's some one we've missed. That's the columnist's nightmare.

NOTES ON THE CHOIR PARTY: The choir pitched in last Monday to polish the floor of the roller drome with pants and skirts. George Gillette found life enjoyable sinking his claws into any convenient passer by and hanging on for several free rides around the rink until his host would collapse from exhaustion. Art Haaf, who found his feet suddenly going faster than other parts of his anatomy, was hoisted off the floor boards by the aid of three men. After this exercise, the skaters went to Mr. Harter's little roost, where he and Mrs. Harter are still washing grease stains from popcorn out of the rug, and cleaning cocoa stains from the ceiling.

WIPE your feet on our welcome mat, Mr. Carpenter. It's great to have you with us. What do you think of that wild daughter now?

As a parting bazooka and plug for Dear Ruth I would like you to look at what istha truth. Max House, asked who drew that caricature that hung on Pearsons Wednesday, said he didn't know but it sure was real, "too real, too real," he clucked sadly.

29 DAYS TILL WE CRAM FOR EXAMS; 39 DAYS TILL WE DO OUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING.

FROM THE FIRST.....

By Jean Almy

Seven MC Families Live In Trailer Camp Behind Pearsons

BY DICK SPRAGUE

At the end of what was once called "the path that leads to nowhere" can be found Maryville College's Trailer Camp. It is situated on the site of the former Lamar Residence behind Pearsons Hall.

Seven families are now living there: Dave, Eunice, and Rodger Hostettler; Charles and Doris Naundorf; Billy and Mary Young; Willis, Ruth, and Jerry Sanderson; Scott and Margaret McClure; George and Virginia Setterfield; Al and Sarah White.

Mary has just recently joined Bill Young at the camp and their child is expected to also join them in the future.

Al White has a Church and a manse is provided with it, but he can't take advantage of the manse because his automobile is not in satisfactory operating condition for commuting.

Charles and Doris Naundorf lived in Carnegie basement last year, and he is a camera fiend, as most everyone knows.

Setterfield is handling five subjects this semester and is an English major, and wishes that the repairs around his trailer did not interfere so much with his studies

Hostettler Was Originator

Dave Hostettler was the originator of the camp and is presently helping Dr. Lea Callaway build his new home.

Scott McClure, a senior student council representative, has his hot water heater connected in his clothes closet so that his clothes are warm when he puts them on in the morning.

A visit in the Hostettler trailer found Eunice ironing. Dave, in answer to a question, ironically replied: "The Mrs. always wanted to live in a trailer. It wasn't the housing shortage at all". As one gazes around himself during the modest conversation, the ingenuity necessary for living in a trailer becomes apparent. Except at the doorway, there is not enough space between the furniture to put your little finger, and an analysis further shows that the furniture arrangement is unique and unchangeable.

Eunice says that she likes to see some bare walls, so they have no hanging pictures. The location of their trailer is also unique. It is on the same spot where the bathroom of the Lamar Residence was located. This allows them the use of plumbing fixtures still remaining from the old house. Throughout the entire visit, Rodger slept peacefully in his crib.

Sandersons Met at CN

Ruth met Willis Sanderson at Carson-Newman where he was a student before the war. "Sandy" was a music major, but doubtful about his future aims. The war took him to China; this and the encouragement of Ruth led him to change to medicine, even though the change required an extra year of liberal arts college studies. They joined the trailer camp last January because "regular apartments just weren't practical". Too many landlords would not allow children, and the cost and labor of keeping up an apartment were just too much, anyway.

Plump little Jerry who laughed playfully during this reporter's visit, especially likes to ride on his father's shoulders.

The camp is now trying to work out a community plan to buy wholesale groceries and fuel oil, in order to cut down on the expenses.

Six of the seven families intend to go into full time Christian service, three as medical missionaries, and three as ministers. The seventh, Naundorf, plans to be an engineer. They all could probably get employment as carpenters and "jacks of all trades" after their experiences with the trailers.

TUESDAY NOON WILL BE DEADLINE FOR TUSCULUM TICKETS

Dave Campbell has anounced that noon Tuesday, November 18, will be the deadline for the sale of tickets for the Tusculum game Saturday, November 22. All those who signed up for tickets are urged by the Student Council to buy their tickets. About sixty tickets have been sold—enough to fill two buses.

SPANISH CLUB

Spanish Club met Thursday night in Anderson. After a short business meeting during which plans were discussed for tri-club meeting to be held Monday, November 24, in Bartlett auditorium, Mr. Bernard showed paintings and slides of three of the most famous Spanish painters: Goya, El Greco, and Velasquez. The meeting was ended by singing Christmas Carols in Spanish.

Here's to the Maryville chaperone
May she learn from Cupid
Just enough blindness
To be sweetly Stupid.

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

THE WEBB STUDIO

PARK
Tuesday-Wednesday
"Jungle Princess"
Dorothy Lamour

CAPITOL THEATRE
Monday-Tuesday
"Red House"
starring
Edward G. Robinson
Lon McAllister

Wednesday-Thursday
"Variety Girl"
36 Well-known Stars

For These Cold Fall Nights
It's C. & L. Cafe
for hot meals and drinks
C. & L. CAFE

'CHRISTMAS GIFT-TIME
This Year give a Personal Gift——a
Photo of Yourself
STUDENTS
Here's a wonderful way to solve your Gift worries for this Christmas. . . George's have all the proofs of the pictures you had made for the 1947-48 CHILHOWEAN on file. Photo's are the gifts that only you can give. Hurry to George's to order your Pictures today.
George's

Christmas GIFTS
For the Men on your Christmas Shopping List at
BYRNE DRUG CO.

Date Night!
To make a hit with the New Gal you just met in School . . . . be sure that you have a Clean White Shirt for date nights.
9 Pounds Clothes Washed, Rinsed, Damp Dried, Soap, Bleach, and Water 35c
SPECIAL
9 Pounds Washed and Dried 55c
SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY
Phone 1055

GOOD FOODS For Good Health
Get All Your Favorite Foods At
M. M. ELDER
CASH CARRY STORE

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

BEAT CARSON-NEWMAN! That's our theme in any year when the Eagles from Jefferson City invade. This time our battle cry is a thousand times louder. For tonight's 22nd Scot-Eagle clash, we foresee a titanic tussle such as Highlander fans have never witnessed on Wilson Field since 1942. The current Eagle squad, eager for another victory to add to their list of seven victims, are anxious to plough under our undaunted Scots. We note with interest that Coach Frosty Holt began early in the week to complain through the press about his "ailing" starters—who are, naturally, his big guns. This is regular "stock in trade" talk of coaches to put the opponents off-guard. We're not falling for any such line of propoganda. And, expecting the Eagles to arrive with their first string intact, the Scots are prepared and determined to subdue the Carson-Newman with plenty of drive in blocking and tackling while popping the leather to 'em.

Somebody's Record Has To Go!

Either the Eagles go home defeated or the Scots relinquish their title of "Giant Killers." That is the dispute tonight. Another point to be settled, though it may seem insignificant, follows: Carson-Newman has scored two touchdowns in every game of this season, AND for two seasons in home games the Highlanders have never allowed any opponent to score more than one touchdown on Wilson Field. Tonight, in the last home game of the season, Maryville's undefeated record in home games for two seasons is at stake along with the one touchdown allowance. We add: the Highlanders have scored 243 points against opponents on Wilson Field in these two seasons while holding the opposition scoreless in 6 out of 9 games and allowing only 3 visitors to score a touchdown.

A Recount With TPI

The strongest team either Carson-Newman or Maryville has hit in the current season is undoubtedly the Tennessee Tech Eagles. Carson-Newman began the season entertaining the Golden Eagles at Jefferson City. Maryville went to Cookeville the next week-end for a fray with the TPI Eagles. Although Carson-Newman beat Tennessee Tech 18-7, and Maryville was thrown for a 7-13 loss, the statistics of the respective games would indicate different scores. While Carson-Newman scraped up 4 first downs, gained a total of 87 yards in the game, and completed 3 passes; the Tech Eagles compiled 9 first downs, ran 135 yards total rushing, and completed 6 passes. The difference in the victories and the loser's statistics is striking.

Close Game Expected

In comparison, the Scots' statistics box is filled better than Carson-Newman's against Tennessee Poly. Maryville had 7 first downs to Tech's 9, gained 108 yards, and Tech gained 157, and Maryville completed 6 passes out of 14 while the Techmen completed 4 out of 7 passes. Thus, by statistics tabulations, the indications are that the game tonight is going to be a close squeeze. The spunk and stamina of the Highlanders tonight will tell the story of the score. LET'S GO SCOTS! CLIP THOSE EAGLES!

Scots vs Eagles Through The Years . . .

Every since 1903 when Maryville's Scotties rumbled over the Jefferson City boys 72-0, the meeting of the Highlanders and the C-N Eagles has always been a boisterous battle. The highest score Maryville has racked up against the Eagles was in 1915 with a 99-0 walk-away. When Coach Honaker came to Maryville in 1921, his team beat the Eagles that year 5-0. Since then, there has never been a tie game between the clubs, and Maryville has won 12 out of 17 games with Carson-Newman while Coach Honaker has been head coach. In the entire 1903-1946 series, Maryville has scored 340 points against the Eagles' 153 and won 15 games to 7 wins for the C-N Eagles. The most disastrous game of any C-N games for the Scots occurred in 1936—the last time the Eagles won—when Carson-Newman trounced Maryville with a 26-0 score in a year that saw the Scots suffer 54-3 loss with Kentucky and a 34-0 defeat by Tennessee.

Significant Quotes

Coach Honaker: "Rather beat Carson-Newman tonight than any game in ten years."... "Most successful season in ten years" say the critics of Carson-Newman before the Tusculum—C-N game. .... "chance to avenge a tremendous 33-7 beating the Highlanders administered last year" hopes Carson-Newman before tonight's game. . . Italics ours: "Let's beat 'em Scots!"

Thanksgiving
BAKERY SPECIALS
LYNCH BAKERY

Scotties Meet Undefeated Eagles

Tough Battle Looms For Scots Against Eagles In Final Home Game of Season

BY KEN OLSEN

Maryville, under the small college spotlight for the third consecutive week, will challenge the undefeated Carson-Newman eleven tonight on Wilson Field. The game is the highpoint of both the schedules—on it depends the Eagles' "undefeated" title and the rounding-out of a successful season for the Highlanders. The main question in both camps is "can Maryville knock off another undefeated team, or will her luck turn?"

Scots Primed For Fight

The Scots, after a week of T-formation defense practice, are keyed up to a high pitch for the scramble. The injury list is noticeable for its blankness. None of the Highlander clan are laid up with serious ailments. The starting line-up is back to normal again with the two Berrongs, Merriman, and Law in the backfield and Talbott, Davis, Kluth, Rock, Anderson, Easter, and Garner in the forward wall.

Carson-Newman Out for Blood

Carson-Newman, still bitter over last year's 33-7 overthrowing jolt by Maryville, is really gunning for the "Gaint-Killer" Scots. The Eagles, thus far undefeated, have only a game with little Cumberland left on their schedule besides the Burley Bowl tilt with West Chester Teachers.

The C-N offense, built for speed, is designed around the T formation. In the starting backfield are "Daddy" Moffett, fancy footed quarterback "rumored" to be out on injuries, "Buster" Jennings, left-half, Rodgers, right-half, and Jack Wade, fullback. In the line appear such ominous names as "Keller" Keller and Kyker, two men who showed some good talent against Tennessee State Teachers.

Other men to watch in the C-N eleven are Woolwine on passes, "Baldy" Crosson on end runs and auxiliary punting, Ailey and Wade on line rushes, Moffett on passes and broken field running, Murray and Rogers on pass receiving.

Game Predictions

The two teams seem to be very closely matched, so closely in fact, that authorities disagree on who will win. Dr. E. E. Litkenhaus, "nationally-known football expert", rates the Scots 5.3 points above the Eagles. On another page in the same paper, the local reports give Carson-Newman the game by a lone touchdown. Both agree that the game will be close.

Last Minute Speculation

With the rain pouring down in unending sheets as this paragraph is being typed, it brings to mind last year's battle in the persistant drizzle. Well could it spell victory or defeat in the last minutes of play if the field is soggy and the ball wet. From the looks of things, the game is going to be a real thriller, perhaps the best seen on this campus in three seasons.

Probable Starting Line-Up

M-C			C-N
(18) Talbott	LE	Parker	(58)
(25) Kluth	LT	Kyker	(74)
(24) Anderson	LG	Allen	(65)
(23) Garner	C	Atkins	(61)
(30) Easter	RG	Keller	(71)
(28) Rock	RT	Willis	(75)
(27) Davis	RE	Murray	(62)
(6) Law	WB	Jennings	(13)
(2) K. Berrong	QB	Moffett	(54)
(3) Merriman	FB	Wade	(39)
(4) L. Berrong	TB	Rogers	(52)

Basketball, Volley Ball League Begins

Intramural basketball and volley ball will begin on November 24; and run until March 1. Team lists must be in the intramural office by Wednesday night, November 19. Each team for basketball and volley ball shall consist of ten men.

Intramural credit between now and November 24, will be obtained in team practices, two hours a week. Boys will individually sign up in the intramural office after each practice.

Soccer Teams Will Clash Mon. Night

Monday, November 17, the men's soccer teams will compete under the lights on Wilson Field at 6:45 p. m. The game is intended as a demonstraton game and will precede the all-star intramural football game. It will be shorter than a normal game, being divided into four 8-minute quarters.

The upperclassmen starters are as follows: at forward, Art Haaf, Charles Bacon, Ken Paxton, "Red" Brown, and Dick Sprague; at halfback, Alan Kiger, Jim Todd, and Lee Orr; at fullback, Bob Eastman and Ed Heerschap and Bob Williams as goalie.

For the freshman, Tom Kees, Clyde Jack, Bill Menges, and Sid Lambert will be forwards; J. A. Cameron, Chester Schieber, and Paul Kidder will be at halfback; Bob Wainer and Reuben Monroe will be at fullback, and John Shaw will be goalie. Bill Vogel and Bob Kay will referee.

Lindsay Wins Dart Tournament

Janice Lindsay, captain of the Howies, defeated Margaret Rock, captain of the Chillies, in the final game of the aerial dart tournament. Lindsay won the first game 15 to 1, and Rock came up to win the second game with a score of 14 to 16. Lindsay made a comeback in the third game to defeat Rock 15 to 7, winning the championship for the Howies.

Tuesday and Thursday, November 11 and 13, point system teams began stunts. A test will be Tuesday, November 18, when points will be given to those girls able to do the stunts. From three to five points will be given for each stunt. Stunts will include such feats as a camel walk, forward roll, free stand, head stand, dog walk and novelty walk.

INTRAMURALS

BY MAYNARD NOBLE

K.M.A. CHAMPS; BEAT EIGHT-BALLS

With a vicious attack against the Eight Balls, Mrs. Newberry's boys of K.M.A. won the intramural football championship for this season Thursday afternoon with a 12-0 victory.

K.M.A. scored its first touchdown late in the second quarter when Rush Lester, the left end, batted the ball from the hands of Reynolds, who was attempting to pass for the Eight Balls. Lester fell on the ball in the end zone, scoring the touchdown. The try for the extra point was no good.

The second touchdown for K. M.A. came early in the fourth period when Mathis threw a 30 yard pass to Brick Brahams in the end zone for a touchdown. Mathis then tried to drop kick the extra point, but failed.

The Eight Balls only threat of crossing K.M.A.'s goal line came late in the fourth quarter when Largen intercepted a pass from Mathis to Lester on his own 26. Campbell of the Eight Balls then went around right end for 30 yards and a first down on K. M.A.'s. 44. Campbell threw a 30 yard pass to the 14. Time ran out as Bicky Smith threw two passes, both of them incomplete. . . . The highlight of the game was a 30 yard runback of a pass interception by Brick Brahams.

LINE UP

Eight Balls	K.M.A.
Smith	B. Brahams, capt.
Hamil	H. Brahams
Campbell	Mathis
Reynolds	Hyatt
McJunkin	Pentz
Largen, capt.	Lester
Ammons,	Miracle
Substitutes	Substitutes
Honaker	Kaye, Willocks
Conkle	Weber, Connell

ALL STARS PLAY MONDAY NIGHT

Next Monday night the game between the All-Stars of the Orange and Garnet leagues will be played on Wilson field at 7:45 p. m. The football game will be preceded by a 6:45 soccer game between a freshmen team and one made up of upperclassmen. The Monday night game will complete the intramural football schedule for this season. The probable starting line ups are as follows:

Orange League

Player	Team
Largen (capt.)	Eight Balls
Reynolds	Eight Balls
Ray Lillard	Eight Balls
Tom Yeaworth	Odds
"Woody" Coul	Odds
Paul Yambert	Odds
Cardella	Jets
Substitutes
Forrester	Mitey Mites
John Poland	U. S. Mules
Roberts	Mitey Mites
Abbott	U. S. Mules

Garnet League

Player	Team
B. Brahams (capt.)	K.M.A.
H. Brahams	K.M.A.
Fowler	Y Frosh
Stanfill	Y Frosh
Miracle	K.M.A.
Packard	Crescents
Lester	K.M.A.
Substitutes
V. Petree	Lokal Yokals
Retke	Crescents
Rahn	Y Frosh
Clenden	Lokal Yokals
McKenzie	Crescents

Officials: Referee, Joe Jernigan; umpire, Ken Newell; head linesman, Charley Warner.

Score by Periods

	1	2	3	4	T
K. M. A.	0	6	0	6	12
8 Balls	0	0	0	0	0

TODAY'S MENU
Just Tempting Good Food

No matter what the hour or the season, you'll always be sure of experiencing a great advanture in good eating when you come here to enjoy every meal. Drop in today or tonight and see.

Wholesome food deliciously served at fair prices

CATE'S CAFE

Christmas Card Time, Again

This Christmas, simplify your Christmas greetings problem. Bring your Christmas card list into Park Drug, where we have a complete selection of cards—dignified, humorous, religious. You can choose the cards you like, and address, seal, stamp and mail them right inside the store. Start today!

Christmas Cards from 15c-75c

—Headquarters for Christmas Shopping—

PARK DRUG STORE

LET'S LOOK INTO THIS TRADITIO N.....

Thanksgiving means a lot of work for Mother. . . let's not deny it! The question before the house is. . . "Why not pitch in and help her?" We know she's grateful for the new range we delivered last week, for the shining silver you gave her on her anniversary. . . . but we know there's nothing that would make her smile quite so much as, "Move over Mom. . . ."

The Tennessee Gas Co.

Through These Portals . . .

A number of Maryville graduates were here for the homecoming events. Reports of the visitors and others are as follows:

Paul Smith, Class of '44, graduated from Columbia Seminary in Decatur, Georgia, last February. He is now serving as pastor of a country church, and is soon leaving for the foreign mission field in Brazil.

Mary Ruth Barber, '47, is employed as a librarian in the University of Tennessee. She is in charge of the documents department, handling government publications.

"Tucky" Thomas, '47, is teaching fifth grade at Stearns Grade School in Stearns, Kentucky.

John Kierstein, '45, will graduate from Columbia Seminary this February.

Billy Robarts, '45, is also employed in the library of U. T., in the circulation department. He is visiting Maryville each Sunday to sing with the Messiah Chorus.

Mary Batchelor, '46, is the Christian Education Secretary for the Peachtree Road Presbyterian Church in Atlanta, Georgia.

"Edie" Earle is teaching the third grade in the Giffin Elementary School in South Knoxville. Miss Earle graduated last year, and hopes to take graduate work in the summers, while teaching.

Doris White, Virginia Clabough —all '47 grads, and Winton Enloe, who left school early this year, returned to the campus for visits recently.

Charles H. Hildreth, '47, and Carol "Skippy" Hall, ex-'47, and married.

The Rev. Paul G. Dickenson and his wife, the former Velma Farley, both Maryville grads, reside in Palmetto, Florida.

Bill Journigan, ex-'50, is a mortician in Orlando, Florida.

Barbara Cowles and John Slayton, both ex-'50 are married and attending U. T.

June Hamilton, '47, is in training at the Piedmont Hospital, Atlanta, Georgia. She intends to became a Registered Medical Technologist next May.

Byron Sprague, '45, is preaching at the First Presbyterian Church, Hanover, Illinois.

Bill Stewart, ex-'50, is with the Army in Japan. He plans to leave Tokyo within the next two months and re-enter Maryville at an early date.

Edward Voorhees and Jayne Moss Shouse, both '47 grads, are doing graduate work at Vanderbilt University.

Claude and John Shell, both '47, are working in Pine Bluff, Arkansas. John is working for his father; Claude is a manager for J. C. Penney Company.

FRENCH CLUB

French Club met in Professor Howell's chemistry lecture room Thursday night. A movie on "Normandy", which was borrowed from the University of Tennessee, was the main feature of the program. Walter Pentz gave a brief talk on the political situation in France today. The meeting was concluded by customary singing of the "Marseillaise."

GOOD SCOUTS!

CAGER gives down-to-the-ground comfort and support with lace-to-toe fit, and soft cradling Arch Cushion. Basket-ball soles are tough. Men's and older boys' sizes. Black with buff. $5.95

U.S. Keds

The Shoe of Champions

PROFFITT'S

Smart Shoes Main Floor

FOUR REPRESENTATIVES OF WORLD FRIENDSHIP TEAM VISIT MC CAMPUS

MISS MARGARET FLOREY

REV. NORMAN A. HORNE

(Other pictures and story on front page)

Faculty Members Interviewed. . .

(Continued from page one)

cially ice cream. Blue is her favorite color.

In addition to attending Maryville, she received her M.A. degree from Columbia University in 1925 and at La Sorbonne, Paris, in 1930. Recently she has studied two summers at Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia.

Ruth Elizabeth Cowdrick, B.A., M.A., Ph.D.

Miss Cowdrick came to Maryville in 1939 after receiving her Ph.D. degree from Columbia University.

She likes all sports and participates in a great many, tennis and swimming being among her favorites.

Her hobby is photography and her favorite color is also blue.

Miss Cowdrick is especially fond of foreign foods. Among her favorite dishes are "suki-yaki", "bouillabaise", and "galettes normandes".

She received her B. A. degree from Barnard College and her M.A. degree from the University of Pennsylvania. She attended the University of Paris, Institute of International Education Fellowship in 1932 and 1933, receiving her graduate diploma in 1933. She also did graduate study in Europe in 1938 and 1939.

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.

30-Minute Service

between

Maryville and Knoxville

Geared for autumn action

There's a three-way treat for your feet in full grained Roblee Wing Tips . . . top-flight fashion, friendly comfort, long-range wear.

PROFFITT'S

Smart Shoes Main Floor

Gillette Wins Cross Country Run

George Gillette, senior track letterman, won the intramural cross country run Thursday afternoon, completing the 2.2 mile course in 11 minutes 33.1 seconds. Charles Mabrey, freshman, was about 30 seconds behind him to place second with time of 12.45. Charles Ducket and Paul Woodbury were third and fourth.

The run began at the north end of the track, continued for one lap, then around the circle drive, out the woods roads to the Briggs' house, back around the track again to the line where they started.

Beat Carson-Newman tonight at 8:00 O'clock

WRITERS' WORKSHOP

Writers' Workshop members heard Hedy Nabholz and Tom Wheeler Wednesday afternoon. Miss Nabholz read "Blessed," a short story dealing with a very small boy and his "most 'fectionate dog." Wheeler read an imaginable conception of the birth of Christ entitled "Immanuel."

Critics were Eleanor Struble and Mildred Orr. Miss Struble criticized Dr. Hunter's short story dramatization, "Moral Principles." Miss Orr criticized David Campbell's poem, "Life."

FARMER & STAPP

BARBER SHOP

THETA EPSILON

Theta Epsilon will meet at 6:00 for a very personal program. "Truth and Consequences" will be the theme and every Theta is asked to be there and protect her good name.

BAINONIAN

Bainonian will have a short meeting this week because of the Carson-Newman game. The program will be in the form of a "stunt night".

Thanksgiving Feasts Ahead For All Of Us

Big treats for Little Money

Buy Meats for Sandwiches, Cookies for Parties and Teas, Fresh Fruits and Fruit Juices—Everything you need for good eating.

Just 200 yards from the South Gate

NICELY'S GROCERY

For That Special Gift-Make It Flowers!

Beautiful Corsages—of Fall Flowers

Cut Flowers and Pot Plants of all Types

Member FTD

Phone 163-J Sevierville Pike

COULTER'S FLORIST

Featuring

BOTANY

Always Smartly Styled

Always with the same Superb Fabrics

Always a Pleasure to Wear

Always America's Longer Lasting Value

BRAND

Shirts and slacks in handsome gabardine, flannel, and checked worsteds. Shirts $10.95 and up.....Slacks $13.95 and up.

"Botany" Brand Wrinkle-Proof Mufflers...in a handsome variety of colors and patterns.....$1.95.

"Botany" Brand Wrinkle-Proof Ties...famous the world over $1 and $1.50.

"Botany" Brand Flannel Robes for year round warmth without weight.....$15.95 and up.

"Botany" Brand wool hose.....$1.50 and $2

Proffitt's Man's Shop

Since 1919 -- "The Best Place To Trade"

"VAGABONDA" BARNWARMING

THE Highland Echo

SCOTTIES, MAKE TUSCULUM SORRY

VOLUME 33 — MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, NOVEMBER 22, 1947 — NUMBER 13

Salon of Prints, Slides Presented By Camera Club

The Camera Club at its meeting Thursday night announced its first hanging of photographic work done by members. For the next meeting, December 4th, the public is invited to see the salon of prints and slides which will be presented in the Art Gallery. The salon will be in two sections; a program of slides in color which will be projected to the audience, and an exhibition of prints and enlargements which will be hung on the walls.

A committee of impartial judges will select the photographs which the students will enter anonymously. This First Salon is restricted in entry to Camera Club members, but future salons will be open for entry by all campus photographers. The public is invited to attend the meeting December 4, to see the selected work.

At the meeting, Bill McIlvaine gave an illustrated discourse upon the art of composing the photograph. McIlvaine is a freshman from Pennsylvania. The president of the club, Charles Naundorf, then named a committee of planning for the salon. Chairman of the committee is Dick Ebelacker, sophomore of Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania. Serving with him are Dwight Garrison, of Texas, and Charles Kruger from Missouri.

College Orchestra Presents Program

The Maryville College Orchestra under the direction of Mr. Curtis Hughes will give its first performance of the school ygar Friday night, November 28, at eight o'clock in the Alumni Gymnasium.

The program will be in two parts. In the first the Orchestra will play "Rosmunde Overture" by Schubert and "March Slav" by Tschaikowsky." In the second they will play Beethoven's "Concerto No. 1 in C Major", Op. 15, with Miss Louise Lolyd at the piano.

YW—YM

Choral music presented by the Men's Glee Club and the All-Girl Choir, under the direction of Mr Curtis Hughes, will be featured in a joint Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. program this Sunday. The program is to be held at 1:30.

LANGUAGE CLUBS PLAN COMBINED MEETING MONDAY

The German, French, and Spanish Clubs are having a combined meeting in Bartlett Hall at 6:45 p. m. Monday. The program will consist of special music, a skit and songs from the different groups. All members are urged to attend this unusual meeting.

IRC WILL HEAR MR. CLYDE EMERT

Mr. Clyde B. Emert, editor of the Maryville Times, will speak at the December 1 meeting of I. R. C. His speech will deal with the Russian question.

Last Friday night the I. R. C. gave a reception for the World Friendship Team in Baldwin Hall following the meeting of the club.

Rev. J. R. Miller Speaks In Chapel

Reverend J. Reed Miller, recently installed president of Knoxville College, Knoxville, Tennessee, will speak next Wednesday morning in the Alumni Gym. Rev Mr. Miller, who is a native of Pittsburgh, graduated from the University of Pittsburgh in 1932 and received his M.A. there in 1939. In 1936 he received his degree from the Pittsburgh Xenia Seminary, and did some work in 1940 and 1941 toward his Ph. D.

From 1936 until 1945 Rev. Mr. Miller was pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church in Xenia, Ohio, and held the pastorate of the Wheeling, Pa., United Presbyterian Church from 1945 until this spring. In June, 1947 he was installed as president of Knoxville College for Negroes. He has done considerable work in the field of Christian education for children, and has written a handbook for Christian parents which is an evaluation of books to be used in the training of their children.

Dr. Crothers Speaks To Geography Class

Dr. W. H. Crothers, former pastor of New Providence Presbyterian Church, spoke on India last Tuesday, November 18, to Mrs. Kramer's geography class. Dr. Crothers taught in a school in India for six months, and he has much interest in the country and its people today.

Dr. Crothers brought out the fact that the Hindus will come out with a more satisfactory situation than the Moslems in the new change in affairs in India.

Photo Exhibition Displayed In Lamar Library

Based On Article Published In "Life"

The Age of Enlightenment, a photographic exhibition prepared by the editors of Life is on display in the Library, and will be through December 5. The exhibition is based on the article which appeared in an issue of Life in its series of essays on the development of Western Culture.

Aufklarungszeit

Many of the ideas and institutions in which 20th Century man is so confident were not always taken for granted. He can claim them today because of a small group of scholars, artists and scientists living in France during the 18th Century. Their speculations so advanced man's knowledge of himself, and spread such an intellectual glory upon their age that the German philosopher Immanuel Kant called it the Aufklarungszeit—the Age of Enlightenment.

It is this intellectual and social ferment of 18th Century France that is revealed in the exhibition Age of Enlightenment. Historically important changes are changes in the way men's minds work. To describe such changes visually, by means of pictorial material, is a difficult but exciting task. The Age of Enlightenment suggests something of this excitement.

Three Sections Orginal

Organized under three main sections (Versailles, Paris and Age of Crisis) the exhibition presents a pictorial analysis of one of the great epochs in the history of Western Culture. In the first section Versailles stands forth as a symbol of Bourdon glory: vast and corrupt yet still powerful. The second section presents the resisting vitality of Paris and the philosophers—a bourgeoning vitality that made that beautiful city the intellectual capitol of the world. Voltaire, Rousseau, Diderot, Montesquieu, Lavoisier, all of them contributed to the systematic examination of man and his surroundings. The third section reveals the impact upon "the people" of the conflict between the ideas of the Enlightenment and the old regime. The exhibition closes with the Oath of the Tennis Court and The Coronation of Napoleon.

Among the artists and architects whose work is included are Boucher, Fragonard, Nattier, Rigaud, Watteau, Mereau le Jeune, David, Drouais, Debucourt, Ledoux, Greuze, Delamaire and Soufflot, as well as many engraving, prints and miscellaneous photographs.

DR. LLOYD SPEAKS IN PITTSBURGH, N. Y.

President Ralph W. Lloyd has gone to Pittsburgh and New York to fill speaking appointments and on College business. Mr. S. E. Hening, Director of Development, will join him in Pittsburgh Monday.

Dr. Lloyd is to speak at Third Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, Sunday morning, and at The Hungry Club, a public noon day forum meeting, in downtown Pittsburgh Monday.

Mr. John Hunter Dies Suddenly

Mr. John A. Hunter, father of Miss Nancy B. Hunter, secretary to the president of the College, died suddenly with a heart attack while playing golf at the Green Meadow Country Club near Maryville Monday afternoon. Mr. Hunter had made his home with his daughter here since his retirement a few years ago as an official of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Company in Pittsburgh.

He was a leader in church and community life in Pittsburgh, where he was an elder in the Ben Avon Presbyterian Church for more than twenty-five years.

A short memorial service was held in Maryville on Tuesday afternoon by President Lloyd and Dr. Graham, Pastor of New Providence Church. Miss Hunter and her brother, who lives in Birmingham, took their father's body to Pittsburgh for burial beside that of their mother.

ART CLUB

Art Club members will visit the home of Mrs. W. L. Patterson Monday evening, November 24. Mrs. Patterson is a local artist and former art instructor of Maryville College. She will discuss painting and problems in art.

All members and guests will assemble at Room 23, Anderson Hall at 6:45 p. m.

Meeting Held By M.C. Directors

The Maryville College Board of Directors held its fall meeting on the campus last Tuesday, November 18. Plans were made for a financial campaign for funds to rebuild the Chapel, build a new women's dormitory, and build an additional science building. Detailed announcements will be made a little later.

The goal of the campaign is the largest amount of money ever sought by the College at any one time. President Lloyd and Mr. E. E. Hening, newly appointed Director of Development, along with other officers of the College, will organize the project.

The Board heard reports of the President and Treasurer for the past year and adopted a budget for next year. Judge Samuel O'Grady Houston of Knoxville was reelected Chairman for the seventeenth consecutive year.

MC Delegates Favor NSA, Report To Student Council

HUGHES BECOME PROUD PARENTS

It's a boy! Joseph Edmund Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis B. Hughes, was born 12:23 p. m., November 15, at the Blount Memorial Hospital— weight, 7 lb., 1 oz. Mr. Hughes, instructor in music, is director of the All-Girls' Choir, Men's Glee Club, orchestra, and band. Mrs. Hughes was instructor in dramatic arts last year.

Miss Henry Speaks At Sunday Vespers

Miss Clemmie Jane Henry, Director of Student Help, will be the speaker at Sunday's vesper service. Miss Henry's theme will be from the quotation "I will make of thee a great nation"—Gen. 12:2, her topic being, "God's Need for Great Men and Great Nations."

The special music rendered by the Vesper Choir will be "O Magnum Mysterium" by de Victoria and "Hodie Christus Natus Est' 'by Healei Willan.

Special Christmas Buses Planned

Ray Saunders is announcing the possibility of obtaining through buses to take students home for Christmas. These buses will go to Washington, D. C., to Cincinnati, Ohio, and to Lake City, Florida. The bus going to Cincinnati may go as far as Pittsburgh, Penn., and the one to Washington may go to New York.

The tickets will be bought for the individual towns and will be the same price as any bought under ordinary circumstances.

The buses will leave after the last exams on either Wednesday or Thursday, depending on the number of persons signed up for these days. All those who wish to travel on any of these buses may sign on the sign-up sheets posted in the dorms, or see Mr. Saunders for specific information.

CALENDAR

Saturday, November 22
2:30—Buses leave for Tusculum.
6:15—Societies meet
8:00—"Dear Ruth" at MHS Auditorium

Sunday, November 23
1:30—Joint YM-YW meeting
7:00—Vespers
8:00—Student Vols

Monday, November 24
6:45—Art Club, Tau Kappa Chi, Language Clubs joint meeting

Tuesday, November 25
5:00-10:00—Town Night

Thursday, November 27
12:05 a. m.-1200 p. m.—Thanksgiving
7:00—Barnwarming

Friday, November 28
8:00—Orchestra Concert

Lester, Cotton, Poland Attend Memphis Meeting

Rush Lester, E. J. Cotton and John Poland, returning last Monday from the regional assembly of the National Student Association, pronounced themselves strongly in favor of the organization, and recommended that the student body back it to the hilt, not allowing any financial drawbacks to interfere with Maryville's participation in it.

Seventeen colleges from the Tennessee-Kentucky region were represented at the assembly held last Saturday and Sunday at Southwestern College in Memphis, the University of Tennessee and Vanderbilt being conspicuous by their absence. The University of Kentucky and of Louisville were the two universities represented. 40 to 50 persons including the 19 voting delegates attended each session.

Rush Lester, who was Maryville's voting delegate, summed up before the Student Council last Wednesday the accomplishments of the assembly which had on its agenda the writing of a constitution and the making of immediate plans.

Madison Convention Briefed

As an introduction to his play by play report he summarized the Madison Convention, the national convention of the National Students Association, going over the constitution drafted there, which must be ratified within nine months, the proposal formulated and the plans drawn up.

He observed that five basic questions faced the convention: the relationship of the NSA with existing organizations; proportional representation of student bodies; representation of executive committee; whether the advisory board of prominent adults should exercise judiciary powers; and the method of affiliation with the World Student Service Fund, the International Union of Students, and the National Student Fund. Lester then went over the reports on the three panels set up by the convention for discussion of student governments, student rights and international activities.

Student Government Discussed

The report on the student government panel passed from the discussion of structure and functions to the relationship of students, faculties and administrations, and then to the place of student government in student finances, social welfare, cultural welfare, part time employment, vocational information service, student housing, publications, and welfare, health and recreation.

RACE DISCRIMINATION FACED

The panel on student rights faced the knottiest problem of the convention in accomplishing the NSA's stated purpose of "securing the eventual elimination of all forms of discriminatory educational institutions anywhere in the United States." Negro and Northern delegates who wished the NSA to act on the problem of discrimination on a national level, came to a compromise with southern whites who feared that national by-law provisions on the elimination would impair their regional autonomy, as well as being contrary to their state laws and customs. The compromise which grew out of three days and nights of turbulent committee panel discussions and individual caucuses, provided that the NSA "will take action on the national, regional and campus levels. . . to implement its stated principles, with regard to the legal limitations involved."

Affiliation with the International Union of Students was authorized, subject to ratification by two-thirds of member schools, with provisions which will pre-

(Continued on page four)

"Vagabonda" Doors Will Open Thursday Night

Barnwarming Held In Gymnasium, Begins at 7:00

The Barnwarming Vagabonds will be joined by the Maryville College student body in the annual Thanksgiving program which will be presented in the Alumni Gymnasium, Thursday evening, November 27.

The doors will open at 7:00 and entertainment until the time for the main show will be eight booths of skill and fun, similar to carnival booths. One booth will be a refreshment stand where refreshments will be sold during the evening.

The theme for the program is "Vagabonda," and, as customary, the program will not be entirely revealed. The main show will begin at 8:30 with approximately 80 students taking part.

The main feature of the evening will be the revealing and crowning of king and queen of Barnwarming and the presentation of the class sponsors. They will be introduced in the early part of the program. Nominees for king and queen are Elsie Onifer, Ruth Williams, Lloyd Anderson, and Cotton Easter. Class sponsors who were nominated recently in class meetings are Marilyn Hartpence and Joyce Jones from the senior class. Gwyneth Williams and Grace Ellen Cross from the senior class; Gwyneth rant and Janet Blackmore from the sophomore class; and Peggy Burrow and Dot Downey from the freshman class.

The program, which is under the sponsorship of the YWCA, is directed this year by Lorraine Swift, senior chemistry major from Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Elsie Onifer, senior biology major from Maybeury, West Virginia.

In addition to the committee chairmen who have previously been announced, another chairman, Carl Lazenby, has been appointed.

The price of the tickets is 40 cents and will go on sale Monday. All proceeds will go to the World Student Service Fund.

Do You Know . . At one time there was a club on Maryville's campus called Junior Order of United American Moonshiners.

Final Performance Of "Dear Ruth" Given Tonight

Formal Dinner Held Last Night

Dear Ruth, Theta Alpha Phi play starring Janice Landstrom, Jim Black, Marian Pope, Roger Cowan, and Max House, held its first performance last night. Presented in the Maryville High Auditorium, the last performance will be tonight and has been advertised as family night.

Last night's performance was preceded by a formal dinner held in the college dining hall. The hall was decorated with garnet white crepe paper, and two candles were placed on each table. Several of the cast members gave short speeches.

Other Cast Members

Other members in the cast are Katherine Carpenter, Lois Thomas, Mary Mitchell Wooldridge, Anderson Clark, and Kenneth Ross.

The play is directed by Miss Jessie May Wilde, director of the Drama and Speech Department. Bob Thompson is the assistant director.

Workshop Hears Pieces By Martha Hull, Hunter

Harold Hunter, junior, read a short story, "Blocking Back," at the last meeting of the Writers' Workshop last Wednesday afternoon. It was a grid-iron story which, dealing with the overshadowing of one player by another, told of the inner conflict in the personality of the lesser. Martha Hull also read a short piece which she called "A Bit of Pleasantry."

At the same meeting Esther Cornelius criticised Hedy Nabholz' piece, "Blessed," and Dr. Hunter criticised Tom Wheeler's story, "Immanuel."

STUDENT VOLS

Student Vols will present their projects for the year at the meeting Sunday night in Bartlett. Mariagrazia Merlanti will present the project of aiding certain families in Italy and Craig Fisher will speak on the needs in Iran. The College Quartet will sing.

Visitors Star In WGAP Program

Prizes Won By Two Maryville Students

Broadway Serenade, a WGAP broadcast of the audience participation type, has recently been scheduled at 8:00 on Tuesday nights, and one in which students can participate. It is a combination of Information Please and Kay Kyser's Kollege of Musical Knowledge where contestants, picked from audience, try to stump the experts, and then the experts try to stump the contestants.

Each contestant may have as many as three chances to name a popular— excluding classical, semiclassical, hillbilly, and novelty songs—song title which the experts cannot sing or play. If one succeeds he wins $5.00.

Local Geniuses"

The experts, who are local musical "geniuses." reciprocate, paying $1.00 for identification of their song and $5.00 if the contestant can sing it.

Last Tuesday, Dot Stater, Michigan sophomore, and Coe Iris Berwald, freshman from Ohio, participated in the program. Miss Stater sang "The Gypsy Trail" and Miss Berwald stumped the experts with "Who'll Take Care?" Miss Berwald plans to add her $5.00 to her Christmas shopping fund.

Tickets Are Free

Tickets to the broadcast are free but limited. This is not an exclusive program for college students, but a number of tickets will be reserved for them. They may be obtained at the studio, fifth floor Blount National Bank Building, or at the Costner-Eagleton Motor Co., sponsor of the program.

Jimmy Hess' regular 9:30 "Night Out" program will continue as usual for college students.

Students, Band Leave Today For Tusculum

Six buses of students, including the band and cheerleaders, left for Greeneville this afternoon at 2:30. Approximately 180 students will make up the Maryville cheering section at the Maryville-Tusculum game.

The band, under the direction of Mr. Curtis Hughes, will have two pre-game maneuvers which will be the forming of a T and an M. The alma mater will be played while the band is in the M formation. The National Anthem will be played before the game also. During the half time the band will use an entrance formation, the weaving formation used at last week's game, a new marching formation, and the heart formation which was also used at the Carson-Newman game. "For Me and My Gal" will be played during this formation. Also during the half the band will form an M with a revolving square and play the Maryville fight song.

With this game the Maryville band will end its activities for this school year. It has played at each home game and marched through town once, before the Hiwassee game.

Bushels of Potatoes, Ninety-odd Pies; College Students Noted For Appetites

BY HAZEL HOLM

What shall we have for supper tonight? How about six bushels of potatoes, two boilers full of beans, 190 loaves of bread, 250 pounds of chicken, and 182 quarts of milk? Sounds a little fantastic doesn't it! But that is the kind of a menu Miss Suzie Ware plans for three times each day.

There are six cooks, all colored, who begin preparing supper at 3:30 and by 5:15 it is all ready to begin cooking. You may think you do a dreadful lot of dishes while you're home, but in the Pearsons dining hall, for one meal, there are 728 plates to be boiled and it keeps three men busy.

It takes a woman's touch to make biscuits, so Agnes, the only colored woman hired, does them all and it's no small job.

The potato masher (and combination whip cream whipper) will hold three bushels of potatoes, and Joe fills it up twice for one "serving." When asked how they determine the amount of seasoning to use, he replied with a laugh, "I don't know, it just always comes out that way."

Figures don't lie—on pie days the students manage to consume 91 pies.

All the milk for breakfast is produced on the college dairy, and kept in huge refrigerators at the back of the kitchen. Swift and Armour furnishes the college with all its meat.

Miss Ware has no special program for her meal planning and so does not merely rotate a circle of menus: each day finds her making arrangements for the following day's breakfasts, lunches and suppers.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1947

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

EDITORIAL STAFF

Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Ruth Ramsey, Ilda Mosby, Mariagrazia Merlanti, Dick Sprague, Carroll Stegall

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb, Ruth Davis

FRESHMEN APPRENTICES
Jean Hunt, Mary Lyerly, Hazel Holm, Elenor Kramer, Donald Whelan

SPORTS STAFF

Kenneth Olsen ..... Editor
Herbert McCallum ..... Sophomore Reporter
Maynard Noble ..... Freshman Apprentice

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF

Business Manager ..... Ruth Williams

SENIOR ASSISTANTS
Mary Jane Long, Florence Housch

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Margaret Weaver

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANTS
Bob Watkins, Joe Claude, Janet Blackmore

FRESHMEN ASSISTANTS
Barbara Altfather, Naoagene Morrow, Anita Withers

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

Volume 32 Number 13

NSA—A GOOD THING

Probably Maryville students have heard little, if anythihng, of the National Student Association, but the lack of knowledge can easily be understood since the organization was only recently born.

The NSA, as is explained in one of the front page stories, is primarily interested in promoting the welfare of all students, regardless of sex, religion, political beliefs, race, or economic circumstances. One of its aims is to stimulate the development of democratic self-government, a project Maryville has long been working toward. Other purposes are to secure academic freedom and the rights of students; foster better educational facilities, improve student social, cultural, and physical welfare; promote international understanding, and aid in securing for all people equal rights.

With headquarters on the University of Wisconsin campus, NSA is immediately beginning work on campus affairs, raising educational standards in America, and fostering the exchange of students and cultural ideas between countries. Only recently the State Department in Washington approved NSA representation on the United States Commission for UNESCO, United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization, an approval NSA had previously voted to seek.

The three Maryville delegates who attended the regional assembly in Memphis last week, E. J. Cotton, Rush Lester, and John Poland, were particularly interested in learning more about student government. It is clearly understood by the organization that the authority with which student government operats, particularly with which it begins, is no sovereign power, but it is delegated by the adminstration or faculty.

Before long, the three Maryville representatives will formulate a report to be presented to the student body. Such a report, we feel, should be given the full attention of every student at M.C.

LADY NEEDS COMPANY

Lady McTavish, the college mascot, has announced (through her keepers, the Dunns of Stanley Street) that she is anxious to make the acquaintance of other members of Maryville College, and is available for any function or outing. Lady is a well mannered young miss who will happily join anyone going for a walk in the woods, or a run on the campus. She is fond of photographers, and poses willingly.

Anyone who would like to have Lady spend an afternoon with them is invited to call for her, with or without appointment, at her home, which is the last house on the right side of Stanley street going to Nicely's Grocery Store. Only one word of caution is necessary: Lady, while loving candy, must not eat such. They upset her, and therefore her doctors have placed her on a diet restricting all starches.

C.S.

NEWS CAPSULES

By Carroll Stegall

COMMUNISTS CONTAINED

Delegates to the United Auto Workers re-elected Walter Reuther to presidency and rejected the candidates supported by left-wing, Communist members, who were entirely defeated in the election.

COLONISTS COMPLAIN

Fed-up with "high prices on homes" 18 men, women and children sailed from Los Angeles in a 73-ft. ship to establish a colony on Chirote, a jungle island 20 miles off the coast of Panama.

MARRIAGE MAINTAINED

Princess Elizabeth was married to her remote cousin, Philip Mountbatten, in a wedding that dazzled the empire. "No austerity" was held, for most of the subjects of the kingdom preferred to have the respite offered by a glittering event to liven up the dull life of England today. Philip, now a Duke, can now receive an automatic increase of $19.83 a week in his Navy pay: $17.50 marriage allowance plus $1.33 for extra rations.

RACKET RESTRAINED

Pay-dirt showed up in the Howard Hughes hearing. But Hughes was not the lode-bearing vein; instead the light switched to an ex-Army General named Benny Meyers who had more money than any general had comng. Investigation proved that Meyers had meddled into big business deals illegally, controlled firms by putting up money, fixing prices, dictating minutes of boards that had never met, and forcing salary kick-backs. The court indicated that steps would be taken.

Much Echo About Nothing

BY THE STAFF

What with Dear Ruth going all out, things have really been happening this past week. The best, we think, is the story about the balloon, but maybe it's because we, as the staff, were subjected to the lengthy story last Thursday night. Listenin' when we should have been workin'.

As the story goes, Stegall, Ruggerio, and others had planned the balloon ascension for weeks, and, to make a long tale short, it goes like this: Ruggerio meant to blow up the object of attention with hydrogen gas generated in the lab. . . .poor results, no gas, no pressure, no inflated balloon. . . ."Give up idea?". . . . "NO!" call airport. . . . "Any helium?". . . . "Scientific experiment?". . . . . "Sure, scientific experiment.". . . . "O.K." . . . . rush to airport; come back with beautifully inflated balloon. . . . tie sign on balloon. . . . sign too heavy. . . . cut out letters of sign and scotch tape them together. . . . balloon lifts sign. . . climb to top of Anderson. . . . last minute inspection. . . .balloon slips from Stegall's hands, hits ceiling, and— — — . . .deep profound sadness. . . no balloon. . . no balloon ascension. . . . poor, poor Dear Ruth.

But "lettuce" change the subject. We "canteloupe" lest we end up in the same condition as "Pop" Hughes. The other day he told of dreaming that his new-born son was crying. So—he took the child, like fathers will do, and tried to soothe the little one with baby-talk. The astonished baby stopped, started at his father, and twirped, "Shut-up, stupid!". . . . Incidentally, one Baldwinite cracked, "I don't believe I know him," when Miss Harwood announced that Mr. Hughes, Jr. had arrived.

Such practices! To think that Frank Ladner would gamble! ! We actually heard that he bet someone $5 that he could do 400 sit-ups.

Marty and Nelson chose an appropriate time to announce their engagement. How many other couples have been sung to during a formal dinner by candle-light?

Lil Conrad. . . . "Little Buddha". . . . Joe McGill. . . . You put the puzzle together; we can't.

Says Dr. Hunter, "On Friday we shall gather—the faithful and those who have used up all their cuts—"

Note to football team: After the touchdown and extra point last Saturday night, Elsie Onifer screamed, "I love 'em—I love 'em, every one!"

"And, Carl (Bell)," spoke the co-ed, "he said his curiosity was killin' him." Answers Carl, "By gosh, somethin' oughta kill 'im!"

We sympathize with Art Haaf and Bill Anderson after Cowan's Friday night remark that his Dear Ruth role was a cross between the two. Guess we should see the play tonight.

We wonder, did Dan Buchanan cut choir practice the other night? At least we hope he finished the research paper that was due a month ago. . . Wondering again: Who's the Chilhowean Girl of the Year?" . . . . Who's Chilhowean Boy of the Year?

Five more days until Barnwarming. Freshmen are still asking, "What is Barnwarming?" The chairmen only hope that they won't continue asking after Thursday.

Someone mentioned Holly. . . Thanks to the intelligent, there were cheers in the Greek language at the all-star game. . . . Someone mentioned Baier. . . . Did you see the swallow-tails on campus the other day? We had heard of such things.

Twenty-six more days in this semester. . . . . Three more ECHO publications. . . .O happy day! Incidentally, the staff is writing this column at the last minute because Ilda is ill. How could she play such a trick? Craig, where art thou?

Have you noticed how beautiful Matt Cardella is becoming? Acquired: Two front teeth. Lost: One black eye. Result: We—ell.

We've heard all sorts of comments on last Saturday night's game, but at least one mystery remains. What happened to that C-N guy who took a rest, face down, on the west end of the field during the latter part of the game?

Caution: Those new basketball goals are not only for use, but also for beauty—as one ECHO staff member was kindly informed by Coach—and if a tack is found in one of the backboards it's gonna mean somebody's neck. "Lettuce" plead for cooperation. No matter who puts the tack or nail in the backboard, we know whose neck will suffer. So does Fogarty, Harold Henry, and a few other over-hearers.

Impressions: Andy Clark, perpetual motion. . . . . Rowena Mann, Ivory tickler. . . . Paul Woodbury, shutter-bug. . . . "Cotton" Easter, blue eye, black eye. . . . Formals. . . Tusculum. . . Peace.

TALK OF THE WEEK

By Jean Almy

Echoes Of The Past

1850—Maryville citizens were being solicited for money to complete a college edifice which was only half finished, but after the funds were collected, it was destroyed in the Civil War.

1860—Maryville held its last year of college, closing because of the Civil War.

1870—Memorial and Baldwin Halls were begun.

1880—Enrollment increased to 200 students. All but 34 college students were in the preparatory department.

1890—The president's home was built, and Dr. S. W. Boardman moved in.

1900—Fayerweather Building was completed.

1910—Pearsons Hall was erected.

1920—Prep School was discontinued. The College had an enrollment of 452, many of whom were World War I veterans.

1930—Samuel Wilson resigned from president's office, after 29 years of service.

Do You Know . . Tusculum College is Maryville's oldest rival in both literary and athletic contests.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

The V.F.W. of Maryville has a special interest in the veterans of Maryville College. We would like very much to have them join our organization if they have not yet done so. We are aware of the fact that many of them are from other states but Maryville is their temporary home and we feel that this organization can be a great service to them.

A cordial invitation is extended to all the veterans of the "Hill" to come over to our new home on Magnolia Avenue any afternoon or evening, look the place over, and enjoy the entertainment. There is a service officer on duty here every Tuesday and Thursday from 2:00 P. M. to 4:00 P. M. with whom you may discuss the particulars.

Post Historian,
Frank D. Giles.

ALUMNI NEWS

Through These Portals

PERSONALITIES

Mary Margaret Robarts, '47 is teaching in a nursery and is also a religious education worker in Coral Gables, Florida. Her brother, Bill, '46, is library assistant at U. T.

Jean Williams, '47, the former Jean Messer, is an assistant in the bacteriology laboratory of the University of Georgia, School of Medicine.

Maurice Ottinger, ex-'50, is attending East Tennessee State Teachers College in Johnson City. He was on the campus to watch the football game between E. T. and M. C.

Lucille Sitler, '46, visited the campus for several days on a vacation from her duties with the Eli Lilly Pharmaceutical Company in Indianapolis. She is a laboratory technician there, and at present is working with the wonder drug, strepromycin. She stated that she "had just finished preparing a culture, and could not tell the results until it had aged several days, and so came to Homecoming to avoid the strain of concern over the new culture".

Peggy Caldwell, '45, is Christian Education Secretary at the Hiland Presbyterian Church in Louisville, Kentucky.

John Shell, '47 is bookkeeper and office manager for his father's farm supply store in Pine Bluff, Arkansas. Mr. Shell spent several days on the campus.

Harvey Overton, '47, is enrolled at Columbia Seminary, in Decatur.

Other visitors have been upon the campus recently, including:

June Garland, '47, is Director of Religious Education in the parish program of Crittendon County, Kentucky. Her plans are to enroll in the McCormick School of Religious Education.

Abbott Kemp, better known as "Squire", of the class of '47, is employed as an insurance adjuster in Asworth, Georgia.

Owen McGarrity, '47, is in his second year of seminary in Chicago.

Leonard Schieber, '47, frequently visits the campus. He has an assistant position in the physics department at U. T.

Margaret McClure, '47, plans to attend the Christian Education School at Princeton when her husband Scott McClure goes to seminary there next year. The McClures now live in Maryville.

Lottie Lavender, '47 of Knoxville is engaged.

Jack Craig, '47 is attending Princeton Seminary.

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

THE IDEAL TREAT

Top of your Thanksgiving feast with an ice cream dessert.

BYRNE DRUG CO.

PARK
Tuesday-Wednesday
"Cross My Heart"
with Sonny Tufts and Betty Hutton

CAPITOL THEATRE
Monday-Tuesday
"The Unfinished Dance"
starring Margaret O'Brien, Cyd Charisse, Karin Booth
Also comedy and latest news

Wednesday-Thursday
"Desert Fury"
with Lizabeth Scott, John Hodiak, and Burt Lancaster

Thanksgiving Feasts Ahead For You

We have a Special Holiday Feast prepared for you. This is our

MENU

Turkey Dinner and All its Trimmings

Moderate Price

DUBBY'S GRILL

M. M. ELDER CASH CARRY STORE

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

What a game! Although conscientious Orange and Garnet backers believe our Scots were rolled back all too fast in the first half, what the Highlanders did in the last half to even the count made history. Indeed, it was without a doubt the closest and most thrilling game since football history was made here before the late war.

Gentle reader(s) please hang on while we whirl through the Carson-Newman tie, its consequences, and its pandemoniumonic panorama . . . . .

If you can't be a winner, do the next best thing—tie 'em! That's how the Scots reasoned with the Carson-Newman Eagles last Saturday. Although the tie tarnished the Scots' "Giant Killer" role, the title still commands attention.

Scots Slam Bowl Door

As "Giant Killers" the Scots shut the Middle Tennessee Blue Raiders out of a possible bowl bid to humbling an unscored on Sewanee (which hasn't yet recuperated) and putting a blemish on the Burley-Bowl-Bound Eagles. Rumors had circulated before the Scots defeated Middle Tenn. State that their Raiders were possible candidates for the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Texas. The Burley Bowl, we recall, invited the Highlanders last year from a Thanksgiving game. Maryville turned down the Burley Bowl bid when the Highlanders were in the bowl spotlight. This year the Burley Bowl bade Carson-Newman enter before meeting Lombe Honaker's "Giant Killers." Early in the season, Jefferson City fans believed the Eagles could draw 25,000 to the Burley Bowl on the strength of their 18-7 victory over TPI regardless of how the remander of the season ran.

The Carson-Newman eleven started the game presenting a staunch, solid front against the Scots' attack. The most devastating plays of the C-N offense were: (1) the wide end sweeps (2) the fast hand-off plays that played havoc with defensive Scots. A "T" with a strong ground offense was something the Scots hadn't met until the Eagles came. To put it graphically; For the first half, the Scots were off their feet more than they were on them.

Carson-Newman Tough

The biggest surprise of the game to us was the break-away by Cosson for a touchdown. It was third down and ten when he ripped through the Highlander defense at a time when the Eagles appeared bottled up. Before he broke in the open, it looked as if he were smothered by Scottie tacklers and herded to the sidelines. But he was gone . . . . .

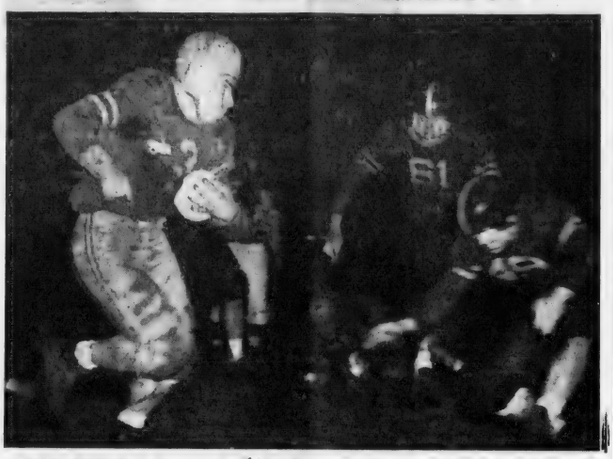
Maryville's pass defense completely annihilated the threat of the Eagle aerial attack. Neff was fast becoming the best pass receiver the Eagles had. Since the "dangerous" Eagle passing attempts didn't strike a spark, Neff and Boring were the only two receivers to catch a Carson-Newman pass.

Alan Rock, leading a fast Maryville line down the field, made the prettiest tackle of the night in the second quarter when he caught Jennings just latching on to a punt on the Maryville 35. This punt was a high and spiralling Boring boot good for 4 8yards.

Berrong "Intercepts" Fumble

Maryville got one "break" in the first half—that amazing catch of a fumble by Jennings on the Eagle 32 by King Berrong, who carried on without a change of pace. Then something happened that seldom was the fate of a Highlander threat inside the enemy 20 this year. Stopped cold. With three downs spent, Miller started on a double-reverse-end-around that spelled on gain with the consequence of a lost ball on the Eagle 10. This end-around act, which first clicked for a touchdown against East Tennessee State and made exceptional yardage against TPI, was soundly smacked by the Eagles who were wise to Highlander scoring tricks. (The Eagle contingent, including the waterboy, had made a trip to Murfreesboro to watch the Scots at work!)

The Boring vs. Woolwine punting duel was marked by long punts with high trajectories. Leon Berrong, however, had started the punting war with a quick-kick on the Scots' first series of downs.



Scotties Break Loose

The swift recovery of the Highlanders after a fiery "pep" talk at half-time by their "Chief" was better than brilliant. Never again did the Eagles get loose or exert strength on offense after the half. The Scotties kept the ball and pounded away allowed the Eagles no first downs, and a meager 12 yards rushing in the 3rd period. Then the downfield blocking of the Scots, which was lacking in the initial phase of the game, became effective with Merriman, Fogarty, and Leon Berrong plowing through to drag the Eagles ragged.

Merriman literally "saved the day" for the Maryville cause with his spectacular touchdown run. Then Fogarty took the iron out of the fire with a vitally needed extra point. What a game!

Thanksgiving
BAKERY SPECIALS
LYNCH BAKERY

MERRIMAN MARCHES AGAINST C-N

Hershell Merriman on the move in last Saturday's game with Carson-Newman on Wilson Field. Wade (49), an Eagle halfback, goes down in front to tackle Merriman while Atkins (61) closes in. The Eagles stopped the hard driving Scottie fullback on this attempt, but later in the game Merriman's 30 yard dash gave Maryville a touchdown, and, with an extra point added by Fogarty, a 7-7 tie with the undefeated Eagles. (photo by Charles Naundorf)

Scot Wrestling Season Opens With Chattanooga On Dec. 13

Practice Begins Monday Under Davis

BY KEN OLSEN

December 13 is opening night on the Scot wrestling calendar this season. The Maryville grapplers will travel westward to meet the University of Chattanooga to begin the 1947-1948 season, just before Christmas.

Although pre-season training, under the watchful eye of acting coach Phil Evaul, has been under way since the middle of September, official practice begins Monday in the second floor Bartlett wrestling room. So far the training has been on fundamental holds and conditioning, but this will be stepped up to a high pace next week as Coach Davis grooms his grunters for opening night, only about three weeks away. About 25 men will probably report Monday, including those who are shifting from the football team with Coach Davis.

"J. D." Davis Will Coach

The coaching staff for wrestling is built around Coach Davis, who has coached the grapplers for three seasons since Coach Thrower left Maryville at the end of 1940. He has turned out two State Championship teams, both pre-war squads in '41 and '42. Returning after missing the 1943 season while in service, Coach Davis built up a strong squad from a lot of new, inexperienced material to win three matches, drop two, and tie two.

Another important man in this year's program is Phil Evaul, who trained the neophites who reported to pre-season practice. Phil, as he is known to most students at Maryville, is a former 121 pound star for the Highlanders who made a name for himself in intercollegiate wrestling a few years ago by capturing the State Championship in his class in both 1940 and 1941. Several lettering lightweights at Maryville have said that Phil "taught me the tricks of wrestling." The team will really miss him when he leaves for his mission in Chile.

Two more men will play an important part this year in polishing an A-1 team. Ken Ross, captain of the team, is a senior with three years of collegiate wrestling behind him. He has been active this semester assisting Phil Evaul in teaching fundamentals to the prospectives. Next semester will find him adding a final touch of experience to the M. C. attack. Bud Engel, who has been wrestling manager for several years is the fourth link in the training program. Able to pull dozens of tricks from his experience, Bud will help the team add polish and surprise to their frontal.

Season Looks Tough

With six strong teams on the schedule, the Scots will have to really put out to regain the State Intercollegiate Wrestling Championship Crown which they lost last year. The Maryville grapplers will open the season with Chattanooga before Christmas vacation. After about two more weeks of training second semester, they meet "the cream of the crop" in bouts at home with Georgia Tech on January 30.

(Continued on page four)

FROSH SOCCER SQUAD OUTWITS UPPERCLASSMEN, 4-0

The freshman soccer team upset the upperclassmen Monday night, November 19, under the lights of Wilson Field, by a score of 4-0. Preceding the all-star intramural game, the soccer event vied favorably for the fans' interest. The "headwork" external particularly, kindled the acclaim of the onlookers. Clyde Jack began the freshman scoring with a goal in the first half; and the Menges boys, Walt and Bill, and Jimmy Thurston contributed the final toe to the last three tallies.

The senior team showed spurts of enthusiasm, but not enough to crash the freshmen who were masters of the night.

GIRLS BEGIN VOLLEY BALL, BASKETBALL

Examinations for the Point System stunt tournament were given Thursday, November 20. Volley ball will begin Tuesday, November 25. Individual sports groups are playing a basketball tournament.

Those girls not participating in point system or individual sports come under an honor system. Each girl must do two hours a week of the following exercises: aerial darts, bowling, bicycling, dancing, horse back riding, horse shoes, Ping Pong, roller skating, swimming, shuffle board, tennis, and walking.

Intramurals

GARNET, TAKES ALL STAR GAME

BY MAYNARD NOBLE

Scoring on a pass from Fowler to Brick Brahams late in third period the Garnet team won the All-Star game 7-0, last Monday night.

Early in the first period an "Orange" score was averted when, having the ball on the Garnet's 17 yard line, George Stanfield intercepted a pass and ran 35 yards before being stopped. In the remainder of the first quarter the ball changed hands several times on intercepted passes, but see-sawed back and forth in the center of the field.

In the second quarter Fowler, running to his right, leaped into the air and threw a pass to Rahn, which was good for 25 yards.

The second half opened with Rahn kicking to Tom Yeaworth. Yeaworth tossed a pass to Largen for 15 yards. He then threw to "Woody" Coul for 6 yards and a first down. Yeaworth followed with two throws to Roberts which were no good. A toss to Paul Yambert was good for 5 yards, but they lost the ball on downs.

Fowler and Co. then took over with Fowler throwing a long one to Stanfiel for 53 yards. Fowler then went areund left end for no gain, following it was a pass thrown to Mike Miracle on the 10 yard line where he threw a pass to Brick Brahams for the touchdown. Rahn accounted for the extra point.

In the fourth quarter with the Orange holding the ball on their own 20 yard line, Rush Lester, making a spectacular catch, in-

(Continued on page four)

Scots Pop 7-7 Tie On C-N; Head For Tusculum Tonight

Tilt At Greeneville Ends Season For Highlanders

Greeneville, Tennessee is the scene for the final Highlander clash of the season against the Tusculum Pioneers tonight.

Approximately 200 Maryville students are making the journey with the team and the band to cheer on the Scottie eleven.

Five Scots Play Last Game

Tonight marks the end, supposedly, of the football careers of five of the squad. Captain "Cotton" Easter, Co-captain Ken Talbott, guard Lloyd Anderson, and Frank Still, and center "Pie" Garner will no longer put their shoulders to the victory wagon for the Highlanders. Seniors all, they make their appearance in the starting line-up for the last time.

Both Tusculum and Maryville end their seasons tonight; Tusculum comes to the last game with a hapless record of no victories, the Scots boast six victories with a tie and a defeat minus a perfect season.

Scots Heavily Favored

Dr. E. E. Litkenhous, authority on power ratings of football teams, favored Maryville by a 49.5 margin putting Tusculum deep in the cellar with a 00.0 rating. In other quarters, favor stays with Maryville by 4 to 5 touchdowns.

The entire Scot roster of players made the trip and the third and fourth strings were expected to see plenty of action against the weak Pioneer eleven. The reserve teams expected to put their "T" to work after allowing the starting eleven to whittle down the Pioneer opopstion with Maryville's steady single-wing operations.

The starting Highlander line-up fo rthe final game of the season has Ken Talbott, Frank Still at ends, Allen Rock and Fred Kluth at tackles, with Easter and Anderson at guards, and "Pie" Garner at center rounding out the forward seven. Allen Law at wing, King Berrong at quarterback, Herschell Merriman at fullback, and Leon Berrong at tailback make up the starting Maryville backfield.

Merriman Races 30 Yds. For Final Period Score

The Scots knotted the score 7-7, with the Carson-Newman Eagles in the 22nd meeting of the squads Saturday night before the largest crowd of the season on Wilson Field. Making a belated comeback in the fourth quarter, the Highlanders tallied their touchdown as Merriman ran 30 yards to plunge over the goal line to match an earlier C-N touchdown by Cosson in the first quarter. Ailey's extra point attempt for Carson-Newman was good and Bill Fogarty equalled the C-N extra point artist's attempt with a perfect kick.

Saturday's tie was the first tie game in the Scot-Eagle Series which began in 1903.

Eagle Offense Baffles Scots

The Eagle's lightning "T" operations opened the Highlander flanks as if they were on hinges during the first half while Jennings, Cosson, and Wade sped through the Scottie line on quick opening plays. The Eagles quickly drove 58 yards with three first downs for their first score after kicking off to, and stalling, the Highlanders.

Down at the Scot 19, the Eagles launched a passing attack which went haywire under alert Scot defense. It looked as if the Eagles were stopped. But—with third down ten to go, Cosson swung wide around his right end, danced past three Scot tacklers, and pranced to the goal line for Carson-Newman's touchdown of the evening.

Scots Held Scoreless

With a 7-0 lead, the Eagles kept the Scots scoreless for three quarters. The deepest penetration by the Orange and Garnet was down to the Eagle 16 late in the first quarter when the Highlanders were turned back by the Orange and Blue on their only real scoring threat of the first half.

A field goal attempt by Moffett midway the second quarter from the Maryville 13 was unsuccessful and ended the second Eagle march in the first half.

M.C. Defense Braces

Starting in the last half of the game, the Highlander defense braced up to put a stop to romps by Cosson, Jennings, and company. On the second play of the third quarter after Law had kicked off to Moffett, Merriman covered a fumble by Jennings on the C-N 34. From the 34, Leon Berrong and Merriman pushed down

(Continued on page four)

Get Your Holiday Candy Now!

The air of gaiety and happiness that is Thanksgiving is not complete without candy. . . Serve it to your Friends . . . bring a lovely box to your hostess . . . it's a sweet thought.

PARK DRUG STORE

CHRISTMAS PHOTOGRAPHS
THE WEBB STUDIO

Handsome pigskins in pecan tone. Wool-lined. Supple, pliable.

Gloves
THEY'RE NATURALS FOR POLISH
Give him a heaping portion of Christmas! Give him a handsome hand! Certainly we mean presenting him with a pair of the smart gloves that we're famous for. Our custom is custom-made gloves.
Wide selection of styles and colors.
"The Store of Brand Names"
Register-Farmer
MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

Faculty Interviews Continue With MC Home Economics Department

BY MARIAGRAZIA MERLANTI

This week the Echo introduces the members of the Home Economics Department, Miss Gertrude Meiselwitz, Miss Geneva Robertson, and Mrs. Beatrice Yate.

Miss Meiselwitz

Miss Meiselwitz, who has been at Maryville since 1928, hails from Kiel, Wisconsin where she attended the University of Wisconsin, and also earned her MA degree.

Her favorite color is black. She enjoys knitting, which is her hobby, and all foods. When asked if she liked sports Miss Meiselwitz said, "Definitely not!" She gave her nickname as "Gert"—She should know! She enjoys traveling and has been all over the United States.

It is interesting to note Miss Meiselwitz plans her wardrobe around heirloom jet, buttons, and jewelry.

Miss Robertson

Miss Robertson, a newcomer this fall to the Home Ec Department hails from Maury City, Tennessee. She did her undergraduate work at Union University in Jackson, Tennessee and earned her MA at the University of Tennessee. This past summer she attended the University of Colorado to do special work in Art and Clothing. Before coming to MC she taught home ec in the Kingsport High School.

Miss Robertson's favorite color is blue and her favorite sport is basketball. She especially enjoys hot biscuits, though she would not turn down any kind of hot bread.

Travel is her hobby. She seems to go in for it in a big way. Before doing graduate work she traveled every summer with the All American Tours. She has been in nearly every state and has even gone into Canada and Mexico a number of times.

Mrs. Yates

Mrs. Yates is also a new-comer to the campus this fall. She comes from Bonham, Texas, though she has attended colleges in Tennessee. Her husband is from Florida. They met while attending college in Cleveland, Tennessee, and married as he entered service. She continued her studies at the University of Tennessee where she did graduate work this summer. Her husband, whom she calls Andrew, is really named William Henry. For further information in this subject please see Mrs. Yates, third floor Fayerweather. Mr. Yates is a ministerial student here and will be a junior at Christmas. He has charge of Mt. View Church outside of Maryville.

Mrs. Yates has sewing as her hobby. Her husband and friends call her Bea. She likes purple. She has travelled widely over the United States, covering a good deal of territory following her husband while he was in service.

INTRAMURALS

VOLLEY BALL— BASKETBALL

Tentative intramural volley ball and basketball schedules are now posted on the bulletin boards in Carnegie and Bartlett Halls. Watch these for your games.

Referees for intramural basketball must be on basketball teams. They are requested to sign up in the Intramural Office for days they want to referee.

Games scheduled for next week are as fololws:

GARNETS WIN ALL-STAR GAME . .

(Continued from page three)

tercepted a pass and went to the 10. Failing to gain or score the Garnet team lost the ball and the Orange team took over, ending the game.

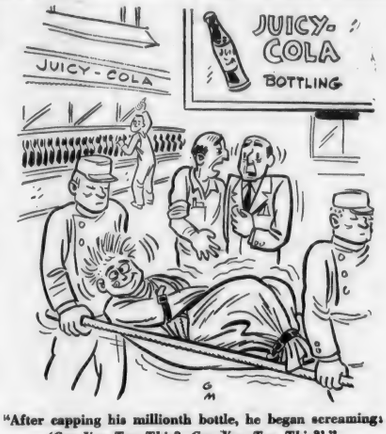
If you want to live in the kind of a school
That's the kind of a school you like,
You needn't slip your books in a grip
And start on a long, long hike.
You'll finally find what you left behind,
For there's nothing that's really new;
It's a knock at yourself when you knock at your school—
It isn't the school, it's YOU.

NSA REPORT

(Continued from page one)

vent NSA from being bound by the political actions of the international group. NSA decided to join the organization only on educational, non-political level, saying that "although at present there are fundamental differances between NSA and IUS, American students are desirous of wholehearted cooperation with students throughout the world." Also on the international line the NSA decided to sponsor the World Student Service Fund.

Bill of Rights Adopted



A Student Bill of Rights which was adopted provides that students be permitted to exercise their rights as citizens, including participation in "local, national and international organizations for intellectual, religious, social, political, economic, or social purposes, and to publish and distribute their views."

The preamble to the constitution of the NSA adopted by the convention enumerates the following aim of the organization: to secure and maintain academic freedom and the rights of students; stimulate the development of democratic self-government; foster better educational standards, methods and facilities; work for the improvement of student social, cultural and physical welfare; promote international understanding and fellowship; and aid in securing for all people equal rights and the possibilities of primary, secondary and higher education, regardless of sex, political beliefs, race, religion or economic circumstances.

Regional Plans Made

Following a discussion of the National Budget, and the appointment of a Constitution and Finance Committee, plans were drawn up for the immediate future for the region. Exchange tours with foreign countries were discussed, a T.V.A. tour and a speaking tour of the I.U.S. were projected, plans for student government clinics and forums were made, the groundwork laid for a regional newsletter, and a Finance Committee appointed. As a final action, the money from the five dollar voting fee paid by each delegate was divided up into a proposed budget. After the grueling two-day session Rush Lester, the voting delegate, and E. J. Cotton and John Poland, the two observers from Maryville returned home, armed with a large quantity of material which will be organized into a report to be written up in the near future.

The six ages of woman: Safety pins, hair pins, fraternity pins, hair pins, clothes pins, rolling pins.

"After capping his millionth bottle, he began screaming: 'Can You Top This? Can You Top This?' "

EXCHANGES

Matron: "Girl, girl! Where did you learn such slang?"

Baldwin Hall-er: "Oh, at my mother's knee, or some such low joint."

To the Carnegie Steps Gang: (Tobacco Road) As ye smoke, so shall ye reek.

M. C. Student: "I dreamed the other day that I was in chapel. Then I woke up, and by George, I was!"

Mother of M.C. Flying Student: "Now remember son, stay near the ground and don't fly too fast."

THEOREM

(a) Love is an institution.
(b) Love is blind.
Therefore: Love is an institution for the blind. Q. E. D.

Bakery Talk:

We've heard that college-bred means a four-year loaf made with dad's dough.

Some crust, eh?

The prisoner was being tried for horse-stealing. The prosecuting attorney read the indictment sternly, then asked, "Are you guilty, or not guilty?" The culprit wriggled perplexedly, then said, "Why, ain't that exactly the thing we come here to find out?"

SCOT WRESTLING BEGINS . . .

(Continued from page 3)

Appalachian Teachers on February 7, and Chattanooga on February 20. The Scots will then hit the road to Auburn on February 21 and again on March 9 to Georgia Tech. Matches with Knoxville YMCA and Western Carolina Teachers are being arranged for the open dates of February 14 and 28 and March 6.

Scot Grappling—Past Acclaim

Wrestling is a thing of long standing for Maryville College.

Coach Thrower, who put Maryville on the wrestling map, built up a top wrestling in the years he was here, leaving in 1940 with 10 State Championship Teams to his credit. Then John A. Davis took over the helm to turn out two more Championship Teams in '41 and '42. While Coach Davis was in service in 1943, Woody Everett, former Scot wrestler and State Champ in his weight, took over for a year to coach another record team.

Wrestling, as other intercollegiate sports, was dropped during the war. Coach Davis came back and in 1946 turned out a top team from raw material.

There are a lot of impressive teams in Maryville wrestling schedules. Such top competitors as Auburn, Georgia Tech, and Appalachian Teachers. One notable name missing this year is Vanderbilt who dropped M. C. this season after last year's crucial defeats at the hands of the Scots, 21-9 and 27-3.

SCOTS TIE C-N GAME

(Continued from page three)

to the Eagle 19 for a first down; but the Maryville attack was halted after three attempts by Leon Berrong, Merriman, and Fogarty had failed, and the Eagles took over on their own 17.

Held by determined Scot resistance, Woolwine punted for the Eagles on third down to Fogarty on the Scot 48; then the rejuvenated Scotties advanced to the Eagle 21 to make a 39 yard march and two consecutive first downs. Having spent three rushing attempts in vain against the Eagle forward wall, a pass attempt by Fogarty to Neff was no go and again the Scots' touchdown hopes vanished.

Merriman Scores From C-N 30

The openixg of the fourth quarter found the Eagles in possession of the ball after Rogers had intercepted a Fogarty-thrown pass. After an exchange of punts by Boring and Woolwine, the ball rested on the Carson-Newman 35. A reverse from Merriman to Neff put the Highlanders on the Eagle 30. Merriman kept the ball on the next play, plummetted through the Eagle defense off left tackle, and streaked for the end zone. The Eagle safety man swooped in to meet Merriman inside the C-N 10 as Hersh ended his touchdown spurt with a lunge over the double lines.

Fogarty's extra point put the deadlock in the score. After the touchdown by Merriman, Law's kick-off went into the end zone. The ball was put in play on the Eagle twenty and both teams in the remaining minutes attempted to pull out a victory with desperate passes.

After swapping the ball by an interception of an enemy pass by Neff, and a punt by Boring, the Eagles had the ball on their 16 with seconds remaining in the ball game. Moffett, Eagle quarterback, made two short punches in the line before the whistle blew to "freeze" the ball. The referee ended a dispute for possession of the ball after the whistle sounded by taking it from the field holding it aloft in his grasp.

Statistics	M.C.	C.-N.
First Downs	9	9
Yds. gained rush.	209	198
Yds. lost rusihng	19	12
Yds. gained passing	11	0
Net yards gained	201	186
Passes attempted	7	10
Passes inter. by	2	2
Number of Punts	4	4
Punting average	41	44
Number penalties	3	2
Total yds. penal.	15	10
Number fumbles	0	3
Fumbles rec. by	2	1

Girl to friend: "I don't care if he is a pilot. I don't like being referred to as the target for tonight."

Thanksgiving and Fall Flowers

Specials for Thanksgiving

For special occasions always send flowers.

Barnwarming and to "Dear Ruth"

It isn't an occasion . . . . without flowers

CLARK FLOWERS

For These Cold Fall Nights
It's C. & L. Cafe
for hot meals and drinks
C. & L. CAFE

FARMER & STAPP
BARBER SHOP

Date Night!
To make a hit with the New Gal you just met in School . . . . be sure that you have a Clean White Shirt for date nights.
9 Pounds Clothes Washed, Rinsed, Damp Dried, Soap, Bleach, and Water 35c
SPECIAL
9 Pounds Washed and Dried 55c
SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY
Phone 1055

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.
30-Minute Service
between
Maryville and Knoxville

McGREGOR*
SPORTSWEAR

$5.95

Note-worthy and wear-worthy

THE IMPERIAL WORTHY GAB SHIRT

Here's a gabardine sport shirt — worth-ful in every way! You can wear it for leisure or sport — with or without a tie. The fabric is wool and rayon, sturdy and shape-retaining. There's hand stitching on the collar, and plenty of room for action. And the tailoring is by McGregor, so you know it will fit comfortably and look good!

PROFFITT'S
Smart Shoes Main Floor

Gifts

A striking and stylish accessory for milady. Buy your Christmas Gifts early and before the rush.

United Jewelry Co.

APPLE TIME IS HERE

It's Always Nice to have something in the Dorm to Eat. . . . . so drop by to see our selection of Fresh Fruits—especially Apples
Just the right thing
THE J. & K. SUPER STORE
Church Street

A FEW MORE CLASSES

THE Highland Echo

AND THEN CHRISTMAS

Z 703

VOLUME 33 — MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, — NOVEMBER 29, 1947 — NUMBER 14

KING, QUEEN—

Miss Elsie Onifer and Lloyd Anderson reigned as queen and king at Barnwarming last Thursday evening.

Van Dyke Play Chosen For Dec. 5 Presentation

"The Other Wise Man," by Henry Van Dyke, will be presented by the Experimental Theatre December 5.

The cast includes Ben Paxton as narrator; Jim Black as Artaban; Bob Thomson, Abgarus; Ray Saunders, Abdus; Bob Watkins, Tigranes; Dick Black, Rhodaspes; Mary Lou Laurell, the mother and Joan Hall, the slave girl.

The story was adapted for stage by Ben Paxton, Bob Thomson, and Ruthellen Crews. The staging will be done by Bob Watkins, Jim Black, Peggy Brooks, and Mary Lou Laurell. Beverly Muetzel, Joan Hall, and Mary Elizabeth King are in charge of costumes.

MARTIN, McGARITY SPEAK AT VOLS

Jim Martin and Owen McGarity both members of last year's graduating class, will be the speakers at Student Volunteers tomorrow night in Bartlett Hall. Both are attending McCormick Seminary and will discuss their impressions of seminary life and work.

Mr. Pieper Speaks At YM Tomorrow

Mr. Archibald Pieper, of the Department of Political Science, will discuss the importance of the Marshall Plan at the regular Sunday afternoon meeting of the YMCA tomorrow. Dr. Pieper's talk was recently given at the meeting of the Faculty club. The information which he gives follows the development of the Plan, the provisions of it, and what will follow if it can be put into force.

The meeting is at 1:30, in Bartlett Hall, Sunday.

Dr. Davis, Miss Bassett, Professors Of Greek and Latin, Introduced

BY JEAN HUNT

This week the ECHO continues the articles on members of the faculty by presenting Dr. Edmund Wayne Davis, Professor of Greek and Latin and Miss Almira Caroline Bassett, Assistant Professor of Latin.

Dr. Davis has been at Maryville College since 1915 and received his Honorary Litt. D. from this college in 1937.

He says he hasn't much of a hobby at present except raising a garden and puttering around roses. He used to play a clarinet in his school's band and orchestra. One of his favorite pastimes now is listening to records and the choir and orchestra.

He says his favorite food last Thursday was turkey but he did not have a particularly favorite food.

Dr. Davis has traveled extensively in the eastern part of the United States and made a tour of most of the European countries in 1930. He and his wife make occasional trips to Florida now.

He used to be an active participator of tennis and golf but confines his sports now to watching a good football game.

He received his B.A. degree from Missouri Valley College and his M.A. from Harvard University.

A former student and graduate of Maryville College, Miss Bassett returned to her Alma Mater in 1928 as Assistant Professor of Latin.

During the period between the last wars she traveled extensively in Europe spending most of her time touring Greece and Italy. Although born in New York State, she spent most of her life before coming to Tennessee, in Kansas.

Raising flowers is her hobby and her favorite color is blue. Her favorite food is, as she puts

(Continued on page four)

President Lloyd Attends Meeting In Louisville

Dr. Lloyd is to attend the 52nd annual meeting of the Southern Asscition of College and Secondary Schools, which is meeting in Louisville, Kentucky, this December 1-3.

The Association, which is the original accrediting board, has as its particular theme this year the educational problems raised by the present world crisis. The problem will be studied from many varying angles by its commissions, and their recommendations will be presented to the Association. Dr. Lloyd is on the commission of Institutions of Higher Education.

SOCIETIES HOLD JOINT MEETING

Athenian and Bainonian will present "In My Garden" tonigh at 6:30 in Bartlett Hall.

The program will include Peter de Rose 's "I Heard a Forest Praying" sung by Gloria Measmer accompanied by John Sayre; Chopin's "C Minor Nocturne" played by Dill Diehl; Gimmus' "Darius Green and His Flying Machine" recited by Jim Black; "Wanting You" sung by Mary Hicks accompanied by John Sayre, and Moskowski's "Spanish Dance" played on the violin by Anna Sakaizawa, accompanied by Eleanor Hawley.

Fourteen Students Take Comps

Fourteen seniors took comprehensive examinations last Tuesday and Wednesday, representing ten major fields,. All of the fourteen will graduate at the end of this semester. The field of Business Administration will graduate Robert Butts and Merrill Grubbs. Graduating Bible majors are Katherine Franklin, Elizabeth Saint, and Martha Scanlon. Others who are graduating at this time are Warren Nelson Ernest whose major is Music, Thomas Horst, Philosophy major, Ray McJunkin who majored in Chemistry, Marvin Mitchell, Physical education major, Kenneth Paxton whose major is Physics, Harold Russell whose major field is English, Marjorie Sapp, Biology major, and Lacy Powell whose major is Psychology.

Graduate Record Examinations May Replace Comps

Eight Hour Test Scheduled For Feb. 2-3

Seniors may substitute Graduate Record Examinations in place of the comprehensive examinations this spring, the faculty executive council voted last week. Most graduate schools use the Graduate Record Examination a a factor in determining entrance.

Those wishing to take the examination in place of the comprehensive examination will register that intention at the office of the Dean of Curriculum before December 10. Seniors taking the pre-med course may take the professional-aptitude test for medical students. Both of these examinations will be given February 2 and 3.

Nine Tests Included

The Graduate Record Examination is an eight hour examination given in four hour periods on two days. It includes eight general tests and an advanced test in the major field. The general tests are given in mathematcis, physics, chemistry, biological science, social studies, literature, fine arts and verbal factor, the latter being a general vocabulary test.

The fee for the examination is five dollars which must be paid to the examiner at the time of the first examination in the form of a personal check or postal money order made payable to the Graduate Record Office.

All students who choose to take the Graduate Record exam may not decide later to take comprehensives unless they specify that they are not taking the examn in place of comps. A decision must previously be made as to which test will count.

"LAND OF OZ" CHOSEN FOR MAY DAY THEME

At a meeting last Wednesday "The Land of Oz" was chosen a the theme for the 1948 May Day program. May Day, until this year held under the sponsorship of the YW, was recently handed to the Dramatic Arts department Several faculty members and students met several times to discuss the theme for next May 1, deciding at the last meeting to build the program around the idea of "The Land of Oz." Students will be script writers.

Onifer, Anderson Reign at Barnwarming

ART DEPT. OFFERS HANDICRAFT COURSE NEXT SEMESTER

It has been announced that the art department will offer a non-credit course in general crafts for the spring semester of 1948. The class will be open to all interested in crafts and is meant to include some leather work, metal craft, clay modeling and ceramics. The class will be given in room 23, Anderson Hall, 2:30 to 5:00 on Monday and Wednesday. A fee of $4.00 will be charged to those enrolled for the semester.

MC BAND, STUDENTS ASSIST IN PARADE

The college band and twelve Maryville students dressed as clowns, took part in the annual Santa Claus parade held downtown this morning and sponsored by the Maryville Junior Chambe of Commerce.

The clowns as honor guard to Santa were Forrest Corley, Roger Cowan, Jim Marvin, Ken Newell Charles Kruger, Max House, Art Lucas, Richard Ebelacker, Car Herring, Rush Lester, and Benson Gearheart.

Long List of Missionaries Began Training at Maryville

BY CARROL STEGALL

Students at Maryville College are generally casually aware of the fact that the college is able to count an ever-lengthening list of names on the roster of missionaries which it has sent out. The extent of this list comes as a surprise to most, and while some students have seen missionaries go out in their own time, most of us are unaware of the high drama and fascinating stories that lie behind those lists of names.

In recent years we have had sons of two of our faculty go out: Hal Lloyd, son of Dr. Ralph Lloyd, is in the Philippines, and Bob Barker, son of Dr. Lincoln Barker, is in Japan. Phil Evaul who is well-known upon the campus, is due to leave for Chile by Pan-American Grace Airways from New Orleans about the 27th of December. These we can know, by talk that still passes about them, or by actual acquaintance as in the case of Mr. Evaul. However, some of our missionaries, dead long ago, reveal facts of interest forgotten in the constant passage of people on a college campus.

Dr. John W. Heron

One of these is one heroic story of Dr. John William Heron, a medical missionary to Korea. He was in the midst of one of the fierce cholera epidemics that used to sweep the Orient, and which are still dreaded today. He worked ceaselessly, with the limited resources of his time, to combat the plague. He went unprotected among the rich or poor alike, giving of his own strength till, weakened by his labors, he fell victim to the disease himself, and died.

Thomas T. Alexander

Thomas Theron Alexander, whose name is perpetuated in the T. T. Alexander Contest, is the father of three missionaries, besides being one himself. He for twenty-five years was a missionary in Japan, being widely known and successful. Seeking rest after his retirement, he met his daughter Emma at the Sandwich Islands, today called the Hawaiian Islands, as she was enroute to Japan to take up her own missionary career. There he died, and after his cremation, his ashes were returned to America, and lie buried in Maryville's Magnolia Cemetery. His daughters Emma and Mary both carried on the work in Japan; another daughter, Lois, went to Peurto Rico, and still a fourth, Christine, worked in Egypt.

Lt. Cecil French

One of the most dramatic stories of all, paralleling a motion picture scrip in drama, is that of Lt. Cecil French who never reached the field. He had dedicated his life to the mission, and with his fiance was planning his career, when the war broke out in 1914. He at once enlisted in a Canadian regiment, feeling his call to turn back the threat of Germany could not be denied. He fought with outstanding distinction and courage through four years of the hideous trench warfare of the first World War. He attracted the attention of his superiors, and was promoted again and again, rising from private to attain a battle-field commission.

So outstanding was the service of Lt. Fench that he was taken to England, where the king himself, George, bestowed upon him the Military Cross in a decoration at Buckingham Palace. Wounded, he was offered the security of drilling new troops in England or medical training under the Military, in furtherance of his career, but he refused to accept the safety of rear service while others still had to fight. Scarcely one month before the end of the war he fell before a burst of machine gun fire and was buried in the night where he fell. He thus never reached India, and never became a doctor as he had dreamed; but he no less than those who were successful in their aims is worthy of being listed in what has been called "Maryville's Foreign Legion."

MC ART STUDENTS WORK DISPLAYED

An exhibition of work done during the semester by Maryville College art students will be on display in the Lamar Memorial Library December 8-15. This work will include charcoal and pastel studies from still life and landscapes and portraits done in oil.

Gypsy Theme Carried Thoughout Program

Elsie Onifer and Lloyd Anderson, queen and king of Vagabonda, appeared from behind a waterfall to reign over Barnwarming, Thanksgiving evening, Thursday, November 27. An off-stage fanfare preceded the appearance of herald Dick Rowley. Following the second fanfare the sponsors emerged from behind the waterfall as they were announced by Dick Sprague. A third fanefare heralded the arrival of Queen Elsie and King Lloyd. The royal couple then reigned from stump thrones on a grassy knoll, surrounded by the class sponsors seated atop toadstools.

The queen, who is a biology major from Maybeury, West Virginia, wore a flounced multi-colored skirt and a white blouse. She is on the YWCA cabinet, was an attendant to this year's Homecoming Queen, was editor of the 1947 Chilhowean, and a member of the 1947 Daisy Chain.

Anderson, from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, is a biology major. left guard on the Highlander football squad, he holds two letters in wrestling, was captain of the wrestling team last year, and was listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities in 1945 and 1947. He is a pre-med student.

Joyce Jones, senior sponsor from Harlan, Kentucky, is a Home Economics major. She is a member of the Girls' Choir and the pre-med club. Gwen Williams, a junior from Syracuse, New York is a home economics major, and is active in YWCA and Bainonian. She was in charge of costumes for last year's presenta-

"Vagabonda", tale of a gypsy caravan, was the theme of Barnwarming, 1947, presented in the Alumni Gym Thanksgiving night under the directorship of Lorrie Swift and Elsie Onifer.

After the opening of the program with the Alpha Sigma orchestra, and Mary Holly Webb singing "The Gypsy" to Sandy Smith's accompaniment, the stage was lighted to reveal a woodland setting and a band of gypsies humming. Ray Holsey, a vagabond at heart, was trying to join the gypsy band and convince their leader, Tom Wheeler, that though he was not born a gypsy, still there was no other life for him. To prove his worthiness he joined them singing "Play Gypsies."

Gypsy Tryouts Before King and Queen

A blare of bugles announced the entrance of gypsy king and queen and their court. Before their royal presence came a procession of people making application for gypsyhood and proving their talents worthy of acceptance. Rowena Mann was first, offering a toe-tempting boogie-woogie, and Beverly Muetzel followed her, playing "Kiss Me Again" on the clarinet accompanied by Doris Cook.

Bob Connell, accompanied by John Sayre, sang "See You in My Dreams." Ruth Lester dashing out onto the stage hotly pursued by Wanda Onifer, was caught in time to sing "Temptations" with her—hill billy style. John Sayne and Roy Cox accompanied. An ensemble of Lavonne Heard with her violin, Mary Davidson and Dick Ribble singing, and John Sayre at the piano presented "Night and Day," followed by "My Little Gyspy Sweetheart" sung by the Gypsy Chorus, with the trio parts by Barbara Blair, Betty Hall and Footsie Housch, Fred Sieber followed, playing a medley from "Oklahoma!" at the piano.

Muscians, Comedians Perform

"Mama" Vaughn and "Papa" Kahn chased "Junior" Noble around the stage to keep him from joining the gypsy band. Then as things calmed down, Mary Fowler came in with her marimba to play "Dark Eyes."

The gypsies showed other talents, the next time in dancing with Lois Deobler as an outside soloist and the Tall Girls' Club as the chorus. Tom Lang accompanied. It was closely followed by a drunken dance act by Joe Claude and Bob Watkins. The boys quartet, Mil Castrodale, Tom Wheeler, Merril Grubbs, and Tom Yeaworth, sang two numbers, the last one featuring Mr. H. H. Harter as soloist in "The Whiffenpoof Song." Sandy Smith, Mac Law, and Roy Cox changed the tempo by playing "Caravan" in an accordian, piano, and bass violin trio.

The next act was another number by the gypsies, "When a Gypsy Makes His Violin Cry," with Peggy Howell and Ruth Ramsey blending voice and violin as a duet. Mary Holly Webb again entered the stage singing, with Sandy Smith and Roy Cox accompanying, "My Sweet Embraceable You." Lois Deobler also tried out for the gypsy band, tap-dancing to "The Lady from Twenty-Nine Palms."

Faculty Bring Down House

The chain gang—Dr. Ralph T. Case, Mr. Arthur S. Bushing, Miss Jessie Heron, Mrs. Margaret Cummings, Mr. Edgar R. Walker, Mrs. L. A. Black, and Dr. L. L. Williams scrubbed floors, spending most of their time catching money tossed by the audience.

An Oak Ridge dancing group, composed of four women and four men, presented two numbers near the end of the show. The dancers offered their act for Barnwarming without cost.

Booths and Refreshments

Cokes were served to all comers

(Continued on page four)

CLASS SPONSORS—

Dorothy Downey and Sarah Durant, front row, and Gwen Williams and Joyce Jones were elected Barnwarming sponsors of the freshmen, sophomore, junior, and senior classes, respectively.

Students Present Recital Dec. 2

Program Includes Vocal, Instrumental Numbers

A student recital will be presented Tuesday, December 2, 1947 at 4:30 p. m. in the YWCA rooms, Thaw Hall.

The program will include the following: French Suite No. 5, Gigue bd Bach, Janet Rich; Lunge dal caro bene, Patricia Ann Cox-Nancy Thompson, accompanist; Prelude No. 9, W. T. K. Book I by Bach, Nocturne Op. 9, No. 1 by Chopin, Barbara Adams; Italian Concerto, Allegro by Bach, Dan Winter; Where Ere You Walk by Handel, Doris Cook—Haydn White, accompanist; Three Part Invention in E Major by Bach, La fille aux cheveux-de lin by Debussy, Raymond Babelay; Du hist mie eive Blume by Rubinstein, Glioria Measemer—John Sayre, accompanist; Waltz in C sharp Minor, Op. 64, No. 2 by Chopin, Emma Lee Czeriawski; Ich Liebe dich by Grieg, Ruth Humes—Martha Barnwell, accompanist; Sea Pieces A. D. MDCXX by MacDowell, Carol Mitchell; L'Heure exquise by Hahn, Wil-

(Continued on page four)

Holsey Elected Prexy Of Pre-Ministerials

Ray Holsey was elected president of the Pre-Ministerials Association at the meeting in Bartlett Hall, November 27.

Other oficers elected were Carl Wilson, first vice president; John Mulholland, second vice-president; and Ken Newell, secretary-treasurer.

Installation will be held December 11 with Mr. David Engelhardt, assistant professor of Bible and Religious Education, as guest speaker. It will be the final meeting of the semester.

tion of the Barretts of Wimpole Street. Sophomore education major Sarah Durant is from Birmingham, Alabama. Her activities include Parish, house vice chairman of Baldwin, and Theta. Dot Downey, freshman from Fort Lauderdale, Florida, is a religious education major. She is a member of Bainonian.

The sponsors were all dressed in long-sleeved white batiste blouses and gathered skirts. The senior sponsor wore a blue skirt; the junior, pink; the sophomore, yellow; and the freshman, green.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

Volume 32 Number 14

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

EDITORIAL STAFF

Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Ruth Ramsey, Ilda Mosby, Mariagrazia Merlanti, Dick Sprague, Carroll Stegall

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb, Ruth Davis

FRESHMEN APPRENTICES
Jean Hunt, Mary Lyerly, Hazel Holm, Elenor Kramer, Donald Whelan

SPORTS STAFF

Kenneth Olsen ..... Editor
Herbert McCallum ..... Sophomore Reporter
Maynard Noble ..... Freshman Apprentice

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF

Business Manager ..... Ruth Williams

SENIOR ASSISTANTS
Mary Jane Long, Florence Housch

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Margaret Weaver

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANTS
Bob Watkins, Joe Claude, Janet Blackmore

FRESHMEN ASSISTANTS
Barbara Altfather, Naoagene Morrow, Anita Withers

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1947

Much Echo About Nothing

BY CRAIG FISHER

THE CARNEGIE CONCERTEERS are manufacturing their wierd variety of chamber music in Menge's second floor salon in preparation for their winter tour. Those spastic rhythms which burst from wastebox and coke bottle are Carnegie's contribution to that subtle mixture of dissonace and jungle jive called modern music. Walls and furniture are showing the ravages of the musical temperament, and other inmates are showing symptoms remarkably like battle fatigue. Percussion section is handled by Robarts on the snares, Stovall on the lampshade, and Flood on the radio.

MR. MAC, caught in a grocery line, found an overtime parking ticket on his car. He told the judge to search his conscience, and came home with the receipt for a dollar and the deed to a square yard of pavement at Broadway and College.

BILL PROFFITT can't forget that bird which got into the dining room and perched on a light fixture for two days last week.

NOTES ON TUSCULUM: $2.00 of rain and lost sleep for most . . . . . more rooters, more noise, snappier tooters, better boys. The band put on one of its snappiest performances to date, even if all their formations had to be done in a thirty yard mud hole plainly put there to blacken saddle shoes. Bob Watkins too became rudely acquainted with our Tennessee clay when he came down with added emphasis on the last "team", imprinting the seat of his white slacks firmly in the mud. Dr. Briggs tried to make like a bulldozer with his car on the way back but the truck won out. Luckily its driver carried insurance. That was the third '47 Chevy to get it in the same place: good company too, a doctor and the governor of Tennessee.

EVERYONE was searching for the clapper of our liberty bell, but Browny found the old one hung in the gym, last Tuesday, cut it down and put it back where it belonged. The bell is singing bass again.

Doc Williams' rabbits are still multiplying rabbitly.

MALCOM MILLER in his column in the Knoxville Journal: "The name of the conductor (of the M.C. orchestra) is veiled i mystery." To unveil the mystery we would like to put in print the name of the Strivinsky of our local music machine (which, incidentally, performed to its credit last night), Mr. Curtis Hughes, recently a father.

SPIRTIT OF '46: Ruth Broadhead flowed on campus Wednesday glowing like Broadway on Christmas eve and beaming that famous smile like a battery of floodlights. Now, freshmen, do you see what we mean when we say "Chilhowean Girl of the Year"?

Also on campus was all six four and thirty eight inches of Jim Martin to boom out the blessing for the Thanksgiving meals and attend Barnwarming. To cap his Barnwarming build-up, Student Vols dedicated "I've Got a Home in the Rock" to him Sunday night. Margaret Rock, asked when he would get in, said, "I don't know. Somewhere around 7.47."

SIGN ON CARNEGIE BULLETIN BOARD: "An opportunity to make someone thankful on Thanksgiving day—return the towel, trunks and T shirt removed from the line behind Carnegie." Signed: Delmus Watson, the same boy who put up a sign two weeks ago pleading for the coat he'd lost as he needed it walking eight miles to school every day.

Sid Lambert, who started the year off bashing his head for several stitches against a radiator, then wrenching his arm, this week caved in his ribs using the edge of his bed for a wrestling mat.

Matteo Cardella is back in society with his grin repaired. He had his store boughten teeth put in with a gold bridge, and is now going around with the cocky feeling that he is worth more than the 98 cents worth of stuff which most people are made of. Conceited. Speaking of teeth, Paul Yambert worked so late on Barnwarming Wednesday, that in his haste to dress Thursday morning he forgot to put in his tooth.

Henry says that most people around here think moonshine is being campused. He would like to take some girls out to his farm and show them what a quart of campused is like.

BARNWARMING—FRIDAY MORNING: General reaction—best program yet. Memorable were Wanda and Rush in a dreamy version of Temptation; Ribble, Sayre, Mary Arvidson and Lavonne Heard in Night and Day; Mary Fowler rippling out Dark Eyes on the marimba; Sandy Smith on his squeeze organ; Mary Webb in Embrace Me; the faculty eight balls; and the Oak Ridge prancers. All the acts kept up to standard. Notable were the well-done backdrops drawn by Jean Almy, and the velvety background music of the chorus. All the choral music was arranged by Charles "Huffy" Huffman. Footsie Housch and Millie Miller were responsible for the throne. Orchids to the blood and sweaters, too numerous to mention, who did the before and after dirty work, the publicity committee headed by Hedy Nabholz, and the chairmen, Elsie Onifer and Lorrie Swift, who have been agonizing over the program since last spring.

360 HOURS TILL EXAMS. 600 HOURS TILL CHRISTMAS! ! ! !

THEY'RE WORKING!

One of the organizations we hear least about and one which is probably doing as much good as is any other on campus is the YM-YW Inter-racial group. There are approximately ten students working in the organization, with Margie Prall and Roger Cowan as co-chairmen. Every Friday afternoon five or six of the students meet with twenty to thirty Negro children and lead them in what must be a varied and interesting program.

The program this year has been resumed after a two year lapse, and is now being conducted in a Negro Methodist church. The children are divided into classes, according to their ages, and are taught Bible lessons for about twenty minutes, after which they are given a recreation period. Recently, they were given permission to use the playground of a school for white children which is situated across the street. Following the recreation period a craft period is conducted, allowing the children to work with leather, paper, and weave.

When you hear about such groups it makes you wonder where you stand on the racial question. We don't have any suggestions to offer, but it does make us wonder where we stand. But the Inter-racial group isn't just standing; they're working, and more power to them!

TALK OF THE WEEK

By Jean Almy

ECHOES OF THE PAST

Maryville, in the past, as now, has had very impressive sports records, which the following schedules and scores from years past will prove:

Basketball (Girls')—Two games with girls of U. T. resulted in victory for the Maryville Co-eds, with a scoring average of 20-1. 1904—The U. T. girls and the Concord girls were defeated by Maryville girls. 1906—Two games with the girls of U. T. resulted in scores of 37-5 and 18-3, respectively, for the Maryville girls.

Basketball (Boys')— 1906—Maryville raked up a total of 295 points to 79 for the opponents, this year. In this season, they defeated U. T. and were defeated by Chattanooga. 1907— Maryville points total 163, those of her opponents, 65. 1910—M. C. defeated U. T. twice in this season. Another of the teams defeated was that of the Tennessee Deaf and Dumb School. 1911—M. C. had a schedule of 11 games, but lost all but two of them. One of the substitutes listed for this year was Ralph Lloyd.

Football—1906—M. C. played nine games and won four. Carson-Newman was defeated by the Scotties 45-0. 1907—M. C. held Georgia Tech to a scoreless tie, defeated U. T., lost to Sewanee, and was defeated by the University of Mississippi. 1908—M. C. lost to the University of Georgia this season. 1910—Lost again—to Wake Forest, and the University of Chattanooga.

Baseball— 1906—M. C. won twelve games and lost one. The Scotties played Tusculum three times, defeating them twice, and losing to them one time. 1910—The schedule shows nine games played this season, three of which were won by M. C. The Deaf and Dumb School was finally able to defeat Maryville, after playing them for several years in Basketball and Football. 1911—Fifteen games were played, ten won, one tied, and four lost.

A doubtful "sports" record is that set by one Sir Karl Edward Steinmetz, of Ye Knights of the Feast. Sir Karl's record was: 8 bottles of coke, 3 bowls of force (whatever that is), 1 dozen eggs (not at 90 cents per), 3 pounds of beefsteak (with butter), 1 cup milk, and 3 mince pies. This was presumably eaten at one sitting. Pearsons was never like this.

10 years ago in the Echo:

The Echo ceased printing its tabloid size and adopted its present size. . . . .

—o—

The present Echo flag was adopted after a campus-wide competition, and run for the first time.

—o—

The Y. M. C. A. members returned from their annual hike up at LeConte, which was very successful because of the committee headed by Archibald Pieper. The new C.C.C. trail was used.

—o—

A move to dissolve the student council was "quashed" (their term) after two days of heated argument. The council had been accused of having done nothing for the students in ten years. Evidence was offered that proved that the council had been effective in making new gravel walks, equalizing extra-light changes, and establishing "6-day moonshining."

—o—

Miss Bonnie Hudson, of the Biology Department, was wedded to Mr. George Brown in a simple ceremony, wherein Dr. Lloyd officiated. Miss Hudson's student lab assistants were bridesmaids.

Through These Portals . . . .

Tom Parkinson '47, is doing graduate work in American History at the University of North Carolina. His wife, Joan Liddell Parkinson is with him. She teaches first and second grades at a county school in Chapel Hill.

Miss Minnie Lee Davis, ex-'46, and Paul Vacini were married September 2, 1947.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Herzberger '47, have a son, Robert Donald Jr., born May 15, 1947.

John Rogerville, '47, is doing graduate work in history at the University of North Carolina. He expects to receive his M.A. in the spring.

MARTHA KINCAID SPEAKS AT YWCA

Martha Kincaid will tell the story of The Good Shepherd at YW tomorrow afternoon at 1:30. The program has been planned by the sophomore class.

The Good Shepherd, by Gunnar Gunnarsson, is the story of an Icelandic shepherd who goes each Christmas, season to the mountains for the lost sheep.

Two special musical numbers will be presented.

BATTLES DISCUSSED BY KNOX COLLEGE PRESIDENT WED.

Reverend J. Reed Miller, newly installed president of Knoxville College, spoke on "The Greatest Battle in the World," at the chapel service Wednesday, November 26, 1947. He told the assembled students and faculty that Maryville's President Lloyd is speaking at his college in Knoxville during the week.

During his address Mr. Miller cited great military victories as compared to even greater moral victories "fought on the terrain of one's own soul." His text was "Out of the heart proceed the issues of life."

WRITERS' WORKSHOP

Miss Heron criticized Martha Hull's piece, "A Bit of Pleasantry" at the last meeting of the Writers' Workshop Wednesday, November 26.

Juanita Johnson criticized Harold Hunter's story "Blocking Back," a gridiron story dealing with the overshadowing of one player by another and the inner conflict in the personality of the lesser.

At the same meeting Miss Jackson read a review of C. S. Lewis' "The Screwtape Letters" and Barbara Eggleston read a descriptive piece, "Song of America."

Cut Winter Drafts with Venetian Blinds

A properly dressed window will contribute to the winter coziness of your home, keep it warmer and reduce expenditures for fuel by blocking drafts from the outside and loss of heat from the inside.

The ideal window dress pictured here is a snug-fitting Venetian blind with full-hung draperies of light-weight wool. A simple valance adds a decorative touch and prevents drafts and heat loss at the top of the windows.

Tests by the Armour Research Foundation of Chicago show that the blinds can save enough in fuel costs to pay for themselves during their long term of usefulness. An air space is formed between closed slats of the blind and window glass that prevents drafts from entering the room and interior heat from escaping.

Windows, are naturally, not the only factors to be considered in insulating your home, but they can do their part gracefully and effectively with the proper treatment.

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

It is Easy to Pay
The Royal Way
Gamble Bldg.
Royal Jewelers

CHRISTMAS PHOTOGRAPHS
THE WEBB STUDIO

GIVE THOUGHTFULLY
Shop Early.
See Our Selection of Christmas Gifts Now
EMERY 5-10-25C STORE

It Looks Good-
It Tastes Good-
That's the Delicious Food You get at NICELY'S. Visit us often for those Between-meal Snacks —Cookies, Cakes, Candies, and Ice Cream.
"Just 300 yards off campus"
NICELY'S GROCERY

FARMER & STAPP
BARBER SHOP

For These Cold Fall Nights
It's C. & L. Cafe
for hot meals and drinks
C & L CAFE

ANDY
Gift-Wrapped in Decorative Boxes
Chocolate Coated Nuts . . . .
Hand-Dipped Fruit Bits . . . .
Assorted Creams . . .
SPECIAL TODAY
BYRNE DRUG CO.

New Treats FOR AN OLD TRADITION
M. M. ELDER CASH CARRY STORE

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

The Highlanders' 1947 Record

Maryville College 33	Hiwassee 0
Maryville College 7	Tennessee Tech 13
Maryville College 27	Centre 0
Maryville College 31	East. Tenn. State 6
Maryville College 24	Emory and Henry 7
Maryville College 34	Sewanee 0
Maryville College 13	Middle Tenn. State 6
Maryville College 7	Carson- Newman 7
Maryville College 20	Tusculum 7
Totals 196	Opponents 39

With the 20-0 lacing of Tusculum last week in Greeneville, the Highlanders closed their 1947 season. Having tied Carson-Newman, the Scots have an undisputable claim to sharing with the Eagles the small college championship in Tennessee. In comparison, the C-N Eagles scored 193 points to their opponents' 64 in their nine game regular season schedule. Middle Tennessee State overran Tennessee Tech (19-0) on Thursday of this week to capture the Volunteer State Athletic Conference title. This conference, however, does not include Maryville, or many of the small colleges in Tennessee. Nevertheless, Maryville, by virtue of defeating Middle Tenn. State and tieing Carson-Newman, can boast the unofficial co-title to the small college championship in Tennessee.

It's All Talk

Although all talk about a post-season game with Carson-Newman on December 13 in Knoxville to be sponsored by Kerbela Temple Shrine is still just talk the purposes of the Tangerine Bowl last January in the purposes of the Tangerine Bowl last anuary in Orlando. That time it was sponsored by the Florida Elks. The game cleared $3,000 dollars which the Elks put in a crippled childrens' home. The Shriners in Knoxville hope to put their proceeds into a crippled children's hospital. That is one good argument for participation in a postseason game.

Some Disadvantages Thereof

But there are many disadvantages that make a postseason game more trouble than it is worth. This proposed game would come too close to exam week to give the football boys an even break with studies for those all important exams. The time consumed with the practice sessions required by the postseason game knocks down further on the players' study time. Then, the weather here in East Tennessee becomes hostile to football practice late in December. So, we go on record as not being jubilantly in favor of participation in post-season games.

After Thoughts

Sewanee announced this week that their Tigers had compiled in the season just past the best win and loss record since 1909. And Middle Tennessee State still had hopes of going to a "minor" bowl. Since these opponent schools claim such a good record, we don't see why we shouldn't polish up the "Giant Killer" title once more by saying that there aren't any more "Giants" left (in the small college circle) in Tennessee for Maryville to kill!

About Basketball on The Hill

The basketball picture for Maryville in the coming cage season looks bright in the superlative: extremely bright. The Highlanders, with seven returning lettermen, have the same squad that last year came second (bowing only to East Tennessee State) in leadership with the schools the Scots played. Sure, Maryville college is blessed with some top-knotch basketball artists not to be found in any similar school in the state. However, one thing is lacking.

We feel that basketball competition is not being developed to the most profitable extent on the hill. The varsity, which usually consists of the cream of the crop of material out for the hoop sport each year, takes in just 15 men. Fifteen men are all that one coach can handle to form an effective varsity group. These selected 15 get all the basketball that they can hold in the course of a year.

But there are a number of men who don't quite get into this number have little chance to develop their cage talents, which someday might help them make the varsity and prove valuable to the Highlander cause. This year with Coach Johnson on hand, the possibility of forming a "B" team out of the men who are dropped from varsity and those who might advance from the ranks of intramural competition is a thing that might be fostered. This "B" team, while serving as a supplement to the varsity and providing a training ground for freshmen talent, would give the fans more first-rate basketball. Since there are always "B"games preceeding each varsity engagement, this "B" team would find plenty of competition through the season with independent teams in this locality. For spectator enjoyment, for an opening to more men for collegiate basketball, and for a fuller sports program for the college during the short basketball season, we advocate this "B" team this year.

TWO VALUABLE RESERVES

James Holsey (left) and Bob Boring (right) were two important cogs in the Highlander victory machine this season. Holsey saw plenty of action in a relief role at center. Boring was Maryville's punting specialist and frequently came in to boot the Highlanders out of danger.

MC Grapplers Begin Season at Chattanooga on December 13

BY KEN OLSON

Scot grapplers, after a week of strenuous work-outs, are beginning to get in condition for the opening match of the season at Chattanooga on December 13. With only two lettermen returning so far, most of the classes will be filled by comparitively inexperienced material.

Regular practice began Monday under the watchful eye of Coach J. D. Davis. The emphasis has been on conditioning for the opening match, only two weeks off, including drills on fundamental holds, escapes, and take-downs.

Light Weight Classes Crowded

Most of the light weight classes are filled with plenty of competition. In the 121 pound class are three freshmen, Paul McNeil, Carl Black, and J. A. Cameron. Cameron, who now weighs 127 pounds, is the only one with high school experience.

The 128 pound class has three neophites, Ches Anderson and Dick Black, freshmen, and Glen Knecht, sophomore. The fourth prospective is Jim Martin who wrestled quite a bit last year but failed to letter.

The 136 pound class is overcrowded with six men vieing for a position. Unexperienced men in this class are sophomores Preston Mulford, Frank Ladner, and George Robarts. Harry Cavis-ton, a sophomore, wrestled a good deal last year in the 128 pound class and has built up to the 136 pound class this year. Bill Brewer also wrestled last year. Another strong point in the class is Captain Ken Ross, who is one of the two returning lettermen. Ross, with three years of experience behind him, will help fill out the team, which lacks competitive training.

In the 145 pound class are two

(Continued on page four)

Scots Not Likely To Meet C-N

No Final Announcements Have Been Made on Game

The possibility of the Highlanders meeting the C-N Eagles for a second time this year seemed mighty slim as ECHO went to press.

The plan of a post-season game for the Scots with the Jefferson City boys on December 13 in Shields-Watkins Stadium at Knoxville, sponsored by the Kerbela Temple Shrine of Knoxville, was announced on Tuesday of this week.

As ECHO went to press, neither Maryville nor Carson-Newman had made official acceptance of the bid to play the proposed game.

The Maryville team was informed of the bid after chapel on Tuesday morning and the team voted to play the game if the plan went through.

After the stunning 13-6 defeat by the West Chester Teachers in Johnson City's Burley Bowl on Thanksgiving day, Coach Frosty Holt of the Eagles told reporters that it was pretty certain that the Carson-Newman team had played their last game of the year.

The Executive Council of the faculty met in Anderson Hall for a two hour session yesterday afternoon to consider the game but took no action on the bid.

Scots End Season, Whip Tusculum

Knee-deep in a mire of clay, the Scots waded through the determined Tusculum Pioneers, 20-0, on the gridiron at Greeneville in the final game of the season for both teams. Slowed up in the first period by an inspired and underestimated Tusculum wall, the Highlanders moved in to rack up a tally in each of the remaining periods.

M.C. Scores in Second Period

Stopped on drives to the Tusculum 6, 8, and 18 yard lines in the first period, the Scots came through early in the second when Grant Sharp, a reserve back, charged through the line into pay dirt. Fogarty's placement was good. Seconds before, King Berrong had looped a touchdown pass to Bob Neff only to have it called back for backfield in motion.

Two More Tallies in Last Half

After breaking up a Tusculum counter-attack spearheaded by the brilliant running of Tusculum's Caton, the Scots moved into scoring territory when D. M. Miller pulled an enemy pass out of the ozone. A drive carried them down to the 3 yard marker, but they were caught holding and sent back to the 19. Two more plays and then Fogarty dropped an aerial into Neff's arms for another six points. Fogarty's try for an extra point was wide.

The final score came early in the last period after Walker blocked a Tusculum punt on the enemy 30 and "Cotton" Easter recovered it on the 26. After three short rushes, Fogarty passed to Dave Clark who ambled into the end zone. The placement was perfect. The rest of the game was centered near the middle of the field.

Cheering Section Attends

A cheering section from Maryville braved the inclement weather to boost the Scots to victory. Despite the steady rain, the cheers rang on. The College band marched at half-time.

Score by Periods

Maryville	0 7 6 7
Tusculum	0 0 0 0

Starting Line-up

Maryville		Tusculum
Talbott	l.e.	Jones
Kluth	l.t.	Norton
Proffitt	l.g.	Harwood
Garner	c.	Whitlow
Easter	r.g.	Runion
Rock	r.t.	Bible
Still	r.e.	D. Ayers
K. Berrong	.qb.	King
L. Berorng	t.b.	Da. Ayers
Law	w.b.	Caton
Merriman	f.b.	Shoun

(Continued on page four)

SCOTTIE BASKETEERS BEGIN WORK FOR COMING CAGE CARD

Varsity basketball candidates began their first week of intensive practice on Monday of this week in Alumni Gym under the direction of Coach L. S. Honaker. Preliminary training under the part time guidance of Coach Honaker, assisted by Coach K. P. Johnson, began in the new gym on October 17.

Twenty-eight prospective hoopmen reported for practice last Monday. This number will be narrowed down to around fifteen to form the varsity squad.

Regular Season Begins In Jan.

Although the inter-collegiate season for the Highlander hoopmen is not scheluled to begin until mid-January of 1948, there will be two, and possibly three, tilts with local independent teams on the home court before this semester closes on December 18. Tentative games scheduled for this semester pit the Scotties against the local Gulf Refiners on December 6, and Carbon Carbide, an independent team from Oak Ridge, on the 13th of December.

Scots To Hit Road Early

After the Christmas holidays the Maryville cagemen will return early to the hill to begin their inter-collegiate competition on the road with a game on January 8 at Lambuth College in Jackson, Tennessee. Following the Lambuth game, the Highlanders will travel into Kentucky to engage Western Kentucky State on the tenth of January.

The first home game for the Scots is slated for January 20 with a visiting East Tennessee State quintet. At present, the cage schedule is incomplete, but a possible fifteen games are in the offing including reciprocal tilts with East Tennessee State, Lincoln Memorial University, Emory and Henry, and Tusculum.

Seven Lettermen Back

Seven returned lettermen of last season, a year in which the Scots won 12 out of 18 games, are now polishing up their basketball form for the renewal of the Scotty cage season. Ray Lillard, captain and high-scorer of last year's squad, begins his fourth year of basketball at Maryville College. Bob Boring, Brick Brahams, Pie Garner, Hap Brahams, Hugh Hamil, and Leon Berrong begin their second season under the Orange and Garnet ensign.

Other men with previous experience in Highlander basketball who reported for practice last Monday included Bennie Baldwin, Mike Miracle, Charlie Roberts, Jim Lillard, Bob Connell, Gene Reynolds, Bicky Smith, L. A. Campbell, Bill Largen, and W. G. Lenoir. Of this group three—Miracle, Lenoir, and Largen—are lettermen of the '45-'46 season.

Freshmen cage aspirants who started official training on Monday are: Gene Hamil, B. R. Crisp, Roger Walters, Dave Clark, Tom Yeaworth, Gene Lillard, Bill Stinnett, Dave Yeaworth, and Wallace Clendenen.

Basketball manager for the coming season is Dick Hamilton, while John Richardson is serving as assistant manager.

INTRAMURALS

BY MAYNARD NOBLE

Intramural basketball opened last Monday evening a 91 game schedule constituting the first half of the season. This week twelve games were played, of which nine were played in the new gym, and the remaining three were played in Bartlett. Because Bartlett is so small, as few games as possible will be scheduled there.

EIGHT BALLS EDGE OUT EX-SCRUBBS

Box Score	I	II	III	IV	Total
Eight Balls	4	4	4x	4	15
Ex-Srubbs	2	4	3	2	11

CREAMERS DEFEAT ALPHA SIG

Box Score	1	II	III	IV	Total
Creamers	5	7	6	5	23
Alpha Sigma	3	4	4	3	14

WHOLLY RABBIES STOP PB'S

Box Score	1	II	III	IV	Total
W. Rabbies	4	9	8	3	25
PB'S	3	3	3	3	12

DINGOES BEAT WHOLLY RABBIES

	I	II	III	IV	Total
Dingoes	7	2	6	7	22
Rabbies	2	6	8	5	21

VIKINGS DOWN EX-SCRUBBS

	I	II	III	IV	Total
Vikings	6	4	5	4	25
Scrubbs	9	10	4	2	19

(Continued on page 4)

Album Suggestion:

Rhapsody in Blue—
Oscar Levant

Nutcracker Suite—

Listening Time—
Fred Waring

After Dark—
Morton Gould

Bolero (Rave)—
Boston Sym. Orch.

Hitch Radio Shop

Date Night!

To make a hit with the New Gal you just met in School . . . . be sure that you have a Clean White Shirt for date nights.

9 Pounds Clothes Washed, Rinsed, Damp Dried, Soap, Bleach, and Water 35c

SPECIAL

9 Pounds Washed and Dried 55c

SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY

Phone 1055

BUY EXTRA GIFTS

With The Dollar You

SAVE AT

PENNEY'S

J. C. PENNEY CO., INC.

Leave your room with that "spic and span" look—

See our wide assortment o f Brooms, Paints, Wax and Window Cleaner—They will pass inspection—

STERLING SEED & SUPPLY COMPANY

Copyright 1947 by Esquire, Inc.

Reprinted from the November, 1947 issue of ESQUIRE

FACULTY INTRODUCED . . .

(Continued from page one)

it, "a cup of tea."

In addition to attending Maryville, she received her M.A. degree from the University of Michigan and has done graduate work at the University of Chicago.

She is fond of teaching, because, as she says, "I enjoy people."

What is intended as a little white lie often ends up as a double feature in technicolor.

STUDENTS PRESENT RECITAL . . . .

(Continued from page one)

liam Deihl—Coe Iris Berwald, accompanist; Pavane, by Ravel, Nan Wooten; Ritauinelle by Chaminade, Maurie Owen—Ruth Bird, accompanist; The Star by Rogers, Marguerite Priest—Bette Belle Alverson, accompanist; Lo How a Rose Ere Blooming, 16th century, and Angels We Have Heard on High, old French coral, The Madrigal Singers.

Restaurant sign: PLEASE PAY WHEN IF SERVED.

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.

30-Minute Service

between

Maryville and Knoxville

Camp HOSIERY

75c

Quality inbred in every thread

Camp Hosiery is a favorite of particular men. Its luxurious look and feel are no accident. Knitted of fine Durene* mercerized cotton . . . four-ply body and six-ply heels and toes. Available in the large range of yarn-dyed colors and color combinations.

MOSER'S CLOTHING STORE

GYPSY THEME THROUGHOUT . . . . .

(Continued From Page 1)

at the "Vagabond Vittles" booth, and the other entertainment and fortune telling.

booths included dart throwing,

Scenery

penny toss, ball toss, a midget,

Jean Almy was responsible for the drawing of all the scenery, while Footsie Housch and Mildred Miller made the throne. Earl Martin and Bill McIlvaine were in charge of all the lighting, and they and many others hung the scenery. Work on the scenery began at 4:00 Wednesday afternoon and was continued almost constantly until 7:00 Thursday evening.

SOCIAL HOUR HELD BY FELLOWSHIP GROUP TUESDAY

The Gospel Fellowship Group held a social hour at the YW rooms on Tuesday, November 25. Ben Sheldon acted as master of ceremonies, leading Bible quiz games. After the social period, a short devotional talk was given by John Mulholland on the theme "Being Thankful for Little Things." About forty students were present.

POEM BY FAYE ROBINSON SELECTED FOR ANTHOLOGY

Faye Robinson, sophomore premed student, recently had an original poem "Sunset and Weariness' published in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry.

The Anthology is a publication put out by the National Poetry Association, and it contains poems by college students from all over the United States.

GLEE CLUBS SING FOR FACULTY CLUB

The Faculty Club will meet at 7:30 Monday night, December 1, in the Home Economics room of Fayerweather Science Hall. Professor C. W. Hughes will be in charge of the program, which will be a musical presentation by the Men's Glee Club and the All-Girls' Choir.

TRI-CLUB MEETING HELD MONDAY

The three language clubs, French, Spanish, and German, held a joint meeting in Bartlett Auditorium, Monday, November 24, giving an original skit for the main feature of the program.

The skit starred Archie Swartztrauber as a Spaniard, Violet Summerville as a French woman, Julian Gresham as a German, Sherwood Coul, a waiter, and Florence Housen, a singer. The scene was a restaurant.

Musical selections included Bill Diehl playing "Clair de Lune", Eleanor Struble clicking castenets; the Spanish Club singing "Silent Night"; the French Club singing "La Marseillaise"; and the German Club singing "Du Du Liegst Mirm Herzen."

Bobby-soxer on the telephone: "I'd love to go, but I feel I should help my father with my homework."

—from the Reader's Digest

'Power' in Italy

SECRETARY of the Italian Socialist Party, Lelio Basso speaks from Rome to a radio audience during the Communist campaign of riots and local strikes. A member of the party headed by Pietro Nenni, the left-wing Socialist leader, Basso is called the real power behind the coalition of Socialists and Communists now doing all in their power to overthrow the democratic government of Premier Gasperi. (International)

INTRAMURAL SCHEDULE

BASKETBALL

Mon. 3:30-4:05—Creamers vs P.B.s
4:05-4:40—Rabbies vs ex-Scrubbs
4:40-5:15—YMCA vs Eight Balls
Wed. 3:30-4:05—Dingoes vs Eight Balls
4:04-4:40—YMCA vs Vikings
4:40-5:15—Tenn Penns vs Alpha Sigma
Fri. 3:30-4:05—Crescents vs Vikings
● Eight Balls vs P.B.s
4:05-4:40—Fireballs vs ex-Scrubbs
● Rabbies vs S.O.L.
4:40-5:15—Dingoes vs Creamers
● Tenn Penns vs Rebels
Sat. 1:30-2:05—A. S. vs Rebels
2:05-2:40—Crescents vs Fireballs
2:40-3:15—Y.M.C.A. vs S.O.L.
● VOLLEY BALL
Mon. 3:30-4:05—Odds vs Brewers
4:05-4:40—Rockets vs Athenians
4:40-5:15—YMCA vs Choir
Wed. 3:30-4:05—YMCA vs Rockets
4:05-4:40—Choir vs Brewers
4:40-5:15—Odds vs Athenians
● These games will be played in Bartlett.

INTRAMURALS

(Continued from page one)

EIGHT BALLS TRAMPLE SIGMA OMEGA

	I	II	III	IV	Total
Eight Balls	9	6	16	12	43
Sigma Omega	3	7	4	8	22

DINGOES DEFEAT TENN PENNS

	Total
Dinges	20
Tenn Penns	14

VIKINGS STOP FIREBALLS

	I	II	III	IV	Total
Vikings	7	7	10	6	30
Fireballs	9	0	7	2	18

P.B.S. TRIP SIGMA OMEGA

	I	II	III	IV	Total
Sigma	2	1	6	2	11
P.B.S.	8	11	6	9	34

EIGHT BALLS KNOCK OFF ALPHA SIGMA

	Total
Eight Balls	61
Alpha Sigma	15

CREAMERS vs REBELS

	I	II	III	IV	Total
Rebels	13	2	10	4	29
Creamers	6	7	6	2	21

Soccer Game Ended In Scoreless Tie

Thanksgiving afternoon the freshmen and upperclass soccer teams battled to a 0-0 tie on Wilson Field. Playing heads-up ball, both teams subdued time and time again drives into scoring territory.

The upperclass team regained a little of the prestige lost when they succumbed to the freshmen on Wilson Field November 17, under the lights, and the small enthusiastic crowd saw a fit sequel to the previous game.

CRESCENTS SLIDE OVER YM

	I	II	III	IV	Total
Crescents	6	6	8	15	23
YMCA	8	10	5	7	22

Little Audrey

Little Audrey's brother fell from the top mast to the deck of a ship. But little Audrey just laughed and laughed because she knew her brother was use to hardships.

WRESTLING . . . .

(Continued from page 3)

men, Tubby Callaway, a returning sophomore letterman, and Jim Ewing, a freshman. Callaway is the only undefeated wrestler returning this year. With only two in the class, both men will see plenty of work in the season.

Other Classes Weaker

Six men are in the 155 pound class. Lawrence Major, who wrestled last year here, is the only one with experience. The others, all freshmen, are Bill Proffitt, Fred Waggoner, Del Earsman, Duffey, and Wintermute.

Sole man in the 165 pound class is Herb Palmer, a freshman with high school experience. Although he weighs 175 now, he is trying to cut down to weight.

In the 175 pound class are Paul Yambert, sophomore, and John Briggs, junior. Both men wrestled last season.

Heavyweight Roy Kramer is the only one in his class so far. A freshman, he has no experience.

Tough Schedule Ahead

With so many inexperienced men on the squad and a very heavy season ahead it is hard to predict the future. The season will begin with Chattanooga, a strong opponent. Then after the Christmas holidays, the Scots will return to meet Georgia Tech with only two weeks for reconditioning. After that the schedule levels out against some of the best teams in the South East, including Appalachian State, Auburn, and Western North Carolina.

SCOTS END SEASON

(Continued from page three)

Statistics

	M.C.	T.C.
First downs	15	5
Yds. gained rush.	288	112
Yds. lost rush.	20	18
Yds. gained pass.	45	47
Net yds. gained	333	151
Passes attempted	11	8
Passes completed	6	4
Passes inter. by	3	2
Number of punts	2	5
Punting Average	38	37
Number of penalties	4	2
Total yds. penalized	50	10
No. fumbles	1	0
Fumbles rec. by	0	1

holiday tasties

The Flavor of Good Living

It's great to have a tempting "company snack" in the house. . great to dress up your desserts with our tasty Christmas cookies. They are home baked, with choice ingredients, in colorful designs. They're just one of our many seasonal specialties. Order now!

Long Convenient Hours—Short Prices

LYNCH BAKERY

College Spirited Sportswear by ĀKOM

Pep Shirt* for all outdoor sports $2.75

Campus, classroom, dormitory are part and parcel of college living. Yes, and AKOM makes living easy with fine knit sportswear having the kind of styling, colors, workmanship, fit and value that won't flunk out. Yes, AKOM is a good classmate to take back to college. No drain on the wallet either because you can buy AKOM quality at a price you want to pay.

Sizes 34 to 48.

Sidekick* Sweaters . . . . pullover and coat styles, plain and fancy, sleeve and sleeveless. $3.95 to $10.95

LOOK OVER OUR ĀKOM CURRICULUM FOR COLLEGE

Snoozmaster Pajamas*, plain and fancy, for sleep, lounge, and wear under winter sports attire.

$3.50 to $5.95

AKOM Associated Knitted Outerwear Mills

Easy fitting knit sportswear FOR MEN

*REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

PROFFITT'S MAN'S SHOP MAIN FLOOR

"Since 1919. The Best Place To Trade"

ALPHA SIG-THETA

SPLASH AND PULL

THE Highland Echo

Z 703

FOOTBALL SQUAD

FEAST AND FULL

VOLUME 33 | MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, | DECEMBER 6, 1947 | NUMBER 15

Chapel Program Initiates Fred Hope Drive

ORR. EGGLESTON, COWAN AND OSHANA PARTICIPATE

The annual drive for the Fred Hope Fund will be held next Wednesday, December 10. At chapel Wednesday morning, Mildred Orr, President of the YWCA, will preside and introduce two speakers for the Fund, Barbara Eggleston and Roger Cowan. Shirley Oshana, President of the Student Volunteers, will lead the devotions.

Ever since 1900 such a fund for foreign missions has been raised annually on the campus. In the report of the YMCA President in January, 1901, he says that "through the efforts of Mr. Fred Hope, $50 have been raised by subscriptions from the faculty and students to support a native Christian missionary in China." Fred Hope graduated in 1906 and went out as a missionary to Africa in 1907. Shortly thereafter, this fund for foreign missions was named the Fred Hope Fund and was sent to him each year for his work. In all the years between then and his death in 1946 he received this money from Maryville and he accomplished many things with it. In 1945 he and the College agreed that after his death the Fund should not always go to Africa but should be given to aid the work in various countries. Last year it was decided that the money should be sent to China, both because it is the country to which the first subscriptions had been sent and because the need there is so desperate.

This is an all-college, student and faculty drive and is the only opportunity for the College as one group to contribute to a fund to help others.

Choirs, Quartets, Singers To Present Christmas Vespers

Alumni Gymnasium Scene Of Traditional Service

In accordance with tradition the annual Christmas vespers will be held Sunday, December 7, at 7:00 p. m., in the Alumni Gym. The college Vesper Choir, the All Girl Choir, the String Quartet and the Madrigal Singers will present a program of Christmas music. Dr. H. E. Orr will preside.

The program will be opened with a Christmas carol mediley by the string quartet followed by the brass quartet playing Break Forth O Beauteous Heavenly Light by Bach.

The All Girl Choir will sing While Shepherds Watched by Holler; In Bethlehem's Lowly Manger by Williams; Carol of the Bells which is a Ukrainian carol, and Cherubim Song by Bortnian sky.

Next the Madrigal Singers will present four numbers. They are Adoramus te by Palestrina; Angels We Have Heard On High, an old French Carol; Lo! How a Rose, a 16th Century Carol; and Bring a Torch Jeanette Isabelle a French Carol.

The Vesper Choir will sing O Magnum Mysterium by de Vittoria, "Entrance Scene" (2nd Movement, Advent Motet) by Schreck; Fum, Fum, Fum! (a Catalian Carol) arranged by K. Schindler and Hodie! Christus Natus Est by Willan.

Instrumental Classes Hold Private Recital

The members of Miss Lanfear's clarinet and trumpet classes presented a private recital Wednesday morning, December 3, at 11:30. Each class participated in an ensemble number followed by a series of solos.

Next Wednesday the group will meet again to play Christmas carols. These students have been studying their repective instruments one semester.

Y.M.C.A. PRESENTS CHRISTMAS MUSIC

For their final event of the semester, the Y.M.C.A. is presenting this Sunday, at 1:30 in Bartlett Hall, a program of Christmas music. Two groups will perform, the girls' octet and the men's quartette. The octet is composed of the following singers: Peggy Howell, Janet Cummings, Barbara Blair, Doris Cook, Louise Lloyd, Rella Anderson, Marilyn Hartpence, and Betty Hall.

The men composing the quartet are Tom Wheeler, Merrill Grubbs, Mil Castrodale, and Dave Yeaworth. Miss Garnet Manges, who is pianist for the Messiah performance, will play an interlude of Christmas melodies between numbers by the choral groups.

Theta Alpha Phi Holds Banquet Thursday Night

The local chapter of Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic fraternity, will hold a banquet Thursday night, December 11 at 7:00. Max House, president of the organization, states that the purpose of the dinner is to "recognize the efforts of dramatically minded students, especially those who have worked in Experimental Theater and Dear Ruth this semester, and to encourage the art of play production in all its phases."

The program will include some songs by Miss Jessie Wild, Assistant Professor of Drama and Speech, and a paper entitled "Immanuel" by Tom Wheeler. Malcolm Miller, fine arts critic for the Knoxville Journal, is the main speaker for the evening.

Members of the faculty and staff who will attend are Dr. and Mrs. Hunter, Miss Massey and Mr. and Mrs. Wagner Newberry.

The meal will be served in the Home Economics rooms by Miss Gertrude Meiselwitz and her assistants.

Chapel Held During Exams As Usual

Information from the Personnel Office says there will be chapel during exam week, contrary to a recent rumor among students.

Cuts for it will be counted on all days except Thursday, when many of the students will have already gone home.

The dream about there being no classes on Monday, December 15, has vanished, for the college will run on its regular schedule that day with no time out for test cramming.

Experimentalists Present Two Plays

Two plays were given two performances each last night at the Experimental Theater production in Bartlett Hall. The plays were a dramtization of Van Dyke's The Other Wise Man and Wesley Coutt's Andante. Persons taking part in the first were Ben Paxton as narrator and Jim Black, Raymond Saunders, Dick Black, Bob Watkins, Bob Thomson, Mary Lou Laurell and Joan Hall as actors. Included in the cast of the latter were Charles Parvin, Florence Housch, Glenn Knecht, Joseph Poland, Judy Breen.

The plays, which were produced by Miss Wild's drama and speech class, were directed by Ben Paxton and Robert Holley, with Bette Marie Davis assisting Holley with Andante.

Miss Wild, who took the part of innocent bystander and moral supporter in the productions, made the following comment about the work of the students: "I think they have done excellent work. The thing that amazes me most about the students at Maryville is their ingeniousness and ability to do such good work with what little they have. With tireless effort and energy they avoid amateurishness and strive to make a professional and polished job."

Camera Club Holds First Exhibition

The first exhibition of photographic work done by the members of the Camera Club was held in Bartlett Auditorium last Thursday evening.

The program was in two sections. First, a presentation of color slides done by the members, which were projected to an audience of 50 or 60 persons seated in the auditorium. The final portion of the program was held in the adjoining rooms of Bartlett, and was an exhibition of mounted, black-and-white photographs.

This is the first of a planned series of demonstrations by the Camera Club. In the future, it is intended to make the exhibitions assume the aspects of a competition, open to all the campus members. The photographs which were exhibited this time will be hung in the library at the early part of next semester for the benefit of those who were unable to view them before.

Newberry, Phillips Star In Alcoa Play

"You Can't Take It With You," the well-known comedy which was made into a movie, is soon to be presented by the Alcoa Little Theater. This play should be of particular interest to Maryville College students since the cast includes Mrs. Elizabeth Newberry, instructor in English, and Mr. Stanley Phillips, assistant professor of Economics.

"25 Lines and 3 Screams"

Mrs. Newberry portrays Mrs Kirby, an aristocratic woman who has come to the home of the Sycamore family for dinner. Mrs Kirby is very much shocked by the antics of the eccentric family that she is visiting, especially when she runs up on a box of Grandfather's pet snakes. This, according to Mr. Phillips, is one of the funniest scenes in the play. Mrs. Newberry, when questioned, answered that her part is only a small one and has just "25 lines and 3 screams," which leaves her plenty of time for other things.

Mr. Phillips portrays Paul Sycamore, the eccentric father of the household. His interest is in his family, but more especially in fireworks. The cellar of the house is frequently blown up because of this peculiar interest.

The romantic interest of the play is supplied by Mrs. Grace York, an aunt of Cotton Easter, who plays the part of the daughter of Paul Sycamore.

Hilarious Plot

The scene is laid in New York City, in the home of Paul Sycamore. His daughter is in love with the son of the boss, and has invited his aristocratic, Fifth Avenue family to her home for dinner. Upon their arrival, the family is apalled by the odd family of their prospective daughter-in-law. They find the father "playing" with fireworks, the mother painting weird pictures, and live specimens of the grandfather's hobby. Needless to say, by the time dinner is served, hilarious incidents have occurred climaxed by the blowing up of the entire cellar. "How that is to be achieved on the stage," says Mr. Phillips, "remains to be seen."

The play is ably directed by Mrs. West, who is well-known to many M. C. students.

The play will be presented on Saturday night, December 13, and on the following Monday and Tuesday nights, December 15 and 16.

Freshman Debaters Tryout Next Week

Try-outs for the freshman debate team will be held next week The freshmen who have been taking Mr. Pieper's speech class will participate in the try-outs. They are Judy Breen, Jim Davis, Betty Davis, Lewis Evans, Erasmus Fowler, Marilyn Edge, Jean Elliot, Dolores Young, Jean McCue, Elenor Kramer, Fred Sieber, Donald Whelan, Al Shakley, Bill Shields, and Freddie Waggoner.

News Capsules—

BY DONALD WHELAN

European Aid OK'd By Senate

Passage of the administration's stopgap aid for Europe seemed assured last week as House Republican leaders joined Democrats in support of the measure. Loudest dissent came from GOP Representative Leo Allen of Illinois. The Senate had already passed the $597-million help for France, Italy and Austria by an overwhelming 83 to 6 vote.

Reds Give French Trouble

Communist activity retained the headlines as French troops fired on demonstrators attempting seizure of railroad stations and telephone exchanges. In Paris France's Assembly was the scene of another outburst. Opposing a new strike control law, a Communist Deputy suggested the army refuse to obey the government. At this point Assembly Prexy Edouard Herriot asked for a vote to expel the Deputy. The motion was carried but the leftist refused to leave. Herriot then adjourned the group and non-Commy Deputies walked out, leaving Communists holding the hall and still speaking.

Holy Land Split Says UN

The United Nations Assembly last week voted for partition o Palestine. The plan calls for setting up independent Jewish and Arab states in the Holy Land next October 1. Meanwhile Jewish Arab rioting continued despite efforts of British troops to maintain peace. At Tel Aviv, where thirty five were reported killed in one day, another refugee ship slipped through the British blockade.

The Moslem world's reaction was indicated by a walkout from the UN Assembly by Arab nation delegates. Further trouble arose in the Near East where Moslem mobs wrecked a British kindergarten and the U. S. Information Service office at Baghdad. Demonstrations spread to Egypt where students paraded and eleven were injured in Cairo.

London Conference

Some hope for success of the London Foreign Ministers Conference was seen in the call for "reunification" of Germany by Russia's Vyacheslav Molotov. The move puts at rest the old fear that the conference would witness a final splitting of Europe down the iron-curtain line.

Bowl Games Scheduled

The 1947 football season was over as far as important games were concerned. Grid fans throughout the country looked forward to January 1 games as the nation's number-two team, Michigan, is to meet Southern California in the Rose Bowl. Others were Alabam. vs. Texas in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl; SMU vs. Penn State i the Cotton Bowl at Dallas; Georgia Tech vs. Kansas in Miami's Orange Bowl.

Big Jim Snoozes

Alabama's mammoth governor James E. (Big Jim) Folsom, add ed a new twist to the traditional sit-down strike. In several small Alabama towns the state's chief executive plopped his 6-foot, 8-inch frame on courtroom floors and city sidewalks for short naps. He was protesting control of the state's politics by what he terms Birmingham "Big City Boys."

Vesper Choir Holds Annual Yuletide Frolic

Meeting in the YW rooms, the Vesper Choir held its annua Christmas party last Wednesday

The program included an original comic reading by "Footsie" Housch, and a presentation of the story of the Christ-child. Scott McClure and Chet Phillips read passages from the Scripture, which were punctuated with Christmas music sung by a quartette composed of Tom Wheeler, Mil Castrodale, Peggy Howell and Betty Saint. After the program, the entire group made their traditional caroling trek to the home of Mrs. Walker in the College Woods.

The opening of the presents about the Christmas tree, with Santa Claus Art Haaf acting as master of ceremonies, followed after the choir members re-gathered in the YW rooms for refreshments.

New Musical Groups Formed

A string quartet and group of madrigal singers are the most recent additions to musical groups on the campus. The quartet, which has already performed before Faculty Club and a meeting at the First Methodist Church, will make its next appearance Sunday night at the Christmas Vesper Service. The members are Esther Cornelius and Ruth Ramsey, violinists; Bill Diehl, violist; and Mr. W. Curtis Hughes, cellist.

The madrigal singers include twelve members of the Vesper Chior. Sopranos are Peggy Howell, Rella Anderson and Peggy Wakefield; altos are Barbara Blair, Gloria Measmer and Kathryn Franklin; tenors are Art Haaf, Charles Parvin, and Charles Johnson; basses are Bill Diehl, Mil Castrodale, and Ed Goddard. They have appeared at a program for Chilhowee Club and on a Student Recital. They will also perform at the Vesper service Sunday night

THELMA NELSON PRESENTS RECITAL

Miss Thelma Nelson, Instructor in Piano and Theory, presented a piano recital last Thursday, December 4, in the Chilhowee Club House.

Her program was as follows: Minuet from Berenice, Handel-Munz; Toccata and Fugue in D Minor, Bach-Tausig; Impromptu in E Flat, Schubert; Etude in E, Chopin; Four Waltzes Op. 39 Brahms; The Island Spell, Ireland; Pictures at an Exposition The City Gates, Moussorgsky; an Concerto No. 4 in D Minor, Moderato Assai, Rubinstein. Mis. Vivian Lanfear accompanied her at the second piano for the final number.

Miss Nelson is a graduate of the College of Wooster, Wooster, Ohio, where she was elected a member of Pi Kappa Lamda.

Y.W.C.A. Sings Christmas Carols Sunday Afternoon

Y.W.C.A. will meet at 1:30 Sunday to sing Christmas carols All girls are invited to attend Anna Sakaizaiwa will have the special music.

What Do You Think? Poll By Reporter Reveals Student Feeling

BY DICK SPRAGUE

What are the consistent topics of conversation around Maryville College? Believing that the four questions that follow cover the outstanding ones, we presented them to over one hundred students. Eighty-one of them were willing to reply, some vaguely and others quite specifically. There was no attempt to choose the students whose opinions were sought other than to eliminate members of the editorial staff of The Highland Echo.

We want you to realize that the results of this poll represent the opinions of only 81 students and may not be a true survey of Maryville College opinion.

The participants were 20 freshmen, 37 sophomores, 11 juniors, and 13 seniors. More men are represented than women.

For the question What professor do you think is the best? everyone had an opinion. Twenty six faculty members were named, five being from the English department, probably because every one takes English. However, Mr. Archibald Pieper led with a 21% vote. Adding the votes not specifying whether Mr. or Mrs. Pieper was intended would raise his vote percentage to 30%. Undoubtedly, he led the field. Dr. Hunter with 17% and Dr. Orr with 10% followed. The other 43% was divided among 21 professors and Miss Massey. Every major department was represented.

Another question asked was Whom do you consider outstanding in your class, not necessarily with respect to scholarship? or as a second choice question, Whom do you consider outstanding in another class? Both of these questions remained unanswered or were negatively answered by 30% of those polled. Picking an outstanding student in their own class was accomplished by 58%, and an additional 12% picked an outstanding student from another class. It might be interesting to note that no student picked a person from a class lower than his own as outstanding, the seniors— and only they— not choosing any outstanding personalities outside of their own class There were no names mentioned enough to warrant recognition. Of those named, 37% were girls. However, both juniors and seniors favored girls to the extent of 67%—the freshmen and sophomores overwhelmingly voting for men. It also appeared that men were more apt to vote for a girl than vice versa.

The remaining two questions are related to each other, although they are independent. Do you think that a GREAT change is needed at Maryville College? Three students would not commit

(Continued on page four)

ALPHA SIG-THETA COMBINE FOR SPLASH PARTY, TAFFY PULL

Alpha Sigma and Theta Epsilon will have a joint meeting December 6, in form of a splash party and taffy pull. The two societies will meet at the pool at seven o'clock, and around 8:30 they will go to the Y. W. rooms for the taffy pull.

Margaret Newland and Joe Claud, program chairmen of the two societies planned the party.

Dean Frances Massey, Miss Lightfoot, and Coach and Mrs Johnson will chaperone.

ROVER CREW PLANS FOR NEXT SEMESTER

Saturday is the final day for men to make arrangements for joining the Rover Crew which is sponsored by Y.M.C.A., according to information issued by Sam Broyles, the counselor.

The rovers will begin their activities more vigorously next semester, and plans are already being made for the program of hikes, camps and projects. One project has been completed this semester. The men have constructed a hamburger grill in the woods on the college side of the stream which divides the picnic grounds. Broyles advises all men who are interested to contact him at once, in order that their names may be included in the coming activities.

Eleven Students Say Farewell To M.C. At Christmas

Besides the four seniors, Marjorie Sapp, Betty Saint, Martha Scanlon, and Katherine Franklin who will be graduated this semester, there are seven other girls, five freshmen and two sophomores, saying farewell to Maryville at Christmas.

The sophomores, Ruth Thompson, who is to be married, and Betty Field, whose mother is ill, both live in Baldwin.

Memorial Hall will lose one freshman, Margie Shoemaker from Knoxville; the others stay in Baldwin.

Alice Holmes, Peggy Burrow, and Jean McCue all plan to transfer to other schools and colleges. Alice will stay home and attend Draughon School of Commerce in Atlanta. Peggy, from Milan, Tennessee, has made arrangements to go to Memphis State Teachers College. Jean is going to major in kindergarten work at Clarion State Teachers College, not far from her home in Pennsylvania.

Lydia Saunders will return to St. Louis and plans to be married during the Christmas holidays.

Two Baldwin freshmen have already left in the past two weeks; Kathy Cronkhite, and Carol Howick, who was called to her home in New York when her father died.

Southern Route For Vesper Choir Tour Confirmed

Group To Take Trip Next April

Fifty odd a capella choir members will board buses next April for a three stop tour of southern churches, Mr. Harter, the director, announced this week.

Setting out on Tuesday, April 20, they will sing that evening at the Second Presbyterian Church in Chattanooga. The following evening on the 21st they will sing at the 6th Avenue Presbyterian Church in Birmingham, and on the 22nd at the Convent Presbyterian Church in Atlanta. There are possibilities of side trips and day appearances in addition to the three overnight stops. Buses will be back at the college on Friday the 23rd.

The churches will provide evening and breakfast meals for choir members and will make arrangements for them to sleep in private homes. They will also contribute toward the expenses of the trip.

Choir robes will be ready by that time, which will be carried in special boxes which have been made for the purpose. Advance publicity will be sent to the churches, and special programs will be printed for the concerts before the tour. Collapsible choir "risers" will be used for the first time in choir history, which will group and bank the choir for a better effect.

This trip will follow much the same route as that taken by the Vesper Choir in the spring of two years ago, with the exception that this year it will stop in Atlanta instead of Etowah and Huntsville.

Highland Squads Invited To Feast On Tuesday Night

Local Businessmen Fete Teams at Fountain City

The 1947 Highlander football squad along with their coaches and managers have been invited to a banquet to be held at Whittle Springs Hotel, Fountain City, Tennessee, on December 9. The banquet is being sponsored by a group of some thirty-eight independent business men of Alcoa, Maryville, and vicinity.

Col. A. D. Huddleston, public relations director for the local plant of the Aluminum Company of America, will serve as toastmaster for the evening.

Six High Schools Invited

In addition to the fifty-eight players from Maryville College, about fifty senior members of the six county high schools, including their coaches, have been invited to the banquet by the group of businessmen. Alcoa, Everett, Maryville, Porter, Townsend, and Walland are the six high schools of Blount County to be represented at the banquet, according to Mr. Lloyd Thorton, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

More than 150 guests are expected to attend the banquet. This number includes the business men sponsoring the event. General chairman for the banquet is Mr. Earl Blazer, while Mr. D. W. Proffitt is in charge of transportation for the players.

Guest Speakers Announced

The group sponsoring the banquet have sent "speaking invitations" to President Lloyd, Coach Honaker, and Dean McClelland, chairman of the committee on athletics.

Five Maryville Alumni Invited

Five alumni, who are now coaching in the schools of the county will attend the banquet along with their graduating senior players. Head Coach John Q. (Nig) Wilburn and assistant coach "Woody" Everett of Alcoa High School, Coach Jim Renfro of Maryville High School, Coach Spence Renfro and his assistant Walter Coker of Everett High, and Ken Stinnett, ace first baseman of the Scotty ball club last year, are to attend the affair.

(Continued on page four)

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

Volume 32 Number 15

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

EDITORIAL STAFF

Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Editor This Week ..... Dorothy Vawter
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Ruth Ramsey, Ilda Mosby, Mariagrazia Merlanti, Dick Sprague, Carroll Stegall

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb, Ruth Davis

FRESHMEN APPRENTICES
Jean Hunt, Mary Lyerly, Hazel Holm, Elenor Kramer, Donald Whelan

SPORTS STAFF

Kenneth Olsen ..... Editor
Herbert McCallum ..... Sophomore Reporter
Maynard Noble ..... Freshman Apprentice

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF

Business Manager ..... Ruth Williams

SENIOR ASSISTANTS
Mary Jane Long, Florence Heusch

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Margaret Weaver

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANTS
Bob Watkins, Joe Claude, Janet Blackmore

FRESHMEN ASSISTANTS
Barbara Altfather, Naoagene Morrow, Anita Withers

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1947

SUBJECT REPEATED

Realizing full well that editorial repetition indicates limited editorial subject matter, we would like to ignore the fact and once again bring the subject of a Rec Hall.

We have heard that youth is impatient and the statement would mark us especially young on a discussion of a Rec Hall. We're impatient because we've been here from one to four years wanting and needing a Rec Hall dreadfully. We cannot understand why action on it should be shoved so far into the future. Surely it cannot be an impossibility and surely no one can fail to recognize the need for it.

Sometimes as a group we discuss our Rec Hall demands. We wonder if we are pushing "good times" in front of more real values of life. But the final note of the discussion is always the same. We have no place for recreation for the mixed group unless one wants to make walking around the circle drive until 7:15 recreation. At least it's mixed. Evenly, too.

Finances cannot wholly be the barrier. Granted a Rec Hall would be expensive, but also granted that, if given the chance some students would go all out toward securing funds. Of course, we could never have a crystal ballroom on funds a student body could raise, but who wants a crystal ballroom?

What we want is a spacious place with radios, plenty of magazines, chairs, card tables and recreational equipment. What we want is for such a place to be open the majority of the time, whether or not other events are scheduled on the same night. Very few events can be planned to please the entire student body. What we want is a place where we can date on Saturday evenings, especially on those when nothing else is being held on campus. We want no more Saturday evenings like the last one when at 7:15—7:15 mind you!—each girl made her merry way to her room and spent an exciting evening listening to her radio. That is, if she was lucky enough to have a radio. Ho-Hum!!

L.Y.S.

UNFOUNDED RUMOR!

One of the most unfounded and unjust rumors to ever find its place in the whisperings of our campus is one which has circulated ever since we can remember, and it was probably making its rounds long before our time. The idea that some students are faculty paid spies is purely erroneous, and its only value is a negative value—that of damaging the accused.

L.Y.S.

Much Echo About Nothing

BY ILDA MOSBY

The ancients worried about whether an angel can move from one extreme to the other without passing through the middle. If they can, there are a lot of M. C. students who'd like to be angelic for a few weeks to go from one semester to the next without going through the exams stuck in the middle.

Have you made your reservation? Or aren't you in a hurry to get home? Anna Stevens just made it in time to get the last reservation on the "Tennessean". Registration is just another one of those things we have to do before we can go home or come back.

Don Crane really believes in being realistic. If the book says sing, he sings. And some of the rest of those lit class actors really put themselves into their parts—John Ferris, "Nay, faith, let not me play a woman; I have a beard coming." Eckert, Lawyer—latest romantic team.—Lindsay—let the lion roar. The observant sophomores didn't even notice Miss Johnson's 1944-45 date for the date for Midsummer Night's Dream.

Add actor Phillips and actress Newberry to the list of talented MC professors. They'll perform in the Alcoa Little Theater production, "You Can't Take It With You."

Dr. Buchanan's Bible 303a class had a bit of surprise drama the other day. Four bright souls decided that oral reports were too common. We wonder if they tried out for the parts or just how they decided who would be who in their skit. At least Keel can say he was an angel—once. The question is, which one had to wash the sheets they wore?

Were Pope and Nish studying for exams or just reading the dictionary for something to do? Monopolies aren't allowed but Harper and Larson seem to have one on a library table.

The choir party sounded rare as usual. Exchange gifts were of a peculiar variety; gold fish, penny banks, birth certificates, poems—!

Food is always a good topic for conversation. Everybody uses it and most folks are quite interested in it. The exceptions just might be Muetzel, Saint, and Horst. Their favorite food—pie(?)

Someone always has to be different. This time it's Smitty, who wrote "safe" after Eggleston's name in the check-in column on the Town Night sheet. Has Harold Hunter entered his second childhood or is he just completing a post graduate course on his first? Paper dolls and toy airplanes—my, my!

Cotton Easter heard screams and the sound of someone beating his head against something hard—all this in the middle of the night. Investigation disclosed Glen Knecht doing literally that. Easter just picked him up, put him in bed, and he curled up and slept on. The next morning Glen told Cotton about his dreaming of the vault's collapsing on him and his rescue by said Easter.

If we forget and pop-up on the first notes of a hymn at New Providence, what'll we do when we go home? And when we forget and do it, do we stay up or sit down? Sunday school was enlivened by the back row's indecision.

Color scheme extraordinary—light pink for a bicycle (whose?).

Gelolo finally found the basement light switch after a week of hunting. Note to Pearson's monitors: it's just inside the door.

Every once in a while some gay soul (masculine) tries something new. This time it's K. K. Kennedy's goatee and earring. Things are getting a bit rought in wrestling. They'd better leave a few men in condition for real bouts. If you want to hear a good broadcast, just listen to Kribb's cooking hour. Connie Lynn (masculine) appeared Wednesday morning before breakfast on second floor Pearsons bearing two feminine blouses—oops! excuse me, one—he lost the other on the way up stairs. Stairs—lost—Cobb—just ask her what. Point system tournaments always attract visitors. Now that they're using Bartlett, there're even balcony seats—all usually filled by such characters as Henry, Ribble, and Baird. Here's hoping Ruth Thompson enjoyed her unexepected dinner at Noah's Ark last night.

It's early, but maybe first orders will get the most consideration. So—we're starting ours to Santa now. The list includes everything from a thirty hour day to gossip—lighter weight textbooks—maid service—automatic heat controllers in the dorms.

iMss Cowdrick insulted her fifth hour class by telling them that by that time of day she'd rather not see them and mental telepathy told her they were adding "ditto."

Twelve more days, one more ECHO, and home.

STUDY OF HANDS

By Jean Almy

ECHOES OF THE PAST

1802—Isaac opens his "Log College" in Grassy Valley.
1812—Establishment of Maryville Academy.
1819—Maryville College founded with five students.
1822—Inauguration of President Anderson.
1833—"The Seminary" Building erected on Main Street.
1842—Charter of Maryville College secured.
1857—Inauguration of President Robinson.
1861—April 22, College Work suspended on account of war.
1866—Maryville reopened, after the war, on Main Street, in the old Barracks with forty-seven students, two college and forty five preparatory.
1869—First purchase of land for present site and Anderson Hall erected. Inauguration of President Bartlett.
1870—Memorial and Baldwin Halls built.
1871—Establishment of Music Departments.
1875—First women graduates.
1877—February Meetings began.
1880—Permanent Endowment sought.
1888—Hill Loan Library established and Lamar Library erected.
1889—Inauguration of President Boardman.
1890—Erection of President's house.
1892—Co-operative Boarding Club established. Preparatory Annex to Anderson Hall built.
1895—Bartlett Hall erected.
1898—Fayerweather Science Hall erected.
1899—Expression epartment established.
1901—Art Department established. Inauguration of President Wilson.
1903—Miss Margaret Henry begins Scholarship Work.
1906—Voorhees Chapel and Music Hall erected.
1907—Bible Training Department established.
1909—Preparatory Course extended to four years.
1910—Forward Fund of $227,000 was reached. Pearson's Hall, Carnegie Hall and Lamar Memorial Hospital built.
1915—Swimming Pool built.
1916—April 12, Carnegie burned and New Carnegie built. Agricultural Department established.

Africa Topic For Student Vol Speaker

Lois Johanson, whose parents are missionaries in Africa, will speak at Student Vols Sunday night. Her subject will be "The Challenge of Africa." This will be the next to the last meeting of the semester.

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.
30-Minute Service
between
Maryville and Knoxville

ASSORTED nuts

PERFECT COMPANION TO A DELICIOUS DESSERT

"What's in nuts?" you ask. Then we show you a bag of our luscious giant cashews, mellow toasted almonds, oven-fresh peanuts or walnuts. You agree they are right as a casual or afternoon dinner treat. Buy a pound today!

PARK DRUG STORE

They Go Well Together ..

Shirts and Ties

They always make wonderful Christmas Gifts

Shop Now—Save Time and Money!

BADGETT STORE CO.

Festive Fare

OUR FAMOUS TIME-HONORED CUSTOM

Sure, folks keep coming back to use for more. We got off to a superb start years ago, with luscious down-to-earth foods. . . . Our chefs have been tickling your palates ever since. We know you appreciate our fine touches which add so much pelasure. . . . food specialties, cordial atmosphere, efficient service. Drop in for ideal holiday fare.

COULTER'S RESTAURANT

It is Easy to Pay
The Royal Way
Gamble Bldg.
Royal Jewelers

FARMER & STAPP
BARBER SHOP

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

Hit Parade of Gifts

Gifts
For Everyone
Byrne Drug Co.

Holiday Foods

M. M. ELDER CASH CARRY STORE

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

Now that the colossal confusion wrought by the announcement of Kerbela Temple Shrine's plans to stage a benefit game at Knoxville December 13 has passed away, we can settle down to a more steady pace of sports on the hill. First we have the debut of the hardwood and mat specialists on Saturday and Wednesday of next week.

The Grapplers are Groaning

Some 24 grapplers have been tussling upstairs in Bartlett for these two weeks. This week when Hershell Merriman, a 165 pounder and veteran of the wrestling season last year, returned to sweat clothes, some of Coach Davis's wrestling worries were eased a bit. Seems that the light and medium weight wrestlers are plentiful, but few heavier weight men are grappling this season. Big "Butch" Kramer, a boy with a determined spirit and lots of weight to lose, is the heaviest grappler now training. Paul Yambert, John Briggs, and Herbert Palmer round out the grappling roster of men above 160 pounds.

Good Stock of Middle Weights

The prospects are a little brighter in the 155 pound wrestling class. Seven men—Lawrence Major, Bill Proffitt, Fred Waggoner, Del Earsman, Lowell Duffy, Julian Gresham, Orval Wintermute—are on tap to grapple in this class. Major is the only one of the group with experience, but these neophytes are learning fast. Allow some of these men the experience of a couple of collegiate bouts and they'll be coming out on top.

Calloway, Ross Back

Henry "Tubby" Calloway, undefeated in the 145 lb. weight last season, is one of the four lettermen back. Calloway will probably be the most dependable "pinner" in the coming season. Freshman Jim Ewing is coming along favorably as a 145 pounder.

Captain Ken Ross leads a group of four men in the 136 pound class. Bill Brewer, who wrestled last year, and three inexperienced sophomores—Preston Mulford, Frank Ladner, George Robarts—make up the rank of contenders in the 136 lb. weight. Among the lighter classes, Paul McNeil, a lithe 110 pound flyweight, hopes to build his weight to the 121 minimum for collegiate wrestling. J. A. Cameron, a wrestler with high school experience, expects to thin down from his present 127 lbs. and enter the 121 lb. group. Jim Marvin of last year's squad, Glen Knecht, Chesley Anderson, and Dick Black will wrestle as 128 pounders.

Just Give 'Em Time.....

Quite a healthy bunch out for wrestling this year. Most are beginners in the game. All have a lot of grit and poise needed to make champion wrestlers. Give 'em a little tim, and these rasslers will be putting the other man's shoulder's square on the floor.

Basketball Question Mark (?)

It's a bit early to say how our basketball five will shape up this year. A number of things handicap the fate of the Highlander Hoopmen for the season that starts Wednesday. The schedule for the second semester play is as yet vacant in spots. A trip to play Lambuth, Western Kentucky, and possibly another school in the vicinity will send the season off to a good start in January.

Reciprocal agreements to play East Tennessee, Emory and Henry, Lincoln Memorial University, and Tusculum will provide the basis of competition. Yet, the above teams will give but ten games for the Maryville Quintet, and only four home games in the above set-up. Possibly more games are in the offing for our Highlanders. We certainly hope so. For a top-notch outfit as the Scotty Cagers are, let's hope they don't have to limp along with only a skeleton of a season.

This 'n' That

Maryville's Mighty giant killers are being given chances to kill food at two different banquets next week . . . every man on the squad and down to the frosh managers is invited . . . we think they deserve both these delicious dinners, for they've been on training table menu since way last August . . . "Wish they'd said something about it sooner" is the quote we heard most often about the cancelled "bowl" game . . . Turn out Wednesday night for basketball in alumni gym if you want to see the Boring-Hamil-Brahams-Lillard-Reynolds cobination whoop it up fast and fancy on the basketball court . . . .

Scots Open Cage Season; Carbide Here Wednesday

Maryville Rejects Bid To "Bowl"

Maryville will definitely not play in the "Shrine Bowl" against Middle Tennessee State on December 13. The final answer was arrived at after prolonged conferences of the football team, the coaching staff, and the executive committees.

Considerable attention has been aroused on the Highlander campus over the proposed game sponsored by the Shriners for a crippled children's benefit. The Shriners sent bids to both Maryville and Carson-Newman for a game to be played on Shields-Watkins Field in Knoxville on December 13. After a six-day delay, Carson-Newman declined. The bid then was extended to several colleges including Middle Tennessee State College, which the Scots defeated 13-6 earlier in the season. After more deliberation, the MTSC Raiders accepted.

On the other hand, the Maryville contingent, disheartened by the delay and the change of opponents, decided that since the team was out of condition and exams were approaching they would not accept the bid against the Teachers.

After Maryville declined the offer to participate in the "Shrine Bowl," Kerbela Temple officials cancelled the event.

Intramural Dope

BASKETBALL

Scoring heavily, the Eight Balls jumped to a nearly lead in the intramural basketball league this week as the season began moving at full speed. With six victories and no defeats, the Eight Balls are way out in front over the next teams. Tied for second are the Vikings, Dingoes, and Wholly Rabbies with three wins and one defeat each.

Besides leading the league standings, the Eight Balls are also high scorers, netting in one game as many as 61 points.

RESULTS OF THE WEEK

Monday

Eight Balls 26, YMCA 8
Creamers 23, P. B.'s 8
Wholly Rabbies 9, Ex-Scrubbs 4

Wednesday

Eight Balls 27, Dingoes 6
Vikings 24, YMCA 12
Tenn Penns 39, Alpha Sig 10

Friday

Vikings 37, Crescents 7
Fireballs 15, ExScrubbs 10
Dingoes 26, Creamers 11
Wholly Rabbies 28, S.O.L. 13
Eight Balls 52, P.B.'s 28
Tenn Penns 28, Rebels 27

BASKETBALL STANDINGS

	W	L	Pct.
Eight Balls	6	0	1.000
Vikings	3	1	.750
Dingoes	3	1	.750
Wholly Rabbies	3	1	.750
Tenn Penns	2	1	.666
Creamers	2	1	.666
Rebels	1	1	.500
Crescents	1	1	.500
Fireballs	1	1	.500
Ex-Scrubbs	1	3	.250
P.B.s	1	3	.250
Y.M.C.A.	0	3	.000
Alpha Sigma	0	3	.000
S.O.L.	0	3	.000

VOLLEY BALL

Intramural volley ball ended the second week of competition this Wednesday. The Choir, as yet undefeated, seems to be the strongest team at the present. Four other teams are offering plenty of competition.

	W	L	Pct.
Choir	4	0	1.000
Rockets	2	2	.500
Y.M.C.A.	2	2	.500
Athenians	2	2	.500
Brewers	2	2	.500
Odds and Ends	0	4	.000

Hoopmen Prepare For Oak Ridge Quintet

The Scotty Cagers knock the lid off the basket to open their '47-'48 basketball season next Wednesday night, December 10, in Alumni Gym with Carbon-Carbide, an independent five of Oak Ridge.

With seven lettermen back from last season, the Highlander Hoopmen are looking forward to another successful cage campaign. Abbott Kemp, reserve guard, is the only player lost of eight lettermen in the '46-'47 season.

For the past two weeks the charges of Coach L. S. Honaker have held daily drills in Alumni Gym to polish up for the opening night next Wednesday.

Fast Five Up Front

As the final week of preliminary practice progressed, Coach Honaker was running a fast five as first string which included Bob Boring, Brick Brahams, Hugh Hamil, Ray Lilliard, and Gene Reynolds.

Bob Boring, a sophomore letter man, won all-state honors in 1944 with a Friendsville (Tenn.) five that captured the state crown in basketball. Equally proficient both on offense and defense, Boring will take up again at a guard position on the Scot quintet.

Hugh Hamil, teammate of Boring's at Friendsville, entered collegiate competition with the Highlanders last year. A letterman, this 5' 11" guard will start with his former high school teammate for the game Wednesday night.

Brick Brahams, 6' 3" California redhead, is number one man for the pivot post of the Maryville team. A leading scorer in the Highlander '46-'47 season, Brick began collegiate basketball at Occidental College two years ago.

Lillard Begins 4th Term

Ray Lillard, captain of the '46 '47 squad, begins his fourth season at Maryville College. Lillard lettered first during the '40-'41 season and has been a leading scorer for the Orange and Garnet squads in his three years on the hill. Last year Lillard's average stood at 11 points per game.

Gene Reynolds, a "dark horse" in the Scottie five, will likely start at a forward position.

Reserves are stacked deep along the Highlander bench, and many players and combinations of players should meet the visit-

(Continued on page four)

ATHLETIC BOARD VOTES LETTERS TO 25 PLAYERS

HAMILTON, ENGEL, HENRY ELECTED TEAM MANAGERS

The Executive Board of Control, governing body of the Athletic Association of Maryville College, in a meeting Wednesday after chapel elected twenty-five men as lettermen of the 1947 football season.

Basketball, wrestling, and football managers for the coming seasons were elected by the Board. Dick Hamilton, sophomore of Maryville, was elected acting manager for the basketball squad. John Richardson, sophomore from Haverton, Pennsylvania, was elected assistant basketball manager. Bud Engel was elected manager of the wrestling squad for the current season. Engel is a senior whose home town is Union City, New Jersey.

Bo Henry Re-elected

Clifford "Bo" Henry was re-elected football manager to serve for the 1948 season. Henry is a sophomore from Rockford, Tennessee and was awarded a letter by the Executive Board for his managership this season.

Lloyd Anderson, Ronald Easter, Robert Garner, Frank Still, and Ken Talbott are seniors who were voted letters by the board.

Two juniors—Fred Kluth and Alan Rock—were awarded letters by vote of the executive board.

14 Sophomore Lettermen

Ken Andes, Benton Baldwin, King Berrong, Leon Berrong, Bob Boring, Dave Clark, Henry Calloway, Howard Davis, Ray Holsey Hershell Merriman, D. M. Miller, Robert Neff, James Newman, and Bill Proffitt were sophomore recipients of letters awarded for the '47 season.

The board elected five freshmen for football letters. The freshmen lettermen elected were Bill Fogarty, Joe Johnson, Allen Law, and Donald Walker.

President Mitchell Presides

President Marvin Mitchell presided at the meeting which was held in the Athletic Office in Bartlett. Other officers of the Association present were vice-president Bill Proffitt, and Barbara Eggleston, secretary.

Student members of the Executive Board of Control who were present included Janice Lindsay, Lloyd Anderson, and Bob Boring. The two faculty representatives on the board, Miss Jessie Heron and Mr. A. F. Pieper, were present.

Coach L. S. Honaker, director of Athletics, was present as ex officio member of the board meeting.

Coach Honaker is placing an

(Continued on page four)

Grapplers Stage Srimmage Before Chattanooga Match

BY KEN OLSEN

Varsity matmen, now in their second week of regular practice, have begun inter-squad bouts in preparation for next Saturday's opening match at Chattanooga. Coach "J.D." Davis, wrestling mentor, has shifted conditioning into high gear this week to add experience to his green squad before the season begins.

Fundamentals First, Then Bouts

Fundamentals were first on the agenda for the grapplers. Balance, footwork, and basic holds and escapes took up all the time in the daily hour-long sessions in Bartlett. The neophites were introduced to "switches, sit-outs, half-nelsons, arm-bars, wrist-locks, and hip-rolls." They worked all the first week for speed and perfection.

This week the grunters and groaners got their first taste of varsity wrestling when Coach Davis began nine-minute inter-squad bouts. Each man tangled with a partner on Wednesday and Friday for three grueling three-minute periods.

Bouts Reveal Flaws

The main purpose of the bouts has been to expose the flaws of each prospective with an eye toward improvement. Most of the men are still not in condition and showed signs of wear early in the bouts. Many of the men new to the game fell when they made typical beginners' mistakes. However, they displayed much improvement from pre-season practice bouts.

Inexperience Is Big Obstacle

The main obstacle to a successful season will be the lack of competitive experience. Of the twenty-four signed up for wrestling, only three are returning lettermen. Four more have had some background in collegiate wrestling, but failed to earn enough points to letter. Of those remaining only two have any high school experience in the sport.

Prospects Low

As December 13 approaches all too fast, the prospects for a top team are weak. Chattanooga looms quite a giant for the small Scot team to open against. Later on, as they gain more experience, the Scotties may move into the leading small colleges of Southern wrestling. The raw material is there, the question is, how good will the product be?

FOOTBALL SQUAD TO FEAST IN PEARSONS

The Maryville College football squad will have their annual banquet next Thursday night in Pearsons Dining Hall. The entire squad, managers, cheerleaders, and coaches will be present.

Mr. A. F. Pieper, former Highlander footballer and now Associate Professor of Political Science, will be toastmaster for the banquet.

The election of a captain by the newly elected 1947 lettermen will be a highlight of the evening.

President Lloyd, Dean Hunter, and members of Athletic Board of Control are special guests for the occasion.

Many people eat more than they think. If they didn't they would starve to death.

Blushes creep across girls' faces because if they ran they would kick up too much dust and powder.

CHRISTMAS PHOTOGRAPHS

THE WEBB STUDIO

GLAMOR SHOPS

118 Broadway—Maryville, Tennessee

Want to be a Christmas angel? Then check all the super people on your list (include yourself in) for this wonderful shimmering rayon satin robe, a Gold-Craft Original. It's a dream . . . yards of gleaming satin, swirling monogram, painstaking tailoring. And priced——well, it looks dollars more. Sizes 10 to 20 in claret wine, baby blue, royal blue, all piped with white.

Use our Convenient Lay-Away Plan

holiday tasties

The Flavor of Good Living

It's great to have a tempting "company snack" in the house. . great to dress up your desserts with our tasty Christmas cookies. They are home baked, with choice ingredients, in colorful designs. They're just one of our many seasonal specialties. Order now!

Long Convenient Hours—Short Prices

LYNCH BAKERY

Date Night!

To make a hit with the New Gal you just met in School . . . . be sure that you have a Clean White Shirt for date nights.

9 Pounds Clothes Washed, Rinsed, Damp Dried, Soap, Bleach, and Water 35c

SPECIAL

9 Pounds Washed and Dried 50c

SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY

Phone 1055

CAPITOL THEATRE

Monday-Tuesday

June Haver, Mark Stevens in

"I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now"

Wednesday-Thursday

"Christmas Eve"

Starring George Raft, George Brent, Joan Blondell and others

Don't Fail to See Mrs. Betty Newberry and Mr. Stanley Phillips in The Alcoa Little Theatre Production

"YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU"

Directed by

Maryville's Beloved Mrs. Nita Eckles West

at

Alcoa High School

December 13-15-16 8:00 P. M.

Tickets on Sale at Byrne Drug Co.

Reserved Sections 75c General Admission 40c

LETTERMEN CHOSEN

(Continued from page three)

order for sweaters for the above lettermen. Delivery date for the sweaters is expected to be in excess of six months.

Wednesday's meeting was the first meeting of the school year for the Executive Board of Control.

CAGE SEASON OPENS

(Continued from page 3)

ing team. Among the first likely to see early action next Wednesday are the following: Guards—Baldwin, Roberts; Centers—Garner, Gene Hamil; Forwards—Hap Brahams, Leon Berrong.

HONAKER SPEAKS AT MHS BANQUET

Coach Lombe S. Honaker was the guest speaker at the Maryville High School football banquet given in honor of the 1947 football team Thursday evening. The affair was held in the high school cafeteria.

Coach Honaker has also been the principal speaker at similar banquets honoring the teams of Lake City and Alcoa high schools.

The German Club will meet in the German classroom at 6:45 Monday night for a Christmas program.

WHAT DO YOU THINK? . . . .

(Continued From Page 1)

themselves, and, of these three, two did not answer the next question; 15% are well satisfied with Maryville College as it is, and also 2/3 of these had no answer for the next question; 81% answered "yes" to this question and only one of the 22 students in this group did not answer the next question.

The last question was What is the GREATEST change needed at Maryville College? The same number of students that answered "no" to the previous question had no solution to this question; however, they were not altogether the same students, as was pointed out in the previous paragraph. Sixty-nine students gave answers and the following percentages are based on these. For a revision in the social order (i.e., recreation, dating, sports, etc.) 53% voted. Over half of the students were concerned with the "poor" social conditions existing. They were the usual answers that may be overheard almost every day, concerning nearly every social phase of Maryville campus. The second greatest response is probably related to this majority response; 16% of the students polled believe that better relations between the administration and the student body is the greatest need. Food is the chief concern of 12%, and the remaining 19% are divided on miscellaneous reforms.

Nothing can actually be settled or decided as a result of such a poll as this, however, as a factual testimony of 81 college students, it is accurate. No suggestions or comparisons with previous ballots were offered to those answering these questions and no padding was made. We would like to take this opportunity to thank all who participated in this poll and, believing that serious questioning is a healthy exercise for the mind, to ask you—What do you think?

Chillies Win First Game Of Volleyball Tourney

The Chillies are the winners of the first game in the point system volleyball tournament. The Chillies gained a 26-20 score over the Howees to win this game played Thursday, December 4. Two more games are scheduled to be played Tuesday and Thursday, December 9 and 11.

Intramural girls have begun a basketball tournament.

Tuesday, December 9, a Woman's National Official Basketball Examination will be given at 3:30 to those women who wish to take it. Men who expect to referee women's basketball games may also take it. There are enough copies of the exam for fifty people.

SQUAD INVITED

(Continued from page one)

Stinnett, a freshman at M.C. last year, is now coaching at Walland High School.

Second Annual Banquet

In a letter to the Maryville College squad just after the Sewanee game, these men promised the team a banquet if the Scots completed a successful season.

Last January, this same group of men feted the Highlanders with a similar feast after the Scots returned from the Tangerine Bowl.

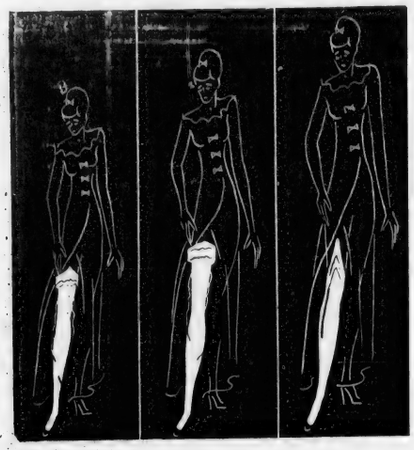
ATHENIANS HOLD ELECTIONS

Athenian will meet at 6:15 Saturday evening in Bartlett hall. Merrill Grubbs has charge of the elections for next semester's officers. Nominations will be taken from the floor and added to those already chosen by a committee.

COLLEGE CALENDAR

Saturday, December 6
6:15—Societies Meet
Sunday, December 7
1:30—Y.M. and Y.W. meet
7:00—Vespers
8:00—Student Volunteers
Monday, December 8
6:45—Tau Kappa Chi, German Club

Christmas Greetings



We take pleasure in offering you the compliments of the season and truly hope you have a very happy holiday.

AMERICAN SHOE SHOP

Winter is really on its way and for good food you should be on your way to

C. & L. CAFE

if your stockings sag, tug or twine...

YOU NEED Belle-Sharmeer leg-size stockings

Change those leg-sighs to Belle-Sharmeer leg-size . . . the one individually right for your legs! Full-fashioned and proportioned to fit your legs perfectly! In street and dress sheers . . . in deep, muted Woodland Hues.

BREV . . . for slender or small legs
MODITE . . . for average size legs
DUCHESS . . . for tall, larger legs

Let us fit you in your own personal leg-size with our exclusive, copyrighted Belle-Sharmeer Leg-Size Chart

McARTHUR'S

—Street Floor

A Merry Christmas To Everyone!

Compliments of The Holiday Season

TENNESSEE GAS CO.

OUR CHRISTMAS CAROL

Here's to you. May Christmas cheer . . . .

Warm your life throughout the year . . . . .

And the bliss of this Yuletide . . . .

Ever in your house abide.

BANK OF MARYVILLE

SPECIAL
200
Leather Coats
½ PRICE
400
SWEATERS
Pull Overs, Coats and Sleevless
⅓ to ½ OFF
PROFFITT'S MAN'S SHOP MAIN FLOOR
"Since 1919, The Best Place To Trade"

Jewelry
Just what you've been waiting for. GIFTS FOR EVERYONE.

Initial Ring——For Big Brother
Costume Jewelry——For Mom
Watch——For Sis
Tie Pin——For Dad
Bracelet and Locket Set——For the "Gal Friend"

See our Selection Soon
Expert Watch Repairing

MAJESTIC JEWELRY CO. Broadway Between the Viaducts

The secret's in the sole

Old friend fit . . . old friend feel in the driver sole's hefty half-track tread—Roblee's comfort secret. Good groundwork for hardy, handsome moccasin uppers. Get your pair today.

$10.95

PROFFITT'S
Smart Shoes Main Floor

SO LONG

THE Highland Echo

Z 703

TIL '48

VOLUME 33 | MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE, DECEMBER 13, 1947 | NUMBER 16

FOURTEEN SENIORS MAKE WHO'S WHO

Top Row:—Robert Butts, Esther Cornelius, Elsie Jean Cotton, Merrill Grubbs, Tom Horst, Max House, Peggy Howell. Bottom Row—Carl Murray, Scott McClure, Elsie Onifer, Mildred Orr, Ann Sakaizawa, Lorraine Swift, Tom Wheeler.

ANNUAL PRESENTATION "MESSIAH" SCHEDULED SUNDAY AFTERNOON

EIGHT SOLOISTS, CHORUS OF 235, COLLEGE ORCHESTRA PARTICIPATE

Handel's well-known Messiah will be presented Sunday, December 14, at 3:00 p. m. in the Alumni Gymnasium, for the fifteenth consecutive year at Maryville College. Director of the oratorio is Mr. Harry H. Harter, Miss Katharine Davies will be the organist, and Miss Garnet Manges, the pianist. The Vesper Choir, Girls' Choir, Men's Glee Club, selected students, and interested community members are in the chorus. The orchestra is the regular college orchestra.

Soloists Selected

Soloists were selected following the tryouts October 18. Soprano soloists are Peggy Howell, Rella Anderson, and Betty Hall; contralto, Barbara Blair and Katherine Franklin. The male bass soloists are Mil Castrodale and Ed Goddard, and tenor, Tom Wheeler.

Maryville Tradition

The Messiah, written by a German, George Handel, some two hundred years ago, has become a tradition at Maryville. Also traditional is the wearing of all white by the women of the chorus. The oratorio was first presented at Maryville in 1933 with Miss Frances Henry directing. Miss Henry also directed in 1934 and 1935. From 1936 through 1941, Mr. Ralph Colbert was the director. Mr. Richard Vine directed in 1942 and 1944 to 1946. In 1943 the director was Mr. Phillip Jones.

Large Chorus

The chorus numbers approximately 235 and has been rehearsing since October 5. The orchestra of 35 pieces has been practicing under the direction of Mr. Curtis Hughes.

New Location

This will be the first year that the oratorio has not been given in the chapel. Due to the uncomfortable seating facilities the program will be comparatively short. It is composed of approximately one-half of the entire Messiah and will require about an hour and a half.

The organ, which is an electric Wurlitzer, was loaned to the school by Clark Brothers of Knoxville.

The entire program will be broadcast by station WGAP.

Alpha Sigma To Elect New Officers on Tues.

Alpha Sigma will meet tonight at 6:15 in the YW rooms. The main business on the calendar will be the nomination of next semester's officers. Retiring president, Carl Lazenby, will preside. The elections will be held at noon on Tuesday in front of Pearson Hall.

Student Council To Make Survey

At the last meeting of the semester, the Student Council made extensive plans for a nation wide survey of students governments in other colleges. During the holidays the council and members of the student body will go to colleges near their homes to find out some vital statistics about their student government. Among the questions which will be handed to each surveyer will be these:

1. How was your student government organized?
2. How do you receive your money for operations?
3. How is the student body represented?
4. Do you have men's student government?

The council urges everyone who is interested in this important survey to contact Bob Butts, who is compiling a representative and geographical list for the students.

During vacation John Poland and Anna Sakaizawa will attend the national NSA meeting at the University of Chicago. It is fervently hoped by the council that someone who lives in Memphis will attend the regional forum at Southwestern.

32 Seniors Plan To Take Graduate Record Exams

Dr. E. R. Hunter, Dean of Curriculum, states that thirty-two seniors have made known their intentions to take the Graduate Record Examinations which will be given next semester. Not all of them have decided yet whether they will take these exams in place of comprehensives. Departments are represented as follows: sociology, 5; English, 4; history, 1; French, 1; economics, 2; philosophy, 2; political science, 1; chemistry, 4; mathematics, 1; psychology, 10. The psychology department shows the largest representation.

Y'S HAVE COMBINED PROGRAM SUNDAY

The Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. will have a combined Christmas program Sunday night at 8:00 o'clock in the Dining Hall. The audience is asked to bring blankets in order to sit on the floor in front of the fireplace.

Dr Hunter will give a series of Christmas readings. Sandy Smith will accompany the carols with his accordion. The special music will be given by Beverly Meutzel and Martha Barnwell, and the Scripture will be presented by Chet Phillips and the Men's Quartet.

Alpha Gamma Sigma Elects Two Members

All members of Alpha Gamma Sigma, College honor society, living in this vicinity met December 8 to elect two members of the mid-year graduating class into the organization. The two people chosen were Thomas Horst and Harold Russell. Horst comes from Trenton, New Jersey, and majored in philosophy. Russell is an English major and is from Philadelphia.

Alpha Gamma Sigma, which is designed like Phi Beta Kappa, bases its choice of members mostly on scholarship. Only a certain percentage of each senior class can be elected.

Fred Hope Fund Continues To Grow; Still Open

School of Gentleness Expresses Gratitude

419 students had pledged $1351.85 to the Fred Hope Fund by the time the count was made Thursday afternoon. At that time $361.10 had been paid. The drive was initiated, Wednesday, December 10, with a special chapel program. Pledge cards were passed out for all students and faculty to sign and designate how much each wished to contribute to the drive. The drive is still open to both pledges and payments.

At the chapel program Wednesday, Shirley O'Shana held devotions and Mildred Orr presided. Barbara Eggleston was the first speaker and her topic was the "History of the Fred Hope Fund." The second speaker was Roger Cowan whose topic was the "Present Need for Money for the Fund."

In 1946-1947 $1.400 was raised for the Fred Hope Fund and this money was sent to the School of Gentleness, Peking, China, to be administered by the Reverend Wallace C. Merwin, a former Maryville Colege student who is in charge of the work in north China.

Miss Grace Yuan, principal of the School of Gentleness, has written: "We are most happy to learn that the students of Maryville College are interested in China to the extent of raising a generous gift to be used here. We are planning to use this fund for the repairs of our Religious Center. On our new school premises there is a unit to the west which we intend to make into a center for religious activities. This unit includes a fair sized chapel and a conference room in the lovely setting of a Chinese garden. When it is finished we hope to extend courtesies to other student groups and religious organizations so that the Center will be put to its utmost usefulness."

Memorial Hall Will Receive New Furniture

New furniture for all rooms in McLain Memorial Hall was ordered late in the summer with delivery promised in the latter part of December. The original plan was to move the new furniture in and the old furniture out during the holidays. Fuller consideration, however, makes this seem impracticable in view of the necessity of changing the possessions of the girls from the old to the new furniture. Therefore, if the furniture arrives as expected it will be unpacked during the holidays and be ready to place in the dormitory soon after the reopening of college.

This will make a big change indeed in Memorial Hall. Some of the furniture there is very old. The new furniture will be of birch wood in a modern light finish. In each room will be twin beds, dresser, chest of drawers, and study table in birch and two study chairs of the steel and wood type now in wide use on the campus.

The best of the old furniture will be placed in use elsewhere as may be needed. The oldest, however will be given away.

This refurnishing of a whole building at one time is made possible by the interest and generosity of some good friends of the College who have visited the campus from time to time and have known of the need for new furniture. Interest in Memorial Hall was occasioned by the fact that one of the donors roomed there during Synod several months ago.

This gift became available during the war, but it has been impossible to buy furniture of suitable quality and in sufficient quantity until this time.

Students Play Santa In Orphan Benefit Party

A Christmas Party for fourteen orphans was held in the Bainonian Room, Friday, December 12 from 3:30 to 5:30. Betty Seagraves told the children a Christmas story and Santa Claus Bob Holly gave the children presents. The presents were given to the children, who are from the ages of three to fourteen, by college students.

Varsity Selected From Debate Team Tryouts

Tryouts for the Varsity Debate Team were held Monday, December 15. Dr. E. R. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Pieper judged the debates. The members of the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Classes who made the team are John Briggs, Carl Lindsay, Scott McClure, John Poland, Stewart Saul, Carroll Stegall, Tom Stovall, James Torrey, Katie Carpenter, Ann Cook, Peggy Cummings, Alice Davenport, Geneva Robinson.

F.W.A. GRANTS TWO NEW BUILDINGS TO MARYVILLE COLLEGE

Dean F. B. McClellan has announced that requests made by Maryville College for two new buildings have been granted by the Federal Works Agency. However, these buildings will probably not be available before next fall.

One will contain 1200 square feet and will be used as a music annex. The building will be cut up for practice rooms for music students. The other building will be about 2400 square feet and will be used for a dramatic art studio and workshop. It will contain rooms for classes, scenery building and play practice.

Midyear Grads Bid Farewell Saturday Morn

CHAPEL PROGRAM HELD HONORING THIRTEEN SENIORS

Thirteen seniors will bid farewell to Maryville College at the conclusion of next week's final examinations. A brief graduation ceremony was held in honor of these students this morning. With President Lloyd presiding at this special service, Dean Hunter made the routine college announcements and read the Scripture. The choir rendered special music and Dr. Lloyd gave the address, including in his talk short biographical sketches of the graduating seniors. Dean McClelland led in prayer and the student body joined in singing the Alma Mater. The Recessional concluded the service.

The graduating students are:

Robert Butts, Business Administration Major whose home is San Diego, Cal.

Warren Nelson Ernest, a music major, of Port Royal, Pa.

Katherine Franklin, Bible major, Knoxville, Tenn.

Merril Grubbs, Business Administration major, of Fairview, Pa.

Thomas Horst, Philosophy major, from Trenton, N. J.

Ray McJunkin, Chemistry major, of Tellico Plains, Tenn.

Marion Mitchell, Physical Ed. major, who is from Pottsville, Pa.

Kenneth Paxton, Physics major, of Alcoa, Tenn.

Lacy Powell, Psychology major, of Sevierville, Tenn.

Elizabeth Saint, a Bible major, of North Girard, Pa.

Marjorie Scanlon, Bible major, from Oreland, Pa.

Theta Epsilon

Theta Epsilon will meet at the regular time Saturday for an important election of officers.

Have you pledged to the Fred Hope Fund yet?

HONOR CAPS CAREER OF CAMPUS LEADERS

DISTINCTION EVENLY DIVIDED BETWEEN MEN AND WOMEN

Fourteen members of the senior class will be recognized as outstanding in the forthcoming edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities which is to appear this spring. Recipients of this honor are Bob Butts, Esther Cornelius, E. J. Cotton, Merrill Grubbs, Tom Horst, Max House, Peggy Howell, Scott McClure, Carl Murray, Elsie Onifer, Mildred Orr, Anna Sakaizawa, Lorrie Swift, and Tom Wheeler.

To determine who were to be included a combined vote of the Executive Council of the Faculty and the Student Council was taken. Character, scholarship, extra-curricular activities and promise of future success were the bases on which the votes were cast.

The purpose of Who's Who is two-fold: to provide distinction for outstanding students, and to provide a listing which can be used by employers to select highly promising employees. Following is a summary of the college career of the students elected.

Robert C. Butts, a business administration major from San Diego, California, is completing his last two years here after an interlude in the Air Corps. He is chairman of the Social Committee, on the Student Council, business manager of the "M" Book, and a member of the Pep Committee. In addition he is on the Y.M.C.A. cabinet. He has made the honor roll regularly since his return. He plans to attend graduate school in business administration at the University of Southern California.

Elsie Jean Cotton, president of the Student Council, is an English major from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. She was vice president of her freshman class, on the Y.W.C.A. cabinets her junior and seniors years, received her M in point system, is president of Theta Epsilon, was Nu Gamma chairman, is a member of the French Club of which she held the presidency for a term, and is in Writer's Workshop.

Esther Estelle Cornelius, who is a philosophy major from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and Dr Orr's assistant, plans to get married and work upon graduating. A member of the German Club her first two years, of the orchestra her first three, she has been in Writers' Workshop the last two years, and was elected to its governing board her senior year. She has consistently made the honor roll, and is at present on the cabinet of Student Vols, Secretary of the senior class, and vice-chairman of the Women's Student Government Association.

Merrill Howard Grubbs, from Fairview, Pennsylvania, is a business administration major. He was freshman May Day attendant, on the Student Council his first two years, secretary of the Athletic Board of Control last year, and on the Y cabinet his sophomore year. A very active member of the Athenian society, he was treasurer his sophomore year, vice-president his senior year. He has been in the Vesper Choir all four years and is a member of the Maryville College Quartet. He has made the honor roll three years.

A. Thomas Horst will enter McCormick Theological Seminary upon his graduation this semester from Maryville, and plans to serve in a rural church under the Board of National Missions. He is a philosophy major from Trenton, New Jersey. Beginning with his office as president of his freshman class, he went on to be on the Y.M.C.A. cabinet four years, in the choir four years, in Parish Project three years, president of I.R.C. a year, was chairman two of his four years on the Disc Club committee, in the cast of one major play and manager of another, on his class social committee, and manager of the Chatterbox a year. He has been on the honor roll every semester, and expects to graduate cum laude.

Max Richard House, best known for the numerous lead parts he has had in major plays and president of Theta Alpha Phi, is an English major from Cato, New York. On the Student Council his first year, Class President his sophomore and junior years, and intramural manager his second year, he was a member of the Y.M.C.A. cabinet his second and fourth years. He plans to attend Union Theological Seminary in New York upon graduation.

Margaret Hardy Howell has for the past three years been a Messiah soloist, and has done other notable work with her voice, meriting the Prosser Foundation Scholarship for the last two years. A member of Tau Kappa Chi, she has been in the Vesper Choir for all four years, was elected to the Student Council her senior year, is a member of Student Vols and Theta Epsilon, and has made the honor roll consistently.

Maurice Scott McClure, philosophy from Lebanon, Ohio, plans to enter Princeton Theological Seminary after graduating. He was a debater in his freshman year, treasurer of his sophomore class, chemistry assistant, intramural manager, and in the band. He has been in the Vesper Choir three years, on the honor roll every semester, on Student Council two years—is vice-president this year, is on the Y.M.C.A. cabinet, and is a member of Althenian society.

Carl Calvin Murray, a consistent honor roll student majoring in premed, plans to attend Vanderbilt Medical School upon graduation. While in the army he attended Texas A & M for a year. Twice May Day attendant for his class, he has been on Student Council and Student-Faculty Senate his junior and senior years as well as working in Parish Project.

Elsie Louise Onifer, biology major from Maybeury, W. Va., was on the Echo staff her first two years, editor of the 1947 Chilhowean and vice-president of Bainonian. Recently crowned queen of Barnwarming, she was co-chairman of the committee in charge of its preparation, and is at present on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet. She plans to go into teaching upon graduation.

Zella Mildred Orr, president of the Y.W.C.A., is a history major from Maryville, Tenn. Starting out as secretary of her freshman class, she became treasurer of her sophomore class, was a Nu Gamma leader her sophomore year, was editor of the 1946-47 M Book, was on the business staff of the 1947 Chilhowean, a member of Writers' Workshop, the Vesper Choir, and Tau Kappa Chi. She is an assistant for Dr. Queener in history.

Anna Sakaizawa, whose original home was California, comes from Chicago, Ill. Excelling on the violin, she is a psychology and philosophy major and assistant to Dr. Briggs. On the Student Council four years, she is president of W. S.G.A., in Writers' Workshop, in the Orchestra, on the Student-Faculty Senate, on the Student Vols Cabinet, has been in the Girls' Choir, Bainonian and French Club, and has consistently made the honor roll.

Lorraine Yvonne Swift, who is a chemistry major and is editor-in-chief of the Echo in her fourth year on the staff, comes from Tulsa, Oklahoma. For three years she worked in the bookstore, in parish project for one year, and in her junior year was on the editorial staff of the Chilhowean. With Elsie Onifer she had a position on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet as co-

(Continued on page four)

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

Volume 32 Number 16

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

EDITORIAL STAFF

Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Editor This Week ..... Dorothy Vawter
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Ruth Ramsey, Ilda Mosby, Mariagrazia Merlanti, Dick Sprague, Carroll Stegall

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb, Ruth Davis

FRESHMEN APPRENTICES
Jean Hunt, Mary Lyerly, Hazel Holm, Elenor Kramer, Donald Whelan

SPORTS STAFF

Kenneth Olsen ..... Editor
Herbert McCallum ..... Sophomore Reporter
Maynard Noble ..... Freshman Apprentice

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF

Business Manager ..... Ruth Williams

SENIOR ASSISTANTS
Mary Jane Long, Florence Housch

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Margaret Weaver

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANTS
Bob Watkins, Joe Claude, Janet Blackmore

FRESHMEN ASSISTANTS
Barbara Altfather, Naoagene Morrow, Anita Withers

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 3, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc. College Publishers Representatives 420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y. Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1947

LOOKING BACK

The semester is over. Dramatic statement. Desired statement. Statement.

The semester is over, but in just one month we shall write our next editorial saying that the semester has begun, and be equally as glad that we are allowed to put the obvious into print.

In our first editorial we wrote that this would be a great year. Too optimistically, perhaps, but we have not been wholly disappointed. We have spent most of the semester pointing out changes that we would like to see made—granting of senior privileges, preparation for a Rec Hall, more voices added to the voice of the student body, and less wearing of high school letters. We could provide other changes to add to these,, either some we've thought of or some our associates have thought of for us, suggestions we would offer either to the student body or to the administration. It has been one-sided. We too have received numerous suggestions but upon reflection we have discovered that we have forgotten to mention some facts that should never have been overlooked. We have forgotten to say why we have come back to Maryville semester after semester.

We have returned because Maryville offers many opportunities we could never find elsewhere. (1) Being of small financial means, we are not forced to spend excessively to keep up with the crowd, for the majority of the students is in the same condition. (2) We can have extra jobs here, doing anything from waiting tables to sweeping sidewalks, and no one looks down upon us for our work. (3) We are not just another pebble on the beach, one among thousands. We are an individual, and recognized as such. (4) Upon this hill are gathered the cream of college students, students whose amiability is superb. Here we have found our most valued friends.

So, there are two sides. Sometimes we forget one of them, but it's there just the same.

LYS

DEAR STAFF

Our readers might feel that the editor could have said this in one of our regular Monday night meetings, but the editor wishes to do it this way.

She wishes to thank you, the editorial group, for the cooperation you have shown during this past semester, and for the hours you have spent in collecting "copy."

Aside from your writing responsibilities, you are to be commended for devoting two nights a week to office work. Few people realize that group work is done on the ECHO on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday nights and on Saturday morning.

Thanks, too, to Ruth Williams and her business staff, who tramp from store to store selling advertisements and see that the paper is either delivered or mailed each Saturday.

It's been a good semester—mostly because you have been good staffs.

LYS

MERRY CHRISTMAS

—by Jean Almy

STUDENT VOLS SEND AID TO ITALY

The Student Vols project to Italy has been under way for nearly three weeks. In this time seven packages have been sent to the Scuola Evangelico in Naples. The Scuola Evangelico is an orphanage under the Waldensian Church in Italy. Through communications with the American Waldensian Aid Society it was learned that the orphanages were in the most dire need of help. Student Vols adopted one of these orphanages.

The project included a clothes drive. A total of $21.00 has been spent buying and mailing food, and mailing the boxes of clothing. The project has been under a handicap in that heavy brown paper for wrapping the boxes has been extremely hard to get.

The project to Iran consists of sending money to a mission orphanage which is not supported by the Board of Foreign Missions. A check is to be sent to the orphanage soon.

Flying Approved For Next Semester

GI flying within annual entitlement may be resumed as the result of negotiations now in progress between the Veteran's Adminstration and the American Council of Education. Flying training on this basis was curtailed the first of November under a ruling by the VA that it should be charged against the veterans' entitlement in excess of the regular school year. Pressure and complaints from a number of sources have caused the reopening of the case. The decision now hinges mainly on the recommendation of the American Council on Education.

About fifty Maryville students are concerned in this case. All of these took ground school the first semester and half took flying. The other half planned to fly next semester. If the VA reverses its ruling, flying will go through on schedule when the new semester opens.

Miss Viola Mae Lightfoot—Senior English Major . . . secretary of Bainonian and Office Assistant during her four years at Maryville College.

Miss Edith Massey—Senior Biology Major and one of the Student Representatives to Washington.

Verton Queener—Faculty advisor for the Echo Staff.

Dr. Hunter Reads Paper To U.T. Philological Club

Dr. Edwin R. Hunter, Maryville's dean of curriculum, read a paper to the U. T. Philological Club at its last meeting on December 9. The title of the work was "Shakespeare and Common Sense." The group is concerned with the origin and growth of languages. Members are from the classical languages and English departments of the University and several from Maryville.

Exam Schedule

Final examinations will begin Tuesday, December 16, and end Thursday, December 18. The schedule is as follows: Tuesday—X(8:30-10:30), A(11:00-1:00), B(3:00-5:00); Wednesday— C(8:30-10:30), D(11:00-1:00), E(3:00-5:00); Thursday —F(8:30-1030). Chapel will be held at 8:00 as usual; lunch will be at 1:30.

The new semester will begin January 14, with the usual penalties applying for cutting classes before or after a holiday. Rolls will be called from the registration lists. Monday, January 19, will be the day to make necessary schedule changes.

Much Echo About Nothing

S-H-H-H HUH?

By CRAIG FISHER

Everyone's been so busy hanging on to his sanity this week that it's been thin soup for the columnist. Doc Griffitts played the dirty villain by giving an announced test yesterday which came like sleet during a rain storm.

But the sun came through once or twice, like when a debate arose in the Tall Girls' Club over a name for itself, Barbara Blair timidly suggested High Society. They chose I've Got My Head in the Ozone for their national anthem. Herr Reber's only comment: "Rare women, to know what it's like to bend over when they kiss." Maynard Noble was voted "the height of ambition."

WONDERING if they're going to reroute traffic now that Mr. Mac's driven smokers out in the street; what we'll shave by when the last square inch of silvering is gone from the last solitary mirror in the second floor shower. That last square inch would be all right if it weren't so evenly distributed over the mirror.

When we'll have a shack at the end of Carnegie walk for the forlorn, forsaken, freezing females who are always waiting for the bus that never comes.

INTRODUCTION: A word about a social little fellow named Cough, first cousin of Choke who lives around sulphur fumes in the chem lab, and nephew of old influenza Rumble. This little guy, always in a crowd, never lets out a peep during a Little Theatre play or Barnwarming program. But give him a sermon that's wandered too far out in the Sahara Desert, and HA! he creeps into a tender gullet and tickles gently. One explosion, and a weak mind across the chapel hears it and can't restrain a follow up. Higher and higher rises the crescendo of coughs until the speaker, licked, collapses into his chair mopping his brow, muttering deliriously.

THE CHATTANOOGA UNIVERSITY ECHO is sponsoring a dance next week. The Highland Echo, after due deliberation, decided it wouldn't sponsor a dance this week.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTION: Is a now a yet? That is, would you put a bullet in the same place you kiss a girl? Referring, of course, to the newspaper story about the woman who was shot and the bullet was in her yet, and the show last week, "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now."

Nearly as bad was Yambert's essay on the Idiot and the Odyssey, in which he ended a withering critique by saying, "But I'll play ball along with the author. Far be it from me to knock a Homer."

SAID a freshmen chemistry student to his Professor's not-so-bad-looking assistant: "Hiya, C12-H22010 (i.e. sugar), let's form a covalent bond." Actors: Roy Snell and Sarah Joe Kiger.

NEXT SEMESTER the choir will again wear robes, thus burying for ever the disputs of flesh colored vs. dark hose. Now if tenors were turtles, the altos' souls would be at peace.

John Baird, playing Oberon from Mid Summer Night's Dream in English class, was duly elected King of Fairies. Soon after, he played the fool in King Lear.

Wednesday night the Chilhowean staff elected the Chilhowean Girl and Boy of the Year. They said the choice for Girl was so impossible that they made it a toss up between Lady McTavish III and Kiger's Kow. The choice of course will remain a secret. And by the way, they need fifty more orders to fill their minimum quota of Chilhoweans. But never do today what you can possibly put off till tomorrow.

C.C.C.s: Cupid has been driv'ng a few more shafts home, of late. The newest crop of idiots: Knecht Ruggiero (long afflicted), Rettke, Dick Black, Bass, Smitty, and Richardette. Sorry to see you go fellows.

Echos of The Past

An Athenian program of Stephen Foster music was printed with this head: "Athenian Fosters Foster."

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.
30-Minute Service
between
Maryville and Knoxville

Greetings TO YOU! one and ALL
The Season's Heartiest Compliments
A Merry, Merry Christmas! Old Saint Nick is about to buzz around with his sleigh-load of holiday cheer, and so we're on the wire with a wish of happiness for
PARK DRUG STORE

A very MERRY CHRISTMAS To all of you from all of us at
MOSER'S CLOTHING STORE

Merry Christmas!
May Old Saint Nick furnish your home with the most joyous Christmas blessings . . . The happiest of holidays to you and yours!
BLOUNT NATIONAL BANK

It is Easy to Pay
The Royal Way
Gamble Bldg.
Royal Jewelers

FARMER & STAPP
BARBER SHOP

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

PEACE
On Earth
May the full significance of Christmas gladden your hearts and give you peace of mind and spirit.
BYRNE DRUG

Holiday Foods
M. M. ELDER
CASH CARRY STORE

SCOTLIGHTS

By Herbert McCallum

After their easy and unimpressive victory Wednesday and tonight's skirmish with Carbon-Carbide, the Scotty basketball club returns to the hardwood about the fifth of anuary to head for some real competition. First stop—Lambuth's Eagles who are defending champions of the All-Mississippi Valley Conference basketball tourney. Next comes the Cumberland University Bulldogs as a fill-in engagement between two headline battles.

Hilltoppers Hot Stuff?

The Hilltoppers of Western Ky. State may prove to be the toughest opposition of the year for our Highland Hoopsters. Coach Ed Dittle's Quint lost twice to but one school last year in a heavy schedule. Georgetown University defeated the Hilltoppers twice. Western has had consistently good basketball forces. The last time the Hilltoppers went to Madison Square Garden, in 1942, they lost with a close 45-47 count to West Virginia.

W. Ky. Strong Cage Power

In 1941 the Hilltoppers won the SIAA Championship, and have long been leaders in the K.I.A.C. Basketball Torneys. Among their opponents scheduled this year is Utah State. The Utah State lads last year split a two-game card with the University of Utah, the national champions. This week on Wednesday the Western Hilltoppers rolled over the Evansville Purple Aces, one of their arch rivals, with a resounding 58-42 victory. Tonight the Hilltoppers close before the Holidays with Morehead (Ky) State's Eagles.

A look at the Western Ky. State schedule indicates just what basketball circle their lads enter. Bowling Green University, Georgetown U., and Centenary College are some of the Hilltoppers steps on their way to national recognition in the cage sport.

Scot Wrestlers Face Chattanooga

Tonight in Chattanooga Maryville's fledgling wrestling squad grapples with the University of Chattanooga team. Actually, Maryville's team is the elder in points of years, for Chattanooga just adopted the he-man sport last season. Coach Ken Carpenter started as wrestling mentor at the "bend" last year after a tour of coaching chores at Ohio State. Chattanooga proved to be one of Maryville's toughest foes of last season, with the M. C. boys taking the first match, 18-16, and splitting the final bout, 14-14. Experience is what the Scots lack, and we figure Chattanooga's squad are good opponents to start with. We may be pessimistic but the chances for the Scot grapplers to bring back a victory this time look s-l-i-m.

Five Maryville Gridders Selected

Sewanee's football squad elected an "All-Opponent" team a few weeks back from the members of the teams that the Tigers played. It read like this: Backs: Chewning—Hampden-Sydney, McIntosh — Millsaps, Merriman— Maryville, Fogarty — Maryville. Ends Lindsey—Presbyterian, Fulton—Mississippi College, Tackles: Riddle — Presbyterian, Wilson — Centre. Guards: Ashley— Southwestern, Easter—Maryville. Center: Garner— Maryville.

The above selection, while not necessarily being the top-notch players among Sewanee's opponents, were the ones who gave the Tigers the most trouble. Since Maryville gave Sewanee their biggest loss of the season, its natural that four of the Scotties were named as "most troublesome." The Tigers rated Leon Berrong and Wall of Hampden-Sydney on their honorable mention list. This mention coming from an opponent school is worth much as a yardstick to measure the Scots' abilities with the other teams that the Tigers played.

Something New . . . Not Quite

The Hilltoppers are employing a "Whirl" offense this season which was described by a reporter in their College Heights Herald as "a new type of offense which envolves much ball handling and passing with stress on shooting with the ball close under the basket." Nothing out of the ordinary—to shoot with the ball close under the basket!

Pointedly Personal

Coach Ralph Waddell of the Carbon-Carbide squad is a former Maryville cageman. He had an odd nickname of "Suitcase" back in 1930 when he was captain of a Highland basketball squad . . . .

For a "Dear Santa" act in this department we might include . . . (1) some heavyweight-185 plus—wrestlers for Coach Davis' welterweight squad . . . (2) renewed interest on the part of individuals for a swimming team . . . (3) prompt arrival of the basketeers' uniforms, ordered last March and due by the 15th . . . (4) and contrary to Coach Honaker's favorite joke, some 100's for thick-skulled football players . . . . .

CAGERS CORK CARBON-CARBIDE LEGIONAIRES DOWN 'PEE-WEES'

Varsity Wins Easily

Maryville's Cagemen opened their 1947-'48 season with a grand style in Alumni Gym Wednesday night by out-classing a Carbon-Carbide Five of Oak Ridge, 60-25.

The Highlanders showed smooth power as a five-man wheel of Boring-Hamil-Garner-Grahams and Lillard sped to a 22-7 lead over the visitors before the end of the first quarter.

Lillard Makes First Tally

Captain Ray Lillard set-off his fourth season with the Scots to making the first goal with a rebound shot in the opening moments of the game. For the second straight year Lillard had the honor of making the first bucket of a cage campaign.

After placing a handicap on the visitors, the starting varsity retired temporariily and the reserve combination entered the game from the Highlander bench. to continue to out-fox the opposition.

With the Scots holding the long side of a 31-12 score after the half, the varsity swung back to their fast and fancy offense. The starting five upped the score to a 44-17 mark as reserves filed in freely from the Scottie side.

Coach Honaker frequently shifted the Scot quint in the final half and used thirteen players in the process.

Koteshi Best For Carbide

The hapless Carbide five, unable to strike a spark all evening, had teir best shots in Koteshi, a slightly plump forward, and Rannals, who made two spectacular long throws. Rannals and Koteshi got five of the Ridger's ten field goals.

The Highlanders' attack continued to roll smoothly after the initial break-away in the first period. The perfected ease of passing, shooting, and deceptive strategy by the Maryville five had the Carbide boys befuddled. Bob Boring and Hugh Hamil's performance as guards gave the Highlanders confidence. Brick Brahams and Bob Garner towered above the highest of the Oak Ridge team to rule the rebound work. Ray Lillard proved to be the hottest hitter of the evening for the Scots.

A second string with Bennie Baldwin and Gene Reynolds at guards, Dave Clark at center, Hap Brahams and Charlie Roberts at forwards kept the Carbon-Carbide power subdued for a major portion of the game.

M. C. Box Score

Player	F.G.	F.T.	T.P.
R. Lillard, f	4	2	10
B. Brahams, f.	3	1	7
R. Garner, c.	1	0	2
H. Hamil, g.	4	0	8
B. Boring, g.	4	1	9
B. Baldwin, g.	1	1	3
D. Clark, c.	2	0	4
H. Brahams, f.	1	1	3
C. Roberts, f.	2	2	6
G. Reynolds, g.	2	1	5
B. Stinnett, f.	5	0	10
L. Berrong, g.	0	1	1
Totals	29	10	68

Carbon-Carbide scoring: G. Harris (2), Koteshi (6), Devault, (4), Rannals (4), Michel (3), J Mack (2), S. Harris (1), J. Cole (2), and Reeves (1) Total scoring for Carbide—10 field goals, 5 free throws for 25 points.

Officials: Marvin Mitchell, Doby Nelson.

Do you know that the M. C. Grapplers have some big titles of previous years to live up to—such as Inter-State champions.

Legion Wins Opener

In the preliminary game on the opening night of basketball on the hill last Wednesday, an Alcoa Legionaire team pushed the "Pee-Wee" squad around for a close 33-28 upset.

The Pee-Wees got off to a flashy start and held 14-8 lead over the Vets at half-time. But the Alcoans caught a 25 point scoring spiral in the last half and left the Pee-Wees wishing for time to stage a comeback.

L. A. Campbell, Gene Hamil, and Leon Berrong put static in the Alcoa wave length, with Hamil dribbing neatly under an Alcoa guard in the third quarter for a lay-up shot when things had begun to look dark for the Pee-Wee five. Leon Berrong pulled alongside Hamil in scoring and captained the Pee-Wee squad in their attempt to herd in the Alcoa hot-shots.

Starting Line-Up

Pee-Wees		Legionaires
Campbell (10)	g.	Brickley (10)
L. Berrong (6)	g.	Carroll (6)
G. Hamil (6)	c.	Finley (7)
Miracle	l.	McDaniels (5)
Crisp	f.	Price (5)

Subs: Pee-Wees—Blalock (1), Smith (1), Clendenen (1), and G. Lillard.

Score by Quarters

	1	2	3	4—Tot.
Pee-Wees	8	6	4	10— 28
Legionaires	6	2	11	14— 33

Scots Meet Three Foes On Road Trip

After tonight's tilt with the Carbon-Carbide five in a return engagement at Oak Ridge, the Highlander Hoopmen lay aside their basketball togs until early in 1948.

The Scots will resume practice around the 5th of January in preparation for a road trip the squad will make to Jackson, Tenn., Lebanon, Tenn., and Bowling Green, Kentucky. The first away game for the Scotties is with the Lambuth Eagles at Jackson on the

(Continued on page four)

Scotty Basketball Schedule

Here	Opponent	There
Dec. 10	Carbon-Carbide	Dec. 13
—	Cumberland U.	Jan. 9
—	W. Ky. State	Jan. 10
Jan. 13	W.N. Carolina	Jan. 28
Jan. 17	Elks of Oak Ridge	—
Jan. 20	E. Tenn. State	Feb. 3
Jan. 23	Emory & Henry	Feb. 2
Jan. 27	Lincoln M. U.	Feb. 18
Feb. 7	Tusculum	Jan. 31
Feb. 21	Carson-Newman	Feb. 14
Feb. 25	Lambuth	Jan. 8

Rock Named Capt. At Grid Banquet

Alan Rock, 24-year-old junior from Blue Island, Illinois, was named captain of next year's football squad at the annual grid banquet held in Pearsons Hall Thursday. The entire team, the managers, coaches, and several visitors were present for the dinner and program of speeches and movics of the Centre game.

The ham dinner with scalloped potatoes, green peas and all the extras was served by Miss Ware and her staff.

Dean McClelland, the first speaker, was introduced by the toastmaster, Mr. Archibald Pieper. Coach Lombe Honaker took the floor, with his usual wit, to express his idea of college football as a character-building activity. J. A. Davis, line coach, then spoke on the traits of a good leader and Marvin Mitchell, assistant coach, said a few words. Captain "Cotton" Easter gave each coach a present and introduced the new captain, Alan Rock. Ken Talbott, co-captain, presented Fred Kluth, the new alternate captain. Dr. Lee Callaway, team physician, spoke on team play and showed his color films of the Maryville-Centre football game.

Rock, the new captain, will replace Ronald "Cotton" Easter, a senior from Loudon, Tennessee. Rock was elected by the lettermen of the squad who also appointed Kluth to be alternate captain. Rock lettered in football in 1946 as an end and this year as a tackle. He also has two letters in baseball. Kluth is also a football letterman and wrestled last year. Both men are from Blue Island, Illinois.

INTRAMURALS

BASKETBALL

Climaxes with the here-to-fore undefeated Eight-Balls on the short end of an 18-14 victory by the Rebels the third week closed yesterday afternoon. No team is still undefeated and the first place position is wide open to all takers.

The games which postponed from Saturday, November 29 will be played Monday, December 15.

Basketball Standings

	W.	L.	Pct.
Eight Balls	7	1	.857
Wholly Rabbies	5	1	.833
Tenn. Penns	4	1	.800
Vikings	3	1	.750
Rebels	3	1	.750
Dingoes	4	2	.666
Creamers	2	3	.400
Ex-Scrubbs	2	3	.400
P.B.'s	2	3	.400
Crescents	1	2	.333
Y.M.C.A.	1	3	.225
Fireballs	1	3	.225

(Continued on page four)

Matmen Open Season With Chattanooga, Baylor Prep.

BY KEN OLSEN

The Scot wrestling season begins tonight with a resounding start in the Chattanooga University gym where the Maryville men will tangle against the University squad. The ambitious Highlanders will also take on Baylor prep school in a preliminary match.

The Maryville contingent, including twenty grapplers, a manager, and Coach "J. D." Davis, left early this afternoon in order to reach the Mocs' territory in time for weighing in. The preliminaries begin at 6:30.

Prospects Are Dim

With the inexperience of most of the squad members hampering their hopes, the Highlanders have dim hopes of winning tonight against Chattanooga. Although the Mocs are fairly new at wrestling only one season behind them, they boast seven returning men from last year's team which tied the strong Maryville team, 14-14, after the Scots dealt them an 18-16 blow earlier in the season.

Baylor prep school is not as big an obstacle as Chattanooga, but promises more than enough competition for the second string Maryville grapplers. Baylor has plenty of esteem in prep wrestling circles, claiming such men as Tubby Callaway,' Scot star, who wrestled three years for Baylor.

Squad Includes . . .

The squad will be broken into two teams, one of which will meet in the feature match against Chattanooga.

Pitted in the 121 pound class against the Mocs will probably be Earl Black, Maryville junior with no previous experience. Tangling in the 128 class against returning Gim Connan of U.C. will be J. A. Cameron, freshman with a high school grappling background. In the 136 pound class will be Ken Ross, M.C. captain and letterman. In 145 class will be Lawrence Major, a sophomore with one year of experience behind him. If Major, now overweight by 5 pounds, fails to make his weight, Delbert Earisman, an inexperienced freshman, will probably wrestle. Tubby Calalway, sophomore letterman, will wrestle in the 155 class against Dick Dowdy, a returning man at U.C. Hersh Merriman will be on the mat for Maryville at 165.

In the 175 pound class, Herb Palmer or John Briggs will wrestle, depending upon who makes weight. The other one will probably wrestle heavyweight against Baylor. Paul Yambert will likely challenge a U.C. heavyweight and Roy Kramer, freshman, will meet the 191 pound man from U.C.

In the Baylor match will most likely be Paul McNiell, 121; Jim Marvin, 128; Ches Anderson, Bill Brewer, or Frank Ladner, 136; Jim Ewing or Del Earisman, 145; Fred Waggoner or Orval Wintermute, 155; Bob Proffitt, 165; and Briggs or Yambert, 175.

FOUND IN A 1934 CHILHOWEAN

Archibald Peiper—center on the football team. "The first man on the field of practice, and the last one to leave."

Date Night!

To make a hit with the New Gal you just met in School . . . . be sure that you have a Clean White Shirt for date nights.

9 Pounds Clothes Washed, Rinsed, Damp Dried, Soap, Bleach, and Water 35c

SPECIAL

9 Pounds Washed and Dried 50c

SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY

Phone 1055

HI'YA FOLKS!
I'M HERE . . . .

And may the New Year bless you with all the good things in life. May success, happiness and health be yours. We'll endeavor to continue serving you with our same courteous and efficient service in the

Happy New Year—1948

DIXIE CABS

CHRISTMAS

GREETINGS

A very real wish for very real friends—our loyal customers. May 1948 bring you joy and happiness and make your every wish come true.

McARTHUR'S Dept. Store

CAPITOL THEATRE

Monday-Tuesday

"The Yearling"

Gregory Peck—Jane Wyman

Wednesday-Thursday

Robert Montgomery-Audrey Totter
Lloyd Nolan

"Lady In The Lake"

THE WEBB STUDIO

holiday tasties

The Flavor of Good Living

It's great to have a tempting "company snack" in the house. . great to dress up your desserts with our tasty Christmas cookies. They are home baked, with choice ingredients, in colorful designs. They're just one of our many seasonal specialties. Order now!

Long Convenient Hours—Short Prices

LYNCH BAKERY

TO EVERYONE— WE EXTEND BEST WISHES

We've had fun playing host to you during the past year and it has indeed been a pleasure. May we serve you again in the HAPPY NEW YEAR?

Cate Cafe

Adult Beginners Recital Given In Y. Rooms Tuesday

A recital for adult beginners was given December 9, in the Y. W.C.A. Rooms. The program was as follows: None But The Lonely Heart, Tschaikowsky-Schaum, Kennedy Garrison; My Bonnie, College Song, Donald Taylor; Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes, arranged by Schaum, Lavina Rodriguez; Sweet and Low, Barny-Thompson, Clifford Porterfield; On The Levee by Waldo, Paul Woodbury; Consolation, Mendelssohn, Sarah Heinekamp; To Friendship, by Haydn, Arthur Haaf—Alexander Smith, accompanist; L'Adieu, Burgmuller, Charles Duckett; Gavottee, Bach, Grady Carroll; Breezes of the Night, J. S. McCreary, Joe Walker; Thoughts at Twilight, by Aaron, Jean Almy; Waltz in E Flat, Durand, Glenden Jackson; Have You Seen But A Whyte Lilie Grow? Anonymous, Max Willocks—William Deihl, accompanist; Espanita, King, John Ferris; Viennese Waltz, by Wagness, Jo-Ann Stroud; Hungarian Rhapsodie, No. 2, Liszt-Thompson, James Todd; and The Butterfly, by Merkel, Maurine Owen.

Miss Johnson: "Well, did you get all your sentences for today?"

Jimmy Smith: "Yes, all that I could."

Miss Johnson: "Well good. How many did you get?"

Jimmy: "None."

Writers' Workshop Elects Five Best Pieces of Year

At the Writers' Workshop which met on December 10, Dorothy Vawter criticized Becky Walton's two related mood poems. Footsie Housch criticized E. J. Cotton's character sketch, "Acquaintance."

A discussion was held on the systems of criticism and a new one was instigated on trial.

A vote was taken on the six best pieces for the publication, Chips. Those whose writings were selected as the best were Martha Hull, Dr. Hunter, Dave Campbell, Anna Sakaizawa, Tom Wheeler, and E J. Cotton.

Latest definition of Alimony:—A married man's cash surrender value.

Dinner Guest: Will you pass the nuts, Professor?

Mr. Eugelhardt: I suppose so, but I should flunk most of them.

WHO'S WHO . . . .

(Continued From Page 1)

chairman of the committee in charge of Barnwarming preparations.

Thomas Wheeler, senior English major from Peekskill, New York, is tenor solo in the Messiah this year. He is member of the Vesper Choir, College Male Quartet, Writers' Workshop and the Knoxville Symphony Orchestra. He was one of the winners of the T. T. Alexander oratorical contest in 1945-46 and is now vice-president of Y. M. C. A.

News Capsules—

Foreign Scene

Violence throughout the world had somewhat subsided last week as the French managed to quell Red-inspired strikes and rioting. Most of the country had returned to normalcy after mobile guards had been placed around the Chamber of Deputies. In Rome, meanwhile, the Communist-left-wing coalition's general strike had all but collapsed as most workers in the Italian capital went back to work. Palestine continued to be a trouble-spot with over one hundred killed in eleven days of riots.

Whether Henry Wallace would lead a third party in the 1948 elections perturbed Democrats, pleased GOP leaders. The liberal former vice-President said no more than unless some change is effected in current policies, he will be for a third Party movement. Super-orator Glen Taylor, Democratic Senator from Idaho, was suggested as Wallace's running-mate.

U. S. Help For World

In rechristened, gaily-bedecked ships of United States Lines, the closing laps of the cross-country Friendship Trains were completed last week. The Friendships set out from New York laden with foodstuffs for the starving of Italy and France.

The House joined the Senate in passing a somewhat modified version of the President's Help-Europe Plan. Included in the lower house's measure was aid for China

Another Plane Crash

In the crash of an Army transport in Labrador only six of the twenty-nine aboard survived. To avoid future accidents of this type the Army announced a training program to familiarize fliers with conditions on the lonely ice floes of northern regions. The course is expected to include actual experience in the desolate spots over which transports must fly. Participants will have no more provisions than they would have under authentic conditions.

College Art Class Presents Exhibit

A student art exhibition appearing in the Lamar Memorial Library will continue on display through Monday, December 15. Fourteen college students, a local high school boy enrolled in the college art class, and Mr. David Bernard have contributed the 28 sketches and paintings.

Charcoal and Pastel Sketches

The first group consists of still life studies in charcoal and pastel, sketched by the first semester art students from outdoor scenes and table arrangements. The students' lesson was to learn perspective, proportion, and charcoal and pencil technique so as to render three dimensional form in light and shade.

Still Life Paintings

The second group, is the work of the sophomore art class and Mr. Bernard. Carroll Shope, the high school student, has two still life paintings approached from two points of view. Arthur Santmier has four projects on display of which one is approached quite differently from the rest. It is "Portrait of a Young Girl" painted in contrasting colors with "powerful, full strokes." Carl Lazenby has two paintings of a model, who can be readily identified as Margaret Newland, and one scene of the college farm.

Interpretation

For full appreciation of the work, Mr. Bernard suggests we note "the remarkable individuality in the way they handle their subject: some rather broadly, almost impressionistic, while others are more realistic."

One of Mr. Bernard's two paintings is "Bikini No. 2" of the same composition as an etching which was on display earlier in the year, painted to satisfy his curiosity as to the results.

Mason and Dixon Line—the boundary line between "Y'all" and "youse guys."

Mae Merriwether: "Did you ever take chloroform?"

Janice Lindsay: "No, who teaches it?"

Businessmen Fete Football Players

As guests of the businessmen of Maryville and Alcoa, the Highlander football team-members were feted at the Whittle Springs Hotel Tuesday evening in honor of their successful 1947 season.

Forty-six of the squad, five of the managers, and the trainer were present for the "Wrosted Yong Turkie" dinner with all the trimmings and the program of witticisms, homage, praise, "brief extemporaneous remarks", and a color film of the Tennessee-Boston College clash.

Five Retiring Seniors Honored

Special tribute went to five retiring seniors on the squad—Captain Ronald "Cotton" Easter from Loudon; Bob Garner and Kenneth Talbott from Maryville; Frank Still from Johnson City, and Lloyd Anderson from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. They were each presented with gold miniature footballs.

Speeches, Movies Given

A. D. Huddleston, general manager of the Aluminum plant in Alcoa, was the toastmaster. He introduced Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd, president of Maryville College; D. W. Proffitt, owner of a local department store; Earl Blazer, Maryville insurance man who introduced the sponsors of the banquet; Dr. Frank McClelland, dean of students; Coach L. S. Honaker; Line Coach J. A. Davis; Assistant Coach Marvin Mitchell; and Captain Easter.

Among those introduced were four of the six Blount County high school football coaches and the senior members of their teams. The coaches were Jim Renfro, Maryville; Spence Renfro, Everett; John Wilburn, Alcoa; and Kenneth Byrd, Porter.

After the talks, D. W. Poage, head of the personel at the aluminum plant, showed color films of the Tennessee-Boston College game.

Forty-six Scots Attend

Those men from the Scots team attending were Lloyd Anderson, Kenneth Andes, A .R. Archer, James Baird, Benton Baldwin, King Berrong, Leon Berrong, Robert Boring, Henry Callaway, Dave Clark, Howard Davis, Ronald Easter, Harold Everett, Bill Fogarty, Robert Garner, Ed Hatley, Warren Headrick, Harold Henry, Jack Henry, Ray Holsey, Richard Isenburg, Joe Johnson, Fred Kluth, Roy Kramer, Robert Larson, Allen Law, Jim Lester, Carl Lewelling, Houston Lowery, Lawrence Major, Allen Marsh, James McKee.

Stuart McNeill, Herschel Merriman, D. M. Miller, Bob Neff, James Newman, Bill Proffitt, Bob Proffitt, Alan Rock, Grant Sharp, Artie Spears, Frank Still, Kenneth Talbott, H. W. Thomas, Donald Walker.

The managers present were "Bo" Henry, Hurdle Goddard, Joe Clark, Dan Stebbens, and George Wood, Trainer Bud Engel was also there.

INTRAMURALS

(Continued from page 3)

Intramural volleyball ended the third week of competition on the third week of competition on Wednesday with the choir team as yet undefeated. Two new teams, the Scorpions and the faculty were welcomed into the league on Wednesday. The Scorpions were promptly defeated by the choir 2-8 while the Faculty beat the Odds and Ends 2-0.

Results For The Week

Monday

Choir 2—Rockets 0

Y.M.C.A. 2—Odds and Ends 0

Athenians 2—Brewers 0

Y.M.C.A. 2—Athenians 0

Rockets 2—Brewers 0

Choir 2—Scorpions 0

Faculty 2—Odds and Ends 0

Varsity Basketball . . .

(Continued from page three)

8th of January.

Three Day Trip

The next day, January 7, the Scots travel to Lebanon to meet the Bulldogs of Cumberland University. The Hilltoppers of Western Kentucky State College at Bowling Green will be the final host to the Maryville Quint on their three-day trip.

Catamounts Due Jan. 13

For the first home game on the new year, the Scots will entertain the Catamounts from Western North Carolina Teachers on the 13th of January—the day before first chapel of the second semester. An Elks' team from Oak Ridge will visit on the Saturday night of the first week of resumption of school in January.

Schedule Subject To Change

Coach Honaker announced the schedule this week for the basketbal lseason as completed up to now. Since some games are as yet tentative, this following schedulse is subject to change.

C. & L. CAFE

of the season

and a

VERY MERRY XMAS!

HITCH RADIO SHOP

Joy to you

at Yuletide

May this Christmas make joyous memories to keep and cherish through the years.

CITY DRUG STORE

Maryville's Leading Prescription Store

Phone 66 Maryville

It Is Our Sincere Wish

That your quota of good things will be enriched and enlarged with the coming of the New Year. Let us serve you again in '48.

THE J. & K. SUPER STORE

SEASON'S GREETINGS

And an abundance of Christmas cheer. Our promise of dependable service holds true in 1948 as in the past years.

Clarks' Flowers

CHRISTMAS BELLS

Thanks for your past patronage—We extend to you a Very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year

'Dubby's Grill

The most precious Christmas gift we can think of is the gift of good will. May you, and everyone else in the world, receive it.

UNITED JEWELERS

At last! Your beloved moccasin in Indian Red Velvafelt!

All the casual comfort and charm of your favorite moccasin, translated into a handsome indoor slipper of 100% pure wool Velvafelt, exclusive with Daniel Green! Come in and see it!

$5.00

The Pow-Wow —Sand, Royal Blue, Black and Indian Red.

Proffitt's

Smart Shoes Main Floor

Gracian Art

HISTORIC DESIGNS THAT MAKE NECKWEAR HISTORY

TIES BY MANFORD

Raxon goes back to the "glory that was Greece" to create a design that's a modern neckwear classic. Gracian Art gives the season's newest shades an ageless air of good grooming.

2.00

RAXON FABRIC

A RAXON

MERRY CHRISTMAS

To All

Hurry Back

PROFFITT'S

Men's Dept. Main Floor

"Since 1919 The Best Place to Trade"

WELCOME
NEW STUDENTS

THE Highland Echo

Z 703

HOW YA
LIKE THE SNOW?

VOLUME 33 | MARYVILLE TENNESSEE JANUARY 24, 1948 | NUMBER 17

Music Professor Tells of Visit To "Land of Eternal Spring"

BY MILDRED LEAKE

Miss Katherine Davies, professor of music at Maryville and recent visitor of Guatemala, related for this reporter the most interesting facts about her visit to "the land of eternal spring." She spent two weeks of her Yule holidays there.

Taking off from New Orleans, Miss Davies flew straight south to Guatemala City, a flight of six hours. From there she visited the leading cities and points of interest, from the city Chichicastenango with its colorful Indian market and old pagan and Catholic churches to the American hospital and mission stations.

Miss Davies described as one of the country's oustanding features its many ruins. Temples to the sun and moon, erected during the Mayan civilzation that was destroyed in 1500, are still standing, she said.

And ruins of Spanish architecture are quite in evidence, too, thanks to some thirty volcanos and frequent earthquakes. Guatemala City itself was practically destroyed twenty-five years ago. Miss Davies reports that even during her stay, she experienced what seemed a severe quake; however, the native Guatemalans took very little notice of it.

Paganism Still Strong

As to religion, the Guatemalans have a strange mixture. Most apparent is the old Spanish Catholicism, but the government is very favorable to Protestant mission work in the country. The ancient superstitions and worship of the "medicine men" still persists, however, and there are altars yet on the prominent ridges where a peon may make sacrifice and prayer for a fine corn crop. Miss Davies said, "It was easy to pick out the Christian naitves. They say that when an Indian is converted, the first thing he wants to do is to get cleaned up."

Miss Davies' party also had opportunity to observe the remarkable work of the American missions in translating the Bible into the Indian dialects, and in the carrying on a campaign for literacy for all the people.

Resources and Products

When asked if she considered Guatemala a "land of opportunity," Miss Davies replied that, although the land is not wealthy, the coffee, bananas, and chicle are excellent crops; the mineral resources are not very good.

She described Guatemala as being about the size of New York state. As a result of the jungles and high mountains, the days are delightfully sunyy, and nights cold. It has a perfect tourist climate with the exception of the rainy season during the summer months.

T. T. Alexander Contest Held In April For MC Men

The annual T. T. Alexander Oratorical Contest, conducted under the supervision of the Bible and Religious Education faculty, and open to all men of the college, will be held in April.

Two prizes, aggregating about $80 will be awarded with 60% going to the first place winner and 40% going to the second place winner.

The subjects chosen for the contest are the following: The Deity of Christ; Christ's Atonement for Sin; The Resurrection; and Salvation Through Faith.

The prize money was established by an anonymous friend of the college and the prize named in honor of one of Maryville's foreign missionaries.

NOTICE

All freshmen interested in trying out for the ECHO editorial staff are requested to meet in the ECHO office at 8:00 p. m. Monday night.

145 STUDENTS TAKE MUSIC TALENT TEST

The Tilson-Gretach Musical Aptitude and Survey Blank, a screen test of musical talent, was given to 145 students in the music department Tuesday afternoon, January 20. The test was administered without charge by Mr. Charles Sloan and Mr. James Fisher of the Knoxville Music Center. Results of the test will be kept on file in the music department.

Harter Presents Faculty Recital

Program To Be Held At Chilhowee Clubhouse

Mr. Harry Harter, tenor, will present the third faculty recital of the year on Thursday, January 29, at 8:00 p. m. in the Chilhowee Club house. He will be accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Florence Harter.

Mr. Harter has studied with Maurine Thompson in California, Arthur Westbrook of the University of Nebraska, Hermanus Bear of Northwestern University, and the late John C. Wilcox, formerly head of the voice department of the American Conservatory. He is a member of Phi Mu Alpha Simfonia, the National Honorary Music Fraternity, Pi Kappa Lambda, and as a choral director, a member of the American Guild of Organists.

The program for Thursday evening is as follows: I'll Sail Upon the Dog Star, Purcell; Bist du bei mir, Bach; Silent Worship, "Ptolemy" Handel; Sound an Alarm! "Judas Maccabaeus", Handel; Le Reve de Des Grieux, "Manor," Massenet; Two Songs from Op. 12 Neun Lieder, In einen Garten, Traurige Mar, Erich J. Wolf; Spanish Folk Songs, Nana, Sequidilla Murciana, Rachmaninoff; Into My Open Window, and The Call of Freedom, Balakireff; Velvet Shoes, Thompson; The Daisies, Barber; Elves, Griffes; O Waters, O Tranquil Waters (Zulu Love Song), Wendt; My Good Lord Done Been Here, Hall Johnson; and Joshua Fit De Battle Ob Jericho, Burleigh.

Varsity Debate Prepares For Five Meet Schedule

Maryville To Sponsor Smoky Mountain Tourney

Meeting five evenings a week in rigorous preparation for the coming season, the varsity debate team is formulating its arguments on the nation-wide debate question, "Resolved: that a federal world government should be established." Six meets are projected on the forthcoming schedule. The first of these will be the Smoky Mountain Tournament at the Whittle Springs Hotel in Knoxville, under the sponsorship of Maryville College.

Dr. Queener has been instrumental in re-instituting this popular tournament for the first time since it was dropped during the war years. On February 19, M.C. teams will journey to Murfreesboro for the State Tournament, and on March 4th, 5th, and 6th Maryville will be represented in the tournament at Hickory, North Carolina.

Several teams from here will compete in the Bluegrass Tournament in Georgetown, Kentucky, on March 12th and 13th. On March 25th, 26th and 27th several teams will also attend the Grand National to be held at Fredricksburg, Virginia, and will round out the season with debates at the Pi Kappa Delta Convention in Columbus, Georgia, on the 15th, 16th and 17th of April.

The freshmen debate team may, if plans materialize, enter a debate tournament in Knoxville on February 28.

Eight Students Make Freshman Debate Team

Eight freshmen were adjudged members of the freshmen debate team by Dr. V. M. Queener and Dr. D. H. Briggs during the latter part of last semester. Of those who participated in the freshmen try-outs which were held at the end of last semester, Betty Davis, Jean Elliot, Elenor Kramer, Dolores Young, Lewis Evans, Erasmus Fowler, Bill Shields, and Freddie Waggoner made the team.

Studies Take Second Place of Many Activities In American Colleges

BY DONALD WHELAN

Over one hundred students will graduate from Maryville this year, and during their four years on the Hill these students will have had the opportunity to join dozens of clubs, societies, and movements gobbling varying amounts of their time. Would they have fared better or worse without so many "diversions"? Although the following is perhaps not the majority view of the '47-'48 class of Maryville, it is worthy of consideration.

"The importance of extra-curricular activities at most schools in the United States has been greatly exaggerated. This statement is not only true of the smaller colleges—those proud of what they call their 'small group friendliness'—but also of the universities and larger high schools. Even small campuses boast thirty, forty, or more organizations; many high schools are forced to set aside special periods for during-school meetings.

"The situation is, by no means universal or traditional. European university students are shocked at the content of American high school and college annuals. In these giant books—some are the size of unabridged atlases—the activities and pictures of some students appear again and again: president of Alpha Falpha, doorprize awarder for Apple Pi Omega, voted Girl Most Likely to Marry the Janitor, Queen of Comquat Festival, ad infin. How, these foreign students ask, can Americans find time for such additional 'carrying-on.'

"Certainly this rushing about has not always hampered American education. Phillip Wylie, in 'What Is Your Diploma Worth?' cites the simplicity and insistance on essentials in the early American schools.

"The fault is not in lack of good intentions. Eager freshmen enter college with an idea of 'oh-I-suppose - I'll-join something-some time—but not-until-I'm settled-to-study.' It doesn't last long. They get into the spirit of things by promptly joining a few groups that meet at overlapping hours. It's a merry chase from there.

"What, then, is the solution? A limit on membership? Though some few clubs end their rolls at twenty or thirty, many others simply cannot say who may and

(Continued on page four)

Death Claims Mrs. C. E. Massey, Mr. Ed Burns

Mrs. C. E. Massey of Oxford Alabama, mother of Miss Massey, Dean of Women at Maryville College, died on December 20th, after a prolonged illness. Mrs. Massey had been seriously ill since early October. She was buried in Anniston, Ala. She is also survived by her husband and two other daughters.

Another recent death was that of Mr. Ed Burns, who died Jan. 8, 1948 as the result of a stroke. Mr. Burns was 71 years old and had worked for Maryville College about five years. He was an expert cabinet worker and was responsible for many of the book shelves in the Library and Music Department and repaired furniture and window frames in many of the buildings.

VISITOR SPEAKS FOR WORLD STUDENTS

William Alloway, senior at the University of Illinois, will speak Sunday at the Y.M.C.A.

Alloway is now visiting the campus and representing the World Student Service Fund. He has been touring the continents of Europe, Australia and America for the past months. Working in the interests of the WSSF, the fund in whose behalf Maryville's annual Barnwarming program is presented, Alloway has been making observations on the conditions in these countries. The program is at 1:30 in Bartlett Hall.

Box Supper Heads Entertainment List

Committee Announces Plans For Semester

A January 31 box supper is the first event scheduled for the semester by the social committee, Footsie Housch, chairman, announced this week.

It will consist of a gay nineties review. All girls of the college are asked to prepare boxes and leave them in the gymnasium between 5:00 and 5:30 Saturday afternoon. The boys should bring a large supply of pennies to the supper for bidding. Bob Holley will be the auctioneer.

The gymnasium will be decorated to look like a small town park with a bandstand in the center. Charlie Huffman's Gay-Ninety Band will play throughout the evening.

Program

The program includes: "The Picture Turned Toward the Wall" by Bill Nish and Marge Prall; "Bicycle Built for Two" by Dick Ribble and Mary Arvidson; "By the Sea" by Art Haaf; "She's More to be Pitied than Censored" by Mil Castrodale; "Bird in a Gilded Cage" by Katie Carpenter; Barber-Shop Male Quartette; "Along Moon-light Bay" by Chorus girls; "Don't Go in the Lion's Cage Tonight, Mother"; Can, Can Dance; Pianist, Ginger Clabough; Barbara Blair and Betty Hall in "Casey and His Strawberry Blonde".

The schedule of all campus events is as follows:

Jan. 24—Wrestling Match
30—Wrestling Match
31—Box Supper and Gay Nineties Review
Feb. 7—Wrestling Match and Basketball Game
14—Wrestling and Valentine Leap Year Party
21—Experimental Theater
28—"Open Dormitories"
March 6—Sophomore Program
13—St. Patrick's Day Program "My Wild Irish Rose"
20—Alpha Sigma and Theta Epsilon Play
27—Easter Play presented by Y.M.C.A.
April 1—April Fool's Party
3—G. I. Show
10—Society Stunt Night
17—Experimental Theater
24—Outing
May 1—May Day—Tau Kappa Chi Operetta
8—"M" Club Hike
15—Bainonian and Athenian Play

Sponsor Bridge Lessons

The social committee also plans to sponsor bridge lessons to be given once a week in Bartlett Hall. Later on, they will also sponsor folk dances.

Each Friday night while the weather is bad, the committee has planned entertainment to be held in Bartlett Hall. January 30, they will entertain with a program of recorded music.

Members of this committee are Ray Saunders, Mary Mitchell Woolridge, Shirley O'Shana, Mildred Miller, Dave Campbell, Marvin Minear, Mrs. Brown, Dr. Williams, Mr. Schwam, Miss Heron, Miss Wilde and Miss Massey.

Mr. John M. Kelley Speaks at Chapel

Mr. John Milton Kelley, head of sacred music in the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., will be the guest of the college Tuesday, January 27. He will speak in chapel that morning.

Officers of Alpha Sigma Introduced Saturday Night

Open House Attended By 300 Students

Bernard Welch, newly elected Alpha Sigma president, was introduced at the open house held by the organization in the YW rooms last Saturday night. The introduction of the president was made by retiring president Carl Lazenby, who also introduced Wilburn Seymour, vice-president, Robert Kay, secretary, and Glen Knecht, re-elected treasurer.

The Alpha Sig open house was attended by approximately 300 students who were entertained by popular music played on the piano by Dick Ribble throughout the evening. Punch, sandwiches, and cookies were served from a large table decorated with a white cloth and ivy. The room was lighted with cadles and blue flood lights. Shirley O'Shana, E. J. Cotton, Geneva Robinson, and Betty Davis assisted the society by acting as hostesses.

Joe Claud, program secretary was in charge of all arrangements for the open house.

At the meeting next Saturday night the constitution will be discussed and a short program will be held.

MR. PAUL W. HENRY APPOINTED NEW M. C. TREASURER

Maryville College will have a treasurer for the first time in 4 years when Mr. Paul W. Henry takes up his duties as Acting Treasurer the 1st of February.

Mr. Henry is a comparitively young man who has had wide business experience. Before the war he spent ten years in business, and since has been associated with the firm of Clement A. Evans & Co., in Atlanta, in the investment field. He is a citizen of Townsend, Tennessee. He is married and has two children. His education was completed in the Universities of Tennessee and Georgia, and in the Knoxville Business College.

Since the death of Mr. Fred Lowry Proffitt in 1944, Mrs. Celia R. Wrinkle, Assistant to Treasurer, has officiated in the department.

Reporter Finds Books On Shelves, Interviews Librarians

BY MARIAGRAZIA MERLANTI

Three members of the college staff who probably know more about books than anyone in the near vicinity are Miss Grierson, Miss Wright, and Mrs. Kennedy, familiar college librarians. They are the persons who organize the work of the student librarians, and literally see that each book is in its proper place on the shelf. In a recent interview the libarians consented to answer questions about their personal lives.

Miss Grierson

Miss Martha Ruth Grierson lived in China and Canada as a child where her father was a missionary. Upon his retirement the Griersons moved to Michigan where Miss Grierson attended high school and college, earning her B. A. at Alma College and her B.A.L.S. at the University of Michigan. She earned her Masters at Columbia University. Before coming to Maryville in 1940, she taught in a Girls' Mission High School in India, and later worked in New York as Librarian for the Presbyterian board.

Her hobby which is hiking and drinking tea, and her favorite food which is rice and curry bring out the Oriental theme in her life.

Miss Wright

Miss Nathalia Wright has the delightful hobby of sleeping late mornings—when she can manage it. She hails from Maryville and also attended MC for her B.A. She received her M.A. from Yale University. While there, she became acquainted with Mr. Henry Canby and worked with him while he was writing his book on Thoreau. The Canby home is what might be thought of as a typical literary setting—an old New England farmhouse near New Haven, Connecticut.

Miss Wright and her mother live in the charming white house just off campus across the walk from Memorial. The Wrights had the fun of drawing their own plans for the house, using their furniture as the basis for the design. When friends tell them how perfectly the occasional piece fits the hall, Miss Wright has to laugh for the hall was built around it!

Mrs. Etta Culberson Kennedy

Mrs. Etta Culbertson Kennedy is a newcomer to the Maryville College Library though she is not a newcomer to the campus, having been a student here not too long ago. She is Editor of Special studies. Her home town is Lewisburg, Tennessee.

Mrs. Kennedy was a French major and a French assistant for

(Continued on page four)

Chilhowean Nearing Completion, Goes To Press February 14

This year's college yearbook, the 1948 Chilhowean, is nearing the final stage before being sent to the printers. Most of the pictures to be included have been made, although some typing remains to be done before the junior class publication goes to press on February 14. The Chilhowean boy and girl of the year have already been selected, but their identities will not be announced until about the middle of May when the yearbook is expected to be back from the printers.

No more orders are being taken, 550 books having been sold.

Ross, Houdshel, McClure Elected To Council

Winnie Schaumburg Heads Rec Hall Committee

Kenneth Ross, Bill Houdeshel, and Martha McClure were elected Student Council representatives of the senior, junior, and sophomore classes, respectively, in the elections following chapel last Thursday morning. Each of the representatives will replace students who did not return this semester. Ross will take the place of Bob Butts, senior who graduated, while Houdeshel will succeed Ruth Lester and Miss McClure will replace Virginia Schwarz. They will become official members of the council at the meeting held in Thaw Hall next Wednesday night.

Ross, a sociology major from Long Island, New York, is best known at Maryville as a member of the wrestling team. He is now serving as captain of the team.

Houdeshel is from Riverdale, Maryland, and Miss McClure's home is in Lebanon, Ohio.

Council Met Last Wednesday

The first meeting of the Student Council this semester was held last Wednesday night, at which time Winnie Schaumburg was appointed chairman of the Rec Hall committee. Miss Schaumburg is replacing Ben Paxton, who recently resigned.

In order that students will be more acquainted with the workings of the Council and know when certain topics will be discussed, a steering committee has been appointed to compose an agenda. As a result, each student may attend those meetings of particular interest to him.

Sophs Attend Meeting

The sophomore class officers attended the last Council meeting to present a letter proposing several improvements concerning the relationship between the student body and the Student Council. The letter discussed (1) getting the entire student body behind the Council, (2) attaining closer understanding between the faculty and the students, (3) acquiring more school spirit, resulting in higher standards of honor in the students, and (4) acquiring graduated privileges for girls of all classes.

Along these same lines a letter was written to the Echo editor proposing similar improvements. The letter is printed on the second page.

Rev. R. L. Houston Speaks At Vespers

The Reverend Robert L. Houston, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Sevierville and a graduate of Maryville College will speak at the vesper service tomorrow night.

Mr. Houston starred in baseball during his student days and played professionally for several years. He is a brother of Judge S. O. Houston, Chairman of the Board of Directors of Maryville College.

The Vesper Choir will sing God's Son Hath Set Me Free, arranged from Grieg by Oscar R. Overby and Beautiful Saviour by Christiansen.

Forty-nine Names Added to Registry

Forty-nine new names were added to Maryville's registry this semester. Most of the new students are freshmen and eighty per cent of the group are boys. The list includes Thomas Adams, Jose Badillo, George Barber, Ted Beasley, James Browne, W. J. Carroll, Lavera Chastain, B. R. Crisp, Ruth Crowson, B. W. Davis, Ruth Davis, Walter English, Gene Hamil, George Handley, Henry Heaps, Ted Hedrick, Glenn Hicke, Bill Horne, Earl Isbill, Phyllis Jackson, James Jones, John Jordan, Raymond Keny, David Kern, Robert Kribbs, Thomas Lacy, Rod LeVan, Joan McKinnon, Jonnie Maples, Wesley Miles, Elmer Mize, Paul Myers, Jeanne Pelton, Bobby Phillips, Nancy Pierce, Ruth Pyler, Richard Ray, Donald Reeves, Virginia Setterfield, Mrs. Ola Sherrill, William Sherrill, Davis Smith, Evelyn Smith, Millard Stephens, Donald Taylor, DeForest Whitlead, Ralph Willooks, and Ivan Worrell.

Junior Class Starts Special Studies

Members of the junior class began the one year course of special studies this semester. English leads the major fields, represented with 26 students; biology is next with 21 participants.

The division of the other 85 juniors is as follows: education, 10; home economics, 10; sociology, 9; physical education, 7; psychology, 7; Bible, 6; economics, 6; music, 6; history, 5; philosophy 4; mathematics, 3; drama, French, political science, and Spanish, each 1; and art, German, Latin, and physics, each 1.

At the middle and the end of each semester, the work in special studies will be checked for the quantity of work done and graded on the quality of the work.

Miss Lightfoot, Miss Hunter Speak At Y.W.

Miss Nancy Hunter and Miss Viola Lightfoot will tell about their trip to Mexico at the Y.W.C.A. meeting Sunday Barbara Blair and Betty Hall will present special music.

A punch bowl and a set of matching cups were donated by Dr. and Mrs. Buchanan to YW Monday night. This addition to the Y kitchen furnishings will be available for all types of social gatherings in the Y rooms.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

Volume 32 Number 17

Dr. F. A. Griffiths ..... Faculty Adviser

EDITORIAL STAFF

Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Ruth Ramsey, Ilda Mosby, Mariagrazia Merlanti, Dick Sprague, Carroll Stegall

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb, Ruth Davis

FRESHMEN APPRENTICES
Jean Hunt, Mary Lyerly, Hazel Holm, Elenor Kramer, Denald Whelan

SPORTS STAFF

Kenneth Olsen ..... Editor
Herbert McCallum ..... Sophomore Reporter
Maynard Noble ..... Freshman Apprentice

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF

Business Manager ..... Ruth Williams

SENIOR ASSISTANTS
Mary Jane Long, Florence Housch

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Margaret Weaver

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANTS
Bob Watkins, Joe Claude, Janet Blackmore

FRESHMEN ASSISTANTS
Barbara Altfather, Naoagene Morrow, Anita Withers

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, JANUARY 24, 1948

Much Echo About Nothing

BY ILDA MOSBY

So this is Leap Year. Is that the reason the mistletoe shtill hangs in Pearsons? A few wary fellows hurried to claim women of their own choosing before too late. For instance, Mr .Bernard chose Miss Lanfear, Jim Martin gave Margaret Rock a diamond, Alverta Fink wears hers from Dick Smilie, Priestie wears one from Bob, Bernie Welch's choice weights Grace Hildebrand's hand, Arlene Whiting accepted hers from Jack Ross, and even our own editor decided not to be an old maid (courtesy of Paul Abbott).

Why doesn't someone give that poor pooch a home? It'd be cute if cleaned and fed. Lou Masters and company tried the former in Memorial laundry tubs, only to have it refuse the honor. The succeeding chase resulted in wet paw prints throughout the dorm and an irritated house mother. J. Landstrom was responsible for those Baldwin blushes after a visit by the pup. The little critter seems to have more of the cooperative and educational spirit than most students. It prefers to spend its evenings in the library, meal times in the dining hall, and chapel time in the gym. One chapel monitor must have been a bit non-plussed when the seat ordinarily occupied by Hewitt held a dog. Sounds like the giant in Tuesday night's show who could change form at will.

Ben Sheldon will be more careful henceforth. The cop believed him this time, but—. Seems he spied a parking meter that looked unlocked, so he pulled. It was. He retrieved the coins from the gutter and redeposited them one by one. As he started to leave, some inquiseitive moron (no reflection on character) had a twin to Ben's idea. Just as the last coin was once more in his hand, he turned and saw the cop. Some jet-propelled chatter and the guy believed him!

Bill Swenson should enroll in a course in writing. Cornie had a little trouble translating one of his letters during the holidays and confusion resulted. Bo Henry seems to enjoy push-buttoning the scores. Who wouldn't, with a court-side seat and no view-stoppers (e.g., basket boards, posts, etc). In the line of sports, what happened to the faculty team? YM sort of outdistanced them. YW has the Buchanans to thank for the gift of a very lovely punch service.

MC has a musical genius. The students who took that music test the other day were told that only one person had ever made a ninety-eight and he was a genius. Nan Wooten's score—ninety-eight!.....Barb Eggleston lacks the proper respect for the ancients. During an esthetics class discussion of Plato, she informed Dr. Hunter that as far as she is concerned, "That was just Plato's idea."—Dick Hamilton went to class, took notes for an hour (they seemed a bit strange but he figured they were over his head), and then discovered he was in the wrong class..... Coach Johnson may have been trying to build-up Del Poling, but from Del's appearance Thursday night, it seemed more like tearing-down.....Parents sometimes tag their children before starting them on journeys. J. Watt's roommate had better try the same idea in the hope it'll get him to class. So far—he's unitentionally cut biology twice.

Roweana Mann must not be able to focus very well or she'd have put the soap in the Bendix before the rinse period.....Martha Ann Blount was concentrating on remembering to knock on doors before entering instead of just barging in, so hard, in fact, that when she started for George Gress's room, she knocked on her own door before leaving.....For those who feel they need a good night's rest we recommend Prof. Howell's tourist home. As advertised, they have innerspring mattresses and QUIET..... Rosie Law was accompanying the second floor of Baldwin in a little harmony, when Hiss Harwood requested "Goodnight, Ladies."

Betsey Davis' birthday celebration appeared novel to the near-by tables in the dining hall. Connie Lynn (he's the little guy who walks on springs) can be so helpful to waitresses. Especially when they've already washed and dried their glasses, turn away for a moment, and find the same glasses sitting in the dishpan again. One waiter has a new way oaf eliminating crumbs—not the old stepping-on process. He just huffs and puffs and away they go. If you've noticed that the glass atop the main desk in the library looks dingy or sticks to anything placed upon it, the answer follows. Marge Prall is an energetic soul. Rather than stand idle at the desk, she decided to polish the glass. The small bottle of windex couldn't be found, so she used some fluid from a large jug. It wasn't had to put on, but almost an hour was necessary to "polish" the glass (plus two washings). Glass just doesn't react to wax the way wood does.

Miss Bassett has placed a box of crayons on reserve for her Greekhistory students to use in the library. They're kept at the main desk. One historian secured the crayons and then a little later asked for the coloring book. H. Engel, after frantically searching the shelf where the crayons had been, demanded, "What coloring book?"..... Library studiers in the reserve section could hear laughter from the debate room where the Student Council was posing for its Chilhowean portrait. Investigation results: Doc couldn't figure just where to place Breen. "What can I do with you, Judy?" Answered Andy Clark, "You just leave her alone."

Everyone's compaining. They've studied more in the last ten days than they did all last semester and they're still behind. The library's always packed and the people are studying. There's not time to remember resolutions, let alone clean rooms. Special studies, freshman research themes, Chilhowean deadline, record-breaking class assignments, club meetins, laundry, and another semester has a head start on the students.

IMPROVEMENT, IT SEEMS

From all appearances the social committee is starting out with a bang this semester, thanks to Chairman Footsie Housch and her committee. If the schedule which they haveplanned and which is printed in this week's ECHO is any indication of what we can expect—and we're sure it is—then Maryville's social life will be somewhat improved over the past several semesters. Everyone is clearly conscious of a need for improvement, though no one really wants the job. It requires time and effort, aswell as the ability to plan varied programs under so many limitations.

We can imagine just what agony such a committee would go through during their meetings. The first question to come up would probably be, "What shall we have?" and no doubt the second would be "Where shall we have it?" At this point we're afraid we'd be tempted to say, "Now wouldn't a Rec Hall come in handy?" But that isn't the social committee's problem. (From what we read in the ECHO that's Winnie Schaumburg's problem now.) It's theirs to do what they can with what they've got, and beginning with a box supper sounds like a good idea to us. At least the students will have the opportunity to move around a little at such a program, and that is advancement.

FOUR MARYVILLE COUPLES MARRIED DURING HOLIDAYS

Four Maryville couples were united in marriage during the recent holidays, three of them returning to continue school and one pair of the newly-weds making their home in Alexandria, Louisana.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Thomson were married December 28 at the home church of the bride the former Miss June Touchstone daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W Touchstone, Tampa, Florida. Argyle King, Maryville junior, was the bride's maid of honor, while Mrs. P. F. Augustino, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She had two bridesmaids, Jacqueline Touchstone, a sister, and Patricia Young. Jim Black was best man. The couple went to New York for their honey moon, after which they returned to Maryville.

Mrs. Arthur Spears was Miss Ruth Thompson before her marriage at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. H. Blough, of Shelbyville, Tennessee, on December 28. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Nancy Anne Thompson. Oliver Spears, brother of the groom, was best man. The couple went to St. Petersburg, Florida, for their honeymoon, and both have returned to Maryville this semester.

Miss Kathy Cronkhite became Mrs. Al Lesnick in a double ring ceremony at the home of the bride's grandparents in Yonkers, New York, January 3. They are living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murray, Indiana Avenue. The bride is employed in town and the groom attends Maryville.

Miss Mary Katherine Stidham and Walter Winton Enloe were married at the Fillmore Street Presbyterian Church in Corinth Mississippi, during the holidays Miss Barbara Stidham was her sister's only attendant, and Melvin McClamrock was best man. They are making their home in Alexandria, Louisiana, where the groom is employed.

DO YOU KNOW?—

Do you know that the Sept. 23, 1939, issue of the Echo really shows up inflation—then and now. Then—with the college's four sets of twins, compare its present two sets. Now—a probable price of $3 for a sleeveless sweater as compared with Proffitt's 1939 ad of sweaters for $1.

Do you know that on Thanks giving, 1938, 400 pounds of Turkey were served in Pearsons?

Do you know that in previous years the M.C. campus has boasted clubs from different states—probably the widest-represented ones. The 1938 Chilhowean lists the Carolina, Alabama, Florida and Ohio clubs.

Do you know what S. O. after a professor's name means? Well, we don't. Is it something his best friends won't tell him about, or is it a title?

Frosh: Why are you eating with your knife?
Stupe: My fork leaks.

Poems Read at Writers' Workshop Meeting

Dorothy Vawter and Sarah Jo Kiger were readers at the first meeting of Writers' Workshop. Miss Vawter read poetic prose on a theme, "The Movement of the Universal," using sonata form.

Sarah Jo Kiger read two poems, "The Wind" and "He Who Has the Faith of a Child"—the latter written as a little girl's prayer.

The system of criticism which has been used heretofore has been abolished and has been replaced by a five-minute free-for-all.

This first meeting of the new semester was held at four-thirty, Wednesday, in Dr. Hunter's class room.

"You must be brave to come down in a parachute in a hundred mile gale like this."

"I didn't come down in a parachute, I went up in a tent."

Thru' These Portals.....

Sue Cochran, ex.'48, is at the American Institute of the Bible in Brooklyn, New York.

Kathryn Dean, '46 is teaching sixth grade in Copperhill, Tenn.

Robert Dockendorf, '47, who is teaching English at Washington College, recently visited the campus en route to Atlanta.

Leonard Schieber, '47, spent Thanksgiving week-end on the campus. He is going to U. T.

Peggy Peters, ex.-'50, is attending T.P.I. in Cookville, Tennessee.

Bonnie Mills, ex.-'50, is engaged to Rexford Ford and will be married in February. Miss Mills is now working in an office in Chicago, Illinois.

Mary White, ex.-'50, is engaged to Ben Moore. Both are in Cleveland, Tennessee.

Mary Ramsey, ex.-'50, is engaged to Harold Gernigen. They are in Cleveland, Tennessee.

George Marx, '47, and his wife, the former Miss Jean Childress, ex.-'49, are at Chattanooga, Tennessee, where he is attending the University of Chattanooga.

Edward Voorhees, '47, is at Vanderbilt University.

Mary Jane Blizzard, ex.-'49, is attending Penn State.

Betsy Click, ex.-'49, is training for an airline hostess in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Dale Motsinger, ex.-'49, is attending Georgia Tech.

Elinor Goertz, ex.-'50, is now Mrs. Fred Kingsly and lives on the campus of the University of Pennsylvania where her husband teaches.

Patty Regan, ex.-'50, Harriet Perry, ex.-'49, and Bobby Jo Regan, ex.-'50, are attending the University of Tennessee.

Carleen Stephens, '47, is teaching in a local grammar school. With her is Betty Lillard, ex.-'49, who was admitted to Blount Memorial Hospital Monday, December 8, for an appendectomy.

Peggy Edwards, ex.-'50, is attending Washington University in St. Louis, Mo.

Jack Verity, ex.-'50, is attending the University of Southern California.

Maurice Ottinger, ex.-'50, is attending East Tennessee State Teachers College.

BERNARD - LANFEAR WEDDING PLANNED FOR AUGUST 21

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Lanfear of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Vivian Lanfear to Mr. David E. Bernard at a buffet supper in their home on December 21. The wedding will take place August 21, in Pittsburgh.

Miss Lanfear has been a member of the Maryville College faculty for two years. She is a graduate of Oberlin College and received her master's from the University of Michigan. Mr. Bernard is a graduate of the University of Illinois and is working toward his master's there. He has been on the Maryville faculty for two years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Bernard of Sandwich, Illinois.

Never say can't. That is, unless you're trying to strike a match on a cake of wet soap.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Monday-Tuesday
January 26-27
"Mother Wore Tights"
Starring Betty Grable with Dan Dailey

Wednesday-Thursday
January 28-29
"They Won't Believe Me"
Starring Susan Hayward Robert Young

Friday-Saturday
January 30-31
"Saddle Pals"
Starring Gene Autry

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.

30-Minute Service
between
Maryville and Knoxville

Candy Pleases!

SWEETHEART ASSORTMENT

The finest candy for special occasions!

Good Variety

BYRNE DRUG

DOROTHY GRAY SPECIAL
Dry Skin Mixture—$1.00
Dry Skin Lotion—$1.00
Blustery Weather Lotion—$1.00

PARK DRUG STORE

Letters To The Editor:

Dear Editor:

It is the idea of the officers and Student Council representatives of the Sophomore Class that the lack of co-operation between the Student Council and Student Body stems mainly from a lack of knowledge. How can the Student Body give the Council its support when it has no conception of the weekly actions of the Council? The lack of knowledge on the part of a great many students as to what the Council has done and is trying to do is quite appalling. For instance, there are students on the campus who can't understand why the Council does not vote to have a second Town Night.

The surprising fact is that we all continue to have our "gripes" and complaints about things which we can't understand. If we really want to express our views, we have a Student Council which is intended for just that purpose. However, there must be some change-over from our present disinterest to the place where we feel like using the Student Council to further our ideas. Believing that knowledge breeds interest we would like to make the following suggestions, the first of which has already been submitted by the Council to the class presidents.

At each class meeting, there should be a definite period set aside for a summary of the Council's activities given by the class Council representatives. During this same period, an opportunity should be given for members of the class to ask questions and give comments, suggestions, and ideas to be carried back to the Council. This channeling of ideas through class representatives to the Council is part of the Council's basic set-up.

We are informed that the meetings of the Student Council and Student-Faculty Senate are open. Therefore, we see no reason why there would be any objection to a regular column in the Highland Echo for the purpose of informing the Student Body of all activities of the Council. Such a column is needed to dispel the idea that the Council meets once a week merely to impose Town Night penalties. We believe that reports on what our representatives are discussing and recommending would make interesting reading for most of the students especially with such issues before the Council as Maryville College's affiliation with N. S. A. Through this column, it would be possible for a recommendation of the Council to the Student-Faculty Senate to have behind it the popular opinion of a well-informed Student Body.

Finally, every student should make it his business to support the group which is his representation in the affairs of Maryville College. There is no reason for anyone's feeling "strange" about attending a Council meeting. The Council appreciates this show of interest on the part of the students. And certainly it is worth the prolonging of your next class meeting by a few minutes to find out that the Council is working on some of the very things you would like to see done.

Let us of the student body get behind our Council representatives and incite some long-needed spirit into our activities "on the Hill."

Sincerely,
Sophomore Class Officers.

Stock up NOW!

Keep a good line of First Aid Items on Hand—and for prescriptions— bring them to a First Rate Pharmacist

City Drug Co.

Finest Foods Fairest Prices

Everything you need—at the one-stop Grocery——So for those many parties ahead—shop at

THE J. & K. SUPER STORE
Church . College St.

Echo Sports

JANUARY 24, 1948 — Page Three

WRESTLING MATCH CANCELLED
GEORGIA TECH HERE FRIDAY.
BASKETBALL WITH LMU TUES.

HERB'S— Half-acre

FOREWORD:

This Halfacre, sport fans, you will find, is where we keep the "bull."—The Editor.

WRESTLING NOTES:

"Tubby" Callaway, after slipping in the Chattanooga Match, came back to his old self to give his opponent, Fox, a sound beating Thursday night. Fox is said to be the best of the Knoxville "Y" wrestlers. Callaway, who went undefeated last season in the 145-pound class, is wrestling now in the 155 pound class.

After Earl Black (121 lb.) did a good job of keeping Radcliff under control, J. A. Cameron (128 pound) and Ken Ross (136 pound) worked hard and got pins on their opponents at the Knoxville "Y". West, Cameron's opponent, was elusive, but Cameron caught him in the third period.

Major, in his third varsity bout, got aggressive in a hurry to secure a pin over Knoxville's Linebaugh in the third period.

Hersh Merriman (165 pound) spun Freeman around the mat before being successful in putting him in a pin position in the 2nd period.

Herbert Palmer (175 pound) is proving himself as a steady wrestler. Palmer is in Lloyd Anderson's place on the team. Anderson is not wrestling this season because of a shoulder injury he received last summer.

John Briggs showed much improvement as he came through with a pin in an exhibition match after the regular events Thursday night.

WE REPORTED in this column last December before the Chattanooga match that the Maryville Wrestling team was short on experience and needed the advantage of both experience and heavier weights of wrestlers. Now, the wrestling team has come into its own. Both the victory over Chattanooga and Knoxville "Y" proved one point—that the Scot grapplers are learning fast.

WHETHER YOU REALIZE it or not, the current basketball season is now half over. The eight games played before this writing had given the Highlanders six wins and two losses—but the opposition was varied. The loss to Western Kentucky State probably hit the hardest because of the 77-37 score. It could have been worse. The Western Whirlwind piled up 101 points to Fort Knox's 68 in a December game. Western is definitely out of Maryville's class. Still, it's better to have challenged them and lost rather than not to have challenged them at all. When these Kentucky lads march up to Madison Square Garden and hand Long Island University a defeat by a 62-47 score, as they did Jan. 21, it's high time that they challenge the champion. Western has lost but one game this year—64-75 to Bowling Green of Ohio.

As for the 13 point loss to Lambuth's Eagles—the Scots have a date on February 24 to settle that.

SPORTS AT A GLANCE

SO FAR . . . . .

Date	Opponent	Place	We	They
	BASKETBALL
Dec. 10	Carbon-Carbide	(here)	68	25
Dec. 13	Carbon-Carbide	(there)	64	36
Jan. 8	Lambuth College	(there)	36	49
Jan. 9	Cumberland University	(there)	45	24
Jan. 10	Western Kentucky State	(there)	37	77
Jan. 13	Western N. Carolina	(here)	45	39
Jan. 16	Oak Ridge Elks	(here)	63	52
Jan. 20	East Tennessee State	(here)	43	36
Jan. 22	Oak Ridge Elks	(there)	55	58
Jan. 23	Emory and Henry	(here)	49	53
	"B" Games
Dec. 10	Alcoa Legionnaires		28	33
Jan. 5	Amos 'n Andy Trotters		53	16
Jan. 6	Amos 'n Andy		62	24
Jan. 13	Alcoa Independents		50	11
Jan. 16	Friendsville Farmers		17	21
Jan. 17	Friendsville Farmers		41	45
Jan. 20	Gismo Grill		45	35
	WRESTLING
Dec. 13	Chattanooga		18	11
Dec. 13	Baylor Prep.		12	18
Jan. 22	Knoxville "Y"		31	5

TO COME . . . . . .

	BASKETBALL
Jan. 27	Lincoln Memorial University	(here)
Jan. 28	Western North Carolina	(there)
Jan. 31	Tusculum	(there)
Feb. 2	Emory and Henry	(there)
Feb. 3	East Tennessee State	(there)
Feb. 7	Tusculum	(there)
Feb. 12	Tennessee Wesleyan	(here)
Feb. 14	Carson-Newman	(there)
Feb. 16	Tennessee Wesleyan	(there)
Feb. 18	Lincoln Memorial University	(there)
Feb. 21	Carson-Newman	(here)
Feb. 25	Lambuth College	(here)
	WRESTLING
Jan. 24	Knoxville "Y"	(here)
Jan. 30	Georgia Tech	(here)
Feb. 7	Appalachian State	(here)
Feb. 14	Western North Carolina	(here)
Feb. 21	Auburn	(there)
Feb. 28	Western North Carolina	(there)
Mar. 9	Georgia Tech	(there)

Emory - Henry Bumps Scots, 53-49

Virginians Snatch Late Period Lead To Conquer Highlanders Last Night

Emory and Henry's Wasps stung the Scottie Cagemen with a terrific comeback in the second period last night in Alumni gym to clinch a 53-49 victory.

From the start as the Highlanders took a four point lead the first five minutes, Charlie Roberts broke loose to score 12 points in the first period and the Scotties were out in front at half-time, 25-17.

25-17 at Half-Time

The Virginians tightened their zone defense early in the second period and, after a spell of dizzy ball handling, the visitors held the Maryville quint scoreless for four minutes to narrow the margin and close up to a 33-all tie mid-way the last period.

A foul comitted by Berrong on Hawkins gave the Wasp forward a free shot for one point and E. and H. led, 34-33.

Racing on with additional buckets by Pippin, Phipps, and Parrish, Emory and Henry kept ahead of the now desperate Scotties to hold a 45-43 edge with four minutes left in the game.

Ray Lillard, who was considerably "off" the first period, connected for two quick baskets, while Garner nabbed three, and Reynolds and Roberts added one each in a vain attempt to keep pace with the explosive Wasps.

Helped by six out of ten charity shots made good in the last period, the Wasps had it over the Scots who missed five out of five free tosses.

Freezing the ball of one minute of the last four, the Wasps kept the lead and the control of the ball, but with two minutes remaining, Boring, Garner, and Roberts hit for six points, while Hawkins bagged another for Emory and Henry to put the final score: 53-49.

Starting line-up:

Mory-Henry	Pos.	Maryville
Parrish (11)	f.	R. Lillard (14)
Pippin (6)	f.	Roberts (13)
Sprinkle (3)	c.	Garner (8)
Phipps (16)	g.	Hamil (4)
Roberson (5)	g.	Boring (6)

SUBS: E. & H.—Hawkins (8), Painter (4); M. C.—Reynolds (2), Keny (2), Baldwin, Berrong.

Officials: Stratton, Referee; Farmer, Umpire; Henry, Timekeeper.

Kentucky 'Toppers Trip Scots Cagers Lose Twice -Win Once

It was one win, two losses for the Highlander basketball squa when they took a three-day jaunt to meet Lambuth College, Cumberland University, and Western Kentucky State Teachers College on January 8, 9, and 10.

The Scots dropped the first game at Jackson, Tenn., with a 49 to 36 count against the Lambuth Eagles, downing Cumberland 45-24 the next day at Lebanon, Tenn., then the Scots hit some very lanky Kentuckians at Bowling Green who overwhelmed the Highlanders by a77-37 landslide.

Maryville 37—W. Kentucky 77

Coach Ed Dittle's Red and Gray warriors entertained Maryville on their last home stand before departing on an annual Eastern tour to play Canisius, Long Island University, and St. Joseph's.

Although the 'Toppers completely out-classed the Highlanders all the way, at one stage the Maryville Squad held the vaunted Kentuckians for seven minutes without a score. (In the Hilltoppers' 80-49 victory over Utah State a week before, these same Western players had dropped in 19 points in 6 min. 25 sec. while holding the Utah Five to one point.) Anyway, for seven minutes the game was all Maryville's —but the other 33 minutes belonged to Western.

Using four teams at random, Western sped on from a 39-17 half-time lead to deal the most severe licking the Scottie cagers have known in a coon's age.

Maryville 36—Lambuth 49

The Highlanders kept the squeeze on Lambuth's Eagles in a neck-and-neck scoring race which found neither team over four points ahead in the first period. The Orange and Garnet held a one point lead at half-time by a 24-23 score. The Eagles grabbed a quick lead early in the second period which they barely managed to hold.

Maryville 45—Cumberland 24

Pushing past a weak Cumberland team, the Scotties used all ten men that made the trip in gaining a victory over the Bulldogs.

Scottie Quintet Defeats E.T. State

Despits the hard pressing defense of the East Tennessee State Teachers, Maryville "Scotties" put on a spurt in the closing minutes of the game to pull ahead to a 43-36 victory. The Scotties took a 12 point lead early in the first quarter, but East Tennessee was not to be outdone as they closed the gap to an 18-18 tie at half-time. From the beginning of the second half to the end Maryville held the lead, but only by a small margin.

Ray Lillard and Gene Reynolds shared the scoring honors with ten points each, while Derrick of the Teachers was high scorer of the evening with 11 points.

Maryville 43		E.T. State 36
Lillard 10	F	Harnion 4
Reynolds 10	F	Derrick 11
Garner 2	C	Jor ion 2
Hamil 9	G	Quailes 4
Boring 8	G	Vest 9
Campbell 0		Seaton 1
Clark 2		Taylor 5
Berrong 0
Kenny 2
Baldwin 0

SWIMMING POOL HOURS

The new swimming periods are as follows:

Men—Tuesday and Thursday, 3:30-5:30

Women—Monday and Friday, 3:30-5:30

Mixed Swimming—Wednesday, 3:30-5:30; Saturday, 2:00-5:00; Tuesday night, 7:00-9:00.

No, no, no Nancy! They don't make the umpire wear that muzzle just to keep him from biting the players.

A job that I'd like from now on to hereafter is wrestling coach at Smith, Radcliff or Vassor.

Chicago Tribune

Station Wagon, Scoreboard Added

During the Christmas vacation, the College added a new Chevrolet station wagon to the athletic facilities. This will relieve the transportation problem caused by the wreck of the former station wagon last February.

Also during the vacation, a modern electric scoreboard was installed in the Alumni gym.

Grapplers Floor Mocs, 18-11- Baylor Prep Drops "B" Team

BY KEN OLSEN

Records fell, friends fought, freshmen battled, and the Scots won, 18-11, in the opening match of the Maryville and Chattanooga grappling seasons on December 13 at Chattanooga. The Highlander "B" squad dropped their preliminary with Baylor Prep, 12-18.

Surprisingly strong, the Highlanders shoved aside the first four Chattanooga men with decisions, catching them completely unawares. The Mocs countered with Tom Braly's decision over Tubby Callaway to chalk up a 3 on the blackboard. On the low end of the 12-3 score, the Mocs became hopelessly lost when the visiting Scots took two more decisions to clinch the match for "J.D." Davis' promising matmen. Two more bouts, both won by the Mocs, closed the evening sport contests.

Closest bout of the night was the Ted Evans-Lawrence Major fracas. The 145 pounder struggled to a 4-4 tie and had to go into four minutes overtime to settle the issue. Major, the M.C. man, won, 8-6.

Record-breaker of the match came when Tubby Callaway, M.C. 155 pounder, was decisioned by Moc's Tom Braly. Tubby, fresh from the Scot football roster, had an undefeated season last year on the M.C. varsity grappling squad. Callaway, who wrestled for Baylor Prep a few years ago, had to struggle out of a pin hold thrown by Braly, an old classmate and fellow wrestler at Baylor. Fatigued by his efforts and hampered by a short training period, Callaway lagged behind to the final 13-6 decision.

More excitement hit when Bill Berry, a U. C. footballer, and Hersh Merriman, M. C. grid star, tangled those nine long minutes on the mat to a Maryville decision, 9-8. Immediately following, Herb Palmer, M. C. freshman, and Harry Love, old schoolmates, tussled for the 175 pound decision which Palmer won, 5-4. Close.

Neophites Luke Worsham, U. C. and "Butch" Kramer, M.C., then gave excellent proof of what Coaches Davis for Maryville and Carpenter for Chattanooga and their teammates could teach them in a couple of days by clashing at 191 pounds. Worsham pinned Kramer in the last 30 seconds of the third period of the game, well-contested bout.

Climax for the night came when Dutch McGrath, 230 pound U. C. giant, worked on Paul Yambert, 170 pound Maryville sophomore, for nine minutes to score only four points for a decision. Remaining on their feet the whole first period and spending a lot of time flying into the spectators, the "David and Goliath" of the match fought a one-sided bout, with the giant on top. McGrath, somewhat renowned for the fine art of wrestling at U. C., was a disappointment to the spectators. He was not able to turn over Yambert, who calmly made remarks to skeptic armchair wrestlers in the ring-side seats.

Knox Y Falls, 31-5; Next Match On Scot Mat Friday

Raging to a 31-5 win, the Maryville College wrestling team defeated the Knoxville YMCA, Thursday evening at Knoxville. The Maryville team scored four falls and one default while Knoxville Y captured one pin, allowing two bouts to end in decisions for the Scotties.

Due to weather conditions, the wrestling match with Knoxville "Y" scheduled tonight in Alumni Gym has been cancelled.

The next wrestling foe will be Georgia Tech in Alumni Gym next Friday night at eight o'clock.

In the match of eight bouts in the 121 pound class, E. Black took a decision from Radclife 3-0; in the 128 pound class J. A. Cameron pinned West in 2 minutes, 29 seconds of the first period; in the 136 pound class, K. Ross pinned Joslin in 1 minute, 14 seconds of the second period; in the 145 pound class, L. Major pinned Linebaugh in 54 seconds of the third period; in the 155 pound class, H. Calloway won a default over Fox; in the 165 pound class, H. Merriman pinned Freemen in 1 minute 21 seconds of the second period; in the 175 class H. Palmer won a decision from Clevenger, 6-0; and in the heavyweight class, R.Kramer was pinned in 41 seconds of the third period by Castlebury. In the exhibition match, J. Briggs pinned Tipton in 1 minute and 38 seconds of the third period.

Girls Continue In Honor System

The honor system used last semester for women's physical education will be continued until the weather again permits group and individual sports to be played outside. An announcement will be made in chapel concerning the time and place the sign-up sheet will be posted.

Dancing is a part of the freshman women's physical education program this semester. The dancing class is now working on limbering exercises and learning how to walk correctly. All other freshmen physical education classes are playing basketball.

Thursday, January 22, at the

(Continued on page four)

Former Students Fight In Golden Gloves Tourney

Jack Campbell, ex-50, and Bruce Curington, Alcoa, will defend their titles in the middle and light-heavyweight classes next week in the annual Golden Gloves Tournament to be held in the Lyric Theater January 27, 28, 29, 31. The two champs are part of the team from Maryville which has been training in the Bartlett Hall wrestling room every evening.

Coach for the squad is James Newman, a junior at M. C. Newman has had considerable experience in the service as a boxing instructor.

Campbell and Ed Heaton, ex-50, were both freshmen here last year. Heaton is signed for the 126 (flyweight) class. He may well be remembered for his talents on the college varsity wrestling squad last season.

Other members of the team are flyweights Tom Gunter, and Tom Baugh, bantam-weight Herb Williams, Welterweights George Simerly, Bill Finley, and Bennett Tipton, and heavyweight Lloyd McKenzie.

Tickets for the bouts are on sale at the Athletic House in Knoxville. Ringside seats, $1.50; general, $1.00.

INTRAMURALS

The Eight Balls, league leaders for the entire season, are still considerably out in front of the rest of the field with a .910 percentage. Nearest opponents are the Rebels who have won .800 of their games. Until the Eight Balls lose another game, they have the league sewed up.

STANDINGS

Team	G.	W.	L.	Pct.
Eight Balls	11	10	1	.910
Rebels	10	8	2	.800
Vikings	9	7	2	.778
Wholly Rabies	10	7	3	.700
Dingoes	9	6	3	.666
Ex-Scrubbs	10	6	4	.600
Tenn Penns	9	5	4	.556
P. B.s	11	5	6	.454
Creamers	10	4	6	.400
YMCA	8	3	5	.375
Crescents	10	3	7	.300
Fireballs	8	2	6	.250
Alpha Sigma	9	0	9	.000
Sigma Omega	8	0	8	.000

Have Your 1948

Made Now!

THE WEBB STUDIO

LYNCH BAKERY

Date Night!

To make a hit with the New Gal you just met in School . . . . be sure that you have a Clean White Shirt for date nights.

9 Pounds Clothes Washed, Rinsed, Damp Dried, Soap, Bleach, and Water 35c

SPECIAL

9 Pounds Washed and Dried 50c

SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY

Phone 1055

French Club Names New Officers

Eleanor Stuble, senior, was re-elected president of the French Club at the end of last semester. Other officers are vice-president, Violet Summerville; treasurer, Elaine Kern; secretary, Harold Henry; and progam chairmen, Walter Pentz and Bob Watkins. At the first meeting of this semester held Thursday night Eleanor Struble announced vacancies in the membership. Walter Pentz, Elaine Kern and Ray Kirby were appointed as a membership committee to present new names at a meeting to be called in the near future. Harold Henry was appointed to make a report at the next meeting on the topic "What's going on in France today."

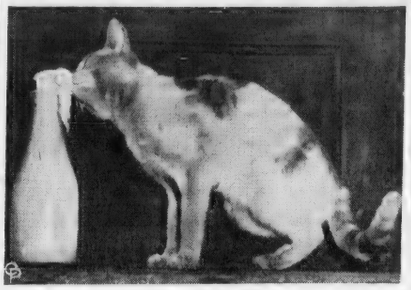
A preliminary planning committee was appointed to begin plans for the annual banquet to be held in the spring. The committee is as follows: Anne Childress, Violet Summerville, Vendeda Huskey, Walter Pentz, Bob Watkins.

A spelling match of French words was held following the business meeting.

OFFICERS OF I.R.C. TO BE ELECTED MON.

At the business meeting of the International Relations Club last Monday night, Marjorie Prall, acting president, announced that because of the resignation of the president and vice-president an election would be held at the next meeting. Virginia Baier, Frank Ladner, and Jerry Collins were named as a nominating committee.

The club voted to become a member of the northern district of the Southeastern Conference of International Relations Clubs. It was decided that the organization be represented at the Conference the last of February.



HONOR SYSTEM . . .

(Continued from page 3)

regular meetings of the Chillies and the Howees pictures were made of both poaint system teams for the Chilhowean. Pictures were also made of the winning volley ball, basketball, and softball teams and of tennis and archery.

Both point system teams are now practicing basketball with Dorothy Long coaching. Basketball is being played this semester for the first time under the new AAU rules for girls.

SOME LIKE IT HOT—SOME COLD

MANY CHICAGOANS SHIVERED and hoped for a rise in temperature when Windy City thermometers registered nine degrees above zero. To this alley cat, frigid weather brought a windfall. When milk in a bottle on a doorstep froze, the cap came off and puss set to work. (International)

EXCHANGES

He: "I'll stick to you like glue, my love."
She: "The feeling's mucilage."

She: "My face is my fortune."
He: "I'm broke too."

Gal: "Kissing is childish."
Guy: "You so right—baby."

Friend: "What are you doing now Sam?"
Sam: "Ah's an exportah."
Frined: "An exporter."
Sam: "Yassuh,. ah was fired by the Pullman Company."

Colored Preacher: "Y'all gotta join da ahmy of de Lawd. Rasmus, what branch of de Lawd's ahmy you b'long to?"
Rasmus: "To de Baptist branch, Rev'run."
C. P.: "Man, you don't b'long to de ahmy—you b'long to de NAVY!"
Auburn Plainsman

"If your palm itches, it's a sign you're going to get something;
If your head itches, you've got it."
—The Houghton Line

"What did you say this morning, Prof. B.?"
"Why, nothing."
"Of course, but how did you express it this time?"
—Auburn Plainsman

"I wonder who this telegram is from?"
"Western Union. I recognized the handwriting."

A diner when dining in Kew
Found a rat in the midst of his stew.
Said the waiter, "Don't shout
And wave it about,
Or the others will ask for one, too!"

One dark night at the close of day,
A curious man had lost his way.
He saw a isgn post, very faint,
He climbed to the top and read—
"Wet Paint."

Mr. Honaker Speaks To Faculty Club Monday Night

Coach Lombe S. Honaker will read a paper at the first 1948 meeting of the Faculty Club to be held Monday night, January 26, at 7:30. His topic will be "Psychology in Athletics." He will discuss athletics as a part of education and some of the psychological means used in teaching, using illustrations of psychology and the influences it has had on athletics and learning.

The Faculty Club will meet in the Home Economics room for a dinner and the program.

STUDIES TAKE SECOND PLACE

(Continued from page one)

who may not join (e.g., the Y's). A college regulation on the number of campus activities one may join? Who wants to be told what he may and may not do outside class periods? No, the only solution seems to be use of better judgment on the part of students.

"(Just one more question:) Where can you find an undergraduate with judgment?"
—Adapted.

Camera Club Meets Thursday Night

Camera Club will meet Thursday night at 6:45 in Science Hall, January 29th. This meeting is in the nature of an emergency meeting, and will be a business meeting.

At the assembly plans for obtaining an enlarger will be presented and discussed. A committee will be appointed to assist in the improving of the darkroom, which must be made light-tight and in which shelves must be placed. A committee may be named to re-write the constitution, and there may be an election of officers.

ALUMNI CENSUS RETURN GOOD; 23% ALREADY IN

As an early part of its reorganization the Alumni Office sent out over 3000 questionnaires to all former students and grads for whom it had reliable addresses. Of these about 700 or over a fifth have already been returned.

This is the first extensive questionnaire the Alumni Office has ever sent out. In addition to its value in the campaign fund drive, a great deal of new information is being filed on alumni, and the spaces for suggestions have received a lively response of value in the reorganization of the office.

Students knowing of alumni out of touch with the Alumni Office, are asked to contact it so that the files could be more complete.

He: We certainly had a big time last night for ten cents.
She: Yea, I wonder how my little brother spent it.

BOOKS ON SHELVES REPORTED BY LIBRARIANS

(Continued From Page 1)

two years during her student days. She debated and was a member of Pi Kappa Delta.

She has traveled all over the United States in the course of the war following her husband, the late Mr. Kennedy, who was a writer before entering the service.

Her hobby is one of the most unusual and picturesque yet to be mentioned in this column. Claiming to be a country girl from Middle Tennesse herself, Mrs. Kennedy has made a study of the country people in her own section. She became interested in a study of her fellow Middle Tennesseans through traveling with her father over this section of the state. She has made a study of the speech, customs, and ideaology she has come across in her travels.

Her keenest interest in life is her daughter, Evelyn who will be two in February.

Since her graduation from college here, Mrs. Kennedy has spent most of the time looking for a place to live.

Her experiences in teaching have been varied.

German Club Holds First Meeting Monday Night

German Club will hold its first meeting of the semester Monday night at 6:45 in the German classroom. There will be a short business meeting to elect a new vice-president. A program of games is being planned.

A wedding is a funeral where you smell your own flowers.

A good line is the shortest distance between dates.

Of all the sad surpises
There's nothing to compare
With treading in the darkness
On a step that isn't there.
—Noctalula

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

Some One Said—

"Card playing can be expensive—but so can any game in which you hold hands"—
No Name Men's Socks are usually expensive too——But

"HOLE-PROOF"
Wool Socks

not only are inexpensive—But they are warm and healthy—absorbing excessive perspiration—

This week too—you will find 300 pair at PROFFITT'S, Men's Department

Regular $1.00 sox on sale at

59c pair

Just Arrived
"McGREGOR"
Corduroy Sport Coats

PROFFITT'S
Men's Dept. Main Floor
"Since 1919 The Best Place to Trade"

Stop for a tasty cup of Coffee.
C. & L. CAFE

Pamper yourself and enrich your appearance with a new shirt featuring fabrics that rival silk in lustre and softness—tailoring that's work of master craftsmen. See them today, in a vast selection of conservative whites, gay checks, solid hues, or blending stripes.

The Store of Famous Brands

Register-Farmer
MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE
MEN'S WEAR

Outstanding as a diplomat, scientist, philosopher, Ben Franklin saved throughout his lifetime, so that a sound financial reserve was ready for him when he needed it most—to back him up in his progress from journeyman printer to the greatest statesman of his young nation. Follow his example, accumulate a financial backlog through saving regularly. Put part of your regular income in a savings account at Blount National Bank, the friendly bank!

Member of F.I.D.C.

BLOUNT NATIONAL BANK

NO SECRET ABOUT Better Values!

FLAVOR - RICH
FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

FROZEN FOODS
CONVENIENT-TASTY-ECONOMICAL

Sun-Dried FRUITS

M. M. ELDER
CASH CARRY STORE

GAY NINETIES REVIEW

THE Highland Echo

WAS PLANNED FOR YOU

VOLUME 33 | MARYVILLE TENNESSEE JANUARY 31, 1948 | NUMBER 18

News Capsules—

BY DON WHELAN

Battle of the Ballot

The public was kept aware that 1948 is more than leap year as presidential hopefuls vied for the limelight. George Gallup's trot through the country has produced these interesting results: In three-way Demo-GOP-third party races, left-handed Hank Wallace would draw six to seven per cent of the vote. This caused fewer lifted eyebrows than did the Truman strength record. The Poll showed HST could beat Taft easiest, Dewey next, but would lose to Eisenhower if the election were held today. Since the poll was taken, however, the general has flatly rejected the Draft-Eisenhower movement and a bid has been made for the Democratic No. 1 spot by Alabama's towering Gov. James E. Folsom.

French Economy Just Sou-Sou

The franc, basis of the monetary system of France, was devalued last week. The plan was instituted, Premier Robert Schuman said, to increase French exports and production. This move, coupled with U. S. aid under the Marshall Plan, it is hoped, would start the fourth republic on the road to recovery. French banks will be closed and all 500-franc notes will be removed from circulation. The latter action would be similar to calling in all $20 bills in the United States.

Vote On U. S. Income, Outgo

A vote is expected in the House Monday on the budget. As wrangling stood last week, it seemed likely that the decisions of Republican committeemen would be agreed to when the tax-slashing Knutson bill comes up. The Ways and Means group had approved a lowering of federal income from taxes by more than six millions. Just how national debt reduction and Marshall's European Recovery Plan could be realized with tax cuts now remains to be seen.

In the Kremlin: Sudden Thawt

The East-West feud over European blocs continued. According to British authorities, their foreign policy will be looking toward greater unity with western European democracies. Moscow's Pravda, however, backflipped from their previous blessings of a Balkan-east Europe union. The Communist party journal had praised the idea for its ability to deal with the West as a body. Apparently the Kremlin thought twice: maybe this little-nation group could effectively back-talk Moscow too. Anxious to keep its freedom from Russatellite status, Czechoslovakia breathed a sigh.

Better Reception

"The 'Voice of America' has cleared its throat." In these words the Christian Science Monitor reported the congressional approval of a permanent program for telling the world "our side" of the news. The okeh came only after two years of a hand-to-mouth existence by the U. S.'s effort in the war of words. Agreement was unanimous this time; last week Harry Truman signed it.

DR. B. B. LAVENDER SPEAKS AT VESPERS

Dr. B. B. Lavender, president of Washington College, and former pastor of the Graystone Presbyterian Church in Knoxville will speak at Vespers tomorrow night at 7:00.

Dr. Lavender is the father of Lottie Lavender who graduated from Maryville College in the spring of 1947.

The Vesper Choir will sing God Goes Up On High by Gallus, and Oh Praise Ye God by Tschakowsky.

Next U.T. Concert Held February 2

Maryville students holding season tickets for the University of Tennessee Concerts will hear John Charles Thomas, Metropolitan baritone, in concert at the U-T Alumni Memorial auditorium Monday, February 2. His accompanist, Richmand Gale, will also present one group of piano solos. The program will begin at 8:15 p. m.

Jeanette MacDonald, cinema soprano, will be presented in a song recital at U-T, Wednesday, February 4. This is an "extra" concert not on the regular series.

The Philadelphia Orchestra with Eugene Ormandy conducting will appear in the Alumni Memorial auditorium on Tuesday, February 10, at 8:15 p. m.

Casts Announced For Two Plays

Casts for the two experimental theatre plays to be given on February 21 were recently announced by Miss Jessie Wild, assistant professor of drama and speech. The first play, "The Pipes of Dunbar," a drama of Mary Queen of Scots, will be directed by Max House. The cast will include Margy Newland as Mary Stuart, Tim Sykes as the Earl of Shrewsbury, Bill Starr as the Earl of Leicester, Wallace Moore as Lord Bothwell, and Bill McIlvaine as a guard.

The second play is a novelty to the tick of a metronome and will be directed by Marge Prall. The characters portrayed are the judge by Bob Holley, Jane by Carrol Kennette, Mason by Joe Poland, the policeman by Jimmy Dance, Steve by Charles Warner, the clerk by Bill Nish, the mother by Dot Holverson, and the detective by Ben Gearhart.

COLLEGE HOSPITAL TREATS THIRTEEN

Along with every thing else on campus, the College Hospital reopened with a bang this semester, having had 13 students to come and go since classes began.

Those laid up most recently are Florence Dillener, who had an infected foot; Dick Black, malaria; Natalie Hart, knee injury; Ruth Heaps and John Mullholland.

Among those who have visited the infirmary this year, are Jackie Morton, Ruth Hildebrand, Nancy Thompson, Lois Deobler, Glen Smith, Mae Merriwether, Ben Paxton, and Ann Harper.

FEBRUARY MEETINGS TO BEGIN WEDNESDAY

Dr. Lloyd Speaks To Pre-Meeting Assembly Sunday

Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd will be in charge of the pre-February meeting Sunday morning at the regular morning worship service of the New Providence Presbyterian Church. Dr. Lloyd's topic will be "Why February Meetings in 1948."

The Vesper Choir, under the direction of Mr. Harry H. Harter, will sing two anthems, "Alleluia" by Randall Thompson and "Nunc Dimittis" by A. Gretchaninoff.

European Recovery Plan Told At YWCA

Mr. Archibald F. Pieper, associate professor of political science, will discuss "Our Stake in European Recovery" at the Y.W.C.A. meeting tomorrow afternoon.

Mil Castrodale, senior philosophy major, will give the special music.

Three Students Describe Holiday Conference On Christian Frontiers

"Looking Forward" will be the theme of the Student Volunteer meeting held immediatley after Vespers Sunday night in Bartlett Hall. Anna Katherine Knapp, Dorothea Friedrick, and Dean Bowman will speak on their experiences during the Christmas holidays at the North American Conference on Christian Frontiers.

Dr. John R. Mott and Congressman Walter Judd, statesman and former missionary to China, were two of the leaders at the conference which was held on the campus of the University of Kansas. There were delegates from several countries.

Lt. Col. Cline, Ex '44, Killed December 28

Lt. Col. Richard A. Cline, ex '44, one of Miami's leading war heroes, was killed Sunday, December 28, 1947, in an airplane crash on Honshu, Japan. He had been stationed in Korea, as director of training at an air base there.

He enlisted in the Air Corps in January, 1942, while he was enrolled at Maryville. He was a Lt. Col. at the age of 24 and a veteran of 118 missions as a fighter pilot at the end of the war.

He received the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Silver Star, and the Air Medal with 19 clusters. He was also decorated by the French government with the Croix de Guerre with vermillion star in July, 1945.

Two other members of his family also attended Maryville: Everett Cline, Jr., ex-'40 and Louise Cline Hollister, '33.

DR. BARBOUR

Maryville Students Proved Musically Inclined By Test

The results of Tilson-Gretsch musical aptitude test have been tabulated with the following results: high score—98%; median —90%; and the score most often made was 90%, too, with thirteen of the 118 students taking the test making that score.

The Knoxville Music Center representatives who sponsored the test said that the students at Maryville College as a group made the highest scores of any other group tested.

The test consisted of four sections—one each on pitch, intensity, time, and tonal memory. The tonal memory section was the most difficult; no student got a perfect score in it.

DISC CLUB

The Disc Club had its first program of the semester on Thursday, January 29, with Bill Diehl as commentator on Beethoven's "Pathetique" Sonata.

The second program will be on Thursday, February 19, at 6:45, in Room 214, Thaw Hall. The Disc Club is also sponsoring dinner music every Thursday evening. Everyone's cooperation is requested in order to make these dinner programs more effective.

Stegall Elected Prexy Of Camera Club

Carroll Stegall was elected president of the Camera Club at a special meeting called last Thursday evening. William McIlvaine was elected vice-president, Margie Newland, secertary, and Jerry Collins, treasurer.

The club voted to finance an enlarger by setting up a rotating fund to which each member will contribute, his money being refunded upon his graduation.

Members met Saturday afternoon to do work to keep the light out that has been seeping through the darkroom. William McIlvaine was appointed to make a survey of the possible nights for the club's meetings so that they will not conflict with other club meetings on the campus.

MISS MEISELWITZ SPEAKS AT YMCA

Miss Meiselwitz will present a discussion upon the effects of malnutrition at the YMCA Sunday.

This discussion has previously been given at the Faculty Club in the form of a paper called "Human Starvation and Its Consequences." Miss Meiselwitz has also used this material in her home economics classes.

All GI Aviation Courses Cancelled For MC Students

No aviation course is being offered at Maryville College this year and none is in prospect, according to a statement made by Dean McClelland. The Veterans Administration has made no new announcement on flying within annual entitlement since turning the matter over to the American Council on Education for study and recommendation.

When the course was announced last fall, about fifty students were enrolled and training was to extend over both semesters of the current term with half of the students taking actual flying each semester. The Veterans Administration Headquarters in Washington cancelled this arrangement in November of last year, but allowed veterans already in training to complete their courses.

DR. CLIFFORD E. BARBOUR WILL ADDRESS STUDENTS

February Meetings will begin Wednesday, February 4, at 9:45 in the Alumni Gymnasium with Dr. Clifford Barbour, Ph.D., D.D., of Knoxville as the speaker. Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd will preside and Rev. Sidney E. Stringham, D.D., will direct the music. The meetings will be held in the gym at 9:45 each morning and each evening at 7:10 in New Providence Presbyterian Church, through February 12. Students and faculty mebers will give the prayers. A schedule for interviews will be posted and forums will be held if requested.

This is the 72nd series of meetings held on the campus. They constitute one of the most important events in the yearly life of the college. During the week of the meetings, all other events and athletic contests are suspended except for Saturday night.

Leader For Third Time

Dr. Barbour is leading the services for the third time, having been the speaker in 1938 and 1942. He is one of the most popular preachers that Knoxville has ever had and is in wide demand as a speaker. For almost twenty years he has served as pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church. Many University of Tennessee students are among those who attend his service each Sunday. Dr. Barbour was born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. He graduated from the University of Pittsburgh and Western Theological Seminary. After serving as assistant minister at the Shadyside Presbyterian Church and as pastor of the Herron Avenue Presbyterian Church in Pittsburgh, he went to Edinburgh, Scotland. There he attended the University of Edinburgh for two years and received his doctor of philosophy degree. At the same time he was pastor of Bonnington Parish. A former member of the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., he is now on the board of directors of Maryville College.

Mr. Stringham first led the singing twenty-seven years ago and has missed only one year during that time. He was formerly pastor of the First Methodist Church in Alcoa. His ministry has taken him to Chattanooga, Illinois, St. Louis, and at present to Jackson, Missouri.

Class periods will be shortened and chapel will be at 9:45 each morning during the week.

ART EXHIBITION INCLUDES WORK BY GEORGE C. MOYER

An exhibition of water color and tempera paintings by George C. Moyer, Art Director of Meyer Both Company, Advertising, Chicago, will be held in the Lamar Memorial Library, February 7-20.

Mr. Moyer has previously exhibited at the Meyer Both galleries, the Wilmette Women's Club, the Associated American Artists' Galleries in Chicago, the Marshall Field Galleries in Chicago, and the Barry Stephen Gallery in New York. In addition to a liberal education, the artist has travelled extensively and studied in both the fine and advertising arts. His work affords examples of realism, while at the same time it retains expressive and artistic qualities.

Box Supper Held Tonight

The "Gay Nineties Review", a program and box supper scheduled as the first social event of the semester, will be held in the Alumni Gym tonight. With Bob Holley as auctioneer and Charlie Huffman's Gay Ninety Band playing throughout the evening, the boys will be bidding pennies for the boxes of their favorite girls. The girls, who are to fill the boxes with sandwiches and cookies, are requested to have their boxes in the gym by 5:30 p. m.

The gym will be decorated to look like a small town park with a bandstand in the center. A musical program, including solos and quartets, will be an added attraction.

MR. HARTER ACCEPTS SUMMER POSITION

Mr. Harry H. Harter of the music department is accepting a summer position as Director of Entertainment at the Yosemite National Park in California. He will give two recitals in one of the resorts in the park and will arrange nightly programs in five other resorts. His work will also include arrangements for breakfast trips on horseback and moonlight barbecues.

ROVERS PLAN FEBRUARY HIKE

"Golden Fried Rabbit" will be the main item of fare on the planned Rover Scout outing soon to take place. At a date yet to be specified, but in the first part of February, the Maryville Rover Crew will hike into the woods to prepare a meal of rabbit, with barbecue sauce and potatoes, corn, salad, coffee and fruit filling out the menu.

Men interested in joining the Crew were invited to see Sam Broyles, and present members are urged to submit their entry forms and fees at once in order that a charter may be granted the unit.

GOSPEL FELLOWSHIP

Gospel Fellowship met last Tuesday at 7:00 p. m. in the Y rooms. Glenn Knecht was the speaker and special music on wood-wind instruments was rendered by Marian Swift and Beverly Mautzel. Special numbers were also given by a new male quartet consisting of Max Willocks, Dick Ribble, John Mullholland, and William Wellington.

The speaker for next week's meeting will be Max Willocks. The quartet will again perform and other special music is planned.

NOTHING IS NEW

FEBRUARY MEETINGS ARE OLD TRADITION; INFLUENCE CONTINUES NEW AND STRONG

BY MARY LYERLY

The 72nd season of February Meetings is fast approaching for Maryville, and we wonder just how many of the students realize just how much the February Meetings have meant to Maryville, and how much of its background and traditions are bound together with these meetings.

Although it may seem so to many, Maryville has not always had these meetings. For many years, Dr. Anderson, as pastor of New Providence Presbyterian Church, held a series of sermons each year in which the college participated. These services continued until the Civil War, and for 10 years after the war, Maryville continued to share the meetings. Soon, however, the enrollment grew to such proportions that there was a pressing need for its own services.

In answer to this need, Rev. D. D. Bachman conducted the first February Meetings in 1877 on second floor of Anderson.

All the meetings following this one have been held along the same order, in an effort to implant humble piety and reverent religion in the hearts and lives of young people.

Maryville's object has been realized many times in the past years, as earnest young people have dedicated their hearts and lives to the service of the Master.

As an example of the type of influence wielded by these meetings can be found in the story of one young man known throughout the college for his carelessness and wasting of time. This young man, after attending the meetings, returned to his professor with these words, "Now, Professor, I am ready to go to work." Years later, this man returned to Maryville to lead one of the most inspirational of the series of meetings.

First Time Without Chapel

This year is the first time since 1906 that the inspirational meetings will not be held in Voorhees Chapel. One other tradition however, is not to be broken. The Rev. Sidney E. Stringham, pastor of New McKendree Methodist Church in Jackson, Missouri, is to direct the singing for the 26th time in 27 years.

FEBRUARY MEETINGS SCHEDULE

a period— 8:00- 8:45
b period— 8:50- 9:35
Chapel — 9:45-10:40
c period—10:45-11:30
d period—11:35-12:20
Lunch —12:30

PITY THEM

FUTURE TEACHERS WORK HARD WHILE LEARNING, BUT LIKE IT

BY ELENOR KRAMER

When we hear of a person who is preparing to be a doctor, otherwise known on the campus as a pre-med student, it is natural that we think of the long hours of lab work he has to put in each semester. But how many ever think of the hours of preparation of a future teacher?

In addition to the required education course, there is practice teaching which takes much of the time of a senior or in a few cases a junior educational major. A semester of this type of work is required by the State of Tennessee before a teacher can receive his certificate to teach. In some states two semesters or more are required; therefore, some students at Maryville College take a second semester.

Special Arrangements

Special arrangements have been made between Maryville College and the public schools whereby student can observe and then do a few weeks of actual teaching. The elementary education majors have conferences with their supervisor, Mrs. D. S. Kramer, and then go to either Fort Craig or West Side for their practice teaching. Dr. Lincoln Barker confers with the secondary majors; they do their work at Maryville High School. There are times when Mrs. Kramer and Dr. Bark-

(Continued on page four)

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

Volume 32 Number 18

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

EDITORIAL STAFF

Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Ruth Ramsey, Ilda Mosby, Mariagrazia Merlanti, Dick Sprague, Carroll Stegall

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb, Ruth Davis

FRESHMEN APPRENTICES
Jean Hunt, Mary Lyerly, Hazel Holm, Elenor Kramer, Donald Whelan

SPORTS STAFF

Kenneth Olsen ..... Editor
Herbert McCallum ..... Sophomore Reporter
Maynard Noble ..... Freshman Apprentice

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF

Business Manager ..... Ruth Williams

SENIOR ASSISTANTS
Mary Jane Long, Florence Housch

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Margaret Weaver

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANTS
Bob Watkins, Joe Claude, Janet Blackmore

FRESHMEN ASSISTANTS
Barbara Altfather, Anita Withers

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, JANUARY 31, 1948

VOTE AS YOU THINK!

The vote was "yes", but the outcome isn't what makes the difference. If it had been "no" the same element of bad voting would have probably been present. We are specificly speaking of the last Pearsons house meeting, but generally speaking of all meetings where a vote is taken.

In this particular case the question was whether there should or should not be compulsory attendance to the house meetings. The WSGA president was in favor of it, as were all those who discussed the subject. Several were against and had the right to say so. No one did.

The decision was made by a show of hands, those for the motion voting first. The majority of hands went up. Many did not. BUT—when the president asked for a vote of those against the motion only four or five hands were raised. SOME PEOPLE DID NOT VOTE ONE WAY OR ANOTHER.

Why people fail to vote is a debatable question. Why people fail to vote what they think is still more debatable. We don't intend to be insinuating that in this particular case the decision would not have remained the same, but we would say that had it been a vote by ballot it would have been a very close election. The point we're trying to make is that too many people either vote the way it seems that most people are voting or else they do not vote at all. The latter group, to clear their consciences do not not for it because they are against it, and they do not vote against it because it appears that the majority of the people are for it.

We recall a Knoxville election of a few years ago where the leading city official was elected only because the majority of qualified voters did not bother to vote. Student government is a wonderful thing, but only when it is governed by the students. Compulsory attendance may be the best way to get people there to vote, we don't know. The next step is to get them to vote, not only in WSGA, but in every student decision made on this campus.

COUNCIL PLANS BOLD AGENDA
Revision of Constitution

Meeting last Wednesday night the Student Council launched a resolution embodying what are probably the most ambitious, unprecedented objectives in its history. This list of goals is the product of the intensive work of the Steering Committee whose chairman, Scott McClure, is assisted by George Gress, E. J. Cotton, and Carl Murray.

Foremost among these aims is the revision of the Constitution, calculated to make it more effective, and to bolster the strength of the Council. One of the changes will revamp the system of representation to the Council. It will add a social chairman who will be a coordinator of all social functions, and unite such committees as Pep and Rec Hall under his leadership. In addition, the editor of the Echo, a representative from the men, a representative from the W.S.G.A., and the class representatives will sit in Council.

Further proposed changes include: the revision of the elections committee; the holding of elections in April instead of May; the pooling of all funds and the drawing up of a budget by the finance committee; the revision of Senate to give it legislative powers; and a restatement of the functions of Council.

The second objective in the agenda is an attempt to fill the principal gap in student representation.—that of the men. It is proposed that a group of representatives be elected by the men, one of whom will act as their representative in Council. This will parallel the Women's Student Government Association, but will not duplicate it.

The third objective will be the achievement of some form of hospitalization through a group payment plan.

The fourth objective is affiliation with the National Students Association. If it proves feasible

The fifth objective is a "student's day" in which students will take over all the functions of the faculty and administration.

The sixth objective is the empowering of the Student Council as a judicial and legislative body of indispensable service to the student body. This would extend the power of Council beyond that of inflicting town night penalties.

Having settled on these six goals for the semester, the Council turned its attention to the formation of a Publicity Committee. Roger Cowan a non-council member, was appointed chairman, with four class representatives on his committee and the power to enlist any talent he desires. He will function as a liason between Council and the Students, popularizing its activities, clarifying its purposes, and keeping the students aware of its work.

—C.I.

Much Echo About Nothing

BY CRAIG FISHER

Dear Sliddikins,

Once again Thursday night is upon us, overwhelming us, crumbling down on our heads. We can't seem to beat it off. It's like one of those nightmares you sometimes have where you can't get away, and you wake up with a fuming roommate on the floor. But the world's work must be done! So let's take a glance at our first note card.

BERNIE WELCH (it reads), philetelist extraordinary, is one of those fulminating fiends who froths at the mouth and goes into convulsions at the mere mention of a stamp he doesn't have. He has agents in the library and Anderson, and treads a regular beat from missionary kid to Carnegie basement. He will dance, whistle, and play Dixie on the sousaphone for any one who will donate an addition to his collection.

RESEMBLANCE? The snowman built in front of Fayerweather and dedicated to Dr. Griffitts provoked many solemn disputes as to whether or not it favored him. Concensus of opinion: (I hope the suspense kills you.)

Webster, our alternately beloved and behated mailman, did a double gainer off the Bartlett steps last week, and hobbled away gingerly nursing his bruised pride while muttering gentle remarks about Tennessee weather.

SCANDAL? Bob Bruce, president of the I.R.C., didn't return, Margie Prall, resigned. The only officer left was Stegall. Could it be that his part in cornering the three-holed-paper market went undiscovered? But the Publicans are a persistant set, and are probably straining the muck.

So distrubed she couldn't stand it any longer, one of the feminine things asked the Smith twins how they decided on what they were going to wear each day, telepathy? Simple, says the blond haired one with the blue eyes, the first one out of bed closes his eyes and reaches.

PRE-MATRIMONIALS: Newly inducted into the P.M. club (which some wit described as the afternoon of single blessedness), are: Muriel Headrick and Glenn Smith; Becky Walton and Julian Gresham; Burnell Crowder and Allie Clayton; Mary Lou Laurel and Colvin Hammock; Gene Carden and Mary Lorraine Daniel (of L.M.U.). Shouted a voice across the dining hall after one of the couples had been serenaded: "You'll be sorry!"

LOST—one constitution. Last seen in 1927. If found, please return to Bill Nish, president of the Athenians, which club wishes to hang it out for an airing.,

ENGLISH 206: Jonathan Swift's Modest Plan proposing that children of poor people should be served up for beafsteak was a field day for humorists. Miss Newberry tipped the bucket with the observation that this was an example of Swift's most biting satire. Pancoast suggested that the skin, tanned, be used for kid gloves. And Yambert said he could see why Ireland was so poor if the capitol had been in Dublin so long.

Fogarty (in English 101) wondered aloud if short stories could be classified as "friction."

Two aspiring young intelelctuals were in hot dispute the other day in English class over the comparative merits of Milton and Swift. Mrs. Newberry's head was rotating from one side to the other like she was at a tennis match, when from the rear of the room came a voice suave with confidence: "Let them talk, Mrs. Newberry, you and I know Zane Gray has it all over both dem guys."

DECLARATION: Let is be herewith and what for and forever more be known that the second floor boys have a big new mirror. No more do they slink around like they'd forgotten to report to their parole board, nor do they have to stand in line to shave, and attendance at their prayer meetings has increased so greatly that they are thinking of holding it in the Federal Gym.

Ilda Mosby, frothing at the mouth, sputtered to her frightened neighbors that she had grabbed her Prell instead of her toothpaste. Our suggestion is that Prell, so applied, should only be used to shampoo hairlips.

NOTES ON THE SNOW: A pallid attempt to keep up with the North. . ."Preacher" Russ keeping the crutch industry in business. . . .Nickey in the hospital with a bunged-up knee. . . . . Noble Pribble tacks sled together in twenty minutes. . . Sally Kemp and other Floridians take first sled rides. . . . score 3 windows. . . . Stegall flat on his back a moment after he says to Dr. Briggs, "Don't fall on the ice," and Dr. Briggs whooping in merry glee. . . . Miss Harwood chipping the ice off the Baldwin-Pearsons walk with a hammer. . . .Coach Johnson and his skiis. . . . sleet, ice, snow and teachers conspiring against us—glug—quick—gasp—another vitamin pill! And a new type of feuding has developed out of the mess: cold germs at twelve paces, sneezes alternate, the first one to collapse with the virus corroding his mucous membrane the loser.

Do I sound schizophrenic in this column? I feel schizophrenic in this column. with this allow us to bow
out

TALK OF THE WEEK BY DONALD REEVES

M. C. GIRLS HAVE SUFFERED THROUGH BI-WEEKLY LECTURES

(Editor's Note: This is a reprint of one of Miss Molly's Bi-Weekly Lectures taken from the Chilhowean of 1906. Miss Molly was matron of Baldwin Hall, and this is supposed to be typical of the talks to her girls.)

The little bell in the dining room is always responsible for them. It rings out clear, imperious, and the manager's deep voice announces, "All the young ladies are called to the back parlor at six-thirty." A moment's painful silence follows; then sympathetic glances are passed across the table, for some of the girls turn pale; only an incorrigible or two shrugs and says, "You'll not see me there."

When the echoes of the study-bell are dying away, one hundred-twenty eager faces are ranged around the central figure between the portals of the parlors. One hundred-twenty did I say? No, no, there might be one or two who, fearing the kind censure or tearful advice of the matron, had crept guiltily up the back stairway to their rooms.

Now, girls," it begins, "I don't want to take much of your time to-night but there are a few things I want to speak about. In the first place girls, I want to thank you for the way in which you have conducted yourselves. It is remarkable that there has been so little trouble among you. You violated the rules very little, and for the most part you have conscientiously tried to do what you have thought was right. But there are just one or two things that I must speak about.

"Now, we do not want to make these rules; it is not for our pleasure but only for your good, and some day you can see it so. I tell you, girls, it is when the experiences of life comes to you, when you have seen life as I have seen it, that you realize the importance of building a good, solid character. So these rules must be enforced.

(Reads) 'Let nothing be thrown out of the windows.' You can see the importance of this; I do not a need to dwell upon it. No lady would be guilty of disfiguring our beautiful campus; it is only thoughlessness, girls, I know, but still I must speak of this. Suppose for instance, every girl in Baldwin does, as I am sorry to say, a few have done — sharpen their pencils out of the window; in a few days the air of immaculate neatness about the buildings would be changed. So, girls, let me insist that the first rule be kept.

"(Reads again) 'No girls shall be seen moonshining on the campus, on the stile, on the steps of the library, below the brow of the hill, at the foot of the campus, under the persimmon tree, in the laboratories, on the walk, to Professor Gilman's back of Science Hall, in the new chapel, or any other place with the coeds, except with written permission from parent or guardian. Remember, girls, you have only your own actions to count here. You are making a reputation, and you must determine what that reputation shall be. Can you afford, girls, to have your fair names sullied? Think of the father and mother back home, think of the care you have had from them all these years from your childhood up (tears); and, oh, I beg of you, do not add one grey hair to those heads, (more tears). Let not this, the second rule be violated.

"And right here, girls, I must speak of something which pained me deeply. To think that any girl should so far forget her woman hood! Oh, what would your good name be worth if it should get out? What if people in town should know of this, and if it should be known abroad? Would mothers send their daughters to Maryville College if this digression should be known? Oh, girls, you would be surprised beyond expression of words if you knew what room it was and what girls they were, for, girls, (the air is thick and of a lurid hue, and breathing is almost suspended) girls, strings have gone down from wiindows and things have been pulled up! The occupants of No.—cringe with bitter remorse, tears course down their flushed cheeks, and they cover their guilty faces with trembling handkerchiefs, and a sob that is almost a hysterical laugh bursts from one sitting just before the speaker—a smile? Oh, no, a groan!

Unmindful of the weeping penitents, the matron continues, "But, that is not all, girls, a professor was passing Baldwin at half-past eleven last night and he heard windows thrown up, and plainly discerned two of our young ladies sticking their heads out of the window and crow,

(Continued on page four)

ECHOES OF THE PAST

1877—The first college Y.M.C.A. in America was organized at Maryville College by a student, Samel T. Wilson, later to become president of Maryville. It lead directly to the organization of similar organizations in colleges throughout the country.

1915—The $10,000 swimming pool was dedicated. The football team first became known as Highlanders. Maryville finished a once tied, unscored-upon football season by humiliating Carson-Newman 99-0, thus intensifying a rivalry which has yet to cool.

1916—The Equal Sufferage Club was one of the more popular women's organizations on the campus.
College farm established.
'Joke' in 1916 Echo: Dave Briggs (hestitatingly)— "Er—Marie, do you have a date for the mountain trip?"
Marie—"Why, I'm sorry, Dave, but I have."
Dave—"Er-s-so have I." (I submit to you, Lorrie, has our humor improved?)

1917—Advertisement for Seaton's Barber Shop: "We give the VARSITY FIVE haircut."
Voluntary military training begun with establishment of company A.

1934—Girls and boys first sat mixed in chapel.

1922—Professor E. R. Hunter was toastmaster of the Junior-Senior banquet.

1921—Coach L. S. Honaker was welcomed to Maryville College as a member of the faculty.

1920—Bainonians had a debate which was "Resolved: That Mother Nature should have placed the Rocky Mountains on the eastern side of the United States rather than on the western."

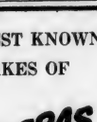
1919—Seond century of Maryville College opened with an enrollment of 815.

1918—The Faculty Reception was held on Baldwin's Lawn.

CHILLIES, HOWIES VIE IN CAGE SPORT

Point system and freshmen physical education girls are practicing basketball.

Chillie and Howee basketball teams will probably be chosen some time next week, and the first game is scheduled to be played in about two weeks. No date has been set for the choosing of freshmen teams.



ALPHA SIGMA

Alpha Sigma will meet tonight at 6:15 in the "Y" rooms. A short program is planned and the final discussions of the new Alpha Sigma Constitution will be on the agenda.

LYNCH BAKERY

BEST KNOWN MAKES OF CAMERAS

PHOTOGRAPHY SUPPLIES
FILM SERVICES — REPAIRS

Choose your favorite make and model from our comprehensive selection of fine cameras. Prices start with the bargain low of $2.75!

BYRNE DRUG

Cut corners on Your Budget

It's Dress Up Time for You and your room. . . . in our sewing department!

We've distinctive spring colors and prints—

Rayons, Cotton, Woolens, Chintz, and various new Fabrics.

Make it yourself—that new look is for You.

See Our Good Selection Now

McARTHUR'S

First Floor

HERB'S—
Half-acre

Echo Sports

JANUARY 31, 1948 Page Three

"WAY TO GO, Wrestlers!"
Scots on Basketball Tour
As Grapplers Stay Home

SCOTS, GA. TECH DRAW, 17-17

●GIVE US MORE! That's all that we'd like to say about last night's wrestling match. The wrestling season for the home fans began with a fast, close and exciting match—a heat in every bout and not a stale second in the whole match!

NOTES TO YOU: Callaway's first fall in two seasons was made by the southeastern champion in the 155 class. . . . "Tubby" was in his third bout in this class, and evidently is finding it tougher going than the 145 class which he went undefeated in last year.

Probably the fastest and most evenly-matched bout of the night was the Cameron-Giesler go. Like two jack-in-the-boxes they jumped each time the referee slapped the mat, and both were stubborn to move when the other fellow had the jump.

Other significant bouts were Merriman's late pin on Basler when Hersh turned him around like a cartwheel and pinned him to the mat. Palmer's draw with Rhodes was a draw from the start, for both worked hard, but were unable to overcome the other in strategy or strength.

Time advantage, under the new rules, played a key role in deciding the match. Cameron won his decision from Griesler on time advantage and the Black-James bout would have been far different had James stayed on top just a f-e-w seconds longer.

●WRESTLING CHATTER: Casualities have been frequent among the Maryville wrestlers this season. This week, Ken Ross, captain of the 1948 squad, was worrying about a knee that is about to give down on him.

A "cauliflower" ear was hung on Frank Ladner in the Baylor match at Chattanooga last December, and Frank has retired from wrestling.

Pre-season practice resulted in the loss of two teeth by Mat Cardella, veteran of two years' wrestling here at Maryville. Cardella has retired from the mat. Cardella's withdrawal makes the fifth of last year's nine lettermen who did not continue this year.

Wrestling wears you down so fast, we hear, that a man is considered "old" in the sport by his twenty-fifth birthday.

●IN OUR LATEST CHECK-UP of scoring statistics of the basketball squad, we found that Ray Lillard is shouting along with a 10 point-per-game average. Bob Boring is next with an average of 8.8 points-per-game.

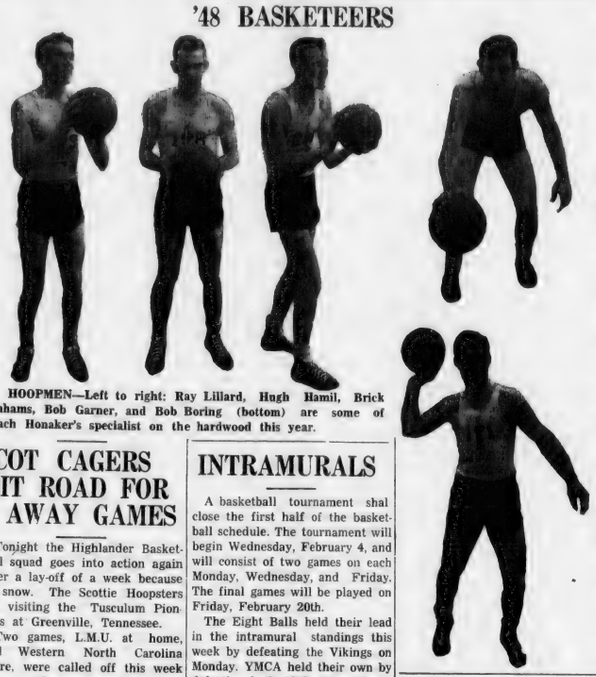
In the free-throw accuracy, Hugh Hamil has made 12 out of 17 attempts to set a .706 percentage in ten games. Boring is in second place with a .593 percentage in making good 16 of 25 tries. Bob Garner trails the entire team in free throw percentages in missing 15 out of 22 attempts to fall to a .319 percentage at the end of ten games. Ray Lillard has had the greatest number of free-throw opportunities. Out of 35 attempts, Lillard has made 18 perfect throws to hold a .514 percentage.

USING THE LAST four home games as a basis, we figured the percentage of field shots hit and missed. According to our figures, Bob Garner leads in field shot accuracy with a .393 percentage for 11 good shots in 28 attempts. The next four in order are: Hugh Hamil hit 12 out of 36 attempts and has a .333 percentage. Boring's .326 percentage gives him third place with a 15 out of 46 count.

Ray Lillard, pom-pom shooter of the squad, has 60 attempts in these four games of which he made 18 to establish an even .300 percentage. Gene Reynolds is fifth man in field shot accuracy, holding a .293 percentage with an 8 out of 27 record. The varsity line-up has a .200 or better percentage for the four games except Leon Berrong, who made one goal out of six tries and got a .166 percentage.

The Scottie cage artists, however, will be out to build up their prestige after suffering two defeats in in a row. Averaging 50.5 points per game, the Highlander squad has turned back 6 out of 10 opponents. The opponents' average stands at 44.9 points a game.

●THANKS TO THE HELP of Ted Pratt of the Alumni and Public Relations office, we of the ECHO sports staff were successful in putting our "Rasslin' Ritual" in the hands of spectators for last night's match with Georgia Tech. The sheet, edited by sports editor Ken Olsen and mimeographed by the college printing office, was designed to clarify rules and create interest in wrestling for the spectators.



The P-A system, with timer Bud Engel presiding efficiently at the mike, was a big help last night in keeping the fans up on the scoring, and also in checking with the referee from the scoring table. Earl Martin, Sherwood Coul, and Ken Olsen are the boys to be thanked for this improvement.

●TWO IMPORTANT CHANGES appear for the first time this season in collegiate wrestling. Time advantage, formerly credited to the man in the advantage position from the start of the 2nd and 3rd periods, is now not counted until there is a change of position in the last two periods.

When a bout is a draw the new rule states that each tea mbe given two points. Formerly, a draw bout meant an overtime of two two-minute periods. The change in the rules made the tie score last night more certain, since two bouts came to a draw.

The 185 pound class, which was expected to be an addition to the regular mat feature starting the first of this year, has not been adopted. Every class beyond 175 pounds is heavyweight.

'48 BASKETEERS

HOOPMEN—Left to right: Ray Lillard, Hugh Hamil, Brick Brahams, Bob Garner, and Bob Boring (bottom) are some of Coach Honaker's specialist on the hardwood this year.

SCOT CAGERS HIT ROAD FOR 3 AWAY GAMES

Tonight the Highlander Basketball squad goes into action again after a lay-off of a week because of snow. The Scottie Hoopsters are visiting the Tusculum Pioneers at Greenville, Tennessee.

Two games, L.M.U. at home, and Western North Carolina there, were called off this week because of traveling difficulties caused by the snow.

Two Road Games Next Week

On Monday of next week, the Scots are scheduled to travel to Emory, Virginia for a return game with the Emory and Henry Wasps—victors over the Honakermen by a 53-48 score last Friday. The following night, weather permitting, the Highlanders call on the Buccaneers of East Tennessee State at Johnson City, Tennessee. The State boys suffered a 43-36 defeat at their appearance in Alumni Gym on January 20.

Scots' Record Slipping

Having taken a turn for the worse by losing two games in a row by a margin of five points each, the Highlanders' win-lose record is sinking. With 6 won, 4 lost, the Scotties will be aiming for a kill on the Pioneers tonight. However, the killing might not be as easy as the Scots should like, for the Pioneer Five last year smote the Maryville Quint with a disheartening 40-37 win in the last game of the season in 1947.

Tusculum Here Next Saturday

The next home game for the Maryville fans will be next Saturday, February 7, with the Pioneers on hand to repay tonight's visit by the Scot basket ball squad.

INTRAMURALS

A basketball tournament shal close the first half of the basketball schedule. The tournament will begin Wednesday, February 4, and will consist of two games on each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. The final games will be played on Friday, February 20th.

The Eight Balls held their lead in the intramural standings this week by defeating the Vikings on Monday. YMCA held their own by defeating both Alpha Sig and Ex-Scrubbs. The Vikings after dropping their game on Monday came back to defeat the Alpha Sig team.

STANDINGS

	W	L	Pct
Eight Balls	12	1	.923
Dingoes	10	3	.833
Rebels	9	3	.750
Vikings	9	3	.750
Wholly Rabbies	8	3	.727
Tenn Penns	6	5	.545
Ex-Scrubbs	6	7	.461
YMCA	5	6	.454
P.B.'s	5	7	.416
Crescents	4	8	.333
Creamers	4	9	.308
Fireballs	3	8	.272
Alpha Sigma	1	10	.091
Sigma Omega	0	11	.000

VOLLEYBALL

YMCA hel dtheir lead through out the week by defeats over the Rockets and Scorpions. The Choir and the Faculty are tied for second place. During the coming week we should see some changes in the standings. With a win when the Choir meets the YMC A, they will be in a tie for first place but a loss will allow the Faculty to take undisputed second place. This week will see the close of the second section of their schedule. It will be a close finish either way.

Wrestlers To Enter Tourney March 5-6

Chattanooga Sponsoring Southeastern Tourney

Wrestling mentor "J. D." Davis announced this week that Maryville College would send a team to compete in the Southeastern Inter-collegiate Wrestling Tournament to be held in Chattanooga March 5-6.

Eight Teams To Compete

The University of Chattanooga is sponsoring the tournament, which is under the direction of Ken Carpenter, the Moccasins' wrestling coach. Eight schools, including Vanderbilt University, Auburn, Georgia Tech, University of Georgia, Appalachian State, and Western North Carolina are expected to send mat teams to the tourney.

Two Ways to Place

The wrestling tournament will give recognition to both individual and team championships. Competitive elimination will decide the champion in each weight class and the team holding the greatest number of team points will be champion of the tournament.

The tournament at Chattanooga is the first of its kind in this section.

FOUR PINS, TWO DRAWS MARK CLOSE MAT CLASH IN WRESTLING OPENER HERE

Draw—Maryville 17, Georgia Tech 17.

There were two draws, two pins, and one decision in bouts for each team in the neck and neck race that opened a two-day tour for Tech and a four match home run for M. C.

After whipping into the lead twice, the Highlanders slipped back to a draw when Paul Yambert fell into the strong pin hold of Matthews, Tech's heavyweight, in the third period of the last bout. Although never actually behind in score, the Scots failed to come through to victory in the crucial moment.

First Bout A Draw

A forewarning of the events to come was the first bout between Earl Black and James, Tech, in the 121 class. Leading in the first two periods, Black dropped back in the third when James won an escape and a take down. Final total for the bout was 6-6.

Cameron Decisions Geisler

J. A. Cameron, freshman M. C. 128 pounder, won a decision from Geisler, 6-4. Time advantage decided the bout for Cameron. The points totaled 4-4 at the end of the match, but J. A. had more than two minutes time advantage over Geisler.

Ross Pins Shearer

Scot Captain Ken Ross pinned his man, Shearer, in 1 minute 49 seconds of the first period. Ross brought down his man early in the first period and finally worked him into a pin hold. This put Maryville way out in front, 10-2.

Oglesby Decisions Major, 7-5

The tables turned for the Scots when Lawrence Major, M. C. 145 class, was decisioned by Oglesby. Oglesby made two reverses, one takedown, and one point time advantage to out-score Major's three escapes and one reverse.

Callaway Pinned in 1:09

Tubby Callaway, M. C. 155 class, was pinned for the first time in his career of two years of collegiate wrestling by Batten, captain of the Tech team and Southeastern Champion in his class. Batten pinned him in 1 minute 9 seconds of the first period, tying up the team score, 10-10.

Merriman Pins Basler

Hersh Merriman, with his usual bloody nose, finally wound up his bout with Tech's 165 pound Basler in the last period, pinning him 40 seconds after the third period began. Hersh is a returning letterman; Basler did some grappling in '45.

Palmer and Rhodes Tie, 5-5

Herb Palmer, stocky M. C. 175 class grappler, and Rhodes battled to one of the closest draws of the match. Palmer and Rhodes scored identically, two reverses and one escape each with no time advantage. Both men are college freshmen with prep school wrestling background.

Matthews Pins Yambert

Paul Yambert met defeat for the second time this season, this time at the hands of Tech heavyweight Matthews. Matthews, with one year of collegiate wrestling background, pinned Yambert in 1 minute 54 seconds of the third period, tieing the final score, 17-17.

SUMMARY:

121 class—A draw between James (GT) and Black (M), 6-6

128 class—Cameron (M) won by decision over Geisler (GT), 6-4.

136 class—Ross (M) pinned Shearer (GT) in 1:49 of first period

145 class—Oglesby (GT) won by decision over Major (M), 7-5

155 class—Batten (GT) pinned Callaway (M) in 1:09 of first period

165 class—Merriman (M) pinned Basler (GT) in 0:40 of third period

175 class—a draw between Rhodes (GT) and Palmer (M), 5-5

Heavyweight—Matthews (GT) pinned Yambert (M) in 1:54 of third period

Exhibition—Briggs (M) won by fall over Coleman (GT). First fall in 2:20 of second period, and second fall in 0:59 of third period.

Referee—Julius Nicely; Timer—Bud Engel

CAPITOL THEATRE
Monday-Tuesday,
February 2-3
Joan Crawford, Van Heflin in
"Possessed"
with Raymond Massey and Geraldine Brooks
Also, Selected Comedies and Latest News

Wednes., Thurs., Friday,
February 4-5-6
3—Big Days—3
At popular prices
Admission 25c and 50c—
Tax Included
"Gone With The Wind"
in Technicolor starring
Clark Gable, Leslie Howard, Olivia DeHavilland, Vivien Leigh

Have Your 1948
PHOTO
Made Now!
THE WEBB STUDIO

Date Night!
To make a hit with the New Gal you just met in School . . . . be sure that you have a Clean White Shirt for date nights.
9 Pounds Clothes Washed, Rinsed, Damp Dried, Soap, Bleach, and Water 35c
SPECIAL
9 Pounds Washed and Dried 50c
SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY
Phone 1055

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.
30-Minute Service
between
Maryville and Knoxville

GOOD FOOD

and Plenty
of It.
Take your date to CATE'S on "town nite"—for a bite to eat
CATE CAFE

Vesper Choir Declaimed Unique; Member Gives Story of Group

by Carroll Stegall

Unique among the many organizations on the Hill is the Vesper Choir, in which many individuals act as a unit.

The choir is one of the most heavily disciplined and hard-working groups on the Hill, with the exception of athletic units. If the required choir attendances were totaled, it would amount to the equal of a six-hour course. Vespers, Messiah, February meetings, several concerts a semester, and other functions are required. Yet, try-outs are always attended by anxious hopefuls and the members "wouldn't take anything" for being in the choir.

Choir is Fun

Further than the obvious fact that people who like to sing love a chance to sing, being in the choir is a lot of fun. Despite the fact that to sing effectively, a choir must submerge the personalities of the individuals within it, the members of the Vesper Choir remain an assembly of "wild characters." Humor and laughter reign whenever the group assembles — a situation which the director must more or less patiently endure. With the sounding of a pitch note everyone gets down to business. (The end is likely then to be followed by groans, sighs of pain, or other indications of distress. Being an a capella, the choir has been known to slip in pitch.)

Before Performances

There is something continually going on to liven things up, particularly just before a performance. When lining up for processional, almost anything can happen. Tom Wheeler, tenor, rears and prances like a horse at the post. Sam Broyles, tenor, in his robe looks like a priest—his head is adorned for the part—and may be seen devoutly crossing himself, muttering cheerful "aves", and the like. Upon one occasion, when the processional strains were in three-quarter time, Betty Hall, Barbara Blair and Footsie Housch passed the waiting time by doing a stately minuet with one another. Scott McClure arrived late one evening, and as he fell into his place, realized that he had no hymn book. Making a desperate lunge at the book stacks as he passed, he snatched the first volume at hand, and processed singing "Onward Christian Soldiers" out of the Reader's Digest, 1944. This was the same night that Chet Phillips nearly ruined the final Sevenfold Amen by stumbling over an empty trash-can concealed at his feet in the darkness. The clangor echoed through the library just as Dr. Orr was pronouncing the benediction. One night even a small black kitten somehow joined the processional and followed the choir in. (After Vespers, it went to Student Volunteers.)

In rehearsal, Charles Huffman is likely to throw the choir into spasms when he gives the pitch. He draws back his lips like a growling dog, projects his jaw, closes his eyes, and with an expression of pain utters a quavering note designed to pass as the soprano tone. Huffman, by the way, wrote the response, "Hear Our Prayer." He also wrote an anthem which has been called, for lack of better name, the Awful Slow Salvation. Feeling the need for directions emphasizing the fact that one section was slow-moving, Huffman noted, with admirable clarity, "Awful slow." Choir members will long remember one performance of Alleluia. This, as many people have noted, is a number in which the word "alleluia" is repeated at some length—13 pages, to be exact. In one section, the tenors were heard to be enthusiastically chanting, in perfect pitch and tempo, "Howie, howie, Chilhowee!"

Choir Tour Ahead

The choir is now looking forwar to the choir tour, which will begin April 20th and take the members into Atlanta, Chattanooga, Birmingham and Montgomery. Getting the present group into condition has not been easy for members or directors who have had to learn a new repertoire and assimulate new members. Old members and new "there's nothing like being in the choir."

SPANISH CLUB

At the business meeting of the Spanish club Thursday night Mae Bell DeNagy was elected secretary. The following new members were taken into the club: Louise Masters, Virginia Prater, Jimmy Dance, Dot Downey, Elmer Mize, Ruth Nicholas, Joan McKinnon. The meeting ended with a spelling contest led by Betty Emory.

Two Pieces Criticized At Writer's Workshop

At Writer's Workshop, Wednesday, Nan Wooten read two pieces of free verse, "Threshold" and "A Sermon", which were critized by Anna Sakaziawa.

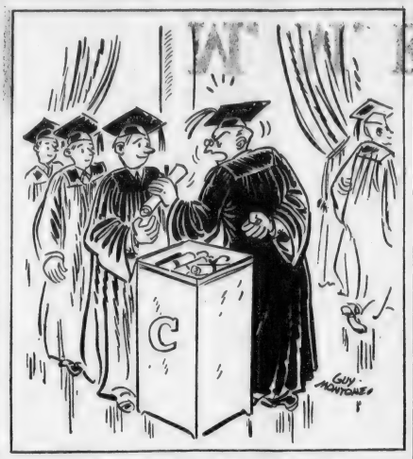
Tom Wheeler led the criticism of Marion Pope's character sketch of an old darky entitled "Mister Putt".

DO YOU KNOW?—

The first college farm of over 200 acres was purchased for $2,500 in 1826.

The first 2 dormitories built at Maryville, Memorial and Baldwin, were completed in 1871 at a total cost of approximately $25,000.00.

M.C. GIRLS HAVE SUFFERED



(Continued from page two)

CROW, crow! What is the reputation of you girls worth if this should be known? It may have been done only in fun—I hope it was—but there were boys beneath the cedar and what if they had answered?" The tension and horrow is too great; one awful sob breaks from the one hundred-twenty all at once, except two. They looked as if they could testify that not only was it "only in fun" but it was rare fun—fun that was equaled only in the joy of pulling up roasted rabbits, buns, boxes of Kern's, year, persimmons and chocolate cakes, on the heinous, the dishonorably mentioned string.

After handkerchiefs and promises to seek out and quell such immoral sentiments have been freely in evidence, a trembling voice of the speaker brightens up for a new appeal. "Now, girls, I see that you are in sympathy just a word will be sufficient in regard to an evil which has stealthily crept in our midst, the habit of borrowing a collar or a waist is common and below the standards for you girls. So, from this time any girl seen wearing any other girl's garment will be given demerits. No questions will be asked. If there is any place where a girl shows her rearing, it is at the table. No lady would permit, in her presence, loud laughter at the table, the throwing of the bread, or such rudeness as has been suspected in our dining room; and no lady —she may be hungry, but simple physical ills must be disregarded and only the character cultivated —no lady would carry so much as a crumb from the dining room. To any girl seen taking anything from the dining room, either in hand or otherwise, will be given demerits. A few days ago I saw a sight that, if your mothers could witness, would make them blush for shame. As he was leaving the table, one of the boys—I can not call him a young gentlemen—actually pulled a girls hair!

"Need I impress upon you the virtue of neatness—neatness in dress and neatness in the condition of your rooms? Last night, while the girls were at the concert, I had occasion to step into a certain room—I will mention no names—and, girls, I saw three dresser drawers hanging open, with collars, ribbon, gloves and neckties streaming out of every one; every chair in the room was buried in billows of gowns; one was overturned; three pairs of shoes, a mirror, two powder boxes and fifteen books—not all astronomies or ethics—were on the floor. I am sure there was dust in places on the study table. The pin-cushion was under the dresser; other small articles under the radiator; behind the trunks which stood wide open, were too many things for me to enumerate. The rugs were rolled up, and, really, the whole room was not in pulpit order. Remember that a lady never hurries, and always leaves her room immaculate.

"Now, girls, there are two or three other things I wanted to speak about, but I will not take any more of your time to-night. Go quietly to your rooms, for it is study hours."

"... for the ONE THOUSANDTH and THIRD time: NO, I AM NOT KAY KYSER!"

Wrestlers Put On First Show For "Home Folks" In Gym Last Night

Despite a week of rain, snow, and ice, and a flock of accompanying colds and bruises, the 1948 Scot wrestling team opened a four-match home schedule last night in the Alumni Gym against the traveling Georgia Tech Engineers. Victorious in two away matches, the Scots came home for a change, in new tights and warm-up clothes, to wrestle the four-match stay on the mat here before hitting the road again.

Eight Returning '47 Men

"Welcome back" might be a by-word for last night. Eight '47 grapplers were back on the mat and the bench for a try at another season. Ken Ross, senior, is captain and a three year letterman. "Tubby" Calloway, Lawrence Major, Hersh Merrimen, and John Briggs are other lettermen back on the roster this year. Paul Yambert, Bill Brewer, and Jim Marvin, all second string 'rasslers last season, are also back this year.

New Faces Too

Something "new" has been added, too, from the looks of the wrestling program last night. In the 121 pound class is sandy-haired Earl Black, now a junior, but new to the mat. Next is freshman J. A. Cameron, a 128 pounder, whose high school experience helped earn him a place on the team. Another freshman is 175 pound Herb Palmer. Herb also has a background on the high school mat which has helped him to a regular berth.

Thirteen Neophytes

Other members of the squad in their first year of collegiate wrestling are: Paul McNeil and Richard Jones in the 121 pound class; Chesley Anderson and Charles Mabry in the 136 pound class; four in the 145 pound class, including James Ewing, Delbert Earisman, Julian Gresham, and Preston Mulford; the 155-pound class has Orval Winmute and Don Reeves as new members; Bob Proffitt is the lone apprentice in the 165 pound class; and two freshmen, Roy Kramer and John Shew are the only heavyweight wrestlers out.

"J.D." Starts Fourth Year

"J. D." Davis, coach for three wrestling seasons,is starting his fourth term as the Highlander wrestling expert. "J. D." replaced Coach Bob Thrower, granddad of M. C. wrestling, in 1941. Davis followed in Thrower's footsteps by adding two more to the ever growing list of State Championship teams before leaving for service in 1942. After "Woody" Everett's successful coaching season at the head of the '43 squad and three years of "no wrestling because of the war-manpower put out a '47 team from inexperienced material.

Big Future Is Ahead

Chattanooga, Knoxville Y, and Georgia Tech are just a beginning for the Scotties. In the near future is a match with Appalachian State, who trimmed us, 28-5, last year; two with Western North Carolina State; another with the Auburn team that beat us out of a 19-13 match in '47; and two days of the toughest competition at the Southeastern Intercollegiate Tournament in Chattanooga; besides return matches with Georgia Tech and Knoxville Y.

Don Reeves Elected Prexy of Art Club

Donald Reeves is the new president of Art Club. Secretary-treasurer is Ruth Nicholas and social chairman is Jean Almy. The club is planning a George Washington party for February 23.

IRC Election Will Be Held Monday

An election of officers will be held at the next IRC meeting, February 2, 7:00 p. m., in the Y. W. rooms. Refreshments will be served and games played after the business meeting.

The need for convenience in the kitchen is shown by the time a homemaker spends there—estimated to average about three to five hours daily.

FUTURE TEACHERS

(Continued From Page 1)

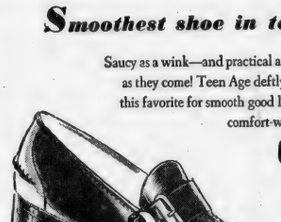
to observe their students while teaching. A student who has put in at least a hundred hours in conference, observing, assisting, and teaching receives three hours credit. These hundred hours do not include the preparation they have to do before teaching and the time spent walking to and from the public school.

15 Students Enrolled

Those who are doing practice work in elementary schools at present include Muriel Headrich and Evelyn Vaughn. Marion Weiler is working with music and has Miss Lanfear as her supervisor. Elaine Kern, Julia Pancoast, Kenneth Ross, Rebecca Maddux, William Largen, Loretta Nunn, Alverta Fink, Janet Rich, Lelia Ambrister, Elise Frazier, Barbara Blair, and Martha Barnwell are the group which go to the high school for their practice teaching.

Although the walks are long and the preparations hard, the experiences which they have and the opportunity for service which is offered is worth it all. Ask them!

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville



Stop for a tasty cup of Coffee.
C. & L. CAFE

"SHE'S SWEET ENOUGH. . ."
Of course she is . . . but we're willing to bet that sweet smile of hers will grow even sweeter if you present your Valentine, (whether she be mother, sister or sweetheart) with a box of
ASSORTED MILK CHOCOLATES
PARK DRUG STORE

Smoothest shoe in town!
Saucy as a wink—and practical and smart as they come! Teen Age deftly designs this favorite for smooth good looks and comfort-wise wear.
6.95

PROFFITT'S
SMART SHOES MAIN FLOOR

HEY!
Is this strip necessary?
You bet it isn't mister! There's no need to be inconvenienced (to say nothing of shocking your neighbors) when you have your trousers cleaned or pressed. We give prompt service.
—Our Agents on the Hill—
104 Carnegie—John Spratt
327 Baldwin—Alice Davenport
403 Pearson—M. G. Larson
Speedy, efficient service
COLLEGE CLEANERS

Luscious Grapes
THE FINEST FROM THE VINE
M. M. ELDER CASH CARRY STORE

LAMAR MEMORIAL LIBRARY
MARYVILLE
1 1 1948
C.H.L.G.
MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

MEN'S STUDENT REPRESENTATION

THE Highland Echo

Z 703

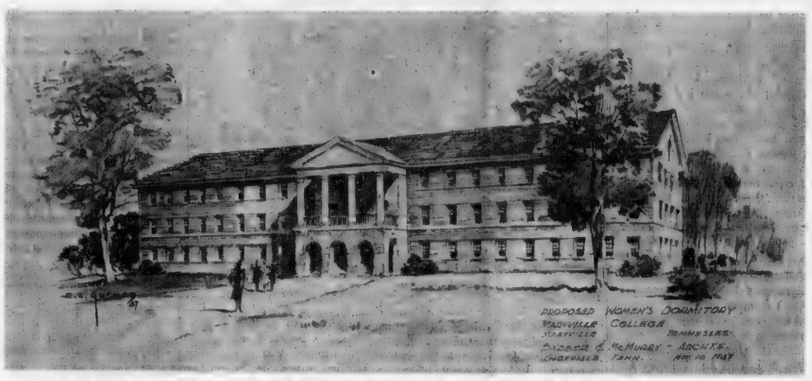
WOULD FILL THE MISSING LINK

VOLUME 33 | MARYVILLE TENNESSEE FEBRUARY 7, 1948 | NUMBER 19

PLANS FOR WOMEN'S DORMITORY RELEASED

Fall Necessitates Knee Operation For Natalie Hart

Natalie Hart, freshman, returned to her home in Jacksonville, Florida, for an operation brought about by a fall in the recent snow. Miss Hart was enjoying her first snow in nine years, January 24, when she fell, hurting her knee. She was taken into Baldwin Hall, and from there to the college infirmary.



Miss Hart's mother arrived here last Saturday, and "Nickie" was taken to Knoxville to a specialist, Dr. Inge. She left by plane last Tuesday for Jacksonville, where she will remain for about six weeks after her operation. Miss Hart will continue her studies with material which is to be sent to her.

New Fire Escapes Being Installed At Memorial Hall

New fire escapes this week replaced the ladders that have long been at the ends of Memorial Hall. Produced by the Benson Winch Company of Knoxville, they meet the full requirements of the State of Tennessee Fire Code.

Installed at a cost of over $2,000, they consist of two platforms, two rigid oblique ladders and a roof ladder. The middle bar of the second story windows will be removed to facilitate escape.

Similar escapes for Carnegie and Baldwin Hall are still on the draft board. When they have been installed, four of the eleven points on the program drawn up last year for improvement of fire conditions will have been fulfilled.

The sketch of the building pictured above is the proposed women's dormitory which will be located on the unused tennis court below the President's house.

First Baptist Church Plans Newsletter To Acquaint Members

The College Class of the First Baptist Church is planning a newsletter in an effort to make members of the class and others who attend become better acquainted. The paper will print brief sketches of several students in each issue. A date for the first issue has not been decided. John Mulholland, sophomore is president of the group.

ATHENIAN

Slides of pictures taken on Maryville's campus will be shown for the first time at the Athenian meeting tonight in Bartlett Hall at 6:15.

Among them are pictures of members of the student body.

Refershments will be served after the program.

FACULTY, STUDENTS HOLD SPECIAL PRAYER MEETINGS

Special prayer groups of the faculty and students are being held on the campus during the February meetings. Dr. Augustus Sisk, Mrs. A. F. Pieper, Professor E. R. Walker and Professor David Engelhardt are leading the faculty and staff prayer circles.

Students who have been elected to be in charge of the nightly groups on each floor of the dormitories are in Pearsons, Betty Emory, fourth floor; Margaret Rock, third floor; Martha Grace Brindley, second floor; in Baldwin, Sara Durant, third floor; Ruth Humes, second floor; Mimi Leake, first floor; in Memorial, Wilma Davis, third floor; Marilyn Edge, second floor; Lois Johnson, first floor; in Carnegie, Ben Sheldon, fourth floor; Carl Wilson, second floor.

News Capsules—

BY DON WHELAN

Chilly, Wasn't It?

Weather was the main concern of many Americans last week as a cold wave was aggravated by widespread fuel shortages. Sections of the northern mid-west recorded temperatures as low as 40 below. In New York City police were assigned to fuel delivery trucks to avert hijacking.

Stocks Slide

Just what the stock market dip will mean to consumer prices is still undecided. After last week's heavy selling and drastically lowered commodity prices some trade experts predicted a general "deflationary trend"; some said the price drop was just temporary; most said they just didn't know.

U. S. Sportsmen Fall Behind

Things started looking up a bit in the Winter Olympics when an American housewife copped the women's skiing championship. Her victory, the first for an American this year, brought the U. S. up to a still-sad sixth place. Despite the badly beaten hockey team, America had hopes of third place in the final standings. The events are being held in St. Moritz, Switzerland.

Dixie Demos Dislike Doings

The Administration is having trouble. According to Washington observers, a five-point program mapped out by Trumanites was virtually doomed in the Congress. The budget was sure to be altered by Senate and House Republican leaders. In his own party the President had resistance to his civil rights proposals of anti-poll tax, anti-lynching, and permanent F.E.P.C. legislation. That a much-talked-of Hagnolia Revolt would bloom was highly questionable. The Dixie opposition would probably find it much simpler to line up with right-wing GOPer Taft & Co. to defeat more social laws, or, this failing, a filibuster remained.

Another One Gone

In Nuernberg, Germany, Gen. Johannes Blaskowitz, former German commander in Holland, killed himself a few hours before his trial for war crimes. He died by leaping a guardrail and falling thirty feet. Leading the list of charges against him was murder.

General Election In Eire

An Irishman with an Irish name threatened to upset a six-teen-year tenent of office by a New Yorker with a Spanish name. In Eire, a Dublin lawyer named Shawn McBride was leading an opposition to the incumbent government of Eamon DeValera. Returns came in slowly, but indicated that if the DeValera government were turned out, the vote would be close.

Food Strike In West's Zones

A million and a half Germans stayed away from their jobs Tuesday in a quiet but effective protest against handling of food in the U. S. and British zones. It was the biggest work stoppage in the combined areas since the end of the war. Enormous crowds were reported massed in the former Adolf Hitler Platz.

PI GAMMA PLANS LUNCHEONS, THREE GROUP MEETINGS

Plans for four more luncheons were made at the first Pi Gamma luncheon of the semester which was held Thursday in the "Y" rooms.

The organization has been divided into three groups as follows: Group A, those whose names begin with A through H; Group B, 1 through N; Group C, O through Z. Group A will meet March 11, Group B on April 1; and Group C on April 22. On May 13 all town girls will be invited.

Debaters Enter Two February Speech Tourneys

The Smoky Mountain Debate Tournament will be held at Knoxville's Whittle Springs Hotel on February 16. On the M. C. teams are Stuart Saul and Jim Torrey, Carl Lindsay and Carrol Stegall, and Peggy Cummings and Katie Carpenter. John Poland will enter the after-dinner speech contest and Scott McClure will take part in the extempore speaking.

State Tournament

In the Murfreesboro State Tournament February 19-20, Maryville will have John Briggs and Tom Stovall and Scott McClure and John Poland on debate teams. Here, Briggs, Poland, McClure, and Stegall, have been assigned to after-dinner speaking, extempore, peace oratory, and general oratory in that order. Miss Cummings and Ann Cook, and Miss Carpenter are assigned to impromptu, extempore, and after-dinner speaking respectively.

Over $27,000 Received From Contacts Made Through D.A.R.'s

BUILDING MAY BE LOCATED ON UNUSED TENNIS COURT

Architects have made a tentative sketch for the new women's dorm—for which plans have been in progress for several years. Officials releasing the information did not specify when the structure will begin, probably because final plans are still incomplete, making it impracticable to set a date for building. According to present plans the building will be located on the site beginning on the unused tennis court below the President's house and running to the trailer camp.

Being a tentative sketch, the picture of the proposed dormitory may change perceptibly before final plans are drawn and the building erected. The present drawing was prepared for a bulletin now being printed for use in soliciting funds. It was previously announced that the dormitory is one of four objectives of the total building program, details of which have not been announced.

Gifts Given by D.A.R.'s

The first gifts toward the dormitory were made by members and organizations of the Daughters of the American Revolution. A few years ago Miss Augusta J. Boone, of Meriden, Connecticut, became interested in Maryville College by hearing of it through D.A.R. contacts and placed the College in her will for more than $50,000. Of the total, $25,000 was allocated to a new women's dormitory. The National Society, D.A.R., put a special gift of $2,201 for the building. Other gifts have come from individuals who are not D.A.R.'s.

The need for the dormitory is now being presented to D.A.R. members and organizations throughout Tennessee and the nation. Members of the Mary Blount Chapter of Maryville have oversubscribed its quota of $2,500. The Tennessee D.A.R. is being asked to provide $25,000, including that from Maryville. Decision as to sponsoring the fund will be made at the State Conference in March.

Miss Clemmie J. Henry is giving special direction to the program.

Indian Writes Of Obtaining Religious Rights

Letter From India Says Christians Are Popular

Christianity's place in the new nation of India is portrayed in a letter recently received by Rev. E. W. Crowson, of Loughman, Florida, who is the father of two students attending Maryville, Dorothy and Ruth Crowson.

The letter is from Rev. J. C. Sircar, who is a field worker for the India Mission Fund, of which Rev. Crowson is trustee. The letter explains how Christianity is helping to mould the Constitution of New India, and speaks of the troubles caused in India and Pakistan by the non-Christian elements of the two nations.

A condensation of the letter is as follows:

I have been in touch with Dr. H. C. Mookherjee, an Indian Christian, who is one of six Christians in the Constituent Assembly which is drafting the constitution of Free India. At some difficulty, they have been successful in assuring the full religious rights which India enjoyed during the British Rule. The clauses forbidding the conversion of minors and the exerting of "undue influence" (preaching) have been altogether deleted from the constitution. As there are 293 members in the Assembly, and only 6 are Christians, it was very difficult to create these changes.

Princess Secures Rights

It was mainly through the influence of Princess Amrit Kaur, daughter of Raja Sir Harnam Singh, both Christians, that these objectionable clauses were removed. She is new health minister for the Government.

Since our independence, we Indian Christians have became very popular among the people. Our position is quite safe. . . despite the tragic communal riots which have come, due to the

(Continued on page four)

V. Wood Elected Girls Choir Prexy

Virginia Wood, a senior psychology major from Wyndale, Virginia, was elected president when the All Girls Choir reorganized this semester. The other officers include Betty Seagraves, a sophomore from Milford, New Jersey, vice president; Ruth Ellen Bird, sophomore from Greeneville, Tennessee, secretary-treasurer; Betty Jo Smith, sophomore, also from Greeneville, social chairman; and Jean Burke, sophomore from Greenwood, Rhode Island, recreational chairman.

The choir has selected pins which will be given all seniors who have been members of the choir for at least two years including both semesters of the senior year. The pin is in the form of an M outlined in pearls with a lyre in the background. Martha Grace Brindley a senior from Woodleaf, North Carolina, and Virginia Wood are eligible for pins this spring.

MOTION PICTURE TO BE SHOWN AT YM-YW

A motion picture called "The Power of God" is to be the program for a joint YM and YM meeting this Sunday.

His motion picture is a 16 mm feature produced by professional motion picture personnel in Hollywood, for Christian interests. The picture is to be held in the new Gymnasium, not in Bartlett Hall as has been announced.

"WHAT DO YOU WANT OUT OF LIFE?" ASKS DR. BARBOUR IN OPENING TALK

Wednesday, February 4, marked the beginning of the seventy-second annual series of February Meetings, which are being led this year by Dr. Clifford E. Barbour, prominent Knoxville minister. The current engagement is the third time that Dr. Barbour has appeared as speaker.

Assisting the speaker is Dr. Sidney E. Stringham, song leader, who has returned for the twenty-sixth year.

The series of meetings will continue through February 12, with morning services in the Alumni Gymnasium at 9:45 and the evening services at 7:10 in the New Providence Presbyterian Church.

"What Do You Want Out of Life?"

Using Luke 15:11-32 as his Scripture Dr. Barbour spoke on the subject—"What Do You Want Out of Life?" for his introductory sermon to his question by age groups, Dr. Barbour stated that a baby desires food and attention; a child wants action and excitement; youth wants romance and opportunity; adults strive for achievement and recognition, and old age longs for peace and security.

But these are not enough, he continued. A Christian life must strive for goodness, which includes seeking first the Kingdom of God; usefulness, which breeds strength, and a sense of belonging to eternity through God and Christ.

"Discipline of Disappointment"

Launching from the verse in I Corinthians 16:7 in which Paul wrote that "I will not see you now by the way," Dr. Barbour talked on the "Discipline of Disappointment", in the first of the evening series of February Meetings held last Wednesday night in New Providence Church.

He observed that Paul, when confronted with the disappointment of not being able to be with the church of Corinth, did not succumb to it, but rather rose above it. He had the courage to bear what he could not change, but more than that he had the ability to make good in the substitute he found for what was denied him. A third element in Paul's reaction to disappointment was his recognition of God's will, and his acceptance of it as such. He felt, in common with all great men, that God was working through him.

"Four Great Facts"

On Thursday morning, Dr. Bar-

(Continued on page four)

Sunday Services Continue February Meetings

Dr. Clifford Barbour, leader of the February meetings, will speak Sunday morning at the New Providence Presbyterian Church on the subject "Truth at the Cross."

At Vespers, Dr. Barbour will speak on "Being Chosen." The Vesper Choir, under the direction of Mr. H. H. Harter, will sing "Ave Verum" by Mozart and "the "Cherubim Song" by Glinka.

STUDENTS! DON'T EXPECT HOLIDAY

President Ralph W. Lloyd has announced that there will not be a holiday February 12, the closing of the February Meetings. The two classes before chapel have always been held and classes will not be dissmissed for the rest of the day. The final chapel service may be longer than usual and may necessitate the omission of one of the classes between chapel and noon.

Mr. Paul Henry Assumes Duties As MC Treasurer

PAUL W. HENRY

Mr. Paul W. Henry, recently of Atlanta, began work Monday as Acting Treasurer of Maryville College. His appointment was announced some weeks ago by Dr. Lloyd.

Since the death of Mr. Fred L. Proffitt during the war, Judge John C. Crawford of Maryville, a member of the College's Board of Directors, has given part of his time as Acting Treasurer. Mrs. Celia R. Wrinkle, Assistant Treasurer, has officiated in the Treasurer's office.

Mr. Henry comes to Maryville College from the investment banking firm of Clement A. Evans and Company, Atlanta. Prior to entering the Army he was affiliated with the Fidelity Bankers Trust Company, Knoxville.

COTTON, KENNETTE PLAY LEADS IN THETA-ALPHA SIGMA PLAY

Elsie Jean Cotton was selected to act the part of Cornelia Skinner and Carol Kennette the role of Emily Skinner in the tryouts of the Alpha Sigma and Theta Epsilon production "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." The other characters are Bob Thompson, Dorothy Vawter, Ben Gearhart, Don Weber, Ruth Spears, Marty Kincaid, Dorothy Stater, Pat Dennis, Ed Pencoast, Bob Holley, Lois Miller, Glenn Kenecht, Russell Morgan, and Bobbie Burress.

Miss Jessie May Wilde is directing the production and Mary Mitchell Wooldridge is assisting her.

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" is a book written by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough and was first given as a play by the Speech and Drama Department of The Catholic University, Washington, D. C., under the direction of Walter Kerr.

The play is a comedy telling the story of two young girls, Cornelia and Emily, who saved up their own money and sailed for Europe. Through the excitement they tried to act experienced and mature.

On board ship they met two young medical men who try to give all kinds of seasick remedies to the girls. Along with getting the band leader mistaken for an admiral and having an adventure with an stowaway, Emily worried about the ship sinking, and Cornelia got the measles.

In addition, unusual things happened in Paris, especially when the girls tried to convince a great French actor that he should give them acting lessons. Such events are a few of the exciting moments found in the play.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

Volume 32 Number 19

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

EDITORIAL STAFF

Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Ruth Ramsey, Ilda Mosby, Mariagrazia Merlanti, Dick Sprague, Carroll Stegall

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb, Ruth Davis

FRESHMEN APPRENTICES
Jean Hunt, Mary Lyerly, Hazel Holm, Elenor Kramer, Donald Whelan

SPORTS STAFF

Kenneth Olsen ..... Editor
Herbert McCallum ..... Sophomore Reporter
Maynard Noble ..... Freshman Apprentice

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF

Business Manager ..... Ruth Williams

SENIOR ASSISTANTS
Mary Jane Long, Florence Housch

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Margaret Weaver

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANTS
Bob Watkins, Joe Claude, Janet Blackmore

FRESHMEN ASSISTANTS
Barbara Altfather, Anita Withers

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc. College Publishers Representatives 420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y. Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1948

JUNIORS! SOPHOMORES! FROSH!

In years following this one do you want a student social chairman who will schedule all social activities on campus, a person to whom every organization would go when planning social events, a person who would sit on the student council and express MC social activities as he see it in his position?

Do you want your Student Council representatives to vote as your class thinks, or to vote as they personally believe?

Do you want your WSGA preisdent, who is now a member of the Council, to vote merely as she thinks, or as the majority of the girls she represents thinks?

Do you think that your future ECHO editors should automatically become members of the Council?

Do you think that the men students should be organized and that an elected representative from their group should sit on the Student Council?

DO YOU?

At present the Student Council is made up of eight seniors, six juniors, four sophomores, and four freshmen. The WSGA president is also a Council member. Under the system now followed these people have the power to vote as they think, and the classes they represent never know how thir votes go.

IS THAT REPRESENTATION?

The Council DOES NOT believe it is, and they want to do something about it. Neither can you believe it is if you carefully think over the situation, and surely you, like the Council, would like to change matters.

The Council has proposed a change of the constitution, one by which you would profit greatly. But even it, in your opinion, might have several flaws. It is such a great improvement over the present set-up that we cannot help but call attention to it.

Our Council wants to change its membership to include those people we listed in the first five paragraphs. In this year's Council the last three are not included, and the last one is noticeably absent. More than anything else, the Council should represent the students on campus, but do you know that of all the council members only two live in the men's dormitories? All four of the senior men representatives are married and live off-campus!

Now of course it's no one's fault but our own, and we personally believe the classes have done a good job electing their representatives, but over a third of the students in our college are men living on campus, and those men are not represented on the Student Council. It just isn't right. No one could honestly think it is.

When the Council mentions organization of the men, however, no one wants it. Why? It's pretty obvious, and we can't say that we blame them with the picture that looms before them. But that picture isn't necessarily true. Men's organization doesn't mean that monitors have to go down the halls checking rooms, or seeing that lights go off promptly at 11:00. It's silly even to consider it as such, for the men on this campus—or any other campus—wouldn't put up with anything like that for five minutes. What men's organization does mean is men's representation and and that's all the Council wants, just an elected representative from the men's student body to be a member of the Council. The men's organization itself can be what they themselves want it to be. No faculty involved. No monitors. What it will be is for them to decide.

We believe that men's representation is necessary to give the Council authority, and until the Council has authority they can do nothing for us. Such authority will come from other sources, too. The classes. Under the proposed constitution there would be monthly class meetings at which the respective classes would discuss and vote on the issues in question. The outcome of their voting would be the way their representaitves would vote in the Council meeting.

All this discussion by an editor, or by the Council, won't do any good, though, unless you discuss it and decide whether or not you want it that way. You're going to be called upon to vote "yes" or "no", so WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Much Echo About Nothing

By ILDA MOSBY

"It's great to get up in the morning but it's nicer to lie in bed"—don't remember who said it, but Miss Ware must have heard it. Her idea of giving each waiter and waitress a morning off now and then has certainly been heartily appreciated by the recipients. . . . . Is the music supposed to soothe the savage beasts or what? Before dinner the waiters are sort of dancing around and everyone seems to enjoy it. Of course it was a little loud Thursday, but most of us have strong enough lungs to shout above it. . . . Oh, yes, before we're too far from the subject of mornings off, M. Fong got out of the swing, the next meal forgetting the butter and mayonnaise. Her family doesn't seem to appreciate its quarter napkins—most use halves, at least.

Sleep is a wonderful thing. However, some folks should try to confine it to specific places—those set aside for that purpose. It's not hard to go to sleep in classes; there are few students who don't at some time or other, but to sleep through a quiz—ask Herb McCallum how it felt to suddenly wake up and hear Mr. Bushing saying, "Now pass in those papers."..... The topic of mysticism would have been quite appropriate in Miss Jackson's third hour class the day the lights went on all by themselves. . . . How many of Mr. Pieper's chapel section knew it the day he dozed off? . . . . Craig Fisher sneezed so hard he knocked over his chair and landed on the floor. Was it accident or attention seeking?. . . . George Ogle claims he doesn't know any women. Tsk, tsk.

For a fellow who's only been on campus a few weeks, Wes Miles has made quite an impression. . . . How many speeches have been given by Memorialites on the subject, "The kind of man I'd like to marry"?..... Lil Unger was crowned Queen of Ground Hog Day—and all because she was the best hog-caller at Bainonia..... Lenoir has a new job—tail gunner on an elevator. Kluth seemed disposed to bail-out of the same elevator..... Don't know whether its because they're freshmen or that they live in Memorial, but the first floor group seems just a little bit devilish. Wonder what the poor monitor thought Wednesday night when she checked and didn't find a single girl..... Loretta Crawford and Helen Gentry will probably post signs on the doors of the trash room or else move from next door to it. One fellow citizen of Pearsons fourth floor barged in the other morning to dump her waste can.

Just wait till open dorms—the ex-Carnegie girls are anxious to see what the fellows have done to their old haunts. The Proffitts got a little worried about said occasion and not only swept the floor but went so far as to take up the fifteen year old linoleum. Are they going to paint the floor?..... The fire siren blared, the truck came towards campus, every head in Pearsons popped out a window and thirty-odd Carnegians dashed wildly out the doors. Not fire conscious—oh, no..... Easter must be rather strong to down Baird, Fowler, and Morton combined. The three brave men? had just polished off Boring..... Who put the nose drops in Mary Lou Laurell's nose?

Ella Mae Thompson should be given a medal for extempore speaking. She went home for the weekend; when she entered church Sunday morning she found her name on the program for the pastoral prayer. It turned out that the woman in charge of youth Sunday had forgotten to write her..... Paul Yambert is a poet. At least that what's we've been told. He and Spargue should get together..... Buffie Carver ought to watch when and where she has her hair up. She put the stuff up, added a kerchief, and went to the show. It was warm so she removed the scarf. Came intermission, lights,—embarrassing..... .....It's too bad Holly and Watkins didn't get Jeanette Mac Donald signed for Athenian. They tried hard enough. We've heard they told her they were representing the HIGHLAND ECHO.

Maybe the fellows aren't the only ones who need to start early on room-polishing. So—here goes.

STUDENT COUNCIL WAXES BOLD AGAIN

Wednesday night, in a room capacity crowded with visitors, the Council met to discuss one of the most urgent objectives on its agenda—the direct representation of college men.

Scott McClure, chairman of the Steering Committee and leader of the discussion, pointed out that although under the proposed revision of the Constitution all other major groups on campus would have a direct voice in Council affairs, the voice of the men would be conspicuously absent.

At present the men have no directly elected representatives to work in their behalf. This means that their collective voice is so diffuse and disorganized as to be ineffective. In other words representatives elected by the classes are governing the men without their having any direct say in the matter at all. They have no channel for petitions or complaints, no voice in Council or Faculty-Senate specifically there to state their case. For the 250 men off campus some form of representation seems especially needed.

The representatives would have no governing function beyond their vote casting privilege, he emphasized. They would serve solely in a representative capacity. Any responsibilities which they would have would be restricted to such administrative details as managing the washing machine co-op.

A meeting for ALL men will be held by the Council on Monday, February 16. There the purposes and method of representation will be clarified, and the floor will be opened for any questions concerning it. This meeting will be of considerable importance to every man on campus.

TALK OF THE WEEK BY DONALD REEVES

Dr. Clifford Barbour Gives Views On Religion of College Students

How does the college student view religion? Dr. Clifford E. Barbour, leader of the February meetings, gave his opinions on the question during an interview Thursday morning.

Dr. Barbour stated that college students of today, as compared with those of 30 years ago, are outwardly much more religious. He wasn't so sure about their inward religious feeling. Morally, he says, they are much worse, with liquor and sex becoming outstanding problems.

He believes that the difference between physical realities and the abstractness of life is great to college students. "Religion doesn't seem real to them", said Dr. Barbour. There is too much contrast after the reality of mathematics and hpysics to speak of abstract qualities like grace and love and divine guidance.

Students Reflect General Trend

College students reflect the confusion of the world situation today. There is a transition from a materialistic viewpoint to one of spiritual values. Where scientists of 50 years ago studied science simply for science's sake, today they are studying with prayer for higher guidance as to the use to which their findings may be put. "But men are much more advanced in material knowledge than in spiritual feeling and they fear their inadequacy", he said, "that is, all men except those who are in business with Him."

Regarding his own religious ideals, Dr. Barbour said, "My theology is liberal and complex but my faith is simple and direct. God is like my father to me—He has the same simple grace and love and understanding but expanded to eternity and infinity."

GILLETTE ELECTED PRESIDENT OF IRC

George Gillette, a senior from Vineland, New Jersey, was elected president of the International Relations Club at their meeting last Monday night. The newly elected vice-president is Helen Gentry, a junior from Erwin, Tennessee. The business meeting was followed by a social hour for which the theme was the national holidays in February.

THETA EPSILON

Theta Epsilon will meet at 6:15 tonight for a program of fun and fellowship. The Music chairman will provide music for all early comers.

PARK
MONDAY, FEBRUARY 8
All Star Cast
"Hard-Boiled Mahoney"

VALENTINE'S DAY—Is Just a few days away. Shop now for those Valentines

ROSE'S
5-10-25C STORE

Chocolates . . . 1 to 5 lbs.
. . . excellent assortments

$1.50 to $5.00

BYRNE DRUG

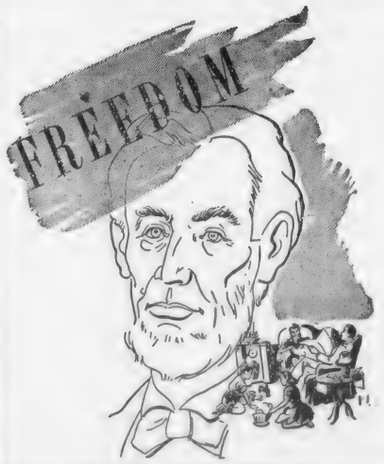
CAPITOL THEATRE

MON.-TUES., FEBRUARY 9-10
Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall in
"Dark Passage"

WED.-THURS., FEBRUARY 11-12
Red Skelton and Virginia O'Brien
Leon Ames, Gloria Grahame
Alan Mowbray in
"Merton of The Movies"

FRI.-SAT., FEBRUARY 13-14
Tim Holt in Zane Grey's
"Under The Tonto Rim"
with Nan Leslie and Richard Martin

TIP-TOP TROUSERS!



Mix and match our fine pants with you '48 suits and jackets. Come in today and select your favorites!

SUNNY SHIRTS!

For June in January, don one of our crisp white shirts—styled to flatter you, to boost your spirits.

Badgett Store Co.

LINCOLN'S Birthday

Of the people, by the people, and for the people was Honest Abe Lincoln, champion humanitarian. On this his anniversary, let us review his life and works—and think, within oursleves, how we can be more like him—how we can make his beloved nation greater by following his example.

TENNESSEE GAS COMPANY

Echo Sports

HERB'S— Half-acre

●HOME TO HELP the Wrestlers stage a double-header tonight, the Soaring Scotties of the Hardwood did the near impossible this week in away games. They averaged 74 points per game in taking two, losing one.

Meanwhile, their wrestling cousins face the toughest mat competition south of Mason and Dixon's line and east of the Mississippi River. Appalachian State's grapplers enjoyed an undefeated season last year and are defending southern conference champions. The Apps' wrestling coach R. W. Watkins, has three AAU champions on his team this year. Emil, Tomick, is a National AAU champion in the 155 class. The other two Carlina Champs are regional title holders.

●IN LAST YEAR'S 28-5 LOSS to the Carolina Mountaineers, the record went like this: 121—Jenceson (A) decisioned Heaton, 128—Wilson (A) pinned Marvin in .26 of last period, 136—Cobb (A) pinned Ross in 3 min., 145—Calalway (M) won by default, 155—Tomick (A) pinned Major in 34 sec. of first period, 165—Graham decisioned Merriman in overtime, 175—Ousley (A) pinned Willocks 2 min. 5 seconds of first period, and heavyweight Harris of the Apps' team decisioned Anderson of Maryville.

●GLUM WAS THE WORD for the Scottie Grapplers during the work-outs this week. Havoc left by Georgia Tech among the team members included Earl Black's ankle and shoulder in bad repair, Yambert's ribs,he reported, didn't feel quite right, and miscellaneous minor aches and bruises—scattered around the squad.

Lawrence Major overturned his ankle the wrong way during mat practice this week and his condition is yet in the "cane" stage. Major was putting on weight to come up to the 155 class to allow "Tubby" Calalway re-enter the 145 pound class.

Dropping down to 121 pounds, "Big Jim" Marvin suddenly became just plain Jim by losing the prestige of 7 pounds from his original 128 pound wrestling weight. Bob Proffitt was on the reduction list, attempting to slender down to 155 pounds.

●HONAKER'S HIGHLAND HOOPMEN really 'blew their top' this week. Starting last Saturday with a high of 64 (four points below previous highest score), the Scotties, catching full blast of a score soaring whirlwind, upped their high point marker to 76, and blasted out an amazing 82 point altitude in the third of their recent road games. Yet the truth is that East Tennessee State outnumbered the Scots in overtime points, 11-8. Whow! Eighty-two points is pretty high to go—just to lose. And, not finding fault, mind you, (you can't win 'em all!) an overtime is quite a troublesome (and most disheartening, too) process wherewith to lose a game.

●NEVERTHELESS, THE HIGHLANDERS set a new mark in scoring for a single game. A casual glance through the records will tell you that the Honakermen Tuesday night made the highest score in ten years. A thorough check might prove that Tuesday's mark is the highest ever.

Last year's highest was a 75-22 rout of Johnson Bible College when the Brahams brothers amassed 21 points each, followed by Lillard's 17 in the opening game. The other previous high score (since 1938) was a 59-36 victory over King College in 1940.

In like manner, the Scots haven't had an opponent defeat them with 85 points in a game and overtime since 'Hector was a pup.' 1939 saw Maryville pushed under by King, 60-54 for a previous high. The other highest opponent's score in this ten year stretch came in 1941. That score: KENTUCKY 54, MARYVILLE 14. My, how much speed the cage sport has picked up since '41!

●JUST ASK Ray Lillard about that Kentucky game. 1941 was Lillard's first year on the Scottie squad. And he made his mark during that, his freshman year, by sounding off to a tune of 200 points in 19 games. Average—10.5 points per game.

●FREE-THROW PERCENTAGES are very good indications of a team's standing and of a player's capacities in accuracy and, consequently, their relative work to the squad. Our latest tabulations show that Hugh Hamil's .706 has waned to a .654 percentage this week in 17 out of 26 tries made good; despite the drop, Hugh still leads the starting five in percentage made.

Others in order are: Brick Brahams 9-15 for .600; Boring 25-43 for .582; Ray Lillard 24-44 for .546; Reyonlds 10-22 for .454; Berrong 5-12 for .416; Garner 17-35 for .343; and Roberts' .300 for 3-10 ends the list of those shooting ten or more free shots so far this season.

Garner, Hamil, and Reynolds, having made 36 fouls in 13 games, led the rest of the Scottie squad in honors for making fouls.

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.

30-Minute Scrvice

between

Maryville and Knoxville

Pioneers Play Here Tonite; Wesleyan Due Thursday

In the first part of a 'double-header' bill tonight in Alumni Gym, the Scot Cagemen entertain Tusculum's Pioneers. Game time is at 7:15 o'clock.

Tonight's game will be the first of a two-game home stay for the Scotties, who will engage Tennessee Wesleyan's Bulldogs next Thursday night in Alumni Gym.

8 Wins, 5 Losses

The Highlanders' win-lose record now stands at 8 won, 5 lost. Victorious in two of three road games since last Saturday, the Maryville squad hopes to continue their scoring spree which carried them to impressive wins over Tusuclum 64-53 last Saturday, Emory and Henry 76-50 on Monday, while being edged out by East Tennessee State 82-85 on Tuesday.

A season average of 55.8 points per game gives the Scot squad a slightly better average than their opponents' average, now at 51.3 points per game.

Sixth Home Appearance

Captain Ray Lillard leads the Highland Five in their sixth home appearance in the current season. Lillard's average in points per-game is now 10:8.

Following closely Lillard's shooting mark, Bob Boring now holds an average of 10:5 points per-game fo rthe 13 games of the season so far.

Jones' Tusculum's Standout

Tuculum's big guns are Jones (25) at forward, and Self (7) in a guard position; both boys were hot last week, and Jones alone accounted for 20 points last Saturday night.

Providing there is a much smoother game than the first tilt with the Pioneers, the Scotties have a good opportunity of setting Tusculum back while putting more speed in their scoring race which has now brought the team up to their final four home games.

Tennessee Wesleyan, Lincoln Memorial, and Carson-Newman have yet to attempt to outwit Maryville's Hardwood Aces.

HOOPSTERS DOWN TUSCULUM, 64-53 THERE SATURDAY

Tusculum's Pioneers moaned at the departure of the victorious Scottie crew following a 64-53 victory on the Greeneville court last Saturday night.

In a generally ragged game, the Scots lost three men—Brahams, Hamil, Reynolds—by fouls, and had their coach up-seated with a technical called for disagreement with the referee.

Brick Brahams returned to the starting line-up after a three game absence due to fllness, and shared with Boring the spark for the first period attack, only to foul out late in the final period.

Coming to a 28-25 halt at the mid-way point, the Scots continued their lead in the final period, and, backed by Reynolds' accuracy, clamped a 64-53 defeat on the Pioneers before the evening ended.

Tusculum 53		Maryville 64
Jones (20)	f.	Lillard (11)
Caton (5)	f.	B. Brahams (8)
Welt (6)	g.	Boring (17)
B. Bingham (4)	g.	H. Hamil (3)

Subs—Maryville: Reynolds (16) Berrong (4), and Roberts (0), Tusculum: Self (7), Cole (6) and King (1).

Probable Line-Ups:

Maryville		Tusculum
12 Lillard	f.	Jones 25
15 Reynolds	f.	Welt 23
11 Brahams	c.	Broyles 10
18 Boring	g.	Self 22
13 Hamil	g.	Cole 27

Scots On Scoring Spiral Smash E&H Trail ETS, 82-85

ROAD GAMES GIVE SCOTTIES THEIR HIGHEST SCORES YET

Paying visits to the strong cage outfits of Emory and Henry and East Tennessee State on Monday and Tuesday of this week, the Scottie Hardwood Rovers continued a scoring spiral by dunking Emory and Henry 76-50, but dropping via an overtime to East Tennessee State, 82-85.

Sweet Revenge Over Emory-Henry

Revenge for a recent 53-49 set back was in the Highlander's eyes as their steady offense put in a 40-27 lead over Emory's Wasps by half-time.

Fouls were frequent during the game, and Garner, Berrong, and Baldwin were called from the game on charges of exceeding the legal personal foul limit. No Wasp was called out because of fouls.

Almost Doubled Score

Putting on even more polish, the Maryville Hoopmen almost doubled their first period score—but the Wasps continued to add on their scoring ledger in similar fashion, totaling 36 and 23 points respectively, in the final period.

Boring, who was definitely "on" during the first period with an even dozen baskets, let up in the final period to share the basket-tossing among his teammates. Baldwin relieved Boring, and lasted until his fifth foul forced him from the game.

The 76 point mark was the highest score set by the Highlanders' Cage outfit in the twelve games tihs season preceding this second go with the Wasps.

ETS Takes Overtime, 85-82

Fighting desperately to again put the noose around State's Buccaneers, the Scotties found the scoring tit-for-tat throughout the evening with the State Quint at Johnson City on Tuesday night.

31-All At Half-time

The second period told the same story, with each team keeping the score close to the opponent's mark.

Brick Brhams, hitting his old stride, combined with Lillard's lead in adding 13 field goals to counteract 10 goals by Quarrels, the Buc Captain from his guard position.

The whistle to end the game caught Ray Lillard in the action of shooting a goal, but the whistle came first, resulting in a 74-74 tie.

A five minute overtime was

(Continued on page four)

Crawford & Caldwell

Hardware

Phone No. 1 Maryville

'DOUBLE HEADER' TONIGHT

ALUMNI GYM 7:15 O'CLOCK

Strong Mountaineer Squad Arrives For Rassling Card

Coach "J. D." Davis' matmen play host tonight to last year's Southern Conference Champs, Appalachian State Teachers College, in the Alumni Gym after the basketball game with Tusculum. A real treat is in store for the "home folks" who will see the Scots meet real competition on the mat.

INTRAMURAL CAGE TOURNEY BEGINS

Tournament play-offs started Wednesday in the "Federal" Gym to determine the best, and the worst, intramural basketball teams. Games will be played in the new gym on Wednesday and Friday. Last minute results will be posted on the Carnegie and Bartlett bulletin boards.

P.B.s Edge Out S.O.L., 29-27

In the first game of the tournament on Wednesday, the P.B.s beat Sigma Omega, 29-27 in an overtime period. Tied at the end of the game, the two teams battled an extra period until the P.B.s came through with a bucket.

Scrubbs Singe Fireballs, 19-12

The Ex-Scrubbs took the Fireballs, 19-12, in the second game of the tournament. Although the score was 6-6 at the first quarter, the Scrubbs held a clear lead all the rest of the game.

Vikings Swamp YMCA, 27-14

The Vikings swamped under the YMCA Friday to the tune of 27-14 in a strictly one-sided game. The Vikings had a margin of 14-6 at the half and kept the lead all the rest of the game.

Creamers Down Rabbies, 20-15

The Creamers downed the Wholly Rabbies, 20-15 this afternoon. At the half, the Creamers were ahead 16-2 but slipped in the last period to win by only five points.

(Continued on page four)

WELL I DON'T KNOW

Dr. Barbour says that a football boy isn't very bright. As a matter of fact, just one level above a wrestler.

Mountaineers Tops in South

The mountaineer squad, in years hence, has been been one of the best in the South with a reputation for championship wrestling. This year the Applachian team is out to match their '47 undefeated season and defend their title as Southern Conference champs.

Several of the Appalachian regulars are title holders. Emil Tomick, 165 class, was national AAU champion in the 155 class last year. Charles Harris, 175 pounder, holds the Southern and Carolina AAU championships in his class. Hefty Allen Bandy, 220 pound heavyweight, holds the Carolina AAU title in his class.

Three Scot Regulars Missing

As the home team files onto the mat, several regulars will be missing. Lawrence Major, 155 pounder. is out with a pulled ankle, injured in practice. He will probably be back next week to meet Auburn.

Paul Yambert, heavyweight, is missing too, and will be for several weeks, with a couple of pulled ribs he received when he wrestled Georgia Tech's Matthews last week.

Earl Black, 121 pound wrestler, is out with a bad ankle.

Probable Line-Up

In the 121 pound class will be Jim Marvin, a Maryville sophomore with some experience, against Jencson. In the 128 class J. A. Cameron, another Scot, will meet Hubert Dancy. Both men are new to collegiate wrestling.

Scot captain Ken Ross will tangle against Bill Griffith, a newcomer to the Appalachian mat, in the 136 class. Tubby Callaway, will meet Flay Sellers of the visitors, in the 145 class. Tubby has moved back to the 145 class from the heavier 155. Sellers is new to

(Continued on last page)

Valentine

TREASURE TREAT

Our light-textured sponge cake in the flavor you most prefer.

LYNCH BAKERY

Date Night!

To make a hit with the New Gal you just met in School . . . . be sure that you have a Clean White Shirt for date nights.

9 Pounds Clothes Washed, Rinsed, Damp Dried, Soap, Bleach, and Water 35c

SPECIAL

9 Pounds Washed and Dried 50c

SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY

Phone 1055

VISIT US FOR GOOD MEALS—

For "Town Nite" Snacks—

For Coffee—

For Breakfast—

DUBBY'S GRILL

A Gift to my Valentine

Is she sweet and demure, a little like "the girl who married dear old dad"? Tell her "you're my Valentine" with this old-fashioned nosegay.

Is she a glamorous sophisticate? Give her orchids, queen of all flowers. She'll love wearing them on that Valentine date with you.

See our Agent on the Hill

Clark Flowers

February Meetings

(Continued from page one)

bour spoke on "Four Great Facts". He enumerated these as: God is God, Sin is Sin, Christ is Christ, and Salvation is Salvation. On the first tpoic, Dr. Barbour explained that although God does not function according to our whims or in the way we think he should, we cannot ignore nor circumvent His power. Secondly, he stated that despite the lure and attractiveness of sin, there is a hook in it; if we pursue sin, we get hooked, and breaking God's law only causes it to break our lives. Dr. Barbour enlarged his third fact by saying that Christ is the Son of God; that he was crucified, rose again, and is alive today. Finally, if we accept and follow the living Christ, His power will dominate our lives in such a way that we will not be ashamed of the Gospel, but will be constrained to become missionaries as the great Apostle Paul.

"Marks of a Christian"

The speaker, used "Marks of a Christian" as his subject Thursday evening. He took his text from Luke 10:25-42 and used the story of the good Samaritan as an example for each of the following marks of a Christian: 1. a commanding sense of obligation in the face of need; 2. unselfish kindness; 3. honesty; 4. perseverance.

"For Me To Live"

For his Friday morning message, Dr. Barbour used 2 Timothy 4:1-11, emphasizing verse 7: "I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith." He contrasted the philosophy of life indicated in this text with a cynic's definition of history: "They were born, they suffered, they died." Dr. Barbour said that each one of us is given a similar question in the Test of Living. It is a multiple choice type beginning "For me to live is——". Paul filled in the blank with Christ. We desperately need more champions like Paul if we are to avoid chaos in the future and claim the world for Christ, Dr. Barbour concluded.

INDIAN WRITES

(Continued From Page 1)

preaching of the doctrines of hatred by the Moslem League, whose president is M .A. Jinnah. Pakistan has not yet drafted its constitution, and I do not know what will be the religious rights. Many Christians are leaving the country; it is a matter of great doubt that any non-Moslems will be able to stay.

But our work here is progressing splendidly. Christianity has a great future in Free India. Formerly, it was wrongly confused with exploitation and imperialism But throughout this city (Calcutta) revival meetings are held and attended in such great numbers that it is difficult to find room for all. We fear none in the name of Christ.

Students Present "Cinderella" Monday In First Of Radio Series on WGAP

BY DONALD WHELAN

The bubble gum set of Blount County has a treat in store for it next Monday. A new radio program called "Land of Make-Believe" will be broadcast over W G A P at 5:15 p. m.

The series, scheduled to continue all spring, will open with the universal fairy tale, "Cinderella." In the cast are Pat Dennis as Cinderella, Carrol Kennette as Charlotte, Margaret Hughes as Rose, Joyce Hampton as the Fairy, Lewis Evans as the Prince, Bob Thomson as the Emissary, Mil Castrodale as the Herald, Roy Cox as the Counselor, Ed Goddard as the Footman, and Ray Holsey as Narrator.

Cindy Younger Than Relatives

According to Britannica, the story concerns a persecuted maiden whose youth (surprisingly enough Cindy's younger than either stepmother or elder sisters) and beauty (cinders wash off easily) invoked kinfolks' jealousy. Leading non-mortal character is a clock-watching fairy who almost foils hero. The Prince who. . . . but I mustn't spoil the story for M.C. freshmen who'll spread out before their Philcoes next week.

Originally a Fur Slipper

Actually, the plot's famous glass slipper was fur in the original French. Thanks to a translater who couldn't spell, soundman Ed Goddard will have an easier task in simulating the slipper to listeners: glass shatters nicely.

Although the station has provided the time on a sustaining basis, there may be a sponsor later in the semester. According to Miss Jessie Wild of the Dramatic Department, the shows will be good experience in radio work for college dramatic students.

INTRAMURALS

(Continued from page two)

Eight Balls Lead Basketball League

The Eight Balls ended up on top of the intramural league standings at the close of the season with 12 wins and 1 loss. The Rebels, Dingoes, and Vikings were tied for second place with 10 wins out of 13 games.

Leading the league for the entire season, the Eight Balls never pushed much for their position. The Rebels was the only team to defeat the Eight Balls, upsetting them 18-14.

The champs piled up a total of 38.6 points to 200 scored by their opponents, an average of 29.7 points per game.

Final Cage Standings

Team	W.	L	Pct.
Eight Balls	12	1	.923
Rebels	10	3	.769
Vikings	10	3	.769
Dingoes	10	3	.769
Wholly Rabbies	9	4	.692
Tenn Penns	8	5	.615
Ex-Scrubbs	6	7	.462
YMCA	5	8	.385
P.B.'s	4	9	.308
Crescents	4	9	.308
Fireballs	3	10	.231
Alpha Sig	2	11	.154
S. O. L.	0	13	.000

Howees, Chillies Pick Basketball Captains For Their Coming Practices

Point system teams chose captains and managers Thursday, February 5, for their future basketball teams. The Howees chose Bea Siebold as their captain and Alice Davenport as their manager. The Chillie captain is Marion Henderson and the manager is Bettye Caldwell.

Both teams will be chosen by the captains during scrimmage Tuesday, February 10.

The dancing classes are learning a polka and the five basic steps of dancing.

CHOIR, FACULTY TIED IN STANDINGS

The second period of intramural volley ball closed this week in a two-way tie for first place between the Choir and the Faculty.

At the start of the week Choir, Faculty, and Y.M.C.A. were all in first place with five wins out of six games, but the "Y" dropped into second when they fell to Choir on Wednesday.

Final Second Period Standings

	W	L	Pct.
Choir	6	1	.857
Faculty	6	1	.857
YMCA	5	2	.714
Scorpions	4	3	.571
Athenians	3	4	.429
Brewers	2	5	.286
Rockets	2	5	.286
Odds and Ends	0	7	.000

SCOTS TRIP E. & H., BUT LOSE TO E.T.S.

(Continued from page two)

provided to break the deadlock, and it found the Scots lagging by three points in the closing seconds—the final score: Maryville 82, East Tennessee State 85.

Summary: Emory-Henry Game

Player	F.G.	F.T.	T.P.
R. Lillard, f.	5	2	12
B. Brhams, f.	6	1	13
Garner, c.	1	0	2
Boring, g.	8	0	16
H. Hamil, g.	1	1	3
Roberts, f.	3	0	6
Reynolds, f.	5	1	11
G. Hamil, c.	2	3	7
Berrong, g.	3	0	6

EMORY-HENRY SCORING: Parish (f) 25, Roberson (f) 5, Sprinkle (c) 3, Clark (g) 5, Phipps (g) 4, Dixon (f) 4, Hawkins (f) 2, Painter (g) 1, and Pippins (g) 1.

Summary: ETS Game

Player	FG.	F.T.	T.P.
R. Lillard, f.	8	1	17
B. Brahams, f.	6	1	13
Garner ,c.	2	2	6
Boring, g.	6	4	16
H. Hamil, g.	4	4	12
Roberts, f.	2	0	4
Reynolds, f.	3	0	6
G. Hamil, c.	2	0	4
Berrong, g.	2	0	4

E.T.S. SCORING: Taylor (f) 3, Derrick (c) 15, Jordan (c) 5, Seaton (c) 10, Quarrels (g) 21, Vest (g) 19, Bayless (g) 11, and Pangle (g) 1.

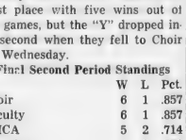
STRONG MOUNTAIN SQUAD ARRIVES

(Continued from page two)

Appalachian.

McLean from Appalachian will tangle with one of the Scot newcomers either Bob Proffitt or Orval Wintermute, in the 155 class. McLean has only wrestled this season. Hersh Merriman will take on Appalachian's pride and joy, Emil Tomick, in the 165 class. Both men have one year of collegiate wrestling background.

Charles Harris, mountaineer Southern AAU champ, will challenge stocky Herb Palmer's undefeated '48 record in the 175 class. John Briggs will tangle with Allen Bandy, State, for the heavyweight decision.



Don't Pick A Winner Yet

Both squads are about evenly matched tonight, as we figure. Appalachian has a heavy season ahead and has rounded off a slow first half, running over the High Point Y and Western North Carolina by high scores. But Knox Y has defeated W. N. Carolina this season.

Unleashing all these new, untapped resources in the reserves, the home team has a good fighting chance tonight. Marvin wrestled some last year in the 128 class and may give Jencson more than he expects. Both Proffitt and Wintermute showed promise against Baylor and have improved since. Briggs has wrestled against other big men, like Coleman of Georgia Tech.

In the other classes there is plenty of room for argument. Tomick may be a bit small for the heavy 165 pound class. And Herb Palmer has proven himself a worthy opponent for such 175 pounders as Harry Love of Chattanooga and Rhodes of Georgia Tech.

Last but not least, the Scots are performing on the home mat this year. The extra bit of spirit that the team displays on the local stays may mean the difference between victory and defeat.

Stop for a tasty cup of Coffee.

C. & L. CAFE

Dad's a Jolly Good Fellow

So have your picture made for Him now

WEBB STUDIO

DRUG Specials for your SPECIAL VALENTINE

LOVELY TOILETRY SET

For your Valentine. A four piece toilet set. Face cream, cold cream and 2 bottles of hand lotion. Gift boxed and wrapped. Individually priced.

SPECIALLY priced items that'll be long remembered Valentine gifts. Stop in today and see the fine selection of gifts on our counters.

PARK DRUG STORE

"ARROW Brings Out Some "Hot Valentine" Ties

In Red Motifs——

Your Valentine man will strut his "stuff". In that good tieing moire fabric.

$1.50 each

Also New at Proffitt's this week—

Genuine "OXFORD" Cloth SHIRTS

With the New Wide Spread Collar—colors in blue— — wine — Green — For appearance as well as hard wearing—this is the shirt for College Men——

$3.95 each

PROFFITT'S

Since 1919 The Best Place To Trade

Tempting twosome

by TEEN AGE

6.00

perfect pumps for your pretty feet, these willow-slim smoothies of glove-soft leather. Model them for your dream man . . . then pause for his applause!

teen-age by BUSTER BROWN

Proffitt's

Smart Shoes Main Floor

Valentine FOOD SUGGESTIONS

PARTIES AHEAD- - - - - - - -PLENTY OF FOOD ALWAYS

M. M. ELDER CASH CARRY STORE

AMAR MEMORIAL

MSR MEETING
7:00 P. M. MONDAY

THE Highland Echo

Z 703

NSA CLASS
MEETINGS THURS.

VOLUME 33 | MARYVILLE TENNESSEE FEBRUARY 14, 1948 | NUMBER 20

REC HALL CONSTRUCTION BEGINS THIS SPRING

News Capsules—

BY DON WHELAN

We Sling It; You Sing It

Bob Taft was still doing a little extra-curricular activity. In addition to his "very important (his wife's words) job" as Ohio senator, some time was found for Another-Taft-in-the-White House tub-thumping. On a Mid-West tour he attacked HST on nearly everything from police state price control to UMT and socialized medicine. Another Republican, House Speaker Joe Martin produced this gem: "Democratic 'Spendicitis': You make it; we take it. You lend it; we spend it." Trumanites' chance comes next week when patron saints Jefferson & Jackson are lauded.

Whodunit

A special train from New Delhi to Allahabad, India, took the ashes of Mohandas K. Gandhi, late Hindu leader, to a junction of the subcontinent's three holiest rivers. There they were to be dumped in. Military guards were necessary to shake off worshipers who would cling to the slowly moving train, while less ardent admirers threw flowers and listened to hymns and prayers over loudspeakers. Back at the capital, the government investigated "high places" in search for those guilty in the Hindu leader's death. A prince and a prime minister were held for questioning.

Life Staff May Shorten Height

Consumer soap and meat prices reflected the downswing in commodity markets last week. As prices stood before the Lincoln's birthday holiday, there was still not much danger of a serious recession, although economists were still divided on what would result from the stock market slump. That wholesale flour prices fell after the greatest single month's decline in Chicago Board of Trade history may mean a lowered price for bread, but not for some months at least.

How Does He Do It?

Meanwhile, the Senate wondered just how a shrewd Chicagoan was able to make $200,000—some said three of four hundred thousand—on the market break. Whether he had "inside information" to help with the killing was query No. 1. In the hubbub no one seemed to remember that grain speculation is, after all, perfectly legal.

Ike To Omar

General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower has stepped down from his post as Chief of Staff. His successor, General Omar N. Bradley, was sworn in last week in the office of Army Secretary Kenneth Royall with the President as a witness. The former Supreme Allied Commander in Europe was presented with a third oak leaf cluster to his Distinguished Service Medal and an engraved cigarette box. He is soon to take over his new duties as president of Columbia University in New York.

DRAPER, ADLER TO PERFORM AT U. T.

Draper and Adler will be featured at the next of the U. T. artist series, Friday, February 20, at 8:15 p. m. in the Alumni Memorial Auditorium. Paul Draper is an interpretive dancer and Larry Adler is a harmonica artist.

ROCK, NUNN REPRESENT YW AT CONFERENCE

Margaret Rock and Lorrie Nunn have been selected by the YWCA as the delegates who will represent the organization at the coming Tennessee State Student Christian Conference.

The conference will be held at Sarritt College, in Nashville, on the three days of February 20-22. It will feature Rev. Ray A. Burkhart, a widely known family relations consultant, and Miss Muriel Lester, who is international secretary of the F.O.R.

The Sunday program of the Y WCA will be a program of prayer, in keeping of the Universal Day of Prayer called by the World's Student Christian Federation. Florence Housch will sing The Lord's Prayer.

Alpha Sig, Theta Plan All-Campus Poster Contest

Publicity For "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay"

An all-campus poster contest, sponsored by Alpha Sigma and Theta Epsilon, starts Saturday, February 14 and ends March 13.

Each week two posters on the theme "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay,," will be chosen for the final contest. A first prize of $3 and a second prize of $2 will be awarded. The weekly results will be printed each Saturday in the ECHO.

The rules for the contest are:

1. Participants must be students of Maryville College.

2. There is no limit on the number of posters a student can enter. If more than one is entered in the same week, all are judged in that week.

3. The poster can be on any idea as long as there is fittingly inscribed, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay."

4. They must be on regular size poster paper, (22x28).

5. Name must be put on the back only.

6. All posters become the property of Alpha Sigma until after March 21.

7. The decision of the judges is final.

The posters are to be turned over to Ben Gearhart, 317 Carnegie Hall.

FRENCH CLUB

Harold Henry spoke at French Club at its meeting Thursday night, and told "What's Going on in France Today." The program was concluded, as is customary, with the singing of the French national anthem, Le Marseillaise.

Rev. J. B. Bernardin To Speak At Vols

Rev. J. B. Bernardin, pastor of the Episcopal church in Maryville, will speak to Student Volunteers Sunday night.

As his topic, Rev. Bernardin will take the title, "They Found The Church There." Drawing from personal war-time experience in the South Pacific, where he served as a Chaplain, Rev. Bernardin will describe the spiritual conditions of that area during the recent war.

Miss Martha Barnwell will present the special music.

Barbara Adams Presents Recital

Mrs. Barbara Sullivan Adams, music major from Maryville, will be presented in the first sophomore piano recital of the semester Tuesday, February 17, at 4:30 p. m. in the YWCA Rooms. Her program, which will constitute the second half of the recital, is as follows: Prelude and Fugue in E Major, W.T.K. Book I, Bach; Fantasie C Minor, Mozart; Nocturne Op. 9, No. 1, Chopin; Movements Perpetuals, Assez modere, Tres modere, Alerte, Poulenc.

The first half of the program will include Vegin Tuetta Amor, Durante, Mary Arvidson, Ramond Babelay, accompanist; Sonata Op. 26, Andante Con Variazioni, Beethoven, and Prelude No. 18, Chopin, Fred Sieber; Se tu m'ami, so sospiri, Pergolesi, Evelyn Smith, John Sayre, accompanist; March from Love for Three Oranges, Prokofieff, Charles Huffman; Spirit's Song, Haydn, Gloria Messamer, John Sayre, accompanist; and Etude in E Major Op. 10, No. 3, Chpoin, Dan Winter.

ANOTHER STEP FORWARD

STUDENTS VOTE THURSDAY ON MARYVILLE NSA AFFILIATION

Maryville College students go to the polls on Thursday, February 19, in order to decide whether Maryville will become affiliated with the National Student Association.

The NSA movement represents an advance in student affairs. It is the effort to gain for students in universities and colleges the voice and recognition that a body 1,300,000 strong is due. If the movement becomes established, it may well prove to be as imit may move toward creating dignity and respect for the status of students and student organizations.

Originated in 1946

Conceived in Chicago in the spring of 1946, the NSA was officially born in Madison, Wisconsin, on the campus of the University of Wisconsin. 700 delegates, representing 350 educational establishments, were present to lay the foundations for the structure.

The stated aims of the organization are:

1. To secure the eventual elimination of all forms of discriminatory educational systems anywhere in the United States, regardless of race, color or creed.

2. To raise standards of academic freedom and rights for students.

3. To expand the world-minded interchange of ideas among educational groups, and abolish the provincial and localized prejudices and loyalties that exist.

No Partisan Politics

The NSA flatly states that it will not enter into partisan politics. At the founding convention this basic tenet was seriously threatened when known Communist elements attempted to gain recognition. Failing to do so, they attempted to rout the entire convention with a Molotov-style walk-out over the race issue. They were permitted to walk-out.

The race issue was, as is to be expected, hotly debated. However, the point favoring racial equality was carried, and in the election run-off for officers of the cabinet of five the treasurer, Leeland N. Jones, of Buffalo, N. Y. is a Negro. President is William B. Welsh of Berea College, Kentucky.

The NSA has been given official recognition by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the UNESCO, and has received a personal letter of congratulation and encouragement from President Truman. The NSA may well play a vital role in both national and international educational circles in the future. The part Maryville College will have is in the hands of its students, and will become clear on the 19th of February.

YMCA PRESENTS ONE-ACT PLAY TOMORROW

"More Than Just Choosing" is the title of a one-act play which will be given by the YMCA in Bartlett Hall, Sunday at 1:30.

This play is written and directed by Tom Wheeler, who is the author of the radio plays that have been given over WGAP this semester. These plays are sponsored by the YMCA and YWCA jointly, and have been broadcasted at 2:30. The one act play which is to be given Sunday is a follow-up of the program sponsored by Student Volunteers, which was held by Dr. Barbour after the February Meeting last Sunday night. It concerns the choice of vocation that faces us.

Acting in the play are Glen Knecht, Rogar Cowan, Billy Lynn and Andy Clark.

February Meetings Concluded With Thursday Service

ECHO Continues Sermon Summaries

The Thursday morning service of the February Meetings concluded the 1948 series, which were led by Dr. Clifford E. Barbour of Knoxville. Last week the ECHO carried summaries of all sermons through Friday morning, February 6. Summaries of the succeeding services are as follows:

"The Basic Resources for Living"

Acts 1:7, 8 was the scriptural text chosen by Dr. Barbour Friday night for the subject "The Basic Resources for Living." He began the discourse with the three biological urges: 1. the urge to function efficiently, 2. the urge to protect the individual from hurt or extermination, 3. and the urge to protect the race from annihilation. He pointed out that in the animal kingdom up to the human level these urges are the responses to external stimuli, but at the human level the stimuli are internal. Christ has given us three comparable urges which Dr. Barbour enumerated as follows: the capacity to create, the capacity to control and the capacity for conviction. He explained that these capacities are enlarged and developed through fellowship with Christ.

"To Whom It May Concern"

The Saturday morning Scripture lesson was taken from the first chapter of John's Gospel. Dr. Barbour said the Bible has been referred to as a letter from God—"To Whom It May Concern." It tells of God's love and desire for fellowship with His children. His love was great enough to pay the awful price of His Son's life in order to gain that fellowship. But does it concern me? The answer is yes if I am honest. And on my journey to Heaven, I need a guide and counselor. Christ has been there, knows the way and will lead me and comfort me with His Holy Spirit if I take up my cross daily and follow Him. I may not understand everything I'd like to know, but the power of God will come into my life.

"Truth At The Cross"

In his Sunday morning sermon on "Truth at The Cross", Dr. Barbour pointed out that only a few went all the way with Christ and that His own world rose up against Him, but it was the power of God working out salvation for you and me.

"Some Inconvenient Convictions"

The Monday morning topic was "Some Inconvenient Convictions". Dr. Barbour listed these as the necessity of obedience to God, the futility of material riches without spiritual salvation, the law of retribution, and the urgency of following Christ. When we learn that "it is comfortable to be good", these convictions become convenient, and guide as along the road of Truth, he added.

"Are You Honest About It?"

Tuesday morning's Scripture lesson came from Galations 6. The topic was "Are You Honest About It?" There is an appearance and feeling of honesty in our formal church vows, according to Dr. Barbour, but it doesn't go deep enough. We've got to be Christians in our hearts if we expect to change the course of history in favor of Christ. And the only standard of judgment in the life to come will hinge on whether or not Christ is living in our hearts now.

"Meeting The Measure of The Stature of Christ"

Dr. Barbour's topic on Tuesday night was "Meeting the Measure of the Stature of Christ." His text was drawn from Ephesians 4:13. In expanding his topic he brought out four main points as follows: 1. Don't trade your life for trifles; 2. Don't gamble your life away and pay too much for too little; 3. Make your decisions

(Continued on last page)

Disc Club Presents A Symphonic Poem

The Merry Pranks of Til Eulenspiegel, a symphonic poem by Richard Strauss, will be featured at Disc Club Thursday, February 19. Jane Martenis, junior music major from Elkton, Maryland, is the commentator. The meeting will be held in Thaw 214 at 6:45 p. m.

O. P. PFLANZE, '40 ACCEPTS POSITION IN BERLIN ARCHIVES

Mr. Otto P. Pflanze, Jr., '40, recently accepted a position with the German War Documents Section of the U. S. Department of the State. He will be stationed in Berlin and will work in the German archives.

Mr. Pflanze has completed his work for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in History at Yale University Graduate School since his discharge from service.

Dr. Lloyd Speaks At Hope College Religious Meetings

Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd will be the speaker at the Religious Emphasis Week, February 16 through February 20, at Hope College in Holland, Michigan. There will be services every morning in the middle of the morning and three night services. Hope College is a co-educational college related to the Reformed Church in America.

After these meetings Dr. Lloyd will attend a meeting of the Consulting Committee of the National Council of the YMCA in New York City.

From New York he goes to Buck Hill Falls, Pennsylvania, for a meeting of the Western Section of Reformed Churches holding the Presbyterian System throughout the world. Representatives from North and South America including six denominations will attend.

$1503.84 Pledged, $752.20 Collected On Fred Hope Fund

The 443 pledges of the Fred Hope Drive total $1,503.85 as of February 10. The amount shows an increase of $276 over the tally of December 10.

The goal for the drive is $1,500 in actual money, and so far only $752.20 of the amount pledged has been paid.

TICKETS HANDED OUT

TWO PLAYS PRESENTED BY EXPERIMENTALISTS FRIDAY

Experimental Theater presents "The Pipes of Dunbar" and "Common Clay," two one-act plays, at 7:30 and 9:00 Friday, February 20, in Bartlett Auditorium.

Laid in Sheffield Castle in 1576, "The Pipes of Dunbar" is the story of Mary Queen of Scots, who is trying to decide between the throne of England and the love of Leicester on one hand, and release from prison and faithfulness to her husband on the other. Margy Newland is starred as Mary Stuart; Tim Sykes is the Earl of Shrewsbury, Governor of the Fortress of Shrewsbury. Bill Starr plays the part of the Queen's suitor, Earl of Leicester; Wallace Moore, Lord Bothwell; and Bill McIlvaine, the guard. Director of the "Pipes of Dunbar" is Max House.

Novel Twist to "Common Clay"

"Common Clay" is a novelty act laid in a court room. "The audience should be surprised and perhaps hypnotized by this play," said Marge Prall, director. The characters are the judge played by Bob Holley, Jane by Carrol Kennette, Mason by Joe Poland, policeman by Jimmy Dance, Steve by Charles Warner, clerk by Bill Nish, the mother by Dot Holverson, and the detective by Ben Gearhart. Joe Claud is assistant director.

The play committees include Lois Lehr in charge of properties and Peggy Brooks of costumes, Jimmy Dance and Betty Baumer as house managers, and Bob Watkins as stage manager. Lois Deobler and Mary Wooldridge will handle make-up, and Bud Engle will supervise the lighting. The stage craft class is making the sets from designs by Jean Almy.

Tickets for Two Performances

In order to avoid overcrowding, tickets will be handed out in Pearsons lobby Thursday at supper and Friday noon for the two performances.

EDITOR ANNOUNCES ANNUAL DEADLINE

Buffie Carver, editor of the 1946 CHILHOWEAN, announced today that all material for the annual has been sent off to the publishers in Nashville. 570 copies have been ordered, most of which have already been sold; however, there will be a limited number of extra copies.

Collecting from the various clubs for their pages will begin Monday

YM-YW Chatterbox Becomes Branch Of Student Center

Construction will begin as soon as weather permits on a new Recreation Center to be located between the Federal Gym and Wilson Field. Materials for the structure have been allocated by the Federal Works Agency and actual construction costs will be $17,000. It should be completed in time for the opening of next semester.

According to present plans, the Chatterbox will move to one section of the new building where it will have a concession bar and storeroom. In addition, there will be space for a Student Council office and a lounge. The two large rooms, probably furnished by the YM-YW reserve building fund, will be about twenty by forty-five feet.

One of Five Buildings Approved

The building is one of five approved for the college by the FWA. Two, the Federal Gymnasium and the practice house, have already been constructed, and this, the third, was to have been a dramatic arts center. By agreement, however, with Miss Katherine Davies, chairman of the division of Fine Arts and Miss Jessie Wild, assistant professor of Drama and Speech, the dramatic department will use the two rooms in Bartlett for its classroom and studio.

Blue prints have already been prepared by Barber and McMurray, of Knoxville, the college architects. They show the building to be about 70 feet long across the front with 2,400 square feet of floor space. Not of the prefabricated type, the materials will come from government stockpiles. Foundations for the structure are to be of cinderblox, similar to the other frame buildings.

The Chatterbox, as part of the center, is scheduled to be open during football games. Profits from the concessions and YM and YW activity money will be used for operation of the Rec Hall.

Friday, 13, Deals Perfect Weather

Friday, the thirteenth proved a lucky day for East Tennessee residents yesterday when the thermometer hit a high of 73 degrees. Laying aside coats and shedding rainboots, Maryville students once again enjoyed an out-of-season spring day. Most of them had forgotten that such days ever occurred in this part of the sunny South, where nothing but snow, sleet, and rain have greeted them when they stepped out-of-doors

The ever persistent winter weather man rebelled again last night, however, and ordered the heaviest deluge of rain that has been recorded in years. In the lowland areas many people suffered from rapidly rising floodwaters, and the temperature at midnight dropped to 54 degrees. It has been gradually falling ever since. It was predicted that the high for today would be 56, falling to 39 tonight.

POLL PROVES MEN INTERESTED IN MSR

"With your present understanding, do you feel that Men's Student Representation will be of value to student government at Maryville College?"

Yes—120
No—40
No opinion—31

The above question was composed by Scott McClure, vice president of Student Council. It was presented to men as stated above, without definition or clarification. In the near future a meeting of all the men will be called to discuss Men's Student Representation. If you don't want the decision to be someone else's, be there and make it yours.

The Leap Year program planned for tonight has been postponed until a later date.

YM-YW Sponsor Sunday Programs On Station WGAP

The YM and YW are sponsoring a fifteen minute radio program each Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock over WGAP. To give as professional as possible the rendition of original materials of an inspiring nature is the purpose of the broadcasts.

All programs are written, produced, and directed by students. Tom Wheeler, chairman, Milford Castrodale, and Ben Paxton represent the YM; Katherine Carpenter, chairman, Barbara Eggleston, and Margie Newland represent the YW on the joint committee which is in charge of the arrangements. The committee has drawn upon many resources and techniques of modern radio.

"Two for Admission" is the title of the broadcast to be given on February 15.

SEMINARY OFFICER TO BE SPEAKER AT SUNDAY VESPERS

Rev. William A. Benfield, Jr., Th.D., who is Vice-President of Louisville Presbyterian Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky, will be the speaker at the Vesper Service February 15.

Monday Dr. Benfield, who is a teacher of practical theology, will be available for interviews. He is interested in talking to Pre-Ministerial students, especially those interested in the Louisville Seminary.

I. R. C.

I.R.C will present a March of Time movie on Greece at its meeting next Monday night at 6:45. The movie will be preceded by a short business meeting.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO
Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

Volume 32 Number 20

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

EDITORIAL STAFF

Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Ruth Ramsey, Ilda Mosby, Mariagrazia Merlanti, Dick Sprague, Carroll Stegall

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Leslie Webb, Ruth Davis

FRESHMEN APPRENTICES
Jean Hunt, Mary Lyerly, Hazel Holm, Elenor Kramer, Denald Whelan

SPORTS STAFF

Kenneth Olsen ..... Editor
Herbert McCallum ..... Sophomore Reporter
Maynard Noble ..... Freshman Apprentice

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF

Business Manager ..... Ruth Williams

SENIOR ASSISTANTS
Mary Jane Long, Florence Housch

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Margaret Weaver

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANTS
Bob Watkins, Joe Claude, Janet Blackmore

FRESHMEN ASSISTANTS
Barbara Altfather, Anita Withers

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1948

NSA, REC HALL, SENIOR PRIVILEGES DISCUSSED

Student Council deliberated for two hours last Wednesday evening on three subjects considered among the most important on the agenda for the semester: NSA, the rec center, and senior privileges.

Four members of the publicity committee presented the history, purposes and government of the National Student Association in order that Council members may be better prepared to present it to the classes at their respective meetings on February 19.

Council president E. J. Cotton announced the decision of the college to give an FWA building for a rec center, originally intended for use by the dramatic art department. The building will incorporate the Chatterbox, a lounge, a Student Council office, and an athletic section, and will be erected across the road from the swimming pool. Construction is to start this semester. Supervised by a social committee representing Council, YM and YW, this will be the first building on campus completely student operated.

There followed a brief discussion of the proposed centralization of all student organizations under a social chairman.

Elsie Onifer discussed some developments on senior privileges, but nothing definite can be announced until the present proposals and penalties have been presented to the student body.

I. M.

CLASS MEETINGS THURSDAY

Next Thursday the student body will decide whether or not it will affiliate with the National Students Association. The purpose of the organization is still vague in most students' minds, but each class' council representatives will conduct meetings in an attempt to clarify all misunderstandings and to present information the students have not yet heard.

The purposes of NSA are manifold, but because it is a relatively new organization it has not gained the strength we feel sure it will someday possess. Its outcome will be measured by the interest of its members—members like we could become.

In one of our front page stories much is explained about the structure of NSA. More can be learned from the pamphlets on display in the library. Every student should acquaint himself with the facts before the Thursday class meetings, for we truly feel that affiliation with NSA is a big step forward for the students of Maryville College.

Much Echo About Nothing

BY CRAIG FISHER

PRECIPITATION: 24 inches in Chicago; 19 inches in New York; 14 inches in Pittsburg; 45 inches in Western North Carolina: we would like to remind you that you are in one of the dryest parts of the United States at this writing.

One Pistol Creek has leapt its dikes; flood gates are open in TVA dams; Mae Merriweather screamed "Fire!" in chapel when umbrellas stacked four deep began to steam in unison; Peggy Howell, spotted standing in a mud puddle, smiled sanely, "Oh, just testing for depth"; Beau Brummel, splashing out of the dining hall, threw his sou'wester gallantly over the feline beside him remarking to the world that sugar was soluble (which reminds us that the shortest distance between two dates is a smooth line); so gone until next year same station are the days when Mary Lyerly could fall in the fish pond trying the ice.

TRIBUTE: Mrs. Newberry's A period class sang "Happy Birthday" to Abe Lincoln last Thursday. From under one of the chairs in the rear of the room quavered the chorus, "Roll Over, Roll Over'.'

When Ray Kirby turned 19 last Thursday, Dot Stater marched over to his table and kissed him once for luck.

Scene: Charlie Kirkpatrick pulling down window in Carnegie basement.
Wife: "Good thing. A cold wave's coming."
Charlie: "Yeah?.....What's her name?"

Another basement man, Al Mead, signed three cards at the last February meeting "just to play safe." And while on the topic, it was Barbara Blair who wanted Dr. Barbour to talk all day so we wouldn't have to go to classes.

Elenor Kramer in-ad-ver-tent-ly turned in a story on the pre-minstrels as Echo copy on a story about the pre-ministerials.

SOUND TRACK: The Vesper Choir posed for a retake of its Chilhowean and publicity picture yesterday. Rumored: that Ted Pratt's Public Relations office rejected the first one because the choir was a half step off pitch in the action shot. Also hazarded: that Doc Griffitts didn't adjust his aperture to the halo effect. We can see John Shew shutter at that one.

FUGITIVE from Herb's Half Acre: The Eight Balls, leaders of the basketball league with 12 wins and 1 loss, were dropped in the tournament by the P. B.'s, whose 4 wins and 9 losses had put them near the bottom.

The Y men got a report from satan when the boy sopranos from the Vesper Choir trounced them in an overtime at Volley Forge. The Faculty volley ball team, which is tied with Y for second, has strategically placed one of its members over at least one class each choir player attends, and is confident of eventual victory.

The debate team, working feverishly for the coming meet, has some very intellectual members. Tom Stovall rose to defend the affirmative stand in a practice workout, and found his fist full of negative cards. He staggered along like a second lieutenant for a while until Dr. Queener turned around to relight his water pipe, he snatched his affirmative notes in a manner reminiscent of sleight of hand.

DR. GALLUP: Indiscriminately we asked the question, asked bums, morons, intellectuals, poets, and pre-ministerials. We weren't particular. We just wanted the answer to a question of moment. Question: What are your specifications for the woman of your life?
Kolter: "Will I be quoted?"
Cameron: "Feminine gender."
Cummings: "You can't print this."
Easter: "Beat it. I've got to study my Music Appreciation."
Sprague: "I'm poll editor."
Gillette: "No."
Holley: "Who?"
Baxter: "You'd better come to our prayer meeting."
Broyles: "You'll have to ask my wife."
Welch: "Will Gracie see this?"
Davis: "No high powered neckers."
Mr. Henry (new treasurer): "I.Q."
Walt Menges. "Hah."
Flood: "Hah."
Lambert: "Hah Hah."
Haaf: "Integrity."
Collins: "Women? Earning power."
Morrison: "Remind me to get some bug killer tomorrow, please."

(We blame all misquotes on a superlative of McCallum's that got tangled up in the linotype machine.)

TALK OF THE WEEK BY DONALD REEVES

Four Types of Students Eat In Dining Hall; Last Group Welcomed

BY DICK SPRAGUE

It has been estimated that about 670 students trudge, fight, or slide their ways to Pearson at least twice a day to partake of their daily bread. Some, in search of coffee, make their journey three times.

These 670 people have been analyzed for almost every known characteristic, and the data has been tabulated so as to simplify man's understanding of himself. He can tell from the latest charts and opinionaires whether he is conservative or radical, tall or short, happy or depressed.

Realizing our duty, we placed observers throughout the dining hall. We are sorry to say that the Presbyterian method of arrangement could not be used for the results. We had to divide them into at least four types.

All-Business Type

The first type, which may be personified by Junior Napkinlap, is of the executive calibre, all business. Every meal every day he arrives promptly, says as many greetings as are necessary, is annoyed by the time lost waiting for grace to be said, and is conservative in any conversation in which he is forced to participate. Like Annie Rooney's Mrs. Meany, he stares in disgust at anyone who seems to be enjoying himself at the table. He's also one of the commanding type: "Pass the sugar, cream, bread, butter, meat, potatoes, peas, bread, butter, peas, potatoes, bread, butter. . . ." One might sometimes recognize him by the legs of his silverware or the pad on each side of his plate to keep the table from wearing out his elbows.

Across from Junior usually sits a petite young thing, sweet, lovable, Phyllis. She sits hemmed-in by two big bruisers and very quietly smiles all the time. Coy, by nature, and mannerly, she would never suggest by speaking that she might be able to carry on a conversation with anyone other than her roommate. When the waitress asks, "Who wants seconds?" she gives a quick, imploring glance, she restrains her hunger pangs, and leaves. Junior can sometimes convince her that she doesn't even want her dessert.

Jacks, Jills, and Trouble

The third group of diners has several divisions. There are Jacks and Jills who must always help each other carry the pail of water. (That is, the lovebirds who die each time they come late and can't find two seats together; the "assistants" who want Jill to come "tumbling after"; and the "Gimmee somuf what John jusemptied" who makes waiting on any table an uphill climb.) There are Little Jack Horner's who put in their thumbs to pull out the plumbs. (That is, the birds who switch desserts, snitch a little from the neighboring dishes, and feel mistreated if Phyllis happens to get a larger portion one time.) And last in this group are the few Jack Bennys who flee at the mention of 10 cents for napkins or 25 cents for someone's birthday party.

The last and, finally, the welcome group is the all-inclusive average men (and women) group. Some are slightly odd; others more-so, but they're all agreeable. Somewhere in this conglamoration of humans is the prize, the perfect diner. Maybe he sits at your table. I'll bet your waitress prays for him.

Library Collection Valued At $150,000; $4,400 Spent Annually

BY ROWENA MANN

One of the most frequently visited places on our campus is the main floor of Thaw Hall. Though many students concede this statement true, they would at the same time admit that little is actually known about the college library.

The present library was moved from the Lamar Memorial Library Hall to Thaw Hall in 1922. Since that time it has grown to a collection of well over 50,000 volumes, making it one of the largest college libraries in Tennessee. The total value of books is estimated at $150,000.

Although the books most read by the students are on language, history, and religion, they seem to have time to read fiction as well. There are now over 2200 fiction books, the most popular of which are located in the browsing collection. As the books become older, they are put in the stacks and replaced by later volumes. Pre-ministerial students and freshmen doing research on religion will find that a large percentage of the books are on religion, but "variety" is still the keyword.

$1000 Spent For Magazines

Of the total $4400 expended annually for books and periodicals, $1000 is spent for magazines. While it is impossible to say which of the magazines are the most read in the periodical alcove, the magazines most often checked out from the stacks are Colliers and The Saturday Evening Post.

The beginning of each semester finds each of the sixteen student librarians answering countless questions from "Is that the card catalogue?" to "Do you have a black book this wide and this thick by 'Somebody' Smith?" At present the librarians are sometimes troubled by misplaced books. . . . since this is the first semester that freshmen have been allowed to use the "stacks".

ARE YOU A GOOD ROOMMATE?

This Quiz Grades You As Hermit—Or Ideal Dorm Companion

One of the most important college courses isn't listed in any catalogue—but it might be called "Living With A Roommate." Just in case your roommie is too polite to tell—better give yourself a quick check-up.

Answer "No" or "Yes" to these Varsity Magazine questions. If you answer "No" to at least 11, you're a pretty fair roommate; 13 to 17 means you're wonderful; more than 17 indicates you're too good to be true. If, on the other hand, your "No's" are below 9, Varsity, the young man's magazine suggests that you become a hermit.

1. Do you lose your temper easily?.....
2. Do you sulk?.....
3. Do you talk too much?.....
4. Do you read out loud?.....
5. Do you gossip?.....
6. Do you fail to consider his (or her) likes and dislikes?.....
7. Do you expect to be included in his invitations? .....
8. Do you brag about your work, friends or social position?.....
9. Do you rely on your roommate for amusement?.....
10. Do you talk too much about your heart interests? .....
11. Do you talk too much about your troubles?.....
12. Do you try to be the boss?.....
13. Do you ask questions about personal matters?.....
14. Do you share his interests?.....
15. Do you lack respect for your roommate's privacy?.....
16. Do you play the radio continuously?.....
17. Do you take the best drawers and hog the closet space?.....
18. Do you litter the room?.....
19. Do you neglect cleaning up after a party?.....
20. Do you forget to pay half of mutual expenses?.....

VARSITY Magazine, Oct. 1947

Echoes of The Past

The last two years of Artists Series—

March 25, 1944—Farman String Symphony conducted by Harry Farbman.

November 16, 1944— Nicola Moscona, Greek Basso-baritone.

March 5, 1945—Egon Petri, pianist.

November 19, 1945— Edith Schiller. pianist, and Harry Farbman, violinist.

February 23, 1946—Miliza Korjus, Swedish Coloratura.

April 29, 1946—Guy Maier, Modern Pied Piper of Piano.

November 1, 1946— Leonard Pennario, pianist.

February 24, 1947—Eddie Katz, violinist.

Found in the HIGHLAND ECHO, February 10, 1940—

A Frankie and Johnnie question-answer feature:

"What do you think of a third term?"

Movies advertised for the week were:

Gulliver's Travels, Algiers, and The Hunchback of Notre Dame.

$100 Missing From Baldwin Hall

Over $100 was reported stolen from Baldwin Hall last Wednesday, seventeen girls having lost varying amounts. Some girls said they lost only $1, while one girl reported as high as $48 missing.

Most of the thefts were centered in the wing of the second floor, money from fifteen girls living there having been taken. There was one room located on the main hall of the second floor and one in the third floor wing.

An investigation is in progress.

FASHION NOTE

Here lies an atheist
All dressed up and no place to go.

—Tiger Rag

SPANISH CLUB HEARS MISS DAVIES

Miss Katherine Davies, of the music department, spoke to the Spanish Club Thursday night about her recent trip to Guatemala.

Miss Davies also showed various types of colorful native crafts, including woven cloth, baskets and jewelry, later projecting some color slides taken in that country. Commenting upon the characteristics of the people, Miss Davies said that they exhibited dignity and courtesy in a marked degree.

CAMERA CLUB

Camera Club's new enlarger was officially opened to use by the members at a called meeting Thursday night. The enlarger is a 2 1-4x3 1-4 Federal-type enlarger, and greatly increases the facilities of the darkroom, and scope of work which the members are able to do.

Until the enlarger has paid for itself, a fee of 25c per hour will be charged to those using it. Anyone paying the 50c dues can become a member of the club and is eligible to use the enlarger.

The next meeting will be the regular one, Thursday 19.

Everybody's Happy!

Because Our Low Prices Permit You to Enjoy Restaurant Meals Often—with Courteous Service and Pleasant Atmosphere

COULTER'S RESTAURANT

With

VITAMIN PILLS

Build up your resistance to colds and infections with our balanced vitamin pills, each of which provides a day's requirements of essential vitamins, when taken supplementary to an adequate, rounded diett

BYRNE DRUG CO.

Real Fruit Flavors

Visit Us Often When You're Hungry

NICELY'S GROCERY

AMAR MEMORIAL

HERB'S— Half-acre

●THE MARYVILLE—LMU rivalry on the hardwoods has been a lively fracas during the past few years. . . . Last year the Railsplitters lost one, and took one in a two-game series with the Highlanders. The first engagement the Scots won by a 46-42 count and the second the 'Splitters' took, 43-40. This year should be no exception. We're glad the fans got to see the LMU squad in action on the home floor. . . . but for the snow, they would have been here on January 17.

●COMPARATIVE SCORES . . . (you can take them for what they're worth). . . . .The Blue and Gray of Harrogate beat Emory-Henry, 80-57, and came out best with the ETS Buccaneers, 75-55. . . . these were mid-January games. The Scots' count, now 1-1 with both teams gives a little idea of the competition. Emory-Henry is definitely the weaker of the two teams. . . . and a 53-40 upset scored by the Wasps is yet a red-mark for the Highlanders.

●A WINNING BATTERY COMBINATION—that of Ken Stinnett and Leon Berrong, catcher and pitcher on Coach Honaker's diamond team of last spring, is dissolved. Stinnett, who is now coach at Walland High, did not return to the hill last fall. This week Leon reported that he was considering signing with a professional baseball club. The Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Browns are two of the clubs that have approached Berrong. If Leon doesn't return this season, the pitcher who steps to the mound in his place will have to have a lot on the ball to match Berrong's 9-1 record of last season.

●VALIANT is the description for Maryville's grapplers in last Saturday's match with the Appalachian Mountaineers. They Were Expendible applied for Scot wrestlers in all but three bouts. Anyhow, the Apps and Scots jangled the digits in Saturday's 25-8 match with last year's loss at Boone 28-5.

●CHARGING like a bull and striking with the speed of a blue racer, Hershell Merriman's round with McClain of Appalachian was the show of the night. Muscle tactics combining weight lifting, football, and wrestling kept McClain on the defensive as Hersh came out with a 6-0 decision.

●AN ESCAPE plus ability to hold Harris down gave Herb Palmer a 1-0 decision and Marvin's draw with Jenson provided Maryville with other point-winners last Saturday.

●PINNED! Saddening is that word to Captain Ken Ross, who lost his first home bout Saturday in two seasons—by a pin. In Ross' first year out, he lost his opening match, but up until last Saturday night he was victor in each of his other home bouts.

●MISSING from referee togs at the home matches this wrestling season is the two-man referee team of last year—"Woody" Everett and Phil Evaul. Both have been part-time wrestling coaches for Maryville Wrestlers, and were especially good grappling officials. Julius Nicely is the current official for home matches. Nicely believe it or not is a Maryville wrestler of a few seasons back. In fact, Nicely was wrestling in Ken Ross' 136 class when Ross was a freshman way back when. . . . . (When was it, Ken?)

●CLOSE BUT CHAOTIC is the best way to put the results of Thursday night's "B" game. Alcoa High snubbed an assortment of Maryville hoopmen 24-21 in a basketball game. Sounds like a second-rate intramural contest. Which gives us an idea, why doesn't this conglamoration of hoop-hounds challenge a leader in intramural basketball competition? Since. . . . the "Bee Boys" would be at home in intramural-class strife, and the average intramural squad would give them a heyday of a cage contest. Besides, quite a bit more of college interest would result from such a clash than from the usual slip-shod, slap-happy, fouling feud that results in preliminaries here.

●SEVENTY-TWO points in a single game is a record set by Gene Reynolds last year playing in intramural competition with the 8-Balls. Reynolds' 8-Balls steamrolled the Devils 141-17 in Bartlett and Reynolds' scoring evidently stands as a college record. Recently we read that Brownell Bryant, 6' 4" LMU forward this season, had scored 83 points in a game with Tennessee Wesleyan during his freshman year. LMU's Blue and Gray called Bryant's single-game-scoring "a national record."——Can you top this one?

●WHILE ON THIS LINE we might add that Bryant's highest score this season stands at 29 points in a game with Emory-Henry January 16. Tennessee Wesleyan's starting center—a six foot lad named Payne (No. 14 by jersey indentification)—pocketed 33 points against Lindsey-Wilson Jr. College at Columbia, Ky. recently. This would not be extraordinary except for the fact that Payne has but one good lung. Frequent rests during his games are necessary, but despite the rest stops, he was second in scoring honors for the Bulldogs. On two jump occasions, his lengthy arm out-distanced those of Brahams and Boring, Thursday night.

Echo Sports

LMU Bows To Scots, 62-57 Highlanders Drop T W, 51-44

'Splitters Downed In Lightning Game

Maryville's Hoopmen bounded ahead in the final period of the fastest game of the season last night in Alumni Gym to outpoint LMU's Railsplitters, 62-57.

The 'fast break' was out-moded on the Scots' home court as the ball passed from hoop to hoop at the rate of a busy revolving door.

The score was tied at seven stages of the game in the first period, and neither team ever got over two points ahead of the other.

Tonight the Scottie Five head for Jefferson City for a date with Carson-Newman Eagles. Next Monday the Orange and Garnet Quint meets Tennessee Wesleyan at Athens and on Wednesday visits LMU at Harrogate. Carson-Newman will be here next Saturday.

Capt. Ray Lillard's 10.6 average is currently tops among the Scot quint. Lillard is followed closely by Brick Brahams with 10.2 and Bob Boring with 9.9 in the season averages in points-per-game.

Two minutes' blockade resulted at the start of the game. Both the Scots and the 'Splitters' were unlucky on the rim at first, but both began to collect points as Garner hooked the Scots' first field goal, followed by McCarter's goal from the foul stripe and a field shot by Peters as the score began 3-2 in three minutes' play.

Five consecutive pushes by Brick Brahams' trusty right arm brought the Scots' count from 12 up to 23 and tied the score at four places.

A quick field goal by Bob Boring put the Scotties ahead, 26-24, at half-time whistle after the Lincolnmen were brought to the mid way standstill by forward McCarter's efforts in pacing the LMU quint, who racked two field goals each in the first period.

Fast dribbling by Boring enabled this speedy guard to bucket a neat lay-up shot and turn on a scoring stretch for Maryville which quickly put the Scots ahead to stay with a 40-31 score in the first five minutes of the second half.

Ray Lillard's jump-shots added fuel to the fire as the Highland Cagers lashed at the Blue and Gray's six feet pointmakers, Huskey and Peters.

By three minutes before the end, the Highlanders held sway, 60-52 and Bryant and Begley left the floor on fouls.

Connections from the charity line by Lillard and Boring finally iced the game with the Scots in command, 62-57.

(Continued on page four)

Wesleyan Falls As Scots Stage Rally

Tennessee Wesleyan's Bulldog cagers tenaciously held the first half of a basketball game in Alumni Gym Thursday night but lost to the Scots who had to recapture the lead twice in the last half to win, 51-44.

The Wesleyan Five were never over six points in the lead in the opening period, and the Scots battled nip and tuck to finally pull ahead in the last three minutes of play. The lead changed hands three times in the last period after the Bulldogs relinquished their 6 point margin in the first five minutes of the second half.

Brick Brahams found his range with smooth one hand shots from every corner of the court to pile up six consecutive field goals and keep the Scotties in the ball game in the final period.

At the opening of the game, the Wesleyans started out with two points made at the foul line by Carr at Boring's expense. Hill added a field goal and Wesleyan held a 4-0 edge after three fumbling minutes of play. Bob Boring broke the scoring ice for Maryville with two foul throws. Ray Lillard hooped in a goal as the first five minutes dwindled away and the Bulldog quint commanded a 8-4 start.

Joined in scoring by Roberts, Boring, and Brahams, Lillard's three field goals were matched by three of Wesleyan's Payne. The half-time score had the Bulldogs ahead, 22-18.

The Highlanders strung a tight zone around the Wesleyan cagemen to hold them to a lone free throw while jumping to a 26-23 lead in the first five minutes of the second period.

As Brick Brahams began a six straight scoring series, the visitors regained the lead with Hinds, Heitz, and Kelly sallying around the basket. Halfway through the last period, the Wesleyan Bulldogs carried a 35-33 lead on the Scotties.

Braham's point pocketing ways held up to put the Scots out in front again, 42-39 with but five minutes left in the game.

With the Scots leading 43-41 at the 3-minute break, the Wesleyan attack broke down as fouls robbed them of two starting forwards. The Scottie Cagers set in and made quick work of salting away a seven point margin to take the game, 51-44.

Tenn. Wes.		Maryville
Kelley (6)	f.	Lillard (9)
Maxey (3)	f.	Reynolds (3)
Payne (7)	c.	Brahams (25)
Carr (6)	g.	Boring (7)
Hinds (12)	g.	Hamil (2)

Subs—Maryville: Roberts (3), Garner (1), and Berrong (1). Wesleyan: Irvin (3); Hill (5), Heitz, (2).

Scotties Stop Pioneers In Second Meeting, 62-50

On the home floor last Saturday night, the Scotties defeated Tusculum for the second time in a week, 62-50.

Holding the Pioneers scoreless during the first two and a half minutes of play, the Scots kept a slight lead, but Tusculum narrowed its lead to 16-13 halfway the first period. Just before half-time Tusculum tied the score with one of Jones' six baskets at 20-20. Berrong sank a foul shot to make the score, 21-20 as the first period ended.

Ray Lillard and Hugh Hamil passed the power in the last period as each got four baskets to bring the score to 49-31 in ten minutes play of the last period.

Substitutions poured from the Scot bench, and the Pioneers upped their count 9 points in the last three minutes while holding the Highlanders to 2 points.

Final score: Maryville 62, Tusculum 50.

Tusculum		Maryville
Caton (4)	f.	Lillard (15)
Norton (5)	f.	Reynolds (4)
Jones (13)	c.	Brahams (13)
Broyles (6)	g.	Hamil (12)
B. Bingham (6)	g.	Boring (6)

Subs—Maryville: Roberts (5), Garner (2), Berrong (1), Campbell (2), and Keny (2).

Tusculum: Pyle, (2), Welt (1), Cole (1), King (4), Self (6), and K. Bingham (2).

Eight Balls Lose; Tourney Continues

The Eight Balls, tops in the intramural cage standings this season, lost their second game this year to the P. B.s, 17-15, as the third round of the basketball tournament ended. Other results included a Rebel landslide over the Tenn Penns, 29-20, a 29-23 victory for the YMCA over the Wholly Rabbies, a Viking 30-25 rally over the Ex Scrubbs, and a close win for the Creamers over the Dingoes, 25-24.

P. B.s Nose Out Eight Balls, 17-15

The Eight Ball upset came after a close game, which the Eight Balls led most of the way. In fact, the P. B.s were only in the lead twice, once by one point during the game and of course by two points at the last whistle.

Rebels Down Tenn Penns, 29-20

The Rebels had little or no trouble in taking the Tenn Penns for a losing ride, 29-20, on Wednesday. The Rebels led at the half, 13-9, and held the safety margin all the way

YMCA Flattens Rabbies, 29-23

YMCA continued farther up the climb to the top of the tourney by treading on the toes of the Wholly Rabbies to the tune of 29-23. Baird of the Rabbies was the high point man with four buckets.

Vikings over-run Ex Scrubbs, 30-25

The Vikings made off with all the ExScrubb merit in their 30-25 victory. Hap Brahams made the game interesting with 16 of the victors' 30 points tallied on his personnel record.

Creamers Edge out Dingoes, 25-24

In the last game of the week, the Creamers managed a close 25-24 victory over the Dingoes. At the half, the Dingoes led, 13-9, but scored only once in the third period to make the score 14-18 in favor of the Creamers. A last minute come-back failed, leaving the final score 25-24.

Men's Tumbling Team Organized

With a few backward somersaults and some forward rolls, the tumbling team works out Tuesday and Thursday afternoons in the Alumni Gym at 3:30. The team is strictly an intramural activity and will not compete against any outside teams. However, any student activity desiring the tumbling team as entertainment should contact Andy Clark or Jack Reid.

Under the tutelage of Coach Johnson about twelve aspirants have shown up for the practices so far. To date there have only been three practices and any one wishing to join may do so at any time. Such contortions as the cartwheel, straddle vault, head walk, double knee circle are all in a routine afternoon's practice. These same gymnastics will be taught to freshmen physical education classes in the forthcoming weeks.

Intramural Office Announces Program

Intramural basketball is to continue until about the twentieth of this month after which there will be a week of play-offs, among the teams in top place until the winner for the tournament is decided, the intramural office announced this week.

Softball practice will start about the first of March with a week of practice before the teams are formed.

The volleyball teams will continue to battle it out until at least the first of March over in the Bartlett gym.

Beginners swimming classes will start February 16 for both men and women.

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

All Your Bakery Needs at
LYNCH BAKERY

MORE HOME WRESTLING
W. N. U. TONIGHT; KNOX Y AND CHATTANOOGA NEXT WEEK

Catamounts Grapple On Scot Mat Tonight

Maryville College will renew a wrestling acquaintance with Western North Carolina Teachers College tonight on the Alumni Gym mat at 8:00. Next week, the Scots will buck a heavy schedule with home matches against Knoxville Y on Tuesday and the University of Chattanooga on Thursday.

Apps Break Scots' Heart in 25-8 Win

Applachian State wrestling was to much for the unseasoned Scot team on the home mat last week, downing the ambitious M. C. men, 25-8. The mighty Mountaineers tossed the Highlanders around for a draw, a decision, and four pins. Only two Scots came through with decisions.

Setting a fast pace in the first three bouts, the Mountaineers played havoc on the whole home team. Jim Marvin, minus 7 pounds, fought to a 1-1 draw with Appalachian 121 pounder, Danny Jenson. J. A. Cameron, Scot 128 pound grappler, marred his undefeated season when, after a futile attempt to slam, he slipped into Hubert Dancy's tricky pin hold after 1 minute 36 seconds of the second period had gone by. Ken Ross pulled a similar stunt, marring his record when Sparks, an Appalachian 145 pound man who trimmed down to 136, pinned him in 1 minute 18 seconds of the second period.

Tubby Callaway, back down to 145 pounds after starting the season at 155, was decisioned by Flay Sellers, 615. Bob Proffitt, a neophyte to wrestling, fell to A. A.U. champ Emil Tomick in 1 minute 45 seconds of the first period.

The luck changed for Maryville, but not for long, as Hersh Merriman, 165 class and Herb Palmer, 175 class, decisioned their opponents. Merriman won his bout 6-0 against McClain, a second string Appalachian wrestler. Palmer took his decision by the narrow margin of a 1-0 point score from Charles Harris, Southern A.A.U. Champ in 175.

Scot heavyweight John Briggs ended up on his shoulders too as Carolina AAU heavyweight champ, Allen Bandy, 220 pounds of beef, pinned him with his weight in 2 minutes 12 seconds of the second period.

Sidelights

An interesting sidelight to the match was presented by the Tubby Callaway-Emil Tomick switch. Tomick had trained down to 155 from 165 just for the chance to meet Tubby. Meanwhile Tubby had gone down to 145 after finding 155 too heavy for him to work in. Imagine A. A. U.'s champion Tomick's surprise when he found out that he was wrestling a beginner—Bob Proffitt. Another sidelight is the Appalachian coach, R. W. Watkins. He is a Maryville man—

(Continued on page four)

Scots, Teachers Met in '41

The Scotties and the Catamounts had their first mat scrap back in 1941 when "J.D." Davis replaced the late Coach Thrower at the helm of the Highland clan. Maryville ran rampant over the Carolina boys, 21-13. Since that match, the two squads have not met.

This season, among other teams, the Catamounts meet Appalachian State twice. The Mountaineers skinned them, 29-5, in the first match.

Probable Maryville Line-Up

Jim Marvin, a 128 pounder last year, has trained down to 121 and will wrestle in that weight this week. Last week he tied Jensin, Appalachian 121 class, 1-1.

Freshman J. A. Cameron will wrestle in the 128 pound class tonight for Maryville. J. A. has won three out of four of his matches for the Scots, losing to Dancy last week by a fall.

In the 136 pound class will be Ken Ross, captain of the Highland crew. Ken has pinned two men this season and decisioned one, losing last week when Sparks, Appalachian, pinned him in the second period.

Tubby Callaway will wrestle in the 145 class again this week. After starting the season in the 155 class, Tubby has moved down to 145 for the Appalachian match.

In the 165 class will be Bob Proffitt, freshman who wrestled varsity for the first time last week. Lawrence Major, the regular 155 wrestler, is still convalescing from an ankle injury he received in practice.

Hersh Merriman will tangle in the 165 class with the W.N.C. man. Hersh is undefeated this season.

In the 175 class is Herb Palmer, a freshman. Herb is also undefeated this season.

John Briggs is still wrestling heavyweight in the absence of Paul Yambert, who was injured in the Georgia Tech match two weeks ago. John was pinned last week by Bandy, Appalachian's 220 pound heavyweight in the second period.

U. C., Knox Y Here Next Week

The University of Chattanooga will wrestle a return match here next Thursday. Originally scheduled for Friday, the match has been moved ahead to give the Scots a rest before the Auburn trip on Saturday.

Knoxville Y will wrestle here on Tuesday, February 17, Coach Davis is also trying to arrange a match with Baylor Prep for the "B" team Thursday.

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.
30-Minute Service
between
Maryville and Knoxville

Date Night!
To make a hit with the New Gal you just met in School . . . . be sure that you have a Clean White Shirt for date nights.
9 Pounds Clothes Washed, Rinsed, Damp Dried, Soap, Bleach, and Water 35c
SPECIAL
9 Pounds Washed and Dried 50c
SELF-SERVICE LAUNDRY
Phone 1055

ALUMNI NEWS

Through These Portals

PERSONALITIES

'44—Bill Buford is in seminary in Atlanta, Ga.

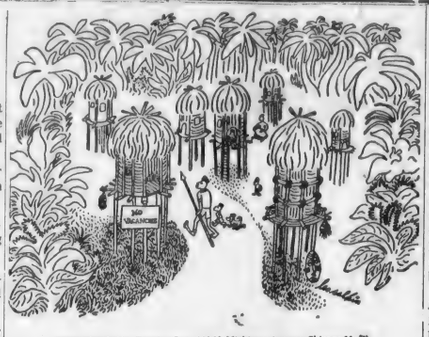
Dave Seel graduates from Tulane med school in June. He has transferred his residency from Florida to New Orleans.

'45—Jack Scott has graduated from Princeton Theological Seminary and has been ordained.

'46—Mary Batchelor is the director of young people's work at the Peach Tree Road Presbyterian Church in Atlanta, Georgia.

June Townsend, who is now Mrs. Kirk Odencratz, is working for her PhD. in chemistry at Rutgers with her husband, who is working for his doctorate in physics.

'47—Dick Moore is doing post graduate work at U.T. while waiting to get into dental school.



Squire Kemp is working for an insurance company in Tallahassee, Fla.

'48—Ruth Kaye is a personal buyer for "Washington's leading department store."

"Big Mitch" Mitchell is working for his M. A. in physical education at U. T.

'49—Rush Lester has entered law school at the University of Alabama.

Kathy Theda is at Columbia majoring in creative writing in her spare time.

Copyright 1946 by Esquire, Inc., 919 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago 11, Ill.

Do You Know?

The first printed student publication was a monthly magazine called the "Maryville Student".

When the boarding hall was first opened at Baldwin Hall in March, 1871, board was offered at $2.00 a week.

Mrs. Kathryn McMurray, who is now director of the College Maid Shop is also its founder.

The porch on Memorial Hall was built new during the Christmas holidays in 1940 and donated by Mrs. John Walker.

The Chilhowean price today is the same as it was back in 1937, so not everything has gone up.

In 1940 The Student Council began its first year of work and one of their projects was that of installing a public pay phone.

Malted Milks sold for 10c at "Kay's" in 1942.

The Freshman Orientation Program was started in 1939 when they first used the book by Dean McClelland, "Making the Most Out of College."

Campus-Wide WSSF Drive Scheduled First Week In April

John Poland, chairman of the Steering Committee of the World Student Service Fund, announced that the WSSF drive is tentatively scheduled for the week of April 18.

The Steering Committee of the YM-YW sponsored WSSF is composed of chairman, John Poland; vice chairman, Chester Phillips; YM representative, Jim Black; Y W representative, Mildred Orr; chairman of publicity, Carroll Stegall; chairman of solicitation, E. J. Cotton; and program chairman Bill Nish. The organization is composed of the presidents of all the campus organizations.

POINT SYSTEM

Marion Henderson, captain of the Chillies, and Bea Siebold, captain of the Howees anonunced Thursday, February 12, the players chosen for the Point System basketball tournament which starts Tuesday, February 17. Forwards for the first team Chillies are Betty Caldwell, Betty Jo Clemons, and Sarah Kemp; guards are Marion and Merle Henderson, and Margaret Rock. Second team forwards are Elsie Jean Cotton, Peggy Sangster, and Vera Lusk; guards are Alberta Gates, Barbara Berthoff, and Doris Venton.

First team Howee forwards are Janice Lindsay, Ruth Haeps, and Bea Siebold; guards are Mae Meriwether, Alice Davenport, and Faye Robinson. Second team forwards are Wilma Robinson, Christine Gilreath, and Bebe Ledbetter; guards are Betty Lou Walker, Loretta Nunn, and Ruth Rogers.

Dancing

A new dancing class for freshmen women has been organized. The new class met for the first time Thursday, February 12, and will meet each Tuesday and Thursday at the fifth period.

I parked my car out in the street
If it should start before I wake
I pray the Lord put on the brake.

The four ages of women
at five—Braid
at twenty-five—Maid
at fifty—Made over
at seventy-five—Prayed over
The four ages of men at five—Bad
at twenty-five—Bad
at fifty—Bad
at seventy-five—Bad

February Meetings

(Continued from page one)

with a view to the future; and 4. Make your pattern the Master until you catch His spirit.

Dr. Stringham sang "Stranger of Galilee" as a solo.

"Life's Biggest Question"

Wednesday morning, Dr. Barbour preached on the topic "Life's Biggest Question", using 2 Timothy 1:1-14 as Scripture. We have made important advances by seeking and learning the answers to how, when and what, but we have not done so well with the answer to why. We've succeeded in making life a topsy turvy bargain counter where real values are cheap, but trifles are expensive. The true answer to why starts with "In the beginning, God," then "In the fullness of time," Christ, and finally, the Holy Spirit for comfort and guidance. This Trinity offers the answers to all our questions and difficulties, Dr. Barbour stated.

What Is Your Trouble?

Dr. Barbour devoted the last of his evening meetings Wednesday night to a discussion of individual needs. Most troubles are merely symptoms of a more fundamental trouble, he pointed out, and for them all the Christian ethic is the final answer. For loneliness there is Christ's companionship, for a sense of futility the consciousness that God is attempting to realize his perfection in man, and the consciousness in man of his sense of mission in accomplishing this. For intellectual difficulties, the things which cannot be tested by measurement can be verified even more convincingly by experience. And for a feeling of guilt there is God's assurance that he does not condemn, "Go and sin no more." Christ is the final answer, he emphasized, "take him."

"Yoking Yourself With Christ"

In his concluding service on Thursday morning Dr. Barbour used Matthew 11:20-30 for the Scripture lesson, "Yoking Yourself With Christ" was the subject of the final message. Emphasising both positive and negative aspects of his subject, Dr. Barbour said that the yoke of Christ hurts only when we pull against it; when we "team up" with Him, he carries the heavier load. The obligation to take our place by His side is urgent and binding on all of us in these times, because the world is still rejecting and crucifying the Saviour. In the closing moments of the meeting, Dr. Barbour pointed out the futility of trying to live without Christ as contrasted with the tremendous potentialities of a life centered in His will. He gave his own sincere testimony of his belief in the truth of his teachings during the meetings and invited each student to sign the decision cards passed out by the monitors.

TALL GIRLS' CLUB PLANS DANCE FOR MAY DAY

The newly organized Tall Girls' Club, unofficially called "High Society," will dance at the annual May Day program.

The club, under the direction of Lois Deobler, is learning the five basic positions of the hands and feet and some basic ballet steps. The club meets on Mondays and Thursday at 4:30.

Colleges Waste Time, Says College Prexy

"Most American colleges do as much harm as good, waste as much time as they use well, and turn out as many failures as successes". That's the opinion of Robert M. Hutchins, chancellor of the University of Chicago.

In an exclusive interview in Varsity, the young man's magazine, Chancellor Hutchins provides several answers to the question' "What's wrong with America's colleges and high schools?"' Foremost, he says, is the trend towards specialization that begins in even the earliest schooling years. "Students learn to raise poultry, file library books, and predict the weather—but they don't get a sound cultural background."

"Most schools", the young and militant educator told Varsity, "have over-lapping courses that teach the same thing again and again. Or, at the other extreme, they hammer away at so small a segment of the subject that they teach nothing at all. Students learn one poem down to the last comma—but learn little about poetry in general."

In his own school, Hutchins declared, students can be graduated at eighteen or nineteen years of age—giving them time to specialize and receive doubly-complete educations by the time their counterparts in other colleges have received their bachelor's degrees.

PETIT WILLIAM

Little Willie lit the rocket
That he put in dady's pocket.
Next day he told cousin Dan,
"Papa is a traveling man."

Little Willie hung his sister
She was dead before they missed her.
Willie's always up to tricks.
Ain't he cute; he's only six.

Choir, YMCA Lead Volley Ball League

Choir and YMCA hurried to an early lead in the third and final period of the intramural volley ball league which began this week. Both teams have won two games and lost none.

Athenians, Faculty, Rockets, and Scorpions are tied for second place with one victory out of two games.

Standings

	W	L	Pct.
Choir	2	0	1.000
YMCA	2	0	1.000
Athenians	1	1	.500
Faculty	1	1	.500
Scorpions	1	1	.500
Rockets	1	1	.500
Brewers	0	2	.000
Odds and Ends	0	2	.000

That's Not My Mother!!

COLUMBUS, O.—Ohio's pretty Dairy Queen, 24-year-old Evelyn Priddy of Pickerington, knows from experience that the old adage about leading a horse to water applies to a calf, too, even though the plaster cow in the background offers real grade A pasteurized milk. The synthetic cow, used in the demonstration of modern milking machines, only served to frighten the calf, who apparently preferred its own flesh-and-blood mother.

SCOTS EDGE LMU . . .

(Continued from page three)

M.C. Box Score

Player	F.G.	F.T.	F.	T.P.
R. Lillard	6	4-6	3	16
B. Brahams	7	1-3	3	15
Reynolds	0	2-2	1	2
Boring	8	3-5	3	19
Hamil	3	1-1	0	7
Roberts	0	0-0	0	00
Garner	1	1-3	4	3
Berrong	0	0-0	1	00
Totals	25	12-20	15	62

LMU Box Score

Player	F.G.	F.T.	F.	T.P.
Bryant, f.	2	3-6	5	7
McCarter, f.	6	3-6	0	15
Huskey, c.	8	3-5	2	19
Peters, g.	4	0-0	1	8
Begley, g.	3	0-0	5	6
Watson, f.	1	0-0	2	2
Totals	24	9-17	15	57

HO MR. K.
The girl was mad and called him Mr.
Because in fun he merely kr.
So just for spite
That very night
The naughty Mr. kr. sr.

SIX DEMERITS
Now I lay me down to sleep

Apps Fell Scots

(Continued from page 3)

wrestled for Maryville when Bob Thrower was coaching here.

Summary

121 lb. class: a draw between Jenson (A) and Marvin (M), 1-1.
128 lb. class: Dancy (A) pinned Cameron (M) in 1 minute 36 seconds of the second period.
136 lb. class: Sparks (A) pinned Ross (M) in one minute 18 seconds of the second period
145 lb. class: Sellers (A) decisioned Callaway (M), 6-5.
155 lb. class: Tomick (A) pinned Proffitt (M) in 1 minute 45 seconds, first period.
165 lb. class: Merriman (M) decisioned McClain (A) 6-0.
175 lb. class: Palmer (M) decisioned Harris (A), 1-0.
Heavyweight: Bandy (A) pinned Briggs (M) in 2 minutes 12 seconds of the second period.
Referee: Julius Nicely. Timer: Bud Engel.

Stop for a tasty cup of Coffee.

C. & L. CAFE

Check your Shoes; bring them in for new soles or heels, cleaning and dying

AMERICAN SHOE REPAIR SHOP

PARK THEATRE
Tuesday-Wednesday
"Last of The Mochicans"
All Star Cast

CAPITOL THEATRE
Monday-Tuesday,
February 16-17
"Gunfighters"
Randolph Scott, Barbara Britton with Bruce Cabot
Selected Comedies and News

Wednesday-Thursday,
February 18-19
Spencer Tracy, Katharine Hepburn, Robert Walker, Melvyn Douglas
"The Sea of Grass"
Selected Comedies and News

February 20-21
Friday-Saturday,
Bill Boyd in
"Dangerous Venture"
Selected Shorts, plus: "Jesse James Rides Again"—No. 4

Give Him Your Portrait!

The man in your life will cherish the flattering likeness our camera creates, which is further enchanced by the delicate printing.

WEBB STUDIO

Your Doctor's Orders . . . .

Are speedily, skillfully transformed into the medications required for a quick recovery, in our prescription department.

Rely on your physician's diagnosis and prescription. Rely on us to fill the prescription correctly.

PARK DRUG STORE

Fabric so light . . . woven so tight!

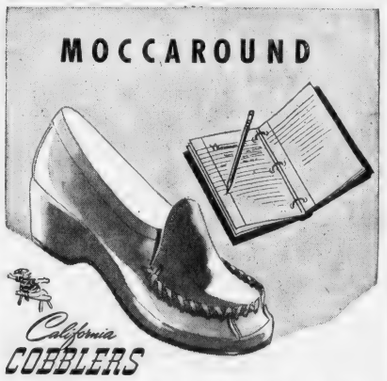
ALLIGATOR Galecloth . . .

All-'round protection from chill, wind and rain!

16.50

You'll be amazed how often you'll wear your new Alligator Galecoat—with its combination of exclusive water repellent finish, and tightly-woven fabric! Here's good, honest protection, lasting satisfaction. One of the most popular coats in the Alligator line, now on display! See it—buy it now!

Other Alligator Rainwear



13.50 to 35.75

Proffitt's

Men's Dept. Main Floor

"Since 1919 The Best Place to Trade"

MOCCAROUND

California COBBLERS

Glove-supple leathers, laced by hand, left unlined to breathe right with your foot. Enough? Wait! You'll not find a tack, a nail, a stiff innersole to detract from your foot-happiness. . . but you will find mile after mile of joyous walking, your foot resting on a spring felt cushion, supported by a flattering, comfortable heel. (In fact, Moccaround is so good that GOOD HOUSEKEEPING guarantees it!)

Available in
Prairie Tan Fresh Green
Lava Black Rich Loam
Real Red
and a combination of Goldrush and Greige
at 7.50

Proffitt's

Smart Shoes Main Floor

LAMAR MEMORIAL LIBRARY
MARYVILLE
FEB 25 1948
COLLEGE
MARYVILLE TENNESSEE

CONGRATS!
DEBATERS

THE Highland Echo

CONGRATS!
JOHN BRIGGS

VOLUME 33 MARYVILLE TENNESSEE FEBRUARY 21, 1948 NUMBER 21

News Capsules—

BY DON WHELAN

The Left

Loud throat-clearing could be heard from Democrats last week. Their erstwhile fair-haired boy Hank had done just what he had hoped, just what party "regulars" had feared. In a traditionally Democratic district of New York City's Bronx, a Wallace-sponsored congressional candidate had swamped his nearest (Demo) opponent by 10,000 votes. Meanwhile, Republicans thought twice before cheering: their candidate had run a poor last in the four-way race.

The Right

Congress planned extension of rent ceilings shortly before the Supreme Court upheld the right of federal control. GOP Senate leader Bob Taft said he hoped rent legislation would be out of the way by the first of the month so debate could begin on State Secretary Marshall's Europen Recovery Plan. The plan—often called merely ERP—now seemed to be truly non-partisan foreign policy after GOPundit Vandenberg and the secretary had agreed on certain improvements.

O the Times!

Long numbers were all the rage last week. The New York Times calmly reported a $2,500,000,000 tax cut had been made by the Senate "with manifest indifference and little discussion." The reduction knocked government costs down to a scrawny thirty-seven thousand million.

Answering GOP what-about-China queries, HST asked for $570 million in relief for that distressed country. He made it clear that this sum was not for armaments.

O the Manners!

Prices hadn't stopped their erratic movements. A rally on Monday followed by a slump on Tuesdy indicated more grey hairs & ulcers for speculators. In congressional investigating committees an old row went on over who's been naughty by dabbling in grain.

The Saints

In Democratic Holy Week services—the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner—Harry Truman slammed back at Republican snipers. He urged Americans to vote against "reactionary conservatism." Just whom that meant he did not actually say.

The Irish

For the first time in sixteen years Eire had a new premier. After recent elections the Irish Assembly elected John A. Costello to head a new coalition cabinet to replace the defeated government of Eamon DeValera.

Juanita Johnson, Wheeler Read At Workshop Meeting

Juanita Johnson and Tom Wheeler read at Writer's Workshop Wednesday, February 18. Miss Johnson read two character sketches, "Pen Portraits," that were critized by Charles Hoglan. "Ladder to the Moon," Wheeler's symbolic short story written with poetic prose, was criticised by Nan Wooten.

India Missionaries Visit Geography Class February 19

Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Lipp, missionaries in India for nearly forty years, visited Mrs. D. S. Kramer's geography class on Thursday, February 19. Most of the period was spent with Dr. Lipp answering the questions asked by the class. He later said that the students asked about very complicated subjects, such as the political situations and the caste system.

The Lipps went to India on their honeymoon in 1907, staying until 1945.

Dr. Lipp taught a mission study course during February 15 to 19 in the Blount sub-district training school. The school was held at the First Methodist Church.

Dr. Lipp is now with the Inter-Board Council of the Methodist Church of Holston Conference in Bristol, Virginia.

Ebelacker Elected German Club Prexy

Richard Ebelacker, sophomore from Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania, was elected vice president of the German Club at the last meeting. He is replacing Ed Pancoast, who resigned because of conflicting obligations. Ebelacker automatically becomes in charge of all programs.

At the meeting next Monday evening, 6:45, Barbara Blair will sing several German songs.

YM-YW Sponsor Male Quartet Concert Sunday

Miss Randall, Breedlane Featured As Soloists

A well known male quartet from Knoxville College will give a concert at the YM-YW joint meeting tomorrow, Februry 22, at 1:30, in the library. In addition to some eight well-known Negro spirituals by the quartet, LaVerne Randall, a woman soloist who will be with them, and Frederick Breedlane, their first tenor, will render solos. Their second tenor is John B. Houston, baritone, Clarence Jolley, and bass, Mantheo Wellman. Arthur Kemp is their accompanist and student director.

The program is as follows: Two hymns by the quartet, "Jehovah, Hearken to My Words" and "I Want My Life to Tell for Jesus"; two spirituals, "You Gonna Reap" and "Nobody Knows the Trouble I See," quartet; a solo, "Lamb of God" by Biyet, Miss Randall; two spirituals, "You Better Mind" and "Little David," quartet; a solo, "The Builder" by Cadman, Frederick Breedlane; three spirituals, "Lord, I Want to be a Christian," Miss Randall and quartet; "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho," quartet; "God Is Love" by Ketelby, quartet.

SUPPLY SHORTAGE DELAYS OPENING OF RECREATION HALL

The Recreation Hall, scheduled to open February 18, will not be ready for use for a few more days. Winifred Schaumburg, chairman of the Rec Hall committee, stated the reasons for the delay as a lack of furniture and a postponement in the shipping of the Public Address System. $41 was donated for the P. A. System by the student body as a whole last year, the rest being given by the girls who lived in Baldwin Hall last year. Announcements will be made in Chapel as to the exact day of the opening.

Social Committee Plans Open Dorms On February 28

Open house will be observed in all dormitories Saturday, February 28, from 6:30 to 10:00, under the sponsorship of the Student Government.

Hostesses have been appointed for each dormitory which will serve along with the social committee in receiving.

It is planned to have recorded music in each lobby during the calling hours. One occupant of each room should be present at all times to avoid loss of possessions.

Tea will be served in Bainonian Hall following the tour.

The time schedule for calling at the dorms is as follows: Bartlett Hall, 6:30-7:00; Memorial Hall, 7:00-7:45; Carnegie, 7:45-8:30; Baldwin Hall, 8:30-9:15; and Pearsons Hall, 9:15-10:00.

Death Claims Miss Jackson's Mother

Mrs. L. Jackson, mother of Miss Elizabeth Jackson, assistant professor of English, died last Wednesday, February 11, in a hospital in Hartford, Connecticut. Her death resulted from an appendicitis operation. She had been living in Windsor Locks, Connecticut. Interment was held in Maine.

In addition to Miss Jackson, Mrs. Jackson is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Charles Hurst of Alcoa, Tennessee, and a son, Robert Jackson, of Windsor Locks, Connecticut. Miss Jackson, who did not meet with her classes last week, returned to Maryville last Thursday, February 19.

MR. A. F. PIEPER TO SPEAK AT VESPERS

Mr. A. F. Pieper will be the speaker at the vespers service Sunday night.

The choir will sing a negro spiritual There is a Balm in Gilead and O Praise Ye God by Tschaikowsky.

NINE MEN DRAFT MSR CONSTITUTION

SECOND GROUP MEETING SCHEDULED FOR MONDAY

Nine men, elected at the first group meeting for discussion of Men's Student Representation held last Monday evening, already have begun the first drafting of an MSR constitution. Having met several times this past week, the men intend to complete the proposed constitution in time to present it at a second group meeting in Bartlett Hall next Monday night.

At the last meeting it was decided that the men elected should represent the three main groups of men students, those living on the campus, off-campus transient students, and a third group, the off-campus students whose homes are in Maryville. Tom Stovall, Bill Vogel, Bill Proffitt, Howard Cameron, and Roger Cowan, all campus residents, were chosen to represent Carnegie and Bartlett, while Paul Yambert and Henry Heaps will represent the off-campus transient students. Henry "Tubby" Callaway and Carl Murry were elected delegates for the local men.

Murray Chosen Chairman

At a short meeting of the committee following chapel Tuesday morning, Carl Murray, senior Council member, was elected chairman.

The meeting last Monday night resulted from months of Council discussion during the present term, and approximately 150 men turned out to hear the pros and cons of the organization of men. Scott McClure, chairman of the Student Council steering committee, was in charge of the meeting and opened it by presenting the proposed plan for the reorganization of Student Council.

Council Plans Reorganization

Under the plan, the twenty-two incumbents representing the classes would be supplemented by an elected social chairman, the editor of the ECHO, and delegates both from WSGA and MSR.

"It is hoped," stated McClure, "that with organization and full representation, Student Council will be able to assume more than partial administrative power. We would like to get executive, legislative, and judicial power in the hands of the students."

Since the major problem in such Council reorganization is to establish a means for representing the men, that task has been attempted first. McClure made it clear that the Council was not "trying to force" MSR on the men. "Whatever you make it is what you'll have," he said. "All Student Council wants is a voice from the men and a voice to the men."

A lengthy discussion, held during the meeting, clarified many pertinent questions, after which a motion was made from the floor that the nine man committee be elected.

Committee Task Begun

The committee met Wednesday evening, Thursday afternoon, and Friday afternoon of this week, and have made much progress on the structure of the constitution. The drafting is scheduled to be complete by next Monday evening.

Perhaps the most important feature in the constitution thus far is the retention of the nine men representing, by proportion, the three groups of Maryville men. From among those nine, a chairman will be chosen to sit in Council as soon as Council has revised their constitution to permit it.

Women Debaters Take Trophy At State Tournament

M. C. Teams Take Thirteen Out of Seventeen Rounds

Maryville College emerged victor in all but four of seventeen rounds of debate in the Middle Tennessee Tournament at Murfreesboro, Tennessee, Thursday and Friday, February 19-20.

Two Medals Also Won

The three women of the debate team, Katie Carpenter, Anne Cook and Peggy Cummings, each brought home two medals as well as the championship trophy. In six rounds of debate, the women's team was not defeated—the only women's team at the meet to accomplish this feat. The men's team, composed of John Poland and Scott McClure, won five debates out of six, dropping their final round in a close decision to David Lipscomb College, of Nashville. Thomas Stovall and John Briggs won three and lost three decisions.

Personal Awards Won

Personal awards won at the tournament were all by the women. Anne Cook won first place in temporaneous speaking. Katie Carpenter also won a gold key, taking first place in after-dinner speaking. Peggy Cummings won second place in the division of impromptu speech.

First Debate Monday

At the Smoky Mountain Tournament, which took place in Knoxville Monday of the same week, the men's team, composed of Carroll Stegall and Carl Lindsay won three out of four rounds. The team of Stewart Saul and Jim Torrey broke even, winning two and losing two rounds. The girl's team, Peggy Cummings and Katie Carpenter, won two of the three rounds debated. In the special events, Scott McClure placed first in the extemporaneous and John Poland placed second in after-dinner speaking.

MC Vesper Choir Plans Five Pre-Tour Appearances

Agenda Includes Knoxville, Loudon, Oak Ridge, Maryville

Several local appearances have been scheduled for the Maryville College a cappella choir before they go on tour April 20. The first is in the Second Presbyterian Church in Knoxville, where the choir will sing several anthems at the morning service, March 7. Dr. Clifford E. Barbour, leader of the recent February Meetings, is pastor of the church.

First Presentation of Concert Given In Oak Ridge

The choir will give their first presentation of this year's concert program in the Oak Ridge High School auditorium on the evening of March 21. For several years they have made an annual appearance in Oak Ridge as guests of the youth group from the little Chapel on the Hill.

Choir Will Sing In Loudon On Good Friday

Another appearance which has become an annual one will be in Loudon, Tennessee, on Good Friday, March 26. The concert will be given in the Loudon High School auditorium.

The Second Methodist Church of Knoxville will sponsor an evening concert by the Vesper Choir on April 4.

Home Concert Given April 18

The choir will give a home concert on April 18 at the Sunday evening Vesper Service. All of these concerts lead up to the five-day tour which begins the Tuesday following the home concert. On the tour the group will appear in Chattanooga, Tennessee, Atlanta, Georgia, and Birmingham, and Montgomery, Alabama.

MOYER EXHIBIT CONTINUED TILL TUESDAY, FEB. 24

George E. Moyers' exhibit of water colors now on display in the library will close on Tuesday, February 24. He is a proponent of the more progressive brand of commercial art in the U. S.

Because of its favorable reception, the exhibit, scheduled to close yesterday, has been extended another three days.

Mr. Bernard, professor of art, feels that Moyer's success is due to the fact that his work is "free of abstraction and easy to understand. . . . One is impressed by his straight-forward realism."

Theta-Alpha Sig Announce Judges Of Poster Contest

Two members of the faculty and the dean of women have consented to be the judges for the Alpha Sigma-Theta Epsilon poster contest: Miss Frances Massey, dean of women; Miss Jessie Wild, assistant professor of drama and speech; and Mr. Kenneth P. Johnson, instructor in physical education.

The first of the four weekly contests will end this afternoon at 5:00 p. m. Winners of the weekly contests will be eligible in the final contest for the first and second prizes of $3.00 and $2.00 for the best posters advertising the Alpha Sigma-Theta Epsilon dramatic production, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay."

The contest is open to all students of Maryville College; if your poster is not chosen one week you can still enter and win in the succeeding weeks. The complete list of rules for entry were printed in last week's ECHO and are posted on all bulletin boards on campus.

Charles Naundorf Taken To Hospital

Charles Naundorf, sophomore from North Haledon, New Jersey, entered Blount Memorial Hospital last Saturday, February 14, with the possibilities of undergoing an operation. He is now resting comfortably after "having a rather bad time of it," according to his wife. She added that he can now have a few visitors, but they are not yet sure just when he will be coming home.

The couple live in the trailer camp behind Pearsons Hall.

Lives of Queen Mary, Jane Clay Portrayed Feb. 20

Two Plays Presented By Experimental Theatre

The Experimental Theatre last night, February 20, delved into the lives of Mary Queen of Scots and Jane Clay with two student plays, "The Pipes of Dunbar" by Wilfred H. Pettitt and George M. Cohan's "Common Clay". Miss Jessie Wild, associate professor of drama and speech, is faculty adviser for the group.

Directed by Max House, "The Pipes of Dunbar" concerned the imprisonment of Mary of Scots by her cousin, England's queen, Elizabeth. Denied her throne, her husband, and her child, Mary considers aid from the unscrupulous Earl of Leicester. Despite the Church's annulment of her marriage to Lord Bothwell, she still retains her love for the dashing Scotsman. Not until her jailor reports Bothwell's death does she realize that his visit of a few moments ago was only an apparition; yet. . . . . his coronet still gleamed from the table where he had laid it.

Margaret Newland was well cast as Mary; the other players were Bill Starr, Wallace Moore, Tim Sykes, and Bill McIlvane. Lewis Evans was assistant director.

"Common Clay" Startling

From the first metronome click to the last exaggerated gesture, "Common Clay" proved to be one of the most startling—to say the least—plays ever staged here. Jean Almy's stylized courtroom set focused attention on the flashing light of a metronome, which set the pace for the rhythmic dialogue. Exchanging rhymes were Bob Holley, Carroll Kennette, Joe Poland, Bill Nish, Jimmy Dance, and Dot Holverson. Marge Prall was director and Joe Claud, assistant.

OUR LIFE PREFERRED

MISS DAVIES LISTS ADMIRABLE TRAITS OF GUATEMALAN WOMEN

BY BARBARA WALLIN

Miss Katherine Davies, professor of music at Maryville who spent two weeks in Guatemala during the Christmas vacation, became particularly interested in the women. In a recent interview she told of their customs, appearances and how the missions are improving matters.

Seventy per cent of the women in Guatemala are Indian. The rest are Spanish or Ladino, a mixture of Spanish and Indian. Most of them are very poor and live in small one room huts. They cook over a stone stove in the corner and grind corn on a large stone for their main dish, tortillas. The greater part of their diet is poor, consisting mainly of corn and coffee, accounting for the dull, listless look of the people.

Miss Davies remarked that "Guatemalan women are quite short and have the appearance of antimated dolls." My impression of a Guatemalan woman is of one wearing bright colors, going barefoot, wearing her hair in braids down her back, and carrying her baby on her back as she walks up the mountain road going to market."

The women are expert in making hand woven materials. They like bright colors and have a good sense of color. They are naturally artistic.

Wear Traditional Dress

There are two kinds of dress used by the women. One is for everyday wear, the other is for ceremonial occasions. They have worn the same type of clothes for centuries, thus maintaining their tribal distinction. The skirts are of two types—tight wrap around or full and pleated varying with the tribe. Some are red, some are dark blue plaid and they are usually worn with a pretty woven blouse.

The blouse is called "huipil" which means "my covering". Since these blouses are usually very beautifully embroidered, the women wear them wrong side out in the market. Doing this helps keep them clean and discourages tourists from wanting to buy them.

Their girdles are long and wide and are wrapped around the waist several times. They carry candles and petals in these

(Continued on page 2)

23 HOSPITALIZED THIS SEMESTER

According to the latest report, the college infirmary is empty for the first time this semester. The infirmary has hospitalized a total of twenty-three students this year, most of whom were suffering either with olds or influenza.

Robert Kay, sophomore, who left February 15 and Lillian Conrad, senior, who left February 17, were the last patients treated.

SOME DO SOME DON'T

JOHN BRIGGS LEADS HONOR ROLL WITH 8.7 AVERAGE; JOHNSON, ELZEY TIE FOR SECOND

John Briggs, junior, led the honor roll for the fall semester with an 8.7 average. Juanita Johnson and William Elzey, juniors also, tied for second place place with 8.6 averages.

The complete honor roll for the fall semester, 1947, is as follows:

Seniors

Almy, Jean Esther—6.7; Anderson, Rella Marie—7.2; Boell, Ada Elizabeth—6.0; Brindley, Martha Grace—6.5; Campbell, Janet Louise—6.1; Cook, Doris Jane—7.4; Cornelius, Esther Estelle—8.0; Crawford, Elizabeth Usrula—7.0; Engel, Marian Lewis—7.0; Fink, Alverta Mae—6.0; Frazier, Margaret Elise—6.2; Grubbs, Merrill Howard—7.4; Hawkins, Constance Gaynell—6.0; Henry, James Spencer—6.2; Hoglan, Charles Bagnall—6.1; Horst, A. Thomas—8.3; Housch, Florence Katherine—6.6; Howell, Margaret Hardy—7.5; Jordan, Una Minerva—6.0; Kern, Elaine Ann—6.4; Largen, Edith Merle—7.7; Lehman, Donald Burke—8.4; Long, Dorothy Shields—7.8; McClure, Maurice Scott—8.1; Murray, Carl Calvin—8.3; Nunn, Loretta Frances—8.2; Orr, Zella Mildred—7.5; Powell, Lacy DeWitt—7.4; Ross, Kenneth Wesley—7.6; Russell, Harold Morton—7.2; Saint, Elizabeth Jane—6.6; Sakaizawa, Anna—8.4; Sanderson, Willis—7.6; Sapp, Marjorie McCaleb—6.7; Scruggs, Richard Francis, Jr.—6.5; Seymour, Wilbern Bernard—6.4; Smith, Robert Franklin—7.0; Struble, Eleanor Parkes—6.0; Talbott, Charles Kenneth—7.7; Thomas, Lois Wilson—7.0; Thompson, Ella Mae—6.5; Vaughn, Evelyn Sherry—6.0; Weiler, Marian—6.4; Wheeler, Thomas Van Horn—8.0.

Juniors

Alverson, Bette Belle—7.2; Bailey, Jack Winthrop—6.5; Benedict, Irma Jean—7.7; Bertholf, Barbara Jean—6.5; Black, James Steadman—6.1; Briggs, John McTeer—8.7; Brunson, Anna Jane—6.0; Burris, Bobbie Frances—6.1; Carver, Mary Elizabeth—6.5; Childress, Juanita Anne—6.6; Cook, Lou Ann—6.3; Crawford, Margaret Lorettta—6.8; Crews, Ruthellen—6.7; Cross, Grace Ellen—6.5; Dillener, Florence Marietta—6.2; Ebelacker, Richard Merle—7.0; Eggleston, Barbara Leigh—7.5; Elzey, William J.—8.6; Emory, Betty Jane—7.0; Gentry, Helen Elizabeth—6.1; Gress, Eunice Virginia—6.4; Hand, Virginia Lee—6.3; Hayes, Marianna Long—8.5; Headrick, Muriel Corine—7.1; Hennemuth, Margaret Phyllis—6.2; Hunter, William Harold—6.5; Johnson, Juanita Jeanne—8.6; Jones, Carol Louise—7.2; Keely, John Lawrence—6.0; Kiger, Sara Jo—8.0;

(Continued on last page)

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

Volume 33 Number 21

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

EDITORIAL STAFF

Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Ruth Ramsey, Ilda Mosby, Leslie Webb, Dick Sprague, Carroll Stegall

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Ruth Davis

FRESHMEN APPRENTICES
Jean Hunt, Mary Lyerly, Hazel Holm, Elenor Kramer, Donald Whelan

SPORTS STAFF

Kenneth Olsen ..... Editor
Herbert McCallum ..... Sophomore Reporter
Maynard Noble ..... Freshman Apprentice

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF

Business Manager ..... Ruth Williams

SENIOR ASSISTANTS
Mary Jane Long, Florence Housch

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Margaret Weaver

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANTS
Bob Watkins, Joe Claude, Janet Blackmore

FRESHMEN ASSISTANTS
Barbara Altfather, Anita Withers

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1948

A SLIGHT REMINDER—

Thanks to the house committee members, they sensed our disapproval of the proposed WSGA penalty system presented the other night. Because we disapproved they later held house meetings specificly to discuss the plan. But they weren't required to hold such meetings. Rather, in making out the penalty chart they were merely exercising their rights. If you don't believe it, refer to Article V, Section 2, page 47 in the M book.

SURE THEY HATE IT—

But you girls and you fellows did it to them. You all accepted Town Night on certain conditions, then from among yoursleves you elected some Council representatives to do the dirty work. You thought the responsibility ended there, some of you. But it didn't. Two ways some among you have been falling down on the job.

1) You've been trying to get away with everything you know you won't get caught at. This needs no commentary.

2) You resent it when the Council members do the job they hate to do.

Not only does their sense of duty force them to perform the unpleasant task of keeping up with the uncooperative one-tenth, but also the awareness of how very mortal Town Night is. They know that to keep Town Night on the books, the faculty has to remain convinced that it is being observed according to contract. So it is with a deep sense of responsibility that they do their part in enforcing the rules each Tuesday night. For the nine-tenth of you who would conduct yourselves properly were there no rules, this editorial is unnecessary, and for the one-tenth for whom the rules were fitted and who refuse to wear them, it will be ineffective. It is merely our purpose to dignify the duties which you have forced certain students from among you to assume, and to get you to respect their difficulties whether or not you respect the rules they have to enforce.

C. F.

STUDENT DAY PLANNED
Vera Lusk Appointed Chairman

Meeting last Thursday night for a brief meeting, a lull between the prolonged sessions of the past weeks and the intensive work to be done in the next few, the Council touched lightly on trivialities.

President Cotton announced that sod would be broken Monday for the rec hall, a town night penalty was applied, and plans for Student Day were briefly discussed. The appointment of Vera Lusk as chairman of a committee for said day was announced, the date was set for the day following campus elections, and a climatic party was described in which the results of the elections would be disclosed.

March 4 is the day on which representatives from Council will present the constitutional revisions to the Executive Council, and the hope was expressed that MSR would be in effect by that time. Monday night the Steering Committee is to revise the first three articles of the Constitution, and members, armed with "M" Books, will rehash them next Wednesday night. Tom Wheeler, because of his proved writing ability, has been asked to play Thomas Jefferson, author of the U. S. Constitution.

Much Echo About Nothing

BY ILDA MOSBY

How would you like a nice mouse rug? Or a stuffed mousehead? Of course, the joy of ownership will be greater if you've caught the little critter yourself. But don't despair, there's never been a better season. Poor Ethel awoke to Edgy's 2:30 A. M. cry of "I've got him! I've got him!" That was Number One; Number Two was added to her scalp belt at 3 P. M. the following day. She sets the traps, but someone else must empty them. Kathy Ernest and Janie Jessup aren't any braver and Ann Cress must retrieve the traps.

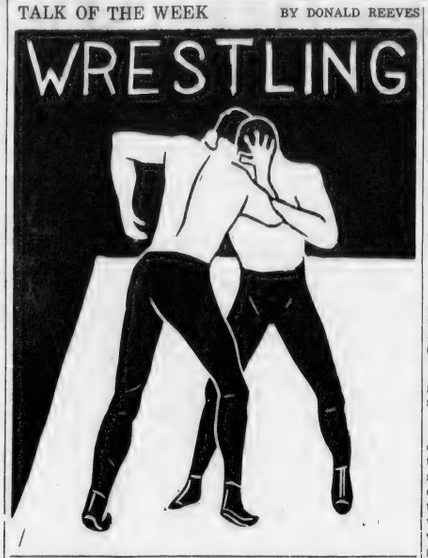
Lib Crawford tried to use some of her acquired knowledge in the minutes of the house meeting the other night and read about the discussion of the "Bendices" ——Mom Worley was having a bit of trouble quieting the dorm for 'prayer meeting' Thursday night when she found that it was a house meeting.....We thought that Gugger and Hoffman had reformed, but, accompanied by Leety, they're confined to higher ground. Wilma Robinson and Rosie Law can sympathize with them—or rather, share their misery.....far from miserable is the way Jean Almy feels since receiving the news that she's been given twelve place settings of silver as a wedding gift.

There went another one! Only that time it was in Baldwin and Mimi Leake collected the hide. Imagine how horrible she felt when her trio of roommates informed her that mice usually come in more than singles—and then the sound of tiny squeaking. Oh, why had she been so cruel?

If you're from the East you call them breakfast buns; everyone else just says sweet rolls.....Charlie Hoglan will probably keep still the next time the conversation at dinner gets a little gay, or maybe he does like his beverages with egg added.....the matrons had quite a time while Marianna was learning just what they do and do not drink.....Mary Holly actually convinced some people that her dime store ring was real.

Fellows always have a more practical attitude toward hunting, so that may account for Tolerico's Trapline, Inc. He should watch for poachers like Bill Menges who kill their own rats insted of securing professional help.

The Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde transition was a pretty quick thing, but Jim Black did almost as well in going from the Devil to St. Peter in just one week (station WGAP, 2:30 Sunday afternoon). Guess there's still hope for some of the rest of us.....congratulations to "Unkie" Bob Kaye.....It happens every couple of years.....Athenian can't keep its hands off the faculty; rather neat job last Saturday night.....along the same line was the discussion of laughter in esthetics class. Why do you laugh? Ignorance, cleverness, irony, (sorry, the other four classifications just didn't register).



Eeek! Is it alive? I'm leaving! Get rid of it! There's only one thing that can cause more excitement in Pearsons than another engagement and that is another mouse. 'Twas a live mouse on Monday, and as has been said, where there's one there's usually more. Two brave lasses chased mouse number two (number one had been caught by the tail and drowned by then) into Owen and McChesney's room. Queer, some people don't like guests, Heard and Vinton weren't any more hospitable and hunted assistance. For three days the charming mouse (or mice?) paid sporadic visits to third floor Pearsons, ate bacon from traps and obligingly left them set. Then Nabholz resorted to poison. Two days, no visitors—as yet. It's getting awfully lonesome..... Maybe that's why 36 has decided to buy a canary. Only, has any one an empty cage? (A rooster would be more practical since alarm clocks aren't very effective in that neighborhood).

Nish and Holverson added diversion to Thursday's wrestling match by arriving with a suitcase. Explanations, please.....those things (matches) are about the most strenuous exercise for spectators of any sport.....Yambert must be a mighty placid guy to keep on smilin' all the time.....the switchboard got a little confused the other night..... knitting at matches has its disadvantages—A little excitement and the yarn disappears downward..... what would happen if some of the fellows sitting in the line-up out on the floor lost their chewing gum? The more excitement, the harder they chew.

Marion Pope and roommate cover the wall cracks with pillows at night so that Things won't crawl out. That sounds like one of the symptoms of the DT's.....Earl Downey pays quite a few visits to it.....Anderson vault is protected by a BB gun. At least that's what one sophomore insists.....Laurie Dales' table gave her a box of candy for a valentine. Coming from those guys that's something..... There are two things that must be mentioned before this column ends. 1. Those few days of spring weather helped to get our spirits out of red flannels. 2. There are no adjectives quite descriptive enough for editors who give their staffs written pop quizzes.....

And as a suggestion—why doesn't some gay Scot learn to play the bagpipes. If the mice weren't charmed into following him to some river bank, at least—mice couldn't stand that for very long.

TALK OF THE WEEK BY DONALD REEVES

Occupying Home Management House Means Fun, Work For Home Ec Girls

BY MARY LYERLY

What do the words "Home Management House" mean to you? Do they mean a pretty room, roomy closet, a private telephone, and home-cooked meals? Well, to each group of two senior home economics majors that is assigned to the little home, they mean these things as well as many more.

Ruth Williams, from Rossville, Georgia, and Mary Gene Lawson, from Pigeon Forge, Tenn., both senior home economics majors, are currently occupying the house, situated above the YW rooms, and are taking on all the responsibilities connected with it, as well as keeping up with their studies, and attending all classes.

Ruth and Mary Gene are living just as a family would live, taking care of the rooms and meals of Miss Gertrude Meiselwitz, professor of home economics, and Miss Geneva Robertson, assistant professor of home economics, as well as those of their own. The girls will occupy the house for three weeks, and during that time they will take turns doing the work. At present, Mary Gene is the hostess, cooking and planning all the meals, and Ruth is the host, helping with the work, bringing in the paper, and doing all the ordinary little household chores.

Has Everything Needed in Home

The house itself is composed of six rooms. These are three bed rooms, a living room, dining room, kitchen and two baths. It is completely furnished with everything that is needed in a home, including a new vacuum cleaner, and a "pint-sized" washer which is large enough to wash the table cloth and napkins.

The girls who live in the house must work under a budget, buying all the food, and planning all the menus, which, incidentally, must be turned in for approval a week before they begin. In addition to the regular meals, the girls must each plan what they call a Relief Day menu. This must be planned on a $.50 per person basis for three meals, $.50 being the amount set up by Blount County as the amount on which a person should be able to live. Mary Gene's menu for this type of day included oatmeal with raisins, toast, grapefruit, coffee, and jelly for breakfast; bean soup, slaw, jello, and milk for lunch; and baked potatoes with cheese sauce, buttered spinach, and pumpkin pudding for dinner.

Girls Must Carry Out Project

Each group of girls is assigned a certain project to carry out during their stay in the house. The project which has been assigned to Ruth and Mary Gene is that of waxing the floors and furniture. This, along with all the other duties of running a home, helps to determine what grade the girls will receive for their work in the house.

The program for the girls for their three weeks stay includes one formal dinner to which faculty members are invited and a buffet dinner to which anyone may be invited. Every two groups is assigned a tea to which approximately sixty guests are invited.

Fun? Oh yes, but it's a lot of work, too.

COLLEGE CALENDAR

Sat. 6:15 Societies Meet
8:00 Carson-Newman Game
Sun. 1:30 Joint YM-YW Meeting
7:00 Vespers
8:00 Student Vols
Mon. 7:00 MSR Meeting
German Club
"M" Club
Art Club
Tue. 5:00-10:00 P.M. Town Night
7:00 Gospel Fellowship
Wed. 8:00 Lambuth College game
8:00 Student Council
Thur. French Club
Spanish Club
Ministerials
Pre-Med Club

MISS DAVIES ADMIRES WOMEN OF GUATEMALA

(Continued from page one)

girdles to be used in their worship in the cathedral.

Saturday Is Market Day

They go to market on Saturdays, camping out all night on the market square. They can be seen with little fires built to cook their tortillas. The next day they spread out their wares, which may be beautiful materials woven at home, tropic fruit grown on their little farms or some type of Guatemalan food which they have made from corn.

They trudge the many miles home the next day. Anyone who has a horse or donkey is very rich. At home they live in a one room thatched shack which has but one door and no smoke outlet. In this one room they sleep, eat, cook, and their babies are born.

High Mortality Rate

Seventy-five per cent of the Guatemalan children die before they are two years old. The women carry their babies in a shawl on their backs with the baby's head bobbing and its feet sticking out. In one tribe they wear red caps down over their heads in order to keep out the "Evil Eye." As soon as the babies can walk the little boys are dressed like their fathers and the little girls like their mothers. When a girl is 15, her family arranges her marriage. Very often the girls aren't satisfied but there isn't much they can do about it

"Guatemalan women have a dignity which you respect very much," says Miss Davies. "They would rather go without than beg. The men have great respect for the women, too."

Women Dominate Carib Tribe

There is one tribe where the women dominate the men. This is the Carib settlement along the Carribean Sea. In this tribe there is a common language but there are also two separate ones. Because of this the women can talk among themselves without the men understanding them and the men can do likewise.

Very few Indian women can read or write, but the missions are doing their best to educate them. They have practically no medical care except what they receive from the missionaries. One can usually tell a Christian woman from a Pagan one by her clean appearance.

In concluding, Miss Davies said, "These native women have a fine, uncomplaining, stoical dignity. The people have an inate, stable quality which is due largely to the influence of the missions. One can't help but admire them."

Check your Shoes; bring them in for new soles or heels, cleaning and dying

AMERICAN SHOE REPAIR SHOP

MAGNIFICENT MALTEDS

Hep Prepsters stop at our fountain for complete lunches and flavor-rich nutritious malteds.

Efficient Service Always

BYRNE DRUG CO.

Stop for a tasty cup of Coffee.

C. & L. CAFE

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.

30-Minute Service between Maryville and Knoxville

CAPITOL THEATRE

Monday-Tuesday
February 23-24

Danny Kaye in Samuel Goldwyn's

"The Secret Life Of Walter Mitty"

Starring Virginia Mayo

Wednes., Thurs., Fri.
February 25, 26, 27

Bing Crosby, Barry Fitzgerld
Joan Culfield, Percy Kilbride

"Welcome Stranger"

For Dashing Appearance, A JACKET

Not just any jacket of course but one of our new Sports Jackets, fully lined for warmth, designed for wear with your slacks.

Colors:
Blue and Brown

Sizes: 35-42

"The Store of Famous Brands"

Register-Farmer
MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE
MEN'S WEAR

Give Him Your Portrait!

The man in your life will cherish the flattering likeness our camera creates, which is further enchanced by the delicate printing.

WEBB STUDIO

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

PARK THEATRE
Tuesday-Wednesday
"Trail Street"
R. Scott A. Jeffarys

Echo Sports

FEBRUARY 21, 1948 Page Three

BASKETBALL SEASON CLOSES WEDNESDAY
MATMEN vs. AUBURN TONIGHT

HERB'S— Half-acre

●WILL HISTORY REPEAT? Last year the Highlander basketball squad divided victories with Carson-Newman—lost one here, but won there. This is ECHO's headline on the final game last year: SCOTS TRAMPLE CARSON-NEWMAN IN WALK-AWAY CAGE CONTEST, 44-28. Leave us not stick our neck out, but we're thinking that history should repeat itself as the Scots strike at the Eagles tonight.

The chances that the Scots will do a reversal on January's score are good in the Lambuth-Maryville game Wednesday night. The score there was close most of the way through—except for Lambuth's landslide in the final period. Given the home floor, the Maryville Scotties should end their season with a victory. . . . we hope.

●FORTITUDE AND PLENTY OF IT must have gone on the mat with Yambert when he outsmarted huge "Dutch" Magrath for three rounds. Just the thought of Magrath's sinewy arms entwining around his neck would have given the average wrestler a cold sweat—but not Yambert, he grins. Magrath is so dumbfounded that he hardly knows more to do to Yambert except give him a rubdown —while looking to his team's side for hints on how to roll Yambert over. However, Yambert's tactics in keeping out of a pin position gave Maryville a draw.

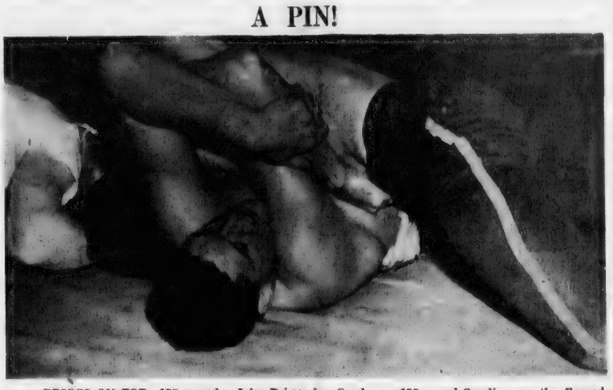
●ANOTHER HEAVYWEIGHT whose part decided a match for a draw was fledgling John Shew's miraculously keeping from the clutches of Knox. Y's Bailey. Shew received the 5th degree from Bailey, and with the help of the whistle escaped with nothing more than two near-falls scored for Bailey.

●WRESTLING FLASH-BACKS: John Briggs' pin on Western Carolina's Goodson (pictured at right) was the highpoint of last Saturday's match. Given a few seconds more of the third period, Herbert Palmer would have likewise secured a pin in the same match—but over Burbson.

Callaway's pin on Thomas in the Carolina match was a pleasing comeback for this lightning worker in the 145 pound event.

●FOURTH UP—the 155 pound class has seen its fourth man enter it for the Maryville squad. Callaway started the season therein, Major took over after him. Proffitt substituted for Major, and currently Wintermute is filling the class. Proffitt has been sick, and Major's ankle is not quite back to normal.

●PREDICTION: For those Blount Countians interested in the seventh district tournament, we have this word of prediction from an avid basketball follower—a Townsendite, "Stu" McNeil: "Townsend's girls will win." And, he conceded, "Everett will win the boys tournament."



All Your Bakery Needs at

LYNCH BAKERY

BASKETEERS BATTLE C. N. EAGLES

A PIN!

BRIGGS ON TOP—175 pounder John Briggs has Goodson, a 185 pound Carolina wrestler floored just before referee "Woody" Everett (with elbow showing) slapped the mat. This heavyweight bout, which Briggs won by a fall in 1:34 of the first period, brought the match to a 29-5 Maryville victory. The significance of the pin lies in the fact that Goodson pinned Appalachian's heavyweight, Bandy—who had pinned Briggs in 2:12 of the second period two weeks ago.

WRESTLERS TIE CHATTANOOGA, 14-14

TEAMS DRAW, ONE PIN AND THREE DECISIONS EACH; SAME A YEAR AGO

BY KEN OLSEN

Maryville's wrestlers continued tradition Thursday night, in Alumni Gym, tying the visiting Chattanooga University team, 14-14, in their second meeting of the season. In the opening match of the season, Maryville beat the Mocs, 18-11. Last year, the Scots tied the U. C. squad in the return match, 14-14, after winning the first one, 18-16.

The light weight class gave Maryville a good start. Jim Marvin, who is rapidly making progress as a 121 man, decisioned Owens, 5-4, in the highly-contested first bout. Then J. A. Cameron, Scot 128, pulled a second period pin out of the bag in 1 minute 30 seconds to push the home team to an 8 to 0 lead.

Tonight the Maryville matmen will grapple on the Alabama Polytechnic mat against the Auburn Plainsmen.

Chet Anderson, on the mat again in the place of 136 pound Ken Ross, lost by decision to Smith of the Mocs, 2-6. Tubby Callaway won back his merit by decisioning Evans, the fast 145 pounder from Chattanooga, 8-3, to set the Scots firmly in the lead, 11-3.

Wintermute, Merriman Lose

Then Orval Wintermute surprised everyone by staying in the fight for two periods against tricky Tom Braly in the 155 class. Braly pinned him in the first 7 seconds of the last period, boosting the team score to 11-8, Maryville. Hersh Merriman then lost a very close bout, 3-4, to Chattanooga's Berg in the 165 class, tying up the team score, 11-11.

Palmer Beats Love, Magrath Falls

Herb Palmer came through with a 4-3 decision over handsome Harry Love of Chattanooga, in the 175 class to give Maryville a short-lived lead. Then "little" Paul Yambert, 180 pounds, met "man-mountain" Dutch Magrath, 220 pound Moc, in a courageous battle against over-whelming weight. Paul held out, even taking the aggressive side in the last period, to allow Dutch a belated 3-0 decision which was, unfortunately, enough to tie up the match, 14-14.

SUMMARY:

121 class—Marvin (M) decisioned Owens (C), 5-4
128 class—Cameron (M) pinned Robinett (C) in 1:20 of 2nd period
136 class—Smith (C) decisioned Anderson (M), 6-2
145 class—Callaway (M) decisioned Evans (C), 8-3
155 class—Braley (C) pinned Wintermute (M) in 7 seconds of 3rd period
165 class—Berg (C) decisioned Merriman (M), 4-3
175 class—Palmer (M) decisioned Love (C), 4-3
Heavyweight—Magrath (220 lb. of Chattanooga) decisioned Yambert (180 lb. of Maryville), 3-0.

Referee: "Woody" Everett; Timer: Bud Engel

Maryville, Knox Y Split Match, 16-16

Maryville College's "B" wrestling squad squirmed to a 16-16 draw with the Knoxville Y team here on Tuesday night. Each team scored two falls and two decisions. Marvin and Merriman, Maryville, both scored double falls and the Y men, Linebaugh and Clevenger, pinned their men in the third and second periods respectively.

The two teams met before this season on the Y mat, for a Maryville victory, 31-5. That match pitted the regular Scot team against the weaker Y team, This week, with matches with Chattanooga and Auburn on Thursday and Saturday, the regular M. C. squad took a vacation and let the freshmen do most of the work.

SUMMARY:

121 class—Marvin (M) won by double fall over Radcliff (Y), first fall in 2:10 of 2nd period and second fall in 49 sec. of third period
128 class—Cameron (M) decisioned West (Y), 6-0.
136 class—Anderson (M) decisioned Joslin (Y), 5-1
145 class—Linebaugh (Y) pinned

(Continued on page four)

Matmen Rip Apart Catamounts, 29-5

Scot wrestling proved too much for weak Western North Carolina who fell last Saturday on the M. C. mat, 29-5. The Maryville men made fast work of the competition, pinning four, decisioning three, and losing only one fall.

Jim Marvin started the ball rolling when he pinned Clayton of W.N.C. in 1 minute, 4 seconds of the second period in the 121 pound class. J. A. Cameron carried on the good work, decisioning 128 pound Bird, expert Teacher 2-0, when he reversed in the last period. Chet Anderson, on the varsity mat for the first time in place of Ken Ross who was sick, decisioned 136 pound Atkinson of W.N.C., 6-4, with two reverses plus time anvantage against a near fall and a reverse made by the Carolina man.

Tubby Callaway, Scot 145 pound class, demonstrated a little of the spirit of '47 in a fall over lanky Thomas in 25 seconds of the third period. Bob Proffitt, another Scot neophyte, slipped into a cradle pin-hold thrown by McCracken, 155 pound star, in 1 minute, 3 seconds of the second period. Hersh Merriman ran wild over Garland of W.N.C. in the 165 class, pinning him in 2 minutes, 16 seconds of the first period.

Herb Palmer decisioned Burbson in the 175 pound class, 10-3, after nearly pinning him in the last seconds, only to have the bell ring before the second count. John Briggs, heavyweight, ended the match with a grand finale, pinning Goodson in 1 minute, 34 seconds of the first period.

SUMMARY:

121 class—Marvin (M) pinned

(Continued on page four)

SCOTTIE CAGERS SEEK REVENGE ON C-N; END SEASON WEDNESDAY WITH LAMBUTH

After losing three games on the road, the Highlander Hoopsters bring the hardwood battles back home for their last two appearances of the season.

Tonight on the Alumni court, the Carson-Newman Eagles confront the Scots again after taking a 40-36 victory over Lombe's Lads last Saturday at Jefferson City.

Lambuth's Eagles arrive next Wednesday night to close the Scottie hardwood campaign.

Scots Seek to End Streak

Maryville's hopes of coming out of its losing slide and derailing the Carson-Newman aggregation depend upon the Scots' ability to tone down the Eagles' "rough and tumble offense" and to warm up sufficiently to thaw out the C-N freeze tactics, which played a big part in the loss at Jefferson City last Saturday.

The chance for the Highlanders dropping Carson-Newman is bettered by the fact that the Eagles haven't won a road game all season—except over lowly Carbon-Carbide.

Boring, Lillard Lead Scorers

Two Scot hoopmen are now holding better than 10-points-per-game in averages. Bob Boring moved into No. 1 spot this week, and now has a 10.7 average. Ray Lillard continues to hold his average up with a 10.5 through 19 games. In sixteen games, Brick Brahams comes third in scoring averages with an even average of 10 points-per-game.

11 Won; 8 Lost So Far

The Highlanders' record for the 19 games played so far is 11 wins, 8 losses. With the exception of Western Kentucky State, Maryville has defeated at least once every opponent with whom the schedule has been fulfilled. If the Scots can win tonight over Carson-Newman, and take Wednesday's tilt with Lambuth, only Western Kentucky— last week rated fourth place in Dunkle's national standings—will have a victory edge (by a 77-37 January 10th defeat) over the 1948 Scot Basketeers.

Lambuth, was the first quint in the season to deal defeat to the Scots, by a 49-36 score on January 9. If playing on the home court is any advantage, the Scotties have a good chance of tripping the Lambuth Eagles, as the first meeting was tit-for-tat in scoring most of the way through.

In a preliminary opener, the "Battling Bee Boys" will joust the current cage leaders in high school competition in the county —Coach Spence Renfro's Everett High Basketball team.

Game time for the opening basketbrawl is 6:30, and the main event follows at 8:00 o'clock.

Probable Line-ups:

Carson-Newman		Maryville
(10) Moffett	f.	R. Lillard (12)
(17) Wade	f.	Brahams (11)
(13 Shipley	c.	Garner (19)
(7) Cunningham	g.	Boring (18)
(11) Poteet	g.	Hamil (13)

Wesleyan Ekes Out Close 53-52 Win In Thriller Monday

BULLDOGS REVENGE EARLIER DEFEAT DEALT BY SCOTTIES

Monday night at Athens, Tenn., the Wesleyan Quint popped a 53-52 surprise victory over Maryville's Highlanders.

Previously, on the home floor the Scottie cagers had dumped Tennessee Wesleyan's Bulldogs, 51-44.

Close Game All The Way

The Scottie-Bulldog fight was close throughout; some 50 foul shots were taken, and three Scots—Roberts, Garner, and Hugh Hamil—left the floor on fouls. Kelly of Wesleyan was the only opponent to leave via the foul rout, while T. W.'s Heitz and Maxey were charged with four personals by final whistle time.

Maryville's greatest margin over Wesleyan was an 8 point lead with a minute to go in the first period, but the Bulldogs bucketed two field attempts to make the half score read: Maryville 31, Wesleyan 27.

Hamil Hoops Seven

Guard Hugh Hamil's seven field goals kept the Scots up with the Wesleyan five. Garner and Brahams accounted for four charity tosses each out of 7 and 6 attempts, respectively.

Wesleyan's man of the night was their forward, Maxey, who hit for seven field goals, but missed five out of six tosses from the foul line.

Free Throws Decisive

The game was decided at the free throw stripe. The Bulldogs collected 11 points in 24 charity attempts with a .459 percentage. Maryville's .519 percentage resulted from 14 points made in 27 tries at foul shots.

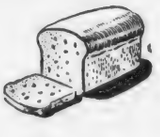
It was Wesleyan's Center, Jack Payne who made a free shot in the closing moments of the game to give Wesleyan a scant lead and a close victory, 53-52.

Tenn. Wesleyan 53		Maryville 52
Maxey (15)	f.	R. Lillard (5)
Irvin (6)	f.	Brahams (8)
Payne (9)	c.	Garner (10)
Carr (4)	g.	Boring (5)
Hill (9)	g.	H. Hamil (16)

SUBS: Maryville— Roberts (4), Reynolds (4), and Berrong (0); Wesleyan—Kelly (3), Hinds (4), Atkinson (2), and Heitz (1).

HUNGRY?

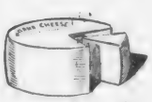
Treat Yourself To Food



With Finest Flavor

Come and enjoy it. Everyone is sure to enjoy our sumptuously prepared food.

There is always a pleasant, friendly, Atmosphere and reasonable prices here.



CATE'S CAFE

PARTY FOODS

M. M. ELDER CASH CARRY STORE

C-N Eagles Stop Scotties, 40-36

Last Minute Freeze By Eagles Wins Game

Carson-Newman's Eagles put the brakes on the Scottie scoring machine by setting the Maryville Squad back in a 40-36 victory last Saturday night in Jefferson City.

The Eagles broke a three-game win streak begun by the Scots, gave the Highlanders their sixth loss in 17 starts, and kept the Maryville Quint to their lowest score in a single game this season.

Scots Lead Until Last

Maryvilleemen had Carson-Newman under control until the last five minutes of the game when the Eagles took seven rapid points, "froze" the ball, and heid the Scotties to a lone field goal.

The Highlanders had pushed ahead of the Eagles 11-9 by midway the first period. The C-N Cagers then kept close tab on the Maryville scoring, and at halftime the Scotties held a 24-21 margin.

Maryville led until the final five minutes when the score jumped from a 34-33 C-N advantage to the game score of 40 for Carson-Newman, 36 for Maryville as the horn blew.

Carson Newman 40		Maryville 36
Moffett (11)	F.	Lillard (0)
G. Wade (6)	F.	Brahams (6)
Shipley (7)	C.	Garner (8)
Cummings (7)	G.	Boring (10)
Poteet (6)	G.	H. Hamil (2)
Hicks (3)		Roberts (2)

Van Heusen

"Stopper Stripes"

as seen in LIFE

$3.50 UP

These five striped patterns are new and exclusive with Van Heusen. On white and colored grounds in this spring's smartest shades. All tailored with Van Heusen magic sewmanship, including new, low-setting "Comfort Contour" collar styling. Sanforized—a new shirt free if your Van Heusen shrinks out of size.

MOSER'S CLOTHING STORE.

L. M. U. SLAYS SCOTS WITH 79-56 SCORE

Highlanders Lose Third Game on Final Road Trip

Lincoln's Railsplitters swung a heavy axe at the Scots hopes of winning their last road game of the season when the Big Blue team trounced the Highlanders, 79-56 on the Harrogate court Wednesday night.

The victory marked the Splitters' first home triumph of their current season. Cumberland College of Kentucky, Milligan, and East Tennessee State took the Lincoln University men into camp in previous games at Harrogate.

Scots Won, 62-57, Last Time

For the Scots, it meant the third loss on the road since whipping the LMU Quintet here Friday, February 13, by a 62-57 count.

Coach Roy Bowen's Lincoln Laddies followed the lead of Brownell Bryant 6' 4 " sharpshooter, who racked up 26 points in the game—9 field and 8 free throws, in sparking LMU's scoring drive. The pace was just too fast for the Highland Hoopmen.

Boring Blasts For 19

Scot guard Bob Boring put Maryville in the scoring column with 19 points for the game. Forward Gene Reynolds tallied 9 in making four buckets plus a free throw.

At halftime, the Scotties were trailing the Big Blue by a scant three points, with Lincoln ahead, 35-32.

But in the final period, the Blue and Gray squad ran the score off the score books with Gene Huskey, red-headed center, bucketing 18 points, and LMU guard Peters bringing in 14 points.

Final score: Lincoln Memorial University 79, Maryville 56.

Lincoln Memorial 79		Scots 56
Bryant (26)	F.	R. Lillard (6)
McCarter (7)	F.	B. Brahams (6)
Huskey (18)	C.	Garner (7)
Peters (14)	G.	H. Hamil (7)
Johnson (7)	G.	Boring (19)

SUBS: Maryville — Roberts (00), Reynolds (9), and G. Hamil (2). LMU — Watson (3), and Begley (4).

Beginners Swim Class Starts Mon.

Beginners swimming classes began this week with about fifteen men and twenty-five women reporting to the pool for instruction. The men's group is under the direction of Mr. Johnson, and the women's group is under the direction of Mrs. Queener.

Classes meet Monday and Friday from 3:30 to 4:30 for the women, and on Tuesday and Saturday from 3:30 to 4:30 for the men. All poor swimmers or non-swimmers can enter the class at any time; but for those who wish to swim for recreation the pool is open from 4:30 to 5:30 on Monday and Friday for the women, and on Tuesday and Thursday for the men. There is mixed swimming on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

Instructors are Beatrice Siebold, Margaret Ledbetter, Shirley Lewis, Ed Vanderslice, and William Willingham. All instructors hold instructors ratings from the Red Cross.

The water is being heated.

VOLLEYBALL

YMCA retained their lead in the third round of intramural volleyball this week, defeating the Brewers and the Rockets. Faculty and Choir are tied for second place with one loss out of four games.

STANDINGS:

	W.	L.	Pct.
YMCA	4	0	1.000
Faculty	3	1	.750
Choir	3	1	.750
Athenians	2	2	.500
Rockets	2	2	.500
Scorpions	2	2	.500
Brewers	0	4	.000
Odds and Ends	0	4	.000

Scots, Knox Y. Tie

(Continued from page 3)

Mabry (M) in 20.5 sec. of 3rd. period

155 class—McConnell (Y) decisioned Wintermute (M), 9-7

165 class—Merriman (M) won by double fall over Freeman (Y), first fall in 2:53 of 2d period and second fall to 39.5 sec. of 3rd period.

175 class—Clevenger (Y) pinned Briggs (M) in 1:36 of 2nd. period.

Heavyweight— Castlebury (Y) decisioned Shew (M), 6-0

EXHIBITION

McNiel (115 of Maryville) came out with a 6-6 draw with Smith (130 of Knox Y.)

Fox (145 of Knox Y) decisioned Earisman (145 of Maryville, 10-5.

Easly (200 of Knox. Y) decisioned Yambert (180 of Maryville), 6-1.

Matmen Rip WNC

(Continued from page three)

Clayton (C) in 1:04 of 2nd period

128 class—Cameron (M) decisioned Bird (C), 2-0.

136 class—Anderson (M) decisioned Atkinson (C), 6-4

145 class—Callaway (M) pinned Thomas (C) in 25.5 sec. of 3rd period

155 class—McCracken (C) pinned Proffitt (M) 1:03.5 of 2nd. period

165 class—Merriman (M) pinned Garland (C) in 2:20 of 1st period

175 class—Palmer (M) decisioned Burbson (C), 8-3.

Heavyweight—Briggs (M) pinned Goodson (C) in 1:34 of 1st period.

Howees Win Second Tournament Game

Howees have a two game lead over the Chillies in the Chillie-Howee basketball tournament. The first game was played Tuesday, February 17, with the Howees winning 27 to 16. Individual scores for the game were Lindsay—11, Heaps—6, and Siebold—10, for the Howees; and Sangster—2, Kemp—5, Marion Henderson—6, Merle Henderson—1, Clemons—1, and Rock—1, for the Chillies.

The second game was played Thursday, February 19, with the Howees winning 30 to 18. Scorers for the game were Lindsay—10, Heaps—5, and Siebold—15 for the Howees, and Caldwell—3, Sangster—3, Kemp—4, Rock—4, Marion Henderson—4, and Merle Henderson—1 for the Chillies.

FIFTEEN ENROLL IN SWIMMING COURSE

A pre-instructors swimming course is now being held five nights a week from 7 to 9 o'clock under the direction of Marion Henderson in the college pool. Anyone holding a senior life saving card may join the class, which is a preliminary to the instructors course to be given by American Red Cross beginning March 8.

Some fifteen swimmers are currently putting the required fifteen hours work in the course.

In addition to surface and regular diving, such styles of swimming as the crawl, side stroke, breast stroke, nd back stroke are being taught.

REBELS COP CAGE INTRAMURAL TOURNEY

The Rebels won the intramural bsketball tournament this Wednesday by dropping the Vikings, 33-26. The consolation award goes to the Crescents, who polished off the Fireballs yesterday, 34-28.

Rebels Too Good For Vikings

The Rebels, trailing by one point during the first three periods, revived, dancing to a 7 point lead by the end of the gme. Hap Brhams, usually a Viking scoring ace, failed to click for more than 8 points.

HONOR ROLL CON'T.

(Continued From Page 1)

King, Edna Argyle—7.7.; Knapp, Anna Katherine—6.5; Lillard, Ellis Ray—6.7; McChesney, Elizabeth Alice—6.2; Martenis, Jane Boorman—7.4; Miller, Eleanor Jean—7.7; Martin, Earl Richard—6.4; Miller, Mildred Grey—7.5; Newman, Ouida Marselle—7.2; Patterson, Eleanor Isabel—6.3; Phillips, Chester William—7.8; Poland, John Morris—8.0; Pope, Marian Aileen—7.5; Ramsey, Ruth Adelene—6.6; Robinson, Charles Nelson—7.6; Rock, Margaret Louise—6.5; Russell, Barbara Gaines—6.0; Sayre, Margaret Zoe—7.9; Sprague, Richard Howard—7.8; Stevens, Anna Lenore—6.5; Torrey, James Windrim—6.2; Watts, John Everett, Jr.—7.0; Wilson, Carl William—7.2.

Sophomores

Adams, Barbara Sullivan—6.3; Althouse, Sue S.—7.7; Bass, Robert Gates—6.0; Billings, Eunice Annette—8.2; Boring, Donald Robert—8.5; Broyles, Samuel Canada—6.8; Buckley, Jack Leroy—6.5; Burritt, George Henry—6.0; Gallaway, Henry Abbott, Jr.—6.0; Chalker, William H.—8.5; Crane, Donald—6.6; Cummings, Margaret Anne—7.0; Deihl, William Howard—6.6; de Nagy, Mae Belle—6.7; Disbrow, Helen—8.5; Field, Elizabeth May—7.5; Fisher, Frank Craig—7 2; Floyd, Paul Franklin—6.2; Gearhart, Edward Benson—6.0; Hammock, Colvin Lee—6.7; Hancox, Jack Donald—8.0; Headrick, Warren B.—6.0; Heaps, Ruth Aileen—7.0; Heinekamp, Sarah Jean—6.7; Holverson, Dorothy Louise—6.5; Jessup, Jane Louise—6.0; Krueger, Charles Leo—6.0; Lang, Harris Thompson—7.6; Lawyer, Myrtle May—8.5; Leake, Mildred Ann—7.8; Lequire, George Harding—7.0; Lindsay, Carl Ludovic, Jr.—6.1; Meadows, Eric DeWitt, Jr.—7.5; Miller, Clara Irene—6.2; Morgan, Russell Eugene—6.0; Morrison, John Hamilton—6.6; Mulholland, John Henry—6.8; Niles, Charles Edward—6.1; Nish, William Walter—7.7; Pancoast, Edwin Caleb—6.5; Postlethwaite, Anna Frances—6.6; Ramey, Kenneth F.—6.6; Reeve, Robert Henry—6.0; Rettke, Clyde Johnson—7.2; Robinson, Faye Nada—7.4; Rogers, Ruth Harriet—6.1; Schaumberg, Winifred Elizabeth—6.0; Schwarz, Virginia Fisher—7.0; Sheldon, Benjamin Erastus—8.0; Shepard, Paul B.—8.5; Smith, Alexander—6.0; Stovall, Thomas Fisher—7.2; Stovell, Caryl Louise—6.2; Strand, John Alexander—8.4; Stroud, Jo Ann—7.5; Thomson, Robert G.—7.0; Walker, Leslie Gerald, Jr.—6.6; Wallin, Barabra Gray—6.0; Warner, Charles Arthur—6.2; Winter, Daniel Wallace—7.4; Wood, Virginia Helen—6.5; Yambert, Paul Abt—7.2.

Freshmen

Bennett, Duncan Campbell—6.7; Bennett, Edward Gill—6.5; Blackburn, Bette Lois—6.0; Breen, Julia Anne—6.2; Brown, Edna Floy—6.2; Brown, Margaret Anne—7 2; Burrow, Peggy Marie—7.2; Campbell, L. A—6.5; Chadwick, Robert Joseph—8.5; Cown, Steve Witt—6.0; Cox, Patricia Ann—6.5; Cummings, Janet Esterher—6.5; Dance, James Calvin—7.7; Dickens, Raymond Elden—6.0; Dosker, Richard John—6.2; Drake, Margaret Anne—6.0; Dunn, Elizabeth Jean—6.2; Earisman, Delbert LeRoy—7.2; Evans, Lewis McKinley—6.2; Fowler, Erasmus Grier—6.3; Fowler, Mary Mulvina—7.5; Greenwald, Betty Jane—6.2; Grubbs, David Harold—6.5; Hamelman, Mary Elizabeth—6.0; Herring, Carl Woodrow—6.0; Hicks, Barbara Lucile—8.0; Higdon, Dorothy Anne—6.7; Holmes, Florence Alice—7.0; Hughes, Margaret Dorothy—7.2; Ice, Helen Nadine—8.7; Johanson, Lois—7.0; Kramer, Rebecca Elenor—6.5; Kramer, Roy Foster—6.5; Kuhn, Ray Eugene—6.0; Larson, Robert, Alexander—6.0; Latham, James Everett—6.7; Lenderman, Jacqueline Anne—6.0; Lillard Gene Edward—6.0; Lloyd, Louise Margaret—8.0; McCall, Sarah Elizabeth—7.0; McNiell, Joseph Walter—8.5; Mabry, Charles Charlton, Jr.—6.2; Menges, William Randall—6.0; Morrow, Nonagene—6.0; Nicholas, Ruth Ellen—6.2; Ogle, George Ewing—7.0; Pascal, Rosalba—6.0; Pemberton, Elma Ruth—8.2; Poland, Joseph Richard—6.5; Reeve, David Hulsizer—6.0; Saunders, Lydia Adeline—7.2; Shew, John Stewart—6.5; Shimomura, Lincoln—7.0; Sieber, Fred Alvin—7.2; Stanfill, George—7.0; Swarztrauber, Archie—8.0; Thompson, Nancy Anne—6.7; Townsend, James Walton—6.2; Uthlaut, William Winfred—6.2; Wakefield, Peggy Jane—6.3; Whelan, Donald Eugene—7.2; Williams, Charles Steinmetz—6.2; Willingham, William Wagner—6.2; Withers, Anita West—7.2; Yeaworth, David Victor—6.5.

Special Students

Goddard, Edwin Nathaniel—8.5; Naundorf, Doris Louise Smith—6.5.

SEVENTH DISTRICT TOURNEY STARTS IN ALUMNI GYM MON.

Beginning Monday night, February 23, the Seventh District Basketball tournament, under the directorship of Coach L. S. Honaker, will be held in Alumni Gym. The tournament, in which ten schools will be represented, will continue nightly except Wednesday, until the finals on Saturday night, February 28.

A regular admission price of thirty cents will be charged Maryville College students who may wish to see the games.

Do You Know?

Did you know that Alpha Sig used to have a glee club?

. . . . Or that the men's societies used to have Junior sections?

. . . That a brass band was organized at MC in 1891?

. . . . Hhat it is—or was— possible to lose your way coming home from church? Dr. Boardman, fourth college president, did

. . . That few students ventured to church in bad weather? On one particular Sunday in February, 1891, only two women students were brave enough to attempt the walk.

. . . . That February Meetings used to last ten to twelve days?

. . . That the grass was burned off the hill in the spring and one group of young ladies (they were always referred to as such in those days) set fire to the fences?

ART CLUB

Art Club will have a regular meeting and a Washington's Birthday party Monday, February 23, at 7:30 p. m. in the Y rooms. Members are permitted to bring guests.

Student Volunteers

The program at Student Volunters Sunday night will consist of a hymn sing. Leaders will be John Morrison, George Gillette, and David Yeaworth.

EXCHANGES

CALL THE DR.
He stood on the bridge at midnight
And tickled her nose with his toes.
He was just a Jersey mosquito
As he stood on the bridge of her nose.
(found on the fly-leaf of Dr Griffitt's Chemistry book) ex cavated from a 1929 Echo

Your Doctor's Orders . . . .

Are speedily, skillfully transformed into the medications required for a quick recovery, in our prescription department.

Rely on your physician's diagnosis and prescription. Rely on us to fill the prescription correctly.

PARK DRUG STORE

As advertised in LIFE and PIC

9.95 to 11.95

PROFFITT'S

Smart Shoes Main Floor

NEWS FOR COLLEGE MEN

The new "PADDOCK" Collar on ARROW SHIRTS
Fine White Broadcloth Fabric
$3.95

The Popular "STUB" Collar
on "JAYSONS"
Fine count white broadcloth shirts
$3.95

Schoolday Handkerchiefs
A special you will want

Packages of 6—in white—all for a $1.00

Packages of 4—in fancies—All for $1.00

Boxes of 3—White initials
All for $1.00

Proffitt's

Smart Shoes Main Floor

ALL MISPRINTS DUE TO "UNFAVORABLE CONDITIONS"

THE Highland Echo

Z 703

VOLUME 33 MARYVILLE TENNESSEE FEBRUARY 28, 1948 NUMBER 22

SENIOR PRIVILEGES GRANTED

News Capsules—

BY DON WHELAN

Czech Coup

The biggest and perhaps most serious development last week was the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia. Under directions of Red Premier Klement Gottwald, a purge of all opposition to the government was reported in progress. Revered Dr. Eduard Benes, before he became president, was a member of the National Socialist party. It was around this group that trouble had arisen in the little country. In a party split, left-wing Socialists had given to Communist support, whereupon Communists began seizure of the rest of the party. As the week ended Czechoslovakia was almost wholly in the hands of the Bolsheviks.

McGrath Refuses

In the latest move of southern Democrats against President Truman's civil rights legislation, Governor William H. Tuck of Virginia asked that Truman's name be barred from November ballots. In this way Southern presidential electors would not be bound to support the Democratic candidate for President. Earlier in the week Dixie congressmen had appealed to their party's national chairman, Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island. His answers were described as variations on the word No. Amid threats of loss to the Democratic Party of the long-solid South, it was still not clear just how a revolt could further the interests of anyone but Republicans.

U. S. Palestine Policy

Warren R. Austin, United States representative on the United Nations Security Council, declared the Council can act under the charter to prevent a threat to peace from within or without Palestine, but cannot move to enforce partition. He recommended a UN committee to consult British, Jewish, and Arab interests, adding that this country is willing to "consult" on steps to maintain peace in the Holy Land.

Rent Ceilings Remain

Rent controls will continue for at least another month. The House of Representatives passed an emergency one-month extension of Federal control. This move was followed by a somewhat more liberal —to April, 1949—continuance bill by the Senate.

Progressive Party Moves

Henry Wallace kept his name before the public as election time neared. Support for his third party movement came from Idaho's senior Senator, Glen H. Taylor. The forty-three year old ex-cowboy singer, sitting across the table from ex-Republican, ex-Democrat Wallace, announced his vice-presidential candidacy over a nationwide (CBS) network. Taylor said he had not left the party—"it left me."

On the following day the Progressive Party—as it is now being called on ballots—had its presidential candidate at a Congressional hearing. Mr. Wallace accused the Truman Administration of "laying foundations" for a Russian war. Republican committeemen heartily agreed to his demand for "new faces" in the executive department of the government.

Condition Of Charles Naundorf Remains Serious

Charles Naundorf, who was to have been operated on at the Blount Memorial Hospital yesterday morning, was reported to have had such a high fever the operation was postponed. His condition is still serious as a result of an infected kidney.

Six Maryville boys donated blood to Naundorf in an effort to build him up to withstand the operation. Bernard Welch, John Baird, Dan Ruggerio, Russ Morgan, Al Nead, and Bill Young were among the donors.

ALL GIRL'S CHOIR, MEN'S GLEE CLUB PRESENT PROGRAM

Curtis W. Hughes has announced that the All Girl's Choir and the Men's Glee Club will present a program from light opera Friday, April 30. Selections from the Desert Song and New Moon, Romberg; Show Boat and Roberta, Kern; the Firefly, Friml; and Naughty Marietta, Herbert, will be included in the program which will be given complete with staging and lighting effects in the Alumni Gymnasium.

The chorus will be composed of about eighty members of the combined groups. This is the first program of this type to be presented by any of the glee clubs at the college.

Dr. Lloyd Speaks At YM Tomorrow

Dr. Lloyd will address the YM CA Sunday on the subject "Federal Council of Churches."

The Federal Council has been, ever since its first conception, a controversial subject in all church circles. Hailed by some as the body that would place Protestantism in a position to meet on equal terms the Catholic effort to assume a voice in national and governmental affairs, and condemned by others as a step toward the mixing of state and church, the Council has aroused much discussion recently. Last year the Presbyterian Church, U. S. (Southern) disaffiliated from it, after having been a part for some time. The Southern Baptists have never entered it at all. Dr. Lloyd will attempt to clarify the situation and point out why people condemn or expound the merits of the Federal Council of Churches

Special music will be rendered by Bill Fogarty, who will sing, "The Blind Plowman."

JUANITA JOHNSON GIVES ORGAN RECITAL MARCH 5

The music department of Maryville College will present Juanita Jeane Johnson in an organ recital Friday, March 5, at 8 p. m. in the First Baptist Church. Miss Johnson is a junior organ major from Marinette, Wisconsin.

The program includes "Prelude and Fugue in E Minor," Bach; Chorale Preludes, "Ich Ruf' Zu Dir, Herr Jesu Christ" and "Alle Menschen Mussen Sterben," Bach; "Sonata No. 4 in B Flat," "Allegro con brio," "Andante religioso," "Allegro maestoso," Mendelssohn; "Bible Poem," Weinberger; and "Toccata," Dubois. "Bible Poem" is a descriptive piece based on the text "Abide with us: For it is toward evening and the day is far spent." St. Luke 24:28.

MRS. CUMMINGS ADDRESSES FACULTY CLUB MONDAY

Mrs. Margaret McClure Cummings, assistant professor of Bible, will address the Faculty Club meeting Monday night in Fayerweather Hall at 7:30. Mrs. Cummings' topic will be "The Westminster Assembly of Divines" in commemeration of the tercentenary of the formulation of the Presbyterian Confession of Faith.

NEXT Y RADIO PLAY TO BE MYSTERY

This week's YMCA radio program, an original play by Jim Black, is entitled "The Dead Speak." The setting of the play is in graveyard and shows the strange truth that comes from the dead. The cast includes Jim Black, Mildred Miller, Tom Wheeler, Ben Paxton, Joe Poland and Bill Vogel.

ATHENIAN

John Shew will lead a program given by freshmen at the Athenian meeting Saturday. The meeting will be in Bartlett at 6:15.

Girls' Dormitories Hold Open House

All girls' dormitories will hold open house Saturday, February 28, from 6:30 to 9:15, under the sponsorship of the social committee.

Hostesses in Memorial will be Edna Burkins, Mary Hammelman, Sarah Hastings and Ann Higdon. Baldwin hostesses will be Hilda Roberts, Libby Dunn, Phyllis Miller, Judy Breen and Betty Davis. Katie Carpenter, Shirley O'Shana, Mary Mitchell Wooldridge, Mildred Miller, and Florence Housch will serve as Pearsons' hostesses. Marilyn Hartpence, Jean Cobb, Bobbie Burris, and Hilda Roberts will have charge of refreshments which will be served in the lobby of Pearsons.

The time schedule is as follows: Memorial Hall, 7:0-7:45; Baldwin Hall, 7:45-8:30; Pearsons Hall, 8:30-9:15.

The last time a dormitory held open house was in 1945 when the girls who are now juniors lived in Carnegie. The girls sent invitations and served refreshments to their guests.

Students Hear Iran, Chile Representatives

Miss Behaedin, Mr. Gonzales Work For International Relations

Miss Fatimeh Behaedin, of Teheran, Iran, and Mr. Horacio Gonzales, of Santiago, Chile, members of the International Fellowship Group of the Presbyterian Church, USA, led the chapel service on Friday morning. The speakers were introduced by Dr. Barbour, the February Meetings leader, who read the morning scripture.

Miss Behaedin emphasized the similarities between the young people in America and those in the Near East and stated we must build on these mutual interests a spirit of brotherhood. She warned that if we fail to take advantage of our opportunities now, disaster in the form of Communism might result.

Mission Work in Chile

Mr. Gonzales spoke of the importance of mission work in Chile. He told of three young men who were converted by a Christian Missionary. They became sincere witnesses for Christ and later rose to be leaders in their various fields of work.

Miss Behaedin is taking postgraduate work at Columbia University. Mr. Gonzales is a member of an electrical appliance manufacturing firm in Santiago and an elder in the Presbyterian Church there. Both are giving a large amount of time and effort toward promoting the gospel of Christ and better international relations through the medium of the Fellowship Team.

Both Miss Behaedin and Mr. Gonzales spoke in classes throughout the day.

YW GIVES PROGRAM OF DRAMA, MUSIC

Miss Jessie Wild, Miss Alice Archibald, and Miss Thelma Nelson will present a program of drama and music at the YWCA service tomorrow. The entire program will be in the spirit of the Lenten season.

Students Represent IRC At Conference

John Russ, Dorothy Crowson, and Jerry Collins will represent IRC at the regional IRC conference at Chapel Hill, North Carolina, this week-end.

John Poland and Scott McClure will give the pros and cons of "The World Federation" at the next IRC meeting, Monday night, in Thaw Hall 214.

MARTHA KINCAID SPEAKS ON PANEL DISCUSSION SUNDAY

Martha Kincaid, sophomore from India, spoke on "Christianity in India" on a panel discussion with a Moslem, a Sikh, and a Hindu at the Colored Methodist Church Sunday afternoon.

The three Indian nationals are studying T.V.A. at the University of Tennessee. Each man told the life story of his prophet and the customs peculiar to his faith, and emphasized the lack of racial prejudice in India.

Sophomore Recital Presented Tuesday

Lois Deobler, soprano, and Anne Trigg Mitchell, pianist, will be presented in a sophomore recital Tuesday, March 2, at 4:30 p. m. in the YWCA Rooms. Miss Deobler is from Chicago, Illinois. She will be accompanied by Relia Anderson, a senior from Maryville. Miss Mitchell is from Sparta, Tennessee.

The recital program is as follows: Sonata in F Major, Allegro, Mozart, Miss Mitchell; Care Selve, (Atalanta), Handel, Star Vicino, Rosa, Amorilli, Caccini, Der Nussbaum, Schumann, Miss Deobler; Vogel als Prophet, In der Nacht, Schumann, Notturno, Respighi, Miss Mitchell; To Musique To Becalme His Fever, Toye, I Come to You, Sandoval, A Memory, Gang, and O Cease Thy Singing, Rachmaninoff, Miss Deobler. Anna Sakaizawa, a senior from Barrington, Illinois, will play the violin obligato for the last number on the program.

FRENCH CLUB WELCOMES FOUR NEW MEMBERS

Bill Diehl, Laura Crawford, Dorothy Holverson, and Martha McClure were welcomed as new members of the French Club Thursday night.

Ray Kirby made a report on "What's Going on in France Today." Dan Winter played "The Last Time I Saw Paris" and "Mam'selle"; and Elaine Kern read two comic poems entitled "De Gradual Commence" and "Verre Definite." Violet Summerville and Bob Watkins, accompanied by Dan Winter at the piano, sang and danced "J'aime une Demode Chanson." Shirley O'Shana read an original poem by Bob Watkins entitled "A French Major Graduates."

The program was concluded as is customary by the club singing "La Marseillaise."

Varsity Debaters Enter Out-of-State Speaking Contests

Maryville's varsity debate squad has scheduled two tournaments for next month. On March 4-6 one half of the team will enter the South Atlantic match at Hickory, North Carolina. March 12 and 13 are the dates of the Bluegrass Tournament at Georgetown College, Kentucky, where the other division of the squad will debate. The subject at both meets is "Federal World Government Now."

At the Hickory series Scott McClure and John Poland, affirmative speakers, will also take part in extempore and after-dinner speaking, respectively. Stuart Saul and Jim Torrey, negative, will enter oratory and impromptu contests. Debate sponsor Verton M. Queener will accompany them.

At the Bluegrass Tourney Maryville's affirmative team will be John Briggs and Tom Stovall, negative Carrol Stegall and Carl Lindsay. A. F. Pieper, associate professor of political science, will be faculty representative on this trip.

Discipline Powers Assumed By WSGA

W.S.G.A. now has complete responsibility for discipline in the dormitories, the co-ordinating committee announced Monday night.

Until Monday, February 16, all difficult dormitory problems were sent to Dean Frank D. McClelland for final discipline, but now W.S.G.A. has the right to enforce rules and to administer penalties. The faculty will not interfere in any problem without a request for assistance from W.S.G.A.

Violators of dormitory rules will be sent before the House Committee as before, and at the discretion of the committee penalties will be decided upon.

Preliminary Groups Pass MSO Constitution

Final Vote of Men Will Be Held in March

The proposed constitution of the Men's Student Organization passed through the preliminary stages of approval as a mass meeting of men Monday night and in the Student Council Wednesday night. It is now undergoing examination by the faculty. If approved, it will the nbe returned to the men of the campus for a campus-wide vote, a two-thirds vote being necessary to put the organization into effect.

Two salient facts stand out in the constitution as it is written. First, the organization will not impose restrictions of any sort upon the men involved, because it is a representative body only, and not an executive or judicial one. Second, it will not make the men of the college subject to the faculty or administration to a greater extent than they now are. The body is not and cannot become a means for these departments to reach the men. Instead, the MSO is a body to strengthen the united voices of the men of Maryville, and becomes a means for them to reach the faculty. Third, no action which does not meet the approval of the men can be passed; and further, no permanently binding action whether good or bad can be passed. This is because the constitution as written provides that the new men's student body shall have the privilege of accepting or rejecting the organization, by a poll vote in the early days of every new year.

Co-ordinating Council Chosen

The constitution was formed by a nine-man board, which was under the chairmanship of Carl Murray. It was presented to the men of the campus at a mass meeting Monday night. The provisions of the organization were warmly discussed for two hours, at the end of which time a majority voted it into existance and so started it on the way toward permanent life or final elimination. The nine men who wrote the constitution will form the temporary co-ordinating council, to exist until the final situation is apparent. If the faculty passes the constitution, it will return to the men of the campus for an all-campus, two-day poll vote.

Constitution Posted

Copies of the constitution have been posted prominently, and members of the co-ordinating council, which includes Paul Yambert, Henry Heaps, "Tubby" Calloway, Carl Murray, Bill Vogel, Tom Stovall, Bill Proffitt, Howard Cameron, and Roger Cowan, will explain and clarify any question which any student should like to ask in regard to the proposed constitution.

The final vote will be held early in March and all men should read the constitution carefully in order that they may understand it, and be able to vote intellegently.

COMMITTEE SUGGESTIONS APPROVED BY FACULTY

Three special privileges were granted senior women Monday, February 23, after several years of negotiation by Student Council and WSGA. The purpose is to give students, upon attaining the classification of senior, open recognition of rank by giving them special privileges not possessed by underclass women. Included are an extra Town Night each week, dating in Knoxville until 8:30 p. m. any day except Sunday or Tuesday, and Sunday afternoon dating from 3 o'clock until supper.

A committee appointed by the WSGA chairman last semester, composed of Elsie Onifer, chairman, Margaret Rock, and Esther Cornelius, presented their suggestions to the faculty last October. The proposals were brought up several times, and last week the faculty asked WSGA whether or not the girls would be willing to accept the revised privileges and assume the responsibility of enforcing them. Following acceptance of the conditions at special house meetings, the faculty approved senior privileges and they became effective Monday evening.

History of Privileges

Acquiring senior privileges was a dream of students of years past.

Student Council appointed a three-man committee in March, 1945, to propose senior privileges. The suggestions of that committee were an extra Town Night each week, unlimited social privileges after comprehensives, and an honor system in physical education. Nothing more was done until the following September when another committee was appointed. Some discussion followed in November. In March, 1946, graded privileges were again discussed and suggested through the newly organized WSGA. Two Town Nights and Sunday afternoon dating were again listed among Council projects in January of last year but after a report in February that the committee was still working, no action was taken.

Privileges of the Past

If women students look no farther back than ten years ago, they can find just how many more privileges they have today. There was no Town Night or parlor dating, dating in the afternoons was restricted to Monday, girls were limited to three trips to town each week, and a chaperone was absolutely necessary before a girl could go to Knoxville. Sunday afternoon dating was unheard of even on such occasions as Easter, and fellows and girls sat on opposite sides of the library. As a matter of fact, segregation was practiced in both chapel and Vespers. Until the inauguration of WSGA in 1946, underclass women had lights out at ten-thirty on week nights, eleven on Saturday, and ten on Sunday. Light cuts were permitted only by special permission of the house mother.

Provisions

The provisions of the present senior privileges are as follows:

1. Each senior woman may have a second Town Night each week with the same rules in effect as stated in the Student Council Town Night Proposal.

a. Monitors shall be on duty each night.

(1) Monitor duty will be voluntary to a certain extent, after which it will arbitrarily be assigned from an alphabetical list of senior women.

(2) It will be necessary to have only one monitor on duty each night if she has a date. Otherwise a girl must be in a group of three girls. The assignment sheet will be posted several days beforehand so that the proper arrangements can be made.

(3) On the nights when no girls sign out before nine o'clock it will not be necessary for monitors to be on duty. If a group of girls decide to go after nine o'clock, one of the girls in the

(Continued on page four)

Mary Hamelmen, Ben Gerhart Are Winners In First Week of Contest

Hary Hamelmen and Ben Gerhart are the winners in first and second places, respectively, of the first week in the poster contest advertising "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." These posters will be on display in Pearsons lobby.

Entries can still be made in the contest sponsored by Alpha Sigma and Theta Epsilon. Posters can be given to Julie Pancoast in Pearsons, Mary Catherine Hendricks in Memorial, or to Carl Lazenby in Carnegie.

LESLIE HOWARD VOTED MEMBER OF SPANISH CLUB

Leslie Howard was voted into the Spanish Club at the last meeting. A program of Spanish music followed a short business meeting.

The program was as follows: "Brazil" sung by Gelolo Kell; "Malaguena" played by Gregory Howard; "Tres en Uno" and "El lo Hallo" sung by Bill Houdeshel, John Shew, Paul Kidder; "Yours", duet by Lois Lehr and Gregory Howard; "La Paloma" played by Lois Lehr on the bones; "Maria Elena," duet by Gelolo Kell and Mianna Hayes; "Onward Christian Soldiers" sung by the entire club.

Pre-ministerials Organize Visitation Committee

An active Hospital Visitation Committee has been organized by the Pre-Ministerial Association. Stating their purpose as an effort to serve both in the physical and spiritual realms, the men are hoping the students will take advantage of their services.

The thirty members in the organization are divided into four committees, each serving once every four weeks.

MRS. SCOTT McCLURE SPEAKS AT VOLS

Mrs. Scott McClure, director of religious education at New Providence Presbyterian Church, will speak at Student Vols Sunday night. She will discuss the duties and responsibilities of her work. All those who plan to go into the field of religious education will be especially interested.

DISC CLUB HEARS STRING QUINTET

Schumann's Quintet Op. 44 in E Flat Major for piano and strings will be featured at the next meeting of the Disc Club. Martha Barnwell, a senior music major from Maryville, will be the commentator. The club will meet in Thaw 214 at 6:45 p. m., Thursday, March 4.

REV. F. W. DAVIES SPEAKS AT VESPERS

Reverend James F. W. Davies, D. D., former Congregational minister at Waukegan, Illinois, will be the speaker at Vespers Sunday evening in the library.

Dr. Davies is now retired and is making his home on Singing Brook Farm in Walland, Tennessee.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

Volume 33 Number 22

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

EDITORIAL STAFF

Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Ruth Ramsey, Ilda Mosby, Leslie Webb, Dick Sprague, Carroll Stegall

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Ruth Davis

FRESHMEN APPRENTICES
Jean Hunt, Mary Lyerly, Hazel Holm, Elenor Kramer, Donald Whelan

SPORTS STAFF

Kenneth Olsen ..... Editor
Herbert McCallum ..... Sophomore Reporter
Maynard Noble ..... Freshman Apprentice

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF

Business Manager ..... Ruth Williams

SENIOR ASSISTANTS
Mary Jane Long, Florence Housch

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Margaret Weaver

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANTS
Bob Watkins, Joe Claude, Janet Blackmore

FRESHMEN ASSISTANTS
Barbara Altfather, Anita Withers

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1948

PARADE OF EVENTS

It was really a humorous parade of events. First of all open house was announced by the social committee in the January 24 issue of the ECHO, and everyone accepted it. Baldwin made new curtains for their parlour; Pearsons voted to buy the refreshments, and several girls offered to spend Saturday afternoon preparing them. The social committee set aside thirty minutes for each dormitory during the evening, the last being Pearsons where refreshments were to be served.

All was going fine. THEN—someone in Carnegie became quite alarmed, and someone posted a little bulletin which said that (1) If Carnegie held open house they would have to buy refreshments, and (2) If they bought refreshments it would cost $50.

After much time spent in cons, and possibly pros, on the subject, a poll or vote or whatever it might be called was taken. It was made certain that at least one person in each room voted, some rooms being occupied by as many as three persons.

Another bulletin was posted, saying (1) that open house had been voted down, and (2) that some were against it, and unless everyone cooperated they could not possibly have it.

The social committee appealed. They had worked hard to find something different for Saturday night entertainment, and it was difficult to understand why some people should disregard their efforts. They were told to come back later.

Another bulletin appeared in Carnegie, though from an entirely different source. It said (1) that the girls were serving refreshments, (2) that the girls were paying for refreshments, (3) that only forty-five minutes were being set aside for Carnegie, and (4) that those boys who did not wish to cooperate had the privilege of closing their doors.

The social committee returned for the final word—"NO." And that was that. Some boys still want open house. Some would have voted "yes" had they not been misinformed—they said so. Probably none of them would have questioned it al all if no bulletins had appeared.

"The girls weren't expecting a palace, "we said. "Why couldn't those boys who wanted open house be allowed the privilege? They'd clean their own rooms, and surely it wouldn't take much to sweep the halls."

"Yeah?" someone answered. "You just can't realize the condition Carnegie is in. It would take weeks to get it clean!"

That's what the boy said. We believed him, for we had already heard that conditions were quite unfavorable.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Approval of NSA and MSO, discussion of proposed plans for reorganization, and a report on the revision of the Student Body constitution necessitated Student Council's meeting an hour early last Wednesday evening.

The final vote on NSA was taken following the report of the results of the class meetings on affiliation. Carl Murray then read the MSO constitution, after which Council voted to approve it.

Steering Committee reports were next on the agenda. Included in these were suggestions for selecting faculty members of the Student-Faculty Senate from the Executive Council of the faculty. The second point presented by the Steering Committee concerned the functions of the Executive Council. At present there are six functions. In two of these, discipline and student activities, Student Council would like especially to have a voice.

The revised preamble and first three articles of the constitution were presented to Council. These three articles concern membership (all students), meetings and publicity. The goals of the entire constitution are to be outlined for the Executive Council by March 4.

Student Council president, the presidents of YM and YW, and the Social chairman are to investigate the possibilities of using the Chatterbox for meetings.

I. M.

Much Echo About Nothing

By CRAIG FISHER

The Code of Hammurrabi, the Magna Carta, the Emancipation Proclamation, and now (we pause for dramatic effect) Senior Privileges. Hallelujah! They're still a little too stunned to appreciate their freedom, but wait till their wings dry. And for sauce on the pudding, a real, live rec-hall. Somebody used the right incantations, or is it a dash of well placed blackmail?

But as though the excitement weren't enough, we've had to hoist our rusty trusty squirrel rifles off the wall and go feudin' over open house and the MSO constitution. Gigantic issues face the youth of today. Pouted one indignant junior girl in reference to the open house, "It was the chance of a life time to get your dorm hosed down and cleaned up, and now," she wrung her hands tragically, "you've lost it."

TRANSITION PARAGRAPH: Spring is definitely in the air. Track men have begun to talk about the time when they'll quit smoking. One or two have even been seen to creep furtively out on the track and creak through a lap or two. And even some of the tennis players are batting the covers off last year's balls in Bartlett Gym.

FACULTY FRAGMENTS: Dr. Williams suggested that the dininer bell should be called the "potato peal."

And Doc Griffitts contributed his views on inflation by stating that HCL stood for High Cost of Living where he was concerned. A long-faced freshman in the rear of the room grumbled that it was more like the High Cost of Loving.

By Unanimous vote of all afflicted, Miss Archibald's Music Appreciation is a fine, rigorous introduction to the old masters. If any of you have delusions of genius, take it. You'll come out feeling oddly like a two headed mongolian idiot.

NOTES ON DEBATE TRIP: Prof Pieper conscientously fell asleep judging one debate.....The girls from David-Lipscomb College rose to state that they couldn't stand Stovall, called him "bombastic, sarcastic, unmannerly, and dictatorial." They called Briggs cute but awful dumb.....They lost.....The way our girls brought home the bacon goes to show that we've got the talkingest girls in Tennessee right here.

Roy Snell, querried as to why his side burns were higher than his ears, described the feverish efforts he had put forth to even them up, "first too much off one side, then too much off the other."

SYSTEMATICS: Mr. Bushing's freshmen English class came alive when the girl who was telling how the ancient Egyptians put garlic in their tombs, quickly explained that "it wasn't so they would stink to the high heavens."

One of our more enterprising sophomore chemists made off with a whole titrating outfit one day last week, including burette, Ehrlenmier (sp.) flask, cyclotron, and dripulator. Wanted to do some more experimenting at home. Pasteur did it and look at Pasteur.

Ruth Williams, bond and bedimpled empress of the ECHO business staff, had a kitchen shower in the practice house last Thursday. She had just finished bawling out Bill Brewer for not taking her to the movies for her first experiment with senior privileges. Every guest got a miniature rolling pin. Isn't that interesting?

TECHNIQUE: Paul Yambert, never given to doing things in the accepted manner, last week took advantage of the full moon by viewing it through a telescope cheek to cheek with anything feminine which happened to saunter by. His by now famous memoirs of a rassler, incidentally, are complete. They will appear in a forthcoming ECHO. They present a highly graphic account of the sensations one derives from rassling Dutch McGrath. You must read them. They'll slay you, figuratively, of course.

LAST Thursday night the Pre-Med Club enjoyed a movie on the removal of a malignant tumor as big as a cabbage. Lloyd Anderson brought the meeting to a hysterical close by asking if there was "anything more to be brought up."

FASHION NOTE: Sarah Durant suggested it. Wanda Onifer, Anne Harper, Polly Walters, Sally Kemp, Adeline Frogge, Betty Baumer, Tommy Hair and Winnie Schaumburg did it. They turned up the next day with sheepish looks and something faintly looks and something faintly suggestive of bangs flopping on their foreheads. When the orgy was all over and they all turned toward Sarah, she meekly melted into the shadows in the corner, "I don't believe I'll cut my hair."

"What did you say this morning, Prof?"

"Nothing."

"Of course, but how did you express it this time?"

—Columns

TALK OF THE WEEK BY DONALD REEVES

Letters To The Editor:

Dear Ed.

A bunch of us went over to a meeting in Bartlett Monday night and did we have a time! You should have been there, Ed. It seems that a lot of people on the campus are interested in this MSO deal that is currently making the rounds. You know, it may be a good thing; but of course, we will never be able to tell if it doesn't get a chance to assert itself.

It's funny, Ed., the way the thing turned out. There was a lot of discussion about whether or not a constitution (and it was really a beautiful bit of labor) would be submitted to appropriate organizations of the campus for their approval. One of these organizations that would need to pass on the document was the faculty—or their committee, what ever they have. Now the whole argument boiled down to two items:

(1) do the men have a voice in the affairs of the campus, or (2) is the faculty, after all, the last word. Well, you should have heard the furor that was raised. A lot of people said we didn't have a voice at all and maybe this constitution would give us a voice. At any rate, those in power would have a chance to know what we think and want, and use their discretion to better advantage. The other group agreed that we haven't a voice, but they tried to kill the only instrument that might create a voice for them. Just doesn't make sense, does it? Seems to me that those men who are the most deeply irked at their lack of voice should be the ones most vitally concerned about the passage of this constitution. But, no! they are the ones most interested in killing it Seems to me that the MSO will be a big success if there is a felt need for it; otherwise, it will die a natural death even if you doctor it up with all sorts of fancy stuff.

Whether it will be good for the men is another matter. I'll venture to say it would be, but that has nothing to do with the issue. It has got to be WANTED by those whom it will affect, or it will flop as flat as a flap-jack. So there really isn't much left to talk about, is there?

I'd say, if you want a voice, vote for MSO—it may help you get one. If you don't want a voice, what difference does it make to you anyway? Personally, I feel that those in charge are doing their dead level best, everything considered, to do what is for the best interest of all; and they aren't doing a bad job of it.

Schedules Of Miss Wild, Mr. Bernard Loaded With Teaching

BY HOLM and SPRAGUE

Miss Jessie Wild of the Dramatic Arts Department and Mr. David Bernard of the Art Department are probably two of the busiest faculty members on campus. Being the only teachers in their respective departments, their schedules are loaded with teaching, besides numerous other activities.

Jessie Wild, M. A.

"Ever since my junior high school days I've loved dramatics," says Miss Wild. . . . . and it's a good thing because she certainly has a full job of it now. Since she is the only dramatics teacher on the Hill, Miss Wild teaches all the classes in stage craft, drama, history, and interpretation, and supervises special studies for majors.

But teaching is only part of what keeps her "on the go" for she also directs all experimental theater productions, the society plays, the radio programs, and numerous other extra curricular activities.

Miss Wild was born in Iowa, but calls no one state her home because she has lived in so many.

Singing interests her almost as much as dramatics and she has done a great deal of study in voice. She graduated from Ohio State.

She has no favorite food, but "loves a nice cup of coffee."

David E. Bernard, B.F.A.

David E. Bernard, art instructor, has been at Maryville for two years, during which time he has become acquainted with and engaged to Miss Lanfear, piano instructor.

Born and reared as a farm boy at Sandwich, Illinois, he attended the University of Illinois, from which he has a B.F.A. in Art Education. After his graduation he served as a staff artist for the Wayside Press Publishing Co. at Mendota, Illinois for two years.

For the next several years he had the "pleasure" of serving Uncle Sam. His first major assignment was with the Army Air Force Training School, Miami Beach, Florida, where he taught camouflage technique to America's potential birdmen. Next he was transferred to a convalescent hospital in San Antonio, Texas, to participate in the rehabilitation program as instructor of arts and crafts. While stationed in Texas, Mr. Bernard visited New Orleans and made several interesting water color paintings.

His last few months in the Army were spent in San Francisco where he added more water color paintings to his accomplishments. Upon being discharged he entered the University of Iowa where he began graduate work toward his master's degree. He returned to Iowa again last summer, specializing in etching.

His extra-curricular work at Maryville College consists of experiments in a new type of modern art, whereby the tenets of surrealism and impressionim are combined and applied to abstractions. One of the art students informs us that "his work is very good."

He is currently interested in wood carving. Several strangely shaped logs may be found in the art studio. Mr. Bernard sees in them "puzzling prehistoric monsters" and is attempting to mold his interpretations into the logs. His major concern at this time is with "Primitive Forms," tentatively named such because of its resemblance to several beasts according to how you look at it.

This old school has managed to show a pretty steady progress under just such leadership for over a hundred years, and there hasn't anything happened in the past few semesters that would indicate a need for any drastic changes in policy. Education is the primary function of a school anyway, isn't it? All these other little things that we fuss so much about are relatively unimportant. Don't you think so, Ed.?

—Sam Broyles

Sad ending to Jack and the Beanstalk: Beanstalk got so high Jack couldn't buy the beans.

Check your Shoes; bring them in for new soles or heels, cleaning and dying

AMERICAN SHOE REPAIR SHOP

QUICKLY CURE Nagging Winter Colds

Don't let a winter cold get you down. Take Rexall cold tablets, in capsule or powder form before retiring and in the morning you'll feel and act like a new person

50c a box

Thermometer $2.00
Ice Bag $1.25
Nose Drops 50c

BYRNE DRUG CO.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday
March 1, 2, 3
Tyrone Power in
"Captain From Castile"
with Cesar Romero, Lee J. Cobb and introducing Jean Peters
color by Technicolor

Thursday, March 4
Rosalind Russell in
"Sister Kenny"
with Alexander Knox, Dean Jagger, Beulah Bondi, Phillip Merivale

Friday-Saturday, March 5-6
"Oregon Trail Scouts"
with Allan Lane, as Red Ryder, Bobby Blake

Here's Real Temptation

Tastier, fresher rolls made with the best ingredients are inviting accessories at every meal or in between.

Luscious sweet rolls, cookies, cakes and pies.

LYNCH BAKERY

Give Him Your Portrait!

The man in your life will [illegible] the flattering [illegible] our camera [illegible] which is further [illegible] the delicting.

[illegible] STUDIO

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

WHITE STAR LINE, Inc.
30-Minute Service
between
Maryville and Knoxville

Enjoy Town Nite With Us

SKATING TONIGHT!

ROLLERDROME SKATING RINK

OPEN EVERY DAY
Week days 5:00-7:00 except Wednesday from 2:30 -:430
Afternoon $0.30 Night $0.44

...."What's Up Doc?" asks the little wabbit in the movies. That's just the question about now for spring and sports. As long as the weather holds good, there'll be plenty of activity.... Baseballs are popping in mits every afternoon.... Bartlett's walls are resounding the tennis men's swings.... A week ago last Thursday Coach Davis assembled potential track men for the terse order: "Get to Work." Yep, things are buzzin' and spring sports are making a start. But more of them later.....

MEN OF THE WEEK—are the two undefeated Scot rasslers, Marvin and Palmer, who brought home Maryville's five points from the Auburn match. "Big Jim" is proving a spade in Coach Davis' wrestling deck. Herbert Palmer, while undefeated, is still hooking for a pin among the opponents in his 175 pound class.

AUBURN'S SPECTACLE is all we hear of the grapplers' talk about the match. Besides having a whale of a good team, the Auburn grunters put the match on in grand style. Before some 1800 people in their sports arena flooded by spotlights from above, the Maryville men met the Auburn boys (well, overgrown boys) on a "huge" (so they say) plastic covered mat. Hum, just like Madison Square Garden.....

To get out the populace, the town was covered with signs bearing slogans—"See Spider in Action". "Killer Keller, too" and also "Mouse Mantrone"—a 175 pounder of the Auburn mat squad.

"FIRE ENGINE BASKETBALL" — that's what's on the docket for next year on the Highlander court. Coach Honaker warmed up a special "fire-type" siren last Wednesday night to get the idea on its way. With a siren on the scoreboard, the Scots might adopt special flaming-red suits to match the effect.

IT'S A GOOD THING basketball games just last forty minutes. Last Saturday night forty minutes was just enough to put Maryville ahead of Carson-Newman. Some said the Scotties' play was "off-ful"—but is was on enough to keep the Eagles scoreless the last three minutes, which was time aplenty for Boring to collect three foul shots to win the game.

OVERLOOKED: When the ECHO sports page gets a picture, that's good. Thanks to staff member Carroll Stegall, this page carried a shot of Briggs' pin on Goodson last Saturday. In our haste to get the picture in print we forgot a courtesy line for Stegall's effort. Hereby we make amends.

LAST GAMES of the season are hard for the Scottie Hoopmen to win. Last year Tusculum broke a six-game win streak to cap the Highlander hardwood schedule.

Lambuth, like Maryville, entered Wednesday's game with thirteen wins. If there's one consolation we can find for the losses to Lambuth on two occasions, it's the fact that the Scots beat Cumberland—a team which defeated Lambuth on the Lebanon floor.

ALTHOUGH THE NUMBER of average points made per game increased some six points over the '47 season the average of the top scorer for the sason dwindled. Last year Lillard held a 11.0 average points per game. Boring came up from a 7.8 average to capture first place this year.

Auburn Plainsmen Trim Highlander Rasslers, 26-5

Auburn's wrestlers played an old traditional tune—defeat—on the Highlander bagpipe last Saturday when the Alabama Tech men flattened the visiting Scot grunters, 26-5. Jim Marvin and Herb Palmer netted the M. C. 5 by a decision and a tie.

Marvin Wins Again, 6-2

"Big Jim" Marvin really boosted the Scot morale in the first bout when he decisioned Sargent, 6-2, in the 121 class after reversing twice and gaining time advantage. Marvin still holds his undefeated record for this season.

But morale was not enough to beat the expert Auburn matmen. J. A. Cameron and Ken Ross both fell to their opponents by double pins in the 128 and 136 pound classes. Tom Keys pinned Cameron in 54 seconds of the second period and in 23 seconds of the third period. McKenzie pinned Ken Ross in 1 minute 7 seconds of the second period and in 1 minute 40 seconds of the third period. McKenzie is the Auburn captain and Ross is the Scot captain.

Callaway, Major Lose Decisions

Tubby Callaway, 145 class, and L. Major, 155 class, were both decisioned in their bouts. Callaway escaped four times and reversed once, but Keller, whom Tubby decisioned last year, made four take-downs, two reverses, and a near fall and earned time advantage to win, 16-6. Major's two escapes and one reverse were too few points to outscore Valley's two take-downs and two reverses and time advantage; and Vallely won, 10-4.

Hersh Merriman met too much skill and experience too in Auburn's Smith. Hersh escaped twice, but Smith reversed twice, scored one take-down and near fall plus time advantage for a 10 to 2 decision.

Palmer Ties Again, 1-1

Herb Palmer, 175 class, raised the Scot score two points when he tied with Mantrone with one escape each. Palmer has yet to be defeated this season.

Brnilovich, Auburn heavyweight, pinned John Briggs in 1 minute 24 seconds of the third period after reversing from the bottom.

Anderson Pins Orcutt In Exhibition

Chesley Anderson, 136 pound Scot, pinned Orcutt in 1 minute 24 seconds of the third period in the exhibition bout. Before the pin he had scored a reverse, an escape, and a near fall.

SUMMARY—

121 class—Marvin (M) decisioned Sargent (A), 6-2

128 class—Keys (A) won by double fall over Cameron (M), first fall in 54 sec. of 2nd. period, second fall in 23 sec. of third period.

136 class—McKenzie (A) won by double fall over Ross (M), first fall in 1 min. 17 sec. of 2nd. period, second fall in 1 min. 40 sec. of 3rd period

145 class—Keller (A) decisioned Callaway (M), 16-6

155 class—Vallely (A) decisioned

(Continued on page four)

Grapplers Wrestle At W.N.C. Tonight; Tourney March 5

MATMEN TRAVEL; CAROLINA TONIGHT; CHATT. FRIDAY

Western North Carolina State Teachers College is the destination for Coach "J. D." Davis and his grapplers, on the road today for the second consecutive week. Next Friday and Saturday the Scots will tangle for honors in the tournaments being held in Chattanooga by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Carolina, Maryville Have Met Before

Carolina's Catamounts and the Highlanders have tied once since the beginning of this season. The Scots came out on the high side of a 29-5 victory. Tonight the M. C. line-up will vary slightly from the regular one with Earl Black, Bill Brewer, and Henry in for Marvin at 121, Ross at 136, and Merriman at 165. Ross and Merriman are on the injury list with a foot injury and a caulaflower ear, respectively. The rest of the squad includes J. A. Cameron, 128; Tubby Callaway, 145; L. Major, 155; Herb Palmer, 175; and John Briggs, unlimited.

Chattanooga Tournaments Next

Next on the Scot schedule is the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournaments in Chattanooga. Among those teams expected to participate are Auburn, University of Chattanooga. The tournament will consist of individual bouts and team wrestling.

LAMBUTH TRIPS MARYVILLE, 58-54 IN SEASON'S FINALE

Height and deadly accuracy proved too much for the Scotties as they bowed to Lambuth's Eagles, 58-54, in the final game of the season in Alumni Gym.

At halftime Lambuth was leading 26-18 and it was not until the second half that Maryville began to roll by tieing the score, 34-34. The score rocked along until the last five minutes with Lambuth out front, 49-47. The Eagles stayed ahead for the final stage of the game.

For Captain Ray Lillard and "Pie" Garner it was taps for their appearances with the Orange and Garnet quintet. Lillard opened the scoring with a long push after two minutes of play and hooped three more baskets and a free throw for 9 points, while Garner made seven

(Continued on page four)

Baseball Practice Begins

NINE OPENS SEASON AT HIWASSEE; REGULAR PRACTICE STARTS NEXT WEEK

Spring is here—almost—and with it baseball. Four weeks from now the nine opens against Hiwassee on the home diamond and already Lombe's boys are heaving the cowhide around the field and the gym. On Monday regular practice starts full blast.

Hardball has been termed the number one sport at Maryville for some years by sports critics everywhere. In the past, the M. C. nine has met plenty of competition against the larger schools—Michigan State, University of Tennessee, and Tennessee Poly Tech last year. This season T.P.I. and U. T. made a reappearance on the Scot schedule.

Lombe's Still With Us

Lombe S. Honaker, termed the dean of southern baseball, has been the brain behind the successful ball seasons at M. C. for the past 25 years and returns this year to what may prove one of his most successful nines. In the past are such names as Johnny Stone, Jack Matthews, Elmer Gray, Baxter Williams, and Shorty McCall. In the future may well be names like Bob Boring, ace shortstop and slugger, Leon Berrong, fast ball expert, and others on the '48 team.

Prospects?

Good is the adjective for the '48 material. With 16 men returning with game experience from last year and with 8 regulars out of 10 back, the future looks bright.

In the hitting category are Bob Boring, Hugh Hamil, and Alban Rock, all of whom batted over .300 last season. Hard-hitting Boring headed the averages with a .349 slamming out 2 doubles, 4 triples, and 1 homer besides 14 singles in 65 times at bat, Hamil was close behind with a .348, including 12 singles, 5 doubles, 2 triples, and 2 homers in 66 times at bat. Rock hit 13 singles, 2 doubles, nd 2 triples in 54 times at bat.

The mound has lots of contenders too. Fast-ball hurler Leon Berrong proved his control last year, winning 8 and losing 1 in 10 games fanning 52 batters, walking only 15, and allowing 52 hits and 25 runs. Other returnees are Joe Jernigan, who hurled in 8 games last year, and Ross Honaker, who held down the third base last year.

In the infield, the only weak spots are first base and home, vacated by Enloe and Stinnett. With Jack Buckley on third, Boring at short, and K. Berrong at second, the infield has some experience. Watch for Ray Holsey and Bill Shields behind the plate. The outfield is well covered by Wally Bentz, Hugh Hamil, Art Spears, Rock, and Neff from last year's team.

Schedule

The tentative schedule for 1948 is as follows:

April 3—Hiwassee—here
April 6—Hiwassee—there
April 10—W. N. Carolina—here
April 16—Tenn. Poly Tech—here
April 17—Emory & Henry—here
April 19—E. Tenn. State—here
April 21—Woffard—there
April 22—Newberry—there
April 23—Erskine—there
April 27—W. N. Carolina—there
April 30—T.P.I.—there
May 10—Emory & Henry—there
May 11—E.T.S.—there

Other games with Tusculum, Lincoln Memorial, U. T., and Middle Tennessee are being scheduled.

Maryville Quintet Ends Season With 13 Wins, 9 Losses

BORING LEADING SCORER; TEAM STATISTICS LISTED

Lambuth's 58-54 victory last Wednesday night rang down the curtain on the Highlanders' 1948 basketball campaign. Coupled with a 36-49 loss on the first game, Lambuth is the only team that the Scots played twice and bowed to more than once.

13 Won—9 Lost

The end of the season caught the Scots holding a record of 13 victories out of 22 games. Maryville has an average of 54.2 points per game with a season's total of 1193 points. Opponents' averages are just 4.5 points behind at 49.7. Total pointage for opponents is 1094 points for the season.

Five Top Opponents Listed

To list the five strongest teams the Highlanders met in the '48 season would go something like this: (1) Western Kentucky State—who trounced the Scots, 77-37 January 10, at Bowling Green; (2) Lambuth College; (3) Lincoln Memorial University—first game 62-57 for Maryville, second game 79-56 for LMU; (4) East Tennessee State—first game 43-36 for Maryville, second game 85-82 (overtime) for ETS; (5) Carson-Newman—first game 40-36 for C-N, second game 34-32 for Maryville.

Boring High Scorer

Bob Boring's 236 points for the season gave him the highest average of the Scot quint for the '48 season with an average of 10.7 points per game.

Captain Ray Lillard, senior and four-year man of the squad, was second in scoring with a 10.2 average for 225 points. Lillard's field goal total was just one less than Boring's 94 buckets for the season.

(Continued on page four)

SCOTTIES CLAW CAROLINA' CATS IN 59-53 WIN

Playing their last away game of the season, the Highlanders again defeated Western North Carolina's Catamounts, 59-53 at Culhowee, N. C. Monday night.

In the first meeting of the quints, Maryville was victor, 45-39 on the home floor. Monday night's game was originally scheduled for January 28, but was postponed because of snow.

Although McGinn, Carolina forward, led the opposition with 9 fields goals, three Scots—Boring, Brahams, and Hamil—each sunk five field goals for the six point spurt needed to edge W.N.C.

Defense was equally tough for both teams, but McGinn slipped through for five goals in the final half, while Brahams rushed the Catamounts with four buckets. The Carolina crew unsuccessfully tried to freeze the ball in the final stage.

Halftime score was 33-27 with the Highlanders holding a 6 point margin.

W. Carolina 53		Maryville 59
Tate (14)	F.	Lillard (10)
McGinn (20)	F.	Brahams (13)
Collins (1)	C.	Garner (2)
Rhodes (4)	G.	Boring (14)
Barnhoust (11)	G.	Hamil (12)

SUBS: Maryville—Roberts (2), Reynolds (6); W. Carolina—Carter (3).

SCOTS EDGE EAGLES WITH 34-32 SHAVE

Before the season's record crowd in Alumni Gym last Saturday night, the Scot Basketeers nosed out Carson-Newman's Eagles 34-32. With a minute and a half to play, and the Eagles in possession of a 32-31 lead, Bob Boring's three points from the foul line gave Maryville the edge.

Boring's first throw in the last minute of play tied the score—32-32; his second shot put the Scots ahead for the first time in the second half, and his final toss (taken after the horn blew) gave the Highland Quint their greatest margin of the night over Carson-Newman.

For 11 minutes—first 4 of the opening period and the first 7 of the final period—the Eagles held the Scots scoreless.

The score was deadlocked three times before the half, and the Scotties held a scant 14-13 lead at the midway break.

The game was decided at the free shot line, as both teams made 11 field goals each. Maryville made 12 out of 23 free throws and the C-N Quint made 10 out of 17. Carson-Newman's .588 percentage in free throws was better than Maryville's .522, but the Scots had more charity-toss opportunities.

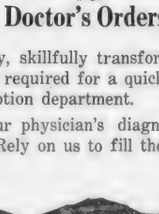
Maryville held the Eagles scoreless during the last three minutes of the game after the Eagles attempted to freeze the ball in the outer quarter of their front court.

Carson-Newman 32		Maryville 34
Moffett (6)	F.	R. Lillard (7)
J. Wade (2)	F.	Reynolds (7)
Shipley (9)	C.	Garner (2)
Cunningham (7)	G.	Boring (13)
Poteet (8)	G.	H. Hamil (5)

Officials—Stratton and Thornton.

TENNIS SEASON OPENS APRIL 13

Varsity tennis season officially opens April 13 with an away match with East Tennessee State Teachers, Coach Kenneth P. Johnson announced early this week. Other matches planned so far are with Lincoln Memorial on April 16 here, East Tennessee on April 27 here, and Lincoln Memorial on April 30 there. At least four other matches will be added to this list before the season begins.



Tennis aspirants, now numbering eighteen, have started practicing on Tuesday and Thursday in Bartlett. A ladder has been set up to begin when the courts are in useable condition. The first ten men on this ladder are Uthlaut, Wilson, Dinges, C. Anderson, Murray, Waggoner, Gearhart, Knecht, Lawrence, and Mills. Others include D. Jones, Broyles, House, Pribble, Fisher, Gage, Evans, and Stanfield.

HEY KIDS!

Why not stop in at the J. & K. Super Store on your Way from Town—There you will find the Finest Assortment of— Apples, Oranges, Bananas, Grapes, Cookies, Cheese, Pickles or Anything Else for A Good Snack—

Also–Paper Napkins, Toilet Soap and Soap Powders—See Us For your every need—

The J & K SUPER STORES
MARYVILLE • ALCOA
Church Street

Your Doctor's Orders . . . .

Are speedily, skillfully transformed into the medications required for a quick recovery, in our prescription department.

Rely on your physician's diagnosis and prescription. Rely on us to fill the prescription correctly.

PARK DRUG STORE

YOU WONT FORGET . . .

No need to tie a string around your finger once you've spent a morning lingering over our tempting, home style breakfast.

Don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today.

Visit Us Without Delay—

BROADWAY CAFE
Under New Managership

SOFTBALL SLATED TO START MARCH 15

Intramural softball will start Monday, March 15, on the athletic field back of the Alumni Gym.

Eligibility lists are available in the intramural office for those who wish to get a team together and sign up. The lists are due back in the intramural office by Wednesday, March 10, so that there will be time enough to set up the schedule. Game schedules for the following week will be printed in the ECHO.

The games will be played according to the regular softball rules, with all positions using standard baseball or softball gloves.

Further information can be obtained from Milfred Castvodale, student manager of intramural softball.

Volleyball Tourney Begins March 3rd

The intramural volley ball tournament will begin Wednesday, March 3, and will continue through Friday, March 5. The schedule is posted on Carnegie and Bartlett bulletin boards. Y. M.C.A. is out in front of the rest of the teams in the league standings with a perfect record for the third round, which ends Monday. The faculty is in a close second with 1 loss in 6 games.

Standings

	W.	L.	Pct.
YMCA	6	0	1.000
Faculty	5	1	.833
Choir	4	2	.667
Rockets	3	3	.500
Scorpions	3	3	.500
Athenians	2	4	.333
Brewers	1	5	.167
Odds and Ends	0	7	.000

Cage Season Ends

(Continued from page three)

Individual Statistics

Player	FG	FT	TP	Pts.	Av.
Baldwin	5	2-4	7	12	1.6
Berrong	8	7-15	13	23	1.8
Boring	94	48-85	22	236	10.7
B. Brahams	78	27-43	19	183	9.6
Clark	7	3-7	6	17	2.8
Garner	42	26-59	22	110	5.2
H. Hamil	64	31-55	22	159	7.2
G. Hamil	5	3-5	6	13	2.2
Keny	4	0-1	4	8	2.0
R. Lillard	93	39-72	22	225	10.2
Reynolds	52	23-49	22	127	5.8
Roberts	22	5-12	17	49	2.9

Key:—FG field goals, FT free throws, TP times played, Pts. total points, Av. points per game.

Five Leading Free Shot Tossers

In the season's records at the foul shot stripe, Brick Brahams leads with a .628 percentage. Gene Hamil is next with an even .600. Boring's .565 is just a shade above the .564 percentage of his fellow guard, Hugh Hamil. Ray Lillard's .541 percentage puts him fifth in line.

The Most Accurate Five

For the nine home games in 1946, the percentage of made and missed field shots looks like this for the five leading shooters:

Player	Made	Missed	Pct
B. Brahams	33	90	.367
H. Hamil	27	81	.333
Boring	36	110	.327
R. Lillard	42	129	.326
Garner	15	45	.300

Moe: Where's a woman's yet?

Joe: I don't think I know, why?

Moe: Well I read in the paper that a man shot a woman and the bullet is in her yet.

TAXI

Telephone

218

At Your Service

24 Hours

Top Service

"Catering to ligitimate and essential business only"

DIXIE CABS

CHILLIE-HOWEE STAND EVEN CHANCE IN TOURNAMENT

Thursday's game marked a four game split for the Chillies and the Howees in the basketball tournament—two wins for the Chillies and two wins for the Howees. Tuesday's game was the first win for the Chillies with a score of 33 to 25 over the Howees, the Howees having won the first two games. Individual scores for the game are as follows: Chillies—Marion Henderson-12, Kemp-6, Rock-4, Caldwell-4, Clemmons-3, Sangster-2, and Merle Henderson 2; Howees—Siebold-13, Gilreath-4, Wilma Robinson-2, Heaps-3, Lindsay-2, Faye Robinson-1.

The Chillies scored a close victory over the Howees with a narrow margin of 36-35 in the game played Thursday, February 26.

Individual scores for the Chillies are Caldwell-9, Kemp-9, Clemons-7, Marion Henderson-6, and Rock-5. Scores for the Howees are Lindsay-17, Siebold-8, Gilreath-6, and Heaps-4.

Three more games will be played with four games out of seven.

SENIOR LIFESAVING COURSE PLANNED

The American Red Cross senior lifesaving course will begin in the college pool on Monday, March 15. All women interested in the course may sign up with Mrs. Queener in her office in Bartlett Hall. Men who wish to earn a senior lifesaving badge may sign up with Coach Johnson in the Intramural Office.

Instruction periods will be two hours in length, from seven until nine p. m., two evenings a week at the pool. The course requires 15 hours of class work and a 2-hour test.

Auburn Flattens Scot Matmen, 26-5

(Continued from page three)

Major (M), 10-4

165 class—Smith (A) decisioned Merriman (M), 10-2

175 class—Draw between Palmer (M) and Mantrone (A), 1-1

Unlimited class—Brnilovich (A) pinned Briggs (M) in 1 min. 54 sec. of 3rd period.

Exhibition, 136 class— Anderson (M) pinned Orcutt (A) in 1 min. 24 sec. of the 3rd period

LAMBUTH'S EAGLES TRIP SCOTS, 58-54

(Continued from page 3)

points.

Lambuth 58		Maryville 54
Hampton (13)	F.	Lillard (9)
Solomon (6)	F.	Reynolds (10)
T. Leathers (10)	C.	Brahams (10)
Parker (20)	G.	Hamil (12)
May (9)	G.	Boring (6) Garner (7)

Officials: Thornton and Farmer.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

1921—The Maryville football team, under Coach L. S. Honaker for the first time, played its first two games with Knoxville High School and University of Tennessee, and won both of them.

1927—Theta Alpha Phi national honorary fraternity was established at Maryville College. Of the eighteen colleges applying that fall for the honor, it was the only one accepted for a chapter.

1927—The first girl, Sarah Moore, was elected editor of the Echo. Elections were then open to the student body; nominations were made by the faculty committee.

1927—Point system was begun for girls' physical education.

1927—Writers' Workshop was founded with Mrs. Nita Eckles West, Miss Jessie Heron, and Dr. E. R. Hunter as charter members.

February 1928—The faculty alumni and former Athenians had the following Athenian program:

Opening prayer ..... Prof. Kiger
Alma Mater ..... Led by Dr. Orr
"Early Tenn. History" .....Prof. Queener
Piano solo ..... Prof. Howell
Reflections ..... Dr. Hunter

February 1938—Maryville's wrestlers defeated the University of Tennessee 25 to 3.

1930—Dr. Ralph Waldo Lloyd accepted the position of president of Maryville College upon the resignation of Dr. Samuel Tyndale Wilson. Dr. Edwin R. Hunter served as president pro-tem in the three month interval.

1930—SENIOR PRIVILEGES BEFORE CONTACT COMMITTEE: "It was decided that the men could call for women in the dormitories for all formal functions, but that during the basketball season the couples would have to meet at the gym and bookroom."

November 1938—YM and YW sponsored a Thanksgiving sunrise service at 6:15 a.m.

March 1940—Tests were given that proved that Southerners are superior to Yankees in scholastics.

September 1939—A road over the corduroy was being planned for the college by Mrs. John Walker.

January 1938—Carnegie Hall celebrated its twenty-first anniversary with open house.

Do You Know?

That the students were just as childish then as now and had coasting parties?

That ice skating used to be a popular winter sport at MC?

That a "show" was given to raise money to build a bowling alley in Bartlett? The stereoptical type of show).

That fire escapes were installed on Memorial and Baldwin in 1891.

That Dr. Hunter also edited the College Monthly, was president of Athenian, YM secretary, secretary of the Athletic Association, a chemistry lab assistant, and associate editor of the Chihowean.

That Professor Howell held the mile track record in his junior year?

In 2019 Maryville College will celebrate its second Centennial.

Ross Honaker was mascot of the class of 1930.

Hedy Nabholz, Campbell Read At Workshop

Hedy Nabholz read a short story entitled "Crisis", and David Campbell read five stanzas of connected verse without a title at the last Writers' Workshop meeting.

Miss Nabholz's story dealt with a man who received "an insight into life and its meaning shortly before death in a traffic accident." Campbell's verse reading was accompanied by melodic modulations of his own composition and played by Dorothy Vawter.

Tall Girls Practice May Day Dance

The Tall Girls' Club have started working on the dance they plan to give at the May Day program.

Plans have been made to present a short program at the recreation hall soon when the club members will act as hostesses.

THETA EPSILON

Theta Epsilon will meet Saturday night at 6:15 promptly. All Thetas are invited.

Have you heard the story about the peacock?.....A beautiful tail.

TOWNSEND MEETS EVERETT IN H. S. TOURNAMENT

Townsend meets Everett High in the finals of the men's 7th district basketball tournament tonight. Last night Townsend downed Alcoa 50-42 in the semi-finals before an overflow crowd.

Everett Edges Out Maryville

Everett nosed out Maryville last night by two points in the last 45 seconds of the game to win, 29-27. At the half, the Maryville High boys were way out in front. In the last half, Coach Jim Renfro sent in the M.H.S. reserve team, and in a matter of minutes, the Everett team was back in the game with a tied score. The rest of the game was nip and tuck for both teams.

Townsend will meet Porter in the play-off for the women's title tonight. Last night, the Townsend girls defeated Everett, 31-24, and Porter downed the Walland girls, 38-24.

SENIOR PRIVILEGES

(Continued from page one)

group will act as monitor.

(4) Those girls who do not wish to cooperate in the monitor system will not receive the privileges.

(5) It shall be the duty of monitors to report to the Executive Committee of WSGA all underclass women taking privileges set aside for senior women, an all senior women infringing upon provisions of senior privileges.

2. On the second town night (other than Tuesday) dating in Knoxville will be permitted senior women provided they report back to their dormitories by 8:30 p. m. Groups of three or more women have the same privilege. Only bus transportation is approved. (If the couple returns to the campus by 6 p. m., they have the privilege of going to town that evening. However, if they do not return until 8:30 p. m. they may not go to town that evening)

3. Senior women shall also have the privilege of dating on Sunday afternoon from 3:00 o'clock until the supper hour. They shall be allowed to date on campus, walk in the residential section of the city, and sign up for parlour dates. Groups of couples may walk in the College Woods or around the seven-mile loop.

Penalties

It shall be the duty of the Executive Committee of WSGA to follow ing penalties:

A. Infringements by senior women of any of the above provisions will result in suspension of all senior privileges for four months.

B. Any underclass women taking privileges (without permission) set aside for senior women shall be reported by senior women to whom the privileges are allowed.

1. Underclass women in town any night except Tuesday night without special premission from the Dean of Women or house mother shall forfeit the Tuesday town night privilege for four months of the school year.

2. The infraction by underclassmen of the senior privileges of dating in Knoxville (unless authorized to be there) and Sunday afternoon dating shall result in a suspension of their Tuesday town night for four months of the school year.

3. It shall be the duty of the Executive Committee of WSGA to withdraw any or all privileges of a student who does not live up to the general standards or principles or whose conduct is unseemly.

ALPHA SIGMA

Alpha Sigma will meet tonight at 6:15 in the "Y" rooms. Dick Ebelacker will have a program of campus slides. Among them will be some slides taken during the last snow.

You Can Dine Out Frequently

Our low prices permit you to enjoy restaurant meals.

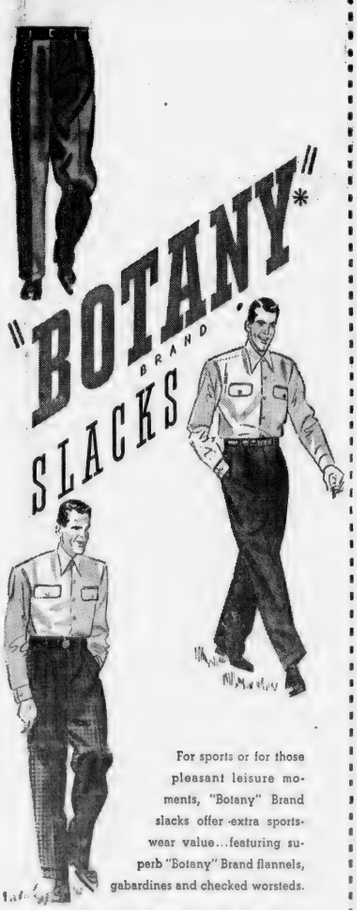
- Finest Cu'isine
- Courteous Service
- Pleasant Atmosphere

C. & L. CAFE

A "SHORT" STORY---

- - - - - - - - - - by ARROW

Why do college men prefer Arrow cut-and-sewn shorts over all others?



Easy! Because Arrow shorts are the most comfortable on the market—can't creep up like an Indian, due to Arrow's patented seamless crotch.

Come in and see our stock of fine Arrow shorts, Arrow Guards," Arrow T-shirts and undershirts.

Proffitt's

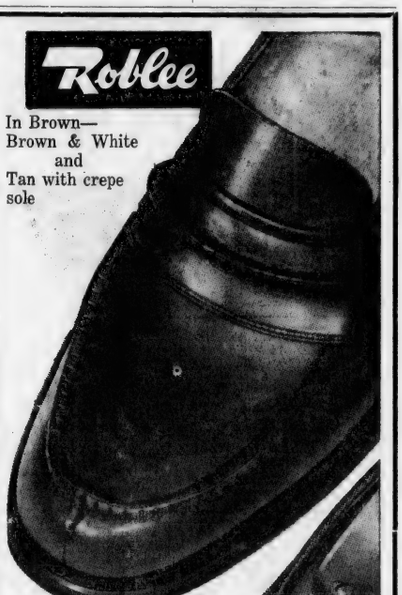
Men's Dept. Main Floor

Since 1919—"The Best Place To Trade"

For sports or for those pleasant leisure moments, "Botany" Brand slacks offer extra sportswear value...featuring superb "Botany" Brand flannels, gabardines and checked worsteds.

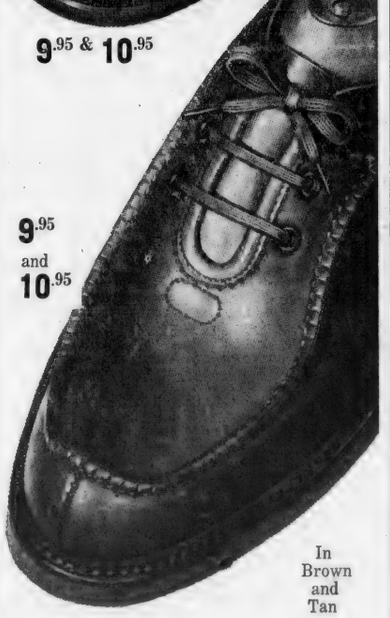
Feel the Fabric and You'll Feel the Difference

$13.95 AND UP



Proffitt's

"Since 1919 The Best Place to Trade"



*Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Roblee

In Brown—Brown & White and Tan with crepe sole

9.95 & 10.95

9.95 and 10.95

In Brown and Tan

Up-in-the-clouds comfort

Down-to-earth wear

PROFFITT'S

Smart Shoes Main Floor

LAMAR MEMORIAL LIBRARY
MARYVILLE
MAR 91948
COLL
MARYVILLE, TENNESSEE

GRAB 'EM GALS!

THE Highland Echo

IT'S LEAP YEAR!

VOLUME 33 MARYVILLE TENNESSEE MARCH 6, 1948 NUMBER 23

News ...psules—

BY DO... 'HELAN

Don't Czech Them Off Yet

Finland was still holding out late last week. Trying to find a polite way to say Go away to Stalin's two-week old letter had the little country's many political parties in a lather. Most parties agreed that the Russolution for east Europe peace was submitted in the Right Spirit and that some agreement would be worked out. Boasted a high Social Democrat Party official, "We alone control the Communists." Most observers hardly agreed with such bravado; what the Socialists—with one less parliament seat than Fin Reds—had better do was join other moderates and rightists. If such a coalition was formed, it appeared, Helsinki might not have to sell out in the form of a military pact with the USSR.

"I Don't Want It—
You Can Have It—
It's too early yet!"

Senate President Arthur H. Vandenburg, Republican of Michigan, is still not a candidate for his party's nomination. Nevertheless, as with Ike, his popularity continued to rise. According to the Washington Post, he still left the door open when he refused a yea-or-nay answer last week. Taking time out from the Senate ERP (Marshall Plan) debate where he had vigorously supported the administration policy, he answered admirers in Nebraska. To their will-you-or-won't-you-take-the-nomination-if — offered telgrams, he wired, "It is impossible to give a flat answer without knowing what the future will bring." Evidently reading between the lines, Nebraska Vandenburgomasters put his name on the ballot; he asked his friends to vote against him.

Po' Ol' Millionaires

"Just a coincidence," said the top men of Big Steel. They were testifying before a joint congressional Committee on the Economic Report, as officials of US Steel, Bethlehem, and Alleghany-Ludlum. What the committee wanted to know was just how come all three of this country's biggest steel producers hiked their prices the same amount ($5 more per ton) on the same day. In sudden concern for po' ol' Labor, Ohio's Bob Taft wanted to know more about the argument that corporations deserved higher prices due to increased costs without a wage boost for workers who also are shelling out more.

A Democrat wondered about an extra December dividend if US Steel is in such "sad financial shape." "Out of earnings of course," snapped the company president. Bethlehem Steel's man justified their spin to inflation's spiral because "we've done our job (to stop inflation)."

Her Day

Helen Taft, wife of the senator, for one, had no ax to grind last week. Questioned by Meet the Press (MBS) newsmen on what she thought of Eleanor Roosevelt, she quipped, "I have no criticism of the wife of any President who has preceded me."

Mrs. McMurray To Address YMCA

Mrs. J. H. McMurray, the founder of the College Maid shop, will address the YMCA Sunday at 1:30 in Bartlett Hall, on the subject, "The Home and the Family."

Mrs. McMurray is still manager of the College Maid Shop, which she founded. Her husband, up till the time of his death, was head of the Department of Political Science here at Maryville. Mrs. McMurray is well qualified to speak on the subject, for she has several successful children. Her son is a coach at Mississippi State University, and one of her daughters is a regular columnist for a Cleveland, Ohio, newspaper, and has written several books. Another daughter is an accomplished musician and a language scholar, specilizing in Greek.

Mrs. McMurray's discussion will be informal, and there will be an opportunity for discussion.

Alpha Sig Chooses Sponsor For Play

"The Sweetheard of Alpha Sigma," the girl who will sponsor Our Hearts Were Young and Gay, will be nominated by the Alpha Sigs tonight at 6:15 in the Y rooms. The five sweetest, prettiest, and gayest girls on campus, according to tonight's elimination, will go before a board of judges Monday afternoon.

Alumni to Judge

Dr. David H. Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Pieper, and Miss Frances Massey, Theta and Alpha Sigmi alumni, will act as judges.

The final winner will be secret until "The Sweetheart of Alpha Sigma" is presented the night of the Theta-Alpha Sig play.

Capt. Kirby Smith, USMC, Visits MC Campus Tuesday

Capt. E. Kirby-Smith, USMC, of the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., will visit Maryville College Tuesday, March 9, in the interest of Marine Corps Officer Procurement through Platoon Leaders Classes. The captain will establish an office in the Personnel office during his stay.

"Platoon Leaders Classes are open to freshmen as well as sophomores and juniors," states the captain, "and students selected for the program are enlisted in the Marine Corps Reserve, Inactive."

As reservists, they are not subject to call to active duty except in case of a national emergency or if they request such assignment.

After successful completion of the required periods of military, which is held in the summer months, and after graduation from college with a baccalaureate degree, platoon leaders are eligible for appointment to the commissioned rank of second lieutenant, U. S. Marine Corps Reserve.

The requirements are that men must be between the ages of seventeen and twenty-five, not married, citizens of the United States, be of commissioned officer caliber and physically qualified to serve as an officer.

NOTICE

Students who are not receiving THE HIGHLAND ECHO should leave their names and addresses in the basket in the ECHO office or hand them to some member of the business staff.

COMMITTEES FOR THETA-ALPHA SIG PLAY APPOINTED

The committees for the annual Theta Epsilon-Alpha Sigma play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gayy'', have been appointed.

The committees are as follows: Publicity chairman, Ben Gearhart, co-chairman, Carl Lazenby; Stage Properties chairman, Mary Holly Webb, Delbert Earisman, Bob Proffitt, Orville Wintermute, Jim McKee, Margaret Newland, Wilma Davis, and Betty Marie Davis; Tickets, Charlie Warner, chairman, Mimi Leake; Program, chairman, Geneva Robinson, Joe Claud; Costumes chairman, Joyce Hampton, Eunice Billings, Marlene Mauger, Jackie Lindstrom; Stage Crew chairman, Howard Cameron, Joe Poland, Noble Pribble, Margaret Weaver; Lighting chairman, Sherwood Coul, Bud Engle, and Fred Richardette; Make-up chairman, Lois Deobler, Marian Pope; Hand Properties chairmen, Lois Miller, Pat Dennis, and Betty Baumer; Ushers chairman, Bernard Welch.

The play, starring Carroll Kennette and Elsie Jean Cotton, will be given March 20 and 21.

Y's Present "Two For Admission," Student Radio Play

"Two for Admission" will be presented on the YMCA-YWCA radio broadcast, Sunday, March 15, at 2:30 p. m. over WGAP. The Y's are sponsoring a fifteen minute program each Sunday afternoon with all the programs being entirely written, acted, and directed by the students.

The YM is represented by Tom Wheeler, chairman, Milford Castrodale, and Ben Paxton. Katie Carpenter is the chairman of the YW's committee, working with Barbara Eggleston and Margie Newland.

A particular effort is made in each program to use all the techniques and professional resources of modern radio in giving these inspirational programs. "Two for Admission" was written by Tom Wheeler, and the cast will be the largest which has been used on a program.

WRITERS' WORKSHOP

Charles Hoglan read a sonnet, "To John Fitzhugh" and was criticized by Mildred Orr at the last Writer's Workshop meeting.

Esther Corneluis read a character sketch arbitrarily called "The Master's Touch." E. J. Cotton criticized.

Symphony Orchestra To Play At U.T. Auditorium

Karl Krueger will conduct the Detroit Symphony Orchestra when it appears in concert at the U. T. Alumni Memorial Auditorium on Wednesday, March 10. Miss Patricia Travers, violinist, will appear with the orchestra as soloist at the concert.

MSO POLL VOTE HELD NEXT WEEK

Societies Choose Shakespeare Play For Presentation

Cast Includes Seventeen Men, Three Women

"Merchant of Venice," a Shakespearean comedy, was chosen as the graduation play to be given by Bainonian and Athenian, under the direction of Miss Jessie Wild.

Forty students tried out for parts last Thursday, February 26, with Dean Hunter advising. Twenty were chosen. The cast includes: Duke of Venice, Milford Castrodale; Prince of Morocco, Joe Poland; Prince of Arrogon, Julian Gresham; Antonio, Max House; Bassanio, Bill Starr; Salanio, Roger Cowan; Salarino, John Shew; Gratiano, Carroll Stegall; Lorenzo, Bill Vogel; Shylock, Jim Black; Tubal, Dick Sprague; Launcelot Gobbo, Arthur Haff; Old Gobbo, Ben Paxton; Leonardo, Tom Eckert; Bethasar, Legrando Orr; Stephano, Craig Fisher; Cier, Dave Campbell; Portia, Betty Seagraves; Nerissa, Ann Jenkins; and Jessica, Dorothy Holverson.

Next Monday night in Bartlett, the cast will hold a discussion and Dean Hunter will answer questions and advise actors about their parts.

Ruthellen Crews is assistant director. Bob Watkins has the job of stage manager, which will be a difficult task with the elaborate Shakespeare setting.

Teachers Work-Shop Held On Maryville Campus

Dr. David H. Briggs Is Director of Group

Dr. David H. Briggs is directing a workshop which is being held on the Maryville campus for teachers of Blount and other nearby counties. It is for the benefit of teachers who do not yet have a degree, or who are teaching on a permit, or who are interested in further education work.

The workshop is being held in Thaw Hall and Anderson Hall.

After the present one, which started March 5, has been completed two others are to follow. Each workshop offers three quarter hours credit.

Other instructors besides Dr. Briggs are Dr. Lincoln Barker, Associate Professor of Psychology and Education, Maryville College; Miss Elsie Burrell, Supervisor of Elementary Education, Blount County Schools; Mrs. Thelma Kramer, Maryville College; Miss Carrie Lou Goddard, Supervisor of Elementary Education, Blount County Schools; and Miss Marie Hale, Supervisor of Elementary Education. Sevier County Schools.

FARMERS HOLD BANQUET IN M.C. DINING HALL

The annual Farmers Banquet of the Blount County Farm Bureau will be held in the dining room at Pearsons Hall next Monday, March 8, at 7:00 p.m. About 450 people are expected to attend. This is the third successive year that the banquet has been held in the college dining room.

The Blount county unit of the Farm Bureau is a member of both the state and national organizations whose purposes are to promote better farming and secure favorable farm legislation. Among other benefits, the local chapter has sponsored Blue Cross insurance for its members and has opened the Farmer's Cooperative Store in Maryville.

The evening meal for students will be held at 5:30 instead of the usual 6:00 p.m. in order to have Pearsons cleared for the banquet.

Mission Student Visits Maryville Prayer Service

William Henry Crane, representing the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, spoke at Wednesday night's Prayer Meeting this week. He is a student at Union Seminary in Richmond, Va., where he is preparing for the mission field in the Belgian Congo, Africa.

Crane told how the conviction that he should be a missionary came to him in a German hospital, at Christmas time, after he had been wounded and captured in the Battle of the Bulge. He was a rifle platoon leader and was blinded in one eye in that action. For this, he was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry as well as the Purple Heart.

Crane is the son of a missionary to Africa, and was introduced by Lloyd Anderson, his boyhood friend. He is the second of two mission representatives who have visited the campus recently. Miss Annie Kok, under appointment to China, spoke to Gospel Fellowship three weeks ago. She is the daughter of an American consular officer, and was born in China.

Madrigal Singers Appear At Blount County PTA Meet

Maryville Madrigal singers will furnish the music at the Blount County P.T.A. meeting Friday, March 12, at which Governor James McCord will be the speaker. The madrigal singers will sing five numbers at this meeting including "Trip It, Trip It," and "Fie, Nay Prithee, John," Henry Purcell; "Silver Swan," Gibbons; "Cuckow," Benson, and "Winterset" by William Diehl.

The madrigal singers are Peggy Howell, Peggy Wakefield, and Rella Anderson, sopranos; Katherine Carpenter, Gloria Messamer, and Evelyn Smith, altos; Haydn White and Charles Parvin, tenors; William Diehl and Ed Goddard, bass. Following the old English tradition the madrigal singers sit around a table as they sing. They are unaccompanied and without direction. Mr. Harry H. Harter, a member of the music faculty coaches the group at their rehearsals.

Dr. Gillingham Speaks At Vespers Sunday Evening

Guest speaker at Vespers tomorrow night will be Dr. Clinton H. Gillingham, retired Bible professor, living in Maryville.

Dr. Gillingham taught here many years before he went to the Tennent College of Christian Education in Philadelphia. In 1907, he received his B. A. at Maryville College, and later was conferred with a B.P. at Louisville Presbyterian Seminary.

CONSTITUTION PASSED BY STUDENT, FACULTY COUNCIL

A campus-wide, two-day poll vote of the men of the student body to ratify or reject the constitution of the Men's Student Organization, will be held Thursday and Friday, March 11, 12. If approved by two-thirds of those who vote, the MSO will be in effect for the balance of the school year, after which it will expire. For the future, it will have to pass a similar vote every year.

Having passed the Student Council Wednesday, Feb. 25, and the Executive Board on Thursday, March 4, it now remains for the men of Maryville College to decide for themselves. Tables will be set up on campus, under the managership of the Elections Committee, for the voting.

In order that all who vote may be familiar with its provisions, the constitution is presented herewith in its entirety:

CONSTITUTION OF THE MEN'S STUDENT ORGANIZATION OF MARYVILLE COLLEGE

Preamble

We, the men of Maryville College, realizing the need for an organization which can represent all men of the college, do establish this Constitution.

ARTICLE I

Name

The name of this organization shall be the MEN'S STUDENT ORGANIZATION OF MARYVILLE COLLEGE.

ARTICLE II

Purpose

The purpose shall be to provide an organizational structure which can fairly and adequately represent the points of view and interests, and execute the will of the majority of the men of the college in accordance with the provisions of this constitution.

ARTICLE III

Membership and Meetings

Section 1. All men students of Maryville College shall be members of the Men's Student Organization.

Section 2. Meetings of the Men's Student Organization shall be called by the Chairman of the Co-ordinating Council

a. upon the majority vote of the Co-ordinating Council,

b. upon a petition properly signed by twenty-five members, and

c. at any other time specified in this Constitution.

Section 3. The time, place and purpose of any Men's Student Organization meeting must be announced in chapel at least twice, or published in the HIGHLAND ECHO at least one week before the set date for that meeting.

ARTICLE IV

Co-ordinating Council

Section 1. The general administrative functions of the Men's Student Organization shall be centered in a group of nine men elected in the manner hereinafter designated, to be known as the Co-ordinaitg Council.

Section 2. Object

a. To furnish a responsible group of men who will represent accurately the points of view and interests of all college men.

b. To serve as a body by which proposals arising from the men may be heard, developed, and, if deemed necessary, presented to the Student Council, or to the proper authorities.

Section 3. Organization

a. The Co-ordinating Council shall consist of nine members which shall be apportioned among the following three groups according to the percentage of the whole Men's Student Organization made up by each group.

1) on campus,
2) off-campus transient,
3) off-campus permanent.

The nine men shall be elected by the Men's Student Organization, the elections being conducted by the Student Body Elections Committee. There shall be a minimum of one representative from any single group.

b. At the time of the general

(Continued on page four)

Maryville Joins National Student Association

Student Council Passes Affiliation February 25

National Student Association affiliation was passed by the Student Council Wednesday, February 25. Representatives on the Student Council cast their votes according to results of the general balloting on the question February 12.

Founding of NSA

NSA was organized as a result of the World Student Congress at Prague, Czechoslovakia, in August, 1946. American representatives realized that they could not really speak for the American student. They represented the YM, the YW, American Youth for Democracy, ten universities, and other organizations, but the United States had no all-over student organization as the other nations at the conference did. Since then the National Student Association took hold quickly, till now is a full time job for its original founders.

Maryville College students will now be able to work with other colleges on such matters as student government clinics and exchange students, and may act as host for students from other schools who wish to study the T.V.A. plan, in addition to many other activities.

Condition Of Charles Naundorf Reported Fair

Charles Naundorf was reported in fair condition, following a three hour operation yesterday. Naundorf's left kidney was removed, and if he continues improving, he is expected to be able to leave the hospital within two weeks.

Dr. C. B. Lequire performed the operation which took place at Blount Memorial Hospital.

At present, approximately $200 has been collected to help the Naundorf's through their financial crisis; still another $300 is being sought to adequately meet the situation.

Naundorf, a sophomore physics major from North Haldon, New Jersey, is married and living in the college trailor camp. He is a Navy veteran.

Dr. Ralph W. Lloyd has asked the student body to remember Naundorf in their prayers.

Four of Six Debates Won In MC-TPI Clash

The freshmen team won four out of six debates last Saturday, February 28, at the Whittle Springs Hotel in Knoxville. Maryville debated four boys from Tennessee Polytechnic Institute at Cookeville, Tennessee.

For the affirmative were Erasmus Fowler, Lewis Evans, Dolores Young, and Elenor Kramer; for the negative were Bill Shields, Freddie Waggoner, Betsy Davis, and Jean Elliot. The boys, who debated twice, won both debates, while the girls, debating only once, were defeated.

Betsy Davis won first place in after dinner speaking. Freddie Waggoner also entered the after dinner speaking contest, and Erasmus Fowler took part in the extemporaneous speaking contest.

APPROVED OR DISAPPROVED? FIVE WOMEN OFFER OPINIONS ON POSTED BULLETINS

BY DICK SPRAGUE

Early this week an anonymous piece of literature appeared on the bulletin board in Thaw Hall. Usually it would be bad policy to even consider such material; however, in view of the many discussions arising about it, we have sampled a few opinions concerning what has become known as "The Girl's Emancipation Proclamation."

"I say, more power to the composer of such an outstanding article," says Wilma Davis, sophomore.

Betty Seagraves, roommate of Wilma, and forthcoming "Portia" of Athenian-Bainonian's "Merchant of Venice" wistfully adds, "I only wish I were brainy enough to compose such a masterpiece.

Phyllis Jackson, freshman and friend of the press, has, we believe, faithfully captured the spirit of the female opinion.

"To live again those moments when we set foot 'where angels fear to tread' will probably never be our pleasure. Each one of us at sometime or another gets a thrill out of doing what we know will ultimately get us into trouble. However, I think that the proclamation which you boys (we have no proof of this hypothesis R.H.S.) published concerning our behavior was written in rather blunt and unmistakably sarcastic terms. It is true that we girls do not have all the freedom we would like. Nevertheless, we cannot win such by outright condemnation of the whole powers that be. Rather, we must step by step abolish those regulations which hinder and retard our cultural development. As the present state of our great nation took the lives and efforts of our forefathers, so the Maryville of the

(Continued on page four)

ORGANIST PRESENTS KNOXVILLE RECITAL

Maurice Douglas Pedersen, organist at the First Baptist Church in Knoxville, will be presented in a recital there on Sunday, March 7, at 3:15 p.m. The American Guild of Organists and the Department of Fine Arts at the University of Tennessee are sponsoring the recital. Mr. Pedersen served on the music faculty at Maryville College last year while Miss Katherine C. Davis, chairman of the department of fine arts, was on leave of absence.

High Society Plans Display Rehearsal

High Society, under the direction of Lois Doebler, is planning a display rehearsal to be given at a later date this month. All students will be invited and refreshments will be served after the performance.

THE HIGHLAND ECHO

Published weekly during the school year, except at examination and holiday periods, by the students of Maryville College.

Volume 33 Number 23

Dr. F. A. Griffitts ..... Faculty Adviser

EDITORIAL STAFF

Lorraine Swift ..... Editor
Dorothy Vawter ..... Managing Editor

JUNIOR ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Ruth Ramsey, Ilda Mosby, Leslie Webb, Dick Sprague, Carroll Stegall

SOPHOMORE REPORTERS
Craig Fisher, Barbara Wallin, Mildred Leake, Ruth Davis

FRESHMEN APPRENTICES
Jean Hunt, Mary Lyerly, Hazel Holm, Elenor Kramer, Donald Whelan

SPORTS STAFF

Kenneth Olsen ..... Editor
Herbert McCallum ..... Sophomore Reporter
Maynard Noble ..... Freshman Apprentice

BUSINESS AND ADVERTISING STAFF

Business Manager ..... Ruth Williams

SENIOR ASSISTANTS
Mary Jane Long, Florence Housch

JUNIOR ASSISTANT
Margaret Weaver

SOPHOMORE ASSISTANTS
Bob Watkins, Joe Claude, Janet Blackmore

FRESHMEN ASSISTANTS
Barbara Altfather, Anita Withers

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Maryville, Tennessee, under the Act of Mar. 8, 1879

Represented for National Advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc.
College Publishers Representatives
420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.
Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco

SATURDAY, MARCH 6, 1948

NOTICING THE PRIVILEGES

It is interesting to notice how senior privileges have been accepted by the girls during the last two weeks. Contrary to some predictions, there has been no mass evacuation to town on any night. As a matter of fact, not more than ten girls have ever gone to town in the same night, Tuesday excepted, of course.

The same was true about the first Sunday afternoon they were allowed to date. As for Knoxville dating, we haven't heard of anyone taking advantage of that yet.

Naturally, when the weather gets warmer students will have a greater desire to go out. It's nice to know you can go when you want to. We, personally, think it was wise to give a choice of a second town night. That way, you don't feel that you have to go a certain night or not at all.

While we're feeling good about receiving the privileges, we must thank those responsible for them. The WSGA committee was headed by Elsie Onifer. The committee presented their ideas of the privileges to the faculty executive council, who discussed, revised, and passed them. Speaking as one senior memebr, "a hearty thanks to you all."

HURRY BACK, CHARLIE—

If we were to ask every student personally, we know that each of them would want to join us in wishing you a speedy recovery. We've been listening for every report from the hospital and hope you'll soon be back among us.

PRO & CON STITUTION

Safely past the Executive Council, the constitution of the proposed Men's Student Organization comes back to you, the men, for a vote on Wednesday and Thursday. We were unable to get letters to the ed from the leaders of both the pros and the cons giving the arguments for their positions, so we will try to weigh what seems to be the outstanding argument against it ourselves.

This, simply expressed, is the fear that the MSO will lead to a monitor system in the men's dormitory. We feel qualified to speak because we, too, experienced this fear

But for several reasons we have been convinced that it is unfounded.

1. A monitor system will not function for the men. Unlike the women, the men would neither take discipline from one of themselves, nor would they be inclined to administer it. It would be unrealistic and doomed to failure.

2. Conditions remaining as they are, the men would never vote for a monitor system. The opposition is unanimous.

3. In the remote possibility that it were voted in by the men, they would find it so antagonistic that it would have small chance for survival. The elaborate precautions taken in the Constitution against anything the men find wrong with their organization would insure its immediate death.

All of which, taken together, seems to us ample argument that any fear of the constitution is based on a falacy that such a fear would never materialize as fact. On this basis we wish it bon voyage, and may it prove robust and effective in working in behalf of the men.

—C.F.

Much Echo About Nothing

BY ILDA MOSBY

Everything's all mixed-up. We're used to one Sadie Hawkins Day, but here's another girls-ask-the-fellows affair. (Federal Gym, tonite, good program—wedding, no less). Really, though, the switch is going pretty far when the fellows start reducing. Latest is Yambert and he sure looks mighty sad; imagine how his waitress must feel.

Open dorms was a good idea, but the fellows still aren't as time conscious as the girls. By ten-thirty Pearsonites felt that the men must surely be gone. But no, Dr. Lloyd and Mrs. Butcher were still engaged in a bean-bag game.

Most of the fellows seemed to enjoy seeing just how the other half lived, especially those who used the atomizers belonging to Elaine Kern and Eleanor Struble . . . Two fiendish people had the bright idea of short-sheeting hospitable girls. . . . The president seemed a little confused when he walked in one room and found two girls and four fellows. "Which of you live here?". . . Carnegie had a few unexpected visitors as one fellow who was caught in the shower can testify. . . . and by Sunday morning the girls all thought the halls would be safe again. Imagine one fair lass's consternation when she opened her door at 7:30 a. m. and beheld a man going down the hall.

The girls from Pearsons who went to Vols last Sunday were greeted by a mass evacuation of their dorm and figured they were having a fire drill. Then someone told them that Bobbie'd had a brainstorm: since it was leap year, why not serenade the fellows? Bet there were some of them who wondered if the girls were storming it again. . . . the serenade ended with the dorm where Mom Worley, Mrs. Butcher, and Ralph Irwin were the honored ones. . . . . the retreat into the building was far more quiet than after any firedrill.

Council lasted so long the other evening that Ken Ross finally remarked, "It's almost time for first period.". . . . Poor Eggleston tried arguing with a professor and ended resignedly, "Oh, why argue?". . . . Earl Black did a good job of pinning last Saturday in spite of the fact that his shoulder was dislocated. . . . Miss Jackson's students take warning. Her ears are in excellent condition as one lady found out when she muttered about Miss J.'s erasing what she was trying to copy. . . . The seniors are already deep in comp studying. . . . Everyone else is faced with mid-semester exams. . . .There was a loud bang and then the fire siren shrieked and then—the library was cleared as everyone raced to see what had exploded. . . .

Shirley Oshana's first words after recovering from her surprise at the shower Wednesday, "Everybody should get married.". . . . Gress and Bertholf should have happy marriages according to the marriage tests they took the other day. . . . . Shirley wasn't going to go "see her roommate" and man, would she have been disappointed if Phil hadn't persuaded her. . . . Katie had four knots. Tsk, tsk. . . . . Along the same line, according to the dictionary in the ECHO office, engage means "to join battle". . . . . Vinton, frowning over the textbook for Marriage and the Family, commented, "It's a deep subject."

Art Lucas needs glasses. Cars are rather large to fall over, but he did it in the middle of Gay Street. . . . Rip Reeves was a big help to Ruth Humes Tuesday morning when he carefully put the cereal bowls and plates in her dishpan. . . . . Nish and Cotton have decided that a few more things around here need organizing. Worn out by an evening of Council, they had the bright idea that the trees on campus were too indiscriminately placed. . . . Who finally settled the commentator argument in Disc Club?. . . . . One freshman will probably think before leaving the dining hall by way of the window again. Breezy, wasn't it, Bob? . . . . Hoglan always wins those dining hall desert contests. Maybe the rest of the table will learn not to bet. . . . The best way to keep the attention of fourth graders is to wear a bow tie and fascinate them. Ask Bill Starr who tried it. Most teachers wouldn't direct singing sitting on a table dangling their feet, but he did. Eckert has been added to the list of those who land in the wrong class. . .

There's only one word different in the title but we thought that most people knew the difference between YWCA and YMCA. This switching business even carried over to Y on Sunday when three fellows arrived at YW to hear Miss Wild (she's the one who got herself sung to on Thursday) and some of the girls couldn't resist going to YM to hear Mr. Fogarty vocalize . . . . Oh, well, the year can't last forever.

TALK OF THE WEEK BY DONALD REEVES

"HUFFY" HUFFMAN KNOWN AS MC'S VERSATILE MUSICIAN

BY RUTH DAVIS

Charles "Huffy" Huffman, junior music major from Maryville, Tennessee. These are general facts that could be written about anyone, but there is more to it than that Few people could claim the rest of Charlie's record, for he is among Maryville's most versatile music majors and promising musicians.

Versatility in the field of music is Charlie's most outstanding ability. To notice him one would not realize the talent that lies behind that broad grin. He sings, plays, composes, and arranges.

Good Sousaphone Player

Charlie plays bass with the college orchestra and a sousaphone in the band. In high school he was chosen as the best sousaphone player in East Tennessee for two years.

He sings bass in the vesper choir, and has written several pieces for the choir. Perhaps his most beautiful composition is the anthem sung by the vesper choir, "God, our Great Jehovah." He wrote the response, "Hear our Prayer," which the choir sings at each vesper service.

All Charlie's compositions, whether a football fight song or an anthem for the vesper choir, are a great success and loved by everyone.

Wrote "On, Highlanders"

"On Highlanders," sung at all the football games last year, played by the band, and the theme of the pep rallies was one of Charlie's most successful tunes. Footsie Housch wrote the words to the song.

None of the freshmen can forget the song that welcomed them to Maryville at student mix, "Aren't You Glad You're Going to Maryville?" Charlie again receives the honors for that one.

Composed in High School

Even in high school Charlie composed songs. One of his compositions, which was played by the high school band, was "Holiday March." He is now working on a new composition he calls "String Quartet" of which he has completed the first movement. He and Dorothy Vawter are working together on an operetta based on Southern mountain folk ballads. Both compositions promise to be great successes.

In addition to composing, Charlie also arranges. His arrangements of the barnwarming choruses are excellent examples of his ability. Everyone remembers "Play Gypsy, Dance Gypsy," "When a Gypsy Makes His Violin Cry," and "My Little Gypsy Sweetheart."

Arranges for Orchestra

Charlie also arranges for the orchestra and band. Few have heard his arrangement of "Stardust," "One Alone," and "Summertime." All who attended the orchestra concerts heard his beautiful rendition of our alma mater.

After he graduates from Maryville, Charlie plans to get his masters degree in theory. After that he wants to do arrangements and orchestration, and this reporter is one person who believes he can.

Alpha Sigma Poster Contest Continues

Ed Pancoast and Carl Lazenby won first and second prizes in the second round of the Alpha Sigma poster contest for "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay."

The contest goes into its last round next week. Posters can be given to Mary Hendricks in Memorial, Julia Pancoast in Pearsons, or Ben Gearhart, Carnegie 317. The contest is open to anybody. March 11, at 6:00 p. m., is the deadline for the contest.

WILKERSON—WILD WEDDING DATE SET FOR MAY 20

Miss Jessie Wild, daughter of Mrs. Eleanor Wild of Flint, Michigan, will be married on May 20 to Mr. Peter R. Wilkerson of Lynchburg, Virginia. Miss Alice Archibald and Miss Thelma Nelson, two of Miss Wild's friends in the fine arts department, were responsible for the announcement of her engagement in the dining hall last Thursday, March 4.

Miss Wild, a member of the Maryville dramatic arts department, taught drama and music in Lynchburg for three years, where Mr. Wilkerson works for the Post Office Department. Since both their birthdays fall in May, Miss Wild's engagement ring is a birthstone emerald ring.

NATALIE HART RETURNS TO SCHOOL

Natalie Hart, freshman from Florida, returned to College Thursday evening after a five weeks' absence.

During the first snow fall, "Nickey" seriously injured her knee when she fell on the ice. After examinations by several local doctors, she was advised to return to her home in Jacksonville for an operation.

Now off her crutches and "glad to be back," she will continue her studies which she has been keeping up to date while away.

Song of Love

Never take "no" for an answer;
Kiss her whenever you choose.
Whether she will or whether she won't,
She'll always holler, "Now don't!"

Check your Shoes; bring them in for new soles or heels, cleaning and dying

AMERICAN SHOE REPAIR SHOP

Like everyone else, you'd like to pare your food expenses. Spend your lunch hour and in between snacks with us. We offer your favorite foods, appetizingly prepared at low, self-service prices. For even greater savings, choose our daily plate specials!

DUBBY'S GRILL

Here's Real Temptation

Tastier, fresher rolls made with the best ingredients are inviting accessories at every meal or in between.

Luscious sweet rolls, cookies, cakes and pies.

LYNCH BAKERY

Give Him Your Portrait!

The man in your life will cherish the flattering likeness our camera ... which is further ...ced by the deli... printing.

...B STUDIO

Crawford & Caldwell
Hardware
Phone No. 1 Maryville

Calling All Teens!

Just for you, gals, a smooth jumper! Tiny, tiny waist. . . . swing skirt with yards of fullness . . . sweetheart, square or round necks. . .

All sizes .

All colors

Really a scoop!

See them now

McARTHUR'S

HERB'S— Half-acre

Echo Sports

MARCH 6, 1948 — Page Three

ALL TRACKMEN
REPORT MONDAY
AT FOUR O'CLOCK

AN EDITORIAL:

THE CASE FOR A TRACK TEAM

Track competition, both intra and intercollegiate, is scarce as hens' teeth this year.

Many things bring about the delapidated condition of the track program both here and throughout the state. Let's look at a few of the hindrances and handicaps to collegiate track meets.

Financial Barriers

The great obstacle from the administration point of view is that track doesn't pay for itself. The professional aspect of the cinder sport has never drawn enough popular attention to warrant the collection of admission fees, except in the A.A.U. and Olympic meets of the highest rank. Here track differs from other major sports. At Maryville, for instance, the basketball team can travel as far as Bowling Green, Kentucky, or the football squad as far as Orlando, Florida. Yet when a track meet is talked about, say with Mississippi State or Southwestern, the thing is considered out of the question because of the financial problems involved. The basketball or football team can afford to travel; they pay their own way.

Few Schools Field Teams

Tied in with this financial obstruction, which increasingly has cut out track for many schools, in the dearth of schools fielding a track team. In Tennessee, there are but eight schools which are—as far as we know—attempting to place a track team in intercollegiate competition. These schools are U. T., Vanderbilt, Southwestern, Tennessee Tech, Milligan, East Tennessee State, Sewanee, and Maryville.

Varied Schedules For Most

The meets these eight schools enter are varied. U. T.'s squad thrives mostly on competition in out-of-state relays and meets. Vanderbilt, too, seeks competion out of Tennessee. Southwestern is so far west that it does not schedule many of the other seven schools. East Tennessee State, Milligan, Sewanee, Tennessee Tech, and Maryville enter isolated meets during the season. All these schools are relatively close to "home" for each other's convenience and should arrange more meets among themselves.

Suitable Track Courses Scarce

Another major drawback to collegiate meets in in this section is the lack of well laid out track courses. The University of Chattanooga last year cancelled a track season for the want of a suitable track. At Maryville, we can hope the college will realize that the track (which in its present condition resembles, without appropriate fertilizer, a much-trodden cow path) is far from ideal for collegiate meets. As things are now, it is too close to the baseball diamond. With the expansion underway for the athletic field, an all-weather track should be uppermost in the college's planning if Maryville expects to produce more record breakers in track.

Groundwork For Track Missing

As for the individual incentive for track, some difficulty is rooted in the fact that high schools, like the average college, don't stress track and field events. A runner receives practically no training before college; consequently, he hasn't much enthusiasm for the hard work of track training—but rather chooses more glamorous sports as tennis, softball, and baseball.

Competition The Remedy?

Gloom over the outlook of a track schedule overshadows most thin-clad prospects' enthusiasm. The typical ache among the would-be track men about the college now is, boiled down to one sentence: "Aw, why go out for track, they haven't promised but one meet." Another argument: "What chance has a fellow to earn a letter in one or two meets? Especially a state meet when you've got the best in the state lined up against you." Entrance to the state meet is a good thing, but more average competition is desirable.

Equipment, Course Cited

A serious dampener to individual initiative is the appalling condition of the track, and lack of track equipment. What can be done for the track NOW will, to say the least, encourage fellows to stick with track in order that Maryville will field a team to be proud of in the coming season. As for equipment, Coach Davis told the men that assembled on February 20, after chapel—about twenty-five—that there were then seven pair of shoes available to issue this season. Sufficient equipment would, in like manner, bolster the morale of a squad.

A Run Against Odds

As one track man—who hasn't lost the spirit of achievement on the cinders—said: "He who runs at Maryville runs against odds." Let's hope that the coming season will provide only the odds of bettering another college's runner rather than the surplus odds of having to overcome adverse conditions in equipment, course, and the handicap of lack of sufficient meets to give ample chance for recognition.

A New Look Needed

There must be a new look at track this season. It rests with the track men—as many as possible—to get out and work, and it rests with the athletic office to give this squad, however how excellent in appearance, an "even break" in competition. By an "even break" we mean at least a three or four meet schedule for the season—about the average schedule before the war.

Track: A Major Sport

Track is classified as a major sport at Maryville. As such it should be "plugged" or "pushed" as much as any of the other major sports on the college's athletic program. Does Maryville want to rock along with a one-horse track season, shut down completely, or renew the sport with pre-war vigor?

Or shall Maryville settle down to a lackadaisical track season in 1948 with the alibi that it was the consequence of "unfavorable conditions"?

—H.M.M.

Ten M.C. Matmen Advance In Tournament

PALMER WINS BY DECISION; CALLAWAY BY 1ST PERIOD PIN

BY KEN OLSEN, ECHO SPORTS EDITOR

Special to The Highland Echo

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., March 6—Ten of Maryville College's fourteen wrestlers remain in the running here at the Southern Invitational Wrestling Tournament after the opening round last night at Fry Institute Gym.

Two Maryville wrestlers, "Tubby" Callaway and Herbert Palmer, won initial victories last night—Callaway by fall and Palmer by decision. Palmer (175) will meet Auburn's "Mouse" Mantrone in the finals of the 175 class today. Callaway is in the semi-finals and pitted against Chattanooga's 145 pounder, Williams in an afternoon bout.

Three schools— Chattanooga, Auburn, and Maryville— entered squads. Maryville now has a team score of 8, Auburn 19, and Chattanooga 8.

Jim Marvin and Paul McNeil, 121 pounders meet opposition for the first time in the tourney this afternoon J. A. Cameron goes into action against Keyes of Auburn in the final bout of 128 class. Merriman's first opponent at the tourney will be an afternoon bout with Berg (165).

Major, Earisman, Wintermute, and Yambert drew byes for the opening round.

In the opening bout of the Tourney, which is sponsored by the National Collegiate Athletic Association with the University of Chattanooga as the host team, Chet Anderson (136 of Maryville) was decisioned 8-3, by Bill Smith of Chattanooga.

"Tubby" Callaway won by fall over Auburn's Ducat, making the pin in 1 min. 53 sec. of the first period. This was the first time these wrestlers have met this season in the 145 class.

Auburn's "Killer" Keller waylaid Maryville's Mabry by an 8-1 decision in another 145 pound bout. Keller got a takedown, two reverses, and two points on time advantage while Mabry scored by an escape. It was the first meeting of the two, and Mabry's second bout of the season.

Vallely (155 of Auburn) defeated U. C.'s Miller, 6-1 in the fourth bout of last night's card. Bray (155 of U.C.) pinned Auburn's Halsey in 1 min.and 4 sec. of the 2nd period in the fifth bout.

In the sole 165 class event last night, Phil Smith of Auburn pinned Bob Smith of Chattanooga in 51 sec. of the 2nd period.

Herbert Palmer of Maryville, with a take-down, a reverse, and one point time advantage, took a close 5-3 decision over Chattanooga's Harry Love (175), who scored by an escape and a reverse. This was the third Love-Palmer battle of the current season, with Palmer out front both times by 5-4 and 4-3 decisions in the previous bouts.

In the other 175 pound bout last night, "Mouse" Mantrone decisioned Maryville's Briggs for a 9-2 Auburn victory.

Auburn's heavyweight, Brnilovich, pinned John Shew of Maryville in 1 min. 50 sec. of the 1st

(Continued on page four)

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

Today's and tonight's program follows:

121 (Semi-finals)
Marvin (MC) vs. Sargent (Auburn)
McNeil (MC) vs Owen (UC)

128 (Finals)
Cameron (MC) vs. Keyes (Auburn)

136 (Finals)
Smith (UC) vs McKenzie (Auburn)

145 (Semi-finals)
Callaway (MC) vs Williams (UC)
Earisman (MC) vs. Keller (Auburn)

155 (Semi-finals)
Major (MC) vs. Vallely (Auburn)
Wintermute (MC) vs. Braly (UC)

165 (Semi-finals)
Yambert (MC) vs. Smith (UC)
Merriman (MC) vs. Berg (UC)

175 (Final)
Palmer (MC) vs. Mantrone (Auburn)

Heavyweight (Finals)
Brnilovich (Auburn) vs. Magrath (UC)

Rookies Given First Taste Of Honaker-Type Baseball

Baseball hopefuls got a taste of the collegiate game this week in the first practices of the season under Coach L. S. Honaker in the gym.

Since most of the men working out this week were new to the Honaker-style of play, Coach Lombe has been drilling them on fundamentals. The regular team reported on Friday.

Sixteen New Men Report

New to the Maryville diamond are: Blalock, Campbell, Chadwick, Fogarty, Fowler, G. Hamil, Headrick, Herring, Holsey, Jackson, Larsen, J. Lillard, Lucas, Petree, Schieber, and Shields.

Others who did not get into varsity play but worked out in '47 are Baird, Largen, Rowley, and Smith.

Varsity baseballmen expected to return this season are: K. Berrong, L. Berrong, Boring, Buckley, Hamil, Honaker, Jernigan, Jones, R. Lillard, Neff, Pentz, Reynolds, Rock, and Spears.

Practice will continue in Alumni gym until the weather improves and the diamond dries.

Track Aspirants Assemble Monday

SEVEN LETTERMEN RETURN; SCHEDULE YET INCOMPLETE

Spring track workouts will start Monday, March 8, for those who wish to try out. Coach Davis has requested that all former track men, and all new men who wish to try for the team, report to Bartlett Hall at 4:00 Monday for equipment and the first scheduled workout.

Schedule Unsettled

The schedule is not yet settled, but tentative matches have been arranged with the University of Tennessee and T.P.I. The T.P.I. meet was to have been run off here, but the track is in poor shape this year so the meet will probably be run in Cookeville. Maryville also plans to enter track teams in the state meet which will be held May 9, and in the Milligan Relays which are to be held April 17, in Johnson City.

Many of last year's track men will be back this year, with George Gillette and Bill Proffitt running the one and two mile, Henry "Tubby" Callaway and Don Walker in the pole vault, Harold Ammons in the javelin, Craig Fisher in the high jump, and Allan Kiger also in the mile.

